"JUNKERS" STILL PLANNING TO RESTORE "BILL"

German Elections Have Not Checked to Any Extent Movement to Bring Back Monarchical Conditions.

COPENHAGEN CENTRE OF THEIR OPERATIONS

Plan to Strike When Hoped for Communist Revolt Takes Place.

(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic News Service.)

Copenhagen, July 4.—The recent German general elections have not to any extent checked or dissipated the organized Junker campaign and the forces of the Right continue in their movement for restoration of monarchial conditions, if not for a monarchy. They purpose to use the communist movement that they fear most, as the weapon to their end.

Copenhagen, as of old, continues a centre of intrigue and I am able through disclosures here to present the Junker plan of campaign in some detail.

At a certain large high-class hotel here, you may hear the Junker leaders discussing their plans. No action, it seems, is to be taken until the looked-for—and hoped-for—communist revolt takes place. In order to assure this revolt, a large number of ex-army officers disgraced as workmen are acting throughout the German northeastern and midland provinces as "agents provocateurs."

With the coming of the revolt, it is planned that substantial portions of the Reichswahr controlled by or sympathetic with the Junkers are to declare a "military strike," refusing to interfere. The military bodies in Westphalia are to prevent all shipment of coal from the mines; while those in the east would block the transport of foodstuffs. The moderate middle classes would be "fried" in the Reich.

When starvation and unemployment will have become sufficiently effective, the Junker mercenaries are to emerge from their retreats and act as saviors of the people. The full military organization will then restore order and proclaim their regime.

It is no secret that the disbanding of the old German army has from the beginning been a farce. As fast as regiments are disbanded, they are reformed again, openly or clandestinely. A host of reactionary workers are today at work all over Germany, backed by the large wealth of the landed and vested classes, the "Bolsheviks of the Right." Every day, thousands of young men are being enlisted at high wages and hidden away on the large estates in Pomerania and elsewhere, to be ready for the day of the communist coming and their finale of "salvation."

GUELPH NURSES GET REAL ANGRY

Resent Reports That They Had Gone on Strike—Merely Objected to Scouring Dishes.

London, Ont., July 4.—Three nurses, representing the staff of nurses at the Speedwell Hospital, Guelph, appeared before the G. W. V. A. here, and expressed resentment at the strike story which has appeared in many newspapers. They declared emphatically that the nurses did not go on strike as claimed by officials of the Department of Soldiers' Re-establishment.

What really happened was that they had several times objected to having to work under the discipline in the kitchen. During the day nurses were being taken from their care of patients to do scouring and dish-washing to secure kitchen help.

The G. W. V. A. decided to give their full support to the protests of the nurses.

INSURRECTIONISTS BUSY AGAIN IN MEXICO

In Their Theatres of Operation They Have Met With Defeat by Federal Forces.

Mexico City, July 4.—Forces commanded by Carlos Oseña, an insurgent leader operating in the State of Tamaulipas, have been defeated and scattered by General Ruffalo R. Gomez, according to an official announcement issued at the War Department, last night. When he began his uprising a few days ago, Oseña had only 1,200 men with him, but he is now leading only 50 loyal supporters, it is said.

Jesus M. Guajardo began an insurrection at Hermosillo, State of Durango, a short time ago, but he is now being, according to announcement and Federal troops are but twelve miles behind him. General Manuel Pelaez has been ordered to the State of Tamaulipas to operate against troops headed by Brigadier General Porfirio Gonzalez, a former lieutenant of the late President Carranza, says the Excelsior.

GREEKS CRUSH FORCES OF THE NATIONALISTS

Athens, July 4.—The Greek offensive against Mustafa Kemal Pasha's Turkish Nationalist forces which began June 22, ended July 2, with the junction at Omerkeci, North of Balikesir, of the Greeks from the South with those which landed Friday at Panderma on the Sea of Marmora. Those operations which it was estimated would require fifteen days, were completed in 15 days, the opposing Nationalist forces being crushed.

TWENTY-TWO BALLOTS WITHOUT NOMINEE

Democrats Failed to Name a Candidate and Adjourned Over Until Monday.

San Francisco, July 4.—After twenty-two fruitless ballots the Democratic National convention, just before midnight, gave up hopes of selecting a presidential nominee within the first week of its session, and adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Repeated attempts to adjourn were defeated throughout the early part of the night, but as midnight approached and it was about to become Sunday, the tradition that a Democratic National convention never works on a Sunday, coupled with the fact that the convention was tired, worn and frazzled had its effect, and the final motion to adjourn was unopposed.

When the convention stopped Cox was leading with 372 1-2; McAdoo came next with 372 1-2; Palmer was down to a hundred and sixty-six and a half. The final ballots of the night were full of McAdoo movement, but it failed to do so and she swung back to the Attorney-General.

No dark horse appeared during the night's balloting to carry off the honors and the convention adjourned just as much in need of somebody to rally about as it was when it began the balloting.

It was in a deadlock with nobody in sight to break it. Today was devoted to efforts to find somebody whom the convention can swing.

COMMUNIST FLAG FLYING ALOFT

Italian Steamer Arrives at Buenos Aires With Communist Crew Aboard.

Buenos Ayres, July 4.—The Italian steamer Belluno has arrived here from Genoa flying the red flag of Communism aloft, and the Italian flag at her stern. The vessel is manned by a Communist crew who operate the ship on a basis of equality, from Captain to the lowest deck hand, and that powers have been delegated to a few of their number as officers to maintain discipline. All receive the same salary, excepting those with additional responsibility, who get additional pay for "special expenses."

The Belluno brought a cargo from the Genoa Co-operative Society, which Captain Timmelitti of the Belluno directs, and of which the crew are members.

The steamer entered the port with the crew manning the rail and waving red flags. She was greeted with shouting of whistles by harbor tugs, many of which hung out red flags and waved the red flag to her pier where great demonstrations were staged by 5,000 port workers of the Buenos Aires Maritime Federation.

HON. ROWELL HAS NOTHING TO SAY

Toronto, July 4.—Hon. N. W. Rowell, President of the Privy Council, when seen here yesterday, denied that his visit had any political significance. At present, he said, he would make no statement as to his intentions, in regard to his resignation from the Cabinet, which he submitted and temporarily withdrew at the request of the National Party caucus. He said he expected there would be four groups in the House from now on—Unionist, Liberal, Labor and Farmers. Respecting the Alberta liquor import direction, Mr. Rowell said that this inter-provincial trade in liquor was a temporary thing and the referendum to be held here would before long settle the issue.

KINGS CO., N. S., LIBS. NAME CANDIDATES

Kentville, N. S., July 4.—The Liberals of Kings County met in convention here on Saturday afternoon and nominated Hon. H. H. Wickwire, and John Macdonald, of Upper Dyke Village to contest the county at the Provincial election. The farmers' party held a meeting here today, and nominated F. B. Chute, of Berwick and Rev. G. P. Raymond, formerly a Baptist minister, but now a farmer of South Berwick. The negotiations, however, were held in abeyance until after the Conservative convention this week.

TWO DANISH EX-MINISTERS IN TROUBLE

May Have to Face Trial on Charge of High Treason for Conduct During the War.

Ottawa, July 4.—Sir Robert Borden's decision in regard to his successor is not expected before Thursday. The Prime Minister is understood to be leaving Ottawa on Friday for a few days' vacation, and it is assumed that he will have an announcement to make before going. While nothing does not appear to be excited over the prospect of his resignation, the Premier's office, however, is gaining ground that the new Unionist leader and Prime Minister will be Hon. Arthur Meighen. Mr. Meighen, who is reason for believing, received the support of more than ninety per cent. of those who communicated their opinions to Sir Robert Borden, Liberal Unionists being almost as strong as Conservatives in their support of him.

The prospective premier, however, does not appear to be excited over the situation. He spent Sunday in Toronto visiting friends and has declined to make the slightest personal canvass in his own behalf. The same thing, in fact, can be said of the Ministers whose names have been prominently mentioned, there being a commendable absence of personal rivalry or jealousy, each contender for the honor being apparently willing to let the Government take steps to acquire the said railway without further delay.

The meeting appointed a committee consisting of Richard O'Leary, A. D. Carson, A. J. Budge, who, in conjunction with Hon. P. J. Veniot and George Hutchinson, secretary of the meeting, will wait upon the Government and Kent Northern Railway Co. with a view to bringing about a conference in regard to agreeing upon a price for the railway.

It is understood that the difference between what the government has offered for the road and the amount asked by the company is thirty thousand dollars.

BOMB PLANTED NEAR RESIDENCES

Found in Vicinity of Homes of Inhabited by Officials of Companies Where Men Are on Strike.

Waterbury, Conn., July 4.—A loaded bomb two feet long and a foot in diameter was found last night in a ditch of woods near a residential section of this city. It was attached to a fuse eight feet long.

