COD LIVER OIL and IRON

Add PHOSPHORUS and you have FERROL

For many years it has been recognized by physicians everywhere that Cod Liver Oil and Iron should be given in combination if possible, as where one is required the other is in all probability needed, too, each enhancing the value of the other.

Strange to say, although many attempts have been made, no one ever succeeded in combining the oil and iron until, quite recently, a Canadian physician, after some years of study and experiment, managed to solve the problem. He then added just a little phosphorus; the result is

FERROL

which contains in an elegant, palatable and easily digested emulsion Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus, the exact constituents necessary to Increase the Weight, Enrich the Blood and Build up the System.

No argument is needed to prove the value of such a preparation in the treatment of Bronchitis and Pulmonary Diseases, Scrofula, Rickets, Anæmia and wasting diseases of any kind.

For Croup, Whooping Cough and Chronic Coughs and Colds Ferrol is an absolute specific.

FERROL is not a patent mystery. The formula is freely published. It is prescribed by the best Physicians. It is endorsed by the most eminent Medical Journals. It is used in prominent Hospitals, Sanatoriums, etc.

Dear One.
Dear little hands and dear little lips That come every day to greet me; Dear little laugh that rings like gold,
And dear little feet that meet me, Your care-free ways and your dolly days,
And your days as a childhood rover, Will wash and fade in the fleeting years, Too soon will they all be over.

Dear little arms that round me twine And dear little head close nesting;
The sweet, sweet dreams that are yours to love, Your childhood dreams, like autumn's gleam, The fleeting years will sever, But God keep your hearts like the lily bloom—As pure and as sweet forever.

Love vs. Law.

BY C. B. LEWIS

They came face to face as they turned a bend in the rough and narrow trail leading up the Cumberland Mountains to Laurel Cove, and both stopped and stared for half a minute before the young man raised his hat and excused his absent-mindedness.
The young woman blushed, stammered a reply and passed on, and in a minute the trees and bushes hid them from each other.

The one everybody for five miles around knew as Abe Goodman's daughter Tilda. The other had just appeared in the neighborhood, claiming to be a botanist and a naturalist, and had secured a temporary home at the cabin of Saul Markham.

For the last two years Tilda had been down to Nashville, 'bein' educated,' as her father and mother put it, and was now teaching the dozen children of the mountaineers in the log schoolhouse which the young man had passed forty rods above meeting her.
Tilda had come from mountaineer stock. Her father was rough, uncultured and ignorant. Her mother was uneducated and plain. The girl had lived in poverty, surrounded by poverty, and yet she was like none of the rest. Nature had given her a good figure and a handsome face, and the time spent in the city had made what the natives called a lady of her. The astonishment of the young man, who had given his name as Arthur Griggs, was but natural.

The stranger who goes among the people of the Southern mountains is from the outset a suspected man, and the first suspicion which rests on him is that he must be a revenue spy.

Revenue men have ransacked and straggled scores of stills in the coves and ravines and sent scores and scores of moonshiners to the penitentiary, but other stills are brought in and others take the place of those who have fallen under the ban of the law. It was so thirty years ago, it is so to-day; it will be so thirty years hence. The mountaineer argues that he is a law unto himself. He argues that he has a right to live. He argues that where he has no market for his corn or his corn he has a right to turn it into whisky to make a market.
The government does not argue with him. It sends men into the mountains to break up his business and imprison him. The moonshiner works in secret. So does the government. He depends upon the honor of his neighbors not to give him away. The revenue men coax, threaten, bribe and work in every underhand way to take advantage. The enemy is more bitter than in personal feuds. When the mountaineer goes down to the town he is trailed about, cross-questioned, made drunk, if possible, and his wife or his children offered money to betray him.

When the revenue men send a spy up the mountains to nose out and report on stills he takes his life in his hands. He may go as a buyer of lumber or coal or iron lands—as a traveler, peddler or artist—as a fan-broyer, preacher or newspaper man, but the shadow of death walks by his side until he has proved himself all right. In that case he is heard of again as 'missing.'

