

ENEMY IS HARD HIT

GERMANS HALT TO RECOVER FROM HEAVY LOSSES

No Official Announcement From War Office Today Leads to Belief that Invaders Were Rapped Real Hard by the Allies.

By Special Wire to The Courier
PARIS, Aug. 27.—3:30 p.m.—An official statement issued this afternoon says:

"The events of yesterday in the region of the north have neither imperilled nor modified the arrangements made in view of the future development of operations in the region between the Vosges and Nancy.

"Our troops continue to progress."

PARIS, Aug. 27.—11:15 a.m.—No official communication concerning the progress of the war had been issued this morning up to a quarter past 11. This lack of news was generally attributed to the supposed inaction of the Germans, who were thought to have been too hard hit to sustain a general advance.

The French take their check in Belgium quietly and seem to have gained confidence by the reinforcement of the ministry, as announced last night, as well as the strong stand taken by the French forces in Lorraine.

THREE TOWNS ARE TAKEN BY GERMANS

Invading Hosts are Inside French Territory so Despatch Says.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—3:10 a.m.—A despatch received here from Ostend says the Germans have occupied Lille, Roubaix and Valenciennes, all in France.

The towns of Roubaix, Lille and Valenciennes are all close to the Belgian frontier, Lille and Valenciennes being 10 miles from the line and Roubaix five. Roubaix is five miles northeast of Lille and Valenciennes is thirty miles southeast of the same city. Lille is the most important from a military point of view. It has a fortress of the first class, and the circle of its forts is 30 miles. Recent despatches from Paris said that Lille was held by French reservists. Roubaix would appear not to be fortified; it is a manufacturing center.

Valenciennes also is a manufacturing city and is an important military point. It has an arsenal and extensive barracks.

PANIC IN BERLIN.
LONDON, Aug. 27., 8:35 a.m.—A merchant who arrived yesterday from Berlin according to a Copenhagen despatch to The Chronicle says that trains from Königsberg reaching Berlin are crowded with fugitives who state that civilians have been strongly advised to leave.

Sengalese In French Army Some Fighters

They Prefer to Fight With Boots Off.—Captured a Gun.

By Special Wire to The Courier

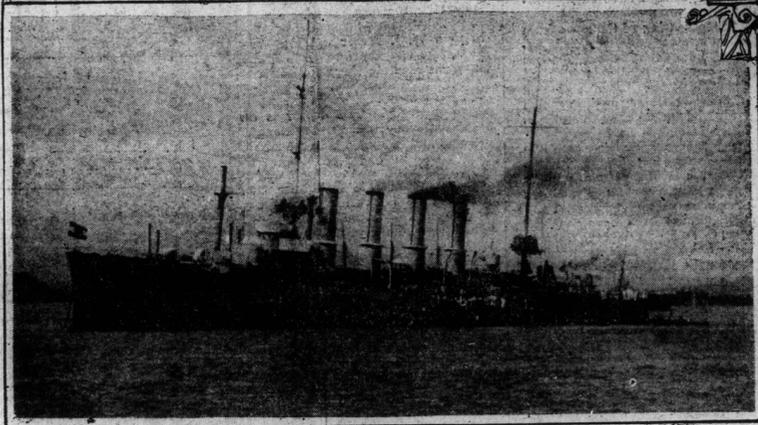

PARIS, Aug. 27.—7 a.m.—The Matin relates that on the arrival of a train bringing wounded Senegalese riflemen, nearly all were found smoking furiously from long porcelain pipes taken from the enemy and seemingly indifferent to their wounds. One gaily told of the daring capture of a machine gun by 18 of his comrades. The gun, it seems, was brought up by a detachment of German dragoons, and the Senegalese bravely charged and captured everything.

Though their arms and bodies are hacked by sabre thrusts, the Senegalese complain of nothing but the obligation to fight with shoes on. Before going into battle at Charleroi they slyly rid themselves of these impediments and came back shod in German footwear to avoid punishment for losing equipment.

AUSTRIANS RETIRE.
LONDON, Aug. 27.—3:22 p.m.—A despatch to the Havas Agency from Kragujevatz, Serbia, declares that the Austrian army has evacuated the Zanjak of Novipazar.

TWO LINERS SAIL.
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Only two trans-Atlantic liners were due to sail from this port to-day. They were the Baltic of the White Star Line, for Liverpool, and the United States, and the Scandinavian-American Line, for Copenhagen. A large number of British reservists, it was said, had booked passage on the Baltic.

GERMAN CRUISER WHOSE MOVEMENTS ARE SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

THE GERMAN CRUISER KARLSRUHE COALING AT SAN JUAN ON AUGUST 9.

Fear of the German cruiser Karlsruhe has seized steamship men of British, French and Belgian lines, who are conferring daily concerning the whereabouts of the mysterious war ship. Excited stories have been whispered around shipping circles to the effect that this cruiser, which disappeared into the mystery which now veils the ocean, is hovering somewhere off the Atlantic coast of America ready to prey on steamships. Since the beginning of the war the Karlsruhe has figured more prominently in newspaper reports than any other German war ship. Shown above is the latest snapshot of her, taken while she was coaling in the harbor of San Juan, P. R. The Karlsruhe has a speed of twenty-eight knots and is the latest type of cruiser in the German navy.

BRITISH TROOPS IN FIGHT

LONDON, Aug. 27.—4:12 p.m.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons to-day that Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary force, had reported that he was yesterday engaged against superior German forces. The British troops fought splendidly, and General French considered the prospects in the impending battle satisfactory.

Premier Asquith added: "General French speaks in high terms of the quality and efficiency of the French regular troops and their officers."

BRITISH CRUISER SINKS BIG GERMAN ATLANTIC PALACE

LONDON, Aug. 27.—4:12 p.m.—The Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse has been sunk off the west coast of Africa by the British cruiser High Flyer.

The Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse was one of the palatial steamers of the North German Lloyd Line. At the outbreak of the war she was converted into an armed cruiser, and since has been reported active in searching for British merchantmen. She has a tonnage of 14,134 tons, and was built in 1907. She is 626 feet long, with a beam of 66 feet.

Latest News From Our Troops Now at Val Cartier

By Special Wire to The Courier
VALCARTIER, Que., Aug. 27.—As an indication of the sympathy shown by Americans for Great Britain in the present European war, over 60,000 citizens of the United States wanted to enlist in the Canadian overseas expeditionary force.

This statement was made this morning by Col. the Hon. Sam. Hughes, Minister of Militia, who came to the camp by special train from Quebec and made a tour of inspection.

The Minister of Militia stated that applications poured in from all parts of the United States from men anxious to serve the British Empire in the present war, but of course no Americans were taken on the strength. Applications were even made in person at the Department of Militia at Ottawa.

Among these were the 66th, Moosejaw, mustering 293; 95th, Regina, 231; 3rd Field Troops, C. E., Regina, 50; 100th Rifles, Winnipeg, 141; and 11th and 18th C.A.S.C., Winnipeg, 111. The Winnipeg men arrived before dawn, and when the transport went to the station about 5 o'clock they found them playing football in the yards.

Col. Hughes has given the order that visitors will not be allowed to visit the camp except during certain hours on Saturday and Sunday. Since opening the camp has been over-run by civilians, people who have been making inquiries in the infantry lines for friends and relatives. On this account two days a week have been fixed as visiting days. When all the troops are outfitted with service uniforms, no civilian will be allowed to pass the sentries or guards at the various entrances without a permit.

The day was glorious for soldiering, there being a hot sun, tempered by a cool breeze. The minister was accompanied by his aide, and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, of New York. Mr. Thompson is a son of the chief ordnance officer of the United States army. The party was met at the depot by Colonel Williams, camp commandant, Col. Burstall, commandant of the citadel at Quebec and Lieut.-Col. McBain, Lieut.-Col. Carson, Lieut.-Col. Murphy, Lieut.-Col. J. K. Ross, chaplain, Maj. R. H. Steacy of Ottawa and Rev. Father Jolicoeur of Quebec.

The minister was taken by motor car down the centre of the camp between infantry lines to the ranges.

