PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS

There are few, if any, managers in this country who can equal William A. Brady in producing such a complete and scenic spectacle as the Cotton King. It is a drama full of new and startling incidents, and its plot is so well developed that it is a pleasure to follow the progress of the story.

Cold Wave!

Plenty of winter goods yet, in spite of the advanced season, and plenty of enthusiasm in the selling. Prices are generally lower now than they were and bargains are common in such stocks as Cloaks and Clothing, Underwear and Blankets.

The weather is sharp enough to double the demand for such things, and values are special enough to quicken your interest.

One strong point about this business is its ability to duplicate goods in a hurry. We're big enough to have what you want just when you want it, which applies particularly to winter goods in January.

A SERIOUS CONDITION OF AFFAIRS.

We are near the end of the nineteenth century, a century that is marked by many progressive things. In fact, we are in the habit of saying that humanity has made more progress in this century than in all the known centuries together that preceded it. Yet at the close of this century, and under the flag of which we all claim to be the proud citizens, one of our fellow-subjects, to wit, Armand Tessier, proprietor and editor of The Protecteur du Saguenay, a newspaper published in the Province of Quebec, a province of the Dominion of Canada—that Canada which we claim to be the brightest gem in the British Crown—has to stand up before his readers and subscribers and his fellow-subjects, not only in his own province, but his fellow-citizens in Canada, and his fellow-subjects of the Empire, and make the following recantation in his paper, being forced to do this thing by one Bishop Labreque, the prelate of the Roman Catholic Church in the diocese of Saguenay:

We acknowledge that in certain articles in our paper we allowed propositions which, taken as a whole, can be interpreted as an approval of the school of the late M. de la Rivière, and as a denial of the doctrine of the church, as well as to the authority of the Holy Spirit as appointed to govern the church.

This, we say, is a humiliating thing to see a British subject have to do. As British subjects in the Province of Ontario we resent it. We say more, that we do not consider our liberties safe if the newspapers and the voters of our sister Province of Quebec are to be subjected to such clerical intimidation. For this intimidation is not confined to Quebec, or to the distant diocese of the gloomy Saguenay; for the voters of Quebec have the privilege of sending nearly one-third of the 24 members who make up the Canadian House of Commons, and if the members from Quebec should be forced to do as Editor Tessier has had to do—and if one can be intimidated into disowning his manhood and his civil rights all liberties can be intimidated—then there is no guarantee that the House of Commons might not some day fall into the hands of a majority hostile to civil liberty and that freedom which Englishmen boast to be their greatest birthright.

We have no hesitation in saying that such intimidation as that practiced on Tessier is a menace to every citizen of Canada, and for that reason ought not to be tolerated. Quebec, we are sorry to say, is the only place where it is attempted to give a British subject such intimidation would be driven out of the United States. And the law of Canada should be such as to effectually put a stop to it. We want no such intimidations in this Canada of ours. We are not of the sixteenth century. We are not in one vigorous effort being made to put a stop to it for all time. If Canada permits this thing to go on she will be known to the civilized world as the Paraguay of North America.

And that French-Canadians have no right to be thus treated, we quote again the first article of the Great Charter of Gallieanum, which the French Catholic clergy passed in 1822, and which very accurately and fairly defines the true sphere of the Church, and declares just as definitely what the Church must not do. This article was passed over two hundred years ago in France and is a fundamental doctrine in the civil liberties of the people of France to-day; but in that portion of the British Empire which was formerly called New France it is regarded as an heretical and a dangerous holding. We quote the Galliean Charter:

That St. Peter and his successors, vicars of Jesus Christ and the Church, as a whole, have no power over things temporal and civil; Jesus Christ himself said: His kingdom was not of this world, and in another place: Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's. It is necessary to observe that kings are not subject to ecclesiastical power, but the order of God; that they cannot be deposed either by the authority of the submission and the obedience which flows, or released from their oath of fealty; that the clergy, necessary to the public peace, and equally subject to the laws of the country, are to be held as inalienable and inviolable; that the church and examples of the saints.

Again we ask our fellow-citizens to take these two articles, which we have put in black-face type, and to read them together, and to recall the fact that the one which counts for civil liberty and manhood was passed two hundred and fourteen years ago in our old France by earnest, God-fearing Catholics, and that the miserable recantation contained in the other was penned and published in the Province of Quebec, formerly New France, on the North American continent, supported to be the seat of freedom and equality at the very close of the nineteenth century and under the British flag! In some places the hands of the clock are certainly moving backward. But we think that Parliament will, at an early date, give the Bishop once for all that this liberal and un-British practice must cease forever.

