Quartermaster-General's Warehouse At Washington Containing Equipment For treal, Toronto and U. S. American Forces Badly Gutted Today.

Washington, Jan. 14 .- Army supplies, including $1,000,000 worth of food, was destroyed, quarter master warehouse ruined and several buildings dam aged by a fire today at the Washington barracks, occupied by engineer troops. A large part of the city's fire apparatus was called upon to fight the flames, which were given impetus by the explosion of a quantity of gasoline stored in one part of the big warehouse. After a hard fight of an hour and a half the fire was extinguished. An ordnance building containing a quantity of small arms ammunition was endangered, but soldiers removed what was stored there. The origin of the fire has not been disclosed by officials at the post.

Ald, Ashplant wanted to know if there was a list of unsold depentures, which totalled millions. This will be furnished when the finance committee deals with the questions. A number of communications were sent to committees. troller C. H. Merryfield and Ald. Wilson.
Ald. F. E. Harley was elected chairman of the finance committee on the casting vote of Mayor Somerville. Prior to that, he was tied with Ald. Wilson.
Controller John M. Moore was unanielected chairman of No. 2 committee.

There was quite a rough sea on, nautically speaking. The aldermen took advantage of the opportunity to air all their grouches, to come back to regular conversation, and there was apparently little love lost among the various members. The ruling of Mayor Somerville was questioned on several occasions, but the large majority of the council prevented the insurgent movement from gaining much headway.

The council assembled sharply at 11 o'clock. ex-Mayor H. A. Stevenson was on hand, and introduced Mayor Somerville. Must Get Coal. Must Get Coal.

"If there is anything I can do to be of assistance to the council or any oilts members, I will gladly do it," said Dr. Stevenson. "There are many vital questions to be dealt with, and you will need them.

I would take him away from the outside organization altoration is the democratic institution, and should govern. We want no outside influences. That is a prussianism. beld at the church Sunday evening.

Dr. Barber took for his subject
"Struck Dumb." He said that many people are overcome with dismay, or in other words struck dumb when called upon to perform services to the community for which they are specially fitted. Dr. Barber declared that every man, according to his abilities, is obliged to perform service in the interests of the general public during his life. Whether he is a laborer or a financier, each and every citizen is obligated to the community to do good to that community. As an illustration of his point, the speaker recounted the story of the bridegroom who, arriving at the wedding without the proper costume for such an occasion, was struck dumb when asked why he had not conformed with the custom of the time by wearing a proper wedding suit.

or tonformed with the custom of the time by wearing a proper wedding suit.

"There are many people just like the bridegroom," Dr. Barber said. "They take upon themselves to reap the benefit of their knowledge and actions, but are dumfounded when called upon to allot the benefit of their knowledge for the general public. If a man accepts the privilege of living a certain kind of life, which through his own personal efforts he is enabled to live, he is nevertheless obligated to the public according to his means, and should fulfill his obligations."

Referring to the work of the church during the past two decades, Dr. Barber said that it has devolved upon it, in the performance of its obligations to the public, to enter many spheres of service which were formerly considered unconventional and ill considered to talk about. Much criticism has been borne by the church for its activities in social service, its influence in national and political questions and its denunciations of what it considers evil. I esnite criticism, however, the church will continue to combat all influences which tend toward evil or evil conditions, the speaker declared.

TAX RATE.

"The tax rate has become a matter for serious consideration. The tax rate, however, does not show definitely the expenditures. A mill today yields much more than ten years ago. In 1908, a 30-mill tax rate would have produced $739, 890, but today the same tax rate would raise $1,220,280. The tax rate in 1908 was $2,586. This sum was 44 per cent of the amount raised in 1917, and showed an increase in expenditures of the council expenditure was $219.061.44, and in 1917 the council expenditure was $219.061.44, and in 1917 the council expenditure was $10.28, 305.47, an increase of 48 per cent. The increase in taxes, therefore, is not so much due to council expenditures of the increase in expenditures of the increase in expenditures of the increase in expenditures.

Capt. Appleyard, M. C., Tells of His Experiences in France.