The battery of motor cars circled the entire camp, where thousands of troops were engaged in

WAR SUMMARY

The Germans have occupied the French cities of Lille, Valenciennes and Roubaix, according to a despatch from Ostend, Belgium, which passed through the hands of the censor at London. All three cities are situated within a few miles of the Belgian frontier, and Lille is strongly fortified. Valenciennes is a military station of less importance, while Roubaix is known chiefly as a manufacturing centre.

Exact knowledge of the importance of this movement awaits official information. Earlier despatches from Ostend quoted a Belgian officer as authority for the statement that the allies had decided not to defend Lille and that its evacuation by the French troops was announced by the mayor on Tuesday.

A wireless despatch direct from Berlin early to-day brought the official announcement that all the forts at Namur had fallen before the Germans who had also captured Longwy. The army of the Crown Prince, it was added had repulsed a French attack and uppey Alsace was free of the enemy except at points westward of Kolmar.

The war office at Paris had been silent up to nearly noon.

The Belgian operations were asserted to have been completely successful in an official statement that came from Antwerp by way of Paris, a little after midnight. Four Belgian divisions from Namur were said to have stopped the southward movement of the German fourth division after which the Belgians retired on the French line. The forts at Namur were holding out, it was declared. This claim regarding the Namur fortifications was repeated later by an English correspondent at Ostend who quoted a Belgian officer who had arrived from Namur. He said that the Germans had destroyed two forts and were still assaulting the others.

It is officially announced at St. Petersburg that the Russian advance in Prussia is proceeding with irresistible force. It has before been stated that the objective point of the main Russian army for the present is Posen. The Germans are represented as having retired to Osterode in East Prussia. A merchant arriving in London from Berlin is credited with the statement that the trains are bringing many refugees to the German capital from Königsberg, which city, he claimed, civilians had advised to leave.

Diplomatic relations between Austria and Japan have been formally severed, apparently a despatch from Tokio stating that the Austrian ambassador, Baron Muller de Szentgyorgy, had been recalled. A blockade of the leased territory of Kiao-Chow has been declared by the Japanese, whose warships shelled a small island off the coast. This island was not defended. This information comes from Tsing-Tau. The same correspondent states that so far as can be observed the Japanese have not yet sent a landing party ashore.

The Ostend correspondent of The London Daily Express, in a despatch published in London this morning, quoted a Belgian officer to the effect that it had been decided last Monday not to defend Lille, and that on Tuesday the Mayor published a proclamation announcing the evacuation of the French troops and the transformation of the town into an undefended place. All the gendarmes were disarmed and steps were taken to deliver the city with all its rich factories up to the Germans, this officer declared. "Tuesday even all the available treasure was removed."

The Japanese minister of justice announces that hostilities in the Far East will end with the capture of Kiao-Chow, when Japanese will become a spectator instead of a participant in the war. He adds, however, that if the Germans should prove a menace to the peace through their standing in the south seas, Japan would consult with Great Britain and might co-operate in driving the enemy of the allies out of the Orient.

Keen interest continues in the attitude that Italy will assume. A Rome correspondent of the London Times says that Germany and Austria are bringing great pressure to bear, offering Italy inducements to join them. Newspaper people as more favorable to a war against Austria. It is to be noted, however, that these reports lack official confirmation.

A despatch from Kragujevatz, Serbia, says that the Austrian army has evacuated the Sanjak of Novipazar.

The Norwegian steamer, Gottfried, struck a mine in the North Sea and was destroyed. Eight of her crew were lost.

NAMUR IS IN DOUBT

Conflicting Despatches as to the Fall of the Fortress.

By Special Wire to The Courier

LONDON, Aug. 27.—12:35 p.m.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Ostend credits a Belgian officer from Namur with the statement that the forts there are still holding out, with the exception of Marchoulette and Cognelle, which were destroyed by the German bombardment.

The battery of motor cars circled the entire camp, where thousands of troops were engaged in

The Belgians fought for two days, this officer says, and there is still a large force of Germans before Namur.

The foregoing despatch is in contradiction to the despatch from Berlin, received by wireless telegraph this morning, declaring that all the forts at Namur have fallen and that Longwy had been captured by the Germans.

How Zeppelin Drops Bombs

By Special Wire to The Courier

LONDON, Aug. 27, 12:38 p.m.—The method used by Zeppelin airships in dropping bombs has been described as follows by an English refugee, who has just arrived here from Belgium:

"The dirigible hovers over its objective at a sufficient altitude to keep it out of the enemy's guns. At the same time it lowers a steel cage attached to a steel wire rope 2,000 or 3,000 feet long. This cage is divided into compartments, and it carries one man, whose duty it is to throw down the bombs. The cage is sufficiently strong to make rifle fire against it ineffective, and because of its small size and the fact that it is kept constantly in motion, it is very difficult for heavy guns to hit it."

PITIFUL SCENES AMONG REFUGEES—STORY OF HARDSHIPS INCREDIBLE

Some 2,500 Belgians are Being Taken Care of in Paris, France—German Brutality Shown in all its Reality.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

PARIS, Aug. 27.—The Cirque de Paris, where the crowd of Belgian refugees has grown to 2,500, has taken on the aspect of a human stable. The floors of the wide foyers are all covered with straw which has become wet and the homeless and poverty stricken people may be seen lying about, many in attitudes of sad dejection. Trained nurses of the Red Cross, priests, soldiers and doctors are constantly moving among the crowd, ministering to their wants.

At the entrance to the hall a large cask containing beer was placed and a soldier was soon apportioning the beverage to a waiting line of men and boys.

Inside the amphitheatre were children of all ages, sizes and descriptions. The scarcity of baggage was noticeable, everyone apparently having taken only the few things that could be easily carried in their hasty flight. The evening meal consisted of a huge slice of bread with a piece of beef on top and afterwards black coffee was served.

An old man sitting in a corner on a sack of straw, told the following story:

"People call me Jean Beaulon, I have a little weanup just across the river from Liege in the town of Grivegnée. When the mobilization order was announced my two sons, both fine fellows, went off to join their regiments. My daughters, I have two, this one here and another, remained with their old father."

The girl he mentioned to was a bright-eyed girl of about 16, but only her eyes were visible as the rest of her face was slathed in bandages. He continued:

"You see her poor dear face? Well a German was the cause of that. When they came they demanded wine which I gave them and one man tried to insult her. When she resisted this he struck her and she fell against the counter and broke her jaw."

The old man then told of their flight and the hardships they endured.

Another refugee, Mme. Agnes Bourssault of Walkenraedt, in telling her story of the flight from Belgium said:

"Please don't ask me to tell the horrible things I saw while coming here. I have lost my husband and brother, who died in the noble cause, and now you see me alone with my five children. The greatest suffering I underwent was from hunger. We could get days except a little stale bread. The thing that hurt me most was the inability to satisfy the wants of my little ones."

Georges Jus, a restaurant keeper of Chenece, told this story:

"When we heard the Germans approach, my wife and I fled across the river into Liege. It seems now much like a dream. Just before they entered there we left along with many others."

"Never shall I forget the sights we saw along the roadside where mutilated corpses and wounded and dying strewn our pathway."

Many other refugees continued to arrive during the night. The government is doing everything possible to aid them.

TOKIO WAS SURPRISED

Did Not Expect Austria to Declare War on Japan.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

TOKIO, Aug. 27.—The news of the declaration of war by Austria-Hungary upon Japan, following the official announcement of the disarming of the Austrian Cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth, in the port of Tsing-Tau, caused surprise in Tokio. It had been hoped here that Austria-Hungary, having but small interests in the Far East would not force a breach of relations with Tokio, especially as regarded as friendly to Japan.

Baron Von Mueller, the Austrian Ambassador, and the members of his staff, always have been popular here.

The censoring of the news from China is most effective. It is believed here that the Japanese have not yet landed troops at Kiao-Chow, the German leased territory in China, against which she has begun military operations. There is reason to believe that the Japanese navy is carefully sweeping the waters around Kiao-Chow for mines, of which it is known that very large numbers have been submerged recently.

Assurances have been received here from Peking that President Yuan Shi Kai and his government are amply satisfied with Japan's pledges concerning the future safeguarding of Chinese and British interests and the maintenance of the commercial status quo, and her promise of assistance to prevent Chinese revolutionaries from seizing this occasion to create disorder.

