Editorial

Our pulpits are our work clothes—Each of us live some kind of a sermon every day.

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

Those who are contending for the continuance as a factor in our political affairs of that much criticized body known as the Legislative Council rally to their assistance some very amusing arguments. Some of these remind us of an old story with which most of our readers are doubtless familiar. In the old days when a farmer went to mill with his "grist" it was the common practice to tie an article corresponding to the weight of the grain to the mouth of the bag to balance it, and throw the bag over the back of the horse on which the owner rode. One day the suggestion was made by the farmer's son that the contents of the bag be equally divided and do away with the additional and unnecessary weight. The boy's father considered the proposition carefully and replied that while the plan looked feasible his grandfather and father had always done the other way and he guessed it was good enough for him.

The same species of reasoning is about the only argument that is used in defence of the Council, other than that advanced by one of the members that there would be no profit in the change as the members of the lower chamber would add what was saved to their own indemnity. Such sophistry will scarcely appeal to the thinking people of this province, who, as Mr. Way, one of the Labor candidates for Cape Breton, said, are going to do away with the Council even if they have to change the government in order to do so. The time has come for a more business-like manner of carrying on our provincial affairs and the abolition of the Legislative Council will be a step in that direction.

THE PEOPLE'S MONEY

The recent placing of a handsome and costly monument in the Parliament Building at Ottawa naturally interests the people of this country. Unquestionably it cost them considerable money and why should they not be interested? It is a memorial to the first Canadian parliamentarian who lost his life in the Great War, and had the monument been erected and paid for by his fellow members would have been a splendid tribute to their generosity and patriotism in thus perpetuating the memory of their associate.

But why should this particular class have been selected for honor at the public expense? Had the statue represented the first Canadian soldier who gave his life in battle or the Canadian who was first to offer himself to his country in the time of need—and who by strange chance was a native of this town—the undertaking would have been more commendable. We have no desire to detract in any way from the memory of the brave Canadians who engaged in the great struggle his memory deserves all that the country can give, and more too. What we object to is that our representatives in parliament should imagine they possess rights above other classes of our population. The resources of Canada do not belong to our representatives in parliament but to the people of this country, and it is about time that it was so understood.

TOO MUCH DRIFTING

Citizens of Kings county will scarcely welcome with enthusiasm the suggestion that in future taxes must be considerably in excess of what they have been in recent years. The finances of the municipality are said to be in a very bad way, there being a large indebtedness and no funds wherewith to make payment. Such a situation is said to be due to too much leniency on the part of the Municipal Councillors when making up the tax rate. Present conditions are accounted for by others as due to a misappropriation of public funds, and chartered accountants are now at work on the books to ascertain just "where we are at".

Whether due to misappropriation or misapplication or whatever cause, the outlook is by no means reassuring to the taxpayer who has been finding the burden sufficiently heavy. A special meeting of the Council was held at Kentville on Tuesday, the proceedings of which are reported in another column. From this distance it looks to us as if at a time when the utmost care should have been manifest in the conduct of county affairs someone has been asleep at the switch.

ACCOMMODATION FOR TOURISTS

We would draw the attention of readers to the notice referring to the meeting of the Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau and to the fact that inquiries are coming in respecting the possibility of renting cottages and camps throughout the Province during 1924. Those of our readers who have available properties of this character should immediately send in full particulars to the Secretary of the Publicity Bureau, Halifax. It is undoubtedly true that visitors desiring such accommodation comprise a highly desirable class as they are likely to become permanent dwellers and should be met more than half-way in their endeavors to secure satisfactory accommodation. The encouragement of this movement might result in the permanent enlargement of our population by a desirable class of people.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR ADVERTISING PAY

Few merchants really have the proper appreciation of what advertising means to them. A writer in an exchange aptly puts it in this way:

"If a man spoke to his wife only once a month or every two months she wouldn't recognize his voice." Yet some business men advertise once a month or every two months and then wonder why they don't get more business. Advertise every week. Remember "the used key is always bright". The store that tells the public what it is doing every day is the store that gets there in the end.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION

The farmer is about the leading automobile prospect in the world. Although most of them may own cars, they are not acquired as luxuries. The farmer uses his car in his business. It takes the place of a wheel-barrow, when he is taking his bees out for an airing and he can use the horn to awaken the hired man at 3 o'clock in the morning instead of putting the record on the Victrola.

Man is made of dust; and if he doesn't remain dry in this moral age, his name is mud.

YOUR LIFE I TO A GREAT EXTENT WHAT YOUR MAKE IT. SO IS YOUR BUSINESS.

AN OLD MAIL ROUTE AND POST ROAD OF NOVA SCOTIA

The First Road to Falmouth and Horton was at the Head of Avon Estuary known as the Forks

(By E. Lawson Fenerty in Leader) I am under the impression an old route for reaching Falmouth, Horton and beyond, avoiding this dangerous crossing before bridge was built, was by what is termed the back road now, leaving the Windsor road on the left, several miles from the town, crossing the Avon about three miles above Windsor and above where it ceases to be a tidal river at Upper Falmouth near the Forks, thence through to Upper Gaspereaux, over the mountains just back of where Wolfville now is; this would avoid all of the tidal estuaries, the Gaspereaux River, etc.

How old this road is I do not know, I drove through to Wolfville from Windsor over it on a holiday trip about fifty years ago, I was informed then, it had been disused except for local purposes for many years, but was once used by travellers to Cornwallis, it is still barely passable. I drove through to Wolfville by another route last summer, and intended returning that way, but was advised while still passable for heavy teams a good carriage would have a rough experience.

In 1786 a fortnightly mail to Windsor from Halifax by horse and foot was in operation, 1796 this had become a weekly one by horse for the whole distance; this would indicate that by this date the road through for horses had been completed and would justify the establishment of the galloping express of tradition.

Principal Points of Note From Fort Sackville Through Windsor To Annapolis on the Post Road, 1803

The almanac of 1803 is the oldest record of the highways from Halifax with the distance and names of principal points and inns. These should give us a fairly correct idea of what roads were in use on that date, but I do not think we are warranted in assuming that all were fit for vehicles.

By going to the same source for information for following years, a fair idea of the development of the road system should be reached.

A number of roads by this date had been opened, and apparently in regular use, and a certain degree of organization reached, beginning with the Windsor road as the oldest. Fort Sackville, ten miles from the city, is the present Bedford, the fort crowned the hill across the river from the station. The barracks for the lookout party of regulars to arrest deserters is still there, I think.

Wentman's, five miles further on, is the next, but few of the names of that date are known even by tradition, but we can locate by the distances most of them. Some fifty years ago there was a large old house with three chimneys and roof of Colonial days about five miles above Bedford. I am inclined to identify this as Wentman's. This was occupied in later years by a Rev. Mr. Lever, reputed to be a cousin of the novelist, Charles Lever.

Springfield, three miles above Wentman's, has retained that name from the time of the original grantee, William of some members of the family, daughters being the last owner of the family.

Charles Fenerty, of wood pulp fame, was born here, he was also a poet and essayist of more than local reputation, a traveler and keen observer as his "Notes From the Southern Hemisphere" testify as one of the re-exploring expedition to Central Australia many years ago.

Eglinton, three miles beyond, is the Half Way House of coaching days; when these were in their prime it was a scene of bustling activity, now it is almost deserted, except for a solitary farm house and a very fine farm. The surrounding country is of the rugged description.

In those days the farm was merely an incident, the great inn, the houses for the heifers, and the barns and stables, seventeen buildings in all, were for the coach and other travellers. The four and sometimes six teams for all the coaches coming and going, changed here every day.

The road, just before reaching Springfield, runs between two lakes. A man standing there could throw a stone into Springfield lake on his right-hand, whose waters flow into Grand Lake, thence by the Shubenacadie River into the Bay of Fundy; on his left into the Drain Lake, thence by the Sackville River to Bedford Basin, and the Atlantic Ocean.

Pease, four and a half miles from Eglinton, or the half way house, was near the present Mount Uniacie Station. Small's five miles, would be the Lakelands on map of today, six miles further on Montague House is now Newport Corner, Margaret Place, two miles, is now St. Croix, and Windsor six miles brings us to the river.

The ferry to Falmouth is mentioned, but if it was where the present bridges now are, and it must have been, as a hill overlooking the bridges, is still known as the ferry hill, there must have been a very irregular service. From Falmouth the Half Way River is called seven miles beyond, is the Gaspereaux of today, Inglis Farm, thirteen miles further, is a mile beyond Kentville; the inference is that the future, and Kentville were still in the future.

