Germans' Losses Very Heavy As They Try To Recover Ground

More Violent Attacks Reported and French Advances of Recent Days Are Maintained

Paris, Oct. 9.—The reports of the night indicate that the German losses in the offensive of yesterday against the positions of the allies near Loos were very heavy.

This information was given out by the French War Office this afternoon. Other violent attacks on the part of the Germans southeast of Neuville-St. Vaast, were completely repulsed. All the French advances of recent days have been maintained.

There has been fairly spirited cannonading in the sector of Lisieux as well as at Quennevillers and Noyon. A German counter attack last night at the Navarin farm in the Champagne district, was checked by the French.

To the southeast of Tournai there has been a violent bombardment attended by the use of suffocating shells.

In the Argonne, French batteries put an end to German artillery fire in the sector of St. Thomas.

In the Lorraine district, several German reconnaissances have been completely repulsed.

Many of the Moncton boys have gone to E. Island and enlisted with the 5th Brigade, among them being Ivan McClure, Graham Swetnam, Arthur E. Stone, Harry Mullin, Harry Fowles, Fred Fowles, Aubrey Denmore, R. E. Denmore, Bliss Smith, Robert Gaskin, Charles Lenn, W. Ferguson, Roy Morris, Milan White, Fred Scott, and Calvin McCoy.

Hotel Man's Offer
It is expected that some invalid soldiers will before the winter months be accommodated in the Windsor Hotel.

Recently William McMullen, formerly of St. John, proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, offered the use of twenty rooms of his hotel for convalescent soldiers.

Surgeon Major T. O. Steeves has received orders to make an inspection of the rooms.

Crockett, who has charge of the recruiting office, has been able to announce quite a large number of speakers who will be willing to take part in the anti-drug campaign.

She says that in addition to the speakers already announced, she expects to have as lecturers in the Anti-Drug campaign, Mrs. W. J. Scott, Miss Lynda, Miss Beverly and Miss Ella Thorpe, besides several other ladies.

Word to this effect came to his father, Simon Fraser, enlisted in the 12th Battalion of the 94th Battalion some time ago, determined to avenge the supposed death of the soldier the next morning.

TOLD GREEK KING PLAINLY THAT ALLIES WERE GOING THROUGH FIELD FAST FOR THE GAME TODAY

CRITICIZES THE FOREIGN OFFICE

London Morning Post Does Not Think Diplomacy Has Been Successful

London, Oct. 9.—The newspaper devotees an increased amount of editorial space to a discussion of the foreign office's share in the Balkan demarcation. The Post, after remarking that its handling of Balkan affairs has been a "series of blunders which would have been remarkable in a parish council," discusses at length the work of the foreign office in the diplomatic exchanges which preceded the war and then in the contrasted controversy over Salonika and cotton.

The Post finally turns bluntly to the proposal for establishing an international court of appeals from decisions of the prize court, saying: "It appears that proposals are being entertained by the foreign office. We are glad Lord Strachey is to raise the question in the House of Lords. Should it prove to be the case that such a design is being prosecuted, we say plainly that, in the name of our national honor and our national security, the resignation of Sir Edward Grey and the reorganization of the foreign office will be demanded."

"We do not propose to commit the decisions of a British judge to a mongrel assembly of international jurists, in which Great Britain can be outvoted by representatives of Ecuador, Bolivia, Switzerland and Germany. The record of the foreign office is sufficiently dubious. It may be that its series of unparalleled blunders is due simply to incompetence. If it is not incompetence, what is it?"

The Post lodges a vigorous protest against the old fashioned method of diplomacy, remarking that the British Foreign Office always demanded absolute immunity from criticism or comment.

"Previous to the war," the newspaper declares, "the premier and his friends assured us nothing could be more friendly than the attitude of Germany to Great Britain. Last year the result of the diplomatic respect and misrepresentation was, 'Bribe' war."

The men are now in custody at Burton and a preliminary examination will begin at the court house there on next Wednesday.

KAISER AND FERDINAND IN AGREEMENT EVEN SO FAR BACK AS APRIL
Rome, Oct. 9.—An agreement between Emperor William of Germany and King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, providing for joint military action, the Tribune says, was concluded last April. Germany, the paper asserts, intended to attack Serbia in May, considering that time opportune, as the Balkan state was being ravaged by epidemics which finally were overcome, chiefly through the efforts of Red Cross workers. Action against Serbia was delayed, however, by Italian intervention in the war, which forced Austria to send strong forces to the Italian front.

FIELD FAST FOR THE GAME TODAY

Weather Affects The Choice of The Pitchers

BOSTON STILL FAVORITE
Very Few Wagers, However, Have Been Placed—Figures 3 to 2 and 5 to 3—Carrigan Gives Alexander Credit For Yesterday's Victory

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 9.—Confidence, stimulated by the fruits of victory in the initial struggle for baseball supremacy of the world, was apparent in the camp of the Philadelphia Nationals today, and when they entered the second game of the big series it was with a determination to make it two straight. Their worthy opponent, the Boston Americans, although defeated, temporarily at least, were undismayed, and were equally determined to even matters.

Should Be Faster Game
Weather conditions today were greatly improved, and the playing field was in excellent shape. A brilliant sun, which shone from a cloudless sky, during the greater part of yesterday and a brisk northwesterly breeze that blew throughout the night, had combined to dry the rain-soaked ground, making possible a fast and snappy contest. The weather man promised continued fair weather for the day, and said that it might be cooler.

There was considerable speculation as to whom the opposing managers would send to the mound. It was generally conceded that Cady for Boston, and Burns for Philadelphia would be behind the bat, but weather conditions, it was believed, would determine the pitching selections.

Boston Still Favorite
Chalmers, the Phillies' right hander, was looked upon as the most likely candidate in case of warm weather, but if, as the weather man predicts, there is a perceptible change, the duties may devolve on Rixey. For the Red Sox, either Foster or Leonard will probably do the pitching. Although the Phillies have one game to their credit, while the betting there is on the series, still favors the Bostonians.

Very few wagers have been placed, and those that have been made were for the most part, in small amounts. There seems to be plenty of Boston money, but the would-be betters are reluctant to give odds of three to two, and five to three demanded by the Philadelphia backers.

Manager Carrigan of the Red Sox, gave today's game, however. The odds were made for the Phillies five to one, yesterday, and Alexander, although it was freely admitted by the victors as well as their followers, that the "breaks" played a big part in the results.

"Alexander won his game," said Carrigan. "Give him full credit, and don't let anyone take it away from him. He pitched a splendid game, and we are going to try harder today."

Pat Moran, manager of the Phillies, has usual little comment, but declared that his team looks better now than ever before.

"Breaks count a lot in baseball," he said. "We got the breaks yesterday. We played the game just like we have played our games all season, and we will try to force the breaks to come our way in every game. We look better now than ever before, and with the first game on ice we have a very good chance to win the world's title."

