ELEVENTH YEAR—No. 104

26 DEAD, 20 MISSING, IS TOLL OF REGINA CATASTROPHE

Coroner is of the Opinion That List of Dead Will Run Up to Seventy; Seventy-eight are Now Known to be Seriously Injured

Five Hundred Families are Homeless; Day That Should Have Been an Anniversary of Rejoicing Has Been One of Mourning

City is Under Martial Law; Funeral of Victims Will Probably be Arranged for Wednesday or Thursday; a Memorial Service Planned

Regina, Sask., July 1—Dominion Day, 1912, will long be remembered by the people of Regina. With flags at half mast, with over five hundred families homeless, many of them destitute but for the kindness of friends or the assistance of civic authorities, with known death list of twenty-five and with hospitals filled with injured, the day that should have been a day of rejoicing and festivities, has been one of mourning in scores of homes and general gloom throughout the city.

The local militia units returned early in the day from Sewell camp and took over with the mounted police the task of protecting the affected area from looters and the authorities proclaimed the city under martial law and that all citizens must be off the street by ten o'clock unless provided with passes signed by the officer commanding. During the day city authorities received a telegram from Sir Thomas Shaughnessy contributing $5,000 from the C.P.R. to the relief fund. Nothing definite has yet been arranged with regard to the burial of the victims.

This will probably take place Wednesday or Thursday but whether the funerals will be of a public nature or private, has not been decided and will depend upon wishes of relatives. It is probable, however, that great mass memorial services will be held in some one of the public buildings that escaped damage.

Little has been done as yet in the making of detailed estimate of the damage, the total of which is placed at approximately five millions. In addition to $150,000 lost by the C.P.R., other heavy individual losers are:

L. O. Kerr, $75,000; H. W. Laird, $100,000; Massey-Harris company, $50,000; Winnipeg Elevator company $10,000; Gaar-Scott company, $20,000; Regina Cartage company, $20,000; Methodist church, totally destroyed, $75,000; Y.M.C.A., partially destroyed, $20,000; Y.W.C.A., partially destroyed, $10,000; Knox Presbyterian church, $50,000; Baptist church, partially destroyed, $10,000; Telephone exchange, $250,000; Land Title office, partly destroyed, $10,000; Cushing Brothers' planing mill, partially destroyed, $15,000.

Preparations are being made for a long distance telephone exchange at the corner of Albert and Dewdney streets, and instructions have been sent to Montreal for a switchboard.

Drag Lake for Bodies
It is stated that no action will be taken to drain the lake at present for fear of typhoid, the lake will, however, be dragged for dead bodies.

The finance committee met this evening and decided to accept all offers of help which have been made, among them being the following:
City of Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Moose Jaw, Government of Manitoba, Dominion Government, Winnipeg Telegram.

His worship was asked by the committee to reply to all the wires received, accepting their offers with the city's thanks. A committee of forty young men were appointed to canvass the city and make lists of the missing and also lists of the needs of people who were driven out.

Lists of Missing
A special request is made that all people who are living with others report at once to the city hall, in order that proper lists of the missing may be prepared. It was stated that Coroner Johnstone had declared that the total death list resulting from the accident would reach over seventy.

The militia in conjunction with the mounted police will police the area. Fifteen graves have been dug and others are being arranged for. The committee was opposed to the idea of a public grave.

One Hundred Tents
One hundred tents will be erected in the parks while others will be provided through the city.

The president of the board of trade offered, if it were needed, to hand back what remained of the city's grant.

In no respect is the disaster more remarkable than for the organization of the different civic departments for the relief of the suffering.

A relief committee, with ex-Alderman McCannell at its head, has its headquarters in the mayor's office to deal with all cases of personal need.

All Desires to Help
Citizens whose homes have escaped destruction are offering one, two or three rooms for the accommodation of the destitute. Up to noon today very few cases had been brought to the attention of the committee, as the rescued ones have to a great extent been accommodated in the homes of their friends without the intervention of the relief committee.

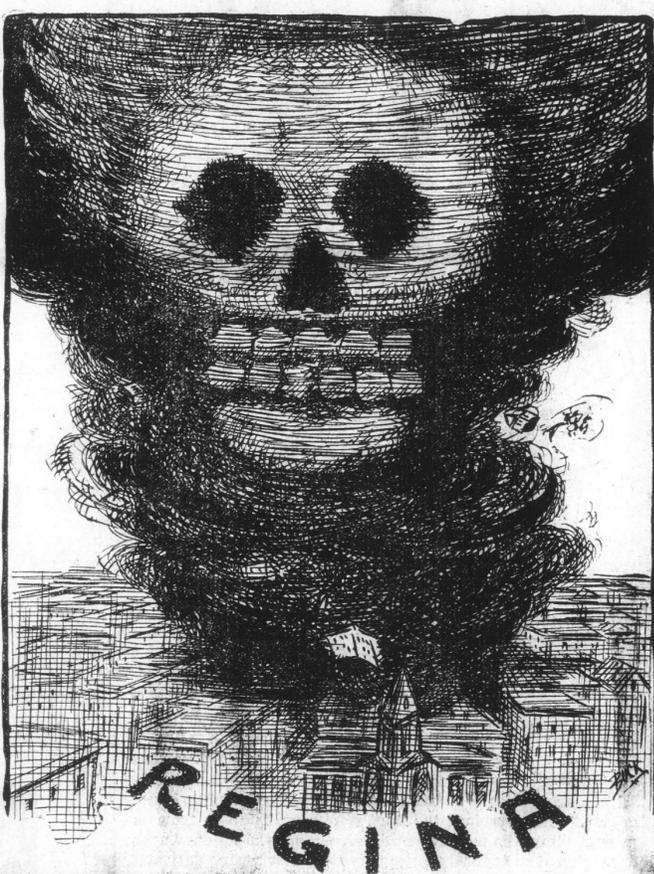

The most important work at present is that of clearing up the debris, the further rescue of bodies, and fitting up of partially dismantled houses for the use of the survivors.

Engineers Allan and the head of this work and at ten o'clock this morning had fifteen gangs of carpenters at the task of making houses habitable. Engineer Bull, with the assistance of Mr. Wenger, and a large gang of workmen, are busy cutting off the wires in the area, and stringing them west so that the people there may have lights.

Many Without Lights
Mr. Wenger has wired all his gangs who are out of the city to come at once, and they too will be at Mr. Bull's disposal. By tomorrow night it is hoped that practically every house in which people are living will have lights.

All the wagons and teams of the different departments are at work clearing away the debris from the streets. It is being carried to the outskirts of the city where the danger of fire will be less. Material that can be used for the repair of buildings or in any way alleviate the distress will be carefully salvaged.

Supply depots have been established at the Victoria school and the North Side fire hall, and competent men

Death riding in the whirlwind, stalked the fair and happy city of Regina Sunday; Alberta mourns with her sister province, Saskatchewan, because of the terrible fate that has befallen her beautiful capital.

FORTY-SECOND BALLOT IS TAKEN WITHOUT CHOICE BEING MADE

Baltimore, Md., July 1—With monotonous regularity, the Democratic national convention went on all day and all night, with the exception of a three hour recess, balloting in a vain attempt to pick a candidate, and adjourned at 12.43 a.m.

Governor Wilson gained steadily on Champ Clark throughout the day, but after passing the 500 mark, while the speaker went far below his initial vote of last Friday morning, the tide turned a little just before midnight, and on the forty-second ballot, the New Jersey governor fell off a couple, while the speaker went forward in the same proportion. The vote for Oscar Underwood in the meantime fluctuated within ten of the 500 mark.

RECIPROCAL TRADE PACT WITH WEST INDIES IS MADE PUBLIC

Ottawa, Ont., July 1—Hon. J. D. Reed, acting Minister of Trade and Commerce, today, through arrangement with the Home government, made public the reciprocal tariff agreement entered into last week between the Canadian government and a number of the islands in the British West Indies.

Briefly, the agreement provides for a preference of twenty per cent of the existing rates of duty upon a large number of goods specified in the schedule annex, with a minimum preference in the case of flour and sugar. Provision is made for taking in the islands of the West Indies, not parties to the agreement, as well as Newfoundland, within three years from the time it comes into force.

Other Provisions.
Any of the parties to the agreement may provide that the concessions granted shall not be applicable unless conveyed by ship direct between the two countries concerned, provision being made in this connection for the regulation of freight rates by the Canadian government. The agreement is to come into force by proclamation, after it is ratified by both parties concerned, and the secretary of state of the respective countries, and may be terminated at the end of ten years on a year's notice.

ALL ATTENDANCE RECORDS ARE BROKEN NOW; THIRTY-SEVEN THOUSAND ATTEND FAIR

Twelve Thousand More Than Any Previous Day; the Police Reserves Called Out to Help Handle the Crowd; Calgary Old Timers Marvel at the Throng

By Harry F. Burmester

LOWERING skies and threatening clouds, accompanied by a slight suggestion of rain, could not restrain Albert's enthusiastic people on Dominion Day, and a new record for attendance at the Calgary Industrial Exhibition was established. During the day thirty-six thousand, seven hundred and twenty-seven persons passed through the gates, not including children and persons admitted without charge.

The attendance yesterday was approximately 12,000 more than during any single day in the history of the fair. In 1910, 25,110 persons passed through the gates, and this stood as a record until Dominion Day, 1912. Accommodations were at a premium. The grandstand was packed to capacity, every seat being taken before the races started. The Midway promenade was congested throughout the day and evening, and the attractions were jammed. The attendance itself was criterion enough of the prosperity of the province.

Trains arriving in Calgary yesterday were crowded with exhibition excursionists from various cities of the province. Long before noon the big crowd began to wend its way to the fair grounds. The street car service, despite the fact that the cars were running less than two minutes apart, was inadequate and thousands walked. The ticket-takers at the entrance gates were swamped before 1 o'clock and police reserves were used to form the throng into lines at the gates.

Old-timers in Calgary marvelled at the throng. Men who have lived in this city since the days when the population register had difficulty in producing 3,000 names, marvelled as they saw the thousand after thousand file through the entrances. Victoria Park is far from being a small show place, but every inch of its seating and standing capacity was needed to accommodate the crowd.

While the gambling feature of racing is not particularly edifying and ordinarily is not worthy of such discussion yet the amount of play at the different books is a reliable barometer when it comes to figuring out the financial condition of the players. Bookmakers at Victoria Park yesterday couldn't handle the money that was offered them. The betting ring was packed and everybody seemed to have plenty of money. Which condition in itself, is sufficient evidence of the prosperous condition of the people of Alberta. The attractions along the Midway all did capacity business. And there was a more serious side to the crowd. While the thousands came to play and make fun, thousands also came with a more practical purpose. The industrial exhibits were heavily patronized and demonstrators worked overtime to satisfy those who came to earnestly inquire and to learn.

WARD, INTREPID BIRDMAN, SOARS IN FINE FLIGHT

"JIMMIE" WARD, intrepid aviator, defied the elements yesterday and made two of the proudest flights in an aeroplane ever seen in the Dominion. Ward delivered a message of felicitations to the people of Alberta from President J. S. G. Van Wart of the exhibition company, at the office of The Morning Albertan, as he soared over the city yesterday afternoon. Five minutes after the letter reached the top of The Albertan office building, the message was acknowledged and recorded by this newspaper.

Ward gambled with death twice yesterday when he made his flights. The stretches on the half mile track are far too short to permit of any safety in clearing the house-tops and telegraph wires just outside the fair grounds. But Ward, refused to listen to the advice of Manager Ed Bloom and others.

"Look at that crowd," exclaimed the youthful aviator. "I can't disappoint them. I'll try if I lose."

