Italy Shaken.

ROME, Oct. 9.—Earth tremors were felt throughout Central Italy today.

Death of Earl Gray.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Earl Gray, the third earl of that name, died at his country seat, Howick House, Bilton, Northumberland, today, aged 92 years.

Befogged.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The dense fog which prevails today compelled complete suspension of navigation in the Thames. The French packets crossed the English Channel at the slowest possible speed.

Via C. P. R.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—It is reported that reinforcements of marines for the British squadron in Chinese waters will go to their destination by way of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as that is considered the quickest route.

Church Reform Needed.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The English Church Congress commenced at Exeter today. The Bishop of Exeter presiding. In his opening speech the bishop urged the need of thorough church reform, a catholicity of spirit toward other denominations of Christians, religious education and the enforcement of temperance laws on the lines of the Gethsemane system.

May Be King of England.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The infant son of the Duke and Duchess of York and grandson of the Prince of Wales, is now visiting London. The baby, who may possibly be King of England some day, is to be short of the immediate future, and in preparation for the event all the necessary articles of apparel have been ordered furnished by British manufacturers. The child was born June 23 last.

Terrorized by Keffirs.

LISBON, Oct. 9.—A dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez, on Delagoa Bay, Southeast Africa, says that Chief Mahazula's Kaffir tribesmen massacred several whites and a large number of Kaffir allies in the outskirts of the town today. There is continual raiding and looting in the vicinity. At a meeting of European residents the incapacity of the government was denounced, and immediate action was demanded. Business is paralyzed and the public offices are closed. The steamer Czengow will sail from Lisbon for Lorenzo Marquez Oct. 15, with reinforcements of troops.

Anglophobia in Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Owing to the strained relations between England and France, and the excited state of the latter nation, the American colony in Paris is very much annoyed by the proceedings of the natives whenever anyone speaks English in their hearing. In the cafes and restaurants the waiters show their resentment by grumbling and careless service, and in some the proprietors have even refused to allow English-speaking patrons to be served. The same rumor is seen in the streets, at the railway stations and elsewhere, and one American gentleman who insisted on his rights in a railroad train narrowly escaped spending the night in a police station, because the commissary was unable to see how a man could speak English and not be an Englishman.

Must Fight It Out.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Times, in an editorial on the war between China and Japan, contends that any attempt on the part of the powers to stop the war will be doomed to failure, unless supported by a tremendous display of force, which, it says, is out of the question. "The power taking the initiative," it says, "would make an enemy of the most powerful and progressive nation in the world without advancing the cause of humanity and peace a jot. China and Japan must be allowed to fight out their quarrel."

The Times prints a dispatch from the correspondent in Yokohama confirming the report that the Japs have taken Che Foo. The correspondent adds that a Japanese force has also landed at Tarascanda, near Port Arthur.

In Hungary.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Standard's Vienna correspondent predicts that the Hungarian Cabinet will be forced to resign on the religious question before the end of the next two or three weeks. The crisis, he says, will be serious and the final issue uncertain. Dr. Wekerle's despondent tones were remarked today by all. It was interpreted as meaning that his resignation is imminent. The bill concerning the rights of Jews was rejected in the Diet by a vote of 103 to 103. The vote was a great surprise to everybody. As the bill was thrown out in toto there will be no special debate on it. The excitement following the announcement of the vote was so keen that it was necessary to suspend the sitting. The Magyars adopted the bill dealing with the religion of the offspring of mixed marriages.

At the Seat of War.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 9.—Reports from Peking say the Government intends to largely increase the tax on goods transmitted to and from the interior for the purpose of raising additional war funds. It is also reported that the Viceroy has asked all the salt merchants to contribute to the war expenses. In this way it is expected that 3,000,000 taels will be raised.

The latest reports of the Yalu naval battle repeat the assertions made frequently that none of the Japanese vessels were lost, though several of them were badly damaged in the engagement. The report that the Japs have landed in force near Port Arthur is not confirmed. The British gunboat Redpole which arrived here today from a cruise near Port Arthur, where the Japs were said to have landed, reports that there was no trace of Japs in that vicinity. A second Japanese army is reported to have crossed the Yalu River and to be advancing upon Moukden. It is believed that place will soon fall into the hands of the enemy. The Chinese troops there are said to be greatly demoralized.

Business at Tien Tsin is at a standstill. A dispatch to the General News from Tien Tsin says the British Minister in Peking called at the imperial palace yesterday and was granted a long and cordial audience by the Emperor.

A dispatch from Hong Kong says that the Chinese are preparing for a siege of Canton, and that a panic prevails in that city.

A Shanghai dispatch, referring to the report of the capture of Che Foo, says: Two Japanese warships closely reconnoitered the Che Foo harbor and the neighboring coast and then departed.

The Italian Minister at Peking has addressed a note to China inviting pour parlers with Japan in an effort to bring about a termination of the war. In this endeavor the Minister tendered his own offices.

A Regent for Russia.

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—Prof. Leyden, the distinguished specialist, who recently professionally attended the Czar at Spala, said today in regard to reports that his Majesty's condition had changed for the worse. "The Czar, though he has lost much flesh, still weighs about 200 pounds, and with his strong constitution, should be able to make stout resistance to disease, and under favorable climatic influence, at Corfu or the Island of Madeira it is possible for him to recover. His chief trouble is a granular contraction of the kidneys, those organs becoming hardened and liable to atrophy. The consequent enlargement of the muscular tissue of the heart has brought about hypertrophy of that organ, the result of which is difficult and painful breathing and spasms and fits of unconsciousness. Though the Czar's symptoms are such there is no dropsy, but he has diabetes in the preliminary stage. At present it is not serious, but when further developed total paralysis. So far, however, the Czar appears to be in no immediate danger of this. Under the most favorable circumstances the disease is of long duration, often years, and its results are uncertain; but if a cure is to be effected or the disease even temporarily arrested, the patient must abstain from exertion and take plenty of outdoor exercise and have plenty of sleep and food. It has been extremely difficult to convince the Czar of the necessity of abstention from work, but if a cure is to be effected the appointment of a regency will be necessary."

St. Petersburg, Oct. 9.—A report is current that if the Czar decides upon a form of regency while he is absent from Russia—which it is expected he will do—he will make a special declaration in the future, trusting the Czar with the direction of state affairs, the title of "regent" not being mentioned.

The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News says that Prof. Leyden will start tomorrow for Livorno in accordance with a previous agreement. Dispatches received in Berlin from Copenhagen and St. Petersburg concerning the Czar's condition have been more favorable today. The Czar is said to have transacted State business yesterday. The Standard's correspondent in St. Petersburg sends the following story, the main facts of which he says he learned through a reliable source: When Dr. Zacharin told the Czar that his malady was incurable, that cure and attention might prolong his life months, but it was impossible to conceal the fact that no remedies would avail beyond a certain period, the Czar was terribly affected. He entered another room and exclaimed to the occupants: "Dr. Zacharin has just told me that there is no hope." Everybody was thrown into consternation. By the Czar's change of face and mien, and greatly blamed Dr. Zacharin for speaking so bluntly.

The correspondent vouches for the correctness of this story. He adds: The Czar will very shortly return here accompanied by Grand Duke Michael. The two will preside over the Council of State and adjointly. They will be regents in everything except name.

It is reported that Prof. Leyden is less hopeful concerning the Czar than is Dr. Zacharin.

SCRANTON, Penn., Oct. 9.—Mary Kertze, a young Hungarian girl who only arrived in this country on Thursday last, was shot three times and instantly killed today by Olyphant by Frank Bezek, whom she refused to marry. Bezek, finding escape impossible, tried to commit suicide by drowning, but was captured and jailed.

DISASTROUS MINE FIRE!

Caused Through a Workman's Carelessness.

Five Persons Known to be Dead—Valuable Property Ruined and 2,000 Men Deprived of Work.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 9.—The most disastrous mine fire in the history of the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania started at the Luke Fidler colliery last night from the lamp of a workman. Five persons are known to be dead. They are Irwin Buffington, carpenter; George Brown, miner; John Gierke, laborer; Michael Burdick, laborer; and Anthony Cobert, driver boy. Buffington with other carpenters was at work here today down the shaft caving up holes in the side of the brattice which connects the shaft with the air passage, naked lamps being used. Detecting a leak, Buffington placed his lamp to the draft, and the flame immediately caught the boards, which were saturated with oil and was taken into the air chamber.

Realizing the consequence of his act, Buffington started for the bottom of the shaft to notify the workmen employed there of their danger, his companions in the meantime rushing up the shaft to safety. When Buffington and notified the workmen below, he stopped to exchange his rubber boots for a pair of shoes, and the delay in doing this cost him his life. He staggered to within 30 feet of the door of a passageway which led to the open air, but here he was overcome by smoke and fell. His body was still in the mine.

