MADE IN ST. JOHN

A Striking Exhibit in The Windows of T. McAvity & Sons

While the slogan "Made in Canada" sounds good these days "Made in St. John" should appeal even more strongly to all patriotic citizens. On this account the big display windows of the King street stores of T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd. have an unusual attraction for passers-by at present. The whole display is devoted to a showing of the products of the company's shops, all made in St. John by St. John workers.

One window shows a variety of iron body globe and gate valves; another is filled with locomotive mountings; the third contains brass valves, globes, angle and check, and another window has a showing of ship pumps. In addition there are many other articles showing the diversity of the products of the local concern, although their line is not fully represented. The big industry which has been built up in St. John now caters to a market almost as wide as the dominion and goods bearing the name of T. McAvity & Sons will be found in almost every part of Canada.

KAISER THREATENED WITH OPERATION. Amsterdam, March, 19.—Confidential despatches from Berlin report that the Kaiser is again suffering from the peculiar malady of the throat which has caused grave apprehensions to his physicians in past years. It is said that an affection developed in his recent visit to the eastern war front, and upon his return he went immediately into the care of his medical men, who are treating him constantly.

The despatches intimate that there is some discussion between the physicians whether an operation is immediately necessary. Some are in favor and some are opposed. They recall the situation which preceded the death of his father in 1888, and discuss that. In any event it is said the German Emperor has not been seen in public since his return from Poland, the reason being ascribed to heavy pressure of work he has to perform.

The despatches intimate that there is some discussion between the physicians whether an operation is immediately necessary. Some are in favor and some are opposed. They recall the situation which preceded the death of his father in 1888, and discuss that. In any event it is said the German Emperor has not been seen in public since his return from Poland, the reason being ascribed to heavy pressure of work he has to perform.

AT THE RANGE. The firemen and salvage corps were at the city rifle range last evening for drill and target practice, and showed some good scores on the downstairs range. This was ladies' morning, and the shooting was well up to the average. The highest single card was made by Mrs. R. P. Cowan with 99.

The best averages yesterday were: Men, standing, W. A. Fairweather, 95; Ladies, standing, Miss Tweedley, 92 and Miss Ginn, both 98.

PRIZE WINNERS. The supper and sale held in Baxter L. O. B. A., Fairville, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, was well patronized. The prize winners were—Men's bean board, R. Bossemer; ladies' bean board, Mrs. Lawson; loop-the-loop, W. Lester and Mrs. Stevens. The door prize of the first night was won by ticket No. 91, her parents, one brother and one sister survive.

KAISER THREATENED WITH OPERATION. Amsterdam, March, 19.—Confidential despatches from Berlin report that the Kaiser is again suffering from the peculiar malady of the throat which has caused grave apprehensions to his physicians in past years. It is said that an affection developed in his recent visit to the eastern war front, and upon his return he went immediately into the care of his medical men, who are treating him constantly.

PLEASES LABOR MEN
London, March 18—One phase of the negotiations looking to government control of factories with a view to increasing the output of munitions of war is particularly pleasing to labor leaders. It is the suggestion of the government that it will undertake to guarantee the integrity of labor unions, to insure the success of the project as well as to protect the unions from demoralization after the war.

A GIRL MISSING
Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Collier, who reside on the Niagara road across the river from Moncton, in Albert county, are much alarmed over the sudden disappearance of their pretty seventeen year old daughter, Dorothy, who was employed as a domestic in Moncton, but who has been missing for several days from her employer's house. The parents believe that their daughter may have eloped with a young man with whom she was keeping company. They believe that they have been married and that the young man is keeping her in hiding with relatives in or near Moncton.

A Lean Year

GERMAN PREPAREDNESS

The word resiliency, which a correspondent some time ago applied to the Russian armies, was a particularly well chosen term. Time after time the Russian lines have bent back before the onslaught of the Germans, sometimes yielding for a great distance, but only to spring back again when the pressure was weakened, or after a point had been reached where an effective stand could be made.

CONSTIPATION, INDIGESTION AND HORRIBLE BACKACHES

Kidney-Liver Pills will help you to form this habit, aid to your years, and bring comfort in old age. Professor A. T. Smith, 1 M.C. Charles street, Montreal, and formerly of Boston, Mass., writes: "I suffered for many years from bad digestion, constipation and horrible backaches. I have been treated by many doctors without any results. One day a friend in Boston advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After using two boxes I noticed great improvement, and after the fourth box I was completely cured. My digestion is good. I never feel any pain in the back. My head is clear, and I feel like a young man. I think Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are one of the best medicines on earth."

THE TELEPHONE SERVICE. Editor Times: Sir,—I read with disgust the item in the Standard of March 18th, administering unwarranted personal abuse on our local telephone officials. It occurs to me that if the Standard did not know to whom they were talking the person speaking to them should have known, and could easily have obtained a second connection. Possibly the business referred to was not of sufficient importance, and the Standard has over-estimated its ability to supply information. It evidently does not know telephone girls are forbidden to "answer back," no matter how abusive the subscriber may be. Sometimes they get around these difficult conditions in a very clever way; for instance, a subscriber, after vainly trying to get a number asked for, shouted: "What the deuce is the matter with you girls, are you all crazy?" The answer came back with exasperating sweetness: "I don't know—ask for information." I wonder did central put one over on the Standard? P. B. X., Attendant.