Every British voter, every British subject, has a right to be protected from the spiritual intimidation of a Bishop. And we trust that some of our progressive prelates of the Catholic Church who are living in Ontario will duly acquaint the Holy See with these facts.

IMMIGRATION SUGGESTIONS.

An address delivered by Mr. Ernest Heaton of Goderich before the Farmers' Institute of West Huron is full of up-to-date and practical ideas on that all-important question of immigration. How can Canada obtain a population of ten millions? That is the problem that our statesmen should attempt to solve before any other immigration is the leading practical issue in Canadian politics to-day.

A new country's progress is measured by the rate and under the flag of any other condition. What is the outlook for Canada in this respect? We believe it is more encouraging just now than it ever has been in the past. The development of the mining industry in British Columbia and Western Ontario will bring a steady stream of people to this country and the movement this way will begin at an early date. Mining is a much more potent factor in inducing immigration than agriculture. It is not necessary to send special agents to foreign lands to pry passage money in order to induce immigrants to come to British Columbia or New Ontario. People from all over the world will find their way without coaxing to a new and promising mining country, such as Canada in British Columbia and New Ontario, seem to be able to take care of themselves and do their own immigration advertising. To induce immigration through the merits of our agricultural resources is not so easy an undertaking. It is a business that will require a more vigorous effort than has been made in the direction of the kind which will, we have learned, come to us of its own accord. We must do something to outwitle it. We must adopt an up-to-date, progressive immigration policy. It looks just now as if a more vigorous effort is about to be made in the direction of the kind which will, we have learned, come to us of its own accord. We must do something to outwitle it. We must adopt an up-to-date, progressive immigration policy.

MEMORANDUM.

Propos of the Sanitarium now being built in Manitoba is the account of the visit of the late Prof. Cyril, the small but of a man who lived in the Alps with his daughter. The man he found in an advanced stage of consumption. The Alpine residence was crowded with expectorating, and his spittle was thrown upon the floor. In time it dried, the germs were then able to mingle with the warm air of the room. Tyndall says he explained the deadly nature of the microbes and how, instead of being destroyed, they were actually kept alive and bred in the house, where they could do most harm. Next day he returned to the Alpine residence, and the man he found again lying in the Alps, and was addressed to see the old man far gone in consumption and the young girl exhibiting the same symptoms.

The inevitable result soon followed. Tyndall has warned us all, as many an eminent man has done before and since, that honest, self-sacrificing, world-without-us allowed to drift, or to be trodden into things that it can mingle with the atmosphere. He has said that he believed if the sputum of a person who had been in the Alps, and whose property disposed of in any way, that in ten years this scourge would entirely disappear or at least be brought within measurable distance of successful extermination. His ability and non-egotism and valuable time were expended in fighting this perfectly conquerable disease which is now squandered and frittered away in useless attempts to build up ecclesiastical domination in the land, or to stretch a camp everybody upon the Procrustean bed of senseless uniformity, a last, lasting and honest tribute is adhered to, a thousandfold in an uneducated and suffering community.

The American Patriotic Association would like to see a treaty made with England for the arbitration of all international disputes, but the British government is opposed to the dismantling of the forts at Bermuda and Halifax and all intermediate points. This is a very brainy suggestion. This is the sort of thing which passes for the most exalted patriotism in Statia, if an agreement is made to arbitrate in all cases of difference, what harm will the forts do to the United States? As long as honest arbitrators are to be had, the forts would not menace the States, they would simply remain points of vantage if England was engaged in war with a nation which would not submit to arbitration. The whole scope of such a treaty would be to render forts so useless that in time they would crumble in ruin, and guns and bullets would be sold for scrap iron. The United States is full of rascals and traitors and low-down wares and electioneers who don't exactly know what they want, and who only idea of duty is to what builds up a city, and that is to get some other nation to do something, or give up something, on the strength of their good advice. By all means let us have the forts, but let us have them to get some other nation to do something, or give up something, on the strength of their good advice.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS: The early materialization of a strong development company, the directors of which is largely made up of well-known Toronto men, has naturally excited considerable interest.

of the Toronto Business and Development Company of Toronto (Canadian) are, of course, pleased that people from a distance are attracted by the prospect of this country, but there is a distinct feeling of satisfaction when the business men we know, and are accustomed to deal with, take hold with a strong grip for congratulation that a strong company is soon to be actively engaged in the search for a sound basis of public support for the start.