Aylesford boundary, eleven miles from Inglis Farm, and then Clermont, the Bishop of Nova Scotia's country place seven miles beyond. This would be the place where the yellow bell-flour apple was cultivated and introduced into Nova Scotia or at least rendered notable by the Bishop, hence the local name for these fine apples of Bishop Pippin. Three other stopping places are mentioned before reaching Annapolis, 147 miles.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR TOURISTS

A meeting of the Provincial Directors of the Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau will be held in Halifax today to complete the necessary organization and to arrange for a comprehensive public campaign for the season of 1924.

Great interest is being manifested in the formation of the Province in various parts of the Province local bodies are getting together for the purpose of co-operating with the Central Bureau and are also arranging for the proper accommodation and entertainment of summer visitors.

While the greatest number of tourists may be looked for during July and August it is found that as a result of the publicity already given to this Province by the Nova Scotia Tourist Association, and other agencies, inquiries are coming in from parties who are in a position to arrive in Nova Scotia a month or two earlier, could they be assured of the accommodation they desire.

This class of tourist is particularly interested in the rental of cottages, bungalows or camps throughout the country and is composed of persons likely to become summer dwellers. Such are of course, highly desirable visitors.

It is important, therefore, that all parties in the Province who have suitable cottages or bungalows for rental during the summer of 1924 help out the efforts of the Publicity Bureau by sending in immediately full information respecting their properties to the Secretary, Nova Scotia Publicity Bureau, Halifax.

In 1920 the marriages for the calendar year numbered 4,411; for 1921, 3,563, and for 1922, 3,169, says the report on Vital Statistics recently tabled in the Local House, which covers the twelve month period up to Dec. 31, 1922. The decrease in marriages for 1922 is 381, as compared with 1921, says the report. The marriage rate per 1,000 of the population is 6.03 and the rate for the previous year was 6.78.

"The births in the towns," continues the report, "numbered 5,779 as compared with 6,271 in the previous report, a decrease of 492. The births in the country districts numbered 6,914 as again 6,750, an increase of 164."

The births exceeded the deaths by 6,014, a decrease of 587 as compared with the previous year. In Nova Scotia, 15,693 births occurred from Jan. 1, 1922, to Dec. 31, 1922, a decrease of 328 over the previous year.

During the calendar year 6,679 deaths occurred, an increase of 259 compared with the previous year.

THIRD... with the establishment of the... representative points in CANADA... elsewhere.

OTTAWA, the political centre of Canada, and prophetically designated by the late Earl Grey as the possible centre of the British Empire of the future, never dreamed of the brilliant destiny in store for it when the Bank of Montreal established a Branch there 81 years ago.

Canada at that time was in many respects a terra incognita, consisting of half a dozen provinces with differing laws, tariffs and currencies. And Ottawa was only a lively little lumber camp called Bytown.

Today Ottawa is not only the name of a beautiful city, but is also a synonym for the voice of a nation—like Downing Street and the Quai d'Orsay.

The name of the Bank of Montreal, too, has enlarged in significance in the intervening years. It is now recognized as the title of a nationwide institution ranking among the leading banks of the world.

WHY CALIFORNIA APPLES OUT-SELL PROVINCIAL FRUIT

In Spite of Inferior Flavor Imported Goods Preferred By Many Because of Better Grading and Packing

(From the Halifax Herald) There are approximately 400 grocery stores and 100 confectionery stores in Halifax, and all find the demand for apples, especially Nova Scotia apples, very large indeed.

At five cents they are a luxury, yet that is what the best grades cost. All over the world practically, it is admitted that no apples possess the fine flavor of the Nova Scotia product, and if Halifax merchants could purchase them at a more reasonable price they would purchase a great many more than they do now.

The present state of affairs is hard to comprehend. Only 50 miles from Halifax there is one of the finest apple-growing districts in the world. Yet Halifax merchants have to pay practically the same price for them as they do for the best grade of California apples shipped all the way from the Pacific, and accumulating transportation, duty, and middleman costs as they come.

Local retailers complain of the poor packing and poor grading of the Nova Scotia apples and say that they have to stand a considerable loss in the case of the second and third grades, as this year particularly they are bruised and scrubby and rot easily. The majority say that the Nova Scotia apples obtainable here this year are the worst yet, and in some cases the sale for them is very small owing to their unattractive appearance.

It is a matter of general comment that the windows of the majority of Halifax groceries and confectionery stores carry displays of American apples rather than Nova Scotia apples, and a representative of The Herald made inquiries among some of the leading stores to learn the why of this.

"Here is your answer right here," was the reply received at Hopgood & Sons, which enterprising firm carries both American and Nova Scotia apples and the inquirer was shown two boxes of apples, both of the same grade and only ten cents difference in price.

The American apples were of medium size uniform in coloring and unspotted. The Nova Scotia apples were small, badly bruised, and anything but attractive in appearance.

Another Spring Garden Road grocer, who also owns a farm in the Valley, was very emphatic upon the question of apples. "So long as the producers refuse to grade their apples and pack them properly, there will be dissatisfaction," he declared.

"This year they are decidedly not up to the mark, owing to the fact that a number of producers mixed their wind-falls and good apples. You see, the storm blew down a great number of the apples before they had their full coloring and instead of keeping these wind-falls separate they were put in with their picked apples.

The result is that very few of even the better grades are without some bruised apples. Two shipments were turned down in England for this very reason. We handle both American and Nova Scotia apples and would prefer to deal altogether in our own apples, but people judge by appearance and the big American apples take their eye every time, even though they don't taste anything like the Nova Scotia apples. There is no sense in Nova Scotia apples costing so much here. But you see the Americans getting ahead of us in so many things. Take for example the carrots. I was informed on good authority that

United States firms buy up Nova Scotia carrots, split them, clean them and fix them all up nice and sell them back here in Nova Scotia again as cheap as the carrots that have never left the province are sold. Last year we sold 33 tons of carrots at two and a half cents a pound; this year we are paying five cents per pound, wholesale. The people of Nova Scotia will have to change their ways if we are going to prosper. They could do far better by catering to their home market than by exporting particularly when they send away poorly graded apples and thus spoil the market for Nova Scotia fruit.

The views expressed by this merchant, who knows both sides of the story, rang true, particularly in view of the fact that several Bermuda retail merchants complained to a representative of The Herald in November about the Nova Scotia apples shipped down there. One merchant cut open 17 perfectly good looking apples and showed the writer that every one of them was rotten at the core. He had pecks and pecks of them returned because of that reason. As a matter of fact they were too light an apple for the climate, but it was poor business on the part of Nova Scotians to ship that variety of apple.

After hearing numerous complaints about the Nova Scotia apples, it was interesting to hear some boasts, such as that given by Wentzell's Limited, where they carry only the Nova Scotia apples. "We have as fine an apple in stock at the present time as any one could wish for," the writer was informed by a member of the staff. "We maintain that nothing can beat the flavor of the Nova Scotia apples and our patrons agree with us, judging by the number we sell. We are able to get all we want at present and are not even thinking of the American apples."

"We don't handle anything but Nova Scotia apples," the writer was informed upon inquiring at M. B. Fineberg's store, Quinpool Road. "We find them the very best seller. Of course, if the price were less we could sell more."

W. A. Smith, the Brunswick street grocer, says that he sells nothing but Nova Scotia apples and finds them better than ever this year. He would like to see more reasonable prices, though.

"The prices for Nova Scotia apples are outrageous when you consider that apples can be shipped all the way to a New York brokerage firm and then bought in Halifax at a smaller price than native apples. If the cost of transportation and brokerage profits can be covered and apples still sold at a reasonable price, why should not apples grown right in Nova Scotia cost very much less?

There is no doubt that the Nova Scotia apples have the American apples far surpassed in flavor, but in size, color, appearance, grading and packing, the American product is way ahead of the apples which we purchase in Nova Scotia." This was the response to a query upon the apple question made at Cahill's grocery, Sackville street.

They carry both Nova Scotian and American apples but find the demand for the American apple greater than that for the native product, the main reason being that the Nova Scotia apples had cooking apples which were of good color but not suitable for table use, so far as the flavor was concerned. Asked why the grocery stores could afford to carry both American and Nova Scotia apples, while confectionery stores seemed to specialize in the fancy American product, the manager explained that in a grocery store they could buy Nova Scotia apples by the barrel and pick out the best apples to sell in small lots, saving the poor variety to sell by the peck as cooking apples. The confectioners, on the other hand, found the poorer grade apples a dead loss on their hands. In speaking of the purchase price of apples, the manager explained that he could get a box of fancy packed Nova Scotia for $3.50, while he could get the American variety for $2.25.

