GERMANS STILL ADVANCE BUT FAIL TO BREAK LINE

DESPERATE FIGHTING IN NORTHERN FRANCE

Allies Trying Hard to Prevent German Advance in Paris

Great Battle on the Upper Oise in Which British Soldiers Are Taking Leading Part—Germany Making a Bid for Help from India—The Situation Today

London, Sept. 2.—A corner of the curtain over the battle drama in Northern France has been raised momentarily. It shows the allies battling desperately to prevent the success of the German assault on the Upper Oise, less than fifty miles from Paris.

On the eastern war stage, Russia frankly confesses to disaster to two army corps, including the loss of three generals, Samaniv, Martos and Pestitov.

Elsewhere the Russian arms seemed to have triumphed. Galicia has been successfully invaded, and Lemberg will soon be evacuated, according to reports from the St. Petersburg war office.

If this is true, the Austria menace to Austrian Poland will be ended and the Russian forces can begin to converge for the march on Berlin, the Russian objective in North Galicia apparently being Koenigshtute, whence they can march on Berlin via Breslau.

On the Upper Oise the British are fighting desperately to prevent the Germans from securing one of the most direct routes to Paris. News of this battle, reaching here from two different sources, is the first definite information since the end of the battle of Mons. The battle raged Sunday and Monday, and by sheer weight of numbers the Germans secured a slight advantage.

Military experts point out that from the present position on the Upper Oise River, the German advance will become increasingly difficult, owing to the natural features of the country, as well as the artificial defenses that will have to be encountered.

It is becoming evident that, all along the western line the allies are playing for time in the hope that the German assault will become exhausted.

On the diplomatic side, Germany is making renewed efforts to bring Italy into her camp by a proclamation which cites that a victory for England and France will deprive Italy of all chance of dominating the Mediterranean.

The western coast of Belgium and the northwestern coast of France are apparently clear of Germans.

Antwerp has asked for an increased garrison. The town has also experienced a shudder, because of another Zeppelin visit. The great dirigible was fired on and departed without dropping any bombs.

GERMAN ADVANCE CONTINUES

London, Sept. 2.—The Times correspondent at Dieppe, France, has telegraphed his paper as follows:

"In the main northern theatre of the war, the German advance appears to continue without slackening its pace.

"It must indeed be an over-wearied army that the Germans are bringing towards the forts of Paris.

"They have made an effort which nearly deserves to be called superhuman. Nothing like it ever was seen in war.

"Yet we may be sure they have spent themselves in vain."

THIRD BRITISH FIGHT IN UPPER OISE VALLEY

London, Sept. 2.—(4 a. m.)—"The Chronicle" correspondent sends a report of a third British battle in the Upper Oise Valley, where the Germans are pressing in the whole of their weight to force a wedge.

The battle raged throughout Sunday and Monday, when the Germans, it is stated, sacrificed lives recklessly.

The British were compelled to give way slightly, but are maintaining the defence heroically. The battle is still undecided.

EASIER FEELING REPORTED IN PARIS

Paris, Sept. 2.—An air of great uncertainty continues in the face of the laconic communications from the war office, but last evening there appeared to exist an easier feeling, arising from the supposition that the Germans were withdrawing part of the troops operating in the north.

There is nothing to confirm this excepting the fact that Lille, Tourcoing and other exposed points are reported free of the enemy. The admission of the war office that the French troops are retiring south and southwest is not taken as being inconsistent with the above theory because naturally it would be the strategy of the allies to let the Germans draw their lines out if so disposed in order to take advantage of the resulting weakness at the right moment.

GERMANS AGAIN BOMBARDING MALINES

London, Sept. 2.—A despatch from Antwerp to Reuter contains the following official announcement:

"The Germans are again bombarding Malines, aiming at the steeple of the cathedral, which is a prominent landmark for miles around.

"Certain movements of the German troops in the direction of Aseche in the province of Brabant, six miles north-west of Brussels, gave rise to the belief that the Germans were contemplating a movement toward Termonde, 16 miles east of Ghent. However, the Belgian troops have been reinforced on account of the necessity of preserving control of Wasland. The enemy advanced from Brussels to Aseche yesterday but could not penetrate further north. Ninove and Alost 16 and 15 miles respectively, from Ghent, in different directions, have been occupied by the Germans.

"In the provinces of Antwerp and Limbourg the situation is unchanged."

EMPEROR WILLIAM IN BELGIAN CITIES

London, Sept. 2.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Abbeville, France, learns that Emperor William was in Charleroi, Belgium, last Saturday, where he viewed the battlefield, later motoring to Mons. He spent Saturday night in Brussels, where he stayed at the Bellevue Hotel.

The young Duke of Brunswick, who is son-in-law of Emperor William, gave a big banquet last week in the palace of Laeken in Brussels, according to the same correspondent. The principal guest was the emperor's son, Prince August William.

The Mail's Abbeville correspondent also reports that an aviator from Antwerp arrived there yesterday with despatches for the French authorities and continues:

"The aviator told of Antwerp's terror over the Zeppelin attack on the city which is now a place of absolute darkness at night. No lights of any description are allowed and even in the royal palace only candles are used.

"King Albert came within an ace of death during a sortie on Maline. He was directing operations from his motor car, when shrapnel burst ten yards away, blowing off the rear wheels of the car.

"The Germans have installed quick-firing guns in the villas all around Antwerp in order to prevent further sorties. A Belgian detachment of 850 men was surprised by a squad of these machine guns which killed all but fifty of them. These particular guns were installed in a parish church.

"One of the principal objects of the Belgian sortie is to secure a distinguished German prisoner. The Belgian king and his counsellors desire to get back.

"There are many wild manifestations of enthusiasm in Antwerp where crowds continually cheer the English residents and officials.

"King Albert has given a decoration and a commission to Georges Lysen, an 18-year-old boy scout, who is in charge of the boy scout work of spy detection in Antwerp. Lysen, personally caught 15 spies and also killed a German car-

THE LIST OF BRITISH KILLED AND WOUNDED

Report Received in London of Casualties So Far

MANY MISSING

Paris Reports That Number of Wounded Arriving at Different Points Shows That Violent Fighting is Going on in the North

London, Sept. 2.—The official casualties suffered by the cavalry brigade and three of the divisions, less one brigade, of the British force in France, follow:

Killed—86 officers and 127 men.

Wounded—57 officers and 629 men.

Missing—95 officers and 4,188 men.

This report was received in London from the headquarters in France of the expeditionary force.

As regards the men, as distinguished from officers, it is known that a considerable proportion of the wounded men who had been sent down country, and of whom particulars are not available at headquarters.

In the missing are included those who have not been accounted for, and the list of missing may comprise prisoners not wounded and stragglers, as well as casualties. The care lists as received include the names of officers only.

Only the next of kin have been informed by telegraph, and the names themselves will be given out tomorrow. It may take some little time yet to collect information as to the other ranks, but their names will be posted when received, and after their next of kin have been informed. Further reports of British casualties are expected with little delay.

The Wounded in France

Paris, Sept. 2.—The number of wounded arriving at different points shows that the fighting in the north continues with great violence. Yesterday 700 wounded soldiers arrived at Cherbourg, 800 at Orleans, 800 at Briancon, and 200 at Paris. Nearly all of them had wounds in the legs or arms.

The number of prisoners is also considerable. One convoy of 768 has arrived at Nimes, another of 480 at Troyes, and 100 at Clermont.

an expeditionary force. The transport and commissary are all excellent and they have withstood the slaughtering tactics of the German general staff with wonderful composure.

GERMAN SIEGE GUN A DEADLY MACHINE

London, Sept. 2.—(4.30 a. m.)—The Boulougne correspondent of the Express sends his paper the following:

"A French artillery officer, who has just arrived wounded from the front, spoke with the greatest earnestness regarding the new siege guns which the Germans are using and highly explosive shell, which has a most devastating effect.

"This new gun and shell were recently developed at the factory which was kept a profound secret, until it was brought into action at Lille, Namur and Louvain."

"In all my experience, I have seen nothing like it! I declared the French officer."

Pressing on to Paris.

London, Sept. 2.—The correspondent of the Mail at Boulogne says:

"It is quite evident that, except on the south, the German forces are pressing on all sides towards Paris. It is reported today that a German patrol with a quick firing machine gun, in a motor car, and fifty cyclists was in Arras, capital of the department of Pas-De-Calais, yesterday."

German to Invest Antwerp?

London, Sept. 2.—The Ostend correspondent of Reuter reports that an extensive movement of German troops towards the north, has been seen from Brussels. It is believed the Germans are going to Antwerp, where an investment and bombardment are expected.

Another Zeppelin Over Antwerp.

London, Sept. 2.—A despatch to Reuter from Antwerp reports that another Zeppelin flew over Antwerp last night. It was fuelled and cannonaded but with what result is not stated in the despatch.

British Troops Show Up Well

London, Sept. 2.—(5.03 a. m.)—The Times sends the following from the front as possible, but could get only a general impression of the event of the recent days.

"It must be borne in mind, that although on the left flank the allies' lines have been forced to withdraw, their lines so far, remain intact. At no point has the enemy succeeded in driving a wedge into the circle, which is drawing closer and closer around the capital and gaining in strength as it retires.

"Amid all the welter of war, the British troops produced the great quality of efficiency. The spirit of kitchener apparently pervades the whole Brit-

Crushing Defeat of Austrians By Russian Army

Out of London comes the following: The Russian army has completely crushed the Austrian army at Lemberg, has captured the capital of Galicia, has smashed the Austrian right wing and is now threatening to cut off the retreat of what is left of the Emperor Francis Joseph's finest army. The Austrians have recoiled, to defend their own territory, all the troops they had despatched to aid the Kaiser in France. The German right wing is slowly pressing the allies' left back but at enormous cost. The allies' centre resists every effort to smash or force it back.

LAST WEDNESDAY MOST SERIOUS DAY FOR GERMANY SINCE SHE BEGAN THE WAR

Report from the front says Great Battle Near Mons Deserves Higher Place in History Than Waterloo—British Skill and Valor

London, Sept. 2.—The Chronicle correspondent, from an unnamed point in France, gives a description obtained from officers of the great battle near Mons on August 26. It says:

"All soldiers agree that Wednesday's battle was the most terrible. Certainly it came at the end of seven days' fighting but they tell me the Germans put more strength into that day's work than on any other."

"An officer told me it was a terrible day. I think the Germans knew this day was an opportunity to wipe out the British force and they brought up vast numbers of their best and freshest men."

"The German forces assailed the British position not only with determination, but with what I can only justly call ferocity."

