Katz, art collector, real estate operator and purveyor of diamonds to the motion picture colony, was shot and killed as he opened the door of his apartment in a fashionable residential district here last night. Acquaintances of the slain man revealed that he had purchased for $50,000 the apartment house in which he lived, paying most of the purchase price in diamonds; that he had bought a German-built yacht about three months ago, also with diamonds; that men he employed on that yacht had quarreled with him over money due them; that he had numerous women callers; that he was in some sort of financial difficulty and was planning to sell his yacht, and that he habitually carried precious gems about with him, finding buyers in the motion picture colony here.

CANADIANS BATTLED UNTIL GERMANS SIGNED

Stroke of Big Ben Announced to England That War Was Over.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 11.—"Six years ago today," says the Daily Mail, "the Canadian troops irresistibly fought their way through Mons, killing or capturing the whole German garrison. Just after midnight they passed out of Mons still advancing in a line with the British units to the north and south they went forward with wonderful dash and resolution, though knowing that the close of the war was at hand.

"At three minutes to eleven the firing, which had been heavy all that morning, suddenly fell as if by general consent, but then rose to one final, violent burst before it stopped altogether.

"The great war was over. For the last time in the war London heard the crash of alarm rockets that morning as Big Ben struck eleven. Thus millions learned that the Germans had fulfilled the armistice terms."

Barned was captured in New Orleans, and is being brought to Canada by provincial police.

MILLIONS IN SILENCE HONOR FALLEN IN WORLD STRUGGLE

Great Britain, U. S. and France Observe Armistice Day by Special Services.

ACTIVITIES CEASE World's Leading Nations Bow in Reverence to Fallen Heroes.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Having merged its observance of Thanksgiving and Armistice into one public holiday yesterday and religious and patriotic ceremonies throughout the dominion, having been celebrated on Sunday or Monday, Canada about her work-a-day life on this sixth anniversary of the ending of the great war. From coast to coast the streets of every town and village are filled with sellers of poppies who are raising money for the needy survivors of the war. At 11 a.m. the two-minute silence was everywhere observed, in streets bedecked with flags and in factories and offices and homes.

In Ottawa, the national capital, there was no special celebration. Montreal the governor-general, Baron Byng of Vimy, officiated at noon at the unveiling of a great cenotaph, just completed, to the memory of soldiers killed in the war. In several other cities similar unveilings took place, while monuments previously erected were decorated with floral offerings.

BRITAIN HUSHED. Associated Press Despatch. London, Nov. 11.—Tens of thousands of the people of London gathered today to the great cenotaph in sorrowful yet proud remembrance of their one million kin who died in the war that came to an end six years ago. The great cenotaph, its entire length by subjects of the far-flung British empire, most of whom were red poppies bought with pennies and a few minutes after the shooting yesterday.

At the end of the great war, the cenotaph stood in the heart of London. He and his two elder sons, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, passed in review at the foot of the cenotaph just before Big Ben in his tower rising above the houses of parliament tolled eleven, the hour which marked the end of the war.

On the echo of the tolling of the great bell there came a hushed silence, and for two minutes the crowds stood in the tomb of silence. Throughout the British Isles, the same two minutes were given over to silent remembrance of the empire's dead. Subjects gathered around the cenotaph the forces which defend the crown and country at sea, on land and in the air, in a memorial service of their own within the storied walls of Westminster Abbey where the unknown soldier's name is inscribed in a solemn tribute to those who fell in the war to be succeeded this evening, for many Londoners, by joyful remembrance of the playing of the guns ceased to fire over the fields of France.

HOLIDAY IN FRANCE. Associated Press Despatch. Paris, Nov. 11.—Armistice day this year is for the first time a full holiday in France. Although parliament voted it a legal holiday long ago, and the playing of the law has been suspended hitherto, mainly for economic reasons, with business only interrupted for a few minutes of silence.

Today everything is closed, except the places of amusement. The main feature of the celebration in Paris is the playing of the unknown soldier in the Arc de Triomphe with President Doumergue, Premier Herriot, and his cabinet, marshals, generals and members of the diplomatic corps in attendance.

Two hundred and fifty tattered flags of disbanded regiments will be carried by reserve officers, headed by General Gouraud and his staff, from the Invalides to the arch, where they will meet delegations of allied veterans' associations and war orphans.

After President Doumergue has reviewed the color-bearers, buglers and a volley fired from the top of the arch, will announce to the city and suburbs a minute of silence which will be ended by another volley and the playing of a Marseillaise by military bands. The troops of the Paris garrison will then march before the president, bringing the ceremony to a close.

In the afternoon the association formed to maintain the undying flame was held at the city hall. Please See Page 11, Column 3.

Pat and Mack Pull Big Coup

"Sign Business" Nets 32 Liquor Warrants.

Associated Press Despatch. Norfolk, Va., Nov. 11.—Thirty-two men and women, including a policeman in uniform and a Princess Anne county justice of the peace, are under arrest here as the result of the inauguration of a sensational dry crusade engineered by federal prohibition forces. Thirty-five warrants in the hands of the officers are yet to be served.

A month ago two federal agents came to Norfolk and established a sign painting shop called "Pat and Mack." They let it be known that the sign business was a blind, and that their real business would be that of retailing liquor.

At this point the officers decided the time was ripe to spring their trap, and warrants were sworn before a Richmond commissioner and sent out.

WOMAN SOUGHT BY POLICE AFTER GANG CHIEFTAIN SLAIN

Motor Cars Used as Blockade To Allow Escape of Murderers. THREE INVOLVED

Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, Nov. 11.—Gang rivalry, beer runners' feuds, gambling troubles and a flight of lieutenant of rival gangs over a woman, were theories followed by police today in their search for three men who yesterday shot and killed Dion O'Bannon, notorious gunman and gangster, in his flower shop. While they sought Mike Carrozo, labor leader, and Margaret Collins, pretty blonde, involved in a fight eight months ago with Louis Altiere and John Bates, alleged look-alikes of O'Bannon, the police took precautions to prevent more killings in reprisal.

All known enemies of O'Bannon questioned after the shooting had been reviewed today when they satisfied investigators they had no connection with it. But as police inquiry progressed it was disclosed that a woman, who was known to have been involved in the actual slaying.

A theory that possibly 25 men, using nine automobiles, effectively blocked traffic in the vicinity of the florist shop while the slayers escaped after their automobile was evolved after witnesses were questioned. The blocking automobiles, given scant attention at the time, paused at street intersections only long enough to permit the three men to speed away. The hypothesis held through the night as the detectives and state attorneys questioned suspects, later releasing them.

Among them were Herschie, Max and David Miller, all sworn enemies of O'Bannon. While they expressed satisfaction at his death, they denied connection with it. O'Bannon had been accused of bombing Herschie's dry-cleaning plant and of attempting to shoot to death Herschie and David Miller, all sworn enemies of O'Bannon. Earl Weiss, John Jarrio, Vincent

Historic Old Playground Is Now Offered For Sale

Scene of Conquests of London Tecumsehs Will Be Disposed Of.

USED BY WESTERN Meant to Encourage Sport Amongst University Students.

Any person with the necessary funds, who can find a use for the old Tecumseh park, London's home for amateur sport for more than half a century, can buy it now. For some time, now that the University of Western Ontario has its own campus and that Queen's park is about to become the center of amateur sport in London, it has been offered for sale by A. T. and E. S. Little, who own it.

It was bought by the Littles, who were interested in the welfare of the university, to serve as a campus for the sports of the students, and has served that purpose worthily ever since. Its day is now over as a sporting center, in the opinion of its owners, and they are looking for a buyer.

It was the scene of the victories of the London Tecumsehs in 1877, and of all their training practices at that time, when they were the first baseball team in America. It has seen all the great meets since then and has been the playground of London's amateurs ever since baseball has been a feature of London's sporting programs.

There has been some talk of its division into building lots, but Arthur Little said this morning that such a scheme had not been considered as far as he knew, so far.

The scene of London's battles in sport moves to the east end of the city. That silent morning that dawned at Queen's park, will echo next spring with the cheer of the fan.

The improvements which are going on at Queen's park mean greater accommodation and perhaps greater conquests.

But thoughts of the old field remain with older Londoners. It was a field of real triumph.

ROAR OF BURNING GAS IS HEARD FOR MANY MILES

Calgary, Nov. 10.—The Imperial Oil Company's Royalty No. 4 gas well at Black Diamond on fire. The fourth well gas at the rate of 20,000,000 cubic feet a day since Tuesday, Oct. 14, suddenly burst into flames at just before noon on Sunday and in a few minutes the huge derrick was a mass of blazing timber. Half an hour after the first started, a mass of twisted steel and charred wood was all that remained of the derrick, and the burning gas was shooting high into the air with a roar that could be heard for miles around.

The well is still ablaze, and a gang of men are busily rigging up a steam plant and hose with which to fight the fire.

