BLAINE'S DESPONDENT DESPATCH.
Blaine sent the following despatch to Lowell at 9 p.m.: The president has lost ground to-day. Some of his symptoms this afternoon and evening are of the gravest character. The condition of the swollen gland and the state of the pulse suggest serious and alarming complications. His mind at intervals has been somewhat beclouded and wandering. His strength fails, but he still swallows liquid food of a nourishing character and apparently digests it. On this one fact rests the hope that is left of reaction.

The decision of the surgeons against removal is endorsed by the cabinet, whose views were communicated to Mrs. Garfield by Postmaster-General James. THE TELEGRAPH SYSTEM.

London, Aug. 25.—On Tuesday there was an excursion from Chatham to Toronto. Some of the excursionists, as is not altogether unusual, drank pretty heavily, and grew quarrelsome on the way home. A man named Henderson of Chatham was of the party. He was an Orangeman, and on the train got into an altercation with some Catholics. It is said that they beat him, got him down and kicked him. He was shockingly maltreated. At Copetown, late at night, he left the train, and the night watchman washed and dressed his wounds. Official Statistics of the Canadian Telegraph

UNDER TUTORS AND GOVERNORS. The London Telegraph has been telling us what an angel of a governor-general we have got in Canada. It seems that his administration, with "the immense assistance which the Princess Louise gave "him." has been earning truly golden opinions on every hand; that he has done his utmost to insure the progress of this Dominion; that the various schemes of immigration have received his warmest support; that the welfare of the colonists has been his constant care; that he has worked night and day to bring Canada into a prosperous and happy condition; that under his beneficent rule the country has flourished; and that he is now braving discomfort and perhaps privation in the Northwest in order that we Canadians may know more of our own country and that it may be more fairly represented to the strangers without our gates.

The "discomfort" and "perhaps privation" his excellency is caduring in the Northwest should stir our deepest sympathics-especially when we reflect on the ate of that half-carload of wine and grog sent ahead of him to Winnipeg. National pride may cause us Canadians to pooh-pooh the complaint of the United States post-office officials that we are using mail bags that do not belong to us; but if we look squarely at the facts we cannot avoid the conclusion that our neighbors are in the right and we are in the wrong.

THE HITCH AT OSGOODE HALL. A conference took place at Osgoode hall vesterday between the attorney-general and the acting superior court judges. It is understood that there is no difference between them as to the necessity of a new mmissiou. As far as is known, Mr. Cameron is the only one of the judges who now takes the ground that a new commission ought to issue. The debatable point is, Has a new court been constituted by the Judicature act ? One party says the act itself specifically declares that a new court has not been created—that the change is in the name of the old courts. The other party maintains that the high court of justice is a new court, and that no judge can take a seat in it who is not regularly appointed thereto. One thing is clear, that where men so able as the superior court judges and leading members of the legal profession differ in opinion there must be room for doubt. In this matter the onsequences are so far-reaching that there bught to be no room left for doubt, and them are mere vagrants when compared to there needs be none. The authority of the Ontario legislature to pass the Judica. for instance. He was the son of Nimrod the Ontario legislature to pass the Judicature act cannot be disputed. To the Editor of the Toronto World.

SIR,—Although Mr. Phipps has passed me by with only a laudatory postscript, and addressed his reply solely to "Querist." I may be permitted to give vent to the exhilaration I feel in being classed with "Reformer" as "one who knows too much about free trade and protection to benefit by any information from him." We are avoid the conclusion that our neighbors are in the right and we are in the wrong. Postmaster-general James' recent letter to the department at Ottawa gives figures and cites instances which show clearly that our postal officials have been appropriating our postal officials have been appropriating their officials have used virtually none of our ordinary internal postal service, while their officials have used virtually none of ours. The New York postmaster, under date of August 4, reports:

"We make no use of Canadian bags for ours, the new York postmaster, under date of August 4, reports:

"We make no use of Canadian bags for ours, the new York postmaster, under dust of August 4, reports:

"We make no use of Canadian bags for ours, the new York postmaster of the two counties of the two counties of the two counties of the two fields of the post of the years ago."

The Detroit postmaster also reports:

"Have never known a Canadian sack or onch to have been used as stated. Only one, and that over five years ago."

"Have never known a Canadian sack or onch to have been used as stated. Only one, of our men has ever seen a Canadian pouch in the United States, and that each should return the bags of the other empty.

The better further shows that regulations were agreed to by the post-office departments of the two countries, requiring, in effect, that each country should despatch mails only in its own bags, and that each should return the bags of the other empty. The sole cause of the present difficulty is that our authorities have neglected to carry this simple arrangement out."

