The 'Leader' Graftonola!

The "Leader" is a veritable triumph of the "Columbia" Company's. It is a beautiful instrument and possesses all the charm of the Graftonola at its very best.

It has full, rich, mellow tones that can be subdued at will, so as to make it suitable for a small room, or again can be made to produce a magnificent volume of sound that just as easily fills a large hall. The "Leader"—which well merits its name—forms a handsome addition to any drawing-room. Come and hear some grand opera records on it.

Worse Than the Dentist.

By BETH CAMERON.

To admit that they are wrong in any matter, however small, hurts some people more than a visit to the dentist.

Such people will make the most ridiculous statements; they will unhesitatingly perjure themselves; they will call their best friends liars; they will do or say almost anything, however mean and unworthy, rather than admit they could have been wrong or mistaken.

And in so doing they overreach themselves. They defeat their own ends by their obstinacy in seeking them.

For to admit that you are wrong in some things is likely to make people more willing to believe that you are right in others; whereas never to admit that you are wrong in anything has a tendency to make people believe that you are never anything but wrong.

There is nothing I like better than to hear anyone say honestly and sincerely, "I can see now that I was wrong." A brave, frank acknowledgment like that inspires confidence. You know that the man who made it is trying to understand himself. You know that he is trying to be just and fair. You know that he has the best sort of courage, and that he has the fine progressive spirit that will use mistakes and failures as a foundation for better things.

On the other hand the person who persists in defending all his acts and opinions, however palpably wrong, destroys your confidence in him.

You know that one of two things is true. He's either too much of a fool to see that he has been wrong, or too much of a coward to acknowledge it.

Such a man in trying to defend perfect indefensible acts or statements weakens his power to defend that which really has justification. He is like a general in defensive warfare who, instead of picking out the posts on the frontier that were capable of defense and were of strategic importance, would weaken his cause by obstinately trying to hold a host of tenable and unimportant positions.

"I was wrong" are very painful words for anyone to say, but the pain is of the kind that comes when you put a healing antiseptic into your wound; that is, it is short lived and the forerunner of improvement.

It is good to have the courage of your convictions; it is even better to have the greater courage of changed convictions. "He is a fool who has never changed his mind," writes a philosopher. Do not be afraid to admit that you are not a fool.

Humble pie is rather ugly eating but it is very nutritious for the character.

Fads and Fashions.

The vogue of combining contrasting materials is most successful in fashionable evening costumes. The newest woman's evening slipper has white calfskin vamp and quarters and Louis heel of cloth or gold.

The three-quarter coat finished at the bottom with a frill closely kilted is a feature of the new tailor-mades.

New French blouses are of Paris muslin, batiste and handkerchief linen, very simple and with rolling collars. The bodices of evening gowns have diminished until there is nothing left but narrow strips of lace over the shoulders.

Long sleeves of thin material, such as tulle, mull or lace, have the fullness confined at the wrist with ribbon velvet.

Some of the new models show a bolero and sleeves of one material and color, with long-sleeved basque under it of another.

The use of plaid materials is more and more evident, and smart street and house materials are trimmed with plaid.

The Russian influence has made itself felt in fashion's world; and there are blouses and long tunics built on Russian lines. Crinkled crepes and poplins, taffetas and gabardines are the most fashionable of materials for the bride's going-away frock.

With the popularity of taffet comes the scalloped flounce, the beauty of which contributes much to the success of the taffeta costume.

The bride's going-away frock is fashionable if the skirt is made with plaited inserts, or it may have overskirt effects in panter or straight tunic styles.

The over popular combination of black and white appears in striped materials, the stripes varying in width from narrow threads to an inch or more in width.

Flowers are an important item when speaking of trimmings, wreaths, garlands and fascinations of tiny colored flowers are a fascinating touch to the summer frock.

There is a tendency to drape the besques of coats in such a way that they may droop behind and be caught up into a bow over the bust, leaving the waistcoat in full view.

There is a wonderful variety of flowered, striped and figured silks, the patterns of which duplicate the material in the frocks worn by ladies of the quaint eighteenth century.

SOPER & MOORE

Grade Crossings,

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Siwash"
 Grade crossings form one reason why the population of America does not increase more rapidly.

A grade crossing is one on which a railroad, a wagon road and usually an automobile dispute for the right of way. America has about half of a million grade crossings and most of them are watched over and protected exclusively by Providence.

Providence is very busy attending to other necessary matters and as a result several times a day in various parts of the country a buggy or automobile or pedestrian gets on a railroad track and tries to hold a train for no gain. The result is summed up by the coroner in a few well-chosen words and the census report suffers another setback.

In smaller and more populous countries railroads are required to burrow over or under the streets and roads. But most of the railroads in this country were built first and the roads followed afterward. It would take about half a billion dollars to eradicate the Grade Crossings of this country and as no one has been able to lay hands on this sum of money up to date, the Grade Crossings have continued to flourish like the unloaded revolver, the typhoid microbe and other enemies of the race.

In the last fifty years Grade Crossings have killed many more American citizens than war has. On one street in New York City alone where a railroad promenades down the center, enough people have been killed to make as big a scandal as the Iroquois fire. The trouble is they have been killed in installments and not all at once. Usually a Grade Crossing is abolished or protected as soon as it has killed about four people. It almost seems, in a case like this, as if two narrow escapes ought to count as much as one death. But they don't.

Ladies Aid At La Scie.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—Though living north of Cape John and only a few years ago the Frenchman roamed at will as his own prospects pleased him, we are thankful that time brings its own changes, and now we as a free people are monarch of all we survey. The gales of the past has been very severe and still continue so.

In this year of grace, 1914, the ladies of the Methodist Church formed a Ladies Aid for the purpose of trying to raise funds to assist in renovating the church and supplying a bell, which is evidently needed. It was the first attempt of its kind in this settlement, and some were doubtful of its success. But where there is willing minds and a responsive hand, I am sure that such traits will prove a success.

