Northcott-"Discarded Preparation," Dr. Craig.

Dr. Ephraim Northcott, the agent of the New York Company which controls the sale of Dioradin, a preused in the treatment of tuberculosis, makes the following reply to the statement issued yesterday by Dr. Craig, of the Byron Sanatorium.

The controversy originated with a criticism by Dr. Craig and Dr. H. W. Hill, director of the Institute of Public Health, in a joint article which was published in The Advertiser on Sturday, which Dr. Northcott, in a published statement, declared to be unjust. Dr. Craig made a reply last night to Dr. Northcott's statement, and the latter's answer to this was submitted to The Advertiser today.

"Very instructive indeed would it be to know the inner workings of men's minds and the personal interest actuating them which would lead to the of animosity shown in an article appearing in The Advertiser the heading of the "New Public Health," an institution maintained by the Ontario Government and supposedly unbiased to all things per-taining to public health and welfare.

"The worthy doctors, who were responsible for this unwarranted attack on a proven remedy for the treatment of the dread disease, tuberculosis, were presented with copies of reports of cases treated; each returned the papers immediately without exar hation, intimating that they were not sufficiently important to deserve consideration on their part.

This incid it, coupled with the article referred to, makes it evident to the most obtuse observer why they should never have heard of a remedy which was being used by the profession all over the civilized world. "They are now able to refer to ad-

Canada Cannot Get Regular Instructors, But Minister Expects to Secure Teachers.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, June 15 .- Arrangements are being made to obtain a number of retired petty officers of the British navy to undertake the instruction of Canadian nava militiamen. It is figured that at least twelve such men will be required to train the twelve hundred naval militiamen whom the Hon. J. Hazen expects to have in the uniform of the British navy before snow flies again.

It is impossible to get regular British naval instructors. They are a scarce article, and their services are all required to train men in Great Britain. However a good rany petty officers, who have put twenty-one years and who are now living on retired allowances, are available, Some of them are old naval instructors. It is understood that a sufficient number of them can be easily induced to accept service with Canada, and add a substantial salary to their present pensions. Training will be commenced probably at Halifax, St. John, Montreal and Vancouver, within a few months.

HUNDREDS UNABLE TO HEAR THE STORY OF MAJOR MORRIS

Turned Away From Auditorium When Survivor Tells of the Empress Disaster.

HOLD OVERFLOW MEETING

Tale of Marine Tragedy Grips Londoners, Who Wait for Hours to Hear It.

To an audience that crammed the seating capacity and every available inch of standing room in the Auditorium, Major Frank Morris, of the Salvation Army headquarters staff, told a graphic story of the Empress of Ireland disaster Sunday night. It was the story told to an Advertiser reporter Friday on his arrival in the city, direct from the gruesome results of the tragedy. As told last night by the sole London survivor of a party of 28, it struck home with the big crowd in a way that held every eye on the speaker. Many were moved to tears. As he spoke of the last few minutes before the vessel took her death plunge, one might have heard a pin drop in the assemblage.

Hold Overflow Meeting. The meeting was advertised to open at 8 o'clock. By 7 the hall was half-filled. A half-hour later found every seat taken. The next few minutes found a crush for the standing room at the back of the hall. This was soon filled. Then the crowd began to block the aisles. Seeing that the hall would soon be crowded to the danger point, Salvation Army officials in charge held a hasty consultation.

While men at the door turned away hundreds of disappointed people, it was decided to hold an overflow meeting at the impatient crowle outside started the flow towards Dundas street and to Clarence. The assembly hall at the barracks was soon filled. There the crowd waited righteousness and of God.

Sabbath school. "The progress" for more than an hour, until Major Morris put in an appearance.

Although through the columns of the press the story had been made known hell." to Londoners, the narrative was followed with an interest that is seldom seen in

Tells Graphic Story. Without any attempt at making his story dramatic, Major Morris told of the casting off from the pier at Quebec, the last good-byes waved to the crowd on the docks, the playing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," by the picked band, and of the liner feeling her way out into the river.

He told of the last letters being written. They were taken off by the pilot only fifteen minutes before the disaster occurred. He spoke of the passengers promenading the decks, of turning in, one by one, to their berths.

As he led up to the last scene before the collision occurred, a hush of expectancy fell over the audience. His vivid description of the climb to the deck on the leaning stair, and rushing while the vessel listed sickeningly to starboard, seemed to hold the assemblage as in a trance. Perhaps the most striking word-picture of all was the last plunge of the leviathan, when the hundreds of struggling human beings were carried to destruction with the monster as it left the surface.

Many Weep At Tale. In the audience were many who had lost loved ones in the marine tragedy They had been brought there as if by a powerful magnetic force. They had not wanted to come. Yet there was something in the words of the man who had come back as from the grave that they could not but hear. As they listened they wept.