Victorious Kaiser in Paris, "Surrounded by Vanquished Foes". (Correspondence London Chronicle) Cairo, Feb. 22.—The press bureau which the Germans have established at Constantinople appears to be spending its time telling the Turks the story of the great war in terms of "The Arabian Nights". The preparations of the parent bureau in Zimmerstrasse, Berlin, have a serious aspect, but the crude fairy tales of the branch concern on the Bosphorus are merely funny and in their phantasy give the most imaginative Oriental storyteller to the blush. According to the journal, "Terjuman I Akher," an Asia Minor publication, the Kaiser has already kept his self-annointed appointment to meet the Parisians in Paris. This newspaper says, on the authority of the Constantinople Press Bureau:— "Among the Vanquished Foes. "The discourses delivered by his Imperial Majesty William II, when installed on the throne in the ancient French Parliament Hall, will live as an unforgettable record of his magnificent exploits. Surrounded by vanquished foes, he offered the Imperial hand to be kissed by all the former deputies of the French Chamber, whose hearts were touched by the splendid magnanimity of his Islamic Majesty. Adrianople appears to have witnessed the greatest act of the war, for the newspaper "Shahsh," which is frank enough to state that the news comes "by radiotelegraph from the German Press Bureau," tells this weird tale:—"Twenty-five Zeppelins have arrived at Adrianople, bringing to their destination the First Turkish Army Corps. We relieve these soldiers of Osman will inflict crushing defeat on the infidels." Another journal prints this story from Amsterdam, viz., of course, the chief editor of the Constantinople fairy tale factory:—"According to a dispatch by wireless, received from Amsterdam by the German Press Bureau, the whole population of the new territory in Belgium, conquered by the Germans, have taken the oath of loyalty to his Islamic Majesty. People of all classes are flocking to ceremonies presided over by the Germans, and are registering their conversion to the true Islamic faith. The Belgians have voluntarily transformed their churches into Mohammedan temples." The journal comments with regard to this tremendous happening:—"May their good example be followed by all other infidels." 2,000 Donkeys With Gold. The German Bureau, too, has just published this information:—"A wireless message from Amsterdam

"Daily movement of the bowels" is the greatest law of health. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will help you to form this habit, aid to your years, and bring comfort in old age. Professor A. T. MORNING NOTES OF THE WAR. There is a lull in the bombardment of the Dardanelles, but it is expected that the attack will be resumed with even greater vigor as soon as fresh supplies of ammunition are received. A French submarine, in an attempt to run through the Dardanelles, was sunk by the shore batteries. The British steamer Glenamethy of Glasgow was torpedoed off Beachy Head by a German submarine without warning. In the scramble to escape one of the crew was drowned. The Diocese of Connaught Canadian Hospital at Cliveden, received twenty-seven new inmates, most of them Canadians, on Sunday as the result of the new advance. One of the Canadians said that the Germans opposite them spoke English and invited them to come over to see them.

In Tropical Countries Liver Chills Very Common. In northern latitudes also the liver is a very unmy organ and requires careful watching. The concentrated vegetable juices in Dr. Hamilton's Pills act directly upon the liver and stimulate its action to a normal basis. The blood is purified, the skin grows clear, headaches disappear and robust health is firmly established. No medicine for the stomach, liver or kidneys can compare with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. box at all dealers.

THESE PRETTY PARTY FROCKS YOU PRETTY GIRLS WILL WEAR

(By Mabelle Mortimer)

"Springtime" is the name of the gown shown at the right. It is designed for the Easter season and the colors of spring are introduced in the orchid satin and floral trimmings, as well as in the corsage of orchids.

The pink rose buds are used to outline the double triangular design at the right front, and the left front of the slightly draped skirt. The low cut bodice is an artistic arrangement of gold-threaded lace brought into a fan-shaped drapery at the right. From this drapery falls a broad strand of brocaded lace finished with a fringe of cut steel and jet.

At the left is shown a charming frock for "party" wear made of white tulle with an old little overskirt made in double apron effect topped a satin underskirt ruffled with white chiffon and the ruffles give the skirt the flare effect which every skirt must have this spring.

The bodice is of satin with scallops ruffled just below the bust line and a wide girde of chiffon. The shoulder sleeves are also of chiffon.

REV. MR. GRANT ENTERS ACTION FOR ASSAULT

As a result of an altercation in the Oro hotel, at Stellarton, on civic election day, says the Pictou Advocate, Rev. H. R. Grant has laid an information for assault against Mr. Nat Doherty, proprietor of the Oro and of the King George of Halifax, and formerly proprietor of the Revere at Pictou. This story, as we heard it, is that Rev. Mr. Grant and Temperance Inspector Soy entered the Oro on election day to raid it. They found there Mr. Doherty, who had come up from Halifax for the election, which was fought on temperance lines. Mr. Doherty was not pleased to see Mr. Grant and Mr. Soy. On their arrival he took off his coat, and laying the he took off his coat, and laying the palm of his hand politely upon Mr. Grant's chin, in language more forcible than polite, he expressed his opinion of him, winding up with the remark that if Mr. Grant made but one move, one only one, he would knock his block off. Mr. Grant did not move, but Mr. Soy did. He took off his coat and he announced that if he hit Mr. Grant he would hit him, and that Mr. Doherty knew what would be the result. Mr. Grant kept still; Mr. Doherty kept still; Mr. Soy kept still; and they finally faded gently apart. But Mr. Grant, on thinking things over, decided that he could not have hotel keepers laying the palms of their hands upon his chin—the unpleasant attention might develop into a habit—hence the action for assault.

JAM BETTER THAN RUM FOR SOLDIERS

Medical Authorities Advocate the Value of Sugar and Fruit

London, March 5.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Writing in behalf of the Army Medical Corps, Captain Sir Victor Morley, a well known medical and scientific leader, contributes an article to the current issue of the British Medical Journal, recommending against the issue of rum to the soldiers as an alleged protection against cold and damp. He says:

"All medical scientists now know that although alcohol produces a temporary flush on the surface of the skin, this is due to a rush of blood to fill the arteries slackened by alcohol, and that the excess of blood thus driven to the surface loses its heat and, on returning to the interior chilled by such exposure, inevitably lowers the body temperature."

"I stake my professional reputation on my declaration that rum causes loss of resistance to cold and is a cause of chilliness, misery and front-ache. It also causes loss of resistance to such diseases as pneumonia, dysentery and typhoid."

Jam Strengthens

"Jam," says Professor James Long, "has three and a half times the energy value of butter. Its value lies in its richness in sugar—of which one-half its weight consists—in the minerals present in the skins of fruit, in its laxative character and its mechanical aid to digestion."

"The sugar of fruit has a remarkable effect on nutrition. Commercial sugar, if eaten too freely, causes irritation, acidity and other freaks of indigestion."

"The most nutritious and useful varieties of Jam are those made from plum, apricot, gooseberry and currant, but a mixture of plum and apple stand at the head of the list. Jam should not be considered as a dainty but as an article of food."

