LONDON, July 20.—A despatch to the Morning Leader says that the Norwegian police are anxious regarding an nanarchist plot against Emperor William, who is cruising in northern waters.

The despatch says that King Oscar received a warning from Chicago that two anarchists, a man and a woman, the former a Swede and the latter a Norwegian, had left America on board a trans-Atlantic steamer bound for Norway.

They were traced to Tromsoe, thence to Walmoe, in the southwestern part of Sweden and thence to Copenhagen, where a search is now being made for them.

SYDNEY, July 18.—Advices received here from St. Pierre this morning say that all the cargo of the steamer Monterey, with the exception of the cattle, will likely be lost. After the steamer struck 300 cattle were thrown overboard and all landed safely on Langlois Island. Three Reid steamers are at the scene and will bring the cattle to North Sydney or Halifax.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JULY 20, 1903.

BLAIR AND THE PARTY.

The government has at last found a champion in St. John. The moribund Gazette, ever heretofore foraging with the winning side, has determined in its last movements to atone for a mis-spent life, and, donning its battered armor, has tottered again into the arena, with blunted lance to battle for arena, with blunted lance to battle for a lost cause. In its edition of Saturday it issues a feeble call to all true New Brunswick liberals to waver not in their support of their great chieftain. Laurier, even though their trusted division leader has deserted in the face of the enemy. The railway policy on which the cabinet has split is endorsed and, with the words of one near enough to the end of life to discern coming events dimly through the thin-worn well, a prophesy of happy days again and the New Freeman uncompromisingly oppose the government in so far trol in the way of patronage. This will be his no more. Hence new conditions.

What is known as the liberal party

n this province is bound to be greatly eek, no matter which way Mr. Blair support the government heartily in all but their railroad policy there are those to consider who have never atything but the benefits that, through Blair's influence, have accrued to is certain to come, is an item which chances of the next election ighly improbable. He is not a man to take a turning down with equanimity, and, should he, stung by the contemptuous ill-treatment of his colleagues, bolt the party altogether the result is hard to forecast. Will Mr. Blair, without the patronage, have the influence both the party allogether the result is hard to forecast. Will Mr. Ballr, without the patronage, have the induced of the and the latter sixteen minutes and the the patronage, have the induced of Mr. Bink; the minister? How much in of the government? Will the following the patronage of the patro people is a rainbow whose foot has never been reached yet. What few trials the principle of communism has had have been lamentable failures. But these have all been on a small scale.

Social economists will watch forms. Social economists will watch Germany

A fleet of steamers and schooners are 1y-ing by her transferring the tween decks cargo slowly. The French warship Troude will sail for the scene of the scene of the scene Monday.

Advices received

The attitude of the New Brunswick liberals in the present emergency was aptly illustrated in a conversation that took place in Fredericton last week. A prominent conservative chatting with one of the leading men in the Blair machine in that county, said jocularly:

"Say, on whose account will you be distributing your aims around Kingsclear next election?"

"Well, to tell the honest truth, I'll be darned if I know just yet," came the frank and significant racity. weary Willie—"All right, lady."
Housekeeper—"Very well. Here's a latchet. Just chop some of that wood uit there" —— on whose account will you be distributing your alms around Kingselear next election?"
Weary Willie—"Oh, see here, lady, I hought it was a gas stove you had! lood day!"—Philadelphia Press.

The brilliant actor, William Owen, supported by J. W. McConnell and a large company will open a two weeks' engagement at the Opera House tonight in Othello, and during the first week will present also Richelleu, Hamlet and The Merchant of Venice. It is one of the distinguishing marks of Shakespeare's genlus that he makes the time and place a living reality to the spectator. This is particularly true of his Othello. In this play we have a complete picture of Venice as she was when through her gates pass-as the government is opposed to Mr. Blair; the Globe is discretely non-committal; the poor Gazette is left to fight alone for Laurier and the cause.

The uncertain condition of the liberal party in New Brunswick is very clearly illustrated in this tangled editorial web. For years it has been little else than a Blair party. With the exception of a few independent men like Senator Eilis, its members have surrendered themselves without question to the forceful leadership of the ex-minister of railways and, as it happened, have been led along liberal lines. But during these years Mr. Blair has held vast power of control in the way of patronage. This will be his no more. Here new conditions.