His Worship, Mayor C. M. R. Graham, spoke feelingly of the number in the disaster. Devotional exercices were conducted by Rev. Frank C. Harper.

Miss McLeod thanked the members of the church for their friendship and many kindnesses to her, in a short address following the pastor's

NECESSARY TO UNION

Amalgamation of Churches Can Never Be Consummated Without It.

"Denominationalism is not born of sin but of the spirit of God." said Rev. H. H. Denominationalism had begun in the struggle for truth and freedom of religion and had played its part in the revolt against Roman Catholicism. But now there were forces tending owards church union. Among them were the deeper study of the Bible the revival of the missionary spirit of the church, the increasing spirit of Christian charity, and the rise and growth of democracy. The Roman Catholic church stood for authority service. and hierarchy in church government the Baptist church for democracy, and most of the other Protestant denominations attempted to mingle authority and democracy. This must give way to congregationalism before organic church union can be effected, Mr. Bingham held.

"Centralized church government must give way to representative church government. I fear we shall never see organic church union until this dualism, this attempt to mingle authority and democracy is superseded," said Mr. Bingham, who pointed out that democracy is increasing in the other churches. In the Methodist church, for instance, the stationing committee now never attempted to override the wishes of the congregations. Church union might be hastened by fostering the life principles of Christianity. It could never be accomplished by ignoring the spiritual message and principles of the Christian religion. #### BARROOM SUPREME ISSUE. SAYS REV. W. J. KNOX

"The bar-room is one of the most damaging influences in our national life, and constitutes one of the most damnable evils we have with us today," declared Rev. W. J. Knox, M.A., at the First Presbyterian Church last night.

Mr. Knox was speaking on "The Christian in Politics," telling of the latter's duty in this regard, and spoke of the approaching provincial elections. The liquor question was the supreme issue in the campaign, he declared, and while he did not just commit himself as to which policy he intended to indorse or would have his hearers approve, it was patent that he was with the Opposition Leader, N. W. Rowell, in the latter's proposal to wipe out the bar.

The speaker defended his action in speaking of the matter by declaring that public life and religion could not be separated. Especially was this true when great moral issues were involved, as was the case in the coming election.

ITALIAN UPRISING IS CHECKED IN INFANCY

Troops Put Quick End to the Trouble, Which Was Attempt to Begin Revolution.

[Canadian Press.] ROME, June 14.-With the occupation of disaffected provinces by the military forces order is rapidly being restored, and it is expected that within a day or two the entire district of Romagana, comprising the provinces of Bologna, Ferrara, Ravenna, and Gorli, will have resumed its normal condition.

In the Lugo district, however, in which there are many villages, disturbances are of the troops, and in Ancona there are still signs of discontent, as the anarchist propoganda is still being carried on. The general strike has come to an end, and the strike of the railway men, which included only a small number of the employees, has been called off, with the result that the workingmen are returning to their tasks. Railroad, telegraph and telephone lines are hurriedly being made.

Red Flag on Tour. When the revolutionary movement began at Ancona a week ago the anarchists. neaded by Malatesta, organized a committee composed of thirteen members, before which persons suspected of not summoned or taken by force and interrogated and judged according to their ability to prove their allegiance, or evade the question. Among others thus inter-rogated was Count Ugolini, of Peraso, who was seized while driving in his automobile. The count pretended to sympa thize with the revolutionists, and finally a red flag was raised over his automobile and he was ordered to drive through the district, accompanied by a member of the committee, nicknamed "Robespierre," and spread the news of the advent of the republic.

The anarchists published a special newspaper, which they called the "Bru-tus Gazette." This contained in large type the following announcement:
"A revolution has broken out, and is spreading through Romagna. The quirinal This Letter Tells of Wonderful has so far escaped invasion by the revolutionary masses, but is threatened. The monarchy has been condemned, and may fall today or tomorrow; certainly soon Therefore, we must act most energeti-

Wild Reports Spread.

By means of this "official organ," recorts were spread throughout the surrounding country that 50 people had been killed in Ancona, that a provisional government had been installed at Milan, that Tuscany had risen, and that the navy had mutinied. On all sides trees of liberty were raised, only to be overthrown as soon as the troops marched into the villages all sides trees of liberty were d, only to be overthrown as soon [Canadlan Press.] NEW YORK, June 14.-With more than? 650 persons on board, all of them thankful at having escaped a disaster similar to that in which the Empress of Ireland recently went to the bottom of the St. Lawrence, the American liner New York, a gaping hole in her stem where the Hamburg-American liner Pretoria struck her in the fog off Nantucket Carly yesterday, reached port safely today.

As the steamer passed Fire Island on her way into port, an impressive service of thanksgiving, presided over by the Rev. Francis E. Clark, of Boston, founder of the Christian Endeavor Society, was held. There was scarcely a dry eye among the congregation while "Nearer, my God, to Thee" was being sung in memory of those less fortunate than the New York's passengers in wrecks at sea. Coming up the bay this afternoon, the wounded liner wore a big tarpaulin bandage over the gash in her side cut by the Pretoria's prow and anchor. Although the hole covers a range of three of the broad plates of the liner and extends from her upper works to within ten feet of the water line, it was said that repairs would be made immediately and that the New York would sail on her regular schedule for Europe.