CHIEF GOT SPLIT SAYS WITNESS

William Rayley of Toronto Gives Evidence Against Montreal Official.

DAUGHTER INVOLVED Witness Declares Arrested Men Framed by Narcotic Squad.

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, Nov. 11.—The story of a wayward daughter, who ran away from her home in Toronto to live with a Montreal policeman, the nephew of Chief of Police Pierre Belanger, was unfolded at this morning's session of the local police inquiry by William Charles Rayley of Toronto, who journeyed from that city to testify at the proceedings, which are being held under Mr. Justice Coderre.

He also made other allegations against Arthur Belanger, who he declared had told him of various police irregularities. He had known Constable Belanger seven years. They were close friends at one time. The constable had been given a key to the Rayley home, at which he was a frequent caller. The attraction, the witness told the court, was his fifteen-year-old daughter, though at the time he did not suspect this.

Rayley said that Belanger had finally joined the narcotic squad connected with No. 5 police station, and often had bottles and packages of cocaine in the pocket of the arrested man, who, when searched at headquarters, would naturally be found to be carrying a package of cocaine into the pocket of the arrested man, who, when searched at headquarters, would naturally be found to be carrying a package of cocaine into the pocket of the arrested man, who, when searched at headquarters, would naturally be found to be carrying a package of cocaine into the pocket of the arrested man.

COURT DISMISSES FIRST GRAFT CASE

Canadian Press Despatch. Hamilton, Nov. 11.—The first of the actions brought by the city against nineteen citizens accused of conspiracy to defraud the city out of tax moneys on the fifty-fifty split basis was dismissed by Jurge Evans in criminal court today. His honor, after hearing the crown's case, did not call on the defendant, Gladstone J. Smith, an employee of the federal government.

There was no evidence to show that he had been in connection with his tax payments.

MAYOR, LIQUOR SLEUTHS THREATENED WITH ROPE

Cincinnati Police Reserves Rescue Town Officials From Hall.

Associated Press Despatch. Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Surrounded by a threatening crowd that gathered from North College Hill, a suburb of Cincinnati, and four liquor court deputies were rescued last night by police after having been marooned in their town hall for four hours.

The demonstration started when the mayor and his deputies appeared for trial before Magistrate Samuel Williams on charges of assault and battery and pointing firearms, preferred by Mrs. Henry Smith of Bent, Ohio, whose home they raided in search of liquor.

When the cases were called the defendants entered pleas of not guilty and the trials were continued until next Friday.

This was the signal for an outbreak on the part of the crowd, members of which jostled their way to the side of the defendants, demanding that the trial proceed. Someone turned out the lights, and when they flashed up again, Greenlee Hahn, a deputy, had a broken nose and others of the deputies exhibited evidence of rough handling.

Seeing that the danger was growing steadily the court and village officials rushed through the crowd and hustled the mayor and deputies into the jail in the basement of the building.

"Hang 'em," and "get a rope" were cries heard on every side. Appeals for order being of no avail, Cincinnati was called upon for aid, and police reserves arrived and formed a cordon around the hall, and Mayor Pugh and the deputies were rushed to Cincinnati, the crowd having been dispersed.

Three automobiles said to belong to the deputies were overturned and set afire.

EMMA GOLDMAN, veteran radical leader who was deported from the U. S. in 1919, has been discovered in London, England. She refuses to divulge her future plans.

They heard no more until Christmas night, when someone who would not give a name informed them over the long distance telephone that the girl could be found under the name of Miss Ethel, at an address on St. Urban street in Montreal. He had immediately left Toronto and had hurried to the address given him, where he was told by the landlady that the man who was "keeping his daughter" was a Mr. Baker.

A minute later he had heard this Mr. Baker inquire for the girl over the telephone and had recognized Constable Belanger's voice. He had immediately denounced him, but the constable had been freed, and had come right up. A fight had ensued, in which Belanger cut Radley's nose, blacked his eye and finally knocked him unconscious.

He had complained to Chief Belanger, who had offered to do anything he wished to have done.

Following the brief period of silence, during which the pupils stood with bowed heads, the teachers gave a short talk on Armistice day and its significance.

WOMEN and THE HOME

WOMAN RUNS GAS COMPANY AND MAKES SUCCESS OF IT

Knows How To Economize in Business, Having Run Her Own Home. HAS IMAGINATION

By JULIA HOYT.

There are two questions a woman must consider when contemplating what kind of work she will do. I am now speaking of the woman who can give her entire time to her work. The first thing to be considered is: "What kind of capital do I have?" In other words, can she organize a business in which she will employ other people or must she herself be employed? She should also consider her own capabilities. There are some people, who, irrespective of the amount of capital they have, should never attempt to run or organize a business. They may do splendid work when directed, and be capable of earning a great deal of money in this way, but not have the initiative nor organizing ability nor the power to direct and control other people.

However, some women who did not have this power when first starting work have developed it after a few years. We often see women who begin by being employed and who eventually become high executives. The lines of work I am going to speak of are practically all lines in which one could either start for one's self or be employed by people who have already started them.

Enter New Fields.

Every now and then in hearing of new fields which women have entered, one realizes that if they are imaginative they can bring something new and of value to many businesses.

For instance there is a gas company at Coney Island which is run by a woman. At this gas company there is an economics department where women can go and be taught how to use their gas in the most economical way. It needed a woman not only to think of having a department in a gas company, but also to run it.

She is well qualified, having run her house, to know just how important economy is in the home, and with her knowledge attained by running the gas company, to show other women how to avoid mistakes. A man knows if his home is run ex-who will preside over the semi-annual session of the Women's Auxiliary board of Huron diocese, meeting in St. James' church, Ingersoll.

travagantly and, naturally, complains about it, but rarely appreciates the difficulties or the questions that have to be decided.

Not Easy Work.

I mention this business not particularly as a suggestion of work to take up, but more on account of the imagination shown by this woman in running a gas economics department. Needless to say the position of manager of a gas company is not an easy one to achieve, and undoubtedly was only obtained by the woman in question after many years of good business training. In addition, she had probably shown before the same quality of imagination and initiative as she now shows with her economics department.

A few years ago people would have thought it very hard to have a gas company and would have been completely incredulous as to her ability to do so, yet here we have a woman who is running one, and an extremely successful one, I am told.

There are many ways, of course, for a woman to learn the gas business, just as she can learn other businesses. They are now being used not only as secretaries, bookkeepers, etc., in the offices, but also as gas inspectors. This woman has proved that it is within a woman's power to become manager of a large business if she is willing to work for it. Rev. S. Salton has returned home after spending a few days in Toronto last week. While there he was invited to address the men's association of the Sherbourne street Methodist church at their annual banquet.

It was quite unique in that the Rev. Mr. Salton had had the privilege of officiating at the marriage of the officiating and his wife, Mrs. C. H. Barnes. It was further unique in that the speaker had been ordained by Dr. George Bishop, the father of the pastor of the church, and was afterwards associated with Dr. Bishop in the pastorate of the First Methodist church, London.

It was while attending a conference in the Sherbourne street Methodist church that Mr. Salton first met his wife.

WEDDINGS

ROWAN-MEANLEY. Thanksgiving morning was the occasion of an attractive wedding in St. Mary's church, when at 8:30 o'clock, Genevieve Hilda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Meanley of Van street, this city, became the bride of Robert James Rowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowan of this city. The Rev. Father Chisholm officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely imported gown of airmale duvetyne, trimmed with baby fox fur. Her hat was bonnet-shaped of brown velvet and she wore roses. Miss Clarice Meanley, as her sister's bridesmaid, wore a modish gown of tobacco brown velvet trimmed smartly with fitch fur, a becoming butterfly roses. The groomsmen were Mr. Ignatius Fitzgibbon and Mr. Ignatius Fitzgibbon of this city. During the offertory, Miss Alma Connors sang the beautiful "Ave Maria," and during the signing of the register, "Until," The wedding music was played by Miss Keating.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowan left later in the morning for a wedding trip to Detroit and Chicago, the bride traveling in a smart gown of black satin-faceted crepe, with French felt hat in champagne shade and beautiful muskrat wrap, a gift from the groom. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Rowan will reside on Queen street.

Among the many gifts was a set of silver entree dishes from the firm of William McPhillips, a fernery from the staff and a substantial check from the bride's father.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Rowan and Mrs. Arthur Goodson of Detroit, and Miss Lily Macdonald and Mrs. W. J. Locke of Brantford.

BRAND-McDERMID. Knox Presbyterian church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Katherine McDermid, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. ELGIN REGIMENT GRIDDERS WIN OPENING SEMI-FINAL Run Up 25-2 Score On Sarnia Juniors in Initial Clash.