Their noble efforts in bringing it to such a high standing on Tuesday, 14th inst., was rewarded. They had the pleasure of decorating the Orange Hall with a fine display of fancy goods. They had a tea. The goods were quickly sold and the stalls were soon empty, making the treasurer's pocket valuable. The tea, Mr. Editor, would compare favorably with any held on such like occasions in a more aristocratic place. The receipts for the evening amounted to the handsome sum of $101.60, finishing up the second night with $17 more, making a total of $118.60.

We thank the public of LaScie for their kind patronage, not forgetting our much esteemed Constable Walsh, who, I am sure, we were glad to see with us.

Yours truly,
 HORA FUGIT.

Dear Sir—
 When acknowledging receipt of the Company's cheque for my matured Endowment Policy No. 24937, I desire to avail myself of the opportunity to express my satisfaction with the outcome of my investment.
 The policy was payable to me at age 60, with ten premiums of $48.00 each. The return under it is as follows:
 Sum assured $1,000.00
 Dividends added 446.94
 Total amount payable $1,446.94

Inquest Closing.

The inquest on the victims of the Newfoundland Disaster which commenced on Tuesday, April 7th, will probably close to-day by the taking of evidence at the General Hospital of some of those who are still suffering from the effects of frost bites during the terrible times they went through on Tuesday, March 31st, until they were rescued on the following Thursday morning. In some cases operations have been performed. In the case of others, operations have yet to be performed. Almost all the victims who are still in the hospital have either lost or will lose part of their hands or feet. Some, toes and fingers. One of them, Mr. S. Trask, had all his fingers and thumbs amputated except a stump of one thumb and of one finger. Drs. Keegan and Knight and the nurses are doing their best to save as much of these members as is possible. The suffering of these men are intense. Generous Grant by Canada.

Premier Borden, at the opening of the sitting yesterday, in the House of Commons, at Ottawa, announced that the Government had decided to recommend an increase in the grant he had proposed for the relief of those who had suffered from the s.s. Newfoundland disaster, in consequence of the greater losses which was now known to have accrued owing to the loss of the s.s. Southern Cross. Instead of the $10,000 he had previously recommended, he proposed now to recommend a grant of $25,000. This recommendation was supported by the

The Mexican Situation.

MEXICO CITY, April 28. President Huerta has accepted the mediation proposals of the Argentine, Brazil and Chile, acting in conjunction with France, England and Spain, these six nations to select a seventh as umpire.

WASHINGTON, April 28. Admiral Badger reports all quiet at Vera Cruz. Disturbances have ceased and business is resuming its normal course. The Spanish Ambassador, Senor Ryan, in charge of Mexican affairs in the United States, today informed Secretary of State Bryan that General Huerta had unconditionally accepted the principle of mediation involved in the proposals of the South American republics.

VERA CRUZ, April 28. Rear Admiral Fletcher seized the piers, yards and buildings of the Terminal Company, a British owned concern, control over which he regarded as necessary in order to facilitate the resumption of normal business activity in the city. The Admiral has been endeavouring to rent the property, but could not come to an agreement with the managers as to the price to be paid. This action is accepted by the British Foreign Office at London as perfectly natural, quite within the Admiral's rights, and in accordance with propriety, both of which are considered to be unquestionable. Officials regard the Admiral's action as coming within the ordinary routine of such circumstances, and stated to-day that if the Terminal company presented a claim to the British Foreign Office, it will be forwarded to Washington in the ordinary course.

Neptune and Kite Arrive.

'Neptune' from the Gulf, with 10,500; 'Kite' from front has 2,200. The 'Diana' Will Bring Home the Key.

The s.s. Neptune, Capt. Wilcox, arrived from the Gulf sealfishery at 4 o'clock this morning, hauling for 10,500 seals, old and young, as already noted. In the early part of the spring the ship met with a misfortune. She got into the patch of young harps the same day the Terra Nova and Erik did. For two days work the crew killed 12,000 seals but before they were taken on board and stowed below a storm raged, the ice broke up and 4,000 pelts were lost. Capt. Wilcox then decided to go look for old fat and succeeded in getting 2,500. The Neptune is now discharging at Job's Southside premises.

The s.s. Kite, Capt. Burgess, the "baby" of our sealing fleet, came back from the northern doe at 10.30 a.m. to-day. She had 2,200 seals, old and young hoods. The Kite left here on March 31st for Greenspond and Catalina, at which places she got most of her crew. She steamed north on March 10th and several days became jammed. She got down off the Funks on March 22nd and spoke the s.s. Ranger, which was the only steamer seen for the whole spring. Capt. Burgess reports the worst spring in his experience. The ice was exceptionally heavy, storms were frequent making it impossible for the Kite to get about. The Kite got no white-coats but on March 24th she struck the hoods. The vessel had only 65 men on board all told, and this was a drawback in working the seals; besides some of the men were of little help owing to inexperience. "This was unfortunate," said Capt. Burgess, as numerous families of old seals were around the vessel. In the early part of April the Kite went down the French Shore but saw very few seals in that region and on Saturday last bore up for home. Last evening dense fog prevailed and the Kite was obliged to put into Bay de Verde. Capt. Burgess and his crew did not know of the disaster until acquainted by Dr. Campbell, Quarantine Officer, who examined the crew and gave the ship a clean bill of health. Capt. Burgess is very indignant over the alarmist reports that were sent broad cast about him, and states that at no time was his vessel in any grave danger. The Kite is unloading her cargo at Bowring's Southside premises.

The s.s. Diana, Capt. B. Barbour, is the only steamer now out and will close the gates for 1914 and bring home the key. It is likely she will remain out until May 1st when the killing of seals ceases, as allowed by law.

MAN STILL MISSING.—The body of Jonathan Elliott, who left Change Islands for Bear's Cove, eight days ago, has not yet been recovered, was intimated in a message received by the Marine and Fisheries Department from Change Islands. The missing man is supposed to have succumbed in a storm. His sleigh and pack has been found, but there is no sign of his body.

ATTRACTION EXHIBIT.—There is now on exhibition at the Atlantic Bookstore, a large picture containing a collection of excellent portraits of those who took part in the Opera "Pepita." The exhibit is strikingly attractive and is being viewed by many people. The views, which show the performers in their stage costumes, are the skillful work of the Holloway studio.