Look to Boston Batters.
Notwithstanding that the mighty Alexander was able to keep the Red Sox flits scattered, the fact that they gathered one clean hit in every inning but the ninth, was not lost sight of by the fans in the reckoning for the remaining games. Regardless of who Moran selects to do his pitching today, or in succeeding games, it was figured that he would have no easy road to travel.

The probable batting order for today's game follows:—
Boston Americans—Hooper, r. f.; Scott, s. s.; Speaker, c. f.; Hobbitt, 1b.; Lewis, l. f.; Gardner, 3b.; Barry, 2b.; Cady, cf.; Foster, p.

Philadelphia Nationals—Stock, 3b.; Bancroft, s. s.; Farkent, c. f.; Cravath, 1b.; Laddera, 1b.; Whitted, l. f.; Niehoff, 2b.; Burns, c. Chalmers, p.

Empires—(N. L.), Klem and Higley; (A. L.), O'Laughlin and Evans.
Clear and cool weather are the conditions at 8 a. m., the temperature was forty-eight degrees, with prospects that it will grow a little warmer by afternoon.

SALE POSTPONED

THANKSGIVING DAY AT THE IMPERIAL

A Powerful Belasco Play "The Goddess" and Musical Vaudeville

The Imperial will conclude this notable week of good programmes with the sixth chapter of "The Broken Coin," the British Army story, entitled "By the Test of a Penny," a Vitaphone comedy, "On the Wrong Case," pictures of the 26th Battalion in England, and the Great Richards vaudeville dancing act.

For Monday, Thanksgiving Day, a rich array of fine good things awaits holiday-makers. The big feature of the bill will be Jesse L. Lasky's production of David Belasco's powerful drama, "The Governor's Lady," in which Edith Wynne Mathison, noted metropolitan star, plays the leading role, that of Mary Slade. Readers of current fiction will recognize this picture as the story by Alice Bradley. In the afternoon, the drama shows how the ambition of a successful man almost separates him from his faithful, but less progressive wife, and of the eventual triumph of noble instinct. The scenery takes the watcher from the rough mining country of the west to the exclusive social and political circles of dignified Washington, and the play is filmed in the most gripping and humanly interesting the Imperial has ever shown.

THE WAR NEWS.

The censor is not as important a personage in England as he is in Canada. The London press has become very outspoken in its criticism of the conduct of the Balkan affair by the foreign office.

One fact stands out clearly enough. It is that German diplomacy has scored a victory in the Balkans and that the situation there is very grave. Bulgaria has joined Germany. Greece will not join the Allies.

The Germans have begun their attack upon Serbia, and have crossed its frontier at some points. The Allies are sending 70,000 troops at Saloniki and will lend their assistance to the Serbians; but have also to reckon with Bulgaria.

NEIGHBORHOOD ORGANIZATION

The Times has already taken occasion to compliment the Eastern Recruiting Committee on its success in forming a district or neighborhood organization, and last night's meeting in the Boys' Club Hall was another illustration of that success.

SIR SAM AND RECRUITS.

The statement of Sir Sam Hughes that no difficulty is being encountered in meeting all present requirements for recruits must be read in the light of his other announcement that a military council is to be held in Ottawa to consider the recruiting question, and also in the light of his previous alleged assertion that he could get a million men if he wanted them.

TREATING MEN AS MEN.

Warden Thomas Mott Osborne, of Sing Sing, tells in the American Review of Prison Reform for October the story of the old barbaric theory of prison government which has given place to a measure of autonomy within the limits of the law.

prevailed in different institutions. There have, of course, been advances in many states in the direction of kindness to the prisoners, a reduction of brutality and severity, and an increased number of prisoners treated on their honor as individuals.

The minister was dining with the Pullers, and he was denouncing the new styles of dancing. Turning to the daughter of the house he asked sternly: "Do you, yourself, Miss Puller, think the girls who dance these dances are right?"

Warden Osborne is undoubtedly right in regard to the majority of men, or at least enough of them to make it worth while to adopt the plan now carried out at Sing Sing.

Warren Osborne is undoubtedly right in regard to the majority of men, or at least enough of them to make it worth while to adopt the plan now carried out at Sing Sing.

If Sir Robert Borden believed there was an emergency why did he not go to the country with his naval program, and why did he dismantle the Rainbow and Niobe? Do his journalistic apologists think the people of Canada are blind?

The Prison Labor Problem

It is recognized now clearly that in all our prisons men should learn to labor. But it is not so clearly recognized that when you force men to labor that is when you force them to love work.

Another of the problems of prison labor is that the kind of work done by the men is the most unattractive, because they have no expectation of doing the same kind of work when they leave prison.

The immediate necessity at Sing Sing is the purchase of a large tract of land, and the erection of a modern kind of institution. When the prison is removed to its large tract of land, I hope that farming may be made the basis of labor, so as to provide as largely as possible for the support of the inmates.

LIGHTER VEIN

Allan Aynesworth, an actor, has a pretty wit. It is said that Mr. Aynesworth met at the rehearsal of a new piece a youth who was giving himself many airs on the strength of his first engagement in London.

"The elderly, benevolent looking gentleman approached the man and his wife who were quarrelling bitterly.

"What have you got to do with it?" snarled the man. "Nothing at all, except so far as I can help in settling this dispute."

"No dispute? But my dear friend—" "I tell you there ain't no dispute. She thinks she ain't going to get my week's wages, and I know she ain't. So where's any dispute?"

The minister was dining with the Pullers, and he was denouncing the new styles of dancing. Turning to the daughter of the house he asked sternly: "Do you, yourself, Miss Puller, think the girls who dance these dances are right?"

"They must be," was the answer, "because I notice the girls who don't dance them are always left."

Piper William H. Ross of St. John was thrown from a carriage and broke his leg near Fredericton yesterday and now is being cared for at Stanley.

WHAT HALIFAX HAS TO BE THANKFUL FOR

(Halifax Echo) No city in Canada is more prosperous now than Halifax and no city in Canada has a greater cause for thanksgiving right now than has our own city of Halifax.

Canadian factories have been going by way of the St. Lawrence chiefly during the summer. This winter the bulk of them will pass through Halifax, an immense lot of work for the longshoremen.

GARDEN SUBURB IN HEART OF CITY

Portland Place a Surprise To Visitors

PRACTICAL TOWN PLANNING Ideas of Both City and Suburban Life Combined in Unique Fashion—New Residential District Sets New Standard For St. John

A valuable contribution to the housing problem is being quietly worked out in this city and so successful have been the results already that a person seeing it for the first time must find it difficult in believing the evidence of his own eyes.

The idea of home carries with it something more than a comfortable residence; at its best it means also a bit of ground around the house with grass and flower beds and trees, with all the fresh air and sunlight that there is a place which will satisfy all the home-loving desires and not represent merely a place in which to eat and sleep.

But here is a residential district planned according to the most modern scientific ideas which combine comfort, convenience and beauty with business-like financial foundations which ensure its value to the man who regards a home as an investment and not as an extravagance.

And the houses—such attractive and comfortable places, with every convenience that the average person could desire. Full of modern conveniences, with electric light, fully equipped bath rooms, closets everywhere and planned for the maximum of convenience.