The firemen were notified of the accident and immediately brought the city's new pulmotor into commission, but the boy's en up and it required a strong police force favoring the revolutionary cause, were heart had stopped beating before the alarm was given.

TORON ) REPRESENTATIVE, F. W. Thompson, 56 Mail Building. The London Advertiser Printing Co., Limited.

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 15.

REDUCTION VS. ABOLITION. SHORT time ago petitions, representing thousands of Londoners, were presented to the license commission, asking for the reduction of a number of hotel licenses. Mr. Rowell now presents a petition to the people of London to cut off every hotel license.

The temperance people of London should either secure a pledge from Mr. Beck, or get behind a candidate who will stand firmly by Mr. Rowell's policy. And, if necessary, the temperance people should put their own candidate in the field, as they did on a previous occasion, when they threw their weight against the opponent of the present member and succeeded in electing the latter.

The other alternative is to secure a promise from Mr. Beck that he will support the Rowell policy. If he should make such a declaration, the demands of the situation would be answered.

AN ADVANCED LIBERAL. R. R. L. BRACKIN, the candidate for West Kent, is certainly a Liberal of the most advanced type. He is prepared not only to support Mr. Rowell's reforms, but he is advocating progressive social legislation similar to much of that being put into operation in England by Lloyd-Geoirge. He may be ahead of public sentiment, but that is no fault. While the party may properly confine itself to a few reforms at a time, and not dissipate its energies by trying to get everything, it is well to have some members who will agitate on still more advanced lines, and thus prepare public sentiment for futher progress. Mr. Brackin, who is a very prominent citizen of Chatham, will be a valuable member of the next legislature. He is making w strong fight against Mr. Sulman, the Conservative member, whose labors in the Assembly have been confined to occupying a seat, and voting as required. The Liberals of West Kent have good expectations of winning with their energetic and capable candidate.

DOUGHTY DIVIDED AGAINST HIM-

THE course pursued by Mr. Charles J. Doughty, ex-nominee of the Hanna party in Riverdale, Toronto, is a curious exhibit in political action. Nominated as a stand-patter on the bar question. taxation and suffrage, he lost no time in announcing to his temperance friends that he stood with Mr Rowell on these points. His party friends being up in arms over such sentiments, he has withdrawn from the contest

In his letter of resignation, this doughty ex-candidate repeats that his "personal views" were correctly stated in the former announcement to temperance friends, but declares, nevertheless, that politically he has every "confidence in the Government's measures" on temperance, taxation and suffrage. Personally, he is a Rowellite; politically, he belongs to Hanna! In spirit, he is a taxreformer and bar-abolitionist, but in the body he stands for things as they are.

The fact is, he was born a Conservative: "I am now and always have been a loyal Conservative," he says, "and supporter of the Conservative government." In his cradle he crowed for "the Conservative government." He was stamped Conservative, and belongs to any Conservative government that may happen along. He is their preperty, like any branded steer, even though thoughts of heresy may momentarily trouble his faithful brain. When he hears his master's whip, he comes to.

"I never had any intention of supporting Mr. Rowell," although I agree with him. Personally, I am one thing, politically. I am another. Is not this an interesting paradox? Are there any others like Mr. Doughty? In such a paradox lurks paresis, a condition under which the patient thinks all right, but can't act accordingly.

DISLOYALTY OF SOME CANADIAN TORIES.

THE Detroit Free Press gives some prominence to remarks made by the Toronto correspondent of the London Times on Canadian opinion of Irish Home Rule. He assures the readers of that paper that "the feeling of Canada hardens against home rule." He threatens Great Britain with loss of Canada's affections if home rule is carried into

So the "loyalty" of Canadian Tories epends on restoration of Government by the House of Lords. We knew that before though. The Times' correspondent goes on to say that it has been intimated be imposed upon Ulster, it would be politically unwise for the Canadian Government to submit its naval plans to Parliament." Here comes the excuse! Parliament." Here comes the excuse! his worth to the man whose crops he Mr. Borden can crawl out. Germany helps to guard.

butions so long as an Ottawa Government picks and chooses between the British parties. Was not Sir Wilfrid Laurier plamed for reserving to the Canadian parliament the control of Canadian ships? And now, the Toronto correspondent of the Times suggests that Mr. Borden would do well to do nothing at all for Great Britain, if the British people is to prevail against the British lords.

