INDEPENDENT LABOR IN BRITAIN BACKS AT LENINE'S DEMANDS

Turns Down by Overwhelming Majority Proposal to Affiliate.
SPLIT QUITE PROBABLE

Southport, Eng., March 28.—The Independent Labor party, in conference here today, rejected by an overwhelming majority a proposal to accept Lenin's 21 conditions for affiliation with the third internationale of Moscow.
The minority report favored acceptance, and this element may secede from the party.
The Independent Labor party has for the second time in succession declined the extremist section wishing to affiliate with the third internationale. Fifteen branches of the party supported the Moscow conditions and there were some stormy incidents at the conference, but when the decision was taken on a card vote, the Moscow proposal was defeated 521 to 97.

The Independent Labor party is the extreme wing of the Labor party, and today's vote is interesting in connection with Mr. Lloyd George's speech of March 23, accusing the Labor party of "revolutionary proclivities." This speech has been the subject of much excited criticism, and on the labor side has been interpreted as preparing the ground for a general election and indicating that the prime minister has resolved to throw in his lot with the Unionist party and become its titular leader.

Split Is Probable.
It was reported today that some of the prime minister's close friends had represented to him the indiscretion of his speech, in view of the heavy polls the Labor party had recently achieved at a by-election, and urged him to endeavor to explain it away.
The indications are that today's vote will lead to a split in the Independent Labor party. The group favoring Moscow met here tonight to discuss the situation, and it is understood, resolved to secede from the party unless the conference decides unanimously to remain outside the second internationale. There will probably be consultations with the local branches, however, before the final decision.

Among the incidents at the conference was an attack on Mrs. Philip Snowden, the militant suffragette, owing to her denunciation of Bolshevism after her visit to Russia. But on the card vote she was nominated to represent the Independent Labor party on the executive of the National Labor party by a vote of 235 to 191.

DENIAL OF HITCH IN CLEAN-UP DEAL

Few Points Only Remain to Be Settled Between the Two Sides.

But who is to assume certain obligations? Hyde or private companies?
The story was given out at Mr.
Dick Baker's slimly attended ratepayers' meeting in North Toronto
Saturday night that there was a hitch in the "clean-up deal" for the Mackenzie interests.
This is not so. But there are a few points yet to be settled as between the two sides. The Hyde commission and the city (the purchasers) are saying that an item or items totalling perhaps two hundred thousand dollars must be taken care of; if we assume them we will want to know amount from the purchase price; Mr.
Fleming says: "Have a heart, Sir Adam." So until they fix items of this kind "there is a hitch." But the disputed points are being narrowed down to three or four and substantial progress is under way.
And the share holders of the companies are anxious to see the deal signed at the earliest moment. And premier Drury will ratify it the moment Sir Adam and Mr. Fleming have agreed to the final amounts.
Regarding the rumor of a hitch,
Mayor Church said:
"I don't anticipate any trouble at all in the matter. There is absolutely nothing to the story. There will be a special meeting of council called within a few days to deal with the question. Enabling legislation will be given all parties to consummate the deal.
There are many matters to be settled, and I do not anticipate any trouble in connection with the Kingston road. The ownership should be vested in the city. Perhaps this week or next, legislation will be introduced in the house which will bring the issue to a head.
"I called Mr. Gaby of the Hydro today and he tells me that the agreement is practically completed," said the mayor.

KING ALFONSO RECOVERED.

Madrid, March 28.—King Alfonso is entirely recovered from his recent indisposition and held a conference today with the premier and other ministers relative to the reopening of parliament.

A NEW EPOCH IN IMPERIAL BANKING

Times Comments on the Appointment of Canadian to Bank of England Board.

London, March 28.—Discussing the nomination of E. R. Peacock, formerly of Toronto, for a directorship of the Bank of England, The Times this morning says that it marks a new epoch in imperial banking, and shows a fresh indication of the keen desire of the bank directors to secure the closer co-operation of business men from the dominions in the interests of imperial unity as well as of imperial trade. One result of the war, The Times adds, was to reveal a gap in the chain of imperial banking unity, which, until filled, must seriously interfere with the exchange of goods and services within the empire.

The Morning Post describes Mr. Peacock's nomination as another break with tradition by an institution noted for its conservatism. Such is the man of large interests, will, The Post adds, bring to the service of the Bank of England a special knowledge of Canadian affairs, and thus form the other link between our central banking institution and the Dominion.

FEDERAL SHIPPING WILL SHOW PROFIT

Disappointment for Those Who Thought Government Merchant Marine Had Deficit.

Ottawa, March 28.—(Can. Press).—A knockout awaits the pessimists who have been confidently predicting an operating deficit for the government merchant marine. Such is the official verdict of the department of marine. Speculation has placed the merchant marine's trial balance in the same plight as that of the National Railways, but the answer received by the Canadian Press today when the question was asked the department was: "There's a great disappointment awaiting those who have predicted a deficit."

Beyond this, nothing is ventured, although from semi-official sources the emphatic statement is that a substantial margin on the right side of the ledger will be announced in the house by Hon. C. C. Ballantyne this week.

INCOME TAX DECISIONS FAVOR U. S. GOVERNMENT

Washington, March 28.—The United States government won a string of victories today in income tax decisions handed down by the supreme court.

Solicitor General Friesen declared the government's position had been upheld completely. The effect of the rulings, he added, was that any gain derived from corporate bonds or capital asset investments was taxable as income, the amount of income subject to such taxation still to be estimated March 1, 1913.

RECORD FOR OPENING OF THE ST. LAWRENCE

Montreal, March 28.—With the arrival here this morning of the Canadian government ice breaker, Lady Gray, the earliest opening of navigation on the St. Lawrence for 40 years took place. The Lady Gray yesterday cracked the great ice bridge which forms at Three Rivers every year and within a few days the river was free. The average date for the clearing of the river is around April 20.

A Man is just as Young and Strong as his Blood

No man can fight the battles of life and hold his own if his blood is not pure, for rich red blood is what strength is based upon. When you see a strong, vigorous man, who never knows when he is licked, you may wager that such a man has coursing through his veins rich, red blood. Many people have thin, pale blood. They are weak, tire easily, become discouraged quickly, and sometimes feel like giving up the struggle. Such folks need Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which is sold by druggists in liquid or tablet form. Contains no alcohol.

CENTRAL BUTTE, SASK.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery for a number of years, and am pleased to recommend it as a blood purifier. I know it has no equal, as I used it for my boy. My neighbors and friends were surprised with the results; in fact, I do not think he would be alive today had it not been for the 'Medical Discovery.' I also keep it on hand for coughs, as it differs so from other cough medicines, instead of upsetting the stomach, as most cough syrups do, it is good for the stomach. I only wish I had known about Dr. Pierce's medicines sooner."—Mr. PERCY WOOD.

VARSITY BIG THREE AND THE MUG.

ALL-ROUND MIX-UP OVER REFERENDUM

dance. Early in the morning the registration officer had twenty applicants seeking information, but only added two names to his list. In one hour his list contained only seven new names.

Now that the influence of the Easter Monday holiday on both official and public is passed, there is some hope that matters may improve today. Judge Coatsworth said yesterday that his only object was the convenience of the public and to give every person an opportunity to get his vote. When it was found that the registration office was not well placed he would have no hesitation in making a change—but he said nothing about some of the "places" being closed.

As some of the West Toronto residents are complaining that they have to come to the city hall to register, they may find a little comfort in the judge's remarks.

There are altogether 46 revising officers and it is estimated that each registrar can deal with one thousand applicants during the six days of the revision. It is expected that there will be 40,000 to 50,000 changes in the lists.

Both the referendum committee and the Citizens' Liberty League do not contemplate that the personal application decree—instead of the name being added to the lists en bloc—will have any great effect on the ultimate number of voters listed. It will, however, prevent a number of under-age youths and girls securing a vote, as it is stated was the case before the referendum. Neither the Citizens' Liberty League nor the referendum committee is, however, taking any of motor cars and are conveying their supporters to the revision courts to make application for their votes.

Closed Down Early.

The revisers for South and Centre Toronto and West York sat at the city hall, but they were not over-pressed by business. Only about 250 names were added to these lists during the day. Centre Toronto taking the majority. So bad was trade with the registration office that the closed down early, promising to renew business in the evening.

The revising officers are placing up notices asking applicants not to take up too much time as they are averaging four minutes to each voter in the hopes that as the work increases every one may be given attention. An instance of this was found in Parkdale, where a citizen took up 15 minutes and was then found to be in the wrong place. At West Toronto revision court, there were so many wrong applicants that a man had to be placed at the door with a map to direct the would-be voter to his right division.

At the city hall only 15 names were put on in the first hour. St. Paul's Hall, North Toronto, had 30 votes at

KEY FURNISHED TO TREASURE HOUSE

How Best Aid to Wonderful Information May Be Secured.

What vast and mighty treasures of words full of rich meaning lie locked up in our language—hidden away from common use and enjoyed only by learned few. It is as if, possessing the mineral wealth of Mexico, mined and smelted and ready for the mint, we turned scornfully aside, revealing in a voluntary poverty.

A dictionary constitutes the treasure house of a language. As a people, we needlessly deprive ourselves of the helps at our command. In our daily tasks, not one of which can be performed without the use of words, we possess only the most primitive tools, when we might be equipped with the keenest and most efficient. If the dictionary be the barred and bolted treasure house we have mentioned, then the coupon we print daily in this paper is its key. For we have thus made it possible for every one to own a modern, first-class dictionary.

Montreal Lumber Firms Reduce Employees' Wages

Montreal, March 28.—A reduction in the wages of lumber companies' employees in this city will come into effect about April 1, according to a statement made today by a prominent lumber man. "The exact amount of the reduction has not yet been determined," he said, "but it will be between fifteen and twenty per cent. of present wages."

Mount Vernon, N. Y., March 28.—Eighteen men, all garbed in their new Easter clothes, swam the Bronx River in safety today when surprised by three policemen while in the midst of a crap game. Two others, who hesitated, were caught. One was fined $5 and the other given a suspended sentence.

Found Only 14 Per Cent. Of Rentals Reasonable

Boston, March 28.—More than 1,350 rent increases, out of a total of 8,222 complaints to the Boston Rent and Housing Committee during the first year of its existence were found to be unreasonable, Chairman Malcolm E. Nichols reported to Mayor Peters today.

