NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The news telegraphed from Lisbon that a military expedition a thousand strong is about to leave the Tagus for Lorenzo Marques has caused much speculation as to the Portuguese intention in South Africa, says the Tribune's correspondent. Many people connect the Portuguese reinforcements with an intention to refuse the Boer fugitives an asylum in Mozambique, and the determination of the Lisbon government no longer to permit the Dutch force to draw supplies from Delagoa lay. The English government is extremely anxious that the ex-president shall not slip through their fingers, and Portugal would certainly be doing them a very good turn if she denied the old man an asylum and so compelled him to surrender to Lord Roberts.

The conservatives are becoming thoroughly organized for the approaching elections. The young men of the party held a meeting a few nights ago and organized in Charlottetown under the name of the "Tupper Club." The following officers were appointed: President, J. B. Dawson; first vice-presisident, Dr. S. R. Jenkins; second vicepresident, Harry K. McKenzie; secretary, Thomas Driscoll; treasurer, W. F. H. Carvell. The arrival of Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. George E. Foster infused new life into the party. Thousands of citizens assembled in the vicinity of Hotel Davies on the night of their arrival to hear the politicians reply from the balcony to the address presented to them. This address was read by J. B. Dawson, president of the Tupper Club. Sir Charles' reply, as well as Mr. Foster's, was crisp and pointed, and both received an excellent hearing. W. S. Stewart, Q. C., the conservative standard bearer for West Queens and the opponent of Sir Louis Davies, also gave a spirited address. On the following evening the skating rink was crowded to its full capacity.

X RAY OPERATION.

Geo. N. Babbitt, H. D. White and Dr. Atherton performed a most successful X ray operation on Thursday evening at Fredericton. Several days ago Mrs. Scribner, a St. John lady had the misfortune to step upon a needle, which penetrated her foot, and all efforts to remove it proved futile. Upon the advice of her physician the lady, accompanied by her husband, went to Fredericton last Thursday, and that evening at Mr. Babbitt's residence an X ray photograph of the foot was faken, which showed the location and position of the piece of needle as plainly as a black mark upon a sheet of white paper. On Friday morning at Victoria hospital Dr. Atherton extracted the needle, which was in the sole of the lady's foot, under the heel. Mr. Babbitt's X ray photographs have received the highest praise in Boston. New York and other large cities, where they are pronounced fully equal to the best work done by American experts.

. TWO NOMINATIONS.

Liberal-Conservatives of Lunenburg and Colchester Select Their Candidates.

HALIFAX, Sept. 10 .- The counties of Lunenburg and Colchester nominated liberal conservative andidates today. In Lunenburg C. E. Kaulbach, M. P., was the choice of the convention, which met at Mahone Bay, the motion naming him being seconded by Israel Spindles, a former strong suporter of the liberal party.

At Truro the Colchester liberal conservatives nominated S. E. Gourley. Before the nomination was made Geo. A. Hall, who for many years has been the secretary of the Liberal Conservative association, was presented with an address and a magnificent gold watch and chain. Dr. H. V. Kent was appointed to succeed him in the secretaryship.

When the applause had ceased, the chairman, Lt. Col. Armstrong, after a few opening remarks, read to Sir Charles Tupper the following address from the Liberal Conservative Association.

To the Honorable Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., G. C. M. G., M. P., etc.:

Sir-The Liberal Conservative Association once more welcome you to this city. In times past you have visited us as prime minister of the sister province, as a Canadian minister, as high commissioner, and as premier of Canada. Today we are receiving you as leader of the opposition and of the liberal conservative party in the dominion, a position no less honorable than any you have occupied, and carrying with it important duties and great responsibilities. In your case the position has also been one of influence, since on at least one occasion of grave importance, the premier and his colleagues have abandoned their own declared policy and adopted yours.

This city, founded by the loyalists, and inhabited by those of the same patriotic sentiments, was well pleased with the course taken by you and your associates in urging the government to offer assistance to the empire in the recent crisis, and afterward in giving hearty support to the authorities in carrying out that policy. You rightly judged that the Canadian people would offer their treasure, and, if need be, their lives, to defend any part of Her Majesty's dominions. Our city, which has given her bravest and best for this high purpose, is proud to pay a tribute of respect to the servant of Canada and of Great Britain who has given to his country and the empire the devotion of a long public

We welcome the Canadian statesman who was associated with Sir Leonard Tilley, for many years our honored representative, in introducing and defending the national policy.

Protection to Canadian industries has not only preserved the home market for the fruits of Canadian la bor, but has stimulated agricultural, manufacturing and mining production for outside markets, and contributed greatly to the stability of business and he progress of the country.

We greet you as the minister who devised and carried far toward completion, the Canadian Pacific railway enterprise, uniting Eastern and Western Canada, and adding the great Northwest to the available area of the dominion. Afterward it was your part to prepare the measure extending that system to this port. Today you stand at the eastern terminus of a railway joining the waters of the Atlantic at St. John with the Pacific at Vancouver, giring this place a commanding position as the chief Atlantic winter port of Canada. The increase of Canadian commerce with the motherland and the development of this port must go forward together. and it will be your lot as the next premier of Canada to carry forward to its logical conclusion the all-Canthe construction of the Canadian Pacific and the Short Line was the be-

To the Honorable Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., G. C. M. G., C. B.:

Sir-The Junior Liberal Conservative Association of St. John desires to join in the welcome extended to you the world that the British empire was upon this important occasion and to as one man. Her strength was never congratulate you upon the magnificent so apparent before. The effect was reception with which you are meeting wonderful. The government, after all throughout the country, which owes so much to your labors and which, ada Mr. Tarte, who put in the mouth during the past year particularly, has of the governor general the declaravoice its loyal and imperial sentiment.

As young men, upon whom the passing days are gradually shifting the responsibility for the well-being and destiny of our country, we feel that in you, sir, we have a leader, old indeed in experience, but young and strong in heart. You have helped, in your earlier days, to weld our provinces into one great Dominion, and youth it is to you that we look for the fulfilment of our aspirations to be-

"Part of one imperial whole, One with Britain, heart and soul." As citizens of St. John, we have faith in the policy laid down by your government, which would long ere this time have given to our port a fast freight service, had it not been abandoned by your successors. We believe that an administration led by you would settle, upon a fair and reasonable basis, the vexed questions of railway management which today threaten the continuance of that prosperity which a liberal conservative government assisted our city to inaugurate.

For these and for many other reaceptance of the political faith of the (Applause.) The people of this prov well deserve.

with rounds of applause. Cheer after cheer went up for the liberal conservative leader, even the ladies joining

Sir Charles tendered his thanks to the presidents of the liberal conservative association and the junior liberal conservative association for their very kind and flattering addresses. He could hardly believe that he was in St. John, so cordial was the reception. It was only the other day that a St. John paper said of him that he was recognized as an enemy of St. John. This did not look like it. (Cheers.) It was charged against him that he had been the defender, the promoter and upholder of Halifax, and the same paper claimed that Mr. Blair occupied the same position in relation to St. John. He wished at once to take up the most important things touched upon in the addresses. The action of the city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick in regard to this matter was a highly creditable one. (Applause.) They had hown their devotion to the crown and British institutions. (Applause.) He learned with great satisfaction that in the first contingent sent out to South Africa, New Brunswick took an important place. Over 100 of the thousand and odd men sent to the front came from this province. (Applause.) This was a striking evidence of the loyalty and patriotism of our people. Mr. Blair at Cody's some time since criticized severely his conduct. He did not wonder at Mr. Blair for going to an out of the way place to say these things. He could have understood Mr. Blair coming down here and making an abject apology for his conduct and that of the present government, but why he found fault with him (Tupper) was beyond the speaker's ability to understand. Why find fault with him (Tupper), who, as the head of the liberal conservative party. tendered Sir Wilfrid Laurier the support of that party if the government would undertake to discharge their duty as they should. The Australian colonies were sending to the Imperial ance. The Canadian government did nothing. When the premier was asked what he proposed to do, he said the government could do nothing, that it would be illegal and unconstitutional for Canada to do as the other colonies were doing. The Toronto Globe, the organ of the liberal party, said after this that the government had not considered the question. ill became Mr. Blair, under the circumstances, to attack a man who, as leader of the opposition, took the earliest opportunity in the presence of the finance minister at Halifax, to state publicly that the resolution passed by the house was a perfect warrant for the government to act. (Applause.) Sir Charles said he pointed out on that occasion, that the government's duty was to at once arganize a contingent to be sent.

