B., Nov. 10 (Special).—Word has been received here that Dr. John Brittain, formerly instructor in natural science at the Provincial Normal School, but for the past year on the staff of the MacDonald College at St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, has retired with a pension of $1,500 per annum from the Carnegie fund. He severed his connection with the normal school about five years ago and afterwards for a time had charge of school gardens work in Carleton and Victoria counties and during the winter months lectured on chemistry at the U. N. He is regarded as one of the best instructors in Canada in his line of work and many old friends in New Brunswick will regret to learn of his retirement. The doctor intends devoting his entire time in future to scientific research.

A LAME DUCK

Italian Barque Unable to Navigate Puts Into Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 9 (Special).—The Italian Bark Pietro Accento from Delaware Breakwater for Boston put in at this evening. The vessel left on October 10th and was caught in a series of storms. She lost her sails and it being impossible to navigate her she was driven off her course and down to this coast. She crept into port a sorry spectacle. The bark was in ballast and she was to load in Boston for Montevideo. Her charter expires by Thursday and if she is not in Boston by that time it will be cancelled. She will be towed there.

BLEW OUT HIS BRAINS

New York, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Walworth H. Tappan, well known in the iron and steel trade of the south and middle west, and who lived in Louisville, Ky., blew his brains out tonight in the washroom of the Hotel Savoy on Fifth avenue. The report of the shot, fired from a large calibre revolver, was heard through the lower part of the hotel and created great excitement. Dependancy over a nervous affliction which was constantly growing worse is given by his wife as the cause of the act.

WILL GO AFTER THE DOMINION GRANT FOR NEXT YEAR'S FAIR

The annual meeting of the St. John Exhibition Association is being held this afternoon, when the reports of the recent fair will be submitted and directors elected for the ensuing year. Owing to the increase in the amount of money paid out in prizes, some $2,500, there is a decrease of about $800 on this year's show. A determined effort is being made by the officers of the association to procure the Dominion grant for 1909, and, if successful, as they expect to be, extensive changes and improvements will be made in the buildings.

Although it Was Only a "Friendly Exhibition" John Vanderbeck is Dead From Effects of a Blow.

New York, Nov. 10.—The Times says: "In a friendly boxing bout last night, John Vanderbeck, a 20 year old clerk, was killed by Edward Lynch, a 10 year old clerk. Vanderbeck hit Lynch several times. Lynch hit Vanderbeck a glancing blow on the jaw. To his friends' horror, Vanderbeck fell, caught hold of the mantel, closed his eyes and sank to the floor. He was dead before a physician arrived. Lynch was locked up on a technical charge of homicide.

HE WANTED TO DIE ON THE GALLOWS

Man Sentenced to Life Imprisonment Was Disappointed Because He was Not Hanged.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 8.—Albert Roubicik, who testified yesterday that he had murdered Emil Kvanofsky, a Chicago jeweler, because of infatuation for his victim's wife, whom he expected to marry, was sentenced to life imprisonment by the jury which reported today. Roubicik said he confessed his crime, hoping the jury would sentence him to death on the gallows.

CHICKEN THIEF WAS CONSIDERABLY MIXED

It transpired during the examination of Joseph McQuade the accused chicken thief at the police court this morning that the man whom the prisoner sought to establish, gave the fowl to him on Marsh Bridge is ill in the hospital. McQuade professed to be surprised at this information. Although not under oath the accused positively contradicted the statements of Policeman Ward and Sgt. Caples denying that he told the officers that Edward McQuade was his benefactor. He declared that he mentioned no names whatever. He said the man was an unknown friend with whom he had been employed in a lumber yard in Maine two years ago and whom he had not seen since. The man was approximately 22 years old.

