BOTH SIDES WORKING HARD. Contests Will be Very Close—Both Sides Confident. Conservative Workers Claim to be Gaining Ground in Every Ward in the City.

From an early hour this morning up to the present both candidates and their workers have been on the constant jump. Both sides claim to be polling a majority vote, but neither side is talking of over-whelming majorities.

During the afternoon the votes in all the wards began to come in. In the Liberal electors when sent for absolutely refused to take any part in the election. If the number of votes cast up to the noon hour was small, it was nevertheless generally conceded that Dr. Daniel was in the lead.

In the city wards, Queens, Dukes and Sydney, the contest is tight, and as yet it is almost impossible to predict the outcome in these wards with anything like certainty. The Conservative workers in Victoria ward express themselves as confident in the outcome. It is said that the government is spending much money in this ward.

As soon as the Ballots are counted, the full returns will be published in a Second Edition of the STAR. OUT IN THE STORM. How Two North Enders Spent a Rough and Dangerous Night. ROOSEVELT'S FORTUNE. If ever a man was a favorite of the Fates, that man is Theodore Roosevelt. True, were he not the man he is—forceful, able, earnest, honest, courageous—he might not have won that favor without which his career—with all his strange qualities—could have been what it has.

Take him when he was under secretary of the navy. He was doing good work; but he might have done work that he grew gray and died without achieving more than a local reputation. But then, just at the right time, came the Spanish-American trouble and he went surging dramatically off to the war with a picturesque troop of rough riders, whose achievements, he—being more picturesque than the rest—succeeded in bringing to him light to such advantage that, when he came back, a wave of popular approval caught him and swept him into the gubernatorial chair of New York State.

Here, because he was an honest man, he became again conspicuous and won so much more favor that to shelve him as a presidential possibility, the republican machine forced him into the semi-retirement of the vice-presidency. Here, where he could do nothing conspicuous, he was fast fading as a political possibility when the blind fury with the shears whirled to office and all the political powers were determined that Roosevelt should be no exception. They laid their plans well and had Roosevelt been a man standing by himself, it is more than probable that Senator Hanna, the boss of the republican political machine would have wrested the nomination from him at the convention next summer. But here the hooded Fate steps in again and Hanna is moved out of the way.

Nothing now seems to stand between Roosevelt and the republican nomination, which practically means his election to another term in the presidential chair. He will be a bold man who, after studying Roosevelt's career, will venture to come in between.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE. The sensation mongers who are trying to evolve a Franco-British war scare out of this Far East conflict, have absolutely nothing upon which to base their vapors, except the existence of a popular sentiment in France favorable to Russia. The interests of the two nations do not conflict in any way, save perhaps in the colonial sphere, where such questions as the French shore of Newfoundland call for careful settlement. Instead of being conflicting, all other interests tend to draw the nations closer together. For instance, England is the best customer of France and France sells the British commodities which she cannot or does not want to manufacture for herself.

Added to this unity of interest, is the growing bond of friendship which is largely the work of King Edward personally. Altogether it seems highly improbable that the cordial relations between France and England can be disturbed by mere difference of hope regarding victory for Russia or for Japan.

A GOOD SUGGESTION. The suggestion that Canada should send out a few of her best soldiers to watch the war in the Far East is one which should immediately be acted upon. Representatives of every other nation are there accompanying the forces of one side or the other, on the alert to note points which may prove useful should their countries ever be forced into war.

The effect of modern weapons and modern conditions has never been fully studied. Canada is about to spend large sums of money in increasing the strength and efficiency of her militia and the information which could be acquired by capable soldiers observing the land tactics of the Russian and the Japanese forces during the present war would be of great value in directing that expenditure.

OPPORTUNITY. Master of human destinies am I? Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait. Child and fields I walk; I penetrate Deserts and fields remote, and, passing by, Hovel and mart and palace, soon or late, I knock unbidden once at every gate. If sleeping, wake; if feasting, rise before. I turn away. It is the hour of fate. And they who follow me reach every state. Mortals desire and conquer every foe. Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate, Condemned to failure, penury and woe. Seek me in vain and uselessly inquire. I answer not, and I return no more. —Jao, J. Ingalls.