Ward tried, but he didn't lose. He skimmed the wires and the roofs by a narrow margin and made a beautiful flight. The Curtiss biplane was wonderfully controlled and at the conclusion of his air journey Ward came down gracefully in the centrefield of the racetrack.

There was a human interest feature attached to Ward's flight yesterday afternoon late that was passed unnoticed by the majority of spectators. "Jimmie" had cleared the obstructions in his earlier flight by a narrow margin, and realized the danger attached to a second attempt. And there was a thoughtful, sweet-faced girl—Mrs. "Jimmie"—watching from a position of vantage when the youthful birdman started on his second flight. She realized the danger, better, perhaps, than anyone save the pilot himself. And when the biplane was slow in getting off the ground and it seemed that the machine would stall, she uttered an expression of anguish wonderfully restrained.

Ward's flights yesterday were the most remarkable ever seen in Western Canada. He was buffeted by strong currents and treacherous air-holes until he reached a height of about 600 feet, when he struck smoothly, and landed. And, incidentally, you on the ground who shivered in overcoats and other heavy wraps, may be able to imagine the frigid condition of the atmosphere in the stratosphere. The slender aviator was hunched when he alighted the first time, but gamely made a second flight.

JIMMIE WARD, intrepid birdman, who delivered a message from President Van Wart of the Exhibition company to The Albertan office yesterday.

SIRIUS POINTER, SON OF DISTINGUISHED SIRE, WINS HOTELKEEPERS' STAKE

Victory is Followed by Series of Misadventures; Lou Childs, Owner, is Thrown from Sulky, Injured but Drives to Winning Finish

CALGARY'S big harness race—the Hotelkeepers' Stake, valued at $3,000—was won in six heats by the fleet and durable Sirius Pointer, a son of the world famous Star Pointer, in six heats yesterday afternoon at Victoria Park. The victory followed a series of misadventures. Lou Childs, owner and driver of the victor, was thrown from his sulky early in the race and suffered a sprained ankle. It was reported at first that his right leg was broken but Childs pluckily resumed his seat in the cart and drove out a winning finish.

The race itself was suggestive of the Grand Trunk event, and indeed the most important harness horse races on the American continent. There were sixteen starters and collisions and runaways were the early feature. Roan Hal, owned by the Haag stables of Calgary, was blamed for one upset and ordered out of the race. Lou Childs had a very spill with Sirius Pointer in the third heat.

but came into his own in the third and fourth heats and won without much of a struggle in the sixth heat. Lady Mc, early selected as favorite, also figured in the upsets, and Lamona too had bad luck. The time for the banner event of the meeting was slow, 2:21 1-4 being the best time recorded. This was made by Sirius Pointer in the third heat. (Continued on Page Twelve)

DOMINION DAY MESSAGE IS SENT OUT BY SIR CHARLES TUPPER

Says Fondest Expectations of Fathers of Confederation are Surpassed

Vancouver, June 30.—Sir Charles Tupper, who will celebrate his ninety-first birthday on Tuesday, sends the following greetings to Canadians: "The delegates to Charlottetown and Quebec in 1864 and London in 1866, whose efforts resulted in the British North American act under which all the provinces from the Atlantic to the Pacific are now united in the one great confederation, were actuated by the sentiment that it would secure their permanent connection with the British Empire."

VANGOUVER IS LAUGHING AT TROUBLE WITH ITS SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Say They Will Never Run Again for Office Unless Legislation is Removed

Vancouver, B.C., June 30.—This city is having a good laugh over the trouble that developed between the board of school trustees and the provincial minister of education. The city superintendent, W. P. Argue, recently resigned giving as a reason that an amendment to the school act passed at the last session of the legislature had rendered his office of about as much power as that of a petty clerk. Last week the school board went over to Victoria in a body to get a promise from the government to have the act changed next session. They returned without the guarantee they wished, and threatening to resign in a body as a protest. Saturday morning they held a meeting at which the resignation was scheduled, but instead of resigning they passed a declaration that they would never again run for a trusteeship unless the objectionable legislation was wiped out.

Greatest Invention of Age For Hoarseness, Weak Throat

Nothing So Far Discovered is So Beneficial to Public Speakers, Ministers, Singers and Teachers as Catarrhazone

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal cords, Catarrhazone cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes huskiness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhazone keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the single greatest source of anxiety—unfitness of voice. The most eminent speakers and prima donnas are seldom without Catarrhazone, and credit in no small degree their uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence.

Singer Recommends Catarrhazone "For many years I have been a sufferer from that terrible disease known as CATARRH. "Being a professional singer, you can readily understand that Catarrh would be a serious hindrance to my professional skill."

"One year ago I read in The Progress a convincing testimonial from one who had been cured of this disease through using your God-sent invention."

"Believing in the merit of Catarrhazone, I tried it."

"Catarrhazone cured me and has been the means of my success."

"You are at liberty to use my name if it will help relieve some from suffering, and I will always remain,

"Bob Bixley, New Glasgow, N.S." Mr. Bixley is one of the best known singers and entertainers in the Maritime provinces. Everyone knows him, and his testimonial for Catarrhazone is the best sort of evidence of what great benefit Catarrhazone is to those suffering with throat weakness or catarrh. Complete outfit, consisting of a beautifully polished hard rubber inhaler and sufficient liquid for recharging to last two months, costs one dollar. Sold by all druggists, or sent direct to your address by mail if price is forwarded to The Catarrhazone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., or Kingston, Ont.

KAISER DRANK WITH LIPTON AND MORGAN

The Financier and Sir Thomas Lipton Were Guests at Yacht Club

Berlin, July 1.—The Kaiser, with J. Piermont Morgan at his right and Sir Thomas Lipton at his left, spent a couple of hours in a festive gathering at the Imperial Yacht club at Kiel last night. There was a jolly time. The beer drinking and smoking cruise was so great that the waters were unable to move and the guests passed around the beer mug. In the course of the dinner the electric light became short circuited and there was total darkness and considerable confusion for a short time. Glasses were hurriedly provided for the Kaiser's table, but there were no lights on the others for half an hour.

RIVER'S CHANNEL CHANGED

Strawberry River in Utah Now Flows Under a Mountain

Washington, June 30.—After laboring twenty-four hours every day for more than two years the government employees who have been digging the Strawberry tunnel, one of the world's greatest reclamation projects, telegraphed to Washington that they had "roled through" the Wasatch mountains. The bore pierces the solid rock of one of the highest peaks of the range, two thousand feet below its snow-capped crest, and is almost four miles long. It will divert an entire river, the Strawberry, from one valley to another forty-five miles away and reclaim sixty thousand acres of Utah land.

To the south and east of Utah Lake, in one of the most beautiful valleys in the West, lie the sixty thousand acres of fertile land now being partly productive for lack of water. To transform this valley into a tract for thriving towns and fruit and grain, government engineers overcame almost unheard-of obstacles.

Cross Section Sixty Square Feet Beyond the Wasatch range which limits the valley's eastern border Strawberry river flows westerly by its waters reaching the Gulf of California through the Colorado river. To divert this water from the Colorado drainage basin and turn it into the Utah valley, the enormous Strawberry tunnel was bored through the mountains. Its cross section measures more than sixty square feet. It is walled and buttressed with timber and lined with cement.

The men's camps were situated a mile and a half above sea level and during several months each winter were practically isolated from the world, the roads blocked by masses of snow. For more than two years three shifts of men alternated during the twenty-four hours of the day and night. Thousands of gallons of water, pooled in places and swelling ground made the work difficult and dangerous. The men died for their lives on several occasions.

Notwithstanding the difficulties, the undertaking was carried to completion without the loss of one life. Beyond the tunnel, in the shadow of the granite peaks, a great reservoir is being built. A retaining dam of concrete and steel is being built so deep that a 4-story building might be hidden behind it. Fed by melting snow, the waters will rise behind this structure, covering 8,200 acres.

The valley to be irrigated was the scene of the earliest irrigation by Anglo-Saxons in the West of Utah. Brigham Young and his followers in 1847, after their march of more than ten thousand miles on unknown territory peopled by savages, it is the oldest example of community farming by an English speaking people in the West.

For protection against the Indians the farmers lived in little towns, their houses facing a common street or square, thus practically forming forts. Some of these old community houses remain standing.

Second Largest in the World Beyond the tunnel, in the shadow of the granite peaks, a great reservoir is being built. A retaining dam of concrete and steel is being built so deep that a 4-story building might be hidden behind it. Fed by melting snow, the waters will rise behind this structure, covering 8,200 acres.

Down in the foothills a Spanish fork dam was thrown across a diversion river, and the waters were turned into a power canal three and one-half miles long, which dropped them through three pipes on big turbines one hundred feet below.

Power thus generated was transmitted electrically to the tunnel site, where it was used to turn the diamond drills in the rock, to lift the camps and run the heavy machinery. The surplus power was sold to towns in the valley for municipal and commercial purposes.

REOPEN WAR TIME HOTEL

Kansas City, June 30.—The old Harris house in Westport with its solid brick walls and its joists and floor timbers of black walnut has seen much. Almost forty-eight years ago it saw the rows of dead soldiers from the Westport battlefield laid on its sidewalk at the point that is now Westport avenue and Penn street. This morning at the same spot it held a dozen or more motor cars drawn up and a meeting held to preserve its own historic walls from destruction. The speaker was to have been held in A. N. Doersouk's drug store in the Harris House, but the two hundred persons that assembled overflowed the store and the meeting was held informally on the sidewalk.

Many Interested in Enterprise The meeting comprised members of the Westport Historical society, the Westport Improvement association, the Daughters of the American Revolution and old residents of the community. Claude Manlove, T. P. May, Lemuel Stevenson and Miss Elizabeth Carr were appointed a committee to interview the representatives of the Carr estate, which owns the Harris House. They will try to obtain possession of the property by lease or purchase, although it is not believed the property can be purchased. The Improvement association will hold a meeting July 6 to take further action.

Cookery of Ante-Bellum Days The movement to preserve the old hotel became active when plans were started to tear it down and build a modern hotel on its site. Organizations that seek to preserve historic landmarks at once protested, and now propose to lease it and operate it as an old-time tavern. If this plan is carried through, Kansas City will not only have preserved to itself the historic old inn, but also the ante-bellum style of cookery. The old time tavern is to serve dinners, it is planned, much as it did a half century ago when the Harris House dinners were famous. Years ago it was the correct thing to take Sunday dinners at the Harris House, a custom observed by farmers who lived miles away in the country. It is believed the same ante-bellum cookery will find profitable favor in Kansas City today and the old tavern will once more be distinctive.

A Monument to Westport Heroes At the meeting this morning the organizations represented agreed to contribute to rehabilitating the old inn and to erecting a monument at Westport and Baltimore avenue to the heroes of the battle of Westport. No specific contributions were named, because full details of the improvements have not been worked out. It is estimated that the cost of repairing the old hotel will be about $30,000. It will not be reproduced.

If a lease on the old hotel is obtained it will be used during the first week of September as headquarters for the reunion of the battle of Westport. The old hotel deck is still in existence, and it will be placed again in the hotel and "Uncle Sam" Hays, formerly a proprietor of the Harris House, will preside at the deck reunion week.

THE REGINA DISASTER

The heartfelt sympathy of every town and city in Western Canada will go out to the Capital City of the neighboring province in the appalling catastrophe which has befallen it.

Outside of the actual area of the disaster there was probably no place to which the news came with a greater shock than in this city. Apart from such ties as exist between Calgary and Regina by business intercourse and the interests held in common by two of the most progressive cities in the West, there are a very large number of people in this city who have friends and relatives in Regina, and when the news of the disaster spread through the city on Sunday night The Albertan office was besieged by enquirers anxious to assure themselves of the safety of those in whom they were interested.

