WOOL FOR COMFORT

Carefully Note the following Facts:

WOOL FOR HEALTH.

We have in stock Newfoundland and Canadian wools, Australian and New Zealand wools, English and Scotch wools, South American wools.
 From these an expert blends such mixtures as produce the perfection of woolen underwear. Our mill is, and will be, the greatest sanatorium in Newfoundland.
 Underwear made from cotton waste and the sweepings of big cotton mills is not fit to wear. Yet it is imported into this Colony at a cost of about $3.00 a dozen and retailed to people who do not stop to think.
 Robust health makes a progressive country. Children well-fed, well-clothed, with all-wool material, and tucked up at night with all-wool blankets, live to a vigorous old age and do not die of consumption.
 The principal "woolen" goods on the market contain from ten to twenty per cent of wool, the balance is cheap cotton and waste. These goods are sold as ALL WOOL but you cannot detect the fraud unless you are an expert.

SATURDAY, May 4, 1912.
OUT FOR RECIPROCITY.

According to semi-official announcements, the Prime Minister, Sir Edward Morris, is visiting Washington to participate in several conferences which have been arranged for a discussion of issues growing out of the Hague fisheries award of several years ago. The British Ambassador will appear with Premier Morris as a representative of Newfoundland in the meeting with American Government officials.

After the Hague Award, it will be remembered that Mr. Pepper, tariff expert of Washington, was sent to Newfoundland to size up matters from a tariff point of view, so far as they affected the States. Whilst here he was in conference with the Prime Minister and other officials. The Government press declared that the time was ripe for a Reciprocity Deal, inasmuch as the Hague Award had been made. Sir Edward Morris left for Washington, where he signed an agreement for the disposition of certain issues as to fishery rules and damages, which met severe criticism from Sir Robert Bond. During his visit to Washington he learnt unofficially the terms under which Reciprocity with Newfoundland would be entertained.

The great stumbling block was the question of the free export of pulpwood from Newfoundland and the Labrador, against which Sir Edward Morris had pledged himself. The question was apparently shelved until the Reciprocity issue with Canada had been disposed of. The Canadian electorate decisively rejected the Taft-Fielding agreement, and the publication of Taft's letter has probably sealed the doom of any such arrangement in Canada for ever. For, as the Daily News characterizes it, Taft's plot was to "make Canada only an adjunct of the States," and to transfer all their important business to Chicago and New York, their bank credits and everything else, and to "increase greatly the demand of Canada for our (American) manufactures."

The Daily News this morning says: "When Reciprocity was under discussion, the attitude of many was influenced by the conviction that the underlying motive of the Taft policy was not to establish better business relations with Canada, but to virtually control it; in other words, that the American way of spelling reciprocity was, as Champ Clark openly spelt it—'Annexation.'"

"Now, Taft and Roosevelt have fallen out, and are fighting each other. Roosevelt has not scrupled to violate his solemn pledges; nor has Taft to violate his confidential correspondence. As a result, Canadians and the British Empire now know the truth; whilst Americans must be overwhelmed with shame at the perfidy of their president who, professing friendship to a friendly people, carried in his belt the assassin's dagger. Better, ten thousand times, the open hostility of Champ Clark, than the treachery of Taft, who, on his own confession, was ready to betray Canada with a kiss."

Out of all this a curious cleavage of sentiment has arisen. While the Morison organ was heading an article "Betrayed with a Kiss," accusing President Taft of a sinister attempt to promote the annexation of Canada to the States by the instrumentality of a Reciprocity Deal, Sir Edward Morris himself was bidding in Boston for a Reciprocity Deal for Newfoundland.

The Daily News declares that the truth is out, and Taft's confidential disclosures to Roosevelt, establishes the truth, which is that Reciprocity would make Canada only an adjunct of the States.

If the Morison organ is convinced of the truth of this, as the Daily News declares roundly it is, what does the Morison organ think of Sir Edward Morris's bid for Reciprocity in Boston? If Canada has escaped the wiles of President Taft, what has the Morison organ to say of Sir Edward Morris's attempt to enter the American Spider's web?

RAN ASHORE.—A two topmast schooner in beating in through the Narrows this afternoon ran ashore on the Southside near King's premises. At 2 p.m. the Ingraham had a line on her trying to tow her off.

Morris Bids for Reciprocity.

Special to Evening Telegram. BOSTON, To-day. Morris, Premier of Newfoundland, in an interview in Boston to-day, said that in his opinion the United States Government owed it to Newfoundland to place fish on the free list. He said Newfoundland removed the duties from many American articles and that free fish should be granted as a reciprocal matter. He said the United States had offered such concessions to Canada and should do so to Newfoundland.

Missionary Sunday at Cochrane St.

To-morrow will be observed as Missionary Sunday in Cochrane Methodist Church. Rev. Dr. Rogers will deliver a missionary sermon in the morning. The evening service will take the form of a Laymen's Missionary meeting, when laymen representing city Methodism will present different aspects of mission work as it relates to the Methodist Church in Newfoundland, Canada and the foreign mission field. Visitors cordially welcome.

Steamers Met Near the Ocean Tomb.

St. John, April 23.—Captain Robert McKillop of the Allan liner Sardinian, which arrived late on Saturday night, reports having been alongside of the cable steamer Mackay-Bennett supplying her with canvas to cover her two hundred or more dead. While in the vicinity of the cable ship and while passing the ocean tomb of the Titanic she passed wreckage and two bodies. At 4.10 p.m. on the 23rd the Sardinian received the following wireless message from the Mackay-Bennett:

"Recovering bodies of the Titanic: could you in passing let us have all the canvas and burlap that you can spare?"

