DR. FLANDERS FOUND DEAD IN BED AT HOME IN WINNIPEG

Former London Minister Victim of Stroke of Apoplexy.

Instrumental in Raising $40,000 Church Debt in the Western City.

Methodists of the city heard this this morning with deep regret the news of the death of Rev. Dr. Charles R. Flanders, who for four years, 1913 to 1917, was pastor of the First Methodist Church here, at his home in Winnipeg. Dr. Flanders was found dead in his bed on Tuesday morning, death having been caused by an attack of apoplexy, and the first news of the sad event reached the city in a message to his daughter, Mrs. F. M. Brickenden, Huron street.

The late Dr. Flanders was born in the Eastern Townships, Quebec, where he was educated in the public schools, later going to Victoria University. He was in his 69th year, 49 of which he served in the Methodist Church, his first charge being in the Kingston district. Later he was appointed lecturer in the Methodist College at Montreal, from which place he went to the Stanstead Wesleyan College at Stanstead, Quebec, as principal, a position which he held for twenty years.

Resigning the position, he took a pastorate at St. John, N. B., which he held for four years, leaving in 1913 to take charge of First Methodist Church, London, going from here in 1917 to accept the pastorate of the Broadway Methodist Church, Winnipeg.

During his pastorate here Dr. Flanders took great interest in educational affairs, and was for two years a member of the public library board. He was a preacher of great force, and endeared himself to his congregation. The same forceful personality made itself felt in his pastorate in Winnipeg, during the period of which a debt of $40,000 on the church was wiped out. At the time of his death he was president of the Ministerial Association of Winnipeg.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, John A. and Sidney of Winnipeg, and four daughters, Mrs. F. M. Brickenden of London, and Misses Marjorie, Beatrice and Elizabeth of Winnipeg.

A public funeral was held in Broadway Methodist Church, Winnipeg, today, after which the remains were sent to Stanstead, Que., where the interment will take place.

The funeral will be held in Stanstead, Que., from the Stanstead Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon.

SENATE COMMITTEE MEETS IN CHICAGO

Investigation of the Housing Situation Is Main Aim.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—With the arrival of United States Senators W. M. Calder and his party from Cleveland, the Senate special committee of reconstruction and production opened its Chicago sessions today. Investigation of the housing situation in the middle west of the United States, the aim of the meeting, was expected to bring forth suggestions helpful of home building from railroad presidents, real estate dealers, architects, club women, engineers, contractors and labor union heads.

Delegations arrived today representing associations of commerce in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan cities, to attend the meetings.

SLASHES PRICE, BUT NO SALE

New York, Nov. 10.—Fashionable uptown clothiers who are moving sluggish stocks by means of elaborately advertised reduction sales, have nothing in the way of business worries on their humbler brothers of the "old clothes" curbstone market in Bayard street, off the Bowery. Itinerant members of the "curb" declared today.

Despite a lively cut-rate war, these picturesque dealers in second and third hand clothes asserted, business had almost come to a standstill. One street corner merchant cut the price of a $45 overcoat to $15.85 in the course of half an hour's argument, but could not make a sale.

FORMER LONDON MINISTER DIES IN WINNIPEG

REV. DR. C. R. FLANDERS.

HARDING NEARLY CAUGHT BIG ONE

Point Isabel, Texas, Nov. 10.—President-Elect Harding deserted golf for tarpon fishing again today, cancelling a tentative appointment at the Brownsville Country Club in order to remain on the water all day. Yesterday he nearly caught a big one.

STRONG OPPOSITION TO MEASURED PLAN OF BELL TELEPHONE

Manufacturers' Association Will Fight Proposed System to the Limit.

HEARING IN MONTREAL

Great Array of Legal Talent to Support Company's Claims.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Emphatic objection to the installation of the measured service system proposed by the Bell Telephone Company was made in a brief filed on behalf of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association with the board of railway commissioners when it met here this morning, under the chairmanship of Hon. F B. Carvell. Briefs along similar lines were presented by the board of trade, the chamber of commerce, the Montreal Publicity Association and other interested local bodies. The Union of Canadian Municipalities has instructed Charles Laurendeau, K.C., to watch the proceedings on its behalf. The company was represented by a battery of legal and technical experts.

PENROSE PREPARING TO RETURN TO U. S. SENATE

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—Published reports are that United States Senator Boies Penrose, who has been ill for a year, has had a relapse. Besides his other ailments, the senator is suffering from neuritis, which at times gives him much pain. The fact that he is not seeing visitors at this time is believed to have given rise to reports that his condition is worse.

Senator Penrose is making preparations to return to the Senate after an absence since last November. He has leased a large apartment in Washington.

PRINCE CANCELS OFFICIAL ENGAGEMENTS FOR YEAR

London, Nov. 10.—(Canadian Associated Press).—It is officially announced that, owing to the severe strain of his tours through Canada and Australia the Prince of Wales will undertake no official engagements till next year.

COAL MERCHANTS MUST GET WORD OF CUSTOMERS

Ontario Fuel Controller Issues a New Order.

DECLARATION NECESSARY

Mayor of Each Municipality Will Be Notified.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The Ontario fuel controller is issuing special instructions to all dealers that in filling further orders they must first secure from the consumer a declaration that he has not on hand sufficient coal to last him through the winter. The order will go to all dealers and the mayor of each municipality.

Information is also being gathered by the fuel controller so that wherever emergencies arise immediate steps may be taken to relieve the situation.

Galicians May Join British Empire Soon

Thousands Returning From Canada To Vote On Question.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—Twenty thousand Galicians will return home this winter from Western Canada, steamship accommodation across the Atlantic now being arranged by Winnipeg agents of transcontinental lines. Many of them will never return to Canada. This announcement was made by Calder & Son, steamship agents.

Galician leaders here claim that the people of Galicia are dissatisfied with Polish rule, and intend to vote shortly as to whether they will join the British Empire. Men going home intend to get there in time to take part in the voting.

COL. GAULT'S FIANCEE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Motor Overturns, Causing the Death of Mrs. Blackader.

London, Nov. 10.—(Canadian Press).—Mrs. Kathleen Blackader, who was shortly to marry Col. Hamilton Gault, formerly commander of the Princess Patricia's Battalion, was killed while motoring yesterday with Col. Gault to the West Somerset foxhounds meeting. The automobile skidded and overturned. Col. Gault was not injured.

GAULT REPORTED KILLED.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—A special cable to the Toronto Globe this morning said that Col. Gault had been killed and Mrs. Blackader and her daughter injured.

The colonel was recently divorced from his first wife, who was Miss Marguerite Claire Stephens of Montreal. Col. Gault was severely wounded in the early part of the war.

DEAD WOMAN WAS WIDOW OF OFFICER OF CANADIAN UNIT

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Blackader was the widow of Capt. Gordon Blackader, late of the 42nd Battalion, Royal Highlanders of Canada. He was killed in action in June, 1916. Col. Hamilton Gault was divorced from his wife, who was Miss Marguerite Claire Stephens of Montreal, in Paris, last year.

A cablegram has been received by Dr. A. D. Blackader of 236 Mountain street, stating that his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Kathleen Blackader, widow of his son, the late Capt. Gordon Blackader of the 42nd Battalion, Royal Highlanders of Canada, had been killed in an automobile accident, near Taunton, Somersetshire, England. The message was sent by Mrs. L. Benson, daughter of the late A. F. Gault, with whom Mrs. Blackader was living. The late Mrs. Blackader was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Newberry, and a granddaughter of a famous physician who served with the Hudson Bay Company in British Columbia half a century ago. She and the late Capt. Blackader met in Florence, where he was pursuing his studies as an architect in 1911. They were married in London in 1912 and returned to Montreal, where Capt. Blackader engaged in his practice of his profession with considerable success. Seven years ago their only child was born here.

Before the outbreak of the war, Capt. Blackader was attached to the Fifth Royal Highlanders, and on the formation of the 42nd Battalion he joined as captain and went overseas, serving with his unit until June, 1916, when he was killed in action.

The divorce of Col. Gault from his first wife was obtained in Paris last year.

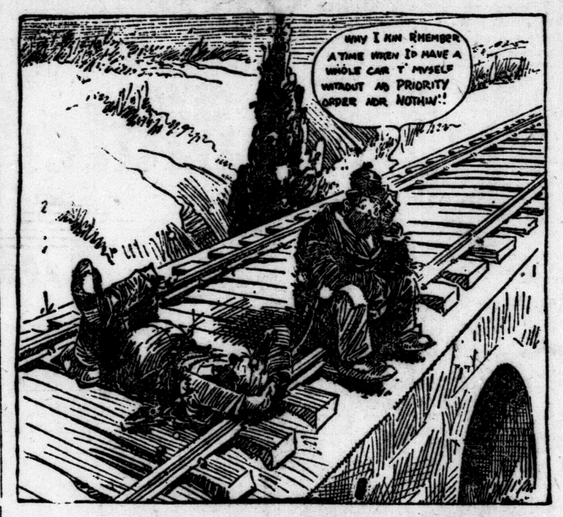

PARISH HOME IS DYNAMITED, BUT NO ONE INJURED

Struthers, Ohio, Nov. 10.—The parish home of Holy Trinity Cecho-Slovak Catholic Church was dynamited early today, the porch being blown off. No one was injured. The house is occupied by Rev. John Frena, recently installed priest, against whose appointment a protest was made by the members of the church, who for a time maintained an armed guard to prevent his taking possession.

48 LOSE LIVES WHEN TYPHOON HITS SHIP

Manila, Nov. 10.—Forty-eight persons are believed to have perished when the coastwise steamer San Basilica was struck by a typhoon last Wednesday en route to Puerto Bello, Leyte Island, South Philippines, according to a survivor reaching here. Fifteen survivors reached Cebu. There were 64 people aboard the vessel.

OVER FIFTY PER CENT OF CITY COUNCIL WILL BE IN BATTLE FOR ALDERMANIC HONORS, 1921

IN THE RUNNING.
Ald. B. F. Brighton.
Ald. G. B. Drake.
Ald. W. A. Wilson.
Ald. C. G. Moorhead.
Ald. John Ashton.

RETIRING.
Ald. H. Wheatcroft.
Ald. E. R. Seabrook.
Ald. O. I. Cunningham.

UNDECIDED.
Ald. John Bridge.
Ald. F. R. Watkinson.
Ald. F. E. Harley.
Ald. J. Cameron Wilson.

More than fifty per cent of the present city council will be in the aldermanic field once more at the next election. Five aldermen have decided definitely to aspire to another term while only three have expressed their intention of retiring. Of the four who have not made a decision yet, it is likely that at least two of them will be in the race once more and the probabilities are that they will all have their names on the ballots.

Ald. Wheatcroft has left the city, so it is certain he will be eliminated from the contest. Ald. O. I. Cunningham is completing his third year on the council and stated today that he had no intention of seeking further honors. He has been chairman of No. 1 committee during the present year. This is regarded as the senior aldermanic position the next step upward being the mayor's chair. Ald. Cunningham has no aspirations in that direction and business demands his attention to an extent that will make it impossible to take up aldermanic duties again. Ald. Seabrook is in somewhat a similar position. Personal affairs make it difficult for him to devote as much time to civic business as in the past.

It is rumored that he will not retire from municipal life entirely, but will seek new fields of conquest, possibly the board of education.

The duties there, comprising but one monthly meeting and a number of committee meetings in the afternoons, would not make as much demand on his time as the numerous evening sessions of the council and its committees. The board is not operated on the ward plan, but it is pointed out that South London has only Trustee Thomas Rowe to represent it in educational matters. The voters of that section might welcome further representation, particularly a man who has served on the city council.

Ald. Seabrook admitted that there was some truth in the rumors. He would not say whether he was an exponent of the "central" or "three school" collegiate plans, which promises to be the chief election issue so far as the board of education is concerned.

Doubtful Ones.

Among the doubtful ones, Ald. Harley leans most strongly to the "In the Running List." He announced Tuesday that he will ask for a submission of a bylaw authorizing a debenture issue of $100,000 for a motor bus system. If the council approves this it is almost certain that he would take the field in order to back up the plan, and to carry out the necessary details in the next year's council, if it was approved by the people.

Ald. Bridge is pretty certain to be in the field. This was his first year on the council, but he took a much more active part in its proceedings than customary with "first year men." There is quite a possibility that he will head the finance committee next year if elected. Ald. J. Cameron Wilson has not decided on his plans this year. He is another "first year alderman," who was prominent in council proceedings. He headed several special committees, and there seems to be no good reason why he should not seek office again. There are even rumors that he will be a mayoralty candidate. Ald. Watkinson may seek a third term. He is interested in several propositions which are to come before next year's council, and will likely want to be there to discuss them.

Of the aldermen definitely in the field, Ald. B. F. Brighton gives good promise of making a good showing in Ward 1. Both the other representatives from that district have decided to retire. Ald. Brighton will therefore, have the advantage over opponents who will all be inexperienced men. He is an advocate of the central high school plan, believing that it is ridiculous to consider three schools. He is also greatly interested in the power situation, and is carrying out investigations along this line. Ald. Drake has made a good run in Ward 2 for several years, and his chances are considered excellent this time. Ald. W. A. Ward, in Ward 2, has prospects of good support. Ald. Moorhead polled a record vote in Ward 4 last year, and should have no difficulty in repeating the feat. Ald. Ashton should make a good run in Ward 2.

TWO WOMEN TRUSTEES WILL NOT SEEK FURTHUR HONORS

Mrs. David Williams and Mrs. Ronald Harris Definitely Decide to Retire From Board of Education—Mrs. A. T. Edwards Undecided.

Of the three women trustees on the board of education who this year complete their term of office, that at least two have decided not to seek re-election was learned today by The Advertiser in interviews. The three retiring women trustees are Mrs. David Williams, Mrs. Ronald Harris and Mrs. A. T. Edwards, of these the first two state definitely that they will not run again.

Mrs. Williams, speaking to The Advertiser, said that she had enjoyed the work immensely, but that she considered the storm of criticism directed at the board of education so very often lacking in reasonableness.

"Other duties," said Mrs. Ronald Harris, "take so much of my time that I have quite decided not to stand again for election as trustee. I am sorry to leave the work; it has been very pleasant, but I have quite made up my mind not to enter the lists again."

"I have not yet decided," was Mrs. A. T. Edwards' reply. "I shall probably decide during the coming week. There are big problems to be considered, and I feel that I want to make a study of these matters somewhat before I make a definite decision."

Of the three male members of the board who automatically retire this year, H. Hayman, chairman of the board, told The Advertiser that he has not yet decided what action he will take in regard to standing for re-election. Replying to a question as to his stand on the central or three-school collegiate scheme, Mr. Hayman said he decidedly favored the three-school plan as the best and only practical solution for the present situation.

In the absence of Trustee A. N. Udy from the city on a brief holiday, it was impossible to learn his stand in regard to entering the field for re-election.

All efforts to secure a definite statement from Trustee A. A. Langford, were met by a diplomatic reserve. Even the suggestion that rumors were current that he had expressed an intention to retire from the board were evaded. Mr. Langford smiled and suggested that rumors are dangerous things to place any reliance upon. Answering a straight cut question as to whether he would retire or not, the trustee said: "There's lots of time to decide that yet, and I am not prepared to make a definite statement either way."

WRANGEL'S RETREAT WAS NOTED SUCCESS

Anti-Bolshevik Leader and Troops Safe in Crimea.

Paris, Nov. 10.—Reports from disinterested military observers at Sebastopol state that the recent retreat of Gen. Wrangel's army into Crimea was accomplished with notable success. It was said at the French foreign office today. The morale of the troops, the reports declared, remained extremely high, and Gen. Wrangel was represented as confident that with proper material he could reorganize the forces and maintain his positions without great difficulty.

It was said the overwhelming number of soviet troops appearing on the South Russian front which precipitated Wrangel's retreat, the general asserted.

Increased Home Production To Solve Problem

German Minister Urges This Method Upon Fellow-Countrymen.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—Hope for the betterment of Germany's food situation through increased home production and improvement in the method of handling importations, was expressed by Andreas Hermes, the minister of food, in a statement to the main committee of the Reichstag today. The grain deliveries from inland sources were lagging behind, the food minister said, and he proposed to accelerate them by demanding the close co-operation of the federated states and the producers. The threat of rigorous penalties for illicit trafficking in wheat and flour also was held out by the minister.

ITALY'S DEMANDS ARE PRESENTED TO JUGO-SLAVS

Conditions Submitted Call for Fiume's Independence.

MINIMUM CLAIMS

Terms Are Regarded Excessive by the Jugo-Slav Delegates.

Rapallo, Italy, Nov. 10.—In what may be considered an ultimatum sent to the Jugo-Slav delegations here regarding the pending negotiations between Italy and Jugo-Slavia over the Adriatic question, Count Sforza, the Italian foreign minister, as head of the Italian delegation, laid down Italy's definite minimum claims. These, the document stated, were:

The Istrian frontier, including the Julian Alps, Nevaso, and the railway from Fiume to St. Peter Junction.

Second, territorial contiguity between Fiume and Italy.

Third, Fiume to be a state entirely independent, without any control by the League of Nations.

Fourth, annexation of the islands of Lussi-Piccolo and Cherso to Italy.

Fifth, the annexation of Sara to Italy.

Sixth, the annexation of several of the Jugo-Slav islands to Italy for strategic reasons.

Seventh, guarantees for the protection of the Italian minorities in Dalmatia remaining under Serbian rule.

Eighth, demilitarization of some of the Dalmatian positions which will be allotted to Serbia.

It is stated the Italian minimum terms were presented on the request of the Jugo-Slav delegation. The Jugo-Slavs were said to consider the Italian terms excessive, but they reserved their reply until the claims had been further examined.

Says Irish Will Fight On Until Freedom Granted

Quebec, Nov. 10.—Lindsay Crawford of Toronto and Rev. Herbert Dunnico of London, England, addressed a meeting of the Quebec branch of the Self-Determination for Ireland League in St. Patrick's school last night.

Mr. Dunnico asserted that the Irish were fighting a righteous cause, and had maintained their gallant struggle for seven centuries. Even though the fight for freedom were to continue for another seven centuries, the Irish would ultimately triumph. He affirmed that the English people were with the Irish, but not the British Government.

Mr. Crawford dealt mainly with imperialism.

WINNIPEG WAREHOUSE BURNS, LOSS $400,000

Wholesale District of the City Was Endangered For a Time.

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—(By the Canadian Press).—Fire, which for a time threatened destruction of a large section of Winnipeg's wholesale district, early this morning destroyed the Adams Bros.' leather goods warehouse, Market street, with an approximate loss of $400,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

The origin of the first is a mystery. Police and fire officials are investigating incendiarism.

When the firemen arrived the warehouse was a mass of flames, and an explosion had occurred due to the gases which had accumulated with the smoke and flames. Windows were blown from the building.

The building and stock is a total loss. Leather goods in the structure were valued at $275,000, and the warehouse at $75,000.

DYING MAN REFUSES TO DISCLOSE NAME OF HIS ASSAILANT

Gloversville, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Vinzeno Rosso, an Italian glove worker, died in the Nathan Littaur Hospital at 12:30 o'clock this morning after steadfastly refusing to tell the district attorney or coroner who shot him. He was found in the street outside a North School street shop about 7 o'clock last night with a pistol wound about two inches above the heart.

COUNTESS CURZON'S BROTHER DEAD.

Derby, England, Nov. 10.—Trillia Monroe Hinds, brother of Countess Curzon, wife of Earl Curzon of Kedleston, the foreign minister, died at Kedleston Hall here today after a long illness. He was a son of the late J. Monroe Hinds, former United States minister to Brazil.

ELECTED PRESIDENT TODAY OF LONDON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

ALD. JOHN BRIDGE, who was today elected president of the Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds George M. Reid, who has been the efficient head of that organization for the past two years.

Can Caradoc Beat This?

Evidence of just what old Mother Nature will do when she really takes her family to her bosom was brought to The Advertiser today in the shape of two large Early Rose potatoes, weighing 4 pounds and 6 ounces, grown from a potato peeling planted by Miss Doris Bedggood, daughter of T. E. Bedggood, lot 3, concession 4, West Nissouri, on the 1st of July last.

EIGHTEEN PERSONS ON TRIAL AS RESULT OF ATTEMPTED LYNCHING

Case Comes Before Welland Magistrate After Five Crown Enlargements.

Welland, Nov. 10.—After five crown enlargements, eighteen persons, all residents of Thorold and district, appeared before Magistrate Frazer of Niagara Falls, at Welland this afternoon, charged with being members of an unlawful assemblage on August 16, when David McNeal was almost lynched by a mob, who declared that he was the murderer of 4-year-old Margaret Bourcock, but who was afterwards acquitted by a competent jury on October 22.

The case recalls the awful night of terror, when for seven hours mob law held away, reaching a climax when the town hall was fired.

Magistrate Frazer, who has charge of the case, will not try the accused, but will hold a preliminary hearing and commit them. Mr. Jeffries of Guelph is acting crown counsel, while Col. H. A. Rose of Welland; Al Brooks, Welland, and F. W. Griffiths of Niagara Falls, are acting for the defence. The accused are Bert Bauman, Merritton; Murray Brady, Thorold Township; Thomas McPhee, Thorold Township; Hazel White, St. Catharines; Edward Hodgkins, St. Catharines; Fred Cowell, Barney Cowell, Guy Dale, Ed. Hackett, David Jackson, William Jackson, Geo. Lawrence A. L. Whittaker, Owen Wright, Cecil Young, Walter Johnstone, George Atkins, all of Thorold. George Atkins is an ex-deputy reeve of the town of Thorold.

CLAIMS THAT HE WAS SWINDLED OF $4,000

New Brunswick Man Relates Story to Montreal Judge.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Joseph Andreis, of Minto Mines, N. B. related to Judge Cusson yesterday how he had been swindled out of $4000 by two alleged "con" men on October 26 in this city.

He charged Emil Roy and Victor Patudamonti with reting into conversation with him in a hotel here. Roy threw a fifty dollar bill on the table from where they were drinking and Andreis advised him to be careful as there were thieves around. Roy then, he stated, insisted on giving him the the fifty dollars for his warning. He refused it whereupon, he claims the two men held him and went through his pockets a parcel containing two cigarettes rolled up in a couple of newspapers.

Roy told the court he would swear "on the coffin of his father" that witness was not telling the truth. Andreis rejoined that he would swear "on the head of his wife and two children" that Roy was a malefactor brigand and thief.

Judge Cusson committed the two accused for trial, refusing bail.

DEMAND HIGHER WAGES.

Giljon, Spain, Nov. 10.—A collective demand for increased wages to meet the high cost of living has been presented to the government by the Association of Spanish State Employees.

LIBERAL LEADER LOOKS FORWARD TO SUBSTANTIAL AID FROM WEST

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Visiting Brother in Denver.

STARTS EAST SOON

Is Much Refreshed Notwithstanding Strain of Tour.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and party arrived today from Yorkton, Sask. Dr. Beland and others proceeded east at noon. Mr. King left tonight to spend a couple of days with his brother, Dr. McDougall King, at Denver, Colorado, who is not in good health. Mr. King returned from his western tour looking in even better health than when he started out. He said that he felt refreshed after his trip. After visiting his brother, he is going to Ottawa. He is well satisfied with his trip in the west, and believes the principles of Liberalism will be well supported in Western Canada. It is more his ideal, he says, to promote the principles of Liberalism than to build up a big Liberal majority in the House.

GRAECO-ROMAN BATHS TO BE AVAILABLE FOR AMERICAN SENATORS

Members Will Be Forced to Pay For Operating Expenses.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The Graeco-Roman baths of the United States Senate, installed nearly eight years ago, but never put into service, are now being cleared of the cobwebs and stains of time, and will be in shape to offer their luxuries of steam, plunge, shower and electricity to the members of the new Senate when it assembles. Charges of extravagance were aimed at the baths in congressional debate when the power of administration last swung from Republican to Democratic, and, as a result, the baths, installed in the then new Senate office building, were shorn of their expensive equipment, bereft of their attendants, and left to gloom. The marble slabs, Turkish rugs and steam-proof tables and chairs were turned over to government hospitals, and only the marble shells and nickel fittings left in place.