'A botanist and naturalist from Harvard,' was what Griggs claimed to be, and he was taken into the cabin of the mountaineer without question. There was no undue curiosity about him. He was free to come and free to go. As the neighbors were introduced to him they seemed to accept him as Saul Markham had done. He walked about in contentment and slept in peace. He did not know that he never moved a hundred feet from the cabin door without being under surveillance; that every action was watched; that men whom he had never seen looked in on him when he slept; that other men gathered together in the laurel thickets and reported on him and discussed him.

Young Griggs took squirrels and gathered flowers and plants and fought to make friends with all.
Among those plain and hospitable people it was an easy matter for him to bring about an acquaintanceship with Tilda. Two days after meeting her on the trail they knew each other.
The girl was pleased when she saw admiration in the young man's eyes. She was pleased when he dared to flatter and compliment. She knew little of the world and its hollowness. If the mountaineer said this or that meant it. She had to judge others by this standard.

It was only after the newcomer and Tilda were being talked about as lovers that the watch on Griggs was relaxed. He had set no time for departing, but after a month it was seen that his work was finished and that he was staying on account of the girl.
Abe Goodman asked no questions of the young man and the mother asked none of her daughter. Suspicious and distrustful as the mountaineers were, they had been fooled. The newcomer was a revenue spy, working with the promise of a great reward. He had rehearsed his part for months before playing it. He had counted on everything but meeting Tilda. There had been admiration from the first, and love soon followed.
Within two weeks there had sprung up in his breast a conflict 'twixt love and duty, and it was for this reason he lingered. He was not what he claimed to be, and yet he was the girl's superior in all ways. It was her ingenuousness and innocence that appealed to him. He had come to betray, and yet he hesitated to go further. More education and refinement—more contact with the world—and she would be a woman to be proud of, and yet there was her ancestry—the impossible in the environments that had surrounded her for so many years and must have their due effects.

When a man trusts a woman he has doubts. When a woman trusts a man she has none. She is ready to give her whole life to him. Arthur Griggs knew that he had won the maiden's love, and it was for him to make a choice. Should he return and betray the stills hidden away in Laurel Cove, and then disappear and return a non-re, or should he report that none existed and take away a mountain bride and the good will of the lowly people? Love carried the day. It was to the credit of human sentiment that it was so. But before this determination was reached the young man walked alone on the mountains. No one followed him this day. It was Sunday, and the mountaineers were smoking their pipes as they rested. Their suspicions had been lulled. They had kept their eyes open and whispered among themselves—whispered and smiled. On this day as he walked under the pine shadows and made his way through the laurels, young Griggs came upon a man. The revenue foreman had grown impatient with his dilatory tactics and had sent an emissary to seek and question him.
The two talked for half an hour as they leaned against the trunk of a tree at the edge of a great thicket.
When they separated the revenue man knew that nothing further could be expected from the spy. He had shut his eyes to all but the song of love.
It had been useless to speak to him of duty. He had come as a spy, but he had set the government out.

After the talk Griggs walked away a few rods and sat down on a rock from which he could see far down the side of the grim old mountain. He could count the cabins of the mountaineers scattered about, and he could look down into Beaver Cove and Hallow Cove and Halpin's Hamlet. It was a day of peace, with the smoke ascending as straight as an arrow, and the birds singing and the squirrels chattering about him. He felt good.
There was a burden off his mind and joy in his heart, now that he had made his decision. In the evening he would see her father and ask her hand in marriage. He was smiling as his eyes roved over the landscape beneath him when a step caused him to turn his head. 'Tilda, you here!' he cried as he sprang to his feet with the light of love in his eyes and his arms outstretched.

She drew herself up and waved him away.

'But, Tilda, what is it?'

She was pale and hard lines had come into her face. The girl-look was searched for in vain. There was suffering in the eyes, but determination in the compressed lips.