TO SOUTH AFRICA Her Majesty's Arms, and telegraphed Wilfrid that a gentleman was willing to insure the lives of the men to the extent of a million dollars. At length the contingent went. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Sherbrooke, and in the house of commons, said the government took no action till the overwhelming sentiment of the country drove them to it. (Applause.) It was forced upon the government by the people of the country, regardless of race or party. They were compelled to act. (Applause.) Mr. Blair, instead of attacking him, should thank him for the part he took in the direction of having Canada act with the nother country. Never in the history of Canada was the honor of our country so much at stake. Our position today was much higher than ever before. If the government had not been compelled to act as they were, the finger of scorn would have been pointed at us today. Our men had taken Ald. J. B. M. Baxter then presented a foremost place in the field, and all the great generals spoke in the highest terms of their conduct. (Applause.) England was well able to fight her own battles. But the moral support given by her colonies in the face of a jealous Europe was of the most vital and transcendent importance. Kruger based his hopes on the intervention of foreign powers, but the stand taken by the colonies showed this, sent to Paris to represent Canlooked to you as its real leader to tion that what had been done was done with the approval of the whole people of Canada, and then in Paris said that of the two millions of French Canadians, ninety-nine out of every one hundred were opposed to doing anything against the Boers and in favor of Great Britain. The government by retaining Mr. Tarte in it endorsed that statement. It was an act which injured Canada more than we now, in what we may term your later knew. Canada owed a debt which she could never repay to the men who volunteered and went to South Africa. (Applause.) They showed that they were patriotic, that in a great crisis they were ready to do and die in behalf of maintaining the sovergnity of the empire, the Queen upon the throne, and British institutions in South Africa. (Applause.) Those who lost their lives died a glorious death and cemented with their blood the consolidation of the empire. (Applause.) Those who had come back and who would return would be received with open arms. The obligation fell upon us

There demanded just such a verdict as the was in the lower provinces a painful liberal party got in 1878, when, after recollection of the part Quebec had five years' of misrule, they were turned out. (Applause.) How did this This was due to a great variety of happen? The Mackenzie government got into power by a fluke. In 1878 thousands of good liberals joined with the liberal conservatives in turning them out. (Applause.) They In 1896 the party could feel at every were hurled to perdition, and it would be the same the next time the people had an opportunity to pronounce upon their acts. (Applause.) The maladministration of the Mackenzie government was as nothing, however, when compared with the incapacity and mal-administration of this government. The liberals had falsified every pledge they ever made. They had shown that they did not know what public principle was. In the house he defied them to name one public principle which they had professed in a quarter of a century that they had not trampled under foot as if in their way. Let them put a finger on one promise they had made which had electors of Quebec believed that they been redeemed. Now, as in 1878, a dwelt under and should be governed great body of liberals was with the by the principles of the British conliberal conservative party. There had stitution, and under these pre-election never been a time in the history of pledges should be carried out wherever the country when the liberals were able to defeat the liberal conserva- county, and all through the province, tives. It was only when the latter were divided that the liberals stood any show. Today the liberal servatives were re-united and solidated and able to carry their banner to victory without assistance from the liberals spoken of. (Applause.) But their aid would make the defeat all the more overwhelming. (Applause.) The party in power had been weighed in the balance and found wanting. The people were anxious to put back into power the party which had made Canada what it was. (Applause.) He was surprised to find the Telegraph charge against him that he was unfriendly towards St. John. Although he was a Nova Scotian, he, as a public man, lost sight of that fact when dealing with all great questions. When confederation was achieved we all believed the effect would be to give to the maritime provinces ports a great impetus in trade. It was discovered, however, that Portland was so much nearer the west that it got the business in the winter time. In parliament he moved for the establishment of the short line so called. This brought St. John much closer to the west. The C. P. R. were induced to build the road, and the citizens of St. John joined with them to make St. John the winter port of Canada. The action of the city did it honor. The business had been a good thing. Hon. Mr.

He also advised Sir | ple just so much more. Sir Charles here directed some attention to Mr. Blair's political history, which was to buy up everything and everybody he could. But he always used the people's money to do it. As long as the Short Line stood it snowed that he (Tupper) had done one good thing for St. John, for it was he who propounded the thing in parliament. No man could charge him with having done anything except what was to the utmost of his ability for the promotion of the interests of St. John and Canada. (Applause.) He was ready at any time to meet Mr. Blair and discuss these questions. The liberals showed their wisdom when they adopted the policy of the liberal conservative party. He congratulated the liberals on the sacracifice of their own characters. If any man in the liberal government stood pre-eminent for incapacity and corruption, it was Mr. Blair. Sir Charles then told his audience of Mr. Blair's action relative to the Drummond County railway and minister who concurs in the cabinet Queen and empire (cheers ) and would showed that the bill was killed in the senate. Thus two millions of the people's money was wasted. But bad as Mr. Blair. was. Sir Charles was afraid Mr. Sifton was worse. Sir Charles here showed up Mr. Sifton's bad management in the Yukon.

Sir Charles said we in the lower provinces were much interested in the fast line. If the old government had remained in power we would have had such a line today. As it was, we were as far removed from it as ever. During the past twelve months he had gone almost all over the country and he had no hesitation in venturing whatever reputation he had as a prothet, that when the elections come or the liberal conservative party would receive the acclaim, confidence and support of a majority of the people of Canada. (Applause.) They would go back to power to govern the country as it should be governed. In concluding, Sir Charles paid a high compliment to Hon. Geo. E. Foster and Mr. Monk, who, he said, had won enviable reputations for themselves in parliament.

Sir Charles was loudly cheered as he sat down.

MR. MONK OF JACQUES CARTIER. Mr. Monk, on rising, was greeted with prolonged applause and three hearty cheers. He gracefully thanked the chairman and the audience for their kindly welcome. When he came to the provinces he only thought to attend a few meetings of the old French Acadians in Westmorland and Kent, but when he witnessed the vast as sembly that greeted himself and his colleagues in Moncton the night before, he felt that his mission here had assumed a larger sphere. He felt that the bounteous hospitality which he had met with and the immense the Junior Liberal Conservative Asso- printed in pamphlet form and distri- crowd which was before him, were not only a compliment to the chiefbrooke, where an election was held, tain of the party, but also to the

There was deep dissatisfaction there among the old liberals, among those who had believed and accepted the protestations of the liberal campaigners in 1896. The :hief cause of the great change which exists was the fact of the great number of broken pledges which stand to the credit of the present government. (Cheers.) The possible. (Cheers.) In his own in 1896 liberal party leaders howled against the extravagance of the conservative government and promised great reductions in the expenditure. Laurier himself nad said to them that the expenditure was too great by $4,-000,000, but the people of Quebec soon realized the deception played upon them when, instead of a decrease, the expenses were increased over $8,000,-With regard to the national debt, the Quebec electors were assured that there was great danger in increase and promised extensive reduction. Now, in spite of all manner of RACIAL AND RELIGIOUS CRIES which had been dinned in their ears to deafen them to more important matters, the people of Quebec realized the falsity of these protests, and this the polls will soon show to the fullest degree. (Great applause.) And these were not the only pledges freely given and as freely broken. There was then a general period of financial depression over Canada and the whole world, due to natural and unavoidable causes. The liberals promised that their programme of free trade relations with the United States would be the panacea that would cure all this. What had they done but grant every possible concession Americans before asking or receiving anything in return?