The bomb was found close to where John H. Cox, President of the American Brass Company; Judge Wm. H. Larkin, Jr., of the city court, and his father, Wm. H. Larkin, reside. The elder Larkin is president of the Waterbury Clock Company, where a strike is on, as is the case at the brass company plant. Judge Larkin recently passed sentence on 100 strikers who were arrested following an unsanctioned parade.

ALLIES AGREE ON REPARATION DIVISION

Basis for Distribution Settled at Meeting of Allied Premiers Yesterday.

Brussels, July 4.—(By The Associated Press).—An agreement was virtually reached by the Allied Premiers in regard to the division of German reparations on the basis of 52 per cent. to France, 22 per cent. to Great Britain, 10 per cent. to Italy, 8 per cent. to Belgium and five per cent. to Serbia. It is stated here that the remaining three per cent will be divided among the other Allies, including Rumania, Portugal and Japan. Italy also will receive certain economic and financial advantages. This tentative settlement was declared to have been arrived at in a conference of the French, British, Italian and Belgian delegates.

MEMBERS WAITING TO HEAR DECISION

Anxious to Know Who Will be Leader of New Party Before Returning to Their Homes.

Ottawa, July 4.—Canadian Press.—The flood of letters and telegrams announcing the feeling of members and senators as to who should be chosen to succeed Sir Robert Borden as Premier, and leader of the National Liberal and Conservative Party, has almost ended. It was expected that the night would see almost the East of these in the hands of the Prime Minister, and it will probably be a matter of a day or two until he has gone over the situation and decided who is to inherit the mantle.

No information was available over the week-end as to whom the choice would fall upon. A few members of Parliament still waited in the city, some of them wishing to hear definite word to their homes. Among these there was no certainty as to who was the likely successor.

WILL ASK GOVT TO TAKE OVER KENT NORTHERN

Enthusiastic Railway Meeting Held at Richibucto to Talk Over Ry. Matters.

Richibucto, July 4.—A large and representative meeting of the people of the Northern part of Kent County was held in the Court House here, last night, to take some action in connection with the Government to take over the Kent Northern Railway. Richard O'Leary presided and George A. Hutchinson was secretary. The meeting was addressed by the Chairman, Hon. P. J. Veniot, A. T. Lege, A. A. Dysart and A. J. Budge. The principal speaker was Mr. Veniot. He attempted, unsuccessfully, to retake the city. The Italians are reported to have lost 45 killed. Many were wounded, and 38 Italian officers, including four colonels, were made prisoners. The Albanians captured seven big guns, several thousand rifles and much material, the despatches state, and the fighting is continuing.

The meeting appointed a committee consisting of Richard O'Leary, A. D. Carson, A. J. Budge, who, in conjunction with Hon. P. J. BOLSHEVIK WERE REPULSED IN MANY ACTIONS

Warsaw, July 4.—The Bolsheviks, according to an official statement issued yesterday by army headquarters, have been repulsed in small actions at a number of points. Along the line of the River Ubert, where the enemy suffered heavy losses, the Bolsheviks brought up fresh forces. In the Korose and Szplstovka region the fighting is continuing with indecisive results, the statement says.

AVLONA ENTIRELY IN HANDS OF ALBANIANS

Italians, Aided by Bombardment from Warships, Made An Unsuccessful Attempt to Retake City.

Berne, July 4.—An official despatch from Belgrade, today, says it is confirmed that Avlona, Albania, is entirely in Albanian hands. The majority of the Italian garrison was taken off by war ships, the despatch adds, and a small contingent retreated to Saseno Island, in the Bay of Avlona, where its situation is critical. The remainder of the garrison was taken prisoner. Newspaper despatches received by way of Belgrade say that the Italians, aided by a bombardment by the fleet, attempted, unsuccessfully, to retake the city. The Italians are reported to have lost 45 killed. Many were wounded, and 38 Italian officers, including four colonels, were made prisoners. The Albanians captured seven big guns, several thousand rifles and much material, the despatches state, and the fighting is continuing.

A despatch received in Belgrade, June 29, reported that Avlona had been captured from the Italians by Albanian insurgents, after a desperate fight. A Rome despatch of July 1, however, stated that the occupation of Avlona by the Albanians was denied by the semi-official Stefani News Agency.

Useful Minerals Found. Recently the mineral wealth of Morocco has been considered negligible, but the discovery of important petroleum strata has been followed by what is claimed to be the discovery of extremely valuable deposits of phosphates—presumably at El-Bordouj. Estimates from French sources place the value of these deposits as high as 90 milliards of francs, equivalent to the low exchange to $60,000,000.00. While the discovery of rich phosphate deposits has been confirmed by the French ministry of public works, official estimates are naturally more conservative.

In order to repay foreign capital invested and to raise internal revenue required, Morocco is dependent on export trade, which consists primarily of sheep, cattle, hides, wool, lumber and rugs. Re-raising began to figure in the last year of the war, but to an approximate value of $500,000 having been exported that year. During the war the produce of Morocco was requisitioned almost entirely for France, which took 82 per cent. of the country's total output in 1918. Vegetable fibres, required for the packing of war munitions, led to the establishment of several factories, and that industry is gradually developing. With normal peace conditions the vegetable hair available for upholstery purposes and silk culture is being encouraged by the French, 50,000 mulberry trees having been planted near Fez for several years. The culture of cotton in Morocco brought no satisfactory results, but in 1919 the farm of Mena, near Marrakech, produced excellent quality of such excellent quality that an industrial concern is about to purchase the recent harvest with the object of making a study of the merits of Moroccan cotton.

Hampered by Transport Lack. Export and import trade of Morocco has been hampered by delay in lining up the railroad service of Algeria and Morocco, as well as by absence of shipping facilities. Goods entering Morocco by the overland route pay less than half the import duties of those entering by coastal ports.

Settlement Work Very Successful. British M. P. Well Pleased With Work Done in Settlement of Returned Soldiers on Land.

Montreal, July 4.—Sir Richard Wintrey, Liberal M. P. for West Norfolk, in the British House of Commons, and who for a time acted as Parliamentary Secretary of the British Board of Agriculture, addressed the congregation in the First Baptist Church here this morning.

Sir Richard, who has just returned from a tour of Canada as far as Vancouver Island, has been investigating agricultural settlements of returned soldiers under the auspices of the Dominion Government. He reports the work being done here as very satisfactory.

He is also in Canada to further the Brotherhood Federation Movement preparatory to the second world conference to be held in Washington.

NORTH AFRICAN POSSIBILITIES AROUSE INTEREST

Big Business Men Turning Their Attention to Morocco as Promising Field for Exploitation.

The depreciated purchasing value of French money within the last year, however, has had a depressing effect on the import trade of Morocco but there are many indications of a great development of the agricultural, mineral and industrial resources, particularly within the French sphere of influence. Such a development, if even partially realized, will open valuable possibilities to foreign traders.

Up to the present Morocco, which is divided into three zones—French, Spanish and the international port of Tangiers—has been purely agricultural. No country solely dependent upon its agriculture can be accounted rich in the modern sense, though it may be self-supporting. Even the undoubtedly rich agricultural possibilities of Morocco have been seriously retarded by lack of proper machinery. Notwithstanding strenuous efforts to develop Morocco, especially in the French protectorate, there has been a heavy adverse trade balance. Development was handicapped by the large amount of foreign capital, mainly French, that has been invested, while another factor has been the internal public revenue, amounting annually to $70,000,000, that has been raised by French authorities.

Useful Minerals Found. Women's Prison Now Has Only Seven Inmates

Evangeline Booth, Great Salvation Army Worker, Praises Prohibition in United States—Lessened Drug Habit, She Says.

By Lydia Kingsmill, Commander.
Location, July 4.—The moral awakening of a great nation, in harmony with the spiritual quickening of the world, is the greatest cause that impels Miss Evangeline Booth, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Salvation Army, who is making a short stay in London before proceeding to the Continent to review the work of reconstruction there going on.

A great theme, and every woman to see it forth, a woman inspired and inspiring; vivid, sincere, strong, spiritual; the beauty of her face an index to a beauty of soul.

"The courage of our Salvation Army girls was wonderful, and considering the risks run, the number of killed was very small. We had heavy losses from privation and exposure, from gas, and from shell-shock, but few were actually shot."

"Many of our people are still at work with the army of re-construction, and I am now on my way to see them."

"Our services to the fighting men brought the whole nation into sympathy with us. From the highest to the lowest, all were ready to help. When we sent out an appeal for funds, America gave us in eight days 15,000,000 dollars. This money is enabling us to build halls, and to equip hospitals, and free dispensaries, and houses for the neglected children."