MAY BE PROTESTED

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Nov. 10.—A thousand rugby fans watched the Elgin regiment juniors take their first game in the O. R. F. U. semi-finals from Sarnia, by a score of 25 to 2, here this afternoon. The game will undoubtedly be protested because of the actions of one of the fans, who rushed from the side lines at the end of the third quarter, when the visitors were defending their goal, and struck K. McPhedran while his back was turned. Cal Palmer, of the regiment, who struck the blow while Shingler made a touchdown.

Sarnia was first to score, in that they made their entire score before the Elgin players had seriously got into the fray. K. McPhedran brought Sarnia its two points through his punting. Garvin and Nelson McPhedran were also outstanding figures on the visiting team.

Percy Dawdy and Orlaf Searle were as usual, the leading figures for the locals. Dawdy made large individual runs on line plunges, going through the Sarnia left wing again and again for yards.

Sarnia Scores First.

Sarnia scored first when Lang underestimated McPhedran's punt, and it rolled behind a line for a counter. Errors by the back division and successive plunges by Shingler and Fyle gained a decided advantage for the regiment. Martin kicked, and the ball was placed in play ten yards from the Sarnia goal. Exchange of kicks and a heavy penalty against the Sarnia players for running interference resulted in slight gains for the locals. McPhedran was out-kicking the home team, and continued his punting tactics. Dawdy, Searles and Scott made gains, and Manore was injured, being replaced by L. Jacques. McPhedran punted for large gains, and the Sarnia ends followed up the ball, placing it in play 20 yards from the local goal. Pook and Dawdy failed to make yards through a penalty, and McPhedran kicked the dead line, completing the score for the period.

The regiment lost ground on a criss-cross play, but Dawdy completed yards on a fake pass. Martin punting for a point. Sarnia worked the ball near the Sarnia goal line. The Saints lost yards. Dawdy was replaced by Westcott. Sarnia worked off two plunges without gains. Then Pook blocked a kick for a safety touch, giving St. Thomas a one-point lead on the visitors. The remaining score of the period, a touchdown, came quickly. Martin attempted a drop kick, and the ball was dropped by the visitors. Shingler made a touch, covering a few yards on a plunge. Skidding converted, making the score 9 to 2 at half-time.

Make Big Gains.

In the third period the regiment tried an end run, but the back division made a fumble of it, and then lost

QUEEN'S SECONDS BEAT ST. MIKES

Come Back Strong After Being Blanked 8-0 in First Quarter.

Cross Checks

Canadian Press Despatch. Kingston, Nov. 10.—Queen's inter-mediate took another step nearer the championship today when they defeated St. Michael's Toronto 19 to 8. The game was witnessed by a large crowd and the tri-color showed wonderful comeback after the first period.

St. Mikes started off as though they would pile up a lead, and for the first 15 minutes had play almost continually in Queen's territory. After a few minutes Lowery planted a nice field goal, giving St. Mikes three points. Line plunges continued to gain for St. Michael's and on a fumble St. Mikes recovered, falling on the ball over the Queen's line for a touchdown, which was not converted, making the score 3 to 0.

In the second quarter Queen's started their bucking tactics, and held St. Michael's down for the remainder of the game. After gaining yards three times, McCrimmon crashed over for a touch, which Ada converted, and the third quarter Voss kicked twice for points, tying the score.

The final quarter saw Queen's tearing St. Michael's line to pieces. Lowery's kick was blocked, and Baird fell on the ball for a try, which Ada converted. A few minutes later Norrie went through and scored a pretty touch, making the score 19 to 8.

Voss and Ada played wonderfully for Queen's, with Norrie and McCrimmon doing great work. Lowery and Baird were the best for the losers.

The teams: Queen's—Flying wing, Howard; halves, Voss, Ada, Mainquay; quarter, F. McGoavie; snap, Ellis; insides, Hanford, Baird; middles, Korrie, McCrimmon; outside, King, Melanes; subs, Brophy, Young, Stringer, Dunlop, Boy, Lough; backs, Lowery, O'Brien, Cloutier; quarter, Kennedy; full, Donohue, Bart, Dore; outside, Irvine, Canary; subs, McCrimmon, McGarry, O'Donnell, Mallon, Thompson.

Today Starts Serious Ice Drills With Action Looming

Seniors Start Evening "Secret" Practices 5 to 6, and Stratford Indians Come Here Tonight For Lonesome Practice 6 to 7.

On the Side Lines

Daily practices for both of London's hockey teams are on the schedule for the next two weeks. The seniors, forced to change their practice hour from the morning to the hour from five to six because some of the men could not get away from work at the former hour, start on their new time-table tonight. Stratford Indians will again take to the ice between six and seven.

The juniors do not commence practices until tomorrow night, and then from six to seven, but this hour will not be constant for the youngsters.

Showing More.

The seniors, with the first game less than two weeks away, are getting right down to serious workouts, and every time out they are showing more of the form that is expected to make them Allan cup possibilities from the first face-off of the regular campaign in the Big Five. The conditioning is beginning to tell, and every work out sees a faster pace set. In a week they'll have to wrap ammonia coils around them to keep them cooled down if they keep up the increased speed they've been showing each successive drill.

From now on the practices will likely be secret affairs. For some reason or other, hockey players differ from other athletes, and work better when alone. Formerly teams in London had no difficulty whatever in securing the seclusion they desired, but interest this year seems to be at an unexpectedly high level for this time of the season. Other teams have also stipulated that they be allowed to do their practicing before large emptiness.

Juniors Wednesday.

The juniors are fast rounding into condition. It is likely that several exhibition games will be arranged for them before their season opens, but in the meantime there are enough youngsters on hand to stage good stiff practice games, which will achieve almost as much good as exhibition affairs.

The youngsters have not been on the ice since Thursday last, but in the meantime most of them have been doing some road work to keep limbered up. Road work may be mixed up with the conditioning of the next two weeks as a compulsory measure, especially if the weather keeps fine.

CHARLIE MORTON GUELPH WINNER

Hamilton Runner Beats Dellow and Cuthbert in 15-Mile Run.

Stove Leaguers' C-h-a-t-t-e-r

Special to The Advertiser. Guelph, Nov. 10.—Athletes from all parts of Canada and the United States met in competition in the annual Thanksgiving day road races held here today under the auspices of the Guelph cross country run and road race association. In with the largest entry list in the history of the meet, it was by far the most successful ever held here.

The day's program was made of nine events, with a prize list totalling over $1,400, and as usual the big attractions were the 15-mile run, 10-mile walk, a 10-mile cross country and 5-mile open events. In addition to these four open races there were five events for local athletes run off in the morning.

Although John Cuthbert of Guelph, Canada's Olympic marathon runner, was the favorite in the 15-mile run, Charlie Morton of Hamilton upset all advance dope when he ran a beautiful race, winning out in the splendid time of 1:23:30, ten seconds slower than the time made by Charlie White of Toronto last year.

Himmie Dellow of the Gladstone A. C., Toronto, was second, and Cuthbert third. The race started at a killing pace, with a few of the inexperienced long-distance men jumping into the lead, and Morton, Dellow and Cuthbert trailing them at a steady clip.

At the 10-mile mark Morton and Cuthbert were in front. Robert Percy Weir and Dellow trailing them by about 100 yards, but in the last five miles Morton broke away and gave the splendid burst that carried him to a close run to the tape. Cuthbert reached the home stretch, but finished about 50 feet behind Dellow. The order in which the runners finished was: Morton, 1:23:30; Dellow, 1:24:00; Weir, 1:24:30; Cuthbert, 1:25:00; 4. Weir, 1:25:30; 5. Francis Hughes, Hamilton; 6. Shaw, Toronto; 7. Geo. Bristol, Hamilton; 8. A. Lepiat, Hamilton.

Granville on Scratch.

The outstanding feature in the ten-mile handicap walk was the performance of Charlie White, who in a blistering tenth place, beating the time made by ten walkers as Philip Granville, who was in front, finished his race in 1:34:00. Granville's time was 1:34:00, but he was in his usual class, but he went the route in 1:34:00, crossing the tape in fourteenth place. White, who finished in the first place, was the only one to scratch, man, finished thirteenth.

The first start on Granville, who was a C. A. Misener of the O. A. C., who had a twenty-minute start on Granville. The contestants finished as follows: 1. Misener, 1:34:00; 2. White, 1:34:00; 3. Chadwick, Hamilton; 4. Galt, 1:34:00; 5. Geiman, Toronto; 6. Brydson, Toronto; 7. Laidlaw, Guelph; 8. Delys, U. of T.; 9. Dunn, Toronto; 10. Foster, 1:34:00; 11. Mahon, Toronto; 12. Bury, U. of T.; 13. Dunn, Toronto; 14. Branville, Hamilton.

With a race to follow, an interest open, this race also proved an interesting one. The honors went to W. J. Galt, who had a similar time to that of Brockier of Galt was second and C. A. Small, Gladstone, was third.