They placed barbed wire on the free list, with the result that this industry in Quebec was killed, throwing hundreds out of employment, while the price went higher than before. Binder twine and oil were likewise treated, and now in regard to these rican monopolies and payed dearer for the articles than before. The government conceded everything to the States in connection with the coasting laws, and the alien labor law as it existed in Canada was a farce. The Yukon has been thrown open to the American miner. He has every privilege, while the Canadian laborer in the States is everywhere hampered by Klondike was a Canadian birthright and should have been reserved for Canadians. (Applause.) spoke of the corrupt administration of the Yukon and of the opinion in Quebec concerning the action of a government which had refused investigation into the case, even when the charges were made by a man who pledged his honor and his position in parliament on the justice of his statements. Speaking of Blair and Sifton and their deal with McKenzie & Mann, he said that Blair had at first made a favorable impression upon French members of the house on account of a fancied resemblance to a favorite saint, St. Joseph, but since they have become better acquainted with him, any attempt at his canonization would meet with considerable opposition. ### COLPITTS FAMILY

Reunion at Little River, Coverdale, Albert County, Sept. 6, 1900.

All Descendants of Robert Colpitts of Newcastle-on-Tyne. Who Settled in New Brunswick Many Years Ago. - The Historical Paper Read at the Gathering.

In the spring of A. D. 1783, immeliately after the close of the Revolutionary War, there came to Halifax from Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, a tall, stalwart Englishman, with his wife and family of seven children. The name of the man was Robert Colpitts, as far as we know the only one of the name to come out from the ciation, headed by Col. Armstrong, as Mother Country, and the progenitor of all on this side of the Atlantic who

We cannot even say with certainty that any relatives are corded him by the committee, Sir now living in England, though we Charles and Mr. Monk were escorted have reasons to believe that such is to their carriages and driven away, the fact. The most definite information we possess concerning this Robert Colpitts and his family is found in the old family Bible, when the date and place of birth of all the children are given, it is supposed in the father's own handwriting. In two cases where the date happened to be placed city. What are they for? To keep too near the margin it is impossible That this convention regrets that up social clubs? So, reaching home, he wound up his affairs and started north for Newcastle-on-Tyne. But, reaching there, he found that war had just broken out between England and her American colonies, and the trouble was settled, which settlethey were kept at or near Newcastle. waiting that the youngest son, George, was born, and it is carefully noted in the family Bible not only where he was born, but also where he was

A large man riding a very diminutive donkey, one day came up to the bridge and asked the amount of the toll. The charge was more than he felt inclined to pay, so he asked what it would be for a man with a load. Finding that it was considerably less, he at once laid down the smaller sum, picked up his donkey in his arms and walked over the bridge.

But the long years of waiting were at last ended, and the emigrants were able to move onward from the old home to the new. We do not know how long they remained at Halifax. Not very long, certainly. So the last stage of the journey was begun. The father and the two eldest boys, John See that this poor woman gets paid and Robert, made their way overland, while the rest came around in a vessel soon afterward. At that time Mr. Colpitts would be between thirty-five and forty years of age, while the two boys would be fifteen and thirteen a daughter of the late Charles Par- years old respectively. So these three set out from Halifax, and it is said walked the most of the way from there to Moncton.

> Here another disappointment awaited him. He found that in his long absence other settlers had taken up all the land along the river as far up as Salisbury, and that the piece which he had improved had been pre-empted with the rest. So he had to push on further. He examined several places with a view to settlement, and even made a small clearing near where the of the name has yet occupied a promvillage of Salisbury now is, but he inent place in the public life of our considered the land poor and thought country. But the name has always scending it for about five miles he came to a stretch of intervale covered with a rock maple forest, and there he decided to settle. If, as is likely, he was then ignorant of the value of the maple for the production of sugar, we may suppose that he did not long remain so.

But we must hastily pass over many things that we would like to note That summer the family got settled in the new home. It is likely that no crop would be raised that year, and before their grain ripened in the summer of '84 they got about to the end of their food supply. Salmon, we are told, was their staple food for several months, and though we may think that this could have been no great hardship, still it is said that the most of the family were never afterward very hungry for salmon.

On October 11, 1784, a daughter was born in the new home, and was named for her mother, Margaret. Two years later, on Oct. 3, 1786, another daughter, Jane, was born, so there was now a family of nine, six boys and three girls. But the home did not long contain them all. A few years after this the eldest son, John, took to himself a wife and settled where his greatgrandson, Charles Colpitts, now lives, at the corner of the Little River and Colpitts Settlement roads. His wife was Miss Eleanor Foster of Amherst. Where he became acquainted with her we do not know. Perhaps it was on that memorable walking tour from Halifax to Moncton. But John did not live long to enjoy his wedded life. dying in 1792, and leaving two small children, John and Margaret. To finish the account of John's children let me say that Margaret married Benjamin Wheaton of Dorchester, and John married Miss Goodwin of Baie Verte and raised a large family, the most of whom settled on Little River. The mother did not long survive the death of her eldest son, dying in 1794, being then only forty-seven years of age. Robert Colpitts married again. but there was no issue. He died about the year 1813.

For the further history of the family time and space forbid more than a mere catalogue of names and events. Robert, the second son, became a Free Baptist preacher. (We might say here that we do not know for certain to what church the parents belonged, but the children seem to have been divided among the Methodist, Baptist and Free Baptist bodies). But let us return to Robert. He married Rachel Steeves of Hillsboro and finally settled on what is now called Dickie Mt., near Bloomfield station, on the farm where now his son, Abram Colpitts, lives. He had a large family, whose names were as follows: Wesley, Henry, Abram, Margaret, Eleanor, Jane, Rosannah, Elizabeth, Rachel, Jane and

Mary. Elizabeth, the third child, married Lewis Smith, and their children (as far as we have their names) were: Margaret, Mary, Annie, Jane, Elizabeth, and Robert. This Robert Smith

This place is now owned by his grandson, Robert Colpitts. The children resulting from this marriage were: Christian, Lazarus. Elizabeth, John, Mary, Lewis, Eleanor, and Delilah.

Ralph, the fifth son, was noted as a that he could not reach Canada until great hunter. He married for his first wife Marial Jones of Moncton, and ment they thought would be effected settled on Pollett River, where his in a few months. But for seven years grandson, Havelock Colpitts, now lives. The children by this marriage were: It was during these weary years of Henry, Robert, Thomas, Ralph. Charles (still living), Christianna (still living), Margaret, Lydia, Mariah (still living), and Deborah. His second wife was Hannah Raymond of Hampton, N. B., and they had one child, Sarah Anne, who married Chas. Keith of family had charge of a toll-bridge Havelock. After the death of his second wife Ralph married Emma Mollins, but there were no children.

