The Bishop's Revelation.

Once there was a good old Mormon Bishop, who had only one wife. This at first may not appear to be a very startling statement, but it must be remembered that this particular Bishop lived in Utah at a time plural matrimony was the rule and not the exception, especially with bishops who were expected in this respect at least, to set a bright example to the church members in their several wards. Most bishops had several wives, any one of the Episcopal rank who limited himself to one was looked upon as a freak. Indeed, this good old Bishop was even more severely criticised. It was openly alleged that his shameful neglect of nis matrimonial opportunities was a serious stumbling block to some of the weakly brethren. When the doctrine of polygamy was first taught in Zion many of the best Mormons, while accepting the theory, were slow to indulge in its practice, making various ex-cuses. In our bishop's ward the excuses generally ran thus: "Look at our Bishop. He has only one wife."

And it came to pass that one day the Bishop's two counselors came to see him, and said they desired to "take counsel" with

"Come into the front room, said the Bishop's wife, "and I will call him." But the first counselor said that he could see the Bishop at work near the barn, and they preferred to go out there and talk with After the usual salutations, the Bishop and his counselors sat down on a log behind the barn, and whittled at the log while the following proceedings were had:

"Bishop," said the first counselor, "we have come to talk with you on a matter of grave importance to the church."

"And one which has long lain heavily on our hearts. And we feel confident that if the matter is properly presented you will agree with us as to the best thing to do."

'Yes," said the Bishop, who suspected "Bishop, we think you ought to take

"What! Me? Me? No, no, no, man! Tut! tut! tut! I'm too old; I'm too old," sputtered the Bishop.
"Now, look here, Bishop," said the seco large house, plenty of room, and you are rich enough to provide for two more wives if you should see fit to take them." The Bishop smiled a superior smile.

"Ah, there never was a house built big ugh for Betsy and another wife." "Why, you don't mean to tell us that Sister Betsy would object to walking in the path which the Lord has so marvelously ally moderate when you compare same with the opened up for his chosen people," exclaimed the first counselor.

"O, no, I suppose not," replied the Bishop, hastily, "only you see, Betsy has been a mighty good wife to me all these years and a good mother to the children, and I could hardly think of doing anything—"
"There need be no trouble," put in the econd counselor. "Look at Brother Lyman. He has three wives all living in the than yours. It is really not right for you to delay any longer, Bishop. It is creating much comment among the brethren."

"Yes," added the first counselor.—"When I was in Salt Lake City, last week Brother

Get Together. During the next two or three months the Bishop and his counselors were often seen together, but they seemed to make no headway in their efforts to get the Bishop to take another wife. One day he received a letter from Brother Brigham Young, requesting him to call and talk over matters of importance at the earliest moment, when he could make it convenient to visit Salt Lake City. Betsy seemed strangely averse to his making the trip, but after many delays he went.

He was closeted with Brother Brigham for several hours, and when he returned to his home in the broad valley by the lake he was estimate of others. strangely silent and meditative for several days. Betsy asked no questions, but seemed to be expecting something to happen-and One morning, when the family was gathe ed about the breakfast table and the Bishop had asked a blessing, he leaned back in his chair and said solemnly: "Wife, last night I had a revelation from the Lord." "Indeed!" "Yes; an angel appeared to me in a vision and foretold the future, and gave me a message to the living."

"What is it?" asked Betsy meekly. "It was-ahem-revealed to me by the angel that I had not been walking as I should before this people; that I have been guilty of a sinful neglect of duties in the past. It was revealed to me that I should take Jane Edwards to the Endowment House next week and have her sealed to me through all eternity. The Lord hath spoken. Bless ed be the name of the Lord." The children all looked at Betsy, expect ing an outburst, but none came. - She calmly poured the coffee, carved the loaf and presided at the table as though nothing had oc curred. The Bishop was surprised and ap-"You're not any older than prehensive, but as the day passed and no signs of trouble appeared he recovered his serenity and felt thankful that affairs were moving along so nicely. So it was a shock to him when, at the breakfast table next morning, after he had invoked the Divine blessing, Betsy instead of pouring the coffee,

"Tommy, keep your hands down.—Mary keep the baby quiet for a minute. I have something to say. Simon, last night I had a revelation from the Lord." "Yes," said the Bishop feebly.