The feeling prevails here that the Japanese authorities will be able to control the principal revolutionary leaders opposed to the President of China. Dr. Sun Yat sen, who is at present living at Tokio, is the best known of these leaders. He is credited with saying that he is satisfied to await the outcome of the present situation. He does not believe that an outbreak at the present time would be of assistance to the real Chinaman.

The members of Grace Church Choir had a very jolly picnic yesterday afternoon and evening on the grounds of Colonel and Mrs. Murray. In the evening there was a huge bonfire and corn roast on the banks of the Grand River. Singing and other amusements were participated in and greatly enjoyed by the chorists.

Mr. E. Roberts, the well-known Brantford baritone, writes from England that he has just completed a most successful tour with Miss Marie Hall, the world renowned violinist, who many Brantfordites have had the pleasure of meeting upon the occasion of her visits to Brantford. Owing to the war the tour has been cancelled in the meantime and Mr. Roberts' future plans are very unsettled. Miss Hall's pianiste who is a Hungarian, promptly left for the seat of war upon the declaration of hostilities. The general opinion is that all the big artists will have to cancel their engagements this season. The United States is the only country of importance that is open to them and the financial stringency there is such that there will be little encouragement to book engagements this coming season. The musical and theatrical world has been hit very hard by the war.

The Walker-Fancher Tribe, which holds every two years a reunion, is in session this week in the city with Mr. J. C. Walker and family. Members are present from Denver, Colo., and Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor, Fenton and Milford, Mich., besides from many cities and towns of Ontario. This tribe, like all others, has a history. The ancestors on the Walker side are of Scotch descent; on the Fancher side French. They settled first in Vermont, and members of both sides of the tribe participated as officers in the civil war. In 1820 the tribe scattered, members settling in all parts of the States and Canada. The tribe numbers at present some 200 members. Such a reunion as this cannot but emphasize the bonds between the two countries. Born of a common parentage, with common sympathies and purposes, this tribe living under two flags is united in bonds that will not sever. Old Glory floats beside the Union Jack in this time of international crisis for the brotherhood of man and the principles of democratic government.

WAR OFFICE SECRECY HAVING BAD EFFECT SAYS TIMES EXPERT

LONDON, Aug. 27.—5:01 a.m. —The military correspondent of The Times comments upon the extreme secrecy with which the British war office is shrouding the movements of the British army. He contrasts this attitude with the frankness of the French authorities in issuing periodic summaries of the movement of their army, and says that it is to be feared the present policy is having an ill effect upon recruiting. He adds that the nation does not yet realize the stupendous nature of the task to which it is committed.

LET SHIP GO

American Cruiser Held Up a British Vessel at New York.

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Whether the British steamer Francisco was permitted to raise her two 4.7 rifles mounted aft or was compelled to dismantle before sailing last night with 6,000 tons of grain for Hull was unknown this forenoon to navy yard officials here. The Battleship Florida, which stopped the Francisco in the harbor, had not reported to the navy yard. It was too dark for shore observers to see whether the guns were still aboard when the Francisco was allowed to proceed.

It was generally believed, however, that the guns were not taken off. At the navy yard, the Florida's failure to report was construed as confirming the belief. The Francisco according to report carried no ammunition. Her captain claimed that the rifles were merely a saluting battery.

Word from General French greatly cheered the public throughout Great Britain to-day.

Rescue For the Karluk

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 27.—Relief was within thirteen miles of Wrangell Island, where the shipwrecked crew of the Karluk, one of the vessels of the Stefansson Canadian exploration party are reported marooned since last winter, but a shortage of gasoline prevented their rescue. This is the report brought here by Captain Annevik of the Power Schooner P. J. Alber, when he returned from a walrus hunting voyage into the Arctic.

"There was no ice along the Siberian coast as far north as we went," said Captain Annevik, "but we could see a heavy pack surrounding Wrangell Island. We were within fifteen miles of the island when a heavy fog floes set in, and as our gasoline supply was running low, we dared not attempt to make our way through the ice floes around the island, so turned around and came back to Nome. A strong northwesterly breeze has shifted the ice so favorably that the Revenue Cutter Bear on which Captain Robert Bartlett has gone to rescue his crew, will have no trouble in reaching the island."

The Bear is now supposed to be in the vicinity of Point Barrow, her last call before turning westward to pick up the twenty-one men and one woman stranded on Wrangell Island.

GLORIOUS TRADITIONS OF BRITISH ARMY WERE TRULY UPHELD

Casualties in First Engagement in Belgium Heaviest Since Crimea—High Praise for Troops on all Sides, Their Courage and Coolness Splendid.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—A cable to The Tribune from London says: Regarding the reverses reported in France, where the falling back of the French forces also compelled the British retreat, all accounts show that the British army behaved with the utmost gallantry. They were unbroken when the general situation necessitated Joffre's order of retirement, all along the line. England has received the news of the loss of 2,000 men with calm reserve, although it is England's greatest loss in one battle since the Crimean war. The list of casualties has not been received, leaving thousands of relatives and friends distressed and worrying. If anything, England's enthusiasm for war has been stimulated by the British troops participating, and when the casualties list is published it is likely to have the effect of fully arousing the British lion. Lord Kitchener's new army of 100,000 has practically been recruited, but thousands of men are still needed, and a vigorous campaign to obtain recruits is being instituted. The latest device is pasting flaming posters on hundreds of taxicabs, saying: "A call to arms. Enlist for the war only." Taxicabs prove splendid advertising mediums. The British press is vehement in its protest against the Belgian official report of German atrocities. The Zeppelin's exploit at Antwerp arouses tremendous indignation. ADMIRER OF SOLDIERS. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—A London Standard despatch from Paris to the Tribune says: The correspondent of Le Temps who had occasion to follow them on the way to the front, is loud in his admiration of the British soldiers' discipline, equipment and commissariat arrangements. But what he admired most was the summary methods of dealing with spies, everyone discovered being shot immediately. A British captain explained his attitude through a French interpreter as follows: "You French pride yourselves on your humanity in cases where humanity is a mere useless sentimentality. To spare the life of a spy against our own troops, a crime may be able by some means to convey a harvest of news to his own side, so as to enable the enemy to surprise us precisely when we hoped to surprise him. In such cases in opportune indulgence may cost the lives of several hundreds of our own troops."

Following the inspection the minister expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the progress of the camp and the manner in which it had been organized. He left for Quebec at 11 o'clock. GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Look Years Younger! Try Grand-ma's Recipe of Sage and Sulphur and NoJody Will Know. Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

THERE IS MILK IN THIS COCOANUT.

While the nations of Europe are at war, the people of Canada have a duty to their own land as well as to the Mother Country.

You will get at the milk in this cocoanut at once by glancing at the following lists:

LIST No. 1.—Some of the things we have been importing from Germany, Austria, Belgium and France to the value of $38,000,000 per annum:

Aniline dyes, baskets, books, boots, buttons, brooms, brushes, canned goods, carpets, chinaware, cloths, clothing, collars and cuffs, cotton goods, combs, curtains, colors and dye stuffs, cutlery, dolls, drugs, earthenware, embroideries, electric apparatus, feathers, furs, fringes and tassels, gloves and mitts, glass and glassware, guns, hats, hosiery, hops, jewelry, knitted goods, lamps, leather goods, lace, labels, locomotive tires, machinery, millinery, mineral waters, musical instruments, optical instruments, paints and colors, papers, pencils, perfumes, pianos, pharmaceutical preparations, piano parts, piano key ivories, pipes, purses, ribbons, rubber goods, seeds, shoe laces, silk knitted and other goods, silverware, soaps, spirits, stockings and socks, time recorders, tobacco, toilet articles, tools, toys, underwear, woodenware, woollen goods, watches.

LIST No. 2.—Some of the things mentioned in List No. 1 that we now make in Canada in competition with the manufacturers of Continental Europe:

Baskets, boots, books, buttons, brooms, brushes, canned goods, carpets, chemicals, collars and cuffs, cotton goods, clothing, combs, colors and dye stuffs, cutlery, dolls, drugs, earthenware, electric apparatus, feathers, furs, glass and glassware, gloves and mitts, guns, hats, hosiery, jewelry, knitted goods, lamps, leather goods, lace, labels, machinery, mineral waters, musical instruments, optical instruments, paints and colors, paper, perfumes, pipes, pharmaceutical preparations, piano parts, piano key ivories, pipes, purses, ribbons, rubber goods, seeds, silverware, silk knitted goods, soaps, spirits, stockings and socks, time recorders, toilet articles, tools, underwear, woodenware, woollen goods.

