THE PILES GAVE WAY.
Disaster at Victoria, B. C.—Four Men Killed.
VICTORIA, B. C. Jan. 12. Y. A. 1

Shortly after 4 o'clock a train
opened at Ocean Dock

garrison shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday. The incident happened at Ocean Dock at the entrance to the harbor, resulting in the loss of four lives. A gang of men were employed discharging canned salmon from the rarer Danube, which arrived a few days ago from northern ports. The cases of salmon were being piled in a large shed at the end of the wharf, and about 5,000 cases had been landed and piled up in addition to a quantity already on hand.

when suddenly a depression of the spring was noticed, and with a grinding, grating noise the piles gave way. Crushed at some of the stringers and the heavy pieces of timber, and the flooring parted, precipitating the men and thousands of tons of salmon into the yawning gulf. One of the killed are Fox (married), 41, Tom Higgins and Bestell, all long-term and residents of Victoria. Chas. A. Swede, is badly injured.

Call for a Liberal Provincial Convention Issued.

The call for a Provincial convention of Liberals has been issued. The meeting is to be held in Toronto in February, the date yet to be fixed. Liberals should send their delegates at once. Any information concerning the convention desired by those to take part in the selection of delegates will be promptly furnished.

ness Mr. W. T. R. Preston, general secretary of the Ontario Reform Association, Reform Club, Toronto.

The question of the admission of the books of John Shute as evidence in the Bruce election trial was argued yesterday before Judges Maclean and Faldridge in the private chambers of the court.

Mr. A. B. Aylesworth appeared for the petitioner and Mr. Wallace Nesbitt for the respondent. Mr. Aylesworth pointed out that so long a time had elapsed since the trial that a set of books could easily be

The name of each who had dealings with Mr. Shute was on the book, and the articles he used written in under it. In each of ses where he was charged with giving to Tory voters, the meal was entered at the voters' name, but crowded in two other normal entries or written side as if it had been entered at a late. The ink, too, was fresher than the other entries. Mr. Ayresworth put these things to their lordships, took the matter into consideration. A Conservative convention held that nominated Mr. H. N. Paint, ex- as a candidate for the Commons for Lond. N. THE COMING CONVENTION.

As already foreshadowed in the ADVERTISER, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, Dominion Liberal leader, has called a convention of the leading Liberals of the Province, to be held in Toronto in February.

The convention will be the means of bringing together the representative men of the party from every part of the Province, and there is no doubt that the reunion will be one of much profit to the participants and to Liberalism as a whole.

Though Hon. Mr. Laurier has spoken in this Province at various points, the time at his command has not afforded him sufficient opportunities to meet with all the representative men of his party, and it is a happy thought on his part to bring about this gathering at a time so opportune. Not only will it be possible to bring together the selected representatives of the various associations in the several municipalities, but we will have in attendance the leading Parliamentarians who have so ably done battle for correct principles in the government of Canada. Side by side with Hon. Wilfrid Laurier will be Hon. Edward Blake, his gifted predecessor; Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, weak in body but strong in principle; Sir Richard Cartwright, whose speeches on the trade question have been masterpieces of logic; Wm. Patterson, the trumpet-tongued orator of Brantford; Hon. David Mills, whose store of information on the subject of constitutional government is unsurpassed in Parliament; Wm. Mulock, the philanthropic member for North York; Thos. Bain, James Armstrong, James Somerville, Dr. Wilson, Archibald Campbell, and many other stalwart representatives of the farming interests in Canada, besides the leaders of public opinion. We hope, too, to see the young men of the party well represented at the convention. There are many thousands of them in the Liberal ranks, and they are enthusiastic in the cause of progressive government and of removing every burden possible from the backs of the taxpayers. They are dead-set against restriction in trade wherever it can be abated. Indeed, on that head we believe the Liberal party is a unit.

The victorious Liberal leaders in the Ontario Provincial elections will no doubt also appear on the scene. They made a good fight, and succeeded because they deserved success, but that would not have been possible without a thorough union of the forces in favor of maintaining a good Government in power. There can be no doubt that the coming convention will be exemplified in the forthcoming Dominion elections, and that many citizens of Canada who have hitherto not given adhesion to the principles advocated by the Liberals will be found on the side of the progressive and patriotic men who wish to rescue the people from the domination of the combines, and to secure for them the hard earned rewards of their labors now in a great measure swallowed up in unnecessary taxation. As a means to that end, the coming convention will be productive of much good. The friends of good government in every part of the Province should now prepare to send as full and representative a delegation to the meeting as possible.