"The more closely the provisions of the bill are examined (by Canadians)," he writes, "the more its fatal defects are revealed." How many Canadians have 'examined the provisions of the bill?" Very few Canadians know the details of the home rule bill, or care about them. They generally believe, however, that Ireland has as good a right to self-government as Canada or Australia, or any of the dominions inhabited by white men It is pretty generally known that Ireland is not getting by this bill as large a measure of self-government by a long way as that enjoyed by Canada and Australia, but rather such autonomy as that of a Canadian province. It is the rankest kind of old-world Toryism to oppose the demand of four-fifths of the Irish people for their rights, and not many Canadians are guilty of it, outside an Orange mob.

The Toronto correspondent of the Times, who professes to speak so oracularly for the Canadian people, is doubtless Sir John Willison, editor of the News, and a renegade from Liberalism. What did he write and say when he was editor of the Globe and biographer of Laurier? He would not in those days have so misrepresented the thinking Canadian people as he misrepresents them now. Dr. Parr once said, "a renegade is worse than a rebel, and Sir John is sympathetic towards those who would cast off loyalty to a democratic Great Britain."

Safety First from liquor!

Vote for the Rowell candidates!

General Reaction seems to be after Mr. Hanna.

What objection has Hon. Adam Beck to Mr. Rowell's policy?

You can wipe out every bar-room in the land on June 29, if you will.

Is hydro-electric a bigger thing to London than the abolition of the bars?

Everywhere the liquor men are fighting side by side with the Hanna organ-

Mexican president is certainly hanging on, like a bulldog. The insurgent element in the Conservative party is counted upon for great day's work on June 29. The sentimental youth considers any picnic he attends a failure at which he is not kodaked with his arm about some pretty girl's waist. Perhaps the fact that the policemen often holds them by the hand has something to do with the continuance of the suffragette disturbances. If those tango beads become much larger, before the end of the season we my expect to see the necks of fair ones encircled by a string of young pump-

The charge that a hotelman knocked an aged drunkard down and turned a hose on him, if substantiated, should bring every temperance man in London

The Toronto Mail and Empire scolds the ministers for urging support of the abolish the bar policy. But wouldn't a clergyman be truant to his vows and beliefs if he didn't?

In his outspoken declarations on the temperance issue, a subject which many politicians take great pains to avoid, Mr. Rowell has shown that his is the real spirit of the crusader.

St. Paul's chimes drilling out, "Abide with me, fast falls the eventide," at the noon hour, has all the splendid timeliness of ragtime at a funeral or a furlined coat at a picnic.

The heroine of a recent popular novel gets married on the very first page. Of course, she is expected to get into trouble anyway, but generally the author puts it off for a few chapters.

It begins to look as if Mr. Hanna's farewell tour would not include a number of pieces that the populace would dearly like to witness, for instance, "The Adventures of Mr. Snider."

Mr. Rowell has been declared dreamer. But, to the everlasting benefit of this province, they are dreams that have been crystallized into action. The sleep of the Seven Sleepers is too sound of political opinion the early depression has passed away and has been succeeded by a buoyancy of spirit that bodes danger and uncertainty for the Whitney regime. In no previous provincial election has there ever been on such short notice so enthusiastic a response to a leader's call to action. Now, Mr. Editor, is it right to suppor a Government that forces us to continue such a state of affairs when Ontario in 1904 demanded by a majority of 80,000 electors, and in 1906 said by a majority of 96,000, that we were ready for prohibiwould have been closed had it not been tion—in the face of all these facts and also of the additional fact that 9,000 Now provided five young men take their young Conservatives made a united ap-

CAMPAIGN COMMENT

HANNA'S LAST TOUR. [St. Thomas Journal.]

Sarah Bernhardt announces that she will shortly make her farewell tour of hers and Hon. Bill Hanna is making his

MR. ROWELL'S CHALLENGE.

[The Presbyterian.] This week's Presbyterian has this to say of Mr. Rowell's policy, and the duty of the people in connection with it: And now Mr. Rowell issues this chal-"If the organized temperance enge: forces of this province, if the Christian churches of Ontario really want the bar to go, they can say so on the 29th of June. If the bar does not go, where does the responsibility rest?" To that challenge there can be but one answer. Those who believe that the liquor traffic, whose stronghold is the licensed bar, is a menace and a curse, those who accept, on noral issues, the leadership of the Christian Church, are bound to vote only for candidates who can be relied upon to support such legislation as Mr. Rowell has pledged himself to enact.

THREE-FIFTHS' HANDICAP. [Hamilton Times.]

People who give Whitney credit for the local option act, which is a Liberal measure, should not forget that his threefifths clause has kept many a barroom open. The Brantford Expositor illustrates it this way: The will of the people as expressed by majority vote is prohibition in 658 municipalities. The three-fifths requirement permitted it in only 535 municipalities. The will of the people is that there should be licenses in only 184 municipalities. The three-fifths handicap has retained licenses in 307 municipalities. The will of the people is to continue only 1,165 licenses. The three-fifths handicap permits the continuance of 1,537

THE "ABOLISH-THE-BAR" CANDI.