"No doubt the German general staff was of the opinion that the British forces could not stand before an attack by an army twice as strong in numbers, and much so in artillery. It was really the first occasion in history on which a battle has taken place between a Ger-

German Regiment Cut To Pieces By Allies

London, Sept. 2.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Boulogne reports that a German regiment of infantry has been cut up and almost completely destroyed by the allies.

"Since Friday night," he says, "large body of German troops has been surrounded in a forest which is being heavily bombarded on all sides by the allies."

"Heavy slaughter occurred during two days' battle, which finally ended with the retirement of the Germans, who lost large numbers of dead and wounded in the field. The loss of the allies was also heavy."

"No location is given in this despatch, as to where it occurred, but it undoubtedly refers to the German attacks on the French left flank."

THE COLONIAL ARMS HOTEL BURNED TODAY

Digby, N. S., Sept. 2.—Fire was discovered at 2.30 this morning in the interior of the Colonial Arms, a summer hotel situated at Deep Brook, a few miles east of Digby. The entire building was destroyed. A portion of the furniture, including the silverware and piano, was saved. The loss is said to be $50,000, partially covered by insurance.

The hotel, which had a capacity of 150 guests, was built a few years ago by Captain J. D. Spurr, the present proprietor. Less than twenty-five guests were in the house at the time of the fire, few of whom met with any losses.

An acetylene tank in the annex of a south end grocery exploded this morning. It was immediately removed by Osborne's fire engine.

Turnbull, proprietor of the Colonial Arms, was burned about the face and arms. Henry Turnbull, proprietor of the Colonial Arms, was burned about the face and arms.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

It is learned at Mexico City that the Vatican had declined to recognize Mr. Paredes, who was recently named for the post of Vicar General of the diocese of Mexico.

English and American boys whose parents reside in Paris, have been formed into a company of boy scouts. They wear uniforms and will carry messages for the British and American embassies, and also for the British and American ambulance organizations.

She saw their march off shoulder to shoulder in the same company. The law of averages says that at least one of them must die and perhaps two others be fearfully wounded.

In three seconds a machine gun could obliterate from the face of the earth the brood that she spent thirty-five years in rearing.

Yet she was the proudest woman in all England when the West Kent "D" Territorials passed her on their way to the mobilization, even though their passing spelled poverty and deprivation for her in her declining years. The four younger ones were her only support.

The sons ranged from Wilfred, of 17, to Frederick, 84. The others are Harold, 18; Jack, 21; Leonard, 24; Percy, 29, and Herbert, 32. The two eldest are sergeants and the third eldest a corporal.

"She keeps up bravely," declared her only daughter, "but I know she feels their absence terribly. She smiles so bravely through it all."

"Sometimes when she thinks I am not looking I see her face grow sad. Then she sees me looking and says, 'Oh, I am so proud to think that all my boys are helping the old country. Won't I be pleased when they come back?'"

"Then she adds, 'You and I will just have to get along as best we can.'"

Her late husband was a volunteer. "Wouldn't he have been proud to see them all march off?" she said to her daughter.

Her case has been brought to the attention of wealthy people and the mother who would give seven sons to the country would doubtless be well cared for during their absence.

RUSSIANS LOSE TWO ARMY CORPS, BUT ARE RAPIDLY ADVANCING

Invading Germany in Northern Galicia En Route to Berlin—Frankness of the Official Russian Statements Regarding Gains and Losses

London, Sept. 2.—Advice has been received here from St. Petersburg to the effect that the Russian general staff frankly confesses to disaster to two army corps, including the loss of three generals.

RUSSIANS SUCCESSFUL ALSO

London, Sept. 2.—(3.40 a. m.)—A despatch to the Daily News from Rome says:

"Besides advancing in East Prussia, the Russians are also invading Germany in Northern Galicia, their objective being Koenigshtute, in Prussian Silesia, whence presumably they will march on Berlin via Breslau."

St. Petersburg News Reliable

London, Sept. 2.—Telegraphing from St. Petersburg, the correspondent of the Times declares that the war reports given out by the headquarters staff in the Russian capital, are generally rather meagre, but in contradistinction to what is the case in Berlin and Vienna, they are always true. Up to the present time they have had nothing to announce but a series of victories. That the headquarters will stick to this plan also when the news is bad, is proved by the announcements of today. This attitude shows their confidence in the fortitude and staunchness of the Russian people, which undoubtedly is deserved and augurs well for the future. The wording of today's announcement indicates that other Vistula fortresses besides Graudenz and Thorn have been sent reinforcements.

The news arrived last night and the people of St. Petersburg received it with firmness. Their faith in a final Russian victory remains wholly unshaken.

Says War Between Turkey And Greece Only Question of Days

London, Sept. 2.—A St. Petersburg despatch to the Reuters Telegram Company conveys a semi-official statement to the effect that in well informed circles in St. Petersburg, the opinion is expressed that war between Turkey and Greece is now only a question of two or three days. Numerous Turkish troops, the despatch states, have landed on the shores of Asia Minor, at Smyrna, while near Chataleja and to the east of Scutari, fortifications are being feverishly thrown up under the direction of German officers.

General Lemay Von Saunders will command the second Ottoman army and will be commander-in-chief.

Declares Germans Killed Their Own Severely Wounded

London, Sept. 2.—The Ostend correspondent of the Express quotes Leon Hlard, sonder of Hainault, as testifying:

"That the Germans killed their own severely wounded on the battlefield, only tending those who would soon recover."

There are many signs, according to the despatch, that the Germans suffered heavily at Mons. Returning remnants of those who were in the fight spoke bitterly of British courage. One force of 250 British, it is stated, must have accounted for thousands of Germans. All along their lines of retreat, they had prepared a defence made with bags full of potatoes found in a neighboring factory. Through these were placed maxims and on top German helmets. The first time the Germans came up to this seemingly friendly line, the maxims spoke and soon no Germans were left.

Mons is reported to have suffered heavily and its whole neighborhood has been devastated.

THE SEVEN SONS OF MRS. JAMES COPPARD IN THEIR UNIFORMS AS BRITISH TERRITORIALS

London, Sept. 2.—Mrs. James Coppard, a widow, aged sixty-one years, has given her seven stalwart sons to England! She saw their march off shoulder to shoulder in the same company. The law of averages says that at least one of them must die and perhaps two others be fearfully wounded. In three seconds a machine gun could obliterate from the face of the earth the brood that she spent thirty-five years in rearing. Yet she was the proudest woman in all England when the West Kent "D" Territorials passed her on their way to the mobilization, even though their passing spelled poverty and deprivation for her in her declining years. TRADE RELATIONS WITH WEST INDIES

Local Man's Views on Freight Rates and His Suggestion of Remedy—Some Examples

A. J. Sollows of St. John and Hampton, a native of British Guiana, who has taken a great interest in the trade relations between these countries, contributes the following article on the discrimination in freight rates on the trade between the West Indies and the ports of St. John and Halifax. The cause for grievance which West Indian and Canadian shippers alike have is the very high freight rates which are being charged on cargo passing between Canada and the West Indies. It needs very little enquiry to show how justified the grievance is, for both West Indian cargo coming to Canada and Canadian cargo going to the West Indies are still being compelled to pay the same rates which prevailed during the height of the shipping boom. In other words, notwithstanding the fact that as soon as the boom showed signs of commencing, the rates were jumped by from twenty to twenty-five per cent, and that the circumstances which caused them, the unrelieved activity of the world's trade has long since passed away, no reduction has yet been made in the freight rates charged by the West Indian subsidized service. In order to illustrate the extra levy which is being made upon the trade at the present time, flour freights to Barbados, for example, were increased from 86 1/2 cents a barrel to 47 1/2 cents a barrel. The same increase was made on flour going to Demerara, although to one or two of the other colonies the increase was somewhat lower, in no instance was it less than five cents a barrel. Grouping all the colonies the increase made in four rates averaged from eight to nine cents a barrel, or about 25 per cent. This is the excess freight which shippers or consumers are today being compelled to pay over the rates applying a little more than two years ago. But it is in the aggregate that the result of the extra rate is best seen. With flour, for example, if only 200,000 barrels are carried, either the miller in Canada or the consumer in the West Indies is being unduly charged to the extent of some $20,000 a year on this item alone. Considerable higher rates are, however, also being charged on fish, oats, peas and beans, potatoes, canned goods and, in fact, almost every article that can be mentioned. Covering the whole range of articles it is probable that, quantity for quantity, Canadian cargo going to the West Indies is paying from $60,000 to $70,000 a year more in freights than would have been the case a little more than two years ago. But the high freight rates are pressing much more heavily on cargo from the West Indies than on shipments going there. For example, rates on sugar from Demerara are higher by about four cents per 100 pounds or by 90c a ton than they were slightly over three years ago. The same applies to the other advanced prices, however, did not last. An increase in the European visible supply of the wheat market here, the market underwent a decided sag, and then rallied to slightly above last night's level.

Canada In The War Newsy Notes of Activities in Many Parts of Dominion

The London, Ont., Hydro Electric Power Commission has donated $5,000 to the local war patriotic fund. The provincial commission has sanctioned the gift. Addressing a thousand officers at Valcartier on Monday, Col. Hughes intimated that a second contingent will go from Canada. An Ottawa despatch to the Montreal Mail says that orders will probably be given within a few days for the mobilization of all or the greater part of the active militia of Canada. Canada's offer to send six expert aviators for foreign service has been accepted by Lord Kitchener. The Bank of Ottawa has subscribed $25,000 to the patriotic fund. The Manitoulin Indians have asked the department of Indian affairs to pay to the Canadian war fund sums for each band over the Indian Fund. One band voted $500. Montreal's first offering to the patriotic fund is $150,000. The C. P. R. has built ten new commissary cars, especially designed to provide troops on the way to Valcartier. The Montreal Building Exchange has accepted reduced pay, and thus consented to provide employment for men. F. W. Cockshutt, M. P., of Brant has given a carload of transport and the Windsor Salt Company has given a carload of salt for the troops at Valcartier. Medical men in London, Ontario, will give their services free to the men who have gone to the front.