Torturing Sciatica.

A SEVERE CASE CURED BY DR. WIL-LIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Pierce darting pains—pains like red hot needles being driven through the flesh—in the thigh; perhaps down the legs to the ankles—that's sciatica.
None but the victim can realize the torment. But the sufferer need not get discouraged for there is a cure —a sure cure in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new blood, this new blood feeds and strengthens the nerves and frees them from pain.
The pain is banished to stay banished —the cure is complete. Mr. Chas.
B. MacLean, a prosperous farmer near Brookville, Ont., has been cured of a severe case of sciatica and wishes other sufferers to hear of his cure that they may benefit by his experience.
He says:—'For upwards of five years I was a periodical sufferer from sciatica. In the morning while getting up I would be seized with agonizing pains in my hips. Sometimes these pains extended down one leg, sometimes down the other; often down both. The pain was terrible. I imagined the agony caused by a red hot spike being driven through the flesh.
That was just my feeling when the sciatica was at its worst. Often while carrying water to the horses the pain became so acute I had to drop the pail in the middle of the yard. I followed doctor's treatment but with slight relief. I then tried rheumatic plasters and liniments but these did not help me at all. They I decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. At first they did not seem to help me but as they had been so highly recommended I persisted in the treatment and gradually noticed a change in my condition. The pain became less severe, I felt stronger and my appetite improved. I think I used the pills about four or five months before I was completely cured, but though that was two years ago I have not since had the slightest return of sciatica. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a marvellous medicine and so does my wife who used them as a blood purifier. She says they have no equal and never wearies of praising them to her friends.'

Good blood is the secret of health —Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the secret of good blood. That is why they cure sciatica, rheumatism, St. Vitus dance, heart palpitation, indigestion and the ailments common to women and growing girls. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr.
Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Health For Run-Down Women.

From the experience of Mrs. Jno.
Panke, Saskatoon, nothing compares with Ferrozone. 'At times I was confined to my bed and couldn't do any work. I was run down in flesh, lost strength, my appetite failed, my color was pallid. Weary and cast down, it seemed I couldn't catch up. Ferro-zone started a new kind of life in my blood, built me up, vitalized and strengthened my nerves, and finally cured my heart and stomach pains.' Ferrozone is a restorer that has special virtue in female ailments. Sold everywhere in 50c boxes, try Ferro-zone.

For that Dandruff

There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor.
It is a regular scalp-medicine.
It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease.
The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. The dandruff disappears, had to disappear. A healthy scalp means a great deal to you—healthy hair, no dan-

'I was in the thicket when you here to tell you to go.'

'But if you heard us talking you know that I would not agree to what the man wanted.'

'You came here as a spy. If you would have betrayed my own father.

In love with me, in love with a

'But listen Tilda. If I came here

He paused for ten seconds in hopes to see her face soften, but it was like stone. She motioned again and he went. In five minutes he was out of sight down the side of the mountain and rough old Abe Goodman was standing over his weeping daughter and saying to her in sympathetic tones:

'Thar, thar, little one, don't cry.

jest look up to Him, He'll bring you into smooth waters and send you a feller of a husband with forty hosses and kerridges!'

Yes, indeed, replied Mrs. DeStyler.
I once declined to be interviewed by a society reporter.

Considerable work was done last season on the R. R. Station Park. The ground was leveled and seeded. The trees and shrubs planted the season before did well. With a small outlay next spring this should present a good appearance, and a small annual expenditure will in a few years make this a spot of beauty instead of a reproach. Steps should be taken to erect a neat low fence all around the park and the town authorities should put the sidewalk around it in good shape.

The matter of the old cemetery was left to a committee to confer with the Town Council to see if they would take it over and keep it in shape. This committee has not yet reported, Tourist travel was unusually large in the Province last year, and we had our full share of it in Wolfville. All the boarding houses and places of business that cater for this trade report a good business. It is important that a good strong tourist committee be appointed by the Board for the coming season to develop this important aspect of the town's business.

