SCORES THE RAILWAYS

High Rates Hampering Trade Says Hon. Nelson Monteith.

Banner Year For the Ontario Farmer Somewhat Nullified by the Lack of Facilities For Their Proper Distribution—Gives a Telling Instance of the Increase of Cost Which Does Not Reach Producer.

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Hon. Nelson Monteith, Minister of Agriculture, made some comments yesterday on the way Canadian railways hamper trade by charging excessive rates on farm produce.

"This is the banner year for the Ontario farmer," he remarked. "The crops have not been remarkably heavy, but the prices have been so good that they more than made up for any decrease in yield. The great problem we have to face in Ontario is one of distribution. We can produce the grains and fruits and dairy products, but we lack facilities for distribution."

"Our railroads here are not nearly as obliging as they are in the United States. Rates are lower there than they are here, but they more than make up for it by the increased business. Why, let me instance the Niagara peach crop. Peaches are selling at 20 and 25 cents a basket in the fruit district, yet at Stratford, sixty miles away, you cannot buy Crawford's less than $1.25 a basket."

"The dairy output this year has been enormous. The pastures were never better, and farmers and exporters are encouraging consumption of their products by putting their goods in such shape that consumption is enhanced. A couple of years ago we were shipping salt butter to England, instead of fresh butter, as we are doing now. Anyone knows that a man will eat twice as much fresh butter as he will salt butter."

"The Ontario farmer is waking up to the possibilities of his own business."

PRODUCE IN BRITAIN.

Canadian Commission Is Investigating—Liverpool Is Troubled.

London, Aug. 25.—(C. A. P.)—J. A. Ruddle, Dairy Commissioner of the Dominion Government is here enquiring into the butter and cheese trade. He has visited, besides London, Glasgow, Liverpool and Bristol and everywhere he finds satisfaction expressed, due in some measure to the improved facilities for handling butter on this side. He found the authorities in Liverpool somewhat exercised over complaints recently ventilated in the Ottawa House regarding produce being allowed to remain for a greater time than necessary on the quays. In this respect the authorities in Liverpool have made considerable improvement. He speaks highly of the manner in which produce is handled in Bristol. He attributed the increased Canadian trade in some degree to the failure of Siberian produce, chiefly through the war.

The Bristol docks committee are sending A. Harvey, their assistant general manager, to Canada to confer with some leading manufacturers and exporters of Canadian produce and discuss with them facilities which the Royal Edward dock, just completed, will offer for the conduct of a very much larger business through the port of Bristol.

TWO INCENDIARY FIRES.

Waterford Hotel Was Threatened and Planing Mill Destroyed.

Waterford, Aug. 25.—Two fires, both of a suspicious nature, occurred here at 1 a. m. yesterday. The first, at the Beemer House, a large frame hotel, was clearly incendiary. Straw and other inflammable material had been placed near the building.

Scarcely was this fire extinguished when a second alarm was rung for the saw mill and factory owned by Richard Robinson. The flames had gained such progress that all efforts to save the building proved useless. The loss is about $5,000 with no insurance.

An investigation will probably be held.

Big Fire at Point Edward.
Sarnia, Aug. 25.—The $200,000 plant of the Canadian Machinery Co. Point Edward, caught fire during the night by unknown means and was completely destroyed. Only the walls are left standing. Though located only 300 yards from the St. Clair River, the works were totally without fire protection from the Sarnia system and volunteer firemen were helpless in the emergency. The insurance is $30,000.

Big Fire at Chesley.
Chesley, Aug. 25.—At one o'clock yesterday morning the Chesley Chair Co.'s factory was burned to the ground, with all the contents. Loss about $37,000; insured for $24,500.

They Rally Round Haultain.

Regina, Aug. 25.—The decision of the Conservative convention to support Haultain and Provincial rights in the coming campaign has been well received everywhere by members of the party and independents. Some regrets are expressed that the fight is not to be a straight party contest. The convention concluded its business Wednesday night, and the delegates went home yesterday morning to prepare the local organizations for the campaign.

Twenty-Seven Get Away.

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Hon. Col. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, stated yesterday that in all twenty-seven cases had been found by the Department, where estates had escaped paying succession duties. Two were found to have been probated without paying duties, and two more were being looked into.

The insolence of some men is apparent in their countenances.

GOOD WORK

Efficient Administration of Game Warden Wigle—Appointing Deputy at Mitchell's Bay

Game Warden Wm. Wigle was in the city this morning en route to Mitchell's Bay, where he will appoint a deputy for special patrol work, which will do away with all poaching.

Warden Wigle is receiving many deserved tributes on the excellent work he is accomplishing. Never before have the game laws been so efficiently enforced and a better effort made to secure a satisfactory observance of the law.

Mr. Wigle has appointed two deputies at the Eau, one at Pelee Marsh, one at Detroit River, and one at Amherstburg. The deputies are all excellent men and are doing good work.

LONG LEAPING

With the Norris & Rowe Greater Circus, an International Tournament of Champions.

One of the oldest and most pleasing acts in a circus is a leaping tournament. The sight of men flying from a spring board over the backs of horses, camels and elephants and other high objects, is always spirited and interesting. The clowns who follow the leapers in a burlesque of their flights always supply abundant fun, and altogether there is not a number on the entire program that is more thoroughly enjoyed by the entire audience. The leaping tournament has been revived this season by the Norris & Rowe greater circus upon a scale in keeping with their new great shows.

All the great leapers of this country and Europe have been engaged to take part in it. A tournament on the same order has been arranged for the acrobats in which the Bellford Family, the Gardner Family, Melnotte, La Nole and Melnotte; the Victrola Troupe, the Travolta Troupe; the Tasmanian Troupe, the McDonald Bros., Bruce Sinclair, Paul Zorn, Signor Peralta and other noted gymnasts will participate. Between the leapers and the acrobats, considerable rivalry has developed and just at present the most spirited and dashing feats of skill are being accomplished. For the first time in the history of the white tents, a corps of lady leapers have been engaged. Ten of the most agile lady acrobats have signified their intention of competing for the purse of gold and the diamond medal Norris & Rowe are offering for those who show the most skill, daring and grace in leaping over the high barriers. These performers will be seen here with the Norris & Rowe greater circus at Chatham Wednesday, Aug. 30th.

TO-MORROW'S TEAM

The Chatham Tecumsehs journey to Brantford to-morrow to play the final game of the series with Brantford. If Chatham wins so much the better. If they lose there is still the protest to fall back upon. Everything considered the chances are very bright.

The line-up will be Hamilton, Quessnell, H. Pickering, A. Pickering, Elliott, Cheevers, Webb, Crookshanks, Grace, Laderoute, Marron and Stewart. Quessnell may play goal. If this is done H. Pickering will play on the home and Hamilton will take Quessnell's place.

The boys leave on the morning G. T. R. train. W. J. Young, their capable field captain, accompanies them.

A RIOT OF FUN AND LAUGHTER

The colossal triumph of the past two years in London and New York, 10 months' run at the Herald Square Theatre, N. Y., the huge farcical comedy with music, is The Girl From Kay's, which appears at the Grand to-morrow night. There are eighty in the cast and chorus; gorgeous stage, gowns that the Metropolitan 100 are now wearing. In all a great big gorgeous production, presented in all its original entirety and scenic splendor.

Drowned at Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 5.—Lorne Nelson, living with Rev. J. W. Penman of 19 Elm Grove avenue, Parkdale, was drowned in Humber Bay last night about nine o'clock. Leslie Penman, son of Nelson's host, escaped a similar fate by swimming nearly half a mile towards shore, when he was picked up. Penman made a brave attempt to keep his friend afloat. Their canoe overturned.

In Toronto Next Year.

Halifax, Aug. 25.—The Canadian Medical Association has decided to meet next year at Toronto at the same time as the British Medical Association meeting. Dr. A. McPhedran of Toronto was elected president; Dr. Elliot of Toronto, general secretary; Dr. H. B. Small, Ottawa, treasurer, and Dr. J. D. Courtney, Ottawa, vice-president for Ontario. The meeting closed yesterday.

LIKE A SLAUGHTER PEN

Shack of John Gamble, of Stratford, Found Murdered.