PURE RICH BLOOD PREVENTS DISEASE

Bad blood is responsible for more ailments than anything else. It causes catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism, weak, tired, languid feelings and worse troubles.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has been wonderfully successful in purifying and enriching the blood, removing scrofula and other humors, and building up the whole system. Take it—give it to all the family so as to save illness. Get it today.

Divorce Case.

A decree absolute was pronounced yesterday in the divorce suit, Milton Lennard Perry, of St. John, against his wife, Flora Gyneth Perry, in which judgment was given last week. The suit was undefended. C. E. Weyman was for the plaintiff.

DON'T WASH YOUR HAIR WITH SOAP

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain mulsified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soap or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creaming lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

The Reason For Opifex Bifocals In middle life it becomes hard to adjust the eyes for near-sight, because the inner lens of the eye has lost a part of its elasticity. Persons who have worn glasses for far vision find they also need glasses of a different strength for near vision.

Opifex Bifocals are convenient and economical, in addition to being good-looking. Your friends do not know that you are wearing two-range glasses. We'll be glad to demonstrate Opifex Bifocals to you.

BRITAIN BEING CHOKED TO DEATH ONE GERMAN VIEW

Tagliche Rundschau Has Account of Our Terrible Plight Worthy of Constantinople London, March 19.—Public opinion in Germany says the Daily Chronicle has absolutely decided that the "blockade" of British harbors is ineffective. "Although some weeks have gone since February 18th," says the Chronicle, "and although the results of the new maritime frightfulness have been so insignificant, the conviction has not weakened that inviolable Abolition is shorn of her bulwarks and that Germany's 'ring of steel' (submarine) is gradually but surely robbing us of our naval supremacy. An article on this subject appears in the Tagliche Rundschau descriptive of the dire conditions existing in this country. Our troubles, it seems, began in November with the appearance in our midst of German bombs. Since then life in England has not been worth living. "When German ships appeared on Al-lion's coasts our national feeling became still more depressed, and we knew that it was no longer German bluff but German seriousness. And then in rapid succession, says the Rundschau, came German warships and submarines, all ships and aeroplanes in 'beautiful rings,' and the populace was shaken out of their lethargy, the old bragging and boasting ceased and terror fell upon us. "But more terrible followed. At Heligoland our fleet suffered serious injuries and then came the most awful blow of all—the rush of German submarines to our shores. With giant steps they encircled the British shores. Ships bearing food and drink to England were sent to the bottom of the sea, and the 'iron strangle' was forged around the inviolate island. It will crush her until her breath is choked out of her; says the Rundschau. "In Dithyrambles a writer describes the ineffectiveness in action of the British fleet, condemned to idleness by the superiority of German spirit (spirit), and heroism."

SAYS HEARST HAS REACHED AGE OF NEUTRALITY

Echo de Paris Takes Fling at America's Millionaire Newspaper Publisher

Paris, March 19.—The Echo de Paris publishes the following editorial entitled "Business." "Here's a story of neutrality which is an American story. Its hero is Monsieur Hearst, a citizen of the United States, millionaire, and editor of several newspapers. Both positions ought to satisfy anyone nowadays when millions are generally lacking and American newspapers doing good business, but M. Hearst, who combines both, has not lost the edge of his financial appetite on that account. No opportunity for making money leaves him indifferent. Everything indicates that he regards this war from a purely commercial standpoint. He owns, in fact, four great publications, the New York American, Deutsches Journal, Harper's Bazaar, and the Cosmopolitan Magazine. The latter is represented in England by Nash's Magazine. "At the outbreak of war Hearst, the millionaire, decided it was indispensable to take sides in the conflict devastating Europe, a colorless paper being certain to lose readers. He accordingly adopted the following attitude: two of his papers became remarkably German-sympathetic, while two others eloquently support the Allies. Thus Americans can find at London in Nash's, under the title 'German atrocities in Belgium,' a photograph they saw at New York in the Cosmopolitan differently entitled 'Massacre effected by the Allies.' "Indeed, Hearst lacks neither ingenuity nor business sense, but he overdoes it on August 4 when he prints in the Deutsches Journal that the French attacked Germany before the declaration of war, while the same newspaper on the 14th, 15th and 16th of September described imaginary atrocities committed by the French and Belgians when it affirms on the 11th of December that cruel treatment by the English caused the death of forty German prisoners, or publishes on the 29th of December the title 'German atrocities in Belgium,' a photograph they saw at New York in the Cosmopolitan differently entitled 'Massacre effected by the Allies.' "But that does not matter to Hearst, he sells papers as one sells copper. He has all sorts for all castes. It is the same of neutrality."

Sure, we go to extremes in suiting customers who want extreme styles. The new spring suit is a tight wad—a close proposition, but it's the exact and only style for young men. Smyrna, Famous Historical City of Bible Times, Which Has Been Bombarded by British Fleet

Bird's-eye view of Smyrna, principal seaport in Asia Minor and, with the exception of Constantinople, believed the wealthiest town in Turkey. The photograph gives a view of the city and the harbor beyond from the heights back of it. It is here in the city mentioned many times in the Bible and made famous by its ruins, and where the lives of Christians are constantly endangered, that the British East Indian fleet has reduced many of the forts.

SECRET JOURNEY THROUGH GERMANY

Shortage of Commodities and How it is Met—What London Correspondent Saw

(London Chronicle, Feb. 23.) The following is an article from "The London Daily Chronicle" special correspondent who visited Germany on a secret mission to inquire into the economic life and social atmosphere of the country.

During a visit to the American Consulate in Berlin, I happened to look across the Friedrichstrasse into the windows of an establishment in the opposite corner of the Kronenstrasse—this is to say, in the very heart of the city. I saw hundreds of women briskly engaged in the manufacture of soldiers' haversacks.

In the street below stood two lorries heavily loaded with the finished product of these women's hands. And until the beginning of the war, so I was later informed, this factory had been devoted altogether to the manufacture of feminine trousseaus, cheap gowns, blouses and the like.

It was only one of the hundreds of instances of substitution which confront the student of German war economies on every hand today. With little more effort than that involved in the turning of a woman's clothing factory into a government institution for the making of military equipment, factories, foundries, works of all kinds throughout the Fatherland have dropped the industries of peace and picked up the industries of war as thoroughly and wholeheartedly as the German army itself.