Celebrated Norwegian Jigger

Fishermen should use these Jiggers and rig them with swivels same style as in Norway, then the Jigger acts like a minnow and when spinning attracts the fish, so that instead of jigging they really snap the Jigger and in this manner you never fail to catch them. Ordinary leads can be used, but the Norwegian style seems more simple and easily made. Our fishermen should try this great Norwegian fish killer.

Divorced Life

By Helen Hessong Fuesler
A Letter from Her Brother.

Various forbiddens as to the attitude of her brother filled Marian as she waited anxiously for his reply to her letter. It should have reached her, and she strove to divine what his delay in writing meant. When it came she opened it with a feeling of misgiving.

She looked first of all to see what the enclosure would be, and great was her disappointment to perceive a draft for only fifty dollars. Thus ran his letter:

Dear Marian: I was greatly surprised at the news of your divorce. Of course, you knew what was best, and you know me well enough to know that I'm not the kind to blame you for taking what you regarded as the proper course.

"Getting a divorce, however, is no joke. It's just about the most serious step a woman can take. You have my deepest sympathy because of this trouble. Poor girl, you deserved a happier married life. But I can't for the life of me see why you didn't hold Frank up for alimony. I can see so clearly the reason why he shouldn't have paid for all the trouble he has caused you. I was afraid at the time of your marriage that you were acting hastily, but I never thought you'd get yourself into a mess like this. I don't mean to scold you, honey, but I want you to know how worried I feel about all this. Why didn't you tell me about it sooner?"

"Money is tighter than a drum out here just at present, with no sign of a let up. Fifty dollars, which I enclose, is the very best I can do right now. I've had doctor bills galore to pay. I hope this will help you out. Let me know what you are planning to do. I hope you'll get a chance to come out here to the coast to see us sometime before long. Write soon again. Love from all."

"Your brother,
"Wellington."

Marian read the typewritten letter twice. She felt hurt at the lukewarm invitation to visit her brother, and detected a coolness and formality about the letter which his previous communications had not contained. Between the lines she gathered greater condemnation of her act of getting a divorce on her brother's part than the written lines revealed. She resented his criticism of her hasty marriage. She felt more alone in the world after reading the letter twice than she had ever felt before in her life.

In a way she had hoped that he would urge her to come West and visit him indefinitely. Clearly, however, Wellington was not enthusiastic over the prospect of taking a divorce, though she might be his own sister, under his roof.

Marian wrote him a brief note of thanks for the loan, in reply, and went to bed in tears. "What have I done," she moaned, "to deserve a life that is such a mess?"

She was neither old enough nor wise enough to realize that the world yields happiness only in return for the expenditure of effort. Nor did she know that most of us make messes of our lives.

Noted Contralto to Assist Scotney.

Mr. Hesser is Bringing Mme. Cara Sapin in June.

Mme. Cara Sapin, prima donna contralto of the Boston Opera Company, will be one of the artists assisting Mr. Evelyn Scotney at her festival concert scheduled for June 1st, 2nd and 3rd, at the Methodist College Hall. Mme. Sapin was a newcomer to the Boston Opera House during the past season, but the honors she won prompted the managing director, Mr. Henry Russell, to re-engage her for next season.

will also sing a group of "Lieder," and will take the contralto part in the beautiful quartette from "Rigoletto," which is being repeated again this season because of the many requests received by Edwin Bower Hesser, the impresario promoting the Boston Opera tours through the eastern part of Canada.

During the season of 1912-1913, Mme. Sapin made a concert tour of the United States, and besides her independent dates she appeared as soloist with such well known organizations as the Oratorio Society of New York, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra and the Theodore Thomas Orchestra, of Chicago.

Upon her initial appearance at the Boston Opera House, the Boston "Herald" said: "The particular interest of the concert last night was to introduce Mme. Cara Sapin, the much heralded young American contralto, who has won much recognition in Berlin, following a successful season with the Metropolitan Opera Company. She sang the 'Page's Song,' from 'Les Huguenots' as an opening number, and the 'Habenera,' from 'Carmen,' as an encore. Later she rendered a group of 'Lieder,' and an English group. She decidedly over-shadowed Mary Garden in the applause, but it must be remembered that Miss Garden is not a concert artist, and except in opera is not at her best. Mme. Sapin is a singer of whom we will probably hear a great deal during the winter. She is a decided find for Mr. Russell."

HOWARD WHITE, Primo Basso, Boston Opera Co.

Three years ago, Mme. Sapin was a member of the Metropolitan Opera House organization, in New York City and after a successful season there, she was engaged for the Royal Opera in Berlin. Her greatest triumphs have been in the German operas, and Wagnerian arias will have a place in the concert program in this city. She Verdict Suicide.

A thorough investigation into the death of the young woman Maggie Power, whose body was found near Twillingate, as previously alluded to in the Telegram, has been conducted. In a communication to I. G. Sullivan yesterday, Magistrate Scott expressed the opinion that the unfortunate girl was the victim of her own hands. There was not the slightest evidence to show that a second person had figured in the terrible happening.

Successful Concert.

The concert held at St. Mary's Hall last night under the auspices of the Young Men's Association was largely attended and proved highly successful. The programme consisted of vocal and instrumental solos, duets, quartets, recitations and farces, all of which were splendidly given and evoked much enthusiastic applause. The principal performers were Misses Rose Whitten, Laura and Nina Cook, and Laura Ebsary; Messrs. Cranford, Noseworthy, Rowe, Baldwin, French, Martin, Snelgrove and King, whilst Misses Thistle and Taylor acted as accompanists. Refreshments and candy were on sale during the evening and the proceeds amounted to a considerable sum. At the close of the entertainment, Rev. H. Uphill, rector of St. Mary's, in a brief speech congratulated the performers on the success of the concert, which was truly a creditable one, and heartily thanked those present for their patronage. The affair closed with the National Anthem. After the concert a dance, at which upwards of fifty couples participated, terminated the evening's entertainment.

SPORT AT BELL ISLAND.—At Bell Island this summer very little attention will be paid to football which, in the past, has been the chief cause, such intense interest and rivalry in the past. Enthusiasm in baseball is now going on apace.