The Canadian manufacturers of the articles in List No. 2 have now an advantage greater than any tariff wall. The competition of Continental Europe has been withdrawn, and will remain withdrawn until the war is over at least.

The immediate result of the European war, in Canada, was a check to business.

The second result will be to stimulate business—if we keep our heads, GO AFTER business and ADVERTISE in the newspapers.

THE SITUATION.

When Napoleon was devastating and conquering Europe, and had Austria at his feet to the extent of demanding the hand of the daughter of the Emperor in marriage after he had divorced Josephine, there was one nation he couldn't affront or appal—Great Britain.

Nelson smashed his fleet, and Wellington crippled his land forces at Waterloo. There were allies, of course, but the Mother Land was the sheet anchor.

In the terrible conflict now waging a like thing is true.

It is John Bull and his lusty oversea sons who are facing this issue with a calm courage and determination which is an inspiration to all the rest.

Information as to telegraphs, telephones, railways, highways, bridges, culverts, forges, provision and supplies, discontented people, and citizens suspected of monetary temptation is particularly sought.

According to Mr. Sanior, there are at present some 15,000 spies in "fixed posts" in France.

How perfect a spy system has been introduced by the Germans into Canada is not stated, but it is known that there have been German spies in Canada within the past five years, and that some of them have been identified and tracked by the military and police authorities.

For obvious reasons the Canadian military and civil authorities are silent as to what is known officially about German spies and espionage in Canada; but that there are agents of the one feeling is that of an Empire duty, and in this regard Ontario's gift of 25,000 bags of flour for the Old Land is most timely.

THE GERMAN SPY SYSTEM.

In a book entitled "The German Spy System in France," translated from the French of Paul Sanior and published recently in London, from which most of the facts herein contained are taken, it is explained that German espionage in France interests itself in everything and everybody possessing in any capacity a speciality of authority or celebrity.

In view of reported cases of German espionage in Canada and of the excitement produced in various centres throughout the Dominion by the movements of supposed spies, it is interesting to know something of the scale upon which the German system of espionage is known to be organized in the theatre of war of Europe, which is of course the very heart centre of the system.

At the start, it is well to recall the fact that the excellence of the German Intelligence System, which contributed so powerfully towards the German success in the France-German War of 1870, was the result of an elaborate spy system, carefully organized within the borders of France during peace time.

After the conclusion of the 1866 campaign against Austria, Stieber, Minister of Police in Prussia, who was to Bismarck and Von Moltke what Fouché was to Napoleon, was sent on a secret mission to France. His aim and object was the organization within the boundaries of France of a spy system preparatory to the pending war.

He strewed France with 20,000 paid German spies, and organized a complete espionage system in the parts of France which covered the possible theatre of war. These spies were organized territorially under four inspectors, having headquarters at Brussels, Lausanne, Geneva and Berlin, and responsible to two Lieutenants of Police, who in turn reported to Stieber.

A peculiar feature of the system instituted by Stieber at that time, and still maintained, was the "fixed posts." The ordinary idea of a spy is one who is sent to travel in a foreign country in some disguise, and who returns to his own country with information thus acquired. But this travelling spy suffers very great disadvantages.

He is closely watched, and directly he begins making enquiries as to this, that and the other, the previous suspicions become certainties, and his mission results in failure.

Under the cover of this trade he can make enquiries without incurring the suspicion of the authorities and has ample time to get into touch with anyone whom he thinks capable of giving him useful information.

The German spies in France were, and still doubtless are, of all grades and professions, and of both sexes, including farmers, market gardeners, agricultural labourers, vine growers, railway porters, shop keepers, commercial travellers (a very useful and frequent disguise), waiters and waitresses in cafes, hotels and canteens, newspaper reporters, telegraph operators, female domestics etc.

Among other duties assigned to the director of the German Spy service during the war of 1870, were the following:—

(a) Information in regard to the situation, strength and movements of each group of the hostile army.

(b) In regard to the age, character and reputation of all hostile commanders.

(c) In regard to what was going on, and the state of public feeling in the districts the German Army was about to traverse and the resources of those districts.

Information as to telegraphs, telephones, railways, highways, bridges, culverts, forges, provision and supplies, discontented people, and citizens suspected of monetary temptation is particularly sought.

According to Mr. Sanior, there are at present some 15,000 spies in "fixed posts" in France.

How perfect a spy system has been introduced by the Germans into Canada is not stated, but it is known that there have been German spies in Canada within the past five years, and that some of them have been identified and tracked by the military and police authorities.

For obvious reasons the Canadian military and civil authorities are silent as to what is known officially about German spies and espionage in Canada; but that there are agents of the hostile powers in Canada ready to forward every scrap of important news bearing upon Canada's participation in the present war is admitted.

Owing to the military censorship imposed upon the cable and wireless telegraph services, it is difficult for the German agents in Canada to get their reports across the Atlantic ocean promptly; but in the absence of a censorship over the land wires and mails communication of a sort is open through the mails, to neutral countries.

Meantime patriotic Canadians who are the repositories of information which might be useful in any war to the enemies of the Empire, will do well to keep such information to themselves and take every precaution to prevent it from obtaining general circulation or from reaching the ears of possible agents of the German Intelligence Service.

It is known that in spite of French vigilance, the Germans have maintained and perhaps elaborated the espionage system established there. In 1880 Stieber, still at that date Minister of Police in Germany, was sent through France and subsequently established a branch of the German secret police to deal with "political actions." This term, it was explained, included the destruction of the strategical railways in France on the outbreak of war so that the German mobilization might be retarded.

Very different from the lucid and complete revelation of England's every thought and act, presented in The White Paper, published in full in the Times of yesterday, is Germany's statement which we print this morning. The British White Paper is a documentary history; the very documents themselves are made public without comment or coloring.

Sir Edward Grey puts all his cards upon the table face upward, and every inquirer into the truth of the history of the negotiations for peace may acquaint himself with every detail of Sir Edward's unremitting efforts to avert the disaster of war.

Germany presents a lawyer's brief, a special pleading in which, with such skill as its authors could command, the attempt is made to present her part in the negotiations that preceded war in a light most favorable to herself. Between these two an impartial world will judge. We see Sir Edward Grey's dignity, and with every resource of appeal and argument and remonstrance, striving to bring about a mediation by England, France, Italy, and Germany to adjust the differences between Russia and Austria which threatened an immediate outbreak of hostilities.

We see Germany from the very beginning insisting that the vexed question between Austria and Serbia must be left to an adjustment reached by those two Powers themselves; that there must be no interference by other Powers, that Austria must have a "free hand." In the light of human reason, of what avail could it be, after having taken that position, for Germany to profess her willingness and her desire to use her influence to "localize" the war?

In the German statement, to be sure following the brief or argument, or narrative of events prepared in the Foreign Office, a certain number of diplomatic dispatches are printed, as well as the telegrams interchanged between the Kaiser and the Czar, but at the very outset of the statement it is declared that when Austria asked Germany's opinion of her intended action toward Serbia, Germany assured Austria "a hearty offer of our agreement with her view of the situation," and further assured her "that any action that she might consider it necessary to take to put an end to the movement in Serbia directed against the existence of the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy would receive our approval." Furthermore, Germany declares that "from the very beginning of the conflict, we took the stand that this was an affair of Austria which she alone would have to bring to a decision with Serbia. We have therefore devoted our entire effort to localizing the war and to convincing the other Powers that Austria-Hungary was compelled to take justified defensive methods and appeal to arms."

This is, in the first place, an entire begging of the question, for there is nowhere any proof that Serbia, as a nation, as a government, was plotting against the existence of the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy. The reasoning of the German Foreign Office has all the vices of Austria's provocative and unprovoked attack upon the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand was secret, Serbia had no hearing, and the findings were prepared by Austria herself. To indict a nation by such an ex parte proceedings is going much too far.