The cable steamer gave her position and after giving her position the Sardinian replied: "Weather, now hazy; and afraid could not locate, but will try. Should be there at seven o'clock. The Sardinian arrived beside the Mackay-Bennett at seven o'clock and stopped, and a boat was sent from the cable ship to the Allan liner, and all the canvas and burlap that could be found aboard was willingly given to cover the Titanic's dead."

Captain McKillop said that the captain of the Mackay-Bennett reported to him that he had 266 dead, and among the number the bodies of Col. Astor and Mr. Butler.

"We saw a lot of wreckage," said Captain McKillop, "such as cabinet furniture, including chairs, writing desks, camp stools, etc. We also passed close by two bodies, but we made no effort to get them as the Mackay-Bennett was close by. There was one on either side of us about thirty or forty feet away. One was apparently that of a lady, wearing a short seal sack, but I could not tell what the other was, whether male or female."

The Sardinian afterward spoke the steamer Minia, giving her the position of the Mackay-Bennett. The liner also passed a number of large bergs and "growlers," or low bergs, and some field ice.

WHAT THE BREMEN SAW.

The German steamer Bremen, which was the first steamer to sight the relics of the Titanic tragedy, reported on her arrival at New York: At reduced speed the Bremen steamed through what must have appeared to be a marine burying ground strewn with wreckage and dotted with bodies of the Titanic's victims, while in the background were the pure white monumental icebergs. More than one hundred bodies were seen and some of them were so close to the steamship that the expressions on the dead faces were easily discernable to those who stood at the rail.

MAN LASHED TO DOOR.

"Then up loomed the large berg which the Titanic may have struck and we were in the centre of the mass of wreckage. First we saw an overturned lifeboat and then steamer chairs and then the first body. It was that of a man in full evening dress and a light coat. He was lashed to a door and lay on his back, his hands clutching at the edges of the door. We passed close enough to him to see him with the naked eye, and I think he must have been frozen."

Then he told how the other bodies of this army of dead had come bobbing along by twos and threes and larger groups. Many of the bodies were fully dressed, according to Mr. Klugist, and some had caps or hats on.

"We also saw the collapsible lifeboat," he continued, "and clinging to it was the body of a man. He wore a life preserver. Evidently he had been swimming and drifted against the

WOMAN AND CHILD.

"I saw the frozen body of a woman about two hundred yards from our steamship," he said. "In her arms she held a dead child. The body of the child was clasped tight to her shoulder and it seemed as though she had held the baby as high as possible, hoping that the waves would not harm it. I saw another body, that of an elderly man, and in his arms there was a boy of about eleven years—about as old as my son here. Such a conglomeration of steamship fittings I never saw. There were some pieces of woodwork that must have come from far down in the Titanic, probably blown out by the explosion and the force of the imprisoned air when the vessel sank."

Mr. Steinberger also said he saw several empty life preservers floating. The Bremen was about an hour passing through wreckage, and during that time she sighted six large icebergs. All of this time she was in communication with the cable steamer Mackay-Bennett, which gave her position at the time as about forty miles from the scene.

QUIET DEATH OF TWO WOMEN.

There was one man on the Titanic who can tell a wonderful story of the ship's death as if he is still alive. He faced the crawling water as it soaked along the sagging decks. It drove him back foot by foot, as it advanced, and every foot led him up a steeper incline as she settled by the head.

And, as he retreated, he saw something that almost broke his big, strong heart. Up on the middle of the bridge deck, now deserted by all but them, there stood two women, hand in hand, silently, not weeping, not even afraid, it would appear, just waiting for the end. Up and up the gentle, cat-like little waves crawled, whispering along the deck, quietly, relentlessly, swallowing everything as they came, while the women stood and watched and waited. The Titanic bowed her head, accepting her doom, and the waves licked up over D deck, C deck, and B deck. Soon the forward end of A deck was awash and the water tickled the foot of the bridge. Up and up, and up, and there was no help. The last boat was tearing away for its life from the ship's death agony.

And that is the end of the story. Who were they, how they got there, why they missed a boat, no one knows. They went down with the ship without a whimper or a cry, side by side at the end.

THE PURSER'S "GOOD-BYE."

"Good-bye, old chap." It was a quiet purser who said it, as he balanced himself, hands in pockets on the tilting deck, a bundle of papers under an arm to show that whatever happened his records were clear and were with him. Being about to die, he and Lightoller so far unbent as to give each other a hand grip; they had been intimate friends for years; they had seen and that was all. The purser's life story ended five minutes afterwards. If his body is ever found one may guess that under one of the arms the Titanic's papers will be intact.

DONALD'S DILEMMA!

TO BE, OR NOT TO BE?

DONALD (soliloquizing) "Is it nobler to bear the slings and arrows of an outraged electorate, or take the course my heckling conscience hints, and by resigning end them?"

Complaint From Bay St. George.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—I see by the newspapers that the coastal services for all the bays and routes in the island have been arranged for the coming season with the exception of that for this Bay. Surely the public of this district are not going to be treated in this manner the same as they were last year. We all know if there is a contract or job or public work of any kind to be given out or honorable number. Mr. Downey will look around carefully to see if there is not a good, strong opponent of his to whom he can give the preference, for it is well known from one end of the district to the other that Mr. Downey's, if not also the Government's motto is "to h— with our friends, let us conciliate our enemies." Surely this important district should receive due consideration in the matter of coastal steam. The rights of the people have long enough been sacrificed to political exigency and we now demand all that is coming to us on this as well as other counts.

