LASSIGNY CAPTURED

French Troops Take Town and Advance Their Lines Five Miles at Some Points, Liberating Twenty Villages, Taking Thousands of Prisoners and Reaching the Outskirts of Chiry-Ourscamps—Now Within Gun Range of Noyon.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—Lassigny has been captured by the French forces, whose lines now have reached the outskirts of Chiry-Ourscamps, southwest of Noyon.

The official statement making this announcement also says that twenty villages have been liberated since yesterday and that the French have advanced about five miles at certain points. The text of the statement reads:

"Between the Matz and the Oise the enemy, despite his resistance, gave way under the energetic thrust of our troops, and Lassigny fell into our hands.

"Further south we gained a footing on Plemont and occupied Orval wood; we carried our lines to the outskirts of Chiry-Ourscamps.

"East of the Oise our troops continued their success during the course of the day. On the left Carlepoint wood fell into our power and we reached the Oise to the east of Noyon between Sempigny and Pontoise.

"Further east we crossed the road between Noyon and Coucy-le-Chateau. We took Camelinet-le-Fresne and Blerancourt and advanced our lines to the outskirts of St. Aubin.

"Since yesterday we have liberated about twenty villages and advanced eight kilometres at certain points."

On the right wing of the battlefield east of the Oise the French rushed their attack vigorously during the morning, taking Laval and arriving at the edge of Pommieres, which lies about two miles northwest of Soissons.

Several thousand more prisoners have been taken, one army corps capturing 1600.

This advance brings the French troops to the plateau north of the Aisne, which will facilitate future operations by General Mangin's right.

British Troops Take Seven More Villages

"Tell the Canadian people we got the Boche today where we want him and intend keeping him there."—Sir Arthur Currie.

NEW BRITISH ADVANCE STORMS SEVEN VILLAGES

Third Army, Under Sir Julian Byng, in New Attack North of Ancre, Speedily Carries Two Lines of German Positions—Fighting Proceeds, With British Capturing Junction Near Bapaume—Many Prisoners Come In.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 21.—Having smashed into General von Below's seventeenth army during a heavy fog at dawn today, on a front of more than ten miles, extending from the Ancre River to Moyenneville, the British have thrust out the day made steady progress forward, capturing villages, taking prisoners and guns and inflicting heavy casualties on the surprised enemy.

Official communication on the battle follows: "An attack launched this morning on a front of ten miles from the Ancre to the neighborhood of Moyenneville was successful on the whole of the front. We penetrated deeply into the positions of the enemy and have taken numbers of prisoners.

"In the opening assault, under a mist, we captured the villages of Beaucourt-sur-Ancre, Puisseux-aux-Monts, Buquoy, Ablainzeville and Moyenneville. Afterwards we continued our advance to the neighborhood of the Albert-Arras railway, capturing Achiet-le-Petit, the Logeast wood and Courcelles.

"West of Achiet-le-Petit a strong counter-attack was repulsed. "East of the Ancre our line reached between Bolesaux-St. Marc and Mercatel."

Exploits Confusion. Coming directly on the heels of the battle south of the Somme, the scene of which virtually adjoins the field of the new operations, this blow exploits to the limit the confusion created among the German forces by their recent defeats.

Heavy fighting has occurred along the embankment of the Albert-Arras railway, which, although well within the German lines last night, seems to have been easily reached by the storming British infantrymen, who were aided in this task by the tanks. It was from this embankment that the Germans, armed with countless machine guns, fired a rain of bullets in an effort to keep the British from coming further, but while they were doing it, they themselves must have suffered severely, not only from the flood of direct and indirect machine gun fire, but from shells which were sent crashing about their ears from directly in front of them, for the British field guns moved up closely in the rear of the infantry, and from their flank, where the big British guns hurled in an avalanche of steel from the north.

Another Disaster. As is inevitable, when a battle rages with such intensity as along the embankment, the actual situation is obscure, but reports have been received that the British have broken down the German defence at various places and have passed thru to the eastern side. Behind the embankment there may not have been a great force of German reserves when the battle began, but by this time the harassed enemy certainly is rushing men to the scene as fast as he can, for another disaster threatens him.

The battle opened with a sudden heavy crashing of guns of all calibres just as day was breaking. Great billows of thick fog such as are seen only on this side of the Atlantic hung over the scene. The infantrymen and tank crews could scarcely see a hundred feet ahead of them and the flare of countless blazing cannon was smothered, while explosions from their mouths rolled up into a continuous deadened roar.

The fog was most favorable to the attacking formations, for it effectually shielded them from the eyes of the enemy, and at the same time caused the Germans opposite to believe that the attack was not directed against them.

Enemy Deceived by Fog. "The guns sounded a long way off," said one of the early prisoners, "so we congratulated ourselves that we were not to be attacked. Just then a tank, followed by infantry, rolled right over our position, and I surrendered."

