

THREE GERMAN BATTALIONS BLOWN TO PIECES BY FRENCH

FRENCH MARINES CAPTURED GERMAN POSITIONS AND THEN SEWED GROUND WITH MINES

Terrible Carnage Marked Fighting Monday in Northeastern France — Marines, in Fog, Crept to German Trenches and Put Hundreds of Enemies to the Bayonet—A Splendid Victory — French Silence German Battery with Twelve Shots.

From the Battle Front, via Paris, Oct. 20, 10 p. m. — The German invaders, in their effort to shorten their lines and rest their right wing further southwestward upon the English Channel, are meeting with a vigorous offensive by the allies. A good part of the fighting is being done in the obscurity of fogs.

French marines yesterday put forth a fine effort against the Germans. The troops of Emperor William had tried a surprise attack on the marines Sunday, but they had held the field works against superior numbers. The fight lasted all day and then the Germans contented themselves with cannonading the position of the marines.

A thick fog covered the entire region Monday, and the marines, accustomed to such weather conditions, crept toward the German trenches. "No shooting," was the order; "use the bayonet."

The marines got within thirty feet of the trenches before they were seen. It was too late for the defenders, who were bayoneted in the trenches and beyond the trenches, as they ran. Four hundred German prisoners were taken.

THREE GERMAN BATTALIONS WIPED OUT.

One of the places where the French had been most harassed is near the elbow of the western line. The important position there had been taken and re-taken frequently during the last three weeks. Every time the Germans had been obliged to abandon the position they returned in greater force and pushed back the French by weight of numbers.

The French took the position for the twelfth time and held it for ten hours. Then came a shock of the human battering ram and the French gradually gave way. The Germans began fortifying the place, but while they were engaged in this task, the earth heaved and a deafening explosion occurred. The ten hours the French had held the point had been sufficient to mine every rod of the ground. It is estimated that three German battalions were annihilated.

GERMANS ENTRENCHED IN OLD CANAL.

The strength of the German positions north of Roye, which facilitated their movements toward Lille, is explained by the fact that they were occupying an unfinished canal extending as far as Roisel. The Germans found in the deep, broad cutting canal magnificent entrenchments, in which they had only to instal batteries of artillery.

Officers of the allies say that they have noted that only about forty per cent. of the shells from these guns exploded. They say also that the prodigality of the fire from them apparently has depleted the German ammunition, as the intensity of the fire lately has diminished.

The French artillery is so careful in getting their ranges that they waste few shells. In an artillery duel near Arrantieres the Germans fired for half a day into thickets that had been abandoned some time before. When the French three-inch guns finally got the range twelve shells from them silenced the German battery.

SPY ESCAPED

Sarnia, Ont., Oct. 20.—In connection with the escape from Sarnia a few days ago of Fritz Demitz, an alleged German spy, it has come to light that on Friday night last an attempt was made to liberate the Austrian and German prisoners of war confined in the military camp here. The man, believed to have been Demitz, was fired upon by the guards but got away safely. Both the Canadian and United States governments now have agents here investigating the alleged smuggling of Austrian and German reservists out of Canada by way of the United States.

FOUND GUILTY
Bracebridge, Ont., Oct. 20.—William Rutan was found guilty at the assizes here today before Mr. Justice Lennox of murdering George Counter-manno and his own daughter on May 20 last, burning the barns of Henry Cook and M. Braco, neighbors, and trying to murder Cook and another daughter. The jury in rendering its verdict included a recommendation to mercy.

SAYS STEAMER SUNK.

London, Oct. 21, 12.45 a. m.—A despatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Stavanger, Norway, says that the British steamer Glitira, of Leth, was sunk today, twelve miles off the Norwegian coast by a German submarine. The crew of the steamer were ordered onto the boats, and the valves were opened.

The name of the steamer Glitira does not appear in any available maritime registers.

THE CABINET GETS ANOTHER STRONG MAN

Hon. T. Chase Casgrain of Montreal Becomes Postmaster General.

ILLNESS FORCED MR. PELLETIER OUT

Hon. W. B. Nantel to go to Quebec Bench and Deputy Speaker of Commons to be Minister of Inland Revenue.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—With the formal resignations of Hon. L. P. Pelletier and Hon. W. B. Nantel from the Dominion cabinet, today, and the appointment in their stead of Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, K.C., of Montreal, as Postmaster General, and Hon. P. B. Biondin, Deputy Speaker of the Commons as Minister of Inland Revenue, there came to an end most of the rumors that have been circling around Parliament Hill regarding changes in the cabinet. Indeed, the only rumor which remains is that Hon. Louis Coderre, Secretary of State, will shortly be appointed to an important Quebec judgeship.

A Decided Acquisition.

The new Postmaster General is regarded as a decided acquisition to the cabinet. He is one of the leaders of the Quebec bar and is held in high esteem in political circles. He was a member of the last Conservative administration in Quebec, and for one term was a member of the federal parliament for Montmorency. After being sworn in today he returned to Montreal.

Mr. Biondin is a member for Champlain and will seek re-election in his own constituency. It is likely that he, also, will be unopposed.

Mr. Casgrain's appointment to the cabinet is one of the leaders of the Canada Section of the International Waterways Commission vacant. That will go to C. A. McGrath, who is a member of the House of Commons to have been chairman on his appointment in 1911 but stepped aside for Mr. Casgrain. He is one of the biggest figures in Canadian public life. It is probable that J. G. H. Bergeron, K.C., of Montreal, will be appointed to the board. Another vacancy is the office of Deputy Speaker of the Commons. Possibly Albert Sevigny, M.P., will receive the appointment.

MUST LEAVE BRIGHTON

Chief Constable Orders all Germans and Austrians to Depart at Once—No Exceptions.

London, Oct. 20, 10.30 p. m.—The Chief Constable of Brighton has ordered all German and Austrian subjects to leave that town within a few days. No exceptions will be made in the order.

Brighton has a large colony of foreigners, and many of the hotels there are either owned by foreigners or their staffs are made up of them. Numerous Germans who were discharged from the London hotels last week have moved to the south coast resort.

ALLIES DRIVE GERMANS IN DESPERATE CONFLICT IN THE NORTHERN AREA

EXPECT MANY TO JOIN ARMY TRAFALGAR DAY

Hundreds of Wreaths Banked at Base of Nelson Monument—Recruiting Banners Prominently Displayed.

London, Oct. 20, 10.25 p. m.—Tomorrow, Trafalgar Day, will be made the occasion of a great effort to recruit men for the army.

Already hundreds of wreaths and bouquets have been banked at the base of the Nelson monument in Trafalgar Square, where great crowds were present throughout the day. Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Japan and South Africa sent mammoth floral offerings, which are displayed beneath the monolith, which is surmounted by the statue of Admiral Nelson. Nearly all the English ships also sent flowers.

Numerous pathetic notes accompanied the wreaths sent by relatives of the officers and men of the British cruiser Pathfinder and other ships recently destroyed by German submarines.

In addition to the flowers the entire base of the Nelson monument is enveloped with recruiting banners bearing the words, "Your King and Your Country Need You."

MANY FROM MONTREAL

Battalion and Half Besides French Canadian Contingent—Four Machine Guns Will be Sent.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Definite instructions were received at Militia Headquarters here, to prepare for the second contingent to be sent for overseas service from Canada, the exact make-up of this expeditionary force has not yet been decided upon, but it will consist largely of infantry. Montreal will, for the present, be called upon to furnish one and a half battalions, outside of the new French-Canadian regiment, which is being recruited both from Montreal and the province. In this way Montreal will be called upon to supply between 1,500 and 1,600 infantry, while they will be expected to furnish two headquarters regimental staffs, and two machine-gun sections, one for the full regiment and the other for the half battalion.

PORTUGUESE TAKE A HAND

London, Oct. 20, 9.52 p. m.—The following despatch was received here tonight from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company: On September 12, Portuguese troops left for Angola and Mozambique, Portuguese possessions in West and East Africa respectively. Each of these forces consisted of one battalion of infantry, one squadron of cavalry, one battery of mounted artillery, one battery of machine guns and an ambulance staff. Each force aggregated approximately 16,000 men. Two native companies, each of 240 men, have left Mozambique for Angola.

West Flanders and Northeastern France Scene of Terrific Struggle — French Report Determined German Attacks all Along the Line Repulsed — Russians Fighting Along Vistula, San and Dniester Rivers.

The Germans are attempting not only an advance along the coast of the North Sea to the French ports, but have attacked the Allies at many points from the extreme north to the Heights of the Meuse, to the south, on the battlefield.

In the north the Belgian army has held its ground with remarkable tenacity, while at La Bassee, around Arras, between Peronne and Albert, to the east of the Argonne and along the Meuse the German offensive tactics have been repulsed.

This is the substance of the French official report, and in a measure it is in agreement with the Berlin official report which, while not attempting any detailed description of the battle, declares that the German forces have met with strong opposition at the River Yser, where the fighting has continued since Sunday, but that otherwise the situation rather favors German arms, particularly in the vicinity of Lille at which point the French have been attacking for several days with desperation and have been repulsed with heavy losses.

GERMANS DRIVEN BACK.

Thirty thousand Germans are reported to have occupied the coast between Ostend and Nieuport and to have dug trenches along the dykes from Middelkerke to Westende, but later advices declare that they have been repulsed near the latter town and that their guns are now near Ostend, which town they still hold.

The Russian commander-in-chief announces that there is no change in the situation although the Russians are in contact with the enemy at various points in Galicia and East Prussia. With this the Berlin official bulletin is in agreement. A Rotterdam despatch says that the German marines are leaving Antwerp to join the fleet, and that the ships at Kiel have been extensively provisioned, portending possible activity on the part of the German navy, which has been for the past two months at anchor in Germany's well protected harbors.