At our July meeting Mr. J. F. Her-bin proposed an important scheme for purchasing the historical spot at Grand Pre, opposite the R. R. station.
He had secured the co-operation in his scheme of the Lieut-Governor, and of other important persons. He had the co-operation of our Board in promoting and carrying out this work, that these historical spots at present with very little to indicate to tourists might be beautified, and memorials in the way of tablets, etc., be erected to perpetuate the memory of Longfellow who had done so much to immortalize this naturally beautiful place. This scheme met with the favorable consideration of the Board who pledged themselves to assist him.

At the April meeting an important resolution was brought in by Dr. De-Witt to the effect that a joint meeting of the Boards of Annapolis, Kings and Hants Co's be held in Wolfville to consider what should be done to keep our young men at home, develop the country and stop the tide of emigration that is steadily sapping the best blood of these counties. This meeting, after being duly advertised, was held on April 25th, and was a large and representative gathering of delegates from these counties. Resolutions were passed and new ideas exchanged. We are looking forward to other conventions of a like nature.

At a special meeting in January we had the pleasure of welcoming Dr.
Geo. Johnson as a member of the Board.

Dr. Johnson had been appointed a delegate to the Forestry Convention at Ottawa and gave us a full and interesting report of that Convention.
This subject was comparatively new to our members, and evoked favorable comments on the skillful and racy manner in which it was presented.<

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N.S., JAN. 25, 1907.

The Municipal Council at its last meeting was certainly very active in the direction of securing a provincial law governing the travel by motor car. This mode of conveyance is becoming more and more general and will no doubt so continue. Next season our streets will probably be crowded with these vehicles far beyond that of last season. It is therefore well that some general law should be secured which will preserve the rights of all who have occasion to use the highways throughout the province. To Mayor Black, of this town, is due the credit of bringing this matter to the attention of the Council, and very properly he was requested by that body to make such representations on behalf of the Council to the Legislature. Mr. Black is himself an automobilist, and has made a special study of the regulations passed in different countries governing the use of these vehicles. He is beside one of the most careful drivers, and owners of teams have no cause for complaint when meeting him on the road, as he has shown himself ever ready to sacrifice himself or his machine rather than make trouble for others. The proposed law is similar to that in force in New Brunswick, and is certainly more in favor of the driver of a horse than the driver of a motor carriage. A uniform law will certainly be most advantageous in the case of touring cars, travelling through our country during the summer months, and such a law as has been suggested will prove a very effective safeguard to those who have in the past found the motor car a menace to their safety when using the highways.

OUR MERCHANTS.

J. D. CHAMBERS.

Mr. Chambers first came to Wolfville twenty-five years ago, when he entered the employ of the old and well-known firm of Caldwell & Murray. He may thus be regarded as an old timer, and certainly should know pretty well the needs of his constituency. He afterwards went to Yarmouth, where he entered the dry-goods business on his own account. Ten years ago he returned to Wolfville and began business at the stand where he is now located. This stand is one of the oldest and best in Wolfville. Such firms as Forsyth & Rounsefell, H. B. Witter, Barpee Witter and others have carried on successful businesses there. Mr. Chambers has made changes and improvements from time to time, until he now has one of the most commodious and well-equipped establishments in the province. The business has grown rapidly under his efficient management and new departments have been added as indications warranted. Last year Mr. Chambers added a basement department, which at Christmas time was fitted up as a 'grotto,' and was a very popular resort with the young people. Dry-goods, millinery, house-furnishings, and men's furnishings are the chief lines carried by Mr. Chambers, and in all these lines his stock is always large and well assorted. He always has a staff of competent salespeople, and during the holiday rush a staff of eleven clerks was required to meet the demands.