Seneca, An Indian, Run Over by a Freight, But Post-Mortem Reveals That He Was Dead When Mutilated by Train and That His Death Was Due to Kick in the Stomach—Two Men Arrested.

Stratford, Aug. 25.—Whether it was that John Gamble and Adam Seneca came to their death through blows inflicted during a fight between themselves or died from injuries inflicted by other persons is the problem that remains to be solved by the authorities. One fact is plain—both died of injuries received in a drunken brawl which occurred near the outskirts of this city early yesterday morning.

Caesar Poyner and Harold Crawford are under arrest and will explain their share in the revelry.

The post-mortem made yesterday brought to light the fact that Seneca, who is an Indian, was dead when mutilated by the railway train, and that his death was due to a kick in the stomach. On Wednesday night Crawford, Gamble, Seneca and Poyner spent several hours about the hotels of this place and drank heavily. They secured a supply of liquor and went to the home of Gamble, on a fifty-acre lot at the junction of the G. T. R. tracks and Romeo street, where they kept up the revelry till 2 a. m., according to a neighbor living 12 rods distant.

The first presence of the double tragedy came to light yesterday morning when Engineer McGowan of a G. T. R. freight train coming into Stratford from Fort Erie saw a body lying stretched across the track near a side-road at the town limits. He blew his whistle across the track, but there was no motion, he is positive, in the inert body lying across the tracks. Engine and tender passed over the body. When he with Conductor Fleming pulled the body from beneath the wheels it was that of Seneca, the Indian. The injuries apparent were two broken legs, a crushed skull and the lower limbs crushed to a pulp. In beating about the neighborhood to learn of the circumstances leading up to the man's death, the crew came across the body of Gamble stretched out some 40 yards from his front door. His head was crushed in and life was extinct.

Crawfield was found inside the hut washing the blood from his hands and a cut on his head, and was taken into custody. Blood was spilled everywhere, and the interior of the shack looked like a farmer's slaughter pen. The hut is a clap-board affair of about 10x14 feet, is low-roofed and of one story. One little window with most of the glass broken lights the place. In one corner was a bundle of old clothing, rags and tatters, and straw that served as a bed. For furniture is an old box cupboard, a couple of broken chairs and a rickety table. Blood was found on nearly every article in the room. Crawford has told varied stories.

RECEIVED AT OTTAWA.

Prince Louis Guest of Honor at Canadian Club Luncheon.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—Greeted by state, military and civic authorities, and thousands of people, His Serene Highness, Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg arrived in the city at noon yesterday.

He was driven first to Rideau Hall and shortly after returned to the Russell House, where he was the guest of the Canadian Club for luncheon.

To the right of the guest of honor sat Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and to his left W. MacKenzie, president of the club. Other Ministers and distinguished men were also present.

There were only two addresses, that of His Serene Highness and by Mr. King. Prince Louis briefly expressed appreciation of the reception. In closing he said: "You may sleep in comfort in your beds, I can say that the navy is all right."

After luncheon he received a civic welcome at the City Hall, and made a gracious response.

If courage is gone, all is gone.

LONG- FELT WANTS.

"It fills a long-felt want," was a popular expression twenty years ago. Nowadays one does not hear it so often, because there really seems to be something pat for every use. Only wings to fly with. As yet we lack wings—even the girls who are pretty enough to have them. But the wing exception proves the rule. What troubles people at this time is not that there is no article or invention for such and such a use, but that they don't know where to find it. Hence the necessity of free and constant advertising. Dealers must advertise or the thousand things that fill "long-felt wants" will remain unsold.

ATHLETICS AND MORALS.

The American national game of baseball and the Canadian national game of lacrosse are much more strenuous than the English game of cricket. In this country baseball and lacrosse draw large crowds, while the best cricket players in the world will play in Canada with a few score of spectators watching them. Is it the strenuousness of the play that draws? If so, the Canadian game should have the lead. It is not altogether the vigorous work of the players; it is the excitement—the keen competition, and the element of danger. For some reason or other young humanity courts danger. For that reason, probably, the game of Rugby football, which demands less agility and more sheer strength than almost any other game, draws immense crowds, especially in university towns.

Recently a clergyman of the Methodist persuasion denounced sports in general terms and has brought upon himself considerable criticism. Any clergyman, or layman, for that matter, who condemns athletics, leaves himself open to just criticism, not to say condemnation. The development of the physique is as necessary as that of the mind. The three parts of a man's nature should be developed in common in order to get the best type of manhood. Without in any way disparaging the importance of the moral or spiritual and mental, let the physical or athletic be considered. No young man can attain his maximum strength without self-denial and self-control. They are compelled to live temperate lives, both as to eating and drinking. They must take regular exercise and keep regular hours of rest. Our baseball managers have no use for a "booster." In fact no man can play ball in winning form and take intoxicating liquor. Similarly no man can be an expert with a lacrosse stick if he participates even moderately in liquor. What chance would a dozen half-intoxicated men have in lacrosse against twelve total abstainers, size and weight being equal? Let the athletes themselves answer. How would a Rugby team, stimulated with liquor and feeling themselves to be in the best of form, fare in a game with competitors who had no liquor? Again, we say, let the athletes answer. How often one hears it said of a baseball pitcher who has lost his standing: "Oh, he got boozing and is out of it." It is the same with all games or competitions in which the best brain and muscle are required.

And so it appears that athletics and temperance must go together. Sports are to be commended. It is the abuse of them that causes them to become disreputable. It would be well for young men and boys to remember that control of appetite and of temper and of action—a proper blending of the moral and mental faculties to keep the physical in order—must be observed to bring the greatest success or renown in any line of life.

There could hardly be a better illustration of the tendencies of party than the conduct of that which styles itself the Liberal party in relation to the Senate. Out of power, and with a senatorial majority against it, the Liberal party denounced the Senate as urgently calling for reform, worse than useless in its present state, and a waste of the money of the country. The same party, being in power, and having now the majority in the Senate in its favor, coolly repudiates its pledges, leaves the abuse untouched, and increases the waste of public money in salaries. Not a syllable of apology is vouchsafed for this tergiversation. It is taken for granted that party interest is explanation enough.—Goldwin Smith.

Does not history tell us that there is nothing so melancholy as the aspect of great men in retirement—from Nebuchadnezzar in his meadow to Napoleon on his rock?

"THE GIRL FROM KAYS."

The big company which is to be seen in the production of the English farcical comedy with music, "The Girl From Kays," at the Grand on Saturday night, is said to be one of the best organizations ever gotten up for the exploitation of a piece of this class. The production is made by the Miller-Kilpatrick Co., and is said to have cost a small fortune. Bobby North, the comedian of the company, is credited with being one of the most legitimately amusing actors on the American stage. The part he plays is that of a rich man who is a cad and is using his money in an effort to get into high society. A pretty milliner attracts his attention and she leads him a merry dance until it occurs to him that he might propose marriage. The milliner is played by Miss Lila Blow, who for several seasons was the leading woman of E. E. Rice's Company. There are another pair of lovers played by Ethel Morton, a charming blonde, and George Fuchs, Paul Decker plays the part he originated in the London production, that of a silly young Englishman of good family but no money, and not above lending his prestige for a consideration to help along another's desire to get into society. Kathleen Clifford uses her voice in the part of a maid, and Alex. Francis is seen as a porter in an English hotel. Helene Salinger, Harry Hanlon, Frank Lyon and Maurice Lavigne are among the fifty people who move throughout the piece. The music in the comedy is said to be very melodious and catchy and the gowns worn by the numerous young women to be decidedly handsome.

NEW BRIDGE?

The Parks and Cemetery committee have known for some time that the bridge connecting one part of the cemetery with the other was out of repair and thought some slight alterations would be all that would be required.

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

We wish at this stage to digress from the strict line of comment on the work of the Parliamentary Special Committee, to refer to an important matter which is apropos to the subject of our last "Talk." We refer to the advantage to this Company and to the commercial life of Canada, in the exchange of connections with the local and long distance systems of the United States.

Telephone conversations are carried on almost continuously, night and day, between the entire system of the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada and the long distance lines and exchanges of the American Telegraph & Telephone Company, and its affiliated Companies, placing half the continent at the elbow of every subscriber. The traffic is as free from complications as if it were one Company.