A survey of the industrial conditions in the Fatherland today must recognize this vast business of substitution as the most amazing feature of Germany's martial efficiency.

Many, but by no means the majority, of the establishments which have sacrificed all their former activities to the needs of the Kaiser's troops, have been trained for their war-time duties, just as the conscripts are trained. They are in fact, industrial conscripts, having been called to the service of the empire by the same impetuous voice which summoned the peasant lad from the fields to his regiment. Their directors, furthermore, were as familiar with the part they would play as was the commander of this young recruit's corps. I had the good luck to visit one of these conscript factories in the course of my visit to Dresden.

Potted Meat Factory It was surrounded by sentries, and access to its interior was as difficult as getting into a beleaguered fortress. In former days its activities had comprised the making and potting of various varieties of preserved meats. Now its 600 employees, among whom perhaps sixty per cent. are women, concentrate on the manufacture of only one kind of preserved meat—that required for the army commissary department, the "Tentative equivalent of the British Tommy's 'bully beef.'" Not being expert in this business, I can only say that my inspection of the factory impressed me anew with the superlative efficiency of all that has to do with the organization of the German army. The point that must be emphasized lies in the remark made by the official who accompanied me. "Doubtless this seems very wonderful to you," he said with naive German candor. "But it is only an example of what our so-called military leaders as well as our so-called industrial leaders are doing here. We are doing it for two weeks every year precisely as it is being run today."

Hamburg's Day Dreams In Hamburg one finds another side of the substitution system at work—that of finding employment for thousands of men abruptly deprived of the means of earning a livelihood. I refer, of course, to the dockworkers and sailors. There have been scores of stories about the terrible suffering that descended upon the people of Hamburg after the war began, and even today these wild yarns persist in achieving publicity in the British and American newspapers.

Yet I assert confidently, from a careful personal investigation, that the working classes of Hamburg have endured fewer hardships in the last six months than in most other parts of Germany. And this despite the patent fact that the docks of Hamburg are as dead as devastated Louvain.

The reason lies in the extraordinary selective powers of the imperial government. From the very nature of their trade, almost all the dock laborers of the military age and physically fit. Hence the authorities promptly took perhaps eighty per cent. of them from the first line of Landwehr or Landsturm, and in a very short time turned the remainder into agricultural laborers, or railway men, or factory hands.

Everybody knew that Hamburg and her sister ports would be likely to suffer first from the British blockade, and everybody began forming relief committees immediately to care for them. The consequence is that while her docks are dead, Hamburg herself is doing through the war—and dreaming comfortably about her glorious future when the English navy is no more.

It was in Hamburg that I became acquainted with a striking phase of Germany's preparations for this war. From men connected with the big oil companies which have their head offices in that city, I learned that for more than one month before hostilities began the authorities had secretly prohibited the export of petroleum shipped to Hamburg from Russia for reshipment abroad. By holding up all such consignments during the month of July the government materially increased its supply of oil, and hence has not felt the strain of the country's oil shortage to any disastrous extent as yet.

Nevertheless the scarcity of oil, particularly of benzine, is a very grave problem. It is admitted that already thousands of people living in remote sections of the Fatherland are going to bed in the dark because they cannot obtain kerosene for their lamps, and the supply of candles is very unevenly divided. Eventually it is claimed these thousands will have their homes illuminated by electricity, but how enough copper wire to effect such a development can be provided is not made clear.

From the military standpoint the greatest demand is for petrol. Motor-cars and air craft devour tremendous quantities of petrol, and hence tax-cabs—which are still abundant in all cities—are permitted to use only benzol, a coal tar product which dirties machinery so much that the life of an engine is shortened enormously.

Although I have heard it avowed by oil experts that a sufficient quantity of petrol can be produced in all civilised countries, everybody seems surprised that the tax-cabs are still running, and a representative of the United States in the city told me he had no idea how long he could continue to use his automobile. Incidentally there are practically no private motor cars in Germany except those owned by foreign diplomats or consular officials. All others are working for the army, either at the front or at home.

representative of the United States in the city told me he had no idea how long he could continue to use his automobile. Incidentally there are practically no private motor cars in Germany except those owned by foreign diplomats or consular officials. All others are working for the army, either at the front or at home.

Crazy-Quit Tyres Almost as acute a difficulty in connection with motor vehicles is the absence of an adequate supply of rubber. One scarcely ever sees an extra tyre strapped to the side of a tax-cab or private car and those in use have been patched until they look like crazy quilts. The feld boots used by most German officers have a layer of rubber in the sole. When this layer is worn out it cannot be replaced, as I discovered through overhearing the conversation of a young captain just back from the trenches who was bewailing his inability to renew his badly torn footgear.

The shortage of leather is a lesser problem, for owing to the killing off of cattle the meagreness of the supply is being constantly built up, and for all non-military purposes artificial leather made from wood pulp is being used.

That there will eventually be a dangerous scarcity of meat has been foreseen in the recent measures of the Federal Council. Broadly considered, the situation in this respect is due to the fact that Germans need grain so badly, they are sacrificing great numbers of cattle and swine, finally, to avoid having to feed them, and, secondly, to enable pastures to be turned into ploughed fields.

The man in the street believes that the supply of cold storage meat thus obtained will be ample to last until peace comes. As I have said before, he refuses to dwell upon the possibility of several years of war. But the slaughter of live stock is not carried out in a spirit of panic or indiscriminately. It is accomplished as systematically and carefully as are all undertakings of a like character in the Fatherland.

So far as the cost of living is concerned, Mr. Law, the American Consul-General in Berlin, in a recent report, estimated its increase at 15 per cent. That is a conservative figure even at that time, today the increase must be at least double that percentage, even according to official statistics, which are misleading because they fail to quote prices of certain commodities, such as wheat.

There is absolutely no gold in common circulation in the empire today. During my entire visit I never saw a single gold piece, not even in the banks. It is against the law to hoard gold ever in smallest quantities—yet everyone questioned admitted he or she had a few pieces hidden away "as souvenir."

The Reichbank has in its vaults nearly two-thirds of the country's gold, perhaps two and a fifth billion marks, or roughly, one hundred million pounds, and this reserve is increased weekly by between fifteen and eighteen million marks.

Had indigestion for over 10 years. Almost despaired of ever getting well.