A "Down Easter" writing to the Western Star some time ago says: "That there is no public opinion at all on this coast." Our eastern friend may perhaps be mistaken. It is true that we are not continually shouting our opinions from the house tops, we prefer to put them in concrete form and deposit them in the ballot boxes at a general election.
Yours truly,
WATCH HIM,
Bay St. George, April 20th, 1912.

Beats His Way 400 Miles.

James Hipditch, a boy of 17 years, and who is without home, friends or money, was arrested yesterday for vagrancy. He is an incorrigible. His latest adventure is to make the city from Bay of Islands, a distance of 400 miles, beating his way on trains and on foot. Hipditch during the past half dozen years has given the police authorities a considerable amount of trouble. A few years ago, after being released from the Penitentiary, he was put into an orphanage but escaped, and later a city clergyman made arrangements for his living at Bay of Islands. The lad stayed there for two years. Last week he bolted and arrived in the city a few nights ago by train. It is said that Hipditch's mind is somewhat affected, as when placed in the cells yesterday he first sang all the songs he knew, then took a fit of laughing, and finally started to cry.

Wrestling Tournament.

Last night at the C. L. B. Armoury a series of exciting wrestling matches were run off before a goodly attendance. The first bout between A. Hammond and C. Nurse was won by the former after eight minutes' strenuous work. The next match was very uneven. F. Roberts butting Carey's shoulder to the mat twice inside a minute. The final between F. Woodford and A. Reid was the most interesting. After they had been wrestling for two hours and a half the match had to be called off. At the conclusion "Kid" Keats challenged F. Roberts to a match, which was accepted, and A. Hammond accepted a challenge from C. Kavanagh.

At the City Hall.

The Municipal Council met yesterday in condition of Duckworth Street building will be improved; poles will be erected for telegraphic communication from Bannerman Road to Rawlins's Cross post office; cuts will be filled in through Orphanage grounds, as requested by Sister M. Genevieve; the sewer system on Flower Hill will be extended as requested; plan of proposed building submitted by Fifield was approved of; ice and refuse from a lane on Long's Hill will be cleared away; Engineer Ryan will report on building to be erected on George's Street by W. Brennan, and which was objected to by the residents; the retaining wall in Atlantic Avenue will be repaired; D. Gorman can build annex to house on Freshwater Road; T. Curran can make temporary repairs to his store on George St.; permission was granted J. M. Patten to build at rear of dwelling, Musgrave Terrace; houses owned by J. T. Southcott can be repaired as requested; owing to danger to children Wool Factory owners will be ordered to remove exhaust pipe projecting in Victoria Park; on complaint of Waste Water Inspector action will be taken against A. H. Murray and Nfld. Produce Co. for allowing water to run on their premises for wharf cleaning purposes.
As the system of fire alarms is to be changed, permission was granted Inspector General Sullivan to erect posts. It was suggested to ask Mr. Sullivan to install indicator in water shed, the same as used in the fire halls.
Permission was granted Imperial Tobacco Co. to extend boiler house; J. Petrus will be allowed to build shed on Allandale Road; more men will be engaged to clean drains in the East End; the buildings near Charlton St. will be removed and snow cleared away from foot of Garrison Hill; an employee of the sewer department will be retired on a weekly allowance of $3.00.
The complaint about night soil alleged to be dumped on Mr. A. J. King's private property will be enquired into.
A communication about a fire boat for the harbor was received from the Vice-President of the Board of Trade in which he asked Council to appoint a time to confer with a joint committee of the Board of Trade and fire underwriter. The Council held that this was a question for the Government to deal with, but would discuss the matter at a special meeting next week when Mayor Ellis will be present.
After the passing of pay rolls, etc., the meeting adjourned.

Bonne Bay Honours the Brave.

Special to Evening Telegram.
BONNE BAY, May 3.
Flags have been flying at half-mast in Bonne Bay to-day in honor of the brave men and true who went down in the ill-fated Titanic. At a public meeting held in the afternoon the following resolution was passed: "The people of this Bay regretting the awful tragedy of the Titanic, do hereby express their sorrow for the terrible loss of life and hasten to do honour to the self-sacrificing heroes who nobly showed how brave men can die for others."
H. M. MOSDELL.

Cable News.

WASHINGTON, May 3.
Special to Evening Telegram.
Government officials here are uneasy over the outbursts of anger in Britain concerning President Taft's publication of his letter to Colonel Roosevelt concerning Reciprocity. None of them will speak for publication, but they all deeply regret that the exigencies of the presidential campaign in Massachusetts should have compelled him to make public a letter which cannot fail to have a far-reaching effect on foreign relations. What Taft did was to make public in his campaign his correspondence with Roosevelt about Retrospect for the purpose of proving that he, Roosevelt, had been agreed in favoring that measure.
LONDON, May 3.
Attorney General Sir Rufus Isaacs addressed the Wreck Commission investigating the Titanic loss to-day, and set forth the facts as understood by the Government, laying especial emphasis upon evidence that a speed of 21 knots was maintained after warnings of ice ahead had been received, and up to the moment of the collision.
Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, May 3.
It is semi-officially announced that there is no foundation in the rumour that Ambassador Bryce had been actually or virtually recalled from Washington.

