WE WANT A WHITE BRITISH COLUMBIA. WINNIPEG, Aug. 6.—There are 5,000 Japanese, 2,000 Hindus and 6,000 Chinese in Vancouver at present. We don't want any more in the Province. There is plenty of white labor now at the coast, and there is no further need for the Asiatics. This statement was made by Mayor Bethune, of Vancouver, who is in the city for a few hours on his way home from the Quebec celebration. The caste system prevails among the Hindus in Vancouver as it does in India. These people even when working in the mills, may be seen eating in separate groups. They never eat meat. They usually carry with them a bamboo made of flour and water, and when hungry eat this. No people can do much work on that kind of food. The Japanese are more progressive and energetic and will be successful anywhere. They are entering all kinds of business, and have even established a bank of their own in the city. The Chinamen are the best class of Asiatics we have at the coast. They are good workers and do not branch out into business, as do the Japanese. Nevertheless we don't want any more. The trouble which occurred there some months ago has passed and all is quiet. No further disturbance is anticipated.

LATEST WEATHER REPORT SHOWERY. CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Gus Schoenbeck, foundry foreman, lost $700 at poker last night and entering without a cent his home at 2677 Robey St., met his seven year old daughter Mary. "Papa, give me a penny for candy," said the little girl. Slightly Schoenbeck stepped into an adjoining room, picked up a revolver and sent a bullet crashing into his body. At the county hospital where he was taken unconscious and without uttering a word, it was said he would die. NO SPECIAL MEETING ASKED FOR YET. So far no request has been made for a special meeting of the common council to consider the resolution passed by the committee on civic government systems asking the council to state whether that body would be likely to act on the committee's recommendation. If the matter is not taken up before the next regular meeting of the council there will be only two months left to the committee to prepare their report and submit it within the specified time limit. If the present committee does not wish to act without a guarantee of results, it is possible that a new committee will have to be appointed who will make the required investigation irrespective of the result of their recommendation. A large bulldog owned by Taylor, the North End cooper, broke loose today and caused some excitement on Main street. The animal which is a valuable one is very ferocious and is always kept chained. Its appearance on the street was the signal for considerable agitation among the pedestrians, pedestrians, notwithstanding the fact that it was muzzled. Sergt. Kilpatrick captured the dog and returned it to its owner.

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 7, 1903.

THE ENTERPRISE FOUNDRY.

A few days ago the Enterprise Foundry at Sackville was almost totally destroyed by fire. The loss was so serious that the owners of the plant are considering the advisability of changing its location when rebuilding. There appears to be an agitation in St. John in the way of introducing Messrs. Emerson and Fisher to the people of Sackville as very anxious to have the business remain there. The Enterprise Foundry was among the most important of Sackville's few industries and it pre-pends a very large share of the prosperity of that town. The loss of this industry would be a severe blow. St. John is a much larger city, it needs manufacturing establishments and should put forth every effort to secure them, but it already has a fairly large number, and the presence of one more, even of such importance as the Enterprise plant, would not be very noticeable. It is well for residents of St. John to seek the establishment of new industries here, but it is altogether unwise to import for a small city struggling town like Sackville. We will be glad if Messrs. Emerson and Fisher, after thoroughly weighing the matter, determine to build in St. John, but we should not put forward any inducements in an attempt to make them leave Sackville. If our gain is to be enjoyed only to the serious disadvantage of another, and equally so, we will not do without it. Sackville has enjoyed this flourishing industry in the past. Sackville, by all odds, has the best right to it and should not be forced into such a position that it will be compelled to hold out any additional inducements to its owners to rebuild there—even if its owners were men who would allow such offers to weigh with them. The best advice that St. John can offer the owners of the Enterprise Foundry is that if their business in Sackville in the past has been satisfactory to them, they will be doing their whole duty to the Province by continuing there. If there are good reasons for making a change they can make no mistake in moving to St. John, but this city does not desire to profit through another's misfortune.

IN SASKATCHEWAN.

