GERMANS TAKE ANTWERP AFTER TEN DAYS OF HARD FIGHTING

The Gallant Belgians Yesterday Forced to Give Way Before Enemy's Attack

Force of 125,000 Germans Now May be Able to Hurry to Assistance of Van Kluck—Many Vessels Said to Have Been Blown up in Antwerp Harbor

London, Oct. 10.—(12.17 p.m.)—The British War Office announces that Antwerp was evacuated by the Belgians yesterday.

London, Oct. 10.—According to a Central News despatch from Amsterdam, an official message from Berlin states that Antwerp has fallen.

London, Oct. 10.—The official announcement of the fall of Antwerp, given out at German general headquarters late last night, and transmitted here via Marconi wireless, says:

"This forenoon several forts of the inner line of the fortifications of Antwerp have fallen. The town since midday has been in our possession.

"The commander and the garrison evacuated the fortifications and only a few forts are still occupied by the enemy, and this is without influence on our position in Antwerp."

London, Oct. 10.—The Chronicle states that the Germans have entered Antwerp and that the inhabitants are calm.

FIGHTING WAS TERRIFIC

The Hague, Oct. 10.—Antwerp surrendered to the Germans at 2.30 p. m. on Friday. The war flag was removed from the cathedral and a white flag raised in its place at nine a. m. The actual surrender took place five and one half hours later.

It is declared here that the cathedral of Notre Dame has not been damaged. The Germans delivered one of their last furious attacks between six and seven o'clock on Friday morning. The Belgians resisted them valiantly in their trenches and the desperate fighting resulted in very heavy losses on both sides.

During all Thursday night Zeppelin airships directed the firing of the German heavy artillery, the results of which were especially disastrous. The German artillery forced its way across the river Nethe, in which many of the artillerymen were drowned. The fighting has been indescribably sanguinary.

The Belgians succeeded in blowing up two, and possibly more of their batteries and heavy artillery.

MANY SHIPS BLOWN UP

London, Oct. 10.—An Amsterdam despatch to the Reuter Telegram Company says that thirty-two German merchantships including a large number of steamers have been blown up in the port of Antwerp.

King Albert, it is believed, is among those who have left Antwerp. An unconfirmed report says the queen and members of the royal family have gone to Ostend. The king's reported departure to Scheut, near the Dutch frontier, would, it is explained, be consistent with the reports that the Germans have forced the passages of the Scheldt between Termonde and Weteren, for the king always kept in touch with the more hard-pressed of his troops.

The strategists argued that as soon as the fortress was captured a German army of 125,000 men would be despatched to the assistance of General Von Kluck, and that these numbers would tell.

Antwerp, Oct. 10.—The inner circle of forts has been bombarding the Germans who are mostly entrenched in the village of Contich.

London, Oct. 10.—A despatch from Amsterdam to Reuter's, dated Friday night, says:

"During yesterday's bombardment of Antwerp, some shells exploded on the roof of the prison. The wardens immediately liberated the prisoners.

"From Maastricht comes the news that 20,000 Germans are approaching Antwerp from Liege. A fugitive member of the Red Cross states that the inner line of forts near Liege are in German hands, and that fierce fighting still continues.

Can be Retaken

London, Oct. 10.—The "Times" military correspondent in commenting on the situation at Antwerp says:

"Permanent forts in an exposed situation stand no chance against modern artillery. If the German force hold Antwerp later and we attack it the result will be the same.

"The capture of Antwerp by the Germans will have an effect which cannot be denied upon the opinion. But the city, even if converted into a German first-class fortress, will bring the Germans little advantage for the Scheldt cannot be used for naval purposes. Germany doubtless hopes to retain Antwerp when peace comes, but there is no chance that this dream will be realized."

Clan MacKenzie Contributes to Prince of Wales Fund—Four Members Off to War

Clan MacKenzie, the local branch of the Order of Scottish Clans, at a meeting this week decided to vote the sum of 25 cents a member towards a contribution to the Prince of Wales relief fund which is being raised by the order.

There are more than 20,000 members of the order throughout the United States and Canada the total gift will be a substantial one. The clan is directly interested in anything of a patriotic nature and the members are in response to the call of the order to contribute to the fund for the purpose of relieving those who are destitute through the heads of their families being called to arms in Great Britain.

At a meeting of the Royal executive council held in the royal secretary's office in Boston, on September 8, a resolution was adopted that an appeal should be sent to our grand clans, asking them to send a subscription equal to the amount of twenty-five cents per capita of their respective membership for the purpose of relieving those who are destitute through the heads of their families being called to arms in Great Britain.

It is the purpose of the royal executive to send this fund as soon as it reaches the office of the royal treasurer to the Prince of Wales fund in London, that being in our opinion the most appropriate fund through which our subscription can be distributed.

Clansmen have ever been ready and eager to assist those less fortunate than themselves, and this terrible conflict is now raging throughout Europe is a fitting reminder of the fact that we are all members of one family.

It was for an early response to this appeal from the members of our order who have ever been quick to show their willingness to respond on occasions similar to this.