THE HOLIDAY IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Nov. 9 (Special).—The holiday was quietly observed today, all the principal streets were closed and business was generally suspended. Rain fell heavily in the morning but the afternoon was fine. A royal salute of 21 guns was fired at noon and tonight His Excellency gave a state dinner at Government House. Sons of England and St. George's societies gave a joint cable message of congratulations to His Majesty. The Reading Club of the High School Alumni will meet at the residence of Mrs. Henry Austin, Mt. Pleasant, on Thursday night. The topic for discussion will be Short story.

MAGISTRATE SCORES PARENTS WHO PANDER TO DRUNKEN SONS

Prior to imposing a fine of $8 on Frank Hayes, a youth, who was arrested for intoxication at midnight on Friday, Magistrate Ritchie spoke feelingly and strongly on the predilection for liquor that numerous youths of the city possess and censured the parents who gratify the whims of their sons and offer excuses for their depravity. "This is the worst year for boys in the police court that I have ever known," said his honor. "They go to church on Sunday and on Monday they appear before me," he continued, "and then the mothers are intervening with you haven't a mother's heart, and you can't put old heads on young shoulders, and I'm sure he's one of the nicest boys in the city of St. John," and such trash. "I'm glad I haven't got one of these mother's hearts," said his honor, "but I would know her, but I did readily. Addressing Hayes, the magistrate concluded: "You and Ovanough should be harnessed together in a team and labelled 'The rising generation.'"

MONTEREAL VERDICT IN CARMACK'S MURDER IS CAUSE OF SENSATION IN SOUTHERN STATES

Ex-U. S. Senator and Editor Shot in the Streets of Nashville Tenn. Yesterday was Important Figure in American National Life—His Slayer was the Son of Man who was Formerly His Best Friend.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Messages by wire and mail from various sections testify to the tremendous sensation caused by the killing of former Senator Carmack by young Robin Cooper in a street shooting yesterday. Carmack's brilliant career as a United States senator from Tennessee had made him one of the best known of national figures. Col. Duncan Cooper, father of young Robin Cooper, who was with his son when the dual occurred, has an extensive acquaintance and legion of friends both in his own and various states. Carmack's race for the Democratic nomination for senator in which he was defeated by Col. Robert I. Taylor, and his more recent race for the governorship, in which he was defeated by Governor Patterson, have served to draw his following in the states closer to him, and his tragic end has spread distress and bitterness among his friends. It is feared this morning that the end of the trouble is not yet at hand, and it is said to play a part in coming political office.

EGGS AND THE HEN

(Bangor Commercial). Let us sing the praise of the great American hen, who during the last year may have produced nearly 1,300,000,000 dozens of eggs. Do you realize what that means? It means a writer in the Woman's Home Companion. Well, listen: If instead of regarding quietly at home in Iowa she had chosen to demonstrate her powers to the universe at large the hen might have laid those eggs, each two inches long, end to end in a continuous chain reaching 238,818 miles up to the moon, back again and then more than half way around the world for good measure—a total of 492,436 miles. Furthermore, if these eggs had been made into one omelet half an inch thick that could easily have covered Manhattan Island, an area of 22 square miles. An old Mohammedan legend tells that King Solomon used to travel through the air with all his armies on a wonderful flying carpet protected from the rays of the sun by the wings of birds. Now, according to the poultry census, there are in the United States about 200,000,000 of these winged creatures, keys, geese and ducks of the poultry world, which is three months of over-egg laying, which is a moving picture of King Solomon, the harrowed fields of this country, allowing only a drop of spread to each could easily shadow a fleet of ten thousand ships.

A CASE OF CONSCIENCE

"No, I'm not whistling and singing because business is good," replied the hardware drummer. "What else is to be done? I have a clear conscience for the first time in three years." "Have you confessed to murder?" was asked. "Gentlemen, don't try to be funny. This is a sacred thing. I was in Boston three months ago, and I picked up a package on the street. On opening it I found 75 one-thousand dollar bills. The name of the lady was there, but I took that money and got out of town by first train. My conscience told me that I was as bad as a thief, but I tried to stifle it. I went to a friend in Boston and asked three of his listeners in chorus. "I went to Chicago with the money," he said. "I will tell you what he did, and I shall never forget it. He looked at me and saw how I was suffering, and he took me by the hand and said, in a fatherly way. "My friend, suffer no more. I was going to a poker game when I lost my money and it was gone and gone and gone. But what in thunder are you doing on the road if you are worth $200,000?" "Conscience again, gentlemen—conscience. I won't let me retire and leave you fellows to do all the lying!"