City Attractions, Too

But there are other things to be considered in the ideal residential district beside this and right at hand are all the things which a city has to offer—two of the most modern school buildings in the city, Protestant and Catholic, right on the border of the property, five churches of the leading denominations within a stone's throw, splendid retail stores as near as could be wanted, moving picture houses, a free public library and the lodge rooms of several of the leading societies all within a block or two.

There are already half a score of houses erected, some of them self-contained, for the man who wants his home all to himself, and some arranged for two families, but with the undesirable features of most two-family dwellings eliminated, for the man who wants to rent a flat and so enable himself to live almost rent free.

All this has been accomplished within less than a year and already the development has progressed so that even an unimaginative person cannot help seeing how completely the place will fulfill the promises of its promoters as time goes on and its growth continues at this rate.

And Moderate Cost

When Armstrong & Bruce undertook this scheme there were skeptics who did not believe that it could be accomplished and at the same time keep the houses within the moderate scale of cost which they promised, but today they have shown that an ideal residential district can be provided not only for the wealthy but, by means of easy payments, for every man who today can afford to pay the rent of over the average St. John flat.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR NEW ST. JOHN PIERS

VARIED PROGRAMME FEATURES OPENING OF Y.M.C.A. SEASON

A large gathering attended the formal opening of the winter season activities at the Y. M. C. A. last evening.

H. M. Bonk, director of the physical work, presided over an excellent programme. Two basketball games were played, one between senior teams and another between the first and second teams.

The senior team was captained by Frank Thorne and Roy Willett and they fought an interesting match in which Thorne's team scored 8 to 7. The intermediate teams were led by Henry Evans and Aubrey McAndrews.

There was a bowling match played between two teams of the directors of the association which attracted considerable attention. The teams were—F. A. Dykeman (Capt.), W. C. Cross, J. H. White and George E. Barbour; E. Neil Brodie (Capt.), H. W. Rising, A. M. Gregg and George A. Henderson.

After the games the party adjourned to the social rooms on the first floor. The two great fire-places breathed comfort upon the gathering and by the light of the fires the latter part of the evening was enjoyed. An orchestra provided many musical numbers and in addition the following entertained—Dr. Fervial, Honnell, solo; Steve Hurley, reading; Walter Pidgeon, solo; Rev. W. G. Lane and the president, Mr. Dykeman.

The latter outlined interestingly the plan of the winter and said the prospects were exceedingly bright. The classes will begin next Tuesday and throughout the winter there will be eighteen classes a week.

Rev. Mr. Lane in his address complimented the association. He told of its close relation to the church and its invaluable support in attending to the social work. He related the service administered to the soldiers during the Boer war, when he saw Y. M. C. A. men furnishing soldiers with paper and ink in the thick of battle with bullets whizzing and cannon roaring.

Games were in progress during lunch hour. T. H. Carter and E. S. Peacock representatives of the association are dispensing to soldiers on the European battlefields.

Then refreshments were served by the ladies of the auxiliary with Mrs. T. H. Somerville in charge. Those who assisted were—Mrs. T. H. Carter, Mrs. E. A. Prince, Mrs. A. B. Gilmour, Mrs. C. E. Lowe, Mrs. F. A. Dykeman, Mrs. Harold Climo and Mrs. Fritz.

This was the first of a series of social evenings arranged for, and it is anticipated that during the winter they will provide one of the outstanding features of the Y. M. C. A. successes.

Men! Here's the logical underwear for you.

In the first place, it's fine, soft, elastic and long-wearing. What is more, it fits right from the day you start to wear it until the time you lay it by.

It is made with the famous Klossed Knotch—the feature that revolutionized underwear comfort and convenience.

The evenness of texture, strength, smooth finish and durability are due to the superior Spring Needle Rib fabric.

So, for all 'round satisfaction wear Watson's Union suit. We also make men's and boys' two-piece underwear in all weights and styles. Ask your dealer.

The Unbearable Question.

Man of bromides, when we meet On the red-hot sun-baked street, And the mercury has clung In a style most foolsome, Do not say, 'what's your doo, Is this hot enough for you?' By my collar's wilted wreck, As it wrinkles round my neck— By the rivulets which race Down my pale and sticky face, Advise you to eschew Is this hot enough for you? By that soft, bromidic smirk Which upon your face doth lurk— By that vacuum in your head (Vacuum, sir, is what I said), These are words which you will rue, Is this hot enough for you? Make my money, if you will; Swear at me in accents shrill; Make yourself a dreary pest With the stale and mossy jest; But, I beg of you, taboo Is this hot enough for you? Man of bromides, I shall curse You and yours, and what is worse, Brand you as the sort of goat Who, for fun, would rock the boat, If you look at me and coo, Is this hot enough for you? —K. L. The Man In The Street

Thanksgiving Day on Monday.

Isn't it lucky for them that the Germans have no such national holiday. What would they do with it, year after year?

Bulgaria will require a truly devout spirit to be thankful this year for what she is about to receive.

And Turkey will be able to sympathize with the bird which bears the same name. That nation knows what it feels like.

St. John is thankful for the spirit which has moved so many men to enlist, but with the volunteers not coming in so rapidly as they wish the recruiting officers may be tempted to use the prayer of the darkey who was giving thanks for a dinner of boiled potatoes and nothing else. "O Lord, we give Thee thanks for dese potatoes,—dere mighty fine and nice but, O Lord, we do wish You hadn't let them be so lonely on this Thanksgiving Day."

Covering Wide Territory

A travelers' platoon is to be formed with the 88th. The hardware men will carry their samples with them to Europe.

And a platoon of cherymen is being formed in Nova Scotia; the members will still be fighting the devil, but with different weapons.

Pres. Wilson may be a rigid peace advocate, but late matrimonial announcements show that he is at least courageous enough for a second venture.

They Didn't Believe Him

The auctioneer had labored hard. For ten or fifteen minutes he had extolled the good qualities of the books he was selling. He had told what a fine fellow their author was, how nice his novels were, what a success his plays had been and so on, and so on ad infinitum, etc., but while the big crowd assembled before him followed his discourse attentively, they did not bid. They seemed to appreciate his remarks but their response was eloquently silent. In vain he called "How much am I offered?" Finally some one piped up and a small bid was offered, but the big crowd refused to "loosen." At last with a cynical smile and a disappointed air, the amateur auctioneer cried out—"Well, people, stick around, we're going to do some things away tonight." Bidding was a little more brisk after that.

Another From the Auction

The auctioneer was offering a lot of small articles at a time when bidding happened to be slow. With great eloquence he proclaimed the merits of the article he was offering and asked for a bid.

"Twenty-five cents," said a feminine voice.

"What, only twenty-five cents?"

"Same voice—"Thirty cents."

"No price at all," said the auctioneer, and again the voice responded "Thirty-five cents."

"Come on now, bid up," urged the voluntary salesman, and the solitary bidder obeyed the invitation.

"Fifty cents," was the offer.