Of complaints relating directly to rent advances the committee adjusted sixty per cent., prevailed upon the affected parties to adjust 25 per cent., and found 14 per cent. of the advances reasonable.

On complaints relating to notices to vacate, the committee obtained extensions of time in 94 per cent. of the cases.

The majority have already proceeded overseas, except in the case of New Zealand, where the shipping situation is difficult.

BULLET KILLS TWO; NO BLAME FIXED

Coroner's Jury Returns Verdict on Double Fatality Near Montreal.

Montreal, March 28.—A verdict of accidental death was returned by Coroner McMahon this morning at the inquest into the death of Leopold Vaillette, 11 years of age, of 1903 St. Denis street, and Ferdinand Gravel, 48 years of age, of St. Dorothee, Quebec, who were killed by bullet fired from a rifle in the hands of Arthur and Leopold Hotte of St. Martin on Isle Jesu during rifle practice at the latter's home yesterday afternoon.

PROHIBITION OPPOSED BY LORD CHANCELLOR

London, March 28.—Alarm over the prospect of Great Britain going "dry" was depressed by Baron Birkhead, lord chancellor, while speaking at the annual banquet of the Allied Brewery Traders' Association. He declared that members of the association did not, in his belief, have any cause for anxiety. "As to the apprehension of chance of a general move such as has taken place in America," he said, "I am one of those who do not believe that it is even conceivable a similar change can take place in Great Britain."

"I should most profoundly regret it if any such change did take place, because I am individualistic enough in my outlook, both upon private and public affairs, to resent profoundly attacks against the principles upon which is based the right of one individual to regulate his own private life."

WILL REDUCE WAGES ON ATLANTIC SHIPS

Washington, March 28.—Private shipowners and operators of government-owned ships will meet with the United States shipping board Friday to discuss a new agreement covering wages and working conditions for all classes of seamen employed on vessels on the Atlantic coast. Chairman Benson announced tonight.

All agreements with the men expire May 1 and the chairman stated that owners and operators have signed their intention of not renewing the existing contracts, but to effect reductions in wages, changes in hours and working conditions. Details of proposed changes, he added, will be worked out with the board after conferences between owners and operators in New York and then the employers will meet with the men to consider adoption of the new agreements.

TREND OF INDUSTRY DEFINITELY UPWARD

Detroit, March 28.—Belief that the trend of industry definitely is upward was reiterated here today by Henry Ford. "Indications everywhere are manifest," he said, "that the bottom of the business depression has been reached and passed." He predicted the Ford Company shortly would be operating on a full time production basis. Orders for automobiles, he said, numbered nearly 80,000, or 10,000 more than those for the month just closing.

A WAVE OF CRIME IN LINDSAY DISTRICT

Lindsay, March 28.—A wave of crime is sweeping over this section of the country, many stores having been entered during the week just passed.

In Lindsay, Elliott's Baker's and Fisher's grocery stores were burglarized, considerable damage being done. Porter's book store was also entered and $75 worth of goods stolen.

In Omemee on Friday night last six stores were entered.

SPORTS IMPORTANT IN LIFE OF PEOPLE

Educational Association Men
Tell of Benefits Derived From Outdoor Play.

Teachers from many parts of the province will gather today for the sixteenth annual meeting of the Ontario Educational Association, which has become an outstanding event in the lives of the instructors of the youth of the land. The meetings of various sections will take place in rooms that have been allotted to them in the main building of the university. The general evening meetings will be held in Convocation Hall. The interests of the teachers and schools will be discussed.

Preliminary work was done yesterday. In the afternoon a meeting of the board of directors was held, but no general gathering took place until the evening at Convocation Hall, when the subject of athletics took up the program.

Rev. D. B. Wood, M.A., LL.D., president of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Association, pointed out the importance of play in the development of the child and emphasized its influence on character. Play in the schoolyard, he said, made it easier to obtain discipline in the school and lessened the strain on the nervous system of the teacher. In games there were the elements of contest, but civilization had also taught men to regard games as opportunity for pastime. Play should not start with the school, but should precede it, he contended, and urged that play should be for adults as well as for youth, for it was an instinct present in all normal men and women. Opportunity should be afforded both men and women to engage in outdoor occupation. Teachers were recommended to develop the community hall and playgrounds, a grant for which was provided by the government.

Make Sport Obligatory.
That British sports were the basis of the success of Britain and the element that enabled her to carry the war to a successful issue, was the statement of Major-General Sir A. C. Macdonnell, K.C.B., commander of the Royal Military College. The importance of sport was recognized in America, and West Point, where sports were made compulsory in its curriculum. The speaker expressed his regret that cricket had died out, as it was a force for the development of discipline, manners and good fellowship. It was pointed out that the opportunity of the teacher in the school was to give opening for leadership. The speaker expressed his disapproval of specializing and advised that sports in sport be given encouragement. Sports of a kind sometimes indulged in was derided by the speaker, who said that "sport that demands an ambulance and doctor close at hand does not appear to me."

AN IMPORTANT STEP IN CANCER RESEARCH

Inoculation of Animals With Irritant From Cats Produces Disease.

New York, March 28.—Inoculation or "feeding" of animals with a parasite irritant obtained from intestines of cats has proved a successful means of cancer reproduction, it was learned yesterday at the George Crocker cancer research laboratory, Columbia University. According to Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of the laboratory, the disease has been developed in a large number of rats simultaneously. The discovery is considered highly important from a standpoint of scientific experimentation.

Dr. Wood says cancer can be produced in about 50 per cent. of the white rats utilized by the laboratory in advanced research work. The failure of the remaining 50 per cent. to develop the disease has convinced him that there is some tissue predisposition which is yet to be explained.

Depends on Dosage.
Because the effectiveness of the X-ray in treating cancer depends upon proper dosage—an inadequate dose or ray tending to stimulate growth of the cancer and an overdose causing a harmful—Dr. Wood explained that a plant is under construction at the laboratory which will determine the dosage required for the elimination of cancerous tumors in animals. The machine will have an X-ray voltage of 200,000, or double that of similar machines now in use, and as soon as it has been tested on animals and found not dangerous to them it will be adapted to the treatment of human beings.

"There is no reason to assume that there is any difference between the animal and human tissue in its resistance to the X-ray," said Dr. Wood. "This will be the first machine of the kind ever built for treating cancer."

The rule as regards the use of the X-ray treatment applicable to the use of radium, Dr. Wood added. The head of one of the radium clinics for the treatment of cancer patients in New York said yesterday that the use of animals in the reproduction of cancer was not new to the members of the medical fraternity who specialize in the disease.

"It has been known for some time that the disease could be reproduced in animals," he said. "Dr. Wood's announcement, however, is interesting. We are only scraping the surface of what we shall be able to do with radium when we understand its action better."

The clinic director said the number of cases presented to the clinic for free treatment with radium this year indicates that the public is becoming educated to the importance of having the disease attended to in its early stages, when the treatment is more efficacious.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBAN NEWS

IMPORTANT ISSUES WILL BE DISCUSSED

Division of Township Before Amalgamated Ratepayers on Saturday.

TODMORDEN

Active preparations are now being made throughout York Township during the forthcoming Amalgamated Ratepayers' Association convention, which will be held on Saturday afternoon next in Wilcox Hall, Fairbank, with delegates from all township associations present.

According to Dennis McCarthy, secretary, the question of dividing York Township at probably Yonge street will be one of the important questions before the conference. "The problem is very pressing in the minds of the eastern district ratepayers and has long been considered as a necessary step for the advancement of the township as a whole, more especially now," said Mr. McCarthy, "since two northern sections about to be separated from the southern portion."

Annexation to the City of Toronto is much more favored in the eastern section of the township than in the western, said Mr. McCarthy, "and in spite of the strong sentiment in favor of annexation, the ratepayers east of the River Don are by no means unanimous on the question. As a consequence a lively debate will most likely take place when a resolution will be placed before the meeting to divide the township into two sections, making a new amalgamation of the ratepayers east of the River Don."

School Taxation Problem.
It is felt that the east and west of York Township have little in common, continued Mr. McCarthy, except perhaps for the lack of proper legislation to make the township what it geographically already is, two separate municipalities, and the equalization of school taxation. This latter question was a problem that would not doubt be a bone of contention, and was ripe for debate at the convention, while it was pointed out by the opponents of equalization of school taxation that the rate of 42 mills in Fairbank there probably would never have been a demand for readjustment of school rates in the township.

Face Big Expenditure.
Todsford section No. 27, is now facing an expenditure of perhaps $200,000, with schools overcrowded. Wood, the Highgate school section No. 10, is working night and day in an endeavor to increase accommodation and a low mill rate. Danforth Park and Eastdale section, No. 26, has just completed a school, which already has twelve rooms and is now faced with the problem of providing an additional school. The question is asked, "What will the school rate be when other sections have done what Fairbank has already accomplished?" Fairbank, among other progressive measures, has provided school accommodation for 100 pupils and domestic science centres on an approximate assessment of $1,500,000.

Will Challenge City.
Further, it will be pointed out that the Ontario house provides that the City of Toronto or rather that cities of over 100,000 population may purchase school sites beyond their boundaries to a certain distance without the consent of the residents, which legislation, township residents consider as a direct blow to the school sections in the township of York, and allows the City of Toronto to purchase up to ten acres of school sites without the consent of the township, thus depriving such township school sections of a large amount of revenue which would otherwise be available for township school purposes.

Hon. George S. Henry, M.L.A., Dr. Forster, M.L.A., and York Township Council will be asked by resolution why they did not make strong objection to the school sections of York Township contributing towards the Toronto board of education, the collectable taxes on such land amounting to anywhere from $400 to $1000 a year. Mr. McCarthy further pointed out that objection was not taken to the action of the school or the purchase of land, but it was pointed out that the township council members had failed in their duty to the ratepayers in allowing the school sections of York Township to be taxed to help the City of Toronto in the education of the latter's children. The resolution will further call upon the local members of the Ontario legislature and the York Township Council, regarding bills affecting any part of York Township be given the ratepayers previous to their consideration.

