PRICE TEN CENTS.

Comment.

New York and Brooklyn license holders are doing their best to suppress places that sell whiskey for five cents and heer for three cents. They rightly may that the stuff sold at those prices kills on sight and injures not so much their business as their cause.

or so last month, and the croakers are revelling in dismal cries. But Canada is not singular. In the United States during the last nine months there has been a continual decrease in the revenue until in one department alone—the inland, or, as it is called over there, the internal there was a deficit as compared with the corresponding time in the previous year of $12,465,144. This deficit was made up as follows: On spirits, $8,893,578; on tobacco, $3,196,089; on fermented iquors, $531,080; on miscellaneous.

The present state of things in South Carolina appears to be very much of a go asyou-please. The cities and large owns are issuing licenses for the sale of wine and beer, and fixing such fees therefor as they choose. According to a secent decision of the Supreme Court pirituous liquors could not be lawfully sold without new legislation. And as the judges did not include malt or vinous quors, licenses are granted for the sale of wine and beer. Of course there is no surance that this action on the part of the local officials will stand, and a final ettlement must wait until the next egislature meets at the close of the

MESSRS. SAMUEL WHITEREAD and H. E Hoare, members of the Imperial Parment, propose to resign their seats as a olest against Sir Wm. Harcourt's inuse of the tax on beer. To us this ems very like running away from the ht. If the tax is not warranted, a far are effective way than resignation is to ste against it. By resigning, Messrs. Whithread and Hoare show that they parded themselves as mere voting chines, because just as soon as they and they could not register the decrees

IDA GROVE, Iowa, is a town of little moment in an ordinary way, but it has sprung into some notoriety from the fact that the municipality proposes to go into the saloon business. The town council is to fix the price at which liquor shall be sold, and monthly reports are to be made to it of the business. Twenty-five hun-Canada's receipts fell off half a million dred big dollars are to be put into the affair, and 8 per cent interest is to be paid yearly to the stockholders. After all expenses are paid, including the $600 mulct tax, 75 per cent of the net profits are to go to the town and 25 per cent to the school district. The town council and school board are to boss the barkeepers and all other persons employed. What do our Prohibition friends think of a plan that holds that what is right in the municipality in the individual is a sin?

> The greatest difficulty brewers and distillers have, and especially the latter, is to secure for the customer the kind of goods he asks for. The time has gone by when the purchaser merely called for whiskey or beer. Now he asks for a particular brew or brand, and is undoubtedly entitled to get it. In England the big brewers and distillers prosecute license holders who sell other than their goods for theirs. No such course has ever been taken in Canada that we know of, but there is more than a probability that some day a dispenser who is in the habit of filling variously labelled bottles from the same cask will be pulled up with a round turn. We do not think the practice is common, but in one or two instances distillers have complained to us that inferior brands have been supplied even to themselves for their specialties, and it is possible that concerted action will be taken at some future date to check this practice-

THE Kentucky State Newssays: "There have been many crimes committed in the name of whisky, and the saloon has been condemned both from the pulpit, the bar and the bench. How does the record stand? Our contemporary might have gone further and have declared that a confirmed criminal was never a confirmed drunkard. The worst men are not given to excess in drink Clear heads are required to commit great crimes, yes, and small crimes, too, suc cessfully. Your temperance man that is addicted to evil is the most dangerous element society posses

Miss Docwra read a paper a few days ago at the anniversary meeting of the Women's Total Abstinence Union in which she, doubtless unconciously, gave the whole case for the legal "suppression of the drink traffic" away. Treating of grocers' licenses which "have been fraught with such evil consequences to the womanhood of England," she said that the testimony on which her party rely in denouncing these licenses is "in every respect trustworthy," but unfortunately it cannot be published. She says that to do so would be to betray confidences and reveal skeletons in cupboards. This is tantamount to confessing that there is a large amount of secret drinking among women, and this naturally leads to the inference that where a tendency to this exists, means will be found to gratify it. Destroy the off-licenses, and it will be perfectly easy to get liquor to drink in secret. Close all the licensed houses, and the liquor would be obtained from wholesale traders. Abolish these, and the illict trader would take their place. The chain of sequence is without a flaw. It is with the drunkards, and not the drink-sellers, that the would-be reformers ought to deal. The temperate man or woman drinks no more in a street which contains fifty public-houses than in a street that contains one. The intemperate drinker will get just as drunk in one argument is all bosh, and the sooner the Prohibitionists recognize that the evil lies in the drunkard and not in the drink the sooner they will commend themselves to sensible folk. - Licensing World.

WE are requested to publish the following resolutions which were passed at a special meeting of the Licensed Victuallers' Association of Montreal as an answer to disgraceful aspersions on the conduct of Judge Dugas, made 'y the Montreal Witness and the Dominion

Whereas, Mr. Carson, the secretary of the Dominion Alliance, is reported in the Montreal Witness to have stated to a reporter of that paper that the License Commissioners' decision in the case of Lowry, an applicant for a license for the Exchange Hotel, was the most barefaced piece of injustice that has ever been per petrated by any Board of License Comdissioners of which he had any know-

And whereas, the Dominion Alliance has seen fit to request the Government to remove His Honor Judge Dugas from the Board of License Commissioners of Montreal, apparently for the sole reason that his decisions in recent license cases were adverse to the Dominion Alliance although in harmony with the law, and concurred in by Judges Desnoyers and De Montigny :

And whereas, the St. Lawrence Council. Royal Templars of Temperance, passed a resolution declaring that the conduct of the commissioners, and more especially of one of the commissioners, in dismissing the opposition to the license, was "so flagrantly opposed to justice" that they endorsed the demand of the Dominion

And whereas, the Witness, and the speakers at certain meetings held in Point St. Charles and elsewhere, have voiced this request, and, while raising a specious cry for British justice, have shown their dea of justice to be that a judge should strain and pervert the law to fit their own presentment of the case Therefore, be it resolved that we, the English-speaking Licensed Victuallers of Montreal, in meeting assembled, deem it fit and proper to assure His Honor Judge Dugas, that when we come before him as such License Commissioner, we seek no favour, but only claim justice, and we have felt, and shall always feel, perfect confidence in the impartiality of his decisions, whether the same be in favor of, or adverse to any member of our trade; and we hereby place on record our opinion that irresponsible railings against judicial decisions by unsuccessful litigants are inimical to the best interests of justice, repugnant to the feelings of law-abiding citizens, and are rendered the more repre hensible by the fact that judges, by reason of their official position effectively to publicly rebut them.

CAESAR'S BETTER HALF.

The late Colonel Morrison, a cousm of "Bill" Morrison, of Illinois, was quite an orator and liked to meet his friends at the festive board. One night he returned from a banquet and when before his resi dence invited his friends with him to enter the house and enjoy a night cap or two His friends remonstrated, saying that the hour wastoolate to disturb the family. The and, bracing up, stated with emphasis that he was Cosar in his own house. Mrs. Morrison, who had waited for liege lord, was leaning out of the window, and delivered herself thus: "You may go home, gentlemen; I'll take care of Casar." The Colonel's form at once disapeared into his residence.—Ronfort's ine and Spirit Circular,

FAULT FINDING GUESTS.

