The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"It makes me feel badly to think I can't repay you in some way," said the woman who was receiving the favor, "can't you possibly think of something I can do for you?"

"Don't know as I can," responded the brisk little woman who was bestowing the favor, "so suppose you do it for someone else."

I think all favors, all kindnesses, all helps in life ought to be treated that way.

Very, very often one cannot hope to repay one's benefactor. But I don't think that inability relieves one from the moral obligation to keep the credit and debit sides of one's kindness account with a balance on the right side by "passing it on."

If you do this, I firmly believe that in the great clearing house of kindness the original benefactor will somehow receive his own again.

That wouldn't be any more wonderful than your receiving the money in New York on a check from a bank in San Francisco and the New York bank being safely reimbursed, would it? And, just think, man is managing that business, and God the other.

I know a man whose brother many years ago advanced the money to send him to college. He planned to pay it back, but before he finished his course his brother died. Instead of bewailing himself that he could never pay that kindness back, he "passed it on." That is, as soon as he got on his feet financially, he gave the same sum of money his own education had cost to another ambitious young man who lacked the funds for the education he craved. And when that boy would have repaid the money, he was told to keep it until he found another ambitious young man who stood in need of it.

And now the fund of that big brother has sent five men to college. I can never repay the newspaper man who gave me my first foothold in the newspaper profession; who explained and advised and smoothed away difficulties that might have proven absolutely insurmountable without his surpassing kindness.

He is far above any ability of mine to help him.

But I can help some other beginner, and I consider it just as much my obligation to help any of the inexperienced folk who come into my path as it would be to help him if he needed it.

I think it would be a splendid condition of affairs if every time any of us received a kindness of any sort we felt uneasy until we had "passed it on."

What you gave might not always be of the same kind or size as what you received, of course, but just what you had to give.

If your richer neighbor, for instance, takes you out motoring, why not let that be a reminder for you to send your poorer neighbor some fruit?

Or, if your rich cousin invites you on a yachting trip, why not let that become an obligation to you to invite your poorer cousin to enjoy what is as much a luxury to her as the yachting trip is to you—a week at your summer cottage.

If a kindness to you is shown, 'Tis not meant for you alone. Pass it on. Let it dry another's tears. Let it travel down the years Till in Heaven it appears. Pass it on.

Ruth Cameron

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which stem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

Given Away.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Fads and Fashions.

This year. This material, too, is used for princess slips, worn under the white lingerie gown.

One of the features of the present season is the little tunic of voile, marquisette or chiffon cloth made for wear over the gown of foulard of taffeta, and above all, over the frock of lingerie persuasion.

Silk Flowers, made so exactly that it is difficult to tell them from the original models, are used for fastenings at the neck in place of the conventional pin. These are especially modish with the collarless afternoon gown.

One of the newest ideas in trimming is the use of overlapping buttons to finish skirts and coats. The buttons are put on one above the other so that their rims overlap each other and make a continuous line.

THIS CURES NASAL CATARRH.

You have fulness of the head, headaches, difficulty in hearing, stuffed nostrils, droppings from the throat, hawking cough; you ought to know you have Catarrh. It is poisoning your whole system. Catarrh begins as a cold; repeated colds inflame more deeply the air passages. By-and-by it extends deeper, far down into the lungs, then you have bronchitis. These inflamed surfaces secrete germ-laden mucus. If swallowed it pollutes the whole system and destroys health. Stomach dosing for catarrh always fails, so do washes, snuffs, ointments. The only remedy that will do you good is Catarrh-oxone. Catarrh-oxone is a fragrant healing compound that despoys germs. When you inhale Catarrh-oxone into the lungs from the Catarrh-oxone inhaler, little drops of healing are carried to the remotest part of the breathing apparatus. Wherever Catarrh-oxone goes it first destroys the germs, but its healing action goes right on until the tissues are made whole. Then congestion ceases, the formation of mucus ceases, hawking and spitting ceases, and of course droppings into the throat that poison the whole system cease. You get well. You see Catarrh-oxone removes the cause at once. Don't you think it is the right way to cure Catarrh? Can you think of any other way that would be as good? Complete outfit, $1.00, hard rubber inhaler with sufficient liquid to last three months. Trial size 25c.

Be Careful.

Never believe those scientifics, with the ponderous sounding phrase, Especially when they tell us of the Stars; Of leafy vales in Venus, canals within the moon, Or messages now reaching us from Mars.

They told us of the comet, its measurement, its weight; Take heed, M. J. O'Mara, of this tale— They said that we'd be pulverized or stunned by earthquake shocks, Or driven from our orbit by a gate.

But the inoffensive comet passed us, as the "member" glides By "loyal, staunch constituent," who wrote "I'm coming into town to interview you, mister man. 'Bout that grinding-stone you promised for my vote."

They told us we'd have brilliant meteors flashing through the air, And showers of radiant fragments from the same; That rivals of Aurora would monopolize the vault Of heaven with their gorgeousness of flame.

So we waited long to see it, but were disappointed sore, 'Halley's ragged tramp of heaven was outdone In points unique, and fearsome pyrotechnical display, By Hanley's march for Morris when he won.

So I've come to the conclusion that those scientifics chaps, In this and many other things are green, Or else it isn't science that their giving us at all But "copy" for the paying magazine.