TEMPORARY WRIT ISSUED TO UNSEAT MEMBERS WHO VOTED TO PAY FOR TRIP TO EUROPE, FOR MAYOR AND SECRETARY.

Montreal, Nov. 10 (Special).—Temporary writ was issued this morning to unseat the members of the finance committee of Montreal. The ground on which the writ is issued is that this committee paid the expenses of the mayor and his secretary on a recent trip to the west coast of the continent, closed his eyes and sank to the floor. He was dead before a physician arrived. Lynch was locked up on a technical charge of homicide.

BRATHWAITE'S CASE AT CHATHAM TODAY

Chatham, N. B., Nov. 10 (Special).—The case against Henry Brathwaite, charged with the murder of Frederick B. Kately, of Boston, charged with the murder of the gun law in June 18 and Sept. 15, was begun this morning before Magistrate O'Brien. R. A. Lawler K. C. acted for the prosecution, and A. J. Gregory, K. C. and J. J. F. Winslow, Fredericton, acted for the defence. The only witness called this morning was Alfred Carson, who says that on September 15th he saw Brathwaite and Kately in a room at the Hotel, a place 50 to 60 miles from Brathwaite's home camp. Brathwaite said they had come to the room from the home camp with two boxes of cartridges and a second division of the first party known as Stinson party and confirmed those statements. He would return to the home camp to get a load of it was a three days trip. He said that Brathwaite was in the room on the 15th and 16th. He was in Robinson's employ as a carpenter. He said that he had seen Brathwaite as soon as his fall work was done. He never heard Robinson offer $500 or any other sum to Brathwaite. He knew there was something between Brathwaite and Robinson, but did not suppose that Brathwaite was a murderer. He said that on the 18th he was purely for his benefit. The party he met that day had walked from Fatchers Depot to the home camp. A heavy and somewhat spirited discussion took place between opposing counsel as to routes employed in getting to the home camp. The witness kept to his story very well.

DANGEROUS TO KEEP SALT WATER OUT OF MARSH CREEK

The two former have not received official notification of their retirement and it is understood that the new commissioners have not been furnished with their credentials, so that matters are in an unsettled state and no steps can be taken toward awarding the contract until the commission (however constituted) approves of the plans. There is strong objection among prominent medical practitioners against shutting out entirely the salt water from the marsh as proposed under the present plan. They claim that the salt water is an efficient germicide and the presence of the salt water in the creek nullifies the effect of any, if not all, the noxious substances which flow thereon from the various sewers. This is a matter, it is contended, which should receive very serious consideration.

"Your won't find life quite so lively at Aden as at Massowah," he said.

"We are bound for Aden, then?"

"Where did you think we were heading for, Melbourne?"

"Well, sir, if I gave any thought to it I inclined more to the belief that we were making for our original destination."

"An' where was that?"

"A by somewhere south of us, not far from Perth."

"Have you heard anything fresh?" asked Stump quickly.

"Not a word. But, if we reach Aden, I suppose the expedition will be abandoned."

"They're chawin' about it now in the saloon," said the skipper, glancing over his shoulder to make sure there was no one within earshot.

"Every man, 'cept those on watch, go below," he growled, "an' mind you keep there, with all ports closed, until I tell you to show your ugly mug on deck."

They obeyed in sulky silence, though they appreciated the reason of the order. Hence, when the Cigno stopped her engines abreast of the Aphrodite, there were many more pairs of eyes watching from the yacht than the Italian captain reckoned on.

