IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Close of the Debate on the Afghan War.

The Government Handsomely Sustained.

ADJOURNMENT TILL FEBRUARY.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—In the House of Commons to-day, Sir Stafford Northcote said he had been withdrawn from Cabul, and that the Russian interference in Afghanistan is not any other form.

In the House to-night, Mr. Grant Duff resumed the debate on the Government's Afghan policy. He violently attacked the Government, declaring that the policy was believed in the possibility of an invasion of India.

Mr. Goschen, who was the only important Liberal speaker to-night, although considering that the Government's policy brought the Russians to Cabul, and that there was no room in Afghanistan for both Russia and England.

Mr. Sturges-Bourne announced that he would shortly move for a grant of money by Parliament in aid of the distressed people of the Rhodope mountains.

Right Hon. Earl Percy re-opened the debate on the Afghan war on the part of the Government.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt followed the Government, declaring that the acquisition of a scientific frontier would cause Russian influence to overshadow the policy of the Government.

Mr. John Holker replied, and the debate was continued by Capt. Cochrane, Sir John Lubbock, and Mr. Plunkett, in behalf of the Government.

Mr. Thos. Burt, Radical, was particularly vehement in his opposition to the war on account of the distress which prevailed in England.

A notable feature of the debate was speeches by Mr. Newdegate and Gen. Sir Alex. Gordon, both Conservatives, denouncing the Government's policy.

Mr. Sturges-Bourne declared Lord Rosebery responsible for that policy. During his speech he crossed to the Opposition benches and addressed the members.

Several members of the House expressed their dissent from the Government's policy. He said, in conclusion:—"Whatever difference of opinion there may be as to the expediency of the war, we must get on the subject of supporting the gallant troops engaged in it by every means in our power."

Mr. Whitbread's motion concerning the Government was rejected by 328 to 227. The Conservatives had anticipated a majority of 120.

EDINBURGH, Dec. 14.—The London correspondent of the Standard, writing before the division in the House of Commons last night on Mr. Whitbread's motion, said the Liberal effect of the Government's majority will be nearly 70.

When Sir Stafford Northcote gave notice in the House of Commons yesterday of the effect that the proposal was unjust.

Mr. Sturges-Bourne declared the House to be entirely in favour of the relief of the Rhodope fugitives.

DESTITUTION IN ENGLAND.

Widespread Distress Among Working Classes.

SAD PROSPECT FOR THE WINTER.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—In the House of Commons last night Mr. Cross, Home Secretary, answering an enquiry whether it were true that we are now face to face with such cases of distress as this generation has never known, said, though much distress undoubtedly prevailed among the labouring poor, the description of it in the question was exaggerated.

Supervision at Edinburgh and the Mayor of London and Manchester, stating that the ordinary means of relief were at present sufficient to meet all necessities. He had not time to enquire into the condition of the coal and iron districts.

Business Depression in England. LONDON, Dec. 17.—The large sale of cotton at Liverpool are attributed to extensive operations for Russia, made with a view of forestalling the market in New York, and to a rise reported in New York. The Times says:—"The more recent news regarding the state of the West of England and South Wales District Bank has unquestionably done much mischief, and strong complaint is made that the bank was not made more clearly known at the date of the suspension. The directors suffered the people to nurse the delusion that the suspension was due to a pecuniary run. A few knew all along that the whole paid-up capital of the bank was in the hands of the public, and that the bank was beginning to decay. Men say with justice they can no longer believe in the bank, and that the bank is a failure. It is particularly regretted that the credit of the banking community should be played with and shaken in this fashion."