As tanks and men followed behind the sweeping barrage, the atmosphere became even more thick, for mixed with the fog were great banks of smoke from innumerable shells fired for just this purpose of increasing the protecting screen.

The German guns retaliated only feebly, but there was sharp fighting at various points, where isolated posts filled with machine guns and snipers put up a stiff battle. At the little shell-ruined village of Courcelles, about the centre of the battlefield, the German garrison made a desperate fight, and for a time the advance of the infantry was held up at this place.

Charge of Tanks. Then the tanks arrived on the scene and charged into the enemy's positions, quickly transforming them from strongholds to shambles. The tanks repeated this performance at other places in the line where the stubborn Boches held out courageously. But their courage availed them nothing in the face of the great tanks, dipping in and out of shell holes and across old trenches that have seen some of the war's fiercest fighting, and the smaller "whippet" tanks and armored cars which sped over the ground at a great rate on their mission of clearing the way for the infantry sweeping in at the rear of the positions from which the enemy was working his guns.

In comparison with the harder fighting it is worthy of mention that at some places no resistance of any practical importance developed. For instance, the village of Beaucourt was taken with only three casualties. One wounded man returning from the fighting said he went in three kilometres thru the enemy lines before seeing a single German. But this is explained by the fact that the German positions were very thinly held at some points. Logeast Wood was one of the most strongly held positions in the foreground, and this was reached early in the day.

Happy to be Taken. As to prisoners, there is no definite information, but more than 1000 have reached the cages, and they have come in from a considerable distance, most of them having been captured during the early fighting. Some of the first prisoners arrived at the cages with handcuffs and long curved porcelain pipes. They seemed clean and were pleased with themselves as if going on leave. One of them, on being questioned, said he was very happy to be taken.

A wounded British soldier told of being separated from his platoon in the fog, but he pressed on nevertheless and joined other groups. One said that, plunging blindly thru the fog, he ran directly into a German machine gun, which he mistook for a tank. It managed to get in one shot, taking off a finger before he and his comrades finished off the Germans with their rifles.

Airmen Join Battle. In the early forenoon the fog cleared away completely and the sun appeared, and ever since the battle has been progressing under a broiling sun. As the fog disappeared the roar of airplane motors increased, the British machines pursuing the same tactics as at the Somme, harassing the enemy at the rear and strafing the German troops generally, upsetting them completely at many places.

The fast little "whippet" tanks had, as one tank officer said, "gone out into the wide world," and there is no doubt that they are exacting as great a toll here as they did south of the Somme. The armored cars had gone into action also, operating far forward, chasing the Boche from his many lairs, and making quick work of those who would not run.

In this battle the advancing troops did not stop a moment at their early objectives. Several formations joined forces and pressed on together. Successive echelons were merged at a place where the going was heavy.

The battle continues with unabated fury and there is no sign that its conclusion is near.

UNCERTAIN WEATHER. It may be raining today, but you are just at that season of the year when a summer sun is a possible feature of tomorrow. For this changeable weather The Dintzen Company reminds you that they have special advantages in procuring many lines of goods needed for just such uncertain weather. Raincoats, both Civil and Military, $9.00 to $25.00. Heavy Trench Coats, $35.00, and Light Weight Overcoats from $25.00 to $35.00. Also Tweed Hats at $2.50; Tweed Caps, 75c to $1.00; Umbrellas, Leather Hat Cases, and a splendid variety of Flush Auto Rugs. Call at Dintzen's, 140 Yonge street, and look over the above new goods just arrived.

The Greatest Drama in History.

So far the fifth year of the war is one unbounded success for the allies; and if it keeps on the first thing you know we'll all be cheering, the first time in four years.

The Germans and the pacifists now know that it is to be a military decision, and the greatest one in history, not a negotiated peace. Also that it will mean the break up of German military dominion in central Europe. The Hohenzollerns and the Hapsburgs, the Turkens and the war lords—all must go. Democracy is riding on the wind, and autocracy is in the whirlwind.

Any day we may begin to hear that the Germans are getting out of Belgium, and that is when Civilization will cheer its loudest.

The whole public opinion of the world is lining up against Germany, as well as the soldiers of the allies smashing the armies of the Hun into shattered and disheartened rabble.

These are great days, after long years of determination to win out, no matter the cost.

Let the great drama proceed to its triumphant curtain.

CORNERSTONE GONE IN ENEMY DEFENCE

Lassigny Lost by Germans—Important Plemont Height Surrounded by French.

With the French Army in France, Aug. 21.—General Humbert's troops, resuming their attacks against the Germans today, crowned their persistent efforts over difficult ground by taking the Town of Lassigny, which was the cornerstone of the German position south of the Aisne River after the fall of Montdidier.

Plemont, the important height to the southeast of Lassigny, where violent struggles occurred in April, and which bars the way to the Divette valley, from the west, was surrounded, thus opening up a way for the French infantry to pursue the Germans down the valley. The Orval wood also was occupied, and General Humbert's men, advancing along the road from Ribecourt to Noyon, reached the region south of Chiry-Ourscamps.

