Medical Referee-Wm T Aikins, Esq. MD AT the Annual Meeting of the Society, held in March last, the following report was presented :

more meeting the Share and Policy-Holders, and in presenting to them the following Report of the operations of the Society during the year The augmentation of Income arising from new business continues to be satisfactory. During the year the Directors have received 1,318 Proposals and issued 1.027 Policies; the sum assured being £496,440, and the Annual Income derivable therefrom £13,171. 5. 4. The remaining Proposals have either been declined, or awaited completion at the end of the year. The Annual Income of the Society now mounts to £141,894. 11. 9. The sum of £59,265. 3. 6., which includes Bonusus to the amount of £5 136. 7. 1. has been paid to the representatives of deceased

The Directors have reluctantly declined 131 Proposals; this has been done after careful examination. The policy acted upon from the first has been one of prudence, and the Directors have chiefly regarded the permanent welfare of the Society by avoiding unusual risks.

These results have been attained by earnest and vigorous exertion; the competition existing among well-established offices, together with the formation of new Companies, has scarcely affected the STAR, nor is it likely so to do It has attained strength; it is, moreover, associated with a Religious Society which has consolidation, in fluence, and vitality. During the space of 23 years, the STAR has grown in public estimation while its ample Insurance Fund, and its prompt settlement of Claims, point to it as one of the most valuable means for family provision. Is the only preparation in use which invariably changes gray and faded hair to its original color. Its effects are so uniform and speedy, as to be regarded almost miraculous. It gives universal satisfaction, a single trial proving its superiority over all other articles offered to the public under similar names. Lieut. E. G. White, writes from Eastport, Me., April 17, 1866: "Though but twenty-six years of age, my hair had become quite gray, when, at the suggestion of Dr. Carpenter, I gave your Oriental Hair Restorer a trial. In ten days from the first application my hair was dark and soft in childhood. I believe no other pre-paration can boast of such remarkable effects. Rev. Edward Orr. writing from Alexandria, Va., February 5, 1866, says: "I am to old to regret that the frosts of Winter should glint perpetually in my hair, but to gratify my daughter, I have used your Oriental Hair Restorer,

All things that are of earth must die As tints upon the morning sky, That all in sapphire brightness lie. Depart : and as each blushing streak Upon sweet ev'ning's lovely cheek, But of her speedy death doth speak.

All die. The flow'ring gems that g'eam By river-banks or purling stream, That in the woodland hollows teem, Or on the grassy lees do lie, In splendor 'neath the summer sky, All bud and bloom, all bloom and die.

All die. The green leaves on the trees, That whisper love-words to the breeze, And drink its kisses, even these Do fade, and in brown ruin fall. And spread o'er earth a deathly pall. A noiseless warning cry to all.

All die. Good, evil, aged, and young. The infant, with its lisping tongue, Gray headed sire, strong-sinew'd son, Pass from the world ; not so above : There never faileth life and love, From love no death shall e'er remove.

Life is eternal in high heaven, Where rest is to the weary giv'n, And friend from friend no more is riv'n, Where peace is endless as the day. And gloom and sorrow bear no sway, Nor pain, nor evil, nor decay