THE STATE OF TRADE

Situation Unsettled in Most Lines—Demand for General Hardware Fair—Collections Slow

Dun's Bulletin says of Montreal trade: "The business situation is little changed since we last wrote. Heavy manufacturing interests probably show a further slackening up, but the general wholesale distribution is fairly maintained. Dry goods show a falling off in sales as yet, and reports quite a few outside buyers in town this week, who evidently anticipate a shortage of imported goods later. Textile mills are still busy on government orders, as also some manufacturers of clothing, tents, bags, etc., and the demand for leather is not very active, but prices show decided strength. Groceries are active for the season, doubtless owing to the possibility of further advances. For general hardware, paints, oils, etc., there is fair quiet. Naturally the pig iron market has recovered from the comparative quiet that has prevailed during the summer, and there are no quotations at present for Scotch or English iron, local stocks of which are exhausted. Some moderate lots of domestic iron are being at former prices. Lumber and general building materials are quiet. Drug houses are carefully conserving stocks in such lines as have hitherto come from the Continent, and purveyors will sell any large bill to any one customer. City retail trade is quiet owing to the growing number of the unemployed, and general economizing, but there is a very fair amount of trading reported in the country districts. Money conditions are unchanged. For the week nine distinct failures are reported, with liabilities of about $65,000."

WAR NOTES

It is reported the Austrians are preparing to evacuate Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, now invested by Russian troops. The Zulus in South Africa have offered monetary help to Britain to the extent of their ability. A week ago the German press asserted that the German troops would be in Paris today. Dow, Jones and Company of New York today published the following on its news ticker:—London—Unconfirmed reports are current here that Turkey has declared war on Russia. Communication with Constantinople has been cut off for three days and the Turkish ambassador stated he had no way of telling when he would hear from his government again. The Zulus in South Africa have offered monetary help to Britain to the extent of their ability.

B., to Dr. Daniel P. Mahoney of the same place. The bride has been high school principal of the High School at Rexton, and both she and the groom, who enjoys an extensive practice in medicine, are very popular there.

Miss Estey was nicely attired in taupe more silk with picture hat of King's blue plush with silk applique and ostrich trimmings. She was attended by Miss Katherine E. Lawlor of this city, as bridesmaid, wearing a pretty costume of Royal blue silk with large black velvet hat trimmed with ostrich plumes. W. J. Mahoney, brother of the groom, was best man. The bride's traveling dress was a tailored costume of minogy broadcloth with hat to correspond. Her present from the groom was a handsome diamond ring. After an automobile trip through Nova Scotia, Dr. and Mrs. Mahoney will reside in Rexton. The best wishes of many friends there, in St. John and elsewhere through the province, by whom they are held in high esteem, will be extended to them for future happiness.

Fernett-O'Connor A quiet but pretty wedding took place this morning at eight o'clock when Miss Agnes O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O'Connor of Albert county, became the bride of Alexis Fernett, formerly of Bathurst, N. B., but now of this city. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of ivory satin, with Juliet cap and wreath and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The groom was attended by his sister, Miss Emma O'Connor, who wore a tailored suit of navy blue broadcloth, white picture hat and ostrich plumes. The groom was supported by Mr. Emile Bourgeois. After the ceremony the party returned to the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Turner, where a reception will be held this evening. The (Quebec Chronicle.) The selection of Valcartier, a beautiful little hamlet in the Laurentian Mountains, as the site of a concentration camp for the Canadian expeditionary force to Belgium, has a strange significance not generally known. Valcartier is a military settlement, founded nearly a century ago by soldiers of the British army. This is attested by the fact that in its little cemetery lie buried no fewer than nineteen veterans of Waterloo. Their descendants to this day are noted for their military bearing. How strange it seems that this secluded spot should have been by chance selected for gathering together an army of the youth of Canada, who will soon have an opportunity of doing their duty to the great Empire, whose protection has given us the peace and prosperity which we have enjoyed for a century, and perhaps upon the same ground of Waterloo fighting once more to free the people of Europe from military tyranny.

VALCARTIER.

CANADA'S EXPORT OF PAPER WILL INCREASE

This is the Only Country Not Affected by War With Surplus of Newspaper

New York, Sept. 1.—A representative of one of the largest paper manufacturers has received a cable reporting a dearth of sulphite pulp on the continent. Quotations on wood pulp have advanced from 92 to 145 shillings per ton. On the outbreak of the war 20,000 tons of paper consigned to this country were on the sea. Of this amount, 20,000 tons had been sold, and the remainder not yet disposed of. The United States annually imports 350,000 tons.

France and Great Britain are beginning to suffer, as the greater part of their paper comes from Germany and Scandinavia. With Germany eliminated, Scandinavia is left to supply both countries. As the Baltic Sea is normally open to commerce only between May and November, importers customarily lay in sufficient supply in the latter part of the summer to last for the year. The present is the season of lowest supply.

With the Baltic blocked on account of the hostile fleets and with little hope of its being opened shortly, the shortage is being felt more and more each day. Some of the English publishers have already cut down the size of their papers. South American publishers are feeling the stress too, as they also procure paper from Europe. This leaves Canada as the only producer that is not affected which has any surplus paper.

More than 8,000 pupils of Roman Catholic schools in Ottawa are unable to attend as all last year's teachers were dismissed and their places cannot now be filled. We Can Have Pie

THERE was once a good woman who couldn't make pies, but had two kind neighbors who kept her supplied with that article of food.

One day her two neighbors got to fighting, and so badly injured one another that neither of them was able to make pies for some considerable time.

What did the pie-less one do? Go without pie? Not much. SHE HUNTED UP A COOK BOOK AND FOUND OUT HOW TO BAKE PIES HERSELF.

Canada today is in the position of the lady-who-couldn't-make-pies.

There are many things she does not make at home because she has been getting them so easily from Continental Europe. But now Europe's peoples are at war with one another and so—for some time to come—cannot supply those things.

Canada is too thrifty and serious and sensible a housewife to sit with hands folded at such a time.

While loyally contributing a number of her best sons to help settle things in Europe, Canada will not entirely overlook her other sons who remain at home.

The manufacturers of Canada will get out the recipe book and learn how to MAKE many of the things that Europe can no longer send us because of the war. And in the making of those things the manufacturers of Canada should have the support of the financial interests and the people of Canada.

The manufacturers of Canada are now making much of the woollen goods, motor cars, rubber goods, corsets, millinery, hosiery, silverware—and countless other things—that are used in Canada, and generally speaking are making these goods at least as well as they are being made anywhere else. The people of Canada know that most of these things are being made by the manufacturers of this country. They do not know yet whether the manufacturers of Canada are going to serve them still more by making many of the things that were formerly imported from Continental Europe.

The manufacturers of Canada should tell the people of Canada at this time more than ever, just what they are making and the merits of their products. Let them drive home the facts through the great modern message medium—advertising. Let them use the newspapers to inform the people that they "have the goods." Let them explain that notwithstanding the war the people of Canada CAN have "the pie"—"home-made pie," and all the better for being home-made.

And after the war is over—if not before—perhaps our neighbors in Europe will be coming to Canada for some of this "pie"—importing from Canada some of the things Canada now imports from them.

ANNIVERSARY OF SEDAN

A short history of the Franco-Prussian war says:— "As early as August 27 the Crown Prince of Prussia took Archibald Forbes, the London News correspondent, aside and showed him on the map where the French would be irretrievably cornered.

CHARITY AND WORK.

A Toronto paper very properly directs attention to the fact that in the cities of Canada during the coming winter there will be others besides those dependent upon the men gone to the war who will be in need of relief.

Yesterday was the anniversary of Sedan, and today is the anniversary of the surrender of Napoleon III. The German armies have made tremendous efforts to mark the anniversary of Sedan by a victory which would sweep them through the French and British lines; but they have failed.

One fact is made very clear in the news of the fighting of the last few days, and it is that the British troops are bearing the brunt of the most formidable German attack. Again and again great masses of German troops have been hurled against the British position, suffering enormous loss without being able to move them from their position.

The German army which is pressing against the left wing of the allied forces is getting farther and farther away from its base. We are told that Belgium has a well equipped army of 200,000 men taking the offensive on the German right flank.

Reports which come from Berlin, telling of victories by the Germans and the Austrians over the Russians, are probably as little to be relied on as much other news from the same source. The Russians surprised the world by the rapidity of their mobilization and the remarkable success of their early movements in East Prussia and on the Austrian frontier.

Today's cables show that the desperate effort of the Germans to clear the road to Paris is being continued, and it is apparent that some points in their armies greatly outnumber those of the allies. The latter, however, have all the advantage of being on the defensive in entrenched positions, and may yet be able to prevent the enemy from breaking through their lines.

NOT MR. CARVELL'S FAULT

It is not the fault of Mr. F. B. Carvell that the Royal Commission has resumed its sittings. His business was begun before the war began and must be concluded. There is no politics in that. It is not Mr. F. B. Carvell's fault that Premier Fleming is mixed up with the matters under investigation. Mr. Carvell had nothing to do with the enormous graft fund that was got from lumbermen and contractors. It is not the fault of Mr. Carvell that Mr. Fleming refuses to answer pertinent questions even when commanded by the Royal Commission to do so. Neither is it the fault of Mr. Carvell that the books of the railway company, which he asserts will show the diversion of a large amount of money to Mr. Fleming, have not been produced.

For All We Have And Are

BY RUDYARD KIPLING

(Special Cable) London, Sept. 1.—Rudyard Kipling contributes the following poem to the London Times:

I. For all we have and are, For all our children's fate, Stand up and meet the war; The Hun is at the gate!

II. Once more we hear the word That sickened earth of old— No law except the sword Unsheathed and uncontrolled, Once more it knits mankind, Once more the nations go To meet and break and bind A crazed and driven foe.

III. Comfort, content, delight, The ages slow bought gain, They shriveled in a night— Only ourselves remain To face the naked days In silent fortitude, Through perils and dismay Renewed and re-renewed, Though all we made depart, The old commandments stand— In patience keep your heart, In strength lift up your hand.

IV. No easy hopes or lies Shall bring us to our goal— But iron sacrifice Of body, will and soul. For each, one life to give, Who stands if freedom live? Who dies if England live?

LIGHTER VEIN

The Talented Youth. "My oldest son," said Mrs. Twickenbury, "speaks languages quite fluently."—Christian Register.

Final News. Robbie (who has been sent over for the fifth time to find out how Mrs. Brown is)—All right, ma; she's dead.—Baltimore American.

The One Exception. Golfer (playing his second round in the day)—Into this beastly bunker again, Caddie!—No, Sir. This is the one you missed this morning.—Punch.

Looking Ahead. "I have just telephoned to our new neighbors to ask them if there is anything we can lend them," said Mrs. Scrippings. "Aren't you getting wonderfully generous?" asked her husband. "Oh, it's just as well to be neighborly. Most of our stuff is velvet, and as they moved in I thought of things that will be worth giving when it comes our turn to be moved."

Sure, Ma'am. Credit Man—"No, we can't sell you those goods on four months' time." Isaac—"Why, I'd give you my note." Credit Man—"But your notes do not sell on the street."

Isaac—"My gracious, no, or I would go home and make notes instead of clothing."