"We also do a big work in helping boys who would not otherwise get a good start in life; those who have been unfortunate, who have been thrown into circumstances that crowd them down. Perhaps when small, they have had to support the family, or they are orphans, or worse than orphans, they have parents who abuse and neglect them."

"For such children we have instituted and are developing a great system of industrial training schools, where boys are taught to be useful citizens, and where we teach them also morals and the real meaning of life—the spiritual meaning. All such work has been given a fresh impetus by the liberality of the people who now give to us freely in appreciation of the work we did during the war."

"In the last twelve months alone the Salvation Army in the United States has preached to 2,000,000 people on the streets—almost one-fifth of the whole population."

"We have countless cases of healing by prayer. I have been healed myself many times by Divine Power."

I questioned Miss Booth in regard to that much discussed matter, Prohibition.

"Prohibition. Miss Booth's eyes lighted up and her voice was vibrant as she replied: "It is wonderful—past our highest dreams. The United States with its 115,000,000 of population and its vast number of foreigners, has already in this short time made a marked success of Prohibition. We know because we work among all classes of the population, and we have always been familiar with the terrible results of drink. You know we do a great work in prisons, and those who are converted to our Salvation Army ideals. Prohibition is decreasing the number of criminals, and in some towns the police say they have almost nothing to do. I know of a woman's prison which formerly had from 500 to 600 women, which the present moment contains only seven. Many a woman has come to me with tears in her eyes and showing me the harmful money, has said: "For the first time in our married life, my husband has given me his wages. Always before most of it went on drink."

"Through the industrial districts there are thousands of men who never before in their lives saved a penny and who today have banking accounts. Those who would make the hardest fight for Prohibition and against the return of whiskey now are the men who once were drunkards."

"The Salvation Army used to maintain a lot of homes for inebriates. These are now being put to other uses. Some of them have been converted into the industrial training schools for boys of which I spoke, and others have become institutions for the care of drug victims."

I asked Miss Booth if drug-using had increased as a result of Prohibition.

"No," she said emphatically. "The use of drugs has actually lessened. There was an increase in drug-using during the war, owing to the despair of those who had endured great sorrow and loss, but the American authorities are now taking vigorous action and it has become almost impossible to get drugs."

"Asked about reconstruction in the United States, Miss Booth said: "From my point of view the outstanding feature is that aside from the material rebuilding, the adjustment of wealth and social problems, there is a great spiritual and moral reconstruction under way. Everywhere we are busy fighting a crime-wave which seems to have brought evil to the surface, but everywhere one is conscious of a great spiritual awakening. The war brought to the attention of all the importance of those things which are eternal. There is now a tremendous effort, reaching from sea to sea—an effort for the uplifting of men, the protection of women, and the salvation of the human race."

"The best forces of society help us as never before. I realize that the

NEW CHAIRMAN COMMERCE BOARD

Besides Having Been Secretary to the Board Has Considerable Legal and Military Experience.

Ottawa, July 4.—Captain William White, K. C., who was yesterday appointed chairman of Board of Commerce by Order-in-Council, in succession to Judge Robson, has, in addition to his experience with the Board of Commerce as secretary, had considerable legal and military experience, chiefly in the West. He was born in Hamilton, Ont. He was called to the bar in 1882 and practiced for fifteen years in the Northwest Territories (now Saskatchewan). He practiced law two years in British Columbia and five years in the Yukon. He was made a Queen's Counsel in 1899. He was Crown Prosecutor for Eastern Assiniboia from 1887 to 1897. In politics Captain White represented Regina in the Northwest council from 1887 to 1888. He contested the Revelstoke, B. C., riding in the Federal election of 1898. Captain White served in the Northwest council from 1887 to 1888. He was thirty months overseas in the late war with rank of Captain. He lived in Vancouver, B. C., for some years previous to taking up the secretaryship of the Board of Commerce at its inception last July, which post he has filled since that time.

IRISH REGT. TROOPS MUTINY IN INDIA

Unable to Serve, They Say, Because of Sympathy With Their Friends in Ireland.

London, July 4.—Three-fourths of a battalion of Irish Connaught Rangers stationed at Jullundur, in the Punjab, India, mutinied following the arrival of news of recent events in Ireland, according to a despatch from Simla, under date of July 2 to Reuters' Limited. Upon receipt of the same news at Solan, in the Simla hills, another detachment is reported to have attempted to seize authority, the despatch says, adding that guards killed two of the men and wounded one. The despatch says that when the last mail reached the troops they became greatly excited and the decision to lay down their arms soon was reached, one-fourth of the men remaining loyal to the colonial.

The troops expressed regret that they were unable to serve any longer and gave up their arms and ammunition. Although remaining entirely respectful to their officers they expressed their sympathies with their friends in Ireland. The troops are now separated in camp under the strict guard of a British regiment.

Following the drastic action of the yards at Seán, the despatch continues, all is quiet there, and reports from Jullundur, six miles from Simla, say that the detachment there remained tranquil.

Industry Needed Better Hose —and Goodyear Built It

GOODYEAR Industrial Hose is built to meet modern industrial needs. Built as though hose had never been built before.

Breaking away from accepted but antiquated methods of hose building created Goodyear Industrial Hose—a hose that gives longer, more satisfactory service under present-day industrial conditions, and costs less in the end.

Water, Air Drill, Pneumatic Tool, Steam, Fire Hose—Goodyear studied and created a particular hose to meet the most exacting standards of each of these.

In the case of Steam Hose, Goodyear has done away with the inconveniences due to wire-winding—a choked hose due to bent wire, bulges and blisters under pressure; a cracked tube and weakened fabric; the inconvenience of cutting into shorter lengths, the cutting of the hose by the wire.

Goodyear has made wire-winding on steam hose unnecessary, by developing a hose fabric strong enough to resist high pressure without the addition of wire. Compounded an inner tube capable of withstanding the effects of high-pressure steam. Fitted the hose with a tough, durable cover. Created a steam hose that will meet the severe conditions under which it is used—at a very low final cost.

FRENCH ARE EXPECTING TO SEE RESULTS

Meeting of Organization Committee of International Chamber of Commerce Restores Faith in Allies.

HOPE FOR ECONOMIC AID FROM AMERICA
Matters of Vital Importance to Allied Countries Discussed at Conference.

By HENRY W. FRANCIS.
"Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic News Service."

Paris, July 3.—France is beginning to see hope of economic aid from the United States and return of friendship is being shown Americans.

But until the arrival here of the Allied Joint Organization committee of the new International Chamber of Commerce, France saw herself abandoned by her allies of the war, industrially crippled and broken.

Naturally great interest attached to the coming of the American members of the Chamber committee, headed by John H. Fahy, Boston, former President of the United States Chamber of Commerce. That there still was American interest in French affairs was apparent. The French journals have taken on a more hopeful tone. The ardor with which the joint committee settled down to its task naturally inspired confidence.

All of its days and of the best part of its nights have been spent in conferring with French, British, Italian and Belgian merchants, officials and attaches. Upwards of 100 Americans, prominent in industry, trade and finance, as well as delegates representing the allied countries, are participating in the full discussions of the Chamber, which closed July 1st.

Something Favorable Soon.
Soon the Financial Council of the League of Nations will meet in Brussels and out of all this exchange and interchange, says the French business men, "something favorable will surely develop." And they believe that "something" will be brought about by America.

There is in France almost complete misapprehension regarding the attitude of American financial institutions towards the question of credits to Europe. America's willingness to help is all that is considered; her capacity to help is taken for granted. America, so enormously wealthy that one or two of its best known bankers could by the mere scratch of the pen, arrange for all-embracing loans to Europe.

Mr. Fahy was asked what the aims and hopes and plans of the Committee were.

"All the allied countries in Europe are in the market for American goods," he responded. "They must have goods to satisfy the needs of their populations. But, owing principally to the rate of exchange they are now unable to order such goods and pay for them under ordinary conditions of sale and purchase. As a result of this American exports have fallen off while imports have increased. This, from the American point of view, may make no great difference at this immediate time because production in America hardly is sufficient to take care of domestic requirements. But the time will come when such a condition would be alarming."

Must Extend Credits.
"For that reason some means of extending credit to the European buyer must be devised. We hope to talk things over with the European delegates and see just what is wanted and just what can be done. We have had our attention called to numerous plans for an international trade arrangement, but there are great difficulties in the way of such an international program. In individual lines progress has been made. For example, the copper people have come to terms with the French copper buyers, and France's supply of that metal is assured for some time to come. Similarly, an understanding has been reached in the matter of coal and this commodity now is being shipped into France. More and more progress along these lines undoubtedly will be made."

I am optimistic about the European trade situation. I think there is no doubt but that all these countries will overcome the difficulties facing them. I do not believe that France is economically unsound as a nation. The fact is here, the people are here and no country which has land and labor will remain impoverished forever. It will take time to build up. There is no short cut to a perfect result."