It was colorless, the passing of this much boomed traveller. Why, "Teddy" beat it hollow every day, He's "busting in" to everything and all upon the road; But what was Halley's out for? Who can say?

"MOTHER!" pleaded the girl, gently. With a sigh, as if yielding to the soothing influences of the world, the woman dropped back again, and clasped her hands, but the movement of the fingers told of the nervous restlessness within.

"You played to-night, Hilda?" she said, presently. "Yes, mother," was the reply; and, as she spoke, Hilda's head dropped, and she stifled a sigh. "It was a good hour—the people were they pleased, as usual?"

"I think so, mother." "You think so!" was the almost querulous response. "Do you not know? At your age, I should not have hesitated over such a question. What is it they tell me in the house here? That the whole city is in a furor over you. Is it true?"

Hilda sank back, resting on her left hand, her right lying listlessly in her lap, a wistful, sorrowful sadness in her face. "The theatre is always full; the people receive me very kindly, mother."

The old woman turned her head so that she might see the dowcast face. "Why do you speak with such dissatisfaction?" she said, in her weak voice. "Is there one girl out of a hundred who would not joyfully change places with you—you, Hilda, the great actress? You may be rich, famous, honoured—? She stopped suddenly, for down the pale

The following is only one from the hundreds of testimonials we are receiving.

College St., Toronto.

Gentlemen,

It gives me pleasure to write recommending your Dr. Bovel's Herb and Gum Salve. For years I was troubled with piles. This I did not do, but as a last resort tried your remedy and am glad to say that after using four boxes am completely cured. You have my sincere thanks. Make any use you like of this letter.

Yours truly,

ly; 'he lives! Hilda, I lied to you! He lives!' With a low cry, the great actress hid her face in her hands.

"Oh, mother, do not—do not deceive me! My father—" "Hush!" said the woman, with a gesture, pointing a shaking finger to the wall. "See, he shakes his head and smiles! He disowns you, as he disowned me. You have no claim on him, he says, for she who bore you and trusted him was deceived, betrayed, deserted and left to starve!"

Panting, perplexed, struggling with a horrible dread, Hilda clung to the thin arm and forced it down. "Mother—mother! Think! Look at me! What do these wild words mean? Oh, they are not—they cannot be true!"

"Deceived and deserted—the plaything for an hour!" murmured the woman, hoarsely, staring at the phantom of her fevered brain. "Yes, it is true! Shame to him that left my child nameless and disowned, an object at which the lowest may wag their tongues and point the finger of scorn!"

With one great cry, that seemed to come from a heart rent in twain, the girl sprang to her feet, and in all her loveliness and grace confronted her mother.

The cry—the sudden, passionate movement—recalled the wandering brain. With a shudder, the woman fell back in the chair, and hid her face in her hands. Raising her heavy eyes to the white face above her, she motioned to the girl to come nearer.

"Have—have I told you, Hilda?" she asked, faintly. Hilda bent her head still lower. With a shiver, the mother drew her shawl round her, with a heavy sigh. "You have no word of blame for me, Hilda?"

The girl shook her head slowly. "Not one word? Child, you bear with me to the last, as you have borne all through the long years—unrepining, unreprouchful. Heaven bless you, my child! Perhaps—perhaps—she faltered, weakly—"it would have been better to have carried my secret to the grave—"

With one word, the girl stopped her. "No." "No, you are right—you are right. One life alone cannot repay the foul wrong he wrought against me. The woman he betrayed dies, but her child, and his, remains to remember and repay. Hilda, I am dying—dying fast! Do not speak—not yet! Your voice goes to my heart; I cannot bear it! In its agony I hear the footsteps of all the cruel years that have gone by—Hilda, you will not forget me? We two have faced the world alone; you will not forget the years of misery, of poverty and privation, of wretchedness, which we have borne—you will wait and watch for the hour of vengeance, as I have watched? Promise me that—promise me that!"

The hollow eyes gleamed with a spasmodic fire, the thin fingers sought and feebly clutched the burning hands that leaned upon the chair. "I promise!" came the low, heavily breathed response.

"Swear," said the dying woman's hollow voice; "swear that nothing, neither love, nor riches, nor life itself, shall stand in the path to your revenge! If at any time your resolution should grow faint and lukewarm, look back upon the years we have spent—look upon the night when the mother who bore you lay dying before her time, killed by one man's treachery; think of her wandering with her babe—yourself, yourself—at her breast, homeless and starving, deserted by the man who had robbed her of all that womanhood holds dear!—think of yourself, nameless and degraded among your kind! Think of all this, and keep alive the curse which, from the time it fell from these wrong lips, had borne its fruit for him. Yes!" she gasped, her hands clenching passionately. "It has borne its fruit—unknown to you; I have watched it work, year by year, falling upon him and his—him and his!"

