VILLAGE COUNCIL

The regular monthly meeting of the village council was held on Monday evening, the Reeve in the chair and all Councillors present. Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

On motion of E. Taylor, seconded by A. Scott, orders were issued for payment of the following accounts:—
W. G. Parish, lumber.... $22.69
Dunlop Tire Co., hose.... 4.75
Wm. Hillis, cartage, etc... 3.00
A. E. McLean, special services as Constable..... 1.50

A petition bearing 74 signatures, asking for the submission of a by-law to the ratepayers for the repeal of Local Option, having been presented to the council, was read by the Clerk. Several ratepayers were present and the Reeve invited them to express their views respecting this matter. Rev. F. A. Read accepted the invitation and spoke briefly, pointing out that the petition was illegal in form as it consisted of several sheets of paper attached only at the corners, only two of which were headed with the petition. He also pointed out that while it appeared from the last revised voters' list that 339 were entitled to vote at municipal elections the petition bore only 74 signatures, considerably less than the required 25 per cent.

The Reeve pointed out that it would not be in the interests of the petitioners or of the ratepayers generally for the Council to proceed from doubtful premises and submit a by-law that if carried might be found defective and thus involve all parties in unnecessary cost. The petitioners desired something genuine, not fictitious, and he suggested that the petition be referred to the Clerk for report.

On motion of A. E. McLean seconded by E. Taylor, the Clerk was instructed to get legal advice as to the legality and sufficiency of the petition.

On motion of A. E. McLean, seconded by J. F. Gordon, the Council adjourned until Friday evening, Nov. 10, at 8 o'clock.

A NEW LEADER.

Hon. A. G. MacKay has resigned as leader of the Liberal party in Ontario and Newton Wesley Rowell, K.C.; has accepted the leadership. While regretting the retirement of Hon. A. G. MacKay, Liberals will warmly welcome his successor. Those who heard Mr Rowell at Brockville during the recent campaign were electrified by his earnestness and eloquence. His acceptance of the Liberal leadership will be particularly welcome to advocates of prohibition of the liquor traffic as he has always been an enthusiastic advocate of this reform. It is probable that advanced prohibition legislation will form one of the planks in the Lib- platform during the present campaign and, if so, many Conservative Temperance voters will mark their ballots for the new leader.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

Very successful anniversary services were held in the Baptist church on Sunday last. Both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches were closed in the evening and the Baptist church was taxed to its full capacity to accommodate the congregation. Rev. W. S. McAlpine, B.A., B.Th., of Delta, was the preacher and he was assisted in the service by Rev. W. H. Montgomery and Rev. F. A. Read. Mr McAlpine took for his text Daniel XII. and the latter part of verse 32: "The people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits." His discourse was full of inspiration and encouragement to believers and was delivered in a way to carry conviction with it.

An excellent musical service was rendered by the choir, Mrs McAlpine and Mr C. Davison of Delta assisting, and the congregational singing was unusually hearty. Mr McAlpine contributed a well rendered solo.

Owing to the unfavorable weather, the meeting on Monday evening was not so largely attended as it would have been. The Rev. Wm. Westell presided and in his opening remarks spoke of the substantial reduction of the building debt which had been brought about during the past-year, leaving $300 yet to be raised.

The Rev. W. S. McAlpine was the speaker of the evening, and the first part of his address, entitled "The Miff-Tree" contained a life-like picture of people found in all churches.

The second portion of the speaker's address, though altogether of a different character, was just as interesting. "Archaeological discoveries of the Nineteenth century" was the subject. The speaker, graphically describing the discovery of the Rosetta stone, the Behistun rock, and the Moabite stone, and showing the vast importance of such discoveries. After words of greeting from the Rev. W. Montgomery, the meeting was brought to a close.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

The students and pupils of the High and Model Schools purpose holding a closing entertainment on the evening of Dec. 7th, 1911. The programme will be rendered by the school pupils. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchasing of books and apparatus.

Value of Books

To the Editor,—
Would be glad to have you call attention to the importance of having suitable books for young children to read, especially in schools where the teacher can hand the pupil the right book. This develops a love for reading which is useful all through life. We have no such books here at all.

Thanking you, I am, yours sincerely,
S. A. Hitsman.

[Note—Every well equipped High or Public School should and does contain a good library. Our High school is furnished in this respect through the thoughtful generosity of the late Thaddeus Leavitt. Of course, such a library lacks many books that should be in such an institution, and the cost of supplying them would not be great. The Public school has no library, not even books for the supplementary reading prescribed by the curriculum, and the effort to remedy this defect, so kindly undertaken by the teachers and students of the two schools should meet with the hearty endorsement of citizens generally.—Ed.]

Service in the Baptist Church Sunday will be at seven o'clock.

The Rev. T. Austin Smith of Lyn will preach in Christ's church and Trinity church Oak Leaf, on Sunday next.

Chapped Hands AND Cold Sores

Are your hands chapped, cracked or sore? Have you "cold cracks" which open and bleed when the skin is drawn tight? Have you a cold sore, frost bite, chilblains, or a "raw" place, which at times makes it agony for you to go about your household duties? If so, Zam-Buk will give you relief, and will heal the frost-damaged skin, and will heal the inflammation, and will heal quickly.

Mrs. Yellen, of Portland, says: "My hands were so sore and cracked that it was agony to put them near water. When I did so they would smart and burn as if I had scalded them. I seemed quite unable to get relief from anything I put on them until I tried Zam-Buk, and it succeeded when all else had failed. It closed the big cracks, gave me ease, soothed the inflammation, and in a very short time healed my hands."

Zam-Buk also cures chafing, rashes, winter sores, piles, ulcers, itching ears, nose bleeds, and eczema, abrasions, ringworm, etc. It is a sure cure for all these troubles. It is sold in all drug stores, or sent free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Price 60¢ a box.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON VII.—NOV. 12, 1911.

Belshazzar's Feast and Fate—World's Temperance Lesson—Dan 6:17-30.

