Veterans of the Sudan Meet.
Alex. Scott of Brantford was in town yesterday, and by chance ran across Town Clerk W. C. McCall. They had met but two or three times before since the Egyptian campaign of 1884-5, in which both served. We ran across them recalling the Nile and its environs, the camels and the water, the heat and the burning sand. They were having a real visit.

ANOTHER ADVANCE

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, July 25.—The P. 1.1 Mail Gazette says that rumors are current that British troops have made a great advance in the direction of Fismes about midway between Rheims and Soissons. It is also reported that French forces have advanced on another part of the Aisne-Marne salient, and that the armies of the German Crown Prince have been placed in a position out of which extraction seems to be impossible.

APPLICATION ENLARGED

By Courier Leased Wire.
Toronto, July 25.—Owing to Mr. Lynch Staunton, K.C., pointing out that an application before the Ontario Railway and Municipal board by the City of Hamilton, to deal with the gas situation in general was pending, Chief Justice Sir William Mulock today enlarged the application of the United Gas and Fuel company to restrain the Dominion Gas Co. from cutting off the supply of gas. His lordship made a temporary order to the effect that the supply be continued until the railway board had disposed of the city's application.

TO DEPTH OF THREE MILES

London, July 25.—On the western front of the Soissons-Rheims salient the Allied forces have advanced to an average depth of three miles on a 12-mile front during the past two days.

There were no new developments this morning in the battle area, according to advices from the field of the fighting received in London up to noon. The situation was considered quite satisfactory for the Allies.

ALLIES ARE HAMMERING THE FOE UNCEASINGLY

From all sides the allied artillery is hammering the German positions unceasingly. Bombs by the hundreds are being dropped with good effects on dumps and depots. American aviators are reported to have brought down five German machines in aerial combats north of the Marne Wednesday.

Virtually all but one of his lines of communication have been lost and his position is becoming very unfavorable as fresh troops in repeated efforts fail to check the steady forward push of the Allies.

four cannon and three hundred machine guns as of no effect. In the St. Estienne's sector north of Albert, British troops last night pressed forward slightly south of Rossignol. Wood, taking prisoners and some machine guns.

The lull on the other fighting sectors in France and Italy still is unbroken. In Albania the French have completed their present movement by the capture of important heights and the occupation of two additional villages.

British and Allied shipping losses in June were the lowest in 21 months, or since September 16. Losses due to German submarines and mines and marine risks totalled 276,629 tons in June, the British losses being 181,000 tons. Compared with May, sinkings in June were 81,000 tons less and with June, 1917, 7,000 tons less. The losses for the quarter ending June 30, was the lowest for any quarter since the third of 1916.

PARIS CHILD IS DROWNED

While Visiting in Toronto With Her Mother

Toronto, July 25th.—Walking from a flight of steps placed on the promenade at the Eastern Gap for the convenience of sailors, three-year-old Marion Gale of Paris, Ont., was drowned shortly after five o'clock last night. The child was with a number of children of her own age when she slipped into the water.

The life-saving crew responded and located the body after dragging for fifty minutes. It had been carried one hundred yards toward the lake. The work of locating the child was rendered difficult by the rocky nature of the bottom of the Gap, which continually tore the hooks from the apparatus. A pump-tor was applied and a doctor called, who pronounced life extinct.

The effort to revive the child was continued with the Shafter method for another hour before the remains were turned over to the parents of the child.

Dutch Rush-Mats

For more than a century the making of mats from bulrushes and other varieties of rushes has been a house industry in the province of Overijssel, along the Zutter Zee from which the province extends eastward to the German border. Men, women, and children are engaged in the work. Before the war large quantities of mats were imported from Germany. This having ceased, mat-making in Overijssel has greatly increased. In districts along the Zutter Zee the industry is conducted largely for the purpose of freeing swampy lands from rushes so that they can be drained and made arable. Much good farmland has thus been produced, particularly in recent years, since companies and municipalities have taken charge of supervision of this industry.

POSTMEN'S STRIKE IS CALLED OFF AS SUN'S RISING

Proposal on Behalf of the Government is Accepted
Hon. Mr. Carvell Uses Same Strong Language

Ottawa, July 25.—As a consequence of a three hours' conference yesterday between members of the Government and representatives of the letter carriers and postal clerks, the Trades and Labor Congress, the Toronto city council and Board of Trade, and the Retail Merchants' Association, it is anticipated that to-day's mail will be delivered as usual in all parts of Canada. The Government has urged the men to go back to work, and has promised that a sub-committee of the Cabinet will take up with the men the whole question of a revision of their wage schedule. The Government strongly urged this course as essential to the war effort. A proposal that a Commission composed of three members of the Government and three representatives of the men be formed, one of the latter to be Dr. Sheard, M. P., was rejected by the Government. Mr. Carvell Strongly Condemns Strike. In the course of an interview with the pastern yesterday, Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works, spoke very emphatically. "Any man who strikes at a time like this," he declared, "is disloyal. A man has a right to go to the government, and the government's duty is to hear him. Everyone is entitled to a fair wage, but when the country is sending tens of thousands to be shot down, no one at home is entitled to strike."

The delegation expressed some dissent, but the Minister further explained the determination that the mails must not be interfered with, and that they should be handled by those who ordinarily do so, even if force were necessary. The carriers proposed an investigation by a commission of three Ministers and three representatives of the men, one of the latter being Dr. Sheard, M. P. The Ministers would not hear of the suggestion, especially the proposal that the recommendations should be binding. They were willing to have the men present their case in detail to the members of a sub-committee of the Cabinet. It was in the course of this interview that Mr. Carvell spoke so vigorously. He gave figures, which were not disputed, to show that out of 2,152 carriers only 192 are in the minimum class at $2 per day, the rest drawing the maximum. New counting of the clothing and taking into account the bonuses the minimum salary in the east is now $75 and the maximum $115, while in the west the minimum is $1,250 and the maximum $1,469. In addition money each year is paid to street railways to transport the carriers free to and from work. Mr. Carvell said the matter must not be interfered with and his view was that they should be handled by the men supposed to do it, even if forcible means were necessary.

U. S. Has Filled Gaps. "We hope and trust that this time the tide has turned finally and conclusively. The gaps in the Allied chain, the determination of Russia have been made up with much sterner stuff from the United States. They are pouring across the Atlantic at the rate of more than 250,000 a month, and it will not be so long before the American army in France will be as large as the Anglo-French combined."

Referring to the political situation in South Africa, Gen. Smuts said the elements which made for unity and strength are far stronger than the centrifugal influences working in the direction of disunion. "What our valor achieved in this war, I hope our statesmanship will retain after peace," said a general. "When it is remembered that Germany at the height of her power before the Americans came in could not strike this paralyzing blow, what will be her position when America's new and incomparable army is fully on the scene? We can be confident as regards the end, be it far or near. It is as sure as the rising of the sun to-morrow."