It is a dreadful story, and it is a story which enforces the moral. The Times has repeatedly drawn, that this is a war brought on not by peoples, but by dynasties for their own interests. Austria attacks Serbia, not that her people may be made more happy and prosperous, but that the Hapsburg dynasty may accomplish its ends. Russia mobilizes and resists the Austrian endeavor, not because the Russian people will thereby be benefited, but for ends cherished by the Romanoff dynasty. Germany comes to the aid of Austria and puts her great armies into the field, not in behalf of the industrious people of Germany, but in obedience to the Hohenzollern will and for the preservation of the Hohenzollern power. In those lands of Europe which enjoy a liberal government, in England and in France and in Italy, there is no sympathy with these dynastic undertakings; there is a sincere effort, there is every endeavor to preserve the peace of Europe, but against the Hapsburgs, the Hohenzollerns, and the Romanoffs, these efforts were futile. And there rests the responsibility, apportion it as we may, the whole responsibility. It is a dynastic war."

Slow to Begin, Slow to Give In. Broad Arrow, London:—"It cannot be said that we have hurried into this war, indeed there are many who consider that a little more haste on our part would have had a good effect at home and abroad. However, we have never been credited with impetuosity, and on this occasion it is not only possible but probable that the tortoise will again win the race. We certainly step into the arena with the knowledge that we have done nothing, to bring about this conflict, and we take up arms because we are in honor bound to do so. Germany has chosen her time to defy Europe, but only time can show whether the right moment has been selected, and on that point we differ with our astute opponent. We may be slow to begin, but we are equally slow to give in, and we intend to see this matter out."

NO TROOPS LEFT BEHIND BY GERMANY

Line of Communication Very Weak, Says Correspondent at Ostend.

[By Special Wire to The Courier.] LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Daily Express' Ostend correspondent says:

"Louvain town on Sunday was full of troops. This place has apparently been reserved as an army base. The station has been transformed into a huge repair shop with a horse shoeing forge.

"The railway has been cut at several places. A remarkable thing about the German advance is that there are no troops along the lines of communication. The railway services have been reopened by the Belgians in the towns through which masses of troops have just passed.

"At Audenarde, 15 miles southwest Ghent, where the greatest army passed through to-day there are no troops. All the food stuffs in the town were taken and the railway was broken. When the army passed through the rear guard remained in the town over Sunday and Monday. The troops were Bavarians and all were well behaved. The officers and soldiers had been on short rations and ate out the town.

"The wireless plant on the Chateau near the town was disabled and all the telegraph lines were cut. Monday the last of the troops left the town. It undoubtedly was part of the German main army that passed through."

WERE ARRESTED

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Flora Drummond, Mrs. Darce Fox, Miss Richardson and fourteen other militant suffragettes were arrested this morning in front of the home office whether they had gone in an effort to interview Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, on the question of the forcible feeding of women.

When they were refused admission they attempted to force an entrance. A hostile crowd gathered and the women were seriously threatened. At this juncture the police appeared and took them into custody.

A number of women demonstrators have been released from custody lately on the clemency of the King.

IS NOT CHARITY

Mayor Spence Refers to the Work of the Patriotic Committee.

"In no sense is the work of the Brantford Patriotic Committee one of charity, and the word should not be mentioned," said Mayor Spence this morning. There has been considerable objection among the soldiers' families and rightfully so against the idea that they are applicants for civic relief. In many cases assistance would not be received on such terms, and the committee wishes it understood that they don't look at it in any such way. "It is a patriotic duty," said the Mayor.

STRUCK BY ENGINE

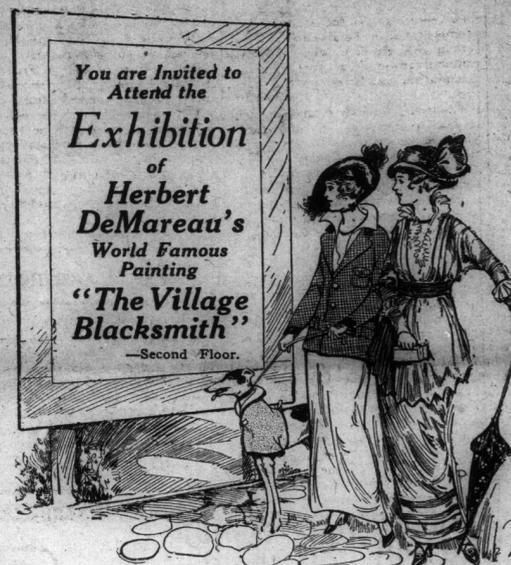

Nasty Accident Occurred in the Grand Trunk Yards This Morning.

Jack Moncreiss of Spring street, an elderly man, and night watchman at the Grand Trunk freight department, met with a nasty accident this morning which will incapacitate him for some time. As he was proceeding on his rounds he was struck by an engine which he did not see slowing up in the darkness. His head received the full impact and he was thrown clear of the track where he was discovered in an unconscious condition, almost immediately after the occurrence, the driver of the engine knowing something was amiss. Moncreiss was taken to the hospital where he now lies. His injuries are not thought to be very serious and apart from a heavy blow on the forehead he seems little the worse. No internal injuries are apparent.

Vassil L. Lelmege, convicted of misappropriating $8,383.75 belonging to the Merchants' Bank, in which he was a collection clerk, was sentenced at Montreal to two years in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

MAY CUT GERMANS OFF FROM SUPPLIES

[By Special Wire to The Courier] LONDON, Aug. 27.—7.50 a.m.—Tests made at various points along the German army's lines of communication, says the Ostend correspondent of The Daily News show it is surprisingly weak. The Germans seem to have gone forward with the idea that they had nothing more to fear from the Belgian army.
"If the allies can hold their own at the front," said the correspondent, "it is certain that German communication with their base can be cut at any moment. In fact their army seems to be up in the air. It has no support and everything has been chanced on a victory for the advancing army, which is travelling fast, carrying its own supplies and supplementing them with levies on the surrounding country."

Arbitration Case Over Judge Hardy's Farm

A very important arbitration is in progress at the Court House, Judge Hardy being the plaintiff, against the Lake Erie and Northern Railway Company. The railway runs through the front of the Judge's property, which is located just beyond the golf links. The railway offered the Judge $2,100 for the land expropriated, which amount was refused. The arbitrators are Judge Snider, Mr. A. E. Watts, K.C., for the railway and Mr. Garland, Toronto, for the Judge. The principal witness for His Honor yesterday, was Mr. Myerscough, the well-known agricultural real estate agent. He claimed that the railway had practically destroyed two thirds of the frontage of the Judge's farm, which he considered was a very valuable property, apart altogether from its worth agriculturally. The farm was only one and a half miles from the city limits, and in the years to come, it was bound to become very valuable from a country residential standpoint. The Judge, in giving evidence, stated that the railway had promised to give him a subway into his property, instead, they had installed a dangerous level crossing and a high bridge, which was a menace to safe traffic. He considered that two thirds of his frontage of over 3,000 feet on the highway had been virtually ruined. Evidence for the railway is being taken to-day. This afternoon the arbitrators will visit the farm. Mr. Henderson is appearing for the Judge and Mr. Brewster for the railway.

Entrenched Allies Are as Anvil to the Hammer of the Muscovites

LONDON, Thursday, Aug. 27.—"The allies in their present entrenched positions are as the anvil to the Muscovite hammer," declares the Daily Graphic's military correspondent. "It is good news," he continues, "that the concentration of the allies on entrenched lines within the French frontier is complete and that the positions thus held are little less than impregnable. The Germans will find that their next move against the allies will be much more difficult than that which confronted them a week ago." "Gen. Joffre's troops will now be devoting all their energy to a stubborn defensive. They are the anvil. The Muscovite hammer is gathering all its immense force for a crushing blow. Hence it is most important that the allies' forces should stand firm." "The hammer is doing excellently, also preliminary work is necessarily slow on account of the Russians' lack of facilities for mobilization. Nevertheless the progress thus far made by Russia has exceeded the most optimistic expectations, and the Germans are likely to pay dearly for their undervaluation of the Russian efforts." "The outstanding fact is that the hammer is well poised for action. If the anvil only stands firm the enemy must be speedily crushed between them." "At present East Prussia is in process of being cleared of German troops, while on Posen, a Russian army is moving almost unopposed, and will soon be within 150 miles of Berlin. Meanwhile in Galicia the Austrian troops are not putting up an effective resistance."