Commentary.—I. Belshazzar's impious feast (vs. 1-4). Belshazzar was probably not more than seventeen years old at this time. The army of Cyrus was encamped about the city, but the youthful king seemed to think there was no danger, since the city was strongly fortified, and there appeared to be no possibility of the Persians to gain entrance to the city. Secure in these defenses, Belshazzar and a thousand of the chief men of the nation gave themselves over to revelry. While inflated with wine the king had the golden and silver drinking vessels brought in, which had been taken from the temple in Jerusalem, and they were sacrilegiously used during the feast by the guests in drinking wine. In addition to this act of desecration of the sacred vessels, the feasters gave honor to the gods of Babylon. Their impiety deserved severe retribution. Their attention was arrested in a most startling manner. The revelry ceased and an end came to the sacrifice. II. The writing on the wall (vs. 5-16). During this profane revelry a hand appeared writing upon the wall of the magnificent banquet hall. The king and his guests were startled at the sight, and immediately sought for the interpretation of the strange characters mysteriously written. The wise men of the kingdom were unable to tell the meaning, but the queen, Belshazzar's mother, thought of Daniel, the Jewish captive, and desired to have him brought in, for she had confidence in his skill. Daniel must have been at least eighty years old at that time. To him the king repeated the offer of great reward on condition that he should interpret the handwriting on the wall. The king knew Daniel by reputation as a man of superior powers, and was therefore willing to take advantage of his skill in the interpretation of the strange message. III. Belshazzar repented (vs. 17-24). Let thy gifts be to thyself—Daniel was not influenced to undertake the explanation of the writing by the offer of gifts. He did not wish them. His one purpose was to declare truly the important message divinely sent to Belshazzar. I will read—He showed no hesitancy, for he knew that God was with him. 18. God gave—The power to give greatness and honor was not in the idols which Belshazzar worshipped but in Jehovah. Nebuchadnezzar had recognized that power at times during his life. Thy father—Grandfather. This form of expression was used frequently in speaking of an ancestor. 19. Majesty—In this verse Daniel gives a vivid picture of an Oriental king of ancient times possessed of absolute power. He had the power of life and death over his subjects. 20. His mind hardened in pride—His success as a ruler resulted in his becoming haughty and arrogant. He was deposed—He was removed from being king, not by human power, but by an act of Jehovah. "He became insane, and the reins of government were taken out of his hands."—Clarke. 21. Driven from the sons of men—Nebuchadnezzar's malbeats of the field and to live like them. The account is given in Daniel 4. Till he knew—It took him seven years to learn the lesson that Jehovah is "the most high God." 22. Hast thou humbled?—Belshazzar did not take the lesson of Nebuchadnezzar's calamity to heart, and Daniel charged home upon him his failure. The king knew his duty, but failed to do it. 23. Hast lifted up thyself against the Lord—Three serious charges were brought against the king. 1. He had desecrated the sacred vessels of the house of the Lord by using them to drink wine in a drunken revelry. 2. He had given himself to the service of gods of silver and gold of brass, iron, wood and stone. 3. He had neglected the true God. Daniel may be classed with Nathan (2 Sam. 12:7), Elijah (1 Kings 18:17, 18), Jeremiah (Jer. 36: 27-31) and John the Baptist (Luke 3: 19, 20) in his fearlessness in reproving sin in high places. 24. Hand sent—The hand was sent from God to portray in a most powerful manner the doom of the king and the nation because of their haughtiness and idolatry. IV. The writing interpreted (vs. 25-29). 25. The writing—The word is not the one that ordinarily means to write, but one that means rather to print or stamp. Can. Bible, means, numbered. The word here has been interpreted from the Hebrew "maneh," a weight, tekel—Weighted. This has been found to be another weight, upharasin—Divided. It represents still another weight. It required the direct help of the Lord for Daniel to be able to give the proper interpretation to these comparatively simple words. Some have supposed that the words were written in such characters or in such form that they were difficult to comprehend. The word "mene" was repeated for emphasis. 28. Numbered thy kingdom—The end was much nearer than Belshazzar imagined. It was to come that night. 27. Found wanting—As the merchant weighs the gold or silver received in payment for wares and may find it short in weight, so Belshazzar had fallen short of what he should have been as king of a great nation. He was wanting in morality, piety and spiritual force. 25. peres—The singular form of the plural "pharasin." The prefix "n" means "and" divided. Belshazzar was given to another nation. The Medes and Persians had been united into one nation by Cyrus. 29. Unites (vs. 28).—This was a symbol of royalty. Daniel was given a place in the king's court, chain of gold—An emblem of his high office. third ruler in the kingdom. Daniel was next to Belshazzar. The punishment foretold had a speedy fulfillment. The king lost his life. But Daniel continued under the new kingdom. Darius the Mede and Cyrus the Persian appear to have been associated in the government of conquered Babylon. With regard to the transfer of power to the Medes, Driver says: "The idea of the writer appears to be that the Medes and Persians were acting in concert with the capture of Babylon (vs. 28); but that when the city was taken, Darius the Mede, by a joint agreement between the two people (or their rulers), received the kingdom (vs. 9); it was made king, and (ch. 6) took up his residence in Babylon as his capital."

OLD LADY ALMOST CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

A Remarkable and Convincing Statement of the Success of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the Treatment of the Pain, Itching and Burning of Eczema

"I, the undersigned, cannot give enough praise to the Cuticura Remedies. I had been doctoring for at least a year for eczema on my foot. I had tried doctor after doctor all to no avail. When a young girl I sprained my ankle through different times, paying little or no attention to it, when five years ago a small spot showed upon my left ankle. I was worried and sent for a doctor. He said it was eczema. He drew a small circle from the ankle about the size of a match about an inch long. The spot being grew to about the size of an apple, and the eczema spread to the knee. The doctors never could heal the burn on the ankle. The whole foot ran water all the time. "My husband and my sons were up night and day wheeling me from one room to another, the hospital giving me some relief. I would sit for hours at a time in front of the fireplace hoping for daybreak. The pain was no intense I was almost crazy, in fact, I would have been in the hospital at a time. One day a friend of mine dropped in to see me. No more had he glanced at my foot than he exclaimed, "Mrs. Finnegan, why the world don't you try the Cuticura Remedies? Being disgusted with the doctors and their medicines, and not being able to sleep at all, I decided to give the Cuticura Soap and Ointment a trial. The next night I slept as sound as a silver dollar for eight long hours, I awoke in the morning with my ankle healed, the burn on the ankle was in my hand. After using the Cuticura Remedies for three months I was perfectly cured. I will be sixty-four years of age, my next birthday being July 11, 1911. I am at present (sic) Mrs. Julia Finnegan, 2224 1/2 Street, St. Louis, Mo., Mar. 7, 1911. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter, D. & C. Corp., 47 Columbia Ave., Boston, U. S. A., for free sample of each with 32-p. book."

PRACTICAL SURVEY.