Aggressive Business Policy Encouraged by Analysis of Canada's Position. Good Reason for Optimism—Seven Encouraging Features of the Situation Here Justify Faith in the Future.

That the facts as to the situation in Canada, in consequence, confirm cheerful business sentiment, and encourage an aggressive rather than a retrogressive business policy, is the message of the leading article to appear in the Monetary Times this week.

"There has appeared," it says, "a disposition for the business mind to make lengthy trips to meet trouble. Having accepted the inevitable, there are many substantial facts of consolation. "First the British Empire has gone into a fight for good cause, and with excellent chances of victory. Second, Canada never before has had to face a crisis like this. It therefore gives an opportunity to show that the national business steel is well tempered. Third, the Dominion not being at the actual scene of war, some benefits come as a result of the war."

Some of the encouraging features, which are enumerated in full, are given below in abbreviated form: 1. Notable strength of the banking and financial situation in Canada. The banks were in excellent shape to cope with the situation at the outbreak of war, and the strong measures taken since then make the financial position impregnable.

2. The confidence in the national financial situation is strengthened by the fact that the Bank of England has established a depository for its gold at Ottawa with Canada's minister of finance as trustee.

3. The Dominion's first war loan of $50,000,000 will be raised with comparatively little difficulty.

4. Instead of boasting of a population of 8,000,000 as in the past, there is cause for satisfaction in the fact that the population is considerably less. During the past eighteen months while the world-wide trade depression has been in evidence, many thousands left Canada, returning to Great Britain and to the United States. The cessation of immigration is fortunate, too, at this time. It relieves the labor situation to that extent. Again, the number of men who are leaving productive employment here for military service is comparatively small; a great advantage compared to the situation in Europe.

5. There will be a good demand for the wheat, grain and fruit crops of the country, and the price, too. The factories, forests, mines, fisheries, and agricultural lands will continue to supply their share of national revenue. Last year the value of their production was $2,500,000,000.

6. Already war has given an impetus to several industries. Business executives recognize the prevalence of entirely new trade conditions and are studying these, realizing that trade obtained during the war time is likely to be retained in times of peace.

7. While trade has ceased with Germany, the United States and British markets are still open to Canada, and in these two markets is the Dominion's biggest trade.

A Great Business Getter

Our special offer to the MILITARY last week of a 10 per cent. discount was certainly appreciated. We had trouble getting all the wrist watches they wanted, but WE MANAGED IT.

Just think, we sold a Waltham Silver Wrist Watch (13 jewelled) for $11.70.

One old-time high-priced store sold the boys a Waltham Wrist Watch, silver (7 jewelled) for $12.50.

This is just one reason why our business is growing faster than any other jewelry business in the city.

KITCHENER'S ADVICE TO BRITISH SOLDIERS

Text of His Message to Men Going to the Front

Before the British troops left for the scene of activities across the English channel, each man received a printed souvenir from Earl Kitchener, containing the text of his address to them, previously given. The address contains much advice of value, and many hints as to discipline, and the conduct of the men both under fire and when away from the scene of action. He warned them against temptations of different sorts, and urged them to remain steadfast to British traditions.

The complete text of the message was as follows: You are ordered abroad as a soldier of the King to help our French comrades against the invasion of a common enemy. You have to perform a task which will need all your courage, your energy, your patience.

Remember that the honor of the British Army depends on your individual conduct. It will be your duty not only to set an example of discipline and perfect steadiness under fire, but also to maintain the most friendly relations with those whom you are helping in their struggle.

The operations in which you are engaged will, for the most part, take place in a friendly country, and you can do your own country no better service than in showing yourselves in France and Belgium in the true character of the British soldier. Be invariably courteous, considerate, and kind; never do anything likely to injure or destroy property, and always look upon looting as a disgraceful act. You are sure to meet with a welcome and to be trusted. Your conduct must justify that welcome and that trust. Your duty cannot be done unless your health is sound, so keep constantly on your guard against any excess. In this new experience you may find temptations both in wine and women. You must entirely resist both temptations, and, while treating all women with perfect courtesy, you should avoid any intimacy.

Do your duty bravely. Fear God. Honor the King. KITCHENER, Field Marshal.

P. E. I. RHODES
SCHOLARS IN WAR

Two go to the Front — One Has Command in the King Edward Horse

Charlottetown, Sept. 2.—Prince Edward Island will have at least two Rhodes scholars at the front in the war. One is J. A. Collett of Beedeville, who left here last week with his fellow comrades of the 8th Infantry Regiment for Valcartier. The other is Arthur G. Cameron, barrister, of Vancouver, B. C., a former Rhodes scholar, and a native of Montserrat, P. E. I. Mr. Cameron has sailed for England to join his regiment, King Edward's Horse, the King's Overseas Regiment, formerly known as the King's Colonials. Mr. Cameron is second in command of C Squadron, composed of Rhodes scholars and colonial undergraduates attending Oxford and Cambridge. He was attached to the King's Royal Hussars in 1909, and holds certificates from the school of musketry, Hythe, Kent, as musketry instructor and Maxim gun instructor in the British army. Before the outbreak of hostilities Mr. Cameron held his regiment offering to serve on the continent in case of war. Last week he received the following cable: "Rejoin your command in King Edward's Horse," an intimation that the regiment is to go to the front. Mr. Cameron is a splendid specimen of a soldier, and in his student days was one of the best all round athletes in the maritime provinces, standing over six feet, and very strongly built.

AN IRISH REGIMENT BEING FORMED IN MONTREAL

Montreal, Sept. 1.—Recruiting for the new Irish regiment being formed in Montreal will be closed on Saturday. Promoters of the movement state that applications are pouring in so fast that they could get 1,000 volunteers instead of the 400 they started out to get. It is expected that formal application will be made next week to the Minister of Militia to form the regiment and to equip it with uniforms and everything necessary to make the corps an efficient unit of the Canadian militia.

OVERSEAS CONTINGENT CHAPLAINS APPOINTED

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—The militia department tonight announced the appointment of chaplains to accompany the Canadian expeditionary force to Europe. They are Canon Almond, of Trinity church, Montreal, Anglican; Rev. Canon Sylvester, of Montreal, Roman Catholic; Rev. A. M. Gordon, son of Principal Gordon, of Queen's University, and Rev. R. H. Steacy, rector of the Anglican church at Westboro, a suburb of Ottawa. Mr. Gordon went with the Canadian troops as chaplain in 1888. In addition there will be six Salvation Army chaplains.

Some men who claim to be looking for work should have their eyes examined.

of 24-inch material will be required. Without the ruffles 5 1/2 yards will be sufficient.

Start first to make the waist by drawing under and an shoulder seams. Hem the back and join collar as neckband. Gather lower edge, add to stay, arrange ruffles between and gather upper edges. Adjust on waist, stitching gathers along double "o" perforations with small "o" perforation at the shoulder seam. Sew close seams of collar and sleeve ruffles. Gather upper edges of ruffles, arrange on sleeve, stitching upper edge of upper ruffle to upper edge of sleeve and stitch gathers in lower ruffle along crossline of single small "o" perforations, seams even. Sew sleeve in armhole as notched, easing in any fullness.

Slash skirt down center-back of back going large "o" perforation and slash down for opening. Place collar on small "o" perforation. Join gorges as notched; pleat extensions, creasing on not perforations, bring folds edge to small "o" perforations and press. Close back seams of ruffles, leaving edge of upper ruffle free above large

"O" perforation for opening; adjust on skirt, centers even; stitch upper edges together, bringing small "o" perforation to side seam. Close back seams of ruffles, gather entire upper edge. Adjust on skirt, centers even; stitch gathered edge of longest center crossing, centers even. Close back seam of accordion pleated ruffle, adjust on skirt, stitching upper edge along not perforations, centers even. Sew skirt to lower edge of waist over stay, centers even. The edges of the ruffles of the skirt may be finished by a neat effect or with buttonholed scallops.

Misuse frock for formal wear suitable to development in batiste, mul or chifon and featuring the new ruffled skirt.

It is easy for one to conjure up marvelous possibilities for the design shown here. The dress is made without lining, but is worn over a slip of silk in any desired shade. The neck may be high or low and the skirt is a two-piece affair with raised waist-line. A deep girde of brilliant satin ribbon adds to the effectiveness of the model. If made with four skirt ruffles 8 yards

A UNITED IRELAND GIVES THE ANSWER TO KAISER'S DESIGNS

Remarkable Demonstrations of Loyalty Follow the Outbreak of the War—All Are For the King

(Montreal Mail)
Dublin, Aug. 14.—During the week events in England and Ireland have marched with amazing rapidity. A week ago no sane person would have dared to prophesy what is now the fact. No doubt it required a European war to bring the situation about, but it is a situation of which all Irishmen are generally proud. The sequence of events may be briefly stated, even though in their general outline they are already known throughout the world. England found herself faced with a war with Germany. There is now hardly any doubt that German diplomacy chose the tone of its menace because it felt that Britain was rent in twain by the Home Rule crisis, and that Ireland was an armed camp, the majority of whose inhabitants would gladly welcome a foreign power, any power which would deal a death blow to England. Germany felt that the moment was opportune, but she reckoned without a true knowledge of the depth of loyalty which is innate in these countries.

in the ranks. It was such a spectacle as Ireland had never witnessed before. Numerous other officers of service came from individuals. Mr. Bryan Cooper, the Unionist candidate-elect for County, Dublin, a Sligo gentleman, and an ex-servant of the British army, announced his intention of joining. A local landlord in Roscommon whose estate has for years been a storm centre of wrangling and disaffection and cattle-driving wrote to the local press begging to be admitted to the volunteers and a cordial invitation was sent him. Away down south the Unionists have followed the general trend of feeling and the National Volunteers are a perfectly loyal body and fully representative of all creeds and classes in the three southern provinces.

Loyal Dublin
The situation in Dublin has completely astonished everybody. Following rapidly on the shooting of three people by soldiers of the King's Own Scottish Borderers the army was believed to be very unpopular. And so it was. But the development of the situation changed everything. The shooting was forgotten, and in the passing and rapidly mobilized battalions of volunteers were formed on a mass to acclaim them. Individual soldiers in the street were feted and feasted. For the first time in perhaps a hundred years, "Rule, Britannia" was heard in the streets of the Irish capital. Reservists called to the colors were escorted to the railway stations by bodies of the Ulster and Nationalist volunteers headed by a local band playing popular airs and cheers were given as the trains left.

From Mullingar, Co. Westmeath, comes news of a parade by local volunteers when they were inspected by Captain Robertson. At the conclusion of the ceremony the inspecting officer called on the band to play "God Save Ireland" and "God Save the King." Both were played, the volunteers meanwhile saluting.