Rev. R. P. Fdwards preached in Leinster Street Bablist church yesterday from Rev., chap. 21, v. 5: "Behold I make all things new."

The speaker compared the new with the old. Solomon says there is nothing new under the sun. A thing to be new must be made out of new substance. Ged pulls down to build up. Men get tired of the old life and some escape its misery by suiciding, but a Christian never gets tired of the new life.

The preacher carnestly appealed to men to abandon the old ways of life and seek the new.

NEW LONDON, Conn. July 18.—There was no room for doubt in the victory of the Reliance today in the second run of the New York Yacht Club cruise of thirty-nine miles, from New Haven to this port. She led from the very start and finished more than a mile ahead of the Constitution and more than two miles ahead of the Columbia, beating the former six minutes and twenty-nine seconds in clapaced time, and the latter sixteen minutes and twenty-four seconds. The Constitution beat the Columbia nine minutes and fifty-five seconds.

The united picnic of Leinster and Brussels street Haptist churches was held Saturday at Westfield Beach and was very largely attended, and a thoroughly good time enjoyed by all.

The Dominion cruiser Curlew, Capt. Pratt, left for down the bay Saturday afternoon, after a few days' visit to St. John. Capt. Pratt has his hand-some little vessel looking particularly well.

A pair of horses attached to a large wagon loaded with hay ran away on Parsdise row Saturday Frank Rafferty, the owner of the team, who was driving the horses, was thrown from his seat and the load of hay was distributed all over the street. Rafferty escaped with slight injury.

At St. Phillip's church there was an annual dollar raily last night, when each member of the church contributed a dollar for the purpose of missionary work in Africa. This will be handed to Bishop Smith, who will pass through the city next Thursday on his way to Halifax to attend the African Methodist Episcopal conference.

THE YACHT CLUB CRUISE.

The yachts of the Royal Kennebeccasis Yacht Club, which had spent a week on the St. John river, reached Carter's Point Saturday afternoon. They came to anchor there and yesterday the annual service was held on the shore. The attendance was large, all the yachtsmen being present, and there were 25 boats in that party alone. Other yachts went up, so that the sight on the river was a most attractive one. The order of service was admirable and copies of the same were distributed among the people. Many people residing in the vicinity of the Point were also in attendance. The service consisted of hymns, opening sentences of scripture, prayer, selected Psalms, scripture lesson, hymn, prayer. The service consisted of hymns preached by Rev. Dr. Lindsay Parker, the chaplain, was a most appropriate discourse. Some of the yachts come down last night and the remainder reached Mildigeville today. The yachts of the Royal Kennehe night and the remainder reached Millidgeville today.

The races that were to have been sailed in the Washademoak were held on the Bellisle. The Hermes, a class B boat, satled in Class A. and defeated the Canada and Louvilna, the Canada being second. In class B. the Gracie M. defeated the Winogene in a close race. The Robin Hood was the only class C. boat in the race, but she beat some of the other craft. The races were sailed in a light wind.

The Yarmouth yacht Columbia is probably the finest sailing craft in these waters. Beautiful as she looks on the outside, her interior appointments are superb. The Hermes is a splendfully appointed racing yacht, with fine accommodation for her crew. She beat everything in sight on the cruise.

EASY FOR ST. JOHN.

EASY FOR ST. JOHN.

(Hailfax Acadian Recorder.)

If there were any doubts as to the ability of our present local baseballists compared with those of St. John, they were quickly removed yesterday when the St. John Clippers, leaders of the local league in the sister city, met the pick of the two Hailfax clubs, and made them look like a primary department in school. The visitors are youthful lot, so much so that a number of the five hundred spectators present had misgivings as to whether they could play ball when they went on the field, but they soon found that there were veterans on our team who could profit by lessons from them. Individually, providing there are no men on who were not slow to appreciate their good work.

This they manifested in the very first innings, when the Haligonians had the bases occupied and no one out, but by sharp work they were prevented from scoring. Wells got the greatest round of applause for the Haligonians by another of his brilliants running matches in left field. Dalziel pitched a ine game up to the eight, but four hits being made off him, but thereafter he weakened.