Exhausted by her passion, she fell back, gasping for breath, but before the girl could rise she regained something of her feebly strength and went on: "Hilda, one week—one week—remember!—after he had left me to face the world with a broken heart, he, your father, married. He had sown his wild oats—ah, Heaven! that sowing which bears so bitter a harvest for poor me alone! He had left the past behind him, and was to settle down, respectable and respected, with his newly made wife to help him to happiness and peace. But the curse worked! Before two years had passed he had driven her from his home and slain his dearest friend. She was guiltless—guiltless as the child she bore with her in her flight. The greater his punishment; just Heaven had worked out its vengeance—the deserted—deserted! He loved her, Hilda, and when the truth came home to him he sent to seek her and bring back the second woman whose life he had wrecked and ruined, but I was before him. I—I found her, a weak, broken-hearted creature, clinging to his child as I clung to mine. With a plausible story, I persuaded her that his vengeance, and not his remorse, was pursuing her, and she fled. Mark that, Hilda! Mistress and wife were equals—wanderers, outcasts, both, while he—he sat eating his proud heart away at home."

White and breathless, the girl crouched at her mother's feet, drinking in the awful story, every word of which burned into her young heart. "Years passed," continued the weak voice, "and I found her again, living as I lived, under an assumed name, keeping from her child, as I kept from mine, the story of her life. Pitiless, I forced her to fly, and once more snatched her from his grasp. Death did the rest. She died—died suddenly, leaving the girl ignorant of her story, ignorant of her real name, homeless and helpless."

One Pill

It is impossible to be well, simply impossible, if the bowels are constipated. Waste products, poisonous substances, must be removed from the body at least once each day, or there will be trouble. The dose of Ayer's Pills is small, only one pill at bedtime. All vegetables.

Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills, gently laxative, all vegetable. He knows why they are so effective on the bowels.

DIRECTIONS

For the Guidance of Electors in Voting. Each Elector on entering the room where the poll is being held, shall declare his name, surname, and addition.

After so doing he shall receive a ballot paper in the above form.

Each elector, if required by the Deputy Returning Officer, the Poll Clerk, one of the Candidates, or one of their agents shall, before receiving his ballot paper, take an oath of qualification.

The voter is not to vote for more than six candidates as Councillors. After receiving the ballot paper the voter shall go into one of the compartments and with a pencil, there provided, place a cross in the divisions containing the names of the six candidates for Councillors for whom he intends to vote thus—X.

The voter will then fold the ballot paper, so as to show a portion of the back only, with the initials of the Deputy Returning Officer and hand it so folded up to the Deputy Returning Officer, and the Deputy Returning Officer shall, without unfolding it, ascertain that it is the ballot paper which he furnished to the elector, and then immediately place it in the ballot box. The voter shall forthwith leave the Polling Station.

If a voter inadvertently spoils a ballot paper, he may return it to the Deputy Returning Officer, who will give him another.

If a voter votes for more candidates than he is entitled to vote for, or places any mark on the ballot paper by which he can afterwards be identified, his vote will be void and will not be counted.

If a voter takes a ballot or ballot paper out of the Polling Station, or fraudulently puts any other paper into the Ballot Box than the paper given him by the Deputy Returning Officer, he will be subject to punishment by a fine of five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for a time not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour.

F. J. DOYLE, Returning Officer.

A BURNING PRISON. DESPERATE ADVENTURE IN A STEAMER.

An exciting incident occurred at Sunderland on Saturday afternoon when a man and a youth were confined in a veritable death-trap on board the steamer Lavinia Westoll. The vessel was under repair at Messrs. Austin's shipyard, and the plates were being renewed in the fore-peak. This is a compartment which can be made watertight and airtight. Four men were employed on the work, two on the outside of the compartment—one in riveting the new plates and the other in heating the rivets; while the other two, a man named Peter Mills and a lad named John Patterson, were working inside. It was Patterson's duty to catch hot rivets thrown down through the manholes and hand them to Mills, who put them through the rivet holes and then held them while the riveter outside hammered them tight.

About half-past two a rivet not intended for the catcher, but falling accidentally from another squad of workmen, came through the manholes and fell into a heap of tarred oakum, which burst into flame. The two men outside easily escaped, but Mills and Patterson were trapped inside.

The only means of egress was a series of manholes from deck to deck, and these now served as a funnel for a dense volume of smoke, which rose high into the air and was seen by thousands of people. A fire alarm was given; and within a few minutes the brigade arrived. Several men attempted to pass down through the manholes to the rescue of the prisoners, but the dense volumes of rising smoke made this impossible.

The compressed air tubes which work the pneumatic tools were then pushed up against the still open rivet holes of the plates, and the air was thus pumped into the peak. The fire brigade played on the outside of the plates to keep them cool, and the holders of pneumatic nozzles—Patterson, a brother of the imprisoned boy, and a plater named McDermott—were in a continual torrent of water, but stuck to their posts.

It was decided that the only way to release the imprisoned man and boy was to cut through the plates. An inch of solid steel had to be pierced. One man held the cutting tool all the time while eighteen others, worked with heavy sledgammers, worked in relays of three.

Boy's Agonised Voice.

The two prisoners could be heard tapping at the plates, and the words "Furry, hurry" the agonised voice of the boy, were audible. Those outside shouted, "Keep your heart up, Peter," but the noise of the hammers drowned their voices.

The work of cutting the plate was extremely quick; yet seventy minutes elapsed from the outbreak of the fire till a complete aperture was made and the two prisoners were hauled through the hole.