War Effect in Ireland
There is no general pessimistic feeling regarding the effects which the war may have in Ireland. There are, of course, the panic stories as to starvation prices for food. So far, however, no real danger is apprehended. Prices which ran up after the declaration of war are steadily moving back to normal, and all sorts of influences are being brought to bear to prevent cornering of food. Signs are not wanting of the situation, however. The Stock Exchange has not yet reopened, and the newspapers in view of a possible shortage of paper have, by a mutual agreement, reduced their size to attenuated proportions.

He Sure Had
The pompous judge glared sternly over his spectacles at the tattered prisoner who had been dragged before the bar of justice on a charge of vagrancy. "Have you ever earned a dollar in your life?" he asked in fine scorn.

"Yes, your Honor," was the response. "I voted for you at the last election."

The Princess' Men With Garnet Flag Are Canada's Best

(Ottawa Free Press.)
The dying August sun glints on the silken garnet flag. It is blood red. The wind lifts it and tosses it, and one catches the blue and gold put there by the gracious fingers of a very gracious lady. But the first impression remains. Within sight of the flag are lines and lines of drab khaki-clad men. There is no color there, save the blue of the sky above and the drab of the lines of men. There is a quiet as the once. Quite as a woman the bugle.

MANIFESTO OF THE NEW FRENCH CABINET

The new French cabinet has issued the following manifesto:
"Frenchmen: The new government has taken possession of its post of honor and of the combat. The country knows it may count upon its energy, and that it gives itself with all its soul to the country's defence."
"The government knows it may count upon the country. Its sons are shedding their blood for the Fatherland and liberty alongside the heroic English and Belgian armies. They support the storm of shot and shell and everyone stands firm. To them glory. Glory to the living and glory to the dead. Thanks to so much heroic fraternal victory is assured. Certainly a great battle is waging, but it is not decisive. Whatever may be the result, the struggle will continue. France is not as easy a prey as the insolence of the enemy imagines."
Present Duty is Tragical.
"Frenchmen, the present duty is tragical; but simply repulse the enemy, pursue him and save our soil from his stain. Save liberty from his grasp. Hold fast as long as need be until the end. Let us lift up our minds and souls above the peril, and remain the masters of our destiny."
"Meanwhile our Russian allies march with decided steps towards the German capital that is pervaded with anxiety, and inflict many reverses on its troops which retire."
"We ask of the country all the sacrifices and all the resources that it can furnish in men and energy. Be firm then, and resolute. Let the national life, aided by appropriate financial and administrative measures, continue uninterupted."
"Let us have confidence in ourselves. Let us forget all that is not of the nation. Face to the frontier. We have the method and the will. We shall have the victory."

MANUFACTURER
DISCUSSES TRADE
IN THE DOMINION
 Conservative View Taken of Situation by Public Will Have Good Effect

(Montreal Gazette)
 The mills of the Canadian Cottons Company are working to capacity on orders received from the Dominion government for the supply of outfits for the Canadian contingent. With the exception of that work, it was stated by A. O. Dawson, the managing director, little improvement in the general demand for the company's output could be reported. Mr. Dawson said that the business originating in western Canada showed no improvement, but that this could hardly be expected as yet. The farmers there would not be obliged to make such large payments for farm machinery and the purchasing power would be larger than last year and that on account of the low stocks carried now by everyone orders in fairly large volume could be expected just as soon as farmers began to get payment for their grain. The good crops in Ontario and Quebec, said Mr. Dawson, would insure good business in those two provinces and a big apple and oat crop in Eastern Canada would be followed by bigger business in that section of the country. Mr. Dawson went on to say that he was of the opinion that present conditions would have a tendency to get more people on the land and that was one of the big things to be encouraged. The conservative view everyone was taking of the situation would have a good effect but it was only a matter of time, he said, until the big gap in supplies of all commodities would have to be filled and when that time arrived all industries would be stimulated to a large extent. Fundamental conditions in Canada here were never better and nothing but a hopeful view could be taken of the future. Asked if the scarcity of dyes, the small supply which has forced some mills in the United States to close, would cause any difficulty in maintaining operations, Mr. Dawson said that, although it was impossible to buy dyes at present his company had a supply sufficient for all requirements during the next six months and it was very likely that by that time some other source of supply would be established. Germany had in the past supplied 90 per cent. of all dyes used by cotton companies, but already Switzerland was getting ready to make shipments and England and the United States were also undertaking steps for their manufacture.

MIGHT EASILY PICK UP CONSIDERABLE OF GERMANY'S TRADE
 London Says Canadian Manufacturers Have Good Opportunity to do So

Ottawa, Aug. 31—According to a report received by the Minister of Trade and Commerce from the Canadian High Commissioner's office in London, Canadian manufacturers have now good opportunities of picking up a considerable proportion of Germany's lost trade with Great Britain. Last year the United Kingdom bought goods from Germany to the value of over $400,000,000. The Canadian office in London reports that Canada is in a position to bid advantageously for various lines of manufactured goods, notably wire nails and other iron and steel products, formerly supplied from Germany.

Every Brewer Knows the Danger

He knows that when he puts his beer in light glass bottles and placards the case—"Keep this cover on to protect the beer from light" that he is deliberately throwing on you—the responsibility of keeping it pure.

Why should you take the risk? Beer is saccharine. The slightest taint of impurity ruins its healthfulness. Schlitz is made pure and the Brown Bottle keeps it pure from the brewery to your glass.

Canada's Immediate Duty

(The Canadian Courier.)
 "Supposing every farmer in Canada were to enlarge his wheat production by putting five acres more under crop than he had this year, the total production of wheat in this country would be increased by fifty million bushels. If each farmer were to sow ten acres more wheat, the increase would be doubled. Surely it should be a simple matter to get every farmer in Canada to enlarge his acreage by this small amount. There may be a few who could not do it, but this lack would be offset by the work of those who could easily add fifty or a hundred acres to their holdings." "The only possible difficulty lies in the matter of finance. Some farmers may not be able to pay for the labor required to cultivate and seed down an extra ten acres. The work of a national commission and the various provincial committees should be directed towards helping these particular farmers. The financing of them would not be a serious problem nor an onerous undertaking. The amount of capital involved would be very small. This is the problem which is before the Canadian people. It is the pressing problem. It should be considered seriously and promptly. In Eastern Canada the land must be prepared and seeded within six weeks. In Western Canada the land must be prepared for seeding within the same period. There is no time for delay."

Graphic Story of Battle at Mons

Wounded Britisher Tells of Charge on Machine Guns and Wiping Out Half of German Regiment.

London, Sept. 2—The following story of the fighting near Mons, as told to an Express reporter by one of the British wounded who was brought here Monday: "We had left the shelter of a little forest and opened out, supported by the North country regiment. Our colonel warned us that the German infantry was advancing. "We had hardly laid ourselves prone when a body of the Germans were seen on the skyline. "Our batteries let rip and gouged holes through them. 'Bravo,' shouted my platoon commander, as he watched through his glasses. "The order was given to fix bayonets. Before the enemy arrived the artillery fire had increased until it was an inferno. "German aviators were directing their guns, and at times we fired on aeroplanes but our shots were ineffective. Our poor gunners had an awful time as the German cavalry got around behind us and charged right up to the guns. Very few of the Germans escaped, however, for whole platoons rushed to the rescue, emptying their magazines as they ran. "A moment later the Germans were on us from the front. We let them come until their breasts reached the neighboring hillock, and then decimated them. They fell back in confusion and dropped to the ground. "Another line came which we treated the same way. Scores of machine guns were turned on us, however, and we were ordered to prepare to charge. "On the word of command, we sprang from the ground as one man, and with yell after yell, charged the advancing Prussians. "As we neared their ranks we fired indiscriminately and only a few remained to cross bayonets with us. The remainder rushed off and were shoved back as they went. They left more than half their regiment on the field in killed and wounded."

EXPANSION IN THE BRITISH EXPORT TRADE

It will be a distinct surprise to many of the American operators now investigating the possibilities of securing a foothold in the world's coal market, to know that England is likewise quietly laying plans for materially broadening the scope of her operations in this field. Germany, of course, has become a heavy customer in recent years, but with her navy bottled up and acting purely on the defensive, British operators have little to fear from competition in that direction. Belgium is, of course, completely paralyzed by the incessant fighting within her boundaries, while France has insufficient coal to supply her own needs and is a heavy importer herself. In addition to this, the internal consumption of Great Britain will be heavily restricted, as a result of the general cessation of industrial plants, which will release large tonnages for use in other directions. It should also be remembered that the countries so far involved in the war take but a small proportion of the British coal exports—in fact, only as much as India and Australia alone. This means that there is still a large market for their production. On the other hand, Great Britain is at the present time facing a number of severe handicaps, such as the heavy government bond required on all foreign shipments, and the withdrawal of the Welsh products entirely from this business. It was upon the excellent quality of this latter fuel, considered by many the highest grade of coal there is, that a regular contributor to the Temps and position in the world's coal markets. The fact that it has been withdrawn entirely will now place some of the American operators, such as the Georges Creek, the Pocahontas and the New River grades easily in the lead among the fuels available in foreign markets.

CAME OF IRISH STOCK.

Col. Patrick Mahon, of French Army, Killed.
 London, Aug. 31—A despatch from Paris by Reuters' Telegram Company says the French War Office is beginning to publish lists of casualties among the officers engaged in the fighting, and that already one general has been killed. Among the deaths announced today was that of Lieut.-Col. Patrick Mahon, who fell fighting in Alsace. He came of old Irish stock and from the same family as the late Marshal MacMahon, once president of France. He was a regular contributor to the Temps and an author of military works. Philippe Millet, another writer, also figures in the casualty list among the wounded.