METHODIST RESOLUTION.
KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 27.—At the Kingston district meeting of the Montreal Methodist Conference a resolution was passed declaring the war entered into by the Triple Entente as a righteous war, inasmuch as it is a struggle for national existence. The meeting offered prayer that success might come to the armies of the Triple Entente, and that the officers of the British army might have courage and fortitude to complete victory.

Japan's Attitude

Is Given by Premier—German Menace to be Driven From Far East.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] TOKIO, Aug. 27.—11.40 a.m.—The empress is occupied daily in making bandages for the Red Cross workers. She is ably assisted by the court ladies. Patriotic lantern processions are being held in various cities and such is the interest in the war that the people are crowding moving picture shows where battle scenes are produced. The Official Gazette publishes a decree announcing that the service of officers of the mobilized division has been extended indefinitely. Yukio Ozaki, minister of justice in speaking of the disinterestedness of Japan in the war other than in the conditions in Kiaochow and the China Sea, said: "When Japan captures Kiaochow and hostilities in the China and Japan Seas are over, Japan will stand aside and become an onlooker if the war in Europe still is in progress. "If, however, the Germans still retain a standing in the south seas which would be a menace to the peace, Japan, in accordance with the alliance, would consult Great Britain and might co-operate in driving the Germans out of the Orient."

THE LION'S WELP
(From the Chicago Tribune)
Kipling never wrote a truer word than when he made Canada say: "Daughter am I in my mother's house, But mistress in my own."
This expresses Canada, the obedient offspring of the British Empire, but the independent, self-governing Dominion from Vancouver to the Atlantic. Immediately on Great Britain's declaration of war Canada arose to her defense. The lion's growl was echoed by the whelp.
There is no law which compels Canada to do this. Great Britain cannot compel her to contribute to the defense of the mother country one man, one gun, one bushel of wheat, one dollar of Canadian money, and yet the Dominion has already sent millions of flour and grain, three regiments of equipped men, batteries of guns, and the offer of an unlimited number of volunteers.
The men who gave a good account of themselves in South Africa will not be wanting in valor on Europe's battlefields.

Ontario Government's Gift is 250,000 Bags of Flour

Immediate War Grant From Province to Great Britain Represents an Expenditure of $700,000.

TORONTO, July 27 — Ontario's gift to the motherland is a quarter of a million bags of flour. The government reached its decision yesterday, and last night Sir James Whitney despatched a telegram to Sir Robert Borden, advising him of the gift of the province and asking that the British government be notified.

The Provincial Government has since the outbreak of the war, been in consultation with the Dominion and Imperial Governments as to the best way in which Ontario could aid the Mother Land in the present crisis, and has been giving earnest consideration to the subject. Last week a number of the Ontario Ministers went to Ottawa and had a consulta- tion with Sir Robert Borden. The result of the Ministers' deliberation was that yesterday a decision was reached that the best aid that Ontario could give would be a contribu- tion of flour, and the Government, in pursuance of this, advised the Do- minion authorities that Ontario would contribute a quarter of a million bags of flour to the Mother Country.

In spite of the advance in the price of wheat and flour, the Govern- ment, it is understood, was able to secure the flour at the same price as that paid recently by the Dominion Government—a striking tribute to the fairness and patriotism of the flour dealers of Ontario—as a Minister expressed it yesterday. The price paid was, it is stated, $2.80 a bag, which makes Ontario's gift represent an expenditure of approxi- mately $700,000.

The following telegram, announcing the government's decision, was for- warded to Sir Robert Borden: "Pursuant to our conversations on subject of Imperial aid, I now advise you that the Province of Ontario has completed arrangements to supply the Imperial Government one-quarter of a million bags of flour. Kindly advise British Government.

"J. P. WHITNEY." In view of the fact that the Do- minion Government's gift was also flour it was not generally expected that the Ontario Government would make its contribution in the same mode. Various suggestions were made, one of the amount set aside being used to provide employ- ment there and the manufacture of goods, war equipment, etc., sent to Britain. But the government took no chances and through the Federal authorities sought the views of the Imperial government, with the result stated.

With flour at present prices, Ontario's gift will be worth in monetary value considerably over three-quarter of a million dollars, the price being paid for a flour running about 3 cents a bag below the market level.

PLAN MANOEUVRES AT TRAINING CAMP

Canada's Volunteers to Have Taste of Real Soldiering Next Week--Farm of 4,000 Acres Across River is to be Added to Val Cartier Grounds.

VALCARTIER CAMP, Aug. 27.—There are now approximately 20,000 Canadian militiamen, or nearly enough to make up the full strength of the Canadian expeditionary force, under canvas here. Over 3,000, chiefly from the western provinces, came in yester- day on several special trains and by last night were settled in their lines, as most of the tents have been cre- ated by advance parties.

An important announcement came from headquarters yesterday when a telegram was received from Ottawa stating that negotiations for the pur- chase of 4,000 acres of farm land just across the river from the camp had been brought to a successful conclu- sion. This land is considered by the authorities to be of unusual value for training purposes, and the news that the Government had secured it pleased them very much.

Rumors in connection with the early embarkation of the first Canadian contingent for Europe are in constant circulation here. It is pointed out however that it would be next impossible for them to start before the middle of next month, if as soon as that, for a tremendous amount of work has yet to be done. For in- stance, only a limited number of the new Mark Three Ross rifles have reached the camp up to the present and hundreds of the volunteers have yet to receive their uniforms. No official information in regard to the departure of the troops is yet obtain- able.

The Duke is Expected It is expected that before long the Duke of Connaught will visit and inspect the camp. It is not known just when he will come, but it will probably not be until the organization is completed and most of the men have arrived. Col. Sam Hughes is coming again to-morrow and may stay for a day or two. Men are now at work building an office for him.

Lieut.-Col. A. T. Shilling, chief medical recruiting officer, reported last night that in all about 2,000 men had been examined since the opening of camp. The percentage of those rejected remains at ten, and this is considered to be a very satisfactory showing, as the standard with which every man must conform is a high one.

The medical officers also report that about 5,000 men have been inoculated against typhoid fever, includ- ing those who were treated before leaving home. This inoculation is not compulsory in the literal sense that few, but no men who have not re- ceived it will be taken to the front. Two cases of measles have been dis- covered here, and upon recommendation of the medical staff an isolation hospital has been established. The test plates in connection with the water supply were sterile again yester- day, and the water flowing through the mains absolutely pure.

Would Cause a Revolution If Italian Government Decided Help Germany and Austria. LONDON, Aug. 27.—6 a.m.—A Times' despatch from Rome declares that great pressure is being brought to bear on Italy by Germany and Austria to join in the war, both countries making her alluring promises, but with- out effect.

The Italian people are against Austria, says the despatch and any decision by the government to join in the war with Austria would mean a revolution. The Triple Alliance, The Times' correspondence adds, is a thing of the past.

Now Blockaded Japanese Fleet Has Taken Measures Against German Fortress. [By Special Wire to the Courier] TSING-TAU, Aug. 27, 11:50 a.m.—Vice-Admiral Sadakichi Kato to his flagship, the battle- ship Suwo, sent a wireless mes- sage to Governor Meyer of Kiaochow, this morning declaring a blockade of the leased territory of Kiaochow. Later the Japanese war- ships were sighted outside the har- bor and shelled a small island off the coast, but which was not occu- pied by the Germans.

The German governor notified Willis K. Peck, American consul at Kiaochow, that he had 24 hours to leave if he so desired. Mr. Peck, however, elected to re- main.

AFRAID SHE WAS DYING

Suffered Terribly Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

St. JEAN DE MATHEA, JAN. 27th, 1914. "After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been cured by "Fruit-a-tives". I suffered so much that I would not dare eat for I was afraid of dying. Five years ago, I received samples of "Fruit-a-tives". I did not wish to try them for I had little confidence in them but, seeing my husband's anxiety, I decided to do so and at once I felt relief. Then I digested well—in a word, I am completely cured, thanks to "Fruit-a-tives".