The Folly of It All

TO-DAY'S FEATURE AT THE CRESCENT.
Four extra good pictures, a remarkably good song and splendid musical selections all go to make up a splendid mid-week performance at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day and to-morrow afternoon and evening. "The Folly of It All," is picture No. 1, in which Edwin August is seen to advantage. Following this drama is another from the Nestor Co., "The Love Wall." The third picture "The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter" is a fascinating sea-story that is very clever and appealing. As a comedy "Love Luck and a Paint Brush" is a mirth producer. The principal players are Ramona Langley and Eddie Lyons two well known and popular artists. Sidney Ernschaw, lyric baritone, has a particularly good song to introduce, "I'm as good as My Old Dad." The Crescent manager has again succeeded in securing another three reel special feature when it is likely that on Monday and Tuesday next "Brave Lady Baby" will be the premier attraction. This celebrated subject is a stirring story of the time when George the Third was King of England, and the American Republic was a colony. The plot reveals the bravery of the daughter of one of His Majesty's high officials. The picture is 3,000 feet long and the time of illustration is almost an hour.

Marshall Bros.

Capt. Scott's Films at Casino.

These pictures are freely acknowledged to be the most phenomenal of any ever secured in the South Polar regions, and to be accurate and authentic records of the strange bird and animal life extant in that cold climate. Among the most striking and interesting subjects may be mentioned the quaint little Adelie Penguins, whose antics are not unlike those of little old men of gentle demeanor, while their appearance is such as to arouse spontaneous laughter. The penguin's mortal enemy, the skuas-gulls, are also depicted in the very act of stealing the eggs of the penguins; a trick they will wait for hours at a time to perform. They never fail to purloin an egg when it is left unprotected.

The beautiful Weddell seals are also depicted in their native habitat, hunted by their arch enemy, the killer whale. A film showing an old mother seal and her baby, relentlessly pursued by a school of these wolves of the Antarctic, was recorded, and you may believe that it is exciting and thrilling. The whales succeeded in exhausting the seals, consequently in the last scene of mother and baby when they dive off of the ice and swim downward, with sixteen ferocious enemies close behind. One can only surmise what happened when those vicious brutes overtook the helpless calf and its devoted mother.

What is unquestionably the greatest novelty ever filmed is flashed on the screen about the middle of the entertainment when the majestic old volcano, Mt. Erebus, is shown in a state of actual eruption, belching forth enormous quantities of fire, smoke and lava. This film was obtained at a great cost and perilous risk, but is worth all and more than it cost, as it is the first and only instance on record of a crater being cinematographed in action.

Captain Scott and his fearless comrades are shown at work, at play, and at rest, to say nothing of in action transporting their provisions and instruments across the desolate waste. The trains consisted of Siberian ponies, Siberian dogs and last, but by no means least, huge motor sledges which dragged tons and tons of provisions over the sea-ice.

It is noteworthy that the winter of Captain Scott and his comrades spent in the Antarctic was the coldest ever recorded by mortal man. Another fact of equal importance is that the widows and orphans of the departed heroes, own and control the rights to the motion pictures taken on Captain Scott's journey, and that they can be exhibited only through their agents. This means that the dependents of the sacrificed explorers at least have a means of self-support, unconsciously provided by their husbands and fathers.

More Fires.

Fires provoke immediate sympathy for the sufferers and also thankfulness for personal escape. Another thought should be whether one is personally and sufficiently protected. An insurance policy with Percie Johnson would provide for you this desired security and at a small expense. Have you enough insurance?—SP171

OLD SUPERSTITIONS.

"I feel quite sure," observed the landlady, "that the milkman puts water in the milk."

"I fear you are doing that excellent citizen a grave injustice, Mrs. Jiggers," said the star boarder.

There are certain foolish and unjust theories we don't seem able to outgrow. One concerns the milkman.

I don't suppose there is a pound of adulterated sugar in this town, which explains why grocers always seem to have a secret sorrow; but the plain people cling to the theory that they buy a certain amount of sand with a pound of sugar, and there isn't logic enough in the books to convince them to the contrary.

Rocked Motor Boat

And party of eight are Thrown in the Lake—Three were drowned, and Five are Saved.

Worcester, April 19.—A tragedy unparalleled in the annals of motor boating in Worcester occurred at Lake Quinsigamond just before dark last night.

With the tune of a popular song on their lips, the party of eight men were thrown into the lake when the launch suddenly overturned and shot straight down to the bottom.

So suddenly did the accident happen that the men apparently did not realize they were facing death. A minute before they were enjoying themselves by tilting the launch so as to bring the muffler above water.

According to the onlookers all of the party were apparently on one side of the boat. It shipped water and the bow suddenly shot skyward.

THE GREATER QUESTION.

At this season of the year for Farmers with up-to-date ideas is, what are the best means to use to get the best returns from the land.

Fertilizers must be used liberally if large returns are looked for. There are several good chemical fertilizers which may be recommended, but Sulphate of Ammonia has been proved to give the best returns.

For vegetables, grass, and all leafy crops, about one and a half cwt. per acre is the best quantity to use, and this should be applied when the plant is making its growth, as well as before sowing the seed.

If a liquid manure is preferred, a 1/2 oz. of Sulphate to one gallon of water should be used, and applied once a week for a month.

It is a good plan to reduce the Sulphate to a fine powder, and mix with four or more times its own bulk, for the purpose of diluting the manure, which is very powdery.

For potatoes the following mixture is strongly recommended:— 40 lbs. Superphosphate. 10 lbs. Fine bone meal. 10 lbs. Carbonate of Magnesia. 15 lbs. Sulphate of Potash. 21 lbs. SULPHATE OF AMMONIA.

1 cwt. Apply at the rate of 10 to 11 lbs. to 43 square yards.

The use of Carbonate of Magnesia, in conjunction with Sulphate of Ammonia, is of great importance in potato culture.

For turnips use the following:— 13 lbs. Superphosphate. 13 lbs. Fine bone meal. 13 lbs. Sulphate of Potash. 20 lbs. Sulphate of Ammonia.

1 cwt. Apply at the rate of 10 to 11 lbs. to square yards.