Farmer Ruby Replies.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—In your paper of the 29th ult., there was a letter by a writer signed "Farmer." He says I write this in the interest of Agriculture for it would be a pity to see the farmers ruined by the idle talk of self-imposed teachers of Agriculture.
I can see the writer of that letter signed Farmer is not teaching us. He is trying to mislead us. He says limestone if applied judiciously and without due knowledge as to its effects is bound to work the ruin of the farm. He cannot tell us where there is one acre of land that has been injured by limestone or lime, either, but we can see thousands of acres that is in need of lime. He says there is too much talk of limestone by the Society. Now, I fear he is not a farmer. If he was he would say "Agitate, boys, agitate." The next generation will reap the benefit.
As regards the value of the two sorts, in England ground carbonate of lime sells for less than half the price of ground caustic lime.
In Illinois ground limestone can be obtained for $1.50 a ton.
Again, he says, the proper use of lime is to correct the acidity in the soil. Well, that's very important. Then, he says, lime adds nothing to the soil. I say it adds lime to the soil that is just as important as potassium or phosphoric acid. Lining the soil has a wide field of usefulness, that is not enough talked about.
We want to raise Agriculture on a par with other industries, I mean to say that Agriculture, the most important industry, should be able to pay a wage as high as any other. If not, the labourer will go for the highest wages, and the farmer will be left short-handed. Then the result is short crops and the consumer has to import.
Yours truly,
S. RUBY.

About Mails.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—In the name of Justice allow me to ask our Postmaster General if in some way it cannot be so arranged as to have mails from Grand Falls, all along the line taken on by train instead of having all hung up waiting for the Bruce to get to Port aux Basques that may be delayed with ice or other causes.
We ask you, nor will they need palace cars to accommodate the people. The People's Party now to carry out their pledge to the people and be prepared to take their medicine already mixed for the next election.

The Kidneys Wear Out

But in advanced years you can keep these organs healthy by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.
As old age comes on most people suffer more or less from derangements of the kidneys. With some there are years of pains and aches, with others Bright's disease sets in and the end comes quickly. Fortunately many have learned about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and are enabled by their use to keep the kidneys healthy and active.
Richard Preston, Osborne, Lambton County, Ont., says: "Seven years ago I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills when my back was so bad that to stoop or rise was torture to me. The kidneys were in bad condition, but these pills entirely freed me of back pains. I have used them ever since, whenever the kidneys would get out of order, and now, at eighty years, am well and hearty, thanks to this grand medicine."
Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Second Accident.

The incoming Bruce express met with a second accident last evening. Owing to the softness of the rail bed two passenger cars were derailed near Rantanen. A considerable delay was occasioned in getting them on again and fearing that business people would not get their correspondence in time to answer for to-morrow's outgoing express a special engine was despatched to the scene and brought the mails to the city, arriving here this morning.

The Folly of Paring Corns

Here's a typical corn.
Paring that corn takes off just the top layers. It merely relieves the pressure for a little time.
The root remains, and the whole corn soon returns.
And that paring is exceedingly dangerous. A slip of the blade means infection, and blood poison often results.
Ending Corns
The way to end corns is with a simple Blue-jay plaster.
The pain stops instantly. Then the A in the picture is the soft B & B wax. It loosens the corn. B protects the corn, stopping the pain at once. C wraps around the toe. It is narrowed to be comfortable. D is rubber adhesive to fasten the plaster on.

Over fifty million corns have been removed in this way, since this wonderful wax was invented. Every other treatment is discarded forever when a person once tries this. For your own safety and comfort, find out what Blue-jay does.

In The Garden.

By WALT MASON.

I toiled like a Turk last summer, with shovel and hoe and rake. "My garden will be a hummer," I murmured, "and no mistake." A roundelay blithely yethin'; I labored, in sweat and ash, and planted the stately melon, and also the queenly squash; and quoting the words of Bunyan, and quarrels from Pope and Gray, I planted the fragrant onion, and succulent bale of hay. And all through the sizzling season out there in my yard I wrought, and often my feet were freezin' when otherwise I was hot. When other folks went a-fishing, or hiked to the three-ring show, I toiled in my garden wishing that I with the rest could go; but he who is bent on raising abundance of garden sals, who hopes for a crop amazing of spinach and sparrowgrass, must cut out all vain excursions, steer clear of the giddy boys; for him there are no diversions, no fishing or other joys. And this is a man's reward in the day when the toil is done; a big pile of weeds in the garden, and a shortage of wholesome fun.

WOMAN'S TRIALS.

The burdens a woman has to carry through life are many but they can be lightened if she will turn to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. A soothing and strengthening nerve—subduing nervous excitability, prostration, hysteria, hot flashes and the many symptoms which may be caused by distressing ills peculiar to women. For those "dragging-down" pains or distress and for the derangements and irregularities of the "Favorite Prescription" has had many thousands of testimonials from people living in every part of America. Another important thing to every woman is that this medicine is made from efficient medicinal roots, without the use of alcohol, narcotics, or any injurious agents. Full list of ingredients given on bottle-wrapper and sworn to by Dr. R. V. Pierce—who is President of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Every woman is invited to write to this Institute and receive confidential and sound medical advice, entirely without cost from one who makes the diseases of women his specialty.
"I can cheerfully recommend your remedies, especially your 'Favorite Prescription,' for all female disorders," writes Mrs. M. M. MORRELL, of Bluff City, Tenn., Route 3. "During the past seven years I suffered from pains in the back and ovaries. Tried many remedies but found only transient relief until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After giving this remedy a fair trial, I found that it would do just what it is recommended to do. I used in all seven bottles. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Pierce's remedies for all female derangements."