Now, however, the baths are coming back, but under a new plan. Members of the Senate themselves will pay a large part of the operating expenses, and a special unofficial committee has taken charge of the assessments, which will be levied against each user in proportion to the service he exacts. The baths will be somewhat less gorgeous than the original plan anticipated, but in their luxury and completeness will still have claim to comparison with private club installation.

Senators will be able to steam themselves out in a series of marble hot-rooms, resuscitate themselves on the drying-room cots, invigorate under one of the several types of needle and drench showers, and float in the swimming-size plunge.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT WILL INTERVENE IN DOCK WORKERS' STRIKE

Mexico City, Nov. 10.—Government intervention in the situation at Vera Cruz, where dock workers and stevedores are on strike, will begin today, it is announced. All operations at piers in that city will be conducted by the government, and it is believed the situation, which has threatened a general national strike, may be alleviated.

This action, however, is not looked upon as a final settlement of the Vera Cruz controversy, which has caused workmen's organizations in many cities to discuss a general sympathetic strike.

STARVATION FACING THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN IN CENTRAL EUROPE

Urgent Appeal Made for Assistance to Chamber of Commerce Directors—London's Quota Is $6,000.

So great is the need of relief for the starving children of Central Europe that help is only being given by relief agencies to those who are actually facing starvation, Mrs. Ronald Harris stated in a brief but graphically impressive appeal on behalf of the British Red Cross war relief fund, at the directors' luncheon of the London Chamber of Commerce today.

The directors present intimated that they would be glad to take whatever steps might be deemed most advisable to help what was obviously a crying need and a worthy cause. George H. Betton who presided, suggested that possibly a letter might be sent out by the Chamber of Commerce presenting the claims of the British Red Cross to all members of the organization and to others. W. R. Vendall asked whether it would be possible to divert part of the funds of the Canadian Red Cross to the aid of the children of Europe, but Mrs. Harris pointed out that this would scarcely be legal and besides the money is being used to continue work among the Canadian soldiers.

Secretary Gordon Philip in answer to questions of members of the directorate, stated that he had been informed that the work of the British Red Cross did not overlap with the work of the Brotherhood movement for the education and relief of Serbian children.

Other members of the deputation which waited upon the Chamber of Commerce directors were Mrs. John Slater and Mrs. E. C. Bowker.

In asking for the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Harris said that Herbert Hoover was authority for the urgent need of money for the fund, and that all the money so far raised was being used to the greatest possible advantage and in the most careful manner. The fund was being carefully administered, and was being used to supply one supplementary meal a day to the children who were actually starving. Nothing was being done for those who were merely undernourished.

Miss Winter, a British Red Cross representative, who has recently concluded a tour of Central Europe, spoke in London last Thursday, and dramatically impressed her hearers with the urgency of the situation.

Mrs. Bowker declared that if the starving children of Central Europe were not assisted those who survived starvation, would grow up with wrong ideas as underfed children necessarily do. They would become a menace to the whole world if they developed into Bolsheviki.

Mrs. Harris, when asked how much London's objective for the British Red Cross relief fund was, replied that it was hoped to secure an average per capita contribution of ten cents, or $5,000 or $6,000 in all.

U. S. FARMERS PLAN COMBINE TO FIX PRICES OF THEIR PRODUCTS

Nation-Wide Selling Organizations Will Be Established Unless Government Discontinues Practice of Importing Raw Materials Free of Duty.

Boston, Nov. 10.—The establishment of nation-wide selling organizations which shall fix the price of farm products, if the farmer does not receive the same pay for the same hours of work that others receive, was predicted today by Sherman L. Lowell of Fredonia, N. Y., master of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry, in opening the annual convention of the Grange.

"We are willing to have a fair understanding of values," he said, "the farmers receiving the same pay for the same hours' work that others receive, no more, no less, but we feel that this is the last call. If no attention is paid to this now by bankers, manufacturers, railroads and labor organizations, and if the Government continues to use its great power to import raw material free of duty to reduce costs, then the Grange will be the first to help organize nation-wide selling organizations which shall fix the price of farm products.

Says It Is Not Threat.

"There is no threat in this; we will have been driven to it in self-defence to preserve our agriculture."

"This condition is repugnant to us. We desire no class regulations or class divisions; we desire to labor for humanity and to be able to keep the earth fertile, always bringing forth its harvest sufficiently to feed the increasing millions of our people. It is no small task, however, and it can only be safely done by a proper appreciation of this task by our urban population."

Mr. Lowell said the recent census showed a net decrease of 100,000 farms in seven states—New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and West Virginia—and he charged that the attitude of the men in legislative halls and departments of government was responsible to a large degree for this condition. "So long as we remain passive this state of affairs will continue."

POULTRY ASS'N HAS FINE SHOW AT PARK

Record Number of Entries—Quality of Birds Excellent —Rabbits Exhibited.

The annual three-day poultry show at Queen's Park held under the auspices of the London Poultry and Pet Stock Association opened on Tuesday with a record number of entries. The show is the biggest in the history of the association, and the quality of the birds exhibited surpasses that of previous years.

Many outside poultry fanciers have their birds on show. There were more than 1,200 entries made. Tomorrow promises to be the biggest of the three days, as the judging will then be completed.

In connection with the poultry show the Canadian Rabbit Breeders' Association of London has made it the occasion for their first annual exhibition. The south part of the building was reserved for that purpose. The judging of the rabbits took place yesterday. The services of Charles S. Gibson of Detroit were obtained. Mr. Gibson is reputed as America's foremost judge. The exhibition has already been such a success that the association has decided to make it an annual event. Great interest has been taken of late in the rabbit industry, and a large number of citizens already have a rabbit hutch in their yard. As a commercial industry rabbits have grown popular. Prior to the war they were usually kept as pets, but the continual cry to conserve and produce prompted citizens to discover the commercial value of the pet. It has now been discovered that big prices can be obtained for them, and the meat as well as the skin has been found to be in great demand. It is now apparent that keeping rabbits for commercial purposes is an established industry.

GRAND ARMY SOCIAL.

Between 150 and 200 attended the first card party and social evening of the local post of the Grand Army of United Veterans in their new club rooms over the Grand Opera House last evening. Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M.L.A., was present.

RECOVERY EXPECTED.

M. C. Folmar of the city, who was seriously injured in an auto accident near Government Park, on the Harwich-Howard town line, is reported to be doing nicely. He is at present at a farmer's house near the scene of the accident, and has good chances of recovery.

MAX LERNER WILL NOT CONTEST CHAIR

Thinks Mayor Little Should Be Returned by Acclamation.

Ex-Alderman Max Lerner will not be a candidate for the mayoralty. This announcement was made Tuesday evening by Mr. Lerner, who added that it was very probable that he would, however be in the running for aldermanic honors.

While deeply appreciating the good intentions of members of several businessmen's organizations which had urged him to be a candidate for the mayoralty, Mr. Lerner declared that he could not accept the nomination. In his opinion Mayor E. S. Little had done such good work that he should not be opposed, but should be returned for a second term by acclamation. This was the reason why Mr. Lerner had decided not to aim higher than an aldermanic position this coming election. He would not oppose Mayor Little and did not think any other candidate should enter the field to oppose the mayor's re-election.

WANT RESTAURANT BYLAW MADE LAW

Health Board Would Forbid Employment of Persons Not Holding Certificates.

Discussion of various clauses in the proposed restaurant bylaw constituted the chief business of the board of health meeting Tuesday afternoon. The bylaw as drafted will be submitted to the city council and that body asked to make it law. One of the clauses prohibits any persons having a communicable disease in his or her home working in a restaurant, and all restaurant employers will have to have certificates of medical examination at least twice a year, declaring them to be free from communicable disease Restaurant owners will be forbidden to employ persons not presenting certificates.

The appointment of Miss Mary McVicar as nurse for the venereal disease clinics to be held at the Institute of Public Health, was recommended to No. 1 committee of the city council. Miss McVicar has for some time been a nurse in the Ontario Hospital.

Ex-Alderman Max Lerner appeared before the board to protest against the barring of children under sixteen years of age from attending the photoplay "Open Your Eyes," now showing at the Majestic Theatre. Mr. Lerner took his boy to the theatre, but the boy was refused admission. Mr. Lerner advocated some means of presenting the knowledge and warning which the picture is intended to convey to children. Parents are usually backward about imparting such knowledge to their children, he pointed out.

COMPETITIONS IN STEER FEEDING FOR BOYS OF MIDDLESEX

Have Been Arranged by Roscoe Finn, B.S.A.—Prize Is Two Weeks' Course at O. A. C.

Steer-feeding competitions open to all young men under 30 years of age in Middlesex County are being arranged by Roscoe A. Finn, B. S. A., agricultural representative at London. The feeding shall commence during the month of November, and must continue for five months from the date of commencement. The steers are to be weighed by the agricultural representatives before the competition commences and the competitors must keep records of the kinds and amount of feed fed, and the cost of the grain.

The prize will be a two weeks' course at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, with railway fare, board, and lodging paid. Winners may take any one of the following courses: Stock and seed judging, poultry raising, horticulture, farm dairying, beekeeping, or farm power, in January or February, 1922.

Fuller information is being mailed out to those interested by Mr. Finn from his office in the London House Block.

ORGANIZE RIFLE CLUB FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS

Officers To Be Elected Friday Evening—Medals For Best Shots.

L. M. Houlding, junior boys' department secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is organizing a rifle club in the local "Y" for boys aged from twelve to seventeen years. A meeting will be held next Friday evening to elect the officers and to discuss other plans that are necessary to form an organization. Prizes for the best shooters will be given by local enthusiasts, while the Dominion Cartidge Company will issue a gold, silver and bronze medal for the best shots.

Mr. Houlding stated that he expected to experience some difficulty in getting the boys to join the club, owing to the fact that many mothers will think their boys in danger. Mr. Houlding assured The Advertiser that the boys would be under the guidance of trained supervisors. He stated that with a short training in shooting their nerves and eyesight would become a more valuable asset to them. It is thought that Captain Chester Butler of the W. O. R. will be one of the supervisors of the boys.

BANQUET TO LADIES PROVES BIG SUCCESS

First Methodist Repays Debt Owing Since Time of Its Organization.

Chinese lanterns, little colored lights, streamers and floral decorations formed a pretty setting in the basement of the First Methodist Church for the banquet tables arranged in a letter "E" on Tuesday evening, when the Brotherhood of that church banqueted the ladies, wives of the men of the Brotherhood and others to whom invitations were sent by the Brotherhood through the Ladies' Aid Society. The First Methodist Church Brotherhood has the distinction of being the first to entertain the ladies. A. E. Barbour, the president of the Brotherhood, explained to the merry gathering that the Brotherhood was only paying a debt to the ladies who prepared a similar banquet for them when the Brotherhood became organized.

Throughout the banquet, the First Methodist Church Orchestra played, and folk-songs were sung heartily by everyone. A source of much pleasure was the Glee Boys of the Brotherhood, who made themselves professional minstrels for the evening, and spared no efforts to make it an evening of jollification for everyone. Impromptu speeches were given by the officers. Mrs. T. M. Sumner, president of the Ladies' Aid Society, spoke on behalf of the ladies, thanking the Brotherhood for providing such an enjoyable evening.

A surprise was offorded every lady, when she received a little ticket on her entrance to the banquet hall. On leaving the ticket was changed for a neat little package with a corresponding number, and inside was a little memento of the happy evening. Carmen Learn and Messrs. Dowling and Walker were the soloists. A. D. Jordan presided at the piano. It was with hearty cheers on leaving that the ladies made known to the Brotherhood their appreciation.

GIVE CONCERT IN AID OF CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Artists at Dundas Centre Methodist Pupils of J. Parnell Morris.

To raise funds for the Children's Memorial Hospital, Class 27 of the Dundas Centre Methodist Sunday School gave a concert on Tuesday evening. The artists were all pupils of J. Parnell Morris, and did their work excellently. Their technique and expression was very good. The artists contributing to the program were: Annie Ward, Pearl Goodwin, Anna Cockrill, Isobel Corsaut, Erie Young, Arla Phinn, James Quigley, Leslie Coyle, Margaret McGregor and Richard Cockrill. Miss Erie Young gave several recitations. J. Parnell Morris presided at the piano.

Owing to the inclement weather, the concert was not largely attended, but a substantial amount was raised for the hospital fund. Another concert will be given next Tuesday in the church, when other pupils of Mr. Morris will give a recital.

DISTRICT BUYERS ARE LOSERS ON DEALINGS

One Out $5,000 On Livestock —No Drop of Retail Prices.

The sudden decline in prices on the live stock market at Toronto has had a decided effect on the shipments from this vicinity. Many buyers lost large sums of money on account of not being able to realize on their shipments. One buyer had just shipped a large consignment of live stock to the Toronto market when the slump occurred and it has been stated that he lost $5,000 on the deal. Other dealers also lost big sums. The drop, however, has not affected the retail prices of meat to any extent. Meat has been declining in price for many months and on account of the big slump in hide, tallow and wool quotations, the butchers claim, have not profited enough to justify a sudden drop in the retail price. Hides which eight months ago sold for 80 cents a pound, are now selling at from eight to ten cents a pound.

At The Theaters

AT THE PATRICIA.

Dainty, interpretive and classical dancing by a group of fairy-like maidens, songs and selections ranging from operatic melodies to songs from the Follies by a quartet of golden-voiced singers, instrumental numbers numerous and various, and monologues and readings by one of Canada's foremost entertainers, were combined and interwoven into a colorful, dazzling and enchanting festival, when the second of a series of all-star concerts was held at the Patricia Theatre on Tuesday night. From the opening number, when the immortal "Poet and Peasant" rang from the marimbaphone, played by the Thiele Company, a man and two women, until "God Save the King" was sung by the company of artists ensemble, there was not a dull moment. If the number of encores and the voluminous applause which greeted every performance can be taken as a criterion, there is no doubt but that every member of the audience was delighted.

The program was well balanced, and its arrangement was the work of a master-hand. Starting with the more unpretentious numbers, the selections gradually became more striking, and more brilliant, while the settings grew in gorgeousness until the climax came in a blaze of color. Rarely has anything more beautiful been presented on a local stage than the "Chinese Fantasy" presented by the trio of clas ical dancers in Chinese costumes and settings, while a soft Chinese lullaby from the lips of Mayme Bell as an accompaniment gave it an added charm. Then there was the second part of the program staged in the midst of a picturesque gypsy camp, in which selections from "The Bohemian Girl" and other gypsy classical songs were sung delightfully. The Gypsy dances, too, found a suitable setting in this scene, while some splendid dramatic work was done in a reading by Pearl O'Neill, the entertainer. The costumes used throughout this scene were in keeping with the settings and were new and fresh.

Dancers Excel.

It would be impossible to praise the work of the three aesthetic dancers, Muriel Lea, Helen Codd and Olga Fricker, too greatly. Their interpretations were realistic and their dancing the essence of grace and beauty. They probably were best in the "Chinese Fantasy," but they were also excellent in the gypsy and Spanish dances and "Yes, Olde Tyme Gavotte."

Individually, they were the creators of some splendid solo work. Muriel Lea in "The Vintage," was especially good, while Helen Codd was responsible for some excellent toe-dancing in "The Souvenir," and Olga Fricker excelled in the "Russian Copak." Their costumes were splendid.

The National Mixed Quartet, which for some reason was called a quintet, were perhaps as fine a combination of voices ever to enchant an audience of Londoners. They confined their work almost entirely to selections from opera. "The Gypsy Bride," from "The Bohemian Girl," was perhaps their masterpiece. They were also very appealing in "Take Me Back to Ole Virginny." They, too, gave much solo work. G. W. Vines, possessing a rich bass voice, sang "The Gypsy King" in an inspiring manner. The tenor possessed a golden voice with a wide range. He was responsible for much good work in duets. Mayme Bell has an exceedingly warm contralto voice which fitted her perfectly for her Chinese selection from "East Is West," and her gypsy duets. Mrs. Thornton Swartz, the soprano, sang delightfully in "Tell Me, Pretty Gypsy."

Instrumental selections on saxaphone, marinbaphone and cornet by The Thiele Company were good. Readings and monologes by Pearl O'Neill were charming. Miss O'Neill had the ability to make her auditors laugh or cry as she willed. Caro Gourlie, a juvenile, danced the Shawn Trews.

The crowd was not as large as an all-round, high-class festival deserved.

The third of the series of concerts by another company will be presented tonight.

COMPLAINS AGAINST DECISION MADE BY COUNTY MAGISTRATE

Crown-Attorney McKillop To Investigate Caims of Hugh Westbrook.

Hugh Westbrook, living near Komoka, who recently complained that he had been unjustly fined for carrying a gun and having a dead rabbit in his possession, laid his complaint officially before Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop, but Mr. McKillop was not prepared yesterday afternoon to state what would be the probable outcome of the matter.

Arthur Brown was first appointed a game warden, and later under pressure of various influences, but against the advice of High Constable B. F. Watterworth, he was made a county constable. He arrested Mr. Westbrook on Thanksgiving Day, and took him before the local magistrate, ex-Warden Turnbull, who fined him $10.

Mr. Westbrook subsequently learned that it was not against the law to carry a gun, nor illegal to have a rabbit in his possession, and so complaint was made of an alleged miscarriage of justice.

Deputy Sheriff Watterworth stated yesterday that it was likely that all parties concerned, including Magistrate Turnbull, would be summoned to appear at the court house at some early date. Mr. Westbrook states that the magistrate offered to refund the fine imposed, but he refused to accept it.

CHOIR VISITS LUCAN

Dundas Centre Singers Held a Most Successful Concert.

LUCAN, Nov. 9.—Seventy-five members of the choir of Dundas Centre Methodist Church, London, and their friends put on a most enjoyable and successful concert in the Methodist Church here last evening.

George Stanley presided and warmly welcomed the visitors.

Those taking part in the program included: Solos by Miss Anna Cochrill, Miss Ferguson, Miss Corbin, and C. J. Jolly, E. N. Harding and Walter Chalcraft; duets by Mr. J. P. Morris and Leon Adams and Miss Cochrill and Mr. Chalcraft. The chorus numbers were well rendered and heartily applauded. The hit of the evening, was the number by the male quartet, composed of Wm. Letchford, Delmar Lewis, Douglas Morris and Leon Adams. The pastor, Rev. E. G. Powell, extended a hearty vote of thanks to the choir and its leader, Mr. Morris, for the successful evening's program.

At its conclusion, adjournment was made to the schoolroom, where a banquet awaited the singers. Clay Gibson and Herman J. Scratch moved and seconded a vote of thanks to the ladies of Lucan church for the spread, which, on behalf of the ladies, was responded to by Rev. Mr. Powell.

CREAM FOR CATARRH OPENS UP NOSTRILS

Tells How To Get Quick Relief from Head-Colds. It's Splendid!

In one minute your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh will be gone.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh—Relief comes so quickly.—Advt.

Makes Curls or "Ear Muffs" Stay in Plac

You will be glad to learn that you can keep your hair beautifully wavy and curly by using a perfectly harmless liquid known to druggists as "silmerine." You need only apply a little with a clean tooth brush just before doing up the hair, and in three hours or so you will be most agreeably surprised with the effect. And this effect lasts for quite a considerable time, so a small bottle goes a long way and is quite economical to use. Pure silmerine is really beneficial to the hair, and there is no greasiness, stickiness nor anything unpleasant about it. It is a good idea to divide the hair into strands and moisten these one at a time, drawing the brush down the full length.

With the aid of liquid silmerine it is easy to shape the prettiest "ear muffs" and easy to keep them as placed all day. Just try it!—Advt.

LARGE STOCKS OF SUGAR BEING SOLD

Dealers Quoting Price At $14.50 per Hundredweight.

Large stocks of sugar held by some local dealers has prompted them to lower the price below that of quotations received from big centres. The dealers contemplate another drop in price shortly and are attempting to unload their surplus stock at a lower figure than what they purchased it for.

According to late stock market reports sugar has about reached rock bottom for some time at least. One dealer when interviewed by The Advertiser stated that he had about fifteen bags, and was offering it for sale at $14.50 a hundredweight. "I will probably sell it at a lower price than that to get rid of it. I am losing on it, but I will probably lose more if I keep the price up," he said.

NO HALF-HOLIDAY FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

To Be Held In Y. M. C. A. by Somerville Paper Box Company.

The first winter picnic that will be held at the local "Y" will be given by the Somerville Paper Box Company some time this month. Several factories are contemplating a picnic for their employees this winter, and the Y. M. C. A. has been set at the disposal of these factories. Y. M. C. A. secretaries here are taking an active part in carrying out these picnics, and one of the games that will be played by the men will be that of cage ball.

SARNIA VETERANS EXPECT TO RECEIVE GRATUITY SHORTLY

Debenture Issue Covering the Allotment Has Been Sold.

SARNIA, Nov. 9.—Tonight it was officially announced that a debenture issue comprising the amount of the soldiers' civic gratuity allotment and local improvement bonds was taken up by the Dominion Securities Corporation, Toronto. The net sale is approximately $164,981.87. Ald. Carson stated that the committee investigating the questionnaires sent in by Sarnia officers and men who served overseas and who claimed to be eligible for the grant had practically completed its work, indicating that the long-delayed payment of the gratuity to officers and men of this city who served overseas, resided here six months prior to enlistment and returned to this city, will be made in near future. The proceeds of the $70,000 issue will be divided pro rata among the applicants found eligible, it is expected.

On Thursday afternoon Armistice Day will be observed as a half holiday, and a proclamation has been issued by Mayor Nisbet.

The majority of the grocery stores will close as usual on Wednesday afternoon and will remain open on Thursday afternoon.

Seven years ago tonight the greatest tragedy in the history of the Great Lakes was enacted, taking a toll of 272 lives and 14 ships on Lake Huron.

Tonight the storm signals are again up just as they were seven years ago, to warn mariners of an approacning storm.

LONDON WOMAN IS HEAVILY FINED

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Mary Duncan, last place of residence London, is helping along the high cost of living at the police department. Since Mary went on the rampage a couple of weeks ago the police treasury is better off by $815, of which $200 was handed over by William Forester, a London man, today. He had been in the company of the Duncan woman. Forester was convicted on the evidence of Ansel Henry, St. Thomas, at whose home the party were enjoying the flowing bowl.

COST OF EDUCATING ONE PUBLIC SCHOOL PUPIL HERE IS $37

Compares Favorably With Toronto, Where Average Is $58.55.

While the financial report of the board of education for the present year is not yet available indications are that it will compare favorably with Toronto and other cities, according to board officials. The cost of educating one pupil for a year in the public schools of Toronto was $58.55. The cost here was $37.

City Briefs

IN THE PARADE.—It was learned at Salvation Army headquarters here today that the army will take part in the Armistice Day parade on Thursday evening. There will be two bands from the local command.

BANQUET ON THURSDAY.—The Young Men's Club of the Crofyn Memorial Church will give an Armistice Day banquet in the Parish Hall on Thursday evening. The banquet will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

WILL BE CLOSED.—Owing to the Western Ontario Public Library Institute being held in the London Public Library tomorrow afternoon and evening, the east end and South London branches of the library will be closed.

NO EVENING CLASS.—Principal H. B. Beal of the Technical School announced today that there would be no evening classes at the Technical School Thursday, on account of the armistice day celebration. He stated that the afternoon class would be held as usual.

CASE ADJOURNED.—Two boys were brought before Magistrate Graydon today, charged with breaking into the home of Mrs. Annie Balkwill, 60 Bruce street, and stealing $20. The case was adjourned until November 23. One was bailed out by his father, while the other was placed in the children's shelter.