GOES CRAZY WITH TWO BULLETS IN HIS BRAIN. Hospital Patient in Brooklyn Tries to Jump from Window—Shot in November, Case Unusual.

With two self-inflicted bullet wounds in his brain, John Peters, twenty-one years old, of No. 249 Saratoga avenue, Brooklyn, has been taken to the Eastern District Hospital since the latter part of November, because suddenly insane yesterday morning in the street.

Peters fought them desperately, but he was overpowered and placed in a padded cell. His violence increased and besides breaking a bed he succeeded in forcing open the iron barred door. He made a second attack on the same nurses when he attempted to subdue him, and it required six men to hold him down while he was placed in a straitjacket and tied with his hands and feet to the Flattush Hospital.

CHINESE NEW YEAR. This is the Chinese New Year. The holiday began at midnight, and although the twenty-four hours ending at midnight tonight are held sacred in China, those of the celestial empire who have strayed to this country do not pay much attention to the day, and in many cases do not even stop work. But at the same time they observe the holiday in their homes with music and floral decorations. In the latter, the sacred day is the predominant feature and these are found in every house. These lilies should be in full bloom before the Chinese New Year, and there is a strong belief that if they are not, the plants do not bloom misfortune will attend the owner for a whole year.

Boils were so painful could not sleep at night.

APPEARED ON NECK, LEGS AND ARMS.

It is well-known to all that bad blood is the direct cause of all skin diseases and it is necessary for the blood to be cleansed and the eruptions will disappear. For this purpose there is nothing so equal as Burdock Blood Bitters as the thousands of testimonials we have on hand will testify.

Mr. Willard Thompson, McNeill's Mills, P. E. I., writes as follows: "I wish to state to you what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. Some time ago my blood got out of order and many boils appeared on my neck, legs and arms. They were so painful that I could not sleep at night. After trying many different remedies without any success, I finally decided, on the advice of a friend, to use Burdock Blood Bitters. Before I had quite completely disappeared, and I wish to emphasize the fact that I think Burdock Blood Bitters the best blood purifier on the market today."

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 15.—Radium in the mica deposits of the eastern and western provinces of Canada is an alluring discovery that has caused a stir here. Mr. Obalski found two years ago in a mica mine in Charlottetown, Quebec, a curious mineral which he stated in his official report at the time, was composed of oxide of uranium and other valuable but little known substances. The specimen was of dark color, dense and covered with a sort of yellow substance.

In other mica mines he found stones resembling the first one, but while in the first case he was able to distinguish the presence of oxide of uranium, he could not vouch for it in the other stones which he found.

When he had his attention drawn later to the properties of radium, it struck him that the stone from the mica mine, which he found to contain the most uranium, might also contain radium, and so it might be possible to produce its intensely luminous rays. But he could not see a single luminous ray when the stone was put in darkness.

Obalski submitted the stone to Gustave Rinfret, one of the parliamentary draughtsmen, and the latter placed the stone in a photographic plate in a dark room, where it was left for about twelve hours. At the end of that time it was found that the stone had been photographed upon the plate. Several similar experiments made after when he had the same result, so it is believed that the stone and other similar ones to be found in the Lac du Pied des Monts mica contains radium.

Machinist (to the husband)—"I think she is covered inside with scales about an inch thick. (Husband has no more need of this doctor.)

WANTED TO GROW TALL. NOW WANTS TO STOP. Youth Who Has Been Taking Medicine Now Wants Redress from Company. MUNCIE, Ind., Feb. 15.—William Hart, who is student in the divinity school at Chicago, has been growing tall so fast, after taking a patent medicine for increasing height, that he fears that he will never be able to stop. He has sought an attorney to see whether he has legal redress against the company that furnished him the medicine. Hart, who is twenty years old, thought that a preacher should have a commanding presence. So when he saw an advertisement telling how anybody can grow taller by the expenditure of a small amount he lost no time in following instructions. When he went to Chicago in September, he measured five feet four inches. At five feet eight inches he began to fear for the consequences, but concluded to use it he could not stop growing. He used it to a small amount he lost no time in following instructions. When he went to Chicago in September, he measured five feet four inches. LOCAL NEWS.