Arrangements are being made for the reception of the delegates, and supper will be served in the dining hall of the convention hall annex.

Beaches Conservatives To Hold Ladies' Night

Under the auspices of Ward Eight Liberal-Conservative Association, the first annual ladies' night will be held in the Masonic Hall, Balsam avenue, on Thursday evening next, when W. M. Cockburn, M.P., Brantford, will speak on "Made in Canada and the Tariff." Refreshments will be served and a special orchestra will furnish a dance program.

GRANT FACILITIES FOR WEST VOTERS

Judge Coatsworth Authorizes Use of Local Office For Registration Purposes.

WEST TORONTO

The referendum committee of Ward Seven spent a busy two-hour meeting last night in Victoria Presbyterian Church, West Toronto, resulting in a resolution to approach Judge Coatsworth and request that facilities be provided in West Toronto for the registration of voters in that district. It was also decided that the committee should be open later than the usual hours in order to facilitate belated registering.

Judge Coatsworth was communicated with during the evening by W. A. Keil, chairman of the West Toronto committee, and assurance was received that the request would be granted, provided the committee procured a room and did the necessary advertising needed because of the change.

The meeting was assured by R. S. Agnew, who had been working on the question, that the room in the old municipal office known as the mayor's office could be utilized, providing sanction was granted by the city. Mr. Agnew was authorized to move the revision of the law to divide the township into two sections, and to request the city to provide a room for the registration of voters in that district. It was also decided to distribute notices to every house notifying that the registration of voters would be held in the old municipal building, and which is now over 700 Keele street (N. Police Station), would be opened on Wednesday morning, and would continue open in the evening.

578 Names Added.
The reports from the nine divisions of the ward indicated that at least 578 names had been added to the list.

Voters' Qualification.
Many difficulties were explained by the chairman, Some of the revising officers were told that they were trying to do their duty, but they were not qualified as to the law and it is absolutely necessary that they be qualified as to the law. The committee appealed also for 50 men for scrutineers and also for a large number of ladies.

An open meeting of General Mercer, C.W.A., and the ladies' auxiliary last night, was spent in debating, Mrs. A. Doe winning in the affirmative, on the motion, "Resolved, That the members of the Young People's Association, entitled 'More Blunders Than One,' and several well-attended musical numbers completed the program. The chair was occupied by Alex. Butler, and refreshments were afterwards served by the ladies of the parish.

FAIRBANK SOCIETIES HOLD FINE CONCERT

A well-attended concert was given by the combined societies of the Young People and the Men's Association of St. John's Anglican Church, Fairbank. The members presented an acceptable sketch, entitled "More Blunders Than One," and several well-attended musical numbers completed the program. The chair was occupied by Alex. Butler, and refreshments were afterwards served by the ladies of the parish.

DANFORTH

Permits to the amount of $450,000 have been issued by York Township during the present month, mainly for dwellings of the five and six-roomed type. Permits for 100 more dwellings have been issued during the present month than for the corresponding month of last year, according to William Dever, building inspector.

In order to facilitate the handling of the calls at sub-postal station "Y," Danforth, avenue, the North Riverdale district, which it is stated is being improved by the unsanitary condition of the premises, Alderman Richard Honeyford has requested the mayor to request the commissioner on behalf of the residents and has requested that the roadway be paved as soon as possible.

Lozge Todmorden, Sons of England, No. 278, held a well attended meeting in the hall, Danforth avenue, last night, when several new members were initiated and regular routine business transacted. William Pugsley, president, occupied the chair.

A deputation of Ward Two Ratepayers' Association, consisting of Roy J. Tanner, M. Crobie, J. Miller, Miss Kathleen Pringle, P. Fairley and A. McDonald will appear before the property committee of the board of education on Thursday to request that the grounds of Park School be converted into a supervised playground for the young people over 14 years of age, and also to ask that O'Neill's school, which is situated on the corner of Danforth and Broadview, be converted into a supervised playground for the young people over 14 years of age, and also to ask that O'Neill's school, which is situated on the corner of Danforth and Broadview, be converted into a supervised playground for the young people over 14 years of age.

The Young People's Society of First Avenue Baptist Church held an enjoyable banquet and social evening in the hall, Danforth avenue, last night, when a varied musical program was contributed, and a large number of members were present.

The funeral of the late Mrs. W. H. Hillock, who died after a short illness at her late residence, 81 Simpson avenue, in her 86th year, will take place at Mount Pleasant cemetery this afternoon. The late Mrs. Hillock, who is survived by her husband and daughter, Ruth, was an active member of St. John's Presbyterian Church, and was well known in musical circles in Toronto.

Designing Engineer Clark of the Toronto harbor commission, gave an interesting address on the harbor development slides, before a large gathering of Hope Methodist Senior Epworth League members in the Sunday school room, Danforth avenue, last night. A musical program was contributed by local talent. Miss Lillian Sewell, president, occupied the chair.

FATHER W. T. DAVIS

Son of St. Clare Members Will Be Stationed in Toronto Archdiocese.

EARLSCOURT

Rev. William T. Davis, who was ordained on Saturday last in the archdiocese, Rome, is the only surviving son of Arthur and Elizabeth Davis, well known parishioners of St. Clare's Church, Earlscourt. Father Davis began his sacerdotal career at Blair's Church, Aberdeen, Scotland, in 1892, and afterwards to St. Mary's, Bearden, and from there to Protoparaganda, Rome, where he was ordained to the priesthood. He will shortly take up his duties in the archdiocese of Toronto.

In conversation with The World the proud parents stated that their son was for an ordinary, hard working, and loving son, two others, Arthur and George, having been killed while on active service.

CLARKSON TO DISCUSS NEW SCHOOL SECTION

Women's Institute Makes Preparation for Big Work During Summer.

An important meeting is to be held on Thursday evening next in the school house of School Section No. 8, at which will be discussed the question of the formation of a new school section from parts of sections 4, 5 and 6 and 19. The matter will be discussed by the council and the public school inspector will be in attendance. It is considered likely that the proposed change will be strongly opposed by the supporters of section 5, as they have recently built a new school and would be against any plan which would decrease the number amongst whom the debt is distributed. The other sections, however, will probably pronounce unanimously in favor of the change.

The Clarkson Women's Institute are making extensive preparations for a big summer season's work. With the view of adding to their funds, a sale of home-made cooking has been arranged for May 24th, in conjunction with a "White Plant" sale. The sum of $20 has been donated by the organization to the city executive of the W.I. towards the up-keep of the school house.

A meeting of the local Dramatic Club is called for Friday night, when a cast will be chosen for a new play to be produced in the near future.

Oakwood Ladies Hold

Oakwood Ladies' Community Club held their last social event of the season last night at Oakwood Hall, when a large attendance of members and friends spent a enjoyable evening in dancing and playing cards. At the close of the proceedings prizes were awarded to the winners.

RATEPAYERS WANT THE ORDER OBEYED

Government Asked to Have Railway Companies Fulfill Viaduct Contract.

CALEDONIA.

"In view of the fact that the ratepayers of the city of Toronto are practically unanimous in their determination to rid their waterfront of the intolerable and dangerous nuisance of level crossings, and in view of the obvious intention of the Canadian Pacific Railway to discontinue the order of the court to pay their share of the cost of building a viaduct, and in view of the fact that this city's entire representation support your government, we demand that you prove to the country at large that no matter how strong a corporation they must obey the court's orders as promptly as any individual."

The foregoing resolution was passed by the Caledonia Ratepayers' Association at last night's meeting, held in Hushes School. The resolution will be presented to the prime minister and the board of railway commissioners. It was passed unanimously.

Bridges Not Suitable.
Controller Russell Nesbitt, speaking of the immediate need of the viaduct, quoted the late Judge Mayes as follows: "I am free to confess that when I embarked upon this inquiry I thought of the advisability of bridges, but I am driven to the belief, that ten years hence they would have to be torn down."

"In 1912," continued the controller, "came the commencement of active operations by the Toronto harbor commission, appropriating all property south of the viaduct to a point near Parliament. War then intervened, but in 1920 the railway commission proposed to the city and harbor commission that, in view of present conditions, they were unable to proceed and suggested a postponement for a period of ten years."

The way in which plans made by the T. Eaton Co. for the erection of a mail order building to cost $4,000,000, were abandoned, was explained by Controller Nesbitt as being caused by the delay of the construction of the viaduct. "The railway commission," he concluded, "want something temporary—we want something permanent."

Controlled by Gibbons Supports.
Controller J. Gibbons also gave a lengthy address, in which he alluded to the time when the viaduct was under the decision compelling the railways to build the viaduct, and the fact that the agreement between the city and the railways was confirmed by the late Judge Mayes.

Dr. McIntosh also gave an interesting comparison, showing how Chicago and New York, from their waterfront development, have made faster progress in industry and other lines than Toronto.

WYCHWOOD RESIDENT IS LAID AT REST

Friends and relatives assembled yesterday in St. Michael and All Angels' Anglican Church yesterday afternoon to pay their last respects to Edward Port, of 1011 Danforth avenue, who died Friday afternoon, last night, after a long illness, at his late residence, 1011 Danforth avenue, last night. A musical program was contributed by local talent. Miss Lillian Sewell, president, occupied the chair.

The conflict among residents of Wyckwood regarding the proposed park site on a 10-acre tract, is still at its height. Discussing the matter with The World, Tom Jones, J.P., who is fighting for the establishment of a park, said that unfair methods were used by the other side, who, he said, "are representing the case to the people, among whom they are circulating a petition. The park will not be used for baseball or football purposes, as they assert, but will be a quiet, respectable park."

The matter will be discussed fully at a meeting with the parks commissioner, at 3.30 this afternoon.

Regulations for Taking the Vote on April 18

THE Parliament of Canada has recently passed a bill regulating the taking of the vote on the Referendum on Ontario on April 18. The points to remember are as follows:

1. Every British subject by birth or naturalization, man or woman, resident in the Dominion of Canada one year previous to February 1, 1921, and resident in the Province of Ontario for two months previous to same date, is entitled to vote, unless otherwise disqualified.
2. Voters' Lists used in the last provincial referendum are the lists to be used in this Referendum, subject to revision. Every voter in an urban polling division must be on the list, and will presumably be on the list only in the division in which he resides.
3. In incorporated cities and towns of 1,000 population or over, arrangements will be made for receiving applications from any who are not now on the list on March 29 to April 4 inclusive—except Sunday—when for six clear days officers will sit to receive such applications.
4. In rural polling divisions the voter must be either on the list or be put upon it as a resident and be vouched for as such by another resident.
5. Both affirmative and negative sides have the right to select scrutineers.
6. Women have the right to vote.