People Should Remember what They Pay and Have Consideration for Running Expenses

The guest who criticises a hotel and its management will do well to take into e sideration how much he himself is doing towards its support. As a guest, scated at the table, it may require no special power of observation to recognize the fact that the house could employ more waiters and thus add to the service; that the stock chinaware might be replenished and the appearance of the tables thereby enhanced that new table linen would not come amiss and that in minor details the house is capable of being improved. The guest is not infrequently able to reason thus far, and were he only given the enviable position of manager what a reform would speedily But from the manager affairs look different. How well he knows that there is room for improvement, and how eagerly would such improvements be inaugurated were there no obstacles in the But the hotels in which a manager has the authority to carry out his ideal in hotel management are few and far between, and seldom if ever are they found in the moderate priced establishments, where a guest has the right to expect only that for which he pays. There is occa-sionlly a hotel plant, owned by some wealthy corporation, perhaps conducted in conection with a railway line, where net profits are not the first consideration, and where perfection in service and display are the results most desired. ven in these instances there comes a time when the stockholders wish to know why the hotel does not pay, and the manager is asked to "cut." Less help must be employed; cheaper supplies must take the place of first-class goods. The change that comes over the manager's dream of how things should be and how they actually will be, is not a pleasant one; and to add to the nightmare the guests observe the change. Blame is laid on the manager, who must grin and bear it or

But, says one, you cannot afford to use chipped dishes, or old linen. It will not pay to dismiss some of the work ; the best service is none too ing force; the best service is good. True and not true. Surely no one good, than the knows better (in most instances) than the man whose money, time and effort are at stake what will pay and what will not pay. In doing he can under the circumstances. In doing this he may, if he happen to be proprietor, be guided by circumstances not under-stood by the guest; and if manager for others he may not even be left to his own judgment. The hotel that is making money is far more apt to be superior in every way to the losing establishment, and the difference in the two cannot be laid upon the shoulders of the manager of the

... "IT WAS NOT ALWAYS THUS."

Some years ago England's Grand Old Man gave expression to the view which statesmen of eminence in all countries entertain at present with regard to the Said Gladstone in the liquor traffic. speech referred to. "The principle upon which the House of Compons has, I think, uniformly proceeded with respect to spirits has been, not that we ought to lower the duties upon them as much as we can consistently with the interests of the revenue, but that we ought to raise the duties upon them as much as we can consistently with the policy and necessity of preventing the growth of a contraband That liquors should be taxed regardless of the necessities of the Government, is undoubtedly the prevalent inion of public men in all countries But, we may add, though entertained by so venerable a man as Gladstone, it is but a modern opinion at best. It is the out come of a wide-spread hostility to the liquor traffic. It is one of the indications, not of the growth of prohibition itself, but the spread of the sentiment it fosters, and as such is a proper cause for alarm to manufacturers and dealers alike. Such opinions having gained almost universal foothold, what will be the next step in the crusade against this ancient and honorable

England to the liquor traffic, but it is a notorious fact that her now world-wide mmerce was largely founded on spirits Without the inducement to force product of her distilleries upon foreign markets that country would not to-d be known as the foremost community of traders on the globe. And quite natur ally when her ships were seeking every port and harbour of the known world freighted with alcoholic beverages, her rulers did not consider that spirits was the one product which might be taxed to the extreme limit.

And so in this country. When New England found it expedient and profitable to manufacture rum, and to make it the very staple of her foreign commerce, nobody ever heard of prohibition in that section of the Union, nor yet of taxing the product all it would bear. Indeed it matter of history that the Christian missionariessent out by the early Puritans found their barrel of rum a better open sestme for them among the savages than any other they could carry. Spirits were all right then and not taxable beyond other legitimate products,

THE WINE INDUSTRY.

The Pacific coast wine crop of 1893 is early all in the hands of producers, and buyers are expecting to obtain supplies at five or six cents per gallon, according to the statements of a correspondent, who furnishes the following information

There were shipped out of California in 1893 no less than 12,500,000 gallons of wine, 500,000 of which was experted to foreign countries, leaving only 12,000,000 of gallons for all the 60,000,000 people. of gallons for all the socious peops, say one gallon for every family east of the Rocky Mountains. It is generally conceded by the best authorities the 8,000,000 gallons of wine are consumed in the Pacific Coast States and Territoria I have already accounted for over 20,000 000 gallons, shipped and consum bears of the market will claim that the their branch houses in New York answer I will say that there was slap to New York in 1893, according to stati ties, 3,134,969 gallons. How much of this has been already consumed I have no means of knowing, but according to no means or knowing, but according to a fixed law of nature about 75,000 galoss have evaporated. Now, take into ea-sideration 793,587 gallons of beastly shipped out of California during the year 1893, and as each gallon of proof brands represents five gallons of wine, we find that the shipments of wine, or its open in brandy, together with home consump tion, are over 24,000,000 gallons

The years 1892 and 1891 only fall a little more than a million short of the above. I have yet to hear any one claim that California produced over 25,000,000 gallons last season, which was by far the largest vintage California ever produced. Now, according to the above showing. Now, according to the above showing, which I can prove by published statistic, there is no over-production of wise in California. There is not less than $0, 000,000 invested in California in the ase industry, a large percentage of which belongs to the growers and produces. REER-TASTING IN THE ARMY.

A Queer Duty that is Performed in Orde that Tommy Atkins May Enjoy a Pure Baverage.

THE peculiar duty of beer-tasting is con The peculiar dary of occi-tasting is con-ined to the troops quartered in Great Britain's East Indian Empire. No doubt the innovation was brought about with the object—as "Tonimy Atkins" will have his "ponjelow" (beer)—of at least inducing the soldier to imbibe that which has passed an approved examination. The dram shops in the bazaars dispense the vilest of liquors, and one kind of spirit is in great demand amongst natives nd our soldiers. It is called "Billy Stink," on account of the nauseous odour it emits; even the confirmed tipplers olds his nostrils closed when drinking this maddening fluid, and I believe that three-fourths of the court-martials held upon soldiers in the East can be indirectly, f not directly, traced to "Sweet William. as it is facetiously named. It is amongst such evils as the aforementioned that the necessity presented itself of choosing the hence came the introduction of beer tasting.

PROHIBITION AND THE BIBLE.

By reference to this 14th chapter you will see that the Al-mighty is giving directions to his people what to eat and drink, and d nates them a "holy people," and a host of other things, the wine and with strong drink are not omitted. I might strong arms are not omitted. I might here remark, too, that this is a case where the party is too far away to drive up cattle or carry other things necessary for the worship in the ten-ple, and are directed by God to sell ple, and are directed by God to sen them, and carry up the price and pur-chase nearer, what they require, in-cluding the wine and strong drink even in his presence in the holy place. Now, if I was to take a bottle of wine, or if I was to take a bottle of wine, or some whiskey, with me when I go to church, and take a pull or two, to liven me up while the minister was preach-ing, it would, in these modern times, be deemed outrageous. Prov. xxxi : 6,7 Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto those who be of heavy hearts. Let him drink and forget his poverty, and member his misery no more, see by these two verses that we are re-commended to give strong drink to the poor hard working man and also a stimulant to those who, from their abstemiousness, have become low spirited. Eccl. ix. chapter, 7th verse: "Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy and drink wine with a merry heart; for God now accepteth thy works." Song o Solomon, v. chapter, 10th verse: " have churned my wine with my milk Song of eat O friends; drink ye; drink abundantly, O believers." This is evidently dantly, O believers." This is evidently milk punch and the believer is encour-aged to drink heartily. Isaiah lxii, chapter, 8th verse: "The Lord hath sworn by his right hand and by the arm of his strength, surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine give thy corn to be meat for thine cuemies; and the sons of the stranger shall not drink thy wine for which thou hast labored. You will see by reading the next verse that the Lord says that they shall drink this wine in the courts of His holiness. Here, then, is another instance of the Lord countenancing the drinking of wine in the courts of the Temple, Exodus xxii. chapter, 29th verse: "Thou shalt xxii. chapter, 20th verse: "Thou shalt not delay to offer the first of thy ripe fruits and of thy liquors." You see that in the holy rites of the Temple. stimulants were commanded to