An interesting account of conditions on the western front during the past three years was delivered at the Majestic Theatre Sunday evening by Rev. (Capt.) E. Appleyard, M. C., recently returned from many months' service in France. Capt. Appleyard, who was invested with the Military Cross for meritorious service, gave a humorous description of the optimistic attitude of the Canadian sokiler in the acceptance of his discomforts. The speaker declared that only those who have seen service in France can form any adequate idea of the fortifude and bravery with which the Canadian boys accept hardships. hardships.

"A recruit going into the trenches "A recruit going into the trenches for the first time must be ready to suffer all kinds of discomforts," Capt. Appleyard said. "Not least among them is the affliction of lice. Everybody in the trenches, from the private soldier to the high command, is lousy. The men of my battalion assed to call me the lousy padre. At first we were ashamed of our lousy state, but after a while we began to hunt for the obnoxious little animals publicly."

By that time, the situation in my mind will east up, and we will be in a better position than for some time. There will be no coal movements for a few days, at least nothing of much importance, and we must give the citizens a supply. The first thing that the Grand Trunk Railway will do when it is able to resume operations will be to concentrate all its efforts on the movement of coal trains.

That the relief of the fuel situation is regarded as the paramount issue by the fact that these trains will receive first consideration.

Several fuel trains, held in Coal at Black Rock on Saturday morning, continued Mr. Martin, "There may be more now, but I have not in-quired since then. Isolated by the worst storm in the history of the city, London on Saturday and Sunday suffered as never before. With railway service completely tied up and with hundreds of families absolutely fueliess, the biting cold of the two days created conditions without parallel in the city's history. Suffering of the most intense description resulted in scores and hundreds of cases. Hundreds of babes are facing almost starvation, because of the cutting off of all milk supplies because of blocked roads. Country roads are blocked in every direction, piled high with drifts of ten, twelve, fifteen and in some cases

The lowest thermometer reading of the storm was ten below, according to the official observatory records here. The highest for both Sunday and Saturday was ten above. Sunday's lowest was eight below. While not the coldest day of the season, eleven below holding the record, the storm was intensified as never before by a wind claimed by experts to have been at least 65 miles an hour. It reached its height between 6 and 8 o'clock Saturday night, when the thermometer reached its height between 6 and 8 o'clock Saturday night, when the thermometer The storm beggars description. To attempt to tell the full story is imposhonors, there are two London women among London's many splendid Red Cross workers who deserve to be singled out for special marks of recognition. Since the South London branch of the Red Cross was organized two years ago last fail, Mrs. Mary McKeown of 15 Elmwood avenue and Mrs. C. H. Mitchell, 56 Edward street, have between them made up in the nelphbrohood of 2,500 gray flannel shirts. This is their specialty, the service in which they have become rare experts. Every Wednesday Red Cross day in South London, they are at their task bright and early seated side by side at sewing machines in the top story of the Normal School. Though their machines are placed by a window, they have little time for looking up to let their eyes rest upon the pleasant view. It takes them going about as hard as they can to get out those sixteen shirts, the objective they have set themselves. Last Wednesday Mrs. Mitchell was on duty by 9 o'clock and Mrs. McKeown within an hour after. But that isn't anything unusual. If they didn't get in a good long day, they couldn't get in such a good, profitable day. Even with their blg achievements Red Cross day, and the long hours of bending over the sewing machines, they aren't satisfied that they have done enough. They must needs take home sewing to finish up between times. They never fail to make at least two shirts each during the week, and sometimes their score runs as high as a dozen each. LL HONOR to those citizens who gave from their stores of coal in order to assist those in distress. The appeal from the utilities commission published in The Advertiser brought many responses. Many Londoners took their motor cars out into the storm of Saturday night and carried coal from their own bins to those who were without a pound of fuel. These "good neighbors" saved the day for many who might have suffered most severely. General Manager E. V. Buchanan is to be complimented on having brought the matter to public attention. They Serve Extra Well on Front Wheels

Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tires serve a double function on front wheels. They steer easily, yet resist skidding. Rows of big, diamond-shaped blocks run straight around the tire—just like a smooth tread for easy steering, but surefooted cleats against slipping.

It is easy to climb out of ruts, or to cut diagonally across wet or icy street car tracks, with All-Weather Treads on your front wheels. And when you turn your steering wheel to round a corner, you go round the corner—not across the street.

The same efficient tread will protect you against skidding when you apply the brakes, if you have Goodyears on your rear wheels.