SWIFT OPERATIONS

German Correspondent Attributes Success to Celerity of March.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] BERLIN, via Copenhagen, Aug. 26, via London, Aug. 27.—8:10 a.m.—The Tagblatt's correspondent writes that Namur was bombarded with howitz- ers of thirty-one centimeters by mor- tars and by one forty-two centimeter howitzer. He says he could plainly hear the shells striking the forts.

The Tagblatt's correspondent describes the desolation that reigns in the villages and small towns between Liege and Namur. At the town of Herve only nineteen houses remain standing out of five hundred. Those remaining carry placards expressing sympathy with the German soldiers and asking that they not be fired upon.

The success of the German arms in Belgium says The Tagblatt, is attrib- uted by military experts to the swiftness with which the German opera- tions were carried through and also to the delay of assistance promised by the French, who arrived too late both at Liege and Namur.

DIVIDEND INCREASED

The directors of the Royal Loan and Savings Company have increased the dividend payable to shareholders of said company from seven to eight per cent. The first quar- terly dividend at the increased rate will be payable on October 1st next.

AEROPLANE FELL

PARIS, Aug. 26.—A German aeroplane fell to the ground inside the British lines in Quosnoy region yester- day, and the two German officers on board were killed. Quosnoy is six miles from Lille. The minister of agri- culture to-day authorized the sale of frozen game in Paris. Large quantities of frozen rabbits in normal times are sent from France to the United States. As a rule they are kept in cold storage until the opening of the game season but under the present circumstances they will be used here.

THE STORY OF Waitstill Baxter

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN.

Copyright, 1913 by Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Once, during a temporary lull in the rear, he started to meet his fate when Rodman Boynton followed him into the back room, and the boy was at once set to work by Patty, who was the most consummate slave driver in the state of Maine. After half an hour there was another heaven sent chance, when Rodman went up to Uncle Bart's shop with a message for Waitstill, but just then, in came Bill Morrill, a boy of twelve, with a request for a gallon of molasses, and would Cephas lend him a stone jug over Sunday, for his mother had hers "soakin' out in soap suds 'cause 'twas n't smellin' 'st right."

The minutes dragged by, and again there was perfect quiet in the stock- room. As the door opened, Cephas, taking his last chance, went forward to meet Patty, who was turning down the skirt of her dress, taking the cloth off her head, smoothing her hair and tying on a clean white ruffled apron, in which she looked as pretty as a pink.

"Patty," stammered Cephas, seizing his golden opportunity, "Patty, keep your mind on me for a minute. I've put a new coat o' paint on the ell just to please you. Won't you get married and settle down with me? I love you so I can't eat nor drink nor tend store nor nothin'!"

"Oh, I—couldn't, Cephas, thank you. I just couldn't—don't ask me!" cried Patty, as nervous as Cephas himself now that her first offer had really come. "I'm only seventeen, and I don't feel like settling down, Cephas, and father wouldn't think of letting me get married."

"Don't play tricks on me, Patty, and keep shovin' me off so an' givin' wrong reasons," pleaded Cephas. "What's the trouble with me? I know mother's temper's ornst, but we never need go into the main house daytime, and father'd alertn stand up ag'in her if she didn't treat you right. I've got a good trade, and father has $100 o' my savin's that I can draw out to-morrow if you'll have me."

"I can't, Cephas. Don't move—stay where you are. No, don't come any nearer. I'm not fond of you that way, and besides—and, besides"— Her blush and her evident embar- rassment gave Cephas a new fear.

"You ain't promised a'ready, be you?" he asked anxiously, "when there ain't a feller anywheres around that's ever stepped foot over your father's doornill but jest me?"

"I haven't promised anything or any- body," Patty answered sedately, gain- ing her self control by degrees, "but I won't deny that I'm considerin'—that's true!"

"Considerin' who?" asked Cephas, turning pale.

"Oh—several, if you must know the truth; and Patty's tone was cruel in its faintness.

"Several?" The word did not sound like ordinary work-a-day Riverbore English in Cephas' ears. He knew that "several" meant more than one, but he was too stunned to define the term properly in its present strange connection.

"Whoever 'tis wouldn't do any bet- ter by you'n I would. I'd take a lick- in' for you any day," Cephas exclaimed abruptly, after a long pause.

"That wouldn't make any difference, Cephas," said Patty firmly, moving toward the front door as if to end the interview. "If I don't love you un- lickered, now, could I? Goodness gra- cious, what am I stepping in? Cephas, quick! Something has been rumm- ing all over the floor. My feet are sticking to it."

"Good gosh! It's Mis' Morrill's mol- lasses!" cried Cephas, brought to his senses suddenly.

It was too true! The gallon measure, forgotten by Cephas, had been filled to the brim ten minutes before, and ever since the treacherly liquid had been overflowing the top and spread- ing the floor. Patty's feet were glued to it, her buff calico skirts lifted high to escape harm.

"I can't move," she cried. "Oh, you stupid, stupid Cephas! How could you leave the molasses spigot turned on? See what you've done! You've wasted quarts and quarts! What will father say and how will you ever clean up such a mess? You never can get the floor to look so that he won't notice it, and he is sure to miss the molasses. You've ruined my shoes, and I simply can't bear the sight of you!"

At this Cephas all but blubbered in the agony of his soul. It was bad the enough to be told by Patty that she was "considering several," but his first romance had ended in such complete disaster that he saw in a vision his life blasted—changed in one brief moment from that of a prosperous young partner to that of a blighted and de- spised bungler, whose week's wages were likely to be expended in molasses to make good the deacon's loss.

"Find those cleaning cloths I left in the back room, ordered Patty, with a flashing eye. "Get some blocks or bits of board or stones for me to walk on so that I can get out of your nasty mess. Fill Bill Morrill's jug, quick, and set it out on the steps for him to pick up. I don't know what you'd do without me to plan for you! Lock the front door and hang father's sign that he's gone to dinner on the doorknob. Scoop up all the molasses you can with one of those new trowels on the coun- ter. Scoop and scrape and scoop and scrape; then put a cloth on your oldest broom, pour lots of water on, pull after full, and swab. When you've swabbed till it won't do any more good, then scrub. After that I shouldn't wonder if you had to fan the floor with a news- paper or it'll never get dry before fa- ther comes home. I'll sit on the flour barrel a little while and advise, but I can't stay long because I'm going to a picnic. Hurry up and don't look as if you were going to die any minute! It's no use crying over spilt molasses. You don't suppose I'm going to tell any tales after you've made me an offer of marriage, do you? I'm not so mean as all that, though I may have my faults."

It was nearly 2 o'clock before the card announcing Deacon Baxter's ab- sence at dinner was removed from the front doorknob, and when the store was finally reopened for business it was a most dejected clerk who dealt out groceries to the public. The worst feature of the affair was that every one in the two villages suddenly and contemporaneously wanted molasses, so that Cephas spent the afternoon re- viewing his misery by continually turn- ing the tap and drawing out the stag- liquid. Then, too, every inquisitive boy in the neighborhood came to the back of the store to view the opera- tion, exclaiming: "What makes the floor so wet? Hain't he spilled molasses, have yer? Bet yer havel! Good joke on Old Fogy!"

CHAPTER VIII. On Terry Hill.

IT had been a very lovely picnic, the little trio all agreed as to that, and when Ivory saw the Baxter girls coming up the shady path that led along the river from the In- dian cellar to the bridge it was a merry group and a transfused Rodman that caught his eye. The boy, trailing on behind with the baskets and laden with tin dippers and wild flowers, seemed another creature from the big eyed, quick little lady he saw every day. He had chattered like a magpie, eaten like a bear, torn his jacket getting wild columbines for Patty, been nicely darning by Waitstill and was in a state of hilarity that rendered him quite un- recognizable.

"We've had a lovely picnic!" called Patty; "I wish you had been with us!" "You didn't ask me," smiled Ivory, picking up Waitstill's mandarin basket from the nook in the trees where she had hidden it for safe keeping.

"We've played games, Ivory," cried the boy. "Patty made them up her- self. First we had the Landing of the Pilgrims and Waitstill made be- lieve she was the greubared of the Mayflower. She stood on a great bow- der and sang:

"The breaking waves dashed high On the stern and rockbound coast, and, oh, she was splendid! Then Patty was Pocahontas, and I was Cap'n John Smith, and look, we are all dressed up for the Indian wedding!"