In this chapter we have an account of Lot being taken captive, and of his rescue by Abraham and his being met by Melchizedek, king of Salem, and priest of the most high God, who mysteriously appears upon the scene to bless Abraham and refresh him with bread and wine. You see here again the wine is made use of as being refreshing, and, I may ask, who was this godly man, and was he like Christ a wine bibber? I suppose our Prohibitionists would dub him so. Another thousand years elapses and the writer to the Hebrews revives his unique memory, discussing and unfolding the typical fulfillments of his priestly life. Heb. (v, : 6: vi. : 20. What shall we say then ; that all those boly men countified sin at all these holy men committed sin that all these lony men committees on by indulging in wine, strong drink, or liquors? And how can that be so when God has sanctioned their use according to references in the above

Such a system as Prohibition can ever be adopted while the Bible re tains its power over the human soul.
It's a summer delusion, an airy mis-take. If there were any guilt in the matter I should not so lightly speak of it: but it is only a more public illus-tration of the over-zealous actions of deprayed minds, and these illusive speculations, of which they are too often guilty, are like the moral at the end of a pretty fable, but is it Emerson (by the by) who says that "Hell itself not without its extreme satisfac

If we are to believe the Bible, Prohibition has no ground to stand upon It is reported that infidelity is largely on the increase, and by reference to Webster you will see that all these advocates are infidels, for they don't be-lieve the Scriptures.

HER MORE HUMANE WAY

Two women were discussing the subject of salads and their construction. The first said

"Now, for lobster salad I always get a nice, live lobster that weighs about one pound and a half or pounds, and boil it

The second broke in with : " How do you kill the lobster? You know I never my live lobsters because I think man to kill them by putting them in a kettle of hot water.

The first woman replied: "Oh I never kill them that way; that would be too horrible. I always put them on in cold water and let them come to a boil."

Brains

Capital

3N every partnership there are two factors of great importance: the managing brain and the capital employed, and if death removes either the business must suffer. It often happens that the brain-belong to one man and the capital to another. If the manager dies the capital worth less than before; if the capitalist dies and his capital is withdrawn, the manager is crippled. It is clear that each has in insurable interest in the life of the other because the profits of each depend in part apon the life of both. The firm should. therefore, take one of the Unconditional Policies of the Manufacturers' Life, which are free from all restrictions as to travel residence or occupation, and are absolutely indisputable on any ground whatever after the FIRST YEAR. Hops.

No change: nothing done, is the report. Some movement, however, is expected shortly.

The market for the few English hops of but year's growth left in planters' hands is very firm, but the advanced prices that are demanded are not willingly paid by buyers. American and Pacific Coast hops do not meet with much general attention, but the demands suffices to keep values firm for the best, though some reduction is obtainable on the lowest quality. Continental markets are all firm at rates far above our currency, Belgium showing an advance on the week. Cold weather has checked the growth of the young plant, but reports are generally favorable. WHAT PROHIBITION MEANS.

WE have time and again pointed out the magnitude of the agricultural in terests that would be affected in Canada, were prohibition to come into force. Recently we went over the same ground as regards England. Now we have some interesting statistics before us regarding the United States, According to the annual report of the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue during the fiscal year ending June 30th last, there were consumed in that country in the manufacture of distilled spirits only the following onts of grain and other materials

Rye, bushels
Corn, bushels	. 19,770,550
Malt, bushels	8,272,800
Wheat, bushels	97,070
Barley, bushels	5,959
Oats, bushels
Mill feed, bushels	17,343
Molasses, gallons
Other materials, bushels,	3.82

This statement does not include the east quantity of malt and hops used in the production of 34,591,179 barrels of fermented liquors (ale and beer), the grape used in the manufacture of wines or the great quantity of various fruits used in the production of 659,458 galons of fruit (other than wine) brandy. Nor does it take account of the 88,702 head of cattle and 26,436 hogs fattened at the distilleries, furnishing 21,664,956 pounds of meat for the use of the

Here is indeed food for reflection. Let our Prohibition friends pause just for a little and consider what a terrible blow it would be to the prosperity of the United States if the demand for all these products were suddenly cut off. First of all, have regard to the farmer who, despite this immense consumption of his grain, still finds the markets werstocked, and is compelled to part with the fruit of his toil at prices that hardly reimburse the cost of tillage and harvesting. Deprived of this channel of onsumption, where would prices fall 6? Here is a question for both political and Prohibition economists. More than any other class of the population would the tiller of the soil suffer from the financial disaster that must of neessity follow the enactment of a law forbidding the sale and manufacture of alcoholic beverages.

Take a step further and pay heed to than farmers to whom the liquor industry gives employment. The New York Sun recently estimated the average number of the employees of a distillery at 30 and of breweries at 80. The U.S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue reports 4,980 distilleries registered and operated during the fiscal year, 1892-3, which, at the Sun's estimate, would require a working force of 149,670 men; 1,930 breweries, employing, by the same estimate, 80 men each, or a total of 154,400, thus making an aggregate of 304,070 working men directly employed in the breweries and distilleries, saying nothing of the other hundreds of voor ands who handle, distribute and sell the liquors-the wholesale merchants, their clerks and salesmen, the bar and saloon keepers and their assistants and attendants. And who will venture to estimate their number? The Wine and Spirit Gazette says it has counted up in New York State alone nearly 200,000, and all voting men, most of them heads of families.

A MODERN CRUSADE.

MONTREAL is to have a big day early in the coming month. A national temperance convention is to be held in the Monument National, St. Lawrence street. Two thousand delegates are expected to be present. But the affair is not to be all talk. There is to be a basket picnic on Dominion Day, a bas ket picnic being, we take it, an affair in which each man or woman not only supplies his or her own victuals but carries them himself or herself. On Tuesday the talking will commence. Gen, Neal Dow is to be there to tell the assembled two thousand how Prohibition does not work in Maine, that is if his couriers have recently brought him in reliable news, for it is hardly to be expected that a man of ninety can know from actual experience what is going on. He might, for instance, and anybody else might, for that matter, walk through certain streets of Toronto on Sunday and swear that for all he knew, or could see, every man, woman and child were at prayer or praise. But we all know he would be mistaken. The same way as regards General Dow and Maine. We have no doubt he believes all he says because he has no ocular demonstration to the contrary But let him call on a younger man to give testimony, a man who can go among the people, a Globe commissioner, to wit, or the Prohibition mayor of Augusta, and hear what he has to say. The General will find his pet state is not the paradise he paints and fancies it. We say this, it must be remembered, with all respect and all sincerity. We admire General Dow for his consis tency, and we respect him for his age: but we know him to be mistaken, and, therefore, while regarding him with esteem as a picturesque figure, we cannot accept his unsupported testimony as to the efficiency of Prohibition. He knows, as we know, as everybody knows, that the law is more observed in the breach than in the observance, but he will not accept the testimony presented to him, preferring the vast army of working men other to dwell to the end in the dream that million by proxy, will succeed. However "might as well wage war against pork has possessed him for forty long years. the crusade in these respects may do some We do not envy him the dream, nor do we wish to dispossess him of the illusion; but we do wish the younger, the more active and vigorous of mind, to look for proofs, to thoroughly survey the ground, and to sit down and con sider whether the facts supplied from Maine warrant a trial of Prohibition in Ontario. We have never had one of our facts refuted. We have had words, words, words thrown at our heads: but never has one statement we have made been wrestled with and o'erthrown. On the original, we dare assert, and we will undertake to prove, that no paper actually advocating Prohibition has been published without indulging in misinterpretation, exaggeration or fabrication. Therefore we urge all young men, and old men, too, to search and investigate for themselves before finally accepting the statements of even so venerable a man as our esteemed friend, General Neal Dow, whose very age makes him dangerous and misleading in argument.