Greater service and mileage are not the only advantage of Goodyear Tires. Their price is fair, because they are made in Canada. From the table below you will see that good smooth tread tires imported from the United States will cost you more than Goodyear All-Weather Treads made in Canada.

"Gloves For the Feet" One Remedy For Foot Troubles

BY DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

If the power of "fashion" is ever doubted, look at your shoes. Somehow it seems impossible to awaken the will power of the public to resist wearing often improperly made shoes because they're "the style." Despite crooked toes, corns, bunions, flat feet, fallen arches, turned-over heels and vamps. "the dear public" persist in accepting "stylish" and "fashionable" but in some cases injury-pro-in steel-clad vises, who pull off soft and pliable gloves every chance they get never think of an even more insistent demand by the feet for such attention.

The feet, like the hands, ought to be uncovered most of the time. Since this is well nigh unthinkable under the circumstances, with hard leather and prison wall shoes in use, the public ought to put the knowledge into action, loosen their leaden strings, throw off their swaddling clothes and make a soft, glove-like shoe for themselves.

The proper sort of a shoe can be made of glove kid or cotton-like can-vas. This will give with the muscles and tendone and allow free play and stretched the strings face.

I sat next to Harold Skimpole at dinner last night. Of course his name isn't really Skimpole at all; it's-no, I don't think I'll tell what it is. Some of his creditors might see it and ring me up on the phone to get track of him, and then Harold Skimpole would have to leave town, and I do hope he won't leave till I hear him sing that Montenegrin love song again. He did it at the table when they were serving cof-

Every woman is discussing the food question these days. The other afternoon I dropped in to call upon a friend and found her busy making out her "wheatless" and 'meatless" menus for the week. We were exchanging recipes for meat substitutes, when the young daughter of the household joined us. "Et tu, Brute!" she said, shaking her head at me. "How is it possible for me to gain flesh on mamma's conryation rations? You told me to fatten up but it be done without dessert, cereals with cream and sweet-ened tea and coffee."

Then I proceeded to explain that the menus which she thought "so skimpy" would build good solid flesh more quickly than the rich food she had been accused to eating. While the quantity was less, the quality was better. Very soon I had convinced her that the most better. Crumpling of Minors Setback to the Big Leagues — Jack Britton's Crouch Saves Him Many Knocks.

By Frank G. Menke

(Copyrighted by Newspaper Feature Service.)

The crumpling of the minor leagues means that big league baseball of a few years hence will be reduced to the semi-pro standard of today.

With few exceptions, players who have found their way into the Tenor and Johnson circuits have been developed gradually by the minor league process. The Now that most of the minors figure on closing up shop, it means that no new o'cle players will be seasoned for big league play.

When the big league stars of today fade where from will come their successors? Not from the mimors, because there won't be enough operating to fill the gaps. So they must be drawn from the college diamond and the sandlots, a proceeding that augurs ill for the standard of big league play.

BRITTON'S TURTLE CROUCH. Jack Britton has been a topnotch ring | Maryland Club performer for seventeen years. Gameness, correct living and a wise head are some of the reasons. But the main one seems to be his peculiar turtle crouch which makes it almost impossible for ring foes to hit him. Britton tilts the upper part of his Preakness, Worth $15,000.

body far forward, and then swings it over to the right, leaving nothing more than his left side exposed. His left arm is crooked in front of him. If an opponent shoots a right for Jack's head, the blow is usually deflected by the extended Britton left. If not, the swing goes over the top of Jack's back, and off into space, as Jack always keeps his head down. If the other fellow attempts a left uppercut he finds Jack's large for Jack's back, and off three-year-olds. This is an eighth of a mile less than the derby route.

BALITMORE, Jan. 13.—The Maryland Jockey Club will stage a horse race next spring at Pimlico that will vie in history with the Kentucky Derby. It will be the Preakness, with $15,000 added, at 1½ miles, a condition affair of three-year-olds. This is an eighth of a mile less than the derby route. is crooked in front of him. If an oppotemps a left uppercut he finds Jack's right covering the jaw, as well as the stomach, because Britton's crouch doubles him over in such a way that his head is on a line with his stomach.