[Exchange.] One of the most satisfactory but surprising features of the present election ampaign is the number and standing of the candidates who have been selected to contest constituencies under the leadership of Mr. Rowell and on his platform plank of the abolition of bar and club icenses. A very short time ago the impression was widespread that it would be difficult to secure candidates to run in what was regarded as a forlorn hope; as the result of a growingly strong tendency of political opinion the early depression tions of candidates have been made with unprecedented unanimity. From present appearances there will hardly be a single constituency in the province without a Ontario. Madame Patti has already made | candidate pledged to support the proposal to discontinue for good the licensing of places for social drinking. But this is not all; it seems that the conventions have been specially careful to choose men who are not merely temperance workers and sympathizers, but thoughtful citizens well qualified by aptitude and often by experience to take part in the political and administrative service of their province.

IF MRS. SMITH STAYED HOME

EFORE you leave for your summer vacation, you order your favorite daily newspaper sent on to your vacation address. And having had it sent on, do you not watch for its daily arrival almost as eagerly as for your person-

But do you read the advertisements in it as carefully at such a time as you do when you're at home? Of course you do!

There is much in them to interest, advise and help.

The shrewd manufacturer, nowadays, realizes that it is wise to continue advertising his wares all the year around. He advertises all through the summer—partly to keep his goods before the numerous people who take no vacation and are thus possible customers every day throughout the year; partly to reach those who are away at summer resorts, but who will be home again in a few weeks ready and eager to buy his goods.

In his advertisements there is for Mrs. Smith, at the summer resort, just as interesting news of merchandise as for Mrs. Jones, who stayed at home.

When Mrs. Smith comes home she will find a lot of new things needed for her home and her family. And she should have her mind already made up as to the kind of things she will select.

Your daily paper, read on the porch of a summer cottage, will aid you in this-through its vitally interesting advertising columns—just as much as if you had stayed home and were reading it there.

So read the ads, Mrs. Smith-even if you are away.

You can obtain helpful advice on advertising free of cost and without obligation by consulting the Business Department of The London Advertiser.

The work of carrying is done almost entirely by women, and the Convent Garden woman porter is one of London's character studies. These women who carry loads of flowers on their heads are hardworking, conscientious workers. As a rule their hours are from five to nine in the morning, not long perhaps, but during that time the women do what might well be considered a good day's work. It is not light work, as a woman porter frequently carries two dozen large pots of plants on her head over a distance of several hundred yards. An old print of Covent Garden in 1827 shows the flower market and the women carriers, so the occupation is by no means new.

Eternal Bead Question.

Dear Miss Grey-I am a daily reader of our column, and enjoy it very much. I notice in your column that a reader asked how to make cornstarch and sale eads. I did not cut it out, and I mislaid the paper.

I am sending you an addressed en velope. Would you kindly send me the formula for the beads, saying how to produce mauve, pink, blue and black and also what length a string of beads your formula would make? Would you kindly inclose a recipe for eanut butter? Hoping to receive an early reply. Kindly do not publish this letter, as these questions have appeared in your column be fore. I remain, yours truly, ELVA HEYROCK. A .- There is such a demand for the cornstarch and salt beads that I am going A retrospect of the year's work was to republish the formula. It seems as it e crybody was making them. I came across If a following visiting presidents were a new formula today-one which calls for illed upon for brief addreses and cooking the paste. Personally, I have not tried either formula, but can just pass them on to you.

Put in a basin on the stove to thoroughly three teaspoons of salt and one teaspoon of cornstarch. In another small vessel put two teaspoons of boiling water, add a pinch of any kind of dye to give it the desired shade. If you wish a blue you might add a drop of blueing or a grain or two of any of the Easter egg dyes. This must be boiling hot, and then poured over the mixed salt and cornstarch. Mix thoroughly and allow to stand all night. This then forms a dough from which to make the beads the size desired. Small pieces should be rubbed Lay them on a board or cardboard and stick a pin through them to make the hole for threading when dry. In a few days they will be dry enough to string. The quantity given above will naturally make only a few beads, and you will have double or triple the ingredients used. The second formula is:

Heat two cups of fine salt very hot, and mix with one cup of cornstarch that has been blended with one-half cup of water. Some add perfume and tinting now—Easter egg dyes, bluing, olipaint, or what not, making it deeper than is wanted when cooked, as the beads will be paler than the dough-then cook the material until it is doughlike in consistency. Some wait until after the cooking to add the perfume and coloring. It would seem the better plan, in the matter of perfuming at any rate, to wait until the dough is taken from the fire, as the heat would expel much of the odor desired. Flower oll is used for perfuming, such as oil of cloves and attar of roses. Some use bottled perfumes successfully. Work the dough after taking it from the fire, knead, roll out and shape into beads, making the rice in slowly so that the water will beads larger than wanted, as they shrink In drying. Thrust them, separated, on a long hatpin, stick the pin Into a block of wood or cushlon, and when the beads are thoroughly dry string in any fashion

