THE POPE'S ENCYCLICAL

IS LENGTHY AND TREATS WITH A VARIETY OF SUBJECTS.

The Mutual Rights and Functions of the Church and State dealt with in the Direction of Bonelli belongs to the Church alone.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 8.—The latest Encyclical of Pope Leo XIII is a very lengthy document. It deals with a variety of subjects.

He admits that the rulers of states should be free to guide their affairs, not only without the opposition but with assistance of the church.

The church, he says, must concern herself with the laws formulated in the states, because of the welfare of the state itself and because it sometimes encroaches on the rights of the citizen by passing their due bounds.

GIGANTIC LABOR ALLIANCE.

MOVEMENT TO ACCUMULATE AN IMMENSE STRIKE FUND.

Project of Representative Workmen to Organize a Joint Stock Association of Lockouts and "Iron-clad" Advances.

There is to be organized in this country, previous to the eight-hour strike of May 1, 1890, a gigantic labor alliance—unless the plans and purposes of several of the most active labor advocates labor financial alliance within the ranks of the American Federation of Labor.

The projectors of the movement propose to accumulate a joint stock fund of at least $200,000 before May 30, this entire sum to be placed at the disposal of any trade whose craftsmen are so severely treated, or are locked out. The organization of this alliance is said to be already well under way, although the matter has been kept so secret as possible.

The intention among the men actively engaged in attempting to organize the movement was not to have the strike public until the new movement with surprising success.

In giving their reasons for this movement the leaders state that the progress of the movement is to be kept secret, and the toll to be exacted from the strikers is to be a percentage of the amount of the fund.

The leaders further claim that labor organizations have practically run on strike with the aid of the fund.

The fund is to be used to pay the expenses of labor organizations and to provide for the maintenance of the strikers.

THE FAVOR OF MITCHELL.

MACE AND MITCHELL HAVE A FOUR ROUND GOAT LONDON.

The Police Stop the Fight.—The Judges Decide for Mitchell.—Mace Breaks a Finger.—Bill Goode Beaten by Tom Wall in Twelve Rounds.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The match between Mitchell and Mace was short and decisive. It was fought in four rounds, of two minutes each. Neither of the men had trained much. Two thousand persons were present and a large number of high priced aristocrats gathered around the ring. The police at first objected but yielded gracefully when it was explained that the match was purely to determine the points of sparring, style and fistic skill.

The contest began at 10 p. m. Mitchell forced the fighting from the first and gained the first knockdown blow. At the end of the first round it was evident that Mace had but little chance to win.

In the second round Mace was again knocked down. He rose and was a little reluctant, but made upon the whole a better showing than at the outset.

In the third round he made a determined attempt to turn the tide, and landed on Mitchell's chin two very heavy blows which sent him reeling. Nevertheless he failed to follow up. Mitchell slipped and fell. Both showed signs of distress and the veteran was clearly done up. Mitchell hit him on the ropes and punished him severely.

When time was called for the fourth round there were many doubts as to whether Mace could appear, but he came up, though in bad condition, and received a very heavy blow between the eyes. The millman ordered the match to cease, and both judges pronounced in favor of Mitchell. Mace broke the little finger of his left hand in the first round.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—A big fight between Tom Wall and Bill Goode, under the Marquis of Queensbury rules and with two once gloves took place at the Athletic Club last night for the middle weight championship and £225 a side. Five hundred persons were present and Sir John Lubbock presented the prize to the victor.

The betting at the start was 2 to 1 on Goode. Great excitement prevailed in the arena. Wall rallied all his science and led throughout, winning easily in 12 rounds. Goode expressed himself as satisfied with the decision.

The Berlin Labor Conference. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE. LONDON, Feb. 8.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says: The receipts prepared by the privy councillor, who has been always understood to be Prince Bismarck's right-hand man. What ever may be the fate of the conference of employers and workmen, will shortly be convened in Berlin to prepare terms on the subject.

Deaths in Milk Pails. BY TELEGRAPH TO THE GAZETTE. There are Destroying Angel Cows, say the Doctors. "Death and the dairyman go hand in hand." So say the physicians, but the milkmen seek revenge by charging a partnership, between death and the doctors, according to the Philadelphia Record. Whatever may be the merits of the case, the war between milk and medicine will probably continue until that busy day when every baby shall have its own physician. Death has been hard work for the milkmen, and unless he shall soon have a respite from his labors the destroying angel is likely to be used by overwork.

As many physicians would have the world believe, man is born only to die, and from the day he reaches the milkman's hands he is not travelling along a milkly way of disease and destruction, a sort of river of death that issues from the order of the new and flows directly to the graveyard. To the mother of three children, who consume a gallon of milk per diem, and to the man who shakes his shoulders and then with a draught of creamy fluid, there are not pleasant thoughts, but milk has been a staple article of diet ever since cows grazed in the Garden of Eden, and it is likely to continue in use as long as the human race shall exist and the cows hold the glass.

The terrors that the alarmist sees in the glass of frothy, creamy milk are like the visions that a 12-year old child sees in the glowing streets of Berlin, the chief socialist stronghold of Germany. This gives color to the suggestion that the receipts are intended for effect in the election on the subject.