J. F. HERBIN.

Mr. Herbin spent his boyhood in Windsor and afterwards was for some time in the west. He came to Wolfville in 1884, and began business in a small way, occupying a window in the store of the Western Book & News Co. Later he bought a small building which stood where his larger building now stands. The latter was erected in 1898, and has since been occupied by his business. He carries a full line of jewelry, silverware and clocks, and in addition has a large practice as an optician. His establishment is thoroughly equipped with appliances for use in his profession, including such costly instruments as the ophthalmoscope and retinoscope, the latter used for doing dark-room work. Mr. Herbin was graduated at Acadia College with the class of '90, having carried on his studies and business, and making a good record for scholarship. He has published a number of books, both in poetry and prose, and is regarded as an authority on all matters relating to the Acadians, of whom he claims to be a descendant. His store is a favorite resort for summer tourists.

Childhood ailments.

As a remedy for all the ills of childhood arising from derangements of the stomach or bowels Baby's Own Tablets have no equal. You do not have to coax or threaten your little one to take them—children like them. The ease with which they can be given as compared with liquid medicines will appeal to every mother. None is spilled or wasted—you know just how big a dose has reached the little stomach. And above all mothers have an absolute guarantee that the Tablets contain no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. They always do good, they cannot possibly do harm. Mrs. Edward Donovan, St. Agatha, Que., says:—'I am delighted with Baby's Own Tablets. I know of no medicine that can equal them in curing the ills of young children.' You can get the Tablets from any druggist, or by mail at 25 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mr. Clifford Caldwell, of Gasperaux, left on Saturday for Truro, to attend the Agricultural College.

Honor to Whom Honor.

WHO WAS THE FOUNDER OF THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION?

By most people this question has been settled beyond all controversy, and it seems like heresy to doubt the statement that the Y. M. C. A. was founded by Sir George Williams. Did not the late Queen knight him and the Association itself accord him the honor of being the founder?

It may not be uninteresting to your readers to know that a bitter controversy was waged between Scotland and England, each contending for that honor, and that the evidence was in favor of Scotland. Yet such is the case. I have the evidence in my possession proving the fact that the Glasgow Young Men's Society was in existence and fully organized thirteen years before Sir George Williams began his work.

Sir George Williams began his work in the year 1844, in London. In the year 1841, W. R. McPhun, Glasgow, published a volume of sermons by the 'most eminent Divine of the Scottish Church.' These sermons were preached in the year 1832. The one by the Rev. Gavin Struthers, minister of the Relief Chapel, Anderson, Glasgow, was addressed to the Young Men's Society, and the text was 'I have a hand of men, whose hearts God had touched.' It was delivered on the evening of Sabbath, 29th April, 1832. The theme of the discussion was 'United Exertion.' Towards the close, he said, 'To those religious institutions which are the safety of our city and the glory of our age, another has been added. It is called 'The Glasgow Young Men's Society.' Its plan of operation and object will be best learned by stating a few of its rules.'

The name of the Society shall be 'The Glasgow Young Men's Society.'—II. The objects of the Society shall be to promote the religious and intellectual improvement of the young men of Glasgow, and to excite them to activity in doing good.—III. The Society shall take the Holy Scriptures as its guide, and avoid controversy and political discussion.—IV. The Members of the Society shall be young men between seventeen and thirty-five years of age, of good moral character, and not professing opinions subversive of evangelical doctrine.—V. The city and suburbs shall be divided into districts, and Associations formed in each.—VI. Each Association shall meet once every week or fortnight, for devotion, practical reading of Scripture, reading religious essays, and appropriate conversation.—VII. Each Association shall also meet once every week, or fortnight, for the diffusion of useful knowledge among its Members by essays and conversation.—VIII. That young men may be separated from vicious society, and enjoy the influence of alone example, a list of lodging and boarding houses in which the daily worship of God is maintained, and no immorality tolerated, shall be kept for reference by the Members, and young men coming to town.—IX. The Society shall endeavor to establish a Sabbath evening Lecture, for the benefit of the young men.—X. The Society shall direct its Members to seek Libraries, Classes and Lectures as shall most certainly and at least expense, promote the general improvement.—XI. The Society shall cooperate with such approved religious and benevolent institutions, as can be most effectively benefited by its assistance.