Indigestion is one of the worst forms of stomach trouble. The stomach becomes upset and you have a raw, debilitating feeling in it. After a meal you feel that you must get rid of that nasty, bilious, burning sensation. It is not necessary for you to be troubled with indigestion if you only try that old and well-known remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, which is a combination of nature's best known roots, herbs and barks for the cure of all stomach and blood troubles.

Mrs. Mary MacKay, Hunter's Mountain, N.S., writes: "I was troubled with indigestion for more than ten years. I tried several doctors' medicines claiming the power to cure, but all without success. Having heard of the many cures effected by Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to give it a trial. After taking two bottles I was completely cured. My appetite which was very poor is now good, and I can eat most things without any disagreeable feeling."

I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone suffering from indigestion."

COMMISSIONERS AS AMBASSADORS

Overseas Governments Want Change in Status

May Come at End of War

Agents General of the Provinces Also Desire Direct Recognition From Imperial Government

Montreal, March 19.—In connection with Premier Bowden's recent statement in reply to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's question, to the effect that the status of the High Commissioner's office was under consideration, the Gazette's correspondent learns that an important readjustment of the constitutional relations between the imperial and the overseas governments will be urged by the latter.

An effort will be made to convert the High Commissioner's office into an ambassadorship. At present the office is not recognized by the constitution, although it is by courtesy and usage. Thus, while diplomatic negotiations pass between the Colonial and the Government of Canada, the High Commissioner is consulted and made acquainted with what is proposed or what is being done. If the commission were made an ambassador he would negotiate directly between the imperial and the overseas governments. Moreover, he would enjoy social recognition and the distinction attached to the rank.

Closely allied with the question is that of the agents-general of the provinces. Some months ago those who were in England at the time of the war were discussed and but for the war some agitation would have been started. The agents-general claim that in some phases of public affairs, particularly those affecting their provinces they are more familiar with the questions to be dealt with than the High Commissioner's office and they would like to have the right to deal directly with the imperial government, particularly on certain questions such as education, emigration and agriculture. ALEXANDRA TEMPLE 45TH ANNIVERSARY

The forty-fifth anniversary of Alexandra Temple was celebrated last evening by a banquet at Wanamaker's cafe, and proved throughout one of the most enjoyable of the long line of amusements of the well known North End Temple.

The house adjourned at 8:45 o'clock.

More Persistent Inquiries Made—Some Bills Introduced

Frederick, N. B., March 18.—There was a short session of the house this afternoon. The business of the session has not fairly started yet, although the public accounts of the province have not been distributed, although the report is said to have been ready for some days.

In the house this afternoon, the members from Madawaska continued to inquire concerning matters of public interest among which were: The gross proceeds of the traffic upon the Fredericton and Lake Umbagog section of the first year of its operation; who were appointed successors to W. H. Berry in the crown lands department; what arrangements had been made respecting their salaries and expenses; as to whether or not the members of the Ladies and of the Dominion government as to the construction of bridges across the St. John and Kennebec rivers; and as to whether or not the nature of it was; the cost of the bridge and approaches at Miramichi at Newcastle; if the government had any knowledge of any claims against the St. John railway by which the province was liable, what they were and their amounts; how much the improvement to the legislative building and the grounds have cost and some particulars as to the expenditure; also what was the cost of the metal work on the Normal school annex; what tenders were submitted, and how the work had been done; also respecting some purchases of farms by the farm settlement board in Albert county, and what their acreage was; the cost of the Dominion inquiry into police matters in St. John; and a request that all the orders-in-council relating to the operation of the St. John and Quebec railway as well as to the guaranteeing and the disposition of the bonds of the Dominion government for the construction of the road; also in connection with the purchase of the names of the potatoes, be brought down in the house.

"How Are We To Know When The Kidneys Are Out Of Order?" EASIEST THING IN THE WORLD!

The location of the kidneys, close to the small of the back, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter. The note of warning comes from the back. The kidneys become overtaxed and fail to do their work at nature's call.

Backache is the signal sent out by the kidneys the minute they become overtaxed. Those who heed the warning when it first comes, usually have but little trouble.

The danger lies in delay. Doan's Kidney Pills stimulate the action of the kidneys, and enable them to perform their duty perfectly.

Mrs. Greig Humphrey, Lower Ship Harbor East, N.S., writes: "I have been very miserable with my back, and could hardly get about. I got a box, and tried them, and found that they were really good, so I took in all about six boxes, and soon found my back cured, and my kidneys as well as ever."

IN TEN BAYONET CHARGES WITH BRITISH

The Countess of Ashburnham's Maid Has Two Brothers Fighting For Empire

(Frederick Gleason)

With his nerves completely shattered as a result of active participation in bayonet charges around Lebassee and on the Yzer Canal, and being sent home to England with his feet badly frozen from exposure in the trenches, Private A. L. Wall of the Devonshire Regiment, and brother of Miss Wall, maid to the Countess of Ashburnham in this city, is back again in the trenches fighting against the Germans.

Letters to Miss Wall from her relatives in England give some very interesting details of the adventures of her two brothers, who are as active service. Besides Private A. L. Wall, of the Devonshire, Miss Wall has another brother, J. E. Wall, a warrant officer in the royal navy. He is to be appointed a lieutenant in June.

Private A. L. Wall is one of only two surviving members of a company, the other being a lance corporal. In all he has taken part in ten bayonet charges around Lebassee and on the Yzer Canal and is now a complete nervous wreck. He was sent home some weeks ago with his lower limbs so badly frozen that it was thought amputation would be necessary. He was among a hundred odd despatched to a hospital in England, all of them being in a more or less frozen condition from exposure in the trenches. Most of these men had to have their feet, arms or legs amputated and Private Wall is alone in active service once more. He was at first ordered to remain at his home until February 28th, but he was obliged to leave for the front one week earlier, being sent to France on February 21st.

E. Wall has taken part in two big air raids of the British air fleet. He was in one of the aeroplanes that raided Cuxhaven on last Christmas Day. In letters to his relatives he states that he did not desire to recount his experiences during the war. Both brothers have expressed a desire to be able to return to their homes at an early date.