The German resistance appeared to weaken during the day, both the artillery and infantry letting down in the efforts they had made in the past few days to bar the way to the French.

BRITISH ADVANCE LINE UPON FRONT OF LYS

Patrols Push Way Forward East of Paradis and Near Nerville.

London, Aug. 21.—A British official statement, issued tonight, says: "Patrol fighting has taken place also on the Lys front, as a result of which our line has been advanced near Le Touret, east of Paradis, and between Merville and Outtersteen. A few prisoners were taken by us in these encounters. "In a successful local operation carried out by us this morning south of Leere we captured 135 prisoners."

CANADIAN FORCES PUT OVER BIGGEST SURPRISE PACKET

Keep Up Old Practice of Taking All Objectives on Time and in Attack Bigger Than Vimy Inflict Tremendous Casualties.

With the Canadian Army in the Field, via London, Aug. 21.—Speaking on today's victory, Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian forces, said to the Canadian Press:

"The Canadians have kept up today our old practice of taking all our objectives, and taking them on time. When the full reports for the day come in, we expect to have penetrated the Boche defences 14,000 yards. We attacked on just as wide a front as at Vimy Ridge, and we have come three times as far with the whole division as any single division was able to penetrate, while we have taken more guns and more prisoners than at Vimy. Our whole attack came as a surprise for the Boche," Sir Arthur Currie continued.

"Altogether, it was the biggest surprise packet the Canadian forces ever put over. Many of the Boches threw up their hands as soon as they realized they were up against the Canadians. As our men leaped down into their trenches, they carried with them the slogan, 'Remember the Llandovery Castle,' and with that on their lips they were not to be denied. The Boche dead were never so thick on any of our battlefields as there, but our own casualties were very light. All the Boche guns captured were turned round and promptly manned by our gunners, and now are shooting at the enemy. Everybody is very happy. The force has never been in such good shape for a fight. It is well trained, well organized, and, thanks to the measures taken by the Ottawa government, is up to strength, with sufficient reinforcements on the ground to replace all casualties. Tell the Canadian people we got the Boche today where we want him, and intend keeping him there."

GERMAN LINE IS MENACED FROM YPRES TO SOISSONS

French Troops Materially Push Forward Their Fronts, While British Make Splendid Gains on Ten-Mile Front Between Arras and Albert.

The tide of defeat still surges heavily against the German armies in France and Flanders. On four important sectors French and British arms again have been served, and the entire German front from Ypres, in Belgium, to Soissons on the Aisne, now is more seriously menaced than before.

French troops of General Mangin, operating from the region two miles northwest of Soissons to the Oise River, and those of General Humbert, fighting between the Oise and the Matz, have materially pushed forward their fronts, bringing them to positions which threaten to compel the immediate evacuation of the entire Somme-Oise salient from Bray to Noyon.

Farther to the north, between Arras and Albert, Field Marshal Haig has followed up his successes of previous days by a new offensive over a front of about ten miles and driven forward his troops for splendid gains over the entire line, capturing a number of villages, taking prisoners and guns, and inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy.

Still farther north, in the famous Lys sector, a general eastward advance on a front of more than four miles has been made by the British, who have brought their positions appreciably nearer the old 1916 battle-line, running east of Armentieres.

Noyon is Now Outflanked. Numerous additional villages have been liberated by the French northwest of Soissons, and positions have been captured on both sides of the Oise River, which seemingly make untenable for occupation by the enemy the important town of Noyon, which is now outflanked on the southeast, and dominated by the French guns from the south and west. On the south the French are standing in Sempigny, a mile and a half distant, while on the west they have captured the important pivotal town of Lassigny, the key position to Noyon and the plains to the north.

With the latest advances by the French east of the Oise there has come under the range of General Mangin's guns the broad-gauge railway line leading from Noyon eastward to La Fere—the sole remaining line except for two narrow-gauge roads, over which the enemy may transport his men and supplies beyond the range of the French artillery.

At last accounts Haig was still pressing forward on the heels of the Germans between Albert and Arras, with tanks innumerable, clearing the way for the infantry and machine guns and the field artillery which was keeping close up to the advance. The Arras-Albert railway already has been crossed by the British east of Bolesaux-St. Marc and Mercatel, and south of these towns, the new line has been pressed eastward in conformity.

Counter Attacks Fail. On the Lys salient the Germans have delivered a violent counter-attack in an endeavor to recoup in part the losses they have sustained. Their efforts, however, were fruitless, for the British everywhere withstood their assaults and pushed back the enemy beyond the points of his departure.

What is to be the effect of the allied drives along the 120-mile battleline from Ypres to Soissons cannot be foretold at present, but it seems highly probable that this entire front soon must be realigned.