The Shamokin fire department began pouring water into the mine within an hour after the fire started, but thus far have not produced any susceptible effect.

One thousand men are employed at the Luke Fidler colliery, and another 1,000 were given employment at the Gimlet and Hickory Ridge collieries, all of whom are thrown out of work.

This valuable coal property is practically ruined, entailing a loss of several hundred thousand dollars. Considering the rapidity with which the fire did its work, it is fortunate that no more lives were lost.

TO BEAT HILL.

Doings of the Third Party in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Evening Sun says: The third ticket talk of the clans in Brooklyn has progressed so far that they have begun to make and break slates. There will be a third slate ticket there is now no doubt.

Everett P. Wheeler, the gubernatorial nominee on the third ticket, is a leading lawyer of this city. He has always been a Democrat, and his father and grandfather were prominent in the councils of the party. Mr. Wheeler has been known as a bitter opponent of Senator Hill.

The reform Democrats of Brooklyn and King's county—those generally called Admiration or Cleveland Democrats—to-night nominated a full State ticket, identical with the regular Democratic State ticket except that for governor, Everett P. Wheeler, of New York city, has been substituted for David B. Hill.

The platform lands Cleveland and denounces Hill. We denounce the so-called Democratic senator again as a candidate for governor, who is a Democrat only when democracy means himself; who in the Senate of the United States has opposed the Democratic President, voted against the paramount principle of the Democratic platform, whose political career has been built upon corruption, who has prostituted an able intellect to evil ends, who planned and directed the political crime rebuked in 1893 by a majority of 100,000, who is the arch enemy of good government and real reform.

WORK AND WAGES.

Pay of Canadian Cotton Spinners Cut Down—Clockmakers Strike.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 9.—The wages of the cotton mill employees have been reduced 10 per cent.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Nine thousand members of the Operators and Clockmakers' Union, No. 1, met Monday night and by an almost unanimous vote declared a general strike.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 9.—There are discouraging developments in the textile situation. The strike, which it was thought happily ended, may yet be prolonged. Many of the spinners are dissatisfied with the work of the conference committee. Much fault is found, in particular, with that part of the compromise accepting the Fall River result as final.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 9.—The 42nd annual convention of the International Typographical Union opened here yesterday at Oddfellows' Hall. President Prescott stated that the membership of the organization had increased during the past year by over 1,600, exclusive of 1,000 German-speaking printers who affiliated.

Financially the union is in excellent shape, the general fund continuing to accumulate. Reference was made to the failure of the Indianapolis bank in which the union funds were deposited, and it is figured out that after the final dividend has been declared the union will sustain a net loss of about $12,000.

With the idea of reducing this amount unit has been instituted against the directors as individuals. The report deals with the pressman's embroglio, the condition of the printers' home at Colorado Springs and the question of shorter hours.

On the latter the report refers to the defeat last year of the proposition making nine hours a day's work, and goes on to say: "It is futile to suppose that employers will make a change so long as there is a seeming opportunity for successful resistance. Therefore it will be a duty to formulate some plan for submission to the membership which contains, as a prerequisite to the adoption of a shorter workday, means for accumulating a large fund for the purpose of prosecuting the fight."

Article 17 of the constitution was stricken out, and a new section substituted. It provides for withdrawal cards for those who quit the business, and exempts them from the payment of dues.

The union refused to extend the terms of the officers from one year to two years, as recommended by the president. It also refused to change the annual meetings to biennial meetings. It was decided to leave the death benefit at $50, the committee's report to increase it not being concurred in.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—One thousand and thirty members of the Clock and Shirt Makers' Association, will strike at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in sympathy with the striking clock makers.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 9.—The threatened rupture among the spinners has been settled, and the spinners returned to work Thursday morning. It is expected that the weavers will do likewise.

SPIRITUALISTS IN COUNCIL.

Call the Delegate Women—A Vigorous Missionary Policy Proposed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—The National Spiritualists' Association of the United States met in convention at the Atlantic Temple today, with about 150 delegates present, half of whom are women. The annual report of the President, Harriett D. Barrett, was presented. The report said that nearly 100 local organizations are now connected with the national body. Mediums have been arrested in several States and subjected to persecution, and Prof. Barrett recommended the formation of a defense fund for their protection. He recommended the adoption of a vigorous missionary policy.

TRAGEDY IN NISSOURI.

Mr. Matthew Young is Run Over and Killed by His Own Team.

(Special to the Advertiser.)

THAMESFORD, Oct. 9.—A fatal accident occurred at Mr. Hughes' place in East Nissouri, about seven miles north of here, this afternoon. Matthew Young, who with Mr. Abbott runs a threshing machine, had completed the threshing, and was removing the thrasher from the barn. His team was spirited and went out rather lively, and Mr. Young lost his footing and fell, both wheels passing over his body, killing him instantly. He was unmarried, and was widely known and respected. The affair has cast a gloom over nearly the whole township.

LONDON PRESBYTERY.

At Tuesday afternoon's session of the London Presbytery it was agreed that Mr. Lawrence should be ordained and inducted at Vanneck on Thursday, Oct. 25, at 11 a.m., the moderator of the Presbytery to preside, Mr. H. Brown to preach, Mr. Little to address the minister and Mr. Lindsay to address the people. The Presbytery adjourned to meet on the second Tuesday of November at 1 p.m. in the lecture hall of the First Presbyterian Church, London.

A NEW way of solving the problem in regard to Annie Abbott, the so-called Georgia magnet, is that she has some kind of a sticky substance on the bottom of her shoes, and therein lies her peculiar power. One reason given is that she does her tricks on a plank, instead of on the carpet, and people want to know why it is not possible for her shoes to have the same adhesive quality as those worn by a walking-walker, which is produced by suction, and then they say that she wears her dress so long that it conceals her feet entirely.

THE WATER COMMISSIONERS

Business Transacted at the Regular Meeting—The Water Consumed—A Complaint.

The water commissioners met last night. Present: Chairman Jones, Mayor Eassay, Engineer Moore, Inspectors Platt and Plaster.

Messrs. Lewis and Beale appeared in support of a letter complaining of the cost of the water at Dundas Center Methodist Church. There was something wrong with the meter. To have consumed the amount of water registered the organ would have to be used five hours a day. The meter will be tested.

Engineer Moore reported that the cost of laying a 4-inch main on Regent street would be $350, and a 4-inch main on Waterloo, north of Cheapside, $250. He recommended that they be not laid. There was only one house on each. He recommended that a 2-inch main be laid on Grafton street. It would cost $50. The report was adopted.

Adam Beck asked permission to put in a standpipe at his box factory on Albert street. He may do so at his own expense.

Mr. John Purdon will be advanced $200 more on his contract for the waterworks job. E. Leonard & Sons, who had been paid $1,700 for boilers, asked that the balance be paid. This will be done as soon as the boilers are tested. The contract price is $2,385.

Thomas Tambling's application for a service for three stores near the corner of Ridout and Chester streets, outside city limits, was not entertained.

Engineer Findlay reported that 44,534,000 gallons of water had been pumped during the past two weeks.

A number of customers who have recently put in meters will be charged at meter rates from the time the meters were in operation.

Annual Meeting of the London W. C. T. U.

Election of Officers and Reception of Reports.

Mrs. Cavers on Impure Literature—Women's Franchise—The Secretary's Report—An Encouraging Increase in All Departments of Work.

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. began in Somerset Hall yesterday afternoon, and was continued during the evening. The attendance was very large. Mrs. May Thornley, provincial and local president, presided, and Mrs. Cavers, of Galt, for four years provincial president, sat next to Mrs. Thornley. Mrs. Gregston, honorary president, also occupied a seat on the platform.

After devotional exercises Mrs. Ross gave a very instructive and interesting Bible reading, choosing for her subject the excuses that are made by those who are unwilling to engage in active service for the Master. More singing and prayer followed, and then Miss Cosford, secretary, read the minutes. Mrs. Cavers and Mrs. Gregston were introduced to those present, and were accorded a warm welcome. Two new members were welcomed.

Mrs. Jane Darch supplied the treasurer's monthly and annual reports. The monthly report showed that the receipts of the dining hall at the Western Fair were $1,054, and the expenses $584. The annual report was very encouraging. Mrs. Gregston stated that the building fund had reached the sum of $328.