All here will unite in commending the promptitude with which Mayor Mitchell wired to the mayor of Regina, informing him of the desire of this city to render any aid that may afford temporary relief to those who have suffered by the catastrophe.

The first disaster of its kind to be experienced in Canada, it cannot fail to fall as an especially heavy blow upon this vigorous and progressive young city. There is probably no need to fear that the disaster will impose any serious check upon the growth of a centre which has witnessed such remarkable development within the last year or two. Drawing upon a country rich in natural resources and inhabited by a people who have shown that they possess in full measure the progressive spirit of the West, there is no doubt that the city will show that it is well able to recover from the material loss resulting from its unfortunate experience.

A WARNING TO PROPHETS

An interesting example of the dangers faced by those who practise the difficult art of political prophecy is cited by Spencer Leigh Hughes, the "Sub Rosa" of The London Daily News and Leader. Its chief interest lies in the fact that it contains a warning which should be especially valuable to many political prophets who are now assiduously engaged in the practice of that precarious profession. Mr. Hughes has been reproducing extracts from an article published in that exponent of high Toryism, Blackwood's Magazine, in 1849. The following is an example:

"They (the free traders) have stopped the growth of our population, and for the first time for four centuries rendered it retrograde. They have lowered railway property more than a half. They have destroyed at least half of the whole commercial and trading wealth of the manufacturing towns. They have rendered the maintenance of the national independence, if the present system is persisted in, impossible. They will soon reduce, if unchecked in their career, the immense Empire of England to two islands, oppressed with taxes, eaten up by paupers, importing a third of their annual subsistence from foreign states, brought in in foreign vessels."

The Winnipeg Free Press makes the following pertinent comment: "It would be difficult to find a political prophecy which the event has proved to be more ludicrously wrong. But that 1849 prophecy, as Mr. Hughes points out, is matched by some of the predictions of war which are uttered by the present British advocates of protectionism. The opponents of abolition of the Corn Laws did a great deal of predicting that Canada was being cut loose from the Empire by the abolition of the preferential duties on Canadian-grown wheat. To quote a British reference in the Blackwood's article to the British government then in power, which had inaugurated the system of free imports: 'They have sown the seeds of revolt in Canada, and rendered its separation, at no distant period, from Great Britain, a matter of certainty.' 'Political prophets should avoid using in their prophecies such expressions as 'at no distant period.' By so doing they would deprive their prophecies of some of their startling force, it is true. But then, on the other hand, they would leave themselves in the position of being able, on being asked why their prophecies are not being realized and when their realization is to be expected, to look wise and say 'Just wait a while.'"

THE WEATHER MAN

With the weather man doing his best, though with very little hope of success, to spoil the big Calgary Fair, we are disposed to follow the course adopted by a Vancouver newspaper recently, when that city was uncomfortably and perspiringly restless, under the influence of a heat wave. The policy of the coast city paper was to coax the old gentleman back into the paths of rectitude by pretending that it liked him best when he was at his worst. After a gentle preliminary "swipe" in which it assured him that heat in Vancouver was not so hot as heat elsewhere, it wiped its perspiring brow and passed on to emphasize the fact that it served a most useful purpose by encouraging the people of that city to bathe. Personally, if our people needed such a stimulus to cleanliness, we would say nothing about it—but let that pass. Then it struck the final blow by declaring that the intense heat stimulated the sale of straw hats, cotton goods and iced drinks, thus serving to swell the volume of business done in the city.

Late reports indicate that these tactics have not been unsuccessful, as the temperature has dropped at the coast. Perhaps the same methods, adapted to our local needs, may be effective in raising the temperature. We would therefore submit that the farmers throughout this province are perfectly satisfied with the weather as delivered. As to ourselves, we rejoice that, after the long continued spell of hot weather, we are once more able to work in comfort, instead of panting in an atmosphere rendered bearable only by the use of an electric fan. We venture to assert that no weather could be more pleasing to the thousands who are in attendance at the fair. Surely they have every reason to feel thankful for the beautiful drab cloud-curtain, which protects them from the hot rays of sunshine which would otherwise beat down upon the grandstand. Then again, ardent temperance advocates are rejoicing that the business of the hotel bars is less than it might have been under different conditions. Finally, dealers in summer-wear are not suffering, as most people made their purchases before the cold spell commenced, while if the prevailing weather continues there is every prospect of the development of a brisk demand for furs and woollen goods. In short, existing conditions are perfectly satisfactory.

In any case, it must be remembered that if the weather displayed no variations we should be deprived of one of the most useful subjects of conversation. What would the nervous man do, when introduced to a stranger on a rainy day, if he could not take the first and most difficult jump with the remark: "It's a fine day, isn't it?" There is many a man who would be stricken with permanent paralysis of the speech organs if the weather did not afford an unfailing spring-board from which to dive into the stream of conversation, and even some of the more confident swimmers might be forced at times to spend an uncomfortable moment of shivering hesitation on the brink.

Truly, in the words of the immortal poet, it is possible to see "Good in everything,"—even in bad weather.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Public men of the three Western provinces flocked to the Calgary Panama canal conference despite the communication which they received from William Georgeason, in which he advised them of the reasons why he would not attend, and the conference promises to accomplish much, though he said it could serve no useful purpose.

Up till a few days ago Edmonton was still taking its census, and the local press stated that hundreds of people were phoning into the office of the commissioner requesting that their names be placed on the list. By continuing the good work for a few more months and counting all the voters, Edmonton will be able to boost the figures so that they will make Toronto look like a rural municipality.

THE ATTACK ON MIDWAY IS RESENTED BY SHOWMAN

Ben Rosenthal Says It is Clean and That Kline Would Not Have Questionable Show

Attack on Midway, Editor, Albertan: Sir,—I will appreciate the favor if you will allow me sufficient space in which I can to some limited extent reply to the unwarranted attack which appeared in your paper of July 1, signed by "E. McDonald" and directed against the Herbert A. Kline show. I wish to state in the first place that I am not connected in any way with these shows, but am simply acting in a spirit of fair play. Having had the advantage of being connected with fairs for years and having during that time seen many midway shows I feel that I am fairly competent to state to Judge As to my own personal character I can say that E. L. Richardson, manager of the fair, is a personal friend whom I have known for many years. During my experience in the business of fairs I have traveled all over the country, seeing many midway shows, rotten ones and good ones. Sad to say the rotten ones are most frequent. Consequently a line of clean shows are appreciated by me when I see them, and that is what the Herbert A. Kline shows and Mr. Kline has an enviable reputation wherever he is known for the wholesomeness of the entertainments which he provides. All unwarranted attacks and the shows are high-class entertainments. Mr. Kline's reputation throughout the States, where he is best known, is that he will not put questionable performers on the road; he has established this reputation and takes pride in maintaining it. The show which he has brought to the Calgary Industrial exhibition are clean, wholesome, entertaining, perhaps even a little above his average standard, certainly not below. They are his best, and I can vouch for their being good. Therefore, when I see such an unwarranted and violent attack as the "which I saw in this morning's Albertan" I feel that a reply should be made to it. No sensible person would possibly derive harm or be shocked by anything whatever in the Kline shows. Any person who has seen them will support me. Therefore I am glad to see that the attack has in all probability emanated from some crank or some personal enemy of some of the well known managers of the well known rule of newspapers to print any signed article, has vented his spleen in this way. The police, the managing directors of the fair, thousands of Calgary citizens have seen the Kline shows already, of that honest opinion as a display of entertainment, excepting this Mr. McDonald. Thanking you, and trusting you will give me the advantage of sufficient space, I remain, BEN ROSENTHAL.

THE SUMMER RESORT.

The summer resort is a species of delirium which is bounded on the north by a white beach, on the east by a bowery dance, on the south by love at first sight and on the west by a $3 taxi. It is a first-class place to go to when they want to shed a little carking care and rest up. There is nothing to do at a summer resort except to have a drink. Some people may so much rest at one of these resorts that they are spoiled for work for all eternity, and most of the suburbs. It requires a good deal of preparation to rig up for a summer resort so that old timers won't think you have just broken in on the boy field. A man has every hour in the day, a willing baritone voice, an appetite for George Barr Mott's, and a desire to fall in love with everybody on the grounds who is over fourteen and under ninety. All the lady summer resort needs is a languishing look and a large stock of capacity for platonic piffle. A good-looking man with natural hair and expensive clothing does not have much chance to recuperate at a summer resort, as he is chased from bathing bench to tennis court and back to the golf links by a bevy of unfettered and determined females, who outnumber him in the ratio of 15 to 1 and seek his views on matrimony. Every summer resort has a large majority of fetching young women and slowly fading spinsters, and a great many men of light mind and empty manner attend every year in order to see how many times they can become engaged without putting up any diamonds as collateral. A man who has a white shirt and a summer resort proposal seriously and starts something in the district, offering as exhibits considerable mental anguish and a bleeding heart, but this does not happen often enough to cause any falling off in the attendance. Summer resorts are increasing, and so are the hotel rates, but both put good money into circulation that otherwise would be stagnating at 4 per cent.

MORE ADVICE.

When you have a task ahead, do not view the eagle with dread—that's unwise; it is vain the rag to chew, or to raise a hullabaloo; no one knows what he can do till he tries. Though the task gives you a pain, it is idle to complain; spring a grin; do not stall around and say "I'll do this some other day." Go to work, serene and gay, and you'll win. They who win the foremost place in the hustling worldly race are the chaps who go at their work with vim, with determination grim; looking not till eyes grow dim, for the snags. At this juncture comes my frat, saying: "Dinner's ready, now—come and eat!" If I was a trifling skate I might well procrastinate, showing to my helpful mate fright feet; I might say: "Oh, what's the use? Yesterday I ate a goose and a cheese; if you wish to plumb your hub you won't speak to me of grub; give it to some hungry tub, if you please." But when duty calls I rise, resolution in my eyes and my heart; to the table, stern and grim, then I go and eat a ham, winding up the meal with jam and tart. This is the wiser plan; face your duty like a man—do not shrink! If you stall and hesitate, stumbling at the rules of fate, we shall find you, soon or late, on the blink! WALT MASON.

TRUE PATRIOTISM THE INCORPORATION OF RIGHTEOUSNESS

Keynote of Dominion Day Sermon Preached by Rev. J. C. Sycamore

He Believes That the Office of Church is to Fight Against National Sins

Traced the Rise and Fall of Great Nations Because of National Sins

"True patriotism is the incorporation of righteousness in the lives of the people. These were the words of the keynote of a Dominion Day sermon preached by Rev. J. C. Sycamore at the First Baptist church Sunday. Taking as his text the well known words, 'Righteousness exalteth a nation,' he emphasized the fact that the individual integrity was the foundation of national righteousness and therefore it behooved all true citizens to have the immortal passage indelibly impressed on the mind and heart.

He believed the office of the church was to preach, as the prophets of old, against national sins. There was no need to preach party politics, but political righteousness should be plainly and powerfully commended. The church has not done her duty in this regard, she has often been silent when she should have spoken; she has been cowardly when she should have been brave. The speaker urged a purifying of the political life. He deplored the fact that a great election could not take place without either party accusing the other of slander, perjury, falsehood and dishonesty. The statements being made by the opposing parties in the presidential election in the United States was an example, and an unfortunate influence was being exerted over the public generally and the younger generation in particular.

In support of the argument that righteousness was the foundation of a nation's prosperity, he traced the rise and fall of the great nations, Assyria, Greece, Rome, Spain, France, Turkey—all had tottered from power because of their sin. Some pessimists declare that Great Britain is waning. He believed that our great empire was stronger than ever and he protested against any such statements which would lead men to conclude that we were declining, but he made the nation care for her integrity. For is that the secret of her power? "Let us not forget," said the preacher in conclusion, "that we each have a personal responsibility. Let us pray for the continuance of peace and righteousness within this Dominion and throughout the whole of the great Empire."