USING RICE AS A VEGETABLE

Wash it well by putting it into a colander or a strainer set in a bowl of water, rub the kernels between the fingers, then lift the strainer and drain. Pour fresh water through several times. In whatever way rice is to be eaten it should be so prepared that each grain will be whole and separate from its neighbors. If boiled allow two quarts of boiling water to one cup of rice and a level teaspoon of salt. Scatter the not stop boiling; stir with a fork occasionally two or three times after it begins to cook, then cook uncovered from twenty minutes to half an hour according to the age of the rice. Old rice needs longer time than new, as it is dry and hard. When a grain of rice pressed between the thumb and finger can be crushed or broken up it is done and should be drained in a colander or wire strainer and set in the oven for a few minutes to dry a little. Never stir rice after it begins to be tender as this will reduce it to a pasty mass. I prefer cooking rice in a double boiler, allowing a scant three cups of water to one cup of rice and covering it closly. As a dessert use milk instead of water. After cooking an hour the liquid ought to be absorbed and the grains of rice distinct. The Japanese cook rice in less water than cooks of other nations, but they cover the cooking dish very tight, so that little of the moisture escapes. Serve rice for a dessert with maple syrup, hard or liquid sauce, cocoa sauce or a boiled custard and also in combination with fruits and berries. At a vegetable rice is excellent with chicken or mutton, and with curry or tomato seasoned highly. It is also eaten in any combination where the common white potato is used. Cooked rice forms a part of excellent muffins, griddle cakes and fritters. It enters into soups and broths and it altogether is a valuable food in its dual capacity as a cereal and

ERIE'S INFIELDERS' ERRORS ASSISTED LONDON TO VICTORY

ERIE, Pa., June 14.-Errors by the Erie infielders assisted London greatly in winning today's game by the score of 6 to 2. "Doc." Reisling's men were not hitting Fitzpatrick safely to any great extent, but with the home team making so many boots, it was not necessary. The former London pitcher held the visitors to four hits, two of which were made in the ninth.

Heinie Steiger worked for London, and he pitched good ball throughout. He was touched up for eight hits, but only one run should have been scored, as a muff by Whiteraft on an easy chance paved the way for the other run. Steiger also Scott, 3b.

The Bolts Works team defeated Strathroy in a fast W. F. A. senior game on Carling's Heights Saturday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. The match was one of the most keenly contested and best played games of the season, Charley Green scoring the winning goal just a minute before full time was called. The Bolt Works led at half time, but the visitors evened it up in the second half. Strathroy showed surprising form.

BUBBY HECK SHUTS OL WHILE LONDON GETS FIVE RUNS

Two Hits-He Also Leads the London Team in Hitting With Three Safe Drives Out of Four Times Up.

Bobby Heck was out there pitching against Erie on Saturday afternoon, so that we will occupy your attention for the next half column or so telling you how London scored five runs. We cannot tell you how Erie scored, because Bobby Heck was out there pitching, you know, and if you are well acquainted with the kind of pitching Bobby Heck indulges in, you will understand how hard and extremely difficult it is for the other team to figure in the run column. The Yankees tried for nine innings Saturday, but they couldn't make a single tally. In fact, they only made two safe hits, and when you can only make two hits in nine innings, you are not going to have a pile of runs staring out at you from the scoreboard. As mentioned above, London collected five counters and a little bit of simple arithmetic shows us that the score must have been 5 to 0.

DETROIT, June 14.—After he started the rally in the eighth which gave New York its only run, Caldwell went to pieces today, and Detroit took advantage of his wildness to count three tallies in its half of the same inning, enough to win the game 3 to 1. Score:

A tall, husky young person, responding to the name of Brown, was pitching for Erie, and despite the fact that he came have with four straight wing in his last four starts tucked under his belt, the Reisling gang pummelled him for eleven hits. Heck Fans Eleven.
Bobby Heck had one of his strike-out days. During the afternoon eleven of the visitors fanned the air, Dawson and visitors fanned the air, Dawson and Brown whiffing three times each. In only one inning did the visitors get a man on third. This was in the third when, with two gone, Scott drove out the first hit of the afternoon, a nice triple over Reidy's head. After that the Yanks had difficulty getting even as far as second base.

Besides pitching a grand game, Heck led the London team in hitting. In four times up he had three singles and scored a run. His first hit was a nice bunt, which he beat out. In the sixth he singled to left, and in the eighth laid a nice Texas leaguer over Behan's head.

The game was featured by some nice long-distance clouting, three triples being long-distance clouting, three triples being hammered out during the afternoon. Bier-bauer and Mullin both hit for three bases for London, while Scott got the other. Joe Dunn was the only other Yankee to hit Heck, Dunn getting a single in the fourth.