George, the sixth and youngest son remained on the homestead, marrying Elizabeth Foster of Amherst, a sister of John's wife. The children born to them were: William, John, Eleanor, Mary, Margaret, Lucretia, and George. The last two are still living. The homestead was again given to the youngest boy, and is still known as the George Colpitts place, though now owned by Bamford Colpitts. After the death of his first wife George married Grace Mollins, a sister of Ralph's last wife, and when she died he married another sister, Elizabeth Mollins. No children were born in either case.

Margaret, who you remember was born after the family came out to New Brunswick, married Jacob Day of Wickham, Queens Co. Two of her sons, Jacob and George, are still living. Two other children, Robert and Eleanor, were also born to Margaret. The baby of the family. Jane, married Christopher Horsman and settled on Pollett River. The same farm is now owned by a grandson William Horsman. There were eight children born to Jane, the names of whom were: Robert, John, Benjamin, Margaret, Jane, Lucretia, Elizabeth and Sarah. The last named is stil living.

This account must stop here. It would be interesting to trace the family further, but that must be for some future time. It is, we freely confess, the history of a race of humble farmers and such for the most part have been their descendants. No one he would try the Little River. After been an honorable one, and those who Kaye, Forest Glen.

"Is there for honest poverty.
That hangs his head and a' that?
The coward slave, we pass him to we dare be poor for a' that.
For a' that, and a' that,
Our toils obscure and a' that;
The rank is but the guinea stamp.
The man's the gowd for a' that."

By ten o'clock the carriages began to arrive and continued to come until the rain fall in the afternoon. The tables were spread on the ground about twelve o'clock, in true picnic style, and the many who partook of the bountiful refreshments provided seemed to lose for a time the fear that the rain would soon interfere with the pleasure of the gathering.

After dinner nearly all who were present arranged themselves on the side of the hill, and a picture of the gathering was taken by Thos. R. Colpitts, photographer, of Portland, Me. By this time the rain, which had been threatening, began to fall in real earnest, but in spite of this all gathered under the trees and listened to the account of the early history of the family, which had been prepared.

A short address was also given by Rev. Banfield Colpitts of Woodstock, N. B. The constantly increasing rain made further speech making undesirable. As soon as the storm showed signs of lessening, a good many who had some distance to drive started for home, and others started for Moncton to attend the political meeting which was to be held there in the evening.

Though the rain interfered very much with the pleasure of the occasion, still there was a general feeling of satisfaction that the gathering had been held, and many expressed the wish that a similar reunion might be held some time in the not-too-distant future.

An attempt was made to obtain a full registration of all who were there, but owing to the rain this was only partially successful, and many left without giving their names. Consequently we can give only an incomplete list of those who attended. If any who were present find their names left out of this account, they will confer a favor by notifying R. J. Colpitts of Petitcodiac to that effect, and he will see that their names are placed in the book provided for that purpose.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 12, 1900

HUGH JOHN MACDONALD. The most important political even of last week in Canada was Hon. Hugh John Macdonald's retirement from the position of premier of Manitoba to become a candidate for the house of commons. Hugh John Macdonald goes into the federal contest with the prestige of his great victory over the Greenway government and the minister of the interior. The Greenway government seemed to own Manitoba a few months ago, and Mr. Sifton was exceedingly boastful. Today the Greenway government is only a ghastly memory. Mr. Sifton, who made the provincial campaign his own, was not able to carry his own riding, and nearly every candidate for whom he worked has been swept out of public

Mr. Macdonald has been premier long enough to set a high example to politicians. In his campaign he made certain distinct pledges. He promised a prohibitory law. He announced a railway policy. He declared that he would simplify the system of government, reduce the expenses of administration and govern the province with three paid ministers instead of five. He has carried out the whole programme. When he formed his government he divided the work among three paid ministers. His railway policy is exactly what he said it would be. The prohibition bill was introduced and enacted at the first session and is Such is Hugh John Macdonald's record. It is the record of a man of courage, a man of action, and a man of his government he called in three provincial premiers and one other provincial minister. Not one of the four did what Hugh John Macdonald has done. Sir Oliver Mowat, Mr. Blair, Mr. Fielding and Mr. Sifton held on to their local offices until after the election. Not one of them risked his place or his seat in the legislature until the fight was over. Then they went in to claim a division of the speil won for them by others. Hugh John Macdonald gives up his premiership and takes his share of the fight while the issue is still undecided, though perhaps not uncertain. With all the Northwest before him he selects as his personal battle ground the constituency of the minister of the interior. Even then he does not remain to make a personal canvass, but at once joins his leader in the east, where he knows that his presence will be an encouragement and an inspiration..

It may be urged that Hugh John would not have given up the work to which he was called as head of the administration in Manitoba if he were not certain of the success of his party in the coming struggle. This may be so. It would hardly be expected that a man in his position would abandon his responsible duties to assist in an enterprise that was foredoomed to failure. Mr. Macdonald has a shrewd pelitical vision. He sees the trend of affairs. He believes that the Laurier government is doomed. He knows that his services will be needed more as a western member of the dominion government than as provincial premier.

The western administration of the present government has been a perpetual scandal. Not in the Yukon ty. only, but through all the region west of Lake Superior, the boodler and the speculator have had their way. Favoritism and corruption are everywhere, and the wealth of the country has sone to all sorts of people but those

These offenses against the settler, the miner and the honest investor have made it easy for Hugh John Macdonald to win elections in the west. They have created a political revolution in that country. The liberal conservatives have other men besides Hugh John Macdonald capable of regenerating the department of the interior. But that will be the hardest task of the coming government, and the one which will attract the most attention. The country will turn to Hugh John Maodonald as the man to undertake that important task.

fiscal year ending two months

The amount was only $50,927,941. The amount charged to the ordinary services of the country was $42,987,549. This does not include capital account. nor railway subsidies nor any part of the cost of the South Africa contingents, Here is a comparison of Mr. Fielding's four years' expenditure on current account with that of Mr Ros-

er's last	four years:

897	$38,349	,759
898	38,832	2,525
899	41,903	3,500

Mr. Fielding claims a surplus of $7,-790,0000. Mr. Foster's surplus in 1893 was $7,064,000. Mr. Fielding has threequarters of a million more left over than Mr. Foster had seventeen years ago. But Mr. Fielding taxed the people eight millions more in 1900 than Mr. Foster did in 1883.

Among the encouraging reports which reach the government and its friends at Ottawa is one from Mr. Costigan that the party which now commands his services will sweep New Brunswick. The last time Mr. Costigan was heard from in the role of a prophet was in the last provincial elecion, when after a vigorous canvass in Madawaska he reported that the government candidates were sure of election by a large majority. They were Emmerson to Run for the Dominion House and Blair to Take a Supreme Court Judgeship the Latest Rumor.

OTTAWA: Sept. 9 .- Hon. Hugh John Macdonald had a splendid greeting from five hundred leading conservatives as he passed through to Montreal this afternoon. An informal reception was held by Mr. Macdonald, and on the departure of the train he was loudly

The Ottawa and Hull fire relief committee has paid the last claim, and with the exception of drawing up a report for the information of the public the work of the committee is practically at an end.