The grocery store of R. N. MacDonald's, Argyle street, carries the Nova Scotia apples and they say that they find it very satisfactory. It is cheaper than the American variety and taste better. As to the fact that they don't get them any cheaper here than they can be bought elsewhere, the same is true in other places. People in California can't get their oranges any cheaper than we get them here. The best grades are exported, the same as is done with the Nova Scotia apples.

A. L. Doyle and Co., Sackville street, carry "Nova Scotia apples entirely," the inquirer was informed, the reason being given that "they have the finest flavor in the world."

"The soil of Annapolis and Kings county can give a flavor to the apple that cannot be reproduced," said Mr. Doyle. "If the trees are transplanted elsewhere the apples lose their flavor and the trees depreciate. But it seems a shame that the apples are not packed better and in more attractive way. Providence has given us a superior article but we do not do it justice to this respect. It is not right that we should import an inferior article several thousand miles and have it sell at the same price here. There does not seem to be the same anxiety to do business here that characterizes the people of British Columbia, for instance, who have paid the greatest attention to careful grading and packing." Mr. Doyle has an apple orchard in the Valley and has given study to the subject.

The consensus of opinion in every case seemed to be that the Nova Scotia apple was not getting a square deal and that action was necessary.

What Will You Put in the Pot? When you drink tea every cup should be a delicious refreshment—a distinct pleasure. But this demands good tea in the pot. You cannot possibly get satisfactory results from inferior tea. Now consider the small cost of a cup of King Cole Tea—a mere fraction of a cent. Surprising isn't it? But its secret is in the rich liquoring King Cole blend which yields so generously in the number of cups to the pound. It makes King Cole the truly cheap tea. From whichever point you view it—economy—quality—or the wise combination of both, King Cole Tea claims your preference. "You'll Like the Flavor."

Give Us a Hearing Find out what the world's largest quality car producer has to offer before deciding on any fine car WE seek the favor of a comparison—ask that you look at a Studebaker before buying a rival car. We'll rest our case on what you find. We are producers of quality cars on a quantity basis. We use the finest materials that money can buy. Our labor is the cream of the industry. We work in $50,000,000 plants—75% built since the war—which house the finest precision machinery the world affords. By producing in great quantity, we cut manufacturing costs. Under ordinary manufacturing conditions Studebakers could not be sold within 25% more to twice their price. All Studebaker models are Timken-equipped. Our Light-Six has more Timken bearings than any other car selling within $1,500 of its price. We are one of the very few builders, either in Europe or America, using crankshafts machined on all surfaces. It costs us $600,000 a year to give you this. But it results in that smoothness of operation, that lack of vibration which characterizes only the most expensive cars. We pay 15% more for many alloys to insure better than "commercial run" used in many cars at twice the price of Studebaker. We subject Studebaker cars to 30,000 inspections. That requires 1,200 men. KINGS COUNTY HAS BIG DEFICIT

a committee presented at a special meeting of the Municipal Council today. In view of the fact that the county auditors have certified to the existence of a substantial surplus from year to year, this announcement is especially disconcerting.

Shortly after the January session of the Council it was found there were insufficient funds to meet current expenses, the most important item being a dishonored draft for $25,000 payable to the Provincial Highway Board. A special meeting of the Council held on Feb. 5th arranged for an audit of the accounts by the Price, Waterhouse Co. and appointed a special committee to supervise the investigation.

Although the new auditors have not completed their work, several serious and significant facts are in evidence. It appears that expenditures have greatly exceeded the estimates presented to the Council by the County Clerk and the Finance Committee and that the deficit for the year 1923 alone amounts to over $19,000. Incomplete book-keeping has led to such a chaotic condition of the accounts that the audit is more in the nature of detective work than scientific accounting. Something like political fireworks developed at the Council session today when discussion centered on two issues. The first was the responsibility for bad management and the second to devise ways and means for meeting the deficit. Although theoretical party politics is not supposed to exist in municipal affairs it is well known that the Kings County Council has been under Liberal control for a number of years. The result of administration has been so effective that in numerous cases Conservative councillors have been denied the right to appoint officers for their own Wards.

At the opening of the session today Councillor G. L. Bishop asserted that an effort had been made to place the blame for the present financial position on the whole Council but that he personally resented the charge of individual responsibility. He charged that we had partizan government in the County affairs which used its power to party ends and that the responsibility for the appointment of incompetent officials and the resultant difficulty must be placed at its door. Each councillor it was true had access to the public accounts but he could not be expected to give time and detailed effort to a service for which the County had paid officials. The auditors had reported the accounts correct from year to year and he felt that he had been reasonably justified in accepting their assurance.

Councillors C. R. Bill and W. L. Nichols charged the Finance Committee with direct responsibility. The by-laws expressly defined their duty not only to prepare estimates but to supervise expenditure as well. The committee moreover was wholly partizan and not a single Conservative had been appointed on it even under protest. Councillor Nichols suggested that the best way to determine the question of responsibility was for each councillor to resign his seat and let the ratepayers decide the matter. The idea apparently did not suit the powers that be as the challenge met with no response. The charges of partizanship were hotly denied and drew sharp counter charges. County Solicitor J. F. Outbit at first said that he knew of no politics in the Council but was at last obliged to admit that "it sometimes worked out that way."

The Council at last got down to ways and means and adopted a resolution authorizing a serial bond issue not to exceed $60,000 for the purpose of paying outstanding obligations and the payment of the bonds to be extended over a period of ten years beginning in 1928. Estimates of taxation to the amount of $109,840 were adopted for the year 1924, an increase of $16,000 over the previous year.

Four names were placed in nomination for the office of County Clerk left vacant by the late C. L. Dodge. The nominations were: Burpee E. Bishop, Kentville; R. S. Kinaman, Medford; H. R. Morse, Kentville and J. Howe Cox, Cambridge. J. Howe Cox was elected by ballot and is to receive an increase of $300 in salary over that paid to his predecessor. It is interesting to note that Mr. Cox is President of the Kings County Liberal Association which will, no doubt, be accepted as additional evidence that there is no politics in the municipal affairs of Kings County.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

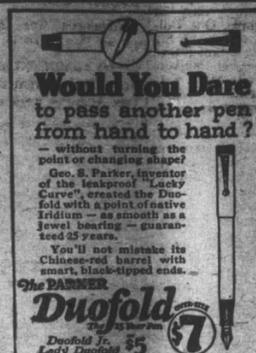

The February meeting of the Wolfville W. C. T. U., held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Vaughan, was in the nature of a "Frances Willard Memorial Service."

In the absence of the President, Mrs. Ernest Robinson, the 1st Vice-President, Mrs. W. O. Taylor, presided. There was a good attendance of officers and members. After the usual transaction of business, the following programme, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, was given: Questions and answers on the life of Miss Willard—by members of Union; A sketch of her life work by Mrs. E. Redden; and a Poem on the death of Miss Willard—read by Mrs. Taylor.

Resolutions passed at this meeting were: That the Union send a request to the Town Council urging their renewed efforts for the suppression of the liquor traffic in our Town. That we with other Unions of the Province support the Social Service Council of Nova Scotia, in their request to the Premier and Government to abolish the Export Houses doing business in Halifax.

INCOME TAXES MAY BE CUT

OTTAWA, March 14.—Rumors current that the budget is to be brought down in about three weeks have led to an inference in certain quarters that the Government intends to reduce income taxes. The inference is founded on the idea that the budget is being brought forward early so that any changes made in the income tax may come into effect before April 30 next when the first payment of income taxes for the present year is due.

The annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association will be held at Toronto on June 5th, 6th and 7th.

The former Methodist Parsonage, located on Gasper Avenue, has been sold to the Foreign Mission Board of the United Baptist convention, to be used as a home for missionaries and their families.

For a number of years returned missionaries home on furlough, have felt the need of a house fitted to their needs.

It cannot be too frequently impressed upon housekeepers that when brewing a pot of MORSE'S Tea, they should never use stale water; that the best tea can only be made with fresh water that has just come to the boil.

Do not be fooled into thinking that when water steams, it is boiling; never mind the steam, look for the bubbles.

The girls of the St. Andrew's United church (Mr. Tappin's Class) met at the home of the Misses Hilda and Lilah Smith on Friday night last where a very enjoyable evening was spent.