A new company is being formed called the Gold Hills Exploration and Development Company of Toronto, a prospectus of which is published today. This is an excellent company, both in the personnel of the directors and in the fact that the charter is being obtained in Ontario, and hence fully amenable to Canadian property laws.

With such a directorate the investor can be assured that his interests will be connected with a company of a purely speculative character, hence the future of the company would be very bright.

Companions of this character are apparently now the order of the day, and it is needless to say that the operations of the company will be conducted on a most cautious and conservative basis.

Princess... Gold Mining Co.

OF ONTARIO, LIMITED.

CAPITAL $500,000

Non-Personal Liability. Incorporated under the Ontario Joint Stock Companies' Act and the Mining Act of 1894.

DIRECTORS: Ewen Mackenzie, Toronto Railway Co., President.

John Flett, Wholesale Merchant, Vice-President.

Henry O'Brien, Barrister, Toronto.

Thomas Shortiss, Esq., Toronto.

The Capital consists of 500,000 Non-Assessable Shares of $1 each.

300,000 Shares are Treasury Stock, to be used for development, erection of buildings, purchase of machinery, etc.

A Limited Number of Treasury Shares Are Now Offered to the Public at 25 Cents.

The rest of the Shares are pooled and will not be offered for sale until the development fund has become ample to place the mine on a shipping basis.

The Princess Mine is situated on Location 118D, on Black Sturgeon Lake, 2 1/2 miles north of Rossland Station on the C. P. R., and 7 1/2 miles from Rat Portage, to which there is a good road from the mine and water communication from Rossland Station, Ontario.

It was discovered in 1894 by Mr. Wallace, a well-known mining expert, whose reputation at the Ontario Bureau of Mines is of the highest.

In his letter, dated October 20th, 1894, he thus speaks of Location 118D (Princess Mine): "When work has been done will prove a perfect BONANZA GOLD PROPERTY. I am prepared to stake my mining reputation on the result."

Two Parallel Veins have been already located on this property, one of from four to six feet and the other twelve to twenty in width.

The main vein is a continuation of the Scramble Vein, which is one of the largest in Ontario, being now shown to be forty feet in width at a depth of sixty feet at the Scramble Mine, which is now fully equipped for the production of ore in large quantities.

The average assays are $80.76.

MR. Z. J. S. WILLIAMS, M. E., who has been employed and sent out to Canada by the great mining firm of John Taylor & Sons, 6 Queen-St. Place, London, England, says: "The ore in these veins is perfectly free milling."

I have seldom had the pleasure of examining a property that shows such promise of lasting success at this date.

MR. S. V. HALSTED of Rat Portage says: "It is a continuation of the Scramble Vein. . . . There is nothing found in the country greater than the Scramble."

Head Office: 71 Bay-St., Toronto. Agents Wanted.

The Best Safeguard investors can have is the character of the men at the head of the Company.

This Is a Development Company, its object being to purchase, develop and sell mines. Capital is necessary to make mining a success. By objecting many small amounts of money investors have all the advantages of large capitalists, with the additional advantages of skilled engineers and practical mining men employed by this company.

Buying, Developing and Selling Mines is a QUICKER way of making money than waiting for mines to pay dividends.

This Company has already purchased and owns free and clear three valuable mines—one of which is developed by a shaft one hundred feet deep and a level driven from the bottom fifty feet on the vein, exposing a strong, well-defined true fissure vein, varying from three to six feet in width.

The ore varies from $10 to $92 per ton in gold, and is increasing in both width and value as depth is attained. A fifty-foot shaft has been sunk on another vein, exposing good pay ore, varying from two to three and a half feet in width. A third vein has been opened by a twenty-foot shaft. These mines all produce free milling.

We have secured options on a large number of choice mining properties on which development work will be started. Many more promising prospects are being offered us.

Only those that stand the most thorough expert examination will be purchased and developed. This company has employed experienced mining engineers and practical mining men. Careful management, combined with the best engineering skill, will undoubtedly make this company a great success, assuring those who invest with us large profits and quick returns.

A limited amount of Treasury Stock is now offered at TEN CENTS per share—the ground floor price.

Now is the time to buy stock at the first price in a new company and reap the benefit of an early advance.