AMERICA FILLS GAP WITH MUCH STERNER STUFF THAN RUSSIA'S GERMAN DRIVE OVER

London, July 24.—Gen. Smuts, of South Africa, in a speech here today referring to the general military situation, said it was most interesting and most hopeful. We must not cherish extravagant anticipations, he said, but there was sufficient ground after the happenings of the last two months for cheerfulness and gratitude. When they thought of the anxieties of March, April and May what an enormous and almost providential change had taken place. The great German offensive of the Semine, Lys and the Aisne had ended in a tremendous collapse. "We had been looking forward to an offensive," Gen. Smuts continued, "which was to paralyze our armies finally leading among other things to the capture of Paris and the end of the war as we knew it. The great blow had come and what had happened. On the Marne the tide had been turned as it had been in 1914, but perhaps in a more significant sense. U. S. Has Filled Gaps. THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1918

THE SITUATION.

The fighting continues with undiminished fury on the Rhine-Soissons battlefield. Nine divisions have been rushed from the command of Prince Rupprecht in order to help stem the tide, but it still sweeps steadily forward and the Allies continue to notch more and more gains. The counter-offensive to-day enters upon its second week and is being sustained with undiminished vigor and results. By all the military authorities the brilliant stroke of Foch is regarded as the turning point for the campaign of the present year as the enemy has had to call upon too many reserves to render another massed offence effective this season.

Complete success continues to crown the operations of the Allies in Albania and the entire mountainous region has now been occupied which dominates the Devoli valley. The figures regarding losses inflicted by the submarines during June are very reassuring. The menace has not been stopped, but has become so crippled that future levies are likely to become less and less. At the same time the idea that John Bull could thus be starved out has been completely knocked on the head.

BORDEN'S VISIT TO THE OLD LAND.

Certain papers are commencing to criticize Premier Borden for his absence in England and they take the view that his place is at home in order to give the lead during these troublous times. It is worthy of passing comment that the journals in question were among the first in former days to declare that there was no leadership at all in the make-up of the Hon. Robert and that in this essential he could be regarded as a joke. There has evidently come a great change in their opinions on this score.

As a matter of fact, Canada's First Minister, in common with the First Ministers of the other overseas Dominions, was summoned to the Old Land in connection with the Imperial Conference. For him to have declined would have created much deserved criticism; for him to return before the matters on hand have been fully discussed would equally be a legitimate cause for severe censure. His critics in the respect named are clearly out of court and are manifesting very narrow and faulty judgment.

A despatch to the Toronto News from its Ottawa correspondent recently made the following statement: "Confidential advices are in the hands of the Cabinet as to the reasons he is remaining for a time in England. They cannot be made public except to say that Sir Robert and Premier Hughes of Australia and General Smuts of South Africa are backing Lloyd George in a fight he is making for increased efficiency of the British army, of which the overseas forces form a most important part."

The Toronto Globe writes very warmly with regard to the above and reads into it the idea that Sir Robert is staying in order to help run the British Army, adding the remark: "If that is what is keeping Sir Robert Borden in Britain he should have been home long ago."

To all of which buncombe it may be remarked that the hot weather seems to have affected a Toronto editor, as well as an Ottawa correspondent.

AN EASTERN MENACE

In addition to the loss to the Allies by the collapse of Russia, there has from the inception been the danger that she might ultimately become active against them. What Germany controls she always uses and that she has through Bolshevik machinations the upper hand in the kingdom of the late Czar is generally well understood. It is this fact which lends significance to the despatch from Moscow that a general mobilization of the Russian army was commenced on July 7th, certainly not to help the Allies, and then what?

As one authoritative has recently put it:—

"The Russian empire may be likened to a building thrown down by an earthquake. The stones have been shaped to fit and the architect could build them up again into a stronger structure than the original. But for the moment the architect is dazed and paralyzed; the stones lie on the ground, and until he recovers they are at the disposal of his adversary. Can Germany lay hands on these materials for a rival construction?

Most assuredly yes, so long as Lenin and his associates can continue to play into the hands of the Fatherland, and if so, it may well change that the Kaiser and his advisers may contemplate designs with regard to China or India and perhaps both. The trans-Caspian railway would offer a splendid chance for transport. It may be that there is no immediate or future danger, but the chances undoubtedly exist that the Hun in his desperation will not halt at any move calculated to strengthen final settlement.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

These hot days there is the juice to pay.

The Huns are continuing their march on Paris by backing up.

Out west the mercury has touched the freezing point. There is a good deal of difference between that and the fizzle work it is doing hereabouts.

The sailors on the Great Lakes are now talking of quitting work. Baseball leagues may go under but the strike crop still maintains a fair average.

The Kaiser is reported to have wept when she recently visited German wounded in military hospitals. P. S. Neither of her six sons was among the number.

The strike of the letter carriers having ended some more mail will be released.

INES ADVANCED.

With the American Army on the Marne Front, July 25.—(By the Associated Press).—French-American troops this morning advanced their lines north of the Marne River more steadily. The Germans continued their retreating movement to the northwest.

The French and Americans also made gains on other parts of the fifty-five miles of front. The Germans viciously resisted in a majority of cases.

The Entente Allied forces in the territory to the north of Chateau Thierry are paying less attention to running down machine gun nests and are advancing their whole line, small detachments being left to clean up the machine gun crews.

AMERICANS PROGRESS.

Washington, July 25.—Further progress by the American forces in their attacks between the Curey and the Marne is reported by General Pershing in his communique for yesterday received to-day at the war department.

Northwest of Jaulgonne American forces penetrated the enemy positions to a depth of from one to two miles.

DRIVE AGAINST ITAGY

Washington, July 25.—An offensive against the Italian has been determined upon by the Central Powers. German troops have already arrived to reinforce the Austrians, according to official dispatches from Rome to-day.

"Your Problems Solved."

BY REV. T. S. LINSCOTT, D. D. (All rights reserved.)

Dr. Linscott in this column will help you solve your heart problems, religious, marital, social, financial and every other anxious care that perplexes you. If personal answer is required, enclose a five cent stamp. No names will be published; if you prefer, sign your initials only, or use a pseudonym.

JOHN H.—The suspicion you harbor against your friend is likely unfounded. At least ninety per cent. of mere suspicions are false and foolish. He may have some such suspicion against you. Invite him to dinner. Love him more and you will distrust him less.

A SUFFERER—You ask if God can cure physical disease in answer to prayer. He surely can do so, but there are cases that God cannot cure. He cannot cure sick people if such cures would result in moral injury. God's rule is law and not miracle. As a rule, it is much better than sickness should be cured, or prevented, through the means which God has placed in nature. Research has found a preventative which is also a cure for diphtheria, also a preventative for small pox, and for typhoid fever, and there is no doubt at all that a preventative will always be discovered for every disease which afflicts mankind. It seems to me much more benevolent for God to allow us to discover the cure for all physical diseases. God put the whole of nature into the hands of man in a raw, unfinished and imperfect condition, leaving man to finish the work which He had begun.

Modern Methods of Warfare Developed on the Aisne.