"Sold to the lady for fifty cents."

Oh, well, it's all for the Patriotic Fund.

THE BOWLERS

A well contested bowling match took place on Black's alley last evening between the Ramblers, champions of 1914, and a picked team. The last string was the each team making 487, and in the total the picked team won by a small margin. The box score follows:

TO SEE THE BALL GAMES.

It is estimated that more than 100 St. John baseball fans will leave this evening for Boston to attend the world's series games in that city. Many intend remaining for short vacations, while others will stay to see two games and then return home. Among those who left on Friday were: Harry Black, M. J. Murphy, Harry Dever, Cornelius Gillis, William Murray and "Bud" Doppelt. The last mentioned will go on to New York to spend a short vacation before returning home.

With regard to the street railway situation he said that up to the present he had not had time to read the judgment given by Judge Grimmer and was unable to say anything as to what action would be taken. The only information he had had was by telegram, and he did not care to make any statement at present.

BROTHER WRITES OF LOSS OF GOLIATH

Thrilling Tale Comes to F. J. Punter From Dardanelles

WENT DOWN TWICE

Sank When Warship Was Torpedoed—All Over in Five Minutes—Writer Was in Water Hour and a Half

A thrilling story of the destruction of H.M.S. "Goliath," torpedoed at the Dardanelles, and his fortunate escape from death, is told by Torpedo Instructor Punter, in a letter to his brother, F. J. Punter of this city. The letter is as follows:

September 9, 1915.

Dear Fred:

I suppose you were more than pleased when you wired the Admiralty and received the glad reply that I was saved, but I can assure you it was more than a miracle, as very few were saved from our crew. I will tell you a little about it, but of course we are not allowed to say very much, or the censor will not pass it.

On the night of May 19 we entered the Dardanelles and took up position to support the left flank ashore. It was a very dark night and there was a big battle raging ashore at the same time. I was the torpedo instructor on watch and about one o'clock in the night I went on the bridge, had a look round and passed the remark to a chum that it was about the blackest night I ever saw.

I left the bridge and made my way to the engine room. Just as I arrived there we felt an awful smack on the starboard side. At first I thought it was gunfire as we were getting under eight inch howitzers dropping in, but before you could say Jack Robinson there was another smack nearer the stern and she listed very heavily.

I hustled on deck as quickly as possible. Believe me it was some struggle. By the time I reached the quarter deck she was right over on her side and was going fast. I just managed to slip clear of my overalls when we were all smacked in the pond.

Down With the Ship

I soon came to the surface and as I opened my eyes I saw her towering over on top of me and all of a sudden I got a smack and down I went again, this time knowing of course that I was underneath the ship. Well, I struck out like a Britisher, thinking to get clear of her on the other side. I don't know how long I was down, but suddenly I felt my head above the water and I caught my hands and feet. "Thank God, I'm clear," I looked up and there she was upside down and going down very fast by the bow. I was pretty well exhausted, but I lay on my back and saw her disappear.

All this happened in about five minutes, so there was no time for anything but every man for himself. Then there was the struggle for the water. I can still hear the poor fellows shouting for help, but I could do nothing but strike out, and I saw scores of poor fellows disappear before my eyes. I swam on alone for a time and eventually came across a small piece of wood which I shared with an officer and we got along together as best we could.

The Rescue

Later on the other ships which were at the mouth of the Dardanelles flashed their searchlights on us and we were picked up by a boat just as we were about done out as the water was very cold. We were taken on board the Lord Nelson and, with the help of a little brandy and a few blankets, we soon came round again, but there was a lot of poor chaps completely knocked out when they were picked up. I was in the water just an hour and a half, and you may depend upon it I got a shaking up and it put a few grey hairs on my head.

You will notice I have been promoted to petty officer, first class, and was acting torpedo instructor on the "Golly Wog" (Goliath) as we lost our torpedo instructor at Dardanelles on the east coast of Africa, of course, you know, we did quite a lot of fighting before we were ordered to the Dardanelles. I must tell you about that later as our letters are so strongly censored we have to be very careful.

I saw our brother, Harry, in Portsmouth at the early part of the war. Of course, being a pensioner, he is on home service. They have given him charge of the hospital boat at the naval hospital.

I am now on the four funnel cruiser Pangloss. She is used as a depot ship, but, of course, I don't know where my next move will be, and I cannot tell you where we are. The only thing you can do is to send your letters to General Post Office, London. Hoping to hear from you soon, from your brother,

Lucky brother,
 BERT

"Preparedness"

This word has loomed large in the news of the last year.

It has frequently been linked with another vital word—"SUCCESS."

It is an important word to the business man—a word that robs competition of its terrors.

"Preparedness" includes a definite expenditure for advertising to entrench the business or product in public good will.

It means the kind of "business insurance" advertising brings.

This newspaper will be very glad to discuss with any business man this phase of "business preparedness."

ONE MAN OF THE 26TH WOUNDED

Reports of heavy casualties in the 26th and the Ammunition Column persisted in the city yesterday without the slightest foundation. The official list contained no name of either bodies. The only foundation for their being in a fight was the unofficial report of the wounding of one member of each of these units. William D. Turnbull, aged 22, Petticoe, a member of the 26th, was wounded according to advices received by his wife, Mrs. Bessie Turnbull. Walter Peacock, of the Divisional Ammunition Column that left here under Lieut.-Col. W. H. Harrison, has also, according to a card written by himself, been wounded. The card was received by his mother who lives in Kennedy street. It is one of the service cards and all the lines except "I have been wounded" have been scratched out. Many letters from members of the 26th and the Ammunition Column were received in the city yesterday and some of them told of the officers of the battalion having an exciting tour of the front line trenches, immediately on their arrival at the front. While the troops were billeted behind the lines, the officers made the tour and found the trenches dry and comfortable with every means of protection. To give them an idea of the surroundings they were taken out at night, and it was a moonlight night, too, in front of the wire entanglements before the lines and ventured as far as the listening posts within sixty yards of the German trenches. They were sighted and though bullets came their way they were not so close that all did not return in safety. The experience gave them an added sense of the responsibility of taking men under fire. Mrs. J. L. McAvity, wife of the officer commanding the battalion, received a letter, dated September 26, from her husband saying that the 26th was in the trenches. Signaller Swift, writing to a friend, tells of moving up from the coast and of a stiff march to which the 26th was equal as they were equal to anything. The field kitchens, he said, came in very handy as the men were able to get hot stew and tea immediately after the march. He told, too, of the friendliness of the French along the line of route and added that the men could buy almost anything in the way of eatables at any house on the way. The French peasant seemed to have the motto "Business as Usual," for many of them were busy ploughing and working well within the sound of the guns even the women seemed unafraid, so confident did they seem of the British defence. Frank P. Curran of Paradise row has received from his son, Signaller George Curran a field post card saying that he has been wounded in France and is in hospital in Bedford, England. The last name has not yet appeared in the casualty list, though the card was written on September 24. The young soldier's condition was not stated, but his friends will hope that it is not serious. He is in the first contingent. The Food That Relieves Constipation or Your "Money Back" This is Dr. Jackson's Roman Meal. You take no chances. ORDNANCE PLANT FOR CANADA POSSIBILITY