HOPE TO SETTLE LABOR DISPUTES

Plan of Joint Industrial Councils May Prevent Future Tie-ups.

Future labor disputes in Canada will be settled by arbitration if a campaign looking towards the formation of the joint industrial councils between employers and employees, which has now been instituted by the Dominion department of labor, achieved the measure of success which is hoped for.

The movement has been brought to Toronto by T. A. Stevenson, representing the federal department of labor, who arrived in this city yesterday from Ottawa, and who outlined the proposed scheme to The World in an interview at the Prince George Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Stevenson, who for about eight years was secretary of the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council, resigned from that post to become labor's representative with the department of labor's civil re-establishment previously proposed in 1918. He was also typographical union. He has now undertaken the task of helping the establishment of joint industrial councils.

The plan is the result of the findings of the royal commission on industrial relations, which brought forth a recommendation favoring the formation of joint industrial councils and workshop committees, and which recommended that a bureau department of labor which would appoint representatives to act as liaison officers between employers and workers in the formation of such councils and to render every possible assistance looking to greater co-operation between firms and the men.

Among the objects leading to the formation of a joint industrial council is to provide a means whereby one hand employees may present their views to the management with relations to the working conditions and also so the workers may better understand and appreciate the position of the business which the management is conducting. Some of the committees are charged with the administration of trust funds and address benefit and other committees with questions of policy relating to wages, hours, working conditions, safety, sanitation and health.

The basis of employees' representation on the joint committees averages about one representative for each 30 workers, the choice being made by secret ballot. An equal number of officials represent the management. The result of the operation of these joint committees or councils of industry are already reported upon most favorably by the firms who have established them and which include The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, Ltd., The Gray-Dort Motors, Ltd., The Gutta Percha and Rubber, Ltd., The Imperial Oil, Ltd., The Massey-Harris Co., Ltd., The Canadian Paper Co. of Canada, Ltd., The Spaulding Pulp and Paper Mills, Ltd., The Robb Engineering Works, Ltd., The Kerr & Co. Ltd., The Swift Canadian Co. and the Consolidated Rubber Co.

These councils are further represented by a council representing a certain line of industry in a city and from provincial and finally by federal councils. In case an agreement in a labor dispute cannot be settled by a local council it is submitted to the higher councils until it finally reaches the national council.

NOT CONFIRMING WAGE RUMOR. Montreal, March 28.—J. W. Norcross, president of the Canada Steamships Company, this morning refused to confirm a rumor that his company was about to announce a 20 per cent. reduction in wages. He would not say that the report was entirely false, but it was as yet too early in the season to state what policy would be adopted.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS

Being the Confessions of the Seven-Hundredth Wife

Verily, verily, my daughter, there is a reason for everything under the sun, and a "wherefore" for every "why"—even for a man's choice of a wife.

For in every man's life, there be two kinds of women.

The kind which he ought to marry, wisely to marry, and intend to marry—and the kind which he DOTH marry.

Now, behold, there dwell on the Upper West Side, a Young Bachelor, the wind was dusty, and the stars were covered with mist, he sallied forth in search of adventure.

And it so happened that on that evening his dinner had been bad and he had eaten too heartily thereof, and his foot lay heavy upon his soul.

Likewise, he had tolled all day in the market-places and his spirit was a-weary.

And ill-fortune had pursued him. He had lost much money in a Big Deal.

And he had read in his newspaper that his pet stocks had dropped seven points.

And his cigar was atrocious. And he had had no wine with his evening meal.

Yet, it so chanced, that upon this night of all others he met the RIGHT GIRL, even her, who would make him happy all the days of his life!

But, alas, his eyes were turned inward, and he SAW her not!

Yes, she was fairer than the sky of dawn, and sweeter than the voice of Galli-Curiel, and more worthy than a Christmas charity fund, he passed her by without stopping.

Now, behold, upon another night, the Young Bachelor again set forth in search of diversion.

And it so chanced that the moon was "just right!"

And the stars twinkled, and the

RIFLE SHOOTING GAINS RECRUITS

Dominion Association Extends Recognition to All Canadian Units.

Appreciating the importance of strengthening Canada's position in rifle shooting, the Dominion Rifle Association has extended recognition to the 8000 members who comprise the 195 clubs and from now on graduates of Dominion Marksmen will be immediately eligible to from membership in the association.

This information was received at the headquarters of Dominion Marksmen in Montreal in a telegram from Col. R. J. Blaikie, Ottawa, secretary of the Dominion Rifle Association, as follows: "Executive committee of Dominion Rifle Association has decided to give one year's membership in association to all graduates of Dominion Rifle Association."

The Dominion Marksmen scheme was inaugurated in 1917. Today the number of clubs is 195, extending from coast to coast. Interest has been taken in this organization, and it has been formed into a series of rifle shooting units under the regulations of the Dominion Rifle Association. The Dominion Marksmen scheme is a series of rifle shooting units under the regulations of the Dominion Rifle Association. The Dominion Marksmen scheme is a series of rifle shooting units under the regulations of the Dominion Rifle Association.

While there have been provincial and special awards in rifle shooting, the Dominion Rifle Association has been unfortunate in the past that when members attained the age of 19 they were automatically dropped from membership, and unless they acted upon their own initiative they were lost to the association. Recognition of the Dominion Rifle Association removes this condition and members of the senior organization as soon as they have reached the age of 19, may remain in the association.

BRITAIN IS EXPECTING IMPROVED CONDITIONS

Washington, March 28.—There is a noticeable feeling of optimism in Great Britain and a note of expectation in the air. This is stated in a report submitted to the United States secretary of labor today by Rowland B. Mahany, who was sent to Europe by the Wilson administration to extend the terms of the international commission on immigration and emigration.

Mr. Mahany expresses the belief that the present large number of laboring classes of both Great Britain and France want to emigrate to the United States, but are finding it impossible to do so because of money. In France, he says, the present rate of exchange on the franc is an almost insurmountable barrier to immigration.

HUMAN WELFARE GREAT OBJECTIVE

Methodist Ministerial Association, in Report, Deals With Social Reforms.

In a report issued by the Methodist Ministerial Association of Toronto yesterday, social and industrial reforms are dealt with at length. While affirming that human life is more valuable than machinery, it asks Methodists to study social and economic problems closely. In dealing with reconstruction problems the report points out two great perils to be faced: (1) The inconsiderateness which, in dealing with the complexity of the problem, seeks to foster a demand for sudden and violent overhauls; and (2) that attachment to the present social order which opposes even just and necessary changes.

The report states that the committee formulated principles which in their opinion are "true and natural expressions of the Christian spirit." The first principle enunciated is that human welfare must become the supreme and universal objective of commerce and industry; and a proper and just livelihood should be secured for all engaged. Such remuneration and leisure as are demanded by normal living must, the committee assert, be a first charge on every industry. Brotherhood must also be recognized as a working principle and any one denial of the democratic spirit should not be wanting in industry.

The committee further urges three cardinal essentials, namely, knowledge, industry and social conditions, which should be entered into in the broadest sympathy; freedom, which would be the one of the special functions of a religion, whose history is so largely the history of those who broke new trails; and temper, "with which all spirit of the world situation is full of peril."

PACKING HOUSE WORKERS MEET

Tonight's Meeting is Expected to Determine the Strike Issue.

A mass meeting of the 1,600 employees of the packing houses will be held at Royal Templars' Hall tonight to decide what action will be taken on the 15 per cent. wage reduction proposed by the employers.

Business Manager L. Braithwaite of the Packing House Workers' Union declares that the cut would mean an average reduction in pay of 24 per cent. There is also a threat of a ten-hour work day.

As the agreement between the workers and the employers terminates on Thursday, the question of a strike on the wage reduction issue will probably be voted on at tonight's mass meeting.

Good home made bread is the most palatable, wholesome and nourishing food in the world. It is far more economical than any other staple food. If people would eat less meat and other heavy foods they would feel better and help to keep down the cost of living. Bread made in the home with Royal Yeast Cakes is more nourishing and appetizing than any other. Nothing healthier for children and grown ups.

Scientists have discovered that yeast possesses remarkable curative powers due to its richness in vitamins—that by its use the blood is purified and enriched, and the resistive power of the body to disease greatly enhanced. Soak a cake of Royal Yeast for half an hour in a cup of luke-warm water with one teaspoon sugar. Then stir well and strain once or twice through muslin and drink the liquid. BETTER results will be obtained by allowing it to soak overnight and drinking half an hour before breakfast. Repeat as often as desired. TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 29.

Let Us Take a Common-Sense and Not a Hysterical View of the Railway Situation.

The railway deficit or so-called "situation" is responsible for a good many suggestions, not very well thought out. One man wants a "survey," another is going to "write off" some imaginary capital, and a third is looking for a superman with a super salary to do something or other overnight. Others think that the situation calls for an investigation by parliament. Few are willing to profit by the homely example of the Hydro-Electric.

The Hydro-Electric succeeded by economy and hard work. That is how it succeeded. True, Sir Adam Beck's personality helped, and he has been in many ways the driving force behind the enterprise. But the bulk of the men who did the work were not supermen or American experts. They were honest, painstaking, faithful servants of the public who transacted business in a business way. The Hydro-Electric could not keep out of politics in the broad sense of the term because public money was voted for its development, but it became so strong in the public confidence that no politician dared to wreck it or even assail it.

Premier Drury has been credited with such a design, but we believe he will find in reasonable accord with the system and its working out. Government ownership and operation is not responsible for the deficit on the National Railways. What would that deficit have been under private ownership and operation we can only judge by looking to the United States, where private ownership lost more money for the railways in twelve months than public ownership did in twenty-six months! Their operating expenses have increased with such rapidity that the stockholders themselves are crying out in alarm for government operation. The "Warfield plan" proposed by the Association of Railway Security Holders and soon to be before congress, would substitute government control for corporation control. The "Plumb plan" would go further by virtually turning over the railways to the railway train men under government control. Few indeed can be found to defend the Esch-Cummins law, which returned the roads to private ownership and operation. It is recognized that the government would soon be bankrupted or the whole transportation system break down unless the magnates are fired and the government again takes over the burden of operating the railways of the United States. We are better off in Canada because we already have the roads, and the thing now is to manage them in the public interest.