Mrs. Holmes presented the report on petitions, and Dr. Jamieson noted an increase of interest in the study of hygiene and heredity. Mrs. Carson reported 45 subscribers to the Journal. Mrs. Wm. Henderson supplied the report of the committee on fair work—the association's best source of revenue.

Mrs. Ross' report on unfurnished work read as follows: "I am sorry to come before the union today with a very meagre report of actual work done in the department of unfurnished work. My predecessor in the office reported having secured that with one exception unfurnished work was used for communion purposes in all the city churches other than those of the Roman Catholic and Episcopal denominations. To the pastor of the church which was the exception I sent a pamphlet bearing strongly on the subject, but he soon after left the city, and I believe unfurnished work is still used there. I thought it might do good. I called recently on a clergyman of the Church of England and was informed by him that the Provincial Synod of that church had decreed some years since that fermented wine should be used, and he only knew of one church where unfurnished work was used, namely, St. Matthews in East London. In contrast with this action of the synod, I am glad to report that at the recent meeting of the Methodist General Conference in this city the use of unfurnished work was recommended to all congregations connected with the denomination."

In evangelistic work Mrs. Robertson reported 567 families relieved; 407 articles of clothing distributed; 100 leaflets distributed; 666 papers, 123.

The reports were all adopted without discussion.

Mrs. Thornley made a short address in the afternoon, reserving her strength for the evening. She told in a sympathetic way of her connection with the association since first elected president on Sept. 10, 1890; of her hesitancy at first and the great pleasure the work afterwards gave her. It came at a time when her heart was sore and lonely, and when life looked dull and dreary. She spoke with pleasure of the very healthy growth of the association, and the success that had attended its aims and objects, of the harmony that had always prevailed and of the help accorded her by the other members.

The election of officers then took place. The ladies wanted to re-elect Mrs. Thornley without a ballot. "We just could not stand it to have anyone else president but her," one of the ladies present rose to remark. Applause greeted the proposition to re-elect by acclamation, but Mrs. Thornley held it to be unconstitutional, and so the ballot papers were distributed, and Mrs. Thornley received the unanimous vote of all present.

The officers elected were: President—Mrs. May R. Thornley. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Carson. Recording Secretary—Miss Ella Cosford. Treasurer—Mrs. Darch.

Vice-Presidents—Congregational Church, Mrs. Clara Freestrian; Church of Mrs. Arnot; Methodist Church, Mrs. Evans; Baptist Church, Mrs. Ira Smith; London West, Mrs. Clement. The appointment of a vice-president to succeed Mrs. Harrison, of the Christian Church, was left with the executive.

Fifteen dollars was voted towards the expense of maintaining a band of hope in London West that is about to be organized.

The election of delegates to the provincial convention at Cornwall at the end of this month was left over until the next meeting.

The annual convention for Middlesex county takes place at Gloucester on Thursday and Friday of this week. The following delegates will go from London: Messrs. Thornley, Darch, Childs, Sanby, D. H. Williams, Carson, Templeton, Douglas, J. W. Jones, Ingram, Escott, Fyfe, J. W. Henderson, Wootton, Powell, Scarrow, Trebilcock, Robb, Ashplant and Misses Cosford and Law.

It was announced that Rev. Anna Shaw would lecture in this city in November.

This finished the business of the afternoon.

Evening Session.

The attendance was quite as large in the evening as it had been in the afternoon. Rev. W. J. Clark read the Scriptures and led in prayer.

Mrs. Thornley then called for the report of the secretary.

"Today we have reached another milestone in the existence of our union," said Miss Cosford, when she presented the annual report, "and before going further we must give praise to our Heavenly Father, who has thus far brought us on our way." The total membership was given at 375; of these 30 are honorary. This is an increase of 70 over last year. The new members received during the year were 130, but owing to removals from the city deaths and unavoidable circumstances, their increase did not appear so large. There were 24 regular meetings and 1 special and 12 executive meetings held during the year. The average attendance was 84; largest attendance at any meeting 200, which occurred on two occasions. The total amount raised during the year for all purposes was $1,562. There are 17 departments of work, viz.: Evangelistic, jail, hospital, unfurnished, band of hope, industrial school, temperance in Sabbath school, narcotics, scientific temperance, Women's Journal, fair work, petitions, literature, franchise, press, hygiene and heredity, and work among lumbermen. Each department was in charge of a superintendent and committee. The work of looking after the sick or afflicted by calls or letters of sympathy was in charge of the honorary president, Mrs. Gregston. The educational work of the union has been actively carried on all year. Thirty minutes of each meeting were devoted to such subjects as narcotics, scientific temperance, the liquor traffic in our city, hygiene, cookery, child training from a kindergarten standpoint, etc. C. T. U., and the ballot for women. The number of the city ministers on invitation favored the union with a short but inspiring Bible reading. Also when opportunity offered the meetings were enlivened by a song or recitation. The work done at the time of the plebiscite was thought to be perhaps the most important item they had to report for this year. Under the auspices of the union committee which represented the London and Western Ontario Prohibition Association, the Royal Templars and the W. C. T. U., 37 public meetings were held. They had their committees for each ward to canvass the women voters and take them to the polls. They distributed literature and supplied lunch to the temperance soldiers. From 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on election day, a prayer was read in their hall that God would grant them the victory, and who would dare to say who did the most effective work, those who went out to battle or they who staid in prayer? On Jan. 23—crusade day—61 members were nominated and 28 received. Six delegates were appointed to attend the great prohibition convention at Toronto on Feb. 6. On March 27, after the usual business of the day, a very pleasant reception was given by the older members to the new ones. In May the churches were requested to pray at the mid-week services for the success of the prohibition work. The union devoted May 1 as a special day of prayer. On July 1 the public prayer was given by the Board of Education and supplied refreshments in the dining hall for school children and others attending the demonstration. In September, as usual, the dining hall was successfully operated during the Western Fair, even though there was much competition on the grounds. A library was instituted during the winter for the use of the members. It was growing steadily during the year various efforts were made in the line of more aggressive work. Death had invaded their ranks several times, and while they sorrowed, yet they bowed in submission, for "our loss is their gain an hundredfold." Before closing mention was made of the delightful harmony that had prevailed in their midst. They had been their own reward and they believed this was the result.

"And for the coming year, as in the past we place our cause in His hands, not wishing to take one step unless He leads the way."

The report was adopted amid the applause of those present. The following reports were then read: Hospital work, Mrs. Williams; jail work, Mrs. Henderson; industrial school and cooking school, Mrs. J. W. Jones; band of hope, Mrs. D. H. Williams; temperance and sanitary school, Mrs. Wm. Hamon; literature, Mrs. Burgess; narcotics, Mrs. Wright; press work, Mrs. Douglas; scientific temperance, Mrs. Wares; franchise, Mrs. John Cameron; library, Miss Spence.

In the report on jail work Mrs. Henderson rejoiced to say that the number of female inmates had decreased. But as there was the same amount of washing to do for the male prisoners it did not give the few who were unfortunate enough to go to jail as much time to attend the meeting. Two women had been released—one after 5 years of a drab and life.

The report on women's franchise was especially sanguine, and asserted that since the last general meeting the cause had undoubtedly gained ground, and the ultimate granting of the franchise to women was held to be one of the certainties of the future. The report described the effect of the enfranchisement of women on the Parliament of New Zealand, where many objectionable men were defeated at the polls, the moral tone was elevated and the temperance cause strengthened. The report on narcotics detailed the efforts of the committee to enforce the tobacco law respecting juveniles. The keynote of the report was: "We remember that if we cannot legislate we can educate."

The band of hope begins operation tonight. The report of the cooking school was especially interesting. All were adopted.

Mrs. Thornley then introduced the guest of the evening, Mrs. Cavers, of Galt. She spoke especially to the mothers, and drew attention to the growing evil of improper literature that was becoming more and more prevalent and penetrating into almost every home. The papers she was glad to say were not printed in Canada. The first of Chicago were especially open to criticism. Impure morals, slang and blasphemy were introduced by this source. Then they were quick advertisements, prizes, lotteries and things that could not be talked of before the family. The sporting column of some of the best Canadian newspapers, the prize fights and horse racing, gambling. Even Sunday school libraries fostered the taste for light reading, an infidel teachings could be found in some. The speaker upheld the Bible as the greatest of story books, and urged the great care be taken to see that none but proper papers and books are brought into the homes.

Mrs. Thornley spoke of her own juvenile taste for novels that began at the age of 8 from the reading of a Sunday school library. It was her belief that the love of good literature could be inculcated in very young children. She was pleased to say that the city papers were free from the sensational features of the American press. But if the W. C. T. U. ran the local press, no more sensational features would be printed. "Be not only good, but good for something," was the motto adopted by the association at the beginning of the year, and it remained for the public to judge whether they had lived up to the motto or not. Perhaps the greatest proof that could be given that the association was good is reported and the reports to the department. About $1,562 had passed through their hands during the year. Their rooms had cost $400 and $747 40 had been expended altogether. A balance of $150 was in hand for the use of the cooking kitchen.