FOREIGN HORSES LOOK BEST. Foreign-bred thoroughbreds made a show of most of their American-foaled rivals during the 1917 racing season on the big eastern tracks. The champions of most of the classes were ponies that were bred in Europe and sent to the American tracks after the war killed the racing game on the other side of the celebrated Atlantic Ocean.

RESTRICT FUEL SUPPLIES OF CERTAIN INDUSTRIES.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Restriction of the fuel supply of certain non-essential industries in the district embracing New England, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland, was agreed on as necessary at a conference here yesterday between P. B. Noyes, head of the conservation division of the federal fuel administrator, Albert H. Wiggin, state fuel administrator and city officials.

A dispatch from Chicago at midnight last night says: Not a passenger or freight train will leave Chicago terminals for at least twenty hours, according to a prediction made by operating officials of railways entering this city. The intense blizzard that for days palsied all traffic of the middle west, tonight has completely paralyzed all its transportation lines.

The first efforts of the roads, it was said, will be directed toward releasing the scores of trains now imprisoned by drifts, and bringing in their passengers.

The annual commencement exercises and short story and public speaking contest of the Ingersoil schools will be held in the town hall on Friday evening, January 18, beginning at 8 o'clock. This is an event which pupils, ex-pupils and the public anticipate with much interest.

The opening games of the interscholastic hockey league will be played here on Wednesday night with the Woodstock Collegiate. There will be a double-header, both junior and senior games being played.

Pte. W. W. Dundass on Years of the galant decisions under the military service act in this district, completed work after disposing of between 350 and 400 appeals.

He had received applications from nearly 100 persons, asking permission to appeal to central appeal judge, Mr. Justice Duff. In 75 per cent of cases application was refused.

CANADIAN GOVT. INSPECTOR COMES OUT WITH FACTS

'My Improvement on Tanlac Has Been Wonderful," Says Mrs. Wilson.

Rivalling the tremendous sweep with which it spread over the entire United States, the fame of the celebrated medicine, Tanlac, is growing in Canada by leaps and bounds, since its introduction here a few months ago. Hundreds of the best-known and most highly-respected citizens of the provinces of Canada are now taking Tanlac and testiying daily to the remarkable benefits

Poronto, Ontario, and who has lived in Poronto for twenty years, made the folwing interesting statement regarding the great benefit she received from taking Tanlac:

"Since the early part of last win masal pasages were raw coup, my throat was dry a brobbing headaches, which kept me wake for hours many a night. I was so troubled with indigestion, nothing I ate agreed with me, and I got so nerous that I would tremble at the least inusual sound

"I have taken two bottles of Tanlac and my improvement has been wonder ul. The catarrh is gradually disaparing, my head is clearer, and I don't we those awful headaches like I he trembling spells are a thing of the ist and my nerves are as steady as a ock. My appetite has improved greatand I haven't a sign of indigestion ny more. My husband is delighted over my improvement, and is now taking ranlac himself."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard rug, Limited, under the direction of a ial representative, and by an estabhed agency in every town.

Philosophy."

Dr. Montague is one of the outstanding men of Columbia University, one of the founders of the new real'sm and an extensive writer on philosophical subjects. He is regarded as one of the strongest men in philosophy in the American university field today, and his visit to London is an event that should attract a hig audience. There should attract a big audience. There will be no admission, but admission will be by invitation which may be secured on application to the university.

The course of lectures is one of the features of this year's university extension work which was begun last fall and which is providing lectures of a high quality for the city free of charge. Dr. Montague's course will ontre around three famous figures in today's world of thought, "Henry James, the Futurist in Ethics"; "Friedrich Nietzsche, the Futurist in Religion," and "Henri Bergson, the Futurist in Evolution."

united evangelistic services which began in Adelaide Street Baptist Church a week ago were continued yesterday. In the morning James Judson of the Welland Canal Mission was son of the Welland Canal Mission was present and told an interesting story of the work among the sailors of the Great Lakes. In the evening the pastor's subject was "The Peace Terms of God and the Allies," pointing out that ever since "the fall of man" God has been battling with sin in its myraid forms: that Christ came to destroy the works of the devil; that at Calvary sin was judged and punished; that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto Himself; that He has proclaimed terms of peace; that every man willing to lay down his arms of rebellion and surrender to God shall be forgiven and saved from the consequences and power of sin, for Christ "is able to save to the uttermost all them that come God by Him."

