Well this even does not tell how mistaken we were. Take up yeterday evening's Telegraph and reads its leading editorial, and there you will find samples fof Mr. Elder's "moderate speech," and the extent, just, to which we were deceived. There is no "coarse abuse" in the article. There is worse: there is melancholy evidence of an incurable attack of hydrophobia. The victim is a gentleman of unquestioned honor and integrity. Said victim is no other than Sir Charles Tupper. Hear how our esteemed contemporary Simon, speaks of him:

Sir Charles Tupper last evening with more than his accustomed audacity have made every decent man on that side of the House hang his head with shame. Among other things this brazen fronted knight asserted that the duty on coal has lowered the price of coal in St. John, a statement so ludicrously false that our citizens might afford to laugh at it were it not for the proof cares not what he says.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

MORNING SESSION.

After routine the House took recess till 12 'clock. At noon Mr, Speaker arrived and taking the chair announced the order of the day.

Hill moved the order of the day. Mr

Speaker read the proposed address.

Hill rose and said he did not purpose making extended comments from the first; and had he so intended he should have been prevented The first paragraph of the address needed no comment. The second paragraph did call for a brief word. The House would beyond doubt concentrate that it is a second paragraph did call for a brief word. The House would beyond doubt concur that it was quite desirable that more of Mr. Chandler than he did. But he would say that his few meetings with him, left the most favorable impressions; as also did the general expressions of sympathy and respect on every hand after His Honors death. Full of years and free from the infirmities that make office is the proper place in which to keep the

as to the enthusiasm and interest evinced on the visit; no question as to the deep seated loyalty of our people. It was too sincere, and too manifest for that. He did not refer to this lip loyalty that finds expression in the mouth of everyone who takes the platform, but he did refer to that deep devotion to the Throne and the person of our Queen. And without connecting the ideas, he might remark that there were some who think that a change in our political relations would be conducive to our interests; but he had yet to learn that any change we could possibly make, could give us a better could possibly make, could give us a better system of government than we enjoy. Our eople moved with a greater feeling of respon-bility; they had more complete control over those affairs that concerned themselves than any other people on the face of the Globe.

He thought that when the census would come to be taken it would be found that the wheat industry, and agriculture in general had outstripped all our other Provincial industries.

He felt no doubt but the House would concur in the course the Government had adopted towards the St. John Exhibition; and did not hesitate to say that but for that city's depressed condition, it would have left less for the Govindustry, and agriculture in general had outcondition, it would have left less for the Gov-ernment to do. [Is not this depressed city, that could not help out its own Exhibition, the same big-feeling city that wants to pay $100,000 New Brunswick?—ED. STAR.] He felt quite sure the House would heartly approve of the course of the Government in taking prompt measures to relieve the distress occasioned by the tornado at the North. The House would feel pleased to know that correspondence had been going on between the Local and Dominion Governments relative to the old claims. These

The 9th resolution was an echo of a resolution which passed the House last winter. It for some weeks rast has been running day and night. The mill commenced running on January 5th, since which time 3000 bushels of wheat and over 2000 bushels of buckwheat have been ground. He would not attempt to comment on the last section of the speech, but felt assured that the measures dimly foreshadowed therein, would meet the approval of the House. In conlusion he begged to move the address.

On the motion being put by Mr. Speaker, Blair arose. He said there were a few matters that he had to refer to, not touching exactly on the address, or the speech of the mover; and that he A man giving the name of George Pond has raised quite an undignified flutter among some of our prominent merchants. On Mr Richards being unable to identify the order shown, suspicion was aroused, and officer Farrel despatched to follow up the trail. He made unsuccessful efforts to obtain a variety of goods from F. B. Edgecombe and others. He was of about the medium height, with dark whiskers, and when last seen was coming out York street with a large bundle under each arm after a futile attempt to obtain a teleket to the United States, from Superintendant was found in the mouth of His Honor; for he was unable to see why the government should have found it necessary to take so many days to arrange papers. BILLS.

Lynott asked leave to introduce a bill to further amend an Act passed in the 35th year of Her Majesty's Reign, incorporating the Grand Southern Railway Company. The Bill was read a first time.

Sayre introduced a bill to change the Constitution of this Province so far as relates to the structure of the paragraph he would gather that the Government had intended to sntroduce no stitution of this Province so far as relates to the sugar relating to our agricultural department. He suppose the paragraph he would gather that the Government had intended to sntroduce no stitution of this Province so far as relates to the sugar relating to our agricultural department. He suppose the sugar ment of their predecessors for public works—canals and railways. They did not feel disposed to cancel these engagements, as there engagements of their predecessors for public works—canals and railways. They did not feel disposed to cancel these engagements, as there was nafed the large railway contracts. They had to provide for an increased expenditure of $5,000,000 on account of public debt. It was necessary to complete the remaining links of 180 miles to com

[Mr. Elder who had been regarding Mr. Blair with attention all along, here hnng down his head. Ed. From the tenor of the paragraph he would gather that the Government had intended to sntroduce no measure relating to our agricultural department. [He "gathered" wrongly. Ed.]