The Aisne looms large in the history of the war. The battle of the Marne and the stopping of the first German rush, the enemy fell back towards the Aisne. On September 12, 1914, the British were cleared out of the valley of the Vesle. The historic story of the next days is graphically told by Capt. C. A. L. Brownlow, D.S.O., R.F.A., in his "The Battle of the Storm."

"On September 13 and for the ensuing three or four days the British army crossed the Aisne and fought fiercely to advance further, but without success. Gradually the front crystallized into immobility, and here our troops remained for three weeks. During this period one can trace the beginning and growth of the methods of trench warfare which are now familiar to so many.

"The trenches, first begun by the individuals of the first line, were dug each for itself, a hole in the ground, grew apace into a network of excavations, while away behind the firing line there appeared systems of reserve trenches, and a crowd of the directions of G.H.Q.

"With the ever-increasing ramifications of the trenches began the first dug-outs, which were small caves burrowed into banks, and the openings into the trenches, rooted in with such material as was to hand and covered by a layer of earth sufficient to give protection against sniper fire. The necessity of the opposing lines it was necessary to get accurate artillery fire close in front of our firing trench. This necessitated most accurate observation, and this in turn necessitated forward observation officers and telephone wires laid from the batteries to the infantry.

"Now began the allotment of a definite section of the front for each battery to cover with its fire, which developed in time to the 'bar' or curtain of fire, the basis of present tactics.

"To prevent a sudden rush of the enemy, obstacles such as wire cut from fences and rabbit netting from the neighboring woods were erected, forerunners of the vast barbed wire entanglements which now stretch from Switzerland to the sea.

"The first time the direction of artillery fire from aeroplanes, which was done occasionally by wireless, but mostly by the use of colored lights. Here, too, appeared the first observation balloon; needless to say, it was the enemy who had it.

"It was on the Aisne, too, in those September days, that the first forced marches from the Kaiser the immortal title of the 'contemptible little army.'"

MINISTERS HOME FROM OVERSEAS

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Ottawa, July 25.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior, who arrived in the capital at a late hour last night was in conference throughout the morning with Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways. At noon they were joined by Hon. J. A. Calder. Subsequently Mr. Meighen gave out a statement to the press in which it was intimated that Sir Robert Borden and Hon. N. W. Rowell will remain in London for a short time at least in order to attend sittings of the Supreme War Council.

Mr. Meighen's statement, in part follows:—

"The work of the conference was far from completed when we left. The prime minister is being strongly pressed to remain for some time yet. He is personally anxious to return, but the view of his associates in the war cabinet, both from the United Kingdom and from Canada was that he should continue his work at least for a short time. Mr. Rowell will in all probability accompany him. In the present state of the western front as far as other, but less grave causes, it will be of great value to the government here to have Sir Robert Borden and Mr. Rowell in constant attendance at the supreme war council.

"As to railway matters we had repeated and absolutely essential discussions with the Grand Trunk directorate. The government's position is now clearly before the committee.

APPOINT INQUIRY COMMITTEE

By Courier Leased Wire
 London, July 25.—The Trade Union Advisory Committee met this morning and requested the government to set up a committee of inquiry, composed of representatives of the government, of the employers, and of the trade unions concerned, to inquire into the causes of the munitions dispute. The Government agreed.

AT VANCOUVER.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Vancouver, July 25.—Vancouver mail carriers refuse to accept the reported settlement arrived at between the government and their representative, Alex. McMorris, and will continue the strike.

Last night the Union of Letter Carriers got word from Mr. McMorris advising the men to go back to work and giving the basis of settlement. Officials of the union, however, say that to adopt such a settlement would be tantamount to defeat and that they intend to press for a board of conciliation.

The railway mail clerks have been called out, finishing their duties as they arrive at Vancouver on the incoming trains.

STRIKE OVER IN REGINA.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Regina, July 25.—So far as the letter carriers postal strike is concerned the Regina post office are concerned the postal strike is over. At 11 o'clock last night, following a mass meeting of the men, it was decided to return to work. The only regret was the fact that Mr. Geo. Wedlake, the Sunday School Superintendent, was unable to be present on account of temporary illness.

WORKERS ON STRIKE.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Birmingham, July 25.—It was estimated that 190,000 munition workers were out of strikes in the Birmingham district. This morning workers in a few factories decided to remain at work pending the outcome of negotiations which are in progress with the ministry at London. The result of the conference of engineering and allied trades which opened at Leeds to-day.

RENAN'S VISIT TO OXFORD.

Of Renan's visit to Oxford I have mingled memories—all pleasant, but some touched with comedy.

He was in love—apparently—with Oxford. His charm, his safety, played over all that we presented to him. I recall him in Wadham Gardens, wandering in a kind of happy dream. He had only such places as this to work in, in France. What pages—and how perfect—one might write here!

Or again, in a different scene, at luncheon in one of the parks, when Oxford was showing, even more than usual, its pitious inability to talk decently to the great man in his own tongue. It is true that he either understood our conversation—or spoke of it. But that did not at all mitigate our own shame—and surprise! For at that time, Oxford would speak, everybody, probably, read French habitually, and many of us thought we spoke it. But a mocking spirit suggested to one of the guests at this luncheon, in the conversation, a historical tutor—the wish to enlighten Mr. Renan as to how the university was governed, the intricacies of Convocation, and Congregation, the High Court, and all the rest.

The other persons present fell at that breathlessly silent, watching the gallant but quite hopeless advocate. Then, in sheer sympathy with a good man in trouble, one after another, we rushed in to help, till the constitution of the university must have seemed indeed a thing of Babelian to our uninitiated guests; and all our cheeks were red. But Mr. Renan cut the knot. Since he could not understand, and we could not explain, what the constitution of Oxford University was, he suavely took up his parable as to what it should be. He drew the ideal university, as it were, in the clouds; clothing his vision, as so many do, with much fun and so much charm, that his English hosts more than forgot their own defeat in his success. The little scene has always remained with me as a growing instance of the French genius for conversation. Throw what obstacles in the way you please; it will surmount them all.—Mrs. Humphrey Ward.

"Units for Publication"

A letter from Sofia, dated Jan. 22, which M. Politis, Minister of Foreign Affairs, read in the Greek House, stated that there were then 3,000 Greeks interned there, of whom 30 per cent. were in rags and literally perishing of cold and starvation. They were huddled together through the bitter winter by red huts hardly fit for savages, and any attempt to warm the huts by fires filled them with smoke. All those who were not utterly worn out were forced daily to hard manual labor without any pay, while they were continually witnessing the deaths of their fellow captives and the prostitution of the younger women, who were often driven to sell themselves for a morsel of bread. Similar horrors were reported from internment camps at Rhumli, Lom Palanka, and Gostiva, Albania.

One of the documents in this dossier, which M. Politis refrained from reading and merely referred to, but which I have seen, gives details of the atrocities committed on old men, women, and girls who were tortured to death in ways quite unfit for publication in an English newspaper.—The Times.