POISON IN CANDY LEADS TO CHARGE OF MURDER BEING LAID

Roy Weaver, Express Agent, Is Lodged in Jail at Boise, Accused of Causing Death of Lena Speers.

Boise, Idaho, June 28.—Roy Weaver, arrested at Walla Walla on a charge of sending poisoned candy to Lena Speers, which caused her death at her home near Rupert, Idaho, was placed in the Lincoln county jail at Shoshone last night. A charge of murder in the first degree having been placed against him. A post-mortem revealed that death was caused by oil of tansy. The preliminary hearing has been postponed on account of the absence of the prosecuting attorney. The officers claim that a package containing poisoned candy which was mailed at Boise, Idaho, was addressed in the handwriting of Weaver, who had been paying attention to the girl. Weaver had been employed as express agent at Minadoka.

FIVE FRENCH SEAMEN, EXPLOSION VICTIMS, HURT UNTO DEATH

There Were Two Explosions; 13 Were Injured in First, 10 in the Second

Toulon, France, July 1.—Five of the 24 seamen injured yesterday on board the French armored cruiser Jules Mich' let off by the premature explosion of a six-inch gun are dying in the naval hospital here. The official inquiry into the matter shows there were two explosions. By the first 18 were hurled to the deck and 13 were injured. As soon as the firing was courageously resumed with the same gun under the direction of Admiral Bertrand Sourrieu, commander of the training ship. One more charge ignited and 10 more officers, sailors and men injured. Nearly all the victims are young seamen. One man's arm was blown off. It is believed the explosions were due to the draft caused by the breach of the gun, which ignited some sparks remaining from previous charges. The accidents are generally attributed to the defective system of gun cleaning between the charges adopted in the French navy. Two more of the injured men died today.

MEXICANS - THREATEN TO KILL AMERICANS UNLESS RANSOM IS PAID

El Paso, Tex., July 1.—Seventeen Americans in Yelardena, 10 miles west of Torreon, Mexico, and about 200 miles south of the international border, recently were lined up against a barn while a half-dozen drink-crazed brigands, who called themselves rebels, brandished guns in their faces and threatened summary execution unless $1,000,000 ransom was forthcoming. The rebels halted their threats when $2,500 in gold was paid them. The story was told by a party of witnesses who arrived here today.

Americans, they said, had feared the consequences of a revelation of their plight through official channels, and only with the routing of rebel columns under Gens. Campa and Argumedo, after nearly two months of deprivations, had the facts begun to come to light. At Yelardena, federal volunteers captured by General Campa, were executed in small squads. One of the pitiable sights was the killing of a federal volunteer about 65 years old by a rebel soldier hardly out of his teens. A man arriving here today told of finding near Torreon seven bodies horribly disfigured and mutilated. One of them was a woman. This act is charged to the federal forces.

The commissioner representing the Mexican revolutionary party here issued a formal statement yesterday denying that the brigands who held up Americans at Yelardena were part of the revolutionary forces, and intimating they were Madero volunteers. He reiterates the pledge that the revolutionary forces will protect all foreigners.

Letters to the Editor

WOULD HAVE CLEAN STREETS, Editor, Albertan: At this time many visitors are within our gates, attending the fair. These people come from far and near, and carry with them, not only impressions of what they see at the fair, but what they observe in the city as well. It is pretty certain that not a few of them have noted the fact that many of our streets present a rather unkempt appearance, our boulevards, etc., being covered with a dense growth of weeds, owing to recent heavy rains and warm weather. It is regrettable that our city authorities did not exert their best efforts to place our streets in the best possible condition before the opening of the fair. It is not too late even now to undertake this work with a goodly force of men, destroying the rank growth of weeds before they mature seed. J. E. G.

A jolly little dance claimed Miss Clarinda Hall as hostess at her father's beautiful home on American Hill. The dance was a compliment to Miss Lillian Hardisty, a charming Edmonton girl, who is Mrs. J. A. Loughheed's guest.

The hostess donned for the occasion a becoming frock of white embroidered mousseline, while Miss Hardisty was prettily gowned in white satin with pearl trimming.

SOCIETY BREEZES FROM BANFF

This weather which is not exactly holiday weather, but is "worth millions to the country," did not, however, prevent the usual crowds of visitors from going to Banff to spend the week-end. Rooms were at a premium and every hotel was filled to the limit, even at the Turkish bath at the C.P.R. hotel, cots were put in to accommodate the numbers.

The baths at the C.P.R. were crowded with people who wanted to be "in the swim." During the afternoon, when the weather man began to get pleased and scattered a few sunny looks, the "canoers" got busy and the drives and walks drew holiday-makers.

Everybody who goes to Banff for a few days, comes away with the wish for a longer stay. Newcomers who intend staying only a day always linger longer, and Calgaryans, who can frequently come to Banff during the summer, go back to the rush of the city with renewed energy and inspirations.

Mr. J. Muir, Miss Jean and Miss Jessie Muir were week-enders at the "San."

Mr. and Mrs. L. Campbell are holidaying in Banff.

Miss Hillier and Miss Boucher were week-end guests in Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Stud and family are spending a few days in Banff.

Mr. Geo. M. Loner spent the week-end with his wife and family, who have a cottage for the summer at Banff.

V. W. C. A. Cottage

The girls who are taking advantage of the commodious and conveniently situated V. W. C. A. cottage at Banff are from various cities in the west. They are Mrs. Scott and Miss Scott, Miss Price, Miss T. McLeod, Miss Lambertson, from Calgary; Miss A. Hume, Wainwright; Mrs. Burwash, Miss Burwash, Vancouver; Miss McKenzie; Miss McEbray and Miss Moffat, Calgary.

The British Visitors

The British manufacturers and their wives were guests at the C. P. R. hotel for Sunday and all spent the pleasantest kind of a day. The visitors were enthusiastic over the magnificent mountain scenery, the beautiful walks and drives and the sulphur bathing pool. Some remarked that Banff was the most beautiful place in Canada that they had ever seen.

An Interesting Visitor

Mrs. Constantine of Kingston, Ontario, was an interesting visitor at Banff. Mrs. Constantine is one of the pioneer women of the west having come through the mountains in the first through Pullman car. She was the first white woman to visit Dawson City, Yukon, Mrs. Constantine will remain in Banff for a few weeks. She is en route from Edmonton and is accompanied by Miss Fletcher of Long Beach, California.

"Hop" at the Theatre

The usual Saturday evening hop under the auspices of the Sanatorium, held at the National Park Theatre, was a splendid success. About one hundred and fifty people were there including a number from Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatchewan, Regina and Winnipeg. The music during the evening was most satisfactory and enjoyable, and Mr. Fitzpatrick, the manager of the dances, is to be congratulated on their success of all the arrangements planned for everybody's good time.

C. P. R. Dance

The Saturday night C. P. R. dance drew a merry crowd and although not as many Calgaryans were present as last week yet a few resisted the stay-at-home attractions of the bigger-and-better-than-ever Calgary fair, packed their grips in defiance of the rainy sky, got on the crowded west train and got off in a rainier place to be present at the dance. It was well worth the inconvenience of the rain for the comfortable drawing room with its cosy grate fire looked cozier than ever and the brilliantly lighted ball room, the prettily gowned women and the general tone of merriment in the side was a most favorable contrast to the depressing out-of-doors effects of the weather.

Western Women Have Splendid Exhibit at Fair

Where is the woman who does not love pretty things, and who does not take the keenest delight in making them? Perhaps the woman who just hates sewing is proficient at drawing or stenciling or brass craft, or the arranging of flowers. The display of beautiful fancy work and painting in all its branches, brass-craft, burnt red, and credit on the capability of the western women. The lace work, including Battersley, Honiton, and Irish crochet, are exquisite and of many beautiful designs.

The colored embroidery pieces are very numerous, and the cushions, centres of conventional and unconventional patterns, are as beautifully-worked and designed as those in any display of the kind in larger eastern cities.

The room that is devoted to art, in the limited sense of the word, that is, completing paintings and crayon work, augurs well in its display for the splendid development that this subject has made in the west during the last year. Miss M. Wright's corner, with the prettily framed water-color sketches, the large collection of pieces of hand-painted china, continually attracts groups of admirers. A corner is devoted to some pieces of exquisite wood carving and burnished and pounded brass articles. The walls of this room are hung with work of the artists of Calgary. There are numerous pictures and sketches, some displaying remarkable talent.

Schedule of Exhibits

A most interesting feature in the Women's Department is the Domestic Science class of girls from the Calgary Public schools, under the supervision of Miss Morrison, who is one of the supervisors of domestic science at the Calgary Public schools. A corner of the Art Room is completely equipped with the necessary cooking utensils and various dishes are cooked and served there, the recipes being written on a large black-board. The duties of each member of the class are outlined, and the girls, with their dainty white dresses, caps and aprons, attract much interest and win a great many compliments for the palatable dishes which they cook.

But the school girls are not alone in their special feature of school work, for a portion of the art rooms is fitted up with the benches and tools of the boys, who demonstrate some of the manual training work which is being taught in the Calgary City schools. This is under the supervision of Mr. J. Lyon, who has had such splendid success in the teaching of this work throughout the Calgary Public schools for the past few years.

Altogether the work in the Women's Department shows a marked advance over last year—an advance in proportion to the upward movement of everything in the west.

CORNBOROUGH-KENNEDY.

At Zion Methodist church, Hillhurst, yesterday afternoon Stanford E. Cornborough and Bertha Kennedy, of Wilmington, England, were united in marriage by Rev. S. E. Marshall, in the presence of a few friends.

The attendants were Miss Bessie Wilkin and Mr. Alfred Cornborough, brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornborough will reside in Bridgeland.

PORTER-EDY.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frame, 5 Argyle Court, on Saturday evening June 29th, when Evelyn Eddy and Dorman Porter, both of Calgary, were united in marriage by the Rev. M. A. MacLean.

The bride was daintily gowned in soft white satin embroidered with seed pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter will reside in Calgary.

Four Hundred Children Take Part in Races Under the Auspices of W.C.C.

Previous to the arrival of the Dominion Day parade at the Exhibition grounds, the races for the boys and girls under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club was run off. Nearly four hundred children competed in the eight events, and those in charge of them had their hands more than full in successfully operating the different events. The winners of the races were:

Event 1—Holly White, first; Helen Baradell, second; Event 2—S. Christensen, first; Jessie Stevie, second; Event 3—Ruth Miller, first; Rosa Paternach, second; Event 4—Penelope McMillan, first; Anna Fielder, second; Event 5—John Nelson, first; Jack Elliott, second; Event 6—Jacob Keister, first; Fred Edwards, second; Event 7—Brigden, second; Event 8—Lloyd Stewart, first; Alex McFarlane, second.

Parasols and dolls for the girls, and baseball bats, balls and equipment for the boys comprised the prizes. The races were under the supervision of the Boy's Secretary J. Sharpe, of the Y.M.C.A., assisted by "Doc" Dawson and Wesley Pattison.

Mayor Mitchell presented the prizes to the winners, congratulating each winner as he or she stepped forward to receive the prize. At the conclusion

WE ARE AFTER MEN AND WOMEN

There are men and women who know things which could be made tremendously valuable to the business world.

There are those who have learned of ways of working which double business efficiency, help sales, promote business and increase happiness.

We are after these people.

We want them to tell their story through the columns of The Commercial Review.

The Commercial Review is the business paper of Canada's real west. Its field is Alberta and British Columbia. Its objects are: the development of Inter-Provincial trade between these two great Provinces; the adoption of better methods of merchandising and the resultant national development which must accrue from the consummation of these desires.