Equipment of the highest efficiency, practically standardized in all Offices and subscribers' stations, is an absolute essential to service over an extended area. Lack of such a standard is the fatal weakness of local systems operated as they are under separate administrations and with divided and often clashing interests.

No other Company operating in Canada, in competition with the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, has the advantage of this connection. Without the same standard of equipment and appliances, such an exchange of service could not be operated satisfactorily, even if the connection could be obtained.

The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, entirely free, as has been shown, in its financial affairs and in its internal administration, possesses an asset of inestimable value to itself and patrons in its business relations with the American Telegraph & Telephone Co. of the United States.

WAY TO TREAT HAY FEVER

No Stomach Dosing, Just Breathe Hyomei—Stops Sneezing and Smarting.

The Central Drug Co. are recommending to their customers as a cure for hay fever, Hyomei.

It is claimed for this remedy that it stops the spasmodic paroxysms, the sneezing, the smarting and running of the eyes and nose, and other acute symptoms of this disease.

Many persons have been cured of hay fever by Hyomei, and the discoverer of the remedy professes to be able to prevent both the occurrence of the annual attack and to stop the progress of the disease, even in the most chronic forms.

A. Hamlin, of Westford, Mass., writes, "Hyomei cured me of hay fever in one week's time. I consider it a duty to tell others who suffer from this disease."

This endorsement is only one of hundreds that have been received by the proprietors of Hyomei, and The Central Drug Co. offer to refund the money if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it, is the strongest proof that can be given as to the confidence they have in Hyomei's power to cure hay fever. The complete outfit costs but $1.00, while extra bottles can be procured for 50 cents.

Doctor Brigham Says

MANY PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant, not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructive ever discovered to act directly upon the generative organs, positively curing disease and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience it can be relied upon to effect a cure. The following letter proves it.

Dr. S. G. Brigham, of 4 Brigham Park, Fitchburg, Mass., writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to say that I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very efficacious, and often prescribe it in my practice for female difficulties. My oldest daughter found it very beneficial for uterine trouble some time ago, and my youngest daughter is now taking it for a female weakness, and is surely gaining in health and strength."

"I freely advocate it as a most reliable specific in all diseases to which women are subject, and give it honest endorsement." Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, bloating (or distention), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. No living person has had the benefit of a wider experience in treating female ills. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice if she wants to be strong and well.

THE HANDY PAIL.

A Useful Item in Camping and Light Housekeeping.

Except when in camp few people use a pail for cooking and regard pails as only for carrying things or, possibly, for storing food temporarily, remarks the Boston Cooking School Magazine in making the following suggestions: For light housekeeping and for gas stoves anywhere pails will be found very convenient. A long handled agate dish does not balance so well, and the handle protrudes dangerously when one has to work in limited space.

An agate pail is very useful to make apple or cranberry sauce, as the close fitting cover keeps in the steam, so that the fruit cooks quickly. Dumpings may be made and added to a stew of vegetables, as well as meat. The writer knew of one little mother who made four or six dumpings on a platter, as she had no molding board in her tiny flat and cooked them in her hot apple sauce very satisfactorily. Cold meat bought at a delicatessen store can be made into a stew and dumpings be added.

The pail makes a double boiler for a custard or cereal as an earthen bowl is set in the top. This is far more satisfactory than placing any bowl or dish in an open pan, from which the water boils away so much faster. The cover of the pail answers for a cover for the bowl. The expense of a separate farina kettle or double boiler is thus saved, and the bowl and pail are useful separately. A long handled agate dish may be used instead of a bowl for the top part of such an improvised double boiler, for it is more easily lifted off than a bowl, and keep the water replenished. This will atone for the handle being in the way sometimes.

NO NEW CLOTHES.

The Latest Notion in Paris—Jaunty Suits For the Surf.

"Do you know the most desired effect of every costume that the elegant wears? It is that of being already worn a hundred times. No one wears new dresses except in the privacy of her home. It is not that shabby or soiled clothes are desirable, but it is absolutely necessary that the new, uncreased effect of materials be blotted from a toilet before a well dressed woman cares to appear in it. Even freshly laundered linens and ducks are smarter a bit crumpled, so that everything settles into the habitual lines of the figure, and one who looks as though not dressed up especially for the occasion. One sees on every occasion that tulle scarfs, chiffon boas, cravats, gloves and boots, though not soiled, have declined marks of having been intimately a part of the feminine toilet for many wearings." So writes the Paris correspondent of Vogue, in which journal also appear the accompanying jaunty designs for bathing suits.

JAUNTY SURF SUITS.

A white mohair bathing suit is trimmed with stitched bands and disks of pale blue mohair, while pale blue predominates in the tie of Scotch plaid silk. The skirt is in seven box plaited gores, the plaits stitched to half the skirt depth. The waist is attached to the skirt beneath the corselet girdle.

The other suit is of navy blue taffeta trimmed with bands of cardinal taffeta in design, the edges stitched in navy blue. The buttons are also covered in cardinal, and the detachable shield is of this color embroidered with navy blue polka dots.

Tapoca Pudding.

Soak one tablespoonful of tapoca in cold water overnight. Put the tapoca in a quart of boiling milk, boil half an hour, beat the yolks of four eggs with a cup of sugar, add coconut, stir in and boil ten minutes longer. Pour it into a pudding dish, beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth and stir in three tablespoonfuls of sugar. Put this over the top of the pudding and sprinkle coconut over the top and brown for a few minutes.

Household Wrinkles.

When the boiler springs a leak, put the solder on the inside, not on the outside.

Boil the sugar corn just twelve minutes; no more, no less.

A bit of nice salt pork tastes good even in warm weather. Freshen it, roll it in flour and fry to a crisp.

If any one is so unfortunate as to "get into" the sticky fly paper, a liberal rubbing with butter will dissolve the sticky stuff so that it can be washed off.

Who knows? Perhaps the baby is thirsty for just a drink of cool water.

Table linen should not be starched, but ironed while quite damp with hot irons until dry. If not damp enough when ironed it will be too limp.—Farm Journal.

DURNAN BEATS SULLIVAN.

Fifteen Boat Lengths Ahead For the Championship of America.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Eddie Durnan of Toronto defeated Tom Sullivan of London, England, over the bay course yesterday by 15 lengths for the sculling championship of America.

It was as pretty a race as ever contested for half the distance and then the Englishman collapsed.

Approaching the turning stake Sullivan was leading by two lengths, when he discovered that he was exactly in Durnan's water, or 150 feet out of his course. Sullivan not only lost his two lengths lead, but two more on rounding and he was all in when they straightened out for home.

The return journey was a procession and the sightseers were quick to learn what the result would be.

Durnan was greeted with whistles from the steamboats, toots from the launches and cheers from the myriads of all sorts of boats and sails.

Sullivan seemed game, though tired, and he finished with a 27 clip, though far in the rear.

The time—20:55 4-5—was remarkably good, considering wind and weather, and Toronto Rowing Club men say that Durnan can easily do the course a minute faster.

It was a race between two perfect scullers. Durnan had the longer reach, and probably put in his sculls with better effect. Sullivan had the more powerful stroke and therein gained his advantage to the turn.

Durnan's part of the stake—$1,000—was put up entirely by L. Solman.

Wright turned over the $2,000 to Mr. Solman, who in turn transferred the entire amount to Durnan, along with $500 he won in a side bet.

Teemer beat Hanlan the last American championship race over the same course in 1902, though it was somewhat less than three miles. The world's record is held by Jake Gaudaur, made in the Austin, Texas, regatta. Time, 19:01 1-2.

Cold. Their Proper Treatment and Cure.
Commonly, the first symptom of a "cold" is a chilly feeling, accompanied by sneezing, or a tickling in the throat. The most frequent of external causes are draughts, wet or cold feet, or going from hot rooms suddenly into cold ones. More frequently there is an inner cause—namely the stagnation of the blood caused by constipation or biliousness. Almost the first symptom is the feeling of cold in the feet and increased discharge from the nose.

