ASSASSIN IN COUNTY COURT

Czolgosz indicted for the Murder of the President and Counsel Assigned.

REFUSED TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

Police Well Guarded the Prisoner
From the Public Who Surged Around Him.

Buffalo, Sept. 16.—Leon F. Czolgosz, alias Fred Niemann, was indicted this afternoon by the County Court grand jury for the crime of murder in the first degree, in fatally shooting President William McKinley at the Temple of Music in the Pan-American Exposition grounds at 4:30 o'clock, on the afternoon of Sept. 6.

When arraigned before Judge Edward K. Emery in the County Court at 5:30 o'clock the prisoner stubbornly refused to answer questions repeatedly asked of him by District Attorney Penney as to whether he had counsel or wanted counsel. The District Attorney then suggested that, inasmuch as the defendant refused to answer, counsel should be assigned. Judge Emery assigned Hon. Loren L. Lewis and Hon. Robert Stans, former Supreme Court Justices, of this city, whose names had been suggested by the Erie County bar.

Czolgosz will probably be arraigned again tomorrow morning to plead to the indictment. Judge Emery directed the officers to notify the attorneys and remove the prisoner.

Czolgosz was handcuffed to the detectives, who started out of the court room with him. The crowds surged after them as they found the exit barred by four strong policemen. Outside the court room door the prisoner was surrounded by 12 policemen with clubs drawn, and under command of Captain Michael Hogan, jailer George N. Mitchell and several deputy sheriffs. The prisoner was hurried down stairs into the basement, whence he was taken through the tunnel to the jail, across Delaware-avenue. Whether he was left there for the night or taken elsewhere, the police refused to say.

District Attorney Penney stated as he left the court room that Justice Lewis and Stans would be notified and given an opportunity to talk with the prisoner, and that he hoped to bring Czolgosz to court tomorrow morning to take his plea to the indictment. The district attorney will also notice the trial of the prisoner for next Monday morning at 10 o'clock in Part III of the Supreme Court, that being the opening day of the September term.

Truly National. It was, moreover, a crowd of the most varied and representative character. Merchants from Montreal rubbed shoulders with the habitant of the country districts, the factory worker of St. Roch's stood beside the well-known faces from the townships and the West was met at every turn. It was a truly national welcome given to the Prince who will one day be the honored monarch of the Great Dominion of Canada.

It was well past 9:30 before the Ophir and her escort were seen slowly turning and making for the wharf where they were to be met by the Ophir. The Ophir was a magnificent sight, the hull and rigging gleaming in the sun. The Ophir was a magnificent sight, the hull and rigging gleaming in the sun. # KING'S SON ROYALLY RECEIVED AT QUEBEC AMID SCENES OF VAULT AND SPLENDOR

Freedom of Ancient Capital Tendered, Degree Conferred by Laval University, Numerous Addresses Presented Dined at the Citadel, and Treated to an Elaborate Spectacle of Illumination at Night—Popular Demonstration of Patriotism.

Quebec, Sept. 16.—The Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York have landed here and met with a reception that left nothing to be desired. The rain yesterday passed away and the royal visitors met with a typical Canadian fall day. A fresh breeze from the northwest made the temperature pleasant, while the warm sun lit up the ancient city and its beautiful surroundings and made the whole place gleam with brightness. A heavy squall in the afternoon did some harm to the decorations, but it was soon over.

Their Royal Highnesses met, too, with a typical Canadian welcome, whose heartiness and loyalty could not be doubted. It was not the flag by day and the lights by night alone that proved how glad they were to see their future King and his wife. It was the cheers and applause that greeted them all along the line of march and the spontaneity of the pleas-ure which everyone evinced. The children might sing in chorus, the guards might present arms and the bands might play the National Anthem, but still significant was the readiness of the crowds to cheer, and their loyal attitude, which no one commanded and no one could enforce.

On each side of the Ophir and a little away astern came H.M.S. Diadem and Niobe, first-class cruisers, and behind them again H.M.S. Indefatigable and Tribune, second-class cruisers. The course steered was a wide curve up the river, and the troops came to the water's edge and majestically followed the river, a wonderful idea of strength and determination was given.

Salutes Thunders. As the ships got under way the Custom House, the British squadron and the French cruiser ran up flags in rainbow fashion. The marines at and the blue jackets forward manned their decks, and salutes of 21 guns thundered out from the Ophir. The Ophir also had her decks manned and carried the Royal Standard on her main mast, with the American ensign at half mast just below. BORNE TO THE WHITE HOUSE

Funeral Train With Body of the deceased President Reaches the Capital.