Topic.—Decisive events. I. For the king and kingdom of Babylon. Leading to the deliverance of Judah. I. For the king and kingdom of Babylon. In this history we have the summing up of the case against a doomed man, a man who had failed of life's purpose. Little as Belshazzar dreamed of it, his life had been placed in the balance of eternal justice, and he had been impartially weighed. On the one side of the balance were placed Belshazzar's opportunities, on the other his sins. The measure of his responsibility was proportioned to the degree of his knowledge. "Knowledge must be the first element in the balance of judgment where an intelligent being renders his account to a personal God." Belshazzar's knowledge of his duties which he felt Nebuchadnezzar had rendered him inexcusable, gentle monarch though he was, he had had exceptional opportunities for knowing the truth of God, yet he affronted God and put contempt on him. How appalling is the catalogue of aggravated crimes with which Belshazzar was charged—obstinate impotence, a proud, arrogant exaltation, a profane impiety, a marked insolent contempt upon the honor of God, due unto God, such godlessness worked itself out and brought a final judgment on the long course of his guilty life. The eye of the great Judge was upon that scene of profanity and dissipation. Then the conscience of Belshazzar awoke at an unexpected moment, and told him he had no good reason to expect good news from heaven. In vain he looked in vain he called upon those things which he had under his control to help solve his perplexity. He proclaimed his own defeat at the moment when he had inspired others with the idea of victory and supremacy. It was a part of his punishment of Belshazzar to expose his dismay to the very persons whom he had led on in sin. Thus shame was united with terror. When these wicked men fall into their right relations with God, he riches, honours and world honor. He was absolute master of the greatest palace and the greatest city the world had ever seen, yet his thoughts rose clear and strong and broke through the fumes of intoxication and troubled him. He had had his opportunities, his examples, his warnings, yet he was drunken on the night of the siege, entirely unfit for the responsibilities of a great festival, a royal banquet in which no restraint was placed upon profanity, intemperance, vain amusements or worldly-mindedness of any character. Note the change in the programme, when the last solemn warning was given to the king, a warning which silenced in a moment the roar of impious mirth, a warning in which no mercy was exhibited. The king had been weighed in the balances of human opinion and approved. Then he was weighed in the balances of conscience and judged. Still further he was weighed in the balances of divine justice and condemned. Though holdest in vice Belshazzar was most destitute of courage when danger came. He took the strange writing as intended for himself. His eyes held the strange writing and at the same time looked in upon his own corrupt heart. Though he could not read the meaning he felt it, and the suspense was unbearable. II. Leading to the deliverance of Judah. No terror blanched the cheek of Daniel. It was his Father's hand that wrote and he only could interpret God's sentence of doom. These events were bringing nearer the time when his people should see better days. He could be tranquil while Belshazzar languished. The end of the seventy years of captivity for Judah was near. The march of justice may be slow, but her steps are resistless and her movements punctual. The prophets had declared the downfall of Babylon and the rise of Medo-Persian empire. The sins and the death of Belshazzar were foretold. The judgment of that night had long threatened. Yet up to the very hour the probability seemed against such an occurrence, but when it came it settled forever the fate of its victims. Belshazzar's feast of boasting and blasphemy was the last ceremonial of the Chaldean kings. The vices of Belshazzar were vices of his family. T. R. A.

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine." FRANK EMBLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindsay, Ont.—"I think it is no more than right for me to thank Mrs. Pinkham for what her kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to her some time ago I was a very sick woman, suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the female organs, and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend this medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and think they are fine." FRANK EMBLEY, Lindsay, Ontario.

We cannot understand why women will take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, without first trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration.

CAUGHT THEM

Bankers Nabbed While Testing Burglar Alarm. Boston, Nov. 6.—To satisfy themselves that the money in their bank was safe and to test the burglar alarm, Thomas P. Beal, jun., vice-president, and Frank H. Wright, assistant cashier of the Second National Bank, entered that institution early to-day and set off the alarm. In four minutes they were surrounded and captured by officers from the court square police station. The bank officials had to give complete identification before they were released by the police, and further called upon to explain the affair.

CHILD BIRTH

NEW CATTLE LAW.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 2.—A new law governing the importation of cattle into Connecticut, which is in effect for the first time to-day, provides that all cattle coming into this state hereafter must have a certificate of good health. The animals will be quarantined until inspection has been made by the state commissioner's deputies.

Sweet Miss Margery

The writer told how, on returning earlier than he had anticipated, he had entered the house through the window of his "den," from the grounds. This was barred after him by his servant; and thus he became an unintentional eavesdropper to the sad meeting between his wife and her cousin; and he ended by entreating Stuart to let no obstacle stand in his path, but to consummate Margery's and his own happiness by a speedy marriage.

My love to Mrs. Fothergill and the doctor. Miss Lawson nodded and walked away. "I am an old fool," she declared savagely to herself, as she felt a tear roll down her cheek, "and I only hope I shall keep out of the way for some good!"

her back, draped in the hood and cloak, while Mrs. David bustled to the door. "It is you, sir! Come in and welcome! He's sleeping sound now, sir. Ah, Heaven give you happiness, as you have given it to me today!"

A curious sensation stole over Margery's heart—a sensation that brought a vague touch of joy. The next moment the joy increased, for the wind spoke, the tones of which recalled the golden dream of her early love.

It was Stuart, her lover. Her hands clasped tightly together, were pressed against her throbbing heart. Her lips murmured his name silently; but still she stood motionless; and Stuart's eye went from the unknown woman in the hood and cloak to the child.

"He's all right now, Mrs. David; there is no fear. You will have him as jolly an ever in a day or two." "Oh, thank you, sir! And you yourself, air—your ain't got no harm?" "Not a bit," laughed Stuart cheerily. "See water does not hurt me; I am used to it. I have been in a gale or two at sea, you know. It is rough weather, though, to-day, Mrs. David."

The placards which the Board of Health has been issuing during the last few days warning people of the danger of flies and suggesting methods of extermination are so unsatisfactory that I think it will be better to suggest a more effective method.

TRACK WALKERS' RECORDS.

George A. Burns, the oldest track walker in point of service on the Pennsylvania Railroad, has just put his 177,900th mile behind him.

A MOTHER'S PRAISE OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Since my farm experience I have spoken to several people about killing flies with elastic, and it is surprising to me that interest has been shown in that method and how effectively it has worked.

Mr. B. S. Baker, East Margareville, N. S., writes: "No mother would recommend for her baby any medicine of which she was not absolutely sure. A baby's life is too precious. A mother is always pleased to recommend to other mothers something that has been valuable in restoring the health of her own child."

