Afflicted with Erysipelas For Ten Years.

Cured by Four Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. N. P. ... of Brighton, Ont., was Cured Two Years Ago and Has Had No Return Of It Since.

Read what she says: "It is now about two years since I was cured of a terrible attack of Erysipelas, with which I had been afflicted for about ten years. I had tried almost everything, including medicines from several doctors, but could get no relief. I had given my case up as hopeless, but I procured five bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it completely cured me. In fact, the cure has been permanent. It is now two years since I took Burdock Blood Bitters, and I have not had the slightest sign of the disease returning. I fully believe that your wonderful remedy has taken it so completely out of my system that I shall never be bothered again with it. I have the greatest faith in Burdock Blood Bitters."

EUROPEAN WAR CLOUD

The dispute between Norway and Sweden continues to attract the attention of Europe, chiefly because of the possibility that out of it may ultimately come great gains to Russia. The situation is tense, and a cable from London last night said: "The Christiania correspondent of the Daily Press sends a sensational story of alleged secret warlike preparations at all strategic points on the Norwegian frontier for the purpose of meeting possibilities in connection with the dispute between Sweden and Norway on the question of separate consular representation."

Norway has been demanding a separate consular service, and the parliament has unanimously passed a bill providing for such a service. The possibility of war as a result of the difficulty has been recognized by men of both countries, and it is asserted that no less personages than Dr. Kautsky and Dr. Hehn, the explorers and politicians, one a Norwegian and the other a Swede, contemplate war as the inevitable solution of the problem. It is further stated in an article in Blackwood's, that Bjornson, the famous Norwegian author, "was prepared not long ago to come to terms with Russia, and to promise the peace she has so ardently desired, in return for her aid against Sweden."

The Swedes contend that what Norway really wants is independence. The Norwegian reply that Sweden, by adopting a system of high tariffs while Norway remained practically a free trade country, made the consular service subordinate to the interests of Sweden, and that it is fair play and not a dissolution of the union they are seeking.

If the two countries should dissolve partnership, it is contended by Sweden that Russia would soon find a pretext for taking possession of a great part of northern Norway, thus getting an open road to the Atlantic. Dr. Hehn thinks this would be to the concern of Sweden, but the London Times argues that in such an event Sweden would eventually suffer. "It," says the Times, "the presence of Russia in Finland is a steady menace to Sweden and Norway combined, as Dr. Hehn contends, the presence of Russia in what is now Norwegian territory, from the Vanganger fjord on the east to Tromsø and Kvalø on the west, would be a far greater menace to Sweden alone. If Russia is a dangerous neighbor on the east, she would be a much more dangerous neighbor when she was settled on the northern frontier of Sweden as well."

If Russia should gain possession of the Norwegian territory referred to, she would have "several naval harbors of great natural strength and value," and this fact makes the dispute of great interest to the rest of Europe, and especially to Great Britain.

It is pointed out that if Norway should seek to dissolve the union and Sweden should strictly resist such action the struggle would be mutually ruinous. While the Swedes outnumber the Norwegians two to one, and are much the wealthier, the conquest of Norway would be a task of tremendous magnitude. If the despotic ruler quoted is true, and warlike preparations are being made in Norway, the situation is very serious, and Russia is about the only country that can afford to regard it with complacency.

IN PHILADELPHIA

The serious nature of the situation in Philadelphia civil politics is indicated by the following resolution adopted by a mass meeting last evening at which thousands were present: "Resolved, that we, citizens of Philadelphia, without regard to party or politics, do hereby before God and man pledge our life, liberty and sacred honor to the complete overthrow of despotic methods in municipal affairs and the restoration of American principles for which our fathers fought and which shall ever be our glory while we remain worthy to be their children."

The principal address was delivered by Charles Henry Smith, former postmaster-general of the United States. He denounced the gas steal and the "conspirators banded together to gag and plunder the city."

Another speaker warned the citizens that the municipal would probably call an earlier meeting than was expected, to rush the issue through before the members weakened and refused. He then made the usual appeal: "I ask you, men and women, be prepared. The moment you hear the news become minute-men, go peacefully to city hall and stay there and demand your rights."

MINISTERS AND OTHERS

Sensational utterances by ministers naturally attract a good deal of attention, and it is sometimes happens that they are not fully warranted. There have been several such instances in Canada, which have aroused somewhat bitter comment on the part of the people concerned.

A recent instance in the United States has called forth an indignant protest from Prof. Shadler Mathews, dean of the divinity school of Chicago University, and also a virulent criticism by The Outlook. It appears that the Rev. A. C. Dixon, of Bangor street Baptist church, Boston, made a statement concerning President Harper of Chicago University and John D. Rockefeller, which was not based on fact, but on rumor. Dean Mathews demanded a public correction of the statement, and Mr. Dixon, it is said, refused to comply. The dean thereupon wrote to The Outlook, and closed his letter thus: "I am therefore forced, by means of the press, to correct the slander and declare to the public, as I have already declared to Mr. Dixon, that his statement is false in general, in particular, and in implication."