CROWDS GATHER ALONG THE ROUTE

Solemn Scenes on the Removal of the Body to Washington—Mrs.
McKinley's Fortitude.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Through a living lane of bareheaded people stretching from Buffalo up thru the Alleghenies down on to the broad valley of the Susquehanna and on to the Marble City on the banks of the shining Potomac, the nation's martyred President to-day made his last journey to the seat of the government, over which he presided for four and one-half years. The whole country seemed to have drained its population at the sides of the track over which the funeral train passed. The thin lines thru the mountains and the sparsely settled districts thickened at the little hamlets, covered acres in towns suddenly grown to the proportions of respectable cities, and were composed into vast multitudes in the larger cities. Work was suspended in field and mine and city. The schools were dismissed, and everywhere appeared the trappings and tokens of woe. A million flags at half mast dotted hillside and valley, and formed a cloud of color over the cities. And from almost every banner streamed a bit of crepe. The stations were heavy with the black symbols of mourning. At all the larger towns and cities, after the train got into Pennsylvania, militia men drawn up at "present arms" kept back the enormous crowds.

Viewed in Silence. The silence with which the countless thousands viewed the remains of their hero and martyr was oppressive and profound. Only the rumbling of the train wheels, the sobbing from men and women, the wailing of the church and other bells tolling on the air. At several places, Williamsport, Harrisburg and Baltimore, the funeral train paused for a moment. At each of these places, the people were enthusiastic and sincere, and there could be no mistake of the joy of the great assemblage. The route followed was along Champlain-street, up Mountain Hill, along Fort and St. Louis-streets, out thru St. Louis gate to the Parliament Buildings. The whole route was decorated with bunting and devices of every kind, and lined with thousands of spectators from far and near. The sidewalks were lined with the troops at about six paces' interval, and they had not the least difficulty in keeping a perfectly free path. The greeting afforded to the royal couple was enthusiastic and sincere, and there could be no mistake of the joy of the great assemblage.

3000 School Children Sailed. At the Parliament Buildings a most striking scene was presented. The pile has a fitness of its own, and the view from the bow of its hull, over the St. Charles Valley to Montserrat, up thru St. Louis gate to the Parliament Buildings. ABOUT THE ROYAL CONSORT

Character Sketch of Her Who Will Some Day Be Queen of the Realm.

TRULY ENGLISH IS THE DUCHESS

Kind, Active and Intelligent, She is Immensely Popular With All Her People.

When, eight years ago, it was known that the Duke of York was about to take for his bride Princess Mary of Teck, universal satisfaction was felt throughout the British Empire. Here, for the first time since the days of James II., as heir to the throne had chosen his wife from his own country. For, in all things, the daughter of the German Duke and Duchess of Teck is thoroughly English.

Born, bred, brought up in the country, she is an Englishwoman in the truest sense of the word. Her every thought, her every type, with all the sweet freshness of an English girl. Even if her beauty were less, the calmness and dignity of her manner would have always led her great distinction.

In writing of the private life of a woman, however much she may be constantly in the public eye, one must touch lightly and carefully. Of the gifts that are the best test of a person's character, one may truly say that the Duchess of Cornwall and York has a fine and generous, sympathetic and kind heart, full of tenderness and sympathy, energetic and active, industrious and ever anxious to help in a good cause, she has, as the wife of the Duke of York, ample opportunities of utilizing her good qualities to an unlimited degree.

As a companion she is pleasant, with plenty to say and a great sense of fun. She has a great deal of sense, and is a good linguist and musician. Her books are her great delight and enjoyment.

By Her Book "The Duchess of Cornwall and York" she has shown that she is all things to all people. She can converse fluently in either the one or the other language. No wonder that she is so popular with the masses of the people. She has a great deal of sense, and is a good linguist and musician. Her books are her great delight and enjoyment.

SERIES ACCIDENT MARS FESTIVITIES OF DAY

Fire Breaks Out on Boat Chartered by Hon. Mr. Tarte, Who is Severely Burned—Hon. Mr. Sutherland and Hon. Dr. Borden Among the Injured—Mrs. Greenshields Removed to Frontenac in Ambulance.

Quebec, Sept. 16.—A very serious accident occurred during the evening upon one of the vessels cruising the harbor. The vessel was the Hon. J. I. Tarte had chartered the steamer Frontenac, and had invited a distinguished company to see the illuminations with him.

Shortly after starting, by some misadventure, a number of bombs which were lying in the cabin caught fire, and at once the vessel was in the greatest peril. Hon. Mr. Tarte had his hands badly burned and his face cut. The dress of Mrs. J. N. Greenshields of Montreal caught fire, and she was badly burned. Hon. C. F. Y. Yarns of H.M.R.C. was also injured. Mrs. Flaxman had her hair burned and Mrs. Turcotte of Ottawa her arms.