The warship lowered a boat. Something went wrong with the gear, the after block jammed, the boat fell and dangled from her davits bows first, and an officer and half a dozen men were thrown into the sea. They were soon rescued, but the mishap did not tend to sweeten the temper of the Cigno's commander. A dry officer and crew were requisitioned, and the boat was pulled alongside the yacht.

Stump, with a malicious grin on his face, leaned over the starboard rail.

"What is it?" he demanded. "Have you lost yer bearings?"

The officer replied in Italian, greatly to Stump's disgust.

"I s'pose the chap they chucked overboard was the only Dago among 'em who could speak English," he grunted, but Mrs. Haxton explained that the officer was asking for the gangway to be lowered.

Stump nodded to a couple of sailors, the ladder dropped so smartly that the boat nearly came to grief the second time it reached the deck. Probably he was surprised to find himself in the presence of two such beautiful women. Though Irene spoke Italian, Mrs. Haxton took on herself the role of interpreter. The Cigno carried two letters from the Governor of Massowah, she said. One was addressed to Signor Fenshawe, the other to the signor captain of the British yacht Aphrodite. Would the two gentlemen kindly read the acknowledge receipt of the Governor's epistles?

Both were purely formal documents. They set forth the official demand that the Aphrodite should not attempt to land any of her occupants on Italian territory at a point other than a recognized port, and her owner and commander that the Cigno would enforce observance of the request.

At first, Mr. Fenshawe refused angrily to give a written reply, but von Kerber prevailed on him, and he wrote:

"Mr. Hiram Fenshawe begs to inform the Governor of Erythra that his prohibition of the landing of a British scientific expedition in the colony rules is arbitrary and unwarranted. Mr. Hiram Fenshawe is further of opinion that the said prohibition is part of the lawless treatment to which he and other members of the yacht's company were subjected during their visit to the 'recognized port' of Massowah. Finally, Mr. Hiram Fenshawe intends to lay the whole matter before the British Foreign Office."

This stiff-necked answer showed clearly that the writer was still on von Kerber's side, no matter what revelations were contained in the letter from London which Royvon knew of. Irene copied the note for her grandfather. She made no comment. Perhaps her own island blood was a bolt at the cavalier tone of the Governor's threat.

Stump's letter was characteristic. It ran:

"S. Y. Aphrodite,
"Lat. 15 min. 10 sec. N., Long. 41 min. 15 sec. E.
"Sir—Yours at hand. Will act as think fit."

"Yours truly,
"JOHN STUMP, Master."

THE COMMON APPLE A GREAT SOURCE OF HEALTH

The Juice of the Ordinary Apple is One of the Best Things in the World for Keeping the Blood Pure.

Few people there are but enjoy a ripe, juicy apple. But how many realize that it is a medicine as well as a treat? Apple juice has a very marked effect on the kidneys, increasing their power to throw off the waste products of the body.

Similarly, other fruits stimulate the action of the liver and bowels—others of the skin. Combined, they keep the blood pure—the body clean and healthy. To get this effect, however, one must eat a great deal of fruit, or better, eat a little fruit and take "Fruit-tives."

WHAT IT COSTS TO BE IN "THE SWIM"

Mrs. Howard Gould Says $70,000 a Year Will Provide for "Bare Living Expenses" but $200,000 a Year is a Reasonable Figure.

New York Nov. 8.—Howard Gould has filed his amended answer to the complaint of his wife, Katherine Clemons Gould, who is asking for final separation and alimony. Mrs. Gould made answer through her counsel Clarence J. Shearn.

This answer is so detailed to overshadow every former feature of the case, setting forth in exact items the expenses considered absolutely necessary by a New York society woman.