Real Advantage Is Gained By Allies To North of The Oise

Progress Also Made in The Region of St. Mihiel—Von Kluck Tries to Get Around The Allies' Flank Near Lille—British Make Progress

Paris, Oct. 10.—To the north of the Oise, our troops have attained real advantages at several places in their zone of action. In the region of St. Mihiel we have made material progress.

"Antwerp was taken yesterday. The conditions under which this place was occupied by the enemy are, however, not yet known.

"In Russia very spirited fighting continues on the frontier of East Prussia, where Russian troops have had partial success. They have occupied the town of Lyck (in East Prussia).

"The siege of Przemyśl continues under conditions favorable for the Russians, who have taken by assault one of the forts of the main line of defence."

London, Oct. 10.—On the battle line in France, the German and French reports agree there has been no change in the situation, although the French say they have made some little progress near St. Mihiel and in the Argonne. It is, however, on the other wing, in northwestern France, and across the Belgian border that interest centres. Here a battle is in progress on a line from Lasigny northward through Roye, Bray-Sur-Somme, Arras and Lens while the cavalry is operating north of Lille.

Further south, the Germans, having withstood the allies' attempt to outflank them, have been delivering counter-strokes, at first at Roye and Lasigny, where the French tried to get through the German lines of communication, and then at Arras, where they again tried to get through Cambray to the railway line at Le Cateau. Before these counter-strokes the French had to give ground, which they since have regained.

Falling to break the allies' lines, General Von Kluck attempted to outflank them by sending a large force of cavalry around Lens to the rear of the French at Lille. Here the fighting was still going on yesterday, and no result had yet been attained.

BRITISH MAKE PROGRESS

Meantime both armies have withdrawn troops from the centre, and the weakening of the German line north of the Aisne is said to have allowed the British to make two advances, in one of which stone quarries were taken which the Germans had held for nearly a month.

Syrians and Bedouins

London, Oct. 10.—An Athens despatch to the "Daily News" states that a German colonel, Von Geck, has taken the direction of the general staff of the Syrian troops. He is also recruiting Bedouins.

Germans at Courtrai

London, Oct. 10.—The correspondent of the Times at Ostend, reports that 5,000 Germans have occupied Courtrai, on the river Lys, 26 miles southwest of Ghent, and near the French border.

Bridges Blown Up

London, Oct. 10.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Ostend says that the Germans have blown up all the bridges between Ghent and Ingelmunster and have destroyed the railway station at Vive Steel. Ingelmunster and Vive Steel are on the railway line between Ghent and Courtrai.

Christians Leave Turkey

London, Oct. 10.—A despatch from Larissa, in the north of Greece, reports that large numbers of Christian refugees of various nationalities continue to arrive at Cyprus, by steamer and sailing vessels from Turkish ports, where there is great unrest. Numbers of Mohammedan women and children have been withdrawn into the interior, fearing a bombardment by the foreign warships.

Great Destruction at Arras

London, Oct. 10.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail in France telegraphs that the German bombardment has worked terrible destruction at Arras, a large part of which has been reduced to ashes. The bombardment lasted two days, and many people are reported killed.

Causes Money Trouble

London, Oct. 10.—A despatch from the Hague to the Exchange Telegraph Company states that Field Marshal Baron Von Der Goltz, governor-general of Belgium, has, in the name of the German Emperor, ordered the Belgians to accept German currency on the same footing as Belgian currency. This is causing trouble at Brussels.

ONE THING THAT HELPED TO MAKE WAR IN EUROPE

Venice, Oct. 10.—The trial of the persons accused of the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg, will begin in Sarajevo on next Monday. It is expected to last about three weeks. There are twenty-five prisoners, twenty-one of whom are Serbians and four Croats. Ten of the prisoners are under twenty years of age.

 On Friday morning the kindergarten teachers of the Waterloo, St. James and Brussels street free kindergartens arranged a combined session of the "kiddies" in "Glad Tidings" Hall. More than one hundred children were in attendance. The exercises were of a Thanksgiving nature. The opening song was "Father we thank Thee" and the little ones united fervently in song to the "Giver of all good and perfect gifts." The usual "circle exercises" and games followed. Then came patriotic songs. One "It's a long way to Tipperary." They all sang it. Needless to say it went with a swing. At the close of the exercises the kiddies partook of a substantial luncheon and were dismissed after singing God Save the King.

THE WAR NEWS

Antwerp has fallen. The reduction of the city in so short a time is another great tribute to the effectiveness of the German heavy siege guns.

While the fall of Antwerp is another great blow to Belgium, and while it may have the effect of prolonging the war, it cannot affect the final result.

The events of every day emphasize the necessity of hurrying more men to the front. The resisting power of the Germans is extremely formidable.

There will naturally be some anxiety in England as to the announcement that Count Zeppelin's staff are working night and day at Wilhelmshaven, preparing an air fleet for operations in the North Sea.

The spruce lumber shipments from St. John to trans-Atlantic ports during the last nine months were only 6,700,000 feet short of the total for the corresponding period last year.

The resumption of operations in the big canning plant at Chamcook would be of great benefit to the fishermen and farmers of Charlotte county.