The Outlook, dealing with this case and with the general question of ministerial responsibility, makes the following comment:—"The conditions under which a minister works lay him open in a peculiar degree to the danger of being heedless of facts. He is constantly speaking without fear of contradiction, and is therefore seldom made aware of the value of having corroborative evidence at hand. He is accustomed to dealing with general principles—which are tacitly assumed to be true, and naturally falls into the habit of assuming that anything which will serve the purpose is a general principle that needs no proof, but will be accepted upon its proclamation. He is accustomed to use as his text-book a literature which is replete with the marvelous, and, finding that as generally believed, he easily regards the slow processes of demonstration irksome. He is chiefly concerned with the ends of his life that is farthest from being reduced to an exact science, and he is therefore less accustomed to appeal to facts than to inner experience, intuitions, and faith. He is the officer of an institution that has in the past exalted dogmas and decrees, and he inherits its traditions. He has learned by experience, especially if he is an evangelist, that he is most likely to be immediately effective if he appeals to the emotions of his hearers rather than to their reason, and there is something in mere facts that cools the ardor and interferes with a directly visible success. He is, therefore, not only unaccustomed to the use of cold, hard facts, but generally unaware how precious under certain circumstances they may be. To the honor of a great majority of ministers be it said that they know their danger and try to guard against it. There ought, however, to be cultivated among ministers so strong a professional opinion concerning reckless use of statement that no man who is guilty of it should be able to maintain his standing as a minister, much less any eminence. In this matter not only is the good name of the ministry at stake, but also the power and leadership of the church."

One, Mr. Webb, of London, a telephone expert, is telling the committee in Ottawa that municipal telephones in England were not a success. He says that government ownership is a blight on the telephone system in Britain. The Times is informed that Mr. Webb's personal interests are connected with those of the National Telephone Co. in England. He would naturally, in that case, be strongly opposed to the municipal system. We might as well expect the New Brunswick Telephone people to support a municipal system in St. John.

They fledged the public and got away with half a million in deposits.

LIVERPOOL, May 27.—At a meeting of the creditors of the defunct Skory Cotton Co. here today, a clerk of the company named Harrison testified that the Liverpool principals were Thomas H. Quinlan, who acted as secretary and treasurer and a man named Lambert, and that these had not been heard of since they left the country in March last. Before becoming connected with the company Quinlan was a typewriter and Lambert a station master on the South of England Railway, according to Harrison.

Books could be found in the office showing dealings in cotton, or how deposits amounting to $250,000 had been disposed of.

OBITUARY Alex Terry The death of Alexander Terry, a well known shipwright, took place last evening at his residence in this city. Mr. Terry, who was in his eighty-first year, was born near Londonderry (Ire.) and came to this country with his parents at an early age. He was a thorough mechanic and speaker, and in his day assisted in building some of the best ships that were ever launched here, notably among them being the oak ship Lightning. In the old shipbuilding days Mr. Terry worked for the late John Hovess, Hon. Peter Mitchell, Geo. McLeod and others. He had been in the employ of the late Thomas Hillyard for twenty-seven years. Mr. Terry leaves five children—two sons, Samuel, now a resident of New York, and four daughters, Mrs. Geo. Macdowell, of John, Mrs. W. Kelly, Mrs. John Daley and Mrs. C. Nickerson. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon.

Miss Mildred Carleton Miss Mildred Carleton, daughter of ex-Alderman Carleton, of this city, died in Boston yesterday. The young lady, only 22 years of age, was studying nursing in the Massachusetts General Hospital, and was making good progress when she was stricken with cerebro-spinal meningitis. The medical officers did everything possible but were unable to save her life. Ex-Alderman Carleton and his son were with Miss Carleton when she died. The body will be brought home today for interment. Miss Carleton was a very fine young woman and had many friends.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 26 (Special)—There are now 26 Canadian soldiers here, the nucleus of the new Halifax garrison. Over two thousand persons were at North street station and vicinity last evening to witness the arrival of the first detachment. The men, under command of Lieut. Col. Peter Macdonald, were from Fredericton at the special train, which pulled into the station shortly after eight o'clock. The band of the 5th Royal Garrison regiment was at the station as soon as the men disembarked, and formed up in marching order they were played to their new quarters at the Glacia barracks. The detachment from Quebec and London, Ont., arrived here at noon today, and are also quartered at Glacia.

Another infant murder was brought to light in Toronto Thursday night. The body of a newly born babe, female, was found in the water at the foot of York street. The child's head was crushed.

Prof. Joseph Williams took charge of the City Cornet band last night. The boys gave their old leader a right royal welcome back again.

Sackville, N. B., May 26 (Special).—By way of celebrating the beginning of the closing exercises of Mt. Allison, an exceptionally beautiful day was had here all day and still continues, today somewhat abated. Visitors arrived by today's train and by tomorrow the town will be alive with strangers. The exercises this year promise to be unusually interesting.

Bigelow, headmaster Sackville School, Hon. Horton (N. S.); W. P. Kirby, Gagetown; John Fainley, Fredericton.