No one ever takes cold unless constipated, or exhausted, and having what we call mal-nutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve force. Tonics consisting of large portions of alcohol, iron or cod liver oil do not bring the desired changes in the blood, because they do not enter the system and are not absorbed into the blood, with the exception of the alcohol, which shrivels up the red blood corpuscles when it does come in contact with them. We recommend the botanical extract of Dr. Pierce because it contains no alcohol, and offers a reasonable and scientific method of treating the blood, by improving the nutritive functions of the patient. The "Golden Medical Discovery" accomplishes this, by first restoring the enfeebled digestive organs, so that food, the natural tissue builder, will be digested and assimilated.

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach.

BOX GARDENS.

The Happy Outcome of an Anxious Disappointment.

An August disappointment resulted in subsequent satisfaction last year and added helpful facts to my window garden experience. A new and wonderful ever blooming daisy had been recommended by a local florist as especially adaptable for summer window garden culture. It proved to be of the same general nature as our native daisies, producing luxuriant bloom in the early summer and taking a season of rest during August in order to be ready to produce a second scanty supply of flowers in the autumn. During late July and August, just when it was most desirable to have the summer window boxes at their best, it was a flat failure.

In disgust at the dilapidated appearance of the long window box from which so much had been expected and so little obtained I rooted out the plants completely, not even leaving a few for autumn display. The box was filled with fresh soil, and thrifty geranium slips from the lawn beds were set rather close, with periwinkle and ivy, well rooted, set along the edge of the box and trained up over it, to give a green appearance while the geraniums were getting a start. With copious watering and judicious shading from the hot midday sun, the sturdy, reliable geraniums quickly responded, and two flourishing potted geraniums, full of bloom, were set at each end of the box to produce the color display while the slips were growing into blooming size.

A Winter Window Box.

When potting time came and frosty nights made it necessary to hasten the winter bloomers inside each August slipped geranium had made such flourishing growth and gave such promise of abundant bloom that it seemed unwise to disturb the roots. The summer window box was therefore converted into a winter window box without any further ceremony whatever.

As the box itself was covered with bark in quaint, rustic effect it was especially ornamental for the main shelf of the winter garden, and, fortunately, of just the right size. The two potted geraniums, which were nearly exhausted with their all summer blooming, were removed from the box to give the flourishing young plants more room. The winter blooming set in with most satisfactory vigor as soon as the plants were taken inside and continued throughout the winter and spring.

Again a Summer Box.

It seemed that the plants must surely be exhausted by the following summer, but that experimental box garden was the surprise of the neighborhood during the spring and early summer. The well developed plants were simply a mass of bloom when the weather became sufficiently warm and settled to give the box its old position for summer window display outside. At the time when other window boxes were getting their first straggling start into future loveliness this box garden was at the height of its beauty, and the plants did not demand a rest until the other summer window boxes were well filled with bloomers, and this could be spared for recuperation.

Now Is the Day to Start Slips.

Geranium slips started early in August produce more rapid and flourishing growth than at any other season if carefully watered and intelligently shaded until well rooted. This is the best time to start the winter window boxes, if it is desirable to have luxuriant blooming from the time they are first taken inside.

Suitable vines and trailers add materially to the success of box gardening. German ivy, climbing nasturtiums and ivy geraniums are all abundantly satisfactory and form thrifty trailers as well as climbers.—Phebe W. Humphreys in Good Housekeeping.

Jellied Lamb Chops.

This chandfried is a particularly appetizing hot weather dish, says the Ladies' World. Trim neatly the required number of French chops and saute in hot butter, put between two plates and press until cold. Make an aspic jelly by adding an eighth of a box of gelatin to a cupful of highly seasoned beef broth. When thickened add an equal amount of mayonnaise, coat the chops thickly and set away in a cold place until wanted.

When Camping.

Our experience with wet weather when camping taught us that beds should never touch the wall, nor should other articles of furniture, as the tent will not shed the rain, but wet through in such places, says a Good Housekeeping correspondent.

In order always to have a dry floor even when it rains, dig a small trench around the tent, and from that one an outlet down the slope (according to Fig. 1), for a tent should always be on an elevated spot. Stake the bottom edge of the tent down all around;

then, if the ends are closed, you will be quite safe even in a strong windstorm. Stakes should be driven with head slanting toward the tent, as Fig. 2 indicates. They will stand more strain. Just before a rain examine the stakes to see that they are firm, then slightly loosen the ropes, as they shrink when wet and either pull up stakes or tear the canvas. Above all, take woolen blankets. There is nothing so comforting when the weather is damp.

"Yes," said the old man to his young visitor, "I am proud of my girls and would like to see them comfortably married, and as I have made a little money they will not go penniless to their husbands. There is Mary, twenty-five years old and a really good girl. I shall give her $1,000 when she marries. Then comes Bet, who won't see thirty-five again, and I shall give her $3,000. And the man who takes Eliza, who is forty, will have $5,000 with her."

The young man reflected a moment and then inquired:

THE LOCAL BUDGET

The Tecumseh lacrosse team plays in Brantford to-morrow.

Mrs. W. R. Landon and daughter have returned from Erieau.

Lots of good ten cent cigars, but only one best—the Lord Lake.

Mrs. and Miss Chelvers, of Walkerville, are patients at the Mineral Bath House.

Miss Marie Judson, of Detroit, is visiting Miss Lulu Mounter, Lorne avenue.

W. E. Gray, of Lima, Ohio, is taking a course of mineral baths at Hotel Sanita.

Mrs. S. A. Beck, and Miss G. M. Emery, of Boston, are guests at Hotel Sanita.

Will Emerson, formerly of this city but now of Detroit, is spending a few days in the city.

Barriester H. B. Carssallen, of Walkerville, was in the city to-day on legal business.

Miss Gertrude Longden, of Detroit, who has been visiting Mrs. Verrall, Park avenue, has returned home.

Miss Capman, who has been seriously ill with appendicitis, is improving and expects to be around again in a few days.

Harry Westman and Rev. Mr. McKennie are attending the laying of the corner stone of the new church at Mitchell's Bay to-day.

J. Henry Shackleton, of Laurence, Mass., is spending his vacation with his aunt, Mrs. A. Grover, Sheldon avenue.

House for sale or to rent. A new house with all modern conveniences, within ten minutes' walk of the Post Office. Address Box 185 or ring up Phone 318.

Dr. J. P. Rutherford has purchased a 30 horse-power Buick automobile. The machine, which is made in Jackson, Mich., is a very handsome one. An employee of the company accompanied the doctor into the mysteries.

There are several songs in "The Girl from Kays" that have made names for themselves. "Sufficiency" is one of these, and the quartette "Lucy, Lindy Lady," is another. Throughout the music is bright and catchy and the choruses well balanced. The comedy is sparkling with wit, led by the imitable Hoggenheimer. Sam Bernard created this title role, but Bobby North, who succeeds him, is quite the peer of the former.

DIRT CHEAP

An inspection of the easterly King street window of Austin's, will reveal the startling fact that this firm is selling some of their best suits to-morrow for the ridiculously low price of $5.00 a suit. The selection includes lines which have sold all along for $10.00 and $7.50.

By keeping one's eyes open at this time of the year, when room has to be made for new goods, some real bargains can be obtained but for rock-bottom prices this is the best opportunity that has been offered to date.

BAND CONCERT

By kind permission of Colonel J. B. Rankin and officers of the 24th Kent Regiment, the band will play, weather permitting, the following program on Tecumseh Park this evening under the direction of Watson H. Walker, Bandmaster:

GOES TO MEXICO

Capt. M. D. Fraser Was Tendered a Smoker by his Many Gentlemen Friends Last Evening

The gentlemen friends of Capt. M. D. Fraser, of the Merchant's Bank staff, who leaves on Sunday for New Mexico, gathered in the Oddfellows Auditorium last evening to spend a pleasant social evening with him before his regretted departure from the city.

The evening assumed the form of a smoker. Refreshments were served and music was given and a general good time was spent by everyone.

There were about 35 young men present and every one of them expressed sincere regret at Mr. Fraser's decision to leave the city. Max has been a popular young man with the boys and has won a warm spot in the hearts of a large circle of friends. He was particularly popular in social and athletic circles and his absence will be much felt.

During the course of the evening Mr. Fraser was presented with a meerschaum pipe from his assembled friends who, while they are sorry he is leaving, all join in wishing him unbounded success in the south.