And then much depends upon the whence this "grand distribution of wealth" emanated. If the store-keepers "distributed" it themselves in order to enable the people to come and "clear them out," it is a little difficult to with Nane's Apaches, and the other the fight on the railroad train against masked robbers.

We believe the whole truth of the matter lies in the fact that the Canadian post-office department is without a competent head. Ever since that most important branch of the public service has been in the hands of John O'Connor, it has been mismanaged simply shamefully. If he made no pretence of doing anything more than draw his salary, we might at least have some assurance that the affairs of clear them out," it is a little difficult to see how the "scarcity" of money among them thus caused in the first place by their own act, and then the "scarcity" of goods caused by the return of that money to them in exchange for goods, can have produced any startling increase of "riches," since they have only got back their money and given away their goods for nothing. Seriously, I don't think Mr. Phipps means this. If a beneficent system of protection is supposed to be the origin of this "grand distribution of wealth," then one naturally inquires where this protective government

Mr. Dalrymple explained at length how this enormous business is conducted. The 30,000 acres under cultivation are divided into five divisions of 6000 acres each, under superintendents who are responsible directly to Mr. Dalrymple, the commander-inchief. Euch of these regiments is divided again into battalions, with a foreman or major, who has charge of 2000 acres. Under him are three companies, each having a captain and cultivating a section, which is 640 acres of land. Each superintendent plants having a captain and cultivating a section, which is 640 acres of land. Each superintendent plants his crop and harvests it, reporting from time to time to Mr. Dalrymple, who directs and oversees the whole. When the plowing commences in the spring the men go out in gangs, each taking 640 acres, under the direction of a foreman, who rides along on horseback to see that the work is done properly. Everything is in military style. The plows are all double, and are drawn by four horses. At the word of the captain they start, and go around a field of 640 acres, which is exactly four miles in distance, ten or twelve plows abreast. At the end of the second furrow, eight miles the player are left in the soil. eight miles, the plows are left in the soil, the men mount their horses, and ride to headquarters' for dinner. headquarters for dinner. After the horses are fed they remount, return to the plows and go around the 640 acres two or three times more before supper time. At the close of the day the horses, plows and harness are inspected again, and, if any repairs are necessary, the blacksmith, saddler or farrier makes them during the night. The same routine is followed at seeding time and during the harvest. The self-binding harvesters throw the bundles of ripe grain upon the ground, where they are picked up and placed in huge shocks to await the waggons which transport them to threshers, which are always placed as closely as possible to the cars. After threshing the straw is carried away and burned. It sounds very large, but it is nevertheless a fact, that the ploughs and harvesters regularly make a trip four miles long without stopping. A furrow eight miles in length is considered a fair morning's work, but ten miles is nothing for an afternoon's diversion. Grant comes dashing along Ocean avenue behind a fine team o bays that draws his heavy T cart. Ordinarily he drives alone; sometimes his son Ulysses is with him. Grant's now in the financial vortex. He haunts Wall street, although not as a general speculator, talks stock and Mexican railroad prospects continually, has become brusque in manner, in me lashing in dress, and more talkative tinually, has become brusque in manner, more lashing in dress, and more talkative than ever before. Sometimes he wears a blue necktie with a red dot in it, and occasionally I notice the plaid pattern of his trousers is very large as to squares and sensational as to effect. They say he is making mosey, and is now worth a clear three-quarters of a million, made in conservative stock speculations, in which he was guided, and is yet, by Jay Gould. He remains the lion of the Branch, notwithstanding the counter attraction of Jay Gould, who lives up toward Atlanticville, and about three miles from Grant's cottage, toward the north. Gould, however, is rarely seen. Sometimes a glimpse of him may be had as one whirls along Ocean his splendid cottage. Again at dusk there is sometimes a clatter of hoofs and rattle of wheels on the avenue, and, as a spleudid tham of blacks dart by, one catches sight of a solitary figure on the high box seat.

The Largest Farm in the World.

A correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean has been visiting Mr. Dalrymple's big wheat farm in Dakota, and gives the following account of it: Can you imagine a single wheat field of 30 000 acres? It the farm was stretched out like a ribbon half a mile wide it would reach as far as from Chicago to Milwaukee. If it were in a single rectangular piece, a mile in width, it would be forty-five miles from end to eud. About three train loads, or 30,000 bushels, are sent every day to Duluth. MISREPRESENTATION.

Light lapses indicate good management and well-pleased and satisfied policy-holders.

