ROW OVER BUILDING BYLAW

Case Took Up Several Hours of Police Magistrate's Time.

NO CHANCE OF SETTLEMENT

Plaintiff and Defendant Refuse to Give an Inch in the Matter.

The Wilson-Pratt building bylaw case dragged through two hours at the police court this morning, and defled all the efforts of Magistrate Love and the solicitors for both parties to come to an agreemen. At one time it seemed likely that an arrangement might be reached, and it probably would have been had Mr. Wilson agreed to take down a fence that he has erected at the side of his house and which, it is claimed, is an injury both to Mr. Pratt and himself.

"This agreement will never be signed then," said Mr. Wilson, waving his hand aloft, dramatically, "and you might as well know it first as last. I would never settle with that man." pocket," said Magistrate Love, "to have peace and harmony between these two men."

Both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Pratt wanted to talk at once, and it was with the utmost difficulty that their lawyers persuaded them to keep quiet. The Evidence.

Mr. W. Watson, who laid the foun dation for Mr. Pratt, was called first. Mr. Watson was asked if there were any bricks put in the foundation, and enced for years, explained that they had been placed Ladies to Devote Themselves to the Task.

At the morning service at the Adeaide Street Baptist Church yesterday the pastor, Rev. T. T. Shields, made mention of the question of young ladies teaching Chinese classes, that has come into such prominence lately. "While I fully appreciate the high motives of the young ladies who have given their time and energies to the teaching of Chinese classes," said Mr. Shields, "I do think that the principle is wrong, and even though the cases where it leads to disastrous results are very few, yet as a principle it is unhealthy. It would be unhealthy and unnatural if these young ladies were to so teach white men, and the fact that these are men of another race does not alter the condition. It is time that some reform in this matter lieve that the teaching should be by Annual Picnic Was Held to men, and if they will not accept such teaching then we had better leave

Arthur Stringer Coming

Mr. Arthur Stringer, the well-known novelist, will be the guest of the Canadian Club on Wednesday at the luncheon to be given in the Tecumseh House. Despite the warm weather there should be a very large attendance, for Mr. Stringer is a London boy, is a very clever writer, and his books are in demand all over the English-speaking world. He has made this part of Ontario famous by the fact that he has laid the plots of several of his stories in the vicinity of London, particularly that of "The Wiretappers," the opening chapters of which begin at Komoka and London. -

His latest book, "The Gun Runner," is dedicated to Major Mills, commander of the Sixth Battery of Light Artillery, whose headquarters are in London.

Keep Wednesday open, and do honor to a London man who has achieved fame in the world of letters, and who is always proud to say that he was born and bred in London, Woodill, murdered her because would not flee with him. The man could not bring himself to take to his heels without her. When she refused to go it is believed that 'Lame Bob" became enraged and beat her to death with an empty champagne bottle It was discovered today Theory, for the Double Tragedy that he killed her as she lay in bed. A number of letters came to Eastman from Baltimore and New York for several days before the murder. He so seldom received letters of any kind > him about it. Tipped Off to Police.

"Lame Bob had been in the habit of running over to Baltimore frequently. It is believed now that he was seen and recognized on one of his recent trips to Baltimore and that his hiding place had been tipped off to the police. A curious feature of the whole affair is why Bob took the risk of going to Baltimore the day after the girl was killed, but that is explained son Woodill to run away with him. There was no place save in the Maryon the ground that he needed cash. The girl refused and Eastman, pressed land city where Eastman could have pawned Edith's jewelry without questions being asked and get the money he needed, and it was a chance he had to take. He went at night and he

Hammered Her to Death.

Eastman pounded the Woodill woman to death as she lay on the bed with a champagne bottle. This was practically proven this afternoon when a party of men who were searching the house and digging up the grounds on a wild story that Eastman had murdered others there, found two strips of planking in the cellar. When they were taken out and joined they united the halves of a great blood-A moment's investigation stain. DR. G. H. KENNEDY, DENTIST- showed that the boards had been set in flooring by the side of the bed. Eastman after he killed the girl ripped up the planks where the blood had fallen, replacing them with new boards. The discovery of the torn letter with its warning to "Lame Bob" makes it certain that Eastman entertained no friends the night Edith Woodill went to his bungalow or the night after. Eastman's Letter. Mr. Radeliffe again today postponed the inquest to await some action by the local officers. The latter are still inclined to take but little stock in Eastman's declaration. They believe the letter may have been written in an attempt to shield his wife and boy from a final and overwhelming stigma from an unworthy husband and father. Eastman's letter was as follows: "Vinnie-Take this money and go at once to McDaniel, Talbot County, Maryland, and claim my body and all my property. The property consists of two acres of land and a bungalow. There is also a motor boat. Have a sale and convert the whole thing into cash. I don't owe a cent excepting for the paint and pump, which Shannon and Wrighton, of Easton, will be glad to get back, as it is not broken, just as it was shipped. "Little girl, I had no hand in the tragedy. Was there and removed the evidence of the other two couples who fled. We all, that is, two other wo-THE ARCHIBALD MCPHERSON men and two men from Annapolis, went to the bungalow for a time. Everyone drank excepting Edith and myself. Edith tried to win one of the girl's fellows, and was hit three times on the side of the head with a full bottle of champagne and the fellow hit once. She fell over on the floor and died. The man did not come to for an hour. I was left with the corpse and cannot take a chance for a trial. Life to me is very bitter, and I will pull down the shades and say goodbye. By his side, neglected, was a cedar-wood box of his favorite cigarettes.

