Turks and Teutons Attack Russians to Delay Advance in Armenia

ITALIANS CHECK EVERY ATTACK BY AUSTRIANS

Continue to Hold Passes Leading South in Teeth of Foe.

RETAIN BUOLE PASS

Desperate Attempts Made by Teutons Fail So Far.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, June 1.—According to the Italian version of the fighting in the Tyrol every Austrian attack designed to pierce the Italian lines and to carry the passes leading southward has been repulsed in the past 24 hours' engagements.

Rome reports the continuance of artillery duels in the Lagarina valley and the repulse of an Austrian attack on Buole Pass at the point of the bayonet. Activity by enemy artillery paved the way for repeated Austrian attacks in the direction of the upper Forni, in the Fasullo sector, and these were brilliantly repulsed by Alpine troops.

Heavy fighting has also been going on on front between the Posina and the upper Astico. An infantry column crossed the Posina torrent, attacked the Italians in the direction of Monte Spiti and was repulsed. The onset was arrested on the extreme northern slopes of this mountain. Another column advanced towards Sarcobudo, southeast of Arsiere, and was beaten and driven back in disorder beyond the Posina.

On September the Italians report the exertion of heavy hostile pressure against their wing positions at Monte Cengio and in the little valley of Campomolio. No change is reported in the situation in the Sugana valley, and the customary hostile artillery fire has prevailed on the upper But.

Italian detachments continue to make bold incursions against the enemy on the Isonzo front. In one case they captured a mine thrower. Italian aeroplane squadrons raided the Asa valley on Tuesday and Wednesday and dropped bombs on camps and depots with effective results.

TURKS THRUST OUT TO DELAY RUSS ADVANCE

Foe Initiates Series of Sharp Local Offensives in Caucasus.

LEAVE MAMAKHATUN

Czar's Troops Evacuate Salient to Avoid Envelopment.

PETROGRAD, June 1, 12.30 p.m.—The past week has brought no noteworthy change in the position of the opposing forces in Asia Minor, but the Turks, heavily reinforced by Germans and Austrians, have, by executing a series of sharp thrusts at various points along the Russian line, succeeded in checking the Russian advance. These Turkish attacks have been directed against the main lines of the Russians beyond Trebizond and in the region of Balurt, Erzinjan and Rivanousa.

While not making permanent gains any of these directions, the effect of the persistent drives has been to bring the Russian advance to a standstill, temporarily at least. The Turkish attempt to advance in direction of Kargha-Bazaar (between Erzerum and Diarbekr), mentioned in last night's official communication, was evidently conducted with the intent of dividing the two Russian groups operating beyond Erzerum and Mueh. But the wedge which the Turks succeeded in driving into the line at this point could not be maintained before the Russian counter-attacks. Thus the Russian communications are still intact and the temporary delay is unchanged.

The Turkish offensive, which has been the most energetic of all their efforts in this theatre, is now considered to have spent itself, without achieving any more definite result than that accomplished by previous opposition to the Russian advance in Mesopotamia. In the Black Sea a Russian submarine sank five sailing vessels and was owned by the Park Steamship Co. of Liverpool.

The Julia Park was 2900 tons. She was last reported at Liverpool May 14. She was built at Glasgow in 1907 and was owned by the Hogarth Shipping Co. Ltd. of Liverpool.

The Lady Ninian was bound from Newport News, May 3, for Leghorn, and passed Gibraltar May 23. She measures 4297 tons gross and was built at Westharteport in 1906. The Lady Ninian is owned by the Rederoft Steam Navigation Co. of Cardiff.

ENEMY BRINGS AUSTRIANS TO VERDUN LINES

French Observe Several Thousand in Fort Douaumont Region.

FOE GAINS GROUND

Germans Enter French First Line Trench Between Fort and Pond.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, June 1.—Attacking the French positions between Thiaumont farm and Vaux Pond, the Germans, after several failures, succeeded in penetrating the French first line trenches between Fort Douaumont and the Vaux Pond, it was announced by the French war office tonight. Except at the point of penetration, the German attacks were broken by French machine gun fire. Heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy.

During the afternoon the regions of Avocourt wood and Le Mort Homme were subjected to an intermittent bombardment. The Germans launched a violent attack against the French positions on the eastern slopes of Le Mort Homme at 6 o'clock last Wednesday night and were repulsed by the fire of the defenders of the hill. The enemy violently shelled the territory round this eminence.