But the General is not the only light that will be present at the Montreal convention. The gathering will be noteworthy for the presence of the new crusaders. Lady Henry Somerset and Miss Frances Willard will be there. These ladies, armed with a petition containing 2,196,000 names, start for all the countries of the earth in the fall. In Europe they will ask the governments to pass prohibitory laws. In China and Japan they will beg the Emperor and the Mikado to give up their opium, and in India they will request the Hindoos and the Mohammedans to abandon child marriage. They will, in fact, appeal to the world to reform itself according to their notions. The world will talk, wag its head, and, seeing that the presenters of the Juggernaut petition are ladies, will ourteously consent to take its prayer under consideration. There the modern crusade will end, and the world, like the hoary-headed sinner that it is, will go on in the same old way just as if Lady Somerset and Miss Willard had never existed. It is shocking to think that the monster petition with its two million odd signatures will have no other effect, but so it will be. Perhaps the monarchs of China and Japan may be prompted to investigate the evils of the opium traffic, although we are disposed to think they would be far more likely to do so were the petition signed by two million of their own subjects instead of by two million meddling strangers. The potentates of India may be induced to see some evil in child marriage, and to set a limit to the age of consent ; but again there is room for very much doubt on the point, seeing that the obnoxious system enters into their life's religion. They would be far more likely to be moved to action were two million English and American women to be presented to them in person in place of only their names. As it is they will probably be merely courteous, and dismiss the fair crusaders with slimy smiles. Where the might of England hesitates it is hardly likely that two, or two hundred women in person and two good; but when we come to civilization and its liberty to take such stimulant as it needs, what shall we say? Have Lady Somerset and Miss Willard anything new to propound? We doubt it; and, if not, where is the use in the parade, in the journey, in the mission, in the crusade? Echo may answer, but we cannot. Meantime, as the modern crusade must of necessity be harmless to the people on whom it descends, and may be instructive to its members, we bid it come in peace, stay in peace, and depart in peace.

THE FLOODS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

MR. W. G. GOODERHAM returned Monday from a trip west over the Canadian Pacific Railway. He went to Vancouver and thence down to San Francisco, returning by way of Salt Lake, Denver and Chicago. He was in the flooded district for eight days and says the rising of the waters was an incident never to be forgotten by those who were in it. He wouldn't have missed it for a thousand dollars and wouldn't go through the same again for ten times that money. It was a wonderful spectacle that was presented with miles upon miles of water whirling wreckage of every description in every direction. The devastation must have been tremendous, but the people appeared brave and hopeful through it all. Of course there was considerable destitution, but in place of any cry for help there was evident a glorious spirit of self dependence and a resolution to fight as gallantly as possible against the literal sea of troubles. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company suffered the most, but nothing could exceed the efforts of the Company to aid the settlers and to look after the welfare of the passengers. They hired row boats. sail boats and steam boats, collected provisions and supplied the people free and conveyed them to places of safety. The gentleman does not say so, but the newspapers do, that Mr. Gooderham himself was no laggard in rendering assistance and doing all the good he could, entirely heedless of his own comfort.

A WORD WITH FATHER MURPHY.

A DESPATCH in the Toronto Evening News of Monday, from Barrie, states that Editor L, P. Kribs, of Toronto, had said that he (Father Murphy) might as well wage war against pork and beans because they contain alcohol. "The difference between alcohol and pork and beans," says Father Murphy, "is that a man filled with alcohol goes home and abuses his wife and family, while the man filled with nork and beans calls his wife to him and tells her she is a splendid cook." We can admire the reverend Father's fanciful picture, but we should hold both it and him in far greater esteem were they just a trifle more truthful than they are. We never said that Father Murphy or anybody else and beans as against alcohol." Al- | The quantity of fermented liquors manthough for bilious people we believe the edibles referred to are not the wholesomest diet. Moreover, if anybody were to continually eat pork and bean to excess, without taking the necessary exercise to work off the effect, it is more than likely very disastrons results would follow. We have even heard of people dying from trichina from eating half-cooked pork. All of which proves that even the meat of the generally savory pig in certain cases is likely to turn upon its abuser and confound him after quite as bad a fashion as the terribly slandered alcohol. In the meantime if Father Murphy will clear his good name by giving us chapter and verse for the statement he is accused of making we shall be delighted. If he fails to do this he will have proved himself neither better nor worse than the thousand and one other of his species who preach what they fail to practice—temperance.

Brookline, Mass., a suburb of Boston, is a Prohibition town. When an inventory was taken recently of the stock of a druggist who had gone over to the majority, it was found that more than half was liquor. Thus it would seem that Prohibition works in Brookline the same as it does everywhere else.

The man who argues that the world owes him a living and tries to live on the argument, should remember that the debt is only paid on demand, and that if he executes a prior mortgage he will find it very hard to collect.

A BREWER correctly said recently that if all evils were as apparent to the eye as are those of drunkenness, there are probably many who touch not, taste not, and handle not, who would find the greatest difficulty in perambulating.

BARLEY is being reshipped to Canada from the United States. A singular instance is the return to Belleville of 13,000 bushels from Oswego, where it had been held in bond for two years. The Canadian Trade Review in commenting on this strange incident remarks that the government claims duty on the barley, as it has been out of Canada for that time, and expresses the opinion that the claim should be received under the circumstances. As the holder has lost the sale, we are disposed to agree with our contemporary.

At the annual meeting of the United States Brewers' Association held in Syracuse, N. Y., recently, it was stated that forty-eight new members had joined the association, and that the output had increased from 11,976,120 barrels to 33,-876,000 barrels. A table of statistics was also presented showing that the receipts from the tax on beer by the United States treasury for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892, and 1893, were as follows:

| 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892 | 1892. 830,037,452,77

A CITIZEN OF ENTERPRISE.

THAN Mr. Michael McConnell there is no more popular or more enterprising member of the trade. He is also one of the busiest and longest seeing men in all the city of Toronto. At present he has hands no less than four separate and distinct undertakings. In the first place he has a wholesale establishment at 46 Colborne St., from which he ships to all parts of the country, wine, spirits and cigars in large quantities. This branch of his business is ever developing, owing to the fact that he is the exclusive agent for some of the highest class brands of champagne, ports, sherries, dry wines, etc., while for excellent cigars at faig prices Mr. McConnell has long had amour the trade a reputation second to none. Then he has the Hub Hotel at the corner of Colborne St. and Leader Lane, where the private individual can wine and dine from the choicest viands in the world or he can imbibe liquor of the wholesomest, and can always depend upon what he is getting. In cigars it is the same. In addition he will meet the genial proprietor in persona propria. Mr. McConnell has made many improvements at the Hub, but he is thinking of going further and adding a roof garden to the attractions of the city. For this purpose he has secured almost the entire block and already has an agent scouring the continent for first-class performers. This is business No. 3 in which he is engaged. His fourth, and last at present, is the Peninsular Park Hotel, which is beautifully situated, only nine miles from Barrie, at Big Bay Point, Lake Simcoe. Here are to be had all things that delight the heart of man, or woman, or child, in the shape of comfort and recreation combined. that once visited the guest ever wishes to return to. Families linger there in rest ful enjoyment all the summer through and only go home to dream of a return the succeeding year. There are the finest fishing, the most delightful bathing, the loveliest rambles, splendid facilities for rowing and sailing, the most picturesque spot imaginable to make excursions to and plenty of opportunities to romp and indulge in all kinds of games, such as lawn tennis, croquet, quoits, cricket, base ball, etc., etc. Dances are frequently held during the season; in fact an even ing rarely goes by without some kind of entertainment. In addition the house is lighted by electricity and is fitted with all modern improvements. The table cannot be surpassed at any summer resort. short, of all places in the world the Pen-insular Park Hotel is the one at which to spend a happy day, a happy week, or a 832,548,983.97 happy month or two.