The Clippar took the processing the process of t

under consideration, and what agitated the ministers was an intimation received from some liberal senators that in the present shape they will never swallow the scheme. The secession of half a dozen liberal senators will mean the defeat of the project, and it is stated that fully ten are prepared to vote against the subsidy bill. This news agitated the ministers and led to considerable recrimination. Since Blair's retirement some ministers desired to drop the project altogether, but others pointed out that the matter had gone so far that to evince such weakness would be positively fatal to the party in the general elections, hence the scheme will have to be gone on with. But when it comes down it is expected there will be considerable modifications of the proposal as originally outlined by the government press, in order to meet the views of discordant senators. It is recognized that if the upper house fails to endorse the government's proposals Blair's position will be fully justified and the government correspondingly weakened, hence to avoid such a contingency modifications in the scheme must be made. One point of the proposed agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific troubling the ministers is in reference to the construction of the line from Winnipeg to Moncton. Some ministers desire a railway company to build the road, others that it should be constructed by a commission appointed by the government. The decision on this point will be awaited with interest by the country. Stirring times are in store in Ottawa this week, and many parliamentarians in the government side with the Grand Trunk Pacific project had never been born.

It is understood in political circles that A. B. Aylesworth, K. C., of Toronto, will be nominated by the Dominion government for the position of Alaskan boundary commissioner, in succession to the late Judge Armour. His fitness for office no one who has watched Aylesworth's career at the bar will gainsay. With reference to this report your correspondent learns on excellent authority that there is positively no truth in it. Aylesworth had already refused a supreme court jurgeship. A close friend of his says nothing has intervened since that time to induce him to change his mind.

MILLIONAIRES APPEAR IN SHORT

TROUSERS.

They Join in Old-Time Kissing Games at a Society Function.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 16.—Staid Kirk-wood, a suburb of this city, was astonished at a social function given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Blair, at which forty prominent society persons in juvenile costumes played the games of childhood, including "Clap in and Out," "Forfelia," "Wade the Swamp," and other old-time kissing games.

Mrs. Blair declined to disclose the list of hor guests. She declared it was an informal affair, to take those present back to the old days. It is known, however, that several millionaires were there in short trousers.

All the women's dresses were short, with guimpes, bebe waists and gretchen slips. Their hair was worn floating free. Mrs. Blair, who played the leading role, is president of the Board of Lady Managers of the Louisiana Furchase Exposition.

first mass at Holy Trinity this morning at 8 o'clock. A large number attended the service.

Rev. C. P. Carleton is the third son of William Carleton of the customs department. His two brothers are John L. Carleton, K. C., barrister, of this city, and William Carleton, theatrical manager. He has one sister, Mrs. John Connor of Boston. He received his early training at St. Malachi's school in this city. His arts course was completed at St. Joseph's University, from which institution he went to Laval Seminary in Quebec. He then attended Holy Heart Seminary in Hall-fax for two years, where he finished his theological education, graduating in June of the present year.

At college the reverend gentleman was a great favorite, never falling to avail himself of any opportunity to assist his fellow students. He possesses that pleasant and self-sacrificing disposition so much in accord with the true spirit of the clergy. When he undertakes a work, no matter how insignificant it may be, he is untiring in his zeal till it is satisfactorily completed. School associates regarded him as an accomplished speaker, and there is little room for doubt that a few years of experience will suffice to make him a splendid pulpit orator.

In entering upon the noble mission which he is about to adopt as his life work, Rev. Mr. Carleton has prayers of hosts of friends that he may be long spared faithfully to do God's work.

A WARNING.

Rev. W. C. Gaynor in his remarks

A WARNING.

Rev. W. C. Gaynor in his remarks to the congregation of the Church of St. John the Baptist yesterday felt called upon to inform his auditors that it was a shame to know that parents allowed their children, especially their daughters, to roam the streets and stand in doorways at very late hours of the night.