CANADA IN THE WAR

At a meeting of the Soldiers' Wives League, last evening Mrs. G. F. Smith presiding, the treasurer acknowledged receipt of $1,282.50 from F. G. Spence, proceeds of Lyric Theatre on March 12. A cordial vote of thanks was adopted and $100 ordered sent to Dr. Murray MacLaren for special emergency expenditures in his hospital. The league expects to entertain the wives and mothers of the soldiers at afternoon on Friday, April from 8.30 to 5.30 p.m.

The elections committee met in Ottawa yesterday to consider arrangements for allowing the soldiers to vote if there is a general election. It was thought impossible to arrange for the holding of those abroad but efforts will be made to provide for all the soldiers in Canada. Gabriel Bishara, was escorted to the train last evening on his way to join his regiment in Halifax, by a procession of about 200 friends from the Spryia colony with the pipe band from the 26th.

No Council Meeting Owing to lack of a quorum the special meeting of the common council was not held yesterday and the matter to be dealt with will lie over until Tuesday. From the sentiments of the commissioners it is probable that they will not withdraw their bill for the exemption of municipal income tax from the assessment of the Pioneers, the latter proposed by Dr. Roberts and which he coupled the names of S. E. Logan and George Blewett. These gentlemen responded in brief speeches.

Stanley Webb proposed the toast of Our Honor Roll, referring to the eight or nine members of the Alexandra Temple who have volunteered for overseas service with the Canadian forces. A. Ramsay replied to the toast. Other toasts were those of the Ladies and of the Pioneers, the latter proposed by Dr. Roberts and which he coupled the names of S. E. Logan and George Blewett. These gentlemen responded in brief speeches.

Germany Used Children To Cover Advance Extracts From Diary of an American Who Fought With the Belgian Army

London, March 18.—The Daily Chronicle prints extracts from the diary of an American citizen, who enlisted in the Belgian army and took part in the heroic defence of Liege. After a few days in the hospital in consequence of a wound he received in one of the first engagements, he returned to the trenches near Liege, but the detachment to which he belonged was completely cut up, he being one of a few survivors. He says: "I was sent down to Louvain to prepare trenches. We had not long to wait for the arrival of the Germans. They commenced by a bombardment of the town at long range. The following day we had a terrible engagement. The Germans outnumbered us four to one. We held our position for twenty-four hours. After further reinforcements reached the Germans they again attacked us, and we being short of ammunition, attacked them with a bayonet charge. The next day we were relieved by a regiment of chasseurs."

SAYS LACK OF MONEY TO END WAR IN JULY

London Financial Expert Estimates Cost Then Will be $16,990,000,000, Aside From Economic Loss

London, March 19.—Edgar Crammond, a prominent financial writer, read a paper before the Royal Statistical Society dealing with the cost of the war. In his opinion the war must end in July during the exhaustion of some of the belligerents.

Mr. Crammond estimates the total cost of the war to the end of July as $16,990,000,000 and the total economic loss, through damage to property and other direct and indirect losses at $45,740,000,000. He estimates that Great Britain alone will spend up to the end of July $708,000,000.

The Times, commenting on Mr. Crammond's figures, thinks he takes a somewhat exaggerated view, although he is in possession of facts which entitle his opinion to respect. The Times points out that Premier Asquith's estimate of Great Britain's expenditure during the same period was only £500,000,000, but adds: "This certainly now appears too low, even if Mr. Crammond's estimate is too high, but it is already believed in financial quarters that the government will be obliged to have recourse to a new war loan sooner than was anticipated, probably in the month of May."

La Grippe and Colds

In La Grippe and Colds, Anti-kamanta (A-K) Tablets are unexcelled, as they stop the pain, soothe the nerves, and bring the rest so greatly needed by nature to restore the system to health. Physicians have used these tablets for over twenty years, in the treatment of colds, fevers and la grippe, and have found no other remedy more useful in these conditions. Anti-kamanta Tablets are so inexpensive, so pleasant to take, so satisfactory in their results, and so useful in all conditions where there is pain, that A-K Tablets should always be kept in the house for the time of need. Many of our ablest physicians obtain perfect results in all grippe and colds, by cleansing the system with Epsom salts or "Acoloids," a very good cathartic, putting the patient on a limited diet, and administering one A-K tablet every two or three hours. This treatment will usually break up the worst case in a day or two, while in milder cases, ease and comfort follow almost immediately. These tablets are also unexcelled for Neuritis, Rheumatism, Pains, The Pains of Women, Indigestion and Insomnia. All druggists have them. Genuine A-K Tablets bear the K mark.

DAILY WILL CATCH UP WITH FOR WHITE SOX

Manager Rowland Considers Him "a Comer"—Chicago Fans Looking For Championship

Chicago, March 16.—Chicago fans will see a part of the world's series next fall and a part they will see will be played on the west side grounds, if you listen to President Thomas of the Cubs. As a matter of fact, the Cubs do look better on paper this year than they did last. Thomas insists they look 75 per cent. better. Manager Breasman, being pessimistic as well as peevish in disposition, admits they look at least 35 per cent. better.

Cubs went south for spring training with 21 candidates. "I've got a winner this year," was the comment of Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, as he took the train for the coast in the middle of February, following the passing of Billy Sullivan and the whitewashed hose. Friends of the "One Roman in the national game" hope he is right—but hoping is the best thing the White Sox fans do and they have been doing it ever since Fielder Jones' hitless wonders brought home the bacon in 1906.

Comiskey's White Sox Comiskey has filled a big hole in his infield by the purchase of Eddie Collins from the Athletics. That has been the weakest point in the White Sox line-up since Frank Iabel, the "bald eagle," ceased coveting there. The Sox last year had magnificent pitching, while there is no better receiver in the American League than Schalk, with Daly looking like a comer. The trouble was that the team would "blow" without provocation and when it blew, it blew the game. Collins is counted on to steady the entire team.

Still more important, however, is Comiskey's shift of managers. Outing Jim Callahan, a veteran, Clarence Rowland, direct from the bushes, will pilot the Sox. Rowland's cry is for speed. Callahan never had much speed himself, and could get little of it out of his combination vets and recruits. Rowland is cutting out the vets, no matter how close they are to Comiskey—witness Klepper, most of whom were with the White Sox last year. To help Schalk and Daly behind the bat, Rowland may keep Kahn and Moyer, although neither has shown much class.