Germany in 1912 imported hundreds of millions of dollars worth of food stuffs, and the volume of such imports has had an increasing tendency for some years.

It costs more to keep the cookie jar full these days than it did a year ago, but now that the school days are here, an empty cookie jar would be a calamity.

Secretary Hutchinson remarked last night that it should be the aim of the Association not merely to improve young men but to train them for service, and encourage them to take a lively interest in what might be termed the extension of work of the Association.

Would not a barrel of apples be a nice gift for a poor family? The fact that the bank clearings at St. John last week were larger than in the corresponding week last year shows that the motto, "Business as Usual," applies to the people of this city.

News of a victory by the allies in France would just now be very welcome. We must, however, school ourselves to patience, never doubting the end.

It is remarked that there are many large demands for unusual contributions from the citizens of St. John at the present time. It must be added that the response is generous and that no one is the worse for that generally.

People who cannot go to the front and help to fight the Germans can do it at home by showing a cheerful and confident spirit and doing their best to keep business normal and the wheels of industry in motion.

Today's news brings home more forcibly the truth that this war upon which we have entered is a very serious business. The success of the allied armies in the end is not doubted, but it will be a long time coming and the cost will be enormous.

"Let us boost production," said Sir George Foster in Toronto this week. While paying a tribute to the bankers of Canada Sir George added this remark: "I would say this to them—Go as far as you can to help continue every well based, decent industry that we have in this country."

One of the first things deemed necessary after men had been recruited here for military service was a vigorous system of physical drill. Why not apply that rule to as many as possible of the boys of St. John during the fall and winter?

THE TUNIC WAIST

that it is almost impossible to keep posted regarding the different names by which it is called. Here is an excellent model for ladies and misses. It is carried out in forest green cloth, trimmed with braid. The Directorate collar is lined with silk, and the cape buttons to the long shoulders with decorative buttons. Braid makes the most suitable trimming for the design. Accompanying it is a plain skirt, and to make the entire costume required 4 1/2 yards of 44-inch material and 4 yards of soutache braid for the trimming. One yard of 36-inch silk lines the cape and collar.

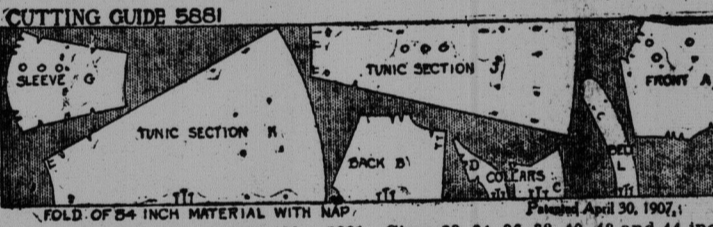

There are fourteen pieces to the pattern, seven of which are placed on a lengthwise fold of the goods. The tunic section, back, collar and belt are laid directly on the lengthwise fold. Toward the end, above the tunic, the sleeve is arranged, then running along a lengthwise thread, above the back, collar, etc., the separate tunic section (A) and front (A) are placed.

Now, underface the front of the waist from front edge to small "o" perforations. Close under-arm seam as notched, close shoulder seam. Gather lower edge between double "v" perforations. Sew stay to lower edge, centers even, large "o" perforation at under-arm seam and bring small "o" perforation to double "o" perforation in front. Sew round collar to neck edge as notched. Sew Directorate collar to neck edge as notched and bring small "o" perforation to corresponding perforation in front. Roll front as illustrated to form revers. Sew standing collar to shirt as notched; adjust to position, bringing large "o" perforation to corresponding perforation in front.

Close sleeve seam and ease into drooping armhole without fullness. Adjust the cape to position, making the center-backs and neck edges even. Sew small "o" perforations to corresponding small "o" perforations in front along shoulder line.

The tunic sections are now joined. The hem is turned in the front and then gathered and sewed to lower edge of waist over stay, center-backs even and seam at under-arm seam. Adjust belt and add buttons. The braiding should be done before adding the belt, revers, etc., to the garment. Buttons to match, etc., to the garment. Buttons to match, etc., to the garment.

GREAT SIEGE GUNS A FEATURE OF THE WAR

The siege guns that have been brought into prominence in the war in Europe are a startling indication of modern progress. Some interesting facts in relation to these big guns, and something of the history of their introduction into modern warfare is told in a special article in the issue of October 3, by Scientific American of October 3 by an ordnance expert as follows:

One of the most striking developments brought to light, or at least brought to public attention, by the present war is the enormous size and most formidable of these weapons, the one which has attracted most attention in the present war is the enormous 11-inch siege mortar.

The 11-inch mortar was developed and constructed in large numbers at the famous ordnance works of Krupp at Essen. In respect of size, weight and destructive power this piece marks the climax of a rapid development of heavy ordnance capable of being transported with an army and quickly employed for the reduction of permanent fortifications, such as those which were reduced at Leige and Namur.