Montreal, Oct. 8.—Announcement that Sir Frederick Donaldson, chief superintendent of ordnance at Woolwich arsenal, and Lionel Hitchins, of the Cammell Laird Company, were coming to Canada to assist in the work of further organizing munition and gun manufacturing plants in the dominion was today made by A. E. Thomas, representative of David Lloyd George, British munitions minister, who has been touring the United States and Canada inspecting shell making factories. Mr. Thomas was the guest of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and made this announcement in the course of a speech in which he dealt with the whole shell situation in Canada. Mr. Thomas said that at first Canada was behind on orders given for shells, but had speeded up now. The shells being produced were of good quality. It had been suggested that an ordnance plant, under government control, should be constructed, and when Sir Frederick Donaldson and Mr. Hitchins arrived that smaller could be gone into. Personally, he would like to see such a plant cost a million dollar order for cartridge cases at cost price. He hoped the result of the visit of these gentlemen would be the placing by Great Britain of orders for big shells as well as small shells. Canada was capable of doing more than she was doing, and the British government was anxious to give a preference for the dominion and would see to it that a big slice of the orders came here. The price, however, was important and in this connection he would remind them of a Hamilton firm which took a million dollar order for cartridge cases at cost price.

FINE MEETING FOR RECRUITING

Boys' Club Gathering Hears Excellent Speeches and Enjoys Other Features - Six Recruits Yesterday

A smoker and recruiting meeting under the auspices of the Eastern Recruiting Committee, of which H. H. McLellan is chairman, was held last evening in the Boys' Club Hall, corner of Brunswick and Union streets, and was very successful in point of attendance, while several recruits were also secured.

The rally was fittingly held in the Boys' Club Hall, for several youths who were members of the Boys' Club or three years ago, are now at the front.

Geo. A. Kimball presided. The speakers were John C. Ferguson, Rev. H. E. Fletcher, C. F. Sanford and John Connor, while R. S. Ritchie sang patriotic songs, accompanied by D. A. Fox.

S. H. Hurley gave a number of his admirable readings, and John T. Power told a story so well he had to tell two more.

John C. Ferguson was the first speaker, and made a very stirring appeal in the course of which he set forth the reasons why every Irishman in the empire is with Britain in this war, and gave some instances of Irish valor in the field, including the exploit of Michael O'Leary that won for him the Victoria Cross.

Mr. Ferguson spoke with his old time force, and illustrated points in his address by very apt quotations from the poets. He referred to the Loyallists and appealed to their descendants to be worthy of their high traditions.

The following were enrolled yesterday: John Little, St. George's; Thomas Daggett, St. Stephen; Beverly R. Allan, St. John; Leslie C. Holder, St. John; Lewis Clarke, St. John; and Fred H. Thomson, Hamptstead.

Rev. Mr. Fletcher took a letter that he had that day received from his son in the trenches as a text and read an extract. "The sound of the big guns is like thunder but you soon get used to it," he wrote. "Frank Smith is in the same tent as I am. It is a shame that the boys are not enlisted; they are a poor bunch of sports. You should just hear the boys here talk about them."

Mr. Fletcher added that the casualty lists showed that only four in a hundred men were killed. He added that the English industrial schools had sent 20,000 boys to the front and out of them three had won the V. C., twenty-five the Distinguished Service Medal, twenty were mentioned in despatches and three had received commissions. (Applause.)

Lieut. C. F. Sanford read out the schedule of payments and pensions to men who enlisted and showed how generous the government was to either single or married men. Then he went on to say that he believed that it was a lack of the realization of the seriousness of the position that was responsible for the unsatisfactory state of recruiting. It was not realized by those who ought to know that great as the British army was now it was still two millions of men short of what Lord Kitchener had said he wanted.

The demand was imperative; every man would have to ask and answer the question of why he had not enlisted. Recruiting in the dominion had been disappointing and still more so in New Brunswick, but worst of all, perhaps, in St. John. Yet they were not a bit less loyal than any other city. Was it because the men were afraid? They did not breed that sort of man.

The only reason was that the young men had not grasped the seriousness of things. It was a fight for right against wrong and he asked all men who valued the name of Canada to consider how gravely the dominion was in peril of losing its very existence as a part of the empire. Instead of getting better the war situation in the last three days had developed worse than ever and the end seemed farther off. It was to him distressing to walk about and hear the expressions of absolute ignorance of the state of affairs. Only by men could it be ended. (Applause.)

John Connor, who had travelled, he said, through the dominion said that all Canadians ought to welcome the opportunity of showing their love for so grand a domain but he could not help being struck as he travelled east to Canada that the response to the call decreased and he noticed with regret that it was about worst in New Brunswick.

"In St. John we are not lacking in loyalty nor is it a sense of the benefits we owe the mother country and yet we are all disappointed at the small response made by the rising generation and the younger men of the period." If there is one part of the empire that should be grateful and show it to the empire and Britain it is this. Canada has been regarded as the brightest jewel of the crown and we have enjoyed in a special measure the protection and the aid of the mother country that we have the right to expect that our young men would rush to assist the mother country now. History does not record a place where the assistance of the mother country has been greater than in Canada.

"Even from the business point of view it behooves every loyal Canadian to do something to pay back the debt. I have reason to believe that it is because we do not realize this that recruiting is so backward. The mother country has been so indulgent and so generous in granting us everything that we wanted without even hinting that she wanted anything in return that we have, I fear, become insensible to the things we have received from her. We have taken it all as a matter of course. We should now rise to the occasion and show that we appreciate all that has been done for us and that we can do by sending her men when that is all that she is asking for." (Applause.)

Interval at the army last night. This is on a voluntary basis and is not at the public expense but it was held because so many young men who are not able at present to go on overseas duty were anxious to get drill. The hope is that as in other Canadian cities these meetings may aid recruiting, as many a young man gets a realization of what is wanted through drill. In nearly all other places the militia is on a stronger footing than it is in St. John, as there has not on the whole been the same interest in the continuity of their drill. The next drill will be held on Wednesday evening and all members are asked to come and bring their comrades.

It is reported from Sussex that there are now 2,000 men under canvas there. No word has yet been received of the patterning of the battalion or yet the disposition of it, though it is known that all the men will not remain together.

Nothing has come to hand of the arrangements for the 88th under Lieut. Col. Fowler, who is now in Halifax.

SHARP ATTACK REPULSED

Dangerous Condition Relieved Just in Time by "Fruit-a-tives"

MR. F. J. CAVENEN.

Simple indigestion often leads to Heart Attacks, Catarrh of the Stomach and constant distress of mind and body. If you are bothered with any Stomach Trouble, and especially if Constipation troubles you, take "Fruit-a-tives."