This is Nominating Day in the Province of Saskatchewan. The campaign which was opened three weeks ago, has been in some respects almost as keen, though not by any means as sensational, as that preceding the first general election after the creation of the province. The Provincial Rightists under the leadership of ex-Minister Haultain, have been putting up a most determined struggle, and are better organized than they were three years ago. A number of eastern men are among the candidates. Francis Scott is again in the field. There is no one as yet any complete report of the government nominees, but it seems probable that there will be contests in every constituency. Mr. Scott, early in the campaign, enunciated a radical policy outlining his ideas for the future development of the province, which has been bitterly attacked, but he has stood to his guns. A report which has gained some credence, is that win or lose Mr. Scott is to be next governor of the province. This seems hardly credible as he is very fond of active politics, has had some experience in the Federal as well as the provincial field, and being a young man, would scarcely be expected to accept the governorship at the present time. The only ground for believing that he may be inclined to retire is that for the past year he has not enjoyed the best of health.

IT INDICATES DEVELOPMENT.

There are many ways in which the development of a new country may be appreciated. To the farmer the increase of acreage sown, appeals most strongly; to the merchant and manufacturer the growing of population which creates larger demands for all manner of products, is the clearest indication of progress and growth. But to the newspaper man, who in the ordinary course of his work sees the actual development in all lines, the strongest indication of development is the increasing strength of the press. Ten years ago there were three daily papers in Winnipeg and two or three daily between Winnipeg and Vancouver. These were perhaps fourteen or fifteen weeklies. No clearer indication of the expansion of the western Provinces can be found than in the fact that during the past ten years the number of dailies from Winnipeg to Victoria, inclusive, has increased from seven to thirty. Towns, which as villages ten years ago, depended for their news on the weekly edition of papers printed or perhaps five hundred miles away, now support flourishing dailies of their own. The 1,800 miles between Winnipeg and the coast, which was formerly without a daily news service is now dotted by successful journals at Brandon, Portage La Prairie, Regina, Prince Albert, Saskatoon, Calgary and Edmonton. In addition to these there are a very large number of weekly or semi-weekly papers in smaller towns. The papers of Winnipeg and Vancouver have grown immensely. They boast very large circulations, and the amount of advertising matter they carry is the envy of the eastern publishers. The ever increasing success which these papers enjoy is ample evidence of the great growth of the country.

SKIBLETROLOGY.

"Do not scratch mosquito bites; it is not the proper paper." Interview in morning paper. Once the world looked good to me, 'T was innocent, and happy. Though the air, for miles around, Echoed scratchily and slippy; Bing! I'd swear him, just like that! "When he stung, he'd surely catch it. There was pain, then ecstasy; "Where he bit you, you could scratch it!" "Person licks in finger tips; People let the 'sneakers bite 'em, Then they scratch and make it worse—Do be careful!" —Same old item.

GOALS IN ALL THE JOYS OF LIFE.

More poor souls than I declare it, For when we are well jabbed now, We can only grin and bawble. Why should highbrows thus butt in, And we should calmly hatchling? In my erring, I was glad— "What are bites about the scratching?"

SPEED AWAY.

For Sale: A lot of useless cars both new and up to date. Comprised of Pullman sleepers and day coaches, minus freight; A mile of rolling stock from Boston to New York— The Glidden Airship Company is ready to unwork.

Just think! A railless railway line from Gotham to the Hub, A passage to and fro so quick one will not have to rub. One's dinner in old Boston and the theatre in New York; The Glidden Airship Company is ready to unwork.

One steps in on the Common and steps out in Union Square; One looks down on his fellowmen while sailing through the air. Closer than ever united will be Boston and New York— The Glidden Airship Company is ready to unwork.

Office Boy—Please, sir, a gentleman called when you was out. Editor—What he want? Office Boy—'E said 'e had come to give you a good thrashing. Editor—Did he? What did you tell him? Office Boy—I said I was sorry you wasn't in.