The people own the roads and the general direction of policy must rest with the representatives of the people in parliament assembled. To keep up the pretence that the Canadian National and the Grand Trunk are corporations like the Canadian Pacific and almost as independent of parliament will get us nowhere. The government must bring into force the legislation passed two years ago on this subject and probably will do so after the Grand Trunk has been taken over on the ninth of April.

The operation of the government railway system must of necessity be confined to practical railway men, and their work must largely be judged by the result. If there be suspicion of wrongdoing or inefficiency, parliament may intervene, but the good sense of the house and the good sense of the country will prevent making a political football out of our National Railways. A struggle is impending in the United States which will result, we believe, in a reduction of rates and a reduction of operating expenses, but not necessarily a drastic cut in wages. Too much of a bogey is made of the high wages paid railway men, and people go about repeating a statement by Hon. J. D. Reid that 75c out of every dollar earned goes for wages. That is scarcely a fair way to put it. When we come to examine the statistics further we find that less than 60 per cent. of the operating expenses was chargeable to wages. The big leak was somewhere else and that is the leak which must be found and stopped. This is a more urgent duty than harking at the pay rail. When wages are adjusted in the United States our wages will be re-adjusted automatically on the same basis. In the meantime greater economies can be effected by cutting out duplication of service, by substituting on many short lines electricity for steam and by an increase of efficiency all along the system.

The directors of the Canadian National, we understand, are about to report another surplus in the operation of the Canadian merchant marine. This will bring disappointment to many who have been saying that the deficit on the steamships and boats would be as big as the deficit on the trains. The national transportation situation is not half as bad as many people would have us believe. It could be a great deal better. It will be made better not by a miracle man or a revolution overnight but by hard work and hard economy.

Let us give the national railways a chance. They will not have a fair chance until after they are joined up with the old Grand Trunk. Let us curb this everlasting tendency to throw bricks at a government road merely because it is a government road. Let us at least be thankful that our Canadian railways are not in the dreadful mess into which the railways of the United States have been plunged by another trial of private ownership. You will not see any more propaganda circulated in Ottawa about the success of things to the south of us!

But parliament ought to discuss the situation, but begin by insisting on the consolidation of all its railway properties, including the Grand Trunk. And then for economy and reasonable efficiency.

Widening or Paralleling Yonge Street.

In these days of tight money, the best thing to do with any available funds is to make them serve the best purpose possible; and at the same time provide the greatest amount of work; to remove obstacles in the way of advance; to deal with necessities rather than superfluous undertakings. No part of the city is at present handicapped to anything like the extent of that section east of Yonge street, and north of Bloor to the north city limit. Therefore, if the city has any funds available they should be used in opening up this territory which has been hived in because of physical difficulties.

The World a few days ago published a plan of improving transportation, possible thru this section by a direct thoroughfare and car line clear from the north end of the city to the south, with a bridge thru Rosedale, and affording a relieving line to Yonge street, now the only thoroughfare providing access to the north. The widening of Yonge street will cost a great deal of money, and even if it is finished, while it would be a most acceptable improvement, would offer practically no further relief to the congested state of Rosedale and beyond.

If it is impossible to get money for the new north and south street for all the east end of Yonge street, together with the proposed widening of Yonge street, one may have to be deferred "not sacrificed; and there can be no question as to which this should be. If Rosedale, Moore Park and beyond are opened up by a new thoroughfare the money will be largely spent in construction and labor; whereas Yonge street widening will simply turn over the money for the demolition of present structures to land and owners of buildings for the contribution which they make to the width of the street. This is the situation as it exists, and the city council has to settle the matter of the ability of the city to finance before the program is decided upon. If they can't finance both, why not the relieving street, and a better distribution of the money and the work?

Russia Still Trading.

The general view about Russia is that it is in so chronic a condition that no interchange has been possible with outside countries. It will be news, therefore, to learn, according to the National City Bank of New York, that trade with Russia by outside communities for 1920 was practically only about 25 per cent. below that of the year 1918. Great Britain seems to have been successful in keeping up its connection, more so than any other country, and the records show that the interchange of trade between Great Britain and Russia for 1920 was $247,000,000, as compared with $312,000,000 for the pre-war year.

Under the new arrangement between England and the tentative Russian government it would appear that it will not be long before the figures of 1913 are surpassed, considering the records made during last year, when trading was hampered by all kinds of difficulties. Russia is thought to offer a big market for manufacturers from other countries, and, notwithstanding the disturbed conditions for the past three years, there are large supplies of raw materials, which will be acceptable to such countries as are open to do business with Russia. England and Germany are both bidding for this business. The United States is bound by moral compunctions of some kind. But Uncle Sam is getting busy to break in for a share of it.

Remark in Passing.

Turkey is going to tax all her bachelors heavily. They certainly get off easily in a country where so many men have two or more wives.

Well, if there's one young man in all this world whose pleasant smile can charm the snakes of discord out of Ireland, Sir Edward, Prince of Wales.

The western provinces may brag as they like about their great coal deposits, but with the thermometer there recording anywhere from ten to twenty-four degrees below zero they need it.

Montreal master plumbers will henceforth pay for work done, and not by the hour, and to see the way U. S. purpose possible; and at the same time provide the greatest amount of work; to remove obstacles in the way of advance; to deal with necessities rather than superfluous undertakings. No part of the city is at present handicapped to anything like the extent of that section east of Yonge street, and north of Bloor to the north city limit. IMPORTATION AND BOOTLEGGING.
Editor World: Will you permit me to touch in your paper upon one phase of the referendum campaign that, I think, has so far been lost sight of. Those who would stop all importation of liquor into Ontario claim that such a measure would also stop bootlegging and end illicit liquor dealing for all time. They claim too much for too much. No liquor is now allowed to be legally imported into the United States. Yet there is not a day in which big seizures of whiskey and dealers in whiskey exist. Parts of the country and liquor dealers themselves have admitted that the stamping out of the traffic is a hopeless job. The prohibition law is unpopular; a large section of the people will not observe it, and all law and order is brought into disrepute. The same thing is true in Ontario now. Such rank oppression makes us gasp. How they must suffer there! As now they cannot shake their heads with trombones and swear. They cannot shimmy any more or stunts along that line, which gives great pleasure to our youth and dislocates their spine. They'll have to curb their restless feet which spat and pump audibly, and settle down in hopeless state to raising fields of corn.

No more they'll hear the "wicked blare" that makes a dumb man sing. "Oh, Death, where is thy sting?" They cannot shake the shimmy now to drive away the blues. Nor follow out the doctor's words to "shake before you use."

There are thousands of such a tale, for jazz is now the referendum and this illegal traffic will cease. There was none of it carry the war measures act was in force.

Craving to drugs and the use of habit-forming drugs. It is very seldom that one meets with a morphine or cocaine addict. The law is becoming more and more strict on the use of these drugs, and the drug habit is rapidly becoming things of the past.

Tommy and the Promise "Bug"

By IDA L. WEBSTER.

THESE are people in the world who have the "promise" habit. Every time they get in a crowd they immediately begin making promises—usually without the slightest reason or excuse. Of course, in the case of most politicians who are affected with the disease, it is merely a case of either breaking up or trying to be a wonderful friend or the crowd take it all as a vote-catcher.

Our illustrious mayor, Thomas Langton Church, has been seriously afflicted with this promise thing for a number of years. Indeed so great a hold has it on him that it is safe to say that at one time or another he has promised everything under the heavens to this person or the other one. And mind you, Tommy is no respecter of people; he just sails ahead and showers promises on all whom he meets.

His latest promise was made at the university on Saturday, when he told the assembly crowd that he would proclaim a public holiday this week as a slight token of his appreciation for what the lads had done.

Every sport-loving person in Toronto is as proud as the proverbial punch of an afternoon thousands turned out to watch the victors parade, and their cheers were just as enthusiastic as those of either Mayor Church or the students, but, like all citizens in a large city, they must not be expected to cheer indefinitely.

If the mayor proclaims a public holiday he will be the actual cause of losing thousands of dollars to various business houses. Few employers wish to keep an "open shop" when the city asks for a holiday, and we can afford to have so many holidays?

Certainly workmen who are not paid for their lost time have no desire to lay off more than is absolutely necessary, and on no account would they be willing to lose real money which is no doubt sorely needed in their homes just about these times.

Rhyming Views On Daily News

By GEORGE H. DIXON.

The way that people are oppressed in European states, was never quite brought home to us, or how such harshness gates.

But now we know its awful scope—how for now they're going to stop the jazz out there in Hungary.

The minister of home affairs in distant Budapest has issued such a decree that subjects thus oppressed. His mandate firm he's handed out, that all must give the razz to fox trots, one steps, shimmy shakes, and last, not least, the jazz.

He did not mince his words at all about our inroad sport, and we can almost hear him vent his anti-jazzic spirit. "They're wicked, shocking, unrefined," and other names he stressed, and said that that was why they put the pest in Budapest.

To think in this enlightened age, we'd hear of such a tale, for jazz is now the referendum and this illegal traffic will cease. There was none of it carry the war measures act was in force.

Craving to drugs and the use of habit-forming drugs. It is very seldom that one meets with a morphine or cocaine addict. The law is becoming more and more strict on the use of these drugs, and the drug habit is rapidly becoming things of the past.

I merely wish this that your readers of such a tale, for jazz is now the referendum and this illegal traffic will cease. There was none of it carry the war measures act was in force.

The World's KLEATH Weekly Novel

By Madge Macbeth
Copyright, 1917, by Small, Maynard & Co.

"That is shortsighted policy. The result will be a breakdown." The girl shook her head.

"I am going to pick you up and take you home," said Kleath. "You are not able to stand, much less to dance."

He gathered her frail little body into his arms just as the door opened and Delaney appeared on the threshold.