Twenty enemy aliens were taken from New York yesterday to Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., for internment during the period of the war.

Margaret Garrett's Husband
By JANE PHELPS

CHAPTER CXV
 One Common Theme
 "Gone! what do you mean?" Bob demanded as we reached the door of the children's room.
 "How long were you asleep?" Nellie made no answer, and instinctively both Bob and I halted a second on the threshold. Then Bob fairly leaped into the room, and after a quick glance at the little bed he ran to the window. The same thought in both our minds—kidnapped.
 I had not spoken since we left the dining room. I couldn't. But now I asked Nellie, in a voice that sounded faint and far away.
 "How long were you asleep?"
 "I came up immediately I finished waiting ma'am, and sat in my room (it opened from that the children occupied) until I felt sleepy. Then I came in as I always do to see if the children were covered, and, and—"
 "Donald—was gone—"
 "No one could get up here with out a ladder," Bob said then. "Have you searched the other rooms?"
 "No sir. I came right to you."
 "That was right, but now let us search the entire house carefully. Does he ever try to get up in his sleep?"
 "Oh, no, sir."
 "I could see that Bob like myself was exerting all his strength to keep calm. He was white and I noticed that one hand was clenched until the knuckles were swollen. I could scarcely stand. How everything else seemed to dwindle before this real calamity; this awful thought that my Nellie had been stolen from me!
 I followed Bob down the stairs in sort of a daze. He went directly to the first floor— I found afterwards that he had gone directly outdoors to see if there were any signs that some one had tried to climb into the windows.
 Almost mechanically I turned into my own bedroom and switched on the lights. I turned toward the bed, and there curled up on the top of the bed with my bathrobe pulled up over him was Donald, sound asleep.
 "Bob! Nellie! Bob!" I called. "He's here!" and then I weakly sat down and cried like a baby.
 "Bob came three steps at a time, while Nellie rushed into the room crying her joy.
 "What's you crying for, muver?" Donald asked as Bob came into the room. My loud calling had wakened him.
 "Oh, you precious mother's crying about you" and I caught him in my arms, while Bob, the strain removed, also allowed himself to drop weakly into a chair.
 "What did you come into mother's room for?" I asked after a minute in which Donald struggled comfortably in my arms.
 "Cause I had a bad dream and I waked me up and I couldn't go to sleep in my bed, so I finked I'd come in muver's bed like I did the other time."
 "Oh, you did, did you?" Bob tried to laugh, but it was rather a shaky attempt.
 "Yes, I did. Muver don't care, do you muver?"
 "I don't care about anything now. I exclaimed passionately as I hugged him close. "Turn down the bed tonight, I shall keep him with me to-night."
 "Goody, goody! I've goin' to sleep muver!" Donald exclaimed sitting up and clapping his hands.

"I am afraid you'll be in for it after this. What possessed him to come in here?" Bob asked when Nellie had left us alone.
 "Why the night you were out late, the night I thought you were a burglar I let him come in with me because he had a bad dream."
 "I remember. He shouldn't have had dreams at his age. I would look carefully after what Nellie gives him to eat."
 "I always do, yet perhaps he ate a little more heartily than usually to-day. I let him have 'some of the party' as he called it."
 "Well good night, and young man you must learn to stay in your own bed," he said as he stooped over and kissed the child. His hair touched my cheek but he did not offer to kiss me; he simply said; very kindly: "If he seems restless call me. Perhaps he needs a doctor."
 "Oh, no, he's all right. Not even the least bit feverish." I answered steadily although I wanted to scream out my love, and ask for a caress.
 "Good night again then," and Don and I were alone.
 I did not go directly to bed. But held Donald in my arms until he was once more fast asleep. Then I laid him down and slowly prepared for bed.
 "We have one thing in common, thank God," I said to myself as I carefully brushed my hair. "The boys belong to us both."
 The thought sent me into the nursery and on my knees by the crib, George was sleeping soundly, and I breathed a little prayer that God would spare my precious babies to me. Life would be worth the living for their sakes.

into an irresponsible strike. On the Clyde there seems no sign of sympathy with the strikers and work there is continuing smoothly. The same may be said of many other centres.

On the other hand 8,000 notices to cease work Tuesday were handed in at Manchester, where the Amalgamated Engineers have a membership of 15,000. It is declared a majority will join the strike unless the embargo is removed. It is reported also that the engineers at New Castle have decided to follow the strike without waiting action by the national conference. The men at Lincoln did not go on strike Wednesday as threatened, but will await the result of the conference.

The American Red Cross has given 500,000 francs to assist in fighting the epidemic of Spanish influenza in Switzerland.

MAY LOWER DRAFT AGES.
 Washington, July 24.—Secretary Baker announced to-day that on the reconvening of Congress, he would present with his request for new appropriations plans for modification of the draft ages and a "somewhat larger military mobilization."

The plan concerns the mobilization of a huge American army, probably upward of 5,000,000 men. No announcement was made as to whether the draft ages are to be lowered or raised, but it is known that the prevailing judgment of the Secretary's advisers is to lower them.

VERY NEARLY.

Brandfordites were not subjected to the inconvenience of a letter carriers' strike, but very nearly. At a meeting held last night it was decided to go out this morning but word of the Ottawa settlement came in time to stop the procedure.

NO PASSPORTS FOR WOMEN

Passports for women to leave Canada are unnecessary, according to an official announcement. Rumors in circulation for some time past have caused more or less general belief that no one is allowed to go to the States without the necessary passport. This is incorrect, so far as women are concerned when they are merely leaving Canada for a visit across the line. The only ones for whom passports are needed are men between the ages of 18 and 45.

GET WILD BERRIES

The Canada Food Board calls up on the people at summer resorts and residents in suitable areas, to make an immediate drive on the wild berry patches. Small fruits in general are scarce this year, but the wild berries are as abundant as usual. The main argument for gathering the wild berries freely is the shortage of butter in Europe. During the winter of 1918-19 jam must be used extensively on this continent as a substitute for butter, and the finest flavored jam in the world is that which is made from wild berries.

DISEASE HITS CROPS

Farmers and garden crop growers in Western Ontario are facing a serious problem in their potato crops owing to the appearance of black leg, leaf roll or curl, and mosaic and late blight. Inspection of the affected crops appears to indicate that the disease has made its ravages in those localities, and gardens where Southern or home grown seed was used, the crops from Northern Ontario, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island seed being in the main free of disease.

MANY GETTING PENSIONS

Some 16,000 men, women and children are now receiving pensions through the Toronto district office of the Pension Board. About 60 per cent. of the men receiving disability pensions are married, and have families averaging three children each. There are 1,203 widows, 2,101 children, 44 guardians, 97 orphaned children, 377 dependents and two nursing sisters. This means an extra allowance for children of disabled pensioners, the estimate of children is 7,500. A number of women have declined to receive pensions.