During the first hour the business of the class was discussed and a new name was given to the class, after which games were played and dainty refreshments served.

The Prince of Wales, only recently recovered from a broken collar-bone sustained in a fall from a horse, had another accident Saturday while riding in the army point-to-point steeplechase events at Arbor Field Cross.

His injuries were found to be not serious and after a time he was sufficiently recovered to return to London by motor car.

The Nova Scotia Veterinary Society, composed of twenty-three members, is seeking legislation to enable them the free use of intoxicants in their practice.

Such a proposition presents a gloomy outlook for public safety. Drunken car-drivers are certainly a sufficient menace without the additional danger of drunken horses.

It looks as though the people of Nova Scotia will have to abolish the whole outfit at Halifax in self defence.

The Berwick town council has appointed as their solicitor a former Wolfville man, Mr. A. L. Davidson, barrister of Middleton.

Mr. Davidson is a graduate of Acadia University of the class of 1897, has been solicitor for his home town of Middleton since the incorporation of that place, and is well versed in municipal affairs.

Our sister town so far is displaying very good judgment in the carrying on of its affairs which indicates that its government is in good hands.

Mr. S. C. Parker, who was the first Mayor, was re-elected to that position at the recent election.

On Wednesday evening of last week a missionary pageant was put on in the Baptist church in place of the regular mid-week service representing the early history of missionary endeavor among the Telugus of India by two Canadian Baptist Societies.

A very effective and instructive programme was offered, consisting of scenes from Hindu life, with the girls and women in native costume, illustrating the uplift work in medical and other departments of missionary service.

The returned missionaries taking part were Miss Lillian Bishop, Mrs. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Tedford and Dr. Corey.

The ACADIAN has received from Dr. George E. Dewitt, who with Mrs. DeWitt and Miss Kathleen, is spending the winter at Daytona, Fla., a copy of the Sunday edition of the Morning Journal of that city.

It contains thirty pages and furnishes an interesting index of the commercial life of the section which it represents. Florida people are certainly not slow in presenting the attractive features of their country through the medium of publicity.

One item in the paper which particularly interested us was a report of a meeting of the Daytona Canadian Club, of which our townsman has the honor of being president.

Ernest Reiden, who was elected secretary-treasurer at the previous meeting, resigned, and on his resignation, A. G. Guest, was voted his successor. NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING "Diogenes" in the Saturday Review, Victoria, has this to say on the subject of newspaper advertising that every business man who wishes to succeed should read and ponder: "The first privilege of a newspaper is to afford the whole community the widest possible opening for publicity at the lowest rates, consistent with sound business. Liberal, but discriminating advertising is the sure foundation of any paper, and I venture to think there can be no better place for an advertisement than the pages of a newspaper, where it is accessible to all and offensive to none. "The ad is as its record shows. The Queen of all inventions. By it the smallest business grows When one of us on it bestows Our business-like attentions."

This announcement was recently made by the provincial minister of lands and it is a remarkable index of the rapid expansion of the lumber industry in British Columbia.

Under a scheme inaugurated by the Provincial Government it is announced that British Columbia will advance loans up to $3000 a family to settlers from the Hebrides, on condition that the British Government advance a like amount. In view of the present depression in the Hebrides, it is expected that the British Government will co-operate.

Keen interest in all Canadian manufactures and especially in mineral products, wood pulp, textiles, leather and rubber goods, heavy machinery and farm machinery is manifested by France and Belgium, according to H. The exterior of the great Canadian pavilion at Wembley has now been completed, and the interior decorators are busily finishing the building, according to H. E. That Canada's culture has nothing to fear from the promised flow of immigration from continental Europe was the message recently delivered by J. Of all the Scandinavian races contributing to the Canadian population, Mr. Gibbon considers the Icelanders to have the highest literary mentality.

The aggregate value of all field crops in Canada in 1923, was $891,755,200, according to a report of the Bureau of Statistics, a decrease of $70,538,000 from 1922, caused mainly by the lower prices applicable practically to every crop. LEGAL POINTERS

Rocks to Avoid When Steering a Business Course

If a building upon a property is a substantial part of the purchase and is destroyed by fire before the day the purchaser is to take the title, the contract is at an end unless it is otherwise agreed.
Interest may be charged on claims from the time they become due, which if not specified dates from the time statement is rendered or from the date payment is demanded.
Consent of the Insurance Company should be obtained to leave a dwelling house vacant and to make any substantial alterations in the property.
The object of recording a deed is to preserve the evidence of it and to give notice to all persons who thereafter desire to deal with the property.
Each individual in a partnership is responsible for the whole amount of the debts of the firm except in cases of special partnership.
Be sure to get a deposit (no matter how small) from any prospective purchaser, as any deposit will, in most cases insure a sale.
The abbreviation "Inc." following a business name, indicates that a company doing business under that name is incorporated.
The word "limited" in connection with a firm name indicates that a limitation of responsibility for each member is fixed.
An agent renting property should give receipt for deposit, subject to references and owner's approval.

HOW TO WRITE BUSINESS LETTERS

"The following rules, adopted by discerning business letter writers," says the Journal of Commerce, "should be memorized by all who have such letters to write. It will insure business letters that will stand the test."
Carefully avoid such words and stock phrases as:
"Beg to say."
"Beg to acknowledge."
"Beg to inquire."
"Beg to enclose," etc.
Don't "beg" at all.
Don't "reply" to a letter. "Answer" it. You "answer" a letter and "reply" to an argument.
Don't write "would say" or "will say" just go ahead and say it.
Don't say "enclosed herewith"—"herewith" is superfluous.
Don't say "kindly" for "please."
Don't say "the same" in regard to same" or "trusting the same", etc.
Don't say "we beg to acknowledge receipt," we acknowledge is sufficient.
Don't write "your favor of"—but say "your letter of"; a letter is not a always a favor.
Don't say "by return mail". This was customary in the days of slow transportation. It should now be obsolete. You should never think of saying "came duly to hand". "Thanking you in advance", etc. Why make letters commonplace by their use?
Carefully avoid appearance of sarcasm.
Be brief—by which is meant the discarding of unnecessary words and phrases. Brevity is not always a synonym for shortness; where there is much to say, it will take a longer letter to say it, but after you have said all that is to be said in a plain, direct and simple manner—stop.
Don't use a long, big word where a short one will do just as well or better. A business letter is no place for "rhetorical pyrotechnics".
Remember, a correct letter at all times represents conversation at a distance, so just pretend you are speaking instead of writing.
Remember your friends on their birthday by sending them one of our pretty Birthday Cards or Booklets. The Acadian Store.

THOSE CATALOGS

Trail (B. C.) News: "They are here! And their number while not quite so numerous as in days gone by, yet they are here to the tune of nearly 1,000. We are speaking of a certain firm's big catalogue—the firm that is spending over $1,200 per year in Trail in advertising. This gigantic concern lays aside 4 per cent. of its gross receipts for advertising and finds it a profitable investment.
Over 900 catalogs from this house arrived in Trail this week by freight. They were delivered to the local post office, where 7 cents in stamps were placed on each one. Those addressed to persons who have departed for other places will be returned with added postage.
From our knowledge of printing, we would estimate the cost of these books at 70 or 80 cents each, and with two catalogs a year, the amount of money being spent in Trail by this company would probably aggregate at least $100 per month—three times as much as any single local merchant spends.
We are not mentioning these facts in a spirit of criticism, but as indicative of the difference of methods. This mail order concern will probably receive from 25 to 40 orders each day for the next three or four months on the strength of its advertising. It is playing the game on a business basis. Advertising is its life's blood and as surely as the seasons come and go, just as surely will "the bibles" make their appearance. Big concerns lay out a certain line of action and are not deflected if "things are a little dull" or "collections are poor", or the other little things that are the natural heritage of the average merchant. Big concerns work on the reverse of these sentiments. When "things are slack" is the very time they make their hardest efforts to increase their sales, and as they sell for cash they are not concerned about collections being slow.
If local merchants would spend 1 per cent. of their gross sales on advertising and back up their advertising with good service, the mail order houses would cease to be a menace. But too many of them seem to look upon money spent on advertising as so much money thrown away. They fail to grasp the reason why some men fail while others prosper. And, on the other hand, all advertising is not profitable. Goods must not only be properly described, but they must bear prices. An eulogistic description of a shiny summer dress is valueless unless the reader is apprised of its price, yet many stores will advertise "20 per cent. discount", which, to the average reader carries no message at all. Short descriptions with the prices is the mail order way of getting business and it will get business in Trail as well as any other place.
The stores in Trail are a credit to the community. They are well conducted. The sales people are courteous and their prices are as low as good business with a fair profit justifies, and if those who receive the big mail order catalogs will investigate the quality of goods and then compare prices after comparing the goods less money would go away from home.