The cross-country run also brought out a large number of competitors, and it was only after a hard race that G. K. Newton of Hamilton managed to win first place, covering the distance in 45:30. E. Berley, Gladstone A. C., Toronto, was just a fine half-plunging of the O. A. C. third. Others who finished in the prizes were: Garbutt, Toronto, fourth; Egan, Toronto, fifth; and White, Toronto, sixth.

The main race among the five local events was the five-mile factory run for the Colver cup, and which was won by Harold Webster, running under the flag of the Guelph Spinning Mills. Webster's time was 25:27:25, which is more than a minute faster than Cuthbert's time in the same event last year. "Hap" McGillibon finished second and Doug Brand third. Savage fourth and Bourzault fifth.

In a factory relay race over a distance of four miles, the Carpet Mills team took first, Taylor, Forbes, second, Guelph Spinning Mills third and Northern Rubber Company fourth.

The winners in the one and two mile races for Guelph boys were Vic Richardson, Alex Richardson and Len Walsh.

Among the prominent sportsmen from town attending the races were President Foster, of the Guelph Spinning Mills, and Secretary Steel of the A. A. U. of C.

BORDER JUNIORS DEFEATED BY WOODSTOCK COLLEGIATE

Windsor-Walkerville Technical Team Loses by 8 to 2-0.

RETURN MONDAY

Special to The Advertiser. Woodstock, Nov. 10.—Woodstock collegiate juniors defeated the Windsor-Walkerville technical school 2 to 0 here today in the first of the finals in the Wossa junior series. The game was one of the closest played on the local grounds this year and there was little to choose between the teams. Injuries to players on the Windsor side were frequent and two men from each team had to be carried from the field. The two points were scored when Jackelmain and Mara were fixed to touch and at no other time did the teams come within scoring distance. In the last minute of the game, the visitors, with the ball one yard out from the Windsor line, tried to score, but Jackelmain recovered it. This was the only chance the Windsorites had to score, and it was lost by a misty break.

All the scoring came in the first quarter. Stevenson tried to score, but was forced to fumble. A few minutes later Sinclair kicked to touch, from which the features of the game were strong plunges by Windsor, which gave them yards several times in succession, and by and runs by Start, Stevenson and Lockhart. The crucial play came in the closing minute. Start fumbled a pass from Stevenson a yard out, and Windsor got the ball. On the first down, Jackelmain lost the ball from the snap and Scalsid rushed through and recovered just as the final whistle blew. Parker, Jackelmain and Noble were the pick of the visitors, and Stevenson, Start, Lockhart and McGowan, the best of Windsor, although the latter was carried off in the final quarter.

The return game will be played in Windsor Monday next.

The teams: Windsor—Halves, Bailey, Scalsid, Lockhart; flying wing, Start; quarter, Stevenson; snap, Ross; insides, McCormack, Carr; middles, McGowan, outside, Wright, Milburn; spares, Sinclair, Martin, Kellett, Hammond.

Windsor-Walkerville—Halves, Vallee, White, O'Brien; flying wing, Iwanik; quarter, Jackelmain; snap, Atkins; insides, Lauckman and Carter; middles, Waide, Harry, Noble; spares, Parker, Herbert, Noble, Baird, London.

Referee—R. F. Baird, London. Umpire—Dr. Doolittle, London. Head linesman—S. D. Rendall, Woodstock.

WOSSA COLLEGIATE ELIMINATES GALT

Will Now Go Into Wossa Finals With St. Thomas.

Special to The Advertiser. Sarnia, Nov. 10.—With a weakened team Sarnia College eliminated Galt in the Wossa finals with St. Thomas. The score was 8 to 2 at the end of the game. Sarnia had leading up to half time by the odd point in three. A smart touchdown by Sarnia's wing, Jacques, and a point at intervals for Sarnia, spelled doom for the visitors. He took Relet's kick and Kennedy's spirited run set all opposition, ran behind the goal line. Galt opened the scoring in the first quarter, when he kicked to the dead line. A few minutes later Relet boosted to Brown, who ran the ball back to the goal line for Galt's second Sarnia scored a point in the second when Carter kicked into touch behind the line.

Up to half time it was a levelled game with Galt more than keeping equal on play, but thereafter Sarnia showed up better, and Kennedy's spirited run set the issue. In the last period Carter kicked behind the line, and Galt was forced to fumble, and a few minutes later the same player kicked to the dead line.

The teams: Galt—Quarter, Shupe, Relet, Rick, Ebbell, Walford, Taneock, Johnston, Yate, Schultz, McEwen, Hargreaves, Danieles, Edwards, Lawrence, Glick, Edwards.

Sarnia—Callum, Brown, Carter, VanHorne, Teskey, Parsons, Barwell, Ewen, Workman, Maitland, Cook, spares, Galt, McEwen, Hargreaves, Danieles, Barwell, Southern, Potter and Millman.

ON THE SIDE LINES

With C. S. G.

Once the rugby titles in the various unions were at stake, winners were decided in a rush. Queens, Tigers and yesterday Balmy Beach became champions over the week-end, and in that order, they are favored in the play-offs.

This fall's campaigns proved much more exciting than the pre-season hope indicated it would. Tigers' wide superiority was cut down by close and uncomfortable victories and cut down to par by Argos' unexpected victory, and Varsity proved that Queens was not the unbeatable machine of a year ago. Balmy Beach is hardly to be considered in the playoffs, despite the fact that they've shown wonderful improvement, over their early season form. Queens should defeat Tigers handily. At their best they gave the Bengals a sound trimming and Tigers though they seemed stronger on paper at the start of the present campaign are not. The Western champions may come East, but that won't interest anybody but railway companies.

The intermediate series should go to Sarnia. They returned to their championship form, but Tiger Cubs are to be reckoned with and so are the Air Force team, captained by Dave Harding. They have more experienced players than the fans in the North Temperate zone realize, and Harding is worth quite a few.

FOUNDATIONS.

Both Western University and the Intermediate O.R.F.U. squad laid some solid foundations for football here in 1925.

Western's rise to semi-prominence was the more remarkable in that it came unexpectedly. O. R. F. U. squad sized up to Sarnia's measurements from the early season and he would have died a little harder death on Saturday. Over two-thirds of the London team had less than a season's experience and that won't do even if there are outstanding stars scattered here and there through the machine.

A town rugby team in any case is above criticism because it is one of the remarkable things of present day sport that athletes can still be found in moderate numbers who are willing to undertake gruelling weeks of drills under the usually horrible weather conditions of the Canadian autumn and then risk all manner of injuries in games. The London team did everything asked of it and more, and unless Sarnia had shown a remarkable return to a form that seemed Saturday to be above even their championship style, the black, red and white would have assuredly overcome that four point lead.

THE JUNGLE HUNT.

Hamilton Senior Tigers should be protected by game laws.

Hamilton Senior Tigers should be protected by game laws. There is no one left except Dr. Charlie Stewart now since the O.H.A. has come in and ruled Redding and Cooper soon. Hamilton's sad plight is sad mostly because it reduces the centers of senior O.H.A. competition, and leaves Niagara Falls battling Toronto lone-handed.

INVISIBILITY.

The meeting of "Kid" Norfolk, of the "Invisible punch" fame, and Tommy Gibbons of "Invisible purse" note, will be the nearest to a spiritulistic seance the ring has seen.

MAY PLAY FINAL WOSSA GAME HERE

Sudden-Death Likely To Decide Grid Supremacy.

It is possible that London may be the scene of the Wossa senior football final, as Sarnia and St. Thomas are scheduled to play on Saturday, although official confirmation is not yet forthcoming.

Sarnia wants home and home games, but it was understood that St. Thomas would prefer a sudden death tilt. These old rivals will probably up a sterling battle and probably will be turned back with a yard or so of the Westmount line, losing the ball and a certain one point on each occasion, but not getting a kick. The defensive stands by the Montrealers were among the bright features of a brilliant fight that pleased spectators who might have been expected to turn out for a senior contest. About 3,000 were in the stands.

RIDEAUS BEAT WESTMOUNT IN FIRST OF SEMI-FINALS

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—In the first of the semi-finals for the Canadian junior league championship the senior Rideaus defeated Westmount, 15 to 2. Snading the visitors on the line by a clear margin, Rideaus showed their powerful line plunging machine at every opportunity, and three times they turned back with a yard or so of the Westmount line, losing the ball and a certain one point on each occasion, but not getting a kick. The defensive stands by the Montrealers were among the bright features of a brilliant fight that pleased spectators who might have been expected to turn out for a senior contest. About 3,000 were in the stands.

SPORT SNAPSHOTS

It is surprising how much business ancient modern prizefights has developed as compared to the gladiators of the old days.

Larry Lichenslein, who once managed Ad Wolgast for a time, was relating an anecdote about the "Little Dutchman" fight characteristic about the fighters who seemed to fight for the pure joy of fighting.