PLAY AT LONDON

Saturday afternoon the Brantford semi-pros. will play the strong London Military baseball team at Cordage hall tonight. The London Military team has suffered but one defeat this season, and that was by Brantford early in the season. Recently they concluded a trip through Michigan, winning five games and losing none. They will be seen in action here later in the season.

JOINS U. S. ARMY.

Prior to his departure for Buffalo to-day to join the American army, Mr. Vincent Walsh was honored by his fellow members of the Cordage hall team yesterday, being presented with a handsome shaving set. Mr. Walsh, whose home is at 107 Brant avenue, has two brothers also in the American expeditionary forces, Sergt-Major P. P. Walsh and Corp. J. Walsh.

BOWLING TOURNEY.

Thirty-six rinks from a wide district took part in the Red Cross bowling tournament at St. George yesterday. The first prize was carried off by J. A. Ogilvie of the Heathers, whose rink—the other members being T. McPhail, J. Newcome and G. Comertor—won out against Plattsville, and had a total plus score of 56 in five games. The second prize also fell to a Brantford rink, from the Dufferin green, composed of Inglis, Bull, Dymond and Henderson.

WANT POSTAL CLERKS TO JOIN T.L. COUNCIL

Latter Body Ask Mail Men to Affiliate - Other Matters Up

The semi-monthly meeting of the Trades and Labor Council was held last evening in their rooms. There was not a very large number present, but despite this there was a considerable amount of business discussed. The meeting opened with President Stinchcombe in the chair. The first question to be discussed was why the Postal Clerks did not meet with the Council. A motion was made to the effect that the Postal Clerks be asked to unite with the Trades and Labor Council. The report of a special committee on the subject was then heard. Major Gordon Smith had given them good help in collecting the evidence that they had. The case had, however, been dismissed by the police. It was moved that the evidence that they had collected be submitted to the local press and also to the labor papers. Delegate Brown asked for a ruling on the right for the Street Railwaymen's Union to sit at the council because they did not use union made clothes. This subject was dropped on the ground that the street railwaymen were not there to defend themselves and it was decided to notify them to attend at the next meeting. Delegate Kite brought up the matter of sending a delegation to the Trades and Labor Congress. It was decided to do this, and to ask all the local unions to contribute at least five cents per member to defray expenses of the delegation. There was very severe criticism of the city officials' conduct to the workmen. It was charged that sufficient courtesy had not been shown many who went to the city hall to pay their taxes. I. S. Armstrong remarked that it was no use knocking the city officials, as it was them there. Delegate Kite then read a list of topics that were to be discussed during the coming winter.

It was moved by Del. Armstrong that the secretary be instructed to write the Secretary of the House of Representatives to see if the Trades and Labor Council could be represented on that board. A motion was then passed that the local press be written a letter of appreciation for their columns on "Labor Activities."

SENT GUNPOWDER THROUGH THE MAIL

Local Woman Admitted to Having Sent Explosives to Austrian

Mrs. Mary Danby, twenty-nine years of age, and of English nationality, was arrested late yesterday afternoon at her home, 204 Rawdon street, by Chief Slemin and Detective Schuler, charged with sending gunpowder through the mail to Joseph Zelensky, at Sarnia. In the Police Court this morning Mrs. Danby admitted having sent the powder, and was allowed to go on suspended sentence, the magistrate being satisfied that she had not intended to do wrong.

S. A. Jones submitted a plea of not guilty on behalf of the woman. She admitted having sent gunpowder through the mail, but had done so innocently, with no wrong intention. She had bought a box of cartridges at a local store and returned the powder from them, and had twice sent Zelensky a quantity. She had known Zelensky when he lived here, and had sent the powder at his request. She believed he meant to take it as medicine. "What nationality is Zelensky?" inquired the magistrate. "An Austrian," replied Chief Slemin.

"His name sounds more like a Russian," observed Mr. Jones. "I was informed from Sarnia that he was an enemy alien," declared the chief. "He wrote to Mrs. Danby, saying that he could not obtain the gunpowder himself."

"When you visited Mrs. Danby's home there was no attempt at concealment," inquired Mr. Jones. "None at all," admitted Chief Slemin. "Her husband advised her to tell the truth, and I believe she did so."

Mrs. Danby stated that she had taken gunpowder as a medicine. Zelensky, she stated, suffered from stomach trouble. J. E. Montgomery of the local postoffice stated that the chief inspector of sending gunpowder through the mail was its inflammatory character.

S. A. Jones made a plea for leniency, submitting that the defendant had no wrong intention. "Ignorance of the law is no excuse," observed the magistrate. He allowed Mrs. Danby to go on suspended sentence, however, on payment of the costs.

Austrian Got Three Months. Sarnia, July 24.—The Zelensky, an Austrian from Brantford, was sentenced to three months in jail at Point Edward to-day for receiving gunpowder through the mails. This is said to be the maximum Publicity or Bankruptcy?

Bradstreet's statement that 84 per cent. of all failures are among non-advertisers is significant.

Intelligent advertising has become absolutely essential to every modern industry.

But what shall the advertiser do in the face of war conditions, when he finds it difficult to get goods to fill his orders?

First of all, remember that the fundamental purpose of advertising is to fix indelibly the trade mark or the trade name in the public mind.

A let-up in that campaign must be fatal to any product.

The American Rolling Mill Company declares its purpose to continue its advertising, although for two and a half years it has been unable to supply the demand for its product.

"We are building," they say, "a permanent business edifice, and some day we would have to spend millions of dollars buying back the business and good will of our clients if they are forsaken in this emergency."

Unless advertising is kept up without break the advertiser loses the results of all his previous effort.

Here is a warning to the advertiser who neglects the dull season in summer—

When advertisements are fewest is the very time when a message to the public may get the most attention, providing, of course, that the character of the advertising deserves it.

Many advertisers hold it to be good "psychology" to push the advertisement of a winter product in summer, and of a summer product in winter.

TWO COMPLAINTS REGISTERED

One Regarding Streets and the Other About the Squirrels

Citizens have recently made complaints to The Courier with regard to two matters.
The first is the failure to have the holes in the pavements properly filled up on Dalhousie, Market, George, Dufferin avenue and other streets. As one man remarked, "Now is the time to do that work and why the delay? Is it the plan to wait until the snow falls so that the unsightly cavities can then be placed out of sight?"
The second cause of complaint is with reference to the squirrels. From a small colony in Victoria Park they are over-running the city and many instances of damage are reported. They are eating corn in many of the gardens and are destroying apples and pears in order to get at the seeds. In many attics they have also worked havoc among goods stored therein and are making their way into cellars. In one instance a citizen found his water supply to be tainted and when a plumber was called three or four dead squirrels were discovered in the tank. "Another season," remarked one citizen, "and they will be so numerous as to become a positive menace. In fact, they are that right now." His suggested remedy was squirrel pies.