THE HIRED MAN.

(Buffalo Express.) The hired man has habits strange. Which time and progress fail to change; Oh, see him wash his hands and face And blow the water round the place!

The hired man's great appetite. Make visitors look on in fright; Oh, see him reach and seize The distant bread or meat or cheese!

The hired man just loves to toil; Oh, see him plough and plant the soil He loves the horses and the dog, And puts the clumsy, grunting log.

The hired man is wizard-wise; He knows each bird that o'er his millies; He knows where saffras is found And where the chestnuts dot the ground.

The hired man by lantern gleam. Can harness up the market team, The right road in the darkness take, And through the journey stay awake!

Through school and college I must go, And learn the things professors know; And when I've done all that—I plan To learn the trade of hired man!

PAVLOVA'S RETORT COURTEOUS.

Pavlova, the Russian dancer, was the subject of discussion at a recent tea at the Colony Club in New York, according to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"Pavlova can take care of herself," said an actress. "She took care of herself splendidly in an interview last year with a multi-millionaire's wife."

"This woman," called on Pavlova and asked her if she'd dance at a dinner at her house on Riverside drive. Pavlova said she would—for $1,000.

"But isn't that rather high?" said the lady. "No, madam," said Pavlova. "I couldn't think of dancing for you for less."

"Come," said the other, "make it $1,200. Do!" "No," said Pavlova, firmly. "No, my price is $1,500."

"Very well, then, so be it." "And the lady with a resigned air rose and drew her saucers about her. But at the door she turned and said:

"Of course, you know, I shan't expect you to mingle with my guests."

"Oh, in that case," said Pavlova, with a smile, "I'll gladly grant you the $300."

A "WHEEZY" CHEST

Means your trouble is deep seated. To delay is dangerous. All the inflammation will be drawn out in one day by applying Nerviline. It penetrates through the pores of the skin, relieves inflammation and thus prevents serious consequences. For sore throat, weak chest and tendency to colds, no prescription is better than Pulson's Nerviline. For nearly fifty years it has been Canada's great household remedy. Twenty-five cent bottles a large bottle.

I WILL NOT LET THEE GO.

I will not let thee go. Ende all our month-long love in this. Can it be summed up so, Quit in a single kiss!

I will not let thee go. If thy words' breath could scare thy deeds. As the soft south can blow And toss the feathered seeds, Then might I let thee go.

I will not let thee go. Had not the great sun seen, I might; Or were he reckoned slow To bring the false to light, Then might I let thee go.

I will not let thee go. The stars that crowd the summer skies Have watched us so below With all their million eyes, I dare not let thee go.

I will not let thee go. Have not thy child the changeful moon, Now rising late, and now Because she set too soon, And shall I let thee go?

I will not let thee go. Have not the young flowers been content, Plucked ere their buds could blow, To seal our sacrament? I cannot let thee go.

I will not let thee go. I hold thee by too many bands; Thou sayest farewell! and lo! I have thee by the hands, And will not let thee go! —Robert Bulger.

AN OLD GOLD BRICK

Used For Fleecing the Innocents a Generation Ago.

THE PATENT SAFE SWINDLE.

It Was a Plausible Trick That Generally Caught the Coin and Sent the Bewildered Victim Out of Town in a Hurry For Fear of Arrest.

Although the essentials of imposture remain unchanged from generation to generation, so that the rogue of today would have no trouble in recognizing his counterpart of the seventeenth century, nevertheless there are fashions in thievery, as in everything else. Old tricks are cast off like threadbare coats in favor of newer ones, and these in turn are discarded when publicity has rendered them familiar and therefore less effective, but plausibility and address are the indispensable qualities of the gentry who live by their wits.

The newest type of confidence man is the get-rich-quick individual who breathes of money and wouldn't turn his hand to a small "job." He angles for victims with new corporations and great business ventures for bait, but he is the same man who a generation ago raked in the shillings by means of the patent safe game. This game is now an outworn fashion. But it had its points.

Let us suppose a countryman, carpeting hand, to have alighted at the union station and set out to see the sights. Although his name is conveniently printed on the outside of his bag or set down in a legible hand on the hotel register, he is amazed to find himself hospitably greeted by an utter stranger, who knows his name and the town from which he hails. The stranger is an old friend whom the countryman is ashamed to think he cannot remember—place is the word. But the stranger is very affable and lays himself out to entertain the newcomer. They stroll about town in company, visit a bar or two, exchange reminiscences and at the end of a few hours are bosom companions. The stranger invariably pays the score, has a lovely disdain of money; good fellowship is its own reward.

The two stroll by devious ways until finally while they are walking arm in arm down a quiet bystreet the stranger's eye is caught by a curious object lying on the pavement. He pauses to examine it. It is a miniature globe about the size of a billiard ball. The stranger turns it over curiously in his fingers and finally sees that it is fitted with a small plug, which comes out under pressure. Continuing his explorations, he then unscrews the top of the plug, takes out a piece of crumpled paper, shows his dupes the empty box and throws the paper on the ground. There is a similar bit of paper in the small chamber at the end of the plug, but this the countryman does not see. The two then stroll on, discussing the mysterious ball.

Presently they come upon a worried looking man, who is studying the ground with a face the pattern of despair. The roper observes him and wants to know whether he has lost something.

"Lost something, indeed!" says the man. "Why, I've lost an invention of mine that I wouldn't have taken $10,000 for. It was a patent fire safe which would save hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of papers and valuables every year. I was just on my way to Blank & Blank's, the safe manufacturers, to get one made, and here I have lost the model."

The roper is evidently much touched by the inventor's distress. He produces the wooden globe and is immediately overwhelmed with expressions of gratitude.

"But what good is that invention of yours?" asks the roper.

"Well, I've lost the inventor with pride, you see, it is set on props. When there is a fire all you have to do is to knock out the props and the safe rolls down an incline right out of the building as neat as you please. There's a box inside to hold the papers. There is a paper in this box right now."

At that the roper winks slyly at the farmer and whispers in his ear, "I'll make him a bet on that piece of paper."

"Come," says the roper, "that's a pretty tall yarn. I don't believe there's any paper in that ball. I'll bet there isn't a scrap of paper in it."

"I'll bet you $1,000 there's a paper in it," says the inventor, much incensed. "I haven't that much with me," says the roper, "but I'll just bet you a hundred on it." With that he takes out a number of bills, say $50 or so, and a bank check for the other $50. To his friend the farmer he says, "Will you just lend me $50 on this check until I can get to my hotel?"