Mills, looked, his comrades declared, ten years older. Patterson on getting into the open air had a violent fit of weeping and then collapsed and was carried home. Mills related how he had to encourage Patterson, who would have been suffocated if Mills had not held him by force to the holes through which the air was being pumped. What most concerned Mills was the fear that the fire might reach the wooden ceiling of the fore-peak, which in that case would have fallen in.—Daily Mail, May 30.

Wake Up, St. John's!

Public interest in the Municipal contest cannot be regarded as intense. Indeed, it is remarkably slack. Why this is so we do not know. It is not for lack of work to be done or problems to be solved. The financial problem is a difficult one. The sanitation of the city is a disgrace to it. The housing problem demands immediate attention, and there are a thousand and one things that need a more active and "live" supervision than they have received in the past. Surely the decadence of the interest is not due to a spirit of hopelessness and a feeling that the problems are insoluble. There is undoubtedly needed in St. John's a general awakening as to the disease, dirt, indifference and inertness which is eating out the life-blood of the community. Cannot the public at least insist on the city being cleaned up? At all events, the fault will not be to the door of our correspondent "Reform."

POLICE COURT NEWS.

A disorderly and two drunks were discharged to-day.
A drunk and disorderly was fined $5 or 14 days, and for threatening Mr. Hugh Kennedy with a knife was fined $10 or 30 days.
Const. Mercer summoned 5 young lads for loose and disorderly conduct. They were let off on paying costs. Six others summoned by Const. Walters for similar conduct were discharged.
In the C. D. Court Mr. Andrew Carrell summoned the C. L. March Co. for $27 for painting and lettering a large furniture car and other work. Defendant took exception to the prices furnished in the B.F. and the evidence of Messrs. Collier and Lawrence, carriagewrights, was taken, showing that the figures were fair. Judgment went to plaintiff for the full amount. Mr. Squires for plaintiff, Mr. Blackwood for defendant.

AT THE DOCK.—The s.s. Invermore and s.s. Strathcona and O'Toole's schooner Triton will be undocked this evening.

Negro Attacks Child.

When Bridie Baker aged 13 daughter of Mr. John Baker, was proceeding up the South Side road on her way to school yesterday, opposite Delgado's cottage, and east of the St. John farm, a colored man rushed out of the thicket off the road and bounding over the bridge fence seized her. The child is robust and strong and not of a nervous temperament and struggled with her assailant who then she stated drew a knife and threatened to kill her if she did not keep quiet. Just then a heifer, owned by Mr. King, happened to run through the thicket which the man had quit, and he hearing the noise but not seeing the animal, and believing some person was approaching, released his hold on the girl who jumped to her feet and sped up the road. The man turning and seeing the animal, the cause of his momentary alarm, then ran after the child and threw some missiles at her which struck her in the head but did not hurt her. He could not catch her, and fearing discovery he retraced his steps and ran up in the bush from which he had emerged. The little one ran to St. John's Bridge and crossed over to Waterford Road where she met some fellow pupils, and then became weak.

Two Bankers Arrive.

The banking schooner Australia, Capt. W. Hollett, of Burin, arrived here this morning from Carbonear where she had baited with capt. She was on the Grand Banks 3 days ago and reports the weather very stormy. She reports fish very plentiful on the Banks, and in the high sea running lost her anchor. It was too stormy to fish. The vessel has 1,600 qts. to her credit to date.
The schr. Baden Powell, of Burin, Capt. John Day, also arrived here this morning. She lost her anchor and 60 fathom of cable in the storm on the Banks last week. Though fish was plentiful they could not do anything owing to the storm and secured only 20 tubs of codfish. This vessel has now 500 qts. of fish stock. She reports the Cactus and Reliance. The Australia lost two sets of trawls for each dory also.

Steering Gear Gave Out

The accident to Hon. J. Harvey's auto last night at 10.45 occurred on the corner of Cornwall Avenue and Hamilton Street. The chauffeur, J. Gaulton, was alone in the car and was going out Topsail Road to bring back a party, when the steering gear gave out. The car went into the drain and the two wheels were smashed from the axles and the machine otherwise damaged.

Trouble With Crew.

Capt. Joe Day of the schr. Baden Powell had trouble with his crew in Bowring's Cove to-day. The men came on shore to get an anchor and before taking it to the dory they took something from an "anker" in a store across the street which made them obstreperous. Capt. Day ordered them to lift the anchor on board the dory and one of them preferred to fight the captain, who made a body load of his man and took him to the boat. The others were inclined to suik and hung back, but the captain showed great pluck and made them all lift the anchor on board with the exception of one sulky fellow.

Mutilated Body of a Woman.

Found in a Trunk Submerged in Lake Como, Cal., June 10.—The badly mutilated body of a woman, believed to have been Mrs. H. N. Castle, who was Mary Crittenden Scott, of San Jose, Cal., was found in a trunk to-day submerged in a lake near the village of Maltraic. Wrapped about the body was a piece of cloth which bore the initial "G." and from letters found in the trunk, written in English, it appears that the woman, in 1906, lived in 34th street, New York City.

The police basing their opinion on wounds on the head made by a blunt instrument, are of the opinion that the woman was murdered, and have taken into custody a Russian, named Constantine Isoplatoff, 50 years old. They suspected him of having some knowledge of how the woman met her death.