Germany's Miscalculations

The Westminster Gazette, in a striking article, says: "There can be but one end to the great campaign if the national army remains intact, and the nation is resolute to pursue the war. Sir Edward Goschen's report of the rupture of events on the Russo-German frontier, in what way can they expect to dispose of France so as to enable their withdrawal and used against the Russians in the east? There is only one way, and that is to deliver such smashing blows that the French government will be compelled to make peace, and so enable the peaceful withdrawal of the German army. Enemy's Perilous Condition "Possibly it was supposed that the blow to France would stop the Russians and cause them also to make peace before crossing the frontier in any serious sense, or a third conjecture might be that the German staff rated the Austrian army so high that they thought it capable of stopping the Russian advance until the French campaign was finished. One or the other assumption appears necessary to make sense of the German general staff's idea of a crushing blow to France as a preliminary to its campaign against Russia. For if France keeps her army in being and refuses to make peace, the operation of withdrawing the German forces in order to turn them against the Russians must become impracticable. Now it is too early to presume upon anything, but we may at least take courage to hope that these German assumptions are in a very perilous condition. Whatever has happened, the German time-table must be now very seriously disarranged. Loss of time in going by the south, said Herr von Jagow, would have meant time gained by the Russians for bringing up their troops to the German frontier. These last words are very significant. They imply that Minister von Jagow supposed that the Russians would not be up to the German frontier in any early period of the war. They are well over the frontier, well passed the most difficult country in their line of advance, and making much more rapid progress than either friend or enemy expected. The Austrians have so far proved of little use in checking them, and are likely to have their hands full in the defending of their own capital. In the western area the allied forces have suffered reverses, but the Belgian resistance has been invaluable as a delaying factor, and there is, we are confident, no chance either that the French army will be annihilated or that the French government will be forced to make peace. The support of this country and the advance of Russia are in these respects decisive factors in differentiating the present situation from that of 1870."

THE POTATO MARKET.

Referring to the outlook for potatoes this fall, H. R. Silver of Halifax, said to the Maritime Merchant: "Of-hand, I should say that potatoes are one of the few foods of which the United Kingdom has all she needs, and if she buys any from us it will be for the sake of building a reserve against any danger that may arise later. Cuba is our big market today, and with sugar at its present price our friends down there ought to be able to buy liberally everything they want this year, potatoes and codfish included. I see no reason why we should not have our usual exports to that island this fall winter, provided there is nothing to prevent the free movement of steamers."

WANTED Rags!

Millions of dollars' worth of Rags collected annually

The General says:
 My output of Certain-tyed Roofing has grown to such enormous proportions that I am having difficulty in getting enough rags of good grade to supply this demand.

I also need a lot of rags of lower grade for making my standard quality roofing, and also a still lower grade for making my Competition quality roofing.

I will pay the best market price for roofing rags anywhere in any quantity. If they can be shipped in carload quantities and in assorted grades, we can have them shipped direct to any of our big mills, but if in smaller quantities or unsorted, we will arrange with one of our packers or sorters near you, to buy your rags and prepare them for our use in the different grades.

Churches, Societies, Charitable Institutions and others are making good use of our Certain-tyed Roofing. We secure scores and scores of tons of these rags every day—in fact the total rag sales of the country amount to several million dollars a year. It's an easy way to make money. The rags are generally given to the collectors or at least sold for very little. Every kind of rag can be used for something. Use this plan to pay off your church debt or raise the minister's salary. The results are surprising.

MILLION TONS OF COAL FOR MONTREAL

Black Diamond Fleet Keeping Schedule For Delivering Two Millions

One million and a quarter tons of coal have been shipped since the opening of navigation to the St. Lawrence ports, Montreal, Quebec, Three Rivers and Lévis on the thirty-five steamers used by the Dominion Coal Company as coal carriers. This indicates that the two million tons which are to be brought from Sydney during the season of navigation will be sent, as the amount sent on to date shows that that amount is being lived up to. The programme for September is to bring 850,000 tons of coal to the St. Lawrence ports, most of it from Montreal. The same rate continued through October and the first few weeks in November will conclude the giant contract.

THE ADVANCE OF SUGAR.

Why the Market Has Advanced so Sharply and What the Future?

Claus A. Spreckles, president of the Federal Sugar Refining Co., expresses the opinion that the recent rise in sugar prices has discounted eventualities of the immediate future as far as the European war is concerned. "The market has gone up here," said Mr. Spreckles, "because England, needing about 175,000 tons of sugar a month, immediately began to compete with American refiners for Cuba sugars, when her main source of supply under normal conditions was cut off by the war. The rise was accentuated also by the action of domestic consumers who, fearing the worst, rushed in and bought granulated sugar far in excess of their usual amounts. Households which ordinarily take, say ten pounds at a time, have bought sugar by the barrel. England thus far has probably taken 150,000 tons out of this market and will probably have to buy more later on. "While we are having a lull in the market for the moment, if the war continues—and I'm afraid it is going to be a long drawn out affair—there is no telling where prices may go. The countries at war produce about 9,000,000 tons of beet sugar annually, or about 45 per cent of the world's supply, and have a large surplus for export. Even if the crops do not destroy most of the beet fields, it is likely that many will go to seed, owing to the lack of labor for harvesting, and then there is the labor needed to operate the factories for slicing and refining. It is a most serious situation, and one that is likely to influence the sugar market for a long time to come. If half the European beet crop is made into sugar, which seems questionable now, there will still be a dangerous shortage in the world's supply, and prices are liable to go to any height. No one can possibly tell. We are as much at sea on that point as the general public."

What Dyspeptics Should Eat

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid such food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action, it has no pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of our water. This will neutralize any acid which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisulphate of magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known; it can be taken in the form of a medicine, or in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisulphate of magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal take some of the bisulphate of magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

Choose Your Widow
 The man who thinks only of himself—who doesn't care what happens after he's gone forces his wife to assume too great a risk. His death is likely to mean a slavish, wage-earning career for his widow.
 Of course, if abject poverty befall her, some charitable institution may appeal to a kindly public for money with which to keep her and her children alive.
 But how different is the prospect for a woman whose husband, by means of life insurance, has made provision for her support in the event of his death.
 What prospect has your wife if you should die tomorrow? The choice rests with you. Let an Imperial Life policy be the answer. It will provide her with a regular monthly income to begin at your death and continue so long as she lives.

Three German Armies Converging on Paris In 75 Mile Radius

Allies Strongly Entrenched to Meet the Enemy - British Troops Inflict Heavy Losses - Belgium and France Protest Against Use of Bombs From Aeroplanes

When the whole world is awaiting definite news from the battle line, the French war office contents itself with the simple statement that as a result of the turning movement of the German army, and in order not to accept battle under unfavorable conditions, the French troops have again retired.

From the British capital no word is forthcoming regarding what are considered as the most momentous operations of the war. From The Telegraph's special correspondents, however, there comes this morning interesting news of the armies in the field, giving as much in detail as the censor will allow the position of the opposing armies.

Forced to abandon the flanking movement to the left to save the cutting of their communications or an attack in the rear the German armies have faced the allies in the centre and are making a desperate effort to break through on the shortest road to Paris. An expert in the field says that three armies are pressing the allied lines, the farthest north being at Lefere where they are probably opposed by British troops, the second concentrating at Rethel and the third, under command of the crown prince just west of Verdun on the Meuse.

These armies appear to be converging in a rough circle with Paris as the centre and a radius roughly of seventy-five miles. In that circle in chosen positions are French and British troops prepared to bar, and probably now engaged, in fighting grimly and steadily in the defence of Europe's gayest capital and there is nothing surer than that this new short road to Paris will prove to be in the end a long and a costly one for the Kaiser.

A British correspondent was fortunate enough to see our troops in action on Monday, it is thought just north of Lefere, and he describes the joyous spirit and the deadly accuracy with which they fought, piling up the German dead before them in heaps.

While Berlin claims a German victory over the Russians in East Prussia, in the capture of 70,000 men, the Russians claim an important victory over the Austrians on the Galician side, with 30,000 prisoners.

Another German aeroplane has been dropping bombs into Paris, and, according to the French official statement, the American ambassador has organized a committee, and has sent a protest against this method of warfare to the government at Washington.

The Belgian special commission, on its way to the United States to protest against alleged German atrocities, has been received by King George, and has presented him with an address, setting forth some of the happenings in Belgium during the present campaign, and has warmly thanked Great Britain for its intervention.

GERMANS ARRESTED AT RETHEL

Paris, Sept. 1.—11.45 p. m.—The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight:

"On our left wing, as a result of the turning movement of the German army, and in order not to accept battle under unfavorable conditions, our troops retired toward the south and southwest. In the region of Rethel our forces have arrested the enemy momentarily. In the centre and on the right the situation remains unchanged."

An American committee, organized by the American ambassador, and including the most conspicuous members of the American colony, asked the minister of war for proofs that bombs were dropped on Paris from a German machine. The minister of war presented proof, which decided the ambassador to cable to his government a report of the war methods, which are not only contrary to humanity, but in violation of the convention of The Hague, signed by Germany itself.

"The committee has decided to ask the United States government, while remaining neutral, to protest energetically to the German government.

"A squadron of armored aeroplanes has been organized to give chase to the German aeroplanes which have been flying over Paris."

TURKEY'S ATTITUDE

Washington, Sept. 1.—Great Britain has asked the United States to take care of her diplomatic interests in Turkey, in case of a declaration of war on the allies by the Porte, which is momentarily expected.

200,000 IN ARMY

Rome, Sept. 1, via Paris, 1.30 p. m.—A telegram received in Rome from Berlin announces the mobilization of the Turkish army. Following the advice of Field Marshal Baron Von Der Goltz, it is said the Turkish government will form an army of the first line composed of only 200,000 men, all Mohammedans.

GERMANS WERE DECEIVED

Thought Mines Would Deter Any Large Operations.

London, Aug. 31.—The Times' naval correspondent says the German cruisers and destroyers which had formed the outer guard of her fleet behind Heligoland have recently shown increasing activity to some extent. They appear to suppose that the mines they have scattered indiscriminately in the North Sea must deter our seamen from any large operations. They have deceived themselves. The battle-cruisers, of which it may be assumed there were sufficient present to have engaged the German battle fleet if it had come out, covered the operations.

One destroyer engaged the enemy's destroyers and our cruisers the cruisers which formed their support. How long the engagement continued we were not informed, but apparently the Germans were pursued well into Heligoland Bight. As the action took place off the entrance to the German coast and in the neighborhood of Heligoland, it may be certain that the German fleet, if it was anchored anywhere thereabouts, must have heard the firing and have quickly learned the result of the operation.

Whether it would have the effect of altering the plans of the German admirals or advisers of the Kaiser it is impossible to say, but to sit down much longer and learn nothing but losses on their side cannot have a very good effect upon the morale of the German seamen.

MUCH WORK YET ON VALLEY RY.

Not Making Very Much Progress, Says Com. Fisher

CHIEF ENGINEER A WITNESS

Tells of Cost to Complete Road - Argument Over Adjournment For Closing Session

The afternoon session of the Dugal enquiry into the valley railway affairs was devoted to technical matters. Paul F. Blanchet continued his evidence on his audit and S. B. Wass, chief engineer of the railway gave evidence regarding the amount of work to be done to complete the road, and its cost.

Paul Blanchette, accountant and auditor was the first witness called in the afternoon. He was asked a number of questions as to bookkeeping items by Mr. Carvell to elucidate the method of payments and of how certain estimates would be best obtained. The evidence was of a highly specialized and detailed nature, needing constant reference to a mass of figures that had been prepared.