The farmer sees that his friend is sure to win. He advances the $50, when, behold, the inventor draws out the plug, removes the concealed paper from its small chamber and collects the bet. The roper is decidedly crestfallen, but while he is still lamenting his folly a policeman rushes up, charges him with gambling and makes a grab for him. Roper fees, but the farmer is caught. After protesting his innocence the farmer is allowed to depart. Still fearful of arrest, he fees the city. When he presents his check he discovers that roper, inventor and policeman are all confidence men who have enriched themselves at his expense.—Chicago Record Herald.

No harm can befall a good man, whether alive or dead.—Scottish.

BASEBALL SCORES.

Odd Way the Plays Were recorded Back in the Sixties.

The baseball public of today, accustomed to the minute reporting of games, wherein each run is compounded and many a play analyzed, is offered the account of a game played in Syracuse in 1868. The contestants were the Central City of Syracuse and the Athletics of Philadelphia, and the score was 41 to 12.

The game was delayed a half hour by the difficulty in finding an umpire. Then the report goes on to state:

"The game opened loosely upon both sides, and at the end of the first innings the score stood Athletics 5, Central City 4, each side making its tallies promptly from the loose playing of the out club. After the first inning the Athletics played more carefully, while the Central City grew more careless until the fifth inning, when they became more demoralized than was the Union army at the battle of Bull Run.

"Considerable dissatisfaction was manifested and expressed, and in two innings rightfully so, at the evident one sided decisions of the umpire.

"We will not particularize, but suffice to say that several of the players on both sides did well, while others, especially the Central City side, were not fully up to their standard efforts. The following is the

A CRUSHING RETORT.

Mrs. Songbird Paid Her Naughty Society Patron in Full.

Last year a prominent Boston society leader, in arranging a musical surprise at an elaborate dinner given to the town's elite, called on a singer of reknown to engage her services for that evening. It chanced that the singer was naturally independent. On the other hand, the caller was notoriously haughty. As a result this was what transpired between them:

After the visitor had announced the import of her coming, the singer succinctly said she would sing one number for $200, and that it would be a Wagnerian selection.

"The price we will not haggle over," said the visitor, "but instead of that grand opera selection I want you to render one of the light and popular ditties of the day!"

"For the Wagnerian song, $200; for the popular ditty, $300," was the firm reply.

"But, madame," expostulated the society leader, "your classical song is much more exacting on your powers, so why should you charge more for the lighter and easier song?"

"Ah," replied the independent one, "the harder song is all fun to me; the easier one all work!"

So the price was fixed at $300. Just as the haughty visitor was about to depart, she turned to the artist and said:

"Of course, I shall not expect you to mingle with my guests."

"Ah," was the biting retort, "I shall throw off $50."—Life.

Extremely Polite. The forms of Mexican politeness to the stranger are sometimes embarrassing. Miss Mary Barton, who visited the country to paint landscapes and tells her experience in "Impressions of Mexico," says that "people seemed anxious to help me in all possible ways, from the railway conductor, who invited me to dine with him, to the very smart young man that I met in the postoffice when I had a number of invitations in my hand and who offered to lick the stamps for me."

Shutting Him Off. The Dad—My son, I want to tell you that the secret of my success, as it must be of any man's, is hard work. I—The Son—Sh, dad! I don't care to hear other people's secrets, and I am too much of a gentleman to take advantage of information gained in that way. Say no more.—Toledo Blade.

Tasty Poison. Customer—The poison may be excellent, but the rats won't take it. You'll have to make it more tasty. Druggist—I've tried that already, but the apprentice boys eat it.—Fliegende Blätter.

Plurals. There is considerably less reason why the plural of mouse should be mice than why the plural of spouse should be spice. Any bigamist will admit as much.—Puck.

The Only Mourner. Randall—Was Spratt a popular man? "Popular!" The only mourner at his funeral was the insurance company.—Life.

A TRIBUTE
To the writer of "Random Notes
By The Way."

We have, oh, so often, wondered
Would we ever find again
In the columns of our paper
The good product of thy pen,
But we're glad the old Reporter,
Brings to us again to-day,
Fresh and new and good as ever,
Random notes along the way.

While we sit here reading, musing,
Where dry the leaves flit and fall,
Seems we gain its deeper meaning,
Seems we hear a gentle call,
Asking that we leave behind us,
In life's pathway day by day,
Words of cheer and deeds of kindness,
Random notes along the way.

When thy writing days are ended
And life's voyage all is o'er,
And when thou hast safely landed,
On a brighter, fairer shore,
And thy footsteps bear thee softly
In the light of endless day,
To thy memory we'll be reading
"Random notes along the way."

—E. Robeson

Hard Island, Nov. 1, 1911.
[Note—It was intended that above tribute should appear in last week's Reporter with Random Notes, but it was impracticable.]

W. M. S. CONVENTION

The 6th annual convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the Brockville district of the Methodist church was held at Lansdowne on Oct.
27, commencing at ten o'clock. The meeting opened with the president, Mrs T. S. Kendrick, Athens, in the chair. Reports from the different auxiliaries were given.

Afternoon session—Mrs J. Walters opened the meeting with devotional exercises. Mrs Kendrick was again appointed district organizer by ballot and in her reply thanked the ladies and gave her report of the year's work showing a forward increase, both in members and finances. Then followed the round table conference; Mrs Riss' plan of Campaign—Mrs Connolly;
Our Band Work—Miss Ida Ferguson;
The Auxiliary a Spiritual Force—Mrs
Loverin; Why Attend Every Meeting of the Auxiliary?—Mrs (Dr.) McLean.
Then followed words of welcome by Mrs E. E. Warren, and replied to by Mrs Chas Richards. Greetings were presented from Anglican and Presbyterian societies.

Evening session—Devotional exercises were conducted by Mr Kelly, who also acted as chairman. Then followed an anthem by the choir; an address by Mrs F. A. Larke, Brookville, on "Women's Day at the Ecumenical Conference," which was listened to with great interest. Miss Earl, of Glen Elbe, gave a very touching reading entitled "Why Didn't You Tell Us?" Mrs (Rev.) Hughes gave a most instructive address on the board meeting, paying high tribute to the women who are head officers of this board and telling of their responsibilities and work. Meeting closed with benediction.