RECRUITS FOR RUM FLEET DE- PLETE FISHING CREWS

LUNenburg, March 11.—A large number of Newfoundlanders have arrived to man Lunenburg fishing vessels, as local skippers find it hard to get crews, not because there is any lack of men, but chiefly on account of the rum running fleet. Many of those who have been in them say when they are approached: "We do not think we will go fishing this year. We think we will go rum running." And of course, the fishing skippers do not want to wait until the last and then get no crews; if this sort of thing continues, it looks as if the industry is to go on at all—as if the human side will have to be furnished by strangers.
YOU CANNOT JUDGE BY APPEAR- ANCE
It is impossible to tell the quality of tea by the appearance of the leaf. A rough, coarse, unevenly rolled tea may taste much better in the cup than a closely-spelled, well-tipped tea that appears much finer. The only way to be sure of getting tea of reliable quality is to buy a guaranteed blend like "SAL- ADA", whose goodness and purity have been proved by time.

- THAT it is the way to save money.
- THAT everybody should know of your home town's business advantages.
- THAT your town is an acknowledged leader in your section for certain lines of business.
- THAT it is a good plan to think before you speak.
- THAT some men often speak before they think.
- THAT it often causes much grief.
- THAT if you think more about Wolfville and study its advantages, you can be a better community booster.
- THAT there are two sides of human nature, optimistic and pessimistic. THERE SHOULD BE ONLY ONE SIDE IN WOLFVILLE.
- THAT some citizens would rather knock their own home town than to boost it. PUBLIC OPINION should make this class of citizen hard to find.
- THAT communities get reputations the same as men.
- THAT Wolfville should have the best of reputations.
- THAT optimism and common sense should be mingled in good proportion.
- THAT if you do this, you will find it easier to think, to speak and to act in a way that will help to make yours a better and bigger community.
- THAT pernicious propoganda in business circles should cease. Now is the time for the trouble monger, the fellow who has done his best to keep things down, to shut up and do some thinking.

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

Messrs. L. N. Cogswell and D. S. Collins made a business trip to Halifax on Wednesday.

Several of the neighbours of Mrs. C. S. West called on Wednesday to offer their congratulations on her 82nd birthday.

Mr. Edson Coldwell had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last week. He had refused $250.00 for it. It broke its leg.

Mrs. Silas Gates spent the week end with her sister Mrs. Meister, at Greenwood, Kings Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Justen Gates left on Tuesday for Boston, in route for Portsmouth, Va., where Mrs. Gates will visit her sister Mrs. Maurice Beals who is very ill. During their absence Misses Florence and Patricia will be the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Angus, at Wolfville.

The "Cornwallis" Division at Canard has accepted an invitation to be the guests of the "Lily of Valley" on Monday evening next.

Miss Laura Hanson left on Tuesday for Amherst to make arrangements for her mother moving there at an early date. Miss Hanson, who has been employed with the Geo. Chase dry goods Co. for the past seven years and has been extremely popular in the business, leaves April 1st to fill a responsible business position at Coburg, Ont.

Mrs. D. S. Collins is visiting friends at Sydney, C. B.

Mrs. Otis Jess had the misfortune to fall last week breaking her arm in three places. Dr. Elliott is in attendance.

The "Loyal Workers" social was a success, over $40.00 being added to their class funds. The "Bachelors Revue" was the hit of the evening.

A number from here attended the funeral of the late Miss Annie Hibbert, who for a number of years was a resident of the place.

The Hibbert family moved from Yarmouth to Belcher Street, to the farm now owned by Mrs. Belle Harris, in 1894. Later Capt. Hibbert built the house now owned by N. Couletan, where they lived till after Mrs. Hibbert's death in 1916, when Miss Annie removed to Haverhill, Mass.

The funeral service was held in Presbyterian Church, Wolfville, conducted by Rev. D. B. Hemmison. K. T. Hibbert and wife of Halifax, and G. H. Hibbert and wife of Marlboro, Mass., attended the funeral. The pall bearers were Messrs. G. A. Chase, N. Couletan, M. K. Ellis, and F. Vaughan. Interment at Willow Bank Cemetery.

OLDER BOYS MEET AT BERWICK

Hants, Kings and Annapolis Represented in Conference

The Older Boys' Conference for the Counties of Hants, Kings and Annapolis was held at Berwick, in the United Church, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The attendance was large and the interest keen. Of the 71 boys enrolled, Kings county led with 32, Hants followed with 30, and Annapolis 9; and a finer or more manly group would be hard to find. Revs. Waldo C. Machum, of Fredericton, and F. E. Barrett, of Windsor, both specialists in boys' work, directed the conference.

Mr. Machum struck a high note in his opening address Friday evening, "The Investment of Life", an address in every way worthy of the occasion, and one that gripped the boys and held their closest attention.

After the organization of the conference the election of officers, always an interesting event, took place. The newly elected officers are: Grand Preter, John R. Scott, St. Croix; Deputy Grand Preter, Charles Brushett, Windsor; Grand Scriptor, Lloyd Jess, Port Williams. Following Mr. Machum's address the conference adjourned for the organization of Tuxis Squares of which four were formed. Their leaders are: Revs. P. R. Hayden, Berwick; A. N. Gillis, Waterville; A. R. Reynolds, Berwick; A. A. McLeod, Kingston.

Saturday morning the conference opened with an address by Mr. Machum, "Bible Study for Boys", after which the conference divided into two groups, one being addressed by Rev. F. E. Barrett, the other by Rev. W. C. Machum. After a period of physical drill the conference separated into the squares as formed the previous night.

On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Barrett spoke on "The Boy and the Missionary Enterprise". Ordinarily the subject of missions is not one that is the most attractive, and is rather difficult to present to a group of boys, but Mr. Barrett handled the subject in a way that held their interest and attention from start to finish. He emphasized not only the spiritual, but also the moral and economic significance of missions.

Mr. Machum led a live discussion on "Mid-week Activities" in which a good number of the boys took part. At the close of the afternoon session Mr. Barrett led in a period of physical drill, games, contests, etc.

One of the big features of these conferences is the banquet that is invariably held in connection with them. This feature was very much to the fore in the Berwick Conference. It took place on Saturday evening, in the big vestry of the Baptist Church, and it was a "feed" to appeal to the appetite of a healthy boy. While there was no orchestra to furnish music for the occasion, sounds of revelry were not entirely lacking. The Conference was divided into four Tuxis squares, and each square had its own yell, which it was entirely willing to give, even when two or three other squares were energetically engaged in the same performance.

The banquet, and the programme following it, was quite informal; just a free and easy period of relaxation and fun, including a sing-song led by Mr. Barrett. When this was over Mr. Ma-chum acted as toastmaster, the following toast list: The King, National Anthem; Canada, proposed by Walter Brown, responded to by Lester Andrews; our Homes, Herbert Johnson; Rev. A. R. Reynolds; The Church and Sunday School, Irving Gates; Rev. A. H. Saunders; The School, Charles Brushett; Miss A. L. Roney; Principal Berwick High School; The C. G. I. T. J. Lloyd Jess; Miss Iva McKenzie; Our Hostess, Ralph Cassidy; Mrs. R. S. Mrs. R. S. Spicer; Goodnight talk, Rev. G. S. R. Ayling.

On Sunday morning Mr. Barrett, and Mr. Machum were the preachers in the Baptist and United churches respectively, the boys attending the services with the friends at whose homes they were entertained. At 3.45 they assembled in conference for a service of worship; and listened to a most inspiring address, "The High Way or the Low", by Mr. Machum.

By far the finest and most impressive session of the whole Conference, was the closing one on Sunday evening. It was held in the Baptist church at the regular public worship hour, and was a united service of all the churches in town. The large auditorium of the church was crowded to the floor. A choir of some thirty Tuxis boys furnished excellent music. The Grand Preter, J. R. Scott, presided over the meeting and gave a brief address. The Grand Scriptor, J. L. Jess, read the minutes of all the sessions. They told in a most interesting way the whole story of the Conference. The Deputy Grand Preter, Chas. Brushett, gave the report of registration, and Alfred Jones, Fred Barrett, Jr., Maurice Mack and Mason Cogswell, reported the resolutions of their respective squares.