ITALY is the first wine-growing country in the world. Her export consists prin cipally of the rough wines and must, or grapes in fermentation, which are mixed, refined and clarified by skillful chemists at Bordeaux and elsewhere, much to their own profit and Italy's loss. For the last two years (1892 and 1893) the grape crop has been so abundant that in many dis-tricts of Southern Italy there were not barrels and domijohns sufficient to hold the pressed juice, and cisterns were emptied of water and filled with wine.

The Prince excused himself, and said his medical adviser had ordered him to adopt this unpleasant way of drisk-ing champagne, so as to lose none of the carbonic acid.

The result of the English Derby was known in New York two seconds after the winning number was hoisted at Epsom. Three thousand miles a second beats all records. Electricity is evidently still in it.

WITH several extremely fast and improving young ones to look to some people appear to imagine that the two minute trot ter is almost in sight. Speaking on this point recently and on the speed and courage of his famous filly Fantasy, Mr. C. J. Hamlin, of Buffalo, who, by the way, will be represented in the forthcoming trotting races at Hamilton, Ont., said :- "I think it wouldn't be right to ask such a young trotter to lower the record of 2.04. Fantasy is now a champion, and if she breaks Directum's mark of 2.051, she will still be a champion. Predictions are dangerous but my opinion is that Fantasy's prospects of succeeding Directum as the champion of his class are good, and I expect her to accomplish the feat. They speak of the two-minute trotter although they do not know what it means to trot a mile in that time. I remembered when Jay-Eye-See trotted in 2.10 horsemen thought the limit had been reached, but Maud S. came along and chopped off a second and a quarter. It was an easier task for Maud S. to lower the mark of 2.10 by over one second than it will be for a trotter to reduce Nancy's record of 2.04 by one quarter of a second. Some day a trotter may come along and place the record at 2.001, and after that it may take fifty years to take off that fraction.

BROTHER GOCHER'S American Sportsman, published at Cleveland, O., is in condensed form but it is the very extract of all that is good. Mr. Gocher, it is hardly necessary to state, is a Canadian. Formerly a school-teacher in the Otttawa district he accepted an engagement from Mr. E. King Dodds, of the Canadian Sportsman, on the staff of which paper he received a thorough drilling in the horse business, and, having a natural aptitude for the work, he is now recognized as one of the best trotting horse authorities in all America. It is the fortune of gentlemen in Mr. Dodd's position to educate men in their profession and then to lose them. Another of his pupils, and a warmly appreciated member of his staff, went from him last week in the person of Mr. T. L. Quimby, who has accepted an engagement with the American Horse Breeder, published at Boston, Mass. Mr. Quimby was with Mr. Dodds three years and while there earned the respect of every man with whom he came in contact. Modest in his demeanor and retiring in habit, he adds to great capability and untiring industry, a splendid power for acquiring and retaining knowledge. He is moreover an entertaining and facile writer, and is bound to make his to have been purposely prepared for mark wherever he goes. Mr. Joseph White, proprietor of the Canadian Breeder, Montreal, is another graduate from Mr. Dodds' employ, while Mesars. E. W. Sandys, editor of that superb magazine Onling, Cy. Hacking, editor of the Canadian Horseman, and the writer of this, have all spent some time on the staff of the Canadian Sportsman.

THE Pecksniffs of England have received a setback by the dismissal of the charge made against the lessees of the Northampton race track that they were guilty of a violation of the law in permitting betting on their premises. This following fast upon the incident recorded at Eton, shows that there is at least one country where the too truly good are not to altogether rule the world. At Eton on June 4th, Lord Rosebery was present at certain functions that are celebrated there annually on that day. His presence prompted the Provost of the school to remark that in ninety years there has been nine Prime Ministers of England who were Eton boys, the last three being Lord Salisbury, Mr. Gladstone, and Lord Rosebery. Considering what they had in view that week, and especially considering what might happen on the Wednesday at Epsom, he desired to wish Lord Rosebery success in his recreations, as well as in his severe labors, and he thought the Prime Minister would be pleased to hear that a natural anxiety as to his success had had the unexpected effect of giving stimulus to classical research at Eton. They had all been asking themselves, "who was Ladas ?" and he (the Provost) must confess that he had only just discovered that there was a line about him in Juvenal. His Lordship, in reply, said that he never expected to hear the Provost of Eton congratulate one of his past pupils on his prospects of winning the Derby. That was a benediction, which should reach far and bring lifek, and he took that public opportunity of saying in answer to representations that had reached him from various sources, one of them only the day before from the secre tary of the Anti-Gambling Society, that he felt no vestige of shame in possessing a good horse. More power to his Lordship will be the exclamation of every liberal-minded man when he recalls his manly words.

In regard to the query made in this column as to why horses' skulls were placed particularly over the pulpit, our highly esteemed contemporary the Chicago Horseman says it has received the following :- "When an old meeting house in Bristow street, Edinburg, Scotland, was taken down in 1805, the old soundingboard above the pulpit was found filled with horses' heads," "Even now-1880," says another authority, "they put skulls into the sounding-boards over the heads of presbyterian ministers in Scotland." The three skulls found at Eldsdon were standing on their bases, mouths upwards and standing against each other at the top. The cavity seemed them. They have been found in bell turrets. The object in placing them there being, it is supposed, to increase the resonance, as in the case of "acoustic

THE value of good roads is well exemplified in the fact that experience shows that horses must be fed one-fourth more when driven over unpaved streets than when they travel the same distance over a solid and nearly level surface. In the larger cities of America (those with a population of 10,000 and over), there are more than 600,000 horses used for driving purposes. It is estimated that they cost on an average not less than $100 per year each to feed. This means an expenditure of $60,000,000. Thus well-paved streets mean a possible saving of $15,000, 000. There are 400,000 vehicles in daily use in these cities. The tires, spokes, springs, rivets and other parts which are strained by traction will last twice as long in service on good pavements as on rough roadways. The average yearly cost of repairs and of wear and tear is $25, so that in this item there is a possible saving of $5,000,000 per year. Adding in for interest and the saving from these two items would pay for 350 miles of street paving each year if made a special tax, This is the financial aspect of the case but who can estimate the value of the increased pleasure and comfort of driving over good roads as compared with the bad ones. Oh, ye farmers, begrudge not the expenditure made by your municipal councils in the matter of roads, but see that the most is made out of it.