Several persons who knew the woman in life, and viewed the body to-day, says she told them she had been married to Porter Charleston, the son of an American naval officer.

Charleston is described as being 23 years old, and is said once to have been a student at the University of Pennsylvania. The woman apparently was about 35 years old. When the body was found it was recalled that recently a young couple occupied a villa on the shore of the lake. Three days ago they disappeared, and have not since been seen by the people of the neighborhood.

The woman spoke English, her companion attempted French, but obviously it was not his native tongue. That one of her former admirers may have been at the bottom of the mystery is suspected by Corporal Charlton, father-in-law of the unfortunate woman.

Peculiarities of the Baronetage.

One of the peculiarities of the baronetage is that while the precedence of a baronet is before all knights save Knights of the Garter, that of his wife is before the wives of all knights; and his eldest son and daughters rank before the children of all knights. So that if there was another instance of a K.G. who had no higher title, all baronets' wives would precede his wife and the eldest sons and all the daughters of baronets would precede his children.

Another curious thing is that a baronet's patent virtually creates his wife a baroness in her own right. She is a lady "for and during her natural life," whereas the style and precedence of peers' wives continues only during their widowhood.

A baronet's wife style title is "lady, madame, or dame"; and I think that the strict consequence of the terms of a baronet's patent is that the widow of Sir A. B. marrying Mr. C. could call herself Lady C. with perfect legal impunity—that is, instead of calling themselves Mr. C. and Lady B. she and her second husband could be announced as Mr. and Lady C. This curious departure from invariable custom has passed almost without notice, but there is no doubt that every baronet's patent creates two life-holders of the dignity.—The Graphic.

League Football. Collegians vs. Star.

Stars Defeat Collegians 1 Goal to Nil.

The League Football Match, Star vs. Collegians, took place at St. George's Field sharp at 7 o'clock last evening; a large crowd of spectators were present. The discomfort of the chilly weather was more than offset by the interest which centered in a game which was stubbornly contested. The wind blew from the westward, and the Collegians elected to defend the western goal. Referee Higgins had the men in their positions on time, and the teams lined up.

Star.—P. Keefe, goal; J. Hart, F. Hartery, backs; W. Duggan, L. Kavnaugh, F. Brien, halves; E. Power, J. Morgan, M. Rolis, A. Duffy, J. Adams, forwards.

Collegians.—B. Butler, goal; G. Gear, C. Thomas, backs; T. Sparkes, E. Barnes, A. Pike, halves; H. Bastow, E. St. Hill, J. Aitken, C. Penney, S. James, forwards.

When the ball was kicked off the Stars at once became aggressive and made a rush for the Collegians goal, but were driven back on their own supports and the College boys returned in kind, and for a short while kept Keefe busy defending the net which he did in capital style. For several minutes, added by the high wind, the College boys when after the Star territory, and Keefe quickly got busy saving; Collegians shooting was erratic, the ball was kicked repeatedly and went over the goal posts. A corner was conceded to Bastow who placed it nicely into the goal, but this did not earn the desired goal. The Stars now rushed up the field and for a while completely cleared each time the sphere came his way, and it was now a case of give and take, but the efforts of each team were barren of results. Both repeatedly secured corners but no scoring followed. Shortly after this the Collegians sent in a hot one almost from midfield but it hit the cross bar and rebounded. The Stars now played a nice combination game, and gave an exhibition of passing which was often applauded. Neddy Fower and Brien worked well, and the Collegian lads put up a fight of which they need not be ashamed, they repeatedly had hard lines, and when the half time solo was heard the teams crossed without scoring.

When play again began the Collegians put more steam into their work. Fouls were recorded against both sides; Keefe was called on but could not be beaten, saving one particularly difficult shot which earned him much applause. For some time the Star backs showed their mettle and could not be broken through; then getting the leather down they repeatedly essayed a trial for goal but failed; after about 55 minutes play Power brought the ball into the mouth of the Collegians goal, it was driven out in a scramble, a corner was conceded to the Stars, Brien placed the ball just opposite the goal and Morgan nimble headed it into the net, and to the Stars fell the one and only goal for the evening, their friends applauding vigorously. During the rest of the half the Collegians played with unusual vim, but their opponents put up a splendid defence, and the game closed—Stars, 1 goal; Collegians, nil. The winners were Messrs. Noonan and Duggan. The proceeds amounted to $61.30.

The time-keepers are:—Messrs. C. O'N. Conroy and A. MacNamara. Messrs. F. J. Morris, W. J. Higgins, C. W. Ellis, G. Williams and Mr. Hiscock, V. P., were appointed as a cups and medals committee.

Bell Island fishermen are eligible for the set race, Rule No. 2 applying to the Juvenile Race will be published in the press. The age limit is 17 years and none over this will be allowed to row.

On motion of Mr. F. W. Hayward seconded by Mr. P. Laracy, His Excellency Sir Ralph Williams will be requested to become Patron of the Regatta, and Lady Williams will be asked to present the prizes.

The meeting adjourned till Friday night week. The next meeting place will be Woods West End Restaurant.

OLD AGE—CAN YOU ARREST IT?