Mrs. Thornley concluded her remarks asking for renewed confidence during the year.

During the evening recitations were given by Mrs. Green and Mrs. Harrison. Mrs. Gilmour sang "The Holy City" a beautiful voice. It was announced that Mrs. J. K. Barney would lecture in this city during the winter.

A hymn was sung and Mrs. Cavers led in a closing prayer, after which the annual meeting stood adjourned.

OXFORD'S HOUSE OF INDUSTRY.

A Beautifully Located Institution in the Town of Woodstock.

This institution is beautifully located on high ground adjoining the town of Woodstock, and was opened on the 13th of March, 1898. As shown by the accompanying illustration, the building presents a fine appearance. The arrangement of the rooms is such as will be recommended to all as the best in the province, especially the sleeping rooms, none of which are made to hold more than six beds. This provides for a complete classification of the inmates and is very beneficial.

The building is heated throughout by steam and lighted by electricity. Iron stairways for fire escape are provided at either end of the building and are accessible from the main hall. The sleeping rooms are provided with a good quality of iron bedsteads with woven wire mattress and pillow; these are manufactured at the Central Prison and cost the county nine dollars and are the best we have seen in institutions of this kind. The basement of the building is devoted entirely to storerooms, carpenter shop, wash rooms for the inmates and furnace room. There is also a lock-up in which disorderly inmates are confined.

A good barn with basement was on the farm at the time of purchase and also a log house which is occupied by the hired man who is employed on the farm during a portion of the year at $35 per month. The salary of the keeper and matron is $400, the physician receives $20 per annum and the inspector $100. According to the inspection report in January last, the average cost per week, per inmate during 1898, was $2.72. The number of inmates committed during the year was thirty. At the time we visited the institution in June last the number of inmates was thirty-six. The diet consists of: For breakfast, one pint of milk each, porridge, dish of molasses (good pure syrup—no black strap), a cup of tea and all the bread that each can eat. For dinner the inmates have soup three times a week, meat every day, half pound to each inmate, and alternate with soup, potatoes and vegetables, bread and tea, and meat pie always once a week. For supper, butter, bread, cake once a week, rice once a week, bread and milk once a week and tea always.

In addition to the above the old people are given eggs once a week, and in season fruit and also fruit once a week, and during the summer sometimes as often as three and four times. For Sunday dinner the following is enjoyed: Cold meat, pie, bread, tea and pickles, and for tea there are eggs, cake, bread, butter and tea, and very often cold meat is served for supper during the week.

We notice that in the hospital and yards adjoining the institution, no provision has been made for isolation or separation of the sexes. This is a matter which should be provided for by the management of similar institutions, should not be overlooked; all the outside buildings, etc., should be located with that end in view. The total cost of the farm, buildings and furnishings was $30,388. The full government grant of $4,000 has been received.—Municipal Council.

Imitation is the sincerest Flattery. Why is Pearl-line the mark for every soap powder, or so-called washing compound, which is brought out? Everything is called "the same as" or "as good as" Pearl-line. None of them say "better"—they cannot. They should not say "as good as"—they are not. The simple fact that Pearl-line is so largely imitated would be enough to prove it the best.

And when a poor washing compound can do so much damage, do you want anything but the best? JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

 —(BROWNING.)

London, Wednesday, Oct. 10.

—The weather is somewhat chilly in this neighborhood, but it is balmy in contrast with that prevalent recently in some parts of the Northwest and adjoining States. At Moosomin, Prince Albert and other Northwest points, snow to the depth of over a foot recently fell, and North Dakota, South Dakota and many parts of Minnesota were at last accounts buried under a heavy fall of snow. In some localities the storm took the form of a blizzard similar to that which prevailed in the early fall fourteen years ago.

—Rev. S. Card's lecture last night on "Juvenile Criminality," under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society, was a storehouse of valuable suggestion and interesting relation. Mr. Card, as one of the chaplains of the Penitentiary Reformatory, is an expert on the subject with which he deals. Mr. J. J. Kelso, Superintendent of Children's Aid Societies of Ontario, should, if possible, arrange with the Provincial Government to have Mr. Card's lecture delivered in all parts of Ontario. The result could not fail to be of value to the cause and to the Province.

—Hon. Mr. Laurier had a splendid reception at Carberry, Man., yesterday. The town is the center of a fine agricultural district, and the crowd of citizens and farmers was so large that many were unable to get inside. Among those on the platform were Robert Ferguson, warden of the county, and Cyrus Turner, president of the Farmers' Institute. The response to Mr. Laurier's appeal in favor of trade freedom was such as to show that restricted trade has no friends in the neighborhood. Hon. Joseph Martin, M. P. for Winnipeg, who is accompanying Mr. Laurier in his Manitoba tour, had a most cordial reception. He vigorously condemned the policy of the men in power at Ottawa. Mr. Fraser, Mr. Sutherland and Mr. Fisher, M.P.s, also spoke.

—The Christian Guardian says an impression prevails that the late General Conference of the Methodist Church was unusually conservative, whereas it was in reality the most radical and progressive conference that has been held since the Union. The Guardian points out as important changes, (1) the liberty to extend the pastoral term beyond three years; (2) the elevation of the standard of admission for candidates for the ministry; (3) increased attention to the young, through appointment of a secretary, or agent, to devote his whole time to the promotion of the work of the Epworth Leagues, Sunday schools and young people's societies; (4) appointment of a Committee on Sociology, thereby recognizing the duty of the Church to look intelligently and sympathetically into such questions, for example, as the relations of capital and labor. Other changes of a comparatively important character were made, such as those affecting the boundaries of conferences, the adjustment of the superannuation fund, and the missionary work—mostly on the line of greater freedom of action.

DOMINION INTERFERENCE IN MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

It may just as well be known to the people of Canada first as last that the men in power at Ottawa are at present making an attempt to have their agents control municipal affairs, with the object of having the municipal machinery used as far as possible to sustain the high tax Ministers in office in the ensuing Dominion election.

When Hon. T. M. Daly was in Toronto recently he urged the Conservatives to run their municipal contest on party lines; and while the last meeting of the Toronto City Council was in session Mr. Clark Wallace, Controller of Customs, sent a telegram to each of the aldermen known to be Conservatives requesting them to vote for J. S. Fullerton, Conservative campaign orator, as city solicitor. As Mr. Wallace is not a taxpayer in Toronto, and has no special interest there, his impertinent interference is rightly interpreted as a desire on the part of the Ottawa Government to have a controlling influence in the municipal affairs of Toronto, and to make the city hall a part of the patronage of the Dominion Conservative party.

Toronto is not the only city in the Dominion where such traffic is carried on by agents of the Ottawa Administration. It is just as well that Liberal taxpayers should be aroused to this fact, and thus enabled to thwart the persistent attempt of the "bosses" to control local affairs in the interests of the Ottawa restrictionists.

Clark Wallace's attempt to control city appointments in Toronto, and to divert patronage to his satellites on that ground alone, should be an "Eye-Opener" to the taxpayers in every community.

WHEN THE CZAR DIES.

The cable reports from St. Petersburg today give a very gloomy view of the condition of the Czar. A few days ago the news was sent that the Emperor was seriously ill—so sick that many outsiders, refused information at the imperial headquarters, expressed belief that he might die at any moment. The best face that the Czar's physicians now put upon his condition is that he may live for some time, but that prolonged life can only be looked for if he forsakes his duties, betakes himself to a more congenial climate—some advise the Madeira Islands—and remains absolutely quiet. To follow out these strict and no doubt necessary injunctions in the case of a man with his internal machinery in a sad state of disrepair, it is asserted that the Czar must consent to the establishment of what will virtually be a regency. This, then, is the beginning of the end. The Czar is a doomed man, and the knowledge of the fact seems to so depress him as to hasten his death.