IN THE EAST

Vienna officially reports Austrian successes in Galicia, east of Chyrow and Przemyel, and adds that the Austro-German armies have repulsed a great cavalry attack in Poland.

Peking despatches report, on the authority of refugees from Taing Tau, that the Japanese have lost several thousand men in their campaign against the German concession in China.

It is estimated that there are not less than two million Belgians outside the borders of their own country, and that there are at least 500,000 wounded in France.

According to a Rotterdam despatch three Zeppelin dirigible sheds are being erected at Brussels, and four at Antwerp. If this is true, it may be the preliminary to the threatened raid on England across the channel.

London, Oct. 20, 9.15 p. m.—Fighting of the most desperate character is in progress in West Flanders and Northeastern France. The Belgian army, supported by the Allies, is holding on stubbornly to the line of the River Yser, despite determined German attacks, and has thus far succeeded in bringing to a halt the advance of the invaders along the coast.

This is announced in the French official communication issued this evening, and is admitted in the report of German general headquarters, which says that fighting has been going on since Sunday in the vicinity of Nieuport, which stands at the crossing of the river near the sea.

A little further to the south the Allies are making an attempt to advance toward Lille for the relief of that city, which has been in German hands for some time, and are also pushing on to the north and south of Arras. Their attacks of yesterday on the advances to Lille, where the Germans hold strong positions, were repulsed, according to the German reports.

To the southward, at the bend of the line, the Germans continue to make furious but unavailing attempts to break the French line. In the east, along the Meuse, the Germans have, according to the French account, essayed in vain to repulse the French troops, who debouched along that territory in which the Camp Des Romaines, now in the hands of the Germans, is situated, in an attempt to cut out that portion of the German army which is thrust towards St. Mihiel.

FRENCH MAKE PROGRESS

Generally speaking, the French claim to have made some detailed progress on various points of the front. Paris reports that the allies have destroyed fifteen German machine guns, two of which were armored, near La Bassee, and a battery of German heavy artillery in the environs of St. Mihiel.

Both sides are bringing up reinforcements to the western front, where one of the supreme struggles of the war is on. The Germans are not bringing new troops from the east but are throwing every available man in Belgium into the firing line. They seem to have the railroads working well, although they must have been seriously damaged during the battles of August and September. Troops are being transported over them, and Dutch sources report that train after train of wounded is being taken back to Germany.

In the fighting in this open country, where the men have not the protection of elaborate entrenchments, such as they have on the Aisne, the losses must be very heavy, especially where endeavors have been made to carry positions by assault.

German and Russian reports agree that the situation in the east has not changed, although the armies are in close touch along the East Prussian frontier and right across Poland and Galicia. In Galicia, however, the Austrians claim to be making progress in their campaign to drive the Russian invaders out, and to have repulsed Russian attacks.

A MONTREAL TENEMENT BLOWN BY BOMB

Fearful Tragedy Followed Act of Unknown Bomb Thrower Body of One Victim Recovered—More Believed to be in Debris of Buildings.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Two men are believed to have blown up a block of nine tenements and three stores on Frontenac street about six o'clock to-night with a bomb, and to have met death in the wreckage, in which about a dozen inmates were more or less seriously injured. Only one body was recovered, and it was taken to the morgue to await identification. The police think there is at least one body in the ruins, if not more, but owing to broken gas pipes the search was greatly hampered.

Paul Belanger, 381 street, and Joseph Lariviere, 583 Frontenac street, told the police they saw two men, who looked like foreigners carrying a big black thing into one of the doorways of the block of tenements, and a loud explosion immediately followed. Sixty-five foreigners—Poles, Roumanians and Austrians, chiefly occupied the premises, and they were at supper when the explosion occurred. There was a terrific roar and the entire front of the building blew out with awful force into Frontenac street. Windows in houses all around were shattered, the floors of the tenement itself were wrecked, and the whole building for a time had a most menacing aspect.

Police were sent for, and fire alarms turned in, though happily fire did not add its horrors to the scene.

Confusion reigned for a time, which culminated in intense excitement when a strong cordon of police was seen to convey away to No. 13 Station, a group of a dozen foreigners.

Information regarding the affair is to the effect that there had been trouble in the building for the past few days—whether it was racial or not was not stated—and the police had been called in last night and the night before. One man, eluding the police some days ago, had, it is said, sworn that he would "make trouble," and that is why the police thought it would be wise to apprehend some of the men who might be useful, should evidence be forthcoming that the affair was premeditated.

WILL REVIEW CANADIANS

King George and Earl Kitchener to Review Contingent on Salisbury Plains—Getting in Shape.

Salisbury, England, Oct. 20.—That the Canadian troops will be reviewed on Salisbury Plains at no distant date by King George and Earl Kitchener, was the intimation given by Major General Alderson, commander of the contingent, at a meeting of the officers today.

Among various matters of a routine character which were discussed, was the question of leave of absence, and it was decided to allow weeks' leave over Saturday and Sunday to twenty per cent of the force at a time.

While the camps are not by any means full, as entraining is still proceeding at Plymouth, certain of the units of the command are falling into the regular routine.

Although some rain has fallen, the weather is generally fine and fairly mild. The roads are in excellent shape, and have been commented on favorably.

ALLIES DRIVE GERMAN DESPERATE CONFLICT

The Russians, on the other hand, say that they are taking large numbers of prisoners. Heavy fighting is still going on around Przemysl, and the cupolas of the forts surrounding the town are said by an Italian correspondent to have been destroyed by the big Russian siege guns, while the forts have been mined and dismantled and the magazines blown up. The town itself, however, has not been damaged.

The same correspondent says that the battle on the Vistula, San and Dniester rivers, continues. There is a system of great entrenchments on the Russian side, and the whole front is furnished with powerful guns which day and night hurl thousands of projectiles into the enemy's lines. The Austrians and Germans, add the correspondent, have been obliged to remain on the defensive, but have repulsed a great cavalry attack to the west of Warsaw.

Barayevo, the Bosnian capital, according to a report issued at Nish, is now completely enveloped by Serbians, and determined efforts are being made to take the town before the conclusion of the trial of the alleged assassins of the Austrian heir, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, which started the war.

WOULD BE SOLDIERS MUST HAVE CONSENT OF THEIR DEPENDENTS

Wives Can Keep Husbands from Enlisting in Second Contingent—Men Under 21 Must Have Parents Permission.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The instructions which have been sent out in connection with the mobilization of further contingents of the reserve service state that while young men from eighteen years up may be received, those under twenty-one years must have the written consent of their parents. Men twenty-one years of age and older are not required to have this consent. This will eliminate a considerable amount of correspondence such as the militia department had to deal with in connection with the first contingents.

Where a man, however, is the only son of parents, who are dependent on him, their written consent must be given. And married men, before must have the consent of their wives. Otherwise the instructions are practically the same as for the first contingent.

"The fighting near Mizyniec was especially severe.

"North of Mizyniec our troops advanced close to the enemy.

GERMAN SECRET SOCIETY LOCATED IN ROUMANIA

Petrograd, Oct. 20.—The ministry of the interior reports that it has received information to the effect that a secret society exists in Roumania which is controlled by Germany, and the purpose of which is to influence public opinion through the press. The society is said to have a capital of $4,000,000.

The ministry of the interior also says that devastation followed the Austrian invasion of the Russian governments of Lublin and Galicia. In these governments 4,250 houses were burned, with a loss of $1,500,000.

WOUNDED IN BUDAPEST.
Budapest, via Paris, Oct. 20, 9.15 p. m.—Budapest is flooded with wounded soldiers, who continue to arrive daily by train loads. The new military hospital just opened has 3,600 beds and another barrack hospital has been started which will accommodate four thousand sick or wounded.

TWO STEAMERS WILL TAKE AWAY HORSES

Anglo-Colombian and Anglo-Saxon arrived in port yesterday—Will be fitted here.

The steamers Anglo-Colombian, Captain Westcott, and the Anglo-Saxon, Captain Lord, arrived in port yesterday morning from Newport News to load horses for the British forces. The ships are consigned to J. T. Knight & Co.

It is not stated when the ships will sail with the horses, as a considerable time will be taken in fitting them up with stalls. The contract has not been given out yet for the carpenter work, but it is expected that this will be done today or tomorrow. The fitting out of the ships can be accomplished in about a week and about a hundred men will be necessary to do the carpenter work and rush matters along. Each ship will be able to carry 300 to 1,000 horses.

While on the voyage here Captain Westcott states that while off Nantuxet, about 60 miles, he saw two warships receiving coal from lighters, and thought they were British ships.

ALLAN AND WHITE STAR STEAMERS RETURNED

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Following the arrival of the Canadian contingent in Great Britain the Allan Line and the White Star Dominion Line have received word that all their steamships used in that service are now released for the regular service which they maintain for the balance of the season.

The Allan Line proposed sailings in the remainder of the 1914 season until the closing of navigation, and the first sailing from St. John, N. B., in the winter season.

Mr. Pelletier's Statement

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Hon. L. P. Pelletier, who today retired from the Postmaster Generalship owing to ill health, has issued a communication to his friends and electors. After referring to the fact that medical advice has told him he presumed too far on his strength in taking up the onerous duties of his department, Mr. Pelletier says:

"I cannot close these few words which I dictate under great emotion as you can understand, without saying with what sincere regret I part from the Prime Minister, my colleagues, and my department.

"One must know Sir Robert Borden, must have enjoyed that intimacy which it has been my privilege to share during the past three years, to know his claims to our admiration. He is not only a great statesman with a wide range of thought, but he is just and honorable and has his heart in the right place.