Celebrated Broad Cove coal, $7.00 per ton delivered at Water's, Walker's wharf. Feb. 12. Mrs. Allingham, of 83 Murray street, was injured early last evening while walking along the Douglas avenue car track. Owing to the storm she was run down by a car and received a deep cut in the forehead. Dr. Roberts treated her and she was removed to her home.

The Bungalow Club, of West End, had a happy time last night in the Martello Hotel, when, despite the storm, they enjoyed a lengthy programme of dances. Some twenty-five people were present. At midnight, Host Brennan set before the joyous party a very substantial and nicely prepared dinner. Dancing was resumed and the hours passed very pleasantly.

No lover of music and fun should fail to attend the concert in City Hall, West Side, on Thursday evening. Next the array of talent: Impassioned Banjo Quintette; Cresswell Matthews, humorist; Walter Belding, tenor; Davidson and Holder, banjoists; Beatty and Hamms, mandolinists, and the Trionfante Mandolin Club of nine players. Tickets only twenty cents.

PREFERRED SNOWBANK TO ALMSHOUSE. The driver of the almshouse team appears to be a very absent minded man. On Saturday he came to the city for the purpose of conveying to the almshouse two persons who had been ordered there by the magistrate. One was a young woman and the other was James Cooper the old man who for several years has been in the habit of sleeping in the rear of McLean's Baptist laundry. The two got in the sleigh at the police court, and the driver started, going direct to the Marsh Bridge. All went well until the sleigh struck a ditch on Erli street, and then when it bumped, Cooper bounced. He landed in the snow and the driver, on his way, blissfully unconscious of the loss to the society at the almshouse.

POLICE COURT POLITICS. This was election day in police court as well as elsewhere, and the result was one vote for McKown. John Ryan came in from the woods yesterday to vote for the liberal candidate, but ran up against some of the resources of civilization. He was arrested and today claimed to be thoroughly ashamed of himself. He had two dollars, but the fine was four, and Ryan went to jail for a few minutes until the liberal workers in Kings ward knew of his misfortune. Then the wad worked. Michael McKown was found last night lying in a snowbank somewhat apart from the main body of snow. He was smaller than the one in which his namesake is being buried today. McKown was sent in for two months.

A WALKAWAY RUNAWAY. Yesterday afternoon the four horses attached to the walkaway, which is used for leveling the snow on the streets, ran away from the corner of Hanover and Brussels streets, and created some excitement for a time. The walkover came in contact with a telephone post on Brussels street and one of the wheels was smashed. The horses were finally caught by Officer William Sullivan.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH. There will be services on Ash Wednesday at 11 and 8, both services being held in the church. The daily Lenten service will be held in the schoolhouse at 5 p. m., with addresses and readings.

BANKS PLAY HOCKEY.

Bank of N. S. Beats E. N. A. by 4-2. Quite an interesting game of hockey was played last evening in Queen's rink between teams from the Banks of Nova Scotia and British North America. The line up was as follows:

B. of N. S. E. of N. A. Smith goal ..... Ellis Crawford ..... Lindsay Law ..... cover ..... Carlyle McLeod ..... forward ..... Sadler McNeill ..... Schofield Jack ..... McDonald McIntyre ..... Knight

In the first half two goals were shot for the Nova Scotians and one for the Brits. This was repeated in the second half, the final score standing 4-2. The play was very fair and was swift at times as some of the players are members of regular teams.

AFTER A NEW BOAT.