THE KELLEY CREEK GOLD MINE OF B.C.

For an investment, as well as a speculation, buying Kelley Creek stock at its present price cannot be equalled. It has passed the experimental stage. We are not looking for a body of ore. We have found it—we say so—Government reports say so. There are three tunnels on the property, the longest one 246 feet. The ore is free milling, and is treated by stamp mills already on the ground.

No expenses for transportation and smelting. Four hundred thousand shares in the treasury, thus assuring sufficient capital for any and every emergency, without touching money which should go for dividends.

Stock fully paid up and non-assessable, selling at present for 15 cents per share, in blocks of not less than one hundred.

MALONE V. M'ANDREW. The Alderman is on Top So Far—General News From the City Under the Hood. Hamilton, Jan. 12.—(Special.)—Martin Malone, the lawyer who is so anxious to have a re-count of the ballots cast in the Sixth Ward at the recent municipal election, with a view of unseating Ald. McAndrew, the cold water advocate, has so far not been able to accomplish his purpose. He says he would have met all the requirements of the law, but James McAndrew, the man who had depended on signing it, had backed out. Lawyer Malone stated that McAndrew had been threatened by the supporters of Ald. McAndrew with all manner of dire calamities, if he failed to prove every assertion made in the affidavit, and being a man of cautious disposition, he hesitated to allow the affidavit to be used. Before concluding his address, Lawyer Malone asked that an inspection of the Sixth Ward ballots be made this afternoon. The judge refused this request. He said he was ready and willing to hold a re-count if the law required it, but he did not wish to put the city to needless expense.

A MUSICALIAN TRIED OF LIFE. Prof. Jones, an old musician, who has been ailing for some time, has been unable to purchase poison at John A. Barry's drug store, when the latter thought he would be better out of the way. The police were immediately notified and the old man was taken home and placed in the care of his wife, while the police laid the druggist in the city to sell Jones no poison.

NOTES. Samuel McCandless of Barton has begun an action against Herman Mann and John Wilkins of the same town, for libel and damages for alleged slander and trespass. Mayor Colquhoun, Ald. Carscallen and Ald. Macdonald are expected to further concessions in the matter of cheap water to the McPherson shoe factory.

METHODIST MISSIONS. Arrangements Completed for the Coming Convention—Prayer Meetings To-Night—What the Program is. A request has been made that all the Methodist churches of the city should make their prayer meetings especially missionary in character, in view of the coming missionary convention.

Postoffice Reform. Said a Senator yesterday who ought to know: "There are radical changes ahead in the postoffice. It is likely that the number of divisions and inspectors in charge will be reduced; also that more modern funds will be introduced into the book-keeping of the department. Efficiency in clerical work will be insisted on in a way that will soon weed out the incompetent or the inefficient. Quite a number of clerks in the most important parts of the country who drink too much have been cautioned to stop it. Mr. Minto is credited with a desire to make the postoffice self-sustaining, and at the same time to reduce its cost, and to increase its efficiency."

Where is Harry Elton? Harry Elton, Jeweler, 324 Queen-street west, was disappeared by burglars last night and seen since Friday. It will be remembered that Elton was on trial a few weeks ago on the charge of receiving goods stolen by John Y. Cole, and found everything working smoothly, and work progressing. The recent drags are giving perfect satisfaction, and working economically, as very little of the heat or steam escapes without use. The heat made of it. The shaft is vertical, and has been in ore assaying from $12 to $20 for a depth of over 70 feet. It is now down an angle of about 75 degrees. Assays are being made, and the management will commence at once to work.

Burglars Abroad. The house of Mrs. Forsythe, 400 Huron-street, was entered by burglars last night, and a quantity of goods stolen. Burglars also visited the store of Messrs. Himey & Co., 50 Bay-street, but got little for their trouble. Innoon's hen-roost, number of pigeons consequently turkey will have to do for the balance of the season.

Architects on Wheels. S. H. Townsend and J. Gemmill, architects of this city, left for Baltimore yesterday's G.T.R. train. They have taken their wheels, and intend, if the roads are good and the weather is favorable, to spend a month, or perhaps two, in seeing something of the Southern States, scenery and architecture, especially that of the early colonial period. Mr. Townsend some years ago took an extended European tour, and has returned with a collection of photographs and the British Isles.

They Work in the Dark. The Christian Science Association of Toronto met in session yesterday, when about 200 delegates were in attendance. The press and public are excluded.