We want contributors—those who are keen to sense the worth and value to themselves and others of this work.

We want to hear from those who can write and from those who want to become writers.

To those who contribute suitable articles we will pay fair prices but the work to the writer will be valuable aside from the money received.

Articles which would occupy one or two columns of newspaper space are best, but if you can give real worth in less space or more, do so.

Any business subject is suitable, but as a suggestion to help your selection of subjects, we mention the following:

1. Increasing the efficiency of the sales force.
2. Short cuts and labor saving methods in store keeping.
3. Improving the relationships between employer and clerk.

It is not necessary to confine yourself to these subjects. Any business subject will be suitable.

The Commercial Review is published on the 15th and 30th of each month. Price $1.00 a year. Send for sample copy. Write the nearest office.

No, don't stand aside. The first one had better keep out. The second fellow should go ahead and win the girl as he can. These slow poke men who waste a girl's time for years and then as soon as a deserving fellow appears on the scene discover that the girl doesn't deserve to win.

SOME HARD CAKES

Before the days when it was possible to buy quite an infinite variety of small sweet cakes in little packages, except, rarely, some imported, expensive ones, good housewives made many kinds of cookies, wafers and hard gingerbreads—sugar and molasses gingerbreads. Made at home, even today these are considered a treat, and they go particularly well out of doors, unless they are rather mouth-filling and dry, as a hard molasses gingerbread may be.

This latter is, however, very good for children, and may be cut in the shapes of men or animals, and so to be eaten because it is a pleasure to bite off a head, break an arm, and altogether digest something that is a "sweetener," as molasses cakes are, and therefore good for fat people as well as for children.

The following hard gingerbreads have been used by a generation or two of people. I did not use to like them particularly well, but now know that they were good for me when I had them in a school luncheon, as well as at home.

Hard Molasses Gingerbread I.—One-half a cupful of butter; one cupful of molasses; one teaspoonful of saleratus dissolved in half a cupful of hot water (boiling hot). Mix with just enough flour to make it hard enough to roll out.

Hard Molasses Gingerbread II.—One egg, one cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of butter and drippings mixed, one-half a cupful of milk, one-half a teaspoonful of ginger, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of saleratus, mixed with the flour. Mix just hard enough to handle.

Soft Molasses Gingerbread.—One-third of a cupful of butter, one-half a cupful of brown sugar, one egg, one-half a cupful of molasses, one teaspoonful of vinegar, one teaspoonful of saleratus dissolved in one-half a cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of ginger, a little salt, two and a half cupfuls of flour.

Molasses Cookies.—One cupful of sugar, one cupful of molasses, one egg, one teaspoonful of soda, one tablespoonful of vinegar, one teaspoonful of ginger, a pinch of salt, and flour to roll.

Sugar Cookies.—One heaping cupful of sugar, one big egg, one-half a cupful of shortening, one-half a cupful of sour milk, a pinch each of soda, salt, and nutmeg. Don't mix too hard. Roll not very thin; sprinkle with granulated sugar, and roll with a creased rolling pin.

There seems to be a grave fault with the following recipe, and yet I am sure we used to follow directions and bake only for the time specified. It has been a long time since I used this recipe:

Vanilla Wafers.—One cupful of sugar, two-thirds of a cupful of butter, four tablespoonfuls of milk, one teaspoonful of vanilla, one egg, one teaspoonful and a half of cream of tartar, two-thirds of a teaspoonful of soda, length—say eight or nine inches. "If it is necessary a pin extend from one side of a hat to another, that ordinance will place a limit on the diameter of hats worn in Chicago," commented Aid. Captain. "And that will be a good thing, too. I do not believe that pins need be eight inches long."

Short Pins for Small Hats

It is Aid. Captain's opinion also that women do not provide themselves with a sufficient number of sets of hats.

"Sometimes you will see a woman with a little hat," he continued, "with two or three long hatpins jabbed through it. She does not have hatpins of a length suited to the small hat. If women are going to wear hats of different sizes they should have sets of pins to correspond."

BRONKS AND DEERS BREAK EVEN IN A DOUBLE HEADER EVEN ON THE HOLIDAY

In the Morning Chan's Bunch Walked Away With a Nine to One Contest, but in the Evening the Bronks Gave Myres Errorless Support and Won, 3 to 1

It is quite a way out to Hillhurst Park and the street car service is pretty poor, but those fans who do negotiate the distance were favored by seeing two very fine exhibitions of the grand old game. Of course, if the Bronks had taken both ends of the double header, which they did not, the games would have been most satisfactory. However, the best which could be done by the Bronks was to capture the evening contest and allow the Deers to grab one on the morning affair. The ante meridian contest resulted: Red Deer 9, Calgary 1, the post meridian one: Calgary 3, Red Deer 1.

Daniels essayed to do the round duty for the visitors in the morning and he proved an enigma. During the first innings when he pitched, only twenty-four Bronks faced him. Of these twenty-four, twenty-one were retired before they reached first. The lucky bunching of two of these bingles, in the fourth, saved the Bronks from a shut out. Wells was first up in the fourth and he headed out a double to right field, and O'Brien followed him with a two base swing in the opposite direction, which slam scored the foot-footed shortstop. The next three men were retired in order.

Larry Piper got the only other Calgary bingle, his offering being a single, but he couldn't negotiate the homeward distance owing to the inability of his team mates to come across with the necessary hits or sacrifices.

Red Deer started in with a procession of runs in the third inning, when Godfrey doubled, Manning singled, and Daniels did likewise. Clementson then came across with the triple, which cleaned the sacks. In the fourth the Deers added another tally. Bliss getting safe on O'Brien's error and going advanced to Dunn's sacrifice hit and scoring on Godfrey's sacrifice fly to right.

Chan's bunch secured two more in the sixth. Gay singled and Bliss was safe on a fielder's choice, which would have retired Gay at second had Wells touched the second sack. Dunn advanced both of the runners, committing suicide, and then Dick Wells made another error which allowed both of the sack occupants to romp across the pan.

In the seventh the Deers brought their total up to nine. Clementson got the safe on Wells' third error of the game, Gay being retired through the good work of Red Fullwider, who covered first and got the throw from his boss. Bliss then singled, and scored. Clementson. Dunn was presented with free transportation and Godfrey then cleaned up the sacks with a mighty triple to centre.

The Evening Game. A grand total of twenty-five in-the-wool baseball bugs traveled to Hillhurst without incident in the evening, but those twenty witnessed a contest which was well worth the price of admission. The game was short but sweet. First, Godfrey to Godfrey, will pitch; Meyers; time, one hour, umpire, Sullivan.

Table with columns: AB, R, E, PO, A, E. Rows for Red Deer and Calgary players including Daniels, Manning, Godfrey, etc.

McGANN GOT K.O. PUNCH. New York, June 29.—Gumboat Smith of California, knocked out Hugh McGann of Indianapolis in the second round of a scheduled ten round bout at the Fairmont Athletic club tonight.

REGINA SPORT SCRIBE ESCAPED TORNADO. Winnipeg, June 30.—Billy Allen, new editor of the Regina Province, and former sporting editor on the Fargo Press here, where he has lost everything he has in the hurricaning, including house and contents, but he and his wife are said to have escaped with their lives.

Hillhurst Won Easily. Red Deer, July 1.—The Hillhurst team of Calgary won two easy fixtures today from the two local teams, getting the first game by the score of 3 to 1, and the second one 6 to 0.

WANCOUVER ABOUT READY TO BID GOODBYE TO THE MINTO CUP; WESTMINSTER WON OVERTIME CONTEST

Great Excitement Prevailed During Contest; Mayor Findlay Demanded That One of Westminster Players Be Arrested Score Was Tied, Three All at Full Time; Grumpy Springs Scored Twelve Minutes Later

WANCOUVER, July 1.—Playing as fine lacrosse as was seen in the Minto cup matches here last fall, New Westminster broke a tie score of 3 to 3. The Royal City men scored the final and winning goal.

It looks as if Vancouver must bid good-bye to the Minto cup for this year, for out of five games played, Westminster has won four and the Salmon-Bellies are playing as they never do when they defended the championship.

That the nervous tension in the Vancouver management was great, was evidenced by the fact that Con Jones, president of the Vancouver club, went out in the field for the first time in his life, and publicly roasted the referee, Alex. Turnbull, who is pretty near the father of the game in Westminster, and was the officiating ruler when Jones accused him of taking the game away from Vancouver.

Neway Lacrosse, his arm bandaged from the fearful punishment he has received in other games, was sent off for ten minutes, and Jones' side caught and Morgan need not feel badly at being dismissed in such a manner.

Helmer Anniversary is Observed

On Saturday at 11 a.m. the day following the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Helmer, of Tenth avenue west, several ladies and gentlemen from the different offices of the Dominion government assembled in the office of the Forestry department to offer congratulations. An illuminated address, a creation of an art, was in that particular line of art, was read by Miss Gertrude Donovan, after which Mr. T. W. Bryant presented Mr. and Mrs. Helmer with a beautifully embossed sterling silver candlestick, suitably inscribed. For several years Mr. Helmer has been associated with government work and those who are fortunate enough to know him and class among his friends, realize the true significance of the word, friendship, and it is safe to say that in Western Canada there are few who have more friends or enjoy the universal good wishes of all than he does.

WHOM MISS SMITH CAN NOT WED

A New York Girl to Inherit a Million If She Obeys a Will's Terms

New York, June 30.—Under the terms of the will of Mrs. Caroline Falconer Butterfield, filed today, her granddaughter, Miss Dorothea Ballard Smith, will not come into a fortune estimated to be more than a million dollars unless she abides by certain restrictions named in the will, relating to her future as a married woman.

Miss Smith may not marry any man whom four of the five trustees object. Mentioned in the will are three others and Miss Smith is prohibited from marrying any of them. This restriction, it is said, was due to a bitter feud of feeling between Mrs. Butterfield and the mother of the three brothers. Nor may Miss Smith enter into a hasty marriage, but must consult her mother upon having matrimony in prospect.

Mrs. Butterfield's will sets forth that she feared the fortune might get into the possession of "dissipating and incompetent persons."

A NEW FORM OF PURSE-SNATCHING

Through Open Car Windows Latest Development of the Art

New York, June 30.—Thrusting his hand through the open windows of the cars of an elevated train, which was stopped at a station recently, a young man grabbed a gold watch and chain from a woman's wrist and darting into the crowd escaped.

Several daring robberies have occurred on the elevated roads in the last three weeks and detectives have been placed at the stations. Jewelry and handbags have been stolen from women.

The thieves wait until the train has started and then walking swiftly to the open window grab the article they are after. It is said that many hats have been stolen from men in this manner.

There are several confederates of the thief on the platform when the robbery takes place. These men crowd around the thief and keep the crowd away long enough for him to reach the steps leading to the street. They block the steps so that passengers cannot follow, and cause confusion until the thief is out of sight.

WANTED EXPERIENCED MAN

A Kansas Woman Wouldn't Let Bachelor Perform Marriage Ceremony

Kansas City, Kas., June 30.—Miss Mina Forsley, of Olathe, Kas., believes all probate judges should be married. Because Robert Baker, the probate judge at Olathe, is a bachelor, Miss Forsley brought George W. Gifford, also of Olathe, to Kansas City, Kas., and they were married by Paul Huff, justice of the peace of Wyandotte county. The probate judge is to issue the marriage licenses in Kansas and frequently perform the ceremony.

"I don't want to be married by a man who doesn't believe enough in marriage to be married himself," Miss Forsley said. "Why, it was just last week a young couple came around the bride learned, just before the ceremony, the judge was a bachelor and refused to get married. If that were a good thing, the judges themselves would get married," she said; and then she broke her engagement to Miss Forsley is 30 year old. Gifford is 32. Judge Huff is married and the father of three children.