"I shall have to run into father's store to put myself tidy," Waitstill said, "so goodbye, Rodman, we'll have another picnic some day. Patty, you must do the chores this afternoon, you know, so that I can go to choir re- hearsal."

Local News

THE PROBS

TORONTO, Aug. 27.—Showers have occurred again over Lake Superior, otherwise the weather in Canada has been everywhere fine.

Light to moderate variable winds, generally fair and cool to-day and on Friday, but light showers in a few localities.

Recruits Parade To-night. The active service recruits of the 38th Dufferin Rifles will parade to-night at the armories. They will include all sworn men who were not included in the first contingent. The second contingent is now undergoing a stiff course of military training.

Raised Four Feet. Lorne Bridge is now four feet higher at the city end than it was hitherto and is resting upon a concrete foundation which has been built up. All the jacks have been taken out from under the end and work is now proceeding upon the centre pier at the bridge which is being heightened to support the structure in the middle. When this has been sufficiently raised the work of raising the end still higher will be gone on with.

Want to Go. There are one hundred and eighty Poles and Russians in this city who are clamoring to go to war, and every day they beseege Louis Stander and desire to know the method by which the would enlist and so strike a blow at the German enemy. He, however, is not sure that the men, although loyal and anxious to fight, would be accepted by the authorities. The men are fully determined to go to the front if there is any possible way of getting there.

Horses Purchased. Over fifty horses were on show at the far grounds this morning when the Government officers, Captain Raspberry of the C. A. V. C., and Sergeant Steward of the Artillery, inspected the animals with a view to purchase for the British war office. They looked over the specimens and after giving a few selected horses a stiff gallop, they purchased them. There were not more than six horses taken over for the purpose of war. The animals bought will be shipped to-night to Valcartier and later transhipped to Great Britain.

QUICK WORK BY RUSSIANS WON VICTORY

Fate of Several Forts Sealed by Advance of Czar's Hosts.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 26, via London, Aug. 27, 6 to 10 a.m.—A Russian army order prohibits the use of food and forage, abandoned by the Germans in East Prussia because of cases of poisoning which have occurred at Eydtkuhnen, Gumbinnen and Insterburg.

According to all accounts the Germans were taken by surprise by the rapidity of the Russian cavalry movements and the dash through the Mazur Lake district, where their five lines of defence were flanked. After the capture of Gumbinnen and Insterburg, which was strongest, the Angersburg line was taken without fighting. The swift Russian movement together with the crossing of the River Angerapp, and the successful battle northward toward Neidenburg, seals the fate of the central fortifications. Fort Boyen is now surrounded on all sides and passage through East Prussia is consequently quite open.

BELGIANS DO WORK

They Harass German Lines and Reduce Invading Forces.

ANTWERP, Aug. 26, via Paris, Aug. 27, 3 to 4 a.m.—It is officially announced that Belgian operations have been completely successful. They have the double object of reducing the German entrenchments and of drawing Germans from the line at Mechlin and Brussels, so as to relieve the pressure on the French positions. Four Belgian divisions from Namur stopped the German fourth division by obliging it to retrace its steps. The Belgian troops then retreated on the French line. The forts at Namur are still holding out.

British Cruiser

HE SAID: "THE ADMIRALTY HAS JUST RECEIVED INTELLIGENCE THAT THE GERMAN ARMED MERCHANT CRUISER KAISER WILHELM DER GROSSE, OF 14,000 TONS, AND ARMED WITH TEN 4-INCH GUNS, HAS BEEN SUNK BY H.M.S. HIGH FLYER OFF THE WEST COAST OF AFRICA.

"THIS IS THE VESSEL WHICH HAS BEEN INTERFERING WITH TRAFFIC BETWEEN THIS COUNTRY AND THE CAPE, AND IS ONE OF THE VERY FEW GERMAN ARMED AUXILIARY CRUISERS WHICH SUCCEEDED IN GETTING TO SEA. THE SURVIVORS WERE LANDED BEFORE THE VESSEL SANK. THE HIGH FLYER HAD ONE KILLED AND FIVE WOUNDED."

Made Inspection of the Railway

The Street Railway Commission inspected the Grand Valley Railway system yesterday and Engineer Jones, who was present upon the trip as consulting engineer, will tabulate and send in his report as the result of the commissioners' investigations.

The car bearing the party, which consists of the Commission, composed of Mr. Hartman, chairman, Mr. Turnbull and Mr. K. V. Bunnell, the City Engineer hurriedly made his exit shortly after three o'clock and proceeded past Paris, almost to Galt. At intervals the car was stopped and the City Engineer hurriedly made his examination of the culverts and bridges erected by the company. It was found that the work was well and efficiently carried out and that the section men now at work south of Paris and north of Glenmorris, were doing splendid, solid work. The new ties were found to have arrived at Blue Lake and they will shortly be put into use for the bettering of track conditions along the route. The commission was satisfied with the result of their investigations and Engineer Jones' report is now awaited.

SPY CAUSED DEFEAT

PARIS, Aug. 27.—A refugee from Merbes-Le-Chateau, a town 13 miles from Mons, said on his arrival here that 360 Belgian riflemen posted in his town, kept several thousand Germans at bay for three days until a German spy, disguised in a Belgian uniform, showed them a path which enabled the Germans to take the riflemen in their rear. All were killed except 12 villagers.

ALL FRANCE POLITICALLY IS UNITED

Socialists Join New Cabinet in Common Defence of Country.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] PARIS, Aug. 27.—12.15 p.m.—The entry of Jules Guesde and Marcel Sembat, the former a Socialist and the latter a United Socialist deputy, to the leadership of the Socialists of France in succession to the late Jean Jaures, has unified the party and is favorably commented upon by all parties in France, and particularly the Socialists themselves.

M. Guesde and M. Sembat are also members of the new cabinet, will never depart without portfolio and the latter holding the post of minister of public works. The Socialists say they desire to collaborate in the defense of the nation, although under the leadership of M. Guesde, they all will be opposed to the participation of the party in the government.

M. Guesde, in an interview in the Paris Midi to-day, says: "I go into the cabinet as an envoy of my party, not to govern, but to fight. If I were younger, I would have shouldered a gun. But as my age does not permit this, I will nevertheless face the enemy and defend the cause of humanity."

"I am confident of final victory, and without hesitation as its subsequent role in France, the party will never deviate from the line of conduct laid out. As the solidarity of workmen does not shut out the right to defend themselves against the traitor workmen, so international solidarity does not exclude the right of one nation to defend itself against a government traitor to the peace of Europe."

"France has been attacked, and she will have no more ardent defenders than the workmen's party."

M. Sembat declined to say more than that he and M. Guesde had accepted their portfolios with the approval of the Socialist party, "which, with all other parties in France, must now give way before the necessity of national defence."

TRAINS TIED UP

French Authorities Forced to Assume Charge of All Railways.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Daily Mail's Boulonnais correspondent says that the events of the past few days have again disorganized the Paris train service and that everything must give way to the necessities for the transportation of troops, the removal of wounded and the clearing of the civilian population, from the firing lines.

The train from Paris Wednesday took twelve hours, being compelled to wait seven hours at Amiens by a flood of 5,000 Belgian refugees arriving from the Charleroi district and a train load of British wounded who were guarded from inquisitive visitors by armed sentries.

SIR EDWARD GREY

Paid a Tribute To-day to German Ambassador at London.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Aug. 27.—3.43 p.m.—The Foreign Secretary, Sir Edward Grey, paid a tribute to Prince Charles Max Lichnowsky, the former German ambassador to Great Britain, in the House of Commons this afternoon, saying that the diplomat had worked to the end for peace, but the real authority at Berlin did not rest with him or those like him.

Sir Edward reiterated that the Government decided on August 2 only the condition under which Great Britain could remain neutral. This was German respect for the neutrality of Belgium. The Ambassador Lichnowsky had strongly urged the British Government to alter their decision, but the Foreign Secretary said that would have been impossible without England becoming a consenting party to the violation of a treaty and subsequently to a German invasion of Belgium.