DAILY REFUSED TO ISRAEL SCHAFER

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Ball was refused today by Chief Justice Sir Horace Archibald to Israel Schaffer, the ticket agent, who is under arrest on charges of treason for selling to four (seven Austrians) tickets to Europe. In refusing the application, His Lordship said that he did not see any valid reason why he should attend the accused to ball pending the preliminary hearing in the case. King George was at war with the Emperor of Austria, and the offence with which the accused was charged was a most serious one, more serious even under the present conditions, than a charge of murder.

THE BATTLE OF TRAFALGAR

Anniversary will be observed quietly in St. John. Citizens should display flags.

The Battle of Trafalgar, by which England became mistress of the seas was fought and won 109 years ago today. While the famous victory of Nelson has always been regarded as one of the big events in the world's history it has more than usual significance to the people of the British Empire today, for by means of the British Navy the ocean routes have been kept open since the beginning of the present European conflict and the armies of the Allies have thus been enabled to receive their necessary supplies of food. In St. John the day will not be celebrated as usual by the members of St. George's Society but, on account of the war the demonstration will be dispensed with. Citizens, however, should display their flags.

The public schools mention will be made of the anniversary but no organized demonstration will be made.

THE SINKING OF THE BRITISH CRUISER HOGUE BY A GERMAN SUBMARINE.

This diagrammatic drawing showing the sinking of the British cruiser Hogue by a German submarine in an attempt to help the Aboukir was from a description supplied by Commander Reginald Norton, of the Hogue. Between 6:15 and 6:30 A. M. His Majesty's ship Aboukir was struck by a torpedo. The Hogue closed the Aboukir, and I received orders to hoist out the launch, turn out and prepare all boats and unlash all timber on the upper deck. The two lifeboats were sent to the Aboukir, but before the launch could get away the Hogue was struck on the starboard side amidships by two torpedoes at intervals of ten to twenty seconds. The ship at once began to heel to starboard. I turned the men in the port battery to jump overboard, as the launch was close alongside, and soon afterward the ship lurched heavily to starboard. The Hogue turned turtle very quickly—in about five minutes—and floated bottom up for some minutes. A dense black smoke was seen in the starboard battery, whether from coal or torpedo cordite I could not say. The upper deck was not blown up, and only one other small explosion occurred as we heeled over."

THE BATTLE OF TRAFALGAR

Anniversary will be observed quietly in St. John.—Citizens should display flags.

The Battle of Trafalgar, by which England became mistress of the seas was fought and won 109 years ago today. While the famous victory of Nelson has always been regarded as one of the big events in the world's history it has more than usual significance today, for by means of the British Navy the ocean routes have been kept open since the beginning of the present European conflict and the armies of the Allies have thus been enabled to receive their necessary supplies of food. In St. John the day will not be celebrated as usual by the members of St. George's Society but on account of the anniversary but no organized demonstration will be made.

RAIL REFUSED TO ISRAEL SCHAFFER

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Rail was refused today by Chief Justice Sir Horace Archibald to Israel Schaffer, the ticket agent, who is under arrest on charges of treason for selling to fourteen Austrians tickets to Europe. In refusing the application, His Lordship said that he did not see any valid reason why he should admit the accused to bail pending the preliminary hearing in the case. King George was at war with the Emperor of Austria, and the offense with which the accused was charged was a most serious one, more serious even under the present conditions, than a charge of murder.

PITIFUL CONDITIONS AMONG THE BELGIANS

Refugees say they will never go back while country is in German hands.—King Albert asks that his people be given work.

London, Oct. 20, 3:25 p. m.—The plight of the Belgian people both at home and in Holland, England and France, is arousing the sympathy of all who contemplate their situation, and food and shelter for the unfortunate abroad. The problem is striking the hearts and minds of men even in countries already distraught by the horrors of war. Figures are necessarily vague, but a conservative estimate is that 1,500,000 Belgians out of a population of 7,000,000 have been expatriated. Lord Gladstone's committee says that the seventy thousand arrived in London during the past week, and the Women's Relief Committee, which sent a ship to Holland last week, reports that in eight Netherlands cities, the refugee number nearly 500,000. In other words, they are more numerous than the native populations. The Folkestone committee alone has the names of 16,000 refugees on its list, some among them having little money, and only a few having winter clothing. Folkestone already has established a maternity home and two hospitals, which are well filled. There are many gentle folk among these fugitive Belgians, who are not used to labor, and who accept charity reluctantly.

AWFUL CONDITIONS.

"There are, perhaps, today two million Belgians outside the borders of their country. It is doubtful, which are the better off, those outside or those inside. Millions of millions have gone had they not been too poor, or too optimistic. It is useless to urge them to return and live under German rule. They will remain away until the war is over, no matter what happens. I came out with my family in two handbags, and we had little money. I have a city home in Brussels, and a country home outside. It does not care to see them while the Germans are there." The tremendous responsibility of caring for these Belgian refugees presents problems which are being discussed at length in the English newspapers. Countless suggestions have been made. These include colonization in Ireland and the establishment of new lease factories and similar industries. The fact that British unemployment has been increased by the war accentuates the problem. One London newspaper has collected more than $15,000 for the refugees. This same paper has published an interview with King Albert, who expresses his gratitude for what has been done on behalf of "poor Belgium, now merely the edge of a nation." Continuing the King urges that the Belgians be given work, and not supported by charity.

ASSISTANCE FOR INDIANS IS NECESSARY

Fur market destroyed and Government goes to aid of red men with goods money and ammunition.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The government has completed plans for relieving the distress among the Northern Indians, due to the fact that the Hudson Bay Co. and Revillon Bros. are not buying furs this winter, their market having been destroyed by the war. The practice has been for the Indians to get their supplies in advance from the fur trading companies and pay off their bills when they came in with their furs. But for the government assistance the condition of the Indians would have been serious. They are being encouraged to hunt for food this season rather than for furs and the government is supplying them with ammunition and with twine and wire for snares. Arrangements are also being made with the fur companies to give to the Indians near their posts when it is required. The provincial government has also agreed to relax their game laws so as to let the Indians hunt the caribou, moose and other game for their food supply, this being especially necessary in Northern Ontario where the Ontario game laws were extended to the newly annexed territory in the North.

Look to the food. Eat heartily of hot breads, hot biscuit, hot cakes, made light and tasty with Royal Baking Powder, and snap your fingers at dyspepsia. It is the tasty, appetizing food that aids digestion.

There is a quality in Royal Baking Powder coming from the purity, wholesomeness and fitness of its ingredients, which promotes digestion. Food raised by it will not distress. This peculiarity of Royal has been noted by hygienists and physicians, and they are accordingly earnest in its praise, especially recommending it in the preparation of food for those of delicate digestion.

VARIETY OF CASES BEFORE THE POLICE MAGISTRATE

Three Sessions of Court yesterday and many matters were settled—Andrew Irvine in for 143rd time—Russians come to agreement.

The city police court had another busy session yesterday, court being held morning, afternoon and evening, when considerable business was transacted. In morning, Frank Courtney, the young Englishman, who was charged with stealing $15 from Gunner Fagan on Partridge Island, and a razor from another soldier, was sent up for trial. Langford Coram was found guilty of being drunk and willfully breaking a window in a Prince William street barber shop and was fined $8 or two months in jail. Andrew Irvine made his appearance in court as a prisoner for the 143rd time and was sent to jail for two months on the charge of being drunk. Donald Nyberg, a boy, charged with stealing boards and nails from residences on Cranston Avenue, was allowed to go under suspended sentence. In the afternoon, an old man, named Thomas Corr, who had been arrested on Brussels street on the 15th inst. for drunkenness, appealed to the court that he was without any means of support and requested that he be sent to the Municipal Home. His request was granted. Andrew Nikutur, a Russian, who was arrested a couple of weeks ago on suspicion of stealing ten dollars from another Russian, named George Szumko, was before the court and allowed to go with the understanding that the master would be arranged between the two. The plaintiff in the case had also been in custody for a couple of weeks as a witness and as they could not speak the English language, Louis Pader acted as interpreter for them and took the two from the court to assist them in righting any wrong that had been done.

STEEL CORPORATION SUIT CONTINUES

Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—Argument in the suit of the federal government which is seeking to break up the United States Steel Corporation by separating into units all of its subsidiaries on the ground that their combination into the one gigantic concern constituted a violation of the anti-trust laws was begun here today before four judges sitting as the United States Court for the district of New Jersey. Jacob M. Dickinson, former secretary of war, who has been in charge of the government's side of the case since it was instituted in October, 1911, took up the entire day in presenting his testimony, and will continue tomorrow. The open day's argument produced no sensations, and there was little brought out that was new.

Girlish Complexion Now Easily Acquired

"A skin of blended snow, cream and rose" is the way an Ohio correspondent describes in her newly acquired complexion. She is one who has adopted macrolized wax in place of cosmetics, massage, steaming and other methods. Many who have tried this marvelous wax report that its effects are quite different from those of any other treatment. It produces a complexion of exquisite girlish naturalness, rather than one bearing evidence of having been artificially "made over." One that is indeed "Nature's own," the result of gradually absorbing dead particles of surface skin, permitting the younger, healthier skin beneath to show itself, and giving its pores a chance to breathe. Macrolized wax, procurable at any drug store in original one ounce packages, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning. I have also had many favorable letters from those who have tried the wrinkle-removing face bath which I recommended recently. If any have missed the formula, here it is: 1 oz. powdered kaolin, 1/2 oz. glycerine, 1/2 oz. water, 1/2 oz. rose water, 1/2 oz. perfume. Put in a jar and use at night.