For two years I was a victim of Acute Indigestion and Gas In The Stomach. It afterwards attacked my Heart, and I had pains all over the body, so I could hardly move around. I tried all kinds of medicines but none of them did me any good. At last, acting on the advice of a friend, I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives." I bought the first box last June, and now I am well, after using only three boxes. I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to anyone suffering from indigestion, no matter how acute.

A Scotchman once wished to light a cigarette while on a railway journey, but, finding that he had forgotten his matches, he applied to a fellow passenger, who immediately handed him a box, saying as he did so: "I'll have a smoke, too, I think." But he then discovered that his cigarette case was not in his pocket, whereupon the canny Scotchman was heard to remark: "Then I suppose you'll no be wanting your box of matches back?"

He'll be in port next week—Neal of the Navy.

CAN PUT TEN MILLION MORE MEN IN FIELD

Petrograd Professor, Visiting Halifax, Says the Russians Are United, and More Than Ever Confident of Victory

(Halifax Chronicle)

"Russia can put ten million more men into the field, bit by bit as the occasion warrants," said a Petrograd university professor, who is one of a party of five men from Russian educational institutions now on the way to the United States by the steamer Car from Archangel, to a reporter of The Morning Chronicle yesterday. The Car came into Halifax harbor yesterday morning for bunker coal and sailed in the afternoon for New York. "So far, we have scarcely touched our second class. On the other hand, Germany has drawn practically the full of every class of her reserves, and the demonstration that she is now making can correctly be termed her last effort. We have such immense resources in the matter of men as compared with her and Austria there can be no doubt about the final outcome."

"What about Russia's supply of munitions?" asked the reporter.

"It is true that in April we were short in that respect, but so were all our allies, and now, like these others, we have overcome that difficulty and our own output and the amount imported has been increasing for months and we are now able to compete with the Hun in artillery combats."

"The people of Russia, of all races and creeds, are more than ever confident of victory and are bound more closely now than in any other time in their history. Despite the advances made by the Teutonic forces in the summer months, they are confident now that our troops have brought them to a definite standstill and that in the winter campaign we will make even greater gains than those which we made in the same season last year."

"Turning again to the subject of Russia's complete superiority in the matter of men, the professor said that Russian ladies who had been imprisoned in Germany and had recently been released and returned to their homes expressed the greatest surprise at the unwarlike conditions prevailing in the Russian cities. "In Petrograd, for example, several ladies back from Germany with whom I talked said that they could not at first understand it. They had been detained in Berlin. There, they said, it was a rarity to see any but boys and old men on the streets of the capital not in uniform. In Petrograd there are men fit for service, but belonging to the second and third classes, who are not yet in uniform. There is no need for them at present, but the time will come when they can be put into active service and the vast predominance, together with our certain equality in guns and shells with the enemy, will eventually spell triumph."

The port of Archangel, which was chosen by the Russian government as a substitute for all the Baltic seaports that had necessarily been closed, has not been found to be altogether satisfactory. In the summer months navigation to Archangel is not difficult, but in the winter it is sometimes a problem to keep an open route through the ice. The ice-breakers there do excellent work and are able to keep a track through the ice that forms on the route, but begs sometimes sweep down from the Arctic Circle and it is this uncertainty that makes the port not altogether a desirable one. Consequently the Russian government has looked about elsewhere for a more suitable port. That port has been found and a railway to it is now under construction, and is nearing completion. The port chosen is on the Russian coastline near the Norwegian border and is on the fringe of the Arctic Circle.

But it is open all the year round. It is hardly inhabited at present, but the Gulf Stream flows onto those shores and in the winter the temperature is not too low for outdoor work. It is situated on what is known as "the Mormon Beach."

There are four Canadian ice-breakers at Archangel now. They are the Earl Grey, the Bruce, the Lintrose and the J. F. Horn. The Bruce and the J. F. Horn are used for the harbor itself, to keep that clear of ice, and the other two ships have for their object the keeping of a clear track to the White Sea.

CONGRATULATIONS POUR INTO WHITE HOUSE FOR WILSON

News of President's Engagement to Mrs. Galt Surprise to all But Few Friends

Washington, Oct. 9.—Invitations and congratulations are pouring into the White House offices, because of the president's engagement, in such volume that a special staff of clerks was prepared for assignment to social work only for the next two months.

Close friends are planning pre-nuptial affairs, and the White House, which for more than a year has been observing a period of mourning, will begin to take on its old aspect of social activities. The time of the wedding, coming probably almost at the opening of congress and the return of the diplomatic corps to the capital from the summer embassies, will signalize the full swing of the Washington social season, which now will include the usual state dinners and receptions in the executive mansion.

Wedding Details Undecided.

President Wilson is a Presbyterian and Mrs. Galt an Episcopalian. No decision has been reached which service will be used at the wedding.

The engagement news came as a surprise to all but a few intimate friends who knew that the friendship of the president for Mrs. Galt had developed into an intimacy that presaged marriage. That Mrs. Galt had become a companion of the president was known, however, in official and society circles, because she appeared frequently with him, not only on motor rides but at baseball games.

Mrs. Galt is regarded as a woman of rare beauty and charm. Those who have known her best predicted today that she would be as the first lady of the land, a popular hostess as well as a comfort and support to the president in his daily work.

Mrs. Galt is about thirty-eight, youthful in appearance and simple in her tastes. She is the widow of a well-

Sale of patriotic pumpkin pies afternoon and evening. Sale of theatre tickets, family and individual passes for Imperial, Empress and Star Theatres, 5:15 o'clock. Sale of two billiard tables and bag-a-telle table, 8:30 p.m. Sale of English retrievers and pups, 9 p.m. Sale of Royal Gazette of 1909 at 9:30 p.m. Sale of Confederate note at 9:40 p.m. Sale of tickets for Cadillac touring car all day and up to 10 p.m. Chance to buy a car for one dollar. Bargains galore in every line. Drawing of Cadillac car at 10 p.m. Grand finale under the direction of the commercial travelers. SPECIAL—QUEEN'S RINK. 7:30 and 8:30—Country produce; bargains in potatoes and other vegetables.

This afternoon and tonight will be the grand finale, the great clean-up of the Patriotic Auction. There will be a lengthy list with bargains in every line, and a glance at the list published here will show an interesting programme of events. Of popular interest will be the auction of theatre tickets, family passes worth about $75 each for the Empress and Star theatres, and passes for two for the Imperial theatre worth about $50. Harken ye—movie fans—here's your chance to see good shows at a bargain for the next year. In the issue of the Royal Gazette referred to is an advertisement for the sale of a negro wench. Both it and the Confederate note numbered 4-11-44 are valuable antiques. A Car for a Dollar. Somebody is going to secure a five passenger Cadillac touring car for a dollar tonight. The drawing is to be held at 10 o'clock, Mayor Frink officiating in St. Andrew's rink. There are other interesting events scheduled for this afternoon and tonight, including the auction of 200 pumpkin pies, fresh from the oven. There is still an abundance of merchandise in many of the departments though great inroads have been made upon the enormous quantity of stuff which was displayed for sale early in the week. Some of the departments are entirely depleted, but others are still well filled, for there were some lines of goods on which auctions were not so frequent or continuous as in others, and this is especially true with regard to groceries. There will be great bargains in groceries tonight, while other goods to be offered will also make excellent purchases. In the Queen's rink from 7:30 to 8:30 the best few barrels of potatoes and other vegetables will be sold.