The Germans, the French war office estimates, have thrown 75,000 fresh rifles into this action before Verdun in the past week, or five fresh divisions. Austrian Troops Seen. Several thousand Austrian troops have been observed ascending reinforcements brought to the vicinity of Douaumont.

Among military observers in Paris, this is believed to indicate that Germany has insisted that Austria divide her efforts in aid of the Germans, in spite of the fact that an Austrian offensive is being pressed against Italy. A million Germans have been employed in the fighting since February, in spite of the fact that the French estimate of the German casualties at 300,000, a conservative summing up. French critics regard Verdun as the central point of the whole war and they say that the fighting increases with violence with each onslaught. In the past 12 days the enemy has thrown into action no fewer than eight fresh divisions, or 120,000 men, making nearly 50 per cent more. It is pointed out that to gain their objective the Germans would have to penetrate the French second line on the Charny ridge and reach Charny, and then the Germans would have to renew their frontal assaults on the eastern bank of the Meuse.

The German reports concerning the fighting at Verdun that southeast of Le Mort Homme, the French obtained a tactical success in the German first line trenches to the extent of 430 yards. The French brought forward considerable forces to the assault and their attacks at other points did not succeed.

BAR-LE-DUC ATTACKED BY FOE'S AEROPLANES. Eighteen Civilians, Including Two Women and Four Children, Killed.

French Airmen Bring Down German Aviatik Machine Near Berncourt. Twenty-five Wounded.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. PARIS, June 1.—A French official statement says: "This afternoon a group of German aeroplanes dropped several bombs on the open town of Bar le Duc. Eighteen of the civilian population were killed, of whom two were women and four children. Twenty-five persons were wounded, among whom were six women and 11 children.

An Aviatik, attacked by one of our aeroplanes, was compelled to land in our lines south of Berncourt, in the region of Toul. The two enemy aviators were made prisoner. "During the night of May 31-June 1, a French air squadron threw down 50 shells on the railroad stations of Thionville, Audun and Lerman, and so other shells upon the commissary headquarters of the enemy at Anzuet."

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

GERMANY'S growing need for fresh troops to take their place in the terrific battle line at Verdun is shown by the transference of several thousands of Austrian troops to this front. In the prolonged struggle here she has been throwing away her manhood at a frightful pace. Although the French issue no casualty lists, it is an open secret that their losses have also been very heavy, but as the Germans have been doing the attacking nine times out of ten, it does not require much common sense to grasp the fact that the enemy's losses must be a great deal heavier than the French losses. The bulk of the casualties to the defenders has probably been caused by gun fire. It is quite probable that many times trenches have been swept away by the artillery blasts. But as the French are said by all observers who have visited them at Verdun, to be firing about as many shells as the Germans, the losses of the enemy behind his lines from this source alone must be as large as the losses of our ally. Add to this the surplus losses involved by the making of many attacks that fail to reach their objective and have to cross twice the fire swept zone, and it takes no great powers of induction to perceive which side has been the heaviest sufferer.

The conditions which obtain on this narrow front after nearly 14 weeks of fighting on almost the present lines would overtax the imagination to depict, and the wonder is how either side can keep up the fighting on the same lines much longer. The French possession of the higher ground renders the artillery observation of the enemy more difficult and his fire cannot be nearly so accurate as he would wish. The French aerial supremacy and the French holding of the higher positions gives them a big advantage in the matter of accurate control of artillery fire.

In the latest battle the Germans appear to have slightly improved their position at Le Mort Homme. North of Verdun the capture of some front line trenches between Fort Douaumont and Vaux does not appear to give them much advantage unless they are able to extend their gains before the French bring up fresh troops and launch counter-attacks. The rushing forward of Austrian reinforcements by the enemy indicates that he believes from the big concentration of French troops in this area that he is in danger from a French counter offensive. Just beyond the fighting zone lie the iron mines on which Germany depends for her commercial greatness, and she deems their preservation vital to success, not only in this war, but after this war. Her possession of Verdun would give her little military advantage, for neutral correspondents who have visited the lines there are unanimous in their declaration that Verdun does not lead to Paris. If the French

MAJOR E. A. MACDOUGALL KILLED IN HIS OWN LINES BY GERMAN WHO WORE UNIFORM FOUR DAYS

Former Commander of 9th Field Battery, Toronto, Foully Murdered by a Spy, Who Stripped and Buried the Body, Then Remained in British Lines Until Uniform Was Recognized.