"I am going." he said, thoughtfully, to tell you a story, of whom the hero is-myself. A poor sort of entertainment perhaps, but then there is a little tragedy and a little comedy in Dates Arranged For Fairs in Western what I have to tell. And you three are the three people in the world to certain things were better told."

They bent forward, fascinated by the cold directness of his speech, by the suggestion of strange things come. The mask of their late gaiety had fallen away. Lady Caroom, grave and sad-eyed, was listening with an anxiety wholly unconcealed. Under shaded lamplight their faces, dominated by that cold masterly figure at the head of the table, were almost Rembrandtesque.

"You have heard a string of incoherent but sufficiently damaging accusations made against me today by young lady whose very existence, may say, was a surprise to me. It suited me then to deny them. Nevertheless they were in the main true." The announcement was no shock. Every one of the three curiously enough had believed the girl. "I must go a little further back than the time of which she spoke. At 26 years old I was an idle young man of good family, but scant expectations, supposed to be studying at the bar, but in reality idling my time about town. In those days, Lady Caroom, you had some knowledge of me."

"Up to the time of your disappearance-yes. I remember, Arranmore." she continued, her manner losing for a moment some of its restraint, and her eyes and tone suddenly softening, "dancing with you that evening. We arranged to meet at Ranelagh the next day, and, when the next day came, you had vanished, gone as completely as though the earth had swallowed you up. For weeks everyone was asking what has become of him. And then-I suppose-you were forgotten.

"This," Lord Arranmore continued, 'is the hardest part of my narrative, the hardest because the most difficult to understand. You will forgive my offering you the bare facts only. I will remind you that I was young, impressionable, and had views. So to

Through the cheese districts, dairymen say, the make of butter is slightly behind, rather than ahead of last year. Cheese in the butter districts is said to be a little ahead of last year.

While it is a difficult matter to tell. it is believed that the crop of young chickens and turkeys is on the whole large one, the high prices obtainable for both poultry and eggs inducing farmers to take up with renewed interest the raising of poultry. The production of eggs has been substantially in advance of last year, a dealer saying that already this season he had handled as many eggs as during the whole of last season. HAD STOMACH TROUBLE FOUR YEARS.

When your food has not been properly digested, your body has not received the benefit it should. The exertions of the gastric juice have been confined entirely to removing the unmasticated undigested portions of food which they cannot properly digest as speedily as possible from the body, thereby only giving the blood a small per-centage of nourishment with which to feed the tissues. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the bowels, promotes perfect digestion, makes pure blood, tones the stomach, and thus restores perfect health and strength to the debilitated system.

Mrs. D. A. Francisco, Rossland, B.C., writes: "I was suffering from stomach trouble of the worst kind for about four years. Everything I ate seemed a burden to carry. I always arose in the morning with a sickening and feverish taste in my mouth and was also troubled with swellings in my hands and feet, which my physician said was due to the disordered state of my stomach. I tried everything that was purchasable, and also consulted two or physicians, but could find no relief until one of my neighbors told me of a wonderful cure by Burdock Blood Bitters. I used altogether ten bottles and am now perfectly cured. I wish to recommend B. B. B. to anyor who may be so unfortun.

So far as your correspondent can learn, farmers through these counties have not yet taken up on a larger scale the breeding of hogs. The number of young pigs is said to be about the same as it has been for several years. The scarcity of hogs through the neighborhood is reflected in the small amount of whey that is taken by the farmers away from the cheese factories. While farmers do, as a stables during the winter months, they do not raise cattle to any extent general thing, feed beef cattle in their except for dairying purposes.

He had not been in the habit of doing this. On the contrary, it was quite exceptional. He was probably very warm after riding to the river, which is some blocks away, and this may account for his sudden death, as the shock of going into the cold water would be very great.

Not Missed.

He was not missed for some time, as the other members of the family surmised that he had gone to the river when they noticed that he had not taken his shoes or coat or hat. Later, however, when he did not return some anxiety was felt, and a messenger was sent to the river, where his clothing-a pair of carpet slippers, an undershirt and a pair of trousers-were found, with his wheel.

Later in the day it became known that an unknown man had been found in the river at the foot of Maitland street, and Mrs. Satshe was driven to the morgue, where she identified her husband.

I ran out a little above the piers and when about ten feet from body the current caught it and hurled it over to the south bank, many feet away. I had followed it down through the rapids and was nearly carried off my feet.

Almost Carried Away. 'I thought I would go under a couple of times, as I cannot swim a stroke, and was in pretty deep water.

The body went through the rapids at a furious pace and was bumped about among the stones, as it was turned over on its side. When it got into the smooth water again it disappeared, and after searching for a while started back and discovered the clothes on the north bank. I asked Jackles and another man to telephone the police station, and then went home.