Yours, &c., DAVID WRIGHT, The Manse, Wolfville.

Amherst correspondent to the Halifax Herald of yesterday says:—"Mrs. Grace D. McLeod Rogers, one of our most talented writers, has the satisfaction of finding her work recognized in the old country. Messrs. Nelson and sons, Edinburgh, having inserted in their school readers two of her Acadian tales—"The Cow Bells of Grand Pre" and "The Fugitives of the French Cross." This firm has dealt honorably with the authorities by purchasing the right from her for using the product of her pen. The story of Brook Watson, the Nova Scotia Dick Whittington, which appeared substantially in The Halifax Herald years ago, we are glad to learn is also shortly to appear in a series from the same house, having received its final touches from the facile pen of the same writer. We understand that Dr. Parkin, the well-known manager of the colonial department of the Rhodes scholarship, introduced these pretty stories to the notice of Messrs. Nelson and sons. Rather an odd thing in this connection is that while Mrs. Rogers' name appears with her stories in the school books of the province of Quebec, and in Scotland and in England, it is omitted in the school books of her native land. The tales mentioned above will be found in No. 5 of the new readers for Nova Scotia, without any credit to the authoress. Now this is a grave omission. We cannot understand why such an oversight should occur. Roberts, Demille, and others of our own writers have their names appended, thus securing due credit for their work. Are we to suppose that the editors of our school series were ignorant of Mrs. Rogers' writings? Herald readers will be interested in knowing that our gifted townsman is not content to rest upon her laurels, but that her work is sought for and is being published in some of the best periodicals of the United States."

[Mrs. Rogers is a native of Berwick in this county and well known in Wolfville.]

Wolfville Board of Trade. Our Penitentiary Population.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT, AS READ AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BOARD JAN. 15TH, 1907.

On June 30, 1906, the convicts in the penitentiaries of Canada numbered 1,439, of whom 197 were total abstainers, 697 temperate and 545 intemperate. The religious denominations were represented among the convict population as follows:—Roman Catholic, 702; Church of England, 296; Methodist, 143; Presbyterian, 136; Baptist, 72; Jewish, 7; Mormon, 2; Buddhist, 16; no creed, 11. Of the total number 898 were Canadians, 217 from Great Britain and Ireland, 16 from other British countries, one hundred and thirty seven from the United States and the balance from other foreign countries. Those under twenty years of age constitute one-eighth of the prison population. The per capita cost of maintenance was: At Kingston, $56.96; St. Vincent de Paul, $52.17; Dorchester, $50.36; Manitoba, $49.99; British Columbia, $45.15. The last two items are lower than for the previous year. During the year 181 paroles were granted to convicts, an increase of 54. The total from all the institutions was 388.

What about the future? In the first place let us have more faith in ourselves, be more optimistic and hopeful, attempt things. If we have a 'back-bone' we will accomplish little. We live in the center of the best country on God's footstool, a country that may not develop millionaires as rapidly as the West, but a country full of happy and prosperous homes. Undeveloped resources lie all around us. Our sons and daughters may roam for a little, but may the principles of patriotism and loyalty taught by their sires be so strong that even in a foreign land they will breathe the words of the poet:

Breathes there a man with soul so dead Who never to himself hath said, 'This is my own native land, Whose heart hath been so surely burned, As home his footsteps he hath turned, From wandering on a foreign strand.'

In conclusion let me thank our worthy Vice-President (so many years young) our indefatigable Sec'y-treasurer, the Council and members who have helped us the past year. I have enjoyed the work and the companionship. From the generous list of nominators before you this evening there will be no difficulty in selecting a first-class executive.

I wish you all a happy and prosperous 1907.