The following programme was carried out:

Misses Kilian, Tupper, Woodbury, Bentley and Lee.
Pantomime.....Miss Wagner

JAMAICA WOULD BE ANNEXED

England's Policy Said to be Driving Her to United States.

KINGSTON, May 26.—Once again the question of annexation to the United States has been raised by inhabitants of the British West India Islands. This has arisen through the refusal of the British treasury to continue the grant of $50,000 a year given to the imperial department of agriculture in the West Indies. Commenting on the subject, the Jamaica Daily Telegraph, by far the largest and most influential journal in these islands, says, in part: "Times have changed since Mr. Chamberlain spoke in confident and glowing terms of the future of the West Indian Colonies and the duty of the mother country to regard them as 'undeveloped estates.' There has been no change of government in England since those words were uttered, although there have been several changes in the personnel of the cabinet. But every observant onlooker must have perceived that a tremendous change has come over the spirit of the British government's dream—that the interest of the position of the empire which Mr. Chamberlain evoked was only 'a flash in the pan,' so to speak—and that the ruling statesman of the mother country have reverted to their old attitude of indifference to the welfare or progress of the West Indies. The policy of extravagance (for the adoption of which Mr. Chamberlain was mainly responsible) has brought trouble on the head of his present government, and the result is that efforts are now being made by that government to cut down expenditure wherever possible. Hence the abandonment of Port Royal as a naval station. Hence the proposal to withdraw all the white troops from the West Indies, and to disband the West Indian Regiment. Hence the decision of the secretary of state for the colonies to move the West Indian mill to the colonies to save the laborer change in policy—the decision to abolish the West Indian department of agriculture, and to transfer the undivided estates of the empire to the task of developing their resources for themselves. All this must mean a corresponding change in the attitude of intelligent residents in the West Indies, and it will naturally suggest the old question: What is to be the ultimate fate of the British possessions in this part of the world? With the indifference of the English people on the one hand and the increasing trade relationship between the West Indies and the United States on the other, it is not difficult to furnish an answer to that question. It is rather than later—the West Indian lands are bound to become incorporated in the great American republic. In fact if the British government continues the policy on which it has entered for the last eighteen months or so—that is to say, continues to withdraw its support from the West Indies—the colonies themselves will be forced to ask the mother country to hand over the islands to the United States. The oratory recital held tonight was exceptionally good and too high praise can hardly be accorded to the work of this department.

FREDERICTON SOLID FOR THE RIVER ROUTE

Fredericton, N. B., May 26 (Special).—At a largely attended meeting of Fredericton's board of trade this afternoon a committee of five was appointed to lay before the government the advantages of the St. John valley route for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and urged its adoption in the strongest possible manner. The meeting was most harmonious and all seemed to be impressed with the great importance of the question at issue to the future of Fredericton.

The committee appointed to bring the advantages of the valley route to the notice of the government is composed of W. T. Whitehead, M. P. P., J. D. Finlay, J. H. Barry, A. H. F. Randolph and Wm. Lennart.

Impurities in the Blood

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

There is no getting round the fact that the liver is responsible for the impurity of the blood in the spring. A weak liver is responsible for the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and you are once removed the cause of the bile and discomforts of this time of year.

Bitter taste in the mouth.
Shortness of breath.
Gas on the stomach.
Dull, sick headache.
Biliousness.
Irregularity of the bowels.
Weak, dizzy feelings.
Irritable temper.
Loss of courage and despondency.

These are some of the most common indications that the liver is falling from the blood.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cleanse the system thoroughly and well, by causing a free action of the bowels.

By their direct and certain action on the liver they purify the blood and bring about a good flow of bile into the intestine—the only means by which constipation can be actually cured.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are an indispensable family medicine of proven worth. One pill a dose, 25c. a box, at all dealers or Edmondson & Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

MORNING NEWS IN BRIEF.

Local

The theory of an epidemic among dogs, rather than wholesale poisoning, was put forward last night as a possible explanation of the death of so many canines here this year. The reason for this was the failure to find trace of poison in the stomach of an animal which died yesterday, presumably from effects of a deadly drug.

From Lake Umbagog, Messrs. W. Steen, Gordon Lately and Dan Henderson returned with a string of 133 speckled beauties.

Rev. E. Lewis Gates, brother of Rev. Dr. G. O. Gates of this city, has recently returned to his home in the Baptist church at Nashua (N. H.), to accept the call to Preaching (N. H.).

The regular meeting of the Trades and Labor Council, called for last evening did not take place owing to the poor attendance. Those present had an informal discussion on various matters in which the council are interested. It had been announced that the Engineer Hunter, was on his way to Victoria, B. C., to be considered at last night's meeting. Rev. A. H. Foster last night in the basement of Waterloo street F. B. church lectured to a good sized audience on "English Bibles and How we Got It. He told the story of the various translations and revisions of the Old and New Testaments. He insisted that the fact that there might be doubt as to the exact phraseology of any particular passage did not throw discredit on the narrative as a whole.