Up to the time of the Russo-Japanese War, a distinction was made between heavy and light siege units. The latter were mounted upon wheeled carriages, and they were capable of being moved with an army on the march. The heavier siege units, say of from 9-inch to 11-inch calibre required special means of transportation. The massive parts, such as the gun and its carriage had to be conveyed by standard gauge railway or by ship to some place adjacent to the field of operations, whence it was customary to lay a light military railway or devise other special means of transporting the batteries to the locations assigned to them.

Before the mortars could be erected and placed in working order, it was necessary to provide heavy masonry foundations, of sufficient area and mass to withstand the heavy shocks of recoil. It can readily be understood that this preliminary work entailed the loss of much valuable time.

This was the method employed by the Japanese in the reduction of Port Arthur. This enterprising people was the first to employ 11-inch siege guns for the reduction of permanent fortifications. They dismantled a large number of their coast defence mortars in part of Dairei; laid a light military railroad from Dairei to the base at the hills encircling Port Arthur; built heavy concrete foundations; and erected upon them the mortars and their gun carriages. It was these siege pieces which assisted in the sinking of Russian ships in Port Arthur, and contributed very largely to the reduction of the forts which crowned the hills around that city.

Men's "Burberry" Overcoats

For Fall and Winter

Burberry's rely for their efficiency and worldwide supremacy on their careful selection of the finest raw materials, on their exclusive methods of weaving and proofing, and on their scientific combinations of fabrics, which prevent the intrusion of damp or cold and main tain an equable physical temperature whatever be the condition of the external atmosphere.

One of the unique features which give to Burberry its universally recognized pre-eminence is the proof, which is free from all deleterious ingredients and is applied by a process—available only by Burberrys, and the result of long and costly experiments—first to the fibres from which the strands of yarn are twisted, next to the yarn itself, and finally to the woven material.

Impregnating every separate molecule of which the cloth is composed and becoming an inherent element of its substance, as long as a Burberry fabric holds together the proof remains an integral and ineradicable part of it.

In this fine showing of the world-famed "Burberry" Overcoats for winter wear, we offer a great variety of models in the slip-on style, some buttoned to the neck with full belts, others with ulster collars and half belt effect, while a number are in the plain back style. Plain and split sleeves, silk shoulder and sleeve linings.

This is the greatest exhibit of "Burberry" Overcoats we have ever made, and the diversity of cloths and colorings will not fail to please. There are Naps, Whitneys, Fleece Shetlands and Chinchillas, beautiful soft, warm cloths, mostly made in the double-faced style with fancy check backs. Others in Diagonal weaves and fancy mixtures, and with plain backs. Also a great variety of heather and plain cloths in browns, greys, fawns and greens.

Prices Range From $28.50 to $49.00

NEXT BILL AT OPERA HOUSE A FINE ONE

Comedy Element Delightful — A Strong Attraction For the Holiday

At the Opera House next week the Thompson-Woods Stock Co. will present "Our New Minister," a rural comedy in three acts.

This play was written by Denman Thompson and used by him for several seasons as a starring vehicle. The scenes are laid in New England in a village called "Hardscrabble," named so as the village storekeeper puts it, because it is "hardscrabble" to get a living there. The play, despite its name, is largely comedy and holds the mirror up to life as it is lived in many of the New England villages. The quaint philosophy of the Yankees, couched in the twang peculiar to them, causes a great deal of laughter in the course of the performance. The play was seemingly written for to him anything like a formation appears to be a matter of considerable time and labor, which could not be accomplished with the enemy's rifle shot and shell. What these protections are and how they are formed is clearly explained in the special war issue of the Scientific American of October 3, by a military expert in an interesting story about fortifications generally.

The advancing line may have suffered great losses, or the ammunition may be running low. At all events, it finds itself unable to gain ground to the front. To retreat would be fatal. It must remain where it is—some of the men find natural cover, but many must provide artificial protection from the enemy's rifle fire. The men are lying down as fat as they can. To arise, even to a kneeling position means death or a disabling wound.

The necessity for cover under these circumstances caused men to devise the lying down trench, sometimes called the skirmisher's trench. It gives cover from rifle fire to a man lying down, but is absolutely no protection from shrapnel bullets. The height of the parapet should not exceed one foot. The trench itself is about two and a half feet wide and about six feet long. It can be constructed by one man in soft ground, using the portable trenching tools, in about twenty minutes. Under fire, as outlined in the foregoing, the man being compelled to remain in the prone position, ten to fifteen minutes and complete the trench in forty to forty-five minutes.

In this position, and in view of the

DIGGING TRENCHES UNDER FIRE

In the reports of the war in Europe it is frequently stated that the advance lines of the armies threw up intrenchments and it is difficult for the ordinary reader to understand how this is done. To him anything like a formation appears to be a matter of considerable time and labor, which could not be accomplished with the enemy's rifle shot and shell. What these protections are and how they are formed is clearly explained in the special war issue of the Scientific American of October 3, by a military expert in an interesting story about fortifications generally.

 Speaks of Overseas Support as Doing Much in England

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 10.—Timothy M. Healy, K. C., M. P., the Nationalist member for Northeast Cork in the British House of Commons, who is spending a few days in Toronto on private business in an interview said: "Parliament is dead in England, with the one exception of the feeling which has been created among the Unionists by the recent formal passing of the home rule bill and the Welsh Church bill." The present united condition of Ireland and the spectacle of its union at the time of war was declared Mr. Healy described as "the pleasant incident which I have ever witnessed during my lifetime."