"The leisure moments of the idle rich," he commented. "Don't let me disturb you. I only came up to borrow a dollar or two, Tessie. Have you cashed yet, my dear?"

"No, not yet."

"Well, I have a rat out of change. If you will give me some of those checks I will turn them over to Meadow and get the equivalent in cash. My spell of good luck is just beginning."

The girl pulled out a handful of tickets and held them toward him. "Oh, you little miser!" He caught her round the waist and held her while he rifled the contents of her purse.

"You can't have a fellow do with a pitance like that when he is going to break the bank?"

She sighed and he left them. "I must go back to work," she said resolutely. Kleath pushed her gently into her chair. "We will call this a dance," he said. "For I want to 'rouse like a Dutch uncle' my dear. Tell me the so-called truth. Tess, do you love Delaney?"

"She wouldn't get away from him."

"I won't answer you," she cried. "It is none of your business."

"You have answered me," he said. "You have answered me. 'Why don't you leave him?'"

Instantly there leaped off her a fierce desire, but she beat it back. "I couldn't—I couldn't—I couldn't!"

"No! That would only be another excuse," he said. "You wouldn't understand, but I feel—she covered her face with her hands and the words were muffled."

"Quite married to him," she continued presently, dabbing her eyes. "I thought—I am not such a baby as I seem. I am a wicked woman of the world."

From below, and a loud knock on the door, closely followed by Len Cavendish and another policeman formed a spectacular bodyguard and looked so imposing that Washburny had their photos taken for tomorrow's paper. Last, but not least, Diamond Tooth Lizzie appeared.

A manly man, who welcomed her and Bill proud almost to the point of hysteria, marched forward and drew her to the scales. "I never shall forget her!" Kleath was doing his utmost to make the story dramatic. "I can see her now, throwing off her wraps and bestiality just as second as the half afraid that perhaps Bill could not make good his offer, thus shaming her in a very foolish light before us all. Then, with a loss of her head and a laugh, she jumped right to the centre of the platform and watched the weight bump with a smile."

"Piling on the dust," shouted Bill excitedly. "They flung it. Fifty—one hundred—ten more—ten again—another ten, still another, and then two more."

"You're a sport, Bill," said Lizzie. "I dunno how much my heart is worth, but I'll throw that in for good measure."

"And right before us all she dragged Kleath."

Kleath, left alone, found himself fascinated by a desire to write a man's life. Then, subduing that hot flame with a dash of cold reason, he sought and found Goldie.

"He was her custom, apart, but not haughtily aloof from the revelers. 'I thought you had gone home,' she said. 'I have been looking for you.'"

"Goldie looked at him with quick understanding. 'Isn't it heart-breaking?'"

"I saw him take her money, tonight. How long has this been going on?"

"Since before you came, at first, he seemed to have a little money, and, as far as we could tell, he was rather kind to her. Then he gambled and lost until there was nothing left, and she had to provide for both of them. Now, even now, Tess makes does not keep straight with Dad. I overheard Dad tell her to throw that in for good measure."

"What do you mean?"

"Why," explained Goldie, "in any of the halls, tabs—I O U's—will be accepted up to a certain amount, depending on a man's salary, or his dump, or his ability to pay in any way, you know. When he has gambled his credit, he is sent into Coventry."

"She is too sick to be dancing tonight. You see, she has been in a daze since she hasn't been like herself for a long time," answered Goldie. "I think she is worrying about Len."

"Why should she worry about Cavendish?"

"Ah, Len's troubles are hers, too. He is awfully in love with her, and he would carry her tomorrow."

"She won't marry him because—well, it wouldn't be fair to him?"

"Goldie said, 'Every one knows that,' she said."

CHA-TER III.
"THE PRINCESS has a rucking case of nerves, but she would like to see you."

Merewat stood, black bag in hand, at the door in his anxiety and in his voice, and then two men came in. "Nothing more natural in the world than to see a girl of her temperment, who spends so much time alone, and who has nothing special to do, wish she could find some of these women companions."

"I don't know," said Len. "Where are you off to half a dozen places. Pneumonia, mostly. Heaven only knows when I shall see you. You know, it is simply desperate—the leaving of her so much alone. Why, I have not been home before 2 o'clock in the morning since—since—well, I can't remember just when, and you yourself, know what the meals are like."

"She ought to go away for a while," suggested Kleath.

"I've suited his bag to the other hand," said Len. "I don't think it will make it necessary for him to linger a moment to discuss this topic."

"You know, Old Man, sometimes the worst of things is to be told. She won't hear of going—bless her heart! She is afraid I would forget to eat or to sleep, and she is so much alone. Not here. There was a time when she wanted to go, when she hated Dawson, but now—now she loves him and she loves the things she hated. Look at Clare—ready to stay here, just for me."

He paused, clutched his throat and shifted the bag again.

His cheerful whistle grew faint and died away before Kleath moved. Christopher Kleath went to the Meredith home, with the same sensation a small boy would feel at preparing to take a punishment; he did not deserve, and he stepped into Clare's presence in no very sympathetic mood.

"What you need is a collar buttoned at the back and a bundle of tracts," she complained, without rising from the couch upon which she was lying. Her tone was hardly flippant; it was more defiant, as the forestalling a sermon from him.

"Well, I choose to ignore the challenge."

"That usually means from a woman, 'What gossip have you to tell me?' or 'What news do you have?' or 'What are you doing?' or 'What are you thinking?'"

He had resolved that night, as he walked to the house, to let Clare understand what he was thinking. He had intended to tell her, even the mildest, held out no alternative to him. He had often wished to tell her, and of her refusal to be diverted, and of her refusal to be diverted, notwithstanding which he continued.

"I was quite a ceremony. Eddie Farnum burst with a sense of his responsibility and even the manager of the platform and the revelers, marched forward and drew her to the scales. 'I never shall forget her!' Kleath was doing his utmost to make the story dramatic. 'I can see her now, throwing off her wraps and bestiality just as second as the half afraid that perhaps Bill could not make good his offer, thus shaming her in a very foolish light before us all. It was a lively contest and was not decided until 15 minutes of the third period elapsed. Royal were very much in the lead at this stage. The first two periods saw a see-saw battle and it was anybody's game. Domination opened the scoring five minutes after the game got under way. Aggett took a pass from Jeffrey and slipped it in. Royal got a soft one that was lifted from near centre. It was a dominating puck and went right down into the net. They then took the lead in the second period, which was very fast and close. Domination scored twice in the second period and once in the third. It was in the last period that Domination had the edge for the first time and ran out winners 3 to 2.

THESE NINE STARS ONCE WITH RED SOX

Ruth, Speaker, Etc., Scattered Around and Hugh Duffy
Has His Troubles.

A New York sport writer, who has visited a number of the big league training camps in the past few days, in a special article on the Boston Americans, outlines the difficulties which confront Hugh Duffy, the manager of the trade-ridden Red Sox. He says, in part: "It doesn't seem possible for a one-time champion baseball team to have much of the championship punch left after disposing of the star of the following seven recognized stars: Babe Ruth, Carl Mays, Tris Speaker, Harry Hooper, Duffy Lewis, Jack Barry, Larry Gardner, Wally Schang and Ernie Shore. Not long ago all these famous fellows were wearing Boston uniforms, and not long ago the Red Sox were world's champions. Now all of them are gone. If all were in the same line today—even if one or two of them have passed their best days—the Red Sox undoubtedly would be favorites for the 1921 pennant.

"As it is, Hugh Duffy, who has taken the job of leading the Red Sox, is huddled and struggling with a bunch of lesser lights, some of whom have not yet reported because of salary differences. Everett Scott, at short, is the best in the American League. Stuffy McInnis, who is looked for first base, but who will not play for the money offered, is one of the great first basemen. Del Pratt, who accepted the job of coach at the University of Michigan, is a capable man at second base, but who is not so impressive. Muddy Ruel, with the Yanks last year, and Al Walters, with the Yanks the year before, are the catchers. The outfield is supposed to have Tim Hendrix in left, Shane Collins in center and LeRoy Wright in right.

The Washington Americans regular squad, twenty-five strong, arrived at Daytona Fla., yesterday to play their first exhibition game of the season against the Daytona Club of the Florida State League. The Nationals thus ended their twenty-six day spring training stay at Tampa. The regular squad will play the second game at Jacksonville later in the week, and will begin a barnstorming trip to Washington thru Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia.

Carl Zork and Ben Franklin of St. Louis, indicted in Chicago Saturday in connection with the baseball scandal, and charged with being organizers of an alleged plot to throw the 1919 series, are expected to be released from jail in Chicago this week and furnish $48,000 bond for their appearance for trial. In a joint statement, they made a general denial of the charge.

The Boston Americans yesterday left their spring training grounds at Hot Springs, Ark., beginning a trip thru the eastern states to play a series of games which they will meet various minor league teams in exhibition games. Their first stop will be Memphis, Tenn., where they are scheduled to play tomorrow and Wednesday.

Theodore Breitenstein, for many years a familiar figure in organized baseball, has been spotted to play for the St. Louis Cardinals. He was formerly an umpire for the Missouri-Illinois League, and is now playing for the Cardinals.

Memphis has purchased Outfielder Joe Whitton from the Toledo Club, and now he will have a chance to show his stuff. He is a former Southern League pitcher, and did not admit the foibles of association twice last year.

HUNTING FOR GOOD PITCHERS.

HARNESS HORSE NEWS AND GOSSIP

Six Shortship Tracks in Michigan Already Offer Stakes.

Detroit, March 28.—Definite announcement of the $10,000 stakes to be raced in the shortship circuit is made by Thomas P. Morris, secretary. Six of the early meetings have baited their hooks with $36,000 worth of events for the horsemen.

The difference in opinion between Dexter Park and Mt. Clemens has been adjusted, so that Detroit's oval will take the second week, June 6 to 11, the opening of the circuit taking place in Grand Rapids on Decoration Day.

Mt. Clemens is the first stop where the $10,000 races will be held. The meeting there is set for the week of June 13. Following meetings at Detroit, June 20; Saginaw, June 27; Port Huron, July 4; Bay City, July 10; Alpena, July 18. Entries close April 15.