Naturally the question that presents itself to most minds is, if the Czar passes away, what effect will the change have on the ever-interesting European situation? Those likely to be in a position to know hold that the accession of the Czarevitch to the throne of the Romanoffs would be followed by a decided exhibition of renewed friendship between the Governments of Germany and Russia, by the substitution of a revived league of the three emperors for the present triple alliance, and by the insolation of France on one side and Italy on the other. In autocratic Russia, the personal views of the sovereign count for much more than in a country like Great Britain, where the Queen rules but the Ministers say what shall be done. While William I. lived, he had the warmest personal relationships with his Russian kinsmen, Alexander II. and Alexander III., despite the unfriendly views of many Russian diplomats and generals with regard to the decisions of the congress at Berlin, which were largely dictated by Bismarck. When the youthful Emperor William II. ascended the throne, he dismissed Bismarck, and thereby apparently repudiated the policy of avoiding quarrels with Russia that had been carried out by his predecessors. This display of indifference to the Czar's goodwill was doubtless what caused Russia to turn with reluctance to France for some sort of arrangement, the outcome of which was the rather remarkable demonstrations of last year which set all the world talking. Whether Russia meant as much as the vivacious French imagined may never be revealed, but there can be little doubt that Russia would, under ordinary circumstances, have preferred the old understanding to the new.

It is now believed that there will be no change of Russian policy towards neighbors while the Czar lives, but that the Czarevitch, his successor, who may be placed virtually in power at an early day, will early seek his chief advisers from the German section of the Russian court. This change may be made without difficulty, seeing that Emperor William II. has been reconciled to Bismarck, and is understood to have fallen in with the Bismarckian views of friendship towards Russia. A substantial evidence of the change was given by the strong exercise of imperial influence in favor of the commercial treaty between Germany and Russia, which affords numerous substantial concessions to the latter country. The death of the Czar may thus lead to a reconstruction of the league of the three emperors, with what results remains to be seen.

WILL NOT TOUCH IT.

When told that a Conservative delegation desired him to enter local politics and head the Opposition 26 in the Legislature, Mr. D'Alton McCarthy said: "Their mission is fruitless. Under no circumstances will I consent to leave Dominion politics to enter the Local." Mr. McCarthy, for one thing, knows that Sir Oliver Mowat is in power to stay for another four years. That must be a damper to any man who is asked to lead a following of 26 in a total House of 94.

IN SHIP SHAPE

The Grand Jury Finds the Asylum, Hospitals and Jail.

Their Presentment—Judge Robertson Compliments Sheriff Cameron—Boasts Some of the County Constables.

The long-looked-for presentment of the grand jury was read this morning at the Middlesex Assizes. Judge Robertson was complimented upon such a light criminal docket, which indicated the high moral standard of the general public in the large and populous county of Middlesex. The usual jury visits were made. Every defendant of the jail was remarkably clean and in good condition, and reflected favorably upon the careful officials in charge. There were confined 22 males and five females, of whom three should be removed to the asylum. It was strongly recommended that lunatics taken to jail be promptly dealt with, and it was learned by the jury with regret that such persons of unsound mind were allowed to remain in the jail for a considerable period. This was an evil which for humanity's sake should be remedied immediately.

In speaking of the visit to the asylum the grand jury said: "We were very cordially received by Dr. Bucke and the officials in attendance, and were shown through the institution, where we found everything clean and the inmates as comfortable as their condition would permit. We examined the farm buildings and stock, and were much pleased with the condition of the same. We were also interested in the irrigation system, as a safe, economical and profitable manner for disposing of the sewage. The number of inmates in the institution is 1,025." The general hospital was visited, and under the guidance of Dr. Balfour the wards were inspected and everything found cleanly and well kept. Fifty-five patients—35 men and 20 women—were receiving care. For want of other accommodation consumptives had to be placed in the public wards with other patients. This should be avoided.

St. Joseph's Hospital was well equipped in all departments—cleanly, orderly and properly kept. Accommodation was provided for 60 patients, and only seven rooms were vacant. Many patients were there received who paid for their wards, but the poor were welcome at any time upon the recommendation of a doctor, and were taken in and cured for without any expense to city or county.

The Strathroy House of Refuge contained 90 inmates—58 men and 32 women—and they were well cared for and comfortable. The business manner with which the refuge was governed greatly pleased the jurors, and was a decided credit to the county officials.

The presentment expressed thanks to the sheriff, the crown attorney, the town clerk, the clerk of the court, and other officials for their courtesy and assistance, and in conclusion congratulated Judge Robertson on the elevation to the bench of Mr. W. R. Meredith, Q.C., as chief justice of the Common Pleas.

His Lordship expressed his gratitude for the recognition by the jury of his humble services in the discharge of his duty. His experience as a judge of assize was limited. Till about a year ago judges of the Chancery Division, to which he belonged, took no part in the trial of cases by jury. It was thought the administration of justice should be more diversified, and that all judges should take their turn in the disposition of jury cases. Since that time it had been his fortune to try a great many important cases, and he had to say that on the whole, as far as he had been able to observe, the jury system had been properly administered. The references to the other subjects touched upon, his Lordship said, would be transmitted to the proper authorities. It was to be regretted that the county council had not seen the importance of having everything in the way of good order about the public jail. It was of the greatest importance that witnesses, brought from comfortable homes, women especially, should have lavatories and other conveniences such as would render them reasonably comfortable. In regard to the court officials, his Lordship said he could quite appreciate all they could say in reference to Mr. Sheriff Cameron, and he took the present opportunity to congratulate the county upon his appointment. It was the first time he had had the pleasure of seeing him since his appointment, and without in any way derogating from the high position the late sheriff had occupied in their esteem, all he could say was that the present sheriff promised fair to be a most useful and efficient officer. In reference to the other officials of the court all they had said was no doubt deserved, but there were some officials in this court who were not so worthy of that commendation given in reference to the constables, and he regretted exceedingly what he had heard. He was very much pleased that there were constables in this county who did not understand the nature of their work, that they had disregarded the oath they had taken. It had been brought to his notice that the jurors who were in their charge. They were particularly sworn not to speak to the jurors, nor allow anyone else to speak to them without the leave of the court. It had been brought to his notice that jurors had been conversed with by the constables themselves, which, if made manifest to him, all he could say was that it was high contempt of court, but the matter was left in good hands when he said that the sheriff would take care that there should be a wedding out of the men who not only disgraced their office, but their solemn oath.

His Lordship in conclusion reciprocated and endorsed all they had said in commendation of the appointment of W. R. Meredith.

Quick Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine the merits of many articles published in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far-famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness and affords prompt and permanent relief.

The art of brickmaking has advanced more during the last few years than almost any other industry.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Electric. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

MEMORIAL WINDOWS AT ST. PAULS.

Two pictorial memorial windows were placed in position in the chancel of St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday. They are the Reid and the Hyman windows, and the work shows a very high degree of art. The windows are the product of the Tyrolean Art Glass Company, Innsbruck, Vienna, and both represent striking scriptural events. On the Reid window is portrayed St. Paul's conversion on the road to Damascus. The scene is vivid. Paul is represented following blind as the shaft of light from heaven strikes him. Consternation is depicted on the faces of his companions as they make desperate efforts to control their steeds which are frightened into bolting. The canopy and base panels are in extended gothic form of architecture. Below the picture is inscribed the key to the situation: "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me." The memorial inscription reads: "To the glory of God and in memory of Nathaniel and Sarah Reid. Erected in fond remembrance by their son, Wm. J. Reid, A.D. 1894." The Hyman window is in the same style of architecture and the picture represents the resurrection or rather the scene directly after the Savior has risen from the tomb. An angel is seen guarding the tomb, and very early in the morning, Mary Magdalene, the other Mary and Salome have come to anoint the body. But the stone is rolled back from the door, and near by are the grave clothes and a crown of thorns. The explanatory verse reads: "He is not here, for he is risen, as he said" (St. Matthew, xxviii, 6). The inscription is as follows: "In memoriam: Ellis Walton Hyman, obit 1878." The windows are not marred by the usual dividing line down the center. They are exceedingly beautiful and worthy of examination.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

"I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, something worse, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA Remedies too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $0 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 24) in your Circular 'How to Cure Skin Diseases.' But now I am as clear as any person ever was. Though force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and limbs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me."

DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

CHAPMAN'S

Health Built Up

"I had a very bad cold which settled on my lungs. I was under doctor's care and was not able to get out of the house for eight weeks. I did not gain strength very fast and other remedies failing to help me or improve my case, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles and my health is improved very much. Since I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla I feel very much stronger than for a long time past. I have recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla to others, for it truly has been of great benefit to me." JOSEPH NEILLEY, North Kingston, Nova Scotia.

MAKING A RECORD.

W. R. Hensel Beats the Record for the Trip Between Toronto and Kingston.

THE WHEEL.

MAKING A RECORD.
TORONTO, Oct. 9.—It was after Dave Nasmith's bicycle record of sixteen hours and some seconds from here to Kingston that Wm. R. Hensel, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, started out this morning. P. C. Sawdon sent him off at 5:42 from the Don bridge.