Roll Them To The Kiddies
 (BY PETER McARTHUR)
 Ottawa, Oct. 10.—Last night I had a wonderful dream, and just because people say that if you tell your dream before breakfast it will come true. I got up at daybreak this perfect October morning to tell it to you. I should like to have been outside, watching the red sun lighting the horsetail and bringing out the flare of colors in the autumn foliage, but I want my dream to come true.

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT
 Stop Eating Meat For a While if Your Bladder is Troubling You
 When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

ROYALITE OIL IS CLEAN AND PURE
ROYALITE OIL is the registered name of The Imperial Oil Company's water-white kerosene. It is an extra refined, high grade oil, yet it is sold at an extremely reasonable price. This is made possible by The Imperial Oil Company's large manufacturing resources and the practically universal distribution of its products throughout Canada. You can get Royalite oil in small country stores as well as in the cities and towns. You can also get Rayo Lamps and Perfection Heaters and Cookstoves, for which The Imperial Oil Company is general distributor. Royalite Oil burned in a Rayo Lamp gives a clean, steady light that is absolutely odorless and smokeless. Royalite Oil burned in a Perfection Heater or Cookstove gives you most heat for least money.

CEETEE
 ALL PURE WOOL GUARANTEED UNSHRINKABLE UNDERCLOTHING
 Why do Governments always supply their soldiers with woolen underclothes?
 Why do experienced travelers always wear woolen underclothes?
 Why do sportsmen—hunters—sailors, etc., always wear woolen underclothes?
 Because—Clean, pure Wool is recognized as the only safe and healthful material to wear next the skin.
 "CEETEE" is manufactured from the very finest Australian Merino Wool, scoured and combed over and over again until every particle of foreign matter is taken out and every strand is as clean as it is possible to be made. It is then carefully manufactured on exclusive and exclusive machinery, very different from the ordinary style of undergarment machinery—fashioning each garment to fit the human form. It is all serge edges, therefore cannot come unravelled; every joint is knitted together, not sewn, as with ordinary underwear.
 People wear "CEETEE" Underclothing because they know it to be the best.

KITCHENER'S WORK
 England Has Done Remarkably in Raising New Armies
 It is only about eight weeks since Lord Kitchener took charge of the War Office, and he has accomplished some remarkable work. Canada has had in the dispatch of her expeditionary force of rather more than one division, some idea of what an undertaking and fitting out of an army is. Some paragraphs from a recent issue of London Truth give some idea of what the mother country, under Lord Kitchener's guidance, has been doing.

LLOYD GEORGE SPEAKS ON UNEMPLOYMENT MATTER
 Lloyd George, London, Oct. 10.—David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, in a speech to a deputation of the Workers' National Committee, said it was not at all sure that they were not a little premature in anticipating a very considerable amount of unemployment as the war progressed. The demands on the industrial side of this country, he said in the cotton trade, the distress undoubtedly would be severe. That was the only trade, he added, which had completely broken down thus far.

WHY CHILDREN ARE SO

Something on Bad Manners of the Younger Generation. (Quoted from Pictorial Review, October, 1914.) Marion Harland tells in October Pictorial Review the following instance, showing the bad manners of the children of today and how best to set about curing them.

"My eldest granddaughter and my namesake!" said a proud grandmother, and a benevolent desire to impart it to others as soon as he gets hold of it. In allowing him to have his say at all seasons and in whatever company, the parents obey a natural law, according to our new woman. Still graver of eye and thought, we ask ourselves—not the parents—to what purpose the eager youngling's seniors have lived, if what we could tell him is not of more value than what he can prattle of to us.

"The child must be himself and not another," we are warned. "The product of pinching back and pruning and tying to uprights, may be the parent's ideal. It is not what Nature designed in sending this fresh creature into the world."

APPLES WASTING IN THE ORCHARDS

With City Prices Too High For Poor To Buy

BEST FRUIT, BAD MARKET

Orchardists Face Anomalous Home Conditions With British Market Demand Uncertain—A Quebec View

(Montreal Gazette)

"Just what will become of all the Canadian apple crop this year is rather a serious question at the present," said Peter Reid, secretary of the Pomological Society of Quebec, at the Queen's last night. "There is a good crop of the finest apples we have seen in years, but prices are low and the market just about as tricky as it could be, both in Canada and Great Britain. It is not at all unlikely that as a result a considerable quantity of fruit which would be of great value to the poorer people of Montreal and other cities will be practically wasted simply because there is not sufficient machinery to bring the fruit to the people at any sort of comparison between the price the grower gets for the apples and the final charge made to the consumer.

Mr. Reid commented on the price charged for apples by the baskets at some shops in Montreal as compared with that paid the grower. Baskets of Wealthy, a fair eating apple, with little lasting qualities, were being sold at 75 cents in the stores. The apples were easily bought within forty miles of Montreal for $1.25 a barrel. A barrel would easily make over a dozen such baskets with the result that by the time the consumer got the fruit it had increased in cost nearly a thousand per cent, although grown within a couple of hours' journey of the consumer.