FINAL PREPARATIONS.—A meeting of both Armistice Day committees will be held this evening at 7:30 in the Armories to discuss final details for the parade on Thursday evening. All soldiers wishing to obtain fireworks for the procession will receive them this evening.

MUST REPAIR DAMAGE. — Four youths, who one week ago appeared on a charge of wrecking a vacant house on Pall Mall street on October 28, were given one week in which to make good the damage they wrought, when they appeared before the magistrate. The case was adjourned for one week. It was claimed that the boys broke all the windows, wrecked the veranda and pushed over a chimney.

ADJOURNED ONE MONTH.—The case against two small boys who were found guilty of damaging a house belonging to Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop two weeks ago, was adjourned for one month, when it was tried before Magistrate Graydon yesterday. One of the boys was placed in the charge of his father and the other was put in a shelter. The damage will be paid for by the parents of the boys.

LODGE IS FLOURISHING.—At the regular weekly session of The Hope of the West Lodge, I. O. G. T., held at 124 Wortley road last night, the secretary's report for the quarter showed the lodge to be in a flourishing condition. The treasurer's report, too, revealed a balance in hand. The program for the evening was in the hands of the chaplain, Mrs. Andrew Simpson, who provided a very pleasant evening's enjoyment. An invitation to hold the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Newitt, 32 Alma street, was accepted.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES ENJOY FOLK DANCING AT BIG CONVENTION

Thirty Thousand Members Represented by Toronto Gathering.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—Representing 900 branches and 30,000 members, the Women's Institutes of Ontario began their nineteenth annual convention here today, with encouraging reports from the delegates, and a summary of their progress, as well as suggestions for future programs, from George A. Putnam, superintendent of institutes. Mr. Putnam suggested that 1,200 or 1,300 branches might be formed, and he said the work of the institutes was appreciated by the Government. Every branch had done something special, he said.

Community singing and folk dancing formed part of the program at tonight's session, and an address was given by President J. B. Reynolds of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Mrs. William Todd of Orillia, Ont., president of the Women's Institutes of Ontario, presided at the various sessions today. The convention will continue tomorrow and Thursday.

LONDON POULTRY ARE FEATURE AT KITCHENER SHOW

Record Number of Entries From All Over the District.

KITCHENER, Nov. 9.—The annual show of the Kitchener Poultry Association, which opened tonight, was easily the largest ever held here. Entries exceed last year by more than 500, coming from practically every town and city in Western Ontario, with a large showing from Belleville and other eastern points. London and Hamilton poultry fanciers have unusually large entries of splendid birds at the show. The bred-to-lay hens are a special feature this year, there being a few birds in this exhibit with a record of 255 eggs a year.

The greatly increased interest which is being manifested in the Twin Cities district in fancy poultry-raising was evidenced by the unprecedented crowds that thronged the show throughout the evening.

The judges, who will begin the awarding of honors Wednesday, are: J. W. Clarke, Cainsville; J. Carter, Londesboro; A. J. Luxton, Mount Forest; Leslie Ridler, Guelph (special judge of pigeons), and Prof. Francis of the O. A. C., Guelph.

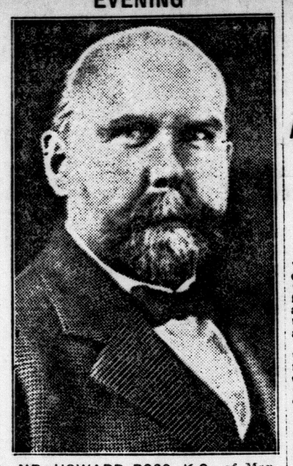

HAMILTON RETURNS PATIENT TO LONDON

HAMILTON, Nov. 9. — James Twess, the patient from Westminster Hospital, London, Ont., who escaped from that institution and walked all the way to Hamilton, was returned to London today. He strenuously objected to being sent back and could only be persuaded to go on being promised by local police officials that his case would be investigated.

MADE LIBERAL RESPONSE.

MOUNT BRYDGES, Nov. 9.—In connection with the anniversary services, held in the Methodist Church by Rev. L. W. Reid of London, the trustees announce that a liberal response was made to the thank-offering asked for, and the total received is $450.

SPEAKS HERE FRIDAY EVENING

MR. HOWARD ROSS, K.C., of Montreal, who will address a membership meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce following dinner at the Masonic Hall at 6:30 p.m., on Friday next. His subject is "Effective Voting—Proportional Representation."

BUSY SESSION NO. 1 COMMITTEE THIS AFTERNOON

Last Meeting at Which London Bill Items Can Be Introduced.

One of the most important business sessions of the year will face No. 1 committee of the city council when it meets this afternoon. This is the last meeting at which items for the London bill can be introduced and the second last at which bylaws can be prepared for the January election.

Mayor Little was in Toronto yesterday and had a brief interview with members of the government in regard to the London bill. It is understood that he wished to learn the attitude of the government toward the measure, contending that there was no use of the city spending time and money on it if the legislature intended to follow the same course as last year. He said today that he had been only a short time in the provincial capital and had not gained much information on the matter.

The request of the London Railway Commission for $257,000 for capital expenditure on the L. and P. S. R. in 1921 will be considered. This in itself is likely to provide material for a lengthy discussion. Most of the aldermen want a thorough understanding of the needs for which the money is asked before they are prepared to indorse the proposal.

Purchasing additional fire equipment and proceeding further with the motorization of the department may be another question. Provision for a combination motor pump was made in the bill last year. The legislature ruled it out saying that the matter was not of sufficient importance and could be easily handled by the council itself. It may be decided to ask for a larg expenditure this year.

Application likely will be made by the Public Utilities Commission for debenture issues to provide for extensions in the water and electrical departments during the coming year. Another matter will be the fixing of the parks rate. New legislation requires a mill for this purpose now, where half a mill was formerly the minimum. Commission government may be revived again and included in the bill for a second time.

If these items are not enough to keep the aldermen busy something may crop up in regard to the street railway situation although this is not regarded as probable. City Solicitor Meredith's opinion on whether the council can order the Railway Board to discontinue the payment of principal on bonds may be received.

Assessment may be another topic if Mayor Little brings forward a number of the suggestions made at the special committee on assessment recently.

Obituary

MRS. JOHNSTONE BURIED.

The funeral took place yesterday at Dalmagarry Cottage, Hyde Park, Ontario, of Elizabeth James Patterson, wife of Henry M. Johnstone and granddaughter of the late Squire Duncan MacKenzie. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. McCrae, and the pallbearers were five cousins and a nephew of the deceased: Donald MacKenzie of Hyde Park, John M. and J. Percy Moore, John MacDonald, Charles E. Wheeler and Dr. George H. Kennedy, all of this city.

Mrs. Johnstone possessed a very rare and wonderfully sweet and charming personality, and was greatly beloved by a large circle of relatives and friends. Besides her husband, she leaves one son, George H. Johnstone, cashier of Wayne County Savings Bank, Detroit, Michigan, and three daughters, Mrs. Charles F. Routledge of Hyde Park, Mrs. John MacPherson of Glanworth and Jessie at home.

TWO HUNDRED ATTEND THE G. A. U. V. SOCIAL

Objective of Membership Campaign Already Attained.

In connection with the grand opening of the new club rooms of the Grand Army of United Veterans last evening a card party and social evening was held. About 200 members with their friends attended and all had an enjoyable time. Several new members were added to the roll. The objective the association set for its membership campaign has been reached and each member is out trying to get more.

The clubroom committee has commenced work renovating the new rooms, and Col. French, president of the association, stated this morning that he thought before long the rooms would be the finest of ny soldier organization in London.

The next regular meeting of the association which was to have been held on Friday evening has been postponed.

GOVERNMENT DREDGE AT PORT BURWELL

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 9.—Although the season is a bit advanced, the government dredge, No. 117, has received orders to deepen the whole inner harbor at Port Burwell, as the tug-owners would direct. The period set apart for the work is claimed by old fisherfolk as unusually late, but even a two-weeks' dredging, they say, may do some benefit to the harbor and financial good to the near community.

CONSECRATED AS BISHOP.

Detroit, Nov. 10.—Rev. Dr. H. H. Fox, six years rector of St. John's Episcopal Church here, was consecrated Bishop-Suffragan of the Diocese of Montana at St. John's Church this morning. Bishop Fox will have charge of the church s work in Eastern Montana.

COMMITTEE TO DEAL WITH SALARIES OF WOMEN TEACHERS

Application Made for $300 Increase — Would Mean $75,000 Per Year, Says Secretary.

Outstanding among the matters which will be dealt with by No. 1 committee of the board of education, which meets this afternoon to deal with matters referred to it by the board, will be the application of the women teachers in the city schools for an additional $300 a year for each woman teacher.

The present salaries paid to women teachers in the city run from a minimum of $750 per annum for second-class teachers, and of $900 for first-class teachers, with an annual increase of $100 up to $1,400 for second-class and $1,500 for first-class teachers.

This morning Secretary R. M. McElheran stated that approximately the additional cost to the city will be $75,000 a year.

PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS FOR LONDON WEST

Members of Committee Look Over Possible Sites On Tuesday Afternoon.

That West London's right to consideration in the matter of the provision of a supervised public playground has been recognized by the playgrounds committee for a long time, and this recognition was advanced another step yesterday when members of the committee paid a visit to that section of the city, and looked over several possible suitable sites with a view to securing options pending definite action.

Discussing the matter of playgrounds with The Advertiser today, E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the public utilities department, drew attention to two prepared maps of the city; one showing the location of the four public playgrounds already established, and the other by means of varying colors the density of child population in the various sections of the city.

Referring to the first map, Mr. Buchanan stated that an investigation carefully carried out, showed that the area served by any of these public playgrounds as revealed by the attendance of the kiddies was approximately confined to a radius of half a mile. These areas are defined by red rings drawn around them which show that there are still three sections of the city which under these conditions are not at the present time receiving any appreciable benefit from the playgrounds established.

The first district is in West London, and for this district the committee is already undertaking active consideration with a view toward meeting the need before next summer. A second district lies to the northeast of the city, in the neighborhood of Wolseley Barracks, a district which is shown by the statistical map to have one of the densest child population in London. The third section lies almost due south, but here taking into account the half-mile effectiveness of such playgrounds, the committee is confronted by a condition of overcrowding of buildings which practically elminates the possibility of a playground being located where it should be, to serve the dense child population.

Application likely will be made by the Public Utilities Commission for debenture issues to provide for extensions in the water and electrical departments during the coming year. Another matter will be the fixing of the parks rate. New legislation requires a mill for this purpose now, where half a mill was formerly the minimum. Commission government may be revived again and included in the bill for a second time.

If these items are not enough to keep the aldermen busy something may crop up in regard to the street railway situation although this is not regarded as probable. City Solicitor Meredith's opinion on whether the council can order the Railway Board to discontinue the payment of principal on bonds may be received.

Assessment may be another topic if Mayor Little brings forward a number of the suggestions made at the special committee on assessment recently.

LEVEL CROSSINGS

Government Sends Engineer to Investigate Local Conditions.

Chief Engineer Mountain of the department of public works will be here Friday to investigate the level crossing situation, Mayor Little said today on his return from Ottawa. He will look over the plans prepared by the special level crossing committee, and will also take up those made by Noulan Cauchon for the Chamber of Commerce.

The Rectory street situation in particular will be given attention as well as the Ridout street proposed subway. His attention will be directed chiefly on the plans for complete grade separation, however, and he will prepare a report for his department on this matter.

MILK PRODUCERS PLAN TO ERECT THEIR OWN PLANT

Half Necessary Capital Subscribed At Meeting At Burgessville.

BURGESSVILLE, Nov. 9.—At the second meeting of the Burgessville Milk Producers' Association held in the school house and attended by dairymen from all over the district, it was decided to erect and equip a plant of their own here. The meeting was held for the purpose of getting milk producers more fully organized and arranging ways and means for them to handle and market their own milk. A. F. Walker, M.P.P., president of the association, was in the chair.

Almost half the amount considered necessary to capitalize the project was quickly subscribed at the meeting. Committees were appointed in the different sections to canvas the milk producers not present at the meeting. A comittee was also named to report regarding the size and equipment of a building for their purpose. The reports from these committees will be given at a meeting to be held November 20 in the same place.

The closing of the Borden condenser at Norwich on November 1 on such short notice left the milk producers here in an awkward position, as they had no satisfactory outlet for their milk. However, the Burgessville Milk Producers' Association took the matter in hand and are receiving credit for disposing of the flow of milk by shipping it to Toronto until they can arrange for a plant of their own.

THREE-YEAR TERM FOR ALDERMEN IS TO BE VOTED ON

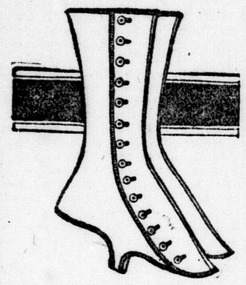

Brantford Ratepayers To Decide On Change of Civic Government.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 9.—A change of civic government was strongly favored here today by Frank Cockshutt, who urges the election of aldermen for a three-year term, instead of one year, and the selection of the mayor by the aldermen-elect. The question will be voted on by the ratepayers in January.

Armistice Day will be celebrated here by two minutes' silence on Thursday. Flowers will be deposited by citizens with the I. O. D. E., to be later sent to the hospitals. Schools will be closed at 10:30, and a public service will be held at the armories.

TORONTO MAN MAKES THIRTY POUND GAIN

A. R. Godfrey Was Going Down Hill Rapidly When He Started Taking Tanlac — Now Feels Fine.

"I know it sounds unreasonable, but its a fact that I have gained thirty pounds since I began taking Tanlac," was the statement made by A. R. Godfrey, residing at No. 12 Hamilton street, Toronto. Mr. Godfrey is a steel worker employed by the J. J. Taylor Safe Works. He served in the Canadian forces in France during the war.

"My health had been bad ever since I was gassed in France," said Mr. Godfrey. "My stomach was first affected and finally my health completely broke down. I never wanted anything I ate, and the little I forced down disagreed with me. I had awful pains in the pit of my stomach, and when I would bend down to pick up anything off the floor it would nearly kill me when I tried to straighten up again. I had such awful dizzy spells at times I would almost topple over. I felt completely worn out all the time, had little life or energy about me, and was so nervous I couldn't get a good night's sleep. I had terrific headaches, and was constipated nearly all the time. I fell off in weight, from one hundred and forty-eight pounds to one hundred and eighteen, and seemed to be getting weaker all the time. Then to make matters worse, I began suffering with rheumatism, and the pains—especially in my shoulders were almost unbearable.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Tanlac, and after I took a few doses I could feel an improvement. I started to get hungry and was soon eating three big meals every day, and instead of disagreeing with me, my food began building me up. I continued taking Tanlac, and kept gaining weight until now I tip the scales at one hundred and forty-eight pounds—an actual gain of thirty pounds. I can now sleep all night without once waking up, and in the morning I get out of bed feeling great. My strength has been increased wonderfully. I haven't a pain about me, am never troubled with headaches, nervousness or constipation, and the dizzy spells have been entirely overcome. I have plenty of life and energy about me now, in fact I am feeling fine in every way. That's exactly what Tanlac did for me, and you may publish my statement if you wish to, because it may be the means of helping others who are suffering like I was."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

SPRACKLIN PLANS TO RENEW WAR, ON BORDER BOOTLEGGERS

Fighting Parson Says He Will Go After Rum-Runners With Renewed Vigor, and There Will Be No Truce—Crown Plans No Further Action in Connection With Killing of Trumble.

[By Staff Correspondent.]

WINDSOR, Nov. 9.—Rev. J. L. Spracklin is resting at his home in Sandwich after the heavy strain of the past few days. He declared tonight that he and his associates will prosecute with renewed vigor the fight against rumrunners and bootleggers on the border.

"There will be no truce," he said, "I believe I am right, and Mr. Raney, attorney-general believes so, too, and I will continue until the end. I will continue my work as license inspector as long as I have the confidence of Mr. Raney."

No further action against Mr. Spracklin in connection with the slaying of Trumble will be taken by the crown, J. H. Rodd, crown attorney, announced tonight.

Strong Evidence.

This recommendation has been forwarded Attorney-General Raney by the local official who, discussing the case tonight, gave two reasons for his action; first, that since the coroner's jury had heard all the evidence available bearing on the case and had decided in favor of "the Fighting Parson," it was certain any other jury that could be selected would be of the same opinion, and secondly, in his opinion the evidence submitted at the inquest proved beyond doubt that Trumble had pointed a gun at the minister and had threatened to kill him.

Hamilton Trumble, father of the dead innkeeper, said tonight that he had not yet had time to consider instituting a civil suit for damages against Spracklin, or demanding that a more serious charge of manslaughter be preferred by the crown.

Hotel in Darkness.

The fate of the Chappell House, scene of hundreds of gay revelries, has not yet been decided. Tonight it is in darkness, for the first time in years. It was planned that the father, a former Windsor alderman and well-known local business man, would conduct the roadhouse during the winter months while "Babe," accompanied by his wife and two children, visited Cuba, where Trumble intended following the races. He had been a racehorse owner.

Methodist leaders on both sides of the border tonight renewed their protests against the impression that got abroad Sunday, that the chuch would insist upon unfrocking Spracklin, regardless of the outcome of the case before a coroner's juy. Both Canadian and American officers declared they would support the Sandwich minister to the last ditch, and that no proposal such as that rumored would be entertained.

NO FURTHER ACTION.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—Attorney-General W. E. Raney this evening reiterated the announcement which the Ontario Government made yesterday that it would not make any move in the matter of the killing of Beverly Trumble, the Sandwich hotelkeeper, by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, special license inspector, but would leave it to the authorities at Windsor to deal with as they deemed proper.

In reply to a question as to whether Crown Attorney Rodd of Essex County was in Toronto today conferring with the attorney-general about the Spracklin matter, Hon. Mr. Raney said that so far as he knew Mr. Rodd was not in this city.

PRAISES HIS COURAGE.

HAMILTON, Nov. 9.—Speaking at Ryerson Methodist Church here tonight Rev. Dr. Byron Stauffer of Toronto had words of praise for Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, the fighting license inspector at the Essex border. He thanked God, he said, for such men as Spracklin, who had the courage to fight the organized liquor runners.

MANY WILD RUMORS.

WINDSOR, Nov. 9.—Civil prosecution of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin for the death of Beverley ("Babe") Trumble is the latest sequel to the fatal raid made by the attorney-general's special license inspector squad on the Chappell House on Saturday morning last, according to current reports. Confirmation of this move was not available tonight, Mrs. Trumble refusing to be interviewed, yet information from authoritative sources is that she has expressed her refusal to "let the matter stand as it is."

The atmosphere throughout the Border Cities bristles with rumors, but a sensational development to the attstanding among which is the promise of tack made on the license officers by a mysterious gang on the road near the Canadian Steel plant at Ojibway. This attack occurred shortly after the shooting of Trumble, and it is believed that the police are in possession of the names of the gang.

Blame Legislative Bungling For Ontario Liquor Problem

[Special to The Advertiser.]

COTTAM, Nov. 9.—At a meeting of the Methodist ministers and laymen of Windsor district held here this afternoon the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"That the Windsor District meeting of Methodist ministers and laymen assembled are greatly gratified in the speedy and authoritative justification of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin as touching the altogether regrettable tragedy in Sandwich. We deeply mourn the clash of law and order with lawlessness, which culminated in the death of a fellow-citizen, for whose bereaved relatives we have tender sorrow and unfeigned sympathy.

"We also express our abiding confidence in the Christian manhood, integrity and zeal of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin in the exercise of the serious task assigned to him by the Government in guarding vital interests of the community at this critical juncture of provincial events.

"We regret the absence of hearty co-operation of many prominent citizens of the Border Cities whose apathy or thinly-veiled opposition have increased the peril and hardship of law enforcement.

"We impeach the legislative and executive bungling over the liquor problem, which has staged possible tragedies in our province. A scorpion instead of bread is the guilty response to the people's overwhelming cry for total prohibition of the liquor traffic.

"We summon loyalty and patriotism to the task of standing behind his majesty's laws and his duly appointed officers in the prosecution of lawless bootleggers and rumrunners who are devoid of self-respect and civic virtue."

BIG LIQUOR SEIZURES

Whiskey Valued at $10,000 Confiscated at Scranton, Pa.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 10.—Seven hundred cases of bottled goods and sixteen barrels of whiskey valued at $110,000 were seized yesterday afternoon by M. J. Malone, a prohibition agent on the premises of H. S. Stahler in this city. This is the largest seizure of whiskey made in this section since the prohibition enforcement amendment went into effect.

WHISKEY IN MOTOR CAR.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 10.—An automobile bearing 274 quarts of whiskey, rated by Government labels on the containers to be 100 per cent proof, and valued at $2,740, was seized near the city's eastern limits last night by Sheriff Andrew Weidenmann and a posse of deputies. Albert Michaels and William Bloom, both of this city, were arrested on charges of transporting the liquor without a permit. The men told the sheriff, they got the liquor at Massena Plains, near Watertown.

Good Will Was Worth $250,000

New York, Nov. 10.—Loss of good will of "Jack's" restaurant, one of the city's well-known eating places, due to prohibition is placed at $250,000, according to papers in a lawsuit filed here yesterday. The litigation is due to a demand for an accounting by representatives of one of the partners who conduct the business.

WOULD HAVE DEPUTY POLICE MAGISTRATE WHO SPEAKS FRENCH

Essex License Inspector Mentioned for Post At Border.

MAYOR'S SUGGESTION

Spracklin Prepares to Resume War On Rum-Runners.

Windsor, Nov. 10.—(Canadian Press).—No confirmation could be obtained here today for the rumor that License Inspector M. N. Mousseau would be appointed deputy police magistrate for Essex County and that Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin would succeed him as chief license inspector for the district.

Both Mousseau and Spracklin have disclaimed any knowledge of such a proposal, and it is unlikely that, if any such action is taken it will occur before W. E. Gundy, the newly-appointed magistrate, takes the bench.

The rumor is supposed to have grown out of a statement made following Mr. Gundy's appointment by Mayor E. B. Winter of Windsor. Mayor Winter said that, although Mr. Gundy had been appointed to take over all the duties formerly falling upon the late Magistrate Miers it might be found advisable at a later date to allow the new magistrate to sit only in Windsor and Walkerville and to appoint a deputy to take charge of the other places on the late magistrate's itinerary.

The mayor stated that there was a more or less general feeling that the deputy, if one were appointed, should be a man who spoke the French language, and stated that two names mentioned for the post were those of Mr. Mosseau and Gaspard Pacaud, a local notary public.

Meanwhile, all is quiet throughout the border cities. Mr. Spracklin, now practically assured that no legal action will be taken against him for the shooting of Beverly Trumble last Saturday morning, has stated firmly that he will continue the fight against the illegal traffic with unabated energy. He is now at his home and will preach as usual in his church next Sunday.

POTATO CROP DECREASED.

Wakefield, Mass., Nov. 10.—A shrinkage of 6 per cent in the New England crop of potatoes and a reduction in quality as the result of the rot during October was reported by V. A. Saunders, field agent of the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture today. The crop is now estimated at 34,950,000 bushels, compared with the five-year average of 34,778,000 bushels and 35,080,000 in 1919.

HONEST MEN TURN TO CRIME LURED BY BOOTLEGGERS MONEY

[By Staff Correspondent.]

Windsor, Nov. 9.—Discussing the dismissal today of four more patrolmen from the Detroit police department because of complicity with illegal liquor traffic, Police Commissioner Inches tonight declared:

"Rum-running, because of the fabulous fortunes to be made from it, has brought to Detroit the most desperate criminals of the United States, and when they weren't rum-running they turned their talents to highway robbery and burglary. They debauched formerly honest men with their easy money, and the Detroit police department has had to fight crime because of them as no other city in the whole United States has had to fight it."