Travelers' Day. This will be Travelers' Day at the auction and the lengths of the grip will hold full away. Some of them will act as auctioneers, disposing of the goods with which they are most familiar, while others will see that the bidding is well sustained. It has been decided to charge an admission of ten cents for the grand finale this afternoon and tonight.

NEW PLAN TO GET MONEY FOR PATRIOTIC FUND

Drawing of Fifty Fine Prizes Next Week—Will Be Shown in Street Procession

Members of the big committee which has labored so energetically for the success of the Patriotic Auction, are now launching another movement—$5,000 grand patriotic drawing with fifty prizes, tickets will be sold at 50 cents each, the proceeds to go to the patriotic fund. These prizes will be displayed in one of the booths in St. Andrew's rink tonight. On next Tuesday afternoon they will be conveyed about the principal streets in a unique procession. This procession will start at 2:30 o'clock from St. Andrew's rink. The Cadillac touring car is expected to head the parade, the generosity of the person lucky enough to win it tonight, being relied upon to this extent. Next will come a handsome Russell car, Model K, 1911, the original cost of which was $2,500, and now to be offered as first prize in the big drawing. This will be followed by the Jordan picnic wagon auctioned this week, drawn by four handsome horses, while displayed on motor trucks will be carried the various other prizes. The arrangements for this parade are now being made with W. S. Allison, Livery stable owners or others who can lend carriage horses for the display are asked to communicate with him. Lieut. Col. Armstrong has offered to allow a bugler to join in the procession, heralding its approach, and it is possible that a bugle band may take part. Daughters of the Empire will be in the procession in motor cars, and offering tickets for the drawing, while other members of the order will circulate among the spectators for the same purpose. The drawing will be on or before November.

Dare-Devil Auto Exploit

By Irving Cummings, Actor

Leading Man in Big Film Production Earns Reputation of Being Most Reckless of Them All

Irving Cummings' latest exploit won for him the name of "the daredevil," by which appellation he is fast becoming known among movie fans the world over. The handsome Cummings has often caused the seasoned "camera man" to gasp, and that, in these days of thrilling film stunts, is considered quite some achievement. In "The Diamond from the Sky," the huge continued photoplay production in which Cummings and Lottie Pickford are starring, the $10,000 prize scenario called for a thrilling automobile chase. Cummings, as the hero, put in some thrills that even the author, in his fondest imagination, could not conceive.

It all occurred out at Santa Barbara, Cal., near the "Flying A." studios, where "The Diamond from the Sky" was filmed. Cummings, as Arthur Stanley, hopped nimbly into his humming French racer and was off at high speed to escape from the sheriff. Dashing down the country road, Cummings found himself speeding along at 60 miles an hour, actually alongside of a flying Southern Pacific train. He waved a challenge to the engineer.

Like two bullets the train and the auto sped across the country with Cummings in the machine, steadily gaining, though only inch by inch. A mile down the road was a fork. One branch led away from the rails; the other crossed them. The engineer of the flying passenger train thought of course that Cummings knew the route, so he opened his throttle wide to beat the speeding actor. Suddenly the engineer's heart literally ceased to beat. Cummings had taken the wrong road. He was dashing a mile a minute to almost certain death, for there was no stopping the great train in the short intervening distance.

Then Cummings showed his nerve. Putting every ounce of power in his racing machine, he covered the ground like one possessed. Straight for the trucks he sped, bending low over the wheel. He leaped across in front of the train, missing the big locomotive's nose by the fraction of an inch. Safely across, the actor stopped and gazed at the fast-disappearing train. Then he mopped his brow.

"That was the closest yet!" If S. S. Hutchinson called Cummings foolhardy, he may be excused, for Mr. Hutchinson, the producer of "The Diamond from the Sky," had just taken out a huge insurance policy on Irving Cummings' life.

Harry Hyslop, 43 Marsh street, had his skull fractured and was injured probably fatally yesterday afternoon while at work in the brush factory of T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd., Lancaster. A stick flew from one of the saws and struck him. He was taken to the General Public Hospital in an automobile.

HOW PHILLIES WIN THE FIRST OF SERIES

Defeated Red Sox in a Game Devoid of Brilliance — Winners' Victory on Fluke Hits

The Phillies clinched the first game of the world's series yesterday when they defeated the Red Sox, by a score of 3 to 1. Alexander their star slabanman, worked with Burns between points, and although he succeeded in keeping the Sox from winning he was hit hard.

The Red Sox outthrew their opponents, but some bonhead plays turned the tide of battle and they were vanquished. Shore, who was selected by Carrigan to oppose the great Alexander, was in good form allowing only five scratch hits. His own nerves, apparently, were his greatest enemy. In the fatal eighth he disposed of Alexander and then passed Stock. Bancroft drove the ball back of second and Barry by a wonderful stop prevented it from going into the outfield. Scott, however instead of covering second to retire Stock when Barry made his great stop, stood watching his teammate and neglected his own duties. Thus two men were safe instead of two being out. At this juncture Shore's nerves must have been right on the job for the next batter, Paskert, was given a free pass to first, filling the bases. Then Cravath the Phillies mighty slugger advanced to the plate. He hit to Scott, who threw to first instead of attempting to get the runner at the plate. Luders then hit a slow grounder to Shore and as he failed to field it another run crossed the plate.

In the first of the ninth Manager Carrigan sent two pinch hitters up but they failed to connect safely and the side was soon retired.
The game was considered a freak exhibition and was not satisfactory to the supporters of either team. The Phillies won on fluke hits, and the Red Sox lost on misplays. The box score follows:—

BRITISHER IN MOST DARING WAR EXPLOIT
London, Oct. 8.—How Lieutenant D'Oyly Hughes, attached to a British submarine operating in the Sea of Marmora, swam from his craft, pushing ahead of him a raft bearing explosives with which he made a breach in the Turkish railway skirting the beach, is related in an official report given out here tonight. This statement, chronicling, perhaps, the strangest experience that has befallen any man during this war, says:
"His weapons consisted of an automatic service revolver and a sharpened bayonet. He also carried an electric torch and a whistle. The cliffs proved unscalable at the first point of landing. He therefore relaunched his raft till a less precipitous spot was reached and after a stiff climb and a considerable march he reached the railway."
"Sighting a viaduct," continues the statement, "he planned to destroy it, but abandoned the idea because of the presence of enemy workmen. He then selected a brisk culvert, under which he placed a charge of explosive and lit a fuse. He effected his escape by running a mile down the railway, and plunged into the sea just as the explosion went off. Debris was scattered near him, indicating that the explosion was effective. Having blown his whistle to summon the submarine, the lieutenant swam out to sea. However, on sighting the submarine, he mistook it for a group of Turkish rowboats, whereupon he swam towards shore and began to ascend the cliff in hope of hiding. He then discovered his mistake, and again entered the water. Subsequently he was rescued by the submarine when he was on the verge of exhaustion."