Fifty to sixty years old, eh? Yours is the critical age. Isn't height of vigor passed, isn't nature's power slowing down? You know your vitality is less because you recuperate more slowly. Endurance is certainly less. The pendulum of vigor at last swings the wrong way. Listen!—You can stop the progress of decay. You can tone up the weakened nerve centres, impart vigor to the tired system. Listen!—A remedy of remarkable potency and certainty in the renewal of decreasing vigor is found in Ferrozone (blood food). It brightens up the whole being, and imparts a sense of power and strength. By the invigorating power of Ferrozone (blood food) old age is put back ten years, so renewing, vitalizing, strength and vigor giving is it. Blood nerves, muscles tingle with renewed activity, new vigor is imparted and endurance and vim of earlier years is brought back. Ferrozone is 50 cents per box.

"An Enemy to the King."

The hero of the title role of this play is an officer of Bonaparte and an enemy of the Bourbon King. The incidents take place during the 100 days after Napoleon's escape from Elba and close with his defeat at Waterloo and the re-establishment of Louis on the throne of France. The hero, Guilbert de Montville (Dorente), saves Louise de Verre from a fall from a horse, and falls in love with her. He is entrusted with a warrant for the arrest of Eugene de Verre, the brother of Louise. The love affair becomes entangled through jealousy and misunderstanding. Owing to the machinations of the would-be lovers of the hero and heroine many complications arise which bring out the emotional nature of those concerned. The players, especially Messrs. Dorcote and Florer, and Misses Prae and Spencer bring out these qualities to the full. The settings of the scenes are good. The scenery in the second act is one of the most beautiful we have seen mounted up on the stage of the T. A. Hall. There is plenty of grip and go in the play and it is well worth seeing.

Bell Island and Placentia to Compete.

Mr. W. J. Higgins, himself an expert oarsman, takes a keen interest in our great aquatic festival and a few days ago he enquired from prominent residents of Bell Island asking if men from that centre would be qualified to take part in the fishermen's, tradesmen's and laborers' races in this year's Regatta on Quidi Vidi Lake. Mr. Higgins at last night's meeting brought the matter under the notice of the Regatta Committee. All present were delighted with the prospect of the people of the Iron Island competing and Mr. Higgins will write them to-day informing them that they will be allowed to strive for the trophies offered in the three events alluded to. As noted by the Telegram some time ago, the fishermen of Placentia are considering the advisability of sending a crew over to compete in the set race. The Bell Islanders will get an old racer from St. John's to practice in. In 1877 the Placentia people built a boat, sent a crew of fishermen here and they were first to the winning post in that race, doing the course in 10 minutes and 28 seconds. The presence of these new crews will add much interest to this year's Regatta.

FISHERY IMPROVED.

The s.s. Home arrived at Bay of Islands last evening. The captain reports that the fishery from Bonne Esperance to Battle Harbor is much improved. Very little has yet been done with traps but there has been good work done with jiggers. Poor weather the whole trip down and up.

KEEP MINARD'S LINIMENT IN THE HOUSE.

Enthusiastic Regatta Meeting Last Night.

Last year's Regatta Committee met in the Armoury of the T. A. Hall last night with a good attendance and plenty of enthusiasm which augurs well for the success of this year's Regatta.

After Secretary Noonan's minutes were read and adopted, Treasurer Crotty announced that the committee had a balance of $91.82 to its credit, owing to the judicious and economical manner in which the funds were handled. Votes of thanks were then passed to the President, Hon. John Harvey, A. P. Hiscock, Treasurer, Mr. J. P. Crotty; Secretary, Mr. James L. Noonan, and the Press for services rendered last year. When the meeting concluded the general public, and admitted, and Mr. C. W. Ryan was moved to the chair on motion of Mr. F. W. Hayward. The chairman announced the business which called all together, when Mr. A. Williams proposed, and Mr. A. Hiscock seconded the motion that a committee be appointed to carry out this season's Regatta. Mr. Crotty moved and Mr. Williams seconded that 20 members form the committee with power to add to its number, the limit being 30. The following committee were then elected:—Hon. J. Harvey, A. Hiscock, J. P. Crotty, J. L. Noonan, C. W. Ryan, W. J. Higgins, P.

Twitching of the Nerves

Wonderful cure brought about by DR. W. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

It is only by watching the symptoms of nervous exhaustion and applying restorative treatment that you can ever hope to ward off locomotor ataxia and paralysis.

Mrs. E. J. Vanderburgh, of Eastern Welland Ave., St. Catharines, Ont., states:—"For twenty-one years I was badly afflicted with heart trouble, nervousness and cramps in the limbs, also twitching of the nerves and nervous headaches. I became weak, debilitated and emaciated. My condition was distressing and I was made worse through worry and loss of sleep. I tried a hundred remedies in vain. After having used half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my old trouble had entirely vanished, and I was enjoying better health than I had since girlhood. Such cases as this prove the wonderful efficiency of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. It cures in Nature's way by enriching the blood and its benefits are lasting. 50 cts. a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Tramp Steamer Here.