In ten minutes the battle would begin. "The enemy outnumbered them five to one." "Boys," said the captain, solemnly, "we have hard work before us. But that you are all armed to the teeth." "Far down the line little O'Flaherty nervously held up his hand. "Please, captain!" "Well, O'Flaherty?" "I—I haven't any tabs."

Mr. Boreby—Chaperons are regular nuisances, aren't they? Miss Peachbloss—Oh, not always. If it wasn't for my chaperon some men would hang around me all day.

Clarence Skipper—What? Say! Are those coffins hanging over there under the trees? Uncle Henry Screen—Them was coffins; now they're hammers. Bill Mope, the undertaker, failed at a sale, kid-dup!

OBTAIN JUDGES FOR COMING EXHIBITION

Manager Arnold has received an answer to his communication from Acting Live Stock Commissioner Spencer. The reply states that he will send a number of All Judges to the exhibition.

G. H. Vroom of Middleton, N. S., who is the fruit inspector for the Dominion, will judge the fruit.

A. C. Smith of the Grove Hill Poultry Yards at Waltham, Mass., will judge the different classes in poultry.

The decorations which A. O. Skinner secured from the Quebec tercentenary have arrived and the plans for the placing of the same are being drawn up.

Workmen are also busy preparing the plans for the arrangement of the different exhibits, which will be far different from the make-up in past years.

Says a Sydney despatch:—A jury empanelled to inquire into the cause of the death of Rod Gillis, supposed to have committed suicide at a house on Victoria Road yesterday morning, met last evening with Coroner A. G. McLean presiding. Five witnesses were examined and the evidence adduced was of a character that aroused suspicion. It was supposed that the deceased in clothing the revolver set the bed clothing on fire, his body being badly burned when found.

Mr. McLaughlin, of New York, accompanied by his wife and two children, is at the Curless Hotel, Grand Falls. He is one of the chief promoters of the new Power Company, for which some machinery has arrived. He and the officials report that work will be immediately started. It is also reported that the old Parent mill power will be developed first to give power for the drilling and other operations. It is to be hoped that these reports are bona fide and not mere fake schemes to retain their charter, which is about expired.—Victoria Co. News.

A party of nine, three to each canoe, leave Annapolis this week for a canoe trip to Bristol, thence by wagon to the head waters of the Miramichi and down that river to Newcastle, expecting to be gone between two and three weeks. The party consists of C. H. Elliott, his sister, Miss Elliott, and brother O. N. Elliott, of Campbellton, Miss Powers, St. John, Miss Gertrude Tibbits, the Misses Bessie and Jennie Currie, David and John Ogilvy, On reaching Newcastle the Messrs. Ogilvy to whom the canoes belong, will go to Bathurst where they meet a party to canoe up the river from that town to the head waters of the Tobique, thence down that river to Plaster Rock or here.—Victoria Co. News.

An event of much interest took place on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. S. H. Smith, Grand Falls, when her youngest daughter, Hertha Grace, was married to William Rex McLaren, formerly of St. John, but for some time engaged in barbering in this town. The bride looked charming in white silk costume over silk. They were "attended" by Rev. J. R. Hopkins, who was very quiet, the guests being only relatives and a few intimate friends.—Victoria Co. News.

CALLING HIS ATTENTION. Mr. Lingerlong—I had a queer adventure this afternoon. A swift plane Miss de Murr (with a swift glance at the clock)—You mean yesterday afternoon, I presume.—Smart Sat.

AMUSEMENTS.

"COLLEGE CHUMS" A HOWL.