Major Ewan A. MacDougall has been killed. He was in command of the 8th Battalion, 1st Brigade, C.E.F., 1st Canadian Division, and formerly lived at 34 Avenue road. He leaves a widow and five children, who were living in England about a year ago and who at the present time are living at Brighton. A German got thru into the British lines in some way and reaching MacDougall killed him, then stripped him and buried the body, and dressed up in his clothes, and was acting as a spy for four days before he was caught. Someone recognized Major MacDougall's clothing. The German was arrested and showed Major MacDougall was born about 40 years ago at a military station in India. His father was a colonel and later a general in the British army. Major MacDougall was a nephew of Lady Roberts, widow of Lord Roberts, where he had the honor of commanding the first artillery unit to leave Toronto for the front. He was a very efficient soldier and held completely the confidence of his men and officers. Several times his battery, which took part in the battles of Neuve Chapelle, Givenchy, Ypres and Loos, was specially mentioned by the official eye-witnesses on account of its splendid effectiveness. Major MacDougall was held in high esteem by all the officers of the Toronto Garrison. He was a very keen soldier. He joined the 9th Battery, C. F. A., in 1905, and rose to be commanding officer. The battery to go on active service under his command was also numbered the 9th Battery. The recruits for it were from the 9th Battery, C. F. A. Major MacDougall served in the South African war. He was in Gen. French's cavalry at the relief of Kimberley. He joined the Kimberly Light Horse as a trooper, and at the end of the South African war had risen to rank of major, also adjutant of his regiment. Before enlisting in Toronto for overseas service, Major MacDougall was a draughtsman in the city hall. Before that he was in the employ of Darling and Pearson, and on the staff of the Ontario department of public works. His elder brother was the first British artillery officer to fall in the South African war.

HAMILTON, Friday, June 2.—Forty electricians and wiremen from the shops of four electrical contractors here, failed to go to work yesterday morning, and notified their employers that they were on strike.

The men are presenting a new schedule, asking an increase in wages from 40 to 50 cents per hour for journeymen, 50 cents per hour for helpers, a closed shop and the control of helpers and apprentices. Several of the bosses are willing to compromise on the wage scale, offering 45 cents per hour, but their offer was turned down.

The site for a new playground for the children residing in the northern section of the city has been selected on Park road by the Playgrounds Association. The controllers will inspect the property on Monday next, and if suitable will equip the new ground with a donation of $500, made recently by a local manufacturing concern.

should lose Le Mort Homme in the next attacks it does not imply that the Germans have drawn much nearer to Verdun, for this hill is nine miles distant from the town and defensive positions which are the heights of the Meuse.

North of Verdun, on the original line of advance, the Germans carried a series of French front line trenches on the section between Fort Donnay and Vaux Pond in a series of heavy attacks yesterday afternoon. These were directed against French positions between the Thiaumont farm and Vaux Pond and it was only after many hours of fighting that the enemy suffered heavy losses, that he made his gain. Everywhere else on the front the German attacks were broken by French machine gun fire, and the maintenance of their line in this front to African troops. Less artillery activity is noted on the rest of the Verdun sector.

The Italians continue to report the repulsing of heavy Austrian attacks at various portions of their front in the great battle which is raging in the southern Tyrol. The enemy is still confining his energies to attempts at seizing strategic points, such as passes and commanding hills. Buole Pass, in the Lagarina Valley, is still held by the Italians in the face of many violent and repeated assaults. The last attack against this gateway to the south was intended as a surprise operation. The Italians defeated Austrian attacks directed towards the upper Forni, and an Austrian column which crossed the Posina torrent and attacked Monte Sirti was checked on the extreme northern slopes of the mountain. Another hostile column which advanced towards Santabaldo, southeast of Arlesiero, was beaten and driven back in disorder beyond the Posina.

On the British front in Flanders the feature yesterday was the heavy shelling of Vimy ridge by both sides. Guns of all calibres were used and at times the fire became intense. No infantry engagement beyond ordinary trench activity was recorded in the past twenty-four hours. Ordinary artillery and mining operations proceeded about Loos, Ypres and the River Somme. British aeroplanes had a long running fight with three German machines and brought one down. A British machine is missing. The Germans reported bringing down a British aircraft.

In the Armenian theatre of the war the Turks have undertaken a considerable offensive against the Russians from the direction of Babur and of Diarbekr. The enemy was repulsed on both wings by the Russian resistance, but in the centre at Mamakhatun, which forms a salient, the Russians evacuated that town to avoid being outflanked, and demolished the bridge over the Euphrates as they retired across the river. It appears from this report, which is the first official intimation by the Russian war office, that they had occupied Mamakhatun, and that the Russians were holding it as a point of support for a further advance towards the interior of Asia Minor. The heaviest pressure was exerted against the Russians from Babur and that has been checked after the enemy had launched three attacks.