Mrs. Gould estimates bare living expenses, outside of travelling or necessary contributions to charity, at more than $70,000 a year. She also claims, although she has had in charge the disbursement of about $75,000 a year for the last ten years, she is now in debt, her wardrobe held for a bare and she was unable to secure money for their repair. She suggests that the $200,000 yearly allowed the Countess de Castellan by the French court is reasonable.

She shows that her household expenses frequently, for years at a time, have exceeded every former estimate. Her demands for fixed charge of employes, and that at the same time the expenses of the barn and stable were about $60,000 a year extra. This is her estimate of a society woman's necessary expenses:

KNOCKED SENSELESS AND ROBBED BY A BOLD HIGHWAYMAN

Jed. Kelly of Milltown, Me. Beaten With Iron Bar and Robbed of $98 While He was Unconscious

St. Stephen, N.B., Nov. 9.—It is seldom that the quiet of this community is startled with a highway robbery. On Saturday evening, Jed. Kelly, merchant, of Milltown, Maine, had closed his store and was returning to his home when he was attacked by two well known characters.

Kelly took his money, $98, from the safe and put it in his pocket, but he was evidently watched from the outside. For, after closing his store he was followed by the desperado. One of them struck him over the head with an iron bar which felled him to the ground unconscious. He remained in that condition for some hours and, when he came to himself, he was lying in a pool of blood with a deep gash in his head. He gave the alarm and Marshall Woodman took assistance and proceeded to one Fitzsimmons' home, of Union, N.B., and arrested him and Mar- pition of being one of the thugs. Boone, of Calais, the other suspect, is still at large. It required ten stitches to close the cut in Kelly's head. Kelly is able to be about today, but is very weak.

HARKINS SCORES WITH HIS NEW COMPANY
Two Fine Productions Witnessed at the Opera House Yesterday by Capacity

As many theatre goers as could crowd the Opera House saw W. S. Harkins' company of players "deliver the goods" at two performances yesterday. The first was "The Man On The Box," a dramatization of Harold McGrath's novel of the same name, deals with the adventures of Lieut. Robert Warburton, a young U. S. army officer with a penchant for practical jokes.

In one of his pranks he dons a coachman's livery with the intention of driving his own sister and her shrewish home-

Robson Wants to Win the Baby
A performer who is appearing on the programme doesn't often buy tickets for himself but this is what happened at the Palace last night. Mr. Robson who is appearing in a big musical act with his partner, Mr. Wilson purchased a ticket in the usual manner upon being questioned by the manager he stated that he was going to take a chance on the baby. The manager informed him that nobody connected with the show would be allowed to win the prize; this led to an argument. Mr. Robson stated that if his ticket won and he was not given the baby he would take the matter into court. He retained his ticket and says he will buy one for every performance this week. Wilson says he has six at home and will sell his chance cheaply even though the management does agree to buy the baby if the winner has enough.

The musical month made a big hit last evening and will undoubtedly pack the house all week.

AT THE NICKEL

Yesterday the Nickel entertained more people than upon any previous night in its year and a half of existence. Between 10 and 12 o'clock in the forenoon alone hundreds upon hundreds enjoyed the great programme. It was a banner day for historic Mechanics' Institute and more genuine pleasure was dispensed from 10 to 12 o'clock every hour than has been given for many a day. The same great show is booked for today.

"Little Pat Harrington was one of the bright particular stars and his soldier song "Mamma's Boy" was a tremendous hit. The Dramagraph Co., in their sensational sky-scaper drama, was another huge success, while the gorgeous historical picture "Mary Stuart, Queen of Scots," was a masterpiece in motion photography and fine acting. This is a most instructive feature. Miss Foley in "My Rosy Chamber," a Mexican love-ditty, was very much appreciated, as was also Mr. Cairns in a dreamy ballad, "I Loved You When I Saw These Eyes." At this afternoon's matinee Pat Harrington will sing "Mamma's Boy" again.