During the service Mrs. P. L. Brigton sang, "I Will Not Be Long," by Johnston. Many remained to the "after imeeting" and testified.

The meetings will be continued every light this week the continued every light.

The meetings will be continued every night this week, the speakers being the Revs. J. N. Norton and H. H. Bingham. The choirs of the Baptist churches will assist as follows: Monday, Egerton Street; Tuesday, South London; Wednesday, Talbot Street; Thursday, Maitland Street, and Friday, Adelaide Street.

IN EXTENSION SERIES

Through efforts of Dr. Arthur Livingston, professor of romance languages at the Western University, this city will be visited about the 1st of February by Dr. William Pepperill Montague, professor of philosophy in Columbia University, who will deliver a series of three public lectures on the general subject of "Futurism and Philosophy."

The need for workmen is urgent. Sufficient material to keep armies of men at work for the next month has been secured, and the sooner the necessary labor is forthcoming the more expeditious will be the re-building of Hallfax. Other workmen than carpenters are not required for the present.

The men who volunteer to help in the reconstruction of the city will be given free transportation and board estimated to be equivalent to five dollars extra per week. By this the practical rate of pay will be 45 cents per hour.

For the past three weeks intimations have been received at the employment bureau that men would be needed at any moment. Two hundred laborers manifested a destre to accept jobs at Hallfax, but only fifty per cent of these were carpenters.

The scarcity of building material at Hallfax until now has been such that aborers were not wanted. However, thousands of tons of lumber and bricks have been forwarded to the unfortunate city in the past week with the result that laborers are much in de-

Speaking at the morning service from the text, "O let us rejoice in our strength in Jesus Christ," the rector paid a glowing tribute to the British Empire and all for which it stood.

"The great war has proven beyond contradiction that the materialism and false philosophy of the German Empire was not a strength, but, on the other hand, a weakness, that had caused self-sishness and pride that had led up to the war."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

TION. o the Editor of The Advertiser: I have read your article on the subect of Chinese labor with some in-

To begin, it is asserted there is a shortage of farm help, but no evidence is produced by substantiate the assertion. All the evidence I can find is to the contrary. On page I5 of today's Issue you say, quoting inspector Farrell of the Ontario Employment Bureau, wenty men each day are applying for lobs and that only five are placed. Further you say, "It appears that farners of the district are . . adequately supplied," also "Middlesex griculturists are well situated for pring help." I also know for a fact hat much of the labor recently emloyed in the production of munitions in now unemployed and that thousands is men are coming home from England of France and will be soon looking or jobs. In the last few weeks nearly ree thousand has returned. Are ley to find on arrival the jobs that and France and will be soon looking for jobs. In the last few weeks nearly three thousand has returned. Are they to find on arrival the jobs that should be theirs are filled with Chinese indentured labor? Judging, too, from the ads in the papers for help, the supply appears equal to the demand. So, Mr. Editor, let's have evidence of the shortage. Perhaps, however, the situation can be explained by referring to Dr. Creelman's speech. Not only does he desire to introduce Chinese, but to conscript labor here. Can it be that this explains it all. Chinese labor is both cheap and docile, especially if indentured, as in South Africa. Need we speak of the Christianizing influences of the compound system; of the horrors and infamies such a system of the propound system; of the horrors and infamies such a system of the second floor to the first and sustained a severe shaking up when he went to slide down the pole while answering an alarm, and missed the brass rod.

The first alarm came in Saturday morning from St. Angela's College, where some wax which was being prepared for the floors caught fire. About $10 damage was done.

At 9:30 Saturday night a call came from the home of Col. Grant, 234 Central avenue. A coil in the hot water furnace burst, and the basement was filled with gas and steam. No damage was done.

Need we speak of the Christianizing influences of the compound system; of the horrors and infamies such a system breeds? If the farmers want help, let them pay for it out of the profits they have wrung from the consumer during the period of the war. Mr. Hanna cannot interfere with the profiters—the law of supply and demand is holy in his eyes when applied to profits. Seeing he has not applied coercion to the wealthy, why should it be applied to labor? At any rate, labor is human; as the Old Book puts it, "For the body is more than meat and the life is more than raiment." We have conscription of life; let's have conscription of wealth, and, if needs be, fight for it too. I am, falthfully yours, J. F. THOMSON.