Rowland has Scott, Cicotte, Benz, Tex Russell and Faber. Ed Walsh may be back. He thinks he will be in form when the bell sounds. If he is, it's 20 per cent. for Rowland's chances. At all events, the manager should be able to pick up some good pitchers out of Wolf-gang, Lachrop, Jasper, Scroggins and Klepper, most of whom were with the White Sox last year. To help Schalk and Daly behind the bat, Rowland may keep Kahn and Moyer, although neither has shown much class.

I am a farmer and keep Kahn and Moyer, although neither has shown much class. The prime minister explained his motion by the statement that members on both sides of the house appeared to desire to expedite business as much as possible. Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed with this. It meant that the government's programme of business had already been presented, and no more contentious business was to be brought up. In reply to this, Sir Robert stated that there would be a bill in regard to the payment of salaries of judges of district courts, which had just been created in Alberta and British Columbia. A. K. Maclean asked whether it would be necessary to introduce legislation for pensions. The prime minister replied that, as far as troops in Canada were concerned, the government already had power, and that there would be no need for legislation to deal with troops overseas. If desired, the order-in-council would be laid before both houses. It was now ready. Hon. Wm. Pugsley stated he thought there should be legislation in regard to the requirement of certain railways to be operated as part of the Intercolonial. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said this legislation would probably be non-contentious, in any event. Edmund Prosser pointed out that last year the finance minister had introduced two bills in regard to the civil service. He agreed it was inadvisable to bring them up this session, but thought a temporary measure should be made to increase the minimum in the lower grades of the service from $500 to $600, as had been proposed in the bill. The motion was then carried. Morning sittings will begin on Tuesday next, and Saturday sessions on the 27th.

GREAT KIDNEY MEDICINE AGAIN PROVES RELIABLE

I believe the remarkable cure I derived from Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is worthy of special mention. I was troubled with pain in my back weak kidneys. There was a time before using Swamp-Root that I was in misery all the time sitting or standing. I was told by a friend that Swamp-Root would help me and I purchased a dollar bottle and it relieved me wonderfully. It was certainly remarkable. Its relief made me a new man and gave me much comfort. I took another bottle of the 50 cent size which cured me. I drive every day over the roughest section of Kentucky and have no trouble whatever with my kidneys. I have gained 15 pounds in weight since I took Swamp-Root. Am 61 years of age and enjoy the best of health and I am not afraid to recommend Swamp-Root to anyone. Very respectfully yours, C. R. WEBB, Glasgow, Ky. Subscribed and sworn to before me by C. R. Webb, with whom I am personally acquainted. I further certify that I am not related to any of the parties nor interested in any way in the subject matter herein contained. THOS. REYNOLDS, N. P. R. C.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. Prove what Swamp-Root will do for you. Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the St. John Daily Times-Star, Reg. No. 76, and $1.25 size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

IN PARLIAMENT

The "War Tax" Resolutions And Other Matters

Hon. Mr. Pugsley Points to Luxuries That Have Escaped—Premier Outlines Programme For Session

Ottawa, March 18.—The "war tax" resolutions of the government were finally put through the commons today and bills based thereon were given first reading. The increased tariff protection proposals are labelled, "The Customs Tariff War Revenue Act," and the stamp taxes are to be known as the "Special War Revenue Act." The finance minister announced that the government had decided to drop the stamp tax on bills. He also announced that the additional one-cent tax on letters and post cards might be paid with an ordinary one-cent stamp instead of a special war stamp. He promised to consider the suggestion that a three-cent stamp be issued so as to avoid the necessity of putting two stamps on each letter or post card. Mr. White said that adhesive inland revenue stamps would be issued to be affixed to bills of exchange, promissory notes and checks. It was possible that the banks might issue checks upon which the stamp was embossed, although he could not speak definitely upon that point. The stamps would be sold at the post offices and by inland revenue officers.

To Mr. Law, of Yarmouth, the minister stated that the penalty for failure to stamp checks would be on the individual $50, and on the bank handling the checks $100. He supposed that, in practice, the bank would affix the stamp, and charge the customer for it, in the event of the latter neglecting to do so. Failure to stamp a check would not, however, affect the legality of a transaction. The finance minister observed that there were a number of articles of luxury which he would have taxed, had it not been for the terms of the French treaty. Thereupon Mr. Pugsley suggested a number of articles which were used by the wealthier classes, and which he thought might be taxed when they came from countries other than France or French possessions. He mentioned anchovies, sardines, other fish packed in oil, embroidery, laces, lace collarettes, silks, velvets, velvet ribbons, silk fabrics.

The two tariff bills, one of which was the Customs Tariff War Revenue Act and the other the Special War Revenue Act were then given a first reading. No opposition met the section providing that any person is guilty of an indictable offence, and liable to imprisonment for two years, or a fine not exceeding $5,000, or to both fine and imprisonment, who knowingly sells defective military or naval stores to the government of Canada or of any other British dominion, or who commits any fraud on the government in connection with the sale of such stores. The section is a sweeping one, since it provides that if a fraud is committed by a corporation, every director, officer, agent and employee who has been a party to the offence, or has aided or abetted in the commission thereof, shall be liable to the penalties. The section is also applicable to a corporation declared incapable of making further contracts with the government.

At the opening of the house, Sir Robert Borden moved that, beginning next Saturday, the house sit on Saturdays, beginning next Monday, hold morning sittings. This was afterwards modified, on Sir Wilfrid Laurier pointing out that it would be inadvisable to have the military or naval stores section in force until Tuesday, in view of the arrangements made for returning to their homes by members of a corporation. The prime minister explained his motion by the statement that members on both sides of the house appeared to desire to expedite business as much as possible. Sir Wilfrid Laurier agreed with this. It meant that the government's programme of business had already been presented, and no more contentious business was to be brought up. In reply to this, Sir Robert stated that there would be a bill in regard to the payment of salaries of judges of district courts, which had just been created in Alberta and British Columbia. A. K. Maclean asked whether it would be necessary to introduce legislation for pensions. The prime minister replied that, as far as troops in Canada were concerned, the government already had power, and that there would be no need for legislation to deal with troops overseas. If desired, the order-in-council would be laid before both houses. It was now ready. Hon. Wm. Pugsley stated he thought there should be legislation in regard to the requirement of certain railways to be operated as part of the Intercolonial. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said this legislation would probably be non-contentious, in any event. Edmund Prosser pointed out that last year the finance minister had introduced two bills in regard to the civil service. He agreed it was inadvisable to bring them up this session, but thought a temporary measure should be made to increase the minimum in the lower grades of the service from $500 to $600, as had been proposed in the bill. The motion was then carried. Morning sittings will begin on Tuesday next, and Saturday sessions on the 27th.