THE WRONG MEN

The Police Authorities Thought they Had a Couple of Men Wanted in St. Thomas But They Were Mistaken.

Arthur Wooley and Stephen Edward Taylor, the two Englishmen who stole a hat and valise from Mrs. Vincent's boarding house on Railway street, belonging to J. W. Stewart, have been traced as far as Chatham. There was $20 in cash in the valise.

The above mentioned men have not been heard of by the local police and no trace of them can be found here.

Yesterday Chief of Police Holmes received a letter from the Chief of Police of St. Thomas, warning him to be on the lookout for these men. Yesterday afternoon the chief and Tom Groves saw two Englishmen passing the police station and they seemed to answer to the description of the two thieves. Mr. Groves accosted them and asked them where they were going. It turned out that they had been working for a farmer in Chatham township, and they are now going to start to work for Mr. Drader.

On Tuesday, 29th inst., the C. P. R. will run a Farmers' Excursion to Manitoba and Assiniboia, leaving Chatham at seven a. m., for $12.00, as advertised. Further information can be had from W. H. Harper, ticket agent, or at the station.

CANNOT HAVE BRITISH SHIPS

Canadian Government Will not Grant Americans Permission to Raise Old Ships

Americans Wish to Raise Boats Sunk in War of 1812 and Exhibit Them on Belle Isle Park.

Detroit, Aug. 24.—An Ottawa despatch says that the Government will not permit some Americans to raise and remove the hulls of three British warships sunk at the mouth of the Thames River, Lake St. Clair, during the early part of the last century. Mr. C. M. Burton, of this city, who is an authority on the history of this section of the country, on both sides of the boundary line is one of the number interested in these relics. He says they are on private property and he has the permission of the owners to remove the hulls, and that it will be done regardless of any order of the Canadian Government touching the matter.

RIVER REVEALS REVERED REMAINS

Ghastly Sight Greets Passersby on the River at the Old Dolsen Burying Ground

Action of Water Uncovers Graves—Are the Graves Also Robbed—Authorities Should Investigate

The attention of the proper authorities should be called to a most ghastly and repulsive state of affairs obtaining at the old Dolsen burying ground down the river. The action of the water has uncovered several of the graves nearest the river, revealing them to view. City who use the river as a means of recreation and pleasure were among the first to complain of the gruesome sight. Naturally such a gruesome sight is disturbing. Passengers on the City of Chatham are also confronted with the spectacle.

The banks are comparatively high and are composed of light sandy material. From this coffins protrude at all angles, some quite uncovered and others only partially so. Ofttimes the mortal remains of those who have passed beyond the veil are revealed. Even a ghastly prank or for the purpose of selling the remains. Portions of the anatomy find a ready market, being used by medical students.

It is inconceivable that such a state of things can be allowed to exist. It is claimed that the township authorities have had their attention called to the state of affairs but have taken no action. Those whose honored dead are buried in this plot must feel outraged at this violation of their last resting place. Even a disinterested outsider cannot but view such a state of affairs with horror.

A very painful and serious accident happened to John McIntyre, of the centre line, Harwich, Tuesday afternoon when he fell off the roof of his barn and broke his leg. Despite a warning from the hands he went too near the edge, and slipping, fell the full distance of 24 feet, striking on some old rails lying on the ground.

"A HITCH"

The Mayor Fancies he Knows How it is Done but After Over an Hour's Work Concludes he Doesn't.

Mayor Cowan accompanied by his brother Harry and their respective families spent yesterday at Erie Beach. They drove out with a double team and, unhitching, laid the harness for each horse carefully, side by side, so that there would be no trouble in hitching up again.

Now the Mayor is an ardent horseman and professes to know something about the noble animal. His exposure was at hand, however.

When the rain started, it was decided to start for home, and the members of the party started to hitch up. There was some "hitch" in the proceedings and they finished the job one and one-quarter hours later, all the time in a drizzle of rain and the butt of cutting remarks from the ladies. It is suggested that whenever a "hitch" occurs in the city, that the Mayor also be on hand, to demonstrate the old tedious way and show what rapid strides have been made by modern invention.

BEYOND THE VEIL

The Death of Wm. Kelly, a Much Esteemed Young Chathamite, Very Sad in its Details.

The remains of the late Will Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kelly, Queen street, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 9:30 from the residence of his parents to St. Joseph's church, and thence to St. Anthony's cemetery.

The death is a peculiarly sad one in view of the young man's recent marriage in February last, and in view of his great popularity. He was employed, up until the time he was taken ill, in Cowan's shoe store, where his death is more poignantly felt among his former associates. He was taken ill with rheumatism, and decided to take a few weeks' holiday. At the time he thought he would be able to resume his duties in a couple of weeks and procured a substitute for that time.

He spent the time with relatives near St. Thomas, where tuberculosis set in, of which he died. At his death he was his father and wife. His mother, who was visiting in Seattle, Wash., was summoned and left immediately but did not arrive in time.

The young man, in addition to his parents, is survived by a wife, a brother and a sister. His wife was formerly Miss Patterson, of this city. His demise was cruelly sudden to his friends, some of whom cannot yet realize that he is no more. The grim Angel could hardly have singled out a more universally liked young man, as a griet for his sympathy. His bereaved ones meet with the sympathy of the community during this, their sore trial.

Deceased was a member of the Maccabees and of the Catholic Order of Foresters. Cowan's store, where he worked, will be closed during the funeral.

ERRONEOUS REPORT

At the recent meeting of the Public School Board one of the trustees in discussing the heating problem stated that Mayor Cowan has said that the steam heating enterprise had fallen through. This is not the case and there is no truth whatever in the rumor. As a matter of fact the material for the mains is shipped and on the way here, and the work is going on with all possible despatch.

TWO CASES

At the police court this morning Frank W. Bulley, a glass blower of Wallaceburg, was fined $1 and costs, $5 in all for being drunk and disorderly. Bulley can't blow glass during the hot weather, so he blew into town yesterday and started blowing in his money. He was later gathered in by Police Officer Kenry Darr.

Martha Jane Crosby, a colored woman, has laid an information against her son-in-law, William Curtis, for assault. This is a case arising out of the colored dance held in the curling rink last Wednesday night. Both Mrs. Crosby and her son-in-law were present and entertained the guests with a fist fight. Mrs. Crosby by now claims that Curtis was to blame and that he struck her without the least provocation. The case will come up later in the police court.

Don't miss the great slaughter sale of clothing at Stone, The Hatters', for the balance of this month. All $11.50, $12, $12.50 and $13.00 suits for $9.75. Stone & Co., Garner Block.

THE HOUSE HOSPITABLE.

The Large Living Hall and the Old Time Dining Room.

In a home where the household enters into out of door sports the living hall assumes an air of enjoyable freedom that is attained in no other room in the dwelling. A neighborly sociability, too, fits more easily into the informal than the formal hall. In fact, for some people and in some places
there is no pleasanter expression of family life than in the large, hospitable living hall. For this reason the example shown in the illustration has many details that will appeal especially to the makers of homes.

The lower walls are paneled with dark wood, and the dark beams in the ceiling are lightened with buff tinted plaster. The walls are painted a soft shade of olive, and an almost indefinite pattern is stenciled upon the under color in a slightly deeper tone.
The windows have buff colored linen shades with curtains made of brown
net. Outside are long reaches of valleys and distant mountains, and in curtaining the windows the pictures painted by nature are merely framed in and not shut away.

The mahogany table in the center of the floor has a reading lamp of its own, and a general light is diffused through the room by a wrought iron lantern hanging from the ceiling by an iron chain. A swinging settle in the corner, a Davenport sofa and easy chairs afford comfortable and varied sitting places for the family. The large spaces of polished floor are broken up by oriental rugs of different sizes.
The dining room takes on a look of established usage from its old time furniture. Two drop leaf mahogany tables are placed against the wall and used instead of a sideboard and a serving table. The extension table is

THE CHEERFUL LIVING HALL.
modern, but of good design. However much we may praise our forefathers and their ability in cabinetmaking, we must claim for our own period, although invented by our British coun-sins, the convenient extension table.
The dining chairs are of Chippendale pattern with open back and rush seat.
Some of the antique china is kept behind the glass of a quaint hanging closet, and other pieces are distributed against the lower wall as appropriate and pleasing decoration.
The attraction bestowed by the old time pieces in this room is in vivid contrast with much of the uninteresting conventional furnishing we often see in this part of the home.—Designer.