THE Buffalo correspondent of The American Sportsman under date of June 11th tells the following story: Matt Dwyer, who had the honor of putting two yearlings in the 2:30 list, one in California and one in New York, will probably be seen out behind another yearling crack this year. A Canadian farmer rode out on the track at the Buffalo Driving Park behind a youngster, and before the drivers knew what he was doing, the farmer sent his colt along with the aged performers. Then the coltattracted general attention, says The Enquirer. The farmer hitched the youngster to a sulky, and timed by a half dozen watches, he paced a quarter in 43 seconds, and that under a pull. The trial was considered remarkable, and it was all the more so when it is known that the colt was roaded fifteen miles Friday with two bushels of oats on his back. After the trial the colt joined Mr. Dwyer's string, and in the hands of this successful handler of y ear lings he will be heard from this year. The colt is known as Slick Wilkes and is owned by H Ashley of Belleville, Ont. He was sired by Ashman 2:181, dam by Moonstone, a son of Clear Grit, Mr. Ashley says Slick Wilkes was broken when he was only a month and a half old, and has been regularly driven since he was two months old. He is a strong youngster, of a nervous temperament, and is so high strung that his owner has been forced to give him fifteen miles of road work in order to work him satisfac-

An effort was made to secure Directum for an exhibition at Woodbine Park Toronto, but Mr. C. C. McIvor. the exprofessional ped, who has leased him, declined, after the manner of his rade kind to even acknowledge the receipt of a courteous letter sent him on the subject

The American Derby, to be run at Washington Park, Chicago, on Saturday next, is expected to be a record breaking race, as five crack colts are being specially keyed up for the event. They are Domino and Hornpipe of the Keene stables, the Cooper King's Senator Grady and Man Byrnes, and Trainer Roger's Doring Domino is most fancied, although horse men are dubious as to whether he will like the distance - a mile and a last The present indications are that there will be eleven starters as follows : J. R. and F. P. Keene's br. c. Demine

by Himyar—Mannie Gray.
J. R. and F. P. Keene's b.c. Horn-pipe, by Mr. Peckwick—Round Dance.....

Domino, Hornpipe, Dorian, Senator Grady and Matt Byrnes represes the east; Rey El Santa Anita, Lucky Dog and Agitato the far west, and Some Fellow, Despot and Prince Cari the on tral or Chicago section. Square Fellor and Matt Byrnes are maidens. Domina the unbeaten, has won nine races ad scored a dead heat in a match with Delbins. Senator Grady has captured six of his seven starts, Dorian five out of sixten Hornpipe five out of eight, Rey El Santa Anita seven out of fifteen, Lucky Dog for out of thirteen, Prince Carl four out d thirteen, Agitato three out of twelve, and Despot six out of thirty-three. Lady Dog and Senator Grady and Matt Byne have not faced the flag this season.

THE team which we are sending to the National Rifle Association meeting s Bisley this year is believed to be except tionally strong. It is composed of 2 first-class marksmen under command d Major E. B. Ibbotson, of the Royal Seets; and a remarkable fact is that five of the squad are members of one battalion, the 12th York Rangers. Never before has single regiment secured so many reresentatives. The team leave by the Parisian on the 23rd inst.

several summaries sent in, inscribed on, time given." At first we decided not to publish them, but on second consideration we are disposed to think that course a mistake, as unless the horses' names are printed, associations cannot know the animals that come under the ban. We, however, take this opportunity to warn race officials throughout the country that in not giving time they are guilty of an illegal act and are subjecting themselves, their track and the horse-owners and drivers to the penalty. We would also urge upon the compilers of summaries the importance of giving the sire of the competing horses in every instance and of giving the name of the driver. There is no reason on earth, except culpable laziness, that we know of, that prevents trotting summaries being prepared with the same attention to details that is bestowed upon the running summaries.

HAMPTON, the veteran sire of Ladas, was bought out of a selling race at Hampton for 200 guineas. Now that Hermit has departed to the happy hunting grounds, Hampton is one of the smallest horses at the stud, and it is therefore rather remarkable that he should sire a colt on such big lines as Ladas. Tom Castle, senr., who rules the roost at Stetchworth, where Hampton stands, is, says the Licensed Victuallers' Gazette, mightily fond and justly proud of the old horse, who, despite his twenty-two years, looks like giving to the Turf many more capable sons and daughters

THE trouble that broke out in the Ontario Jockey Club consequent upon the postponement of the recent races for a couple of days has advanced a step. Messrs, T. C. Patteson, vice-pre sident, J. G. Torrance, chairman of the executive, and J. H. Mead, member of the executive, have addressed a letter to Mr. Wm. Hendrie, the president, stating that as it is apparently impossible to work in harmony, they desire that either he or they should resign. As they are residents of Toronto and Mr. Patteson was the founder, and has all along been the energetic and indefatigable promoter of the best interests of the club, while the other two gentlemen who are associated with him have ever given him their loyal and disinterested assistance, they naturally feel that it is Mr. Hendrie and not themselves who should go out. We are bound to say that we think so too. Mr. Hendrie is a citizen of Hamilton and is expected to pay more attention to the necessities of that burgh than to those of this. There is, there fore, nothing whatever unreasonable in requesting him to retire. He prefers himself to wait until the annual meeting, which will not be held in the ordinary course of events until the latter part of next winter. If there were any chance of the passions that have been aroused by the course pursued by the Hendrie boys being allayed, and if there was any reasonable prospect of harmony being restored and maintain ed, we should feel disposed to endorse Mr. Hendrie's proposition, as old Father Time is a great assuager as well as healer; but as this, is not the first occasion on which a rupture has threat ened, and as, if the old order of things were restored, we know it would not be the last, we think the sooner an agreement is arrived at to separate, the better for all parties and for the interests of racing both in Hamilton and Toronto. There have been times when Mr. Hendrie, senior, the present presi dent of the O.J.C., has appeared some what narrow in his views for instance, when he objected to Starter McLaughlin's horses coming here, when he declined to consent to the Club adding a thousand dollars to the thousand dollar cup given by Messrs. Hiram Walker & Sons, when he would not be a party on several occasions to increasing the value of certain stakes and purses, and when he wanted the conditions so framed that Canadianowned horses would have a better chance to win than visiting animals. and sometimes, seemingly, his own in particular; but his amiability is such that there would be little difficulty in getting along with him. As regards the boys, however, it appears to be another thing. It is with the rising generation that the hitch comes in. It was Mr. Wm. Hendrie, Jr., who violently assaulted Mr. Houston, the sporting editor of The Empire, because he ventured to differ with him as to the propriety of the aforementioned postponement and of a decidedly presumptuous message sent by the same Mr. Hendrie, Jr. It was he that finally brought the bubbling spring to its extreme height; to the height at which something had to go, and now that something has gone it seems to us, and, we doubt not, to the majority of men, that the best use that can be made of the situation is to force the matter still further, that is, to an issue that means a clear, distinct and lasting understanding all round. Nobody desires to see Mr. Wm. Hendrie, Sr., go out of racing, and there is no earthly reason why he should. We have no sympathy whatever with people who criticise his expenditure on horses and venture to assert that on that score he does not show such enterprise as his ample means warrant. We have not, we say, any sympathy with talk of that sort, holding that rich and poor alike have a right to take their pleasure as they like and to spend their own money their own way, irrespective of what their neighbors may think, providing the latter are not interfered with; but we hold Toronto's interest should be looked after by Toronto's people.

A London cablegram says it is understood that the Prince of Wales has a half interest in the three-year-old colt Matchbox, the second horse in the Derby, which was purchased on Friday by Baron de Higgs.

HUGH SCOTT, of Caledonia, Ont., paid 8400 for the Simmons stallion Bryson, 2.25½, at one of the Lexington sales when he was a two-year old. Bryson is out of a mare by Clark Chief Jr., second dam by Joe Downing.

Lond Roseners has scratched his colt Ladas, the winner of the Two Thousand Guineas, the Newmarket Stakes and the Derby, from the Prince of Wales Stakesat Ascot, the only race in which he was entered at the Royal meetings.