AT THE PRINCESS

Large crowds attended the Princess yesterday and as usual had the pleasure of seeing first-class pictures and hearing good songs well sung. The leading picture, "A Daughter of Erin, a great Irish drama, was highly applauded. Miscalculated Revenge is a drama and has many exciting scenes. High Jumping at Hurlingham is a picture pleasing, especially to those interested in horse racing. Mrs. de Tulle was applauded for her singing of "Little Black Me." Ed Courtney's singing of "Glorious" was also well received. There is a matinee every afternoon at 2:15.

The young woman, thus unceremoniously saluted, has Warburton arrested for disorderly conduct, and in the police court, under the name of James Osborne, he is fined $30. Miss Annesley pays his fine and then offers him a position as groom in her household. Still carrying the joke, he accepts, and the resulting complications furnish much entertaining humor. Incidentally there is a dramatic vein for, installed as groom in the Annesley family, Warburton discovers that Col. Annesley is about to sell plans of the defenses at Fortress Monroe to a Russian spy. The means he takes to frustrate this deal supply material for heavier work on the part of several members of the company.

Much interest centred yesterday in the appearance of the new "yells" engaged by Mr. Harkins for this season. They are, Mr. Wilmer Walter and Miss Julia Morton, and their work last evening bore the mark of the highest capability. With limited opportunities they both scored heavily, and there is now a general desire to see them in stronger roles—an opportunity for which will be afforded later. Mr. Walter has a splendid voice and a good stage presence, and best of all is unaffected. Miss Morton is a beautiful blonde, who has a charming vivacious

THE GUILDHALL SPEECH

The speech of England's premier at the Lord Mayor's banquet is awaited with interest in London and in all the capitals of Europe. It is the custom on this occasion for the first minister to allude so far as official reserve will permit to the international situation.

There was nothing in Premier Asquith's address last evening to create alarm; but much to reassure those who have regarded with some forebodings recent events in the near east. Mr. Asquith was able not only to congratulate England upon its official reserve will permit to the international situation.

There is no quarrel between parties in England over the question of naval supremacy. The present premier's declaration that this supremacy must be maintained is merely a statement of what is in the mind of the nation. There may be, and is, dispute about the policy of administration, but there is no thought of reducing the efficiency of the defender of imperial commerce, and the safeguard of the United Kingdom itself.

THE TRUSTS The trust is not necessarily the product of a protective tariff. We are told that when the American tobacco trust had secured control of its own field, except for foreign competition, it found in that competitor the great English tobacco trust, flourishing under free trade and controlling production not only in Europe but in Asia.

Another Italian in Queens county has been using his knife to wreak vengeance on a fellow-workman. It would be better to deport these murderous gentlemen than pay for keeping them in jail, to say nothing of the results of permitting them to be at large with knives in their possession.

it is believed, under the administration of Mr. Taft. There has been such an awakening of public sentiment against all great combines that the government must act in the matter. Its course will naturally be conservative, with due regard for vested rights, but, so far as combines which operate against the public interest are concerned, we are likely to see more stringent laws, rather than a relapse into former conditions.

Combinations there are and will be, but there must be a limit to the extent to which a few persons may control great common sources of industry, transportation and commerce.

INTOLERANCE

President Roosevelt stands on solid ground when he declares a man's religious faith is not a matter for political discrimination. The cry appears to have been raised against Mr. Taft, who is a Unitarian. In a letter on the subject President Roosevelt says:

"In my cabinet at the present moment there sit side by side Catholic and Protestant, Christian and Jew, each man chosen because in my belief he is peculiarly qualified to discharge the duties of the office to which I have appointed him. In no case does the man's religious belief in any way influence his discharge of his duties, save as it makes him more eager to act justly and uprightly in his relations to all men."

Readers of newspapers will hope that something good may come of the cable conference which opens in London today. The present cable rate is so high that Canadian newspapers must largely content themselves with news served up for United States readers, and not necessarily accurate. The attempt to secure a Canadian Associated Press service was successful for two reasons. One was that the cost was too great, and the other was that the man at the other end of the wire had a rather poor idea of the kind of news the Canadian public appreciate.