Hunger and Food.
Hunger makes the plainest foods enjoyable. It causes vigorous secretion and outpouring of all the digestive fluids—the sources of ptyalin, pepsin, trypsin, etc.—without a plentiful supply of which no foods can be perfectly digested. Wait for an appetite if it takes a week. If breakfast is a bore or lunch a matter of indifference, cut one or both of them out. Wait for distinct and unmistakable hunger and then eat slowly. If you do this you need ask few questions as to the property and digestibility of what you eat.—Hygienic Gazette.

Pickled Onions.
For pickled onions use the silver skin variety. Place them in hot water to protect the eyes while peeling them.
Put into brine for twenty-four hours,
boil up, strain off the brine and dry.
Then bottle, covering with vinegar.
Use white vinegar if you wish to retain the white color. Add some whole peppers, bruised ginger and a little sliced horseradish.

Fruit Stains.
Fruit stains may be removed from tablecloths and napkins by pouring boiling water through the spots before the articles are washed. Old fruit stains are said to yield to freezing.

Eckers of Fashion.
The circular cloak seems to be a favorite in smart fashions. The circular must have any amount of fullness from the shoulders, and perhaps that is why so many are made of the softest satin or tulle, and even chiffon and lace.
The tunic overskirt is frequently used on afternoon gowns.
Parasols are fussily tucked, shirred, gathered or puckered to accord with the skirts of the fashionable summer gowns.
Bonnet belts, high and snug fitting,
are cleverly used to give a princess gown effect with separate bodice and skirt.
A child's suspender girdle to wear with a long waisted French dress is composed of dresden ribbon.
The fashionable sleeve is elbow length. When long gloves are not worn little finger undersleeves are tacked in to extend from elbow to wrist.
Chiffon voile, very fine and very sheer, is one of the charming new fabrics of the season.

ARE THEY QUALIFIED?

Question re Roman Catholics
For Court of Appeal.

Stated Case Submitted on Command of Lieutenant-Governor—Question to Be Decided Is As To Status as Teachers in Ontario of Members of Certain Religious Communities Instituted For Educational Purposes.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Is statutory qualification as it applies to the public schools of Ontario necessary for teachers in the Roman Catholic separate schools of this Province? The question became a momentous one some time ago, when a lay member of the Roman Catholic Church in Ottawa objected to teachers being appointed by the clergy on the staff of the separate schools who were not qualified, and who, he alleged, were forcing duly qualified Catholic teachers, who could not in consequence secure positions, to go to other Provinces. It was decided to submit the question of qualification Ontario, and on the strength of the order-in-council, Mr. Thomas Mulvey, Assistant Provincial Secretary, has submitted a stated case to the Court of Appeal.

Commanded to Ascertain.
"I am commanded by the Lieutenant-Governor," he states in the preamble, which reached Osgoode Hall yesterday morning, "to ascertain whether the members of certain religious bodies are eligible in the Roman Catholic schools of Ontario." Continuing, the document says: "Certain religious communities are instituted for educational purposes, including the Brothers of the Christian Schools, the Community General Hon-plal, the Alms-houses of the Sisters of Learning of the Sisters of Charity of Ottawa (commonly known as the 'Grey Nuns'), which in 1867, and for some years prior, were engaged in educational work in Lower Canada, and upon the passing of the British North American Act in 1867 were exempt from examination as teachers" in Quebec.

The Question to Decide.
The question for decision by the Court of Appeal is as follows:—"Are those who become members of these communities since the passing of the British North America Act in 1867 to be considered qualified teachers for the purposes of the Separate Schools Act, and therefore eligible as teachers in the Roman Catholic Separate Schools of Ontario, where such members have not received a certificate of qualification to teach in the public schools of the Province?"

The language of the stated case has been referred by solicitors for the Board of Trustees of the Roman Catholic Separate Schools, Ottawa, and five copies, one for each of the Court of Appeal judges, have been delivered. The Court of Appeal will now decide.

Constancy is the complement of all other human virtues.

The breath of scandal is the ill-
wind that blows nobody good.

TAKE MY CURE,
WHEN CURED YOU PAY ME

The fear that you could not be cured may have deterred you from taking honest treatment, or you may have been one of the unfortunates who have been treated in vain by inexperienced physicians, free treatments, free trial samples, patent medicines, electric belts and other similar devices. Such treatments cannot and will never cure you, nor will these maladies cure themselves. When I offer you a cure, and am willing to risk my professional reputation in curing you,
and have such faith and confidence in my continued success in treating these diseases that not a dollar need be paid until you are cured, a fairer proposition cannot be offered to the sick and afflicted. This should convince the skeptical that I mean what I say, and do exactly as I advertise, as I am positive of curing you in the shortest possible time, without injury or after-effects. My charges will be as low as possible, for conscientious, skillful and successful services, and my guarantee is simple and true. Not a dollar need be paid until cured. I have 14 diplomas and certificates from the various colleges and state boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient guarantee of my standing and abilities. It makes no difference who has failed to cure you, it will be to your advantage to write to me for my opinion of your case, which I will give you free of charge. I want to hear from patients who have been unable to be cured, as I guarantee a positive cure for all such cases, or I will refund the money. I accept for treatment. I not only cure the condition itself, but likewise all the complications,
such as rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, blood poison, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach troubles, etc. All medicines for patients are prepared in my own laboratory to meet the requirements of each individual case.
For patients sent from distant places, all expenses for duty and transportation prepaid.
I will send a booklet on the subject which contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address simply,

Detroit, Mich.

FOR OUTING WEAR.

Costume For a Fair Angler—A Good
Automobile Coat.

The popular fancy for checks is exploited in sporting costumes, which are very effective, particularly in black and white. An attractive specimen is in the shape of a "knockabout" coat and skirt of neutral colored tweed with overcheck of green and brown and green suede facing the collar.

The coat, single breasted, as befits
the moment, and close fitting at the back, has great shapeliness imparted
by skillfully disposed, small stitched plaits, which serve to emphasize a similar treatment on the skirt. The waistband is passed through a slit in either side front; in fact, two slits are thoughtfully provided, the one farther back than the other. It is in these small details that the chic and style of such costumes lie.

A long coat has become almost a necessity, being equally suitable to driving, motoring and as the smart practical wrap for race meetings.

One of these very happy combinations of sense and style is fashioned

IN SMART, PRACTICAL STYLE.

In ivory tweed, relieved by black velvet collar facings, belt and buttons.
The back defines the figure closely and is arranged with three seams, the velvet belt starting from the one at either side and passing beneath the loose fronts. For rough wear also the old dolman shape seems quite a favorite.
A smart new tennis shoe shows the latest almost triangular looking flat sole and a three-quarter inch spring heel and is made up in either white buckskin, white canvas or black or tan Russia leather.

The polo cap is a favorite among the motorists, especially as for long journeys the veil may be tightly wound around it. Small soft felt hats fit the head snugly and gracefully and fill a want not only on land, but as a steamer hat for the seagoers.

J. VERNON WALKER.

CIRCULAR VELS.

Circular vells are the newest in style, and under all circumstances they are exceedingly graceful. When made up of lace, net or chiffon they are sure to be greatly admired. Very smart are they in white or black sprigged lace by the piece, trimmed on the edge by both an entre-deux and an edging. Colored vells have the same lace finish, the trimming laces in most cases being dyed to match the veil's foundation.
To wear them correctly they require four hatpins. It goes without saying that we shall soon find sets of hatpins
four in number, sold in the large shops.
The other day a woman just over was showing her friends at Narragansett
the sets of four hatpins she had found in several foreign shops and had selected to be in accord with her different hats. These circular vells dip only an inch or so below the line of the chin and hang evenly all round.
They show off the dressing of the hair and do not interfere with the profile or full facial lines, as the closely draped veil does so often. For coolness they are most desirable, as well as for the quickness and ease with which they may be lifted from the brim and thrown back upon the hat-Vogue.