Westminster Abbey Suffering From Rapid Decay.

June 28.—Sir William London. Richmond stated yesterday at the annual meeting of the Coal Smoke Abatement Society of London that Westminster Abbey has suffered more from rapid decay during the last hundred years than in all the previous years of its history. So serious is this matter becoming that the abbey authorities have approached the society and furnished a report showing that repairs executed only years ago are now in a bad state as a result of various acids contained in London smoke. The society considers that it is now time to take practical steps for abating the smoke nuisance.

New York, June 28.—The market reflects considerable irregularity, although there is a fairly firm under-tone. The whole list has acted fairly well, with some buying in the standard shares, but there have been no important demonstrations on either bull or bear side. The Harriman shares have been the feature. With a continuation of the sharp movement in Reading the market reacted some. The market reflected some readjustment of stocks traded in here by Europe.

Mrs. Ellen Callaghan, of 20 Pipe Line road, states that the fire which occurred at her house recently, was not due to a young lady setting fire to her "rat" with a match. Mrs. Callaghan states that she was not at home at the time the fire broke out, and that she has no young lady living with her. She thinks the blaze must have been caused by lightning. The damage, she says, was not to the walls and clothes, but to a mirror, a bureau and the contents of the bureau drawers. #### TODAY A SCORCHER 86.5 IN THE SHADE

But It Is Not as Warm as ou Monday of Last Week.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer at the local observatory registered 86.5 degrees, and with the exception of last Monday, when mercury climbed to 88.5, today is the warmest of the season.

The thermometers down town in the glare of the sun, and hemmed in by the pavements and buildings, registered considerably higher, and at 2 o'clock a thermometer on Richmond street near Dundas, showed 94.5. All morning long there was not a zephyr, and people who were compelled to be out of doors felt the heat most oppressive.

Good Old Ice Cream.

The ice cream parlors did a record breaking business, and in some of them it was impossible to get a seat without waiting. People viewed the iceman with envy as he rolled along in a wagon piled high with ice, but, contrary to expectations, he seemed to feel the heat as much as anyone, and repeatedly mopped his forehead. The physicians say that such weather is hard on many of their patients. Both hospitals at the present time are At the local observatory, however, it is stated that a fast falling barometer ndicates coming storm and at least a temporary change to cooler weather.

RAILWAY BOARD WILL NOT MIX IN MATTERS

City and London Street Railway Must Settle Their Differences, Says Solicitor.

The north end extension is not settled finally, but will again come before the city council, and that body will have to decide on the merits of the case, not the railway board. Ald. Ferguson had a consultation with the city solicitor on the matter, and he advised him against going to He pointed out that the question of mileage was already settled, and the board would have little or nothing to say on that feature of the case. He further pointed out that the city had the right to say what sreets should be traversed, not the board, and consequently there was nothing to take before them.

Got Together. Mr.Meredith thought they should get together again and try and come to some arrangement. If a deadlock resulted there were two courses open. The council could either ask the board of railway commissioners to decide on the deadlock, of they could wait until the census of 1911 and then demand

"Mr. Meredith advised us against going to the railway board," said Ald. Ferguson. "The question of mileage is already settled, and by the agreement we must get a mile of track for every 2,000 population. As for the merits of the extension in the north end, we have the right to say what streets must be traversed, and only in a case of a deadlock should be appeal

Kaiser Is Said to Have Refused Accept Resignation.

Berlin, June 26.-A semi-official news agency announces that Chancellor Von Buelow during the course of his audience with the Emperor at Kiel today asked permission to resign. The Emperor, however, declined to accede to this request under the present conditions.

His majesty pointed out that, according to the unanimous conviction of the federated governments, the present settlement of the financial reforms was the vital question, both to the internal welfare, and the external position of the empire, and that he could not consider the chancellor's desire to retire until this work had been concluded in a manner acceptable to all the federated governments.

Prince Von Buelow's further plans are not known, but it is not believed that he intends to dissolve the Reichstag. He probably will have such bills passed as a majority in the House can be obtained for, and then adjourn the Reichstag until autumn, when supplementary bills will be presented.

The People's Forum.

The second meeting of the People's Forum was held last night in St. George's Hall, Richmond street. The subject, "How Shall We Employ the Unemployed," was handled ably by Mr. Chas. Hill, and the discussion was so interesting, that although maintained to the last minute, it had to be referred to an adjourned meeting to be held next Sunday evening. Mr. Sutherland Injured,

Mr. Edward Sutherland, tinsmith. met with a serious accident Friday night by falling into a cellar a distance of some fifteen feet. He had been putting in some pipes in a house on Queen's avenue east, when his foot slipped, throwing him heavily to the cellar below. When picked up Mr. Sutherland was in a semi-conscious condition. He was hurried to his home, 506 English street, where Dr. Moore was called. An examination showed him to be suffering from a very severe contusion of the spine, and it was feared that he was injured internally. This morning he was resting easily, and the internal injuries had not developed. The strain to the spine will, however, keep Mr. Sutherland confined