The Chautauqua Entertainment Well Worth While

On another page of this issue will be found a half-page advertisement in behalf of the Brantford Red Cross benefit Chautauqua, which opens on the O.E.S. grounds Saturday. This large ad seems to be but indicative of the progressive spirit of the Chautauqua and the Dominion Chautauques which pays for this half-page ad fully appreciate the value of newspaper advertising. While over $150 has been spent in street advertising, the advance superintendent, T. O. Tuckie, states that nothing equals advertising in a live newspaper.
Realizing the need of uplifting entertainment during the summer season thousands of towns in both Canada and the United States have looked to the chautauqua to fill a long felt need. With this spirit back of them, the Dominion Chautauques will be in some fifty new places in Ontario this summer, and in nearly every instance the net proceeds will go to the Red Cross, this being true in Brantford.
A large airy tent, capable of seating some 2,500 people, will be brought here for the occasion and will be pitched on the beautiful shady side of the O.E.S. grounds. A large canvas fence will be erected at a distance around the big tent, so that the sides of the tent will be up at all times to allow cool breezes to penetrate through the audience.
An idea of the fine entertainment to be given during the six days may be gleaned by reading the half-page ad. in this issue.

TRADE COMMISSIONERS PAID VISIT TO BRANTFORD TO-DAY

F. W. Field Met Manufacturers And Importers of This City This Morning Promoting Interests of British Trade in Canada—Strong Desire for Export Trade Here

Mr. Fred. W. Field, H. M. Trade Commissioner, paid a flying visit to Brantford this morning, addressed a meeting of manufacturers and importers in the Board of Trade rooms, made a tour of inspection to seven local factories, and left this afternoon for Paris.
"My visit to this district," explained Mr. Field, "is chiefly to get in touch with manufacturers' agents and importers; to obtain an adequate idea of the importance of the city and surrounding district, in an industrial, agricultural and business way; to obtain information regarding your district which will be of value to British firms who may propose to locate branch factories in Ontario and to discuss the advantages of British trade in Ontario, with importers and others who are desirous of doing so."
The Trade Commissioner service of the Imperial Government is one of many practical steps being taken to obtain for the units of the British Empire, the primary benefits of that Empire's vast natural resources and trade intercourse. The reception given to our work in Ontario, which is my territory, has been splendid. I have received every possible assistance.

Broadly speaking Mr. Field's duties as trade commissioner, are:
(1) To keep in close touch with the Government and state authorities in the Dominion.
(2) To visit the principal commercial centers in his area and establish touch with the members of the commercial community.
(3) To study and report upon the tariffs laws and customs regulations, as well as legislation affecting banking, shipping, and copyrights, etc.
(4) To watch the imports into the Dominion, to furnish reports on the best methods of meeting foreign competition, and to furnish reports on financial and trade conditions.
(5) To forward early information as to contracts open, or likely to be open, to tender, the opening of new industries and the extension of public works.
(6) To make an annual general report on the conditions and prospects of trade in his area, and to supplement it by special reports on monographs dealing as exhaustively as possible with particular questions which are likely to be of interest to British firms.

Mr. Field expressed himself, as being deeply impressed, in this section of Ontario, with a number of machines, tools, and other articles of manufacture and merchandise, which were produced in Ontario, now being made in Ontario factories. There is also strong evidence of a desire for export trade.
Mr. Field says, regarding the manner in which Ontario industries had entrenched themselves in the British Empire.
"We are all interested in seeing that the primary benefits of the trade volume and natural resources of the British Empire are retained for that Empire. Prior to the war enemy interests had strongly entrenched themselves in our territory. An interesting example of this may be cited, namely that of the manufacture of an article which is extensively made use of by the war office and the admiralty. Before the war this article was manufactured in England and contracts with the Admiralty had been held for many years. But the manufacturers had to meet the competition of the German combination, with the result that prices were cut, and in 1910 a representative of the combination threatened to undersell them if a combination was not effected. The manufacturers were not financially strong enough to withstand a competition of that kind, and the result was that the company was formed to take over the business, all the shares in the company being held on behalf of the German combination by British Trustees. By the contract of transfer the proprietors of the business were to be employed as managing directors, but one of the covenants provided that they should not manufacture for any other person than the purchasers. Half of the product of the article in question manufactured in England before the war was manufactured at these works. The German proprietors exercised no control over the manufacturing, which was carried on under the name of the proprietors and managed by them as before. No dividends were paid, but profits were used to improve the works to the extent of $50,000. There was, in fact, no outward and visible sign of the German interest in the business for that it was not a purely British concern."

MONTEAL STREET RAILWAY MEN
Decide Upon a Strike After Taking of Secret Ballot

By Courier Leased Wire
Montreal, July 25.—The employees of the Montreal Tramways Company, after a secret ballot vote at half past one o'clock this morning, decided to strike. The opinion of the meetings held yesterday evening and early this morning was that the workers had waited long enough for the advanced scale of wages agreed on between the union leaders and the company last month. The day and hour for the strike will rest with the executive of the union here after permission to take this action has been received from Detroit. Following the count of the ballot, a message was sent to the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America at Detroit, announcing the decision of the men and asking leave to put it into effect.
This announcement was made early this morning by Financial Secretary Bourbonniers, who admitted that an agreement was reached between the labor leaders, the Tramway company officials and the Public Utilities Commission at an informal meeting yesterday afternoon that matters stand in abeyance until next Wednesday.

WANTS TO JOIN YANKS. Happy Felsch wants to become a Yankee. Contrary to the report circulated when the star outfielder left the White Sox some time ago, he is not working with a gas company in Milwaukee, but is taking a vacation in the Wisconsin woods and is yearning to don the spangles once more. Felsch writes a friend that while he is anxious to resume his duties in the American league he would under no circumstances return to the Chicago club. He expresses a strong preference for the Yankees, and falling to land here would like to join the Cleveland club.

Felsch does not state just why he quit Clarence Rowland's outfit, but it is intimated that he had some sort of a run-in with his manager. The outfielder says he has been made a splendid offer by the Steel league, but that he is holding back a definite answer pending action by Charley Comiskey on his application for a release to New York or Cleveland. In view of the fact that Chicago is no longer a pennant contender and that it is for the best interest of the American league that a player of Felsch's caliber be kept in the circuit, it seems likely that Comiskey will be persuaded to send Felsch elsewhere. However, if the Yankees hope to get the outfielder they will have to do some tall hustling, for Cleveland has the inside track on a proposition of this sort. The Yankees could make splendid use of a man of Felsch's speed and batting power. His acquisition might provide that feature which is lacking to make the club a consistently formidable pennant contender. Felsch's preference for New York and Cleveland is not the development of a liking for the two cities in preference to the other members of the league, but is a mark of recognition of the fine qualities of Miller Huggins and Lee Fohl. They are the best-managed in the league, and their men find it a pleasure to work for them. Only a month or so ago Chet Thomas, who had been traded to the Athletics by the Red Sox, and refused to report to Mack,

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled. Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost. Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. asked for a release. He, too, said that he would go only to the Yankees or Cleveland. No matter what the Yankees achieve in the league standing, his success among his fellow-workers should give him a keen feeling of satisfaction.