When St. John people will leave their war, cosy homes and brave the elements to attend an entertainment, there must be real merit in the attraction. Those who took in the Nickel last evening and yesterday afternoon forgot all about the inclement out-of-doors and laughed to the point of uproar at the dilemma of the college Jack DuBois of Cornell University, who got sadly mixed up in his love affairs, despite the heroic efforts of his chum, Artie Astoribly, to palm himself off as Jack's sister. The pictures were by the Edison company, and the vocal accompaniments by the excellent Humanov company, with which the reliable old Nickel is delighting its friends. The comedietta abounds in laughing material—in fact it's a regular whirlwind of merriment from start to finish, particularly in the scenes between Fanny Shaw's father and the make-believe sister (Artie). This second production of the Humanov company is an even stronger card than The Two Orphans. This afternoon there will be a big bargain matinee for the ladies and children, and with fine weather the theatre will be crowded from 2 until 6. It must be remembered the programme undergoes a change every day, new motion pictures being introduced. The Humanov act is twice weekly, the plain pictures every day, the songs twice weekly. Miss Foley and Mr. Gurney are having great success with their new songs, and the orchestra's little aids to the Humanov company are much appreciated for their daintiness.

RIP VAN WINKLE AT THE UNIQUE.

The management of the Unique Theatre have been very fortunate in securing that famous picture, Rip Van Winkle, which will be shown at this popular pleasure resort for the balance of this week. While this great picture is enjoyed by everyone it appeals especially to children, and this afternoon and evening an opportunity will be given them to see the entire programme and thus avoid the crush in the evening. Rip Van Winkle is one of the best high class comedy dramas ever produced in motion pictures and occupies over 1000 feet of film. Rip, who was a good-natured drunkard, had spent all his money with his companions. When he returned home his wife puts him out, and taking his dog Snuggler seeks refuge in the mountains. He lies the dog to a bush and falls asleep. After sleeping 20 years he awakes to find the skeleton of his dog hanging from a tree. He cannot understand it, and with a bigger surprise, as the little village has grown to be a large city. He finds his wife and daughter, however, and is received with open arms. By a document which he had in his pocket all these years he proves his claim to a large tract of land on which the town was built, making him a wealthy man. Miss A. Outous will sing that beautiful song, In Dear Old Colorado. Will Harrison will be heard in one of the latest hits, When the Springtime Brings the Roses, Jennie Dear.

IT'S ALL A MISTAKE, NOT THE BIRD'S.

Somebody will atone for it though! What do you think, good people? We haven't the chance to tell you of all the good pictures we're going to show today. The not our fault, it grieves us to think such a thing happened. But if all goes right, pretty sure it will, too, we'll tell you what they are and all about them in tonight's Star. That they will be good ones, that's for you to judge, as it's easy to drop into the Bijou. We've a couple that will please everybody, though, and the pleasure it gives us to tell about them we feel sure will not be exceeded by your pleasure should you be so fortunate as to witness them. The first one, if you'll read, tells the tale of a miserable drunken father and pictures him in a most deplorable state of intoxication, and shows his wife and daughter in the bar room entreating piteously that he come home, but to no avail. Then his home-coming, his wife and daughter lying asleep in a miserable garret room and the intervention of kind Providence from what might have been a horrible ending to all. This is called "A Drunkard's Good Fortune." The other entitled "Cowboy Elopement" depicts a very pretty little western romance which brings to a positive conclusion that love conquers all. It's a picture that will make every one justly proud of the noble avian. We've an additional singer at the Bijou today, Herbert Dykeman, who sings "Natch the Boughs of the Old Maple Tree." And what's more, he'll sing it as if should be sung. David Higgins sings "Jennie Mine" and if "Dave" don't surprise his many admirers in this song it won't be because he hasn't a good song.

A FINE SHOW AT HAPPY HALF HOUR.

All tastes will be suited in today's new show at the Happy Half Hour. Miss Holmes will sing by request a great favorite, entitled Good Night, Beloved, Good Night, and Mr. Buchanan will sing also by request Astoria. Nearly everybody knows these two songs, and while they are not new they are of that class of song that, while old, are always new, simply because they are good and are favorites. The new pictures are all late subjects. Ruins of Ancient Rome is another of those delightful travel pictures that everyone will be delighted with. Obeying Her Mother is a strong dramatic love story. The ending is a rather peculiar one, but no doubt the audience will be pleased. The Chronicle Life Saved is a comedy picture, very funny indeed. A tramp is trying to commit suicide, is rescued and immediately attaches himself to his rescuer, and if the latter does not give him what he wants he threatens to commit suicide, and the result is he usually has his requests granted. Prof. Titus made a hit last night with his new song, Love Abiding, and Harry LeRoy had a very appropriate song, After the Rain Comes the Sunshine, and the audience enjoyed it. Today's show is well worth seeing.