Kingston, Oct. 9.—Hensel arrived at Williamsburg Hotel, a mile within the city limits, at 5:45. He reports the roads fair until after passing Belleville, then heavy. It took him 3½ hours to cover the last 40 miles. A fresh wind from the north-east all day also impeded his progress. A fall at Darlington hill detained him twenty minutes. Hensel thus beats Nasmith's time by four hours and makes a record.

THE TURF.

RACES AT NEWMARKET.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—At Newmarket today the Champion stakes (of 50 sovereigns each) for starters only, with 1,000 sovereigns added, 3-year-olds to carry 8 stone 5 pounds, 4-year-olds and upwards 9 stone, was won by Baron de Hirsch's La Fleche, 5-year-old mare, which beat Ravensbury, 4-year-old, owned by Mr. Rose. The course was one mile and two furlongs.

Additional interest entered in the race for the Champion stakes on account of the letter which Lord Bessborough wrote to the sporting press challenging Mr. Hugh McCalmont to bring his place in the Champion Stakes in order to decide how much better he is than Lafiche and Matchbox.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 9.—Eight thousand people braved the raw wind here today to witness the deciding of the Kentucky Futurity for 3-year-olds. The stakes was worth more than any trotting event heretofore offered, the purse netting the winner $22,430. Beazette, the favorite, outclassed her foes so greatly that she never had the least trouble in winning the rich stake. Summary: Kentucky Futurity, value $31,180, for 3-year-olds—Beazette won in straight heats, Futurity 2, Colays 3, Axinite 4. Best time, 2:14½.

RECORD-BREAKING.
RACE TRACK, MONROE PARK, Oct. 9.—The card here today was first-class in every respect. Record-breaking was in order, and this was accomplished in the first race when Maid Marian broke the five furlong turf record by covering the distance in 50½. The best previous time of 57, flat, was made by Dr. Hushbrouck in 1892. "The surprise of the day came in the Black Hawk race, which he won at odds of 100 to 1. Jack of Spades was the hot favorite.

AQUATIC.

TWO WOMEN SCULLERS.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—Over 20,000 people at Forest Park Saturday witnessed the exhibition sculling match between Miss Lillie Ashley, of Hartford, Conn., and Miss Mosenheim, of St. Louis, on the park lake, over a straightaway course, exactly one-quarter of a mile in length. Miss Ashley rowed out of the line, and before she discovered her error was almost on the bank. She tried to pull out into position again, but had lost too much time, and Miss Mosenheim rowed across the deciding line an easy winner. Next Sunday the two scullers will row on the Mississippi for the female championship of the United States, over a course of a mile and a half.

BASEBALL.
FINED FOR SUNDAY BALL PLAYING.
WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—All the members of the Windsor Baseball Club who were playing with the Detroit Chiefs at the Driving Park on Sunday have settled their fines, but five of the Detroit players have not done so.

The general replied, referring to the work of the army in Canada.

IN THE COURTS.

Troubles of the Merritt Family at Kincairdine.

WALKERBURY, Oct. 9.—At the assizes here today the time of the court was taken up chiefly with the trial of several charges against the Merritt family of Kincairdine.
True bills were found against Rachael Merritt and her mother, Mrs. Sophia Merritt, for conspiracy to shoot Wm. Stewart. Judge Macdonald, however, entered a verdict of "not guilty" without allowing it to go to the jury.

A true bill was found against Charles Merritt for shooting at Wm. Stewart with intent to do grievous bodily harm, but this met the same fate without going to the jury.

A true bill was found against Sophia, Rachael, James, John, and Charles Merritt, for conspiracy to burn the crops of Wm. Stewart, all being bound over to appear for trial when called upon, but it is likely they never will be called upon.

The Merritts are a respectable looking family, and got into the present trouble by prosecuting Stewart for the alleged seduction of Rachael Merritt. Stewart, it is said, then married another girl, and the latter gave evidence as to the innocence of Stewart, who was discharged.

AT HAMILTON.
HAMILTON, Oct. 9.—At the assizes the grand jury brought in a true bill in Queen v. Frank Smith for seduction.

The manslaughter case against two young Hamilton men is now on.

High Constable Bissonnette, of Montreal, related the particulars of the arrest. He produced the valises found in the possession of the accused at the time of their arrest, and examination was made of their contents before the court. Nothing of an incriminating nature was found, the only article of use being some packages of tickets, which were filed as exhibits.

Three cars on the passenger train were demolished and a number of passengers reported to be slightly injured.

LIBERTY OR DEATH.

A Montreal Prisoner Crawls Through a 16-Inch Drain Pipe Into the Sewer.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 9.—Guards of the Montreal jail today discovered that Edward Collins, one of the inmates, had disappeared, and an investigation showed that he had made a desperate attempt to gain his liberty, and had probably met his death in consequence.

When last seen Collins was noticed entering the jail, an isolated building in the jail yard. Not returning the guard instituted a search, which resulted in the astonishing discovery that the prisoner had escaped through the closet by a sixteen-inch drain pipe leading to the main sewer which empties into the river. The main sewer was thoroughly searched without finding any trace of him. It is believed that his body is in the drain connecting with the main sewer.

JUVENILE CRIMINALITY.

Rev. Stephen Card, of Penetanguishene Reformatory, at Dundas Street Center Church.

The Children's Aid Society of this city held a very successful meeting last evening in the lecture room of the Dundas Street Methodist Church, and the people present, of whom there was a large number, learned more about the work and ways of Penetanguishene Reformatory than they ever knew before. On the platform were Rev. Nicolas, Lancelotti, Brown and Card, and the following members of the Children's Aid Society: Secretary Bartlett, Treasurer Parker, Inspector Sanders, Mr. F. Matthews and Mr. S. R. Break, vice-president, who occupied the chair. Short speeches were delivered by Messrs. Break, Parker, Matthews and Bartlett, on the work and objects of the society.

Rev. S. Card, chaplain of the Penetanguishene Reformatory, was the speaker of the occasion, his address being on "Juvenile Criminality," and he delivered it in a very fluent manner. As the majority of his hearers had never visited the institution spoken of, he described the buildings in use, different places being set apart for the various trades and all surrounded by a wall like only semblance to a prison. "And," said the speaker, "it is not a prison, but a reformatory. There are three school teachers and two chaplains, a Protestant and a Catholic. As a rule one-third of the boys brought in are Catholics, the remainder Protestants, and the same proportion prevails among the officers. In the year 1,870 boys and girls were brought into the institution in the Toronto police court. The chief of police of Hamilton stated that juvenile criminals were the worst, over 100 being out on suspended sentence now." Rev. Mr. Card thinks that magistrates ought to have power to give severe whippings to children brought up in the police courts. There is a great reforming agency in the brick, he said. He cited a great many cases of individual reformation among the boys, over 75 per cent turning over a new leaf when they are discharged from the reformatory. Hon. J. M. Gibson and Sir Oliver Mowat had stated that they had more faith in religious teaching than anything else. "I am glad that we have such good religious men at the head of our politics," said Mr. Card. Over $700,000 a year is given by the Provincial Government for charitable purposes. "A number of our boys come from good homes," said the speaker, "and I give three reasons for their coming here: Bad home government, excessive talking and unreasonable restraint. Seventy-five per cent of the boys' disgrace comes from the drunkenness of their parents. When the manufacture and sale of intoxicating spirits is prohibited the reformatories will soon have no work to do." After giving a number of examples of the tricks and pranks of the boys, the lecturer closed his address by expressing the hope that the Children's Aid Society would be encouraged in this city.

Mr. Bowman moved, seconded by Mr. Matthews, that a vote of thanks be given Mr. Card, and the audience very vigorously applauded the proposal. The meeting then closed.

Punched the Preacher.

LAKE ARN, Mich., Oct. 9.—Rev. E. S. Smith, a Latter Day Saint evangelist, has been holding meetings here. Among his converts was Mrs. Sarah Morton. Her husband objected to her belonging to their sect, but while he was out of town she was baptized. Mr. Morton was enraged when he was informed of what had happened. He found Smith in the depot, waiting to leave on the morning train, called him aside and after a short discussion gave him a beating. Smith took the next train out of town.

FOR INVALID FRIENDS.

TWO USEFUL GIFTS THAT ARE SURE TO BE PRIZED.

A Lap Tablet Fitted Up With Writing Materials—A Bag for the Feet of a Convalescent—The Materials and How to Fashion Them.

No matter how small is the gift sent a shut-in friend, it is an evidence to her of loving thought, and therefore precious in her eyes.

It is always a pleasure to watch green things growing, and any plant which will blossom and is not too large to be easily moved from the window to the stand beside the bed is a welcome gift to most invalids.