Mannerisms That Spoil Beauty.

Did you ever notice how few people there are with smooth foreheads?
About nine out of ten have very distinct horizontal lines across the forehead—and not only middle-aged and elderly people, by any means. I have seen girls of twelve with these disfiguring lines plainly marked.

Now, these lines are caused by the almost universal habit of raising the eyebrows and wrinkling up the forehead when one is surprised, puzzled, or worried, and there isn't a bit of use trying to get rid of them by rubbing cold cream or skin food into them, so long as you cling to the habit that causes them.

Then there is the deep wrinkle between the eyes, known as the "frowning line." You know how you got that line all right, don't you? Well, if anything, it's more disfiguring than the horizontal lines, because it gives the face a sour, unpleasant expression that is absolutely fatal to beauty.

Another bad facial habit is allowing the corners of the mouth to droop.
The result is a look of fretfulness,
self-pity, weakness, and irritability that would spoil the appearance of Venus. If persisted in long enough this habit will cause deep, unsightly wrinkles at the corners of the mouth.

Someone has said that it is absolutely impossible to feel depressed or low-spirited so long as you keep the corners of the mouth curved upward. And, do you know, there's a great deal of truth in it? Try it next time you get the blues.

"But," you protest, "I have these habits, and at this day it is too late to get rid of them."
Well, that's just where you and I differ—you can get rid of them. In the first place, of course, you must banish the bad mental habits that lie back of them. A wrinkled forehead shows a wrinkled mentality, and a drooping mouth is the evidence of drooping spirits. Cultivate a sane, healthy, calm, courageous way of looking at life. Don't stew and fret and worry over small perplexities and problems and troubles. Don't ever, ever, EVER allow yourself to pity yourself.

Then when you find yourself mechanically dropping back into the old bad mannerisms, just simply stop it.
Keep it in mind, pay attention to it.
If you find your forehead twisted into knots, your brows drawn together in a forbidding scowl, or your mouth drooping to touch the point of your chin drop everything else, and straighten your face out. Bring your eyebrows back where they belong—raise the corners of your mouth—
there now, smile. Look pleasant!

World for May.

60th Birthday.

Superintendent William Grimes, of the Police Force, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his birthday on Thursday. He is 40 years a member of the Constabulary, having enlisted when a young man of 20 years of age.
The genial Supt. although having attained the three score mark is as hale and hearty as when he first joined.

BONAVENTURE LEAVES.

The S. S. Bonaventure, Capt. Cross, leaves
port this evening en route to Jamaica to commence the fruit trade charter.
She will proceed from here to Louisburg to have her bunkers filled.

F. SMALLWOOD,

THE HOME OF GOOD SHOES.

AMBULANCE CALL.—The ambulance was called to the South Side last evening and conveyed to the Mount Hospital Joseph Butler, who is sur-fering from acute rheumatism.

C. C. C. PARADE.—The C. C. C.
will hold their first Church Parade
for the season to-morrow morning, attending last Mass at the R. C.
Cathedral.

Here and There.

HOME SAILS.—The S. S. Home
in charge of Capt. Jacob Kean sails to-day to begin her regular service.
Purser Hilliard from the Stella Maris will act in that capacity on the Home.

RUNS AWAY.—A boy named Not-tal who was staying at the Mount Cashel Industrial Home ran away from there yesterday afternoon and is now being looked for by the police.

FIRE ALARM.—At 7 o'clock last night the fire alarm from box 31 was sent in and the fire companies were brought to the premises of Nicholle and Inkpen, where the fire was.
Sparks from the chimney had ignited some clothing, but the fire was quenched before the firemen arrived.

Ploughing With Dynamite.

In the World's Work for April, Mr.
F. A. Talbot writes on farming with dynamite. The ordinary plow does not reach the deep subsoil. A farmer in desperation buried dynamite in holes drilled in hard soil, which exploding, broke the ground up into small pieces for a depth of several feet, letting in the water, and so dissolving the essential nutriment, while the roots were able to descend to a greater depth. The idea is now spreading throughout Canada and Mexico like a prairie fire. The method is used for ploughing fields deeply.
It is also used for clearing stumps from the soil. Nay, more; dynamite is used for planting trees. The spade-made hole leaves the surrounding soil in a hard condition, and the roots find it difficult to start. With dynamite
a large clean hole is blasted out, and the soil on all sides is loosened for five or six feet. So the trees planted in the dynamited holes grow twice as quickly as those set in the usual spade holes. A new profession has arisen, of expert dynamite farmers. In the cotton-growing Southern States dry weather no longer inflicts widespread damage. Though the streams and lakes are dried up, the cotton roots, having penetrated deeply into the dynamited-shattered soil,
are able to obtain enough moisture.
"The use of dynamite is proving the salvation of the cotton country. The number of farms which are being ploughed in this way are increasing by thousands." Nay, it is found effective in draining swamps. A farmer in Kansas was handicapped by a swamp extending for forty acres on his farm. At last he blasted a row of holes across the lowest part of the swamp where the collected water was about three feet deep. The water sank into the ground, and ever since then his forty acres have produced four crops of alfalfa every year.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.—Last evening a labourer was arrested for larceny. He had visited the soup kitchen of the Salvation Army while under the influence of liquor during the evening, and after being served with the edibles he asked, "lifted" the pepper and salt shaker.