FANCIES IN HAIRDRESSING.

An illustration of the trimmer, neater style now affected to some extent in hairdressing is given in the very becoming coiffure of the cut.

A double serpentine wave is perhaps the nearest approach to novelty. It

A COIFFURE VARIATION.

extends above the forehead, makes a curved line at the back, returns in a modified effect to the temples and ends over each ear. Short, soft half curls are arranged above each eye, and a little bunch of soft curls adorns the top of the coiffure.

THE GEISHA GIRL.

It Takes Severe Training to Develop
This Japanese Artist.

There are many geisha training schools in Japan, but the best of them all is, I think, the one in Kioto to which I, with some difficulty, gained admittance. It is apparently a delicious place, but it is a place of unmitigated toil. The girls are apprenticed to these schools by their parents or guardians at the age oftentimes of six years, and for ten years at least they are put through such a course of training as would break the spirits of girls less insured to unquestioning obedience to authority. Their physical training is of great importance, of course, and each little girl must go through such exercises every day as will keep her little body flexible as rubber, and after that is finished she must devote her time to tasks that far exceed in difficulty any schoolgirl would imagine to one of us.

No woman of ordinary mind can possibly become a successful geisha, because she must be able to acquire and make use of every kind of worldly knowledge which will lend to her conversation a vivacity and charm that will lead men to seek her society. The dancing and the music are the least of a geisha's attainments as it is understood by a Japanese. These are merely an accompaniment to the feast which is served by small apprentices, such little girls, indeed, as met us at the door of the wine red and iris purple tea house in Kioto, but after the feast the men must be entertained by interesting stories and bright repartee and in this the girls are trained rigidly.—Eleanor Franklin in Leslie's Weekly.

THE BEGINNING OF THE TROUBLE

Is The Time to Stop it—And the Means of Stopping it are Provided by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Have your meals become of interest to you simply because of the trouble they bring? Is your appetite gone? Do you get up in the morning with a dark brown taste in your mouth? Is your head muddled and sort of half aching? Is your day's work a burden? Do trifles worry you?

If you have any of these symptoms it is time to pay attention to your stomach. It has been overworked and needs help. Attend to it at once or you will drift into indigestion and from that to Dyspepsia. Help your stomach with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They never fail to tone up the stomach and bring it back to a healthy condition.

Maria Ann Bujold, of Marie Cap. Bonaventure Co. Que., says: "For two years my life was a burden. I could not take the simplest food without having a pain across my stomach. One box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cured me and I have had no return of the trouble."

Rapid Fire Justice. Yankee dispatch characterizes the court rulings of a Toronto magistrate, of whom John Foster Fraser tells in his book, "Canada as It Is." The magistrate, who is reported to have got through with forty cases in forty minutes, was once asked how he managed it. "You must have some system," was the suggestion.

"I never allow a point of law to be raised," was the magistrate's prompt reply. "This is a court of justice, not a court of law."

"Not so very long ago a young attorney wanted to quote law against my sending his man down for six months. He wanted to quote Mathews, I think."

"Well," said J. Mathews may be a great authority on law, but I guess he hasn't as much authority as I have in this court. Your man goes down for six months."

REDUCED A HARD SWELLING. Mr. Gus E. Garoux, writing from Pembroke, tells how he was injured in a lumber camp. "A heavy log rolled against my leg and I was laid up with stiffness and a hard swelling. When I applied Polson's Nervine I got relief. A few rubbings with this good liniment cured me." In the bush Nervine is indispensable; it cures neuralgia, colds, rheumatism and internal disorders too. No person can afford to be without Nervine. Useful for all internal and external pains. Large bottles 25c at all dealers.

Praying For Good Husbands. A picturesque ceremony takes place every year in Haiti-Vienne. All the girls in the place, on the day of St. Eutropius file in procession to St. Julien-Combes to the cross which is erected near the church to the saint. Each girl hangs her left garter on the cross and prays that she may have a good husband and then gives way to the next girl. The cross is so smothered in garters of different colors that at a short distance it looks as though it were covered with flowers.

HOW PNEUMONIA STARTS. You catch a little cold to day, by to-morrow it has reached the throat, next day the lungs are affected and you wish you had used Catarrhazone, which kills colds in five minutes. In the first place Catarrhazone soothes the irritated membranes and relieves congestion, then it cuts out the phlegm and destroys the germs. It enables the blood to retain a natural supply of oxygen, lung-food, and vitality. In any cough, bronchitis, or lung affection it's guaranteed to positively cure. Decline any substitute for "Catarrhazone."

It is astonishing how soon the whole conscience begins to unravel if a single stitch is dropped. One little sin indulged makes a hole you could put your head through.

NINETY-EIGHT PER CENT. There is a fascination about big profits to a business man. But the conservative and cautious trader prefers to have the lesser per cent. of interest and the larger per cent. of safety in his investments. There is no business man who would not consider it a sound proposition to invest in an enterprise in which absolute loss was impossible and which offered ninety-eight chances in a hundred of a rich profit. The statistics of cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery show that ninety-eight per cent. of cases of "weak lungs" can be absolutely cured. Almost, if not all, forms of physical weakness may be traced to starvation. Starvation saps the strength. The body is just as much starved when the stomach cannot extract nutrition from the food it receives as when there is no food. "Weak lungs," bronchial affections, obstinate coughs, call for nourishment. "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies that nourishment in its most condensed and assimilable form. It makes "weak flings" strong, by strengthening the stomach and organs of digestion, which digest and distribute the food, and by increasing the supply of pure blood.

Appearances often indicate a prosperity which goes no farther than the surface.

Many a fellow has made his mark by making a mark of some other fellow.

There was no answer.

"If those two come back and Betty wears his ring"—He stopped and moved the pink parol screen aside.

"Peggie, let's be first in this game of choosing partners. Let's—"

Peggie caught her breath and turned her back on the yacht.

"Hadleigh, don't you know I haven't cared for you one bit—not that way? I was sorry for you because Betty treated you like a pet mummy, and you hadn't the courage to rebel. I thought if some one else made the mummy show signs of life she would prize him, but she didn't."

Hadleigh watched the tears in the blue eyes, and the grace of understanding fell on him.

"It was Billie," he said. Peggie smiled back at him bravely.

"It was all my fault, I interfered. I never thought Billie would mind, and I never dreamed you would be serious. There's only Betty really, isn't there?"

"Only Betty," said Hadleigh sadly. "Then be a loyal mummy. It's something, you know, even to be loyal when no one cares whether you are or not."

A long whistle came up the bluff path. For a second Peggie hesitated, then she answered it, and the form of Billie appeared over a ledge of rock.

"Hello!" he called. "Betty Wayne wants you, Hadleigh. Rustic seat over near the spring. Said she'd wait three minutes and no longer. I've done the best I could for you."

When Hadleigh had disappeared, Peggie looked up at the figure on the ledge of rock.

"Did she really send?" "No, she didn't," retorted Billie, happily, "but she'll be glad to see him, all the same. Peggie, for the seventh time—"

"Who's out in the yacht?" asked Peggie severely.

"Betty's brother and my little brother and your little brother. A bunch of angel kids, and they'll get a bully good ducking if they don't ease her up a bit. See her list?"

Peggie sighed as the figure from the rocks slipped down beside her.

"You dear," she said. "You're a loyal mummy, too."

"Well, all I've got to say is don't get fresh and mix in where you're not wanted, Peggie."

"But I want to," returned Peggie serenely. "She treats him terribly, this summer worse than all, and it's the third summer. If some one doesn't interfere it may go on forever. And he's a splendid boy."

"Better than me?" "Well," said Peggie kindly, "every one is a type unto himself. I don't think your type clashes with Hadleigh's."

"You darling!" "Not on the veranda, Billie."

"We're engaged." "I don't care if we're engaged a hundred times; you can't grab me like that on a hotel veranda in broad daylight."

"There you go. You take up Hadleigh and his troubles and never consider for an instant the way you treat me. We've been engaged four years—"

"Not all the time. Six times separately."

"Well, you ought to be ashamed of yourself. You're as bad as Betty Wayne, and yet you turn around and sympathize with Hadleigh. Sympathize with me."