The particular menace to the Germans, aside from that in the territory between the Somme and the Oise, appears to be on the sector along the Vesle River from Soissons to Rheims, which from the war maps looks to be untenable. Even the Aisne and the Chemin des Dames do not look so any to safe for a defence line if Gen. Mangin presses much further north-west of Soissons.

EDUCATIONISTS TALK LONG ON GLEN GROVE NEW SCHOOL PLANS

Erection of School Buildings Apparently More Remote Than Ever.

VERY LIVELY SESSION

Two and a Half Hours in Committee of Whole Discussing Question.

Glen Grove Avenue School projects were discussed with animation from 4.30 until 7 o'clock yesterday at a special meeting of the board of education. All the members spoke several times. Personalities flew freely across the board room. The net result was honors divided, with the date of more remote than when the site was selected several years ago.

The board went into committee of the whole to treat a special report of the property committee containing five recommendations respecting the much-needed new school.

Trustee Edmunds in Chair. Trustee Edmunds was called to the chair and he enlivened the proceedings by frank comments on the wisdom of some of the debaters' remarks, but succeeded in maintaining control of the meeting, although frequently two trustees would be on their feet claiming the floor at the same time.

The change in policy respecting buildings was embodied in the first recommendation of the report, which called for "a complete unit instead of a wing to be built on the Glen Grove School site." This was a radical change in policy, as the system had been evolved during the period of the phenomenal growth in population of securing larger sites and erecting school buildings a wing at a time to meet the growth of population in each district.

The plans for the first wing of a large school for the Glen Grove site were prepared in due course, but the residents of the district sent a deputation to the board this spring asking for the erection of a complete school building. This was acceded to by a vote of authorizing a delegation from the board to visit London and Hamilton to report upon certain special moderate-sized schools.

Trustee C. A. B. Brown, chairman of the finance committee, was not opposed to a unit school, but pointed out that twenty thousand dollars was the full amount available and he expressed doubts about a fully-equipped school adequate for 400 children of the Glen Grove district being erected for that sum.

The other twelve trustees present said they were in favor of the district having a complete school, but some of them would not vote to exceed the money available.

Trustee McGeehan attempted to procure an agreement by adding the proviso "provided that funds can be obtained." When presented as an amendment it was voted down by six to five and the erection of a unit authorized.

Votes Not Final. Trustee McGeehan said that this vote was not final because the tenders would have to be within the seventy thousand mark to pass the finance board.

The other vital clause recommending that the school be erected on the Glen Grove site by an outside architect was voted down by a similarly close vote, seven to six. The vote for an outside architect was: Dr. Caroline Brown, Dr. Noble, Miss Constance Boulton, S. Thompson, W. Hamblin and Mrs. A. C. Couric, six.

For plans and the erection of the Glen Grove school by the building department of the board of education, Dr. Hunter, Dr. Steele, Dr. Hopkins, Hodgson, C. A. B. Brown, Edmunds and McGeehan.

PLAYS PICTURES AND MUSIC.

Princess Opening. "Seats for 'Hurt to the Right,' the widely praised comedy drama" which opens the new season at the Princess Theatre next Monday evening will be placed on sale this morning. The play has been well advertised locally by playgoers who saw it during its long runs in New York and Chicago. The local engagement is to be played by the original New York company which appeared for a solid year at the Gaiety Theatre on Broadway. Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday.

"The Bird of Paradise." Plays many come and play may go, but it seems as if "The Bird of Paradise," Richard Walton Tully's charming story of the Hawaiian Islands, will go on forever. It will be seen at the Royal Alexander Theatre for one week, commencing Monday, Aug. 26. The chief theme of the play is the folly of marriage between the white and brown races and the tragedy that grows out of it. It pictures the life of the people of Hawaii. Reserved seats are succeeded by matinees which will be Wednesday and Saturday.

Grand Opera Saturday Night. The regular season of the Grand Opera House opens on Saturday night with a special performance of "A Daughter of the Sun," the latest Hawaiian play, which will also be the attraction for first week of the fair. The sale of seats for the Saturday evening performance and the following week is now open, and the scale of popular prices which prevailed last season will remain in force. During the season the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

Next Week at Shea's. Mme. Doree, well-known here for her presentations of grand opera stars, heads the bill at Shea's Theatre next week, when she will present "The Imperial Quintet." Olive Briscoe is inimitable. The clever character comedienne, has an entirely new supply of material. Bob Matthews and Company present "The Rounder of Old Broadway." Brooks and Powers have a number of the season's newest song successes. Kharum, the Persian pianist, in a varied repertoire; the Adams in their new sketch "The Boat Shop"; Rose and Moon in song and dance classics and the Parker brothers in unique hand-balancing feats complete the bill.

Law's Next Week. "The Reason Why" by Elinor Gray, intimate portrayal of high society, is just the type of a story best suited for Clara Kimball Young, whose characterization of Zara, the heroine, will enter as a screen classic. Valentine Fox, the versatile ventriloquist will feature the vaudeville, which will also embrace "Notre of the Movies," the Adams in their new sketch "The Happen"; a comedy playlet, featuring Ricca Scott; Wood, Melville and Phillips in a snappy pot pourri of song and stories; Taylor and Corvill in "Musical Comedy Moments," and the Morton Bros., paperologists and harmonica experts.