WOMAN HANGED BY MOB

Negroess Had Murdered Mistress Who Had Reprimanded Her

Pinehurst, Ga., June 25.—Undeterred by the sex of the prisoner, a mob lynched a negro woman here early today. She had been taken from officers at Cordele, Ga., and rushed to the scene of her crime in an automobile and hanged to a tree.

Ann Boston, the victim, yesterday afternoon fatally stabbed her mistress, Mrs. R. E. Jordan, wife of a planter residing at Pinehurst. Her only motive was to avenge a reprimand given her by Mrs. Jordan.

The black was arrested at once and taken to Cordele for safe-keeping. While a mob of residents of Pinehurst and Vienna was on its way to Cordele to try to get the murderess Mrs. Jordan. The sheriff was overpowered by the woman brought here, and soon after hanged. The mob dispersed quietly, and there have been no arrests.

DIAMONDS VERY SCARCE

Maiden Lane Expert in Europe Declares Fine Stones are Few

London, July 30.—Mr. B. F. Rees, of Maiden Lane, New York, who has been in Europe in quest of diamonds, leaves for home aboard the Mauretania. "I have been successful in obtaining many fine gems but although I have been crossing the Atlantic for 25 years," he said, "I never have had such difficulty in obtaining stones fit for the American market."

"Diamonds seem to be getting poorer and finer stones scarcer. The prices of gems have mounted from 15 to 25 per cent. during the year, and during the last seven years the price of white stones have increased from $25 to $125 a carat, according to quality."

"Of course, it is easy to obtain imperfect stones, such as blue whites and other colors but to find the pure white brilliant stones which will appeal to American purchasers, is like hunting a needle in a haystack. Good diamonds are bound to go even higher."

TORNADO INSURANCE

Five million dollar loss at Regina---devastated by a CYCLONE---not two per cent. of the damage covered by wind insurance.

Is your house or block or furniture insured against these terrors of summer?

Bear in mind, cyclones come without warning---they make no stated appointment, and are just as liable to visit this city today or tomorrow as any other section of the country.

Your house may be insured against a fire which might be "put out," but who ever put out a tornado? You can run for a place of safety, but you can't take your beautiful home and furniture with you.

After the cyclone, when your house is razed to the ground or blown to the four winds, your tornado insurance will provide ready funds for a fresh start.

The Cost is small, the protection great. Be prepared; don't allow another day to pass by without cyclone insurance. Phone 3745 and complete information will be supplied as regards the small cost of a few cents per day for absolute protection for your particular buildings. Do it now.

RESTING THE EYES

Precautions For the Middle Aged—Eye Strain and Beauty

(London Daily Mail) The eye, it has been said, is the window of the soul, and it behooves us, therefore to keep that window very bright and clear. A beauty expert whom I consulted on the subject of eye treatment told me that she attached more importance to rejuvenating the eyes of her middle aged clients than any other feature.

Strained eyes give such a look of fatigue and "nerviness" to a woman, spoiling her expression entirely, and they cause headache and so-called migraines, and help, moreover, to bring wrinkles and lines to the face.

Of course, girls do not suffer as women of over 45 or so may do; but even the young are all the better for taking care of their sight. Yes! Even to them I say, do not read in poor light, or when you have a headache, or after a severe illness, and be sure you do not read in bed for it is a strain to the eyes to use them when you are in a recumbent position. To sit at inordinately fine needlework is also a mistake.

An hour's rest daily in a dark room is what I recommend to the eye tired, and then that they should first slap gently the furrowed places with the finger tips to bring blood to the surface, and then massage all round them very soothingly.

A German oculist whose name is a household word recommends a firm rubbing movement with the fingers from side to side of the forehead just above the eyebrows for relieving that sensation of pressure from which those with astigmatic eyes so frequently suffer. A massage of the eyelids is another treatment of value.

If these precautions and careful little spells of massage were undertaken, with methodical rest, day after day, by women of middle age, they would doubtless be able to ward off the approaching time of wearing eye glasses or spectacles. I can only entreat, however, of any woman to consult an oculist in good time if she suffers from any sensation of eye fatigue. The sight usually changes at 45, and reading glasses adopted at the right juncture will preserve the eyes for long years.

THE MARKETS
CHICAGO GRAIN.
Chicago, Ill., July 1.—Cooler weather over the spring crop country, with rains raging a large part of the time, made weakness the rule today in wheat. The close was heavy, at nearly the bottom point of the season, and showed a decline of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4. All other leading staples, too, finished at a loss. Corn 1/2 and oats 1/4 lower.
September wheat ranged from $1.04 1/2 to $1.09 1/2, with the last transaction $1.04 1/2 and $1.04, a decline of 1/4 compared with forty-eight hours before.
Excellent weather for growth developed the corn market of strength. September fluctuated from 71 1/2 to 72 1/2, closing weak, 1/4 net lower at 71 1/2 and 71 3/4.
Oats sagged because harvesting had begun in western Illinois, and there were large sales of the new crop. The close was 10 to 1 1/4 lower.
Montreal, Que., July 1.—At the Montreal stock yards west end market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 28 were 1,960 cattle, 1,200 sheep and lambs, 2,350 hogs, and 1,000 calves.
The supply on the market this morning for sale consisted of 800 cattle, 800 sheep and lambs, 900 hogs, and 400 calves.
There was no important change in the cattle market, as compared with a week ago, except that the prices for bulls were fully one cent lower, owing to the recent decline in the price of cows, a falling off in the demand for the same, and the fact that the supply was in excess of the demand.
Butchers' cows were plentiful and so were half-fed steers and heifers, but really choice steers were scarce, as price as high as $8.40 per 100 pounds being asked in some cases, but the top price paid was $8.25, and the bulk of the trading done in this class of stock was from $7.00 to $8.25 per 100 lbs.
The top price realized for choice butchers' cows was $6.50, and a few heavy bulls, weighing from 1,600 to 1,900 pounds, sold at $6.25 to $6.50 per 100 pounds.
The gathering of buyers was fairly large, including some from Quebec, notwithstanding the holiday, but the demand from local butchers was somewhat limited, owing to the fact, they claim, that the warmer weather of the past few days has driven a number of people to their country resorts, and this, coupled with the high prices realized for all lines of fresh meats, had tended to curtail the usual buying considerably. However, the buying for Quebec account was fairly good, and as local packers' orders were practically cleaned out of beef supplies, they also took a few carloads which arrived. At the same time, an easier feeling prevailed in the market.

WALL STREET HAS MADE UP ITS MIND THAT ELECTION WILL NOT HURT TRADING
Politics Does Not Make the Wheat, Corn and Cotton Grow, and Does Not Create the Demand for Iron, Steel and Copper
By JOHN COULTER
The bulls in Wall Street have begun to see the clear daylight because they have ceased to be stock politicians.
Of course, the latter will be more or less of a stock market factor for months to come, but it will not always be one that is dangerous to the peace of mind of the security list.
Some one must be elected president of the United States this fall, and Wall Street is beginning to realize the fact that it does not make so much difference who it may be.
Politics does not make the wheat and corn and cotton grow, nor does it create a demand for iron, steel and copper; it does not keep the wheels of the factories turning nor give employment to men.
In short, it is a side issue, and those on the long side of the market propose to see that it is put into its proper place and kept there.
The word has gone forth from every political headquarters that business is not to be hampered, no matter what the orators on the stump may say. Business men and manufacturers have come to the conclusion that they will not be badly hurt whether one side or the other elects its man.
After the Baltimore convention is over the country will have a rest before the active campaigning begins, and this will give the stock market an opportunity to obtain a good start.
Perhaps nothing much will be done until the United States Government report on the state of the crops comes in, which will be about July 8, showing conditions up to the last of June. Private and railroad information is encouraging. With an improved agricultural yield there will be nothing for prices of stocks to do but to go up.
There is an urgent demand for new capital which is world wide, and this is a fact which must be taken into consideration when one is about to make commitments in the stock market.
In the United States there are no signs of financial disorder as yet, further than that it is known some of the less desirable issues have not been as successfully disposed of by banking and other syndicates as had been anticipated. Nevertheless, there is quite a good demand for investments of the higher grades whenever these give satisfactory returns. Those which pay low rates of interest or relatively small dividends are neglected and, as a necessary consequence, show a declining tendency.
The demand now runs upon fairly safe investments which pay not less than 5 per cent, and as high as 7 per cent. There are not very many of the latter. There still are pending several important negotiations, which may be said to explain the alert but insistent support accorded the stock market by banking interests in general.
Since the first day of this year the amount of new security issues in the United States has approached $1,500,000,000 and if 25 per cent of this total be deducted for refunding purposes it will be seen that the net total of new capital in this country really absorbed and taken by syndicates has not only been enormous but far beyond all precedent.
In this connection it is not more than proper to note that the movement of new capital into industrial and other enterprises is reviving in spite of all the discouragements which have been put in its way.
The erection and extension of new plants and the development of new schemes will make for the continued employment of labor, and this in itself is one of the signs of the approach of prosperity.
In turn this involves an active distribution of all classes of merchandise, and as a result the merchants of the interior have the best reasons for looking for a good fall trade, particularly so the development of the republic.
At the same time it should not be forgotten that the United States is turning from agriculture to manufacturing, and that while the farmer continues to be the mainstay, the manufacturer and the mechanic rapidly are becoming a more important factor in the development of the republic.
A demonstration of this is the knowledge, shown by the figures, that the export of agricultural products is not making headway, while the exports of the output of the factories have grown so large as to constitute approximately about one-half of what the United States sells to other countries.
While the monetary situation is easy, there is no doubt that it will bear watching. Banking conditions generally are sound enough, and low rates for funds may be anticipated until the crops begin to be marketed.
Even then they may not rise appreciably, but it is best to argue that they will, as this will lead to conservatism.

HOW THE REGINA NEWS WAS RECEIVED IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., June 30.—News of the disaster at Regina spread rapidly here, and newspaper offices were besieged by inquirers and agents of Regina people, anxious to contribute for news. First reports here gave total deaths in the hundreds, and were being down, more conservative estimates were not available for hours.

George Bury of the C. P. R. which has sympathies and offered all facilities of the company for alleviating distresses. A request was received by Chairman Hayes of Manitoba Telephone Co. to make the place of those who lost their lives or were injured, and a number of girls left tonight. The general hospital received a request for nurses, and these will leave in the morning. One of the first names as being among the dead, received here was that of Andrew Bryan, manager of the Tudhope-Anderson Company, of Orillia.

A TUG CAPTAIN AND CREW HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Vancouver, B. C. June 30.—Captain Jim Brown and his crew of four had a very narrow escape from death early this morning when his tug, the "Sea Wolf," caught fire and burned at Port Moody. The burning of a tug at work and the crew got out of the boat in their night clothing, but without saving a cent. The boat, worth $6,000, is a total loss.

BOSTON STREET CAR RIOT SENDS MANY INTO HOSPITAL

Boston, Mass., June 30.—One man is dying at the city hospital with a bullet in his abdomen, a score of more are pursuing minor injuries and a dozen men are under arrest in police stations tonight as a result of rioting by street car men's strike demonstrators during the early hours today.

The demonstration centered about the Grand opera house, where the striking carmen held a mass meeting. Passing cars of the Boston Elevated Company were stoned, motormen and conductors pulled from platforms and passengers driven out.