The questions discussed were: 1. Raw Materials and General Economic Policy—

A. Distribution of raw materials. Material help such as a view to supplying certain raw materials, temporarily lacking to the countries which have suffered most through the war (Petroleum, Textiles, Minerals, and Metals, Fertilizers).

B. Customs and Tariff questions. A. Prohibitions on Imports and Exports.

1. Desirable suppression. 2. Prohibitions to protect the national market against the invasion of competitors enjoying a better rate of exchange; against unreasonable purchases and the aggravation of the depression in the rate of exchange. Necessity of due notice.

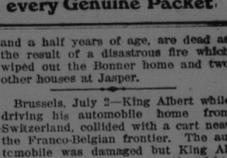

3. Disadvantages of the Licence system and measures proper for assuring the fair distribution of rational products.

THE STANDARD'S SPORTING SECTION

TRADITION SERVED IN SELECTING CUP YACHT

Eight Letters Composed Names of Seven of Thirteen Boats Which Defended Trophy—Now We Have Resolute.

Tradition has been honored and maintained in the selection of the boat which is to defend the coveted American Cup. Resolute has been chosen. While superstition plays no little part in a sailing man's life, it was probably given more consideration by the cup committee. It is a matter of coincidence, however, that there are just eight letters in the name of the chosen defender. Four of her immediate predecessors required no more of the alphabet to delineate their names on the stem of the boat. Vigilant, Defender, Columbia and Reliance all were, in fact, seven of the thirteen yachts which have defended the trophy consumed eight letters in the makeup of their names, the other three being Columbia, Madeline and Mitchell. May the choice score the fourteenth victory for the now famous trophy.

It Was No Easy Task.

W. Butler Duncan, C. Oliver Ivelin, Edwin D. Morgan and Greville Kanev, who composed the New York Yacht Club cup committee, had no easy task in deciding between the Resolute and Vigilant. The yachts sailed the trophy race off Newport. Seven were won by the Resolute and four by the Vigilant. The margin of each instance after handicap allowances had been made was very little. Boat for boat the Resolute proved the better craft. The committee carefully checked them on all points of sailing, man-agement and crew.

The cup defender was built in 1914 by a syndicate composed of J. P. Morgan, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Arthur Curtis James, George F. Baker, Henry Walters and several other prominent members of the New York Yacht Club. Two other boats were constructed at the same time, the Vanitie, by A. S. Cochran, and the Defiant by a syndicate of Boston, New York and Philadelphia yachtsmen. The Defiant was withdrawn early in the season of 1914.

The series of trial races that were to be held in 1914 between the Vigilant and Resolute were stopped by the war. In 1915 the two sloops sailed a number of races, nearly all of which were won by Resolute. In the two years Resolute had twenty-five victories to her credit against four for the Vanitie.

Like Daddy, Like Son.

It seemed like a coincidence that while Manager Emmons, of the Resolute, was scoring his triumph of having the yacht chosen by the committee, young Emmons was selected by Harvard to lead its baseball team for next season. Daddy was a former Harvard football captain and the youngster who plays second base has proved himself a real leader.

Commercialism Takes Its Toll.

Just as soon as commercialism gets any sport into its fangs there is a lack of interest and the public gets weary. There is not a single exception. Even the grand old game of chess, a splendid mental diversion, is not outside the pale. It is being treated as a bit of adverse criticism regarding the financial arrangements said to have been demanded by Dr. Emanuel Lesker to cause that estimable gentleman and wonderful player to relinquish his world's title. The Cuban expert and American champion.

Writing from Amsterdam, Doctor Lesker says to Capablanca: "From various facts in my report that the chess world does not like the conditions of our agreement. I cannot play the match knowing that its rules are widely unpopular. I, therefore, resign the title of world's champion in your favor. You have the right to accept or refuse the offer of a challenge, but by your brilliant mastery. In your former career I wish you much success."

In commenting upon Doctor Lesker's resignation, the chess expert of the London Times recalls the negotiations of eight years ago which ended with Doctor Lesker's refusal to meet Capablanca, and the adverse comment on Doctor Lesker's action. The renewal of the negotiations early in 1920 led to an agreement between the two players to meet next year, with Doctor Lesker to receive 60 per cent of the purse, whatever it might be, and also to have the privilege of declining where the match should occur. The writer criticizes Doctor Lesker for his position in this connection as quotes Capablanca as saying when he last played in London that he was willing to accept any reasonable conditions, as he was most anxious to settle the championship question finally by playing Doctor Lesker.

Curb Filipino's Ambition.

Eighteen years ago, in 1902, the commission which at that time governed the Philippine Islands enacted a law "punishing prize fighting and sparring or boxing exhibitions." Then the statute was promptly forgotten; the large number of sport-loving Americans, civil and military, prompted some enterprising American to form a boxing club, and to boxing was immediately established as one of the strongest forms of amusement in the Philippines.

In December 1919, a Filipino politician with a craving for publicity unearthed the statute book which contained this unattractive law, blew the dust from it and solemnly proceeded to put the wheels of government in motion. As a result boxing was banned. And the promising careers of a number of clever Filipino boxers were nipped in the bud.

The Filipino took to boxing like a Kentucky colt to Bourbon. Active, muscular, and with splendid powers of endurance and an abnormal ability to take punishment, he seemed endowed by nature with all the attributes of the successful boxer. And the science of the game—punching and blocking,

Moncton, N. B., July 4.—The Fewnick horses, of Bathurst, had it all their own way, Saturday, in the final of the three days' racing at the Moncton Speedway. The free-for-all trot and pace went to John A. Hal, and the 2:22 trot and pace was won by Bill De Suro, both events being handsily captured in straight heats. In the second heat of the free-for-all John A. Hal displayed a fine burst of speed, going the first half in 1:04 and finishing in a little more than a leg in 2:11 1/2. It was quite apparent that had the champion been called upon to extend himself he could easily have recorded the Moncton track record (2:10). Between 1:00 and 2,000 spectators were in attendance.

Broke Small Bone In Right Ankle

"Buff" Riley, St. Peter's Centre Fielder, Injured in Saturday's Game—Large Crowd Witnessed Champions Defeat "Vets" by Score of 15 to 7.

While sliding to second in the seventh inning in Saturday's game between the St. Peter's and the War Veterans "Buff" Riley, the star centre fielder of the St. Peter's broke one of the small bones in his right ankle. He was taken to the residence of Dr. Roberts and examined there by both Dr. Roberts and Dr. Macaulay. At the time they could not find any bones broken but ordered the injured player to the hospital where an X-ray of the injured member was taken and it showed that one of the bones had been broken. The St. Peter's are leaving on a trip next Tuesday, playing games in Moncton and several Nova Scotia towns. An injury to their steady centre fielder will cripple them considerably.

The game was rather loosely played and St. Peter's had little difficulty in defeating the "Vets" by 15 to 7. The all-around work of Art Howard in centre for the Vets, a brace of fast double plays by the Green Shirts and a good save by McGovern after he had nearly let an easy one get away from him lived it up somewhat.

The Veterans and Alerts are scheduled to play this evening on the East End grounds.

The Cricket Championship

Surrey at the Head With a Percentage of 85.45—Kent Second With 84.00; Lancashire Third, 81.42.

London, July 4.—(By Canadian Associated Press.)—The cricket championship table has Surrey at the head with a percentage of 85.45; Kent second, 84.00; Lancashire third, 81.42; Derbyshire, with all matches lost, last; Heaton, of Middlesex, leads the individual batting averages, with 76.66 per innings; Mead, Hampshire, 53.58, is second; Hobbs, Surrey, third, 57.15. Rhodes, Yorkshire, leads the bowling, with 1.23 runs per wicket.

Great Sport Week Over In England

Golf, Tennis, Rowing, Running and Other Events of Importance Have Been Decided.

London, July 4.—(By Canadian Associated Press.)—Apart from cricket, the week has been a great one for sports. Golf, tennis, rowing, running and other events of the first importance have been decided with some real championship sensations and surprises.

The Henley regatta concluded yesterday a wonderfully successful week. The winners were: Grand Challenge, Magdalen College, Oxford; Ladies' challenge, Christ church, Oxford; Thames Challenge, Thames Rowing Club; Stewards' cup, Magdalen College; Visitors' cup, Merton College; Oxford; Wyfold cup, Thames Rowing Club; Silver Goblets, Nicholls and Lucas, of Magdalen College; Diamond sculls, J. Beresford, Junior Thames Club.

HEAVY HITTING IN BIG LEAGUE

Large Number of 300 Batmen in the American and the National, With George Sisler Leading the Former, and Roger Hornsby the Latter—Ty Cobb Has Been Coming Along Fast—Babe Ruth the Champion Long-Distance Wallpaper.