"One of my friends of mine asked me to get Wolgast to substitute for somebody at a benefit. The Dutchman was asleep in his hotel. He had practically no sleep the night before. I called him up and he answered me sort of sleepy like.

"'You've got to fight a fellow tonight,' I told him. 'It's for 20 rounds and it looks like a tough fight.'

"'What time does the bout go on?'

"'Ten o'clock,' I said.

"'All right,' he shot back. 'Let me sleep till 9, and I'll come over and knock him out.'

"'But you don't know who it is,' I said.

"'No, and I don't care,' he said. 'Call me at 9 and I'll be ready.'

"He was plugging before I could say another thing and when I went around to the hotel he was fast asleep. The Dutchman was a big fellow. Wolgast was. Can you imagine any of the battlers of today agreeing to fight without asking a lot of questions like 'Who?' 'How tough?' And 'How much?'

"'Especially that last question. How much?'

"But any of the modern and more conservative battlers will have something when they are through. Wolgast is through and he has nothing.

ONTARIO SENIOR GRID TITLE PASSES TO BALMY BEACH

Varsity Twelve Beaten 15-12 After Predominating in First Half.

PENALTIES FACTOR

STANDING	L	F	A.
Balmy Beach	3	0	33
Varsity	2	2	41
Hamilton R. C.	0	0	31

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Nov. 10.—For the second time in three days a Varsity senior rugby team failed to retain a lead secured in the first half, and as a result Balmy Beach are certain champions of the senior O. R. F. U., although they still have a game to play, meeting last night's champion Hamilton Rowing club in Hamilton next Saturday in the final game of the season. At half-time today the students were in front 6 to 3, and in the third period added six more points to the total, and at the start of the final quarter looked to be certain winners, but the Beachers staged a rally, scoring 12 points and emerging in front 15 to 12.

While the Beachers looked the better team until the end of the third period, the game, unlike that of Saturday, was won by the better team, and the new champions deserved their victory. Penalties gave the Beach their chance and they took advantage of them, plunging for yards, four times in succession, to send Reeves over for a try, which was converted, and within five minutes of the end obtained the ball on a fumble by Stringer, who was injured in making a plunge alone, and tried two plunges, but failed to make yards, and then Abbie Bisset, the veteran coach of the Beach Enders, who was playing quarter owing to Wheeler having been taken out through injuries, pulled the Beachers through to the goal. He called for an outside kick formation across the field, and Varsity tried to send the men out to reach the Balmy Beach players. The ball was snapped to Bisset, who was around the short end for 20 yards for the touch that gave the Beachers the lead. It was a smart play, and Bisset executed it with great credit for seizing the opportunity. Before the game ended Hughes kicked for another point.

FEAR WINNIPEG MEN 'VICTIMS OF STORM'

Prominent Athlete and Companion Started On Hunting Trip—Missing 4 Days.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—All hope for the safety of Hans Webber, star Winnipeg athlete, and W. P. Smith, also of this city, lost in the marshes at the south end of lake Winnipeg while on a hunting expedition, was abandoned tonight after a four-day search, participated in by scores of local hunters, members of the provincial police and expert guides of the district.

Today searchers found an overturned duckboat, fast frozen in the lake with snow drifted around it, and a cardboard box containing a loaf of bread. The men, according to the hunters and it is now feared that the men, caught in a sudden squall, were thrown in the lake and drowned.

THREE DIE IN 2 DAYS WORKING ON CANAL

W. J. Gordon Instantly Killed by Construction Train at S. Catharines.

Canadian Press Despatch. St. Catharines, Nov. 10.—The third fatality in two days on the ship canal construction work occurred at Port Weller Sunday evening, when William James Gordon, aged 53 years, was run down on a trestle by a construction train and instantly killed. He was employed as a workman on that section.

TROOPS RESTORE ORDER FOLLOWING RACE RIOTS

Associated Press Despatch. Harrodsburg, Ky., Nov. 10.—After a night of disorder, quiet has been restored tonight in the construction camps that flank the site of the Dix river dam, a huge hydro-electric project under construction on Dix river near here.

Arrival of detachments of Kentucky national guardsmen brought to an end clashes between white construction workers and farmers on one side, and negro workers at the dam, which followed the slaying of Edward Winkle, 21 white worker, by a negro laborer Sunday night.

GARDNER GIVEN 'JUDGES' DECISION'

Elgin Regiment Show Opens Boxing Season in St. Thomas.

Special to The Advertiser. St. Thomas, Nov. 10.—The Elgin Regiment staged its first boxing show this season at the armories tonight, featuring Pete Laing vs. Billy Booth and "Smiling" Gardner and Alf. Sandell of the Classic Club "Toronto," occasioning an hour's delay in the start of the evening.

The three Toronto boxers who took part in the tournament met with an accident near Tilsonburg, and did not arrive in the city till after 10 o'clock, occasioning an hour's delay in the start of the evening.

The first round was a draw, while the second went to Gardner. In the last round Gardner got in some heavy blows, but Gardner proved himself able to give with interest as well as take. In the 16-ounce bout was a real slugger match, with Charlie Bear of London receiving the decision. Bear had an advantage in height and weight, and carried the fight throughout.

Of the remaining two, that between Harry Brebner and Bob Bailey, 126-pound class, both of St. Thomas, was perhaps the most important. Brebner, a lanky youth with a shik of a right hand, was the aggressor, but Bailey proved himself a stiffer, and was awarded a technical knockout in the early part of the third round.

The officials were: Referee, Lou Marsh; Tommie Jackson, Jim Judson, Courtland, and Tom Cook, London.

1,200 Fans See It—A Nervous Substitute—Two Strikes and a Hit.

By H. G. SALSINGER. Near the end of the 1905 season Augusta was still asking Detroit to select a player. The Detroit club was still considering the matter. The club did not want Cleo, he was too old. Engle looked fairly good but he was not speedy enough. And then someone suggested Cobb.

They had quite forgotten about Cobb. Faintly, they recalled the "nut" on the Augusta team. Yes, he had a good season, and he seemed to show promise. George Leidy was recommending him strongly. Several other clubs were going to put in a draft for him. Someone was sure to get him.

Several days of discussion it was decided to take Cobb. He became the property of the Detroit club for $750. A week later the draft was held. Four clubs were after Cobb. Each club was willing to pay $500 for him, the draft price. But Cobb was in Detroit by that time.

1,200 Saw His Debut. Cobb's major league debut was at old Bennett Park, in Detroit, on August 30, 1905. A crowd of about 1,200 saw that game, Detroit opposing New York. Dick Cooley, one of the Detroit regulars, was ill, and Bill Armour, managing the Tigers at that time, used Cobb in center field. He was fifth in the batting order, just behind "Wahoo" Sam Crawford, one of the greatest natural hitters and sluggers of all time.

Big Jack Chesbro, at the top of his splendid career, was pitching against Detroit that August day. In the first inning of that game Matty McIntyre, leading off for Detroit, blazed a trail with a home run, next up, singled, stinging McIntyre. Schaefer sacrificed Lindsay to second. Crawford tapped weakly to the base, and Chesbro threw him out. And then, as the crowd gasped, he walked to the plate a tall, gaunt, almost gawky-looking boy, who appeared extremely nervous.

A muttering ran through the crowd. Score cards were scammed. A newcomer. Who is he? Oh, just filling in for Dick Cooley.

FOREST FIRES CAUSED BY PERIOD OF DROUGHT

U. S. Water Supplies Are Exhausted, Due To Dry Spell.

Associated Press Despatch. Washington, Nov. 10.—Drought in many parts of the country, breaking records of half a century in some places, is causing considerable anxiety because of forest fires and exhaustion of water supplies.

Government officials, especially those of the forest service, whose duty it is to protect the national forests from fire and other dangers, are watching the situation in places where the drought has reached serious proportions.

Farmers in some sections are hard hit by the long dry period. In some sections where fall sown grains already have been planted there is lack of moisture to start germination of the seed, and where the grains are above ground they are not doing well for want of rain.

Climbs Shafts and Stops Team

Canadian Press Despatch. Hamilton, Nov. 10.—Stepping over the shafts and onto the roof, Mrs. Glasco, wife of Dr. Gerald Glasco, pluckily halted a runaway team of horses today at Bay and Main streets after an automobile had crashed into the carriage, in which she and her mother, Mrs. A. Lucas, were riding.

The carriage was driven by David Haxton. An automobile driven by L. Reid of Orono, Ont., collided with the horse-drawn vehicle. Haxton was thrown to the pavement and rendered unconscious, and the horses set off at a mad gallop.

Mrs. Glasco coolly stepped over the dashboard, gathered the reins and brought the team to a stop.

BIDS FOR AGE RECORD.

This horse, owned by W. B. Campbell of Howard township, was 34 years old last July, and is still being used as the family driving horse. Mr. Campbell believes that this sets a record for service, particularly as the animal is in such good condition.

As a Farmer Sees Taxes.