PLUM HOLLOW

Mr and Mrs B. Barber spent the week end at Brockville.
Miss Susie Palmer is home from Frankville, caring for her mother, who has been ill.
Mr Willie Campbell has returned from the West.

A SURPRISE IN STORE

Several subscribers to "The Family Herald and Weekly Star" in this district have received their copy of the beautiful premium picture entitled,
"Home Again." A copy has also reached this office. It certainly surpasses any picture ever given by that great paper before. How such a beautiful work of art, all ready for framing can be included with such a great family paper for the small sum of one dollar a year is a mystery. "The Family Herald and Weekly Star" should add thousands of new subscribers this season. They will deserve it, for no such value has ever before been given. There is a big surprise in store for those who receive the picture
"Home Again."

PROGRESS OF THE G. T. P.

It is interesting to note the progress that is being made by the Grand Trunk Ry., and for the information of the public we publish the following particulars regarding this great Transcon-tinential Ry. The lines at present in operation are as follows:—
Fort William Northwest via Winipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton and Edson to Fitzhugh—1472.
Prince Rupert to Copper River—
100 miles.
Canora via Yorkton and Melville to Regina—151 miles.
Topfield, Alta. to Mirror—70 miles
There is also a total mileage of about 900 on other sections of the Eastern Division which is in partial operation by construction trains. The following lines are under construction:—
Fitzhugh, Alta. to Corper, B. C.— 618 miles.
Regina, Sask. via Moose Jaw northwest—93 miles.

Regina, Sask. to International boundary—90 miles.
Young to Prince Albert, Sask. 120
miles.
Ohan to Battleford, Sask.—50 miles
Mirror, Alta. to Calgary—124 miles.
Biggar, Sask. southwest—50 miles.
Alberta Coal Branch—60 miles.

The Grand Trunk Pacific are in receipt of a letter from a prominent traveller in Eastern Canada, who has just returned from a trip to the West, and which included a journey on Grand Trunk Pacific from Winnipeg to Wainwright and return. He states—"I must say it is one of the pleasantest experiences in my long life of travel.
Having seen the road in making, and being aware of the high standard set up, I was prepared for a good roadbed, and was not disappointed, for we rode as smoothly as between Montreal and Toronto. The sleeping cars are models of comfort, and the service on them as well as dining cars could not be better.
The Grand Trunk are setting the pace for general excellence in Western Canada."

FRANKVILLE

Quite a large number from here attended nomination at Delta on Monday.
Mrs Jas. Smith is on the sick list.
Mr Chas Burt, who has been assistant cheese maker in Frankville Factory left on Wednesday of last week.
Mrs Wesley Johnson of Addison spent a few days last week visiting friends here.
Chas. Church is repairing the building formerly occupied by Kilborn & Co.
as a warehouse, which is making a great improvement.
Mr and Mrs Don H. Love spent Sunday visiting friends in Smith's Falls.

PHILIPSVILLE

W. Tackaberry had a large crop of potatoes this year and he has no trouble in getting $1.00 per bushel for them.
Wm. C. Stevens has been moving some of his buildings, getting them in a shape to make stables, root houses and storage for his heavy crops, also to make room for his increasing stock of pure bred Holsteins. He has put on a new roof and new clapboards on the house that his foreman lives in and a new kitchen and wood-house also.
Samuel Carr will carry the mail
from Elgin station to Philipsville, Harlem and Chantry during the next 4 years, commencing the first of January, 1912.
Mrs H. C. Davion, Brookville, was the guest of her father during thanksgiving holidays.
Mr and Mrs Wm. Cook spent the week end with her sister, Mrs W. W.
Topping.
Mr and Mrs E. A. Whitmore were the guests of her father, Mr L. N.
Pheips, Delta, for a day.
Fire was discovered in R. C.
Haskins mill-yard near the mill on Thursday night by one of the neighbors
They carried a dozen or more pails of water and thought they had it out.
The next morning it was still burning.
There was a hole burned about 10x20 feet but had not come to the surface only in a small place near the by wash.
The staff that was burning had been there for years and it is thought it was a case of spontaneous combustion.

The Methodist officials are sending out to members of their churches the ballots to decide for them whether church union will take place with the Presbyterian and Congregationalists.
There is but one question on the ballot
"Are you in favor of organic union with the other churches?" "Yes" or "No" is to be the answer. Four kinds of ballots are being issued, one for church members over 18, one for members under 18, one for adherents, and one for officials. The vote will commence this week, and will continue until spring, when the results will be compiled.

A Prize Contest
open to the farmers of Canada
$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

READ the conditions of the Prize Contest we are conducting for the farmers of Canada. $400.00 in prizes will be awarded to each Province. These prizes will be divided into four groups, consisting of:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement. PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement for the greatest number of purposes. PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement. PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of work (shown by photograph sent in) was done.

Every farmer in Canada is eligible. Therefore, do not be deterred from entering by any feeling that you would have little chance against your neighbor. For remember, Prizes "C" and "D" have no bearing whatever upon the quantity of cement used. As a matter of fact, your success in this contest will depend to a great extent on your careful reading of our 160-page book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." In this book—sent free on request to any farmer, full instructions are given as to the uses of concrete, and plans for every kind of farm buildings and farm utility. You'll see the need of this book, whether you are going to try for a prize or not. If you have not got your copy yet, write for it to-night. Simply cut off the attached coupon—or a postcard will do—sign your name and address thereto and mail it to-night.

Please send Circular and Book.

What Is Your Family Worth?
If your family is worth the best you can afford in house and food and clothes is it not worth the best reading as well? And the best reading—best for boys and girls, best for men and women—is to be found in The Youth's Companion.

Of stories alone The Companion will print nearly 300 in 1912. With all the rest of the paper thrown in, and counting the glorious long serial stories, they cost the subscriber less than a cent apiece, moreover, you will look long before you will find stories so varied and interesting; stories of coolness in the face of peril, strange adventures with creatures of the forest and the sea; moving stories of life's obscure heroisms; stories breezy with good-natured humor, quaint and curious character sketches. Now is the time to subscribe, for the new subscriber in Canada will receive free from the time his $2.00 is received all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1911, containing the opening chapter of Ralph D. Paine's great serial of the Boxer Rebellion, "The Cross and the Dragon." And there is the gift of The Companion Calendar for 1912, "On the New England Coast," lithographed in twelve colors and gold. Only $2.00 now to Canadian subscribers, but on January 1, 1912, the subscription price will be advanced to $2.25.

LITTLE HELPS IN CARING FOR THE WARDROBE.