Sulphate of Ammonia of excellent quality is now made by the St. John's Gas Light Company, and may be obtained on very reasonable terms.

Full particulars may be obtained at the Gas Works, or at the Board of Trade Building. Ask for special booklet on the use of Sulphate, it will be found of great value in securing the heaviest crops.

April 28. Sheriff Jeffers reported early this morning that firing was continued at the Walsen mine, near here.

Seven were killed during the night, all mine guards. Troops arrived just before midnight and set out for the mine.

Much uneasiness is felt here for the safety of the troops. There are only fifty of them, whilst the force of strikers is estimated at more than 300.

The defenders still hold the property. They later reported to the Sheriff that they would be able to go so until the troops relieved them, provided that this was done before dawn.

QUEBEC, April 28. The C.P.R. steamship Montfort, bound to Antwerp from Montreal, with 150 passengers and a general cargo, went ashore near the Isle of Orleans, in a fog, this morning.

The vessel was uninjured, and is resting on a sand bank. The owners expect to float her off by high tide to-night.

LONDONDERRY, April 28. The Irish Nationalist Volunteers, a body similar in organization to the Ulster Unionist Volunteers, made matters even with their political opponents in the course of last night.

They were taken ashore in a remote spot on the coast of County Donegal in the Far West of Ulster. A strange steamer had been seen off the coast for three successive nights.

Late last night a number of fishing craft approached and took off the cargo. They succeeded in evading the coastguard, and in landing the rifles, which were quickly distributed.

The size of the consignment is unknown, but it is believed to have been considerable, although not equalling the 40,000 rifles and 500,000 rounds of ammunition that the Unionists received on April 25th.

LONDON, April 28. Much interest has been created by the new offer to Carson by Churchill in the course of his speech in the Commons to-night.

He invited Carson to make an attempt to compromise on the Home Rule question on a federal basis. Churchill is reported to have spoke entirely for himself, and without the authority of the Cabinet.

Many Liberals are indignant with him for taking the course he did, contending it will only be interpreted as a sign of weakness on the part of the Government.

Bandits Got One Thousand

From the Union Bank of Canada Branch at Hazelton, B.C.

New Hazelton, B.C., April 7.—Two bandits were killed at 10.30 this morning in a battle between the robbers and a big posse of citizens following the hold up of the Union Bank of Canada branch here. Six men held up the bank and four escaped. The quartette secured $1,100 in cash.

The robbers were not more than half a minute in the bank. As they backed out the clerks began to reach for their guns, and in reply to this movement the robbers fired several shots through counters and walls.

The only man hit was Fenton, a ledge-keeper, who suffered a scalp wound from a splinter knocked out of his desk. Fenton is an Ottawa man.

The shooting alarmed the town and several cowboys who happened to be in a hardware store got their guns into play at once. They were backed up by the citizens, and within a few minutes the fusillade was general. Shooting from cover, the posse did such effective work that two of the robbers fell dead in their tracks as they raced along the road towards the bush.

All the robbers are believed to be Russians, and the gang may be the same that two months ago robbed the same bank and got away into the hills.

Frederick Woods

By GEORGE S. BUTTERS.

The following appreciation was prepared by the Rev. Dr. Butters and presented by him to the New England Conference recently:—

FREDERICK WOODS.

It takes good blood to make a great preacher and Frederick Woods was well born. His father, John Woods, of St. John's, Newfoundland, was a distinguished citizen, a successful man in business, and a Wesleyan Methodist of strong character and ability. His mother was a woman of refinement and deep piety. Frederick, the oldest of a large family, was born at St. John's, Newfoundland, Sept. 7, 1833, and died at Melrose, January 23, 1914. He was educated at Mount Allison Seminary, Genesee College, and at Wesleyan University, where he received his A.B. and an election to Phi Beta Kappa. He joined the New England Conference in 1859 and gave his whole ministry to work in Massachusetts. He ably filled our best pulpits and maintained his usual preaching ability even in the last years of his life, but a growing deafness embarrassed him in social meetings and in pastoral work so that he became a supernumerary in 1908 and three years later took the retired relation. On June 21, 1880, he married Miss Sarah H. Shemstone, of Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, who died 12 years later. On Nov. 19, 1893, he was married to Anna Odlin May, Boston, Mass., who survives him, with two sons and two daughters, one daughter having died a few years ago during his pastorate in Somerville.

He was a striking personality and an attractive figure at all our gatherings, and for years he has been recognized as one of the greatest preachers this conference has known. One secret of his preaching ability was his careful preparation. He was a faithful student all his days so that he came to his pulpits with the best that his mind could produce. He wrote with most pains-taking care and was always thoroughly familiar with his manuscript so that his message had every advantage. He had the intensity of the man of deep conviction, the art of the rhetorician, the enthusiasm of the orator and the heart glow of the man who walked with the Lord and no minister of my acquaintance has maintained a higher average of pulpit brilliancy and efficiency. One need not mention his great sermons, for some of us never heard him preach when we did not think the sermon was great, but members of his conference will always delight to talk about his sermon on "The Burning Bush," and the one he preached when he had been a member of this body for fifty years. I remember with gratitude one Sunday evening in old St. Paul's, Lowell, when on exchange with the Pastor, Dr. Woods preached from the text, "Jesus of Nazareth and spiritual heir of that sermon to-day."

Frederick Woods belonged to the tribe of Abou Ben Adhem, and he shall have the epitaph as its founder, for he "loved his fellow men." The intensity of his convictions and the radicalness of his positions made some people think him unapproachable, but as he grew older he became more gentle and tender and the beauty of his old age was like a glorious sunset. Immortality, on which he so eloquently and I went out of that church commissioned to preach the same unsearchable riches of Christ. He called himself a preacher of "righteousness and salvation" and what a preacher he was! His voice rang out like a clarion and with his soul aflame with his glorious message and his great heart deeply stirred for the salvation of men, his eloquence was sublime.