A California exchange says: "Wm. Murray has Diablo, 2.09;, looking better and stronger than he has ever had him. If nothing happens this son of Charles Derby, 2.20, will come nearer the two-minute mark than any horse in America."

The Richmond, Va., Panlagraph says that P. D. Broaddus has a five year-old gehling that is one half a beautiful bay and the other half a deep black. The line of demarkation is clearly drawn. He is a fine combined animal, and was fooled part colored.

The three-year-olds of the American turf have not as yet displayed any remarkable form this season. Dobbins and John Cooper lead the winning three-yearolds in the amount won, although Henry of Navarre is rated as a better colt than either of them.

The far famed Epson meeting in England is still a paying enterprise to all appearances, gate-noney meetings notwith-standing. Recently nine original £20 shares in the Grand Stand Association were sold at auction for £45 and £45 10s. per share. The explanation of this is that they paid 17½ per cent. last year.

The list of new comers to the 2.30 list now numbers forty-three trottens and twenty-seven pacers, a total of seventy, the fastest trotter being Lady W., by Weishaden, with a record of 2.18, while the Canadian pacer Sir Harry Wilkes, with a mark of 2.16, holds the best record among the new side wheelers. The Withers Stake, for three year olds, one mile run at the New York track was won by Demino, who defeated Henry of Navarre by a head while Dobbins was third, a length and a half away. The Navarre horse was favorite, being held at 6 to 5 in the books; 2 to 1 could be got against Domino's chances. The race was run in 1400.

As English exchange says in spite of the imports from Finland, Poland, Holland, and even America, and the pony trade with the Baltic, England's export of herse enormously exceeds the imports in value. A three years' total gives $2, 52,000 of exports, as against 8840,0930 of imports and the quality and price of English horses rise steadily.

BRUNG GANZEL, of Chicago, has the veritable sleigh in which Napoleon mane his terrible flight out of Russia. The sleigh was left with Mr. Ganzel's grandfather in Silosia, Prussia, in exchange for a light travelling coach, and reminised in the family until Bruno Ganzel came to this country thirty years ago and brought it with him.—Chicago Horseman.

Anovt a year ago Hugh Fowler, of Bridgetown, N.S., imported from Maine a large, fine and well-bred young horse, Sir William. One point against him was that he was of untried speed. However, as he paced a half mile over Keutville track a few days ago in 1.29, horsemen begin to think that over a good course he would soon be able to show a mile in 2.20.

Thu New Glasgow Chronich, referring to the remarkable nine-heat race at New Glasgow, says: "By some oversight or leniency the driver of Harry C., who had not won a heat in five, was allowed to compete, and on the seventh heat he came in a winner; it was then too late to put the rule into effect, and he was allowed to compete." He won the eighth and ninth heats and the trace.

Levements II, the horse prevented from winning at the Windsor meeting on account of the fact that he was suspected of being a ringer, has been quartered in Detroit since the meeting. He is looked after by a young man who is credited with heing involved in the Warbler and Twight affairs. The men who had charge of the job which failed to pan out stood to win nearly 820,000 on the horse.

THERE was an excellent average lot of thoroughbreds sold at actrifice prices in New York the other day. There was a large attendance, but few did any bidding and the result was that some rare bargains were secured. Twenty-nine head, principally the get of Fone, Onondaga, Chance, King Gallep, Hanever, Prince Royal, and one or two others were knocked down for a total of 88,290, an average of a trifle over $282.

Jock Bowen is an engineer and showed the Concord folks how to dry a track off quickly. He had a harrow made of spruce joist and filled with forty-penny round nails; it raked the top surface of the roadbed up so that it dried up quickly on the surface. Then he had a brush drag made and when it came time to call the races it was in good condition for other horses than his own. He did not kick when his mare was shut out although it was hard lines. Spiri of the Hub.

The brown golding Little Pitt, Monreal's fast pacer that reduced his record from 2.18.34 to 2.18 at Lepine Park last week, has now become the property of Mr. W. S. Brown, of this city. Mr. Brown it is said intends to enter the little fellow in all events in his class in the western meetings. Little Pitt has been taken to the St. Hyacinthe meeting. The horse was owned by Charles Blanchard and in the deal that was made with Mr. Brown, Lenity and a liberal sum of cash was given for Pitt. —Gundin Breeder.

IDEAS concerning the qualifications of good family horse greatly vary. Says on man who has owned many choosing a family horse, that is, one that any grown member of the family at handle and drive with safety, obtain as of a known kind disposition. MONTERAL, June 14th The opening day of the summer meet of the Bel-Air Jockey Club was beautiful, the track was in fine condition, and all the events were keenly contested. The attendance was probably the largest ever seen at Bel-Air on the opening day. The principal incident was the ruling off of Mr. Charles Penniston, the rider of Belle of Orange, in the flat handicap for the Walker cup. The Belle was such a favorite that the bookmakers would not bet against her. Coming round the last turn she did seem to be making an effort and George C. won easily. Mr. R. R. Pringle, who was acting as Judge, at once summoned Mr. Penniston to the stand and without further ado ruled him off for life. Mr. F. A. Campbell, V.S., of Toronto, who with Mr. T. P. Phelan is part owner of George C. at once offered to back his horse to run the race over again with Belle of Orange at the same weights for $300 a side. The proposition was not effectained, Mr. Dawes, who owns the mare, being very indignant at the way Mr. Penniston rode. The latter sticks to it that he was out to win and that the weight stopped the mare, who was not at her best. He threatened to sue for slander if he were not reinstated, and, the club declining to entertain the idea, he subsequently entered an action claiming $30,000 damages. The case promises to be very interesting.

In the opening scramble William Hen drie's The Piper was left at the post, Lancashire Witch led until opposite the betting ring, when Cottonade drew away and won by a scant length.

THIRD AND LAST DAY

SATURDAY, JUNE, 16TH Montreal, June 16th.—The last day of the Bel Air races was the most success ful in the history of the club. Notwithstanding the intense heat there was a large and fashionable attendance, and most of the races were well contested.

Two track records were smashed, while the fastest second heat ever run in Canada was seen by the thousands in the grand stand. This happened in the Valois Purse. Coquette and Cottonade first ran a dead heat in 1.44], making a record for the track, and when they ran off the timers caught them on 1.45, or 7 second more than when the horses were fresh. In the first race Tom Flyan made a fine showing, and was cleverly ridden to heat in 2.20.

A GREAT TROTTING SEASON.

Nearly Four Hundred Meetings Adverto Take Place in Canada and the United States.

With a careful glance over the at tractions for the 1801 summer cam paign, one will readily admit that it is filled with immunerable bright and filled with innumerable bright and drawing features that will be interesting to the fond, loving public whose fancies tend to this sport, as has been my prediction that this will be the greatest season known to the harness racing turf, and I base my conclusions upon the solid foundation of more money to be trotted for, more meet money to be trotted for, more meet-ings, more horses and better tracks.

There are now advertised 350 three or four-day meetings for the season' attractions, and Illinois is first with Ohio next with II, Iowa will give 32, New York 28, Michigan 27, Wis-consin and Pennsylvania 19 each, Indiana and Maine 17 each, Canada 15 Kentucky and Missouri II each, Massa chusetts 14, Kansas 9, Montana Maryland and Rhode Island 5 ca Maryland and Rhode Islam o close, West Virginia and Minnesota I cach, New Jersey and Oklahoma 3 cach, New Hampshire and Connecticut 2 cach, California, Colorado, Delaware, North Dakota, South Dakota, Tennes see and Washington I cach. This list embraces the more important events and hundreds of thousands of dollars and hundreds of thousands of dollars will be competed for, and, besides, there are hundreds of other smaller places where one and two-day meetings will be held, as well as fairs with the main feature a few harness races in the afternoon.