If residents of cities imagine they have any monopoly in paying taxes, some of the farmers in this district can show them where they are wrong. One of them showed a bill yesterday of $258 on a 200-acre farm.

His outlook on taxation and farm progress was interesting. "The trouble is that we take very little interest in the way our affairs are run; large expenditures are made, and the results are seen in our taxes for a number of years, and in those years there may be periods, such as we have had recently, when the farmer can look at his books at the end of the year and find that he hasn't made anything. There is only one remedy I can see, and that is we must learn to do with less. I mean just what I say—we must get poorer in our ideas of what we can afford before we can be richer in our pockets."

"The difficulty is in getting governments to adopt this idea. They hate to come down from what they have been doing. Men we elect seem to get caught up with the idea of doing big things in a big way as soon as they reach office, and for that reason, as far as the farmers are concerned, they do not represent the men who elected them. Our fathers and grandfathers, who made this country possible, got along on much less than we do today, and in the spending of public money and piling on taxation we have got to look back to some of their methods if we are going to succeed. One of the greatest blessings that could come to farm life would be a scaling down of taxation, and that holds true of every elected body, from the township council right through to the county council, provincial and federal governments."

This farmer is not an extremist; he is one of many who know what he is selling from his farm and what it costs him to produce it; he knows what he can afford in the way of taxation, and he knows that his present levies are above that mark. There is a very widespread feeling that not only farmers, but all the residents of Canada are paying too many taxes; that they are being assessed too much for more government than they need. The government that is going to get the ear of the people is the one that shows definitely that it is prepared to strike out for greater simplicity in management, and more hard work on behalf of the people it employs.

"In Grateful Memory."

"In Grateful Memory of Lady Beck." That is all the wording on a bronze tablet at the Alexandra sanatorium. The wording expresses the appreciation of the London command of the G. W. V. A., and it speaks as well for a much larger audience.

Placing an instrument such as the Alexandra sanatorium within reach of those who found themselves battling with tuberculosis is a work that will live. Making it possible for children coming under the shadow of the same cloud to have treatment and surroundings, fresh air and sunshine to conquer the touch of disease is an effort that puts a wealth of meaning into those few words: "In Grateful Memory of Lady Beck."

Political Future of the U.F.O.

West Kent farmers' political association favor abandoning the name U. F. O. and adopting that of Progressive as it applies to their activities in political matters. There has always been a feeling in many parts of Ontario that the U. F. O. should be kept as a business organization, one that dealt with agriculture from the standpoint of a profession, for the betterment of buying and selling methods, etc.

The reason was that when this same organization, bearing the same name, went into politics it lost strength and got into entanglements that lessened its power as a business factor.

That may be the explanation of West Kent farmers preferring to work politically as Progressives, coming into line with the name adopted for dominion election purposes.

The matter of name and future political action is something that the farmers are quite capable of settling for themselves, but in order to settle the matter correctly they should look over past records carefully. They have had plenty of opportunity to see the course of events in Ontario, and to judge for themselves if the progress made has been worth the effort. The Progressives, or the U. F. O., have a small group in the Ontario legislature; it is not sufficient to make its presence felt against the very large majority of the Ferguson government. Their position is much the same as that of the Liberal party in the province; it also has a group there, smaller than that of the Progressives.

During the first session of the new legislature these two groups found themselves together on many points; they had about the same objectives in view; they are representing about the same class of people. On one of the most important pieces of legislation brought down by the government, the enabling bill for taking a vote on the future temperance policy of the province, the Liberals and Progressives were united in asking that the nature of the legislation be made known before it passed the House.

Whether it is better for the farmers, either as U. F. O. or Progressives, to continue the present system, or come into a closer working relationship with the Liberals, is a matter that they alone can decide, and no one has any right to attempt to make the decision for them. During the time that Hon. E. C. Drury was premier of the province, and Wellington Hay was leader of the Liberals, the drift was toward a closer cooperation between these two parties, and the matter was discussed several times, although there were no definite commitments either way. When the provincial election of 1923 was fought the issue was unwisely laid in such a direction as to drive Liberals and Progressives apart, and Toronto influences were to blame for this. The Progressives have all these facts before them before they begin their annual deliberations in Toronto, and they will be in the position of tackling a problem and bringing a good deal of evidence to bear on the subject. They can be relied upon to speak what they think frankly and openly, for they have shown by past performance a tendency to leave their harvesters at home and go it bare-handed when they grapple with politics.

A Balance In Education.

The man graduating from college is not the finished article, although he may consider himself qualified to start in right near the top of his profession. That is the view of President E. W. Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and that was the plain statement he made at a dinner of University of Toronto engineer graduates.

One of the difficulties a college graduate in engineering has to face—and the same is true of other lines—is his attitude toward work. His college training has taught him to think and work correctly, but it has not given him a practical application of that knowledge to the work of a great railroad company. The desire of the graduate is to start in as near to the top as possible; Mr. Beatty says he wants to get at least half-way up, and the C. P. R. head has reason to believe that his outlook on and attitude toward hard work, starting at the bottom, has often been spoiled by reason of his college training.

The system that united theory and its practical application to the work in hand is nearer the ideal. One finds it in operation, in a limited way, in our technical schools, where young men are receiving in either day or night classes both theory and practical work dealing with the trade or profession they have in mind. They are kept in touch with the practical side all the time, and never have much chance to let the estimate of their worth run away from their positive accomplishment.

Note and Comment.

The golf fiend will soon spend the rest of the season talking about it.

Speaking of the good old days coming back again, the Chatham News carries on its front page a story of a geranium five feet three inches high.

Chicago man, 300 pounds, on his way to be married, was arrested for speeding, and wanted to lick the officer. A short time after he meekly said "I will."

Russia was prepared to buy 10,000 horses in Alberta. The only thing that stopped the deal was the Albertans' desire to see the color of the Russian money.

Premier Ferguson intimates that the legislature will be asked to increase the salaries of Ontario cabinet ministers. The public is waiting to hear of some places where decreased expenditure is actually going to take place.

The death of Senator Lodge removes a public man in United States who had the power to attack but not to construct. His bitter opposition to President Wilson and the League of Nations had much to do with the downfall of the Democratic party. That is as far as he went, for at the national Republican convention in June he was not even in the house of his friends.

Back To Normal

Don't forget the chicken supper on Thursday evening. Good program after. Admission, 25 cents.—From a weekly newspaper.

I read that thing through twice or more, and wondered if the news was true, that they could entertain a chap and feed him for a quarter, too.

In days when chicken feed is high, when entertainers draw stiff fees, how can they feed a man on that and stuff him from the neck to knees.

It is a goodly thing, it is, to see these chicken suppers come, it minds me of the far-off days when things like this was often done.

When I lived on concession ten we used to reckon we lived high, when we invaded church bazaars and feasted on the chicken pie. It was real chicken in them days, each chicken with two legs, by heck, and never askin' anyone to pick the muscles off the neck.

And after all the folks was fed they used to have a concert then, and on the platform there was set a dozen of the leadin' men, and all of them would make a speech, or crack a joke he thought was new, it would be nigh to 12 o'clock before that meetin' got clean through.

I mind as how some speaker there would rise and speak about the feed, and sayin' that a ladies' aid was still the church's greatest need, and how the women folks in here had once more proved their sterlin' worth, a-puttin' up as they had done the greatest chicken feed on earth.

Then someone else would second that, and tell the women once again, that they knew best at eatin' time just how to tickle all the men. And every time some speaker spoke we'd laugh out loud and yell encore, we'd chuck our hands together then and stamp our feet upon the floor.

I'm powerful glad to read again about these chicken socials here, they smack of golden days what's past, when few things was drab-lined and queer. It marks a change for better times, it means, p'raps the end of war, when folks will feed on chicken pie and not go scrappin' any more.

It wouldn't come as no surprise to hear the Chinese quit their fight, and Spanish troops fling down their guns and left Morocco overnight. Oh, hasten on, you chicken feeds, let's have these quietin' days once more, when on one single dollar bill we had an evenin' fun for four.—ARK.

WHAT IS LOVE?

If you like to wash the dishes
 While your good wife keeps a date;
 If underfed and nearly dead
 You bring her breakfast to her bed
 Because she has an aching head
 From staying up too late;
 If she calls you "brute" and "loafer,"
 And you call her "angel dove,"
 If you keep her father, mother, sister, brother,
 That is love!

If you don't recall her birthday,
 If her meals you fail to praise,
 If when you eat a slab of meat
 The folks can hear you from the street,
 Or if in public you repeat
 The error of your ways;
 If you tell her she's too fatter
 Or imply she weighs above
 What she did when she was married, and she stands it,
 That is love!

"Well, I see where film companies are going to make people pass a test before joining the movies," said Hedjaz Dumb today. "It's about time they started to test something besides the movie fan's patience."