NO FOOTBALL THIS YEAR AT MOUNT A.

Robert Smart, a member of Mount Allison University Athletic Association, informed the Times this morning that they would not be represented this year in the Intercollegiate Football League. This decision was arrived at Thursday evening at a meeting of the club. The sporting spirit in the university, he said, is absolutely dead, and instead of the famous gridiron songs resounding throughout the campus, patriotic songs are heard instead. When the football squad was called out for practice some time ago they responded in a half hearted manner. If the war is ended next year Mr. Smart is confident that the game will be revived and the boys will once again go forth seeking premier honors. For some time there has been some doubt if the intercollegiate league would be formed, but now that Mount Allison has come to this decision it is not likely that it will materialize.

ST. JOHN BOY WRITES OF A. S. C. Army Service Work Not The Easiest Part A THRILLING RIDE

Story of Trip Through Shell-Pelted Region to Take Supplies to Place Near Firing Line

In a letter recently received from Driver Charles Edwards, who is with the Army Service Corps in France, telling of his experiences at the front, he says: "As most people think that the Army Service Corps have a soft job and run no risks, perhaps the following is worth relating: "Three of us were told to hitch up and take supplies to a certain place near the firing line. When we got there, after dodging several "Jack Johnstons," I found I had to take my load farther to a village that was being shelled by the enemy, and part of which was on fire. It was about three o'clock in the afternoon, and I had to wait till dark before I could proceed, as the roads all around were being shelled. "About eight-thirty I went up to and through the village. Some of the houses were still burning. The streets were packed with reinforcements, and I had to drive very slow. Every now and then a shell would whiz over head and burst. The troops would throw themselves flat on the road to dodge the shrapnel bullets, but you can't do that on a wagon. You have to sit still and chance it. Streams of wounded were coming down from the trenches, some in motor ambulances, some on stretchers, and others hobbling along as best they could. After dodging about from one place to another I got rid of my load, and turned to go back. For some distance beyond the village I had to gallop, as the shells were still falling pretty thick along the roads and at the same time had to keep my eyes peeled for telegraph wires which were hanging low in places and which have a knack of getting one under the min and near strangling him. "After going along several rough roads, up and down hill, and across a pontoon bridge which was being continually shelled by the enemy, I came into a portion of the main road, which is also an attraction for the enemy's guns. Some of the shells had evidently done their work, for several dead horses were lying around amid portions of wagons. After another gallop of half a mile, I was out of the danger zone and arrived back to our billet at 8.30 a. m. "I have enclosed a piece of poetry written by one of the Territorial A. S. C. men out here and I think it might make people give a thought to the boys of the Army Service Corps who, though not in the midst of the fray, are doing their bit quietly.

THE ARMY PROVIDERS When you speak of deeds heroic, and of fighting men and fame, And you talk of famous regiments, and mention them by name, You forget they need supplying, with food and things galore; This is the work of willing hands—the Army Service Corps.

You never see their health drunk, you seldom hear them cheered. In brilliant accounts of victory their names have not appeared; But though those famous regiments with Hunns can wipe the floor, They'd be in quite a mess without the Army Service Corps.

See the drivers "hooking in," ankle deep in mud and slush; Using language that would make a London cobby blush; Clothes wet through before they start, fingers numb, harness hard, After a hard day's work since five, and perhaps last night, a guard.

They're ready at last, "In column of route, Walk! March!" the captain cries, And off they go as willing a lot as ever met your eyes. It's dark; they can't see where they drive; they simply follow the rattle.

A wagon gets stuck in the mud and the muck, but you never hear them grumble. Bullets whiz past, left and right, and shells go screaming by, And maxims clatter their awful patter, and star shells light the sky, Wagons unloaded without a sound, save of the noise of the guns, And the lads have food for another day of the fight with the cursed Hunns.

Then fill up and drink to the health of those Who supply the troops in broad meat, and cloth; May they and their leaders live happy ever more. So three cheers, my lads, for the Army Service Corps.

MOTHERS OF THE FRENCH NATION

Let me tell you of the Widow Fardin, who sells delicious cheese in a village on the Moselle. I had not passed that way in a fortnight, and she had told me proudly of her two sons. The elder had been killed in performing a feat that had brought him the high distinction of the Medaille Militaire. So her hopes had centred themselves on her younger son, a sergeant in the Battalion of Alpines. Cheerfully I called her out into the sun and asked if she had any news of the boy. She replied sadly:—"Yes, Monsieur, of bad news. He was killed the third of May. The first bullet that had touched him, clean through the head." His commandant had photographed the graves of the two brothers side by side on the crest of the mountain, and had sent her the picture with all their effects. I thought of what they had told me the day before that cemetery, churched into fragments by a fresh bombardment—modern artillery does not strike haplessly—and I didn't tell her of it, for she told me that "when one can" she meant to search out their resting place, and by that time it will have been restored to holy quiet. "They died well," she spoke almost sternly. "They were all I had. A life of pain and effort to make a certain position for them; all wasted. But perhaps not all, for we many mothers of France don't give

SAVE YOUR HAIR! 25 CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every Bit of Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out

Try This! Your Hair Appears Glossy, Abundant, Wavy and Beautiful

Thin, brittle, colorless and scrappy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandruff-tong—any time—will surely save your hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff-tong from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. Dandruff-tong is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

grudgingly: the world and its future mothers must be spared." She was splendidly brave, the Widow Zaccaria, but she choked very humanly and then finished quietly: "What will that William have to answer for?" And under this in the cool, aromatic dark of the big cheese-room on the Moselle.

When the mothers of a nation are like that, what becomes of our notions that the people are pale, effete, worn-out? If ever the chance presented itself to America to do justice to a friend in sore need of justice, it is here and now. We must reject this cherished idea that has obscured our vision. We have thought that France is losing vitality because she does not display a fecundity prolific as that of rabbits or savages. Long since we accepted the theory that civilization limits population by the possibility of individual happiness and prosperity, and we must now recognize the fact that France is civilized in practice, not de-factis.

CANADA IN THE WAR

The commanding officers of the various militia divisions throughout Canada have been summoned to Ottawa by the minister of militia to confer regarding recruiting, training of the soldiers, etc., during the winter. At a meeting of the executive of the Dominion Steel Company in Montreal yesterday it was decided to undertake a $12,000,000 order for large sized shells. The quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on the corporation's preference shares was declared.

John W. Parker of Prince Street, West St. John, offered to assist yesterday but was rejected on account of his eyesight. One of his brothers has died as the result of wounds received at Hill 60, and another was wounded in the same battle, a third is now at the front and he has later nursing in a military hospital in England.

Seven Deaths from Typhoid Two additional cases of typhoid developed yesterday in Dorchester and Lunenburg. The first case in Lunenburg was that of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Card succumbed to the disease.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If Peevish, Feverish and Sick, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."