"I won't. And I'm not as bad as Betty. It's ever so much better being engaged six times separately to one that it is six times separately to six, isn't it?"

Billie took refuge in moody silence in the hammock. Through its meshes he could get a good view of the figure seated on the veranda railing. It was a lissome, girlish figure in pounce and turquoise blue, and he shut one eye contentedly to get the full effect of it against the background of blue sky and sea.

"Betty really thinks the world of him, only she doesn't know it," Peggie announced suddenly after some reflection. "And he considers her so perfectly hopeless that he doesn't dare do a thing but trot around after her like a pet mummy."

"Mummies can't trot."

"Well, I don't care! He trots around as one would trot if it could trot. Billie Ballister, if you treated me like that I'd never marry you in this world."

"Do you think you ever will?" "Some day," said Peggie hopefully. "All Hadleigh needs is appreciation. He's tagged around after Betty so long that no other girl will look at him."

"Don't appreciate too strenuously. Hadleigh might not see the point."

"Oh, no, he won't," Peggie's scorn rose superior to discretion. "If I treated you like a stray telegraph pole all the time or a C. O. D. express package to be held till called for, wouldn't you see the point if some other girl took you up and delicately and diplomatically intimated to you that you were altogether just right?"

"I wish I had the chance," said Billie gloomily. "What do I do while you're delicately and diplomatically intimating to Hadleigh?"

"Glower," retorted Peggie sweetly. "stalk and glower and look jealous. Then we'll make up and be engaged for the seventh time. Anyway, Hadleigh won't make love to me. I shall merely act as a diversion for the good of the cause."

It was three weeks later that the diversion ceased. It had been a most successful diversion. Even Billie in his desolation admitted that. So did Hadleigh. From being an engaged nonentity he suddenly became featured on the bill, as Peggie would say. There were handsomer girls at Pineta Point, but there was none quite so winsome and lovable and characteristic of the place as Peggie, and when she undertook the act of delicate and diplomatic intimation she did it thoroughly.

The first week Betty Wayne was amused. The second she flatly declined going in the same coaching party with the two. The third she sent Hadleigh back his ring. And Hadleigh accepted condolences gracefully and pensively around Pineta Point.

Peggie was happy. Every night she assured Billie things were going splendidly. Hadleigh did take so easily to education. He did not flinch a particle when his ring came back. And Billie said nothing.

The day after the return of the ring the pink parol took its way up to the bluff overlooking the bay.

"Let's sit here," its owner said to Hadleigh. "I like to watch the fort and the islands. There's Billie Ballister's yacht out there, the Peggie O."

"Named for you, isn't it?" "It was—last summer."

Hadleigh laughed shortly. "A new name every summer. It will be the Betty W. soon."

Peggie looked down at him with hurt, surprised eyes.

"Billie will never change the name of that boat," she said, with dignity. "He painted it out yesterday." Hadleigh answered, "I thought you knew."

"Knew what?" "Betty only broke her engagement with me for the sake of Ballister. She is out there with him now."

"Out there with Billie?" Peggie rose to her feet. She dared not look at Hadleigh. The pink parol shielded her from his gaze as she looked out at the Peggie O. "I want to go back to the hotel."

"Peggie"—Hadleigh's voice was more desperate than tender—"I thought you and Ballister were engaged. Did you quarrel too?"

There was no answer.

"If those two come back and Betty

wears his ring"—He stopped and moved the pink parol screen aside.

"Peggie, let's be first in this game of choosing partners. Let's—"

Peggie caught her breath and turned her back on the yacht.

Base of Mark Twain's Fortune. Mark Twain said that in his earlier days he did not enjoy the exceptional prosperity which came later in his career. It is commonly the lot of genius to suffer neglect at first, and experience did not affect his abiding good nature. In a conversation with William Dean Howells on one occasion the subject of literary vicissitudes was broached by the humorist.

"My difficulties taught me some thrift," he observed, "but I never knew whether it was wiser to spend my last nickel for a cigar to smoke or for an apple to devour."

"I am astounded," observed Mr. Howells, "that a person of so little decision should meet with so much worldly success."

Mark Twain nodded very gravely. "Indecision about spending money," he said, "is worthy of cultivation. When I couldn't decide what to buy with my last nickel I kept it and so became rich."—Success Magazine.

Result of Presentment. "Tony," said a moody British officer to his soldier servant, "something tells me that I shall never come back from this war-rally. I seem to have a sort of presentment that way."

"Then tak' no heed of it, sir," responded the servant. "Them their presentments is frauds. A cousin of mine had one once, and it treated him real shabby. It was just like the one that a trouble-bill' you now, sir. He felt sure that he'd be killed out in Egypt, so he divided his savings between his sweet-heart and his bosom chum and went out to be shot, but never a scratch did he get all the time, though he tried his level best to manage it."

"And what happened when he at length returned, Tony?" "Did those two give him back the money?"

"Not a farthing, sir. They'd been and got spoiled while I kept it and away and they'd set up housekeepin' on it."—London Answers.

Something About Pie. Usage alone must decide the issue between pie and tart. Philology, at any rate, draws no clear distinction. It only traces back "tart" to the Latin "tortus," twisted, the pastry being the twisted part, of course, while it is very doubtful about "pie." On the whole, Skeat's conjecture that this expresses the miscellaneous nature of the contents is persuasive. All the "pies" seem to go back to the original one, the magpie—in Latin "pica"—from whose black and white aspect come "pied" and "piebald." The old ordinal or service book was called "pica," or "pie," because of the appearance of the black letter type on the white page, and the edible pie, having equally mixed contents, may have been christened after this by medieval humor. Printers' language retains both "pica" for a kind of type and "pie" for type all jumbled up.—London Chronicle.

Speed of the Clouds. The clouds, as a matter of fact, are noted by the weather bureau people chiefly because they show the direction and the velocity of the higher air currents of the atmosphere. They are like chips which show the flow and eddies of a stream. Their speed is almost inconceivable to us who have watched them floating apparently with scarcely any motion across the sky, seeming what an old weather prophet called them, "those most tranquil travelers, the clouds, whose very motion is rest." The fastest horse and automobile records and even steam engine speed are easily outdone by the quietly drifting masses of mist. A mile in thirty-six seconds is not at all an uncommon velocity for the upper clouds, and they have been observed to do a mile in eighteen seconds.—F. S. Hopkin, Jr., in Leslie's Monthly.

A Queer Thing About July.

How we came to pronounce July as we do now with the accent on the second syllable is one of the unsolved mysteries of speech. Named, of course, after Julius Caesar, it should really be pronounced to rhyme with "duely," and so our forefathers actually did pronounce it. Spenser, for instance, has the "Then came hot July boyling like to fire," and even so late as Johnson's time the accent was still on the "Ju." It is one of many words which would startle those ancestors of ours spoken as we speak them now.—London Chronicle.

SWEDEN AGREEABLE.

The Regent Consents to Negotiate For Norway's Secession.
Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 25.—At a meeting of the Council of State yesterday Minister of Justice Berger proposed that King Oscar be requested to empower the Council to enter into negotiations with the Norwegian Government for the settlement of the questions in dispute, and also to authorize the Government to appoint delegates to meet the Norwegian representatives.
On the recommendation of the Council, the Regent, the Crown Prince, gave his consent to the proposals.
King Oscar Changes Mind.
Stockholm, Aug. 25.—According to good authority, the feeling in Government circles regarding the accession by a Barnadotte prince to the Norwegian throne has undergone a complete change. King Oscar no longer opposes the acceptance of the crown by his son Charles.

Famous Convict Dies.
Montreal, Aug. 25.—The death is announced at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary of the famous convict, Viau, who, at 55 years of age, had spent 35 years in prison. He engineered the revolt at the penitentiary some years ago. He was serving a life sentence for attempted murder.

We never must throw away a bushel of truth because it happens to contain a few grains of chaff.

A WARNING TO MOTHERS.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipient stage and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists.

Desertions From Fleet.

Quebec, Aug. 25.—A large desertion from the warships composing the second cruiser squadron is causing the naval authorities much anxiety. It is said that no less than sixty seamen have left their vessels, and made their way out of reach of their officers. Out of this number no less than 20 men are said to have deserted from the flagship.