The batting in the National and the American Leagues has been heavy this season up to date. As usual the American leads in the number of 300 hitters, with George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns leading the way. George has been hitting the ball with vengeance lately and has a mark of 410, according to the latest batting tables. Tris Speaker does not show much let-up in the hard batting that he started off the season with and it does not seem as if he would ease up throughout the campaign. Speaker has 392 at the present time, according to the batting tables. Another of those who has rapped the ball for keeps over since the season got under way, is in third position with 376, Clyde Milan, the Washington outfielder, is right in the front with an average of 370.

Washington has a number of players in the 300 class and ranks second in team batting in the league. Cleveland is the only club that has hit the ball harder than the Nationals. The team average of Speaker's outfit is .309, which is very high, and shows why the club has been able to maintain its fast pace ever since the season opened. Washington has a team average of .300. St. Louis is but one point behind the Clark Griffith aggregation.

Detroit has done the weakest hitting of any of the teams in the American League. Hugh Jennings' battery has had a hard time getting their bludgeons in shape this season. Cobb has been coming along in better style, or was up to the time he was put out of the game with an injury. Ty was slow in getting started this year, but has come from way down in the rack up to a respectable position in the ranks of the 300 clubbers. He now has a mark of 312 and this will without a doubt be increased as the season moves along. Ty is very often a slow starter, but once he gets going it is a hard job to hold him in check. Sisler, Speaker and Jackson will have Ty run up in their own ranks before many days have passed or 245.

George Peach is not the wonderful hitter he has always been credited with being. However, Ty will have to go pretty fast to keep up with the pace set by the present leader of the hitters in Ban Johnson's organization—George Sisler.

Babe Ruth will carry off the extra base honors without a doubt. The Yankee home-run king has been knocking out circuit swats with such regularity that no one else has been considered as a competitor worth while for the long-distance hitting championship of the diamond. The Yankee has hit 345 clip lately and leads his team. Meusel is also well up with the heavy hitters, having 342, while Ping Bodie is numbered among the elect likewise. Ping coming through with a .325 ticket. Peckinpaugh has done well, his mark being 316. The New York team as a whole has batted for 286.

Rogers Hornsby cling to the top in the National League with a tenacious grip. Rogers has tickled the ball to the tune of 391. He has been treating the old apple rough all season and is out strong for the batting championship of the league. Grover Cleveland Alexander is right next to the St. Louis slugger. Alex. has played in but 17 games, but he is worthy of note that he has hit the ball in consistent style since the season began. Jake Daubert, the first baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, is in reality the runner-up to Hornsby. He has 315, while Heinie Groh, of the Reds, has 332. Duncan and Roush, two more of the Red' batters, have 328 each, and come right after Groh. Roush has increased his average greatly of late and may yet be a candidate for premier batting honors. Cincinnati leads the league in team batting with 289. St. Louis follows with 283, which show that the Cards have been swinging the war clubs with effect. Chicago comes next with 267, while the Pirates are down at the bottom, being able to show but 245.

NEW BASEBALL RECORD CREATED

Frank O'Rourke of Toronto Club on Saturday Hit Safely Six Times in Six Trips to the Plate for a Total of Thirteen Bases.

Toronto, July 4.—Frank O'Rourke, short stop of the Toronto Club, probably created a new baseball record on Saturday in the game between the Toronto Club and Rochester of the International League, when for the second time this season he hit safely six times in six trips to the plate. In Saturday's game he had two home runs, a double and three singles, or six hits for a total of 13 bases.

His previous performance of this kind was on April 22 of this year in the opening game at Reading, Pa., between Reading and Toronto. In that game he had three doubles and three singles in six times at bat for a total of nine bases on six opportunities.

The principal event was won by Mrs. Workman's Nyria, after a grand contest with the Britannia, which finished second.

The Henley regatta concluded yesterday a wonderfully successful week. Beresford, Junior Thames Club.

Carpenter Is No Match For Dempsey

DeForrest of Opinion That European Champion Will Never Meet American—Willard Was Fouled—Kearns Lost His Head in Fight at Toledo.

New York, July 2.—According to an interview given to Joe Vila, the sporting editor of the New York Evening Sun, by Professor Jimmy DeForrest, Jess Willard won the Toledo fight in which he was knocked silly by Jack Dempsey's avalanche of blows, on an interview rather astounding piece of news contained in the DeForrest interview with DeForrest is that Dempsey's hands had been wound with a tape that hardens after application and turns the mauler's fist into a bit of concrete-breaker. The old trick of the trade DeForrest ascribes the fact that Willard's face was cut to ribbons. Referring to the foul which was committed, DeForrest said:

"If the referee had been on the alert and Willard's seconds had been wide awake, Dempsey would have lost the Toledo fight on a foul. After Willard was knocked down for the fifth time in the first round, Jack Kearns lost his head and actually got into the ring with a sponge in his hand. Kearns committed a foul, but he got away with it because I called him back before the referee, who was counting over Willard, saw him inside the ropes.

"When I handled Kid McCoy I used to bandage his hands with a certain kind of adhesive tape. As soon as McCoy drew on the gloves the tape hardened and as a result, he was able to inflict unusual punishment. I wound Dempsey's hands with the same kind of bandages, which Willard inspected when they came together in the ring before the first round. The story that Dempsey wore aluminum pads over his knuckles is a lie. His bandages became hardened, and that was why he cut Willard's face to ribbons."

"If Carpenter ever gets into the ring with Jack Dempsey I fear that the boxing game here will receive a black eye. I severed my relations with Dempsey right after the Toledo mill. There isn't a heavyweight in the ring today who has a chance to beat the world's champion. No, I've never seen Carpenter in action, but I have a good line on him, and I'll say that he would be knocked out in jig time by Dempsey.

"Jack would rush the Frenchman off his feet and literally beat him down with his tremendous punches just as he stopped Fred Fulton. Carpenter's boxing skill and speed would avail nothing. He doesn't possess sufficient strength or stamina to take Dempsey's wallops on the jaw or in the stomach. Jack would make a rusty fight of it in the first round, and the Frenchman would be unable to block or avoid him. In other words, Carpenter would be slaughtered before he had time to get the proper bearings, and he might be seriously injured, which would be extremely harmful to the sport. But in my opinion Carpenter never will sign articles and will retire from the ring when Dempsey tries to corner him."

DEFOREST OF OPINION THAT EUROPEAN CHAMPION WILL NEVER MEET AMERICAN—WILLARD WAS FOULED—KEARNS LOST HIS HEAD IN FIGHT AT TOLEDO.

Commercialism Takes Its Toll.

Just as soon as commercialism gets any sport into its fangs there is a lack of interest and the public gets weary. There is not a single exception. Even the grand old game of chess, a splendid mental diversion, is not outside the pale. It is being treated as a bit of adverse criticism regarding the financial arrangements said to have been demanded by Dr. Emanuel Lesker to cause that estimable gentleman and wonderful player to relinquish his world's title. The Cuban expert and American champion.

Writing from Amsterdam, Doctor Lesker says to Capablanca: "From various facts in my report that the chess world does not like the conditions of our agreement. I cannot play the match knowing that its rules are widely unpopular. I, therefore, resign the title of world's champion in your favor. You have the right to accept or refuse the offer of a challenge, but by your brilliant mastery. In your former career I wish you much success."

In commenting upon Doctor Lesker's resignation, the chess expert of the London Times recalls the negotiations of eight years ago which ended with Doctor Lesker's refusal to meet Capablanca, and the adverse comment on Doctor Lesker's action. The renewal of the negotiations early in 1920 led to an agreement between the two players to meet next year, with Doctor Lesker to receive 60 per cent of the purse, whatever it might be, and also to have the privilege of declining where the match should occur. The writer criticizes Doctor Lesker for his position in this connection as quotes Capablanca as saying when he last played in London that he was willing to accept any reasonable conditions, as he was most anxious to settle the championship question finally by playing Doctor Lesker.

TWELVE ROUND BOUT POSTPONED

WANDERERS BEAT DARTMOUTH

Halifax, July 4.—The Wanderers defeated Dartmouth by a score of six to five in Saturday's league ball game.

Not Worth Much.

At a very successful rummage sale recently held in connection with a certain church, a local magnate was present.

Immediately on his arrival he was called upon to assist in propping up a stand which showed imminent signs of collapsing. So placing his shining tall hat on an adjacent stall, he hurried to the rescue. The work having been accomplished, he returned to the stall where he left his hat, but no hat could be found.

"Oh, dear me," said the young lady in charge, "was that your hat, sir? I have sold it for fifty cents."

Olympic Trials Held At Montreal

Feature of Second Day in Swimming Was Exhibition of George Vernot, Who Earned Right to Represent Canada as Dominion Champion.