Mr. Carvell's questions were specially directed to the explanation of deductions from the sum of $880,000 to enable them to find out the amount of the interest the government should pay.

"We have been told," said Mr. Carvell, "that that $880,000 went into construction, but we don't believe it did, and we want to see where it went. However, it is a matter for argument."

In reply to a general question as to whether he agreed with the way in which Mr. Carvell arrived at his conclusions from the figures Mr. Blanchet said he agreed.

Engineer Wass

S. B. Wass, chief engineer of the St. John & Quebec Railway Co. since April, answering the chairman, said that prior to April he was assistant chief engineer and was familiar with the whole road. He had been asked to give as exactly as possible an estimate of the cost of completing the section of the road between Gagetown and the southern end of Hill's division (two miles below the Barony), and had done so. From Gagetown to Fredericton it would require $90,000, and from Fredericton to the other end of the limits, $54,114.76. In that estimate he had left out of account the section in the city of Fredericton because they did not know what work would be done. Taking the small section of about two miles between Gagetown and Hart Lake, witness went into details as to what would still have to be done. He then gave figures for the whole of the section, showing a good deal of work still to be done. The fact evoked from Com. Fisher the remark: "You do not seem to be making very great progress."

Witness said that the contract work at Hart Lake had held the rest back lately.

This mass of figures was then the subject of minute questioning by Mr. Teed and Mr. Carvell, but the evidence was far from being of interest, and though the court was at one time fairly full, spectators moved quickly away until from a quarter past three until nearly 5 o'clock. When the commission adjourned, the court was empty.

Mr. Teed asked whether they could take it for granted that the evidence would be closed today, but Mr. Carvell said that all he could undertake was to "get the whole evidence in" as he wanted some time to consider the mass of figures.

Judge Wells said he did not want to have a formal postponement if it could be avoided, but the commission adjourned without further indications of the conclusion of their business being given.

WAR AFFECTING TORONTO PRICES

God Liver Oil Doubled in Price and Barium Chloride Quintupled. Toronto, Sept. 2.—The declaration of war by Japan immediately brought up the price of camphor to $1 per pound, cod liver oil has advanced to $1.80, and $81 a barrel, cream of tartar and tartaric acid are soaring to unheard of prices. Opium and dye stuffs are scarce. The former has gone up $2 per pound. Shoemakers' wax will probably command fifty cents a pound in the next few days, and barium chloride has jumped from $32 a ton to $150.

GOVERNMENT CALLS OFF SALMON CLOSE SEASON

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—The government has called off for this year the usual closed season for salmon fishing in the Fraser River from Aug. 25 to Sept. 15. This is by arrangement with the British Columbia government.

OFFICERS MUST RETAIN RANK

Cannot Resign to go to Front as Privates

WORK FOR ALL OF THEM

Three Brigades Going Forward - One Remains as Nucleus of Second Contingent - Separation Allowance For Married Men

Ottawa, Sept. 1.—Owing to the necessity of retaining a sufficient number of officers in Canada for instruction purposes and to command additional units to be organized in the future, officers now in camp at Valcartier will not be allowed to resign their commissions and go with the first overseas expeditionary force, as privates as many of them desire to do so.

At the present time there are at the big camp about one officer for every twenty-five men, not all of whom, however, are well trained. It will take about 700 officers to command the first contingent, all of whom must be trained men. This means that over 1,000 officers now in camp, will not be able to accompany the force, but as the minister stated yesterday they may all count upon being given an opportunity to serve the empire at an early date, either in Canada or abroad.

30,000 in Camp. Valcartier, Sept. 1.—Plans were given out tonight by Col. Williams regarding the organization of the Canadian expeditionary force. Following the announcement of Colonel Hughes yesterday, camp has been organized into sixteen battalions, instead of twelve, as planned originally, and four brigades, instead of three. Only three brigades will be taken with the first contingent, other brigades or battalions, probably 8,000 men, being left behind to form the nucleus of a second division.

Colonel Williams stated that the surplus of volunteers, there now being over 30,000 men in camp, and 2,000 or 3,000 on the road, made it necessary to form an extra brigade. The fact that one brigade will not be taken to the front will act as an incentive for the various battalions to work hard in order to be chosen.

Rhodes Scholars

A squadron of Rhodes scholars now attending Oxford University, will probably go to the front in a fortnight or so. They are now drilling at Salisbury. Separation Allowance. The governor-general of Canada, H.

R. H. the Duke of Connaught, in the city yesterday gave most complimentary praise to the local militia officers for the able manner in which they had assumed control of the local defence situation, and the promptness they had made in placing things in readiness. The governor general announced that the dominion government had arranged a payment of 75 cents a day separation allowance for the wives of men going to the front.

U. S. MAY BUY SHIPS

Washington, Sept. 1.—The right of the United States to buy merchant ships of any nationality for neutral uses cannot be disputed by any nation, declared Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury department, today before the house merchant marine committee, supporting the administration's merchant marine bill. Mr. McAdoo refused, however, to discuss the diplomatic phases of the situation, when asked if plans had been received from Great Britain or France against the possible government purchase of German vessels.

Ridley College Student Left Bride of Few Hours Behind. St. Catharines, Sept. 2.—When the train bearing the 7th Field Battery left for Valcartier this afternoon it carried among the volunteers for the front a bridegroom of a few short hours in the person of Herbert Fairfield, a student of Ridley College, and well known as a successful member of college track and field teams. The young artilleryman, who is a son of G. H. Fairfield, the well-known St. Catharines stationer, was married in the morning by Rev. Canon Kerr, chaplain of the 16th Regiment, to Miss Dorothy Goodman, daughter of H. C. Goodman, member of one of the oldest families of this city, from whom he parted almost immediately after the ceremony to leave for the front.

COULD NOT PUT HANDS IN WATER

Salt Rheum Began with Itching and Burning, Watery Pimples, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Two Weeks.

"I have a brilliant cure—" I suffered with salt rheum for nine months. It began by itching and burning and my hands broke out in watery pimples and I could not sleep, only scratch my hands and they would bleed. The pimples were small and white, about the size of pin heads filled with water. I could not put my hands in water at all. "I tried — and found no relief until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I put the Cuticura Ointment on my hands after washing them with the Cuticura Soap and in two weeks they were perfectly cured." (Signed) Miss Bridges A. Brand, May 17, 1913.

FOR PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

The following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold everywhere. For liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send post-card to Potzer Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. D, Boston, U. S. A.

Chairman Says Government Could Secure the Books

Mr. Carvell, at Meeting of Dugal Commission Today, Makes Another Attempt to Get Missing Accounts—Further Evidence Regarding Cost of The Road

According to the estimate of the managing director of the St. John and Quebec Railway Company the road from Gagetown to Centreville will be completed at a cost of $4,507,223 and turned over to the I. C. R. for operation by October 15. This was the evidence given by Ross Thompson at the Dugal inquiry this morning.

Mr. Thompson will continue this afternoon and it is expected that this will bring the evidence to a close.

The lack of the New York books came up for discussion this morning. Commissioner Fisher said it was a pity that they had not been produced. Mr. Carvell asked for the commitment for contempt of the directors if they fail to produce them. The chairman did not want to take this step but suggested that the government could get the books by threatening to cut off the company's funds.

B. M. Hill, divisional engineer, was the only other witness this morning.

Burton M. Hill on Stand

The inquiry resumed at ten o'clock when Burton M. Hill, divisional engineer for the section between the Barney and Centreville on the Valley railway, took the stand.

Mr. Hill gave in detail his estimate of the expenditure required to complete his division of the road, including expenditure since August 1. His total for district C, Woodstock to Barney, a distance of 88 miles was $85,125.94. For district D, Woodstock to Centreville, 29 miles, his estimate was $32,745.44.

The witness was unable to say anything about the construction of railway repair shops as he thought this a matter for the I. C. R. management. He had heard of Woodstock as a possible site but had received no instructions and made no provision in the work done so far. Personally he thought the Fredericton would be a more suitable place.

Mr. Hill was allowed to stand down. Ross Thompson called.

Ross Thompson, managing director of the road, was then called to give details of future charges for general expenses.

Mr. Thompson said that an important feature upon which the total cost to complete the road would depend would be the arrangements for carrying their line through Fredericton. If they secure running rights over the C. P. R. this will be small; otherwise they will have to meet the cost of two miles of new road, including a very expensive right of way through Fredericton.

In reply to Judge Wells, the witness said that the present estimate of the amount required to complete the road is about $100,000 greater than the estimate made in April.

The witness said that he expected to see the road completed from Gagetown to Centreville by October 15, when it would be taken over for operation by the I. C. R.

Cost of Road
Mr. Thompson presented a detailed statement of actual and estimated cost of the road completed. The actual expenditure to July 31, 1914, was $4,059,515.15 and the estimate of the additional expenditure required as $447,698.28, making a total of $4,507,223.48.

To Mr. Teed the witness said that his previous estimate of the total cost was $4,890,974.77.

Mr. Teed offered in evidence a letter from B. Hal Brown, of the Prudential Trust Company, explaining an expense voucher as the cost of a trip to London to arrange for a registration of the bonds, etc.

Mr. Carvell raised a question, without objecting, regarding the advisability of admitting this: "So far as I can recollect, when Mr. Brown was on the stand he said that his company made no charges except the profit they made on handling the funds. He would give very little evidence when he was here and now he starts to write letters. Of all the witnesses whom we had here there was none for whom I have less respect than B. Hal Brown."

Mr. Teed—I imagine the feeling may be mutual.

Mr. Carvell—Can you tell me why the books of the railway company are all in New York?

Witness—Because we have no office of the railway company in New Brunswick. Lisman & Company are the financial agents of the company, a member of that company was appointed treasurer and the books are kept by him.

Mr. Carvell pointed out that the trust mortgage provided that the books shall be kept open at all times for the inspection of the government, and asked if the government or their representatives had ever inspected the books?

Witness—Not that I know of.

Com. Fisher—It is a pity that we have not secured those books from New York.

Mr. Carvell—I feel that this commission and the government can secure the books.

Com. Fisher—What can we do?

Mr. Carvell—Instruct the directors to produce the books, and if they do not do so, commit them to jail for contempt.

Chairman—The government could get the books very quickly by threatening to cut off the money if they do not produce them.

Mr. Carvell—If I am not very much mistaken, a representative of the government has inspected them since this inquiry opened. I wonder what Mr. Fowler would say to that.

Mr. Fowler—I have not seen the books.

Mr. Carvell—I agree that the government could secure the books very promptly by cutting off the funds, but I feel this commission has not exercised its powers either regarding the production of these books or in compelling witnesses to answer questions.