WITH THE ADVENTISTS.—"The Soul and the Man's Condition in Death." A Scriptural answer to a perplexing question. Elder C. H.
Kendall will preach upon this subject at the Adventist Church, Cookstown Road, to-morrow night. A welcome to all. Seats free.

MADAM, ARE YOU LIKELY TO BE- COME A MOTHER SOON?

I have glad tidings for you—childbirth need be dreaded no more. Follow my advice—be happy now, and all will be well with the child and yourself.
My remedy,
Mother's Cordial or Herbal Tonic, builds up the reproductive organs and nervous centres—makes confinement easy, safe and quick, and rapidly recalls the glow and cheering health of vigorous womanhood.
Mother's Cordial is also a re-builder of run-down girls—girls strained or over-taxed with too much work. It purifies the blood—makes menstruation prompt and easy, and is accountable for many of the clear, beautiful complexions you admire so much.
This valuable remedy contains no stimulants or harmful drugs. It is simply a scientific blend of Indian herbs, whose virtues are well known to medical men. Write for free circular. At your druggist's, or by mail, $1.00 per package, or 6 packages $5.00.

A WONDERFUL REMEDY

Orange Lily is daily curing the most obstinate cases of Female Disorders. Falling of the Womb, Leucorrhoea, Painful and Suppressed Menstruation, etc., etc., are all of them relieved from the start by its use, and a few weeks' or months' treatment accomplishes a complete cure. This remedy is a positive, scientific preparation, and is based on the discoveries of Pasteur and Lister. It is an applied treatment;
that is, it is not taken internally,
but is applied direct to the suffering parts, and it therefore acts with all the certainty of the known laws of chemical action. As it comes in direct contact with the diseased tissue, its antiseptic and nerve-food properties
cannot help have a beneficial influence.
I receive from 10 to 50 letters daily, speaking of the benefits and cures it is performing,
and so sure am I that it will do what is claimed for it that I will send, absolutely free, a 3c box to every suffering woman who will write for it. Price $1 per box, which is sufficient for one month's treatment. Address: MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH,

MOIR'S BICUITS

The Socialist Movement.

BY ANDANTINO.

V.—WHAT SOCIALISM IS NOT.

Michael Angelo has said that sculpture is the art of chipping off superfluous stone. The sculptor sees a statue in every block, and his task is to remove those parts of the block that hide the statue from the layman's eye. So the Socialist sees the Co-operative Commonwealth imprisoned within the huge, rough, cruel mass that we call modern civilization, and his task is to remove from the beautiful form he sees the errors which mask it from the view of the unenlightened.

Socialism is Not Anarchism.

Socialists and Anarchists are polar opposites. While the Socialist asks that the functions of Government be extended sufficiently to secure to every man the greatest amount of liberty, the Anarchist asks that there shall be no government at all. The bulk of Socialists hope to bring Socialism by peaceful and lawful means. As one of them says: "Our method is persuasion; our cause is Justice; our weapons are the tongue and the pen." Indeed it is impossible to conceive two theories of government more opposite one to another than that of Socialism which demands more government, and that of Anarchism which demands the destruction of government altogether.

Socialism is Not Communism.

Communists look forward to a day when the spirit of mutual helpfulness which ought to attend the substitution of co-operation for competition will have entirely changed human nature; when men will have acquired habits of industry, of justice, and of self-restraint that stem now, incredible to us; they will then as naturally work as they now naturally shirk; they will as naturally share with one another as they now despoil one another. And when we contrast the state of our civilization now as regards some things with that of centuries ago—may it not be possible to go a step further and eventually to the ideal state of Communism? But Socialists do not go as far as this. They demand that the workers be assured, as exactly as is humanly possible, the product of their labour, and not share it with the idle and vicious on the one hand or be deprived of it by the capitalist on the other. This

Hoaxed by a Uniform.

Some Amazing Actions of People in Uniform.

The way in which a British policeman regulates traffic or manages a crowd has often been the wonder of foreigners. In Paris, when a reckless gendarme holds up his white baton to stop a stream of vehicles, it is always a point of honour with the drivers and chauffeurs to try and "ride him down."

In London, the raised hand of one policeman can hold no the traffic for miles, without any fuss or trouble. Why is this?

The reason is to be found in the curious respect with which Britisheers treat uniforms of any sort. Some time ago a bandsman was stranded without any money at a distant provincial town. How he was to get to London was a problem. At last a brilliant idea struck him.

As his train drew up in the station, he boldly opened a first-class carriage, and, stepping in, demanded a ticket from the gentleman who was its sole occupant. The gentleman looked at the gold lace upon the bandsman's cap, and obediently gave up his ticket, convinced that he was an authorised officer of some sort. The bandsman quietly got into another carriage and travelled up to London scot free.

That Uninvited Guest.

This influence of clothes has been shown in many ways. It is still the practice for a number of young men with a love of enjoyment, and no money for the gratifying of it, to attend the crowded balls given by distinguished leaders of society. They arrive in faultless evening dress, which franks them into the house, and the hostess, who has probably to shake hands with three or four hundred persons, never suspects that the daring, well-dressed young man is an uninvited guest.