THE WAR SITUATION.

While they tell of no sweeping victories yet the official reports from London, Paris and Petrograd are encouraging in tone, and indicate that the Allies, on the long battle line in France and Belgium, are making real progress in their tedious task of driving back the German invaders. A report had gained currency early last evening that the army of the German Crown Prince had been cut to pieces and the news aroused considerable enthusiasm. There is no direct confirmation of it beyond the statement that German heavy artillery has been defeated in the country near St. Mihiel, and it was in that territory the Crown Prince had been operating.

The Germans and Allies are locked in a stubborn and sanguinary conflict in West Flanders and Northeastern France, near the coast line. That field is the scene of the most important battle of the present campaign, and so far all attempts to break through the Allies' lines have failed. They are described by a military expert as being like a stone wall which the Germans cannot pierce.

On the eastern frontier, the Russians and Austrians are still engaging in heavy fighting with no decisive advantage on either side. The Austrians have repulsed Russian cavalry attacks in Poland, while the Russians are making progress in the campaign in Galicia. The onward march of the Russians to Berlin has been temporarily checked through the reinforcement of the German lines by men drawn from the French front.

The Russian army, which has mobilized and transported her mighty armies in a quicker time than any one expected and in putting up a campaign so strenuous as to cause the Germans to regard it with apprehension she is rendering the most valuable sort of assistance.

On all fields the plans of the Allies are working out well; the German campaign is less advanced now than a month ago; the attack on Paris has been abandoned as an impossible undertaking; the Germans are not making headway in the projected attack upon England, on the contrary they are fighting with all their might to hold the ground they have taken, but without success. Each succeeding day sees the Allies a little further ahead and the Kaiser's armies that march nearer the German border. Occasionally the enemy may meet with successes but the steady progress of the campaign is strongly in favor of the Allies and the final result is today more certain than ever. The war will be prolonged. Predictions and arguments to the contrary have by now proven empty, but it will end with the triumph of the forces of liberty and the elimination from the world affairs of the power of Prussian militarism.

HON. T. CHASE CASGRAIN.

The entry of Hon. T. Chase Casgrain to the Borden Cabinet, brings another strong man to the councils of the nation. Hon. Mr. Casgrain has long been an outstanding figure in the life of this country, a fine, well rounded type of the virile Canadian, well qualified by superior mentality, broad culture and strong character to bear a man's part in the administration of the greatest of the British Dominions. He has long been regarded as one of the leaders of the Canadian bar, and is numbered among the foremost sons of the Province of Quebec. In the Maritime Provinces he is probably not so well known, but it can be said with truth, and with no disparagement to Hon. Mr. Pelletier, to whose portfolio he succeeds, that Hon. T. Chase Casgrain is a distinct acquisition to a cabinet already strong in the quality of its members.

The new Postmaster General is a member of a distinguished Quebec family. He was educated at Quebec Seminary and Laval University, whence he graduated "ave grande distinction." He is the senior member of the Montreal legal firm of McGillivray, Casgrain, Mitchell and Weldon, and has handled many of the most important legal cases in Canada. An interesting fact regarding his earlier career is that he was junior counsel for the Crown in the famous trial of the rebel, Louis Riel, for treason, in Regina, in 1884. When the new Judiciary of the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan was in formation Hon. Mr. Casgrain was asked to become a member of the Supreme Court Bench, but declined the honor, and it has also been said that at the formation of the Borden Ministry he could have had a cabinet position, but preferred to re## main in the practice of his profession in Montreal.

Hon. Mr. Casgrain was formerly Attorney General of the Province of Quebec, and while holding that office he was responsible for much legislation of an advanced type. The Act, prepared by him, for the prevention of corrupt practice at elections, was carried through the Quebec Legislature and into the Statutes of that province. It was pronounced the most advanced and thorough enactment of the kind ever adopted in Canada. In his new capacity, Hon. Mr. Casgrain can be depended upon to bring to the administration of a most important department the keen foresight and sterling character which have already marked him as one of the greatest living Canadians.

THE PATRIOTIC FUNDS.

While the appearance on the Empire's battle line of the second Canadian contingent will add lustre to the name and fame of Canada, it will also have the effect of increasing the number of calls upon the Patriotic Funds, and will render it even more necessary that contributions to collections for this purpose should be as large as circumstances will permit. The indication now is that the war will be prolonged and that Canada will bear an important part in it; every dollar that can be secured will likely be needed.

So far, the collections in the larger centres in this province have been very good but there must be large stretches of territory, which would be productive of additions to the funds that have not yet been covered. It is difficult for committees, no matter how active or zealous they may be, to completely cover all the ground in the province, but much is being done and before the canvass is completed, probably most residents of New Brunswick will have been given an opportunity to assist the good cause.

A New Brunswick newspaper man, active in the work of collection, in a letter to Mr. John M. Imrie, secretary of the Canadian Press Association, tells of a plan he adopted with success, and suggests that it might be followed by others. Mr. Imrie, desiring to pass the suggestion along, sent it to Mr. H. B. Ames, M. P., Montreal, and Mr. Ames has sent a copy to this city from which The Standard is permitted to quote the following excerpt:

"On Thursday night I motored thirty-one miles, away into another county, and in one of the so-called back districts addressed a crowded meeting on 'Great Britain's justification in declaring war,' and at the close an appeal was made for contributions. "Although it was only a little district with three or four houses at the village corner, away up on a ridge, yet I managed to get $38.12 as a collection for the Patriotic Fund with a promise of making it around $60. Almost everybody in the place was at the meeting, and everybody contributed something. "Cannot other newspaper men do this? We are working the towns a good deal but there are back districts so-called, throughout Canada which are as deeply interested in this question as those in the front. "I was laughed at when I said I was going away up to Cornhill in King's County, out of my district. 'Why,' they said, 'it was too small a place to make it worth the while going. You will not have more than twenty people there. But I went and I had between two and three hundred.' The local people organized a choir, sang patriotic songs, and decorated their little hall with flags and bunting foliage. They got out the whole country-side, Conservatives and Liberals, Catholics and Protestants, and even brought babies in arms. If one little so-called back district can do this why can't others do it? "Now here is a hint for some of my so-called fellow journalists. They, like myself, have the subject at their finger ends, and the people would be willing to hear them. Why don't they go out and rouse the country up and let it do them good to meet some of the farmers whom they are all the time telling how to run their farms. "These people even promised me that they would get up contributions of food and supplies and send them to Belgium. I am convinced that great work can be done in these partially settled districts, and the people appreciate much more than in a town even a newspaper editor going out to see them and talk to them. "Mr. Imrie's correspondent suggests that the work should be done by newspaper men, but there are others who could do it as well or better. The suggestion of covering the so-called back settlements in a series of public meetings, similar to those described, has much to commend it and might be followed with very excellent results.

The Encore.

Manager—There's nobody can imitate the things I put on the stage. Why, just lately, a sunrise in play got so much applause I had to make the sun rise three times.

Bill The Blacksmith

Within the palace at old Potsdam Kaiser Smithy has a stand. The smith a war lord, not a lamb Has palmed withered hand And a mustache that is trained as high As any in the land.

His face is stern as it can be. His gall is swollen large; His nerve from him will never flee Until the British charge. And the orders that he throws about Are feared on every barge.

He goes on Sunday to his church And sits among his sons. Just notice how he'll twitch and lurch If the sermon's not on guns. And he calls the gentle preacher down For preaching plous ones.

Month in month out he's on the job Forging the Iron Cross To hand out to some Zeppelin cock If he a bomb will toss. Never thinking where that bomb will strike.

What damage or what loss. And little German boys and girls, Who would for peace be glad, Are wondering as they twist their curls When he will call for "Dan" To try and win that Iron Cross And make his children sad.

Tolling with every muscle strong Upon his anvil old, He never thinks he's doing wrong To those within his fold, But he'll be taught a lesson yet Before he's good and cold.

No thanks to you, old Kaiser Bill.

For all you've gone and done. Although you've worked with might and will Yet tell us what you've won? Year Iron Cross you forced so hard Will cursed be by the Hun. —S. C. Matthews, St. John, Oct. 19.

The Vigil.

England! where the sacred flame Burns before the inmost shrine, Where the lips that love thy name Consecrate their hopes and thine; Where the banners of the dead Weave their shadows overhead, Watch beside thine arms to-night, Pray that God defend the right.

Think that when to-morrow comes War shall claim command of all? That must hear the roll of drums, 'Thou must hear the trumpet's call. Now before their silence roth, Commune with the voice of truth, England! on thy knees to-night Pray that God defend the right.

Hast thou counted up the cost, What to foeman, what to friend? Glory sought is honor lost, How should this be knighthood's? Know'st thou what is hatred's need, What the surest gain of greed? England! wilt thou dare to-night Pray that God defend the right?

Shrine-hearted, unafraid, Hither all thy hopes came, On this altar's steps were laid Gordon's life and Nelson's fame. England! if thy will be yet— Here beside thine arms to-night Pray that God defend the right.

So shalt thou when morning comes Rise to conquer or to fall; Joyful hear the rolling drums, Joyful hear the trumpet's call. Then let memory tell thy heart England! what thou wert, thou art! Gird thy sword with thine ancient right, Forth! and God defend the right. —Canon Newbolt, in the London Times, August 5.

The Terror of the Skies

(New York World.) Bomb-dropping has now been attempted by German aviators over a number of towns, by the allies over the Zeppelin sheds at Düsseldorf and possibly elsewhere. The results are scarcely brilliant. No military advantage has been gained, no fortification destroyed, no observation post put out of business. The loss of life has been small, and chiefly among non-combatants.