There will be competed for during this season a number of Futurity stakes for trotters that will be far in excess in value of any that have ever yet been raced for and the liberal con-ditions offer horsemen great chance to win, as consolations were conducive to large nominations, and the approximate total value of six stakes to be trotted for during 1894 is $130,000. The king bee of the lot is the Kentucky Futurity for foals of 1891, the approxi-mate value being $50,000, to be trotted for at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association at Lexington, during their meeting October 6 to 13. Next in value is the Terre Haute purse, which is now worth $22,000 (and President Frank McKean says he is confident it will be worth $24,000, and is likewise for three-year-olds.

The Chicago Horseman's Stake, for trotting foals of 1800, is now worth close to 822,000, and will be trotted for close to 822,099, and will be trotted for on the opening day of the Detroit meeting, July 16, and the consolution, which will be as valuable as the original guaranteed 812,500, will be trotted for four days later. The Nat-meg stake, for three-year-olds, 28 to 31, and their 815,000 stake for four-yearwill be trotted at Charter Oak k, August 28 to 31, while their $15,000 stake for four-year-olds will be

Status stake for four-year-olds will be a feature of the same week. The Clark's Horse Review stake will be another of the prominent attrac-tions of the year, and it is now worth 819,000; it is for foals of 1891; the date and place where it will be trotted have not yet been agreed upon,

It has been but a few years that the famous old grand circuit was the absorbing feature and attraction, but now we find meetings of importance and attractive prominence are offered very direction largest amount of money to be offered during the year for harness racing will be given at the great Terre Haute fair, August 13 to 18, when 888,500 will be offered, including the 888,579 will be offered, including the stake previously mentioned. Presi-dent J. D. Gampau states that the control of the control of the control of the STAM, with Secretary Edward Hawley, of the two weeks' Buffalo meeting, July 31 to August II, will offer a like amount. The popular Southwestern circuit, which will begin at Sturgis, Mich. August 6, and ends at Nashville, Tenn., October 25, offers a grand total to horsemen of $355,000, a grand total to horsemen of $855,000, and is distributed as follows: Sturgis, Mich., August 6 to 11, $23,000; Grand Rapids, August 13 to 17, $29,000; Chicago, August 13 to 17, $29,000; Chicago, August 18 to 25, $55,000; Fort Wayne, Ind., August 27 to 31, $20,000; Indianapolis, September 3 to 8, $25,000; Terre Hante, Ind., September 10 to 14, $20,000; Tiffin, O., September 17 to 22, $20,000; Tiffin, O., September 10, Septe $90,000; Tiffin, O., September 17 to 2z, $10,000; Columbus, Ohio, September 24 to 29, $20,000; Chillicothe, O., Octo-ber 1 to 6, $20,000; Lexington, Ky, October 6 to 13, $70,000; Nashville, Tenn., October 15 to 25, $40,000; Windsor, Ont., July 2 to 5, $12,400; Hamilton, Ont., June 30 to July 3, and beside there are many other prominent events, when amounts almost equally as great will be offered.

far the early stakes that have closed from every section were most liberally patronized, much to the gratification of associations, and it bespeaks the liberal character of the horseman, as many of them often make entries that they never expect to start, inclined to help along the business are menued to help along the business.

There are many flattering encouragements as well offered the public, who will attend the races this season, as when the amount to be battled for is a large one the better race you will see, the closer the contests, the more see, the closer the contests, the more interesting the sport to an audience, and that is the all-attractive feature to the races. The public supports them, and they want a race from end to end. It seems hard for the knowing ones to pick a winner. They have the worst to pick a winner. They have the worst of it at best, and in the early season it is a double combination to go again first, who wants to win? and who can? Drivers as a rule—and rightl' so—are not inclined to go a bruising hard race early in the season, and try to avoid doing and try to avoid doing so, as in many instances a bright prospect receives the blighting sting of a hard race, when not fit, from some inexperienced teamster. The betters know all this, teamster. The bettors know all this, and should realize the chance of the game when they go against it, but many a time have I seen some $2 bettor raise an unmerciful roar to th indictor raise an ullimerature or not not judges against a driver that would not punish a horse that hadn't a ghost of a show to win. He had the speed, but wasn't conditioned to go the route and repeat.

The more I see of trotting races, the more I am convinced of the need of experienced men in the stand, and especially a good starter. There are a onking this a w good men who are making this a specialty in season, and associations won't employ them seems associations won't employ them seems queer, unless it is the economy racket or poverty dodge that is hardly allow-able. An association that solicits pat-ronage from horsemen should bring them to the wire upon when the word "Go!" is is given. when the word "Go?" is given. They each have paid the same amount of entrance fee. How often have you seen a high-spirited animal that was fast held back on account of some crab of a skate that couldn't go a little bit. The nervy horse gets excited and acts

The colonel or judge, who by chan The coloned or judge, who by chance has been invited to the stand, yells out "Go!" and with the spirited, nerry horse on a break, his driver looks back in wonder and surprise. It is a go, sure enough, and by the time he recovers from the shock and gets his horse down to his gait the leaders are away to the front, and if he drives to save his distance his horse he drives to save his distance h is done for the race. Those who have played him to win denounce the driver vile terms and say, "He pulled n," "Take him out," "Put in a new "He pulled driver, and many other such charges. With a competent starter, and judges With a competent starter, and judges well versed with the rules, how much better chances would the horsemen have, and the audiences with a many and would go home feeling they had gotten their mone's worth.

Who will wrest the 2.04 crown from Nancy Hanks seems to be now a disturbing topic. The most fiatering probabilities are Directum, 2.064, the greatest of all trotting stallions, and the wonder of the nineteenth century as a four-year-old race horse of the truest type. He possesses all the as a four-year-old race noise of the truest type. He possesses all the essential qualities. As a three-year-old he had twenty-five heats to his credit, closing the 1842 season with a three-year-old record in a winning race of 2414, and in his four-year-old form he trotted fourteen heats from 2.00 3-4 to 2.05 1-4, and nine of them vere in races. Now there is Mr. J. Malcolm Forbes great young stallion, Arion, that as-onished the world in his two-year-old orm by going a mile in 2.10 3-4, and ast fall, at the Association meeting, last fall, at the Association meeting, he went a mile (on Oct. 11) in 2.07 3-4, and did it without a slip. Then there is the Village Farm's unbeaten three-year-old "queen," Fan-tasy, that holds the world's record at that age. She started last s eight times and won eight moneys. Her mile of 2.08 3-4 eight times and won eight first moneys. Her mile of 2.08 3-4 was made in the second heat of a race, the last half in 1.02 3-4. The chances are that on account of her age she will not be hurried up to the point of a record-making performance, and yet it is in the bare bounds of the possibilities that the champion may come bilities that the champion may come from a now unexpected source. Being in line on the race horse sub-ject, I am inclined to the belief that the following table will interest many of my readers, as it only embrace those of high cardinal rank, who hav fought out battles royal and added fame to themselves, to sires and dams, rank to harness racing and laurels to owners, with pleasant returns of a good fat bank account at the end of each season. This table embraces, under sires, all trotters who have fifty more heats to their credit in 2.30 o better. It shows the peerless Gold-smith Maid first in rank, as was she the greatest money earner. There is smith Maid urst in ranner. There is embraced in this list 103 stallions that have sired 129 performers in this choice circle.