A lap-tablet fitted up with writing materials would give pleasure to a friend who is too feeble to sit at a table or desk to write. The chief thing to be borne in mind is the weight of the tablet when finished. A seasoned pine board that is not over a quarter of an inch in thickness is suited to this purpose, but a better foundation is paper board such as is used for book covers, and can be found at any publishing house. Have it cut the desired size—eighteen inches by twenty-four inches is a good measurement. This is covered with felt which is made an inch wider than the width of the cardboard, and twelve inches longer, and is pinked around each edge with a pinning iron.

The arrangements shown by the sketch is a simple and convenient one. Pinked corners are stitched to this cover, into which the blotter is slipped; straps are stitched above it for the pen holder and pencil. Pinked pockets are stitched each side of the blotter, to accommodate different sizes of paper and envelopes, and a pretty penwiper is placed at the right of the pens.

The flaps are provided with two pockets each for holding letters, notes or memoranda. These are cut in one piece, pinked on all the edges, and then stitched to the flaps. A row of stitching separates them into the pockets.

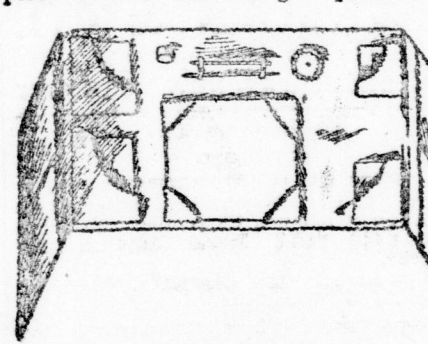

When all is completed, glue the cover firmly to the four corners of the paper board, stretching it smoothly across, and when this has thoroughly dried, glue a leather-covered traveling inkstand, which has a strong spring, to the left of the pens and pencils.

The spaces which the pockets and writing materials will occupy must be carefully considered when they are adjusted, that they may be kept within the limits of the paper-board foundation.

If a pine board is used instead of the paper board, the cover is first tacked to it by means of tiny gilt-headed nails, after the pocket flaps are stitched to it; and then the other pockets, with corners and flaps, are tacked to the board through the cover.

A useful gift that will be highly prized by an invalid who lies on the lounge and feels the need of a covering to protect the feet which become chilled from want of exercise, is a large, flat bag of dark-colored India-rub, lined with elder down flannel. Into this the feet, with or without shoes, are slipped. It is made long enough to reach above the knees, and an elastic is run into the top, which will help keep it in place, though it should not be tight enough to be felt, or to restrain the movement of the legs. The bag should be made from twenty-two to twenty-four inches wide.

It is not alone the more formidable pieces of work that will give pleasure to a shut-in. There are many people who have but little time or money to spend on a gift, and yet are desirous of showing their sympathy in some friendly attention. Some little thing such as a painted card, or a favorite poem copied in one's own handwriting, a bookmark, or even a flower, will often start the glad tears as an evidence of tender consideration to the receiver.

ADVERTISE IN THE ADVERTISER

TANGLED THREADS

It seemed to Dr. Rane that everything was a failure. The medical book he had been engaged upon with persevering industry at the time of his marriage, from which he had anticipated great things both in frame and fortune, had not met with success. He had succeeded in getting it published; but as yet there were no returns. He had sacrificed a sum of money towards its publication; not a very large sum, it is true, but nevertheless knew how it had crippled them. Bessy said it would come back some day with interest; for the present time he only to keep up a good heart and live frugally.

Poor Bessy herself had one grief that she never spoke of even to him—the want of offspring. There had been no prospect of it. As a matter of fact, she had been disappointed by her disappointment was very keen. She was beginning to grow a little reconciled to it now; and became only the more devoted to her husband.

Mrs. Rane was an excellent manager in the household, spending the smallest fraction that she could, consistently with comfort. It had not yet come to the point of the turn of the previous winter when Bessy had become ill only Molly Green. By a fortunate chance Molly understood cooking; she had become a really excellent servant. Dr. Rane's small expense they lived at in the small house which he had managed to continue to might perhaps have waited patiently for better luck; but he did not intend to do anything of the sort. His only anxiety was to remove to another place, as far away from Dallery Ham as possible.

Whether this thirst for migration would have arisen had his practice become successful, cannot be told. We can only record things as they were. With the disappointment—and other matters—lying upon him, the getting away from Dallery had grown into a wild, burning desire, that never left him by night or day. That one fatal mistake of his life seemed to hang over him like a cloud. It is true that when he penned the letter to answer for, he might have borne this; and at any rate his running away from Dallery would neither lessen the heart's burden nor add to it; but what he could not bear was the prospect of detection. Not a day passed but he saw some one or other whose face tacitly reminded him that such discovery might take place. He felt sure that Mrs. Gass still suspected him of having written the letter; he knew his mother doubted it; he gathered a half suspicion of Jolly; he had more than a half of Richard North; and how many others there might be, he knew not. Ever since the time when he returned from his trip, he thought there had been an involuntary constraint in Richard's manner to him; it could not be fancy. As to Jolly, the way he sometimes caught her green eyes observing him, was enough to give the shivers to a nervous man. How he could have committed the fatal mistake of putting that copy of the letter into his pocket-book, he never knew. He had tried his writing paper, but he surely thought he had torn all up and burnt the pieces. Over and over again, looking back upon his carelessness, he said to himself that it was fate. Not carelessness, in one sense of the word, but carelessness if you will, but a carelessness that he could not go from in the arbitrary dominions of fate. Fate had been controlling him with her iron hand, to bring his crime home to him; and he could not escape it. Ever since that time, however, he had been of caution—it had led to his being a suspected man by some few around him; and continue to live amongst them he would not. Dr. Rane was a proud man, living in a splendid degree to stand in the estimation of his fellows; to have such a degradation as this brought publicly home to him would well nigh kill him with shame. Rather than face it he would have run away to the remotest quarter of the habitable globe.

And he had quite imbued Bessy with the wish for change. She only thought as he thought. Never suspecting the true reason of his wish to get away and establish himself elsewhere, she only saw how real it was. Of this they talked, night after night, pacing the garden paths. "There seems to have been a spell of ill luck attending me ever since I settled in this place," he would say to her, "and I know it won't be lifted whilst I stop here." He was saying it this very night.

"I hate the place, Bessy," he observed, looking up at the bright evening star that began to show itself in the clear blue sky. "But for my mother and you I should never have stayed in it. I wish I had the money to buy a practice elsewhere. As it is, I must establish one."

"Yes," acquiesced Bessy. "But where? The great thing is—what other place to decide upon."

Of course that was the chief thing. Dr. Rane looked down and kept silence, pondering various matters in his mind. He thought of London. A friend of his, one Dr. Jones, who had been a fellow student in their hospital days, was doing a large practice as a medical man in the neighborhood of New York; he wanted assistance, and had proposed to Dr. Rane to go over and join him. Nothing in the world would Dr. Rane have liked better; and Bessy was willing to go where he went, even to quit her native land for good; but Dr. Jones did not offer this without an condition, and the terms he named, five hundred pounds, were quite beyond the reach of Oliver Rane. So he supposed it must be London. With the two hundred pounds that he hoped to get for the good-will of his own practice in Dallery Ham—at this very moment he was trying to negotiate with a gentleman for it in private—he should set up in London, or else purchase a small share in an established practice. Anywhere, anywhere, get away, and to leave the nightmare of daily-dreaded discovery behind him!

"Once we are away from this place, Bessy, we shall get on. I feel sure of it. You won't long have to live like a hermit, from dread of the cost of entertaining company, or to look at every sixpence before you lay it out."

"I don't mind it, Oliver. You know how sorry I should be if you thought of giving up your home, for my sake?"

"But I don't think for my own as well," he hastily added. "You can't realize what it is, Bessy, for a clever medical man—and I am that—to be beaten back for new into obscurity, to find no field for his talents; to watch others of this generation rising into note and usefulness. I have not got on here! Madam has schemed to prevent it. Why she should have patronized Alexander, why she should patronize Seely; not for their sakes, but to oppose me; I have never been able to imagine. Unless it was that my mother, when Fanny Gass, and Mr. North were intimate as brother and sister in early life."

"And madam despises the Gass family and ours equally. It was a black letter day for us all when papa married her."

"That is no reason why she should have set her face against me. It has been a fatal blot on me; worse than you and the world think for, Bessy."

"I am sure you must have felt it so," murmured Bessy. "And she would have stopped our marriage if she could."

"Whoever succeeds me here will speedily make a good practice of it. You'll see. She has kept me from doing it. There's one blessed thing—her evil influence cannot follow us elsewhere."