The uniform of a clergyman has frequently been used by people as a means of earning a living. An overworked vicar requires a holiday. He has to find somebody to take on his duties.

GREAT CHANGE IN A FEW DAYS.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS MADE WM. GERVAIS A NEW MAN.

His Muscles Cramped, he was very Irritable and he had Headaches—Dodd's Kidney Pills changed it all.

Hitchcock, Sask., May 3. (Special).—Mr. Wm. Gervais, well known and highly respected here, is telling his friends of an almost miraculous change Dodd's Kidney Pills have made in him. He is a man of few words, but he speaks straight to the point: "My muscles would cramp," Mr. Gervais says; "My head ached and I was very irritable until I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two boxes made a new man of me."

A change in a few days from a nervous, irritable condition, with an aching head and a presentation that a serious illness was hovering over him, to rousing, energetic health was what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for Mr. Gervais. That's what they have done for thousands of others on the prairies. No matter where you go you will hear of cures they have made. If you don't know from your own experience, your neighbour will tell you they are the one sure cure for any form of Kidney Disease.

and the hostess, who has probably to shake hands with three or four hundred persons, never suspects that the daring, well-dressed young man is an uninvited guest.

COULD NOT MOVE WITHOUT A CRUTCH

Cured in two months by Gin Pills

PERTH, Ont.

"For two years, I was an invalid, incapable of work of any kind. For sixteen months, I was unable to move."

Without a crutch I was a cripple. I was treated by our best doctors as well as a specialist in Chicago. I did not improve and had about given up hope of ever being well again when a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS.

This I did and with a two months' treatment, was a well man again. I still use a box or two of GIN PILLS a year, just as a preventative and am enabled to go fishing and shooting in the spring and fall, and be out on the ground at night, without any inconvenience."

Ready Now.

"Can I talk to you a few minutes?" asked the life-insurance agent.

"Yes," replied the superintendent of the factory, "if you don't mind walking about the building with me. I haven't really the time to sit down."

"That's all right," said the agent, "I'd rather move around a little, anyhow."

The superintendent led the way out of the pattern-room, thence into the woodworkers' department, stopping every moment or two to converse with some operative, and took his caller at last into the room where the huge hammers were filling the air with their merrily din.

"Now," he said, "telling into the ear of the life-insurance man, "I am ready to listen to you. Go ahead."

What Others Have Found Out About Curtain Washing.

Curtain Stretching—Get common grocery string, using it doubled, and after having cut off a doubled thread the exact length of your curtain, measuring the lace edge only, with a bodkin or small safety pin draw the string through the narrow hem lengthwise of the curtain, fastening securely each end of the string. Do this to each curtain. If done right you will have a perfectly straight edge after stretching and the strings never show.

Robinet Curtains—Cut pieces of muslin four inches wide and sew flat on edges of curtains before they are laundered, using a long, loose stitch on the machine. Then wash and starch as usual and pin evenly on carpeted floor. When dry the muslin is easily ripped off, and in this way you avoid the full, uneven edge which is so often seen in bobbinet curtains.

Washing Lace Curtains Without Stretches.

To do up lace curtains nicely without stretches, wash and starch without much rubbing or wringing and hang lengthwise on the line. Place opposite scallops together and pull the whole curtain straight. The starch will stick the opposite halves together, no pins being needed. The curtains will be straight and even and no ironing will be necessary—only a pressing of the scallops.

Directions for Washing Lace Curtains.

Never give them hard rubbing.

Always soak and sop out as much of the dirt as possible.

Never starch fine lace curtains very stiff. The coarser the curtains the more starch they will require.

Add borax to the starch to help hold the stiffening. Coffee, tea or saffron may be added to the starch for ecur curtains, if their dark color is desirable.

Always shake the dust from curtains before washing.

Always squeeze the water from curtains when changing them from one water to another.

Wash very old or fine curtains in a pillow case or other muslin bag.

Measure the curtains before washing.

Washing Lace Curtains.

Fill a tub half full of tepid water; add to this half a pound of soap dissolved in two quarts of water, and two teaspoonfuls of borax dissolved in a quart of boiling water. Shake well and let them stand over night in this water. Squeeze from this water and put in a tub half full of hot water in which had been dissolved one tablespoonful of borax and soap enough to make suds. Soap and squeeze them in this water and if necessary put them in another suds made in the same way. When perfectly clean squeeze them out and rinse in clear water. Squeeze them perfectly dry and spread them on the grass to dry. When dry, starch them and draw into the desired length. Pin on a curtain frame or other place to stretch. If curtain frames are not convenient, try using a mattress in its place. Put the mattress out of doors or in a room with the windows open. Fold lengthwise and pin on the mattress. When pinning the curtains in place be careful to get both sides the same length to get the original width. They may be pressed with a warm iron when dry.

Details of Blanket Washing.

Carefully shake the blankets to remove all dust and lint. Rip off any colored bindings and replace them with white.

Half fill two tubs with hot water. Pour enough dissolved soap in one tub to make a strong suds and into the second tub a weak suds. Add enough cold water to make it luke warm.

Put the blankets in the first tub, and sop them up and down until the water is dirty. Squeeze the water from them and put them in the next tub containing suds, washing as before.