Montreal, July 4.—The feature of the second day of the Olympic swimming trials held here under the auspices of the Quebec Branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association on Saturday afternoon, was the brilliant exhibition of George Vernot of Montreal, who earned the right to represent Canada at the Olympic games together with the title of Dominion champion. Vernot lowered the previous mark in the 20 yards event, established by R. N. Ritter, of the New York Athletic Club. This time was 2:15, and Vernot brought it down to 2:30, a difference of 15 seconds. Another mark lowered was that of G. H. Flske, of Montreal, in the 100 yard back stroke, which was brought down from the 1:26 1/5 held by R. M. Ritter, of New York to 1:23 1/5. Yet a third new record was established by Miss Kessler, of Winnipeg, in the 220 yards, who swam the distance in 3:33 1/5.

Since the trials also count as Canadian championships five championships are now held by Montrealers, four by George Vernot and one by Flske. Members of the Quebec branch thus hold the undisputed right to represent Canada at Antwerp.

LACROSSE GAMES ARE DISCONTINUED

Montreal, July 4.—After the Shamrock-Cornwall lacrosse match here Saturday, when Cornwall defeated Shamrocks five to three, a meeting of the different clubs in the National Lacrosse Union was held at which it was unanimously decided that owing to lack of public support the games be discontinued and the National Lacrosse Union be suspended for the season.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN MANITOBA.

The result of the elections in Manitoba will not likely be regarded with any great degree of satisfaction by any of the parties concerned. It is as had a knock for the Liberals as the last election in Ontario was for the Conservatives, Premier Norris having come into the fight with a following of 44 out of a House of 48, and come out of it with 19 followers out of a House of 55. The Conservatives have added five to their number, which now stands at seven; and the remaining seats are held by Labor and Farmer representatives. No one party is strong enough to "go it" alone, and it is only a question as to what combinations can be effected in order to bring into being a government that will have a majority of the whole House. The Labor and Farmer groups between them make up just half the House, and assuming that a combination of Liberals and Conservatives were likely—which it is not, it is declared—it would still be without a majority. Premier Norris will no doubt endeavor to enlist the Laaboretors in his banner, but whether he is prepared to bring about legislation of the character that this group is likely to demand is open to considerable doubt, and such a combination may not materialize. The Farmers' group, if they follow out the programme of the U. F. O., will also want legislation that will not appeal very strongly to the ordinary individual, and it may be difficult for any other group to accommodate itself to the Farmers' demands. Altogether the outlook is somewhat cloudy, and developments will be awaited with considerable interest.

It may be that we have come pretty nearly to the end of the old-fashioned two party governments in this country, and that from now on we may have several parties. It is generally anticipated that in the next Dominion Parliament there will be representatives in considerable numbers of the Labor and Farmer interests as well as the two old parties, and in Manitoba no one party may perhaps be strong enough to carry on alone. Politics, like poverty, makes strange bed-fellows, and it is difficult to say what may happen. The policies of the Labor party and the U. F. O. have little in common either with each other or with those of the two old parties, though Mr. Mackenzie King would probably accept any kind of policy if the doing so would bring him support enough to form a government with any, even remote, prospect of being able to carry on.

AN IMPORTANT MERCANTILE DECISION.

The judgment recently delivered by the Board of Commerce in the case of the Hamilton grocers is considered to be one of the most important to the mercantile world ever given by any court in Canada. It establishes that the manufacturer has the legal right to establish a selling policy and to refuse to deal with those who will not adhere to the terms of that policy. If he decides to deal only with wholesalers, he may refuse to sell to others than wholesalers. If he decides to establish a fixed re-sale price for his goods and to make it a fair price, he may refuse to deal with those who sell above or below that price.

SOME WISDOM (?)

The Farmers' Sun does not show much respect for the intelligence of its readers when it presents an argument like this:

"We go to a doctor or dentist, lawyer or bricklayer, machinery agent or grocer, and he sends us a bill for services rendered or goods sold as the case may be. You have nothing to say as to what he shall charge. On the other hand, you produce the greatest necessity in the world, something that everybody must have, and yet you have absolutely no say as to what you shall get for the food you sell. The other fellow fixes the price for the commodities you buy and the price for the commodities you sell. Now, frankly, isn't it about time that you quit getting trimmed both going and coming? Think it over."

THE IRISH QUESTION.

It is difficult to imagine anything much more arrogantly impudent than the proposal to include in the platform of the Democratic party a plank favoring the independence of Ireland. What the independence of Ireland, or any other question relat-upon as one of the necessities of life. Not only was it always drunk at all gatherings of a festive character, but also wherever men met together for work, and it was used in the family as tea in this century. "Strange to say, the people were not ashamed of this open use of liquor, and they would have laughed at any man who declared its use a sin. In those days they did not vote for Prohibition or for Scott Acts, and then sneak behind a barn to suck a bottle of bad whiskey. They may have been mistaken in their views, but they were at least manly in avowing them. The use of liquor undoubtedly leads to great evils, but there can hardly be any evil so great as for whole communities to vote for and pretend to support summary laws which in practice they condemn and disobey, thereby bringing all laws into contempt."

The British Labor Party conference has, as was expected, voted against prohibition by a tremendous majority. The labor man must have his beer as a popular cry in England, and it would seem that that conviction will have to be altered before prohibition can be established. When the British laborer finds himself robbed of his daily quota of beer, such a condition of affairs will be brought about that compared with them the present conditions in Ireland are as a prayer meeting would be to a hustings gathering.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Getting Light. (London Free Press.) The German "hymn of hate" seems to have resound into a separate continent of which the refrain is: "Give us a system of government like that of England." They came to hate, but they remained to admire.

Hearst's Certainty. (Saskatoon Phoenix.) Three days before Harding was nominated by the Republican Convention the New York American said: "Johnson is to be the next President. Other things are uncertain. That is sure." The New York American is a Hearst paper and that statement is just about as near as the Hearst papers ever get to the truth.

Let 'Em Sell. (Calgary Herald.) Representatives of the Russian Soviet Government who have been in Canada interviewing manufacturers with the idea of inducing trade with Russia, say that the Canadian Government offers no objection. Certainly not. This is a free country, and if any Canadian manufacturer wishes to sell his products to the Russian Soviet Government, taking chances on getting his money for the goods, he is at perfect liberty to do so.

A Good Fight.

A striking statement was made by Senator Schaffner that tuberculosis killed as many Canadians at home during the war period as lost their lives in that conflict. This is one of many striking facts presented by the president of the national organization which is trying to overcome and banish the disease. It seems to have been known two thousand years ago that consumption was a communicable disease, and was not hereditary, and therefore might be prevented. This knowledge was lost for all practical purposes during many centuries and had to be reacquired. Even yet it is not available as a public possession for working purposes. The public statement yesterday at the Rotary Club by Mr. Olsen that his own interest in the establishment of the tuberculosis clinic resulted from the sight of a room full of young girls doomed to death within a few months from the clinic. If that lesson could be presented to all and the whole community could know that this most fatal disease can be abolished altogether in the lifetime of one generation, the campaign of this society would make rapid progress.

THE LAUGH LINE

Some Bonehead!
 A proud young father telegraphed the news of his happiness to his brother in these words: "A handsome boy has come to my house and claims to be your nephew. We are doing our best to give him a proper welcome."

The brother, however, failed to see the point and wired back: "I have not got a nephew. The young man is an impostor."

The mine-workers leader was pointing out the folly of further coal strikes.

"We must stop striking, boys," he said, "or the common people, the great consuming public, won't listen to us when we talk to them about the idle riot. Instead of listening to us they'll yell."

"The idle riot he darned! How about the empty grate?"

Look Elsewhere.
 The second course of the table-d'hotel was being served.

"What is this leathery stuff?" demanded a diner.

"That, sir, is filleted sole," replied the waiter.

"Take it away," said the diner, "and see if you can't get me a nice tender piece from the upper part of the boot, with the buttons removed."

An Unfortunate Misprint.
 Bringing with him an electric atmosphere, the man strode into the newspaper office and banged his stick on the counter. "Where's the editor?" he shouted angrily. "He's—he's out!" replied the clerk nervously. "What's he done this time?" "In that advertisement for my 'valveless' motor," stormed the visitor, "he's turned the second 'v' into a 'u'!"

Sure Proof.

Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

This afternoon I was sitting on my front steps all alone feeling hungry and wondering what we was going to have for dinner for supper, thinking, Gosh, I hope I ain't rice pudding without raisins, I'd rather have plane bread pudding than rice pudding without raisins.

Well, just then a man looked at me and stopped going past, being a kind of a old man with a round stummock, saying, Well, well, well, why so pensive?

Sir, I said.