Maitland Young of Hamilton has been appointed to audit the account, this nomination, as provided in the act of incorporation, being approved by the government. Rev. Father O'Leary, the respected

R. C. chaplain of the Royal Canadian Regiment in South Africa, has arrived in London and is now in Charing Cross Hospital. Father O'Leary had a severe attack of dysentery in South Africa, following the enteric fever, and although well on the road towards recovery and anxious to remain at the front, the army authorities insisted upon his making a trip to England on three months' leave. Father O'Leary is in good hands in London. Lord Lansdowne and Lord Strathcona have called upon him in the hospital, and as the fame of the plucky priest who got into the fighting line at Paardeburg and elsewhere has preceded him, Father O'Leary bids fair to be lionized in London. One of the first acts which he did on arriving at OTTAWA, Sept. 10 .- A New Bruns wick gentleman in close touch with the ministers declares that it is as good as settled that Hon, H. R. Emmerson will run for the house of commons, and that if the grits are sustained Hon. Mr. Blair will then seek repose from political life by accepting a position on the supreme court bench in succession to Justice King, who is anxious to retire on account of ill health. This arrangement however, will not be satisfactory to Sir Louis Davies, whose friends admit he will be beaten in West Queens Dollars to His Salary.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 10 .- The Rev. George C. Lorimer, pastor of Tremont Temple, has refused an increase of $1,000 a year to his salary recently offered by the church. His reason for declining is that his sense of duty to the church does not permit him to take it. Dr. Lorimer's salary is $7,000 year. When the pastor of the Temple startd on his trip to Europe last spring the executive committee unanimously voted to increase his salary, and while the pastor was abroad notified him of its action. In a letter which he wrote on his way home declining the increase Dr. Lorimer said in substance that he hought he was getting enough already.

First Day's Attendance Away Ahead of Last Year.

The Various Departments Ara Being Rapidly Whipped Into Shaps—Novel Features This Season, Amusement Hall Well Filled Last Night to Witness a First Class Variety Entertainment - Today's Programme of Events.

The formal opening of the exhibition n Saturday night was a good move rom an advertising standpoint, as yesterday's attendance went far ahead of that of the first day of the exhibition of 1899. The figures are:

1st day of 1899..... 590 Add to this the 3,370 who passed through the turnstiles on Securo night, and the attendance to dat 5,382, against only 590 for the ponding period of last year. The total attendance of the past four

Much progress was made yesterday in the work of bringing order out of chaos, and by noon today the exhibition ought to be in full running order in all its departments.

Agricultural and poultry halls were the most backwards Monday but that was to be expected, as for both religious and financial reasons farmers do not care to spend Sunday on the road. Last night the arrivals for these sections were very heavy, and the showing promises well for today. There are 600 entries of poultry and stock, most of which will materialize. Poultry hall is in prime condition under the efficient management of Mr.

S. L. Peters has mastered the art of displaying fruit in the most attractive manner. The decorations this year are of the patriot order, red white and blue, and Mr. Peters has not been sparing in the use of bunting overhead. The tables are neatly covered, and when filled with fruit will make a magnificent showing. Despite the rival exhibition at Halifax the display of Nova Scotia fruit will be larger and more varied than apple raisers have come forward in large numbers, the presence of their exhibits testifying to he steadily increasing attention that is being given in this province to the growth of the more merchantable varieties of apples. The St. John river region comes out especially strong this year.

The display of flour made by New Brunswick mills from New Brunswick grown wheat will be well worth seeing. Mr. Peters, secretary for agriculexpert judges, all the millers had con- pass every feat performed by his comsented to have some of their flour panion. among the visitors. It was the opinion of good judges of flour that the provincial article shown last year was ully equal to the best Ontario and Manitoba product, and the exhibitors are fully confident that what they are showing this year is fully as good and perhaps a little better than was exhib-

The present exhibition is an improvement on all its predecessors in many more attractiveness for the general public. The management, following in the wake of upper province and American exhibitions, has catered more liberally than heretofore to popular amusement and instruction. While two amusement halls are running, instead of only one before, and a varied open air programme is to be given twice daily in front of the grand stand, the natural history display in the main building is of such a comprehensive character as to interest every student and information seeking visitor, young or old. This section bids fair to be one of the most popular features of the entire exhibition. The drill shed will hardly be recognized by former visitors. Heretofore used for the display of carriages, it is now a vast amusement hall, with large stage and seats raised tier upon tier, affording comfortable seating accommodation for 1,200 persons.

NATURAL HISTORY EXHIBIT.

It is safe to say that the Natural History Society exhibit will attract as much attention and solicit more study than any other feature of the exhibition. It is situated on the first floor of the annex and is in charge of A. Gordon Leavitt. W. McIntosh's fine collection of butterflies and moths is tastefully arranged on the side walls, and behind are collections of pressed plants. A magnificent series of photographs belonging to Mrs. Dr. Mathew are shown to advantage. They are views of the Yellowstone National Park, probably the most interesting and wonderful bit of country in North America. A nicely mounted lobster of unusually large size, taken at Grand Manan, also attracts considerable attention E. L. Colpitts & Co. of Pleasant Vale exhibit an interesting collection of honey-bearing plants, nicely mounted. S. L. Peters of Queenstown, Queens Co., has a very full and handsome collection of native woods. F. J. Purdy has also sent a collection of woods, which will be arranged for examination today. There is also an exhibit from th Poole Pottery Company, showing the different stages through which pottery goes from the raw material (clay) to the finished pot.

John Lee & Co. have an exhibit of brick and the various materials necessary to its manufacture. In the mineral exhibit, which is not yet complete, the Mineral Products Co. show bog manganese in various forms.

AMUSEMENT HALL.

A large audience was present at the first performance of the variety comever before, while the New Brunswick pany, last night, in the new amusement hall. To say that all were pleased with the performance is only a modest statement of the fact. Every act was applauded and the comic stunts provoked peals of laughter. The company is not large, but they make up in quality what they lack in numbers. They are all artists. Harrison's orchestra furnishes the music.

The first act was given by Kelly and Ashby, comedy acrobats. It had the merit of novelty and was well done. ture, told the Sun that in addition to One of the pair appeared in the guise having this flour pronounced upon by of a tramp and it was his duty to sur-cooked on the premises and distributed | feature on the stage. But when Kelly and Ashby jumped upon it they rebounded in the air as if from a powerful springboard. The bottom of the table was largely composed of elastic rubber tubes, and it looked at times as if the performers could not stop jumping. They turned all sorts of evolutions in the air, such as only trained gymnasts can do, but did it in the most laughable manner.

The second event was the appearance of August Dewell, who fully espects, and on the whole possesses justified his title of prince of equilifeats of balancing on a swinging trapeze, using a ladder and a chair, ting in the latter while its back legs only rested on the cross-bar. This exhibition he followed by some wonderful feats of strength on a perpendicular post. There was a grace and finish to his work that intensely impressed the large body of spectators. Rossi Bros. in their knockabout act introduced what appeared to be a dummy figure. They threw it about the stage as if it were a bundle of rags, knocked its head backward and forward and when about everybody was fully satisfied that there could be no life in it, the dummy arose to its feet removed its headgear and bowed gracefully before the footlights. The house applauded vehemently. The dummy was an acrobat and contortionist and not a lay figure. This act bids fair to repeat in St. John the tremendous success it achieved in To-

ROSY TEACHERS

Look Better in the School-Room than the Sallow Sort.

Young folks naturally like comely objects, and a good looking, healthy teacher can do vastly more with pupils, everything else considered, than the skinny, dyspeptic teacher can. The instructor in Latin and mathematics in a young ladies' seminary at Macon, Ga., had an experience worthy the attention of any teacher. She kept running down a little more each year until finally a genuine case of nervous prostration set in and she was confined to her bed for eight months, a perfect wreck, physically and mentally. She and her friends thought it was due to overwork, but she now knows it was due to improper Of course the physicians were called in, but there is almost nothing that can be done in such cases, except to rely on well selected food and proper care. She was put upon Grape-Nuts, all medicines, also tea, coffee, and iced drinks were taken away. She had Postum Food Coffee once a day. The larger part of her food was Grape-Nuts, for this food is made with special reference to rebuilding the gray matter in the brain and nerve centres. The lady says: "I had been reduced to 95 pounds in weight when I began using Grape-Nuts. The new food was so delicious and strengthing that I felt new life at once. I have now developed into a perfect healthy, happy, stout woman, weighing 125 pounds, the greatest weight I ever attained, and have a wonderfully clear, fresh, rosy complexion, instead of the sallow, bilious hue of the past.