The Russian fleet continues to dominate the Black Sea. The latest Russian maritime exploit is the destruction of five Turkish sailing vessels and the capturing of another and the bringing of it to Sebastopol by a submarine.

SAVIOR OF PARIS HONORED IN DEATH

France Paid Impressive Tribute to Memory of Gen. Gallieni.

A GREAT PROCESSION

All Branches of Military Service Took Part in Demonstration.

PARIS, June 1.—The funeral of Gen. Joseph Simon Gallieni, former minister of war, was the occasion of an impressive public demonstration. It began with a religious ceremony in the Hotel Des Invalides, where the dead warrior's body had lain in state, which Cardinal Amette, archbishop of Paris, officiated. There followed a funeral oration in the court of the Invalides by Pierre Auguste Bouthillier, minister of war, and a military procession of the cortege being backed up by a vast multitude of persons gathered to pay tribute to the man who saved Paris in the initial crisis of the war.

The ceremonies in the Invalides were attended by President Poincaré, the cabinet ministers, the members of the senate and the chamber of deputies, members of the diplomatic corps, the highest officials of the army and the navy, academicians and scientists. The military procession exceeded in length all previous ones, and included the regiments that were in the battle of Oureq, when Gen. Gallieni turned back the German assault on Paris.

All business and amusements were suspended during the ceremony, the highest city being given up to demonstrations mourning. The body was taken to St. Raphael for burial.

Other officers were elected as follows: Chairman, P. J. Burr, Vancouver Province; secretary, Frank Adams, London Advertiser; executive, G. F. Pearson, Halifax Chronicle; W. W. McCready, St. John Telegram; N. B. Bowman, Toronto Telegram; David Smith, Fort William Times; O. L. Spencer, Calgary Herald; Weekly section: Chairman, Acton, Burrows, Canadian Railway and Marine World, Toronto (re-elected); sec., Geo. Bartram, Canadian Farm (re-elected); executive, G. R. Cook, Canadian Home Journal, Toronto; Col. J. B. MacLean, MacLean Publishing Company, Toronto, and James Dale, Christian Guardian, Toronto.

The idea of Judge Klein was favorably received through the county, and at the meeting which was held in the court house here today, delegates assembled from every municipality in Bruce, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed throughout.

The object of the league is to aid further recruiting, prepare to employ returned soldiers, care for and do honor to wounded and disabled warriors and aid farmers in securing help when sons enlist for the war. The league will also institute a campaign for food economy in public and private life and urge that preference be given to all public appointments be given to enlisted soldiers and nurses. They will likewise prepare to meet economic and social conditions that are likely to develop after the war.

The election of officers for the league resulted in the following appointments: President, Judge Klein; secretary, Warden A. E. McNab, Walkerton; treasurer, E. Roy Sayles, Fort Elgin; executive committee, C. M. Bowman, M.L.A., W. D. Bagill, M.L.A., D. M. Jermol, William Hunter and Alexander McCannell. Vice-presidents of each municipality in the county will be elected by their respective divisions. The next meeting of the league will be held in Paisley.

Yonge street, opposite Albert street, shortly after noon yesterday when a civilian struck a returned soldier and knocked him down. The latter, who that he was a rejected recruit but did not have his button with him. The answer, sought to detain the civilian.

Finally the latter, who had the sympathy of the crowd which had gathered around the couple, struck the soldier in the face, bruising him about the mouth and eye. The civil-not have been averted, and he was not held. The body of the child was

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 2.

Daylight Saving

Now that the city council has shown more enterprise and common sense than either the provincial or the Dominion Government on the question of the daylight saving movement, it will be well before moving rashly to consider what other places have done.

The government is not really so bad as it looks, and wonderful things are being done amid all the criticism. The trouble is, however, that outsiders do not understand the situation, and are apt to be nervous about it.

The following have gone to Canada for duty: Col. M. Rogers, Lieut.-Col. Dulmage, Lieut.-Col. Harkum, Major Sheppard Cooper, 7th, Rankin, 8th, Capt. OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE STRENGTHENS PRICES

Cement and Smelters Strong at Toronto Market, But the Dealings Are Firm All Round.