TRIBUTE TO DANNIE SMITH

Mickey McIntyre Says He Was Best Referee in the Game

The sporting game in Cape Breton has lost two good men recently in the death of Dannie Smith of Sydney and the retirement of Mickey McIntyre. In the death of Mr. Smith, sport followers lose a friend that will be hard to replace. Mickey McIntyre was a very close friend of the deceased, who was always a staunch supporter of the local fighter. Discussing Mr. Smith's death at an early age, Mickey stated that he had lost one of his best friends, supporters and admirers. He always had a great fondness for the deceased, who helped and assisted him in every possible way during his ring career. As a champion of boxing, Mickey considered Mr. Smith one of the best in the game, and he always felt sure of getting a square deal when he was the third man in the ring. The "old professor," as he was commonly called, was the father of boxing in Cape Breton and it was through his efforts that so many good men were brought here to fight our champion. Mickey's last fight took place on New Year's Day and that was the last fight in which the late Mr. Smith participated as a referee, and the remembrance will live long in McIntyre's memory, as there is no one among his many friends who he would sooner have as referee for his final bout than the old professor. Mickey in discussing the men whom he has fought hands out a bunch of warm praise for his old opponent "Billy" Parsons, now of North Sydney. He was one of the hardest opponents I ever went up against," said McIntyre, "and was a dangerous man at all times." Parsons gave away weight in practically every fight in which he took part, and his showing against men who were much heavier to my mind, said Mickey, was remarkable.

"Had Parsons entered the fistie game at an earlier age, he would to my mind have become the champion lightweight of Canada. He was strong and rugged, and was the possessor of a very hard punch, two very essential factors in the make up of a fighter." Mickey was always a hard man to handle, but if he had broken down to some at least of his friends, there is no doubt but that he would today be at the very topmost rung of the ladder in his class.

ALLIES DETECTIVES IN PORTLAND

of these men are scattered over the country for the purpose of maintaining a complete espionage in the interests of the triple entente, and among the other cities where they are located are Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Newport News, Norfolk, Charleston, Savannah, Wilmington, N. C., Baltimore, Jacksonville, Pensacola, San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Oregon, Seattle, and Tacoma, Wash. For a long time there have been rumors, and with more or less foundation, to the effect that secret service agents had been making investigations here relating to alleged plots against the property of British owned railroads, but it was not generally known that works before these rumors began to fly thick and fast. Finlayson men had been right on the spot, keeping track of everything that was going on. They were, however, and they are still here, ready to report to the allies anything that may be of use to them.

Werner Horn's Trial

Bangor, Me., March 18.—Counsel for Werner Horn, the German who attempted to blow up the Yanceboro bridge, moved today that he be discharged on account of being an officer of the German Landwehr and as such not amenable to the laws of this country. The commissioner denied the motion.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If Peevish, Feverish and Sick, Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-aching diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given. Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" of all ages and grown-ups are plainly given to give a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 66-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

An Enthusiast Brockville, Ont., March 18.—A curling record was established at a bonspiel held by the local club, by Herb Wright, one of the contestants. He began to curl at 4:30 in the afternoon and did not get up until four o'clock next morning. During that time he played six games, ten ends to each end and an end meant lifting and throwing two stones, each weighing forty pounds, he moved nearly two and one-half miles down the ice. Mr. Wright not only played with his rink but substituted for absentees.

ATHLETIC Olympic Games for U. S. Paris, March 18.—The Olympic games of 1916 will be held in America instead of Berlin. This decision was reached at a special meeting of the International Olympic Committee in Lyons.

The decision is in effect a reply to the German suggestion that the games be held in Berlin as planned, only neutral athletes competing. The programme must include every one of the events in the Olympic Congress held at the Parc St. Louis in 1912.

The International Committee has decided that the 1916 games will not count as regular games, and the records will not be described as Olympic records.

Toronto, March 18.—When advised of the news by cable of the transfer of the 1916 Olympic games to America, Secretary Norton Crew, of the Canadian Olympic committee, said that, while it did not correspond with his most recent communication from Baron Coubertin, he had no doubt that it was substantially correct. As to their official standing and the restriction that the 1916 games would not count in the official record of Olympics, it was an unexpected course.

FOOTBALL A Sad Case Lacrosse, Wis., March 18.—Herbert Cole, who survived a broken neck in a football game twelve years ago, has been committed to the state asylum for the insane at Mendota, his trouble resulting from his injury of long ago. Cole recovered so that he was able to take a four-year course at the University of Wisconsin, but this was followed by his collapse.

BASEBALL Doesn't Blame Bedient Hot Springs, Ark., March 17.—President Lannin announces that he has decided to release unconditionally Hugh Bedient, who, it will be remembered, jumped to the Federals last year. "I don't blame Bedient very much," said Lannin. "No club in either major league or organized baseball seemed to want him for I obtained waivers from every club in both leagues. You can't blame Bedient for trying to get the money. He didn't do anything dishonorable or mean and was really through with the Red Sox. He had given good service to the club, and so I feel that the best and easiest way would be to give him his unconditional release."

Of course, Lannin cannot really do this just yet, for Bedient's case is one for the national board, and he must be reinstated before he can be released.

Good Horses in Provinces Ontario breeders of the light harness horse have long considered the maritime provinces as unproductive in that field of animal industry, but there was held recently at River John, N.S., a colt race which could not be duplicated in Ontario. It was a futuristic event, in which originally sixteen dams were entered, and, as an indication of how the interest was maintained, seven three-year-olds faced the starter. The race went five half-mile heats before the black filly, Amelia Pell, owned and driven by James Chisholm of New Glasgow, won. This filly was sired by Directum B., a son of Directum, 2,084, and its dam was Ruritanica, 2,217, by Bow Bells, 2,194.