Last evening the Norwegian steamer Risa, Capt. Jacobsen, 14 days from Plythe, England, arrived at this port. She is bound to New Richmond, Bay Chaleur, to load lumber for England. Last Thursday a storm came up with heavy wind from the N. E. and increased in violence on the following day. The ship laboured heavily in the choppy sea, and soon a "blow hole" was found in the main steam pipe. The ship was stowed down and repairs were made to the broken steam pipe. Next day, Saturday, the storm still continuing, Captain Jacobsen decided to put into St. John's and have permanent repairs made. Mr. Tasker Cook, the Norwegian Vice-Consul, is looking after the needs of the ship, and she will be ready to sail again to-morrow. Her chief officer was here two years ago in the S. S. Pollux, which took a load of fish from this port for Job Brooks and Co. The ship was built in Norway in 1906, and is 1,175 tons gross, and 725 tons register.

Wedding Bells.

The marriage of Mr. J. F. Downey, M.H.A., for St. George's, and Miss Kitty Aylward (Donovan's), took place at that hostelry last evening. Rt. Rev. Mons. Roche officiated; Miss Rose Delgado, bridesmaid, and Mr. Denis Barron supported the groom. Only the relatives of the bride were present. After the ceremony a luncheon was partaken of, and that being concluded the bride and groom left for Briggs where they are staying at the Royal Hotel. Congratulations.

The wedding of Mr. C. Campbell of Sydney, and Miss Aggie Thomey, of Harbor Grace, took place at North River last Sunday. Rev. Dr. Whelan performed the ceremony. The bride who was handsomely attired, was attended by Miss A. Casey, while Mr. J. Casey was best man. They drove to Bay Roberts afterwards and partook of a wedding supper at the town hotel. The bride and groom arrived in St. John's by train last night, and are staying at the Royal Hotel. Congratulations.

Cricket Reviving.

Now that the parade ground has been cleared of the old wire fence with which it was strewn, pedestrians can walk along there in safety and boys can play there each evening to play. It is a noticeable fact that the lads are interesting themselves very much in cricket. Juvenile clubs have been formed of late, not only on the ground but on contiguous fields these youthful wielders of the willow practice daily. It would not take much money to sod the parade ground and put it in decent shape so that the boys could enjoy themselves there.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, June 20.—The Conference regarding the veto is accepted without enthusiasm as a political necessity for each side. Neither Premier Asquith nor A. J. Balfour can run counter to the King's wishes without incurring odium for disloyalty. Each is forced to face malcontents among his followers. Mr. Asquith's radical adherents are secretly rebellious but there is no sign of a premature revolt. David Lloyd George and Winston Spencer Churchill are with him, and the radical journals which ordinarily receive their cues from them are sullen but not openly hostile to Mr. Asquith, as they were at the beginning of the session.

MANILA, June 20.—The Sultan of Sulu, who once offered his hand in marriage to Miss Alice Roosevelt, is to visit America. He announced that his chief object is to dispose of a collection of pearls valued at something like $250,000, the proceeds from which will be devoted to improving the condition of his people. He will be accompanied by about a dozen prominent Moros. He has already sailed for India and will make stops at several European cities.

ROOSEVELT'S MARRIAGE.

Special to Evening Telegram.
NEW YORK, N.Y., June 20.—Theodore Roosevelt, jr., and Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander were married at four o'clock this afternoon in the fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. Long before the hour set for the wedding the neighborhood of the church was crowded with crowds of the curious. A special detail of one hundred police held them at a distance to prevent their fingering the texture of the dresses of the guests. Over the shoulders of the officers peeped milliners and dressmakers, books in hand.

HAMILTON SUCCEEDS KITCHENER

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, June 20.—General Sir J. Hamilton, adjutant to the forces, has been appointed to the post of Inspector General of the Mediterranean Lord Kitchener, whose resignation was communicated officially to the House of Commons by War Secretary Haldane on June 13th. Lord Kitchener was appointed to the Mediterranean command last August to succeed the Duke of Connaught. There was a strong agitation to have Kitchener appointed to a more weighty place and many protests against relegating the best organizer in the British army to such a post. Lord Kitchener's resignation therefore occasioned no surprise. General Hamilton, his second military member of the Army Council. He was chief staff to Lord Kitchener in 1901-2 in the Boer War, and was one of the defenders of Ladysmith. He served as military representative with the Japanese army in Manchuria in 1904-5.

REBELLION CHECKED.

Special to Evening Telegram.
CANNEA, Mexico, June 20.—Premature discovery of smuggled arms and ammunition, followed by the arrest of the leaders of the discontented faction and the proclamation of martial law in Cannea and other border towns probably has checked and discouraged a serious outbreak against the Mexican Government scheduled to take place on June 26th, election day. The revolutionary movement originated among young men in Northern Mexico, followers it is said of General Bernardo Reyes now in Europe and of Senator Mado, Candidate for President, now under arrest in Monterrey.

SYNOD PROCEEDINGS.

June 20th—Afternoon Session.

When the minutes had been read and confirmed, Rev. Canon Temple presented the report of the Literature Committee. This report dealt entirely with the Diocesan Magazine. The circulation of this magazine had decreased 250 in the outports and 300 in St. John's, but it is hoped that by the end of the year matters will be in quite a satisfactory condition. The manager, Mr. Percie Johnson, owing to other business, felt forced to retire. The report suggested the appointment of one man to fill the office of editor and manager, to reside in town, and to be hampered by no other business, since the magazine is a Diocesan necessity.