The wardrobe that is properly cared for, brushed, mended and folded will not only last as long again as the one that is allowed to take its own way...

Whatever method of fastening skirt and shirt waist together you affect, it should be attended to before wearing even once, for these are things that look so slowly as a waist and skirt parting company in the back...

Speaking of shoes, take the advice of an experienced woman who declared that frequent visits to the shoemaker—and the dentist—had done more to turn her out a well-groomed woman than any other thing.

One should have trees for every pair of boots and shoes. If possible, if not, do the next best thing and stuff them out with paper when not in use.

Never put away a pair of shoes without brushing off the dust and dirt. Unless you have been walking in the mud you will only need a soft felt rubber to keep them clean.

Keen and embroidered dancing slippers should be kept in boxes, with a piece of tissue paper between, so the beads will not rub the leather or satin, and that the embroidery may not be soiled.

Keep a supply of laces and buttons on hand, for you may need them any moment. If patent buttons are put on when the boots are new they will nearly always last as long as the shoes.

For black shoes, be sure to find a blacking that will not injure the leather, and with the very best it is well to have them occasionally blacked by a professional cleaner.

Be careful to clean all the spots with naphtha, ammonia or other cleaning fluid, then press on the wrong side with a damp cloth and very hot iron.

Stockings and dress shields should be changed and washed daily. Gloves should be kept in a long, narrow box, so they may lie at length and not be rolled.

Before sending clothes to the laundry look them over carefully and darn every broken thread, for if you do not you will find a hole of considerable size when they come back to you.

It is well to have all your underwear marked, even though you may live at home and your washing is not sent out.

He—Don't you think she has rather a good complexion? She—It strikes me as being just a little too good.

"WAS FADING AWAY"

A Young Woman—Scarcely Thirty—Seemed to be Dying on Her Feet.

"I think it should be the duty of the schools to teach children how to keep well," writes Miss Nannie E. Naydon, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of Bristol.

"Your skirt and waist were never divorced, and your shoes were never run over." Speaking of shoes, take the advice of an experienced woman who declared that frequent visits to the shoemaker—and the dentist—had done more to turn her out a well-groomed woman than any other thing.

THE SAUSAGE.

Story Told of Lord Northcote, Late of Australia.

The death, the other day, of Lord Northcote recalls a story told of him when he was Governor-General of Australia.

"Here's a sausage for you. I can't come out to-night, as master has company, she whispered, and as mysterious disappearance." "When he got to the house he found one of his servants loitering by the gate.

"What are you doing here?" asked Lord Northcote. "I'm waiting for my sweetheart," the man stammered.

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Till Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes:

"For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had a cold, then I thought I had a fever, but nothing would do me any good until I tried Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

POOR WOMAN.

See her shop. She starts lithely out. She jauntily enters shopland. She clutches, say, $50 in her hand. The $50 is to refresh up her wardrobe.

"That little imperial Russian tie" asks the saleswoman. "That's one of our best things, though small, $450."

Many a white lie has left a black mark behind it.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS. CURED ALL KINDS OF KIDNEY DISEASE. RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL, BRONCHITIS, DIABETES, HEMIPLEGIA, PARALYSIS, NEURALGIA, MIGRAINE, HEADACHE, BACKACHE, STOMACH DYSPEPSIA, BILIOUSNESS, COLIC, CONSTIPATION, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE URINARY SYSTEM.

ORIGIN OF THE UNION JACK.

The conundrum of Rear Admiral Bloomfield, of the British navy, which was taken from the Mariner's Mirror, in which he defines as a mystery his inability to trace the "origin of the practice of British royal ships flying on a flagstaff at the bowsprit end a small replica of the national flag" would have caught his comprehension if he had been a Scotchman, and especially as he seems, unwittingly, to have used the very phraseology of its original use.

King James I. of England always signed acts of Parliament officially, Jacques I. (pronounced Jack).

The "Union Jack I."—The historical key to the conundrum is as follows: 1—The original English flag carried the emblem of St. George, a red cross on a white field.

King James imposed the English cross upon the Scotch flag, uniting both flags in fond companionship, it being a union, and not of force as a conquest. In 1601 the Irish flag was added to the former combination, thus perfecting in historical order the British flag of the present time.

WOMEN NEED GIN PILLS

"I was troubled with Kidney Disease for several years. My back was weak. I had terrible headaches, and was so restless that I could not sleep at night. At last a friend told me about Gin Pills. I got a box and after taking them, I felt better. After three boxes I was cured."

WHEN SOMEBODY FAINTS.

"If somebody faints this is what to do, according to The Woman's Home Companion: "If due to the effect of bad air in a close room or the shock of hearing bad news, loosen the cloth of the patient, sprinkle cold water on the face and chest at your desire, or direct from your face, or the back of the neck and lay the patient down with the head slightly lowered. If the victim happens to be sitting upon a chair, or has fallen back upon one in an insensible condition, grasp the arms, get a box and after taking them, I felt better. After three boxes I was cured."

AT A DISADVANTAGE.

"I suppose you will miss your boy while he is at college." "Yep," replied Warner Cornsotell. "I dunno what I'll do without him. He got the live stock so they wouldn't move unless he give 'em the college yell, an' I can't remember it!"

Mrs. Ford B. Wiltse and Miss Arletta Hollingsworth spent the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives in Newmarket and Toronto.

The W.C.T.U.'s of Winchester, Chertsville, Iroquois and Morrisburg have organized a county Union for the further promotion of temperance work.

At the Conservative convention in Brockville on Tuesday, Mr. A. E. Donovan was unanimously selected to contest Brockville riding at the elections on Dec. 11.

The line connecting Addison and Mallorytown rural telephone systems will be completed in about two weeks. This is a temporary arrangement and will be succeeded in the spring by a trunk line.

At the Conservative convention held at Delta on Friday, J. R. Dargavel, the former member, secured the nomination over Messrs. Harvey and Berry. The vote stood 192 Dargavel, 100 Harvey, and 42 Berry.

Miss Mary Derbyshire, granddaughter of Senator and Mrs. Derbyshire, Brockville, will be one of the debutantes at the drawing room to be held on the 18th of November by the Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught.

A conference of the Holiness Movement of Smith's Falls District will be held in the Holiness Church there, commencing on Friday Nov. 10th, and continuing for several days. Rev. R. C. Horner head of the Holiness Movement in Ontario will have charge of the services.