But Dr. Woods was a reformer especially devoted to temperance and prohibition, but he stood for genuine righteousness everywhere. Some of his greatest and best work was done on the temperance platform. We can see his eye flash and the indignation of his fiery soul as he sounded out his philippic against the rum traffic. He was not in sympathy with the injunction, "Let your moderation be known unto all men." As for moderation in such a cause, he hated it. It had no place in his constitution and bylaws. Some frightened men held their breath, but this knight of the white plume would not retreat, apologize, or compromise. What sarcasm and invective! What fiery indignation and righteous wrath! What thunderbolts, sent from the very throne of God, came from his eloquent lips! The cheap man could not understand him, but his honest opponents loved him, for he was no craven, and always fought in the open and fought like a man. He was just as ardent in his defense of his own faith and while he kept the open mind, he never hesitated to express the absolute convictions of his heroic soul. His is a splendid record on social service and civic righteousness for

"On his bright sword No spot of rust appears." To have reached such great reputation in the pulpit unaware of it and never seeking it is an unusual fortune. That assuredly was his, for often when his brethren asked him to preach to them he would modestly say, "I'm not a preacher to preachers. No one knows his own limitations better than I," but that modesty in his greatness was one of the attractions of his personality.

But I have left the best for the last, for Dr. Woods was a man before he was a reformer or even a minister. He never forgot his primal commission. He never surrendered that glory to any ecclesiastical requirement. He knew that "Jesus Christ was more man than any man." Of a recreant statesman in the highest office he once said, "There was not a white spot on his black heart big enough to write the word man." For manliness was the watchword of our beloved brother.

preached, became more than a posture with him. It was no unproven reality in his clear vision of the future. In his last days his heroism did not desert him. He knew that earth was receding and he knew whom he had believed. The words of the great Book, the hymns of the Church, and tender and affectionate messages for those he dearly loved were on his lips. "Then death drew near and brought no fear To this strong man of God."

Put your name down for the seats you want for the Boston Opera Co. event with Mme. Seotney on June 1st, 2nd, and 3rd. Subscription tickets for the season cost but $5.00, and a goodly share of this will go towards helping the widows of those who perished on the Cheekers and Grand Falls. But remember that the Boston Festival is not a charity. It will be the biggest success of the season in Halifax and here. So unless you really want to hear good music, and are going to enjoy yourself, you had better send your money direct to the Disaster Committee.

Why Ireland Should Have Home Rule.

Editor Evening Telegram. I am pleased to see that Mr. Slattery has consented to repeat his lecture on "Why Ireland should have Home Rule." A great many people who couldn't hear it when first given will now have the opportunity of doing so, and it is well worth it. I was present in the B. I. S. rooms and heard it described as the best one of its kind yet given in St. John's. The Star Society seems to have the knack of always selecting the lecture and lecturer that appeal most to the people. Our friend John is new in the field, but nevertheless a valuable acquisition, if public comment is any criterion of his worth, and in bringing him to their rooms the Star people show thoughtfulfulness and judgment where their reputation for up-to-the-minute lectures is concerned. Trusting I have not trespassed too much, Mr. Editor, I am Yours very truly, NAMRIAH.

Hr. Grace Notes.

The schooner Pet arrived from Carbonere yesterday to go on dock for repairs.

The remains of the late Harold Thompson arrived by last night's train and the funeral will take place this afternoon.

Mr. A. Collis assisted by a number of young ladies and gentlemen will give a concert in St. Paul's Hall, on Wednesday night. Half the proceeds will be given to the Marine Disaster Fund.

Mr. A. Thomson and family are expected to arrive from St. John's by this afternoon's train. We welcome them to town and trust that their stay will be long and pleasant and that abundant success may attend Mr. Thomson's tannery business.

Work is now rushing at the Marine Docks here, and it appears as if a very busy season is in store for the Dock Co. They have the facilities for quick handling of schooners, and owners will do well to send their schooners here.

Mr. E. Simmons is now selling some delicious halibut. Those who have tried it vote it the best of its kind on sale here for some time. Mr. Simmons deserves patronage for his enterprise in having such dainties in stock.

The young men who placed the play "It's all in the Pay Streak"—on the boards here last week intend putting it before a Carbonere audience soon. The play is well worth seeing.

"Alfredo Kamella is the greatest tenor who has ever been heard in Canada" said a Montreal critic of the Boston Opera Co. tenor who will assist Mme. Seotney in her June 1st Festival. Seats may be reserved on $5.00 for all three performances, at the Atlantic Book Store. Single tickets will be 2.50 each. Better sign the subscription list to-day.

The Board of Trade have received the following from Oporto:— "The stock of British cereals is now diminishing but the Norwegian which is coming forward in large quantities will keep the market well supplied for some little time. Prices have been maintained for both cereals."

Mrs. Seotney is an Australian girl. Was the protegee of Mme. Welbo. Was 27 years old. Has made the greatest success ever recorded in Boston at Montreal. She is the biggest star of the Boston Opera House. Many critics call her the true successor of Adelle Pattil. Others say she has already surpassed Tetrozina. Local critics will have a chance to see Edward Bower Hesser, the Impresario, will be at the Methodist Village Hall on June 1st, 2nd and 3rd, and anybody who is not satisfied is welcome to get their money back. Those who think their money will send the additional amount direct to the Marine Disaster Fund Committee, and mark it "For Cheekers and Grand Falls if." Help this fund—it is a duty!

The Newfound Enquiry

The enquiry was continued a General Hospital yesterday, witnesses being unable to leave institution.