The date will be announced in a few days.

DR. ROBERT KOCH.

The great bacteriologist whose name by reason of his medical discoveries is on every lip, is described as being 55 feet in height, stoutly built, with an earnest face of a thoroughly German type, a high, thoughtful forehead, and small gray eyes so rarely tried by long years of microscopic work that they require the aid of the strongest glasses.

Professor Koch is 47 years of age. After taking his degree at Göttingen he became assistant physician at the hospital of Hamburg, and shortly afterwards he started in private practice in the little town of Langenhagen, in Hanover. Thence he emigrated to Wollstein, where in a little village he settled down to the humdrum life of a country doctor. Never surely could a man have found himself in a position less favorable for scientific research—poor, unknown, isolated from sympathy and from the scientific appliances which are the necessary tools of the investigator. In place of the chemicals, laboratories, instruments and microscopes of his scientific brethren he had nothing but cattle to experiment upon. Splenic fever, which had long been a bugbear of continental farmers, was discovered to be caused by a very minute rod-like creature in the blood of the afflicted animal. Starting upon this broken inquiry, Koch introduced a small quantity of infected blood into a suitable animal infection, which in a few days swarmed with countless millions of bacilli anthracis. A little of this fluid placed in a second bowl of the cultivating medium produced a second generation, and from that a third, each as virulent as the first. A great step was won when Koch found himself able to cultivate the infection. It is a matter of history how Pasteur enlarged upon Koch's results, how he found that a weaker infusion might be made, which would render the animal innocuous to the more virulent type of the disease, and how France has been millions of pounds the richer for the vast number of animals who have been inoculated against the plague.

In the year 1880 Koch abandoned his country practice and came to the University of Bonn, where, in 1882, he announced and demonstrated the bacillus of tubercle. Appointed professor of hygiene and of bacteriology in the University of Berlin he pursued for years his silent studies, until he was able at the recent medical convention at Berlin to announce that they were almost complete, and that he would shortly give them to the world.

As to the efficacy of the treatment, the skepticism with which it has been encountered in some quarters is an understatement of the absolute confidence with which others have hailed it. It is must never be lost sight of that Koch has not claimed that his fluid kills the tubercle bacillus. On the contrary, it has no effect upon it, but destroys the low form of tissue in the vicinity of the bacilli. By the cessation of the reaction after injection you can tell when the tubercular tissue is all cleared out of the system, but there are no means by which you can tell how far the bacilli themselves have been got rid of. If any remain they will, of course, cause by their irritation fresh tubercular tissue to form, which in turn may be destroyed by a new series of injections. The most important point to be observed in the new treatment is its early application. The proper subjects for treatment are patients in the initial stage of phthisis, for in them the curative action can be most fully shown.

Whatever may be the ultimate decision as to the system, there can be but one opinion as to the man himself. With the modesty which is his characteristic he has retired from every public demonstration, and with the candor of a true man of science his utterances are mostly directed to the pointing out of the weak points and flaws in his own system.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

—The Countess of Aberdeen has succeeded the wife of Right Hon. C. E. Childers as president of the Women's Liberal Association in England. All over the land the women are becoming a power in favor of remedying evils in the body politic. Under the magic hand of Lady Aberdeen, this national organization will no doubt have renewed prosperity.

—A Canadian member of Parliament has been presented "by his constituents" with $7,000. The rest of the constituents ought to retire him to private life.—[Chicago Times.]

Tutu, tutu. That is not the way our Macdonalds, our Tupper, our Rykerts, our Chaplains and our Carrans work. They are ready and willing at all times to receive the proceeds from the passing round of the hat among favorite contractors. It is demoralizing, but decidedly profitable to the parties immediately concerned, while costly to the mass of the taxpayers.

—Judging by the "fakes" which some catchpenny periodicals are working on the public, we are approaching the time when the average subscriber will be promised a gold watch, a corner lot, or a new house in return for $1. A good paper stands on its merits. There is a limit beyond which an honest publisher cannot go, with assurance of being able to carry out his promises, as the Toronto man arrested the other day for obtaining money on false pretenses by the "gold watch for a subscription" racket has found out.