The Toronto stock market broadened out further yesterday, the volume of trading being almost as large as that of the active days of three weeks ago. Cement and smelters were the active makers, the former establishing a new high at 70 1/2 and smelters selling up to 43 1/4. The local market was in receipt of assistance from Montreal and New York, but except for this there were no new developments. The steel stocks passed a quiet, uneventful day, and the inside interest in these seemed to be satisfied to allow any realizing to be effected in the natural market way. Duluth and Porto Rico attracted small trading and prices in each made advances. Some floor trading profits were enacted in the late trading, and prices advanced below the best. The curb issues were more active. Porcupine Crown sold up as high as 104 and West Dome Consolidated was also strong at 47 1/2. A fine body of business has been located on the West Dome by the diamond drill, and this accounted for the selling of the stock. The main factor in the market is the plentiful supply of funds. This and a distinct feeling of optimism are sufficient to account for a continued strong market.

DOMINION STEEL PFD. DIVIDEND WILL BE PAID

It is reported on fairly good authority that the Dominion Steel Corporation has been paid in such splendid financial shape as a result of recent phenomenal earnings that by the end of the current half the dividend will be possible to pay off all the arrears on the preferred stock of the subsidiary. By October 15 the dividend will have accumulated. The company paid its dividends in April, 1915, and in March last. It has also paid an account of the arrears, so that there has been just two full years' dividends owing by October 1. The Dominion Steel Corporation and Dominion Coal Co. have paid their dividends since war began.

Mining Notes

At Kirkland Lake, which is rated second only to the Porcupine district, the Ontario Electric Mining Company is making good headway. The company has seven claims covering 246 acres, across which runs several veins which are believed to contain high-grade ore. The shaft which is down to 520 feet. The shaft which is high-grade ore 6 to 8 inches in width. The remarkable feature of this vein is that it has been drilled all the way down, and it is the plan of the management to sink a further shaft with a view to finding new high-grade veins. BUYING POWER IS GOOD.

Heron & Co. had the following at the close: MONTREAL, June 1.—Trading was well distributed throughout the list today. Smelters was the most active stock. Two blocks of 500 shares changed hands at the opening, and these transactions started quite a speculative flurry in this issue, advancing the price nearly three points. In the late trading quite a lot of stock came on the market and part of the gain was lost. Detroit was one of the strong features, as was Ontario Steel, while the demand for Dominion Steel was most persistent. The whole market seemed to have a strong undertone, and the buying power is good whenever anything turns up to attract the attention of the public to a special stock.

MINING MARKET HAD SOME STRONG SPOTS

Buying of Porcupine Crown Continued and Stock Moved Up to New High.

Trading continued active in the mining issue at the Standard Stock Exchange yesterday, with a larger volume of business transacted than on the previous day. There was some irregularity in the list, with a few weak spots, which were offset more or less by the strength of Porcupine Crown and West Dome Consolidated, both of which went up to new high levels as the result of heavy buying. West Dome Consolidated particularly experienced a busy day, with transactions well up to 50,000 shares. Silver remained at the previous day's decline. The Cobalts held comparatively strong.

NEW FINDS REPORTED ON WEST DOME CON.

Diamond Drill Reported to Have Cut Good Ore Body.

NO IMMEDIATE ISSUE FUNDS NOT NEEDED

Altho the Toronto Railway Company has just made an issue of $3,000,000 additional stock, advantage may not be taken of this fact for some time. The company is in no immediate need of funds, and there is therefore no reason why the whole of the $3,000,000 or any part thereof should be sold immediately.

SMELTERS DECLARES DIVIDEND

The directors of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company met yesterday and declared the usual quarterly dividend, payable July 1, of 2 1/2 per cent, or at the rate of 10 per cent per annum. Last December the rate was increased from 8 per cent to 10 per cent per annum. In 1915 a total of 8 1/2 per cent was paid (three-quarters at 2 per cent, one at 2 1/2 per cent). In 1914 a total of 8 per cent, in 1913 and 1912, nothing at all for four years previous.

Beautiful Princess Iolanda Celebrated Her Fifteenth Birthday Yesterday.

PRINCE OF WALES MAY WED ITALIAN PRINCESS

Paris Inclined to Give Credence to Rumor of Engagement.

REPORT FROM ROME

The Prince of Wales visited Rome a few weeks ago and then made a trip to the Italian front, where he was the guest of King Victor Emmanuel.

After his return the king is said to have summoned the princess, with the queen, to army headquarters to extend his congratulations. It was while returning from this visit that the queen and Princess Iolanda narrowly escaped death when Austrian aviators attacked their train.