It has been stated repeatedly that the Star Line is trying to close the purchase of a steamer to replace the David Weston. R. S. Orchard, manager of the line says this is not the case. The company is certainly negotiating with several concerns, as there are two or three boats now in service in Upper Canada which are suited to the St. John river service. But as yet the company has not definitely decided that another steamer is necessary. The steamer now in use is a large one and is less expensive boat than a new and larger one would be. But if satisfactory arrangements can be reached it is quite possible that the Star Line will purchase another steamer.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The commissioners of the public library met this afternoon for the purpose of considering tenders for the furnishing of the new building. It is stated that the stock room will be completed sufficiently by April 20th to permit of the transference of books. The present library building has not been leased for the coming year, as it is expected that the new one will be opened in the early spring. It may be that for about a month, while the transfer from one building to the other is in progress, no books will be issued.

DAVID HARUM'S HIT.

In spite of the wild storm last evening the audience which witnessed the first performance of David Harum by the Dalley Street Company was a large one. The piece was greatly enjoyed, and laughter was continuous. The different incidents described in the novel were realistically described and excellent work was done by the members of the company. David Harum will be repeated this evening, and election returns will be announced from the stage.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

James V. and Mrs. Russell, of Main street, were happily remembered last evening, the eleventh anniversary of their marriage. Members of the Crescent Whist Club along with other friends assembled at the home of the bride for a very pleasant and enjoyable evening. During the evening, C. A. Rutherford, speaking for the others, wished Mr. and Mrs. Russell many more years of happiness. The address was accompanied by a silver candelabra.

FOREST PRESERVATION.

An interesting lecture on the preservation of forests was delivered last evening before the N. B. Historical Association by Mr. Stewart, president of the Canadian Forestry Association. The lecturer showed that in the course of a few years Canada will be the principal source of supply for Great Britain in timber and forest products, and that it is the duty of Canadians to adopt every means for the preservation of their forests.

A BAD STORM

One of the Wildest Nights of the Winter--Over Five Inches of Snow Fell.

It has been snowing in all parts of the Maritime Provinces since yesterday afternoon. In St. John the greatest fall of snow was between the hours of three yesterday afternoon and midnight. A little over five inches on the level falling during that time. The high wind which accompanied the storm caused the snow to some places to drift to great heights.

The snow began falling in the city a little before three o'clock yesterday afternoon. The wind then was light, but increased in velocity as night came on. After dark the storm took on the characteristics of a blizzard. The wind every direction with blinding force. Those who had to be out last night complain of a relentlessness with which the storm met them in every direction.

The following particulars in reference to the storm are furnished by D. L. Hutchinson of the Weather Bureau. With the beginning of the snow fall the barometer began to fall and yesterday afternoon went down rapidly. About one o'clock this morning it ceased falling and began gradually to rise again. The temperature during the storm averaged from 17 to 20 degrees below zero. The wind was from the northeast and blew at a rate of from 23 to 30 miles an hour. At the height of the storm it was blowing a little over 4 miles an hour, and from the northwest. The director of the observatory says that this storm, while not one of the worst this winter, was one of the most blustering.

Comparing the present time with some time last winter, it is found that on the 16th of February, 1903, there was a light fall of snow, about a quarter of an inch falling on the level. The small fall did not do much to assist in sleighing, which all last February was poor. The temperature last 16th of February was 23 above, as the highest and 12 above as the lowest. On the 17th of last February there was a considerable snowfall, but on the 20th it was sleighing, what little there was of it, was completely ruined. The total fall of snow for the whole month of February last year wasn't much more than that of an ordinary snow storm this winter--ten inches in all being the depth.

WATER SCARCITY.

A Complaint from Leinster Street This Time. Letters have been received at City Hall from the lower portion of Leinster street complaining of the lack of water in that locality. It has been found impossible for some time to procure a sufficient supply of water down there. Six persons are mentioned in the complaint, and they feel that some improvement should be made in the system.

Ald. Millidge said today that a one inch service pipe would be run from the high pressure system to connect with these houses where the scarcity is felt. Leinster street, south of Pitt street, is on the summit of the low pressure supply and while there is an abundance of water there is not pressure enough. Ald. Millidge estimates that there are now only two or three families in the city who want more water and he thinks this is very creditable. It would be his opinion, he says, to make expensive changes in the present system for the purpose of supplying such a small number of people.