Yours entirely too young to have such a sad expression, said the man, don't you know this is the Spring time, wen all young things should be joyous? You dont mean to tell me theres recdy anything worrying you at your ago?

Yes sir, I said.

Come, come, thats a shame, cheer up is you think a dime would induce you to amlie? said man.

Maybe, I guess so, yes sir, I said.

Well lets try it, sed the man. And he took a little pocket-book out of his pocket and took a dime out and handed it to me, me feeling like smiling as soon as I saw it coming but not smiling till after I took it, on account of thinking he mite change his mind on account of me having smiled anyway, and he sed, Ah, thats better, much better, now tell me wet was bothering your little hed?

I was worrying in case we mite have a dizeert for supper I did-ent lha, I sed.

Well upon my sole, sed the man. And his expression started to look as if he mite ask for his dime back so I quick got up and went in the house before he had a chance.

"The Judge—"He doesn't appear stupid to me."
 The Prisoner (stammering)—"Just look at the lawyer I've engaged, your honor."

Spoke In Favor Of Prohibition

Rev. Canon Armstrong in Course of Sermon Preached at Trinity Last Evening Touched on the Prohibition Question.

In the course of a sermon preached at Trinity Church last evening from 1 Corinthians 6, 12, "All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient; all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any," Rev. Canon Armstrong spoke forcibly in favor of prohibition saying that at an Anglican Church Mission nine-tenths of the requests for prayer came from those whose homes had been made unhappy through strong drink. He quoted St. Paul's saying "Wherefore it meet make my brother to offend I will eat no flesh while the world existeth, lest I make my brother to offend," and said that there are more weak brothers than is realized.

There are those who defend the liquor traffic, Canon Armstrong said, and there are those who in the days of slavery preached in defence of it but the time will come when it will be as strange to hear anyone speaking against prohibition as it would be today to listen to a sermon or speech in favor of slavery. The preacher quoted the testimony of Taft and Hughes for prohibition. He said that the people who are going after lemon extract are those who have acquired bad habits under the old regime, they are the victims of intemperance. It is a period of transition now, and people today wish to make it impossible that there shall be such victims in the future.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

CANON KUHRING ON PROHIBITION

To the Editor:

Dear Sir, There is a well known law in the letting of Parliamentary Contracts, viz., that anyone who has an interest in the firm tendering shall have no voice in the letting of the contract. The reason being that no matter how honest the member of Parliament or a director in any company may strive to be, he cannot give an unbiased opinion, if he has an interest in the contract. No one will doubt the wisdom of this legislation.

If the principle is right in contracts why should it not apply to the question of Prohibition. Any man who has an interest in alcohol as a beverage or in wines and beer is logically debarred from being able to give an unbiased opinion upon the advisability of Prohibition. If he sells it, gain blinds his eyes. If he drinks it, appetite and selfish indulgence as he recalls the past process of enjoyment of the same makes it less likely that he will sacrifice his own desires for the safety of the Nation. It is not a fact that the only man free to pronounce upon the question of Prohibition is the abstainer and the one least likely to have a clear unbiased judgment is the moderate drinker.

I advise therefore that readers of all letters in the papers before they accept the statements therein, ask the editor, is the writer a total abstainer or a moderate drinker? for "strong drink perverts judgment and it is not for Kings to drink strong drink." The total abstainer alone has a disinterested mind in this matter.

Another thing to remember is that it is unwise to accept (as a general fact) the experience or observations of any one man, especially if his sphere is limited. One of the clergy of this Diocese has ventured to claim that Prohibition is a failure and has caused more drunkenness than before the law was made. To offset this the Bishop of the Diocese deliberately and with a deep knowledge of the whole Province claims it is a great success. I do not know whether Rev. E. H. Hooper is aware of the stand which the General Synod of the Church of England took at its last meeting in Toronto, acting for the whole of the Church in Canada concerning Prohibition.

It accepted the report coming from the Council for Social Service and endorsed the same. I quote from Page 307-4.

"The drunkard, his family and his home have long appealed for protection and help. The most complete answer to that appeal has been the abolition of the bar and the enactment of a Dominion-wide Prohibition. Through the Council for Social Service the Church was enabled to take decisive action in this matter. The battle may have to be fought over again at the close of the war. For this we have to be prepared."

Resolution on Page 323:

1. "The General Synod heartily endorses the action of the Government in seeking to restrict and 'eventually abolish' the traffic in alcohol and calls upon all patriotic citizens to uphold its hands in this matter."

May I also draw the attention of the Church people specially to the fact that at the same time in the report of the Church of England (Chaplain at the front which accounts for the expenditure of the magnificent sum of over $22,000 by the Padres alone for the contents of the men not one cent was spent on intoxicants or beer or wine. Why? because it was forbidden and because the Chaplains almost to a man felt such an expenditure would harm the men whom they loved. I wish I could quote to the mind of your readers the heroic and self-sacrificing remarks of the Good Archbishop of the Province of Ontario as he accepted the report on Social Service at the General Synod. He said in effect "I voted and worked against Prohibition last time conscientiously because I desired freedom, I have been converted. From all that I have seen and heard, I, as a shepherd of many sheep have become convinced that prohibition has wrought such good to the people of the Diocese of Ontario that if the question should arise again, I will vote for Prohibition. I will work for Prohibition with all my heart and strength."

As to my own experience amongst military men at the front concerning alcoholic beverages, they were never used in our ranks. And in the Island of Lemnos, where I spent eight months, at first even beer was not allowed amongst the troops, later pressure was brought to bear because so many Englishmen were there, and barrels of the best English beer arrived for the troops. Although only one glass of beer was to be allowed when the men were lined up, yet many men found a way to get into the line several times, and the result was that a garrison hitherto without court-martials was turned into a camp where many arrests had to be made, and where crimes increased and men became brutalized by beer.

We are told that the bar will never come back even if Prohibition is defeated. Did it ever occur to the majority of people that we have no quarrel with the saloons, but rather with what is dispensed there. We have been enabled to drive it out of the saloons and now we want to make it almost, if not quite unknown in the homes of our people. Rich as well as poor. The poor man should not be hungry because some of the rich have it, but should rather lament the fact that the rich man has the dangerous evil in his house. Let the working man help his rich brother by giving such an overwhelming vote for Prohibition that the necessary amendments may be added to the Law of Prohibition, and thus deliver his unfortunate rich brother.

Overseas Padres have refused to hand it to the men they loved, the Bishop of this Diocese is in favor of Prohibition. The General Synod of Canada has endorsed it for Canada. The experienced and saintly Bishop of Algoma will fight for it, and Medical Science has condemned moderate drinking, what more can the loyal, patriotic churchman want to make him (or her) free for Prohibition and against beer and wine.

Yours sincerely,

G. A. KUHRING, Canon, (Late Chaplain C. E. F.)

THERE'S A LITTLE BIT OF IRELAND FLOATING OFF THE JERSEY COAST

Sir Thomas Lipton and His "Navy," Six Craft Strong, Are There—Invading the United States to Capture the America's Cup in a Yachtsmen's Battle off Sandy Hook

New York, July 3.—(Associated Press)—There's a little bit of Ireland floating off the Jersey coast and its ruler is a familiar figure in yachting diabolica and cap. It's Sir Thomas Lipton and his "Navy"—six craft strong—invading the United States to capture the America's Cup in a yachtsmen's battle off Sandy Hook this month.

The man to whom a large patch of water is an alien sight thinks of the cup races as a few impromptu jousts between a couple of sailing sloops which cost a mite more than the average man can afford. He does not realize that these yachts and their crews have to go through a period of training as long as that of any football team and a thousand times more costly.

By purchase or charter, Sir Thomas has amassed his fleet. In addition to the challenger, Shamrock IV, and the trial horse, the 23 metre Shamrock, there is the steam yacht Victoria, the flagship of the fleet, on which the veteran yachtsman lives, anchored each night in the Hudson.

Then there is the houseboat Killarney, tucked snugly away in the shelter of a couple of sailing sloops, which cost a mite more than the average man can afford. He does not realize that these yachts and their crews have to go through a period of training as long as that of any football team and a thousand times more costly.

On Monday afternoon the closing exercises of the Prince Arthur school were held in the assembly hall.

Tuesday evening the graduation exercises were held.

Monday afternoon the executives of the Canadian Club and the Passamaquoddy Chapter, I. O. D. E., met to discuss the matter of a district nurse. The need of such a thing was felt very strongly. The President of the Canadian Club and the Regent of the Passamaquoddy Chapter are to interview the town council to see if they will render any financial assistance. The churches are also to be asked to co-operate with the two societies. It is hoped that the establishing of a district nurse will be the form of the town memorial.