LOCAL KNIGHTS ENTERTAINED BY MASS. REGIMENT

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The Second Regiment, Massachusetts Brigade, Knights of Pythias, which visited St. John two years ago, entertained the St. John men today at Point of Pines Beach resort. There were a banquet and athletic games. Tonight the Canadians attended a ball at the Mechanic building. The Fredericton men also visited Point of Pines and later were guests at dinner of the Brockton Knights.

Most Important Session

(Associated Press.) BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 6.—With the election of their officers today the Supreme Lodge of the Knights of Pythias closed the most important business session of their 25th convention, which opened in this city Monday. The Pythian Sisters also elected officers and exemplified the secret work of the order. The Uniform Rank devoted much of the day as was free from rain to competitive drills on Franklin Field, for the $10,000 cash prizes offered.

Henry P. Brown of Cleburne, Texas, was elected supreme chancellor, without contest, he having served as vice-chancellor the past year. There was a spirited contest for vice-chancellor, however, in which two men from the east and two from the west contested. After five ballots the election was accorded to George W. Hanson of Calais, Maine. There was but one important contest, which was for the members of the board of insurance control. The fight was between a faction standing for strict retrenchment and those satisfied with the present conditions. The retrenchment faction won out after four ballots and elected their two candidates. The result of the elections, in addition to the officers named was as follows:

Supreme seal, Rev. David C. Robb, Salem, N. J.; supreme keeper of records and seal, R. L. C. White, Nashville, Tenn. (re-elected); supreme master of exchequer, Thomas D. Meares, Wilmington, N. C. (re-elected); supreme master at arms, Samuel H. Davis, Davis, Okla.; supreme inner guard, E. Allison Powers, Quebec, Que.; supreme outer guard, William D. Cameron, Meridian, Miss.; board of insurance control for six years, U. S. G. Cherry, Sioux Falls, S. D., and G. S. Davis, Denver, Colo.

OTTAWA MEMBER SAYS HE WON'T RUN AGAIN

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—J. B. T. Caron, junior member of the commons for Ottawa, announced today that he would not again run for election in this city. He gives as the reason for his decision his interference with his professional work, caused by loss of time and worry in looking after numerous demands of constituents looking for civil service employment.

THE LAW MUST TAKE ITS COURSE, CABINET DECIDES

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—The fourth application for commutation of the death sentence to be considered by the cabinet within three days was taken up at today's meeting of the council. In this case, however, the clemency shown in the case considered on Wednesday and Thursday was not exercised. On the recommendation of the trial judge and the Minister of Justice it was decided that the law should take its course with an American named Paul, who was convicted at Kenora last spring and sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a companion in the bush in the Kainay River district. The condemned man was given two trials. Robbery was the motive.

The Messrs. Fraser at Plaster Rock, came very near having a serious fire in their mill on Monday. In some way it caught near the lath machine and got quite a little headway before the hands were able to get water on. James Edgar, an Englishman, who has been for several years in the employ of the Murdoch Sons Co., died at the St. John hospital on Monday morning at the age of thirty-five years, as the result of drinking too much whiskey. Edgar was aroused from his sleep during the night by two fellow employees, who had just returned from St. Andrews bringing a supply of booze and had liberally partaken of the stuff. After a time he fell into a deep slumber and when Manager Todd Murchie went to arouse him Saturday morning he was unable to do so, and returning later Mr. Murchie made the discovery that the man was dead. The men who were with him the previous night were sought for, but as there was no evidence to show how they got the booze that could be found was released from custody. The coroner and county attorney were notified of the affair and decided that death was due to acute alcoholism. The body of the unfortunate man, who was only thirty-five years of age, was turned over to John Gillis Co., Calais undertakers, and was interred in the Calais cemetery.—Courier.