The honor of being the "topnotch" square of the Conference was won by the "Broadcasters", and the red badges, which are the award of this achievement, were presented by Rev. P. R. Hayden, Irving Gates was the preter, and Rev. A. R. Reynolds the mentor of this square.

Mason Cogswell sang a solo, after which brief addresses were given by Revs. A. R. Reynolds, E. F. Barrett, and Waldo C. Machum. The session closed with the unique and impressive Tuxis' losing ceremony.

WHEN THE HORSE WAS SIXTEEN INCHES HIGH

How would you like to own a horse sixteen inches high? It would surely make a nice pet. One might hitch a pair to a child's doll wagon.

Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn, who knows more about the subject than anybody else, says that the four-foot horses that roamed this continent 2,000,000 years ago were of about that size. They grazed in herds which doubled upon their feetness of foot to elude their enemies.

They were delicately built creatures, their limbs as slender as pencils. Speaking within definite accuracy, they had four toes on each forefoot and three toes on each hind foot. Each of these fourteen toes terminated in a little hoof. It is possible to speak, thus definitely about the early races of prehistoric horses because their skeletons have been plentifully found in the Badlands and other localities where they are so distributed through rocky strata of successive geologic formations as to tell their own story, as one might read it in a book.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF HANTSPORT AND VICINITY

Here and There

The Canadian Pacific coastwise steamer "Ena" has carried from the seven plants operating on Barclay Sound over 12,000 tons of salt herring since the present season opened in November. This represents almost half the season's output, which will approximate 26,000 tons.

The heaviest immigration to Canada experienced during the last ten years is looked for this year. Already the arrivals are running ahead of those for the same months in 1923, those from European countries being especially large. The enquiries from prospective settlers in the United States are numerous.

Canada exported 6,532 pairs of leather footwear during January, 1924, according to a report of the Bureau of Statistics. Of these 2,179 went to the United States, 2,038 to New Zealand and 2,051 to China and Japan, Bermuda, the Straits Settlements and Newfoundland took the rest. The value was $21,801.

Canadians imported 5,326,587 pounds of tea last month, or about three-fifths of a pound per head of population. The value of last month's tea imports was $1,661,176, and for the twelve months ending January 31, the value of the 49,223,119 pounds imported into Canada was $13,253,642. The bulk of it came from India.

Special trains of immigrants have recently carried lunch counter cars similar to those used on the harvesters' trains last summer. It is understood that the Canadian Pacific have inaugurated this as a feature of all long distance immigrant trains, thus doing away with the necessity of the newcomers providing their own food or using station lunch counters en route.

The completion of plans for the development of hydro-electric power during the current year will add 900,000 h.p., to the present total of 3,228,000 h.p., already installed in Canada. This additional power will be used in British Columbia to assist mining and pulp industries in Manitoba to supply rural needs, and in Ontario for gold-mining and other industries. In Quebec the chief developments are in connection with the pulp and paper industries, and farther east in the Maritime Provinces, for public utility purposes.

There is every indication that the death of the domestic servant in Canada will be greatly relieved in the course of the ensuing few months. Miss Esther Mackie, head of the Woman's branch, Colonization department, Canadian Pacific Railway, London, announces that "Specially conducted parties of domestic servants are being organized under the Empire Settlement Act in conjunction with the Canadian Government for the conveyance to Montreal and to Western Canada."

One of the most attractive features of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition, Wembley, will be the illuminated exterior panels, and the Neon lighting effect, similar to that used at the Coliseum, London, which is wonderfully penetrating and effective under all atmospheric conditions. The interior of the building displays, through working models and magnificent oil and water color paintings, the many ramifications of the great transportation system as well as the natural resources of this country.

According to E. N. Todd, freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway the year 1924 will be a banner one as regards foreign capital coming into the country. "During the year 1923 a number of silk manufacturers from England and the United States decided to locate in Canada, and from present indications this particular movement is only in its infancy. At the present time our industrial department is in correspondence with a very large number of manufacturers who are seriously considering locating in Canada."

THE NEW BROTHERHOOD

We are sifting out the selfishness that marred our olden creeds. From the vicarages where we labor we are thinking out the weds. We are building for the future to a nobler, better plan. For a world has caught the vision of the brotherhood of men.

We have put the past behind us, as the sturdy pioneers of the past. Saw wit in the tangled forest all the glory of the years. So we face our trials calmly, for beyond them we can see the greater goals of freedom, and the world that is to be. These are days of self denial, these are times for sacrifice. It is freedom we are gaining, and each one must pay the price. We are drawing close together with a common end in view. For the greater joys we dream of, we've a common task to do. We are sifting out the selfishness that marred us in the past. For the light of truth is shining through the clouds of doubt at last. We are building for the future to a larger, better plan. For all eyes have caught the vision of the brotherhood of man. —Edgar A. Guest.

HANTSPORT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

There was an unusually large attendance at the regular monthly business meeting of the local Women's Institute on Friday afternoon, which was held at the home of Mrs. Asaph Newcombe. The Vice President, Mrs. (Dr.) Dickie, presided. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. The officers and different committees gave favourable reports. The treasurer reported settling account of $50. with Dr. A. J. McLellan for materials for dental clinic for the Hantsport Schools. A large number of communications were read and discussed. The advisability of having a short course in Home Economics and Home Nursing, was discussed, but as there seemed no available place to hold it at the present time it was moved and seconded that it be postponed. A committee was appointed to interview Dr. H. G. Mellick, to ascertain if convenient to give his illustrated lecture on April 7th. A communication was read from Mrs. E. A. Blackburn, thanking the organization for her aid and kindness shown at the time of her sad bereavement. As this was the Spring meeting a number of readings suggestive of Spring were given.

The Institute have adopted the beautiful Women's Creed for Institutes, which is as follows:

"Keep us O God, from pettiness, let us large be in thought, in order, in deed."

"Let us be done with fault-finding, and leave off self-seeking."

"May we put away pretence, and meet each other face to face without self-pity and without prejudice."

"May we never be hasty in judgement, and always generous."

"Let us take time for all things, make us to grow calm, serene, gentle."

"Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straight forward and unafraid."

Grant we may realize that it is the little things that create differences; that it is the big things of life we are one. And may we strive to touch and to know the great common woman's heart of us all! and O, Lord God, let us not forget to be kind."

DIARY OF MARGARET DICKIE

CANADA PREPARES FOR IMMIGRATIONS

All indications point to a big increase in immigration into Canada in the present year and the Department of Immigration at Ottawa is making ready to meet the influx which may be augmented by the transfers of big ships from New York to the Halifax, Quebec and Montreal ports, such as the Cunard lines, and the Italian lines. Two recent appointments include that of Mr. A. L. Jolliffe (right) to be Commissioner of Immigration for Canada, with headquarters at Montreal, being transferred from Vancouver, where for the past five years he has been Commissioner of Immigration and Controller of Chinese Immigration. Mr. W. R. Little (left) has been appointed Director of European Immigration for Canada, with headquarters in London, England. He has been Commissioner of Immigration for the Eastern District in Canada.

day. It has rained all day. Mary ate breakfast with us this morning. Mercy and Emily Ann came in. I was churning, the butter was a long time coming. William Barker was here to dinner. John Taylor brought Hibbard a quarter of beef. Enoch Marsters arrived home last night and called in here a while. I went over to Mrs. Mansons this afternoon. Capt. Michener is here talking about a new road. (The Joseph Hart) came in today. This morning I saw Chipman and Girden take Mr. and Mrs. Churchill by home. They had just come home from New York in the (Hantsport) the (Wanderer) having taken a freight to Halifax. I saw Capt. Whitman go home this morning. Sarah will be quite happily surprised.