Classes of the stakes are the 2:13, 2:17 and 2:24 trotters, and 2:13, 2:17 and 2:24 pacers. It is a wise move to make the slowest classes the time honored 2:24, as it will give things a better chance. Of course, under the allowance rule some of the 2:13 trotters can get back into this, but these veterans have nothing on the sprightly greenies.

At all of these meetings there will be a couple of faster classes for pacers, and if the material is equal in sight there may be 2:00 trot.

Dexter Park will be the scene of a number of matinee times. It is likely that the first one will be a two-day affair, May 29 and 30. The meeting will be decided upon at a meeting of the club on Monday evening at Herndon Wayne, 728 Bates street, while this is the date of the opening at Grand Rapids the racing here will not conflict with that at the second of the matinee horsemen. Those that are not going to be shipped to Grand Rapids.

Last year Dexter Park gave $200 purses to the matinee races, and the plan is to give $100 added money, taking nothing from starters or money winners, so it amounts to the same gross, while it entices the owner of a doubtful prospect to start without having to pay the usual $10 for the privilege.

The first regular race meeting at Dexter Park, June 6 week, will be five days with $5,000 or $6,000 purses. In the old days the Cleveland folk had a lot of chumps in the Detroit Driving Club, but they would not give $10,000 for the M. & C. Cleveland generally has $8,000 or $5,000 as the top figure.

Now Cleveland comes out with $15,000 for free-for-all trotters at the August meeting. Sportsman that he is, Mr. Devereux has his own cut, Arion Guy, 2:04 3-4, also, he has Peter Manning. There are a dozen stars in sight for this race, which should be a contest.

Hartford increases the Charter Oak to $20,000, but makes three divisions of it, $5,000 for 2:12 trotters, $5,000 for 2:08 trotters and $10,000 for 2:04 trotters.

Horses are fetching fancy prices these days. Grace Direct went for $10,000 in the New York auction. Addison Guy for $6,200, the three-year-old Ammunition for $5,700, and a yearling for $1,525. On the second day the money is scarce.

Another Baseball Fatality. Blacksburg, Va., March 28.—Lawrence Virginia Polytechnic Institute, a student at the night instantly killed her yesterday after the hands of his friend slipped from her. Forke is pronounced dead in the college hospital under physicians' care.

Oxford Golf Club Ladies. Woodstock, Ont., March 28.—(Special.) Country Club have elected the following officers: Mrs. A. Gardner, president; Miss Madge, second vice-president; Miss Malone, assistant secretary; Mrs. T. W. Gray, Mrs. H. H. White and Miss Bell, conveners.

All players of the Wm. Davies F. C. should turn out for practice on Dunlop's ground tomorrow evening at 8.30.

MORE NEW OFFERS FOR THE BIG FIGHT

Nevada Silver Mining Camp Names Eight Hundred Thousand Purse.

New York, March 28.—Two new offers of sites for the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship were made to Promoter Tex Rickard today. One came from a Nevada silver mining camp, and guaranteed the pugilistic impresario the sum of $800,000 if he would stage the contest there on July 4. The other was presented by representatives of a London syndicate, and included a half-million dollar offer for the bout if it could be staged in the Olympiad during Derby week.

Rickard took the offers under consideration, and said that a final decision might be expected during the present week, unless untoward circumstances arose to delay his selection of the place of battle.

From authoritative sources, it was learned that the London syndicate, headed by Mr. J. H. MacBeth, of the London syndicate, and included a half-million dollar offer for the bout if it could be staged in the Olympiad during Derby week.

DEMAND IS SMALL IN CATTLE MARKET

Prices Are Inclined to Be Lower—Good Buying of Butcher Cows.

With 2,200 cattle on sale yesterday, the market was not better than the close of the week. The best demand was shown for heavy-weight butchers, cattle showing fat and quality, and the medium, low priced butchers. Very good demand was shown for butcher cows.

The market was lower and inclined to drag on steers with weight, variously estimated at from 500 to 750 lbs on this class. The bull market held about steady.

For much cows and springers the market was unchanged. Choice steers and cows sold at satisfactory prices. There was a demand for the young cows for the grass.

There were a number of parties inquiring for Shorthorn stock, but the demand was not very many of this class. Generally the stock was in good condition, and the market was steady.

Reports from Bualo and other outside points showed the cattle generally lower, and this naturally had its reflection here. We think the immediate prospects are for about a steady market, but it is pretty hard to forecast the future at this time.

With around 400 sheep and lambs, the market held about steady. Choice sheep and lambs, heavy and medium, were in demand. Choice sheep, 14 to 16 lbs, were in demand. Choice lambs, 14 to 16 lbs, were in demand.

TREND IN NEW YORK HESITANT AND HEAVY

Further Enforced Readjustment of Commercial and Industrial Conditions Is Reflected—Trading Is Almost Entirely of a Professional Character.

New York, March 28.—The hesitant and occasionally heavy movement of prices on the stock exchange today was again chiefly influenced by incidents and developments which accentuated the further enforced readjustment of commercial and industrial estimates.

This was indicated, for example, by the passing of the Sears-Roebuck and United States Smelting quarterly dividends, coupled with rumors that omissions or reductions of dividend disbursements by other prominent companies are under consideration.

News over the week-end was of a mixed or conflicting character. The stronger portion of the local banks, as shown by last Saturday's returns, encouraged more liberal offers of call and time funds, and eastern centres reported moderate improvement in general lines of business. These hopeful auguries were offset in part by another decline in railway earnings, leading transportation terminals, crop deterioration in several of the southwestern states, and additional wage reductions.

Public Out of Market.
Trading was almost entirely professional, and represented little else than the divergent opinions of that element. Oil, motors, steels, equipments and food and leather specialties comprised fully sixty per cent. of the turnover at extreme declines of one to almost six points.

Rails were only slightly affected by the reaction, and Sears-Roebuck rallied sharply at the finish, the motion picture specialties also showing marked strength, especially Famous Players, sales amounting to 675,000 shares.

The foreign exchange market was at a standstill on a continuation of the Easter holidays abroad, but additional gold imports were received from Europe and South America.

Liberty bonds and most of the international group were steady, but rails continued to ease. Pennsylvania 6½s fell to the new low of 97. Steel sales, par value, aggregated $6,475,000.

ABITIBI DIRECTORS CUT DIVIDEND RATE
Disbursement on Common Stock Lowered From Six to Four Per Cent.

Montreal, March 28.—The board of directors of the Abitibi Power and Paper Company, Limited, here today declared a dividend of 1¢ per share on the no-par-value common stock. This is a reduction of 50 cents per share from the usual quarterly dividend rate, and represents a reduction of 50¢ to 5¢ per annum. Following the meeting the company issued a statement which stated that the dividend of 1¢ per share was payable April 15 next to shareholders of record on April 5.

The directors declared that while earnings for the current quarter would warrant a larger dividend declaration, they deemed it advisable, in view of present general business conditions, to conserve the liquid position of the company. It is presumed in the street that the declaration means a definite and permanent lowering of the dividend rate.

Abitibi has for months been an object of lively speculation on the stock exchange, and the bears anticipated what has come to pass. The stock, which had as high as $7 last year, was forced down to around $3 something over a month ago. When the market closed on Thursday the stock was quoted at 4½. The common stock of the company was originally 50,000 shares of $100 par value, which was redistributed about a year ago in the proportion of five shares of no-par-value stock for each share of old stock held. The dividend on the new common stock was set at the 4¢ rate, which represented 50 per cent. on the old common.

EMPHASIZE NEED OF HYDRO RADIALS

Witness Claims Electric Lines Beat Steam Roads in Getting Business.

PROBE CONTINUES

Fruit Men Also Want Quick, Clean and Effective Service for Traffic.

How an electric line beats all competing steam lines in getting the business was brought out at the resumed sitting of the Sutherland radial commission at Osgoode Hall yesterday by Manager Jas. E. Richards of the London and Port Stanley Electric Railway.

Mr. Richards pointed out that when the line was electrified it was estimated that the passenger traffic would be 450,000, but the 1918 figures showed 548,326 passengers and in 1920 the total rose to 1,002,034. The freight revenue rose from $149,000 in 1916 to $210,000 in 1920.

Mr. Richards stated that 97 per cent. of the business of his line was competitive against the steam roads, and as their location would be much better than that of the London and Port Stanley line.

"Another way in which the L. & P. S. line stood out as against the steam lines was that the former invested all its surplus earnings back into improving the service and all equipment was kept at a 100 per cent. efficiency standard. In fact the road has $100,000 of electrical supplies in store so that if anything is needed it can be had at a moment's notice, thus ensuring perfection of service."

It was further brought out by the witness that the earnings per route mile were $25.75. This despite the fact that an equipment was carried which could handle ten times the present volume of business and which, of course, entailed added expense of upkeep.

While it was shown that the line owned the city of London some $78,000 this was because the profits had been put into improving the service, that municipality preferring to let the electric line improve the service, rather than the upbuilding of London. The line would experience little difficulty raising the money if London put in an immediate call for it.

Desire Clean Service. As an evidence of the healthy condition of the line, the operating ratio of 75.5 of 1919 had been reduced to 68.8 for the year 1920 and was still getting lower.

The need of a good Hydro radial freight service between Toronto and Hamilton was emphasized by H. T. Foster, a fruit grower of Burlington, Ont., who charged that there was only one fruit train daily and that the steam road had provided "old dirty, rotten stock cars." He considered a quick, clean and frequent service was badly needed for fruit if the consumers were to get the fruit in good condition for eating.

W. D. Flatt, another Burlington man, said that while the municipality was only eleven miles from Hamilton the fare on the present steam road was 45c and the service very inadequate. The proposed Hydro-Electric line would cut the distance practically in two as well as the time consumed, and prophesied that as a result the population would increase from 2500 to 10,000 in a few years.

DISCARD QUACKS IN FIGHTING DISEASE

Only Certified Medical Men Allowed to Practice, Says Dr. McCullough.

Only certified medical practitioners may practice upon venereal cases in the province of Ontario, and neither quacks nor quack medicines prevail in the general means to combat this disease. This was the statement made by Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, provincial officer of health for Ontario, yesterday afternoon before an interested gathering of students of sociology at the social service building, University of Toronto.

Among those present at the session was Miss Victoria French, the well-known British lecturer upon the subject. Professor Dale was the chairman of the meeting.