MR. JOHN RUSSELL'S MEMORY IS POOR

Could Recollect Little About His Dealings With Hardy.

And Declined to Answer Other Questions—His Present Position in the Telegraph is Doubtful.

The case against Henry J. Hardy for importing alien labor into Canada from the United States, was resumed this morning. A. C. L. Tapley was recalled for the purpose of producing the Telegraph cash book.

John Russell, Jr., was called, and testified that it was hard to say if he was connected with the Telegraph Company at the present time. He was not employed by the company. He was manager and president of the company in March and April last. He at first refused to say that he had any conversation with Hardy during March, but on the ruling of the court the witness said that he had had a conversation with the defendant Hardy, but he could not remember what that conversation was. He had several conversations, but could not remember what they were about. He would not swear they were not about men. He refused to say if he had sent Hardy to the States to get men. On the ruling of the court, Mr. Russell said that he did not send Hardy but the latter volunteered to go to the States for men. At that time Hardy was on the pay roll of the Telegraph, and witness believed Hardy's destination was New York. Hardy had been employed on the Telegraph since March. When witness had the conversation with Hardy, Montreal, Toronto, New York and Boston were spoken of as places to get men. After Hardy left St. John to get men, witness received a telegram from him. Hardy was at his home in Brooklyn. Witness could not produce the telegram as it had been destroyed.

There was a lengthy argument on the admissibility of certain evidence. Mr. Russell refused to answer the following question:

"Did you as manager of the Telegraph furnish Hardy with money to bring men into Canada?"

Mr. Russell—"I refuse to answer because my counsel has told me to do so. I refuse to answer because it might incriminate myself."

The above question was again put, and after a long pause Mr. Russell asked Mr. Baxter for advice, and Mr. Russell said it was his duty to go to jail before he answered it.

Mr. Russell was ordered to answer by the court, and said that at several occasions he had advanced money to Hardy. Mr. Russell once more refused to answer Mr. Mullin's question, despite the fact that he was ordered by the court to do so, but was allowed some time until he looked over the Telegraph's cash book. After looking over the book for nearly ten minutes, he said his questions concerned not only him but the company he represented. He could not refresh his memory from the books.

At last Mr. Russell said he gave Hardy money before he went away but would not say it was to pay transportation for men to come to St. John.

Mr. Mullin—"Did you not know that there were men in Canada who could do the work that the men you were bringing here would do?"

The question was not allowed.

Witness said he did not remember how much he gave Hardy. He did not take any receipt. Miss Sandall was the cashier of the Telegraph at the time. Rupert E. Walker, a reporter on the Telegraph and he could not remember if he or Mr. McCready sent Walker out to meet Hardy. He could not remember if he got a telegram from Hardy saying he was coming. He could not remember what the telegram he did receive from Brooklyn referred to. There was only one telegram from Hardy and he had no recollection as to what the telegram was about. He got no letter from Hardy; he did not send one. He did not know where Mr. McCready was. Witness said Mr. McCready was in town yesterday morning but went away last night.

In answer to Mr. Mullin witness said he did not know McCready was going yesterday when he (witness) asked Mr. Mullin if he was going to have Mr. McCready arrested if he did not appear. The question was ruled out.

Mr. Russell stood aside and Miss Jessie C. Sandall was called and testified that she had been cashier of the Telegraph up to May 2nd last. The Telegraph's cash book was produced and examined by the witness and she could not find any entry in the book of money paid to Mr. Russell for transportation purposes. The witness looked through the receipts of the company and could find none from Mr. Russell regarding transportation money.

Mr. Russell was recalled and examined by Mr. Baxter and said that the telegram he received was of a private nature but he could not remember the contents.

Mr. Mullin stated that the case was closed for the prosecution.

Mr. Baxter said he did not think he would call any witnesses for the defense and the case was adjourned until next Friday for argument.

Hardy was again admitted to $1500 bail.