—There is good reason for the belief that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company will as an early date begin the work of connecting its system directly with the New York lines by way of the Niagara River. The link required will be constructed between Woodstock and the New York border. As a preliminary it is understood that the Canadian Pacific Company is promoting the construction of a new bridge over the Niagara River to connect its proposed line with the United States railways. The bridge will be erected immediately below the falls.

—The new Liberal Club in Toronto is a model of completeness and cosiness. It is central in location and fitted up with every facility for the comfort of members and their friends. The headquarters of the party are in every way suited to the wants of visitors from outlying portions of the Province, of whom there will no doubt be many. Never before in the history of Liberalism have the prospects of the party been so bright, and there is evidence at the central place of meeting, as well as all over the Province, that the day of victory in national politics is at hand. In Provincial affairs the Liberals hold undisputed sway.

—Books have bodies as well as souls, and the material substance that enshines their spirits needs to be guarded from excessive cold and excessive heat, from being poisoned by foul gases, from exposure to damp, and from attacks of vermin. Many valuable volumes have perished by fire, and water has played quite as terrible a part in the massacre of books. This is not an allusion to the entire libraries that have been lost at sea, but to the slow torture of books by damp. The fiber of the paper and binding succumbs to the damp; brown blotches appear, and finally the maltreated book loses all its vitality and crumbles into powder at a touch. Dust and neglect have to bear the responsibility of much suffering on the part of books, the sulphurous element in gas destroys the elasticity of their binding, and they soon show the drying effect of heat. An atmosphere that is best for children is best for books.

—Pity the poor victim of the money get thing habit—a vice to be deplored almost as much as opium-eating. Its earliest symptom is a passion for over work, attended by total indifference to social and other distractions; relaxation when indulged in is all taken with a rush like the mid-day meal, where the hands of the clock dominate everything. The acute form reveals the kind of mental disease, to which enforced leisure brings additional pain rather than relief. The brain-wheels nicely adjusted to their narrow groove have grown unfit for freer service. It is useless to tell such a slave that a reasonable variety in one's life is not inconsistent with achieving success in a chosen profession. He will not believe it. Well, said an English sage, "If he does a bullet no good to go fast, and a man if he be truly a man, no harm to go slow for his glory is not at all in going, but in being."

—Stanley, the explorer, in a recent interview in Ottawa, showed that he has nothing in common with the stupid men who are continually endeavoring to foment hate between the kindred British and United States nations. He said:

"Talking of affection for England, I think the people of the United States and England are gradually fostering a spirit of unity. But I think it might develop a great mistake if certain editors would learn to drop the tone of Jingoism and petty spite they are indulging in."

The true inwardness of the Jingo talk on this side of the Atlantic is to be found in the anxiety of the trade restrictionists of the people of Canada and the States as far apart as possible, and thus enable the combines to reap their millions through the trade restrictions that national ill-feelings brings about.

OTHER NEWSPAPERS.

MILLIONS OF MEN.
Buffalo Express.
Keedy's rival, the man who had almost invented perpetual motion, is dead. But there are plenty of men still living who have almost done something great.

KNOCKED OUT AT LAST.
New York Herald.

Mrs. Stanley—Will you kindly hand me my handkerchief from my dress pocket, Henry? Mr. Stanley (after a long pause)—I can't find your pocket.

SENTIMENT SUCCEEDS TO INTEREST.

Montreal Herald.
There is no sentiment in trade, and it keeps in mind more profitable to trade with the United States more largely than with Great Britain they will do so, and have a right to do so.

PRESENTATION TO A LIBERAL LEADER.

Brookville Recorder.
Some of Hon. C. F. Fraser's Toronto friends have given him a New Year's present in the shape of a full length oil portrait painted by Forbes. The picture is a remarkably faithful portrait of the advantage of the Liberal party, and reflects much credit on the ability of the well known artist who painted it.

THE FATE OF THE FARMER.

Toronto Globe.
Between the high tariff men in the States who won't let him sell and the high tariff men here who won't let him buy to the best of the Canadian farmer occupies a position not unlike that of "Little Bill" in the mournful ballad of the "Three Sailors of Bristol City," who took a boat and went to sea.

Says grizzling Jack to grizzling Jimmy,
Says grizzling Jim to grizzling Jacky,
"We have no wiles, so we must eat woe."
Says grizzling Jack to grizzling Jimmy,
"Oh, grizzling, what a fool you be!"
"There's little Bill, as is young and tender;
We're old and tough, so let's eat be;
O Bill, we're going to kill and eat you;
So under the collar of your chemise."