TORONTO, June 14.—Saturday saw the first game of professional baseball played in Toronto, on the city side for many years and despite the may counter attractions the crowd at the motordrome to see the St. Thomas and Toronto Canadian League teams play their final game of the series, was quite gratifying to the management of the local club. The Saints made it two out of three, winning 2 to 0, and incidentally scoring all their runs in the first immning.

Graham, the local boy, was on the mound for the Beavers, while Wilkinson. the Saint's most dependable twirler opposed him. It was a pitcher's battle after the first inning, when the visitors bunched three hits, one of which was a double.

You swing on joy makin's!"

Get it into your mind pretty quick that Prince Albert is just as bully delicious rolled up into a cigarette as jammed into a jimmy pipe-and that means going some, too.

Just to change your luck, switch for a spell from the dust-brands and fire-brands and know first hand what a real and true makin's cigarette can taste like when you get the brand of tobacco that millions of men pin their faith to-the inter-national joy smoke

It's all out of fashion now-a-days for men to suffer with a stung tongue or a parched throat. Because Prince Albert is scot-free from that sort of thing.

If you didn't know it before, get this news direct from headquarters: Prince Albert tobacco is made by a patented process that cuts out the bite and the parch. It's just all-good with a flavor and a fragrance

Men, that's some talk-some talk, but it's right and it's up to you to prove it.

and freshness unequalled by any

Do you figure for a minute that in five years Prince Albert would have become the largest selling pipe and cigarette tobacco in the United States if it was not all we claimed for it? Just lay a bet right here that P. A. will give you absolutely what you've hunted for years, either in a pipe or a cigarette. And that goes! Right now's the time, too, while the "listen" is in your system.

other brand at any price!

Prince Albert is imported into Canada by wholesale dealers, and is on sale, in oneeighth-pound tidy red tins, by all of the leading retail dealers.

Game Was Hard Fought, But From the Beginning the Winners

Wednesday on the Michigan Short Ship Circuit track, Detroit, where he is entered in the 2:13 pacing event.

This race will bring together a rare lot. Among the 21 entered may be mentioned Cubanola, H. Jack, Sunol, Doctor M., Homer Baughman, Northern Spy, Mary Direct and Joe H. These horses in their training have worked fast, and it is expected they will furnish the real race of the meet.

Railbirds, while as yet they have not picked Eel Direct as the favorite, are touting him as the horse the rest will have to beat to win the race.

BRANTFORD BALL TEAM From the beginning of the game, the From the beginning of the game, the Socials showed their superiority over the Saints, and after some fine work by the Socials' forwards Talbot scored the first goal. Play continued in favor of the Socials, and just before half time Gollop added the second goal for the Socials. Socials 2, Saints 0. In the second half of the game play was a little more regular, and St. Davids scored from a rush by the forwards. After this period the Socials gained another goal from a free kick against St. Davids' backs. Pike scored. Final score: B. S. U. 3, Saints 1. British Social Union players certainly found their form in Saturday's game. Talbot is still the star of London's footballers as centre-forward. Humphries, Real and Manship, as halves, are certainly a fine trio. Pike, at back, play-HELD UP IN OTTAWN

Dugge, of the Pretorla, asking him to wireless his position at the time of the crash. The Pretoria is bound for Hamburg. A wireless message received from Capt. Dugge sheds no light on the cause of the crash, but states that only a few of the Pretoria's plates were bent; that the ship was firm and tight, and that there was no danger.

A Car To Be Proud Of

In every requisite of a perfect car, the RUSSELL-KNIGHT ranks first.

Appearance

It is a car of surpassing beauty. Of individuality and charm.

Note the exquisite lines. The straight, flush sides; unmarred by locks or catches. The graceful sweeping fenders of most approved type.

See how the clear-vision wind-shield is built into the deep arched cowl. How the pantasote top and slip-cover blend with long, low body-lines.

Mark the tire-holder, removed from side to rear. Permits wider doors - easier entrance - clean running-

Examine the expensive hand - hammered aluminum body. No other material takes —and holds — such lustrous finish. On no other surface, are paints and enamels at their best.

Those big, handsome lamps were designed for the RUSSELL-KNIGHT. A single one costs as much as all five on many other cars.

The superb upholstery—the rich appointments—the many advanced features of equipment, emphasize the distinguished appearance of the RUSSELL-KNIGHT.

Durability

The RUSSELL-KNIGHT improves with use.

The materials are the finest that money can buy. Steels, vastly tougher, stronger and more lasting than used in any other industry, are found in the RUSSELL-KNIGHT. The best-paid Canadian workmen are in the RUSSELL shops. Skill and experience are supplemented by most modern machinery. Every operation is checked, and proved by frequent, searching inspections. Each car is given exhaustive tests over every kind of road.

The motor grows smoother and quieter with every mile. It actually gains power with use. It has no springs-no cams-no tappets-no valves. In fact, one-third less parts than other motors. It is never out of adjustment.