At Shea's Hippodrome. Virginia Pearson, remarkably clever William Fox star, was assigned to perhaps her most effective role when she was featured in the stirring drama of Russian life, "The Firebrand." The question which arose as to why Russia deserted, the side of the allies, is most powerfully shown in this new release. The management has arranged a vaudeville bill of exceptional merit to surround the feature picture. The best singing and dancing acts; musical comedy and dramatic sketches and novelties of various kinds are included in next week's Hippodrome program.

Star. Cunningham and Marion, by their secentric comedy, succeed in making "Paris By Night," which will be at the Star Theatre next week, a production of more than ordinary comedy value. The team of funsters are irresistible in their comedy efforts.

"To Hell With the Kaiser." For days this title has been appearing in the papers and thousands of people have said to themselves that, while they had never openly expressed it, they were in absolute accord with the sentiment. As a matter of fact, this is the title of one of the most soul-stirring motion pictures founded upon the war that has ever been produced. This wonderful picture will be shown at the Regent Theatre, Monday, Sept. 2, at the Regent Theatre.

Fine Film at Strand. A picture of surpassing worth of absorbing interest and of baffling mystery is the fine Paramount feature, "The Kaiser's Shadow," which will headline the bill at the Strand Theatre for today and for the balance of this week. Dorothy Dakon, is the star of this production, and she has the most brilliant and far-fetched scope to her inimitable artistry. For the latter half of the week "Fatty" Arbuckle.

Fairbanks at the Regent. Douglas Fairbanks, in his most brilliant motion-picture production, "The Half-Breed," will be the thrilling feature at the Regent Theatre all next week. This story is considered by Fairbanks himself as the greatest picture of his kind in which he has taken the stellar role. It is a gripping narrative full of moments so tense, so exciting, so absolutely and genuinely interesting that an audience will grip the while it is being told.

Fine Drama at Madison. A very unusual love theme is that of "A Gentleman's Agreement," the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature which, starring Nell Shipman, Alfred Hitchcock, will be centralized in the Grand Theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday. It turns on the application of an ancient law making a man a slave to one who saves his life.

"The Man Who Came Back." Four hundred and eighty-three performances in New York was the record established by "The Man Who Came Back," which will come to the Royal Alexandra Theatre, the week commencing Sept. 2. The play is by Jules Eckert Goodman, and was founded on a short story of the same name by Alfred Henry Wigan. William A. Brady is the producer. Harry Hull will head the company. Seats will be placed on sale next Thursday.

The "Hearts of the World." The sale of seats will commence this morning at the box office of Massey Hall for the entire engagement of the latest Griffith masterpiece, "Hearts of the World." In addition to moving the film Messrs. Allen have arranged with D. W. Griffith to bring back the original "Birth of a Nation" orchestra.

WOMEN WILL CANVAAS. "Sailors' Week," which will be held in Toronto from September 1 to 7, under the auspices of the Navy League of Canada, will be shared in by the women's organizations of the city who will have an active part in canvassing in aid of the dependents of the men of the Mercantile Marine. The district assigned to the women is bounded by Gerrard, College and Dufferin streets. Mrs. G. R. Baker, organizer, has 22 captains who will work under her and their willingness of response gives fine promise of success.

RECIPES FOR MAKING BISCUITS AND MUFFINS

Continuing her demonstrations which are being given under the auspices of the Local Council of Women, Mrs. Essen Reid yesterday afternoon spoke to the women assembled in St. Andrew's Institute on the methods which may best be followed in the conservation of wheat. A summary of the advice given was to use corn meal oatmeal and rolled oats for breakfast. These used alternatively with some simple hot dish with bread and butter or jam will make a very fair breakfast.

The making of light biscuits, muffins and apple sauce cake were demonstrated.

Biscuits: 1 cup rye flour, 2 cups whole wheat, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2-3 heaping teaspoon baking powder, 3 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup milk, 1-2 cup skim milk to make a ball of dough.

Muffins: 1-2 cups flour (this may be 1 cup white flour, 1-2 cup corn meal scalded with 1 cup boiling water) or 1 cup whole wheat, 1-2 cup salt, 1-2 cup whole wheat, 1-3 cup bran, 1 cup milk, 1-2 level teaspoon baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup liquid (sweet milk, or sour milk with 1-2 teaspoon soda); 3 tablespoons oil, 3 tablespoons brown sugar (or less); 2 eggs.

"It's my old georgette—another tussle with the washer-woman and I believe it would have fallen to pieces. So, of course, as we must all make the old things do and save our money for Victory Bonds, I thought I'd wash it, myself, with Sunlight. Or rather—let Sunlight wash it, for there's no need of any rubbing—just soaping and rinsing. And see—isn't it just lovely? Fresh as new, isn't it? I'm delighted."