There was room for much improvement in this regard, said the rev. gentleman. Parents should not allow their daughters on the streets at such late hours; their place was at home. Bring up the children right and they will live right. Unfortunately for all in that section of the city, they were forced to put up with much that is not found elsewhere. Loose companions made broken homes. Contamination was responsible, and it was the duty of parents to carefully watch over their daughters and see that the home circle contained no absent ones at a hour that was morally respectable. Public opinion was not as high in this matter as it should be. If the sentiment of the city was towards the upsilifting of the city's morals as a whole, these transgressions would not occur. Sincerliy counted a great deal. Let the head of the family put its foot down and a cessation of such practices funds the part of the city. It is a scandal to all St. John, and especially contaminating to this part of the town. In the meantime I can do nothing more," continued the reverend gentleman, "than warn all here on the danger there is for young girls who are known to haunt and frequent the streets at late hours of the night. Let us pray and hope for a remedy."

DOUGLAS AVENUE WAITING ROOM

The street railway company has at last decided to build a waiting room for passengers at the and of Douglas avenue. The new building will be 24 ft. by 14 ft. and is now being erected.

NEEDS PROTECTION.

The ladies of the North End W. C. T. U. have been working long and earnestly towards the completion of the memorial park on Douglas avenue, and feel that when they have done so well the results of their work should receive at least some protection from the city. This does not seem to be the case, for the drinking fountain in front of the park is given over to the hands of miscreants who regularly injure it. The fittings are broken off and carried away, and for fully half of the time the fountain is out of order. Plumbers have to be engaged every little while to make repairs, and outside of the expense this is very annoying.

After his departure there arrived in St. Stephen on July 12th, a lady from Philadelphia in search of the missing Merril, whose wife she claimed to be. Learning of his second marital adventure she laid information against him before Police Magistrate Wells of St. Stephen, who issued a warrant for his arrest on the charge of bigamy, which warrant Officer Balley arrived in the city Saturday to execute.

Merril is a printer by trade and is described as rather short with a light moustache, of a gentlemanly appearance and usually well dressed.

A man answering this description applied for work at some newspeper offices about two weeks ago and is believed to be working at his trade with some printer in the city. If this is so his arrest will be made soon, Merril is known here as Jay, C. Merril. The woman he married in Milltown came here with him and has been staying with relatives. Some of these were in St. Stephen July 12, and hearing the story of Merril's crime, informed the police of his whereabouts.

THE GLENCAIRN'S OWNER. Sydney Flyer Has Been Purchased by W. B. Ganong, Proprietor of the

For the past week or so there has been much speculation as to the purchasers of the fast Sydney yacht Glencairn. The Sydney papers in speaking of the sale always referred to the St. John syndicate which had bought the yacht, and in St. John it seemed impossible to learn who the parties were. The Glencairn has been bought not by or for a syndicate, but privately by W. B. Ganong. Mr. Ganong is the proprietor of the Cedars and is now in Fernie, B. C., where he has been since the Cedars closed last fail. The yacht will be brought to St. John. Mr. Ganong is coming here and will use his new fiyer on the river.

MORE LAWS FOR THE SPORTSMEN Maine Organizations Propose a Law to Restrict or Prohibit the Taking of Firearms into the Woods in Close Season.

KINEO, Moosehead Lake, Me., July '16.—It is apparent that the Maine commission of inland fisheries and game and the Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association do not agree with and the Maine Sportsmen's Fish and Game Association do not agree with the majority of visitors to the state in the belief that there are game laws and restrictions enough. That they are out for further laws was shown at the annual summer meeting of the association, and that they have opposition more bitter than has been previously encountered before them is apparent.

The present movement is for a law to restrict or prohibit the taking of firearms into the woods during close season on big game and it arouses the unusual interest because its passage would directly affect all who come to the section known as Northern Maine, not only sportsmen, campers, canoelists and wilderness tourists, but the summer visitors as well, for few visit this section who do not spend a part of their time at least, in the woods. DRINKING KING'S HEALTH IN COLD WATER THE PROPER

THING. THING.

LONDON, July 16.—King Edward has taken action which will greatly please loyal teetotalers. A naval officer wrote to His Majesty asking him if he would issue an order that when his health was toasted it need not be drunk in wine. The King replied, through his secretary, that the Lords of the Admiralty probably would not like his interfering by issuing orders, but he would be glad to have it circulated privately that he considered a toast as much honored by those drinking it in water as by those using wine.