He told tales of police combats with rum-runners that were almost unbelievable, and continuing, said:

"I know over fifty men in Detroit today who have each made more than $100,000 apiece in the last six months bringing whiskey and beer into Detroit and Michigan from Windsor.

Thoroughly Organized.

"The traffic is now so thoroughly organized that it is conducted on a transportation basis. Whiskey is transferred at a fixed remuneration, the same as a railway moves freight.

"Rum runners charge $10 a case for bringing it across the river. The cases must be loaded on their launches on the Canadian side within fifteen minutes from the time the boat comes to the dock, and unloaded within fifteen minutes of the time it reaches the American side. That means $1,000 profit for a half-hour's work. No wonder the desperadoes of the country have flocked to Detroit to engage in such traffic.

Makes Huge Profits.

"One of the rum runners told my officers he could easily buy a new automobile every week, and still save money out of his profits. The actual crime element introduced by rum running is bad, very bad, but even sadder is the fact that the easy money corrupts otherwise good men.

"I have had to dismiss and disgrace police officers of long and honorable standing for failing for the wiles and seductions of the rum runners. To-morrow there will be seven or eight officers before me on trial, half of them in connection with the liquor traffic. Some of them are men of good records, who have served from ten to twelve years, but if they're guilty, I'll fire them. I'm going to clean up the police force, and divert it from rum running.

Offered Him $200.

"One of my men, a new man, just graduated from the police training school, was put on a beat near Waterworks Park, along the riverfront. It is a beat where the houses stand in the water, and is very difficult to control. The first night on duty a man approached him, and on being assured that he was a newcomer, said that if the officer would only keep his mouth shut and do nothing, $200 would be handed him every Monday morning."

THREE TOURISTS ARE KILLED WHEN MOTOR IS STRUCK BY TRAIN

Party Was en Route to Plattsburg From Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Three of a party of five American tourists, who left Montreal yesterday morning en route to Plattsburg, were instantly killed last night, when their automobile was struck by a train at the crossing about two miles from Lacolle. The two other occupants of the car were severely injured and one is expected to die. They were taken to the Champlain Valley Hospital, Plattsburg, shortly before one o'clock this morning. The dead are: Samuel Schultz, 35 years of age, of Philadelphia, driver of the car; Louis Slewesburg, about 35, Philadelphia, and John T. Vanderpool, about 45 years of age, Philadelphia.

MANUFACTURERS ASK EARLY CONSIDERATION OF FREIGHT QUESTION

Urge Equalization of Rates Between Eastern and Western Canada.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association made application to the Board of Railway Commissioners asking for the earliest consideration of the question of equalizing freight rates between Western and Eastern Canada.

This application is based on the recent order-in-council issued by the committee of the privy council recommending the Board of Railway Commissioners to reconsider their judgment in connection with the recent increase of the freight rates.

Particular attention is directed in the application to the question of rates in British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces, and claims that conditions have materially changed since the board's order in the Western rates case was issued in 1914.

FOUNDER OF CANADIAN CLUB ADDRESSES MEETING OF MONTREAL CITIZENS

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Col. C. R. McCullough of Hamilton, founder and father of the Canadian Club idea, spoke at the Young Men's Canadian Club at the Windsor Hotel last night on the "Coming Canada." In speaking of the necessity of unity on the building up of Canadian nationhood, he referred to the visit of Hon. Athan David, provincial secretary of Quebec, to Toronto recently, and hoped his effort to make known his compatriots of Quebec to Ontario would be followed by others.

A MEATLESS HOT PIE

Another Use Discovered For Those Oxo Cubes.

Here is a recipe calling for no meat other than the concentrated beef-goodness to be found in the familiar Oxo cube.

Peel and slice sufficient potatoes to half fill a large pie dish, add few small onions, also sliced. Put into cold water, bring quickly to a boil, boil one minute, then drain.

Put back in pie dish with few slices of tomato, season with pepper and salt and flavour with herbs. Dissolve one Oxo cube in ½ pint of hot milk and pour over mixture. Put few bits of butter on top and bake for two hours in moderate oven. It's delicious.

All dealers sell Oxo in tins of four, ten, and fifty cubes.

MAY SEND RELIEF TO ICE-BOUND SCHOONER

Seattle, Wn., Nov. 10.—Nome, Alaska, residents are planning to send a snow sled relief expedition across the frozen Arctic to the trading schooner, Polar Bear, which is trapped in the ice off the Siberian coast, 225 miles from Nome, according to reports received here. Reindeer will pull the sleds.

The Polar Bear has a crew of five men and less than two months' supplies aboard. The boat is believed to be within 50 miles of the schooner Maude, on which Raold Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, is attempting to reach the North Pole.

DAMAGE ACTION FOR $25,000 IS IN JURY'S HANDS

Windsor Man Shot by Rum Sleuths Seeks Heavy Recompense.

WINDSOR, Nov. 9.—The suit brought by Ernest Bergeron and his wife against License Inspector Mosseau and ten men working under him for $25,000 damages, for injuries suffered by Bergeron on the night of April 5, when one of the officers shot him in the neck on Gladstone avenue, near the Malden road, was opened this afternoon in the supreme court at Sandwich.

According to his testimony, Bergeron and his wife were returning from a visit to relatives on Malden road, when a man stepped out in the road with a flashlight near Gladstone avenue. Bergeron said that, as the man wore no uniform, and showed no badge, he took him for a robber, and therefore, shot his car ahead at full speed. The witness said that he had been robbed at the same point five weeks previously, and as soon as he passed the man in the road a volley of shots rang out.

Continual Gunfire.

Turning down Gladstone avenue, he said, a machine followed him, the occupants of which kept up a continual gunfire, and he was hit in the back of the head. Out-distancing his pursuers, he fired several shots to attract the attention of friends who lived over a bank at the corner of Gladstone and the River road.

The machine which had followed him drew up as he had taken his wife from the car, and then he recognized the officers. They admitted, Bergeron said, when they saw who it was, that they had made a mistake, and took him to Dr. Amyot at Windsor for treatment.

Mrs. Bergeron also took the stand and corroborated her husband's testimony. Ed Kennedy and Stephen Lane, Windsor taxi drivers, who were the drivers of the cars in which the officers rode, were also called to the stand. They testified that they had been hired by Inspector Mousseau, and gave testimony similar to the plaintiff's.

Looking For Liquor.

Only two witnesses were called for the defence. Inspector Mousseau, under whom the men were acting, but who was not present at the shooting, admitted that the men were sent out by him to follow up a tip that liquor was being cached on Malden road that night.

Cross-examined by W. H. Furlong, acting for the plaintiffs, Mr. Mousseau denied that he had given orders for the men to shoot, and he said that the Ontario temperance act had made no provision that the enforcers of the act should carry weapons, or shoot.

J. P. Hanna, provincial officer, also appeared for the defence. His testimony did not conflict in any way with that of the plaintiffs', and he admitted that some of the officers had shot, but denied that he had done so.

The case will go to the jury tomorrow morning. Besides Inspector Mousseau, the officers who participated in the shooting are named as defendants in the action. They are: Provincial Officers J. P. Smith, J. P. Hanna, A. G. Sykes; County Constables J. L. Smith and J. Pillon; Mounted Policemen F. Sampson, F. A. Simpson and H. R. Atkins; J. LeFebre, Walkerville constable, and G. Pillon, Sandwich constable.

Was He Trying To "Get" Spracklin?

WINDSOR, Nov. 9.—A mysterious visitor alighted from a darkened sedan in front of the Sandwich home of Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin in 3 o'clock this morning and knocked at the door.

Because of the hour and the fact that the machine carried no lights, the rap of the visitor was not answered. He then returned to the automobile and, with two companions, drove rapidly away.

It is believed that the call may have been an attempt upon the life of the "fighting parson," only a few hours after his exoneration in the killing of "Babe" Trumble at the Chapell house eary Saturday morning.

GAS CONSUMERS TO GET SUPPLY

Plan Is Being Worked Out Following Toronto Meeting.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—Various municipalities of Essex and Kent Counties formed a deputation to the Parliament Buildings here today which discussed with the Government and representatives of the Union Natural Gas Company the acute natural gas problem in the municipalities in question. Progress was made toward an arrangement whereby the consumers will be assured of a supply throughout the winter. Those who attended the conference were: Premier Drury, Hon. W. E. Raney, Hon. Harry Mills, A. L. Lewis, K.C., of Chatham, and H. H. Hallett, secretary of the Natural Gas Municipal Association of Western Ontario, for the consumers; J. G. Kerr, Chatham, for the company, and Gas Commissioner Estlin.

A committee was appointed, composed of Mayor Brisco of Chatham and W. H. Hallett of Tilbury, for the consumers; Perry Little of the Union Natural Gas Company and Charles E. Steele, Port Colborne, president of the Natural Gas Association, for the companies, and Gas Commissioner Estlin, chairman.

The committee, after conferring until a late hour this evening, were unable to reach a final settlement. The plan proposed was that a tentative price should be fixed for the winter, and in the spring an independent investigation should be made as to the capacity of the wells and the proper prices. If the prices charged during the winter should then be found excessive, a refund is to be made to the consumers. The committee adjourned without agreeing upon the tentative price and will meet the Government again tomorrow.

GERMAN PLANS FOR REPAYMENT PLEASE GEORGE

British Premier Says Real Test of Sincerity Is Disarmament.

RUSSIAN OUTLOOK POORER

Claims Bolsheviki Break Their Pledges—Says Irish Situation Well in Hand.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—David Lloyd George, in his address at the lord mayor's banquet at the Guildhall tonight, discussed briefly and pointedly various problems with which the Government is dealing.

He plunged immediately into foreign affairs, and appealed for patience and faith in the world settlement, declaring that the highest wisdom demanded that prejudices and dislikes be kept well under control if Europe is to be saved from becoming a welter of raging hatreds.

With ragard to Germany he declared himself personally pleased with the proposals of that country for the liquidation of her obligations. Coincidentally the chancellor of the exchequer, Austen Chamberlain, announced in the House of Commons that Germany had placed a large amount of bonds in the hands of the reparations commission.

The premier spoke optimistically of Ireland, intimating that the situation there was well in hand.

Referring to questions between Germany and the Allies, Mr. Lloyd George said that the real test of German sincerity was disarmament, and he added: "The report I have to give on that subject is very satisfactory.

Army Being Reduced.

"The German army is rapidly being reduced to 100,000 men. There are still too many rifles at large in Germany, but they are a greater menace to Germany's internal peace that to Germany's neighbors."

Another important point, said the premier, was reparations. "Germany is prepared to submit certain proposals for the liquidation of her obligations," he continued, "and personally I am pleased with them. They will be considered at the conferences, and it is satisfactory to note that Germany realizes that her first duty is to repair the devastation the German armies wrought.

"I wish I could speak as hopefully of the Russian problem, where we have to do with men professing the ridiculous, crazy creed of Bolshevism, who unfortunately fail to realize how important it is they should respect their obligations."

He referred briefly to the industrial situation, and the recent coal strike, expressing the belief that there is better temper now all round.

Irish Situation.

Speaking of the Irish situation, the premier said: "Unless I am mistaken, by the steps we have taken we have murder by the throat. Do not pay too much attention to the detailed accounts of disturbances and what they call the horrors of reprisals given out by partisans, who slur over the horrors of murder. There will be no real peace, no conciliation, until this murder conspiracy is scattered.

"We are getting the right sort of men and are dispersing the terrorists. The Government will seek further powers, if necessary, to deal with the situation. If it is war, as the terrorists say, then they cannot complain if the Government employ some of the rules of war against them."

He referred to his offer to discuss any proposals with anyone able to speak in behalf of Ireland, saying:

"If I had given that invitation to Germany in the middle of the war, I would have had a response. But giving it to Ireland, no man dare respond, because they are intimidated. You must break the terror before you can get peace.

"What the Government is offering to Ireland is partnership in the greatest empire the world has ever known, at the height of its power."

SPRACKLIN'S MOTHER IS FROM WOODSTOCK

Was School Girl Chum of Beverly Trumble's Mother.

WINDSOR, Nov. 9.—There is one mother on the Border who has wept for Mrs. Beverley Trumble and her two children, Robert and Leslie, now fatherless, following the shooting of Mr. Trumble Saturday morning by Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin at the Chappell House, Sandwich.

That woman is Mrs. Joseph Spracklin, mother of the pastor inspector, who, while searching Trumble's place, fired the fatal shot. Mrs. Spracklin, for the last four months has dreaded the ring of the telephone, the knock of the door, for, with each she anticipated the news that her boy, Leslie Spracklin, had been killed. Letters threatening to kill Spracklin were sent to the home at 148 Cameron avenue, Windsor, each week. They went into the fire as soon as opened. But the threats remained in the mother's mind

"The last few months have been terrible, and I knew Saturday morning when, by 5 o'clock, Leslie neither had telephoned nor come home, that something had happened," the mother said.

Mrs. Spracklin had known Trumble's mother from her earliest recollections. The girls went to school together in Woodstock. They played together and Mrs. Spracklin did the arithmetic for Beverley Trumble's mother in the days when they were in the fourth form together. Then, when the girls married, they drifted apart and did not see each other as frequently, but they were friends until the death of Mrs. Trumble, four years ago.

"If only it did not have to be 'Bev' that was shot," Mrs. Spracklin said. "We all knew them so well, but it just seemed to have been fate."

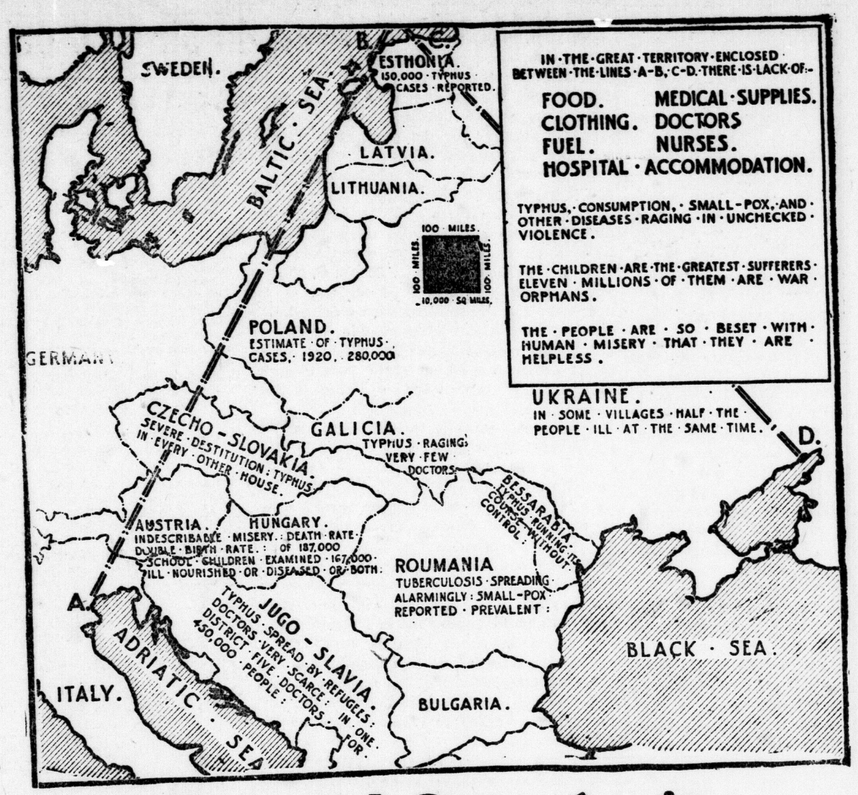

Then the mother, her handsome white head turned away, said: "Do you think Beverley's wife would let me tell her how the thing grieves me?"

Mrs. Spracklin, however, is with her boys in their work of fighting liquor. She believes with them, and will help them in every way possible.

Given Two Weeks To Make Decision

Drastic Action in Connection With Brantford Post-office Staff.

BRANTFORD, Nov. 9.—Five members of the postoffice staff today were notified that they had two weeks in which to decide whether they would resign under a superannuation allowance act. The five include Postmaster Raymond and four letter carriers. In the case of all, efficient service is reported, and it is not expected that superannuation will take place, although the department will instigate an inquiry.

Forward Once Again

in the Cause of Humanity

Study this map. Typhus has seized on these war-weakened nations. A terrible dearth of doctors, nurses and medical supplies makes them an easy prey. They are dying like flies. Their resources at an end, there is no hope for these peoples save from outside.

The British Empire War Relief Fund has been organized under the patronage of His Majesty the King to raise funds to combat world-threatening plagues and distress in these stricken areas.

The fund will be administered in Europe in co-operation with the League of Red Cross Societies.

The Trying Days

IT has been well said, a school teacher has more influence in shaping the lives of her scholars than their parents.

How necessary, then, is it that she should have a bright, clear brain, and be strong and vigorous in order that she may give them of her best.

The worry and the work, the strain and anxiety of a teacher's life are such as tell severely on the nervous system. Time and again teachers have had to give up good positions on account of a weak heart, run down health and shattered nerves.

To such Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills come as a boon and a blessing.

Their purpose is to make the weak heart strong and the shaky nerves firm, and thus build up the entire system to full strength and vitality.

Miss L. E. Hopkins, Kirkton, Ont., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for weak heart. I was so nervous I had to leave school for two years. After I had taken five boxes of the pills I was able to go back to my school again, feeling in good health."

RUBBERSET COMPANY,
NEWARK, N. J.
Gentlemen:

After how many years of service should a RUBBERSET shaving brush be discarded?

The first shaving brush (and the only brush) I ever bought was a rubberset in 1906. That was the year I began shaving. Today that brush is as good as new, in fact better, because I am accustomed to it and know exactly how to use it.

I had it with me while in training camp, and was not fortunate enough to give good old faithful RUBBERSET a trip across the briny deep.

I felt that it is due you to know how your brushes behave.

Very truly yours,

As Mr. Colton has spent only thirteen years seeking it, his lack of knowledge is of course duly excusable. Frankly, we're in the same fix, but we thought some of you older chaps might help us enlighten him.

Protect Preserve and Beautify

Unpainted surfaces rapidly deteriorate in value, serviceability, and beauty. At the present cost of building, painting for protection is a very necessary economy. It is cheaper to paint than not to paint.

For exceptional service and wearing qualities be sure to paint with Crown Diamond Paints—the paints that have withstood all Canadian climatic tests for over seventy-eight years.

THE MISERY OF BACKACHE

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Meaford, Ont.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for backache, and I also had a female weakness. I felt dizzy and nervous, and was without energy. I had to force myself to do my work, and was always tired. Saw a Pinkham advertisement which induced me to take the Vegetable Compound, and my back gradually stopped aching and I felt lighter in spirits. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound with pleasure to all I meet who complain as I did."—MILDRED BROOK, Meaford, Ont.

Woman's Precious Gift

The one which she should most zealously guard is her health, but she often neglects to do so in season until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so affected women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to suffering women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

JOYFUL EATING

Unless your food is digested without the aftermath of painful acidity, the joy is taken out of both eating and living.

KI-MOIDS

are wonderful in their help to the stomach troubled with over-acidity. Pleasant to take—relief prompt and definite.

EAST ELGIN AND THE INTERESTS.

The Meighen Government is exerting every effort to win the by-election in East Elgin and evidently regards it as of some importance to its future that this seat should not be lost. Thousands of dollars are being spent in sending in speakers, holding meetings and carrying on extensive advertising campaigns. There is evidently no lack of money behind the Government candidate whose expense account, were all the various Government items added, would make a curious commentary on methods of winning an election. The people of East Elgin ought to be curious as to where all this money is coming from. Who are the contributors to the party chest? The answer is not hard to give. The people who are contributing the money to elect a Government supporter in East Elgin are none else than the protected interests who in return for their contributions will demand high protection and the chance to further fatten off the country. They are doing it today and they will move heaven and earth to see that their fat days continue.

If anyone has any doubts regarding the attitude of the Government towards the protected interests, Premier Meighen's speeches since he assumed office ought to be convincing. There have been just two main lines of argument used by the premier. First, that protection is the policy for Canada; second, that all who disagree with the Government are in a class with the Bolshevists. The people of East Elgin need have no difficulty, therefore, in finding their proper place. If they vote for the Meighen candidate they are casting a vote for the prolongation of the period during which a few interests will wax fat and rich at the expense of the many. If they vote against the Government candidate they know where they will be classified by the Government. Nevertheless, we venture the opinion that there are a good many people in Elgin who will register their vote against the "big interests" that have the Government at their beck and call, even if by so doing they incur the risk of the Hon. Arthur's displeasure.

East Elgin will serve all of Canada if it registers a blow at the people who are running Canada from behind the scenes. The "sugar scandal" was a startling disclosure of the closeness of the big interests to the Government, and the good work that was begun by the general indignation against the rake-off that was to go to the sugar barons may well be continued in East Elgin by registering a decided majority against the Tory candidate there. There is only one way in which the people of this country can free themselves from the interests that are enriching themselves by protection, and that is to vote against the Government candidates. East Elgin will give the country a proper lead if it shows to the whole country that it is not fooled by the representations of an army of paid speakers, nor by the columns of paid advertising appearing in the Government press, paid propaganda of the sugar barons and their fellows.

THE HYDRO RADIAL PROBE.

The adjournment of the Sutherland Royal Commission in order that Mr. W. S. Murray, expert engineer of New York, may be secured to give evidence on hydro radial estimates, permits the public to catch its breath and digest some of the mass of technical information submitted during the recent sittings.

When Sir Adam Beck, as chairman of the commission, sent a request to the Ontario Government in March last for indorsation of bonds, which now amount to $51,870,231, to carry out the initial radial program, the Government asked for further information than had been supplied. It took the position of the man from Missouri, no doubt, because of the statement appearing in the report of March, 1920, of Auditor Clarkson, who said that before new projects were entered upon the Government should fully satisfy itself they were based upon sound business principles. In the following June Sir Adam replied and inclosed a copy of the special report made in the interval by Mr. Murray, who had been engaged by the Hydro Commission to go over that body's figures and vindicate them.

Mr. Murray's finding was couched in the sage terms that a canny father might use toward his son. While appearing to bestow his blessing he offered with it cautious qualifications, and set forth various increases in cost of construction and earnings of the Toronto-St. Catharines line. He gave no figures of the other proposed railways. The Government was apparently more than ever reluctant to "sign here" and back a hydro note for over fifty millions. The reasons are obvious when it is observed by references to the report that the estimates given by Mr. Murray and those submitted to the municipalities for a vote were quite different. For example, one group of municipalities had voted on a line from Toronto to London via Port Credit; another group on a proposed road from Port Credit to St. Catharines. The latter line was estimated by the hydro, when bylaws were submitted, to cost $11,360,363. Mr. Murray gave estimates on a road from Toronto to St. Catharines—the Toronto to London having been dropped temporarily at least. The cost was to be $22,298,635. He also increased his estimated earnings per mile from $22,000, as prepared by the Hydro Commission for the Port Credit-St. Catharines and $12,000 for the Toronto-London to $34,000 a mile. But Mr. Murray gave no information as to how the earnings would be divided between passenger and freight, and he showed a deficit of $53,000, even when nothing was allowed for depreciation of equipment, or rental of Grand Trunk right-of-way now estimated at $34,000.

In brief, the findings of the New Yorker put a new complexion on the undertaking and gave the Government occasion to be hesitant. It decided that the experience of the Municipal Loan Fund of 1854, which let the Provincial Administration in for the payment in 1876 of unredeemed municipal bonds of six and a half million dollars was not a pleasant precedent and it proceeded to develop respect for the old saw, "once bitten twice shy." Accordingly the Sutherland Royal Commission was appointed to make a probe and through examination by Messrs. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., and R. S. Robertson of Mr. F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the hydro, the singular fact has been disclosed that since this inquisitive board sent in its requisition the Hydro Commission has prepared a new set of estimates different again from those of Mr. Murray. It bases them on the higher costs prevailing and upon the possible earnings of 1925 and 1930, when it is claimed the population served will be greater.