Dec. 3rd.—The men are as plenty today as in the summer and are passing in all directions. Enoch Marsters was in this afternoon. Hibbard was over at Mr. Harris's. That is a general gathering place, and telling old yarns. Olive and Mary Jane will be disappointed in the vessel not coming home. Hibbard heard today that his brother had shipped as mate of an American brig to go away for the winter. What travelers the men about here are on the seas. It is a fortnight today since I came here, it does not seem that long. Dec. 4th. It was daylight this morning when we arose and found it had been raining. It has been very windy all day. Mr. Churchill was in this forenoon, also Capt. Girden Davidson and Beckwith. This afternoon James brought a place to hold it at the present time it was moved and seconded that it be postponed. A committee was appointed to interview Dr. H. G. Mellick, to ascertain if convenient to give his illustrated lecture on April 7th. A communication was read from Mrs. E. A. AN EARLY HANTSPORT VESSEL

According to the best information that the Hantsport ACADIAN has been able to secure the first vessel built here by the late Ezra Churchill, founder of the shipbuilding firm of E. Churchill & Sons, was a ship of 70 tons register which he named the "Anne Eliza" for his wife. Our informant reports a story which he heard Mr. Churchill tell of one of the trips made by this vessel and which the owner declared to be one of the most profitable in his experience. Following are the details: From Cow Bay to the West Indies with a cargo of coal; from a point in the West Indies to London with sugar; from London to Halifax, with general cargo—and all in less than three months. The cargo of coal comprised 1400 tons and was discharged in twenty-four hours, being "jumped out" by the crew without extra cost to the consignees. The "Anne Eliza" on this trip was commanded by Capt. Chipman Davidson, one of Hantsport's best known and most successful ship-masters.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY ADDRESS-ED BY FORMER RESIDENT

On Tuesday afternoon the Missionary Society of the Anglican Church entertained the officers of the different Missionary Societies of the town, at the home of the Secretary, Mrs. C. S. Chesley. Mrs. Howcroft, wife of Archdeacon Howcroft, and Vice President of the Diocesan Missionary Board of the Diocese of Edmonton, was guest of honour. During the afternoon Mrs. Howcroft gave a very interesting and instructive talk on Missionary work in the West, speaking more particularly of the work carried on in the Mackenzie River and Albatross Districts. The address was so very interesting that we would like to give a full detail of it, but space will not permit. The guests of the Anglican Missionary Society, feel deeply grateful for the privilege of listening to Mrs. Howcroft on this very interesting subject. Miss Ella Smith, President of the Anglican Society, very efficiently presided. After the address delicious refreshments were served.

Mitchner is survived by his wife and three sons, James, Mitchell, and William. The citizens of Hantsport extend sympathy to the bereaved.

RESPIRE

The little brook has been asleep below the hill. Snug 'neath its icy blanket-ropes, until Quite suddenly the warm breath of the South wind came To stir that little brook from silence still.

This noon I chanced beneath the ancient hill to stray

And lingered for a bit; 'twas mild, the day; The little brook had wakened from its sleep, And ran, with chattering laughter, on its way.

I wondered if its merry babbling soul might know That Winter cold will come again, and snow, And still that murmuring voice in brooding thought— Yet for a time the little brook is happy; Oh!

So do we take good cheer when from some lettered grief A welcome respite brings to us longed for relief; Life's Winter may prove harsh, but dawns the day When burdens lose their weight—our faith's belief!

Agnes Choate Wonson.

Manitoba is perhaps the most marrying province in Canada. For instance, in Ontario, there were 24,871 marriages in 1921, a rate of 3.5 per 1,000, while in Manitoba it was 3.7 per 1,000 of its 610,000 population.

Eastbound steamship travel from Canadian ports via Canadian Pacific steamships is heavier at the present time than for several years past at this season, a recent report declares. Bookings in some instances have run as high as 70 per cent increase over those of last winter.

According to a recent official compilation, out of every 100 people in Canada 51 live on farms. The 70,000 farms in Canada represent a gross worth of $700,000,000 or about $10,000 per farm, and produce an annual revenue of nearly $1,500,000, an average income per farm of $2,000 yearly.

From the opening of the crop year, September 1st, to the official closing of navigation, December 12th, the Canadian Pacific Railway reported the heaviest marketing of grain since the inception of the road. Cars loaded by the company also created a record for the season, having numbered 116,232. Grain marketed topped the 200,000,000 bushel mark.

Thirty-seven per cent of all automobiles in Canada are owned by farmers. Ownership of the balance, according to recent statistics, is made up as follows: business men and brokers, 16 per cent; salesmen and travellers, 16 per cent; professional men, 8 per cent; laborers, 4 per cent; contractors and livery men, 3 per cent each, and miscellaneous and no occupation stated, 15 per cent.

When the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Canada" left New York on January 30th for her great round-the-world cruise, she was the first Canadian vessel ever to commence such a voyage carrying a regular bookstall in the charge of experienced attendants. In addition to a free library, the book includes many excellent recent books on travel, which will enable passengers to prepare themselves for the foreign lands they will visit, as well as a large number of novels by the best-known authors.

Of the total wheat exported from Canada in November, amounting to 64,196,903 bushels, by far the greater proportion went to the United Kingdom, which took 43,815,391 bushels. The United States was second largest importer of Canadian wheat, taking 2,010,143 bushels. Italy came next, taking 4,012,152 bushels, and Greece next, with 2,068,489 bushels. The exports of Canadian wheat to France during this period amounted to 1,328,368 bushels and to Belgium 1,075,216 bushels. Those to Germany totalled 129,320 bushels.

In the keenest competition, embracing entries from all important agricultural districts of the North American continent, Alberta farmers won 43 prizes at the recent international stock and grain show at Chicago. Two grand championships—wheat, Major G. H. L. Strange and oats, J. W. Biglands—went to the province. Major Strange was also first with white field peas and Nunemaker Brothers, of Brooks, first with red clover seed. Major Strange's success is especially remarkable as he has only been a farmer four years.

The latest statements of the earnings and expenses of the Canadian Pacific Railway show that the strong position of that organization has been well maintained, and that a steady improvement has been achieved, in spite of the difficulties of the past few years. The figures for December show gross earnings of $19,138,674, working expenses of $16,180,646, and a net profit of $3,058,127, an increase of $491,322 over that of December, 1923. The 1923 totals show gross earnings of $195,837,089, working expenses of $158,368,079 and a net profit of $37,479,010, an increase of $1,177,319 over the total earnings of the road in 1922. Net earnings for this year were the highest since 1917 and gross earnings the highest since 1920.

SCREEN GOSSIP

During the filming of scenes for "Pied Piper Malone", Thomas Meighan's latest picture, Mr. Meighan and a company of Paramount players narrowly escaped serious injury in a near riot in New York's Chinatown. A band of Chinese swooped down on the picture company just after a scene had been taken with Meighan and Cyri Ring and began to tear the Mandarin clothes from the Chinese extras who were working in the picture. Milk bottles, lamps, bricks and vegetables were thrown, forcing Meighan, Alfred E. Green, his director, cameramen and actors to cover while the police quelled the rioters. The scene which caused all the trouble was a simple one, showing the two men presumably walking in a street in Shanghai, China, but it seems that the Chinese in Chinatown have an objection to being photographed. They also have a protest against motion picture companies that have shown Chinese in the act of smoking opium.

Edwin Carewe and his star company from the United States, is now completing the exterior scenes of "A Son of the Sahara" at Touggourt, Algiers. The Carewe company sailed some time ago to film this desert picture for First National in the Sahara. The preliminary scenes were taken at Biskra, on the desert and after ten days of work the company moved to Touggourt, one hundred and fifty miles south, which is the terminus of the railroad line that runs through Algeria, south from Algiers. This is the outpost of the French occupied area and is practically surrounded by desert sands. Many of the more spectacular scenes of the production will be filmed here.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Good home-made bread is the finest food on earth—the one food that everybody eats—that everybody likes—and that agrees with everybody.

All the forces of nature seem to be at the service of the resourceful film producer, but it is seldom that so many natural phenomena are introduced into one picture as is the case with "Man of the North", a recent film shown in London. Earthquake, rain, thunder and lightning, the eruption of a huge volcano, boiling geysers flinging mud, water, and steam high into the air, roaring river and foaming waterfall, the dropping of a meteor from the sky—all these and other wild and awe-inspiring spectacles are to be found in one or other instalment of this play.

Mrs. Elinor Glynn has been getting in some shafts at the United States producers, whom she accuses of not turning out films up to a standard suitable for an intelligent public. "The public," she says, "wants the truth in love, romance, and adventure, and is sick to death of the nonsense presented today on many of the films." She contends that the public is highly intelligent. So long as moving pictures are produced cleanly and intelligently producers will prosper, but if they persist in turning out films not up to that standard there will be many more bankruptcies in the film industry.

In a recent interview, Hope Hampton, who has always been credited with a keen sense of humor, is quoted as saying: "The most fascinating occupation in the world is that of a motion picture critic. So if you hear of me being engaged as a movie critic, know that it is not just a lark, but a serious wish to succeed as one. The hours are so short and the pay is so big, not to speak of the glory, that I hope some day to have my ambition realized."