One of the questions on the examination paper is: "What was St. Valentine's name?" Sixteen out of sixteen girls who tried it answered: "Rudolph."

Another question is: "Do you know how to kiss?" My daughter, age 16, answered this by supplying the film company with references from 68 boy friends.

I am worried because my daughter writes that she is pretty sure she will pass, and I don't know whether she means the test or a bad check.

I just learned today that Charlie Chaplin makes a million a year. So I hope that if my daughter decides to pass anything it will be pies.

She's been in Hollywood a week now, and says she's seen many stars. I take from this that she's been in an auto accident.

One of the questions in the test is: "When do you register your deepest emotions?" My daughter answered this by saying: "When my dancing partner steps on my toes."

It's a good thing to have tests of this sort. I remember in the old days when the acid test of acting was usually a bunch of lemons from the audience.

My daughter writes that she hasn't made a success of the films yet. I wrote back and told her that if she acts in Hollywood the way she did at home she ought to get a good part as an invalid.

"Don't worry about being a star," I advised her. "Remember, it will take a couple of years before you can get enough divorces to become a great actress."

"Last week," she writes, "I made a custard pie for Charlie Chaplin to throw at a man during one of his scenes." After reading this it occurred to me that if the pie was anything like she made at home Chaplin was liable to be accused of manslaughter.

There are many disappointments in Hollywood. And from what I know of her the greatest disappointment our daughter could have is to be given the part of a girl who washes dishes.

Elinore Glyn says the most successful movie actresses are those with absolutely no brains. If this is true, daughter should be a greater star than Mary Pickford.

Dr. Frank Crane CORNCOBS.

Some twenty million tons of corncobs, in the United States, are going to waste.

Frederick B. LaForge and Gerard Mains of the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture, and O. R. Sweeney, head of the chemical engineering department of Iowa state college for engineering foundation, are responsible for the statement that science has found a way to avoid this waste.

The foundation says that chemists and engineers appear to have opened a path to new industries based on waste products, which deals with the discovery of new processes for making the corncobs commercially available and reveals their value.

Already one county in Missouri raises large crops of a certain kind of Indian corn because its large cobs make good tobacco pipes. Some cobs are burned as fuel on farms.

Maple sugar flavor is made by boiling cobs with water. Meat smoked with cobs has a flavor said to be better than that from hickory. And there are many other uses.

The Iowa state college is now investigating a product from cobs of furfural, oxalic and acetic acids, wood alcohol, charcoal, pitch, tar oils, cob flour, incense, punk and fermentation products.

A special use is proposed in the manufacture of briquettes from the fine sizes of anthracite. This utilization of waste cobs would enhance the value of waste coal. Besides this there is a promising field in the manufacture of resins similar to bakelite, suitable for printing plates and various other molded articles.

The phenol furfural resins extracted from the cobs are infusible and insoluble. They have high insulating qualities, great strength and great resistance to water and chemicals. They have a large field in radio equipment. Phonograph records may be made from them.

As they have great toughness and resistance there are numerous uses for fibre impregnated with these resins.

Advance in business is largely confined to the utilization of waste products, and if some way can be devised to use the waste corncobs it would be of immense value to the country.

CLAIM GOD'S GIFTS WRONGFULLY TAKEN

Rev. Gilbert Lightbourn Preaches at St. Paul's Cathedral.

Thanksgiving services in St. Paul's Cathedral Sunday evening were conducted by the Rev. Gilbert Lightbourn, who took as his text: Deut. 5:10-11. "It shall be when the Lord thy God shall bring thee into the land which He swore unto thy fathers to give thee great and goodly cities, which thou buldest not, houses filled with all good things which thou filledst not; cisterns hewn out which thou hewedst not, vineyards and olive trees, which thou plantedst not; when thou shalt eat and be filled; then beware lest thou forget the Lord thy God."

Referring to the way that God has guided our fathers in the past, he quoted the words of the late Peter McArthur: Our fathers toiled, but in a glorious fight; the God of nations led them by the hand, with pillars of cloud by day and fire by night. They wrought like heroes in their promised land. The wilderness was conquered by their might. They made for God the glory he had planned. A land of homes where thou couldst make men free. The final masterpiece of Destiny.

"And today we thank God for His loving-kindness in appointing this good land to be 'our dwelling place among the children of men—for the wealth and glory of its plains and mountains, its fruitful fields and ceasing waters, for the precious things of heaven, the dew, the sunshine, snow and rain in their season, for the precious things of the earth and the fulness thereof. For all these things and the opportunities vouchsafed to us in our heritage we praise and magnify the Lord our God."

Mr. Lightbourn went on to speak of the dangers which accompany material blessings, stating that people take God's good gifts too much for granted.

"Beware lest we forget God or say in our hearts, 'My own power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth,'" declared the preacher. "We allow the spirit of self interest rather than of service to dictate to us how we use the things which God has entrusted us. We are not merely God's beneficiaries, we are His stewards and must be faithful to our stewardship. We must not make the mistake of thinking that material comprise the whole of life."

"United, and free and mindful of our stewardship, let us sanctify God in our heritage, to His eternal glory and the good of all mankind," concluded Mr. Lightbourn.

YESTERDAY SPENT IN GIVING THANKS

Londoners Celebrate Thanksgiving Day in Time-Honored Fashion.

London citizens celebrated Thanksgiving Day yesterday rather quietly and in the time-honored fashion.

A gorgeous, sunshiny day enabled a number of London's citizens to participate in pastimes usually pushed into the background by the arrival of king winter.

Thanksgiving services on Sunday attracted large congregations to all churches throughout the city, and thus yesterday there seemed to be a general and genuine effort on the part of the people of London to enjoy themselves in customary holiday fashion.

Tennis courts and golf links vied with each other and with motor cars in enticing men, women and children out into the bracing air. The downtown streets, too, were not so deserted looking in the morning, as on previous holidays, numbers of pedestrians taking a stroll as an appetizer in preparation for the Thanksgiving dinner. And then in the afternoon a second stroll by way of coaxing along a crowded appetite for supper after the more hearty midday repast.

Family Reunions. As ever, however, the feature of Thanksgiving Day yesterday was the family gathering and family reunion, the members of the family away from under the parental roof, home for the week-end to join in a genuine Thanksgiving Day celebration.

Still another feature of the thanksgiving atmosphere this year was the combined thankfulness for the armistice signed on Nov. 11, 1918, bringing to the world the greatest struggle of nations the world has ever seen, and for the God-given blessings showered upon the people of Canada during the past twelve months.

There was at least one Thanksgiving church service in the city yesterday morning, and that was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Rev. D. C. MacGregor, D.D., pastor of St. Andrew's, and Rev. W. R. McIntosh, D.D., pastor of King street Presbyterian church, conducted the service, the address of which was given by Rev. Quintin Warner, rector of Cronyn Memorial Anglican church.

Rev. Mr. Warner Speaks. Touching upon the war, Rev. Mr. Warner declared that whether or not God had come out of it, there had at least come out of it the realization that there had been built into the character of young Canadians a wonderful sense of loyalty and courage.

"The natural culmination of the forces of life," declared Rev. Mr. Warner, "are more marvellous than any special act of God. Thinking God daily for the regular, normal things of life is the proper attitude of Thanksgiving. It is only through God's creative thought that we are living here and now. Until we shake off the lazy and indifferent habit of thinking of God only in a crisis or when he apparently takes a direct hand in our affairs we can never become imitators of God or conscious of Him in our everyday lives. There must be a new sense of the mercies of God and a new recognition of God's common blessings."

POCOCK RAPS MAJOR'S PLAN UTILITIES COMMISSIONER STATES WENIGE NOT CONSISTENT IN STAND.

Mayor G. A. Wenige was roundly scolded this morning by Philip Pocock of the public utilities commission for his suggestion that the utilities of the city bear all the expenses now borne through the levying of taxes.

"I don't like to talk about it seriously," remarked Commissioner Pocock. "We hear a lot these days about horse sense, but in woodcutting, I have too much respect for a horse."

"What a paradise for real estate owners if water and light rates were to carry the burden of city taxes! They could buy up all the property they wished and go tax free."

"The scheme would penalize the small householder, large houses set on large and valuable properties would escape with only a fraction of the taxes now being paid on them, while the utilities tax scheme instituted."

"How fine it would be for certain downtown wholesale houses with large and valuable property and using a comparatively small amount of either water or electric power, and closing as they do, most of them, at 5 p.m., and having only a small number of employees, to have the load would fall on other manufacturing concerns, which are situated further out and consequently on less valuable property and in less valuable buildings, but using considerably more water and power."

Annual Revenue. "The commission's annual revenue from the city amounts to $200,000. Of this amount nearly $25,000 comes in from the railroad companies. The new system would immediately raise a storm from that quarter which could not possibly be appeased."