Congress at Paris Receives Remarkable Tribute From British Leader.

Paris, Aug. 21.—The British prime minister, David Lloyd George, pays a remarkable tribute to the women's work in the war, in a letter addressed to the Inter-Allied Women's Congress, regretting that he would be unable to be present at a mass meeting held tonight.

"I am anxious to bear testimony to the tremendous part played by the women of England in this vital epoch of human history," writes the premier. "They have not only borne their burden of sorrow and separation with unflinching fortitude and patience, but they have assumed an enormous share of the burdens necessary to the practical conduct of the war."

"It had not been for the splendid manner in which the women came forward to work in the hospitals and munition factories, in administrative offices of all kinds, and in war work behind the lines, often in daily danger of their lives, Great Britain and I believe, all the allies, would have been unable to withstand the enemy attacks of the past few months. For this service to our common cause, humanity owes them unbounded gratitude."

WOMEN UNDERSTAND.

"In the past I have heard it said that women were unfit to vote because they would be weak when it came to understanding the issues and bearing the strains of a great war. My experience in South Wales last week is what has confirmed me in the belief that the women there understand perfectly what is at stake in this war. I believe that they recognize as clear-

Public Ownership Success.

Once more the annual report of the London and Port Stanley Railway shows results of the most convincing character of the success of public ownership principles when applied under intelligent management to transportation problems.

A Victim of the System.

A wall from The Evening Telegram about the difficulty of getting boys who could write a decent hand or spell with accuracy was emphasized in the editorial utterance by a glaring example of mis-spelling in the last word of the article.

The Exhibition.

There appears to be less than the usual strict observations for the Exhibition season, and the weather seems to have settled into a period of repose, so that two of the most important factors in assuring success for the big event of the Canadian National Exhibition may be counted as favorably disposed.

Other People's Opinions

Chiropractic.

Editor World: I see in the columns of your paper of Aug. 17 a letter to the chiropractic and I heartily agree with the statements of "Protest." It seems to me that Mr. Justice Hodgins did not investigate the medical education standard of the science. I know for a fact that chiropractors have naturally they do not study foreign languages, or dead languages, as it is not to their interests, but prefer to spend their time going more fully into business.

German Power Broken.

It will scarcely be questioned that Mr. Frank Simonds has been, among the war critics, the most skeptical of the ability of the allies to conquer the Germans. Only a few weeks ago, after Foch's first counter, he was telling us that the lines would now be stabilized, and there would be a resumption of trench warfare.

Supply and Demand Must Yield.

There is a striking example of the inconsistency of the authorities who contend that fixing of prices interferes with the "law of supply and demand" in the action taken by Mr. McAdoo as secretary of the United States treasury, in his control of the price of money.

Although no special trains were run to the site of this test, thousands of people from this city and the surrounding districts motored to witness the trial.

FIGHTING ALL IN OPEN; GERMAN GAS USELESS

London, Aug. 21.—A Canadian ambulance man's experience in the great fight are graphically described by Pte. A. Hope in a letter received by his father, living in Exeter. He says: "The fighting was all open, so Fritz could not use gas. I was glad of that, as I hate to wear a gas mask. We had waited at one point while Fritz evacuated a village. So close are the stretcher-bearers on our heels in this open warfare that stretcher-bearers go over with the infantry. "The prisoners are a fine lot of men physically. We give them plenty of work carrying stretchers. "I am writing this in a Fritz officer's dugout, which he inhabited yesterday. He left home. Souvenirs in bed, which I found in my clothes today. They are a rotten lot. There is not much to discriminate between any of them. Some things I have seen would make you feel disgusted at the sight of any German. "Everyone here has the glad smile, for this was the finest achievement yet of Canadians. The sight of thousands in a cavalry charge was magnificent. Tanks, which go about ten miles an hour, are bewildering."

KITCHENER'S CASUALTIES.

Kitchener, Aug. 21.—Sergt. Albert E. Deal, reported in yesterday's casualties as wounded, is today reported dead, according to official information received by his wife, who resides at 228 West King street. CANADIAN CAVALRY RIDE TO DEATH

Small Body Attempted to Gallop Thru Wood Strongly Held by Enemy.

CAPTURED VILLAGE

Rode Over Trenches and Wire and Held Ground in Face of Heavy Attacks.

With the Canadian Forces, Aug. 21.—It is now possible to record some of the exploits of the Canadian cavalry on the three opening days of the Somme battle. None is more tragic and wonderful than the ride to death of some of the men of a well-known western regiment. To the cavalry was set the task of breaking thru the enemy lines and destroying his back organization. Under some desperate adventures in this quest over country sattered with trenches and wire and containing hidden nests of enemy machine guns.