Flying at such heights as aviators must maintain to avoid rifle and cannon fire, it is not easy to hit a gun emplacement or a searchlight. If the bombs dropped in Paris Sunday were meant for the Eiffel Tower they missed badly; if designed to terrorize the people, they were almost as complete a failure. Habit is the foe to fear. A bomb dropped in London would cause a great sensation. The second would be less noted. The fourth or fifth, unless some grave damage were done, would be philosophically accepted. The civilian population of Ypres in 1863, and of Paris in 1870-71, soon became accustomed to the constant rain of projectiles. In number, accuracy and deadliness far surpassing anything that can conceivably be showered from the skies. So it would be now.

It was easy to predict that air craft would play a great part in the war as aids in scouting. As a striking force they have as yet done nothing to compensate in the least for the just anger of neutrals whose old men peacefully walking with their daughters of a Sunday afternoon are needlessly slain, or when poor women, asleep in garrets are blown limb from limb. Such exploits are as foolish as futile in the military sense.

New, Positive Treatment to Remove Hair or Fuzz

(Beauty Notes) Women are fast learning the value of the use of delatone for removing hair or fuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on the hairy surface. In two or three minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washed and every bit of hair has disappeared. No failure will result if you are careful to buy genuine delatone.

A Pathetic Incident.

The following letter is from a correspondent in France, who is at Grenoble:

She was a beautiful, haughty-looking, stylish young woman, surrounded by a jeering crowd of soldiers' wives and sweethearts. We were standing on the inside edge of the crowd, on the wide terrace in front of the main entrance of the Grenoble railway station, watching the departure of the French soldiers for the war. The battalion now leaving, the Chasseurs Alpins, one of the finest in France, had had the honor of being assigned to one of the most important positions on the eastern frontier, on the front ranks of the fighting line. Their ultimate aim, so it was rumored, being the capture of Meung-sur-Loire, a town of 100,000 inhabitants. Conscious of the tried value of this fine and hardy-looking body of men, there came from the immense crowd present to see them off one continuous roar of cheers and acclamations.

We moved back of the crowd with difficulty and finally stood on the outside curb, where we could obtain a better view of the ensemble. Just then my attention was drawn to an auto-de-luxe that had stopped a few feet away from us. A young lieutenant accompanied by his wife and child, a five-year-old boy possibly, stopped out of the auto and came forward a few steps in our direction and stopped. The man stopped and fondly

And Skeptical After Trying Many Medicines—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Cured Him.

When the kidneys fail to purify the blood the poisons left in the system cause pain and suffering, such as backache, lumbago and rheumatism. Read how this skeptic was cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. "I have been completely cured of backache and lame back by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I also recommended the pills to a man who was a cripple from rheumatism. He was skeptical, as he said that he had tried nearly everything on earth. Finally he consented to try them, and to his surprise was greatly benefited in the first week, and the pains left his legs until he was so supple he could walk without pain or difficulty. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have worked wonders in this place, and we think there is no medicine like them." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill three or four times a day, 5 for 25c. kissed the child; then heartily and long he grasped his wife in his arms, exchanged a short hearty kiss, walked away two or three paces, turned around and gave them a long, tender look, then disappeared in the crowd. The wife's face became deadly pale; she nervously dropped her son's hand, took a step forward, staring blankly with wide haggard, fearless eyes at the cheering throng and fainted. ### INDAVORING TO SOLVE QUESTION OF EXCHANGE

United States owes Great Britain about $200,000,000 and will probably take it out in trade—Sir George Paish believes it will be settled without trouble.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Problems of international exchange, which at present are worrying the Federal Reserve Board, will be solved soon, and the balance of trade will swing again to the United States, making the payment of immense sums of American gold to England unnecessary, in the opinion of Sir George Paish, special adviser to the English Chancellor of the Exchequer, now in Washington discussing foreign exchange conditions with the Board and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

"At the present time," he said today, "England, of course, feels that she wants money that is owed her. States probably more than $200,000,000. The ordinary method of payment is gold, but in the course of business the balance is usually taken care of by purchase of American securities, or by payment for your crops. In view of the present situation in your country the payment of this large amount of gold at this time might prove inconvenient, and England was glad to respond to a proposal that the case be talked about and an effort made to find some way of meeting the difficulty."

"I feel sure that some way will be discovered here by your Federal Reserve Board and the Secretary of the Treasury, and there is no doubt that eventually the balance of trade will again be in your favor, in the months to come England will be buying American wheat and cotton. It probably will not cancel the sum owed in a few months, but it is bound to come in time. In the meantime arrangements may be made so that you will not be embarrassed and yet England will be assured that her money will be forthcoming when wanted."

Sir George said that he believed the London Stock Exchange would open in a short time, and thought it probable that the New York Exchange would be opened about the same time.

FRENCH WOUNDED.

London, Oct. 20, 7:45 p. m.—Dr. Leslie Haden Guest, who established six Anglo-French hospitals in France, declared today that the number of wounded in France is estimated at half a million. As evidence of the superiority of the French artillery, Dr. Guest says, German soldiers treated in French hospitals are much more badly wounded than are French and English soldiers.

CANADIAN TROOPS LEAVING FOR SERVICE ABROAD.

The picture on the left shows Colonel Samuel Hughes, Canadian Minister of Militia, leaving the flagship of the cruiser convoy. The scene on the right, the troops waving their last farewell. Colonel Hughes, in a farewell message to the troops on their way to fight for Great Britain in Continental Europe, showed that upward of thirty-three thousand Canadians of English, Irish, French, Welsh, Scotch, American and German ancestry embarked within six weeks from the day they heard the call to arms, having passed that time perfecting themselves in rifle shooting and camp life.

COL. HUGHES INTERVIEWS KITCHENER

Minister of Militia greatly pleased with condition of Canadians at Salisbury Plains.

London, Oct. 20.—Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia and Defence for Canada, came up today from Salisbury to see Lord Kitchener. Subsequently interviewed at the Savoy Hotel, Colonel Hughes said he could not reveal the object of his conference with the Minister of War, but he volunteered the information that Lord Kitchener and he were in accord on all points. Col. Hughes expressed his complete satisfaction with the arrangements made so far for the Canadian troops at Salisbury Plains.

Col. E. W. Wilson, of Montreal, chief of staff, who was present at the interview, adds that there was evidence to show that the troops were also pleased with the camp arrangements. Col. Wilson jocularly remarked still pour in, but the officers of the committee are able, after investigation, to meet all the demands made upon them of a reasonable nature. The Belgian Relief Committee are still receiving provisions and goods, and the contributions coming in, both from the city and province, testify strongly to the general sympathy with the devoted Belgians.

THE FUNDS

Contributions to the Patriotic Fund continue to come in, and those in charge of the Relief Fund for the Belgians report contributions both in cash and clothing and goods. The Patriotic Committee have their work reduced to a business basis. Appeals for assistance from soldiers' families still pour in, but the officers of the committee are able, after investigation, to meet all the demands made upon them of a reasonable nature. The Belgian Relief Committee are still receiving provisions and goods, and the contributions coming in, both from the city and province, testify strongly to the general sympathy with the devoted Belgians.

Dr. McVey Will Go.

When the second contingent sails from St. John or Halifax, whichever port be chosen for the purpose, Dr. Wm. B. McVey will most likely be one of the officers to go. He has offered his services as a physician to the headquarters of the 6th military district at Halifax, and been accepted, but will be required to take a course in special training in militia hospital duties and field details before being gazetted. Dr. McVey will probably go to the front in command of the next field ambulance unit to leave St. John. He has as yet received no word as to when to go to the hospital at Halifax to report for duty.

MORE ABOUT PIT PROPS

W. Windham, chairman of the British Commission which recently visited St. John to enquire into the pit prop prospect, writes to the Secretary of the Board of Trade from Ottawa expressing regret that the limited time at their disposal rendered it impossible for the Commission to prolong their stay at St. John. He remarks further: "I should be very glad to receive from the members of the St. John Board of Trade, and any others interested, further information as to possible sources of supply. The number of pit-props required is approximately one million per week and the measurements from 2 1/2 inches to about three to twelve feet in length. The wood should be spruce, fir or pine, and separate pieces (either by lineal or by cord measure) should be quoted for each size, delivered alongside ship, if possible. Any such particulars should be communicated without delay to H. M. Trade Commissioner for Canada and Newfoundland, No. 3 Beaver Hall Square, Montreal, P. Q."

PATRIOTISM AND POCKETBOOKS

Make Your Money Move in a Circle, and Keep It Busy

WHEN you buy goods made in Canada you show your patriotism and help your pocketbook. When you buy these goods in St. John you show a proper community spirit and help your neighbor. Your money stays at home. It enables your city merchants to continue doing business on normal profits without advancing their prices, to employ their regular help. In this way endless chains of families through all classes and occupations are affected, prosperity is made permanent and the benefit comes back to you.

When you buy foreign goods you hurt Canada, and you hurt the Empire by assisting her competitors. When you buy these foreign goods, you send your money abroad, decrease Canada's output, and deprive Canadian workmen of employment to which they are entitled. When you buy your goods outside of St. John you interfere seriously with the prosperity of your fellow citizens, you make it difficult for merchants to find employment for their help, for home manufacturers to secure markets for their goods, and for your city to do its share in the nation's work.

Every dollar spent in St. John for Canadian goods gives employment to St. John labor, and STARTS YOUR MONEY ON THE ROAD BACK TO YOU.

We are not patriotic because of what we get out of it, but Patriotism Always Pays

LATE NEWS

MUNICIPAL MARKET PLAN BIG SUCCESS

New York citizens find new institution cheaper and better — Grocery interests protest.