J. D. CHAMBERS.

We hear that a raid somewhat on the Carrie Nation plan recently occurred at Niactaux. There have been complaints of the sort of house being run by Mr. John Ross, formerly of the Middleton Hotel, who now lives at Niactaux. It appears that a number of women living in the vicinity whose husbands or sons have been frequenting the place became exasperated and visited the place in a body. Being refused admission they armed themselves with bottles of wood and stormed the house. We understand that the windows were badly demolished.—Outlook.

It is reported that Capt. Wm. Baxter, will build a steamer in Canning during the coming summer and that two more are in contemplation by him for certain parties. The lumber business has been at such a low ebb during the past and present open winters that shipbuilders will find it difficult to secure proper material."

The second game of the Western Nova Scotia Hockey League series will be played in Evangeline Rink, Wolfville, on Friday evening of next week. In this game Lunenburg and Wolfville will again contest for supremacy, and a fast and interesting game is assured. Our boys are under heavy expense in this matter, and we trust their enterprise will be rewarded by a large attendance of spectators. In addition to the game there will be a fine program of music by the Wolfville band, and skating after the match.

The Weakness of Old Age

As the years go by the blood gets thin, watery and impure, and fails to supply the nourishment required to keep vitality at high water mark. Circulation gets bad, and the nervous system suffers. Besides the pains and aches, besides the weakness and dizziness, there are feelings of numbness which tell of the approach of paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Judging from the experience of the thousands of old people who have tested Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, it seems to be exactly suited to overcome these conditions, consequent on old age.

Unlike ordinary medicines, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is entirely restorative in action, and cures by forming new, firm flesh and tissue, and building up the system. 50 cents a box, at all dealers.

The Grim Reaper.

Mrs. WHITNEY HARRIS.
On Friday morning last, at her home on Gaspeaux avenue, occurred the death of Mrs. Whitney Harris, of this town. The deceased was only ill for a few days, of pneumonia, and the news of her death was heard with surprise and genuine sorrow. Although only a resident of our town a short time, Mrs. Harris made many friends, and will be much missed. She was a native of Annapolis county, a sister of the late B. W. Chipman, secretary for agriculture. After her marriage to Mr. Harris, she resided in Canning, Halifax and for many years in Toronto. They returned to Canning a few years ago, and a little over a year ago came to Wolfville to reside. They are two sons, Clarence, of Toronto, and Lewis G., of Canning, and one daughter, Miss Marie B. Harris, of this town. The funeral took place on Tuesday, having been delayed in order that her son, who has been absent in New York, might be present. He arrived on Tuesday morning. The service was conducted by Rev. I. D. Morse, and the remains were taken to Canning for interment. The bereaved husband and family have the fullest sympathy in their bereavement.

Mrs. LIZIE RYDER.

Citizens were shocked on Sunday to learn of the death of Mrs. Lizzie Ryder, which occurred about 6 o'clock that morning, at the Acadia Villa Hotel. Only a few days before she was on the street in her usual health, and on Wednesday evening had been present at St. Andrew's church to read a report before the annual meeting of the congregation. On Thursday afternoon a severe cold which she had suffered from for several days had made such progress that a doctor was summoned, who pronounced it pneumonia. On Friday the services of a nurse were secured, but the sick lady failed rapidly until at an early hour on Sunday death came. Mrs. Ryder had been a resident of Wolfville for about four years, during which she made many friends. Although never of robust health she had an abundance of energy and was foremost in every good work. She was a consistent and energetic member of St. Andrew's church, and will be much missed from the activities of that organization. She leaves two daughters, who have the sincere sympathy of the community. Her husband, Capt. George N. Ryder, is commander of the steamer Kelvinhark, and recently arrived in Valparaiso on a voyage from a port in New Zealand, and the sad news was sent to him there by cable. The funeral took place on Monday morning, from the home of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Archibald. An appropriate service was conducted by Rev. David Wright, assisted by Rev. L. D. Morse. The remains were taken to Yarmouth for interment, the deceased being a native of that place—a daughter of the late Harvey Spinye.