It is felt by orchard owners that there must be something wrong when they have thousands of bushels of magnificent fruit practically wasted within a few hours' journey of Montreal, while in the city of Montreal there are thousands of people who find they cannot afford to buy the apples at the prices charged," said Mr. Reid. "There have been efforts at co-operative selling, so as to put the apples grown within easy reach of Montreal on the market here for small buyers at prices which would enable even the poorest to eat an apple once in a while. These unfortunately have so far failed, since they have generally only started when the crop was so far ripened that it was impossible to do anything. To make such co-operative work possible arrangements should be made early in the season. Then, when the apples mature they could be marketed without difficulty, and we should be saved the spectacle of apples so cheap in the country that growers could not sell them, and so dear in the city that consumers could not buy them. The average consumer, however, would save money by buying by the box.

Of course this only applied to the cheaper grades of apples, said Mr. Reid. This, however, only meant fruit which was not perfect in appearance, flavor, or keeping qualities, but was otherwise of great dietetic value—far too great value to be wasted in orchards for lack of easy marketing facilities between grower and consumer.

As to the export market for apples, Mr. Reid said this was also a doubtful factor, owing to the war. In fact the apple growers were confronted with one of the finest crops the country had ever known, so far as quality was concerned, with a most uncertain market, save that there was a certainty of low prices, with a tendency to still lower.

At the present time the less valuable grades were a drug on the market, selling at around $1.25 a barrel at the orchards, while the windfalls were not sold at all. The more valuable fruit

DYSPEPSIA MADE MY LIFE MISERABLE

Did Not Think I Would Ever Be Able To Enjoy Another Meal, Until I Decided To Investigate Claims For "Fruit-a-tives"

W. F. ALLEN, ESQ., Halifax, N. S., Nov. 22nd, 1914.

"I feel that I would be doing 'Fruit-a-tives' a great injustice if I did not make known to you the wonderful results that I have obtained from its use. For the past eight years, I have been afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had given up all hopes of ever being able to enjoy another meal, when I chanced to see your advertisement in the papers, and as a last resort, I decided to investigate and see if all you claimed for 'Fruit-a-tives' was true. Now, after having used six boxes, I find that your claims for 'Fruit-a-tives' are well founded. I am now in perfect health and can enjoy my meals as I formerly did, and I cannot praise 'Fruit-a-tives' too strongly.

Just as sure as day follows night, just so sure will 'Fruit-a-tives' cure every trace of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. 'Fruit-a-tives' keeps the stomach sweet and clean, 'Fruit-a-tives' insures the digestive juices being fresh and plentiful by ridding the whole system of impurities. 'Fruit-a-tives' stimulates the stomach muscles, and insures every meal being promptly and completely digested.

If you have any Stomach Trouble, such as Belching Gas, Pain After Eating, Sour Stomach, 'Heart Burn'—and especially if your Bowels are not regular, by all means take 'Fruit-a-tives.' 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by 'Fruit-a-tives' Limited, Ottawa.

such as Fameuse and Macintosh Reds, however, were in good demand, but at low prices, compared with previous years.

"Prices for these," said Mr. Reid, "run around $2 and $2.50 a box of a little over a bushel. This is, of course, for the finest selected and packed fruit—and this year the best apples of these varieties are as perfect as we ever saw. The demand is fair, but the prospects for the lower grades are not good."

"The outlook for the export trade is not good," said Mr. Reid. "While just now there is every indication of a good profit on shipments the war has made such apples a luxury, and cut down the available money for luxuries, so that it does not look as though the demand

ENTIRE NATION MUST BEAR THE BLAME FOR HORRORS OF THE WAR

Writer Arraigns Common People as Well as Military Caste of Germany—National Pride Must be Humbled

(Mall and Empire)

The attitude of the German nation under the stress of war has made it abundantly clear that the common people, as well as the "cultured" ones, are little less aggressive in their arrogant Prussianism than the Kaiser and his military caste. The Allies have to fight and crush the Prussian military system, it is true, but they have also to fight and crush the Germanic reliance upon the doctrine of force. That involves the breaking of a nation fed for forty years upon the idea that the Germans were God's elect, appointed to conquer and dominate the world. It involves the tumbling of German national pride into the dust. When the war opened it was thought to be no more than just to draw a distinction between the temper of the German people and the ambition of the war lords. We were said to be at war with the one, but not with the other. A lot of nauseating clap-trap was uttered respecting the desirability of avoiding harsh words that might hurt the susceptibilities of the German people. One Scottish official, speaking at a great meeting, suggested that Britons should say nothing that would make difficult the resumption of friendly relations with the German people after the war. The barbarities of the Germans in the field have pretty well put an end to this maudlin talk. Not only the devastation of process art treasures at Louvain and Rheims, but even more the outrages upon defenceless women and children, the killing and maiming of the wounded, the utter disregard for the humanities in the treatment of non-combatants suspected of injuring Germans, stamp the German soldiery as scarcely better than the perpetrators of the Armenian massacres. Intellectual Germany stands brazenly behind all this along with Protestant Germany. Gross outrages, brutal vindictiveness, callous conduct by German soldiery in operations cannot be added to the already heavy burden of responsibility upon the back of Prussian militarism. Germany's culture has not made the mass of her people less brutal and her militarism has not made them much more so.