THOMAS DAWSON (sworn) examined by Hutchings, K.C.—I was examined by the Newfoundland as a witness at the Newfoundland as a witness. On Tuesday, March 24, about 7 a.m. left with our crew for the ship. The step proceeded towards the left. I thought when we were left, we were to the westward, but heard no noise to that effect. It was very dull and looked for weather. The weather commenced about 11.30 o'clock, and I saw only one flag line and I saw only one flag line to the westward with a few flags. When we reached the ship the enquiry was aboard to have a watch had something to do with the way out. I had nothing to do with it. Our second hand told me something to eat. I replied 'I'm darned if I will; I'm no cook on board this ship and can't get anything for myself.' I then went to the galley and got a mug of tea, when a fellow said he was choking. I drank and I gave it to him. I took a drink out of the kettle. I came on deck; I had no breakfast. I was filling my pipe. I had not time to light before we were told by the captain and our hand to get overboard. I then conversation between the captain and Tuff while on board. We were over on the starboard side, and I right ahead of her. I did not go to the port side. I heard no conversation while on the deck between the captain and Tuff. I was almost most of the crowd. The ship went directly away from us. I asked Tuff how our ship was and he told me S.E. I was going about 2 miles S.W. when we were about 1,400 yards, which were beyond the carcasses. I asked the Stephano or Capt. A. Ke don't know which) was going to us. He said no, but we would go to our own ship. I said we were going to find our own ship. He said we'd allow 2 1/2 or 2. I said I've been 2 1/2 miles from the ice, and you'll run like this. At this time the snowing and drifting was thick. I saw it. We then went out a mile and struck the seals. I and some of his watch stopped about 5 minutes after this stop. I stopped and consulted, and decided to our own ship as it was dark. Tuff told me to go ahead the crowd, to go right in the path we came out in, and that we walked on until dark, times losing the track. About the whistle of our ship it may have been a little later in the direction we were in. At dark we stopped; the second told us we would have to stop right further. It was very stormy. I could not hold the path. If the steamer had kept blowing we would have boarded her on all hands. I took about 36 men from a pan for the night. Jones' watch of about 30 men short while but left and stayed one of the other watches. I fired and had to look out for men, and the man Pear, that our hand said he was looking of Pear died on the pan; that night 8 or 10 who died that night belonged to my watch. If Jones taken his 30 men to another pan their ropes and guns and lit a and looked after them as I did would have fared better, and m

"Alfredo Ramella is the greatest tenor who has ever been heard in Canada" said a Montreal critic of the Boston Opera Co. tenor who will assist Mme. Scotney in her June Music Festival. Seats may be reserved now, $5.00 for all three performances, at the Atlantic Book Store. Single tickets will be 2.50 each. Better sign the subscription list today.

The Board of Trade have received the following from Oporto: "The stock of British cure is now diminishing but the Norwegian which is coming forward in large quantities will keep the market well supplied for some little time. Prices have been maintained for both cures."

Mrs. Scotney is an Australian girl. Was the profuse of Mrs. Wells, New 27 years old. Has made the greatest success ever recorded in Boston and Montreal. The Boston Opera House. Many critics call her the true successor of Adelle Patti. Others say she has already surpassed Tetrozini. Local critics will have a chance to see Edward Bower Hesser, the impresario, will be at the Methodist Hall on June 1st, 2nd and 3rd and will come to get their money back. Those who think they are getting more than their money's worth may send the additional amount direct to the Disaster Fund Committee, and mark it "For Checkers and Grand Falls widows and orphans." The Newfoundland Disaster Enquiry Before Judge Knight.

The enquiry was continued at the General Hospital yesterday, some witnesses being unable to leave the institution. THOMAS DAWSON (sworn), examined by Hutchings, K.C.—I belong to Bay Roberts, and was at the seal-factory in the Newfoundland as master watch, on Tuesday, March 31st, about 7 a.m. left with our crew and proceeded towards the Stephano. I thought when we left we were going to the Stephano, but heard no orders given to that effect. It was fine but very dull and looked for weather. The weather commenced about 11.30 and we reached the Stephano about 12 o'clock, our time. All walked in a line and I saw only one flag belonging to the Stephano with a few seals. When we reached the ship the captain asked us aboard to have a mug-up; my watch had something to eat on the way out. I had nothing to eat on board. Our second hand told me to get something to eat. I replied, "No, I'm darned if I will; I'm no officer on board this ship and can't get anything for myself." I then went below and got a mug of tea, when some fellow said he was choking for a drink and I gave it to him. I then took a drink out of the kettle and came on deck; I had no bread or biscuit. I was filling my pipe but had not time to light before we were told by the captain and our second hand to get aboard. I heard no conversation between the captain and Tuff until we were all over on the starboard side, and went right ahead of her. I did not cross to the port side. I heard no conversation while on the ice between the captain and Tuff. I was ahead of most of the crowd. The ship turned and went directly away from us. We went about S.W. As she started away I asked Tuff how our ship lay and he told me S.E. I asked him where he was going. He said we were going about 2 miles S.W. where there are about 1,400 seals, which were just beyond the carcasses. I asked him if the Stephano or Capt. A. Kean (I don't know which) was going to pick us up. He said no, but we would have to go to our own ship. I said how are we going to find our own ship if we have to go two or three miles to the S.W. He said we'll allow a point to two. I said I've been 21 or 22 springs to the ice, and you'll want to run it pretty neat to strike a ship if you're like this. At this time it was blowing and drifting as thick as ever saw it. We then went on about a mile and struck the seals. Bunga and some of his watch stopped to kill about 5 minutes after this we all stopped and consulted, and decided to go to our own ship as it was to die. Tuff told me to go ahead and lead the crowd, to go right in the wind's eye, which I did. We struck the path we came out in, and the flag. We walked on until dark, some times losing the track. About 4.30 I heard the whistle of our ship twice. It may have been a little later. She was in the direction we were going. At dark we stopped; the second hand told us we would have to stop for the night. It was too dirty to go any farther. It was very stormy and could not hold the path. I think if the steamer had kept blowing, some of us would have hoarded her, maybe all hands. I took about 26 men and went to a pan for the night; and Jones' watch of about 30 men joined my crowd. Jones was there for a short while but left and stayed with one of the other watches. I had a fire and had to look out for Jones' men, and the man Pear, that the second hand said he was looking out for. Pear died on the pan that night. Of 8 or 10 who died that night only one belonged to my watch. If Jones had taken his 30 men to another pan with their ropes and gaffs and lit a fire and looked after them as I did, they would have fared better, and my men informed Capt. Kean that we had been 5 hours travelling and that it would take the same to go back, and made arrangements with the captain to pick us up, or else not have left the ship until the following morning.

Hatching Eggs! When you read this you will know that "Reid" has quality in his White Plymouth Rocks.