BIG LUMBER SAWMILL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Kenora, Ont., June 30.—A fire, obliterating the complete loss of the Portage Lumber Company's sawmill and Pulp Mill, occurred here last evening. Several thousand feet of lumber in the immediate vicinity was swept during the conflagration. The cause of the fire, which is the worst in the history of the town for some time, is said to have originated in the vicinity of the sawmill. This is the fourth mill that has been lost in as many years, one being at Rainy River and two in British Columbia. The loss is over $100,000, insured with Lloyds of London.

U.S. TEAM IS LEADING IN INTERNATIONAL SHOOT

Stockholm, Sweden, June 29.—At the conclusion today of the first stage of the international team competition for army rifle shooting at the Olympic games, the United States team led, with Great Britain second. Each team was composed of six men, and today's contest consisted of fifteen shots being fired by each man at the 200 metre range. The aggregate score of the American team was 408, Great Britain 428.

NOTORIOUS BURGLAR

Cought with $4,000 in Canadian Bills, Sold to He' Ohio, Croatia.

Detroit, Mich., June 30.—Martin Powell arrested yesterday with $4,000 in Canadian bills in his possession, and who offered $100,000 for his freedom, has been identified by "fives" as one of the most notorious burglars in the country.

His real name is said to be Charles Butcher, and he comes from Middleport, Ohio, where his family resides.

Powell served seven years in the Ohio state prison for burglary, committed when he was scarcely out of his teens. He has a long police record and made several daring escapes from justice.

According to the detectives, the celebrated New Westminster, B. C. bank robbery above, indications of having been Butcher's work.

CIVIC CENTRE PLANS AND SITES FOR PLAYGROUNDS WILL BE CONSIDERED

Plans for a civic centre and the selection of sites for playgrounds by the city to be used as play grounds will be discussed at a joint meeting of the city planning commission, the parks board and a special committee of the city council to be held tomorrow night.

The city council some time ago appointed a special committee to take the matter up with the parks board and planning commission, with a view to the submission to the council of definite suggestions providing for action on this subject.

RAFT SAILS THE ATLANTIC

Three Men Once Went Across to England in a Canvas Boat

(From The New York World)

In 1877, with John Miles and George Miller, Mullane was serving as a quartermaster on the American steamer Santiago de Cuba of the Central American Transit Company, running between New York and Greytown, Nicaragua. Miles was second officer and Miller, like Mullane, was a quartermaster. At that time the Central American Transit Company was competing with the Pacific Mail line, which conducted a service between New York and Aspinwall, now Colon.

"It was a great time about then for small boats to cross the Atlantic," said Mullane. "The little 'Red, White and Blue' had gone over with three men, and Miles, Miller and I agreed that we would cross the blue to Europe on one of Perry's rats."

"When we went uptown to see Perry about it he was enthusiastic, but the manufacturers opposed it. They were afraid the raft would be knocked to pieces or the tubes would collapse. Perry was not rich, but he helped us all he could. The New York newspapers said that if we had any friends they ought to put us away in some safe place."

The Trip Starts

"The raft was a three-pontoon affair, with the pennant 'Nonpareil' flapping from her foremast halliards and Old Glory from her mainmast. There was a tent lashed amidships between the masts, and rubber collapsible barrels of fresh water were lashed on top of the stern chairs between the planks. We took along a good deal of canned stuff, several hams, coffee, and a one-wick kerosene stove, ten gallons of kerosene and three gallons of sperm oil for signal lights.

"Off Sandy Hook, where we waited three days, lay the ironclad Dunderberg, which William H. Webb had built for the government, but Uncle Sam wouldn't accept it. Mr. Webb sold it to France, and it was rechristened La Ruchambault or something of that sort. It was so rough that the iron clad could not go out, but the Nonpareil went out."

"At morning and night the tubes would become somewhat flattened and slack, but in the heat of the day they were pumped up with air with the bellows.

"During the trip of forty-two days we spoke eleven ships, all of which were on the weather side they came down to us. If we were on the weather side, they lay to and we went down to them. Every one of them. Those from American ports had read of our venture and they understood. Some coming the other way supposed we were castaways and wanted to take us off."

"When we made Southampton, J. P. Stebbing, president of the chamber of commerce, welcomed us, and the American consul, Captain Britton, gave us a reception. Commander White, who afterwards became chief naval constructor for the British navy, took a great interest in the raft, and, with his tender, towed us over to the Royal Yacht Club regatta at Cowes. He went too fast and the Nonpareil was almost swamped.

"We went aboard the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, and the skipper said: 'I suppose you have a supply of good American Bourbon? We had, sir,' replied Miles, 'but it is all gone.' The Nonpareil was a wander to the lords aboard the yachts at Cowes and they contributed liberally."

HOW SPOONS MAY SPREAD DISEASE

Through educating the public and the recent passing of the germ bill in the United States, those dangerous germ spreaders, the common drinking cup, the nasty roll towel, and the dish cloth, have been abolished.

But there still remain many dangerous customs and disease-breeding utensils in households and restaurants, which are a menace to the public health. The most prolific method of carrying disease from one person to another is through the tasting spoon.

By this I mean that common custom of cook or housekeeper of dipping out with a spoon a taste of two of the soup and from soup to lips. Every few minutes this spoon goes from lips to soup, sauce or whatever is cooking, and from soup to lips. Now every one carries germs of some kind upon their gums, tongue or throat. They may be comparatively harmless germs to those using the spoon, yet when transferred to another person, especially children, cause any affliction from influenza to acute tonsillitis. Any person may have latent germs of diphtheria, the germs of a much more horrible disease, or even those causing consumption, which upon reaching a more susceptible individual will as once spring forth into the active disease. For remember that what in one person remains only a slumbering disease will in another person become an active disease.

No matter who the cook is, a good mother or a hired stranger, the use of the tasting spoon should at once be stopped. The best way out of the difficulty is to take the tasting spoon in a spoon and drop it into a glass. Then the glass should be at once washed in boiling water. The process should always be used in everything tasted. That is, NEVER should the spoon or any other utensil go from mouth to cooking food. I know of a recent case where a little girl of ten years has contracted a very serious disease because the new cook after tasting some pudding, she took the spoon direct from her diseased mouth and dipping it again

NATION OF SUICIDES

The Japanese Are a People of Extreme Emotional Temperament

(From The Boston Herald)

Japan is a land of suicide. This seems illogical, for the Japanese by instinct are a cheerful race of people. Nevertheless, there were over 10,000 suicides in Japan last year.

The increase has been so marked that the government has been aroused to an effort to suppress any further increase if possible. Japan is a congested nation, and this may account for the number of suicides, but Japan is always preparing for war, and realizes that this awful waste of human life will decrease the chances of quickly raising a standing army.

In times of war the Japanese soldier is taught that to die means the salvation of his soul, and assures him of peace thereafter. To fall on the field of battle is to be gloriously honored. To return home without a scar is to be disgraced. This is why in war the Japanese soldiers display such remarkable courage and take such desperate chances. They do not fear death. They seem anxious to meet the dark angel and lay themselves open to danger.

The case which is exciting so much discussion in Japan today is one of novel character. Because of a slight mishap to the Imperial train, for which no one was directly responsible, the station master at Mito showed his repentance by throwing himself before the train when it resumed its journey after a 10-minute delay, during which time the mikado was compelled to wait in the waiting room.

The station master's devotion evoked such a wave of popular admiration that it has resulted in the determination to erect a monument to his honor.

The president of the Kyushu University has issued a public warning, as well as a public rebuke and has pointed out the danger of any such unbridled display of sentiment.

Others have been persuaded to follow the example of the station master, and there are many superstitious Japanese who believe that they can achieve everlasting fame by voluntarily sacrificing their lives for the mikado.

Glorifying an act of self-destruction is a dangerous thing to do, but this is what is being done in Japan today.

As said above, it seems a singular thing that a people of such cheerful dispositions should be so given to suicide. The percentage of deaths from self-destruction is much greater in Japan than in any European nation. The figures, instead of decreasing, are increasing, and the old custom of harakiri has passed out of existence.

It shows that, in addition to being a cheerful race of people, the Japanese are also a people of extreme emotional temperament.

Most Important of all is the Quality and Character of Stock as Well as Its Newness of Style

Every piece of furniture represented was examined at the factories by our own personal representative, to make sure that it measured up to the specifications. The wood must be thoroughly seasoned; there must be so many coats of varnish and finish, the upholstery work must be of a certain character and have so many pounds of filling. All these are details that become of interest to you after the Furniture has started to do service in your home, but they are most important to a store such as this. For we stand back of every piece of Furniture we sell.

The town planning commission, a special committee of the council and the parks board meeting in a joint session at noon today, there is sure to be something doing with regard to the settlement of the question of playgrounds. A special committee of the city council was appointed some time ago at the suggestion of Ald. Samia, to consider for with the town planning commission and the parks board was also asked to discuss the question of municipal playgrounds. The subject has caused more or less discussion for the past few weeks and it is understood that the present meeting of the commission, the parks board and the aldermen, something definite will be planned out and recommended to the city council.

The meeting will be held at 12.30 at the Empire hotel and it is expected that business with reference to the location of several playgrounds will come before the joint meeting, and if a decision can be reached it is probable that a recommendation will be made to the city council. Another feature of the meeting will be a drive over the city which will be taken by the members of the commission, the parks board and the special committee. It is expected that on this drive the members will be given a chance to look at several different sites that have been proposed as suitable for the playgrounds. Several autos will convey the members on the trip.

Deaths which have occurred at the general hospital are: Mrs. Harris; Mrs. Shaw; Mr. Boyd; James McDougall; Two Chinamen; St. John's, Nfld., June 30.—The British steamer Wilhelmina piled up on the rocks at Peters river at daylight today, a total wreck. The Wilhelmina was bound from Quebec for Yarmouth, England, with a cargo of coal. Capt. Hugo and his crew were saved.

At the first intimation of the cyclone, Mrs. McDougall ran out of the house with a younger child in her arms. The side of the house fell on her as she was going through the door, and she was pinned down by some timbers.

PREMIER OF B. C. WIRES A MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY

Victoria, B.C., July 1.—Premier McBride sent the following message to Premier Scott of Saskatchewan: "Learn with deep regret of loss of life by cyclone in Regina. On behalf of British Columbia, let me express our sympathy with the people of sister province."

MAYOR MITCHELL OPENS RELIEF FUND FOR VICTIMS OF DISASTER AT REGINA

Advised last night by Mayor McEwen, of Regina, in response to his offer of assistance, that a considerable sum of money will be required for the immediate relief of the sufferers from the recent catastrophe in the Saskatchewan capital, Mayor Mitchell has opened a relief fund at the city hall. Subscriptions will be gladly received and acknowledged, and at once forwarded to the afflicted city.

The following is the reply received by Mayor Mitchell in response to his offer of assistance, made on behalf of the citizens of Calgary: Regina, July 1, 1912. J. W. Mitchell, Mayor, Calgary: Your message of sympathy sincerely appreciated. Work of relief is well organized. It is quite apparent that financial aid in a large measure will be required by the sufferers, and we are opening a subscription list for this purpose. P. McEwen, Mayor.

OUTSIDE FAIRMAN HAS WORDS OF PRAISE FOR LOCAL EXHIBITION AND MANAGEMENT

ALBERTA has one of the greatest exhibitions in all the West, on both sides of the international boundary line. It compares favorably with anything of the kind I have seen west of the Mississippi river, and there are very few institutions in all the United States that surpass it. In proportion to your population it is far away and above all of them. It is a magnificent tribute to your resources and a splendid testimonial to the genius of the men behind it, and in particular to the administrative ability of E. L. Richardson, your secretary-manager.

The speaker was big Jim Shoemaker, boss of the Montana state fair, an institution not unlike our own exhibition. Mr. Shoemaker is one of the live wires of the prosperous states which adjoin Alberta on the south. He is very prominent in political affairs in the treasure state, having served Lewis and Clarke county, in which Helena, the capital is situated, as sheriff, and as a member of the legislature. The state fair is an institution on which Montana has expended something like a quarter of a million dollars.