DO NOT GROUCH, BUT BOOST PRODUCTION

Sir George Foster Points the Way Canadians May Profit by Opportunities

Declaring that among the countries of the world Canada at present occupied the most advantageous position from the commercial standpoint, Sir George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, offered some suggestions to the members of the Toronto Board of Trade at their luncheon on Wednesday, as to the course by which Canadians could best profit from the opportunity now offered.

He urged them to meet the situation with courage and confidence, to develop the home market by endeavoring to replace articles of foreign manufacture by articles of Canadian production, and to cultivate trade with Great Britain and the overseas dominions. He denounced the "Kaiserism of Fashion" and advised his audience to "chuck it" if it tended to prevent them from buying goods made in Canada. His closing words were "Don't grouch" and "Boost production."

"The Spy"
German Lead Pencil and "German Time," at Brussels, Show Terrible Results of Small Blunders, in Operations of War Time Spy!

(Copyright, 1914, By The Newspaper Enterprise Magazine)
This spy fled to America to escape the governments of two nations. He knows that secret agents are watching him still. This story was secured from him in a village in Pennsylvania. His story lacks literary qualities, but it is filled with interesting and first-hand information regarding the early developments of the European war.

Writing on the inside of one of the outer leaves of a cabbage in the code I sent word to Berlin of Liege's activity. Then I drew the outer leaf back upon the cabbage head, placed it in the bag with other vegetables and sent my relative away. All he knew was he must discover a certain man in Aix, and hand him the cabbage and pull from it the outer leaf.

It was my duty to report. So, as a market man, I rode into Liege, and bargained in the market place. Belgian housewives made bargains that day. They laughed at me as a simpleton when my beets and carrots were sold at a penny less than at the next stall. They were all talking of war and I walked through the town before starting home.

It was midnight when I reached my cottage and my relative was waiting. He had waited and went into another room. I walked and wept and told him I must get back home to my wife and family before the Germans came. He told me none could leave the city that way. I walked until he relented and I passed that I must go. I whipped my cart donkey and, still howling, went away. That night I wrote a message on cabbage leaf and broke my relative to meet me no more.

At daybreak I entered Liege again, sitting on top of a load of vegetables, and pretending great grief. My day was extremely busy. I complained every minute of my misfortunes and of being robbed, and continually sought official assistance for my stolen property. Likewise I was seeing much of the disposition of the forces. Also I discovered that neither French nor British forces were arriving—a few officers and one small detachment of French engineers.

What was regarded as a surprise to many fans was given yesterday when the Boston Braves defeated the Philadelphia Athletics in the first game of the world's series by a score of 7 to 1. The results were published in The Times in a second edition which was issued promptly, giving the score and play, inning by inning. Bender being lauded from the box in the sixth inning was a revelation to his admirers, while Rudolph's pitching for the Boston team showed the steadiness of a veteran and to his effective work a large share of the credit for the victory is due.

ly preparing for it long before the crisis occurred may be cited the following act, that the English ambassador dismissed his female German cook July 30, five days before war was declared.

"While telephonic and other negotiations were being conducted between Sir Edward Grey and Ambassador Lichnowsky, and while England pretended to the outside world that she was interested in the preservation of peace, the English ambassador in Berlin evidently was quite clear about it ending in hostilities, as is evidenced by the fact in connection with the discharging of his cook above mentioned.

"We only regret that five valuable days—i. e., from the moment the cook was dismissed until the moment of the declaration of war—were lost in futile pourparlers.

"The famous cook has now become a great historic personality, constituting as she does the most important landmark in the history of the world."

THIS COOK NOW FAMOUS.

The London Standard's correspondent at Amsterdam says that the Berlin Lokal-Anzeiger has published an editorial on the causes of the war in which it offers as proof of Great Britain's culpability the discharge of Sir Edward Goschen's cook. The Lokal-Anzeiger says: "As incontestable proof that England wanted war all the time and was secret-

GOOD NEWS COMES FOR BRITISH SHIPS

New York Agents Ratified South Atlantic Routes are Clear

New York, Oct. 10.—New York agents of British steamship lines whose vessels ply between New York and ports in South and Central America and the West Indies have been notified by cablegrams from London that regular sailings might safely be resumed. Agents of the Lamport and Holt Line said that they had been directed to resume the sailing schedules which were interrupted by the activities of the German cruisers Karlsruhe and Dresden, and the converted cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm in the South Atlantic. It was assumed by the agents that the German warships have been chased away, bottled up in some port, or had disastrous meetings with the British and French cruisers known to be in South American waters.