Have ready a tub full of water the same temperature as the wash water and rinse thoroughly. The rinse water should contain just a little soap. Run through the ringer and shake well. If they are hung on the line to dry they should be pinned in several places so that an undue strain will not come on any one part. Wash only one pair of blankets at a time. Have fresh water for each pair. Blankets should be perfectly dry before they are taken from the line. When dry, fold and press under a board. To do this put the folded blanket on a table, cover with a board and add a heavy weight. Allow them to remain for a day or more.—Woman's World for May.

Kitchener Was Stranded.

Ex-Police Sergeant Rayment, the man who was the innocent cause of Lord Kitchener being stranded on the river bank at Ambukol, in one of the Egyptian campaigns for two days without food, has been presented with a marble clock on his retirement, after serving 25 years in the London police force, 18 of which have been spent at South Norwood. Rayment served as a telegraphist in the Royal Engineers, and was deputed to take a boatload of supplies to Kitchener, who was then acting as intelligence officer. Desertion on the part of his Bash-Bazouk helpers was one of the reasons which delayed him on his journey, and on his arrival the first word he heard from Kitchener were: "Good heavens, man, where have you been? We thought you had got killed. Hurry up with something. I have had nothing to eat for two days."

Makes Hair Grow.

McMurdo & Co. have an invigorator that will grow hair or money back. The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of.

If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, the Great American Hair Grower, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed. A large bottle for 50c.

King George Will Fly.

THOUGH QUEEN OBJECTS.

Expected to Make First Air Trip During Exhibition at Hendon, Says London Despatch.

New York, April 21.—King George V. intends to be the first of the world's rulers to fly. It is learned from a reliable source that he has frequently expressed a desire to take a ride in an aeroplane and he probably would have done so before new had not the Queen, fearing for his safety, discouraged him.

But now the idea has taken more definite form and the authorities at the Hendon aerodrome have been requested to arrange a series of exhibition flights for him, so that he may convince the Queen, who will accompany him to the grounds, that the time has come when he may fly without danger and at the same time greatly increase his popularity with sport-loving Britons.

On his return to town at the end of the month he will visit both Brooklands and Hendon aerodromes, and personally inspect all the latest devices and improvements. He is also keenly alive to the importance of the newly constituted aeronautical branch of the service, the Royal Flying Corps, and has requested that he be kept constantly informed of its plans and operations.

The King, who was much worried and worn during the coal strike, has benefited greatly by his stay at York Cottage, Sandringham, where his daily life is of the simplest variety. The dinner parties never include more than half a dozen guests and court formalities are completely banished.

During his absence from Buckingham Palace he has had a tennis court laid out in the private gardens. He is a good, fast player and intends to have a game every morning before breakfast with his boys, who are enthusiastic over the idea.

Snow in Britain.

English Railways Have Spent Thousands Clearing Their Lines.

The severe weather that was felt practically over Canada during the past winter was of more inconvenience to the railways and has caused them more expense than has caused them to be put to for some years back. A comparison between the conditions as they were in the Dominion and in Great Britain is interesting.

A mild winter is a boon to the railways, for frost and snow increases their working expenses enormously, and during very severe weather the cost of keeping the traffic moving attains abnormal figures.

During the great storm of January,

1881, the Great Western had fifty passenger trains and a dozen goods trains showed up at different parts of their system. Over a hundred miles of snow-bound line had to be cleared, and when the bill was paid it came to $280,000. So great was the stoppage caused by that memorable storm that the Bristol, Exeter and Plymouth mails were held up for twenty-four hours at Paddington, until the line was partially opened.

During a prolonged storm it is not uncommon for a big railway to spend $7,500 a day in clearing the line, and their most formidable weapon for fighting the battle with the drifts is the snow-plow. Towering 13 feet 6 inches high, and weighing, when fully equipped, nearly thirty tons, these huge vehicles, shaped like the bows of a ship, convey an impression of irresistible strength, especially when propelled by two or three engines.

A railway snow-plow is built on a massive iron frame, carried on small bogie wheels, just clearing rail level. The steel cutting edge rises perpendicularly between inclined plates, tap-

Douglas' Egyptian Liniment is a Speedy Cure

Mr. S. F. Rowson, New Dublin, Ont., is a great believer in Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. In a recent letter, he says:

"I can recommend Egyptian Liniment as the best on the market. I had a horse that the veterinary said had strained the cords of his tail. He gave medicines for him, but they were of no avail. I then used Egyptian Liniment and after two applications the horse recovered the use of his tail. I have also seen some remarkable cures made with this liniment where horses have been cut on barb wire fences. A liniment is a necessity to you and every other stockman. Any other liniment than THE BEST is a waste of time and money and may lead to the loss of valuable animals which the best liniment would save. Hundreds of men who have tested it declare that Egyptian Liniment is the best liniment. Try it yourself and see. 45 Twenty-five cents at all Druggists. Free sample on request. The Standard Recipe for Home-made Self-Raising Flour.
 To every pound of ordinary flour add 2 ozs. (one 5 cent tin) of
"Paisley Flour"
 The SURE raising powder.
 and mix dry. Mix it fresh every time—it only takes a minute. Stir round till the lighter coloured Paisley Flour disappears and sift through a dredger.
 In this way you have a self-raising flour superior to anything you can buy—one in which the raising powder has lost none of its virtue by waiting, exposure to air or damp in shops, etc. And it will cost you no more, if not less, than ready-made self-raising flour.
 Paisley Flour is sold in 22c., 14c. and 5c. tins. The 22c. tin will raise 7 pounds of flour.