Just now water is being allowed to run continually in many houses, and in the spring, when the snow melts, Ald. Millidge hopes the present difficulties will be overcome.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?

To the Editor of the Star: Sir--Altho' a large amount of money has been spent on what was supposed to be a modern fire-alarm system, and the majority of the cases since its installation, great difficulty has been experienced in sending messages to the fire department. It takes a telephone system as well as a fire-alarm system in order that a fire can be put out.

Where does the trouble lie, is it with the system or the fire department? I before referred to box 31 and can now repeat that it still without a key attached, nor is there anything on or near it to denote where the key is. I asked several residents in its vicinity where the key was and they did not know, and I then asked what they would do should they discover a fire and the answer was that they would enquire and try and find out where the key was.

Are the fire-alarm boxes merely put up as ornaments, merely in order that the city can show that they got something for their money spent, or are they for use in case of fire? Certainly the system, or those in charge of it, require some attention and the sooner this attention is given the better. If it requires a fire-alarm system, the fire department should be notified by a flag corps to send in an alarm if they would know it.

SOLD HUSBAND'S COAT FOR GIN

The Troubles of a North-Street Family Aired in Police Court This Morning

Jeremiah Donovan, a respected citizen of North street, is a man with troubles of his own. He was the complainant today in a charge against John Hawkins for stealing two overcoats, and from evidence taken it appears that Donovan's home life is not a happy one.

Yesterday evening Mr. Donovan went home from work and saw his youngest son preparing supper. Mrs. Donovan was not in sight. Shortly afterwards, having occasion to go out, Mr. Donovan looked for certain overcoats, one belonging to himself and another to his son. Both were missing, and later some boys told Mr. Donovan that they had seen John Hawkins carrying a parcel from the house to H. Gilbert's second-hand store. Mr. Donovan hit the trail and located the missing coats at Gilbert's. Then he saw the police and had Hawkins arrested.

Gilbert today swore that Hawkins had sold him the coats. Hawkins said they had been given to him for work he had done.

In his own defence today, Hawkins claimed that he had gone to Donovan's house and Mrs. Donovan gave him the coats to take out and sell, in order to purchase liquor. He got a pint of gin for her, costing forty cents, and returned the change, sixty cents, he having received one dollar for the coats. Mrs. Donovan gave Hawkins twenty-five cents for his trouble.

Mrs. Donovan denied the prisoner's story, but could not remember much about the affair as she was knocked out after the first bottle of gin had been finished.

Hawkins was also charged with procuring and supplying liquor to a prohibited person and to this charge said he did not know anything about it. He was an interdicted. He elected to be tried in police court and was remanded.

CLINGS TO FAITH.

FATHER DISOWN'S HER. Newark Girl, in Court. Declares She Will Die Rather Than Abandon Her Church.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15--Catharine Arrant, sixteen years old, has refused to give up her belief in the Catholic faith or to remain away from St. John's Church in Newark, where she expects to take her first communion tomorrow morning, and as a result her father has disowned her.

Three years ago the girl left her father's home, she says, because she could not get along with her stepmother. On Thursday John Arrant, her father, called the police of Harrison, N. J., to take her from the Catholic Electric Company's factory, where she was at work, and demanded that she return home with him. She agreed to do so, provided he and her stepmother would not interfere with her attendance at the Catholic church and pursuit of the faith her own mother taught her. Arrant would listen to no such proposition, and the girl replied: "I will do as I please."

"A few days before my mother died she asked me to cling to my faith. I promised that I would, and I have done so, and I will die before I forsake it." Arrant then left the police station, declaring that he never wants to see his daughter again. She returned to her Newark boarding house in company with Superintendent James Cullen, of the Catholic Children's Aid Society, whom she has selected to act as her protector.

FOUND A PLACE.

A story is told of a certain Fourth of July celebration in the United States where a senator was disporting himself with Superintendent James Cullen, of the Catholic Children's Aid Society, whom she has selected to act as her protector.