Not on good terms
—dirt and Pearlina. They can't live in the same house. You'll have to take one or the other. Take Pearlina to clean everything that is washable—clothes, dishes, paint, glass. It saves labor, temper, time, money, and fabric. Millions use it. No one is poor enough to do without it; everyone is richer for using it.

Beware
Pearlina never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of it, it's not the real thing. Send it back. JAMES F. LEE, N.Y.

A MAN'S LIFE SAVED.

WOULD not be doing justice to the afflicted if I withheld a statement of my experience with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I have been cured of a disease which I have suffered for nine years, and of which I was confined to my bed, with the exception of a few days, for the last three years. I am now as healthy as a horse, and my bowels are in perfect order. I have no more of the pain which used to torment me, and my appetite is gone. I have no more of the yellow which used to be on my face, and my eyes are as bright as ever. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my back, and I can now walk without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my stomach, and I can now eat without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my head, and I can now sleep without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my legs, and I can now stand without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my arms, and I can now move without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my chest, and I can now breathe without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my throat, and I can now speak without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my ears, and I can now hear without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my nose, and I can now smell without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my mouth, and I can now taste without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my fingers, and I can now write without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my toes, and I can now walk without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my hands, and I can now hold without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my feet, and I can now stand without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my body, and I can now move without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my mind, and I can now think without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my soul, and I can now feel without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my life, and I can now live without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my death, and I can now die without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my resurrection, and I can now rise without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my judgment, and I can now decide without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my knowledge, and I can now understand without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my wisdom, and I can now see without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my power, and I can now do without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my will, and I can now choose without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my love, and I can now feel without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my hate, and I can now hate without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my fear, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my hope, and I can now believe without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my faith, and I can now trust without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my charity, and I can now give without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my justice, and I can now judge without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my mercy, and I can now forgive without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my kindness, and I can now help without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my gentleness, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my meekness, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my mildness, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my sweetness, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my goodness, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my beauty, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my grace, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my glory, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my honor, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my praise, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my fame, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my reputation, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my respect, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my esteem, and I can now be without any aid. I have no more of the pain which used to be in my regard, and I can now be without any aid. THE WEATHER PROPHECY.
Toronto, Jan. 12-11 p.m.—The storm mentioned yesterday is now central over the Bay of Chaleur. It has caused a general gale throughout Eastern Canada, accompanied by snow in Quebec and Northern New Brunswick, and rain in Southern New Brunswick and throughout Nova Scotia. Fine weather now prevails in Ontario and Quebec. An important depression covers the Northwest, accompanied by higher temperatures and local snow falls.
Minimum and maximum temperatures: Calgary, 20°-22°; St. Appelle, 20°-22°; Winnipeg, 18°-20°; Port Arthur, 14°-20°; Toronto, 12°-20°;
Montreal, 14°-20°; Quebec, 20°-22°; Halifax, 12°-18°.

Local Probabilities.
Toronto, Jan. 13-10 a.m.—The indications for the next 24 hours for the lower lakes region (covering the peninsula and as far west as Belleville) are Fair, decidedly cold weather, with light local snow falls.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Almost around the festive board
Are gathered all but one.
And sadly stands the vacant chair
Of George, the eldest son.

And yet the parents do not seem
His absence to deplore.
For George is courting Susan
The second house next door.

—Miss Clara Wheeler, of Dundas street,
has gone on a four months' visit to relatives
in Thorold.

—The Sisters of St. Joseph will seek to have their taxes for 1890, amounting to $156 80, remitted.

—Special evangelistic services will be held in the Wellington Street Methodist Church this week.

—Quite a number of cases of diphtheria
exist in the city at present. Most of them are of a mild type.

—The pulpit of King Street Methodist Church was supplied Sunday by Mr. I. M.
Mayell, of this city.

—The stock of D. Watt, of Watford, which was offered for sale by W. Y. Brunton, has been withdrawn.

—Gussie Lawless, the former Londoner charged in Detroit with infanticide, has been examined and bound over to the Recorder's Court.

—The city rinks were all unusually well patronized on Saturday. Excellent band music enlivened the amusement of the skaters.

—Rev. Arthur Browning, who has been here on a visit to his brother-in-law, Mr.
I. M. Mayell, left for Toronto to engage in evangelistic work.

On Sunday evening the Salvation Army dispensed with their Market Square meeting. The evening's programme was varied with a route march.