There was another matter, proper to be dealt with here, and this matter was a publication, or a pamphlet issued under the authority of the Surveyor General, and ostensibly to furnish "information to intending settlers." He was curious to know what the book was, on first getting it, whether a school primer, or advanced text book. He opened it and found Fredericton at the time the book was printed, was the copital of New Brunswick; that the streets ran at right angles. He found under the heading "principal towns," that St. John was incidentally mentioned; but on going to Northumberland he found a swarm of towns. There were "Newcastle, Chatham, Douglastown, Nelson, Blackville, Boiestown, and Doaktown," and goodness knows how many others. Under the heading "Forests" we were told about the spruce; ond we were also told that the hemlock was valuable for its bark, but that if stringent measures were not taken it would soon be destroyed. He then turned to the cover, and found the book was "information for intending settlers." [Mr. Blair here became amused at his own wit. Ed.] He said the grammatical construction of the paragraphs was something new to him. The settler was told for example that "an idea of the railway facilities of the province may be thus summarized."

The man who compiled the book should be handed over to justice, and the issue should be stopped. And then some other extraordinary statements were made. In one settlement the settler sold his wheat for $2 a bushel; in another he received but $1 for it. Buckwheat brought 25 cents per bushel in one settlement and 60 cents in another. The quoted yields showed about the same difference as the price.

With regard to the paragraph on the Parliament Buildings, he thought it somewhat strange t minate.

There was nothing said about the changes since the recess; but he had observed that Hon Mr. Marshall had allowed himself to be persuaded into the Government. He congratulated Mr. Marshall and the Government. And then he took his seat,

The Attorney General then suggested recess; which was declared till 2.30.

FREDERICTON, N. B.

IS A FACT ATTESTED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITIES IN THE WORLD.

A careful observance of the laws of health, and the systematic and persistent use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda will accomplish this result. This preparation has all the virtues of these two most valuable specifies, in a form perfectly palatable, and acceptable to the most delicate stomach, and we make the unqualified statement that Scott's Emulsion is being used with better results and endorsed and prescribed by more physicians for Consumption—and the diseases leading to it, such as Chronic Coughs, Bronchitis, Scrofula, Anaemia, General Debility and the Wasting Disorders of Children, than any other remedy known to medical science. The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet, is truly marvellous.

See What Phyicians and the People Say About It. 66 West Thirty-sixth Street, NEW YORK, September 2, 1876. GENTS,—I have frequently prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites during the past year, and regard it as a valuable preparation in scrofulous and consumptive cases, palatable efficacious.

C. C. LOCKWOOD, M. D.

MESSES. SCOTT & BOWNE: —Gentlemen,—Within the last year I have used in my own family, and in my rivate practice prescribed very extensively SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL with HYPOPHOSPHITES and found it a most valuable preparation, especially in diseases of children. It is agreeable to the most delicate stomach; which renders it a very reliable agent as a nutritive remedy in consumptive and scrofulous cases.

Oct. 12, 1879.

Yours respectfully,

A. H. SAXTON, M. D., Baltimore.

Messes. Scott & Bowse;—Gentlemen,—Within the last two months I have fairly tried Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypothosphites, and I candidly declare that it is the finest preparation of the kind that has ever been brought to my notice; in affections of the lungs and other wasting diseases, we can consider it our most reliable agent, in a perfectly agreeable and elegant form.

December 10th, 1878.

Yours truly,

J. SIMONAUD, M. D., New Orleans, I.a.

December 10th, 1878.

Yours truly, J. SIMONAUD, M. D., New Orleans, I.a.

Messes. Scott & Bowne:—Gentlemen,—In September, 1877, my health organ to fail and my physician pronounced it spinal trouble; under his care I got some relief from pain, bit my general health did not improve, and early in the winter I began to raise blood and rapidly grew worse. In May last I was taken with a violent bleeding which brought me to my bed and my life was despaired of for many weeks; violent symptoms appeared, night and morning coughs, night sweats and short breath, and a return of the spinal trouble. My physician stopped the bleeding and then ordered Cod Liver Oil and Line; and I used various preparations, but they did me no good. I fost all hope of lite and was an object of pity to all my friends. Last September I purchased a bottle of your EMULSION and before it was all taken I was better. I afterwards bought a dozen bottles, with the following results: Coughs subsiding, night sweats stopped, appetite returning, and my weight increased from 18 to 140 pounds in sixteen weeks. I have taken no other medicine since commencing with your EMULSION and shall continue its use until I am perfectly well. I frequently meet some friend on the street who asks, "What curred you?" and I answer, "SCOTT' EMULSION of COD LIVER Oil. etc." I have a friend who has not spoken aloud for 15 months, and he is getting better. I gave him a bottle and he bought two more, then got a dozen, and says it is food and medicine for him. He was given up to die a year ago; but he is improving now wonderfully. My recovery is exciting the surprise of many people, and shall do all I can to make known your valuable medicine.

January 20th, 1879.

Very truly yours

Level Bedieth Co. Lett. Lieller, 288

Messes. Scott & Bowne — Lynn, Randolph Co., Ind.; July 2, 1878.

About the 25th of last April I got a bottle of your Emulsion and at that time I was so prostrated that no or who saw me thought I could live longer than a few weeks at most. I could retain nothing on my stomach and was literally starving. I commenced the use of the Emulsion in small dose; it was the first thing that would stay on my stomach; I continued its use, gradually increasing the dose; and from that hour I commence mending, and now am able to ride and walk, and am gaining flesh and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover.