The Revs. H. J. Reed, R. Hills, C. W. Hollands and Canon Noel drew attention to the fact that sometimes the magazine does not reach its destination till some time after its nominal date of publication.

Mr. E. Doyle spoke in reference to the financial position of the magazine.

On the proposal of Canon Temple the report was adopted.

Rev. A. G. Bayly presented the report of the Committee appointed for considering the proposed accommodation for Bishop Spencer College. Existing accommodation had been improved and enlarged, and the Committee, having further improvements in view, begged to be reappointed. This was agreed to.

Canon Bishop presented the report of the sub-committee appointed to consider the first clause of the Bill to amend certain chapters of the Constitution and rules of the Diocesan Synod. It was decided that this report be accepted and printed to be considered in detail later.

Rev. G. H. Bolt proposed the third reading and passing of the Bill for a Bishopric Maintenance Fund. This was agreed to.

The Rev. G. H. Bolt, referring to His Lordship's statement at the opening of the Synod, with regard to the Halifax Cathedral, moved that a contribution be solicited and sent to the Treasurer not later than August 26th, 1910.

We have many claims, yet Halifax demands our sympathy. On the night of the 8th of June, 1892, when the fire was raging in St. John's, a Relief Committee was formed in Halifax, and next day camps, supplies, etc., were shipped, later $7,000, and a gift of $2,000 to the Cathedral fund were contributed. Apart from these reasons Mr. Bolt thought we ought to make some offering to help the Cathedral of Halifax.

His Lordship Bishop Jones stated that a gift of $1,000 should be made, and he hoped to present it as a thank-offering at the service of reopening the Cathedral.

Rev. H. J. Reed stated that he had already received a circular letter from Halifax, and he had already sent a contribution from his mission. Such contributions, His Lordship said, would be reckoned in the thank-offering.

Rev. Mr. Colley moved that the Synod place on record its appreciation of the work done by lay readers, and that a copy of that resolution be sent to every lay reader in the diocese. Many people, he said, would have few chances of worshipping publicly if they were not for the lay readers. He had found the great worth of lay readers in his experience.

Rev. C. W. Hollands, seconded the motion, speaking in great appreciation of the work and worth of lay readers.

The Revs. Canon Bishop, A. Pitman, H. J. Reed and Mr. Blackall, the Rev. C. Carpenter, Canon Noel, Canon Smith and Canon Bolt all spoke in support of the motion and the praise of lay readers.

The motion was carried.

The Bishop then notified the Synod of the invitation from His Excellency the Governor to all members of the Synod to attend a garden party at Government House with their lady friends. His Lordship suggested the date as Wednesday, from 4 to 6. This kind invitation was accepted with acclamation.

The House adjourned at 5 o'clock.

Evening.

After prayers the following standing Committees were elected: Directors of Bishop Field College, Literature, Sunday Schools, Temperance, Education and Statistics and two vacancies on the Clergy Sustentation Fund.

St. John's, June 20.

The Bill dealing with the Constitution came up, and the report of the Committee was considered. The question for making the qualification for voting depend partly upon a $3 subscription, was reported against by the Committee, which suggested the compulsory appointment of Finance Committees, the issuing of a Pastoral letter on Finance, and the discontinuation of the printing of the lists of subscribers in the accounts of the Synod. Canons Noel and Dunfield explained their position in the matter. Mr. Geo. H. Bursell also spoke and wished for information on Church Finance generally. Canon Smith and Got Father Morrissey's "No. 10" Just in Time to Save His Life.

Mr. Aylward's letter tells the story:

Campbellton, N.B., Feb. 5, 1909.
Father Morrissey, Med. Co.,
During the winter of 1907, while travelling on the Gaspe Coast, I contracted a severe cold which settled upon my lungs.
After I returned home I wrote to Father Morrissey explaining my case. I received a letter from him with a prescription for his medicine, which could not be filled at the time here. After one week's delay I received it just in the nick of time to save my life. After one month's use I felt like a new man.

Yours truly,
Geo. Aylward.
There is not much time to lose when a cold settles on the lungs. Pneumonia kills within a week. With Father Morrissey's "No. 10" at hand, you don't even have to wait for a doctor. "No. 10" cures all throat and lung troubles. It is a real Lung Tonic, and fortifies against future attacks. Trial bottle 25c. Regular size 50c, at your dealer's, or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co. Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

work. This motion was carried by acclamation.

Canon Temple suitably replied, referring to his past work, and hoped to continue the magazine satisfactorily as long as he remained editor.

The House then went into Committee to consider the Bill of amending the Constitution and the report of the sub-committee.

The Rev. Canon Bishop once more brought forth his motion.

Rev. A. G. Bayly thinks some standard should be kept up, but not above that which existed.

Sir William Horwood maintained that a monetary standard was not a good one.

Canons Noel and Dunfield, Sir Wm. Horwood and Rev. Mr. Bolt pointed out the importance of the matter, and the lateness of the hour compelled the Committee to rise.

The House resumed at 10.30. As the result of the election the following form the Executive Committee for the next biennial period: His Lordship the Bishop of Newfoundland (ex officio), Rev.