"The scheme would run up the water and light rates as to put many of the manufacturing concerns of London out of business, and in London is striving to interest and secure new and more industries. How absurd it would be to invite industries to locate in a city having in vogue such a utilities tax system as suggested."

Not in Control. "Beside the fact that the scheme is not workable, there lies the fact that the hydro-electric power commission of Ontario would not permit of the power rates being raised to an exorbitant figure. The local utilities commission is permitted by the H. E. P. C. to charge what they consider a 'fair' rate, and any rate to satisfy the suggested utilities tax system could not begin to be classified as such."

"If the mayor is talking about assessing the utilities because of their use of the streets," concluded Commissioner Pocock, "why does he omit the taxicab drivers? They are small men, but they use the streets, nevertheless. There are, too, the telephone and telegraph companies, as well as the street railway. He is not even consistent in omitting such utilities from his list."

Running for Office. "Running for office is just as serious a matter as holding office. For the scheme would not only deprive candidates of an aid to improved electioneering."

"If a man can't get a dozen or twenty names attached to his nomination, he has a poor chance of success in the elections," the mayor declared. "Running for office is just as serious a matter as holding office. For the scheme would not only deprive candidates of an aid to improved electioneering."

YOUNGSTER LEADS TRUANT WARSHIP

Mutineers Weaken and Bring Fighting Craft to Uruguayian Port.

Associated Press Despatch. Montevideo, Uruguay, Nov. 11.—The fate of the mutineers who seized command of the Brazilian battleship, Sao Paulo at Rio Janeiro a week ago and steamed her out of the harbor while exchanging shots with the shore batteries, has not yet been decided by the Uruguayan authorities.

The Sao Paulo ended her sensational voyage when she entered the roadstead under a Uruguayan pilot, who had been sent in response to wireless messages from the battleship. The mutineers decided to end their adventure when they found both fuel and provisions nearly exhausted by the nursing Brazilian squadron.

The Uruguayan cabinet, after discussing the questions of international law raised by the arrival of the Sao Paulo, decided that the mutineers should disembark for internment pending ultimate disposition of their cases, and the Brazilian legation was requested to charge the mutineers with the mutiny. Those members of the crew professing loyalty to their government were allowed to remain on board awaiting instructions.

The mutineers were lustily cheered by a crowd on the dock as they left the vessel, the nursing fleet, headed by the Sao Paulo's sister ship, the Minas Geraes, is expected to arrive today to take charge of the truant battleship.

SWEET SELECTION LUMBER TO U.S.

Foreign Trade Sought as American Resources Begin to Dwindle.

Stockholm, Nov. 10.—A new and important item may soon be added to the export trade from Sweden to America, according to statements in the press by a Swedish lumber expert, the government forester, M. Juhlin-Dannfelt, who has returned here after an extended tour of the United States as an exchange scholar under the auspices of the American Scandinavian foundation.

The demands on the forest resources of America have already become so great, says Mr. Juhlin-Dannfelt, that a lumber shortage is being increasingly felt, especially in the Eastern States. Besides, the long hauls from the region of standing timber involve sufficiently heavy freight charges to make imports from overseas available.

Consequently a new market for Swedish lumber is opening up, and, in fact, a considerable number of shipments have already been made to Atlantic ports. Spruce, fir and pine lumber, especially undressed materials, such as lath and planks, has been requested to be sent to the American market, and Swedish mills now look for a big trade along this line.

Have a quality all its own

5¢ DENTOLITE GUM. Keeps your teeth white. GUM RATE STILL TOPS FRANCHISE FIGURE. Reduced Price Not Fair to the Citizens, Ald. McKay Declares.

Although the City Gas Company announces a reduction in the price of gas to $1.19 a thousand, it is still 20 cents above the franchise price. Ald. McKay believes that the position of the company is similar to that of the street railway company and that they should revert to the original franchise price as did the transportation company.

He points out that this reduction which leaves the price at $1.19, in lieu of the 90 cents which was the franchise price, is fair to the citizens of London. When Sir Adam Beck last attended the city council meeting in connection with the street railway, the alderman asked him what guarantee there was against the company raising the rate whenever the franchise price was raised. He replied that if this happened he would oppose it in the provincial house. A further reduction to $1.05 is promised for 1926.

MIDDLESEX COMPLETES 15 MILES OF ROAD IN YEAR. Fifteen miles of provincial pavement have been practically completed in Middlesex county this year, Warden C. H. Clark stated this morning. He stated that 15 miles of road have been laid on the Governor's road from Crumlin to the county boundary and six miles from Lambeth to Delaware.

City Engineer W. P. Near has been invited to attend tonight's session of the board of health. Pollution of the Thames river by factory wastes and by sewage is being investigated by the board and it is hoped that conference with Mr. Near will bring out a good idea of conditions as they exist.

Dr. Downham, M.O.H., will present his annual report while monthly reports will be heard from other officials under the jurisdiction of the board.

ON INSPECTION TOUR. Brig. MacAmmond of the headquarters of the Salvation Army is on an inspection tour covering the Wingham corps of the Army. He will return to London tomorrow.

STEAM SHOVEL PROVES WORTH IN CONSTRUCTION. A huge steam shovel, owned by the City, is being used now on the Emery street sewer, which is under construction. A bucket is attached in place of a shovel, to the machine, and the soil is hoisted from the bottom of the ditches to the roadway.

This displacement of the old method is the improvement over old methods is the use of the compressed air machine. The machine dies into the hard clay and is more efficient than a pick and shovel. The machine has paid for itself in less than a year, works department employees say.

WILL ARRIVE FRIDAY. Col. and Mrs. Jacobs of the Salvation Army, Toronto, will arrive in London on Friday to open the winter sessions of the united holiness services of the Holiness movement in the Clarence street circuit.

PROGRESSIVES TO FORM PARTY

Steps Will Be Taken To Organize Political Body at Convention.

WILL MEET NOV. 18

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Nov. 10.—The Ontario Progressive Party will be inaugurated at a meeting of delegates to be held in Massey Hall, Toronto, on November 18.

The first step to be taken will be the creation of party machinery. Hon. Manning Doherty, provisional leader, stated tonight. This matter will come up under a resolution urging the perpetuation of a party whose roots lay in the soil. It is proposed to name a provincial committee, which in turn will arrange for the appointment of riding committees.

It has not yet been decided whether qualifications for membership in the party will be outlined by the convention or left to the judgment of the various riding associations.

The convention opens on Tuesday afternoon and closes Wednesday morning. It is taken for granted that many of the delegates will be members of that organization.

At least 500 delegates are expected to attend.

Steal Chickens On Thanksgiving

What would Thanksgiving be without a chicken or a turkey? To a certain individual, now wanted by the police, the day would be one of absolute dejection. To celebrate it in the orthodox manner, therefore, he killed nine chickens from hen coops in different sections of the city Sunday night. Residents of London West report the purloining of four chickens. London North citizens report a similar loss. The police have obtained no information as to the robbers' identity. They have no clues to work on, and the proportion of the evidence has been consumed.

The BREATH of the AVENUE

SMALLMAN & INGRAM'S SEMI-WEEKLY FASHION LETTER. (Copyrighted)

With the opening of the Opera, costumes that will be worn for evening occasions the country over make their most important appearance.

Rose tones and sea shades of green color the majority of gowns. But the gleaming white dress appears often, and always with brilliant success.

The women in the parterre, the row on which all the opera glasses are leveled, almost invariably wear long white gloves. And their ostrich fans, laid on the edges of the boxes, border the great horseshoe with fluttering, feathered color.

This Opera audience chooses between two silhouettes in evening frocks. Beaded dresses—and there are many of them—follow the simplest of straight lines. Chiffon and crepe, and sometimes satin and velvet gowns introduce low flares near the hemline.

This first night occasion brings velvet to the fore. In many wraps and many dresses and sometimes even in ensemble costumes of matching gowns and wraps, the fashion of velvet adds much to the splendor of the occasion.

The BREATH of the AVENUE

SMALLMAN & INGRAM'S SEMI-WEEKLY FASHION LETTER. (Copyrighted)

Every day that the bright leaves fall, coats come out in brighter colors. And the younger the wearer, the more likely she is to choose a coat in one of the glowing tones.

These new coats are trimmed with contrasting furs. And by matching a dress with either the color of the coat or the color of the fur, the ensemble idea of the season can be carried out in two different ways.

Fifth Avenue sees many turbans and toques worn now—small, close shapes that go so gracefully with fur collars. And the characteristic of this season's turbans is side-placed trimming—a loop of self material, a ribbon bow, fancies of soft feathers or of fluffy fur.

Tunic lines that figure so much in the daytime mode also influence evening fashions. Evening dresses often use borders of fur or horizontal trimming to stimulate tunics. And in New York women are beginning to buy separate tunics in elaborate styles to wear with light slips for evening occasions.

The flower accessory works magic in wardrobes. Different flowers, worn with the same dress, make several costumes out of one.