The Princess Iolanda celebrated her fifteenth birthday today. She is said to be extremely popular with the Italian people. Interest here in the reported engagement centres in the fact that the bonds of friendship between two of the allies would be materially strengthened by the marriage.

At the tea given on the grounds of the Women's College Hospital on Rushmore road, it was announced that the total amount raised to the present is $44,500. New inspiration was given to the continuous campaign for the committee, was present, and Mrs. M. Huettel introduced the several speakers.

At this week's working meeting of the Queen's Own Chapter, Mrs. Dempster was presented by the regent, Mrs. Leveson, with the ribbon and bar of the regiment, which is only worn by the woman whose husband or son is active in patriotic work and leaves shortly for England to visit her husband.

Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles of Los Angeles, Cal., has been elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, obtaining 271 votes against the 423 of her opponent, Mrs. Samuel Sneath of Tiffin, Ohio.

Have the work done at home under your personal supervision with an EDDY INDURATED WASHBOARD.

Made of one solid lasting piece of hard-ened pulp, it will neither splinter nor fall apart. The slightly rounded oval crimp is easy on the clothes and fingers, yet loosens the dirt easily.

Writes About Safeguarding Our Girls

I HAVE COURAGE, my boy, to say... I wish some one would change that refrain a little and write a brand new song about it. "Have courage, my boy, to say no."

The average girl is taught from her very earliest years to be amiable, next to be good, and, last of all, to be sensible. Obedience, docility, submission to her elders, these are the virtues we have in the little girl who grows up in the family.

What are you doing to teach your girl to take care of herself? Giving her books on subjects which you would never have dreamed of mentioning to your own mother? Sending her to your family physician to learn more than you ever found it necessary to know in all your life?

DIVIDED INTERESTS

LET'S "pretend" for a moment—let's pretend that YOU are the girl. Suppose on one hand, there was the sea rolling its green waves to create that dazzling whiteness of the sun-warmed beach on which they break.

THE AMATEUR GARDENER

Now is the time to be putting out our porch and window boxes, and while here more than anywhere else we are reminded that there is nothing new under the sun, still there are some lovely combinations of plants each year that at least seem new from the way and place in which they are used.

Don't Plant Too Much. Unless you are willing to renew your boxes several times during the summer, do not be beguiled into buying any of those alluring combinations of blooming plants that are put together for the express purpose of tempting us: marguerites and heliotropes with yellow salicidula and pink geraniums, with now and then verbena and lobelia. Perfectly fascinating and all but irresistible, but they are lovely climbing nasturtiums are very satisfactory after they are once started, and they have the great advantage of being inexpensive.

Constant travel along any road keeps the dust flying, and gardeners having dusty locations to contend with will find that ruchsias and tuberous begonias will withstand dust better than most plants. Abutilons, snapdragons and nasturtiums are also good. Columbine and pentstemon seem to be the best perennials. Sprinkle the plants as often as possible in the evening.

WONDER why mother doesn't buy a new stove brush," said Lois. "I can't make the stove look like anything with this one. Why, the bristles are all worn down to almost nothing."

Little Stories Told in Homely Rhyme

LARISSA MCCARTHY was seated one night by the side of her sweetheart, Joe Brown. They'd just had a vigorous sort of a fight in which she knocked the boy down. But wrath had been conquered and love reigned supreme and, tho he had one purple eye, he said he adored her and called her a dream and told the girl lie after lie. Then, throwing a brick at a cat, he sang her this song in a flat:

If I were a dentist and you were a tooth I'd give you a beautiful crown, for you are a pippin, to tell you the truth. I beg you to be Mrs. Brown. I'd give my sweet molar a gold tip, forsooth; or porcelain—just as you'd say. If I were a dentist and you were a tooth you'd never complain of decay.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN'S STORY

By ROSE WILDER LANE. (Copyright, 1915) (Continued from yesterday.) She gave it to me, and I read it in great excitement. "Dear Mother," it read. "I am coming back from Europe with three grand presents for you, but I will not tell you what they are. Tell Charley for me. I have a big brother, I have two months from today, at Waterloo Station, at nine o'clock. Be sure to have a Christmas pudding ready. Hoping you are all well, I am, your dutiful son, SIDNEY."

Do you Know That

Puccini tried to stop the film production of "La Boheme" which World Film recently made with Alice Brady. The picture was so beautiful that he decided to stop legal proceedings? He loved his art. Thomas Ince is in New York trying to launch "Civilization". The next movie convention will be at Chicago July 18? Kitty Gordon spends more money on clothes than any other stage or screen player? She will soon be seen in "The Crucial Test".