Ten Straight For The Leafs

Defeat Jersey City Easy in Second Game of Series

THE SCORE WAS 7 TO 1

Today's Game With Pests Has Been Postponed Until Later

Jersey City, July 24.—J. J. McCaffrey, owner of the Toronto Maple Leafs, saw his penitent hopes hand the rejuvenated Skeeeters another decisive trimming in today's line-up between Howley's boys and DeLoe's athletes, the advantage resting all with the Leafs by a score of 7 to 1. Owner McCaffrey is here to attend to-morrow's meeting of Farrell's League at the Hotel Baltimore in New York, and the Toronto magazine breezed into the grounds here just as his employees sent their first run across the plate in the opening of the first inning. The Maple Leafs must have received notice of McCaffrey's intended visit, for they expended all past efforts in their exhibition today, simply playing rings around the Skeeeters from beginning to end. They hit the pill hard and ran wild on the bases, and there was no holding them when they reached the getaway corner, no less than five piledrivers being charged to the account of the runners-up. Peterson held the fort for the visitors, and served up a puzzling assortment of twisters that had the Skeeeters guessing from start to finish, and as in the game of the previous day, Brockley proved helpless before the visiting gunner's slants after the third period, when they broke through for the only run hung up in the two days' fighting. Five batters were mixed in and also was taken to the station house. Kolsch was acquitted, but Clark was fined $10 and costs and Brady $5 and costs. The score: R. H. E. Baltimore... 081010000—8 10 3 Rochester... 020200000—4 7 2 Batteries—Parham and Sebaute; Grant, Brogan and O'Neill. Second game—R. H. E. Rochester... 410111100—5 12 5 Baltimore... 130101010—7 10 4 Batteries—Hagen and O'Neill and Smith; Herbert, Lewis and Schaufel.

Clark and Kolsch Start a Fight and Brady Also Mixed In Baltimore, Md., July 24.—Baltimore and Rochester divided a double-header here this afternoon, the home team taking the opening game 8 to 4 and the visitors winning the night-cap 9 to 7. Clark and Kolsch got into a tangle while they were being escorted from the field by the police. Brady mixed in and also was taken to the station house. Kolsch was acquitted, but Clark was fined $10 and costs and Brady $5 and costs. The score: R. H. E. Baltimore... 081010000—8 10 3 Rochester... 020200000—4 7 2 Batteries—Parham and Sebaute; Grant, Brogan and O'Neill. Second game—R. H. E. STEEL SOLDIERS LATEST INVENTION

Danish Engineer Has Taken Out Patent for Automatic Rifleman

CAN FIRE 400 SHOTS

London, July 24.—An "automatic soldier" is one of the latest developments in weapons of war. A Danish engineer has recently taken out a patent for an apparatus to which he has given this name. It consists of a steel cylinder normally within a large cylinder, the whole being sunk into the ground vertically. By means of a mechanism operated by wireless, the inner cylinder rises to a height of 18 inches from the ground and simultaneously an automatic rifle, mounted on the inner cylinder, fires four hundred shots in any given direction. These "automatic soldiers" can be controlled from a central position some four or five miles behind the line of defense, according to the inventor. They may be seen by the enemy only when they rise from the ground. From trials already made it has been shown, so it is reported, that a few hundred of these steel soldiers can easily defend a position against infantry attacks, however numerous, the opposing force may be. They blaze away their four hundred shots without flinching, and never retreat. In order to overcome the "automatics," they must be destroyed one by one. FORBIDDEN FRUIT. (Associated Press.) Amsterdam, July 25.—The peasants of Bohemia have not lost their grim humor in these times of scarcity. According to a Prague paper, the villagers of the neighborhood erected the customary maypole to celebrate the advent of spring, but its decorations, instead of the usual multi-colored ribbons, consisted of time-expired bread, meat and fat cards. A placard on it, recalling the parafidical state of mind read: "Of all the trees shall ye eat; only of this tree ye shall not eat."

Caton's Great Playing Helps Pittsburg Defeat Brooklyn

New York, July 24.—St. Louis National's hit three New York pitchers all over the field here today, and easily defeated the Giants by a score of 10 to 2. Packard was hit hard, but received great support from his outfielders, who made 12 catches, many of them difficult. The batting of Fisher and Hornsby helped. The score: R. H. E. St. Louis... 300310030—10 15 1 New York... 00000001—2 4 3 Batteries—Packard and Gonzalez; Sallee, Schupp, Ogden and McCarty, Gibson. At Philadelphia—Paskert's home run in the sixth inning to-day helped Chicago to defeat Philadelphia 5 to 4. The home team rallied in the ninth, but the game ended with runners on second and third base, with the score one run short of a tie. The score: R. H. E. Chicago... 007004000—5 5 0 Philadelphia... 020000002—4 8 4 Batteries—Vaughn and O'Farrell; Pendergast, Davis and Burns. At Boston—Boston defeated Cincinnati 4 to 0, Rudolph holding the visitors to four hits. The play of J. C. Smith was a feature. The score: R. H. E. Cincinnati... 000000000—0 4 1 Boston... 211000000—4 7 0 Batteries—Regan, Luque and Wingo Cueto; Rudolph and Wilson. At Brooklyn—Pittsburg took the first game of the series from Brooklyn to-day by a score of 3 to 1, mainly through Comstock's effectiveness and Caton's wonderful playing at short. The latter accepted eleven chances, most of them difficult, and in deep field. The score: R. H. E. Pittsburg... 000001110—3 9 0 Brooklyn... 010000000—1 6 1 Batteries—Comstock and Schmidt; Marquard and M. Wheat.

LEAVE GIVEN MARRIED YOUTHS

Within the Ages of 20 to 22 Years

Providing They Became Wedded After Securing Exemption

According to the regulations which have recently been received from Ottawa, provision has been made to allow leave of absence from military service to any youth between the ages of 20 and 22, who have been called to the colors, who are married, and who are able to establish proof that they married only after they had justifiable reason to believe they were permanently exempted. This regulation is a concession to the class whose exemptions were cancelled on April 29, as it will allow a considerable number of them to return to civilian life, but it does not necessarily mean a leave of absence to all of the above ages who have married since the passing of the Military Service Act. The granting of the leave of absence to each applicant will depend entirely upon the conditions of the man's exemption at the time of marriage. For example, if the man was a young farmer between 20 and 22 years of age, and married after being granted exemption as long as he remained a farmer, as many of them did last Fall, the leave will be granted. If the man married after being put in Class 2, that will be considered a justifiable grounds. But if a man married after being granted two or three or six months' exemption, or for any other period which would indicate that a time had been fixed for him to be called up, then that will not be considered sufficient ground on which to allow the new leave of absence. Any married man of the above ages who feels he is entitled to consideration should make his personal application to his commanding officer. If considered favorably, a leave will be granted for 30 days, and in the meantime his case will be forwarded to Ottawa where a permanent exemption may or may not be issued. Status of Air Mechanics. Grocers' And Butchers' Picnic Scored a Big Success

Mohawk Park Was Crowded With Merry-makers Yesterday Afternoon

SPORTS EXCELLENT

Mohawk Park was the mecca of hundreds yesterday afternoon, travelling by street car or automobile, by wagon or on foot to the seventeenth annual picnic of the grocers and butchers of Brantford, held at the Park and signalized by one of the largest attendances on record. The excessive heat, far from proving a detriment to the picnic, was probably responsible for the presence of many drawn by the lure of the lake's cool breezes, who would not otherwise have made the trip. Nor did rain, which threatened during the later part of the afternoon, hamper the festivities, for it hung off long enough to permit of a safe return in the evening by the majority of the picnickers.