J. E. HALES & CO.

Mrs. Witney Harris, whose death took place in Wolfville on Friday last, was a former resident of this town. An interesting address in the interests of the Baptist Home Mission Work in Nova Scotia was given in the Baptist church on Sunday evening, the 13th instant, by Rev. I. W. Porter, the travelling secretary of the Board.

The marriage of two Canning young people, Miss Elsie Brady, and Mr. Eugene Eaton, who now has a large dental practice in India, took place in Boston on Jan. 8th.

Over thirty members of Canning Division enjoyed a drive to Cornwallis Division, Lower Canard, on Monday evening, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of that Division. After a joint program of music, readings, recitations and speeches, bountiful refreshments were served by the members of Cornwallis Division. Mr. Sidney Blackmore left on Wednesday on a business trip to St. John.

The News of Acadia College.

"The melancholy days have come, the saddest of the year." Exams. begin on Monday.

L. C. Jost, the track captain, has had the athletes out for track practice twice since the holidays. After the exams, track practice will begin in earnest.

The Junior and Senior English class gave a dramatic presentation of "Romeo and Juliet" in College Hall Tuesday evening. The audience consisted exclusively of college men and ladies. Albeit we are not much on dramatic criticism, yet we venture to say that College Hall has seen better productions.

Several new students are expected after exams. Wise is the man who cometh after that perspiring period. There will be no mock parliament.

Makes the Bread That Makes Us Strong

There's nothing like good homemade bread for children. Made of the right kind of flour—baked right—a loaf of bread contains all the food qualities of wheat, in their most appetizing and digestible form. Spring wheat flour is rich in nutriment—makes wonderfully wholesome bread, but not inviting in appearance. Fall wheat flour lacks nutriment, but makes bread that is white, light and tasteful.

Beaver Flour

is a blend of Manitoba Spring Wheat and Ontario Fall Wheat. It makes the whitest, lightest, most delicious bread, biscuits, cake and pastry—it makes the most nourishing and healthful bread—and it yields MORE bread to the barrel.

Try it—test it—any way you like. Beaver Flour proves its quality, by never disappointing.

ELECTION CARDS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF WOLFVILLE:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have been asked by many ratepayers, representing all classes of profession, business and trade, to allow myself to be nominated for a second term for the office of Mayor.

Personally I should have preferred retiring once again to private life, but if you see fit, to nominate and again elect me to the honorable and responsible position which I now occupy, I will use my best endeavors in the future, as I have in the past, to promote the interests of the town, carefully guarding the expenditure of public monies and endeavor to so arrange matters that the tax rate may be reduced to lowest possible point without impairing the efficiency of the various departments of the town; to see that good business judgment is exercised on all work undertaken by the town officials and to in every way protect the interests of the ratepayers.

Should you re-elect me it is my intention at the first possible moment to present to the new Council a scheme for the betterment of our streets, particularly that portion embracing the business section and to urge upon the Council the adoption, in part at least, of this plan, which, if carried out will make that section referred to equal to any in the Province, and without in any way increasing the rate of taxation to a burdensome degree.

I am,
Yours respectfully,
W. M. BLACK, Mayor.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WOLFVILLE:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—It was my intention not to accept a nomination for any Civic honors, for the coming election, but at the personal request of a large number of citizens, and having been presented with a well signed requisition to represent you as one of your councillors, I cannot but feel that my efforts for the past two years have been appreciated.

If elected to represent you for another term I will use my best endeavors in the interest of our town.

Thanking you for past courtesies, Yours,
J. E. HALES.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF WOLFVILLE:

At the request of a number of my friends I have consented to allow my name to be placed in nomination for Councilor for the ensuing term. It will not be possible to see and ask all of you to support me in case of an election, neither is it at all necessary if you wish me to represent you at the Council Board. If I am elected I shall work for what I shall consider the broadest and best interests of the town.

Yours Respectfully,
A. J. MCKENNA.