New York, Oct. 20.—In spite of the attitude of the local grocery interests, it is understood that further open markets are contemplated by municipal officials. These, it is said, will be established in Manhattan Borough at West 42nd street, West 23rd street, Kips Bay at 34th street, and Washington Heights.

Speaking of the protests of the grocery interests against these markets, Borough President Mack, who was instrumental in the establishment, said: "I have received delegations here of wholesale and retail storekeepers who object to these markets and an undue exercise of municipal functions. They protest that their business will be ruined by the competition set up under the city's help. But we are striving at these distributing markets only to diminish the undue profits that have hitherto gone to the middleman. The opponents of the markets I have listened to here, argue in a circle. They shifted their ground when I asked them if they could not sell at the prices current in the markets, and then complained that the quality of the supplies sold in the markets was inferior. We have the names of the dealers in the markets and official reports that the goods are quite up to the usual standards and satisfactory to the buyers, as otherwise they would not gain the volume of sales which has already been established. A storekeeper who sells at such an exceedingly low rate of profit as to drive his small competitors out of business and establishes a virtual monopoly through reason of his own unfair competition, has little reason of complaint against these open markets.

"These markets must be carefully distinguished from the enclosed terminal markets, on which a great municipal outlay must be made.

"The ground they occupy has not hitherto been producing any material revenue to the city, and when they are not sheltered as under tiff bridges they can be protected by corrugated iron covering without much cost as will be the case at Fort Lee Ferry.

"Whatever they need and want the people will be sure to get, and what they endorse and patronize is bound to succeed. The city markets are proving and will continue to prove one of the most popular and vital undertakings in recent years.

"Throughout the city terminal and transit facilities will have to be developed to keep pace with the open market idea, which is a fast growing enterprise and railroads must be induced to pay as much attention to the handling of their freight service as they do to their passenger service."

"The 'bargain day' idea has been put to work in the city open markets. On Saturday the farmers and stall holders at the Queensboro Bridge Market were offering special reductions in the way of low prices. Some of the prices of the day were as follows:

Forty barrels of potatoes at eighty cents a bushel; which is ten cents lower than the regular price of ninety cents. One thousand heads of cabbage at five cents each. Five hundred bunches of carrots and 500 bunches of beets at three bunches for five cents the regular price being two bunches for five cents. Honey at fourteen cents a pound, regular price twenty-five cents. Fifteen boxes of large Bermuda onions for two cents.

DOBBS-JACKSON FIGHT RECALLS THE OLD TIMES

Thirteen years ago, April 4, 1901, Bobby Dobbs and Young Peter Jackson fought a two-round draw in Hot Springs, Ark. To the younger fight fans this statistic means nothing, but to the veterans it will recall memories of two of the classic, scrappy negroes that ever wore gloves, and of the "good old times" when Hot Springs was famed throughout the world as the town without a hotel and a sporting center, the Arkansas town at the end of a jerkwater railroad loomed up on the left margin of New York. Since then Hot Springs has reformed and become a sanitarium community. Now that the New York State Athletic Commission has ruled that the man of forty is too venerable to take part in ring battles, it is interesting to recall that at the time of the Hot Springs bout Bobby Dobbs was forty-two, and that he was able to make a good showing when he was past fifty. Bobby fought the clever and game Young Peter Jackson twice in 1901, and both times he earned a draw. Later in the year he tackled Joe Gans in Baltimore, and was knocked out in the 7th round. During his ring career Dobbs fought nearly all the best men in the lightweight and welterweight divisions, including Joe Walcott and Kid Lavigne. He was born in Knoxville, Tenn., in 1859, and probably had a longer ring career than any other modern boxer. After he got too old to mix with the best fighters, he went over to England, and for a number of years continued to bang out a living with his fists, and when he was past the half-century mark was able to whip many fairly good young boxers. Young Peter Jackson was another great colored fighter, and in his prime he could master nearly all of the lightweight and welterweights, with the exception of Joe Walcott, who was usually able to take Young Peter's measure. Later he became a middleweight, and in 1905 he fought Jack Johnson to a draw in two rounds. Dobbs was by no means the only boxer of the old days who was able to put up a good scrap after passing the forty-year mark set by the New York commission. Bob Fitz was past the two-score mark when he fought the best ever in the time. Old Jim Macoe was champion of the world when he was forty, and held the title till he was forty-two. Mike Donovan, a middleweight champion, could lick the best of them when he was forty. Kid McCoy, who is now past forty, is still able to box with the best of the "hopes."

HOW THEY DID IT

New York, Oct. 29.—Baseball fans got a late-season chance to yell at Hammerstein's Victoria Theatre "this afternoon when 'Hank' Gowdy and Dick Rudolph, famous battery of the Boston Braves, World's Champions, made their debut in vaudeville.

Bedlam broke loose when the tall, straight, brawny Gowdy appeared. "I had you all out at the Polo Grounds, I'd show you something," said the famous catcher and batter, who had caught his break as partner and I have no vaudeville sketch prepared, but I will tell you about the system of signals we used against the Athletics."

Business of demonstrating the finger signals for the various kinds of curves. Then, amid more cheering, Rudolph explained how he pitched fast balls, slow ones, drops and "split balls," throwing some of each across the stage to Gowdy. Then, as he tossed the ball, he called the spectators, the pair went out, applauded again by the crowd.

DOBBS-JACKSON FIGHT RECALLS THE OLD TIMES

Thirteen years ago, April 4, 1901, Bobby Dobbs and Young Peter Jackson fought a twelve-round draw in Hot Springs, Ark. To the younger fight fans this statistic means nothing, but to the veterans it will recall memories of two of the classic, acroplicst negroes that ever wore gloves, and of the "good old times" when Hot Springs was famed throughout the world as the town without a lid. As a sporting center, the Arkansas town at the end of a jerkwater railroad loomed up on the map bigger than New York. Since then Hot Springs has reformed and become a sanitary community. Now that the New York State Athletic Commission has ruled that the man of forty is too venerable to take part in ring battles, it is interesting to recall that at the time of the Hot Springs bout Bobby Dobbs was forty-two, and that he was able to make a good showing when he was past fifty. Bobby fought the clever and game Young Peter Jackson twice in 1901, and both times he earned a draw. Later in the year he lashed Joe Gans in Baltimore, and was knocked out in the 7th round. During his ring career Dobbs fought nearly all the best men in the lightweight and welterweight divisions, including Joe Walcott and Kid Lavigne. He was born in Knoxville, Tenn., in 1859, and probably had a longer ring career than any other modern boxer. After he got too old to mix with the American fighters, he went over to England, and for a number of years continued to hang out a fighting with his fists, and when he was past the half-century mark was able to whip many fine young good boxers. Young Peter Jackson was another great colored fighter, and in his prime he could master nearly all of the lightweight and welterweights, with the exception of Joe Walcott, who was usually able to take Young Peter's measure. Later he became a middleweight, and in 1905 he fought Jack Johnson to a draw in twelve rounds. Dobbs was by no means the only boxer of the old days who was able to put up a good scrap after passing the forty-year limit set by the New York commission. Bob Fitz was past the two-score mark when he fought Jeffries the second time. Old Jim Mace was champion of the world when he was forty, and held the title till he was forty-two. Mike Donovan, the former middleweight champion, could lick the best of them when he was forty. Kid McCoy, who is now past forty, is still able to box with the best of the "hopes."

PRINCETON'S GRIDIRON FIELD MARSHAL

Princeton's football hopes are sort of betwixt and between. Supporters of the Tigers do not know whether to expect sweeping victories in the two big games toward which the orange and black is pointed—those against Harvard and Yale—or whether to anticipate defeat. But whatever the verdict in those games more than fifty per cent of Princeton hope is centered about a husky young man named Harold R. Ballin, the varsity captain. To him supporters of the New Jersey university look to lead the Tigers to the heights of success, and that he is capable there can be little doubt. Given the material Ballin will inspire it with his own fighting spirit. That is all that any field marshal can do.

KID MCCOY BEEN FIGHTING FOR 24 YEARS

Twenty-four years is a long time for a fighter to last, but Kid McCoy, the Hoosier middleweight, although he will be forty-one years old today, is still able to pull off the "come-back" stuff, and to give occasional flashes of the form which made him one of the cleverest fighters in the world when he was in his prime. Norman Selby, to give the Kid his right and proper name, was born on October 17, 1873, in a Hoosier village about forty miles from Indianapolis. As a lad he was afflicted with the wanderlust, and beat his way over a good part of America. His first real battle was pulled off in Indianapolis in 1897, when the Kid, who had become Jack of all trades, was working as a waiter in a restaurant. The Kid's employer was an ex-pugilist, and his place was a sporting resort, with the turbulent Selby to work until evening and settle their quarrel with the gloves in the ring upstairs, the loser to lose his job as well. McCoy had a fondness for his job, and he put it all over the other chap. His employer was so pleased with his showing that he gave the Kid his start in the boxing game. In 1893 he got a job as assistant cook in Bob Fitzsimmons' training camp, and without letting it be known that he was a professional boxer, he watched Bob at work and finally got a trial as a sparring partner. McCoy was then little more than a lightweight, and he took a lot of hard knocks from the freckled fellow, but at the same time he gained valuable experience. When Fitz quit the middleweight division McCoy claimed the title, and held it against all comers, although his claim was disputed by Tommy Ryan McCoy, whipped Gus Ruhlin, Peter Maher, Joe Chynoweth and other good heavyweights, but was knocked out by Jim Corbett. The Hoosier retired in 1905, and has since spent most of his time in Europe, and was boxing instructor to Maurice Hatterick, the Belgian playboy. He has made several comebacks in the ring. The Kid has been married no less than eight times—maybe more, since it is difficult to tab on his matrimonial activities.