The death occurred on Monday at Oak Leaf of George Godkin, one of the oldest and best known farmers of that district. Mr. Godkin spent his whole life there and in his declining days lived with his nephew, Charles Murphy. He was unmarried. The only surviving member of the family is one brother, John Godkin, of Oak Leaf.

A definite date for Athens' poultry fair has not yet been fixed, though it will probably be on Friday, Dec. 8, providing buyers agree to the same schedule of dates for B.W. & N.W. centres as last year. Brockville business men are meeting this evening to decide upon the date for their fair and have in mind Thursday, Dec. 7, which would be the same day of the same week as last year. Farther west, large flocks of turkeys are reported, but in this district the big offering of last year will hardly be exceeded. As usual, an effort will be made to secure the attendance of American buyers at the Athens fair. Last year the outside buyers expressed themselves as well satisfied with the treatment they were accorded here.

Miss Florence Donahue was last week holidaying at Newboro.

Miss Edith Chamberlain returned this week from the West to her home in Athens.

E. Wilson has moved to his residence west of the village and Mr. E. McAndrew has moved into the premises he vacated.

Cheese sold at 13 1/2¢ for white and 18 1/2¢ for colored on Brockville board last Thursday. This difference in price caused combination salesmen to withhold their offerings.

Mrs. A. W. Kelly is confined to her home with sore eyes and other ailments. Mrs. Charlotte Connell has been attending her for the past week but has now returned home.

The Liberals of Brockville riding will meet in convention at Brockville on Monday next at 1.30 for general business and the selection of a candidate for the provincial elections.

Next Sunday is to be observed as World's Temperance Sunday and a union meeting is to be held in the Presbyterian church at 2.30. The programme will be in charge of the W.C.T.U.

At the auction sale last Thursday, offers for the realty of the estate of the late B. Lovern failed to reach the reserved figure. The property was subsequently purchased by G. F. Donnelly.

Mr. J. Shepley Rowsam returned last week from his extensive farm at Brock, Sask. On the way back home he passed through snowdrifts so deep that an extra engine had to be added to draw the train through.

Because of the many complaints which were made last July in connection with the system of holding matriculation examinations during that month it has been decided by the Ontario Education department that hereafter the examinations will be held about a month earlier.

Astronomers tell us there now are six comets cavorting about the skies, four of them strangers and unknown. But, says the Cape Vincent Eagle, since the fake show Halley's comet gave, it would be difficult to get most people up in the night to look at one of them.

Fargubar McRae was sentenced at Cornwall to imprisonment for life for the murder of William Shaw, of Carp, on July 1. The evidence at the trial indicated that the trouble in the McRae home, which resulted in the murder, was not all caused by religious difference.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents in Chantry, on Wednesday, Oct. 25, of Miss Mabel Seed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Seed, to Mr. Harry V. Woods, of Philipville. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Elliott, in the presence of only the immediate relatives.

Purloined a Porker

"All pigs look alike to me" is now the opinion of a Lake Elvida resident. He was awakened one dark night recently by a stranger who said a pig had escaped from his wagon and asked for assistance in securing it. The assistance was promptly given, and next morning the obliging farmer discovered that his pen had been broken open and that it was his pig that he had helped load on the stranger's wagon. This is what might be called "going the whole hog" in the stealing business.

The Athens Branch of the Woman's Institute held their meeting in the Town hall on Saturday, Oct. 28. Bread and cake making were discussed in general. Mrs. G. W. Beach instructed the Institute how to grow bulbs successfully. Miss May Berney furnished the musical numbers, which consisted of an instrumental solo, also a vocal, Mrs. W. G. Parish, being accompanist.

At the regular meeting of the Iroquois village council on Monday evening of last week a petition signed by 93 ratepayers was presented praying that permission be granted to "sell spirituous and fermented liquor," or in other words, repeal the present local option by-law in force there for the past three years. The petition was not properly drawn up and Iroquois will be "driv" for another year at least.

Mr. Harris Hunt of Athens has valuable feldspar mining prospects on the 14th concession of Bedford and is desirous of forming a company for their development. The outcroppings has been examined and reported upon by three members of the Geological Survey Department, Ottawa, and all pronounce the mineral to be of excellent quality. From the Rideau it is only a short two miles, making shipment, easy. All enquiries as to this mining proposition will be answered by Mr. Hunt.

A number of boys (or young men), having failed to take full advantage of Halloween, have since been disporting themselves in a very unbecoming way and a continuance of their disorderly conduct will bring them serious trouble. Last week three store windows on Main street were destroyed and a section of sidewalk was overturned. The names of four of the offenders are known to the Chief. At the Council meeting on Monday night the matter came up for consideration. It was decided not to prosecute at present, but to place the boys, in a sense, under suspended sentence, and if any further mischief is worked to proceed with the case. This action should serve to constitute the quartette a vigilance committee for the maintenance of law and order.

In Memoriam.

Wing—In memory of Jane E. Wing, who died Nov. 10, 1910, her husband and daughters render this tribute of love and respect, "Gone but not forgotten."

Bank announcement.

Owing to pressure of work and to recent changes of officers in the staff of the local branch of the Merchants Bank, it is announced that it will be impossible to visit the Frankville and Addison sub-agencies again this fall.

"The House of Hats"

The "Best"

We are always trying to see that our customers get value. Ours is not a "Sale" store. We believe in sales at the proper time, and that is at the end of the season, when we can really offer "Bargains," when having sold the most of our stock, we can afford to dispose of odd lots and broken sizes at cost, or even less, to make room for new goods. We try to make every dollar's worth of goods we sell a bargain. A $10.00 suit is always with us a $10.00 suit, and the best $10.00 suit in Brockville. Never a $15.00 suit; for if it were we would get $15.00 for it. We can show you garments from $10.00 to $25.00 which we guarantee to be better values than ever shown in this vicinity. We invite inspection and comparison. We can trust it to you to judge right. Our clothing is in a class by itself. Such a creditable assortment has never been gathered under one roof in this town.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Who pays the enormous expense of those show-rooms in our towns and cities? Is it not the people who buy pianos there?

Why buy from them when you can get just as good, and in many cases better, from me, delivered Free from the factory to your door? This is one of the reasons I can sell you a piano for less money than you pay at any show-room.

All kinds of instruments taken in exchange. We defy competition for the money in all grades. Get my prices before purchasing, for they are certainly very low for strictly high grade pianos.

Also agent for Raymond, New Will iams, and New Home Sewing Machines. P. S.—Pianos sold on instalment plan when wished.