Now a milepost has been reached where the New York expert is being called by Mr. Hellmuth, who is the friendly counsel named to get out the evidence. Much public curiosity exists, no doubt, as to what he may say. If he sticks to his guns and holds his figures of May last were sound, then he will naturally be asked how they are to be reconciled with those given by Mr. Gaby in September and October, and which show estimated earnings of $43,000 a mile. If he admits that four months allow of such wide differences, then his report will have to be discarded as a basis upon which the Government was asked to assume liabilities of many millions.

The discrepancies between the two estimates and the changes made by the Hydro Commission from proposals submitted to municipalities and then to the Government have been thrown into bold relief by the evidence. They justify the contention of Controller Jutten of Hamilton and other interested representatives that before the radials are proceeded with the matter should be resubmitted to the electors.

"LEST WE FORGET."

Our great British bard has sung those prophetic words, "Lest We Forget," when the war was still raging. Heedless of this warning, we, the contemporaries of the greatest event in history, are fast forgetting its obligations and its lessons. That is why the second anniversary of Armistice Day should be observed in our national and religious life, and why we hail such a movement as the "Canadian Vimy Memorial Church Offering" as a most opportune reminder.

It will remind us first of the 60,000 Canadians fallen on the battlefields of France. It will perpetuate their memory right on the soil drenched with their blood, and hallowed by their sacrifice. It will, furthermore, be a monument not only to death, but to victory. The success of the Canadian troops at Vimy Ridge will thus be inscribed in everlasting characters near the spot where their victory was so gallantly won.

The Canadian Memorial Church will thirdly remind us of that wonderful international bond of the great war when the "khaki" and the "horizon blue" fraternized in the horrors of the same trenches, often in the comforts of the same mug, and most of all in the glory of the same triumph. The church in Lens, with its religious and social activities, bringing comfort and cheer to a despoiled mining population, will show the French that their Canadian allies are their friends in eras of peace as much as they were in times of war.

The Vimy Church will lastly be as a milestone on the road of church union. During the war chaplains of different churches and Y. M. C. A. workers fraternized without any denominational rivalry. Now all Protestants of Canada are joining hands in this great enterprise, showing that more and more they are willing to be of one mind and to pursue the same goal.

The great majority of Canadian churches are joining in the movement, and we hope that it will be a great success in our city—which has never been behind any other when its spirit of patriotism and generosity has been appealed to.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Many have plans to make the world a better place in which to live, but they expect others to carry them out.

Writing of November the poet wails, "The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year." But that was written before there was an Armistice Day.

British sailors look with suspicion on the German mariners who come to London. It seems that "the watch on the Rhine" has been succeeded by "the watch on the Thames."

It seems that in some of the Government's dealings with the returned men, the latter are regarded as refugees who came to Canada after the Germans signed a peace pact, instead of being regarded as men who were contented citizens of the Dominion and went overseas, and after four years of nerve-racking and bloody work made the German sign the paper because he chose to tear up another one.

UNITED STATES STILL AT WAR

[Quebec Telegraph.]

It may surprise some people who have not given much thought to the present status of the United States in regard to the Great War to know that, correctly speaking, our neighbors are still at war with Germany.

Mr. Lloyd George, in a political speech at Llandudno, Wales, declared that "the conflict of parties in America had led to the result that they have not yet signed a treaty of peace with Germany." He asserted that if there had been a conflict like that in Great Britain, the latter would have no peace, and there would have been no treaty.

"There are some who criticise the Treaty of Versailles," the premier declared. "Better that than that a state of war should be going on for years and nothing done."

Mr. Lloyd George added that there were some people who imagined that to ignore disagreeable facts was proof of exalted principles.

The United States was not so much involved in the war as the countries of Europe, he pointed out. It came in late, and then put forth colossal efforts.

Its assistance was crucial and determinant, but it did not have the time to make the same sacrifices as the other belligerent countries.

The burdens of war in the United States were heavy, but not comparable to those of Europe.

From Here and There

TOO WONDERFUL TO BE TRUE.

[St. Louis Star.]

A man from a bone-dry Arkansas community went to a wet Missouri town and was invited by an acquaintance to have a drink. In the saloon the friend asked: "What are you going to have?"

"Have?" dreamingly returned the visitor, blinking at the glorious array of barreled and bottled goods. "I ain't goin' to have nuthin'."

"What do you mean, Gabe? You won't have a drink after coming all this distance?"

"Nope!" answered the Arkansawyer. "There hain't no such place as this. I'll wake up in a minute."

PANAMA CANAL PAYING DIRECT.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]

The Panama Canal has finally begun to pay. During the last fiscal year the waterway earned a surplus over expenses of more than $2,000,000, with a total income of more than $8,000,000 in the handling of more than 2,500 commercial vessels, besides numerous naval units which passed from ocean to ocean. It is believed that the canal will soon pay interest on its original cost. At present the surplus is eaten up by an accumulated deficit in operating costs. It will require several years to wipe that out.

VIGOROUS AT 102.

[Boston Manuscript.]

How many women and men enjoy a walk of several miles at the age of 102 years? There are few New Englanders today who have never ridden in a machine, fewer who would not like to ride in one if they could, and but one or two who scorn the automobile and enjoy a walk of several miles when past the age of 102 years. Mrs. James Russell of Worchester, Mass., lays claim to all these distinctions. At the advanced age she performs all the household duties in her son's home, takes care of all the mending without the aid of glasses, does the family washing every week, and instead of grumbling at its size, admits often that she would like to "take in" washing again to prove her mettle. She attributes her longevity and exceptional powers to endurance to her parents, her mother having lived to be 98 years old, and her father was 104 when he died.

A GREAT GRANARY.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

In an article in the current Forum on "Britain's Crusade for Trade," P. Harvey Middleton gives an account of what has been done by governmental and private organizations to strengthen the hold of the British trader and manufacturer in foreign markets to show that the British businessman is today determined to recapture the trade won from him in pre-war days by the Germans. Great Britain today his enormous resources to draw upon. Mesopotamia is certain to become one of the great granaries of the world as a result of the irrigation system planned by British interests. The absorption of German East Africa will enable the British railroad builder to realize his dream of a line from Cape to Cairo. German Southwest Africa and other German colonies will yield rich returns to the British miner and agriculturist. The new treaty with Persia—frequently described as the greatest diplomatic stroke since the acquisition of the Suez Canal shares by Disraeli—will give the British Government a controlling interest in the Persian oil fields, which, Mr. Middleton thinks, may well be one of the big factors in paying off the British war debt.

SYLVIA'S RED NAVY.

[New York Times.]

A part of the evidence on which Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was held for trial in England related to her efforts, as she herself described them, to "win the navy for communism." The methods used were simple. Admitting that it was "very difficult for our comrades in the navy to bore from within," boring had to be done from without. Therefore, all communists who had relatives or friends aboard a war vessel should "make it their business to write to them," especially "urging them to become class-conscious." By keeping this up long enough and hard enough, the English communists might be able to join "Comrade Lenine" in crying "Hail, the Red Navy!"

This end may be glorious, but the means to it must be pronounced inadequate. The dilettante and doctrinaire spirit is completely revealed in the suggestion that sailors be required to become class-conscious. That comes from books, not life. Imagine Mrs. Sykes ashore writing to her husband, the bos'n's mate, not to ask him if he is getting his grog regular, not to demand that he send her two quid more a week, but to urge Bill to do his duty and become class-conscious! In reply Bill would be apt to use language that should be addressed to no lady, though it might do Sylvia good to hear it.

THE DEMAND FOR EQUAL REPRESENTATION.

[Edmonton Journal.]

With a Dominion census to be held next year and a redistribution of the federal constituencies to follow, a movement has been started to change the basis on which such redistribution is made. The rural parts of the country have always been over-represented. This was demonstrated very clearly in the last Ontario elections, when the U. F. O. returned the largest number of members, with the Conservatives in third place, whereas the Conservatives had the largest popular vote and the organized farmers in the general vote came third. Toronto, with one-fifth of the population of Ontario, sends to Ottawa only six out of Ontario's 82 members. The average Montreal member represents more than twice the number of people that the average Quebec rural member does.

The long-standing inequality is due to the supposition that the farmers lack organization for political purposes, and are likely to be represented by many whose homes are in the cities, with the result that, if the division into ridings were made on an equal basis, the cities would have too great an influence. This reasoning may have been sound under old-time conditions. But now, it is argued, the farmers are well organized, and have set out to secure control of government by making a class appeal. Why, then, it is asked, should they be given more weight in the affairs of the country than their numbers entitle them to?

An answer to this is not easy. For several years back, as the farmers' movement in politics has progressed, the Journal has pointed out from time to time that in the end it might mean the loss rather than a gain to those on whose behalf it was instituted, as it was inevitable that it would lead to such a demand as is now being heard, and that must have attention paid to it. It has quite as logical a foundation as the cry of "One man, one vote," which carried an irresistible appeal.

THE DIVIDING OF TURKEY.

[Montreal Gazette.]

The end of Turkey as an important power is suggested by the treaty to which Great Britain, France and Italy are partners, for mutual support in maintaining their sphere of influence in what were the sultan's dominions. When the Crimean War was fought, to keep Russia out of Constantinople, Turkey included in Europe, Rumania, most of what is now Serbia, Bulgaria and Albania; while in Asia, Arabia, Syria, Palestine—practically all of Asia Minor—and Mesopotamia were under the Sultan of Constantinople. Under a strong, capable government, such a territory might have been a world power. The Turk's vigor was gone, however, and one after another the sultan's provinces went, till today he rules, nominally, over an insignificant strip of Europe and a limited area along the southern shore of the Black Sea. He would lose what is left also, no doubt, but that the powers concerned have not agreed how to divide it.

The latest treaty, which is in keeping with the general understanding of the treaty of peace with Turkey, will not likely be attacked by any large European power. Russia is paralyzed by internal troubles. Germany, which had ambitions to be an Asiatic over-lord, is helpless from war losses, disrupted trade and curtailed territory. Greece, France and Italy will control the whole Asiatic coast of old Turkey down to the borders of Egypt. Arabia, or Hedjaz, will be a protected independent state. Mesopotamia will be British. A company on which the three countries will be represented, will construct a railway stystem to serve the three spheres of influence, which may be expected, perhaps, after some local fighting, to become practical dependencies of the powers concerned. The change, though the peoples it affects have had no voice in making it, may be expected to be to the economic and administrative gain of the territories covered. Peace and the just administration of the law restored prosperity to Egypt. They can do as much for the greater region covered by the new treaty. The making of the arrangement does not show that the League of Nations is seriously considered by some of the principal members. The terms of the agreement imply that the three powers concerned may yet find themselves opposed to the greater body.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT CANADA?

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S QUESTIONS.

1—The Lake of the Woods has more than 30,000 islands.

2—Le Loudre was the vicar-general of French Acadia, who incited the French and the Indians against the English after Acadia became English territory. He died a prisoner of the English on the Island of Jersey.

Poetry and Jest

DIVIDED BLESSING.

[Frederic W. Pangeorn.]

Oh, mother heart, bowed down by sorrow's load,
Gaze not so blankly on this baby face;
Think not, like one condemned for wilful sin,
There is not, even here, some meed of grace.

But yesteryear I knelt, like thee, in woe,
Beside an infant's coffin, like to thine;
With dripping eyes my blinded sight was dim;
I loved that baby, for it had been mine—

And was mine still, though then I knew it not,
For hearts thus hurt are not to reason given;
It seemed that it could never more be mine,
That I was all of Earth and it of Heaven.

And thus I mourned, nor aught of comfort found,
'Till, like a gentle shower from heaven above,
There came the thought: Though taken from my arms,
Death cannot take my baby from my love.

I cannot feel his snowy, dimpled arms
Soft pressed about my neck, nor see his face.
But still, forever, in my secret heart,
This baby fills a love and has a place.

There is no sentiment in human soul,
Save one which does not some time find a death;
Love only will outlive the longest life;
Love is not measured by the lease of breath.

And so 'twill be when, Time has wrought his work,
When Nature's solemn law hath had its will;
The tender memory will yet be mine;
In death's last hour I'll love my baby still.

Oh, little face, oh, calmly pallid brow!
So full of rest from trouble's touch so free;
There have been times when in this life of mine,
My soul has yearned that it might rest like thee.

Sweet rest, the kindliest boon of all our good;
The only state unmarred by any blight;
It comes to all, but when to such as thou,
We see it in its full, most perfect light.

See mother heart, how perfect is this rest,
How like a lily folded by Death's kiss;
No past, no present, naught but perfect peace
And answer: Could you give him rest like this?

Behold what justice, see what equity,
The blessings even of this great sorrow prove;
Rest for the tender nursing of your heart,
For you a pure, undying holy love.

POLITICAL COMPLICATIONS.

[Town Topics.]

Mistress: "How did you happen to leave your last position?"

New Maid: "The lady fired me."

Mistress: "Ah, she was dissatisfied!"

New Maid: "Naw. She was a sorehead. I run for alderman ag'in her and won."

DUTY.

[Richmond Times-Dispatch.]

Could I but do one worthy deed,
Or write one living line
To fill the measure of my need—
Could I but sow one fruitful seed,
Then were contentment mine.
Could I but sing one living song
To banish mortal pain;
Could I but right one crying wrong
Or help one weaker soul along,
I had not lived in vain.

So vast the universe, so cold
The peaks to which we climb,
So grey the skies, the stars so old!
So many sheep strayed from the fold
And so swift fleeting Time!
Strive as I may, somehow it seems
That each succeeding sun
Finds me yet distant from my dreams
On paths rock strewn, with swollen streams
And no day's journey done!

Yet must I carry on the fight,
Still I must do my best,
So, when I pass from out the night
Into the day, into the light,
My weary soul may rest!

GOOD LISTENERS.

[From the London Express.]

Among the really charming people of this world there must be numbered those who listen well.

It is a sublime art. Only those of inexhaustible patience and endless interest in humanity ever attain to it.

The undiscerning soul cannot always detect the difference between a good listener and one who merely says nothing; yet talking to the former is one of the pleasantest things in life, and to the latter like whispering down a well.

Since men love to talk, it is perhaps only natural that the best (and worst) listeners are women. There is something irresistible to a man in the sight of two pretty eyes stimulated into expression by his powers of conversation.

But when it is recalled what impositions must be put on a good listener. . . . what tedious monologues . . . . what egotistical outpourings . . . .

One wonders if the punishment is not greater than the reward.

TO HIM WHO SANG OF VENICE.

[James T. Fields.]

To him who sang of Venice, and revealed
How wealth and glory clustered in her streets,
And poised her marble domes with wondrous skill,
We send these tributes, plundered from the sea.
These many-colored, variegated forms
Sail to our rougher shores, and rise and fall
To the deep music of the Atlantic wave.
Such spoils we capture where the rainbows drop
Melting in ocean. Here are broideries strange,
Wrought by the sea-nymphs from their golden hair,
And wove by moonlight. Gently turn the leaf,
From narrow cells, scooped in the rocks, we take
These fairy textures, lightly moored at morn.
Down sunny slopes, outstretching to the deep
We roam at noon, and gather shapes like these.
Note now the painted webs from vermurous isles
Festooned and spangled in sea-caves, and say
What hues of land can rival tints like those,
Torn from the scarfs and gonfalons of kings
Who dwell beneath the waters.
Such our Gift
Culled from a margin of the Western World,
And offered unto Genius in the old.

Every Man For Himself

BY HOPKINS MOORHOUSE.

Two things were phain to Kendrick as he listened with interest to Old Nat's homily upon the caprices of the eternal feminine—that this high-spirited motherless girl and her father were very close to each other and, paradoxically, that he knew nothing of her present masquerade as a stenographer in Ferguson's office. For masquerade it evidently was, and Kendrick's mind raced along new channels of speculation which this realization opened up.

He was eager to get away and at the risk of discourtesy he emptied his glass rather hurriedly, refused a second one, refused an invitation to stay to lunch, and once outside the grounds fled in untoward haste.

He went upstairs at the Recorder building two steps at a time and found himself at last in the little cubbyhole where Chic White sat, surrounded by walls that were papered with half-tone pictures of pugilists, baseball and football stars, and other athletic celebrities. Phil was rather amused to note his own picture in football togs among the rest. It served to open a desultory conversation which had no bearing at all upon the object of his visit. It was some minutes before he finally veered to the subject of women in athletics and from that to women in newspaper work and from that again to the women members of the Recorder's staff. In response to his somewhat too casual inquiry concerning Miss Lawson, Chic sat back and grinned provokingly.

"Sure Mike! She's on the staff," he admitted after indulging in that disgusting habit of his, an extra-dry spit. "She does special assignments for McAllister. Fact is, she's out of town now on one of 'em.

He eyed Kendrick shrewdly.

"Some doll, eh? But you aint got a look-in, Ken. Why say, boy, there aint a guy on this rag that wouldn't walk up a church aisle with Cris Lawson any old time she passed the high sign. She's got 'em all buffaloed. But they say she'n' the Boss understand each other pretty well, anyway she's sportin' a solitaire," and again White grinned and sat deliberately.

Phil got out as fast as he could. He was in a strange state of exhilaration at this discovery which not all the gossip of a hundred newspaper offices nor all the solitaire diamond rings that ever were could have dampened just then.

He hastened now to the office of Blatchford Ferguson over at the Brokers' Bank Building, buttonholed Conway and informed him that he had an important message for Miss Williams which he must deliver in person at once. Miss Williams was not there any more—had handed in her resignation last night.

"Rather sudden, wasn't it?"

"I should say so! We all knew she was here only temporarily, but she certainly left rather suddenly. Young Roy over there was awfully stuck on her; he hasn't been fit to live with all day."

"Do you know where I could catch her now? Did she leave any address?"

"Why no, she didn't," replied Conway. "I believe she expected to be married soon to a chap in Buffalo and I rather think that's where she went."

Kendrick bit his lip for a moment considering. Then he asked for the telephone directory, thought better of it and decided to call at the office of the Alderson Construction Company unheralded. The young man who came to the counter was Jimmy Stiles himself, Kendrick surmised; but he merely asked to see Mr. James Stiles.

"That's my name," said the bookkeeper, casting a glance of quick suspicion at the caller.

"Glad to know you, Mr. Stiles," smiled Kendrick, holding out his hand, and he passed his card, dropping his voice to a more confidential tone. "I wonder if you'll do me the honor to take lunch with me in an hour's time, or if that's not convenient——?"

"Why? What do you want?" Stiles' face paled slightly, Kendrick thought. He glanced over his shoulder rather nervously, too, as if fearful of surveillance. "I—You are a stranger to me, sir. I do not see why—that is, do not know what——" Plainly he was embarrassed by the invitation.

"I want to talk to you on several important matters of considerable interest to yourself. I have some questions to ask you concerning Miss Cristy Lawson," said Kendrick directly.

"Oh, you have? How d'you know I got answers to them?" There was no question about the pallor of young Stiles now. 'She aint nothin' in my young life an' I don't know's I got the time."

"Listen here, Stiles," said Kendrick sharply. "I'd advise you to meet me as I suggest—in your own interests. let us say. I happen to know a few things which must be cleared up at once and only you can do it. Understand? You don't want me to start something and—well, spill the beans? Do you?"

"Wh—what—er—beans?" stammered Stiles, plainly frightened.

"I'm not talking about Boston baked anyway," smiled Phil. "You won't get hurt if you play fair with me." He frowned. "I guess you know what I'm referring to. Will you take lunch with me and talk it over pleasantly or do you want me to go and see Nickleby?

"Well, we aint buyin' no more stationery just now, sir. Call again some time. Perhaps later on we may be needin' somethin'."

"Oh, very well then," nodded Kendrick easily, at once sensing the effort of a clerk to overhear the conversation—a man who had sauntered over to the counter and was making pretense of examining a directory within earshot of the two. "Our carbon paper is exceptionally fine. If I call someday about—shall we say twelve-thirty?"

"Yes, that hour will be O. K., sir," he said aloud. "Thanks. Meet me at the corner," he added in a whisper.

So Jimmy Stiles was being watched in that office thought Phil as he went down in the elevator. What for? Who by? A couple of more questions to add to his collection. Well, they'd go over to the Island residence for their lunch where they would be undisturbed. He had telephoned already to Mrs. Parlee to secure luncheon for two, and dropped into the National Club to fill in the interval till twelve-thirty.

Sharp on time Stiles put in an appearance at the appointed place, but he demurred upon learning where Kendrick was proposing to take him.

"Gee Whiz! I got to get back to the office inside an hour," he objected.

"I'll promise to get you back on time," assured Phil. "The launch is moored down at the Canoe Club and she can do forty-five under pressure."

In spite of Kendrick's efforts at conversation on the way over, it was not until they were comfortably seated in the library that he undertook to know what was in his mind.

"I think perhaps your appetite will be improved, Jimmy, if we talk before we eat," smiled Phil. He offered his cigarette-case. "There is no reason why you and I should not be good friends."

Having first satisfied that there was no doubt whatever of young Stiles' loyalty to Nathaniel Lawson, he proceeded to recount briefly the events which had led up to his discovery of the real identity of Miss Margaret Williams. The extent of Kendrick's evident knowledge startled Stiles, if his nervousness was any criterion.

(To Be Continued.)

"My! How I did used to dread having the Threshers come—but I don't mind now."

"WHY, a year ago I could no more think of cooking a big dinner than I could fly.

"I did not seem to have any strength then, and a little extra work or excitement would use me up for a week.

"The doctor said my nerves were weak and that I had nervous prostration. I certainly was nervous and irritable. I was always worrying about something.

"It all looks very foolish now. But that is just the difference between being weak and strong.

"Why doesn't every woman use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when she gets rundown in health?

"But I suppose they do not all know about it or do not realize what it will do for them. Then perhaps some of them do not use it long enough to build up their exhausted nervous systems.

"One thing sure, the women of this community will know all about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for they know how miserable I was, and I will see that they know what I used to make me well.

"I certainly did get into a terribly rundown condition, but no one would believe it to see me now since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can now take a real pleasure in life and its activities.

"And why shouldn't I? I sleep like a top, enjoy my meals and get outdoors where the fresh air and sunshine help to keep me feeling fine.

"I don't believe people appreciate good health until they have been sick for a time. I am sure that I did not. The credit for my splendid health now is undoubtedly due to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I want every woman to know it."

LITTLE MR. IMPORTANCE.

Part Thirteen.

Rastus knew something exciting was going to happen that day. It was many months since he had first started to take up a collection for the Sick Children's Hospital, and as usual he was at his place on the city hall steps. Hundreds and hundreds of dollars had he collected, and he was indeed the little hero dog of the city. Would you believe it, Rastus was not a bit vain any more. He had learned that a dog should do its duty without being proud of his accomplishments, but just the same he did like to think he was a little bit important after all.

"Yes, there was a great number of dogs at the dog show," said a man as he passed Rastus. "How the little dog did prick up his ears then. So there was a dog show in town! Were Pete and Tim, his old friends there, and had they won prizes? he asked himself.

Poor Rastus, he could not carry out his work that afternoon, so eager was he to find out all about his old friends. For the very first time since he had been stationed there, he deserted his post, and ran off. Where to, do you suppose? Why to find the dog show, to be sure. As luck would have it the building, where the dog show was held was not far away, and Rastus' sharp little ears soon picked up the sound of barking dogs that led him to the door. He skipped past the man at the door without being seen.

What a barking the dogs set up as Rastus went by their stalls, but Rastus did not notice them. He was looking for the Boston terriers, and soon he found the little short nosed fellows. But where were Pete and Tim? Rastus could not see them. What a pair of dogs those were there, and what long names they had over their stalls. One of them was a champion, too, Rastus heard one of the dogs whisper. Rastus had never seen a real champion before, and he walked closer to have a good look.

"Why hello, Rastus," cried the handsomest dog of the pair. It was Pete and he was the great champion. The other handsome dog was Tim.

How surprised and delighted the three dogs were. Tim was a little disappointed that Pete had become a champion first, but he would soon be a champion, he told Rastus. "And what you done in the shows?" Pete asked.