The whole boat was, in fact, in danger of catching fire, but was quickly turned to the shore, and the lifeboat, which put off to her assistance from H.M.S. Ophir was not needed.

There is no reason to suppose that these injuries will have any permanent serious consequences, and the sufferers are being treated at their hotels.

The Duke of York read the following speech in reply to the address of the City of Quebec:

Gentlemen: The Duchess and I desire to express to you our heartfelt thanks for the loyal and kindly sentiments contained in your address. At the same time, we wish to acknowledge, with gratitude, the hearty welcome accorded to us by the great crowds who met us to-day during our stay in Quebec. It is a great pleasure to me to be able to express in common with the whole of the Dominion, my horror at the detestable crime which has plunged into mourning the great friendly nation on your border, and has robbed the United States of the prodigious life of their fullness of the high and honorable duties of his proud position. The Duchess and I share with you to the fullest extent the feelings of sympathy which you have manifested towards our glorious Empire. I rejoice to hear that the depression from which your city and port has so long suffered has now passed away, and I earnestly trust that future prosperity may crown the efforts of the Canadian people and the enterprise and industry of its citizens. Notice to Ladies. It will not be long now before cold days are upon us. This is a word of warning to ladies who desire to have their garments cleaned, repaired, dyed or altered, to go into the car where her dear one lay that reluctant assent was given, and she spent half an hour beside the coffin. The train left Buffalo at 3:30 this morning, and arrived at Washington at 8:30 to-morrow night. It is estimated over half a million people saw the coffin which held all that was mortal of President McKinley.

OAK HALL CLOTHIERS, 115 King E.—116 Yonge.

FATHER-IN-LAW OF EUROPE

King Christian of Denmark will be the best investment in the most remarkable "family gathering" ever held in Europe.

There the venerable King Christian will entertain a number of imperial and royal visitors from different parts of the world.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra, the Czar and Czarina and their four children, the Dowager Empress of Russia, the Queen of Greece, the King of Sweden, the King of Norway, the Duke and Duchess of Cumberland, are all announced to be present for several days.

King Christian is not only the oldest sovereign in the world, but he may be justly described as the "father-in-law" of Europe.

Altogether Denmark proper is little more than the size of Wales, but the islands are represented by close upon 2,000,000 square miles of the world's territory.

King Christian is a favorite visiting place of the Emperor of Russia and the Empress. The room which the Czar used on his last visit is preserved exactly in the same order as when he left it.

King Christian conducts his home life on a somewhat different plan from the average monarch. He is not a morning person.

At 7 the royal visitors will sit down to dinner at the Hotel de Ville. The dinner will be a grand affair.

At 11.45 the royal train will arrive at the Place Victoria, Montreal, at 2 p.m. and will proceed to the Hotel de Ville.

FAMILIARITIES

George McNeil, Main-street, was charged with disorderly conduct. He came on the crowd to "kill the cops" and to "lurch the police."

Lockhart Gordon, machinist, was the first one charged. The charge read as follows: "That you did on Sept. 14, at Hamilton, unlawfully obstruct the public highway, to wit, King-street, by inducing a crowd to gather there and by refusing to disperse when ordered to do so by the police."

Chief Smith said his department had received information to the effect that if the police did not stop the Socialist agitators from speaking on the street a riot would be the result.

Robert Rodden, Harriet-street, charged with seduction, was remanded till Thursday on a charge of seduction in a case against Edward Olsen, an old offender, who was sent to Central Prison for a year for pocket picking.

City Council Passed a Resolution of Condolence Yesterday.

A feeling reference to the death of President McKimley was made by Mayor Howland in a message to the Council yesterday.

He said: "It is my painful duty to call your attention to the death of the late President of the United States, our most illustrious and noble statesman.

As the magistracy of a neighboring and friendly country, with the citizens of the heart of Canada, I submit to you that it would seem proper that the Council should pass a resolution of condolence

on this occasion, for transmission through the Secretary of State to the Government of the United States.

Following His Worship's remarks, Ald-

Shoppam, Ald. H. J. H. moved that

"This Council, on behalf of the citizens of Toronto, desire to express their sympathy and condolence to the people of the United States on the death of their late President, and that they be authorized to send a message of condolence to the President of the United States, and to the Secretary of State, and to the Members of the United States Congress.

The resolution was carried by a unanimous vote.

It is in moving the resolution, Ald

Shoppam said that the death of President McKimley was a national calamity and that the people of this country were deeply grieved by the news.

He said that the President had been ill for some time, but that he had been very brave and courageous.

He said that he had been very pleased to meet the President at the World's Fair, and that he had been very much interested in his work.