Under this misrepresentation a small body of cavalry attempted to gallop thru the woods down the road, a stronghold that did not fall into the hands of the French until nearly a week later. Straight down the road they rode, thru the ranks of the advancing infantry, but they were wiped out long before they reached their objective. One trooper alone got within 100 yards of it. Some empty saddles returned, and at night half a dozen wounded men crawled back into our lines.

More success came to another squadron of the same regiment, whose captain holds both the V.C. and M.C. Advancing along this fatal road, the squadron met very heavy machine gun fire west of Le Quessay, coming from the direction of the road, and crossed the French infantry line, and then, galloping over the trenches and wire, captured the village of Andechy, and with a very large enemy supply depot, and a considerable number of prisoners. The squadron held the village in face of enemy fire for several days.

Another famous cavalry regiment, whose deeds in the South African war are a matter of Canadian history, made, on the opening day, an attack on Quenele, but the charge was stopped by the enemy's machine guns in a sunken road. The squadron swung to the right and the left, and here the major leading got in a corporal, defended himself in a scrub for eleven hours against the attacking Boche, finally rejoining his command under cover of night.

In the meantime, one troop galloped into Fresnoy, on the right, surprising the garrison and rounding up 150 prisoners, who were taken back in force, and the troop was obliged to withdraw, rejoining the regiment with all their prisoners. A remarkable spectacle of a trooper leading a pack of ammunition mules galloping with his reins over his arm and emptying his carbine at the enemy.

BRITISH SUBMARINE SINKS GERMAN U-BOAT

London, Aug. 21.—A British and a German submarine met. The enemy boat was detected in the North Sea, penetrated British waters and was lurking to pounce upon any ship that might cross its track. The British boat was returning to base after an arduous cruise. Both boats were on the surface, but the British boat dived before she herself was sighted. She fired two torpedoes, and thru her periscope the resulting explosion was observed. Sixteen minutes later the British crew found one survivor swimming among the wreckage. He was the captain of the German. The other officers and the crew had all gone down in their boat.

Sun Burned Skin

You want a healthy summer tan. But sometimes you get it too quickly and then there is a few days of suffering. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment takes out the stinging and burning and leaves the skin delightfully soft and smooth. Because it is equally effective in relieving stings of insects and ivy poisoning as well as chafing and skin irritations it is invaluable in the summer camp.

ADVANCE OF FRENCH CONTINUED AT DAWN

Paris, Aug. 21.—French troops continue their advance along the whole front between the Oise and the Aisne this morning. Carlepoint and Cuts have been captured by the French, according to the official report issued at the war office today. After sharp fighting ground has been taken west of Lassigny by the French. "During the night the situation between the Oise and the Aisne remains unchanged. The enemy did not attempt any reaction. This morning our troops continued their advance along the whole front. "Carlepoint and Cuts have fallen into our hands. "We have taken ground west of Lassigny after sharp fighting. "A number of German surprise attacks in Champagne were repulsed."

HALF A MILE GAIN IN FLANDERS FIGHT

British Advance on Front of Two Thousand Yards.

London, Aug. 21.—The British in their attack this morning in Flanders from the Loos hospice to Koudeker, made on a front of 2000 yards, penetrated the German lines to a depth of half a mile and took 50 prisoners.

The advance of the French army commanded by General Mangin this morning was down the wooded slopes to the south bank of the River Oise, along which stream the line now runs. The news received in London this afternoon was incomplete and no details were to be had of the fighting except that the Germans put up a determined resistance at many points, but were swept aside by the French onslaught. There also was no news as to what was happening on General Mangin's left, where undoubtedly the French were advancing in accordance with the new line gained by General Mangin's forces.

CANADA'S PROSPERITY RESTS ON THE FLEET

Without the Humble Merchantman the Nation Would Face Disaster.

Since war was declared, Canada has witnessed a period of financial prosperity such as probably has never occurred in the history of the country. Wheat is high, pork and beef command top prices and all the food produced is sold at a figure that would have been undreamed of a decade ago. From a point of view given as a financial depression, in a short space of four years the nation has reached the height of prosperity. The reason for this may be roughly given as the high price, which is in itself conducive to high prices. But it must be remembered that our commerce is carried by the sea, and that the merchant marine are braving the perils of every destructive device known to modern maritime warfare to carry Canada's goods to overseas markets. Fifteen thousand of them have already perished, and they have left behind sorrowing families. As members of an unofficial service in the collection of the dependents of merchant sailors. Yet they gave their lives for the empire. "Sailors' Week" is being held from Sept. 1st to 7th to raise moneys to relieve the distress of their families. Every dollar that is collected will be used by the Navy League of Canada in helping these unfortunate women and children. Ontario's objective is 11,000,000. Let us never yet falter. Give generously! Let your motto be "They shall not want."

All motormen and conductors, with one exception, signed it. They are at present receiving 30 cents an hour. Women Are Liable to Prosecution for Doing So. It has been discovered that women relatives and friends of soldiers in Toronto district have commenced to wear war service badges, using them as brooches. FIGHTING IN AIR ON A HUGE SCALE

During Past Week 226 Enemy Machines Destroyed and 108 Driven Down.