The three-speed transmission retains its silence. The full-floating rear axle remains quiet. Every part continues in perfect harmony with every other part.

Comfort

COMFORT, is the final touch to this perfect car. Your first RUSSELL ride is a revelation of what real carcomfort means. You learn for the first time, how comfortable a car can be built.

The smooth motor - the quiet axle — the liberal wheelbase — the big wheels — the generous tires—unite to give the RUSSELL a mechanical 'balance' that makes it fairly "hug the road."

The 12" deep upholstery, over special cushion-springs, strikes a new note in luxurious riding.

The long, broad springs of imported steel insure wavelike ease of motion over roughest roads. Engineers agree that RUSSELL-KNIGHT springs reflect the best spring practice in the world. So soft, so "live," so resilient—they turn country trails into smooth inviting roads. In the swift, silent movement of this splendid car-in the depths of its rich upholstery-in the convenience of its Electric Starter and Electric Lights, Engine-driven Tire-Pump, and Left Side Drive with Centre Control, you find a new standard of Comfort, achieved in no car save the RUSSELL-KNIGHT.

In the most fashionable assemblage---among the world's most costly cars--you are proud to own or drive a RUSSELL-KNIGHT. The proof is in the car. Ride in a RUSSELL-KNIGHT to-day. Prices Fairly Steady in All Lines, With Beets Getting Cheaper.

Market this morning consisted of sixteen loads of hay and several loads of grain and small produce. After Saturday's large market, the square held little interest for buyers this morning. Hay ranged in price from $10 per ton to $13 per ton, according to the quality output was 81,718,680 tons. This exceeded offered. Hay is becoming poorer as the season advances. Oats remain a little lower than at the first of last week. There were only two loads on the square, but they sold for $1.30 and $1.32 per cwt. One load of wheat straw, which is becoming scarce, sold for $8 per ton.

Few vegetables were on the square. They sold at Saturday's prices. Beets were cheaper late Saturday. The sup-ply was large and the price lowered to 90 cents per dozen bunches.

Butter and eggs are steady in price. No changes are expected. Butter continues slightly high in price on account of the increased supplies of cream that cheesemakers are buying. Poultry is slow at present and prices are unchanged, except for live chickens, which sold Saturday at 22 cents per pound. Hides and wool sell steadily at prices

Study the picture carefully and consider how you may apply it to a person's name. The bust on the pedestal is that of a famous musical composer and the two musicians are his admirers. The conversation may give a clue to part of the name and the bust (or statue) may give the clue to another part of the name although the last or surname will suffice.

The name of the player represented in the picture above is one of the following: Purtell, Pick, Oldham, Madden, Hawley, Smith, Cunningham, Keller, Dooin, Couchman, Killifer, Shafer, Merkle, Wiltse, Otto Knabe, Tom Seaton, Archen, Hans Wagner, Whaling, Devlin, Dickson, Hyland, Rube Marquard, Bender, Groot Rondeau, Doyle, Snodgrass or Stock. WHICH? Study it out! Later on we shall give no such clues, but we wish now to show you the way to proceed.

Keep your Answer Form in a safe place and await the picture in Tuesday's issue, which we intimate in advance will be that of a well-known Montreal player.

PARTY FEELING

Londoner, Who Made Special Trip to Washington, Remarks on Absence of Partizanship.

So interested in the Panama Canal tolls exemption repeal bill was J. A. Cody, 380 Dufferin avenue, this city, that last week he made a special trip streets, May 29, caused Magistrate J. C. to the American capital to hear the senate debate the question whether United States coastwise vessels would be exempt from canal tolls. Mr. Cody returned Saturday. To The Advertiser, this morning, he expressed his pleasure at his trip to Washington.

"It was a treat to hear the cream of the American orators discuss the question," he declared. "The debate was marked by an unusual absence of partizanship and the interest taken in it was simply wonderful. Possibly never since the war of the confederacy has there been such an intense interest taken in any measure as in the absence of party feeling. It was an unusual occurrence to see men from ity of the Democrats lined up behind Wilson, but many of them opposed the repeal, while at the same time many of the Republicans voted for it.' Mr. Cody spent sixteen hours in the senate chamber listening to the discussion. During that time the gal-leries were crowded, there being many there from the various states and from Washington itself that were greatly interested in the question.

Port Stanley Lassies Picked Up by Police-Will Go Home.

A confusing array of evidence in the case of John A. Barnard, whose car collided with a motorcycle driven by P. C. Monoghan at Dundas and Richmond Judd to reserve judgment for a week in police court this morning.

Traffic Officer Thomas Noonan, who was on duty at the corner when the accident occurred, swore that Barnard had cut off about twelve feet in turning around him. Noonan had given Barnard the signal to cross. He stated that the driver instead of proceeding on Dundas street and then turning south onto Richmond, cut sharply over a few feet from the traffic officer.