VALUE OF A SHADE TREE

According to the bulletin of the Massachusetts Forestry Association to determine the value of shade trees on streets, the advice of practical real estate men was sought. A large number of these men were asked this question: "How much, in your judgment, do full-grown shade trees along the street improve the value of the adjoining land for house lots?" The majority of answers ranged from ten to fifty per cent while some went so far as to state that a house lot would be worth one hundred per cent more if full-grown shade trees were standing in front of it. A fair average of these answers falls between twenty five and forty per cent. Expert tree appraisers say that a shade tree in good condition and well placed is worth $1 per square inch of cross-section measured at breast height. At that rate a tree one foot in diameter is worth $118, while a tree two feet in diameter is worth $432. For the sake of illustration suppose that we take a good-sized house lot, 50x100 feet, or 5,000 square feet, worth 25 cents a foot. The land value is $1,250. If the trees are spaced 50 feet apart on the street there would be one tree in front of the property. The tree is two feet in diameter and worth $432, which would increase the value of the lot thirty-six per cent.

THE MAIL WAGON HORSES

St. John, Oct. 9, 1914. Sir—Apparently the authorities have not had their attention called to the wretched condition of the horses drawing the royal mail wagons, although many citizens have noticed their very pitiable condition.

To strangers coming to the city, and I have heard many remark it, they cannot understand a government not owning its own animal servants, but rather letting out a contract. These poor beasts are driven up and down hill at a sickening pace every day for at least forty miles daily; and all this reflects sadly on the appearance of the city. Watch for the mail wagons and judge for yourself.

CITY BOND ISSUE OVER SUBSCRIBED

Local Tender For $250,000 and the Issue Was $124,000

That there is plenty of money in St. John, and that the people have the fullest confidence in their own city and the management of its affairs is proved by the fact that the recent issue of bonds has been over-subscribed. The issue was for $250,000 and tenders for more than $250,000 have been received from St. John people. The city council will therefore have no difficulty in securing funds to carry out needed work.

A BUILDING MATTER

F. W. Kelly, reported for having a building in Leinster street, not authorized by law, pleaded not guilty. James Carleton, building inspector, said that Mr. Kelly had asked for a permit for repairs on a carriage building, but that instead of putting on repairs he had altered the building and was raising the walls from twelve to twenty-four feet. Mr. Kelly said that he went to the inspector in September and explained that he wanted to put another story on his building and asked if he needed a permit which he supposed to be for the work required but the permit produced in court was for repairs and not for alteration. Mr. Kelly said that the inspector had spoken to him about not having enough trusses and that he was willing to put in another. He said the inspector had not spoken to him about raising the building. The magistrate told Mr. Kelly he should have seen that he got the proper permit. The case was adjourned until Tuesday.

SURPRISE PARTY

A pleasant surprise was laid right tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Traflet on their home, 82 Elm street, when young friends called upon them and presented to them as an emblem of esteem, a handsome willow chair. All had a fine time with games and music. Refreshments were served and the party dispersed about midnight.

CHEERFUL OVER Y.M.C.A. OUTLOOK FOR YEAR

Fine Spirit Shown at Gathering at Which Members of New Staff Are Introduced

That he had never before entertained so great a degree of optimism regarding the work of the Y. M. C. A. at the beginning of a year's work was the cheering statement made by President J. Hunter White at the reception last evening which introduced the new staff and formally opened the winter's work.

The association's fine building was ablaze with lights, and the cheerful wood fire which blazed hospitably in the large grate in the general reception room could be seen by the visitors before they entered from the street. In response to the invitations sent out, a large number of ladies and gentlemen, including several clergymen, as well as others active in religious work and work generally for the benefit of young men, assembled and were introduced to the new officers, T. Hutchison, general secretary; H. O. Bonke, physics director, and P. J. Legge, boys' secretary.

After an hour or more spent in pleasant conversation and moving about the rooms Mr. White called the assembly to order. He spoke in an optimistic way of the prospects for the winter's work, paid a tribute to the ability of the new staff, and stressed the importance of the work of the association in character building. He dwelt also upon the fact that the work of the association is to be carried on in full co-operation with the churches, and this thought was further emphasized by Secretary Hutchison, who said that they would like to have the city pastors feel that the members of the Y. M. C. A. staff each of them had an assistant pastor in work relating to young men.

Brief addresses were given by Secretary Hutchison, Mr. Bonke and Mr. Legge, each of whom pledged himself to do his utmost to make the work of the association a success, and expressed the hope that at the end of the year the kind things now said about them by the president might be fully justified.

Mr. McAllister, territorial secretary for the maritime provinces, made a happy speech, setting forth the four-fold aim of the Y. M. C. A. in social, physical, educational and religious development of youth.

Rev. Gordon Dickie spoke briefly in behalf of the ministers present, expressing good wishes for the success of the programme was brightened by a piano solo by Miss Leonard, reading by Mr. Harding and vocal solos by Mr. Bonke.

At the close there was a most enjoyable exhibition of games in the gymnasium, participated in by many young men and young ladies, and refreshments were served by a large and efficient committee before the singing of patriotic anthems brought the happy evening to a close.

President White and the directors of the association were much gratified and encouraged by the hearty reception given to the new officers.