To No. 5 we say: It is a little too much to expect Twenty-six Williams to be taken care of, and invested and re-invested, safely and profitably, without any, expense whatever. It cost the largest loan and savings society in Canada cless upon 14 per cent. to re-invest and care for its millions last year. And again it is a little unreasonable to expect that $1,376,527 43 could be paid out to about 3000 widows and orphans, and $779,584.57 more for Endowments, never paying the wrong party, and getting a proper legal discharge from each, and no expense whatever be incurred in the whole performance! But this is the basis on which the hidden writer proceeds to figure out his "more than 24 per cent." for collecting a few cash premiums. What per cent, would it be if all the premiums were completed, as many of the ETNA'S were years ago, by 5, 7, 8 and 10 payments?

The standard method of measuring a life company's economy is by showing the ratio of its Working Expenses to its Entire Income. This method has been followed for many years in the "Policyholders' Index," for all American companies, and has been applied by Prof. Cherriman to all Canadian companies in his Blue Book for three years past. It is a little unfair both to old companies whose premiums have been largely completed, and to young companies whose premiums have been largely completed, and to young companies whose premiums have been largely completed, and to young companies whose premiums have been largely completed, and to young companies, for 3 years past, per annum, $27.30

The excellent character of the ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY has recently been set forth in the columns of two Totonto daily papers, in respect to its Strength, Soundness, Profitableness, and Economy of Management. This has been done both satstantively, by full publication of its accounts: and also comparatively, by placing its figures alongside of those of other companies, English, Canadian and American. And this has been done also in an open, manly fashion, ever the names of the Macagers of the Company in Canada, all of whom have had long experience in the business, and are responsible for the correctness of their statements.

Thereupon some anonymous writer, who evidently does not wish to be heldresponsible for his sianders, concects a statement in which he proves, in his own fashion: let, that the ÆTNA's volume of Income and Insurance is less now than in 1872; 2nd, that its death rate rules higher than the average of other companies in the States; 3rd, that it paid out in cash $155,441 more money in 1879 for death, and endowment claims than it received in cash for premiums; 4th, that its lapses and surrenders are abnormally heavy; and 5th, and lastly, as if bound to destroy, by a masterpiece of absurdity, any value sensible people might have attached to amore moderate statement, he brings the actual cost of collecting what little income he leaves us, up to "more than 24 per cent!"

Points 1 and 2 have been answered fully in a previous advertisement, entitled "Solid Progress," showing that all statements were in Greenbacks in 1872, but in Gold in 1879, and that while income and Policy Liability had decreased, on the other hand the Assets had Increased from $18,617,520 Gircenbacks in 1872 until they are now $26,403.440 in Gold I And as to deaths, we showed that the Ærna was an old company and had many old members, while many of the other companies were new; but the Ærna having received the necessay funds from those old members was now well prepared to meet all losses as they came.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Grant to the Regatta Committee—A Close Contest
With Some Skilful Fencing—New Industries
Seeking out Toronto.

The greater part of the time of the executive committee yesterday was occupied with the discussion of the $400 grant to the regatta. In order to understand the various moves made it is necessary to premise that there were four members in favor of the grant, and four, including the chairman, against it. Each could negative any motion made by the other, and was conseqently anxious that the other party should make the first move. The matter came up in the shape of a resolution adopted by the council, recommending that the grant be made, and asking the committee to report funds. As the vote of the council was not a two-thirds one, the executive had the power of disapproving of the grant be made, and asking the committee to report funds. As the vote of the council was not a two-thirds one, the executive had the power of disapproving of the grant, when the matter would have to some before the council again.

The mayor, a strong supporter of the grant, not being present when the matter came up, Ald. Ball moved that it be laid over till his arrival, which was defeated; then Ald. Clark moved a long resolution disapproving of the grant, his strongest argument being, while the $400 was granted by the citizens generally, the profit results.

argument being, while the $400 was granted by the citizens generally, the profit resulting from the influx of visitors would only go to a few. Ald. Mitchell addressed the committee, saying that the regatta would fill a long-felt want of some attraction during the first week of the exhibition.

Mr. H. P. Good and Mr. Carrier also addressed the committee. Ald. Clark's motion was supported by Ald. Love and Fleming, and opposed by Ald. Love and Fleming, and opposed by Ald. Lobb, Ryan, Ball and the mayor, who had entered during the discussion. The motion being put, was lost on the following division: Yeas—Ald. Clark, Fleming, Love, and Denison (chairman); nays—Ald. Ryan, Ball, Lobb, and the mayor. If the regatta men had only left this graduation of the statement of the same and the mayor.

At the Humber a day or two ago a man named Price went out to do statute labor and locked his children in the house. A young fellow named Wright came and told him the house was on fire, and he went back just in time to save their lives.