MARQUARD LOST TILL HE "CUT LOOSE AND LET 'ER GO"

Three years ago he was the "111,000 lemon"; three years ago his appearance on the field meant hisses and jeers; three years ago he was ridiculed by baseball writers as no other ball player had ever been ridiculed. Today he is one of the greatest baseball pitchers with a record unequalled since the day Luby, who pitched 20 straight victories. His appearance sends New York fans into a frenzy. "I owe it to Manager McGraw's confidence, the splendid coaching of Wilbert Robinson and to the work of the men behind me," says Marquard. "There is no boasting about 'Yar' Marquard; his achievement and the consequent idolizing have not turned his head. He is the same unassuming chap who started playing ball on the Cleveland sand lots seven years ago. "Oh, it was hard at first," Marquard said, recounting his early days with the Giants. "You see, the club paid $1,000 for me. I guess that was a record price then. And the fans expected a lot of me, right away. But I couldn't deliver. For a long time, it seemed that no matter how I pitched I couldn't win. "Oh, yes, the jeers hurt. Why shouldn't they? But Manager McGraw had confidence. He told me not to mind—that I would make good some day. I plugged and plugged, but luck didn't come my way. "When Wilbert Robinson became coach of the team the wheel of fortune turned. "Bobbie" took me when I didn't have any confidence when men were on bases. I was very wild. I was always afraid of losing control, so I would groove the ball and the batter usually murdered it. "Cut loose all the time and never mind where it's going," Bobbie advised me. "Aim for the plate, put your stuff on the ball and let 'er go." "I followed this advice and success came. "One thing that contributes largely to my success is a new ball that I have developed. I call it the 'turkey trot.' It is a slow ball. I clutch the ball as I do my fast ones. But I let the 'turkey trot' slip through the first and second fingers, which gives it a peculiar break. I use the same motion as when delivering the fast ball. "When I joined the Giants I had a side-arm delivery. Manager McGraw ordered me to drop it and use the

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE IS IN FIELD TO STAY

"I want to say right now, and with emphasis, that the international league is not going out of business," said Edward G. Barrow, president of the International League. "I cannot condemn too strongly the ridiculous statement that the international league is going to quit this winter, and for the enlightenment of those who are busy circulating this story, I will say that the international league will be in the field enjoying the patronage and confidence of the fans long after the Federal league is dead and forgotten. "The Federal league is an episode; the international league is an institution. "The international league is very much alive and kicking. It has survived a strenuous campaign—one that taxed our resources and the sportsmanship of the various club owners to the utmost. But we have emerged with heads up and colors flying, ready for another season and another battle with the enemy organized baseball—the Federal league. "It is high time those wisecracks and know-it-alls, who predicted the collapse of the international league, took to the woods. In almost every case the wish of those self-constituted prophets was father to the thought. Going to Stick. "It stands to reason that if we ever had any intention of quitting, we surely would not have waited until the season was over before we threw up the sponge. "The Federal league has been skat-ing on thin ice all season. It has not been a success either artistically or financially. It has been a failure from the start, and it is doomed to failure in the end. About the only thing it has really accomplished is the ruin of several minor leagues, and the partial ruin of two or three major league clubs. While few of our clubs made

SAYS FEDS CARRYING OUT BLUFF

New York, Oct. 20.—Ban Johnson today voted his usual belligerence toward the independent cause. "The Federal league," said he, "is simply carrying out the bluff it has been making ever since it took the field. It boasted last spring that it had corralled fifty or sixty players. It got only a handful of men who were better than the ball and the batter usually murdered it. "The Federal league is on its last legs," concluded Ban, "it may start next season and it may not. But it has been a financial frost from start to finish, and it is impossible to see how it tries to buck the two major leagues. There is no room for three major circuits and nobody knows it better than the public. The National and American leagues are well established and have the confidence of the public. Wherefore they will continue to receive due patronage. "Ban Johnson was somewhat disconcerted by the sorry showing of the Athletics against the Boston Braves. "Naturally I thought my representative far the stronger," said he, "but nothing can have happened to me more than the interest in the sport more than the rather unexpected victory of the Braves."

STALLINGS AN ACTOR

New York, Oct. 20.—Although it has been stated that Manager George Stallings of the Boston Braves positively refused to heed the call of the footlights, Walter Kingsley now sends out the following: "George T. Stallings, the miracle man of baseball, will be the starliner at the Palace Theatre next week in a monologue full of the thrills, the humor and the melodrama of the diamond. He is in rehearsal for delivery and promises that when he goes in to pitch over the footlights he will have everything. "The famous manager of the Braves incidentally breaks another record with his Palace engagement, the salary which tempted him being the largest ever given an athlete on the stage. While delivering his monologue Stallings will hold the celebrated lucky penny which Capt. Cushman A. Rice gave him to break the hoodoo early last summer."

money this season, their owners are confident that the public interest will revive, and that another year we shall again be on our feet, bigger, better and stronger for our unpleasant experience this season. "Early in the campaign it became evident that this was going to be not only an off year in baseball, but that the Federal league would make serious trouble for us in Baltimore. I am free to admit that the enemy outdrew us in that city, but we outdrew them in Buffalo, making it an even break in these two cities. However, the total attendance in both of these cities was far below that of previous years when one club owned the field. "Baseball is a peculiar institution, in that it depends for success upon the enthusiasm of the fans, and that enthusiasm was lacking everywhere this past season. But neither this temporary lack of interest, nor the Federal league opposition, was sufficient to drive the international league to the wall. The club owners met their troubles gamely, in that spirit with which only thorough sportsmen are possessed, and that they would win out in the end. "We may decide on a change or two in our circuit this winter, and we may decide to stand pat. One thing you can bank on, and that is that the Feds will never be taken into the fold of organized baseball. I understand there are one or two Federal league club owners who would be a credit to any league, and these gentlemen might be recognized to the extent of permitting them to purchase franchises in some league, but the Federal league as a whole will never be recognized. There is neither room nor demand for it; and its promoters and backers have done too much to injure the sport, by destroying many of its safeguards, and upsetting conditions that are absolutely necessary to keep the game clean and free from taint and suspicion."

In the second round, Langford again took the aggressive. Leading a left, he hammered a right home to Smith's jaw, crushing him to the mat. Smith sprawled there for nine seconds, staggering to his feet barely in time to save himself from being counted out. Foining and landing with right and left Langford rocked Smith with his blows, and felled him again. Referee Jack McGowan, of Philadelphia, had counted four when the bell gave Smith a reprieve. Protecting himself as best he could, Smith lasted through nearly two minutes of the third round. Then Langford again poled his left menacingly and drew Smith's guard over. The negro quickly drove his right with terrific force to the white man's jaw, and Smith sank to the mat, where he was counted out. LEVINSKY BEAT FLYNN. New York, Oct. 20.—Battling Levinsky defeated Jim Flynn, the Pueblo freeman, in their ten round bout in Brooklyn tonight. Levinsky had the better of every round. He weighed 175 and Flynn 167 pounds.

P. J. MORAN ELECTED MANAGER. Fitchburg, Mass., Oct. 20.—Patrick J. Moran, who has been acting as manager of the Philadelphia National League baseball team, today was elected manager of the club to succeed Charles S. Doolin, according to a telegram which Moran received from President William F. Baker, of the Philadelphia club tonight. Moran has been a catcher in professional baseball for twenty years. He played with the old Chicago Cubs when they won two world championships. He is 37 years old. JAKE STAHL BACK IN GAME. Chicago, Oct. 20.—Jake Stahl, former manager of the Boston Red Sox and now a resident of Chicago, was tonight elected president of the South Side Businessmen's Baseball League. All the clubs will put teams in the field with the opening of the Spring season. Fed Reds Worry Southern League. Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 20.—Pres. W. M. Kavanaugh today issued a call for the annual meeting of the Southern League to be held in Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 31. Pres. Kavanaugh said that problems raised by raids on the Southern League by the Federal League were matters for discussion.

HOW THEY DID IT. New York, Oct. 20.—Baseball fans got a late-season chance to yell at Hammerstein's Victoria Theatre this afternoon when "Hank" Gowdy and Dick Rudolph, famous battery of the Boston Braves, World's Champions, made their debut in vaudeville. Bedlam broke loose when the tall, flaxen-haired Gowdy appeared. "Wah! I had you all out at the Polo Grounds, I'd show you something," said the famous catcher and batter when he caught his breath. "My partner and I have no vaudeville sketch prepared, but I will tell you about the system of signals we used against the Athletics." Business of demonstrating the finger signals for the various kinds of curves. Then, amid more cheering, Rudolph explained how he pitched fast balls, slow ones, drops and "split balls," throwing some of each across the stage to Gowdy. Then, as he tossed the ball to the spectators, the pair worked off, applauded again by the crowd.

GUNBOAT AND FLYNN DEFEATED. GUNBOAT SMITH KNOCKED OUT. Boston, Oct. 20.—Sam Langford, the negro heavyweight of Boston, knocked out Gunboat Smith of New York in three rounds here tonight. It was the first time that the leading "white hope" of this country who had gained a decision over Langford here a year ago, has been knocked out. The negro showed his superiority throughout. His 200 pounds was behind three solid punches before the first round was half finished, and a sweeping right felled Smith for a round of seven. Smith finished the first round in a weak condition.

On Sad Mission
Edward Morgan of Boston, Mass., arrived in the city yesterday and motored to Brown's Flats where his father, George Morgan, died on Monday. The remains of the late Mr. Morgan will probably be interred here. Mrs. George Morgan will accompany her son to his home in Boston.