DROPPED MANY BOMBS

Aided Infantry, Cavalry and Tanks and Raked Congested Roads of Retreat.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—A summary of British aerial activity is given in a cable received here from the British ministry of information: "The outstanding feature of recent air fighting has been the severe magnitude of the conflicts on the British western front, particularly in the first week of the offensive. The battle raged heaviest on a certain day between the Albert and Amiens-Royes road. The enemy's forces considerably increased their offensive, and so that fighting on an unparalleled scale, continued throughout the day. Fifty British machines were reported missing, but 221 enemy machines were destroyed and 73 driven down, making a total bag of 280 enemy air force knocked out during the battle, not counting the kite balloons. During the whole week on the British western front 107 British machines were reported missing, but 221 enemy machines were destroyed and 108 driven down.

After the initial reverses the enemy's air resistance noticeably weakened but during the four following days, while 98 British machines were reported missing, 145 enemy machines were destroyed and 73 driven down, making a total bag of 280 enemy air force knocked out during the battle, not counting the kite balloons. During the whole week on the British western front 107 British machines were reported missing, but 221 enemy machines were destroyed and 108 driven down.

Meanwhile the British bombing squadrons throughout the week attacked enemy airbases, etc., as usual, dropping the usual amount of bombs and wrought the usual amount of damage to the enemy's military material and personnel. Much valuable help was also given to British infantry, cavalry and tanks in the battle by low flying British scouts who ceaselessly hovered over the battlefield in considerable numbers, attacking the enemy's resistance points and raising a large congested area of roads of retreating armies with machine gun fire. Moreover, the usual amount of contact patrol and counter-battery work was successfully carried out and thousands of negatives taken during the battle by British squadrons. In the Belgian theatre the British continued the offensive against the German naval bases, with the usual result—many direct hits and a number of destructive fires on all the usual points of attack.

"Oils" the Big Profit-Makers
Greater production of crude oil in Canada and the United States during the present year and until the war ends is a patriotic duty only less important than the manufacture of munitions.
The German war lords thought, by their unrestricted submarine campaign, to make the British quail, to strangle British overseas traffic, so essential to the life of the British Isles and to the armies in France; to render abortive the great recruiting efforts of the United States.
None of these expected results have been obtained, chiefly because for every ship sunk another is built to take its place; soon it will be two others for every one foully attacked from overseas, and later, many. The ruthless plan of Hun aggression has definitely been foiled.
The new ships being launched daily from the drydocks of the United States, Great Britain and Canada are almost entirely oil burners. The shortage of coal, its bulkiness in storing and the all-round desirability of oil as fuel has led to the almost universal adoption of oil burning engines for motive purposes.
Nor has this policy been confined to the mercantile marine. The big battleships, cruisers, auxiliary cruisers and naval craft of the smaller type being turned out at an unprecedented rate by the United States and British Governments, are almost without exception oil burners.
Thus it is that the requirements of the Allies for war purposes in the matter of crude oil are said to be greater this year than ever before; much greater, in fact, than the gross production of the United States and Mexico combined in the year 1917, although the aggregate output from these two great oil-producing countries, at the present time, for last year amounted to approximately 400,000,000 barrels.
The demands for the refined product in the form of gasoline are also steadily increasing as the number of airplanes grows. Thousands of these aircraft are daily sent out to "carry on" in their tremendously important fields of operation.
The justly celebrated "tanks," about which so much is being written and which are accredited with much of the success being obtained in the fighting zones, are also propelled by gasoline.
Truly it can be said that oil and its refined products are the blood of the Allied offensive and defensive on land and sea. In view of which it is considered a patriotic duty in the United States and Canada to increase the production of old established oil fields and to develop new fields which give promise of augmenting the aggregate output to meet the requirements of the Allied nations both for war and commercial purposes.
While Canada is not noted for its oil deposits, recent work in the oil fields of Southwestern Ontario has proven the existence of the precious fluid there in large quantity.
The Glencoe district has forged ahead rapidly, until today its production runs between 20,000 and 25,000 barrels per month from the various wells drilled by different syndicates. This production is rapidly being increased.
The American and Canadian public is just awakening to the possibilities of this new field. Much capital has already come in from across the boundary line, and we believe that, as further drilling is done and the desired results obtained, the influx will steadily increase.
Canadians now have the opportunity of supporting an oil field in their own country—an oil field that gives much promise and that is being legitimately drilled with gratifying results.
Syndicates formed only a short time ago have made big profits—profits which have been on a deservedly generous scale in return for enterprising pioneer efforts that may possibly mean the opening up of Canada's greatest oil field.
We advise a careful and unbiased investigation by Canadian investors of the possibilities of the oil industry in Canada as exemplified by recent operations in the Glencoe field.