Com. Fisher—We have stated in the most unequivocal manner that we feel that the books should be here.

Mr. Carvell—Yes, but the commissioners have stopped there.

Judge Wells—So you expect us to act on our own volition.

Mr. Carvell—I have not got much encouragement.

Mr. Fowler—Go ahead, make your motion now.

Mr. Carvell's Motion

Mr. Carvell—Your Honors, I move that the directors be summoned here to be instructed to produce the books, and if they do not do so that they be committed for contempt.

The Chairman—But see what a position that would produce. The books are not under their control, and it would be difficult to prove that their failure was because of contempt.

Mr. Carvell—I thought that it would be the duty of this commission to secure the evidence, but I have been compelled to do it all and have been bound down by the strictest rules of evidence and terms.

When Mr. Carvell completed his argument, Mr. Fowler delivered a wild harangue accusing Mr. Carvell of insulting the commissioners by reflections on their methods of conducting the inquiry. He denounced the efforts to secure the books as an exhibition of morbid curiosity by a group of scandal-mongers.

The chairman spoke of the alternative methods of conducting inquiries, saying that they might have ignored counsel entirely and called and examined the witnesses themselves, but they had chosen the other method as the fairest way.

Mr. Carvell asked the witness if the company had reached any conclusion regarding the construction of shops and terminals.

A—Nothing has been done or will be done this year.

Q—Will the I. C. R. take over the road without such facilities?

A—Yes, temporarily.

Q—Have you decided to build shops or terminals, or both, at Woodstock?

A—I have not heard of any decision.

To Mr. Carvell, the witness said that payment of $17,244.15 and $16,000 in July to the Prudential Trust Company were payments on the $350,000 loan, and that about $100,000 of this loan is still outstanding.

Mr. Thompson said that during July his company had done work to the value of $180,000, but had not yet received a progress estimate or the money from the government, although by ordinary standards, it was overdue. Their work in August amounted to $110,000, but this is not due yet. For June they received $100,000. They had paid all their contractors for the June work, except Kennedy & McDonald.

The court adjourned at one o'clock and resumed at 2.30, when Mr. Thompson again took the stand.

I. C. R. TRAIN SHED

The I. C. R. train shed was hardly a pleasant place for passengers today. Since the fire in the elevator about a month ago all the panes of glass in the roof of the shed on one side have been missing, having either been taken out afterwards or broken during the fire. They have not since been replaced. There was, therefore, nothing to prevent the rain pouring into the shed this morning and the comments about the new facilities, made by visitors, were not of a complimentary nature.

Newfoundland Sailors, Accepted by Admiralty, Not Needed Now, and Have Been Released For Home Duty—Situation is Encouraging

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 2.—The British government has directed that for the remainder of the present season, all shipping between Canadian and British ports should abandon the route through Belle Isle Straits and use that by way of Cape Race exclusively.

This will enable the cruisers now employed on the North Atlantic to give more efficient supervision to shipping and protection from any possible interference by German warships from now until the close of navigation. The wireless station at Cape Race has been restricted from doing any general business and required to handle only naval and official messages. A cordon of British warships will be kept in the North Sea and the ocean sufficiently far south to enable the guarding of all shipping transiting the North Atlantic, to be efficiently carried out.

This is encouraging.

St. John's, Nfld., Sept. 2.—As a result of the changed British naval situation resulting from the blockade of the German fleet in its ports in the North Sea the British admiralty, after accepting an offer by the Newfoundland government to increase the existing force of naval reserves among the Newfoundland fishermen from 500 to 1,000 has decided it will not be required, and that it would only be necessary to continue in active service 400 out of 600 men who had responded to the call to arms at the beginning of August last.

The reason for this decision is said to be that all the remaining requirements of the British warships in England have been satisfactorily met and on this side the only naval volunteers necessary are 190 for the Canadian cruiser Niobe and another 200 for the drill ship Calypso stationed here.

The services of some of these sailors will now become available for the Newfoundland government which is being raised for land service. A second battalion is being formed in the colony for local defence and the first contingent when necessary.

LOCAL NEWS

FOUR BROTHERS

In connection with the death of John S. Brown, referred to in another column of this paper, four brothers also survive: Josiah S. of Rochester, Wash.; Z. B. Brown of South Bend, Wash.; and Wm. C. and Joshua of Houston, Me.

STILL A CHANCE

There is still a chance for any men desiring to go to the front with St. John to do so as artillerymen. Col. B. R. Armstrong has received instructions from Ottawa to recruit more men for the overseas service as well as for the home defence, and additional numbers are being enrolled at Partridge Island.

BRAMAN AGAIN REMANDED

The preliminary examination of John H. Braman, charged with murdering George Stewart, last evening was continued at St. John this morning when Dr. F. J. Hogan, who assisted Dr. W. W. White in performing the operation on O'Leary, gave evidence. George Stewart, an orderly of the hospital, also gave evidence. He told of seeing O'Leary carried into the hospital. The revolver, with which Braman is alleged to have shot him, is still in his hand. Cross-examined by Urban J. Sweeney, witness said it might have been an hour or more after the wound was taken into the hospital before the operation was performed. While the witnesses were giving evidence, George Stewart, an orderly of the hospital, also gave evidence. He picked up off the table beside him and probably learned for the first time the true nature of the case. He appeared more interested in the war news than in the evidence. He was further remanded.

PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT

A large crowd of people filled the East St. John Mission Hall last evening when the members of the East St. John Tennis Club gave an entertaining concert. A lengthy programme of a musical and literary nature was carried out and the performers received much applause. Included in the programme were instrumental selections by the Echebrecht and Alfred Echebrecht; songs by Mary, Amalie and Louise Echebrecht and Alfred Echebrecht; songs with chorus by Mr. Robb, Miss Edith Magee, Mr. Ferris, Mr. Russell, J. W. Flewelling; readings by Arthur Burditt and selections by the East St. John Zebra Band. A most delightful number was the duet by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dow as well as Mrs. Dow's solo, "Good Night Sweet Dreams," and Miss Magee's solo, "Back to Sunnyside Farm," with full chorus. The singing of the National Anthem brought the entertainment to a close.

RIOT CASE ON TODAY

The trials of the cases of the King vs. Percy Warren, Bedford I. Hines, William Brown, William Chambers, William Edmondson, William Shannon and Thomas Shannon, charged with rioting during the recent street railway strike, was continued in the County Court this morning. The crown case was closed and a large number of witnesses were examined for the defence, including all the defendants except Brown, Day and Shannon.

The case will be resumed at two o'clock, when a few more witnesses for the defence will be heard before the case is closed. The case will then be presented to the jury. Recorder Baxter, K. C., and H. O. McInerney are appearing for the prosecution; and S. B. Bustin, J. A. Barry, G. H. V. Belyea, E. S. Ritchie, Francis Kerr and H. J. Smith are appearing for the several defendants.

FAIRVILLE MAN NOW ON NIOBE

Commander Writes to Authorities That Meahan is Doing His Part There in Empire's Defense

Councillor James E. Bryant of Fairville, has received a communication from the lieutenant-commander of H. M. C. S. Niobe stating that Thomas Meahan is now a stoker on the warship and requesting that his name be placed on the list of those serving their country by the committee in charge of the Patriotic fund, in order that Mrs. Meahan may benefit, as well as the families of the other volunteers.

Mr. Meahan was formerly janitor of the school building and joined the Niobe shortly after the outbreak of the war.

It was commonly reported throughout the village last evening that one of the local boys had been sent back from Valcarlos as physically unfit.

The young man in question, James Duplisa, was evidently mistaken for his brother, Harold, now with the volunteers of the 62nd regiment at Quebec. James is enrolled among the artillery at Partridge Island and expects to leave with the second contingent. Visiting relatives yesterday afternoon, in uniform, no doubt caused the general error.

Thus far none of the Lancaster men have returned, but on the contrary letters received tell they are getting along splendidly and fully appreciate the part they are taking in preparation for defence of the empire.

Councillor Bryant, Golding and O'Brien, who were notified a few days ago by R. E. Armstrong that they would have charge of the patriotic collecting fund, and have not yet gotten together to make plans or arrangements, but expect to do so soon.

There are quite a number of volunteers from this section, about twenty, it is said, all told, and it is expected the parish contributions will be proportionately generous.

THERE IS NO REASON TO BE DISCOURAGED

London, Sept. 1.—The Daily Chronicle's military correspondent says:—"The story is at last told though not fully, of the desperate fighting of the past week. British history has no record of anything like it. The great battles of centuries will lose their hold on the imagination of men. For when the account of the repulse of our attacking numbers from position to position becomes accessible a lustrious chapter will have been added to the annals of the army. For in the sanguinary actions and forced withdrawal not a man failed in his duty, and fear was written on no man's face, but the scene was one of unquenchable resolve. Notwithstanding the enormous losses, there is nothing to show that either the British or the French army has been smashed or demoralized."

"We shall make no reproach against the conduct of the French campaign, for the French army is covered with glory also, and is returning blow for blow. But it is the unfortunate truth that the French staff have failed to penetrate the German lines, and that the German army is now using the advantage which the sea gives us of moving our base, and wherever the tide of war may flow, we can move our base north or south wherever the war may require it."

"There is no reason to be discouraged. The Germans have had several surprises, and others await them."

HEAVY RAINFALL TODAY; MUCH HAY INJURED IN FIELDS

More than an inch of rain in six hours is a record which was established in the city this morning, during the heaviest rainstorm of the season. The storm broke about six o'clock and has kept up almost incessantly ever since. Early this morning the sky was particularly overcast and those who were stirring about seven o'clock were compelled to use artificial light. On account of the intermittent rainfall during the last few weeks, those who were late in harvesting their hay crop have been unable to get their hay under cover, with the result that there is much hay now lying in the fields that may be a total loss.

Between six and nine o'clock this morning the rainfall amounted to .73 of an inch.

I. C. R. ELEVATOR INQUIRY

Arthur Cummings was the only new witness to give evidence in the I. C. R. elevator inquiry in the police court this morning. Mr. Cummings was one of the others employed in the elevator. He said that the elevator was not closed early on the night previous to the fire on account of hot boxes. He left the elevator soon after ten o'clock and did not know of the fire until the next morning. John Kyfen, Daniel O'Neill and Joseph Tolten were recalled but no new evidence of any importance was given by them. O'Neill is certain that the big door to the elevator was closed when he first saw the fire and that he told Kyfen and Mooney of the fire afterwards. Kyfen said he had rung the alarm before O'Neill spoke to him. The hearing was adjourned until 2 o'clock.