Either the Bond government in Newfoundland has been defeated or there will be a practical deadlock. Even if Morra wins it will be by a small majority that it will be extremely difficult to go on with legislative work. One side or the other may be able to induce some of its opponents to cross the house, but that would create a storm in the country and intensify the bitterness of partisan strife.

The press almost every day tells harrowing tales of accidental shooting. That persons should walk carelessly with loaded firearms, or that one should pull a loaded gun toward him seems inconceivable when it is so common knowledge that fatal accidents so frequently occur in this manner.

Holmer, the Halifax runner, by winning the Hamilton road race, has taken another step forward among the leaders in distance events. This sport has attained great popularity in Canada within a few years. St. John is developing some fast men, who may presently get into the front rank.

Another fiery southerner has shot an editor. It is said the editor drew first, but was not quick enough on the trigger. There is really very little difference between this kind of murder and other kinds. A few well conducted hangings are needed in the southern states.

Another Italian in Queens county has been using his knife to wreak vengeance on a fellow-workman. It would be better to deport these murderous gentlemen than pay for keeping them in jail, to say nothing of the results of permitting them to be at large with knives in their possession.

If the Duke of the Abruzzi intends to wed Miss Elkins of the United States, he should proceed with the business without delay. The American press and public are much worried over the matter, and the Duke should consider their feelings.

WHAT PUZZLED HIM. A man was standing on the foot-path in the rain, and he was looking at a sign which said "Beware of Dog." He was looking at the sign, and he was looking at the dog, and he was looking at the sign, and he was looking at the dog.

THE INGLENOOK PHILOSOPHER of Kennebecasis Bay. The story of the average boy is not half so absorbing as some of Robert Louis Stevenson's or Rider Haggard's stories. But the environment of the boy of seven years ago was vastly different from that of the boy of today and so the story may not be wholly without interest.

There was but one really poor man living in our neighborhood. He was weak in intellect and had a large family. He bought all his household supplies through my father and worked for us during the busy seasons. My father purchased for him a house and lot of six acres of land, securing himself by mortgage, but on his deathbed he saw that his account was balanced and the mortgage cancelled.

They have all gone away—every one, but often in my day dreams I fancy I hear my mother reading as she often did when I sat at her feet in the old home, "Thanatopsis," one of the world's greatest poems, by William Cullen Bryant. I quote from memory:

"So live that when thy summons comes To join the innumerable caravan that moves To that mysterious realm, where each shall take his chamber in the halls of death, Thou go not like the quarry slave, Scourged to his dungeon, but sustained And cheered by an unfaltering trust, Like one who wraps the drapery of his soul About him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

A Shrewd Woman's Wisdom

If you were buying five Persian Lamb coats at one time wouldn't you naturally expect the furrier to give you a closer price on such a very large order, and wouldn't he naturally be very anxious to secure your business, because if he only charged you one-half his regular profit on five coats he would still be making three times as much on the transaction as if he had only sold you one garment.

MANY DON'T KNOW HEART AFFECTED.

More People than Aware of it Have Heart Disease.

"If examinations were made of every one, people would be surprised at the number of persons walking about suffering from heart disease."

This startling statement was made by a doctor at a recent inquest. "I should not like to say that heart disease is as common as this would imply," said the expert, "but I am sure that the number of persons going about with weak hearts must be very large."

Hundreds of people go about their daily work on the verge of death, and yet do not know it. It is only when the shock comes that kills them that the unsuspected weakness of the heart is made apparent."

"But undoubtedly heart weakness, not disease, is more prevalent nowadays. I should think that the stress of living, the wear and rush of modern business life, have a lot to do with heart trouble."

There is no doubt but that this is correct, and we would strongly advise any one suffering in any way from heart trouble to try a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Price 50 cts. per box or 5 boxes for $1.25, as all dealers or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