Beef was anywhere from 18 to 45c; lamb, 20 to 45c; pork, 20 to 40c, and veal, 20 to 30c. The only things that had dropped were potatoes, which sold for $1.20 per peck. There was quite an assortment of fresh vegetables last week. Tomatoes were still 50c a lb.; rhubarb, 5c, and cabbage, 15c. Cucumbers held their mark of 25c for each one bought. Local berries were selling for 20 to 30c a box.

WEEK-END ARRESTS; PLENTY OF DRUNKS. Ten arrests were made by the police over the week-end. On Saturday eight drunks were lodged in the cells and William Guthro was arrested by Inspector Caplan and Detective Smeberg for being drunk and having liquor in his possession. Automobile Was Struck By Train

Ford Car With Five Passengers Was Struck by Shore Line Express Saturday Evening at Spruce Lake Crossing—Fortunately No Person Was Killed.

A railway crossing tragedy was narrowly averted about 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when a Ford touring car driven by Milford McAllister, of Lorneville, and containing Mrs. McAllister, Mrs. W. A. Lowe, Mrs. Samuel Wilson and her daughter Violet, was struck by the afternoon Shore Line train from St. Stephen while going over the Spruce Lake crossing.

The train hit the front of the car and threw it into the ditch. Its occupants were also thrown a considerable distance. Mrs. McAllister was the most severely hurt. She received a deep cut over the eye, which later necessitated four stitches. She was also bruised about the head and body, and knocked unconscious. Mrs. Wilson had her leg and hip hurt. Mr. McAllister received a cut on the nose. The injuries of the others were confined to the severe shaking up which all experienced, as well as considerable shock from so narrow an escape from death.

The party were motoring from West St. John into Lorneville and approached the crossing quite unaware of the oncoming train, hearing neither bell nor whistle. The train was upon them before anything could be done to avert the collision.

The brakes were applied by the locomotive driver as quickly as possible, and Mrs. McAllister and the rest of the party were put aboard the train and brought into West St. John. On their arrival the ambulance was summoned and conveyed the injured ones to the home of Mrs. Lowe, 102 Guilford street, W. E., where Dr. Kenney attended them.

Last evening, Mrs. McAllister and Mrs. Wilson were reported to be somewhat improved, but still suffering from shock.

Although the car was badly damaged, it is not beyond repair.

Seventh Baptist District Meeting

Sixtieth Annual Session Was Concluded in Fairville Baptist Church Last Evening—Special Services Held All Day Yesterday.

The sixtieth annual meeting of the Baptist District of New Brunswick was concluded last evening in the Fairville Baptist Church. An evangelistic sermon was preached in a most forceful manner by the Rev. P. C. MacArthur, of Grand Manan, recently emigrated from Scotland. His message was Biblical and exceedingly earnest. Rev. J. H. Jenner made an evangelical appeal to the large congregation, and the service and meeting was concluded by hearing the report of the committee on Resolutions, and the reading of the minutes, followed by prayer and benediction.

The morning services were conducted by the chairman of the meeting, D. C. Clarke, and the pastor of the church, the Rev. A. S. Bishop.

The choir rendered two selections and the annual sermon was preached by the Rev. K. O. Morse who took as his text John 14 1-3.

Rev. Mr. Morse said that Heaven was to be considered as a great hope and as a motive for holy living and unselfish service in the world. He pleaded for more meditation on Heaven in the midst of the present busy commercial age.

Secretary Ganong conducted the communion service at which seventy-five people sat down. Deacons from the local churches and from the Musquoddy Harbor and Wilson's Beach churches assisted.

In the afternoon Rev. A. J. Archibald spoke in an interesting manner to the girls and boys of the Sunday School. He told them not to be afraid of ghosts but to be afraid of sin and of life failures.

Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, president of the Acadia Seminary at Wolfville, N. S., spoke upon Jesus the Master Teacher, the great example of the present day Sunday School teacher.

Rev. J. A. Glendonning of India, spoke upon "What God is Doing in India by Us." The marked progress in his own field was typical of the progress of all missionary work in India, he said.

He described the release of the people from the fear of demons and other superstitions, and the great service rendered by the medical missionaries. With the breaking down of caste the people were coming to the Gospel message as never before. In conclusion the speaker said he was begging nothing for the work neither money or prayers. Addressing the meeting he told them it was their own work and theirs was the whole responsibility.

The annual meeting was opened Friday afternoon with D. C. Clarke of West St. John presiding. Visitors to whom courtesies were extended included Rev. A. J. Archibald of New Glasgow, Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, Wolfville, Secretary Ganong of the Home Mission Board, Rev. J. A. Glendonning of India and the visiting ministers of St. John.

Reports of the year's work were received from every church in the district but two.

In the evening the first report was delivered by Rev. H. E. DeWolfe. In speaking on the requirements of the Home Mission pastor the Rev. K. O. Morse of Grand Manan, with an experience of twenty-three years in the Home Mission field, recommended that home mission pastors be sent to an agricultural college for a year and to a college for fisheries for a year.

He emphasized the need in rural districts of women workers to aid in these problems.

Rev. H. A. Goodwin of Centenary Methodist, favored the continuance of the present Prohibition Act which could be improved by a bone dry amendment. Michael Kelly, the lay speaker of the evening concluded the day's programme.

Saturday morning's meeting was taken up by the reports of the various committees. R. H. Parsons of West St. John sent a paper on Sunday School and Young People's work in their district. He told of the organization of the Baptist Young People's Union and urged its extension among all the churches.

Rev. J. A. Corey of Wilson's Beach read the report on obituaries. There were 54 deaths reported during the year including six prominent members of the Fairville Church, amongst them the late C. P. Baker, a man who had been of great assistance in the building up of the church since its organization in 1881.

The action of the officers was held in the afternoon, resulting as follows: Chairman, D. C. Clarke; vice-chairman, Rev. A. S. Bishop; secretary-treasurer, Rev. J. H. Jenner; executive committee, Carey Black, G. N. Mott, Rev. W. R. Robinson, David Thompson and the officers previously elected.

These committees were appointed to encourage and assist in the work of the weak and outlying districts of the mainland and islands.

In the evening the Rev. Dr. DeWolfe delivered an address on Education, which he said, did not consist in the acquisition of money or material wealth, but in a capacity for doing creative work.

DIVINE SERVICE AT FAIR VALE

About two hundred persons attended divine service in the hall at Fair Vale yesterday afternoon and listened to an excellent address delivered by Rev. Dr. Hutchinson of Main street Baptist church; also a solo beautifully rendered by Mrs. Dirkie.

It is the intention of the committee in charge to hold services in this hall every Sunday afternoon during the summer months and in the morning a Sunday school. The services will be conducted by ministers from the different denominations and there is no doubt in the minds of the committee but that the interest in these services will continue to grow.

Dr. M. Maude Goodwin, Boston, Mass., arrived in the city yesterday for a short visit.

The accident happened near the One Mile House.

A Prohibition Mass Meeting

Held Yesterday Afternoon in Ludlow Street Church—The Speakers Were Rev. Geo. D. Hudson, Rev. Mr. De Wolfe and Rev. Peter McArthur.

A mass meeting in the cause of Prohibition was held yesterday afternoon in Ludlow street Baptist church. It was under the auspices of the Men's Brotherhood Class of the church and was presided over by the president of the class, Geo. T. Ring. The meeting was opened with the singing of a hymn and prayer was offered by Deacon Ring, Rev. Geo. D. Hudson, pastor of the Victoria street church, was the first speaker introduced by the chairman. He drew attention to the evils consequent to the use of liquor, emphasized the importance of the referendum on the 10th of July and strongly urged all present to vote for Prohibition.

Rev. Mr. DeWolfe, pastor of the Baptist church, St. George, next addressed the gathering, endorsed the arguments of Rev. Mr. Hudson. He said that he had read in a recent advertisement that the British workman had been helped in winning the war by drinking beer. He questioned this and pertinently queried "Why didn't the Germans, who are notorious beer drinkers, win the war if drinking beer was such a help. He felt that there was little good in the Government giving the people prohibition when certain members of Parliament both at Ottawa and Fredericton violated the law. He condemned the attitude of doctors who gave liquor prescriptions so freely and criticized the statement of Dr. Bentley that a glass of wine does a man no harm. He concluded with an appeal to all to vote for prohibition.

Rev. Peter McArthur, of North Head church, Grand Manan also addressed the meeting on the evils caused by the excessive use of liquor. During the meeting solos were rendered by Rev. Alex. Gibson, pastor of Whitehead church, Grand Manan, and Ralph Ripert.

Secretary Ganong conducted the communion service at which seventy-five people sat down. Deacons from the local churches and from the Musquoddy Harbor and Wilson's Beach churches assisted.

In the afternoon Rev. A. J. Archibald spoke in an interesting manner to the girls and boys of the Sunday School. He told them not to be afraid of ghosts but to be afraid of sin and of life failures.