TOTAL NUMBER OF DEATHS DUCHESSE HOPES TO BE ABLE TO MAKE TOUR WITH THE DUKE

Regina, Sask., July 1.—From all reports received, the worst now seems to be known, the fitting of Scott-master Apply, between Seventh and Eighth avenues on Cornwall street, bringing the total number of deaths up to 25. Both at the General and Grey Nunn Hospitals all available space has been requisitioned to accommodate the injured. As stories are told of the coming of the storm, the heart strings are torn and wrenched by tales of suffering revealed. Listeners are moved by conditions unimaginable. At the General Hospital the wards have been opened to accommodate the injured and nurses are kept busy attending to the sufferers.

At the Grey Nunn, where space forbids more, the patients have been accommodated all in one room, eleven of them unable to move from wounds received yesterday. The nuns, including the Sister Superior, are all at work and no rest is allowed them. All the nurses that could be secured are hourly visiting the sick, and from there the report comes that none of the patients are so seriously hurt that they will not recover. Probably the most injured outside of two who have broken legs, is Mrs. McDonald, who is unable to open her eyes. The faces of many of the patients cannot be recognized and a hurried glance at the forms lying in cots would lead one to think that the wards have been turned into morgues.

RAINBOW OF PROMISE SCINTILLATES FOR THE GRAIN GROWERS ALL OVER THE PROVINCE

Bumper Crop is in Sight; Crop is Weeks Ahead of the Season; Local Market Will Take Care of Three Million Bushels of Barley

FROM every section of Alberta comes the news that the rainbow of glorious promise is making glad the hearts of the Albertan agriculturalist, and that a bumper crop, surpassing all others of the past is as nearly assured as it could possibly be. The best of the news is that the grain is fully three weeks ahead of any former season. This means an early harvest, and an early harvest means the defeat of the Frost King, and millions of dollars for those who till the soil and revival of activities of every industry that depends on those who sow and garner. "A good early crop will put Alberta ahead five years," said a well known banker to The Albertan yesterday. "It is not probable that the railroads will be able to handle all of the grain grown this year for months, but the Canadian Pacific is expending millions of dollars for rolling stock for this purpose, and the probabilities are that the grain will move with at least twice the expedition that it did last year. The money will come back by the million. It will go into every avenue of trade, and Calgary, the metropolis of the great wheat belt, will have a fall and winter of prosperity that will astound even the most sanguine.

A new factor in the local markets will be the provincial consumption of barley, always a fairly sure crop. Big brewing and malting institutions at Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge, now in the course of construction, and which should be completed in time to take care of much of this year's crop, will afford a local market, according to the report of experts, of 3,000,000 bushels of barley. This is in addition to what has been consumed in the past. "It certainly looks like the banner year for Alberta."

SIRIUS POINTER, SON OF DISTINGUISHED SIRE, WINS HOTELKEEPERS' STAKES

The deciding trial went to Sirius Pointer by a length in the slow time of 2:32 1/2. There were but two horses in this heat and this accounts for the tardiness.

Hellens Jr. started off like a winner, taking the two first heats in pretty fashion. Then the Russell gelding seemed to weaken and finished with the tailenders until the sixth heat. Russell drove a good race but Hellens was fast string and the Childe stallion won by a length in a stretch drive. Lady Mc, a heavy favorite, could do nothing.

Lady Arrod, an Edmonton mare, won the 2.30 pace in easy fashion. She took the first two heats pretty, had bad luck in the third, and came back in the fourth to clinch the race. The average time was a fraction under 2.27. Gay Americus supplied the spice of the race, annexing the third heat and finishing second in the closing session. Direct E captured third place in the race.

Senator Sanders, elected favorite in the betting, spilled his driver and did a mile without a chaperone for the edification of the crowd. The gelding scored a hit by the way he rated himself in the two times he circled the track with no one in the sulky. On the back stretch he breezed along easily, picked up on the far turn and thundered through the stretch at top speed without once breaking. As one of the judges put it, "There's a practical exhibition of horse sense." But the accident spoiled all of Sanders' chances, and he was distanced in the second heat.

Moss Rose sprang a surprise in the four furlong event by beating Rehearsal, Bassano Boy, heavily favored to win and place, finished third. Cylindar, at a long price, was a poor fourth.

Fourth Race, 2.30 pace, Stake $1,000. First Race, 2.15 pace, Hotelkeepers' Stake, $3,000.—1. Sirius Pointer, 2. Hellens, 3. Ella Penrose. A FASHIONABLE CROWD GREET'S MIZZI HAJOS "THE SPRING MAID"

Viennese Operette Proved to be A Beautiful Production of Many Melodies

"The Spring Maid" chose one of our National holidays for her Calgary debut, and the warm reception which the large audience extended to her at the Sherman Grand last night was very refreshing when one considers how difficult it usually is to bring Calgary audiences to any degree of enthusiasm. The little Viennese operetta proved to be a beautiful production, with many catchy melodies, pretty dances, and the fragrant atmosphere of spring-time abounding throughout the two acts of the play, while the scenic effects, more particularly the last scene, eclipse anything ever seen here.

Mizzi Hajos, the Hungarian prima donna with the unpronounceable name, in the role of the saucy Princess Bosna, captivated the audience from the start with her sparkling little mannerisms and quaint English accent. Her limitations as a vocal artist are more than made up by her vivacious impersonation of the little spring maid. The principal comedian, Charles McNaughton, gives a splendid caricature

THIRTY YEARS OF DISFIGURING ECZEMA CURED

Three years ago I was a little girl, thirty years ago I had suffered tortures from eczema in one of its worst forms. The disease runs in my family, and on my scalp and face, and most disgusting kind. The eczema formed on my face and then scales all over my face and limbs. I had been anointed from head to foot with the Cuticura, which is famous for its sulphur baths and pump water.

FEAR PUSH BUTTON ATAXIA

A New Disease Threatens American People, New York Physician Says

New York, June 30.—The American people are endangered with a new disease which threatens to become more widespread. According to a New York physician, it is known as "push button ataxia." It has a tendency to cause the loss of use of the feet and legs of the victims.

"The fact especially to be mourned in connection with this ailment is that it has attacked many of those persons whom we proudly designate as 'leading citizens,'" he said. "They are business men who are conveyed by motor car to their downtown offices where, on arrival, they seat themselves at a desk which has as many electric buttons as the bosom garbure of a hotel waiter. Each of these bells is an imperative C. Q. D. call, admitting of no delay."

"Seated in his office chair, he who stimulates to activity all the forces of the place, loses his own vigor and goes down like a loosely filled sack of meal. For indulgence in button pushing grows by what it feeds upon, and develops a locomotive indolence. I have known one of these crustaceans of the desk to buzz up an office boy to hand to him a match from a jacket hanging on a peg next to his nine inches away and then command the boy to light it for him."

"Among the sequelae to the push button disease is the tendency of the victim to accumulate fat. The lean boss or the lean manager of a great department is rapidly disappearing. Though the button and well do rest" was apparently harmless enough as an advertisement slogan, but as an invader of our local trade activities it is to be as greatly dreaded as maramism and deadly pestilence."

CAPITALIST WHO WON HIS WEALTH AT NOME IS DEAD

John L. Sesnon, Founder of Great Lighterage Business in Bering Sea Metropolis, Expires at Seattle Home

Alaska Pioneer's Time, Since His Retirement in 1907, Largely Spent in Yachting Along Coast

Seattle, June 30.—John James Sesnon, formerly of San Francisco, founder of the John J. Sesnon company at Nome, and an Alaska pioneer who contributed much to the upbuilding of the Seward Peninsula, died at the family residence, 4215 Twelfth avenue northeast, yesterday afternoon after an illness of several weeks. Sesnon was manager of the Arctic Brotherhood and several other Alaskan organizations. He retired from active business in Alaska six years ago, when the Sesnon company and the North Coast Lighterage company were sold to an English corporation. Since that time he had lived in Seattle, being prominent in yachting affairs and spending most of his time in the waters of Southeastern Alaska on his yacht, Elizabeth.

Sesnon came to Nome in 1900 from San Francisco, and was engaged in the lightering business, which later developed into one of the largest enterprises in the territory. It was the idea of constructing an aerial tramway, so freight could be brought ashore during storms. The big caisson in Bering Sea, 1,000 feet from the beach, from which a cable is strung to a tower erected on shore and used in transferring goods from barges beyond the surf line to the mainland, was planned and erected by him. Prior to the installation of the caisson and tower, attempts had been made to coast wharves at Nome, but the winter ice usually carried them away before navigation opened the following year.

Sells Out to Railroad. In 1907, through the late Dr. Cabell Whitehead, Sesnon sold his enterprises to the owners of the Seward Peninsula railroad. The company long has furnished practically all of the coal and oil burned at Nome, the equipment for handling these fuels having been installed before Sesnon sold out. With an intimate knowledge of the Lighterage business, Sesnon and a crew of men were coming to Nome to work for him. In 1903, saved a ship from being wrecked and was paid for into the Arctic Ocean. The ship was caught in the fogs, and the captain and crew were absolutely helpless. Sesnon took his gang of men and by the use of dynamite and the lightering gear aboard the vessel managed to break a real trail to an open lead, by which the ship ultimately escaped the ice at that time, was planned rapidly with the ice and had gone through Bering Straits into the Arctic. There is little doubt that she would have been lost with all on board. Leaving Nome, Sesnon sold out to the real estate. He had a boat of friends in this city and San Francisco, where he spent considerable time each year, usually going to the Golden Gate in his power yacht.

He is survived by his wife, his mother, who resides in San Francisco, and a brother, George. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

THE "OUTLOOK" STAFF ARE NOT CAST DOWN

Result at Chicago Seems to Please the Colonel's Associates

New York, June 30.—The outcome of the Chicago convention hasn't dampened anybody's enthusiasm in The Outlook office, where Col. Roosevelt himself is expected this morning. On the contrary, his associates seem high-spirited with the turn which the affairs have taken. Lawrence F. Abbott thought that he expressed the feeling in the office in saying that they were delighted. He was particularly pleased with the turn which the principles for which Theodore Roosevelt stands are more clear-cut and well defined by reason of his sharp break with the reactionaries and by that much brought closer to universal comprehension and realization.

From Dr. Lyman Abbott down all retain a complete confidence in the colonel, and one way or another look to see him come out on top. It is plain that The Outlook rejoices in the mission of becoming the official organ of the new third party. No longer will the cause of Theodore Roosevelt alone be championed, but the wide cause of the progressives which his new party will embody in this country.

"The issue is no longer a personal contest between Taft and Roosevelt," said Mr. Abbott yesterday, and he spoke as though they entered the new fight greatly encouraged. "It is a contest between two opposing schools of political thought. And the opportunity is now given to all, regardless of old party affiliations, to join in a movement which is liberal and progressive. On the one side are President Taft, Senator Root, Boss Barnes and conservatives of their type. On the other Col. Roosevelt, Gov. Johnson, Gov. Bass, Gov. Stubbs and the rest of the liberal school."

The Democrats face exactly the same situation, Mr. Abbott thinks, and if a reactionary is named in Baltimore many Democrats, in his opinion, will hasten to enroll themselves in the colonel's new party.

"The difference which is now put before the country," he went on to say, "is independent of either President Taft or Col. Roosevelt. It would exist today had neither of them been born. The feeling is strong in the people, and the spirit which prevailed at the Roosevelt convention, where the whole assembly repeated in unison the twenty-third Psalm, is indicative of the earnestness which is being aroused."

Everything in The Outlook office indicates that they have just begun to fight.