—Rev. Mr. Bone, Welland Canal missionary, occupied the pulpit of the Knox Church Sunday, giving a review of his 23 years' work among the sailors.

—The anniversary services of the Queen's Park Methodist Church were held Sunday. The sermon was preached by Rev.
George Boyd and Rev. C. T. McIntyre.

—The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed in the King Street Presbyterian Church Sunday. Twelve persons were received into the fellowship of the church.

—George Quinlan, an old resident of London, and a prominent member of the Orange Association, died of old age and general debility at the City Hospital Sunday morning.

Memorial hymns were sung by the choir of Christ Church Sunday in memory of the late Miss Chalcraft, who died recently. The deceased was formerly a member of the choir.

—The negotiations between Mr. S.
Cameron and Mr. Oag, of London, for the transfer of the Russell House to the latter, were concluded on Tuesday, Mr. Oag taking possession on Wednesday. (Napier Beaver.)

—Miss Rotta Chute has given up her charge of the choir of the Charles Street Methodist Church, Ingersoll, and will devote her time to her pupils and concert engagements. Miss Chute is a favorite with all audiences.

—Rev. Gowan Gilmore, of the mission station North Bay, preached in Christ Church Sunday morning. In the afternoon he addressed the pupils of the Sunday school, giving them an interesting account of his work among the residents of that place.

—Nearly the whole Italian colony docked to the Police Court yesterday with the expectation of hearing a local trouble ven-dicated. Margherita Onto, a prepossessing young married woman claims to have been assaulted by Monzente Nisi, a woman of mature age. As the lawyer for the defense was unable to attend, the interpreter asked an adjournment until Tuesday, which was granted.

A Book Agent's Trouble.
Frederic J. Swill, a book agent who claimed at the Police Court yesterday that Malcolm E. Wilson had in July last without any warning caught him by the throat, stopped his wind, and ordered him out of his (Wilson's) premises. For this he brought an action for assault seven months later, whereas the law provides that such an information must be laid within three months. Mr. Love, for the defendant, maintained that it was no offense to choke
off a book agent's wind, and read a letter in which it appeared that Lewis owed Wilson some money and threatened law proceedings if the defendant did not cease to dun him. The case was dropped by the magistrate.

Death of Mr. John Kennedy.
A correspondent writes: "John Kennedy,
one of Hamilton's most respected citizens,
died this morning after a lingering illness.
Deceased was a native of London, England, and came to London, Canada, in 1871.
The year following came to Hamilton, which he has made his home since. He was a molder by trade, and took considerable interest in the city. In 1871 he built the Sobo foundry, King street. He was also an enthusiastic Freemason, and some years ago was elected to the position of assistant commander of Goulbourn
No. 3, Masonic Knights Templar body. The funeral takes place this afternoon with Masonic honors, the Master Mason, Royal Arch and Knights Templar attending. Deceased leaves a wife and one daughter.

The New North End Mission Started.
The opening service of the new London
North Mission in connection with the Queen's Avenue Methodist Church transpired Sunday afternoon, the cosy little building being well filled. Rev. Geo. Boyd preached an appropriate sermon from Psalm, xlviii, 2, after which Messrs. Geo.
Robinson and T. G. Whitaker formally presented the church for dedication, the associate services of which was conducted by Rev. Dr. Sanderson. Rev. Dr. Evans pronounced the benediction. The collection amounted to about $22. On Tuesday evening a tea meeting will be held in the building, and on the following evening the children will have a special treat of the same description. The land for the mission was the gift of Mr. Thos. McCormick, while the building was contributed by Messrs. Robinson and Whitaker.

Distress after eating, heartburn, sick headache and indigestion are cured by Sarsaparilla. It also creates a good appetite.
Optim—You fat friend over there seems to be quite an epicure. Pessim—Epicure!
Why, he couldn't tell the difference between chicken and canned veal. Optim—Well, what is the difference? Pessim—The label on the can, that's all.

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation; its ingredients are published under each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels,
quiets pain, cures colic and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend. 25 doses, 25 cents.

Mrs. Simdriet—What part of the chicken shall I give you, Mr. Goodfellow? Boarder—
All but the neck.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of giving it healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Farnham's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia.

The difference between repartee and impudence is the size of the man who says it.
No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D.
Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use.
It corrects all looseness of the bowels,
promptly and causes healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc. in the market.