"I never now have a symptom of dyspepsia nor any other ache or ail. Am strong physically and I particularly notice the strength of mind. I. never experience that tired, weary feeling after a hard day's labor that used to appear. My brain seems as clear and active at night as it was in the morning, and I am doing twice the amount of work I ever did. Don't use my name in public, please, but I will answer inquiries." The oldest inhabitant has no recollection of a warmer day on Grand Manan than was Monday, the 27th ult., when the weather bireau's thermometer at North Head registered 90 deg. in the shade.

Light Keeper Harvey of Gannet Rock has discovered signs of a fresh water spring on that barren rock. We have often wondered why the government has never tried to bore for water, as Kent, the well borer, can strike water anywhere here through the solid ledge. It would be an inestimable blessing to that knely light in case of fire.

Weeks' relatives and friends on the island. The Church of the Ascension, North Heal, is erecting a fine vestry and Sunday school building. It will be the only building of its kind on the island.

There is almost a water famine on the island in respect to the wells, and all the streams are the lowest known for a long time, if ever before. At the fog alarm, North Head, it is necessary to haul water from a small lake some distance off to keep the whistle going when foggy.

Fishery Overseer W. A. Frase: made a seizure of neus on the spawning ground at South Head on the 28th ult. It is reported that J. W. Wooster has been appointed fishery guardian for the spawning grounds. Hayden C. Guptill and Frank Ingersoli, the herring king of this island, are involved in a suit at law over the ownership of a part of a weir. The case will be tried in the county court, St. John.

Forest fires are again raging on the island. One down at the southern end of the island threatens to sweep the whole southern part and to damage the pretty little village of Seal Cove. Another is still burning on White Head Island. Large quantities of wood and timber have been destreyed.

The Fredericton Hearld in a Moment of Panic

Announced That Sir Charles Tupper was the Guest of Alex. Gibson-Where Fred Coleman Came in.

The Fredericton Herald, the liberal Organ of the provincial capital thus described in its news columns the arrival of Sir Charles Tupper and party

on Saturday morning:

"Only a few persons were at the depot to greet the distinguished visitors, among the rumber being James S. Neill, president of the York Conservative Association, and Harry F. McLeod, both of whom boarded the train immediately upon its arrival. Mr. Neill helped Sir Charles out of the car, and escorted him to a barouche in waiting Y hen the three politicians had become seated, Mr. Neill climbed in, first instructing the driver to take them down town by way of one of the back streets. Sir Charles left the party soon afterwards and went to the party soon afterwards and went Marysville, having accepted an invitation to

on Saturday morning:

Editorially, the Herald remarked: As the distinguished party drove through the streets no particular notice was taken of them. Mr. Gibson, with that hospitality which he always extends towards distinguished itors, met Sir Charles at the depot and took him to Marysville."

How it came to pass that the Herald sent Sir Charles to Marysville is thus told by the Fredericton Gleaner of Saturday afternoon:

When the Hon. Geo. E. Foster and Mr. Monk arrived at the Barker house this morning from the 9.30 train a few of the smaller of the new liberalism were around about the doors of the Barker house expecting to see Sir Charles Tupper. Mine Host Coleman, see Sir Charles Tupper. Mine Host Coleman, forgetting that Sir Charles had accepted an invitation to Elmcroft, Mrs. Ketchum's beautiful residence, could scarcely for the minute account for the fact that Sir Charles was not in the barouche when it arrived with the other distinguished guests. The two pigmies of Mr. Thompson's moribund paper were about, the one looking for news, the other distinguished guests. were about, the one looking for news, the other seeking an opportunity to explain that he was a liberal only through circumstances, but his heart was with the veteran statesman of the day. Mr. Coleman, sizing up the situation, was as usual quite equal to the occasion. He took a few of the grit element quite innocently into his confidence, and reposed in them the "dead secret" that Mr. Gibson of Marysville, an old friend and admirer of Sir Charles, met him on the arrival of the train and insisted on the veteran chieftain accompanying him to Marysville as chieftain accompanying him to Marysville as

Mr. Coleman's words had not been more than spoken when L. C. McNutt, one of the pigmies, grasped his wheel and made with nightes, grasped his wheel and made with all possible speed in the direction of the New Brunswick Foundry, where Fred P. Thompson was in waiting. Robert Allen, Mr. McNutt's coadjutor, took another wheel near by and whirled off in the direction of W. T. Whitehead's office, and within a few minutes afterwards Mr. Thompson and Mr. Whitehead met to discuss the state of t minutes atterwards Mr. Thompson and Mr. Whitehead met to discuss the situation. Mr. Thompson and Mr. Whitehead were in excited conditions. They really feared that Sir Charles and Mr. Gibson had met as old thanks. Mr. Thompson proposed to Mr. Whitehead that he take a wheel and run up to Marysville and consult with some of the boys there, but the wheels available were too large for Mr. Whitehead and it would be quite a loss of time if Mr. Whitehead had to look around for one of the midget size before he could start out. Mr. Thompson then suggested that if he could get a railway pass by telephone he would run up in the In the meantime he met a friend who was in a position to say that Sir Charles was spending the morning at Elm-croft, and Mr. Blair's private secretary then drew a sigh of relief. He was himself again and the brave Frederick reminded the mighty Turney that all was yet well. Then there was an interesting conference between Private Secretary Lampson or Thompson and Private Secretary Lampson or Thompson and Mr. Whitehead on the one hand and the ancial geniuses Daniel Lucy and Z. EXCURSION STR. SUNK.

The Six Hundred Passengers Had a Narrow Escape from Going Down With the Steamer.

COHASSET, Mass., Sept. 9.-The excursion steamer John Endicott, on the Boston and Plymouth line, struck a sunken rock just east of Minot's light about 6 o'clock this afternoon and tore a great hole in her side, so that she was obliged to run full steam for the shore off North Scituate, where she foundered. There were on board 600 passsengers at the time of the accident, but by the quick use of all her life boats, and with assistance from the boats near by, every person aboard was saved. The steamer now lies submerged off the North Scituate shore. The Endicott was from Plymouth bound for Boston, and was sailing on an inside course. The tide was extremely low, and to this is attributed ! the fortunate saving of all the passengers, for, had the tide been full, the steamer must have sunk before shore was reached. She was making her usual speed and apparently in the regular channel, when, at a point to the east of Minot's light she struck a sunken rock with great force, the impact tearing a great hole in her side. She began to settle imediately. There was much consternation on board, and preparations were hastily made for the emergency should the steamer settle further. The captain called for full steam ahead, and the boat made directly for the Scituate shore, and the passengers were safely removed just as the craft plunged beneath the waves. Help came from the Cohasset and North Scituate life saving stations, which did gallant service in taking the excursionists from the sinking steamer. Tugs have been despatched from Boston to the scene of the wreck, but there is some doubt whether the craft can be raissed. She now lies submerged about half a mile from shore and the flood tide will bring many feet of water over her masts. The rescued excursionists took steam trains at the Cohasset and North

Scituate railroad stations for Boston. ST. JOHN VESSEL ASHORE.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 7 .- The barkentine Culdoon, Captain Richter, of St. John, N. B., laden with 330,000 feet of pine lumber, is ashore five miles south of Caryfoot Light, about 35 miles south of Miami. She is waterlogged. She was driven by the force of the waves over one of the innumerable reefs forming the inner passage, and is lying in 12 feet of water.