"Nothing," Rastus answered, a trifle ashamed, but he added, "You see I'm a collector dog."

"Not the collector dog—the dog the papers call Little Mr. Importance—the most important dog in all the world!" cried Pete. Sure enough, Rastus was the dog. He hadn't known until that very minute that he was the most famous dog in the country and that his picture had appeared in all the papers, along with the story of his hard work to get money for the new hospital.

"What's being a champion to that!" cried Pete, after he had told Rastus how proud they were of him.

Rastus suddenly realized what it all meant. By trying to be just a good little dog he had accomplished the ambition of his life—and was really and truly a very important little fellow. After bidding his old friends good-bye and wishing them the best of luck, he was off again to the place on the city hall steps—for there was lots of money yet to be collected, and Rastus did love doing his duty, even better than being important, which shows, that after all he was a fine little dog.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make 16 ounces—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Blair of St. John's, Newfoundland, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. G. Hunt, Hayman Court.

Miss Ann Scratcherd has returned to New York after visiting Mrs. S. J. Belton of Hyman street.

Miss Blanche Coppersmith, of Grey street, has returned after a visit with friends in Windsor and Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Milton Sutherland of Ottawa has returned home after spending the week-end with his uncle, Mr. Charles Sutherland of Lakeside.

The Rev. S. S. Hardy of Goderich, accompanied by Mrs. Hardy and their small daughter, are guests with Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, Shea Apartments.

Miss Helen Baker won the ringer contest, which was recently brought to a close by the Ladies' Golf Club, the prize having been donated by Mr. George Belton.

This afternoon a very large bridge party is being held at the Kennels by the Ladies' Golf Club. It is said that there will be about 40 tables in progress during the afternoon.

Mrs. E. B. Smith is to be the hostess of a buffet luncheon party to be given at the Kennels on Tuesday next in honor of Miss Joan Arnoldi, regent of the National Chapter, I. O. D. E. Mrs. Smith is asking the executive of the Municipal Chapter as guests at the luncheon to meet Miss Arnoldi.

On Monday afternoon the pretty new home of Mrs. John Diprose, Piccadilly street, was the destination of many a caller, for on that day she received for the first time this season, with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Cummings. Golden 'mums, glowing in the firelight, made the reception-rooms most attractive, while in the dining-room, crysanthemums were used again with pretty effect. Mrs. Nelson George ushered to the tea room, while Mrs. Joseph Johnston presided over the tea table, assisted by Mrs. G. F. Copelan, Mrs. Durst, Miss Luta Laymon and Miss Pearl George.

A very pleasant gathering was that held at St. Paul's Rectory yesterday afternoon, when the Dean and Mrs. Tucker held a reception for the city clergy and their wives. The spacious old rooms of the rectory were made more beautiful with simple clusters of flowers placed here and there, while in the dining-room white crysanthemums and smilax adorned the tea table. Here Mrs. E. B. Smith and Miss Annie Elliott presided over the tea cups, while Mrs. Gordon Philip cut the ices. They were assisted by Miss Dona Waller, Miss Anderson, Miss Edmonds, Miss Olwen Williams and Miss Murled Tucker. Mrs. Clarence Foreman and Miss Matthews ushered to the tea room.

The guests present included the local Anglican clergy and their wives, as well as a few others, among whom were Col. and Mrs. Walter Brown, Mrs. Brown's sister, Miss Deike of Washington, Mrs. Becher and Miss Kate Elliott.

Yellow 'mums and roses lent their beauty to the rooms of Mrs. Frank Lawson's home on Cheapside street, Monday afternoon, when her daughter, Mrs. Duncan McArthur of Kilworth, received for the first time since her marriage. The hostess was wearing a handsome gown of dark brown velvet with corsage of Sweetheart roses, while her mother, who received with her, was in black and wore orchids at her girdle. Many guests called on the young bride, and were ushered to the tea room by Mrs. Ray Lawson, who wore a black velvet gown and smart black hat. Here a silver basket of yellow flowers centred the tea table over which presided, Mrs. F. G. Newton of Sarnia, a house guest, and Mrs H. E. Yeates, Mrs. Newton wearing a pretty gown of grey taffeta and Mrs. Yeates in black lace. They were assisted by Mrs. E. V. Buchanan, Mrs. Hugh Shuttleworth, Mrs. Beresford, Mrs. Frank White and Miss Jean Jarvis.

Mrs. Ainley Stewart Thompson received for the first time since her marriage at her home, Baker street, yesterday afternoon, when a host of friends called. She received her guests in the pretty living-room, where red and gold 'mums were used pleasingly as decorations, wearing her wedding gown of white georgette with overdrape, embroidered in pearls and a corsage of roses. Receiving with her was Mrs. Ainley Thompson in Belgian blue charmeuse wearing Ophelia roses and her mother, Mrs. Daniel Black of Dutton, in navy charmeuse and georgette with corsage of red roses. In the tea room, to which the guests were ushered by Mrs. Jack Stevely and Mrs. Wm. Thompson, the flower decorations were red and gold pompons with smilax and red candles. Here Mrs. C. E. Norris, in a handsome black gown, presided over the tea urn, assisted by three house guests, Miss Elva Hollingshead and Miss Mary McWilliam of Dutton and Miss Pearl Smith of Sarnia, as well as Miss Margaret Purdom and Miss Margery Talbot of London.

PARDY—JOHNSTON.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Johnston, Melbourne, on November 3, when their eldest daughter, Anne Mae, became the bride of Dr. W. V. Pardy, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John Elder. The bride was unattended, Miss Annie Maud Johnston, cousin of the bride, playing the wedding march. Dr. and Mrs. Pardy will reside in Mount Brydges.

HUNT—ADDISON.

St. Mary's Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday last, when Miss Terese M. Addison, youngest daughter of Mr. Chas. Addison, of this city, became the bride of Mr. Thomas J. Hunt of Toronto, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hunt of Oakville, the Rev. Father Dignan officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a smartly tailored suit of nigger brown broadcloth, handsomely embroidered and trimmed with opossum, a corsage of Ophelia roses and a becoming French hat completed her costume, and her only ornament was the groom's gift, a handsome string of pearls.

Miss Edna Partridge was bridesmaid, wearing a becoming suit of navy tricotine with hat to match, and corsage of Sweetheart roses. Mr. Wilfrid Addison, brother of the bride, attended the groom. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a silver mesh bag, and to the best man sterling military brushes. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. T. Lenehan, 8 Hyatt avenue, after which the happy couple left on a short honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt will reside in Toronto

RUSSELL—DOUGLAS.

A quiet wedding took place at New St. James' Presbyterian Church on Tuesday at 5 o'clock, when Huella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Douglass of 206 Central avenue, was united in marraige to Dean Richmond Russell, Phm.B., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Russell of this city, the Rev. Jas. MacKay officiating. The bride, who was unattended, becomingly attired in a smart frock of navy blue charmeuse and wore the groom's gift, a necklace of pearls, and her corsage was of Ophelia roses and orchids. For going away the bride wore the gift of her father, a handsome seal coat trimmed with beaver collar and cuffs. After the honeymoon, which will be spent in Detroit and Cincinnati, the young couple will take up their temporary residence at the home of the bride's parents, during the absence of the family, who are spending the winter in Florida.

The many and beautiful gifts received by the young couple testify to the high esteem in which they are held. Among the presents was community flat silver from the staff of Cairncross', where the groom was employed and cut glass goblets from the staff of the Boyle Memorial School, where the bride was a teacher. On Monday night her former Sunday school class of New St. James' Church presented her with a beautiful cut glass flower basket, overflowing with American Beauty roses. The bride's gift from her mother was a handsome silver tea service and other gifts included silver, cut glass and several handsome checks.

W. C. T. U. DRAWS MEMBERS' ATTENTION TO LIST OF VOTERS

Held Prayer Service For Spracklin At Rooms Yesterday.

At the regular meeting of the local W.C.T.U. yesterday afternoon, Mrs. May R. Thornley called attention to the fact that the voters' lists were posted in the postoffice and hte city clerk's office and that any adding of new names would have to be done before November 19. She referred to the fact that 50,000 new names would become eligible for the list this year, and that the Government had postponed the taking of the referendum so that the new names might be added. Mrs. Thornley urged the members to see that their names were on the list.

The prayer service at the meeting, conducted by the Rev. H. B. Robinson, took the form of a petition on behalf of the Rev. Leslie Spracklin of Windsor and his wife. Mr. Robinson paid a big tribute to Mr. Spracklin and letters of sympathy and delight at his exoneration were sent from the union to Mr. Spracklin and Mrs. Spracklin.

Convention Report.

The main feature of the meeting was Mrs. Paterson's report on the Provincial and Dominion W.C.T.U. convention in Smith's Falls and Windsor, N.S. This report brought out the following interesting figures: That in 1919, as many as 68,000 girls were found to be missing and in the same year, 1,500 girls were missing in Canada. These figures occurred in the report of the Dominion Traveler's Aid secretary, Dr. Detwiller. The report also showed that the Y.M.C.A. [illegible] $0,000,000 cigarets left from war-time supplies, a fact that the W.C.T.U. could hardly believe of a Christian organization. This same report also referred to the fact that 21 countries have now enfranchised their womanhood and that W.C.T.U. women should also see that women were put in public life; that the W.C.T.U. deplored the increased use of cigarettes by young people of both sexes and that marriage certificates should only be issued when both parties could submit a clean bill of health.

When mention was made of the banishing of Hearst publications from Canada, Mrs. Thornley declared that if every woman would call a dealer's attention to Hearst publications, when she saw them on the bookstalls, much might be done towards banishing them.

New Vice-President.

At yesterday's meeting two vice-presidents were appointed, Miss Cannell and Mrs. Chapman, and all the superintendents of departments as follows: Evangelistic, Mrs. Sallon; Canadian Citizenship, Mrs. Gordon Wright; Colored Union, Mrs. West; Canadian Mardorel Union, Mrs. McLandress; fair superintendine, Mrs. Ashplant; anti-narcotic, Mrs. ent, Mrs. Ashplant; anti-narcotic, Mrs. Berry; Indian work, Mrs. Lyons; law enforcement, Mrs. Deacon; Little White Ribbons, Mrs. Palmer; medical and scientific temperance, Miss Hart; militia and soldiers' comforts, Mrs. White; and soldiers' comforts, Mrs. White; moral education and mothers' meetings, Mrs. Harrison; parlor meetings, Mrs. Sussex, Mrs. Gregory. Mrs. Thurlieu, Mrs. Agnew; temperance and S. school, Miss Long; prison reform, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Robinson; systematic giving, Mrs. Gairns; railroad work, Miss Barker; traveler's aid, Mrs. Harrison; soap wrappers, Miss Ingram; White Ribbons, Mrs. Isaacs; press reporter, Mrs. White; pianists, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Hoffman.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

LOVE.

Flowers may weave a garland,
Gold may link a chain;
But love alone can form a tie
Unbroken to remain.
—Charles Dickens.

A Successful Cake.

Dear Miss Grey,—Many thanks for all the help I have received from the Mail-Box. I tried the wedding cake recipe and had success. My friends said it was good, and so I can recommend it to others who have a bride-to-be. Would be pleased to get the rug patterns Etak sent in. Also would like to get a root of huckleberry if any Boxites had one to spare. Hope I may be of some help another time. Inclosed find my mite for S. C. H. fund.

ELIZABETH ANN.

Ans.—I am extremely pleased that the wedding cake turned out satisfactorily; the guests must have been tempted to eat all their share instead of keeping some to dream on. I am sending you the patterns. Thanks very much for the mite.

Still More Seeds.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sorry to have kept you waiting for the seeds that I promised, so am sending some now and will send more later. Will you send me some poppy seeds?

CINDER ELLA.

Ans.—Thank you very much for the seeds, Cinder Ella. I am sorry, but here is a list of those in at present, and if you care for any other kind, let me know, and I shall forward them to you: Marigold, hollyhocks, morning glory, asters (pink and mixed), cosmos, four o'clocks, spring phlox, larkspur, canterbury bells, besides the purple petunia, sweetwilliam and zinnias which you sent in yourself.

Eggless Pumpkin Pie.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a silent reader of your page for some time, but like many others, am at last coming to trouble you.

Would you kindly send me some comic recitations or readings; also the stocking foot pattern?

Here is a hint I expect would be handy just now: To take sweet apple or any apple stains out use oxalic acid. It will also remove rust and ink stains.

Am inclosing my recipe for pumpkin pies when eggs are scarce, also my mite for S. C. H.

BLUE EYES.

Eggless Pumpkin Pie—Large two-thirds cup white sugar, two soda biscuits rolled fine, one large cup of pumpkin, pinch of salt, some nutmeg, cinnamon and ginger to suit taste. use small ½ teaspoon cinnamon and small ¼ teaspoon ginger and one small cup of milk.

Ans.—Many thanks for the hospital mite, also for the recipe and hint for removing stains. The stocking foot pattern and recitations have been mailed to you.

Attention, Firefly.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—I see where Last Rose of Summer has not received her order of poppy seeds, so I'm sending three more packages (all that I have) for the Mail-Box. Can supply more hollyhock seeds if there is any scarcity.

Hope someone answers Maiden Old's query, as I, too, am interested. With best wishes. THE NUN.

P. S.—This is how I adjusted the stocking foot. Cut out of old stockings according to pattern, sew up heel and toe. It now looks like a slipper. Put on your foot the stocking to be repaired. Slip on the slipper and pin firmly in place. Sometimes it is necessary to leave a piece of old stocking half way down the front of foot. Take off and sew, then cut out old heel, sole and toe. It pays for the time spent on it.

Ans.—The poppy seeds arrived and thanks very much. They are already on their way to those requesting them. Also thanks for the information regarding the S. F. P., which will be of interest, I am sure, to Firefly.

Around the Grate Fire.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—1. Is a girl of 15 too young to have a boy friend accasionally. 2. I have fair hair, grey eyes. What is my color? I am inclosing some morning-glory seeds for Mailbox use. They are all colors. 3. What is good for cleaning grey nubuck shoes? I tried gasoline and it turned them darker in spots and lighter in spots. 4. Could I have them colored another color with good results, do you think? 5. They are black kid bottoms and grey tops. What color other than grey would go with black?

CARNATION.

Ans.—1 Yes. 2. Any shade of blue. 3. There is a cream that may be obtained at any shoe store that is quite satisfactory. 4. Yes. 5. Back is about the only color that they could be dyed. I have mailed you the address you asked for. I guess you must have forgotten the seeds, Carnation.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have copied mitt directions and return them to the Mail-Box. Wasn't that what you meant me to do? Thanks to Heather Bell and Thistle for kindly sending them. I am neither bright or stupid, and not at all conceited. But hope to manage the directions. SNOW APPLE.

Requests and Mites.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am an interested reader of your Page, and, like others, am coming to you for help. I noticed where Betty Brown had sent in directions for knitting mitts on two needles. Would you please forward same to me? Inclosed find mite for the hospital fund.

MRS. W. A. W.

Ans.—I have put your name on the waiting list for directions sent in by Betty Brown, and will forward them as soon as possible. Thanks for the hospital mite.

COOKIES and SMALL CAKES

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

WHEN the children romp in hungry as young bears, here are some wholesome, economical delights that will not only be received with glee, but will satisfy the most ravenous appetite in a most wholesome manner.

Cookies

½ cup shortening
2 cups sugar
½ cup milk
2 eggs
½ teaspoon grated nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract or grated rind of 1 lemon
4 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder

Cream shortening and sugar together; add milk to beaten eggs and beat again; add slowly to creamed shortening and sugar; add nutmeg and flavoring; add 2 cups flour sifted with baking powder; add enough more flour to make stiff dough. Roll out very thin on floured board; cut with cookie cutter, sprinkle with sugar, or put a raisin or a piece of English walnut in the center of each. Bake about 12 minutes in hot oven.

Cocoa Drop Cakes

1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup milk
1½ cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
½ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream shortening; add sugar and well-beaten egg; beat well and add milk slowly; sift flour, baking powder, salt and cocoa into mixture; stir until smooth, add vanilla. Put one tablespoon of batter into each greased muffin tin and bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Cover with boiled icing.

Orange Cakes

4 tablespoons shortening
1 cup sugar
½ cup milk
1 egg
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon orange extract
grated rind of 1 orange

Cream shortening; add sugar slowly, beating well; add milk a little at a time; then add well-beaten egg; sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to mixture; add flavoring and grated orange rind; mix well. Bake in greased shallow tin, or individual cake tins, in hot oven 15 to 20 minutes. When cool cover with orange icing.

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

LII.—Fifty Dollars.

To say that I was miserable over my failure was to completely underestimate the situation!

I rushed blindly from the theatre, out into the blessed light of day.

I had been so proud of my voice, too'—the voice that aunt and all my friends had praised.

But there was no financial value in that voice, it seemed. How conceited and foolish I had been to imagine anything of the sort!

"I must put all thoughts of a stage career behind me," I told myself, resolutely.

My reflection in a shop window caught my eye. Yes, I looked pretty. Well-dressed, too, in a garish sort of way.

"But good looks are no real asset in the battle of life," said I, pedantically, and not quite truthfully. Then, sighing:

"And I'm trained for absolutely nothing!"

It was a sunny morning. Quite early, too. I began to feel the pangs of hunger. I had had no breakfast.

"After all, one failure mustn't discourage me," I kept saying to myself. "Everyone has these ups-and-downs."

"Oh, how I hate these grubby little eating-houses!" I turned up my nose at a modest doorway which showed an interior of marble-topped tables, dingy coffee-urns, and linoleum-covered floor. "The fine sniff of steam and stale cooking takes my appetite away."

But common-sense and ordinary prudence assured me that such placesc were my financial level. My worldly all consisted of ten dollars, and a couple of well-filled trunks. The latter wouldn't realize much, if turned into hard cash!

"I don't care! I'll have a decent meal, daintily served—even though I have to starve all day afterwards!"

Thus did I defy fate.

And presently, near Fifth avenue, I discovered some pretty little tea-rooms. I climbed the staircase of one which led upwards into a suite of airy apartments, with little lead windows overlooking the avenue.

The windows were wide open, so that—seated at a tiny oaken table in a corner—I could pop my head out, and almost sniff the fragrance of a great basket filled with purple pansies which a flower-seller was vending in the street below.

The traffic sounded cheerful, too. My spirits rose.

For I am naturally mercurial. When fate has "dope her darndest," I unexpectedly revive.

A trim waitress with a tartan bow fixed jauntily at the fastening of her collar, came toward me with a menu in her hand. She had a cheerful smile.

A delicious odor of coffee filled the place.

I ordered omelette—savory, omelette—done with mushrooms, and toasted scones and marmalade, and a pot of coffee. The waitress brought fresh rolls, and large pats of golden butter, and a little dish of raspberries and cream.

It was a heavenly meal. For the time being, I forgot my troubles, and reverted to Just Girl—a hungry girl!

I was unfitted for the stage. I realized that fact in time.

Secretarial work appealed to me. I'd try that first.

So I sought out a typewriting place which advertised itself as an employment agency.

"What is your speed, miss?" inquired a pert female, who peered at me from behind a big bureau.

"My speed?" I repeated, stupidly.

"Yes. Shorthand and typewriting—both. We expect at least 120 words a minute shorthand, and 70 on the machine. Can you do that?"

My heart sank.

"I—I haven't learned either shorthand or typewriting. I thought you might find me a secretarial post—"

The pert female gave a scornful laugh.

"But I could learn!" I faced her resolutely.

"Well, an employer doesn't pay a secretary to learn her job! She pays for that herself—in lessons. It's a school you want—not an employment agency! You can attend our classes upstairs for fifty dollars for the course."

Fifty dollars! I hadn't got the money!

"How long does the course take?" I stammered.

"Oh, about six months, if you work hard," came back the airy answer. Then, more kindly:

"Look over there! These fourteen girls on the other side of the room are all fully trained, and all applying for jobs. We can't supply them all. I'd advise you to leave secretarial work alone. The market's overstocked!"

Tomorrow—Difficulties.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

FAITH.

From a Biblical source comes the charming Faith, which sprang into popular usage during the vogue of Puritanical names. The prevalence of appellatives which denoted abstract virtues marked the beginning of Puritanism in England, and many such names came under the ban from other classes because of the widespread dislike of the "Roundheads."

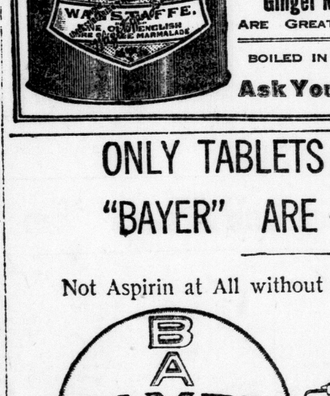

But the simple beauty of Faith as well as the divine virtue for which the name was symbol, kept her popularity undimmed. For was she not one of the trio whom St. Paul recommends to the Corinthians, saying: "And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

The Puritans brought Faith to New England when they migrated from their native land, and the name has been universally popular there, at the same time spreading to other sections of the courty. It is one of the few feminine appellatives which cannot be contracted

The pearl is Faith's talismanic gem. It is a fitting symbol of purity for its wearer, who will possess enviable charm and affability and have many friends. Wednesday is her lucky day, and 5 her lucky number.

50 Years Ago

a young man who practiced medicine in a rural district became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. He finally made up his mind to place some of his treatments before the entire United States and, moving to Buffalo, he put up what he called his Favorite Prescription, and placed it with the druggists in every State and in Canada.

That was fifty years ago. For fifty years this Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce's has sold more largely throughout the United States than any other medicine of like character. It's the testimony of thousands of women that it has benefited or entirely eradicated such distressing ailments as women are prone to.

For over fifty years some of Dr. Pierce's home medicines have been selling over the drug counters, so that more than forty-eight million bottles have been sold during that time. This speaks well for the reliability and value of Dr. Pierce's standard home remedies. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood tonic and strength-builder which contains no alcohol, yet has tonic qualities that have endeared it to the American public. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap, have long been considered a reliable vegetable laxative, in the same way that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womankind. More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's—namely, Anuric (anti-uric-acid), has been successfully used by many thousands of people who write Dr. Pierce in unqualified terms of the benefits received—that their backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble have been completely conquered by the use of Anuric.

Soccer Meeting Saturday Marks New Era For Game

London and District Group of O. F. A. To Be Formed At Open Meeting Means Replacement of W. F. A.—Two Soccer Divisions Likely For London.

Saturday, O. F. A. football will practically take over the functions of the W. F. A. at an open meeting to be held in this city.

It undoubtedly means, for London alone, a scale of soccer hardly contemplated a couple of years ago, and if it does that for London, where the game was never strong until this year, it will do much more for St. Thomas and Sarnia, where soccer has had a fairly large following and a persistent band of enthusiasts every season in the past.

Playing fields which must be easy of access affects soccer perhaps the least of any pastime played, such is the loyalty of its followers. And London possesses the necessary playing fields, if they are not centrally located, to carry on with two divisions for next year, if it is found advisable to introduce that many soccer teams in one season. Both St. Thomas and Sarnia are in splendid shape right now for the enlargement of the game in each of the cities and are planning to that end.

Both cities will be represented at the Saturday meeting, at which the London and district association will be formed.

The introduction of a new organization into the football affairs of this district should do much to quicken the local spirit. The W. F. A. in many ways was a splendid organization, and for years kept the game going against every kind of obstacle and despite the apathy of people who had been weaned away from soccer.

The O. F. A. comes in at a time when the pastime is experiencing a healthy revival, and with its organization, should be the factor giving ultimate stability to soccer in this end of the province.

HERRMANN TO PRESENT PLAN TO THE MINORS

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 10.—With the opening shots fired in the scramble to win the support of the National Association of Minor Leagues, August Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnatis, and a leader in the organization of the new twelve-club league, is to address the convention of minor leaguers here today in an appeal for indorsement of the Lasker plan for baseball reorganization.