At the great Indianapolis Show, Ind., U.S.A., Feb. 2 to 7, '14, and in one of the quality shows in all America, and in a class of 128 White Rocks, we made this most remarkable winning: 3rd, Cock; 1st, Hen; 1st & 5th, Cockerel; 5th, Pullet. Silver cup for best shaped male; silver cup for best shaped female; silver cup for best colored specimen. Surely this is a record to be proud of. This is what Judge Schwab has to say about them: "The winning cockerel, one of supreme beauty, elegant form, and the best of color and condition. First he up to highest standard."—Extract from A. P. J. April number. Why then seek elsewhere when such quality is in your own country. Only a limited number of settings to spare this season; $5.00 per setting of 15. W. Illustrated Lecture. A rare treat is in store for those who will attend the lecture to be given in the Grenfell Hall, on Thursday, by Mr. W. H. Jones. Mr. Jones has kindly consented to deliver this lecture in aid of the funds of the Woman's Missionary Society of George Street Church, and will take as his subject: "Livingstone's Steps Through Central Africa." Those who have been fortunate in hearing Mr. Jones in his previous lectures of "Japan," "Picturesque Devonshire" and others, and have seen the magnificent slides descriptive of these, will learn with pleasure of the lecture of Thursday evening. Musical selections will be given during the interval which will include songs by Miss Story and Mr. Ruggles and a quartette. An abundance of choice home-made candy will assist, with the above, in ensuring a pleasant evening to all.

Heavy Ice at Exploits. From a message received in the city from Botwood yesterday we learn that the ice in Exploits Bay is very heavy being from eight to ten inches thick. One of the ships of the Donaldson Line is now on the way from England to load pulp and paper, but it is expected she will have much difficulty in reaching Botwood under the existing conditions.

Minard's Liniment Co. Gentlemen—I had my leg badly hurt the pain was very severe and a large swelling came above the knee. I expected it would be serious—I rubbed it with MINARD'S LINIMENT, which stopped the pain and reduced the swelling very quickly. I cannot speak too highly of MINARD'S LINIMENT. AMOS T. SMITH, Port Hood Island.

The Wage Question. The regular monthly meeting of the Freeman's Union took place last night, and after the usual routine business was transacted, the question of an increase in wages was discussed. All present decided not to sign on ships less than $25 per month, with $40 for donkeymen. Some of the owners are already paying this wage, but after May 1st the rule will be enforced on all the ship, and those now receiving lower wages will require an advance. The proposition has been passed before the ship owners and the Union is now awaiting their reply.

LONGSHOREMEN MEET. At last night's meeting of the Longshoremen's Union, a committee was appointed to draw up a new scale of wages to be submitted to the employers.

Canada Increases Donation to $25,000. OTTAWA, To-day. At the opening of the House of Commons, Premier Borden announced that in view of the larger loss of life in the wreck of Newfoundland sealing vessels which had become known, it had been decided by the Government to increase the grant for relief from ten thousand to twenty-five thousand dollars. Laurier said the circumstances were such as to justify the action. He had great pleasure in reporting it.

Wedding Bells. LUSCOMBE—REID. A quiet wedding was solemnized at the C. E. Cathedral at 7 o'clock this morning, when Miss Ida Luscombe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Luscombe, of this city, was united in the bonds of Holy Matrimony to Mr. John Reid, of Dildo, T.B., the ceremony being performed by the Rev. J. Brinton. The bride was attended by Miss Lilian Hardy, as bridesmaid, while Mr. J. P. Luscombe supported the groom. The happy couple were the recipients of many valuable presents from their friends. Following a wedding breakfast held at the residence of the bride's parents, the newly wedded couple left by train for Whitbourne where the honeymoon will be spent, after which they will proceed to their future home in Dildo, Trinity Bay. Their many friends extend felicitations.—Com.

Where Responsibility Lies. No matter how large, or how small, a business may be, nobody can deny that its Office is the nerve centre of the firm. Every transaction, important or trivial, must be recorded at the Office. An order is received at the Office,—its history is recorded at the Office, and finally payment is received at the Office. If the Office makes an error the firm stands at a loss. That's why you must be sure that your office is modern and dependably equipped for the care of all important papers. To do this effectively you need the up-to-date equipment of the "GLOBE-WERNICKE CO." When sixty offices in St. John's have found this necessity this equipment can surely be of use to you. Mr. Percie Johnson represents this world-wide firm in Newfoundland.—ap17.7

BASEBALL. A meeting of the Baseball League was held on Monday night to make the preliminary arrangements for the coming season. Application for entrance to the League was made by Dr. Howlett, Secretary of the "College Cubs", and it was unanimously decided to admit this new team. An amendment to the Bye Laws and Constitution was made, by which no player can play for more than one Club in two successive seasons (if he has played in at least two regular League fixtures) without first deciding with the League a release signed by the manager of his former Club. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of Official Umpires, and their report will be received at the next meeting. The schedule will be fixed then. The fact of the games being played on St. George's Field has received the very favourable commendation of the fans.

We know who he will buy it for? But who will he buy it from? Hundreds of Engagements and Weddings are sealed yearly in Newfoundland with Trappell's Solid Gold Rings. Hundreds of friendships and tokens of affection to sweetheart, wife, mother, sister and friend are embodied in 'esting embraces with Trappell's Rings, the popularity of which is based upon their quality, finish and variety and beauty of design. Rings for men, women, baby and miss for every occasion. Gem Rings. Chased Rings. Signet Rings. Birthday Rings. Should you have a desire to get a ring of such design as you may create yourself, or that you had seen somebody else wear, just take your design to Trappell; there is nothing impossible along these lines for his talented workmen. A splendid assortment of unset stones can be seen if your design calls for a Gem Ring. Ask to be shown the new White Saphires. They are hard and brilliant like diamonds, so much so that they puzzle experts.—ap20.11

Mr. Slattery's Lecture. On Saturday we announced that Mr. Slattery would lecture in the Star Hall on Thursday evening in aid of the Disaster Fund. Since then we learn that the lecture promised by Dr. Greene for St. Vincent de Paul Society has been postponed owing to the advent of the busy season, and that the response to Mr. Slattery's lecture may be all the greater. In view of this, and of the great interest taken in the subject to be handled by Mr. Slattery, we predict a bumper house for the Star boys.