The Culdoon encountered the recent hurricane, which blew with a velocity of 90 to 100 miles an hour off the Florida east coast. The vessel and cargo may be saved. The Culdoon sailed from Pascagoula, Miss., Aug. 22, and was bound for Rosario, Argentine Republic. Three miles south of the barkentine Culdoon is a deserted lumber laden bark which stranded during the night of the 5th. The crew, it is thought, were swept overboard during the storm. The vessel has a windmill, and is, consequently, thought to be Norwegian.

THEY LOVE THE WEED. Royalty Tells of the Fascination of the Cigarette.

Queen Margherita never could approve a man who didn't smoke. Many was the consoling pipe she gave to her late husband, the murdered King Humbert. She said once to the Prince of Wales: "I can overlook many faults in a man and make many allowances for his shortcomings. One fault, however, I can not overlook, and that is his not smoking. When my husband, the king, is annoyed, I give him his pipe; when he is good-tempered I give him a cigarette; when I want him to do something very particular for me I give him a cigar. With a pipe I can console him; with a cigarette I can delight him; but with a cigar I can lead him anyhow and any-

The German emperor confessed recently that of all his habits, smoking had the greatest hold over him. 'When I am not asleep I am smoking and when I am asleep I often dream of the 'subtle poison.' The Sultan of Turkey sent me, a few months ago, a present of a hundred boxes of his choice cigarettes. These are the boxes," pointing toward a row of delicately "got up" tins. "But the cigarettes are not in them. They have gone."

The Dukeof York is, as everybody knows, a great cigarette smoker. He once said to the Czar of Russia. "A short time ago I had an idea that cigarettes were bad for me, so I determined to limit myself to five smokes a day. The first day I managed to exist on the number I had determined upon smoking. The second day I smoked all five before lunch, and felt miserable during the rest of the day. The third day I smoked the five judiciously, but still felt a great wanting. The fourth day I couldn't stand it any longer, and so smoked fifteen cigarettes to make up for my self-denial during the other days." The Duke of Edinburgh, on being asked by a fair lady whether he approved of smoking, wittily answered: "Madam, two things I shall never part with-my honor and my tobacco pouch." The Prince of Wales has always enjoyed his smoke. "Many years ago," said the Prince recently to the Emperor of Austria, "I began smoking. I have smoked ever since, and I expect I shall keep on smoking."

It is a little too early to speak with definiteness as to the success of the exhibition, but all indications so far point to a splendid show and, weather permitting, an exceptionally large patronage from all parts of the country. The critic who tells you that all exhibitions are alike will have a chance to revise his verdict this year, as the management have made many radical changes in the general arrangement of the exhibits, and their efforts have been cheerfully seconded by the main exhibitors, who are sparing no pains to surpass all their previous efforts. This year, too, greater attention has been given to the comfort of patrons. The aisles have been widened, more standing room has been provided, and the gallery plan has been completely revolutionized by placing the exhibits back to the wall and throwing open the whole front for an unbroken promenade, with an uninterrupted view of the floors below. A forest that would gladden the heart of Robin Hood furnishes a novel retreat for lovers and those spoony young people who think they are in love, but to find it they have to seek the mysterious recesses of machinery hall.

New ideas greet the visitor at every turn. Manchester, Robertson & Allison have taken possession of a big part of the annex floor, and are making a display of furs, furniture, room fixings, etc., that will attract universal attention. C. Flood & Sons are artistically fitting up their old stand in the western end gallery of the annex, and other piano men are making preparations for extensive shows. Emerson & Fisher, the James Robertson Co., the Currie Business University, W. H. Thorne & Co. and others have their booths well advanced, and by tonight the general display will be well worth

In agricultural hall the intricting experimental farm is putting up a good exhibit, which as usual is nicely arranged. W. S. Blair, horticulturist of the farm, has charge of the exhibit, and is making the display show up well. The trophy, which occupies a central position, is arranged in a three sided form topped with stars artistically arranged with grains of various kinds. Charts are used to illustrate the central object of the exhibit, and by one the value of corn is prominently set forward. The artist has presented the corn field of the farmer who took what seed he could get regardless of its value, while a picture of the field where only good varieties | Rev. Mr. Allison , of Alma, is president were placed shows the necessity of being able to take advantage of experimental work setting forth the best sorts. The two farmers are shown talking over the fence telling what varieties to grow. The hen is also having her say. She in telling her business and the number of eggs she supplies for export, while the cock thinks he, too, has something to crow about. This chart is well designed. A list of the best sorts of grains, roots, etc., grown at the farm after five years' test is also given on a chart. Around the charts various kinds of grains in straw are arranged, and on shelves below grain in glass bottles of different sizes is shown. ### N. B. BAPTIST CONVENTION.

The seventh annual session of the New Brunswick Baptist convention will be held at Waterborough, opening on Friday, the 14th inst. Among the interesting features of the occasion will be the centennial exercises commemorating the founding of the first churches in the province. Four of these First Salisbury, Norton, Canning and Prince William were organized in 1800. and appropriate sketches will be presented reviewing the history of each' body. One church, located at Sackwille, dates back to a period more remote than even this, having been organized as early as 1763. On the Thursday preceding the convention the N. B. Sunday School convention will hold its sessions in the same house of worship. Of this body and Rev. S. H. Cornwall, of St. Martins, secretary.

Owing to the recent accident on the Central Railway, delegates from the eastern sections of the province will be obliged this year to come by St. John, in order to take the steamer May Queen to the Range. The meetings are to last over Sunday, 16th inst.

ACCURATE TUNNELING.

In a description of the recently opened Central London railway, the Builder says the longest separate length of tunnel driven was from the Westbourne shaft to the Marble-Arch shaft the distance being over 1,200 vards, and the work resultetd in an error of only five-eights of an inch at the point where a junction was effected with the tunnel driven by another firm of contractors. In two of the sections bore heles were put down into the tunnel for the purpose of testing the lines, but generally the lengths were driven through so accurately that no recourse to bore holes was found necessary.

The brigantine Frederica and the schooner Canarie, both of which arrived here recently to load coal for St. John, have been compelled to proceed to that port in ballast, being unable to obtain coal either from the Nova

FOR SALE.

The farm and lumber lands known as the Duncan Property, on Germain Brook, near Hardingville, in the Parish of St. Martins, St. Hardingville, in the Parish of St. Martins, St. John County, are hereby offered for sale. The house and outbuildings are in good repair and contain all conveniences. The meadow and upland are under excellent cultivation and cut upwards of 40 tons of hay. A fine orchard is included. The property contains about 600 acres, the greater part of which is in standing timber. Will be sold at a reasonable figure. For particulars apply on the premises, or to

CATARRHOZONE CURED AFTER ALL ELSE HAD FAILED.

Miss M. Fames, trained nurse, residing at No. 47 Aylmer street, Montreal, writes: "About three months ago I caught cold in my head, which developed into acute nasal catarrh. From that time up till a few days ago I had been constantly using snuffs, powders and other worthless remedies, but none of them benefited. Hearing of Catarrhozone I decided to try it, and am pleased to say that I found relief upon the first application, and a few days of its use completely cured me. My experience with all kinds of medicine has been extensive, but I must say that I never saw a remedy more speedy in its action than Catarrhozone. I think I know what I am talking about when I say it is the best remedy in the market for catarrh."