Mr. Herrmann will attempt to offset the favorable impression created among the minor league leaders yesterday by Ban Johnson, president of the American League, and George W. Miller, the American League attorney, who urged the minors to appoint a committee of three to meet with a simliar committee from the major leagues in a final effort to avert a baseball war. President Johnson, in opposing the Lasker plan, told the minor leaguers that the management of baseball should remain in the hands of men who have devoted their lives to the sport, instead of being turned over to men outside the game.

Sexton Favors Plan.

What action the minor leagues will take in the major league dispute remains problematical, but it is expected they will consider both plans in executive session, and then refuse to take sides in the issue, leaving the threatened war to the major leagues for settlement. "I do not see how we can be expected to take sides in the situation," said M. H. Sexton, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, today. "President Johnson of the American League very frankly asked us not to show any favor to either side. I think it would be the only fair thing to do. It is my opinion that the minor leagues will not give any consideration to the Lasker plan. We are satisfied to govern our own affairs, as we have done for the last two years, at least until some definite plan for a new national commission with minor league representation, is created.

The proposition made by President Johnson to the minors yesterday, promising them equal representation in the formation of a new national commission, sharing equal power with the National and American Leagues, seemed to be favorably received. For a score of years the minor leagues have fought for such representation, but without success.

CLASS BABY'S RATTLES AS ATHLETIC GOODS

Lansing, Nov. 10.—Infants' rattles are henceforth to be classed as athletic apparatus by the Michigan State boxing commission. Tom Biggers, the commission's chairman, so decided yesterday, when application for a "bale of baby rattles" was made by Superintendent Montgomery of the State School for Orphans and Abandoned Children at Coldwater.

Among the commission's duties is the distribution among schools of athletic goods purchased with a fund drawn from boxing bouts in the state.

The Coldwater requisition was the first to include athletic equipment for such young athletes, but Biggers was quick to decide that rattles could be so classed. The state's wards at Coldwater range in age from several months to 16 years.

OTTAWA TRYING TO CAPTURE BIG GAME

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—Ottawa is making a great effort to land the big football classic between Varsity and McGill. Controller Kent is in communication with Varsity and McGill officials with a view towards having the game played here. He is offering special inducements for the game, and will have a seating accommodation arranged for the greatest crowd that Ottawa has ever turned out to witness a final.

WOULD CANCEL PERMITS.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—(By the Canadian Press).—Discussing today the deception of Toronto people in connection with the substitution of Billy Cannon for Frankie Burns last Friday night, Capt. Archibald, Ottawa's representative on the Ontario boxing and wrestling commission, said: "If the facts are as alleged, those responsible for the affair should have their permits cancelled and should be barred forever by the commission. It is very unfortunate that the charge should be made against the first man to receive a referee's license under the new act."

Capt. Archibald commended Secretary Fitzgerald for instituting the investigation, and said he was confident the commission would get to the bottom of the fiasco.

WOULD LEGALIZE BOXING.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—A bill to legalize boxing in the state was ready to be presented to the city council today by Ald. Joseph Kostner. The bill as a whole is similar to the one drawn up by the alderman last year, and is to be presented in the State Legislature by its sponsors after submission to the city council for indorsement. It provides for a state athletic commission of three men to be appointed by the governor. The bout shall not be longer than ten rounds, and six-ounce gloves must be worn.

Off the Ropes and Mittin' 'Em

Ted Lewis with his family has sailed for England, where he expects to pick up the l.s.d., which translated into exchange, probably makes boxing just as profitable in England as in America. Lewis, when he returns, wants to have another chance at Britton, who changed punches and crowns with him successfully. They might match him with Johnny Basham.

• • • •

Th golf game between Carpentier and Dempsey made some of the old fight fans fairly rock with surprise. It was not so in the old days, they claimed. As a matter of fact, they don't need to go back to the time Charley Mitchell chased Jim Corbett all over New York, looking for a rough and tumble, or to the numerous other times when if the principals themselves didn't throw things at each other the meetings were postponed by members of the rival camps taking swings at each other. As late as the Burns-Johnson preliminary negotiations, real fighting feelings were introduced into offices where articles were signed. Burns was licked long before he ever stepped into the ring at Sydney with the black. When they met to sign articles, it was with difficulty Burns was kept from going to the mat with the big black, and thereby geting whipped three months ahead of time. Burns whipped himself from that moment, for he lapsed into a sullen anger against Johnson, while the black, knowing Burns' displayed weakness, paced on it with taunts, when he got the white man inside the ropes. Australian fight fans believe to this day that if Burns had kept his head, he would never have been beaten by Johnson, that trip at least.

• • • •

The mix-up over the Valger-Burns (Gannon) bout in Toronto is being sifted to the bottom. According to a dispatch published in the Toronto Globe, Nate Smith, Philadelphia sportsman, has turned on Secretary Fitzgerald of the Ontario Boxing Commission, which stopped the fight, by saying that Lou. E. Marsh, who made up the bout, knew that substitution was being made. Recap, the Philadelphia sporting writer, who was responsible for the fight, sends the dispatch and it might conceivably be intended to put Marsh in wrong with Toronto fans without there being much foundation for Smith's assertions. Marsh was third man in the ring at the Wallace-Wills mix.

• • • •

At any rate, the Ontario Boxing Commission showed that they are more than a name and intend to clean up the sport. They have a big job on their hands, but their quick action in this affair and the follow-up is a clear indication they intend to handle it.

BECKONS SHARKEY

JIMMY WILDE, the British Atom, has wired Sharkey an offer of $25,000 to meet him in London. Sharkey's verdict over the Britisher in his first American fight has sort of riled English fight fans, who would like to see their idol wipe off that doubtful smudge.

JOHNSON WANTS MINOR LEAGUES TO BE NEUTRAL

"Ban" Urges Them Not To Take Sides in Baseball "War To Finish."

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 9.—The minor baseball leagues of the country in convention here today were urged by President Ban Johnson of the American League to follow a "hands off" policy in the baseball war, and to take no action that would be partisan to either side.

President Johnson, here for the announced purpose of preventing the minors from joining with the new National League in the Lasker plan of reorganization, addressed the convention this afternoon.

Proponents of the new league and the Lasker plan will appear later. The political shake-up in the National Association of Minor Leagues, which, it was rumored, was being engineered by the faction said to be favorable to President Johnson in the baseball war, failed to materialize. John H. Farrell was re-elected secretary for ten years, and Mike Sexton of Rock Island was re-elected president, but will not accept or reject the office until tomorrow.

Efforts were made to have Sexton replace Farrell as secretary, the chief office, but enough votes were not mustered. It is planned, however, to give Sexton a salary of $5,000 per annum. Heretofore he served without compensation. Previous to his address before the convention President Johnson issued a statement, declaring that "it was war to a finish," and that the American League would place new clubs in Chicago, New York and Boston to replace those joining the new National League.

"What baseball needs is to get rid of some of its recalcitrant club owners," he said.

Which probably means that Ban places about a 110 per cent discount on Mr. Austrian's re(marks).

• • •

The fact that Mr. Fultz sneers at the idea of the Lasker plan being accepted by the minors probably doesn't worry anybody very much. About the time the International meeting rolls around he'll be able to join in with Ban, with a falsetto on the chorus: "When I was pres-y-dent."

WATERLOO TO ENTER O. H. A. JUNIOR SERIES IN 1921

WATERLOO, Nov. 9.—Following the meeting at the Commecial Hotel here, the announcement was made of the organization of a junior hockey club for Waterloo. The club executive claims there is excellent material available in the town for a world-beating sextet.

The officers of the new organization are: Honorary presidents, E. F. Seagram, A. Hergott, R. Lang, M. Rischer, Herb Kuntz, A. G. Haehnal and Tom Seagram; president, Ed Schlosser; secretary-treasurer, "Dep" Kumpf; manager, Ed Roos; executive, John Ziegler, Sim Kieswetter, Jerome Sehl, Leo Cotey, L. Ban Has No Control Over Players of New League Says Chicago Counsel Players Belong To Clubs Which Are Voluntary Members of League—New Circuit Prepares For Fight.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The American League has no power to hold the players on the three clubs which have joined the new National League, and every man on these clubs can play in the new organization next year, according to an opinion given tonight by Alfred Austrian, attorney for the two Chicago major league clubs, and adviser in the drafting of the Lasker plan for reorganization of the game.

Mr. Austrian's opinion was rendered in response to statements from representatives of the five clubs which are backing Byron Bancroft Johnson, in the baseball war, that the league owned all its players, and that the Chicago White Sox, New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox Clubs consequently could take only their ball parks into the new league.

"The players belong to the clubs, and their contracts are made with the clubs," said Mr. Austrian. "The league is merely a voluntary organization which has no contract power over the men, other than to prescribe certain clauses which may be put into contracts. I do not care to say at present whether even this power, which voluntarily has been given the league, is lawful.

"There is no doubt, however, that the Chicago, New York and Boston Clubs, formerly of the American League, may take their entire playing personnel into the new National League, regardless of claims to the contrary which may be made by Mr. Johnson and his five backers.

The new National League, however, is preparing for extensive court action, and expects numerous injunctions to be applied for by the five American League clubs before they permit the players on the other three clubs to be taken from the league, according to representatives of the new organization.

Expect Fight.

"We expect bitter court battles," said one club owner, "but we have proceeded carefully, and have no doubt as to the outcome. The new league is composed of the money-making clubs, and they are ready to spend every cent necessary to win."

This club owner pointed out that if necessary, the Chicago, New York and Boston Clubs could put teams of amateurs in the field as their representatives in the American League, if they so desired.

The three former American League clubs are made up of many of the stars of the game, including "Babe" Ruth, Dick Kerr, Ray Schalk, John Collins, Carl Mays, Harry Hooper, Duffy Lewis, Jack McInnis, Bob Shawkey, Roger Peckinpaugh, Schang and Ward.

BRANTFORD DIRECTORS OFF TO MINORS' MEETING

BRANTFORD, Nov. 9.—President Roy Brown and T. J. Nelson of the Brantford M. and O. League Club are in attendance at the meeting of the minor league magnates.

Doubt exists as to whether the local magnates favor the Lasker plan or not, although it is hinted both are behind Comiskey. They left for Kansas City to enforce the payment of $1,000 from the Boston Red Sox for Centre Fielder Orme, and they expect to get the money.

BIG LEAGUE STARS TO PLAY IN SOUTH

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 10.—Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Nationals, leading batter of the National League last season, Bubbles Hargrave of the Cincinnati Reds and "Al" Sothoron of the St. Louis Americans, are among the major league stars, who will play baseball this winter with the Florida West Coast Winter League. A number of minor league players also will be in the lineups of the Tampa, Tarpon Springs, Sarasota and St. Petersburg teams which make up the league. The schedule calls for an eighty-four game season, opening November 18, and closing February 22.

KITCHENER MAKING NO MOVE TO COAX PARKES FROM PROS

Mike Kaplansky Is Manager Again For This Year—Other Officers Announced.

KITCHENER, Nov. 9.—The Kitchener hockey team officers have been announced, following a conference here today. They are: Secretary, E. Roschman; treasurer, A. E. Pernfuss; manager, Mike Kaplansky. The appointment of "Kap" is manager is received with general favor throughout the Twin City district.

The Kitchener senior hockey interests are making no move to keep Ernie Parkes, who is reported to have signed up with the C. N. A.

While Manager Kaplansky willingly admits that the loss of Parkes to the team at this time is a severe blow, it is generally admitted that nothing is being done to argue him out of his decision. If Parkes cancels his contract with the professional outfit it will be of his own free-will, without any coaxing from his associates here. This is not because Ernie is not popular, but because his erstwhile companions are loath to interfere with any ambitions which the star may have. When he leaves town it will be with a salvo of genuine good-wishes.

CITY CAN BORROW MORE CASH 1921

Increase in Assessment Gives More Power to City Fathers.

Ten million dollars increase in the assessment for 1921 will make the task of financing the city during 1921 a less complicated one for the city fathers than during the present year. Current revenue will be increased as a result of it, and the borrowing powers of the city will be considerably expanded.

By legislation passed in 1906 London's borrowing power is fixed at 14 per cent of the assessment on all its rateable property. The increase in assessment being $10,000,000, this means that the increase in borrowing powers will be $1,400,000. The previous limit of borrowing was about $6,152,000, so that with this addition it will now be about $7,500,000.

Against this there is a debt of about four or five million dollars. The gross debt is more than this, but debentures for a number of projects are not charged against the borrowing powers of the city, as they are self-sustaining.

CITIZENS WITNESS PARTIAL ECLIPSE OF SUN THIS MORNING

View Partially Spoiled For Londoners by Cloud.

The fourth eclipse of the sun this year was witnessed by a great many citizens and Normal students this morning. The eclipse was only a partial one, and so did not throw a shadow over the earth. The eclipse commenced about 9 o'clock, and the shadow passed completely over the sun at 11 o'clock. Though the maximum of the shadow was not clearly seen in London because of a cloud, Professor John Dearness said that people a few miles distant from the city were able to get a very good view. The sun's rays were not strong enough today for the use of smoked glass and could easily be seen with the naked eye.

This eclipse, Professor Dearness claims, follows one which occurred two weeks ago, though not visible in this part of the world.

JOHN BRIDGE IS NEW PRESIDENT C. OF C.

John M. Moore Elected First Vice-President at Meeting Today.

Ald. John Bridge was elected president of the local Chamber of Commerce when the new board of directors held its first meeting at noon today. The other officers are: 1st vice-president, John M. Moore; 2nd vice-president, T. W. McFarland, and treasurer, D. McArthur. These officials will hold office for the ensuing year.

MIKE O'DOWD GETS DISPUTED VERDICT

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Mike O'Dowd, former middleweight boxing champion, outpointed Jeff Smith in a 15-round match at Madison Square Garden here tonight. The judges disagreed and the referee awarded the bout to O'Dowd.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.—Advt.

City Briefs

ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.—Charles Cox of this city was charged in police court today with using abusive language towards his wife. He was allowed to go with a warning. A breach of the motor vehicle act brought a fine of $5 and costs on the head of a local citizen. Another paid $2 for an infringement of a bylaw.

SUIT OVER AUTOMOBILE SALE.—E. W. Scatcherd has entered a writ in the county court on behalf of William John Gray against R. W. Seed, asking for the remission of a contract between the plaintiff and the defendant for the sale of an automobile. The plaintiff alleges misrepresentation and breach of warranty, and asks for the return of $425, the purchase price paid, and for $30 to cover costs of action.

BUILDING FIGURES.—Building figures for the month have reached a total of $123,780, compared to $109,960 in November last year. A permit was issued to Thomas Janes today to erect a two-story brick dwelling on the Wortley road at the cost of $4,000. Decreased prices for building material may result in greater activities along this line, Building Inspector Piper said. Shingles are selling at lower prices than for some months past. Prices for some grades of lumber are also lower. Hardwood flooring in particular has showed signs of a decline, he stated.

TWO ALIMONY CASES FOR SUPREME COURT

Nine Cases Entered for Trial Before Judge Middleton Monday.

Nine cases in all have been entered for the non-jury fall assizes of the supreme court, which opens Monday. Two of the nine cases are actions for alimony.

Mary F. Routledge, in an action against William W. Routledge, C. P. R. engineer, states that she was married in July, 1886, and lived with her husband until some time in 1915. The defendant in his defence, alleges that his wife refused to get his meals for him or prepare anything for him to eat.

Alice Smith is the plaintiff in the other alimony action, against her husband, Clarence A. Smith. They were married in July, 1913, and the plaintiff claims that as early as October, 1913, her husband became disagreeable and quarrelsome. He objected to her visiting her parents, and one occasion, she declares, he forcibly took her from her father's house, took her home and locked her in a room. She left her husband in October, 1919. The defendant counterclaims that his wife carried various goods and belongings away from their home.

The London Shipping Containers, Limited, has entered an action against J. C. Murton, alleging non-payment for $5,000 stock subscribed in the company. It is claimed that he agreed to pay $2,500 last January, and the balance within six months from the date of the agreement made last December. The defendant claims that he cancelled his subscription before the delivery of the stock, and also that the agreement to purchase was signed on a Sunday, and therefore illegal.

Arthur E. Morley has entered an action against Irenaeus Lewis and Albert Lewis to set aside a deed transferring some property from the defendant, Albert Lewis, to his father, Ireaaeus Lewis. The plaintiff secured a judgment last winter against the defendant, Albert Lewis, for $800 for alienation of the affections of the plaintiff's wife, and claims that the transfer of the property was an attempt to prevent collection of the amount of judgment. The plaintiff and family preceding the previous case went to live in the home of the defendant, Albert Lewis, and the plaintiff alleges that the defendant turned him out subsequently, while the plaintiff's wife and family remained in the house, at 181 Briscoe street.

Plaintiffs in an action against Emma O'Meara, alleging wrongful possession of a house at 509½ Richmond street, are Michael J. Donohue, Kate Conroy, and George Omstead of Detroit. The defendant is the widow of Patrick O'Meara, and claims that the house in dispute was a gift from her husband's father, the late Stephen O'Meara.

The five cases with four others previously entered will be heard in the court which opens Monday before Judge Middleton.

AMERICANS ANXIOUS TO BUY CANADIAN FLAX

American fibre mills are evidently much more anxious to secure Canadian flax fibre than they openly admit. S. F. Glass, M. P., is in receipt of letters from the Canadian Consolidated Sales Corporation, with headquarters in the Bush Terminal Sales Building, New York, offering to place Canadian fibre in American mills at favorable prices. Similar letters from other firms also refer to reports of statements made by Mr. Glass to the press regarding the Canadian flax situation, and it begins to appear that the Americans, realizing the extent of British competition for the Canadian flax crop, are preparing to pay better and fairer prices.

GOVERNMENT LOAN APPROVED.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Approval of a government loan to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad of $7,662,000, for improvements, was announced today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

SIR GEORGE FOSTER TO PLACE WREATH AT FOOT OF MONUMENT

Canadian Statesmen Will Be Present When Cenotaph Is Unveiled.

London, Nov. 10.—(By the Canadian Associated Press.)—Hon. Sir George E. Foster and Hon. C. J. Doherty of the Canadian federal cabinet, and Hon. N. W. Rowell, an ex-member, will have places with the British cabinet around the cenotaph erected in London in memory of the British killed in the war when the king unveils it tomorrow. Sir George Foster, the senior Canadian privy councillor, will deposit a wreath of maple leaves at the foot of the monument on behalf of the Dominion of Canada. The Canadian party will then follow his majesty and the royal princes on foot to Westminster Abbey, where the body of an unknown soldier is to be buried. Practically all accommodation close to the cenotaph and in the abbey has been reserved for the widows and women who lost only sons in the war. The applications for seats have been overwhelming. Canadians who have been allotted places are Lady Drummond of Montreal, Mrs. Eaton and Mary Osborne of Ottawa, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Curry of Nova Scotia and Mrs. McLagan and Mrs. Winslow of British Columbia.

COMMISSION MAKES VISIT OF INSPECTION

Hydro-Radial Investigators Return From New England Trip.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—The Sutherland royal commission, which is investigating the hydro-radial program in Ontario, has returned from a trip through the New England states, where a study was made of the electric lines there. It is expected that the sittings of the commission will be resumed on November 22, W. S. Murray having expressed his ability to be present and give evidence at that time. The testimony of Mr. Murray, who is the New York engineer engaged by the hydro-electric commission to make the special report last spring, is awaited with a good deal of interest.

ADVISES AGAINST PRIVATE PRACTICE BY CROWN OFFICERS

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Crown Attorney W. L. Haight of Parry Sound gave evidence before the public service commission at Osgoode Hall today. He was of the opinion that crown attorneys should not engage in private practice, but that their territorial districts should be widened and a salary adequate to the value of their whole time be paid them.

INJURED BY TRUCK

Samuel Davis Shows Improved Condition This Afternoon.

The condition of Samuel Davis, 136 Mount Pleasant avenue, is reported to be greatly improved by the physician attending him. Mr. Davis was hit by a truck driven by R. Laughton, 102 Wharncliffe road, at the foot of Dundas street hill, at 6:15 Tuesday night, while he was riding his bicycle. Mr. Davis sustained bad cuts and bruises, and was removed to Victoria Hospital, where an X-ray examination was made at noon today to discover if any bones were broken.

POZZOLI ELECTED MAYOR.

Rome, Nov. 10.—The Socialist propagandist, Tarquinio Pozzoli, was elected mayor of Cremona by his party, which was victorious in the municipal elections of Sunday last.

Pozzoli, who deserted from the army during the war, was recently released from jail.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Gains exceeded losses at the end of an active session on the stock exchange this morning. Buying orders came on the market this morning for some of the issues that have been heavily liquidated during the past week, and these had a steadying influence on the remainer of the list.

Atlantic Sugar, after declining a point to 39, became quite active, and the noon close come with the price of 43¼, a gain of 3¼ points. Abitibi, Spanish River, Brompton and Brazilian were steady at yesterday's closing prices. Steamships common continued its steady slide, and closed at noon at 52, a loss of 2¼ points; the preferred stock was down a point to 70½.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

LOWER MEAT PRICES ON LOCAL MARKET

Large Market Not Expected Thursday, Say Officials.

No produce of any kind was offered at the local market square this morning. Several changes in the quotations of dressed meats for the remainder of the week were made. Dressed hogs will be selling at from $22@23 per cwt; choice veal, weighing from 100 to 125 lbs, from $23@25; those weighing 85 to 100 lbs, $21@24; heifers and steers, 500 to 600 lbs, will sell for $18@20, and those weighing 400 to 500 lbs, $16@17; choice lambs, 35 to 40 lbs, are expected to bring from $24@25, and those weighing 25 to 35 lbs, from $22@23; these are wholesale quotations.

Hindquarters of pork, retail, will bring 28c per lb, while fronts will sell for 26c; beef, hindquarters, will sell for 23@25c, and fronts at 18@20c; veal, hindquarters, will sell for 35c, and fronts at 30c; lamb, hindquarters, are expected to bring 35@38c, and fronts 20@32c.

Officials said they did not expect a large market on Thursday, owing to the fact that in many of the surrounding towns the day had been declared a half holiday.

TORONTO, Nov. 9.—Hay—Baled, on track, carlots, $30@32 per ton; No. 1 loose, $38@39 per ton.

MONTREAL, Nov. 9.—The baled hay market was weaker with prices reduced.

BEANS.

Ridgetown, Nov. 10.—Beans—Selling price, $3 35.

COTTON.

Liverpool, Nov. 10.—Cotton—Futures closed steady; Nov., 14.18d; Dec., 14.12d; Jan., 13.96d; Feb., 13.86d; March, 13.75d; April, 13.67d; May, 13.59d; June, 13.51d; July, 13.42d; Aug., 13.27d; Sept., 13.12d; Oct., 12.98d.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—Fairly heavy buying at the opening sent wheat higher this morning; November opened ¾c higher at $2 00½; December 1½c higher at $1 86½, and May ¼c higher at $1 90½@1 92.

November oats opened ⅛c lower at 60c; December unchanged at 58c, and May unchanged at 62½c.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Opening: Wheat—$1 79½; March, $1 76.

Corn—Dec., 78c; May, 82⅝c.

Oats—Dec., 49¾c; May, 55c.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Announcement that no general curtailment of rural bank loans in Kansas was contemplated had a bullish influence today on the wheat market. Upturns in foreign exchange tended also to lift prices, and it was said that for the first time in months there had been acceptances of wheat by the British royal commission. Buying was general, with strong houses in the lead. Opening prices, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to 2½c higher, were followed by material gains all around.

Corn strengthened with wheat. After opening unchanged to ⅝c off, the market scored a general upturn.

Oats were governed by the action of the other grains, starting at ¼c to ⅞c decline, and then climbing somewhat.

PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Provisions reflected firmness of grain and hogs.

LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Cattle—Receipts, 184; cattle trade opened fairly fast; no choice cattle had been sold, but prices are about steady; common to medium grades steady to a little stronger; canners remained at $3 50; butcher steers, choice, $11@12 25; good, $10@11; medium, $7 50@10; common, $6@6 75; butcher heifers, choice, $10@11 50; medium, $7@10; common, $5 75@6 75; butcher cows, choice, $8 50@9 50; medium, $6@8; cutters and canners, $3@5 50; butcher bulls, good, $8@9 50; common, $4 50@6; feeding steers, good, $10@11 50; fair, $9@9 50; stockers, fair, $6 25@8.

Calves—Receipts, 189; choice veal calves are selling strong; top price was $18 50; there are more of this quality on the market than for some time; choice, $16 50@18 50; medium, $13@16; common, $6@11.

Milch Cows—Choice, each, $100@160; springers, choice, $125@165.

Canadian dollars, 10 13-16 per cent discount.

STANDARD STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Dome Extension, which yesterday rearhed a high level of 50, sold at 48½ at this morning's session of the mining exchange. An odd lot of 100 shares, however, sold at 50. Keora was unchanged at 15¾, while McIntyre showed a decline of 1 point to 193. Mining Corporation was quoted at 165, and Temiskaming at 30½. Sales approximated 34,560 shares.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Morning sales: Dome Extension, 3600 at 48, 100 at 50; Dome Lake, 11,500 at 3; Hollinger, 500 at 550; Keora, 5000 at 15¾; McIntyre, 400 at 193; Porcupine Crown, 100 at 22, 1000 at 22½; Preston East Dome, 1000 at 2½; V. N. T., 2000 at 23; Wasapika, 3000 at 10, 500 at 10½; West Tree, 1700 at 5; Mining Corporation, 1500 at 165; Temiskaming, 1000 at 30½; McKinley, 500 at 47; Dome Mines, 10 at 13.50. Total sales, 34,560 shares.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Nov. 10—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Substantial recoveries from yesterday's extreme depression were made by many leading shares at the opening of today's stock market, the rally being facilitated by short covering. Crucible rose 2½ points, probably as a result of its excellent annual report. Mexican Petroleum, yesterday's weakest feature, rose 2½, Pan-American 1½, and Royal Dutch 1. Gains of 1 to 2½ points marked the initial dealings in American International, Baldwin Locomotive, United States Rubber and Retail Stores. United States Steel rallied ½ point, and some of the rails were fractionally better. Further weakness was shown, however, by sugars and tobarcos, rumor associating those issues with prospective dividend reductions.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—The local stock exchange was a little steadier during the early trading this morning, and with the exception of Atlantic Sugar, which made another new low record today, touching 38, most of the issues were firmer. Abitibi was stronger by 1¼ points. Brazilian gained ¼; Brompton lost ½ point over-night, while Laurentide dropped ¾. National Breweries was weak, falling off ¼ point during the first half hour. Spanish River went up ½ to 84½. Wayagamack dropped 3 points. Other issues were quiet.

COLLECTION FOR VIMY RIDGE CHURCH NOV. 14

All Protestant Churches in City Will Be Asked to Contribute to Fund.

On November the 14th, all the Protestant churches of the city and throughout Canada are being requested to take a collection towards the erection of a church at Lens, near Vimy Ridge as a memorial to the Canadians who fell in the war.

A quantity of literature has been sent to the Y. M. C. A. where ministers may call and get what amount they require. The churches taking this collection, or individuals who wish to contribute can send the remittances to Montreal to Brigadier General J. G. Ross, C. M. G., 142 Notre Dame street.

The majority of the churches in this city will take a special collection towards this fund.

A new C. P. R. water-tank is to be erected in Chatham immediately, according to Superintendent McKillop. The material for the work is already on the ground.

ALL THE COMFORTS.

After spending many years in the chilly atmosphere of the old G. T. R. freight office, which was destroyed at the time of the freight shed fire, the clerical staff are now enjoying the comforts of a steam-heated office room. A steam plant has been installed in the building at a cost of several thousand dollars. The G. T. R. station is now heated by steam also.

MUCH SWEETNESS HANDLED.

Fifty cars of sugar beets are being handled into Chatham every day by the C. P. R., according to Superintendent R. McKillop of the local division. A few cars are also being shipped to Kitchener. Owing to early preparations the road has been well able to handle the heavy crop.

STARTED TODAY.

Work was started this morning on the laying of team tracks by the C. P. R. at Carron avenue, Windsor. Although plans for this work have been prepared for many months construction work could not be started owing to a protest entered by the city of Windsor. The railway board recently affirmed a previous decision allowing the company to build the sidings.

BISHOP MACDONELL DIES

Well-Known Churchman Expires in Cornwall Hospital.

Cornwall, Nov. 10.—His Lordship Bishop MacDonell of Alexandria, Ont., passed away at the Hotel Dieu Hospital this morning, having been a patient there for several weeks.

The Rev. William Andrew MacDonell was born in the township of Charlottenburgh, County of Glengarry, being the son of the late Donald Archibald MacDonell. He was educated in the common schools of Glengarry, and at St. Joseph's College, Ottawa, and took his theological course at the Grand Seminary, Montreal. He was ordained in September, 1881, by the late Archbishop Cleary of Kingston, being the first Canadian priest ordained by that dignitary, and was stationed at Gananoque for about four years. In 1886, he succeeded Archbishop Gauthier in the pastorate of Glen Nevis. He later was priest at St. Andrew's west. He was appointed bishop in 1906.

The funeral will take place in Alexandria on Saturday next.

MARYLAND MINERS TO STRIKE UNLESS OWNERS GRANT A CONFERENCE

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 10.—William J. Trickett, secretary-treasurer of District No. 16, United Mine Workers of America, announced here today that there was little prospect of a settlement of the controversy between operators and miners of the region prior to November 15, on which date the workers have decided to suspend operations unless the employers agree to meet their representatives.

District No. 16 embraces the George's Creek and Upper Potomac regions, and a suspension of work would affect about 8,000 miners.

Recently the district scale committee of the union notified the operators that in event the employers did not agree to a conference for the purpose of drafting a two-year agreement before November 15, the men would leave the mines.

CALL SYMPATHETIC STRIKE.

Salamanca, Spain, Nov. 10.—The railwaymen of this district decided to strike today in sympathy with the strikers in this city. Work was at a complete standstill today, all trades having joined in the movement. With few exceptions all stores were closed.

Patrols of cavalry were posted at strategic points in the outskirts of the city while infantry guarded the banks and public buildings. Up to the present no disturbances have been reported.

London Central North Beauty Home

Call without delay and see a lovely red brick, medium-sized home, nearly new and well appointed rooms, den or study, well finished, fireplace, handsome decorations and fixtures, basement cannot be beat, hot water heat, tubs; in fact complete and the delight of a woman's ambition. Must sell, as business necessitates owner's removal to another part of the city. Price cut down $500 for immediate sale. Talbot street north, charming spot and close in; slate roof, good lot. Do not imagine that such a property as this will go down in value in the "hub" of Western Ontario, growing rapid and solid. Many other fine homes, etc., for sale, but this is a dandy. I am at your service.

Stiff Joints Sore Muscles

Smoothed Out By Hamlin's Wizard Oil.

Soreness and stiffness resulting from unaccustomed use of muscles or too much exercise, such as tennis, baseball, golf, hand-ball, etc., give way quickly to the soothing effect of Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It penetrates fast, drives out the soreness, and limbers up stiff, aching joints and muscles.

Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a good dependable preparation to have in the medicine chest for first aid and when the doctor may be far away. It is an absolutely reliable antiseptic application for cuts, burns, bites and stings. Sprains and bruises heal rapidly under its soothing, penetrating qualities. Keep it on hand.

Generous size bottle 35c

NEARLY CRAZY WITH ECZEMA

No rest day or night for those who are afflicted with that terrible skin disease, eczema, or as it is often called, salt rheum.

With its unbearable burning, itching and torturing relief is gladly welcomed.

There is no remedy like Burdock Blood Bitters for giving relief to such sufferers; no remedy that has done, or can do more for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture.

Apply it externally and it takes out the stinging, itching and burning, and promotes a healthy healing.

Miss L. M. Boutilier, 89 Victoria Road, Halifax, N. S., writes: "I have suffered for years from eczema. I could not rest day or night. I suffered great agony, and was nearly crazy with the itching and burning. I used all kinds of salves, but nothing seemed to help me. I saw Burdock Blood Bitters advertised, and was advised to try a bottle. I found great relief, and I really cannot recommend it highly enough for what it has done for me."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for over forty years, and during that time has been manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OUCH! LAME BACK, RUB LUMBAGO OR BACKACHE AWAY

Kidneys cause Backache? No! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain.

Rub old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" whenever you have sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains, as it is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

CAUSE OF FIRE ON DR. MOFFAT'S FARM

Small Boy, With Matches, Caused Damage to Farm Buildings.

The cause of the fire which destroyed the driveshed and poultry barn on Dr. Lloyd Moffat's farm at Varna, Ont., on Monday night of last week, is explained by Robert Jarratt, the hired man, to be the result of matches in the hands of his young 7-year-old son, Jack, while playing after school in the hayloft with his boy chum, Calvin Foster, son of the Rev. Mr. Foster, the Methodist minister of the village.

After school the boys were left alone on the farm, Mr. Jarratt said, and went to play in the hayloft over the driveshed, which had been used as a store place for building materials and discarded household effects.

They discovered an old boiler partially filled with rags and old rubber boots and placed it on an old wooden door and filled it with the dry hay, then the small boy who had spirited away the matches from the house, deliberately lighted the fire. The fireworks, however, seemed to have frightened the boys, for they immediately proceeded to put it out. They tramped on it, and then, to cover up their act, they turned the boiler upside down and made a quick getaway. Thinking the fire had been completely put out, they never mentioned it to their parents.

Later in the evening, about 7 o'clock, Mr. Jarratt states further that he thought he smelled smoke, but on investigating couldn't find the source, and concluding it must be from burning brush or leaves, he gave up the search. Before going to bed, he says, he intended going out to the barn again, but something else took up his attention, and he forgot to do so. He and his family retired early that night, but before going to sleep, the phone rang violently and when he got up to answer it he noticed the reflection of the light through the bedroom window.

Brunswick
PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

Made in Canada.

STYLE "110"

5-ply wood throughout and almost 4 feet high.

Height 45 Inches
Width 19 "
Depth 21 "
Single Diaphragm Ultona
All-wood Oval Horn
Double Spring Motor
12-inch Turntable
Shelf Filing System
Nickel-plated Trimmings
Double Doors

This Beautiful Brunswick Now Only $225

This attractive Brunswick, Style No. 110, is one of the most popular designs, because of its convenient size and attractive lines. The double doors are another exceptional feature in an instrument at this price. It is, of course, equipped with the two well-known and exclusive Brunswick features:

Free With Every Brunswick PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

One genuine jewel point for playing Diamond Disc Records.
One genuine Ceylon Sapphire Needle for playing Pathe Records.
200 Steel Needles for playing Brunswick, Victor or Columbia Records.
Automatically balanced lid.
Speed Regulator.
Automatic Stop.
Tone Modifier.
Piano continuous hinge on lid.

The Ultona

—an exclusive Brunswick invention which plays ALL records exactly as they should be played. By a mere twist of the wrist the Ultona is instantly adjusted to play any make of record with the proper diaphragm, the correct needle and the exact weight. Nothing to take off or put on—no bothersome attachments or extras. The Ultona is complete.

The All-Wood Oval Horn

—built like a violin—is another exclusive Brunswick feature. Its oval shape and entire freedom from metal solve an old problem in acoustics by allowing tone waves to unfold in a way that is rich, mellow and, above all, natural. This feature alone is responsible for much of the wonderful tone of the Brunswick.

At The Theaters

"THE WANDERER" AT THE GRAND TWICE TODAY.

Probably the best known story in the Bible, that of the Prodigal Son, forms the basis upon which the great dramatic spectacle, "The Wanderer," has been constructed by Maurice V. Samuels, its author, David Belasco, its stage director, and Messrs. Comstock and Gest, its producers. "The Wanderer" will be seen twice today at the Grand at 2:15 and 8:15.

It is known to have enjoyed prosperous runs of two seasons in New York, and three months each in Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. The same all-star cast and marvellously beautiful productions as were shown in these cities will be brought here.

An interesting figure of "The Wanderer" will be found in the large flock of sheep, goats and dogs which appear in the first act, almost at the rise of the curtain.

"THE MAID OF THE MOUNTAINS" AT THE GRAND TOMORROW.

Nothing has ever been attempted on such a gigantic scale to supply the wants of a theatre-going public than was the importation to Canada of the entire London cast and chorus of "The Maid of the Mountains," which opens a three-day engagement at the Grand tomorrow, with Saturday matinee.

To secure the world's greatest musical attraction for a tour of America, immediately following its five years record-breaking run at Daly's Theatre in London, reflects great credit upon Mr. George Driscoll, who arranged the tour with representatives of the estate of Geo. Edwardes in London, and amply evidences the fact that the Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited, are ready and willing to supply Canada with the biggest and best theatrical attractions on the world market.

Nearly everyone in Canada is familiar with the story and the music of "The Maid of the Mountains," the returned men, by seeing it while over there, their friends by hearing them rave about it, and the balance of the populace by hearing the music played by bands and orchestras, and finally by hearing both words and music of the songs via "His Master's Voice."

Of all the twenty song numbers, "Love Will Find a Way," is probably the most popular here. Seats and mail orders now.

ALL LONDON IS SEEING AND EVERYONE TALKING OF "OPEN YOUR EYES."

Monday the Majestic was so jammed with the crowds who desired to see that amazing picture, "Open Your Eyes," that hundreds were turned away from the lineup. Tuesday even greater crowds swarmed the theatre. Today is to be another big day. Come early, and secure a seat. Tomorrow may be too late, even if the picture is to be shown all week.

Never has the screen shown a picture which could compare to "Open Your Eyes." If someone a half dozen years ago had said that a photoplay of this sort would be shown to the general public, they would have been hooted. Today the people have learned that no longer is it the false modesty which will protect our young generation, that they must awake, and realize the dangers that beset their paths, as they start out into the world.

A picture which leaves a lasting impression—but a picture which does not depress; a picture with a double purpose, to thrill and entertain, and yet at the same time leave a thought behind. A picture which is full of dramatic power, wonderful scenes and settings, but a picture which deals with that provoking sex problem, and its degenerate relation the social evil, in a most commendable way. That is "Open Your Eyes." Are you going to see it? Are you going to be protected, and are your children to be awakened in a clean, wholesome way to the dangers which line the primrose path? Will you take pride in raising a generation of clean young men and women, to inherit their natural estates of happiness, health and love, or will you let them rush along to destruction in the darkness of ignorance? It is your choice. But, the doctors, the public health institutes, they know, and they highly indorse the picture, and state that everyone over sixteen should see it. Under the law no one under sixteen may witness it. Now's your chance.

HAVE YOU SEEN ATHLETIC ANNEBELLE AS PORTRAYED BY ANNETTE KELLERMAN IN "WHAT WOMEN LOVE."

Speaking of reformers first, both Annebelle and her dad were reformers. Father tried to reform the world while Annebelle reformed mollycoddles. Annebelle's dad failed, for he couldn't ever reform her out of her habits of wearing the coolest of one-piece bathing suits. But Annebelle succeeded. She transformed a cream puff fiend into one hundred per cent caveman. If you enjoy a fast and furious comedy drama, do not fail to see this comedy of love of Sweet William for Peppy Annebelle, in the sparkling super photoplay of the California beaches, "What Women Love," starring Annette Kellerman of the form divine, showing at the Allen for the last time today.

Annebelle didn't need any tonics or a rest cure. The joy of living was in her soul, and the desire to laugh at the world wrinkled her pretty face into an irresistible smile every waking moment. And how she could swim, box, run and dance. Sweet William, his mother called him Willie—couldn't even lace his shoes with a whiff of smelling salts—but he wanted Annebelle—and she wanted a caveman, so Willie decided to become a caveman, and he did. He kidnapped his athletic sweetheart, stood off a boatload of roughnecks, and after the battle saved her honor and—well what could the poor girl do?

Overture, Frimi's "Glorianna"; Allen Canadian News; Chester Outing Pictures of ancient Mexico complete the program, with a most delightful Christie comedy.

AT LOEW'S.

"And do they never come here after they are married?" asked Katherine wonderingly, when the Prince told her how many famous lovers of history had stood on that balcony and exchanged their love vows. That's a queer thing about romantic spots and wonderful views—lovers are so much keener to show them to their sweethearts than to their wives. What is there about a marriage ceremony that deprives a woman of all the power to enjoy fine scenery and interesting trips? Isn't a mountain just as majestic in her sight after as before the wedding? Of course? The difference is in the man's point of view. Probably he has never thought it out and put it into words, but down deep in his heart (if he is an average man) is a comfortable conviction that it isn't necessary, nor especially worth while, to tear around and amuse his wife, show her the sights, make life continuously interesting and full of thrills for her. What? You're not that kind of a couple? Oh, well, we were speaking of the average man and the average marriage. Nothing personal in what we meant. We were just reminded of it by an incident that occurs in "A Dark Lantern," a mighty interesting new Realart picture, starring Miss Alice Brady, which comes to Loew's tomorrow for a three-day run. If you are a husband, of course you will want to bring your wife to see this splendid picture play. The average husband may not care whether his wife ever sees a movie, but you want her to see many, and always the best ones. A funny Hank Mann comic, Loew's Pictorial and Loew's Supreme Vaudeville completes the bill for the balance of the week.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

George V. Dill, leading man with the Majestic Players was busily engaged in reading his part for the first production to be presented by the Majestic Players, "Within the Law," when a reporter walked into the Majestic and asked for a story regarding his "purple past."

"Sit down," George replied, indicating a chair. "Get out your pencil, and I'll talk. It's the easiest thing I do."

"First of all I want you to tell the London folk that I'm not trying to soft-soap them, when I tell them I like London just about as well as anywhere I've ever struck. The people are fine and so is the town. You know I played in London some seven or eight years back as lead in "The Squaw Man,' and London struck me then as being a pretty decent city to live in, and when the opportunity presented itself for my return I immediately grabbed the chance, and when I say I like your city, I mean it.

"As for my 'purple past,' there isn't really much to tell you. I'm a New Yorker through and through. My folks are Canadian and it's just a turn of fate I'm not one myself.

"I was leading man with George Broadhurst's big success, "The Price" in New York, following with 40 weeks of stock in San Diego, California, thence to New Haven, Connecticut, with The Poli Stock Company and latterly was 'hubby' in 'Tea for Three,' which proved the biggest success in New York theatrical circles in many seasons."

"George" has been in London just once and that once, when the opportunity came, brought him back again to stop—for at least a whole season. He has been in Canada many times and has a proud mother in Toronto, Ont. George let the cat out of the bag when he said, "I just wanted a chance to be close to my dear old mother in Toronto."

And then the leading lady, Miss Anna Bert was singled out from the rest of the company who were all busy rehearsing their respective parts for the forthcoming presentation of the initial bill.

A charming little miss of the Jane Cowl type of beauty with a winning smile and that kind of personality that seems to win you, stepped out from the rest and whispered, "I'm Miss Bert" and right here we quivered for speaking to "wimmin folk' is a hard line of work, but we went to it and here's what she told us:

"I like your town although I haven't been around much yet, but what I've seen and the people I've met have assured me that my stay in your city will be a most enjoyable portion of my stage career. I've been lately with George C. Tyler, New York's biggest producer, in many of his recent successes. I have played most of the bigger cities of United States in stock and road attractions. One season in Rochester, New York, also Chicago and for some time was identified with Geoge M. Cohan in production work in New York City." Miss Bert by the way has followed Jane Cowl in most all her successful roles, namely, "In Lilac Time," "Within the Lawl" and severa, others.

"I'm an Amercan, born way down south in the land of cotton, in Lexington, Kentucky." And right here the cruel reporter asked our charming little miss's age, and with a merry twinkle in her eye, she whispered, "twenty."

MEN SATISFIED WITH HOURS AT EALING

Education Committee Receives Complaint of It—Interference Not Wanted.

The request of the city council for the use of the public schools for the municipal elections in January was granted yesterday afternoon by No. 2 committee at its regular monthly session on the same terms as last year.

Complaints as to the working hours at the Ealing school construction were communicated to the committee by letter from the city council, which, after consideration, was ordered filed. The committee expressed regret that the communication contained no specific data or names to support the complaints, which, it was stated, were similar to some that had been received before.

Speaking on the matter, a trustee stated that he had, following the previous occasion, inquired of Mr. Putherbough concerning it, and had been told by the contractor that he had called the workmen together, told them of the complaints, and had asked them if they were correct. The men, he stated, had replied that they were quite satisfied, and that they wished other people would not interfere.

Another trustee pointed out that if the men desired to work overtime it was a matter entirely in their hands, and that they were paid for all the time they worked.

Tenders for the supply of hardware for the Ealing and Wortley Road schools were opened and the committee will recommend to the board that the tenders of the Hobbs Hardware Company, the lowest presented in each case, be accepted. The tender for the Ealing school is $2,287.20 and for the Wortley Road school, $1,657.20.

The offer of Hayman and Sons to install extra plumbing in the Wortley school required under the regulations of the department of education before the school can be approved, was ordered to be sent to the board with the recommendation that it be accepted. The work will mean an additional $6,350.

The need of fire exit provision for the northwest room on the upper floor at Empress avenue school; a teachers' library at Alexandra school; regulation of the speed of some of the ventilating fans and the passing of the usual monthly accounts, were among other items of business dealt with.

PROMISES TO HELP IN ESTABLISHING OF BEATTY BROS.' PLANT

City To Pay For Tracks, Ties On Siding To New Addition.

BUY LANCASTER LAND

Approach To Dundas Bridge To Be Improved— Mothers Granted Hall.

Co-operation of the city in establishing an addition to the Beatty Bros. plant here was promised by No. 2 committee of the city council last night. A siding 450 feet in length will be built. Beatty Bros. will pay for the grading and retaining walls, while the city will pay for the tracks and ties. The Railway Commission will be asked to proceed with the work immediately. Donald Soper, representing Beatty Bros., stated that the grading had been carried out already. Building operations will be commenced in the early spring or possibly in the winter. Material will be purchased immediately.

The committee decided to investigate conditions on Waterloo street between Grosvenor and Cheapside streets. A ditch on the west side has been filled at both ends but is open in the centre. City Engineer Brazier stated that it would cost about $2,000 to tile and fill it.

Improvements to sewers at the Western Fair grounds were referred to the 1921 council. City Engineer Brazier advised against a costly new system. The present one was all right if kept free from bottles and other obstructions, he said. More manholes could be built, and heavy screens installed to keep the pipes clear, he suggested.

Laid Over.

The request of the Canadian Oil Company for permission to erect a service station at Burwell and Dundas streets was laid over until a report could be obtained. Ald. G. B. Drake thought it might be detrimental to residential property in that vicinity.

Purchase of land on the east bank of the Thames, adjoining the Dundas street bridge, from Whit Lancaster for $600 was authorized. This will be used to improve the approach to the bridge and to make the sidewalk safer. Sanitary sewers on Smith and Dillabough streets, to be done by day labor at a cost of $33,536, were approved. The Aberdeen Mothers' Club was granted the use of the East London Hall on condition that it was left in proper condition.

The question of increasing the rentals for sign boards on the federal square was referred to Ald. W. A. Wilson and City Engineer Brazier.

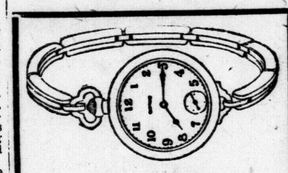

The city engineer, who is leaving for England in a short time on leave of absence, thanked the committee for the co-operation given him during the year. The members of the committee expressed their appreciation of his services and wished him a safe and enjoyable voyage.