The most married man of Universal City, Hoot Gibson, happy husband and paternalist, has again been married, this time to Josie Sedgwick, leading lady of his latest production, "Courtin' Calamity". This makes the 20th time in the last two years he has faced the minister for film purposes.

NEW RECORD IN AUSTRALIAN RACE WON BY STUDEBAKER

Special-Six Cuts Over Sixteen Hours Off Best Previous Time Between Fremantle and Sydney, Australia

Speeding across desert wastes, mountainous roads and rugged mainland, a Studebaker Special-Six touring car has just established a new record in a thrilling race against time from Fremantle to Sydney, Australia.

The car was driven by John Burton, a veteran Australian motorist. It went through the gruelling grind of 2,889 miles in five days, 21 hours and 45 minutes. This is 16 hours and 12 minutes faster than the previous record of 6 days, 13 hours and 57 minutes.

In addition, Burton drove the Studebaker through to a new record in his race, by clipping off considerable time between Fremantle, Adelaide and Melbourne. The Special-Six negotiated the entire 2,889 miles under extremely severe conditions and came through in perfect running order.

This new Australian record of Studebaker comes on the heels of new marks recently established by stock model Studebaker cars in the Syrian desert and in the Union of South Africa.

TREASURE TROVE

A True Story of Buried Gold (By A. E. O'Leary.)

In a lonely retired hamlet in the northern part of Kent County N. B., there lives a grizzled veteran of the soil. A face lined by exposure to the elements of the rigorous climate in which he has lived, hair whitened by years of arduous toil, summer suns and winter's chill blasts, Charlie has lived to a great age, sons and daughters have grown up to manhood and womanhood and left the humble surroundings of their youth for other scenes. The old man and his kindly old helpmate are still to be found struggling for the existence in their own simple abode. Tilling the meagre farm, catching what fish are necessary for their humble table, and meeting and gossiping with chance peddlars and fishing parties who may happen that way during the summer months.

There is an old legend, embellished by time and often retouched with bated breath and new trimmings that the famous pirate Captain Kidd, visited La Riviere de Portage and there buried enormous treasure. Old Simon, who has long since been gathered to his father's was, at the time of our story, living close by Charlie's and in sympathy with every feature of the lost treasure legend. Simon and Charlie often rehearsed to the writer the story of the "long boat"; how their forefathers saw the bold buccaners come ashore in full piratical regalia, cutless, crimson sash, red fez, the toute ensemble of the old time rover of the Spanish main. They came in daylight to spy out a hiding place, and under cover of a dark and stormy night, they again landed to conceal "pieces of eight, sacred vessels of gold and ropes of pearls."

These simple old men knew that the treasure was there. Charlie had dreams of gold. He was troubled with these nightmares of buried fortunes and one day confided to the hero of our tale, "Dicko", that the treasure was revealed to him, in a dream, as concealed under his own house. Would Dicko make the search? Dicko would.

Now, Dicko was the owner of a fishing establishment near by and possessed by a sense of humor and unlimited supply of energy and a reckless abandon just necessary for an enterprise as arduous and humorous as would be the delving for buried treasure under Charlie's house. On one of Dicko's visits to the Shire-town of Kent, he confided in a roared spirit as irresponsible as himself, and one who worked in a general store, the story of the buried treasure and requested made by Charlie to search under the old house. "She's dere, Dicko! I'm very sure she's dere!" old Charlie insisted, to all of which Dicko agreed. Now the kindred spirit whom Dicko consulted, took in three other young spirits equally devilish, and a gathering so formidable devised ways and means that for subtle ingenuity could hardly be surpassed.

The necessary equipment was thoroughly planned and discussed. A pot! An old time copper kettle must be acquired. Ingots of gold, jewelry, precious stones, strings of pearls, brooches, all must be in regle. Moulds were made in which leaden ingots were run and "KID" in large glaring letters appeared on each brick. These were all carefully guided to dazzle the eye, carefully, solicitously wrapped in old tarpaulin, tar smeared and sanded. Empty tin tea sample boxes were all beautifully lined with lack velvet and stuffed with cheap jewelry, rings, strings of imitation pearls, sparkling rhine stones and gewgaws of many shades and shapes. These, in turn were subjected to the same process of camouflage as were the other items. When all complete, the treasure was stored in the old copper pot, tarpaulin, sand and hieroglyphics added, and all made ready for a descent on old Charlie. One item was lacking, a mineral rod? One happy member of the conspiracy suggested a cornet (whether 1B flat or 2nd B flat the harmony would be complete) and a cornet in its case was taken along as a mineral rod. Some fireworks were necessary to dispossess Captain Kidd and his cut throat crew; but trifles such as these were mere bagatelles to this enterprising company of treasure seekers.

Well, to get on with my tale. One fine day in mid summer, Dicko and the aforesaid "kindred spirits" sailed away in a fishing boat for Riviere de Portage.

After an eventful trip of twenty miles the galleon arrived at the mouth of the river. There a council was held. Deeds such as this must need to be done under favorable conditions, and darkness, solitude and inclement weather were necessary adjuncts to the success of such an enterprise. It was decided to proceed on foot to the scene and there notify the occupants of the dwelling that the time had arrived for making the search. The Zodiacal light illumined the Goat! The moon was on the decline and the tide would be falling at midnight!

It proved a perfect night for warlocks and witches, ghostly through drizzling rain, a fitting night for stalking the ghost of the much maligned Captain William Kidd. Arrangements having been successfully completed that the family should leave the house at midnight, the treasure seekers left for the boat, there to await the solemn hour.

At about 11.30 our adventurers ascended the river in a skiff, and under cover of the night, accentuated by rain and fog, they succeeded in conveying the treasure to the house. After the departure of the inmates the pot of gold was taken to the cellar where, with the aid of a lantern and a crow-bar, a large stone was dislodged, and the impression of the pot left in the excavation. Then followed the laying of the ghosts. The ousting of the infernal spirits with many weird complaints. The cornet was used in the cellar to much advantage. Although shown to Charlie during the day as a mineral rod, it played a splendid solo in the cellar. Such groans and lamentations no decent disembodied mortal could ever hear. These dismal sounds below were splendidly exemplified above by Dicko, who made capital use of the lantern and fire-works. From Charlie's description of hydra-headed men and flame-enwrapped figures which he swears he saw-leave the premises, there was no doubting the minds of our heroes that the exorcism had been complete. What a night! Now, to get away with the swag!

These lucky mortals—but the proof, man, the proof!

To a small bridge which spans the stream below the house, the two ghouls carried their loot, and there "at the dead of night with the lantern dimly burning" they summoned Charlie, Simon, and the neighbors to see what the search had revealed. Whipping out a bowie knife with all the abandon of a John Silver, Dicko slashed the time-worn, moth-eaten tarpaulin covering the pot, and exposed to the startled gaze of the shivering spectators a vision of untold wealth. Ah! How to get away with the pot? A fight? That was the idea, and a fight over the spoils ensued without delay. Threats were made, knives were brandished, and in the confusion and uproar a comrade, James A., who was fishing at the Beach when taken in the plot, stole the pot and made off in the darkness. In consequence of this find, Charlie dug for himself a perfectly good cellar. He never found the balance of the treasure. Does he believe the genuineness of that find? Ask him—and you will hear the longest, most lurid and inflammatory vituperation of "Gros At" and Dicko that you have ever had the pleasure of listening to. They earned it.

For the man today with a famous name It's better to plod and learn for a time, Before you spread your wings for flight! For there's never a man has won success, Without a sure foundation laid; And brains and labor won't count unless You learn, from the bottom up, your trade!

It's better the easier problems first To solve, before you startle the world; For many a bubble of fame has burst! And into the dust its maker hurled! And all because he strove to achieve Without the patience to first learn how; And the future great ones are those who Their way to the top by plodding now!

To reduce the coal bill, when adding the fuel to a good bed of live coal in a furnace, cover one side only. The next time put coal on the other side. In this way the heat from the live coal tends to make coke of the fresh fuel by consuming the gas and smoke, so there is less gas and dirt in the cellar or furnace room and in the house by way of registers. If large lumps of coal are used a good way is to scatter "slack" over them. The slack tends to hold the fire longer and the lump coal will prevent the slack from forming clinkers.

The two purposes of a country newspaper are to make money and to serve the community. Making money is put first, for the paper that is not making money cannot serve the community; it is bound to be a poor down-at-the-heels affair. You owe it to your community to make your paper make money.