If you have catarrh you cannot afford to be indifferent to its progress. Treatment cannot be commenced too early. Your unsatisfactory experience with other remedies should not influence you against to tarrhozone.

WOODSTOCK.

Interesting Exercises in Connection With a School Flag Raising - A Letter from Lieut. Good.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 8.-In a year or two there will probably not be a school house in this county without a flag pole and flag. About two weeks ago a flag was raised amid much enthusiasm at Bedell settlement. Just before that one was put up over the school at Debec. Yesterday a similar event took place at the Cedar Hil school house, which is situated on the west side of the river, two miles below town. Particular interest attached to the ceremony of yesterday, as it was held in the very heart of the community which was first settled by the Loyalists, the descendants of whom with scarcely an exception occupy the farms granted by the crown to their ancestors. It is in this community that the parish church of Woodstock has always been and is now situated, and the descendants of the Loyalists who settki in Woodstock have remained as faithful to the church as to the flag of their forefathers. The trustees of the school, F. Byron Bull. John Flemming and Sterling Peabody, having conceived the idea of a flag raising were not slow to carry the idea into execution. They very easily secured subscriptions, purchased a neat flag and erected a suitable pole. They made arrangements for an appropriate programme. C. L. Smith, postmaster, presided. The choir of Christ church, aided by the Misses Hay of Woodstock and other town talent, furnished the music. Mr. Smith having announced the object of the gathering, "Up with the Union Jack" was sung, and to the stirring strains of this song the school teacher, Miss Harmon hauled the flag to the top of the pole. Three cheers were then given for the old flag. Rev. Mr. Teed, rector of Richmond, was the first speaker called upon. He made an address, expressing regret at the unavoidable absence of the Ven. Archdeacon Neales, who hen for such a long time been intimately associated with the school, and wno, had he been at home, he was sure, would have been glad to have joined in with those present on this occasion. This address finished, "Soldiers of the Queen" was heartily sung, followed by a speech from Frank B. Carvell. M. P. P. Miss M. Oliver gave a recitation and a solo was sung by Miss Hay. Colin Wetmore recited "The Flag of England, and an address was made by T. G. L. Ketchum. Little Miss Fannie Raymond recited "The Charge of the Light Brigade," and a speech from H. Paxton Baird, chairman of the board of trustees of the town of Woodstock, followed. The singing of the national anthem, in which all joined, brought the programme to a conclusion. Refreshments were served by the ladies, and the affair wound up in a most satisfactory

F. B. Carvell, M. P. P., is in receipt of a letter from Lieut. W. C. Good, dated July 31st. Mr. Good reports that seven or eight of his men were, off and on, in hospital, but none seriously ill excepting Brewer, who was invalided home to England and is now in Netley hospital. At the time of writing Mr. Good was in Kimberley, but had just received orders to take his section and join Gen. Baden-Powell in the move to Pretoria. Mr. Good's quota had been in several small actions. They expect to come home by way of England, but at the time of writing had no idea when orders to leave Africa would be given. It seems to be about decided that the case of the town of Woodstock v. the municipality of Carleton for money had and received in the way of Scott act fines, will be tried in St. John. The sum claimed is up in the thousands and covers the collections made

CHINA SITUATION.

Latest Developments Point to the Withdrawal of U. S. Troops.

Lord Salisbury Will Return to London Friday, When Some Developments May be Expected.

LONDON, Sept. 11, 5 a. m.-Lord Salisbury will return to London Friday, when some fresh development in the Chinese situation is expected. Beyond Japan's reply showing her intention to continue to occupy Pekin, there is little to throw further light. From Shanghai comes a report that Li Hung Chang has despatched an urgent telegram to the Empress Dowager at Tai Yuen Fu. announcing the purpose of the allies to advance to Pao Ting Fu, and perhaps even further. The Tien Tsin correspondent of the Daily Mail asserts that everybody in Pekin is living on "bully beef and hard tack." WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 .- The developments of the day in the Chinese situation still point to a speedy withdrawal of the United States troops from China. Gen. Chaffee has added the weight of his opinion to that already entertained by many officials here. It probably is significant that the general's statement on this point was given publicity by the administra-

No confirmation is at hand here of the report that Great Britain and Germany have joined in an agreement to remain together in Pekin, regardless of the attitude of the other powers. It does not follow because the United States troops are to be withdrawn this autumn from China that our interests will be left completely at the mercy of the other powers. On the contrary, such disposition will be made of these troops that they, with others, if necessary, can be returned to China in short order. To this end the entire army of Gen. Chaffee will be quartered in some of the pleasantest and most salubrious portions of the Philippines. If they are wanted again in China they can be transported inside of a week, thoroughly refreshed and fitted for effective action.

Minister Wu has not yet been clothed with powers by his government to effect a settlement of the Chinese trouble directly with the Washington authorities. The officials are inclined to believe that no such large power as this will be conferred upon him, though he may, as do the Chinese ministers in Europe, play a most important part in the preliminaries to the institution of regular negotiations through the commissioners for a final settlement.

(Copyright, 1900, the Associated Press.) SHANGHAI, Saturday, Sept. 8.-John Goodnow, the United States con- The old troubles left again, and I have sul general here, after inquiries in never had any trouble since." Anna every possible source learns that the number of British and American mis-three, while 170 others stationed in Chi Li and Shan Si provinces are unaccounted for, and there is reason for same fate. Of those whose deaths have been absolutely proven, twenty -two were Americans, eight men, eight women and six children, and thirtyfour were British-nine men. fifteeen women and ten children. There is strong proof that 27 were killed at Tai Yuen. All the natives from that place tell substantially the same story. Ten nen, thirteen women and seven dren are known to have been there. The list of missing numbers: Am. ericans, 20 men, 21 women and 20 children; British, 41 men, 49 women and 19 children. It is impossible to get the numbers of the Catholics killed, but there were many French priests and sisters and some are in the country where the Russians are fighting. There are also several Swedish and Danish Protestants. The massacre and persecution of Chinese Christians continues everywhere, and it is said the anti-foreign leaders intend to exterminate them. Literati and minor officials are sending memorials to the dowager empress thanking her for ridding the country of foreigners. All the information coming from the interior is that, except in those parts of the country which the foreign troops occupy, the people believe that the empress has won great victories and driven out the foreigners. It is asserted they will continue to think so until the foreigners, who were compelled to flee, are able to return, and conspicuous punishments are inflicted in retaliation for those who were killed.

Li Hung Chang yesterday promised Mr. Goodnow that he would telegraph to the local officials of Chi Li to furish escorts to treaty ports for all the missionaries who were still there. Li Hung Chang requested Mr. Goodnow to cable to the department of state at Washington that he was greatly pleased with the appointment of his "old friend Foster" as a peace commmissioner.

The Effect of Coffee on Highly Organized People.

"I have been a coffee user for years and about two years age got into would fly to pieces. I was so nervous that at the least noise I was distress ed, and many times could not straight en myself up because of the pain. "My physician told me I must not eat any heavy or strong food and or dered a diet, giving me some medicine I followed directions carefully, but kept on using coffee and did not get any better. Last winter husband, who was away on business, had Postum Food Coffee served to him in the family where he boarded. "He liked it so well that when it came home he brought some with him. We began using it, and I found it most excellent. While I drank it my stomach never bothered me in the least. and I got over my nervous troubles When the Postum was all gone we returned to coffee, then my stomach began to hurt me as before and the nerv ous conditions came on again. "That showed me exactly what was the cause of the whole trouble, so I quit drinking coffee altogether and kept on using Postum Food Coffee. Coen, Mt. Ephraim, Ohio.