"I should like to become rich and have a large house and get poor papa to live with us," said Bessy hopefully. "Madam is worrying him into his grave with her cruel temper. Oh, Oliver, I should like him to come to us!"

"Much of it! Why, I hear nothing else. The men are fools. They'll cut their own throats as sure as a gun. Your brother Richard sees it coming."

"Does what?" asked Bessy, not exactly understanding.

A Grand Feature

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me. It overcomes that tired feeling so common now."

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial. The man who always speaks well of his neighbor has a pretty good reputation at home.

At Death's Door.—Dyspepsia Conquered.—A Great Medical Triumph. GENTLEMEN.—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live. I commenced the use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 pounds. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over 30 dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and they thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when I first commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia. JAMES V. MIDDLESEX.

Last Sabbath was anniversary day for Bryanston Methodist Church. Everything conspired to make the services very successful. The sermon was preached by Mr. Parham, of Hensall, in the morning. Mr. Little, of the Presbytery of Hensall, in the afternoon, and Rev. J. A. Ferguson, of Silem, in the evening. Each discourse was an able presentation of divine truth, and was listened to with marked attention. The congregations throughout the day were very large, and the collections, in aid of the trust fund, liberal.

GENERAL BOOTH TALKS.

His Discourses on Man, Methods, Books and the Sacraments.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Gen. Booth met the Protestant Ministerial Association at their meeting yesterday, and described at length the origin, growth and principles of the Salvation Army. He enumerated many things which he considered as elements of the success of his great work. First in importance he placed the "form of government," which he called "a military democracy." It was really the same as in the patriarchal age. Another strong element of success was the army's simplicity of doctrinal belief. They did not go deeply into theology, their three principal tenets being belief in God, that he alone has power to forgive sins, and in a sensation produced upon the mind by the death of God, which a man is forgiven; belief in Christ and his sacrifice on Calvary, and the efficacy of atonement, and belief in the Holy Ghost as the sanctifier. The army believed that every man should be a worker, fighting sin and the devil. The work in Canada had given them some solitude; some mistakes had been made and financial obligations incurred. The losses by backsliding were manifold everywhere. Complaints were made that there was not enough teaching, and perhaps there was something in that, but the movement was only in its infancy. For himself, he had no time to read, and there was a scarcity of good books. A gentleman once asked him if he was acquainted with the literature of the higher criticism, and was surprised that he was not. "I cannot waste time in uncertain dogmatics," said the general; "I can smell them at a distance." Dr. Hunter asked what the present attitude was towards the sacraments, especially holy communion. Gen. Booth replied that it would take a long time to explain, but at the beginning officers and soldiers were recommended to go to church to receive the sacrament. After a company of them had gone to an Anglican church, and the pastor said that he must draw the line at those who had been confirmed, he studied the matter, and did not recognize that it was a command of Christ to observe the sacrament. The sacraments were not a condition of salvation, and for the present the army had decided not to alter with them. While the class of people they dealt with there would be trouble about water baptism and other things. The thanks of the association were conveyed to the general.

SHE IS MINUS A LIVER.

Says that Organ Was Removed Along With a Bullet from an Italian's Gun.

[Chicago Times.]

Mrs. Mary Shea, startled the people in Judge Adams' court room Saturday by the statement that she had no liver. Mary was a witness in the case against Minnie Carr, charged with the larceny of $365 from one Joe Liegeois. She was put on the stand as Minnie's landlady to testify to her good character. It appears that several years ago she was shot through the body by an Italian, who was subsequently sent to the penitentiary. An operation was performed in order to locate the bullet, in the course of which it was found lodged in the liver. This organ was so incased that it had to be removed. She woman claims that she does not suffer for the want of her liver, in fact, that the only inconvenience is that she cannot drink beer. She lives on South Clark street and is a character well known in the neighborhood of her residence.

—How's your heater?

—The open car has gone on a vacation.

—"Shut that door," is the echo of the cold snap.—Autumn leaf parties are in order, and quite fashionable, too.—Mr. Frank Love, of this city, is effi-ciating as crown counsel at the Walkerton assizes.—Mr. Arthur Magee, of London, has been elected president of the Dental Freshmen of the University of Buffalo.—Sergeant-Major Munro, of Wolseley Barracks, and Sergeant-Major Phillips, of St. John, N. B., will change places.—The large residence of Mr. A. Tupper on Dundas street east was offered at auction yesterday afternoon by Mr. J. W. Jones.

The property was withdrawn at $2,500.

—Mr. F. J. Wynne, organist of the Anglican Church, Hyde Park, sails today on the steamer New York for Liverpool to visit relatives after a stay of ten years in this country.—At the Police Court this morning
Wm. Duffield, representing the gas company, pleaded guilty to the charge of polluting the river by allowing gas tar to escape into the river. He stated that the overflow had occurred from the neglect of the foreman in allowing the tank to overflow. The nuisance would be abated at once, he said. In view of this Mr. Parke suspended sentence. Mr. McCann, fisheries inspector, was the complainant.

$50 or Three Months.

Wellington Barnes, a Pottersburg hotel-keeper, pleaded guilty yesterday before Squires Lacey and J. B. Smyth to selling liquor to Indians. He was fined $50 and costs. Barnes was given a week to pay, and in default will serve three months in the county jail. Mrs. Rachael Summers, of Muncie, Ind., claimed that her son and Thomas Nichols, another Indian, bought liquor at Barnes' on Sept. 20, and got so drunk that Summers was arrested.

A Good Story.

Among the stories told last evening by Rev. S. Card in his lecture on "Juvenile Criminality," in the Dundas Street Methodist Church, the following particularly good one: "We had a colored boy, who,
by the way, was from London—also, who, very clever, a great talker, and especially good at repartee. On the day of his departure from the institution one of the guards said to him: 'Sambo, the best thing you can do is to study and become a moment and then replied: 'No, sah; I ain't going to be a preacher. When I go home I am going to work and earn an honest living.'"

Mantell at the Grand.

Dumas' thrilling melodrama, "The Corsican Brothers," was presented at the Grand last night by Robert Mantell, who,
as usual, was greeted by a large audience.The play was given here two years ago, with more attention to stage detail. The ghost scenes in the first production were admirably worked out with every weird accessory, but last night much of the supernatural effect was lost by the absence of these devices. However, the performance was excellent, and Mr. Mantell in the dual role made a profound impression. His handsome presence, splendid vocal powers and undoubted ability eminently fit him for heroic parts. He was favored with two certain calls and responded with good humor. He was ably supported by the clever actresses, Charlotte Behrens. The company was large and competent.

Remodeling the Road.

The St. Thomas Journal has the following in regard to the street railway of that city, in which several London men are interested: Mr. J. A. McLean attended a meeting of the directors of the St. Thomas Street Railway, held at Detroit last Friday, when the resignations of John Winter and George W. Hendrie as directors were accepted. The meeting adjourned till yesterday afternoon, when it was held in the office of McLean, McLean & Cameron. The resignations of Cameron Currie, president, and Strachan Hendrie, treasurer, were accepted. Messrs. C. B.
Hunt and E. R. Cameron, of London, were elected directors. Mr. J. A. McLean is the only other member of the board. Two directors are yet to be elected. Mr. Cameron was elected president of the board.
Mr. John Break, of Toronto, secretary-treasurer and local manager at St.
Thomas. He will commence his duties immediately. Today a force of men were put to work to thoroughly repair the roadbed and track. More horses have been purchased, and in the meantime it is the intention to give as good a service as is given by any horse car street railway. At an early date a proposition will be made to the city council looking towards the electrifying of the road, and extending lines to different parts of the city. The men behind the undertaking are stated to be men of push and capital.We are quoting very low prices for Lily

Saved John Weir's Life."May be seen in large letters on the covers of the horses that preceded the handsome Royal Crown Remedy wagon at Toronto and Western Fairs. To a Globe reporter, Mr.
Weir said: "This is a most marvelous cure. I became pale as a corpse; my blood seemed to be turned to water. I had dizziness and a ringing noise in my head; my hands and feet were cold all the time, and my limbs were completely swollen up to the body. Some doctors called it consumption of the blood. I got so weak that I could not walk, and finally took to my bed." Mrs. Weir says: "All Mr. Weir has told you is true. At times he lay for days unconscious and unable to take nourishment of any kind, and was reduced to a mere skeleton of 84 pounds; and I fully believe that if we had been one day later in getting Williams' Royal Crown Remedy he would be in his grave to-day. So it may well be said
Williams' Royal Crown Remedy saved John Weir's life. The best druggists keep Royal