Repairing Street
Workmen from the Department of Public Works yesterday started with the repairs to the sidewalk in the western side of Garden street, and men were engaged in preparing for the filling of the holes in the roadway in City Road and streets in that vicinity.

St. John Conservative Club
The St. John Conservative Club met last evening in the rooms, Market Building, and discussed plans for the winter's activities. It is intended to have a series of lectures on different topics during the year and the announcement of the first will be made within the next few days. A. A. H. Wilson, the president, died on Monday, and there were speeches by different members of the club. There was a large attendance.

Congratulations
The many friends of George E. W. Taylor were pleased and surprised yesterday to receive an announcement that he had become engaged to Miss Nellie M. Ewing of Troy, New York. Mr. Taylor has been married about seven years a valued member of the Keith's orchestral staff at St. John, and was generally regarded as a confirmed bachelor.

No Scarcity of Game.
Norman McLeod, the well known guide from Gaspeaux Station, was in the city yesterday and reports plenty of game in his district. Since the country has been drenched with rain during the past few days, Guide McLeod says partridge should show up in large numbers and the hunters should have plenty of the sport. He says there is plenty of big game in the woods, and of late he has called a number of moose.

Birthday Presentation.
The birthday of Miss Etta Hazelwood was remembered Monday evening by about thirty of her young friends, who paid a surprise visit to her at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Hazelwood, King street, West St. John. With their congratulations a handsome engraved silver ring was presented to Miss Hazelwood by Miss Helen Ogilvie on behalf of those assembled. A very pleasant evening was spent by the unexpected guests and refreshments were served.

RETAILERS ORGANIZE

Branch of Retail Merchants' Association of Canada formed here — For honest trading.

Retail merchants at a meeting in the V. M. C. A. building last evening decided to form a local and provincial branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, with head office in St. John.

Different subjects in connection with the retail business of the province were discussed and many of those present expressed their views. Representatives from the Wholesale Merchants' Association were present and offered their support in the maintaining of the new organization.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, A. O. Skinner; first vice-president, T. J. McPherson; second vice-president, J. H. Vaughan; treasurer, William Hawker; secretary, N. C. Cameron.

These officers will hold their position until the first convention, which is scheduled for some time early in the new year. The members of the association wish every retailer in the province to unite with the body and work under the motto: "Honest Goods and Honest Trading."

POLICEMAN JEFFERY DRUNKEN SOLDIER FIGHT DELIVERS POWERFUL ADDRESS

Artilleryman refuses to leave saloon and used obscene language to husky cop — Officer badly mauled by crowd.

About ten minutes to ten o'clock last night there was plenty of excitement on Charlotte street and at one time there was every appearance of a small riot in which Policeman Jeffery was rather badly handled by a crowd among whom was a number of soldiers. An artilleryman whose name was not known by the officer, at late hour last night, had entered the saloon of Thomas Haley on Charlotte street and refused to leave as the proprietor did not wish the man there owing to him being intoxicated, and it being against the law to serve soldiers in uniform.

The policeman was called to assist in ejecting the soldier and on doing so the soldier claimed that he did not have to move along as he was in the Imperial Service. The policeman in a kind manner advised the soldier that it was nearly ten o'clock and he had better go to the Army. The soldier got a few yards away and in a loud voice used some very obscene language to the policeman and then started to run along Charlotte street. The policeman gave chase and when near the corner of North Market street the soldier tripped and fell with the policeman on top.

Then came the real trouble. The soldier fought hard and the crowd closed in on the struggling men. Among the crowd were eight or ten soldiers most of them Dragoons. There was no person apparently willing to assist the policeman and one soldier is credited with calling out "Rush the cop." The policeman called for some person to telephone for the patrol wagon and when Constable Blair asked what the telephone number was he was picked up by the crowd and carried away.

The policeman took his handcuffs from his pocket and while trying to get them on the prisoner's wrists a Dragoon named Leo Jones' kicked them away from the officer. The officer was being badly used up and his helmet was being kicked about the street. He gamely held on to his prisoner and when they got on their feet they were rushed from one side to the other of the street by the surging mob. Finally he got his prisoner as far as the corner of the King Square when Policeman Cowan put in an appearance and the soldier was escorted to the police station. A call had been sent in to central and Officers Sullivan and Armstrong responded but by this time Officers Jeffery and Cowan had the man as far as Sydney street. After brushing his clothing and recovering his helmet and handcuffs Policeman Jeffery went out in search of Jones who kicked the handcuffs away from him. This soldier was found on Charlotte street and was arrested. He used some profane language on being taken into custody. The first soldier to be arrested is charged with being drunk, using obscene language and with violently resisting the police. Jones is charged with using profane language and with interfering with the police in the discharge of their duty.

Policeman Jeffery received a severe cut on one of his fingers, and his legs and back are quite badly bruised from kicks that he received while in the tussle with the soldier.

MAJORITY ATTEND REPORTS SHOW THE PATRIOTIC PERFORMANCE PAST YEAR WAS PROGRESSIVE

Fairville Tennis Club and management of Gaiety Theatre unite for good purpose—Fine entertainment.

The Fairville Tennis Club, in conjunction with the management of the Gaiety Theatre, received well-merited patronage last evening when a concert was held at the theatre in aid of the poor Belgian people. The place was crowded, and patriotism, "Tipperary," and live interest were in evidence throughout an enjoyable programme. The sum realized by the sale of tickets, and other things, including a chair, for which an enthusiast paid five dollars without enquiring what the article was really worth, and a glass of water for which another enthusiast paid thirty cents without a quiver, was a handsome one, but the exact sum was not announced.

The proceedings began with a short and appropriate speech by J. B. M. Baxter, K. C. M. L. A., who is honorary president of the tennis club. This was followed by a song, "Soldiers of the King," by Baby Splane. The song was beautifully rendered, with rare confidence in one so young. The other numbers on the programme were: Miss "The Drum Major," T. Guy; violin solo, "Cairnroom," E. H. Hanson, accompanied by Miss May Driscoll; piano solo, P. C. Cochrane; solo, "Admiral Ton," William Langton; solo, Miss M. Baikin; reading, A. McCloskey; solo, "Beautiful Dreamer," Mrs. J. T. Dalton; reading from Kipling, Miss Hope Crowell; solo, "Let Us Have Peace," Miss Sadie Cougle; reading, "Defence of Lucknow," Miss Dorothy Sutton; chorus by members of the tennis club; God Save the King.

The chorus by the members was the new popular "Tipperary," and it went with a swing and zest that showed patriotic interest of the real kind. Again and again "Tip" was sung by request by the chorus of ladies whose names follow: Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. Sutton, Misses M. McLeod, Pauline Tipperary, May Butler, Armstrong, and Bessie Miles, Mrs. F. Flewelling, Misses Helen Reed, Hope Crowell, Dorothy Sutton, Hazel Kelly, Lottie Kelly, Blanche McClogan, Sadie Cougle.

To add to the enjoyment of the evening the Gaiety management provided moving pictures of an up-to-date kind. The candy booth was in charge of Miss Pauline Tippett and Miss Bessie Compton.

RECRUITING HAS BEGUN

Recruiting for the second Canadian contingent has already commenced in St. John and Colonel B. R. Armstrong has sworn in a fairly large number of men. Recruits have been enlisted at the drill shed and at the headquarters of the permanent artillery corps on Partridge Island. It was said last evening that the class of men offering for foreign service was high and it was hoped that those intending to volunteer for European service would do so at the earliest opportunity so that a proper course of training could be given before the men were to go to the Old Country.

DELIVERS POWERFUL ADDRESS

Dr. Herridge in impressive sermon in St. David's church last evening — Many present.

A large congregation gathered in St. David's church last evening to hear Dr. Herridge, Moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada, deliver his second address in connection with the Laymen's Missionary Movement now in progress in the city.

Rev. J. J. McCaskill led in the devotional exercises and was assisted by Rev. F. W. Thompson, of Calvin church. Miss Mabel Thompson sang very acceptably.

Dr. Herridge in his address spoke of the conversion of St. Paul. He said it was hard to draw a line between the material and supernatural in life. God's work in man was shown in all the great crises of his experience. Possibly Paul had misgivings about the wisdom of his early career. He was in a susceptible mood for further revelation. This was generally true of ardent natures. Placid indifference usually meant failure in life. Men of such character lack enthusiasm for success. It takes more than knowledge to make a Christian. Our creed is our life. Christ must have the homage of our hearts. The world needs men who are ready to cut loose from everything in their possession.

There is a place for the striving soul in the midst of the tasks of the passing day. They reveal the splendor of the commonplace. This message of the Gospel is something the world cannot dispense with. Even a measure of skepticism has crept into the churches. The world is ringing with the Nietzschean philosophy rather than the philosophy of the Crucified.

The best kind of Christian work cannot be done wholesale. It is useless to the classes or masses. Such words are not recognized in scripture. Each human life is a work within itself. We must minister to men as individuals. If we look after the units the multiples will look after themselves. Every honest man in a community raises the whole tone of civic life. It is through the vitality of personal influence that the Kingdom of God must be not written in dollars and cents, but in service.

"What shall it profit a man if he gain the world and lose his soul."

SOLDIERS WISH TO BE HONORED

Imperial Theatre closed to troops of 28th Dragoons — Created disturbance in balcony.

Owing to the fact that four members of the 28th Dragoons, while in balcony of the Imperial Theatre and made insulting remarks to an attendant who remonstrated with them, the management of the Imperial Theatre has decided to cancel free admissions to members of the regiment in military uniform who do not behave themselves like soldiers. As a result of the fracas on Charlotte street last evening it is expected the authorities will make an enquiry to find out who are supplying the soldiers with liquor.