Two heavy swells made things lively on King street last night by a hand-to-hand encounter between themselves. They fought like dogs until a newspaper man came along and made pretence to take notes of the rounds. Then they made themselves

The Enderson Serves which was of course voted down on precisely the same thad only left things alone, everything would now some some in the time state. The mayor is short media. The matches Ryan's motion was unnecessary after the defeat of that of Ald. Clarke, and after a good deal of discussion it was decided to re-open the whole matter. Then ensued another lively contest as to who should go another lively contest as to who should go first. The mayor urged that the onus was on the opposite party, and that it was for them to make a motion disapproving of the grant, and this view of the case was at grant, and this view of the case was at length acquiesced in by the chairman. Such a resolution was accordingly put and defeated, and the advocates of the grant emerged from the scene triumphant, though their opponents say the end is not yet.

A petition was read from Mr. Bailey asking for exemption or reduction of taxation for a western firm of manufacturers who propose to settle here. Mr. Bailey appeared and said he was the secretary of the Canada Car company, who held a piece of land in the city assessed at $26,500, which they had for a assessed at $25,000, which they had for a long time been endeavoring to sell, the highest offer made so far being $9500. An opportunity now presented itself of selling the property to the firm in question, for whom he was authorized to appear. They were Inglis & Hunter of Guelph, who had whom he was authorized to appear. They were Inglis & Hunter of Guelph, who had there a loundry and machine shop, one of the articles manufactured by them being the Corliss engine. The matter was laid over until the next meeting, in order that one of the firm might appear in person.

The firm of Dixon & Co., lately of Bradford, England, and now of Hamilton, wrote stating that they intended to start manufacturing worsted and other yarns, and asking what inducements Toronto would offer, and whether they could get a bonus. The secretary was instructed to forward to Messrs. Dixon & Co. a copy of the resolution exempting factories at which new industries are carried on.

William Greey and John Gamble Greey wanted exemption for a manufactory of flour mill furnishings, which they said would employ from fifty to sixty hands, most of them skilled workmen. The matter was referred to the commissioner.

A communication from Peter A. Scott, in reference to an arbitration between him and

A couple of new forms were submitted to and approved by the committee.

The report of the board of works was accepted, with the exception of a clause recommending a sale of the stone in the city hall yard to Godson & West, which was referred back for further information.

The committee then adjourned The committee then adjourned.

THE UNKNOWN DROWNED. Further Particulars About the Body Found in the Bay.

Yesterday the body taken out of the bay lay at the morgue waiting identification. Dr. Riddel examined it, and it was toth his and Mr. Williams' opinion that the body must have been in the water some four or five years. The only vestiges of clothing were the remnants of a brownish rollet cast with an outside analysis. pilot coat with an outside pocket, and some remains of a coarse check shirt. The skull was almost entirely gone, but the teeth were was almost entirely gone, but the teeth were in a good state of preservation. When the body was found one leg was already gone below the knee, and in attempting to pull off the boot, which is a laced blucher one, off the boot, which is a laced blucher one, the other leg came off. The appearance was that of a man about 30 years old and the height of 5 ft. 7½ ins. The body was interred at noon. A surmise was made that it was that of John Dernan, a orother-in-law of Hanlan, who disappeared some years ago, and is supposed to have been drowned, but for this opinion there is no foundation except the fact in t Dernan has been missing for the same time that the body is supposed to have been in the water.

A PLEASANT MEETING.
A meeting was held yesterday morning the police court building on Court strethe object of which will be seen from report of the proceedings. Ald. Love oc-cupied the chair. The deputy chief said it gave him great pleasure to introduce to the chairman Mr. Finnius O'Brien, a prominent resident of Lombard street, who would ad-dress the meeting.

Mr. O'Brien said that, unaccustomed as he was to public speaking, it was with great hesitation, mingled with feelings of pride, that he ventured to address so intelligent that he ventured to address so intelligent an audience as that which he saw before him. He was here interrupted by Ald. Love, who asked him whether he had been drunk the night before. (Cheers.) Mr. O'Brien said he really could not claim that honor. It was true he had taken a glass or two, and on the strength of that a policeman had made some very flattering remarks, and had kindly conducted him to police station No. 4, where he had been provided with an elegant suite of rooms, but he really didn't deserve it. (Cries of "O yes, you do.")

Ald. Love said Mr. O'Brien was altogeth *Ald. Love said Mr. O'Brien was altogether too modest. For his part, he was so satisfied with his conduct that he had determined to invite him to spend thirty days at the mansion of Mr. Green over the Don. If this was not convenient he would ask him to accept a little gift of $1 and costs.

Mr. O'Brien, amid many blushes, declined to accept the proffered hospitality, but at length submitted to be borne away by a policeman. He was then conducted into a magnificent chariot bearing the inscription T. P. V., and whirled away eastward amid the loud plaudits of the assembled throng.