Picnics may come in many guises, but to Brantfordites there is one which has become an established institution, an annual event of universal interest—the "grocers' and butchers'." For seventeen years past it has been to hundreds one of the attractions of the summer season. Niagara Falls, Port Dover and other places have been embraced in its itinerary. This year a stay-at-home policy was adopted by those in charge, and the result was yesterday's gathering. The usual program of sports was augmented by many special features, both serious and amusing, and the prize list was one of unusual extent. The placid waters of the lake held an attraction for many of the younger generation disporting themselves in the water, while older and more sedate picnickers enjoyed a row or a sail. Afternoon and evening the swings, seesaws and other amusement devices were crowded while the refreshment booths did a rushing business.

So large was the crowd that the street car service proved totally inadequate for its accommodation. Every car bound to or from the park was crowded to the very doors while many were forced to walk either one way or both, in the sweating heat of a July afternoon. Even such drawbacks, however, could militate but little against the success of the event and the seventeenth annual grocers' and butchers' picnic passed into history as among the most momentous on record.

BELLS OF HELL GO TING-A-LING

For You, But Not For Me, Says Tommy to the "Haters."

IS HIS PHILOSOPHY War Too Serious a Thing to be Taken Seriously

Behind the British Lines in France, July 17.—A striking feature of the British soldier's war songs is their humor. Even the French find it difficult to understand how it is that the Tommy dares to sing in such a way, and it is in reality the greatest tragedy in the history of the world. The truth is that the British private discovered a new philosophy appropriate to modern war, he has discovered that it is too serious a business to be taken seriously. Humor and flippancy is the only antidote to its unutterable ghastliness.

In all the British soldier's songs, the contrast to the songs of the German army is most striking. Here is one which might well be called the British soldier's Hymn of Hate:

"The bells of Hell go ting-a-ling-a-ling.
 For you, but not for me,
 For me the angels sing-a-ling-a-ling.
 They've got the goods for me,
 O death, where is thy sting-a-ling-a-ling."

Where grave thy victorie?
 The bells of Hell go ting-a-ling-a-ling.

"For you, but not for me."
 That is the nearest he has ever approached to an expression in song of his religious faith.

"I want to go 'ome."
 There is one song in particular which might well be called the Song of the British Army. Every soldier at the front can sing it. It is to be heard in every trench dug-out and bullet in France. The words do not scan and the music cannot be commended for martial grandeur or delicate harmonies, but it is Tommy Atkin's masterpiece. It is almost a dirge or lament, colored with just that touch of elusive cockney humor which shows that it is not to be taken seriously. These are the words:

"I want to go 'ome."
 "I want to go 'ome."
 "I want to go 'ome."
 The shells and the whizzbangs they run and they roar,
 I want to go over the sea,
 Where the Allomans cannot catch me.

Oh, my,
 I want to go 'ome."
 I want to go 'ome."

One can imagine a German over-hearing this song and drawing certain inferences as to the singer's morale. But the British soldier will utterly confound those inferences every time.

He has a great weakness for sentimental love songs, which remind him of home and of associations that lift him out of the somber surroundings of his camp or billet.

Tommy Atkins has all the intense reserve of the Briton. To sing about fighting for freedom against the enemies of right, for the sake of the flag, and all the rest of it, strikes him as indecent. Such things make him blush, they are not mentioned in polite military society. The more flamboyant type of patriotic songs which proclaim with gusto that a soldier's life is the only life for me, and so forth, he frankly ridicules. He has no illusions as to the horrors of modern warfare. One of his favorite songs begins:

"When this bloody war is over,
 O how happy I shall be."

WHAT IS A CALORIE?

People Have Asked If It Is a New Breakfast Food.

Since food conservation has become a vital factor in carrying on the war against Germany, the layman has encountered in his reading the new word "calorie." This word, which formerly appeared only in scientific journals, now jumps at once from the daily papers, from the magazines, agricultural and trade press. In a way, the Food Administration is partly responsible for the increased use of the word, and as a result has received letters from all parts of the country asking: "What is a calorie?" Some people have gone so far as to suggest that it is the name of a new breakfast food.

When fuel is thrown on a fire under a boiler heat is produced. This heat is required in order that the engine may perform its work. To do work of any kind requires energy. Food used or burned in the human machine produces energy to maintain the normal heat of the body and to do its work. Work done by the body comprises not only that which requires muscular or mental exertion, but also involuntary exertion, such as the beating of the heart, the expansion of the lungs, etc. The chemical process within the body which transforms our food into energy is similar in nature to the process which takes place when fuel is burned over fire—though, in the body, the burning takes place very slowly and in every tissue, instead of in one central place. The value of food is determined by the amount of energy it yields to the body; and it also has a building and regulating function.

It was necessary that a unit be established for measuring the amount of heat produced when food was completely burned. The unit chosen or universally adopted as the unit for measuring fuel value or energy value for any kind of food is called the calorie. It represents the same principle in measuring as the inch or foot, the units of measuring length; the pint or gallon, the unit of volume; and the ounce or pound, that of weight.

The calorie is the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one kilogram of water 1 degree Centigrade, or one pound of water approximately 4 degrees Fahrenheit.

Our requirements of food, so far as the amount is concerned, can therefore be expressed in the number of calories needed for each person a day. It must not be forgotten that the calories must be derived from the proper kinds of food.—N. Y. Herald.

LADY'S MATINEE AND CAP.
 By Anabel Worthington.

What could be daintier than this charming negligé or matinee, and the cap which goes with it? One glance at the diagram will show you how simple is the construction of both. The matinee is all in one piece with graceful points at the sides and on the sleeves. The pointed collar gives a pretty finish to the neck, but it may be omitted if desired. Pale pink crepe de Chine trimmed with French Val insertion and edging would be exquisite. The cap may be made to correspond, or it may also be made from two 11 inch handkerchiefs. This set will make an ideal gift for a convalescent friend or for a bride's shower.

The lady's matinee and cap pattern No. 5373 is cut in three sizes—34, 38 and 42 inches. As on the figure, the matinee and cap together, in the 38 inch size, require 2½ yards 36 inch, with 6¼ yards insertion, 1½ yards edging and 2½ yards ribbon. The cap alone requires ½ yard 27 or 30 inch material, with 2 yards edging.

To obtain this pattern send 15 cent. to The Courier office, or two for 25 cents.