Dr. McCullough, in his address, stated that the co-operation of the press had done much to eliminate the quack and his remedies from the homes of those afflicted with the disease. He outlined the laws governing the province respecting victims of venereal diseases, and pointed out that Ontario had twelve clinics, all running in exact order and all of very high calibre. This was more than many of the finest states in the United States could say. The clinics opened in May, 1920. They treated 44 cases that month, but the figures rose rapidly during the months following. In June they treated 311, 600 in September, 861 in October, 1,116 in November, and 1,235 in February, 1921. Toronto, from July, 1919, to November, 1920, reported 3,849 cases of venereal disease, out of a total population of 512,812.

"The only way to get and retain the confidence of the afflicted is to let the matter be made public," said Dr. McCullough, "and that is why reports of diseases are given by number and not by name."

RECHABITES TO RAISE FEES FOR INITIATION

The annual convention of the Canadian Order of Rechabites was held in Hamilton on Saturday. There was a large attendance.

Amongst the many matters of importance discussed and adopted was that of raising the initiation fees of both juvenile and adult sections of the order in the province. It was also decided that the membership shield should be given to the provincial executive for annual completion of the juvenile sections of the order. The province had been won by the West End Hope Tent, Toronto (Bro. L. Patterson, superintendent), for the year 1920.

The election of the executive officers for the ensuing term resulted as follows: P.C.R., Bro. Wm. Argyle; P.D.C.R., Bro. J. Shepherd; P.S.J.T., Bro. L. Patterson; P.A.S.J.T., Bro. C. Hockridge; provincial secretary, Bro. J. T. Patterson; provincial treasurer, Bro. Jas. Tosh.

It was decided that a convention be held at Hamilton from date in Toronto, for the purpose of discussing the raising of the sick benefits to $10 instead of $6, as at present.

At the close of the session the retiring provincial chief ruler, Bro. James Fleming, was decorated with the provincial chief ruler's jewel by P.C.R. Bro. Wm. Roe.

Probe on Singer Charges Awaits Council Meeting

Mayor Church takes the stand that the city should name the commission, who is to investigate the Singer charges, and therefore the plans for the probe will be held up until council has had an opportunity to authorize a new selection. Judge Denton having declined to act, the matter will probably come before council next Monday.

The appointment is made by the attorney-general and is not bound to be guided by the recommendation of the city council in selecting a commission.

Mayor Church said yesterday: "It has always been the custom for the city to name the board desired. We did that in the school board and the street cleaning investigations."

FRS NIGHT AT THEATRES

"The Passing Show" Forms Attraction at the Royal Alexandra—The "Ed. Wynn Carnival" Is Notable Production at Princess—Charlie Chaplin Scores at Three Houses—Good Vaudeville and Pictures at Other Toronto Shows.

"Passing Show," Royal Alexandra. There can hardly be a difference of opinion among Toronto theatre patrons about "The Passing Show" of 1919, which opened at the Royal Alexandra last night. As an entertainment it stands at the top of the list of attractions visiting Toronto this season. But the comedy which marks the whole production is not its only claim to superiority, for certainly in the matter of stage scenery and variety and richness of costumes, nothing has been seen here in years to compare with it. Many scenes for every drop of the front curtain have been dropped for the dozens of good-looking girls in the order, and the changes made in such speed and variety that it was noticeable. Purely as an exhibition of stage mechanics the production was much out of the ordinary.

It is true some of the scenes were much abbreviated, where not entirely absent, but where there was an abundance of costumes there was a good excuse, for the chief aim of the production was to make a "hit." So much for the scenery, the choruses and the effects. The pleasant task of making the crowd laugh was allotted to James Barton and the Miller, Charlie Adams and Charles Dale, and they could hardly have been improved upon. Barton is a young man, but he is already one of the most famous comedians on the stage. His representation of a man "in his cups" was so realistic that if the "bone dry" crowd were laughing, the laughter was not American comedy writers, but yet extracted all the fun there is out of the subject of prohibition apparently. The changes on the stage in practically every scene.

The Avon Four figure in one of the most amusing scenes of the show. "The Court of King Lear" was being held up by a tire puncture and the four who, at the time were manning the kitchen, selected the tire puncture and the Avon Four figure in one of the most amusing scenes of the show. "The Court of King Lear" was being held up by a tire puncture and the four who, at the time were manning the kitchen, selected the tire puncture and the Avon Four figure in one of the most amusing scenes of the show.

This is the eighth "Passing Show" produced by J. C. Huffmans, and it is a triumph for the writers and musicals is presented to the best possible advantage. Harold Atteridge, who has a long list of similar successes to his credit.

Good Variety at Pantages. The bill at Pantages is always good for the theatre. The new production, "The Kid," is a triumph for the writers and musicals is presented to the best possible advantage. Harold Atteridge, who has a long list of similar successes to his credit.

Features of the show are travesties on such well-known plays as "The Jew," "The Merchant of Venice," "The Taming of the Shrew," "A Prince There Was" and "Crimson Alibi." Other prominent members of the cast are: Lillian Russell, Harry Campbell, Frank Heath, Paul Hascall, Hazel Cox, Harry Turpin, Al Martin, Eddie Moran, Marie Peggy Merritt, John Crane, Dot Mantell, Edith Lawrence and Tillie Barton.

Ed. Wynn's Carnival. Modestly described in the program simply as a two-act comedy, "The Ed. Wynn's Carnival," which opened a week's engagement at the Princess last night, proved to be in fact one of the most successful and varied mixtures of comedy, songs and dialogue heard in Toronto in many a day. It was a tribute to Mr. Wynn and his capable and clever troupe of players, who have been in the city for nearly three hours had already won the hearts of the audience.

The incident was as spontaneous as one could imagine. The carnival is not a musical comedy, but a comedy of the variety type, and it is a triumph for the writers and musicals is presented to the best possible advantage. Harold Atteridge, who has a long list of similar successes to his credit.

While Mr. Wynn, with his amusing dialogue, dominates the entertainment, he is ably assisted by Lillian Russell, who is a triumph for the writers and musicals is presented to the best possible advantage. Harold Atteridge, who has a long list of similar successes to his credit.

Billie Burke at Loew's Uptown. The "Education of Elizabeth," presented at Loew's Uptown Theatre, is a triumph for the writers and musicals is presented to the best possible advantage. Harold Atteridge, who has a long list of similar successes to his credit.

GROWTH IN HOME AND SCHOOL BODY

Representatives From All Parts of Province Meet in Toronto.

Growth in the home and school movement is evidenced by the number of representatives from many parts of the province who today will be in attendance at the second annual meeting of the Ontario Federation, which is affiliated with the Ontario Educational Association, which convenes in University College. The home and school meetings will take place in the assembly hall of Knox College.

A last night's gathering of the home and school clubs there were only some 150 in number. Since then a number of associations have been formed or are in the process of being formed in cities. Smaller communities are seeing the advantage of the movement, and the secondary schools are falling in line in recognition.

Among the interesting women who will be present is Mrs. James Witcomb, who received unanimous election to the position of president of the Ontario Federation. This being another name for what is practically the same thing as the Home and School Club, and who will be one of the special speakers. The president of the organization is Mr. S. B. McCready, of Toronto.

It was a triumph for the choir, and you ought to be very proud of your choristers. I don't think I have heard a choir sing so well since I have been in New York. PREPARING REPORT ON DUNDAS EXTENSION

The city assessment department is preparing a report on the extension of Dundas street, eastward from Bolton avenue to Kingston road, and the report will probably be ready for the next meeting of the works committee.

The extension was mooted some years ago and dropped, and was revived early this year by a motion of Ald. Vasey, calling for a report on costs. The cost was estimated at $22,000 in 1914 and the present estimate, it is understood, will not greatly exceed that figure.

LUMBER CAMPS ASK FOR MANY WORKERS

Hundreds of Men Will Also Soon Be Wanted for the Railways.

Supt. J. A. Miller of the government employment bureau stated to The World yesterday that, while there was little or no work offering at the present time, the beginning of April would see a big improvement in the situation.

The lumber companies are already placing orders for men for next month, one camp alone putting in a call for over three hundred men. Hundreds of men will also be given employment by the railways in about a week or so when the season for track repair and general railway construction work will open up.

How serious the unemployment situation has become here is evidenced by the fact that 20,348 men have applied for work, of which only 2,337 have secured permanent jobs, leaving some 18,000 still looking for jobs. Of the 20,348 who registered for work, 9,886 were soldiers and 10,462 civilians. The married men numbered 11,167 and the single men 9,181.

Nearly 800 new applicants for work have registered since Monday last week, new applications yesterday being 181.

The Krausmann Hotel was closed yesterday, having given a three-day supply of meal tickets out on Saturday. It responds today for its last few days of relief before closing down for the season on Thursday.

COMMENCE WORK ON TERAULAY SCHEME

Workmen Also Busy Tearing Down Grosvenor Street Presbyterian Church.

Up to the present time, the extension and widening of Teraulay street has been carried out on paper only, but actual work on the ground was started yesterday. A contract has been let for the taking down of the Grosvenor Street Presbyterian Church and workmen are already busy on the job.

The city has purchased the houses on Grenville street, which stand in the way of the extension, and these are to be vacated on April 1, and the properties facing on College street will be turned over to the city about ten days later. No time will be lost after getting possession of these buildings in taking them down and clearing the land. A number of houses on the west side of College street, and North streets affected by the extension have been vacated, the deals for their purchase having been completed.

The large property on the west side of Chapel street, which was owned by the city since 1914, is occupied under a lease effective until August, but the city can get possession earlier by obtaining a court order and dealing with the lease. The city has not yet decided to take this action. Commissioner Forman said yesterday that the improvements would not be held back by leaving the Osgoode property intact until August, as this was but a small section of the whole work.

LETTER CARRIER DEAD.

John Nicholson, who had been a letter carrier at the central postal station for seven years, died yesterday at his home, 889 East Gerrard street. He suffered from influenza a week ago, and his death is attributed to the effects of the disease. He is survived by a brother, George Nicholson, and a sister, Mrs. N. Reid, who lives at 889 East Gerrard street. Mr. Nicholson was born in Cobourg, Ont., 37 years ago, and came to Toronto at an early age.