Healthy Public Sentiment.

Nothing is so productive of good results in the operations of what we term the body politic as is a healthy public sentiment. It shapes and controls legislation and the administration of the laws. It is to the body politic what a healthy digestion is to the physical body. Speaking of digestion, the greatest remedy in the world for chronic indigestion or dyspepsis is Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic. The most obstinate cases are cured by this remedy. It stimulates and tones up the organs, enabling them to do their work perfectly. The blood is enriched and the nervous system invigorated. Perfect health is restored. Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic is sold by all druggists and dealers at 50 cts. per bottle or six bottles for $2.50, and is manufactured only by the Hawker Medicine Co. (Ltd.,) St. John, N. It is now a common thing in this locality to hear people acknowledge the wonderful benefit they have derived from the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills, and it is not to be wondered at that the druggists find the sale of this remarkable medicine so large and yet constantly increasing. We could give any number of instances of splendid results following the use of Pink Pills, but so many of these are well known to many of our read ers as to not need recapitulation. However now and again a case of more than usual in terest arises, and we will give the partic public at large. Some years ago a young girl of 14, a daughter of Mr. Leon Dore, a well known and respected resident of Corn wall, began to show serious symptoms, and caused her mother great anxiety. just at the critical period of her life, and medical aid was called in and everything te grow worse, until it was evident she was fast going into a decline. A hacking cough set in, and the poor girl, who was formerly plump and healthy looking, with bright rosy cheeks, began to waste away, and in a few months was merely a shadow of her forme saving the young girl's life, the doctors being apparently unable to do anything to check the ravages of the mysterious disease. At ength the mother's attention was dir o give them a trial. A box was taken, and, as the girl did not show any visible signs of of discontinuing the medicine when a neigh the summer of Rev. To those death, and the resources of the florists finally who saw her during the days of her illness gave out. There were eighteen pall bearers, the majority of them personal friends of the miracle. Mrs. Dore freely gave the St. dard reporter permission to publish an ac-

She replied that she would like to give even stronger expression to her appreciation of this wonderful medicine. She further said that Pink Pills had greatly helped herself. She tack of la grippe, and the Pink Pills had restored her to health. Her daughter also expressed her gratitude for the extraordinary change this medicine had wrought in her count of her daughter's illness and recovery.

She said she could not find words strong

Bodies Found in a Cave. POSSIBLE PATE OF CREW OF SCHOONER AM

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 8.—The finding of 18 dead bodies in a small cave on the southwest coast of Greenland by the barque Serene, which arrived at Philadelphia from Ivigtut a few days since, is thought to furnish a clue to the possible fate of the crew of the schooner Ambrose H. Knight, or this port, which sailed from this port March 12 of last year for the Iceland fishing grounds and was never seen or heard from afterwards.

and was never seen or heard from after-wards.

The bodies were found in a cave on a wild and desolate part of the coast, being huddled together, and it was at first thought that the men belonged to the Peary exploring party, but the latter was supposed to be hundreds of miles from where the bodies were discovered. It is now thought that the bodies were those of the men of the schooner Ambrose H. Knight, and that the vessel was wrecked or disabled and blown on the Greenland coast, the men escaping to the shore, where they either starved or froze to death.

—In Canada, so the published statistics state, 68,000 people died in the year 1891, and of these about 28,000 died under five years of agc. Whether 1891 was an exceptional year in the number of deaths which occurred, there is no information given, but the number of deaths which occurred in 1891 is almost appalling when one comes to reveal a state of affairs which lought to be enquired into. That is assuming 1891 was a parallel year with other years.

The Weekly Monitor.

MEDNESDAY, AUGUST 14TH, 1895.

—ALTHOUGH woman's editions of newspapers and magazines are now not an entirely new thing elsewhere, the Halifax Herald's extra woman's edition of Saturday last is, we believe, the first attempt of the kind in this province. This is an extra eight-page edition of that paper of which the literary work is all done by women. Besides several exquisite gems of original poetry, the issue contains some twenty-five or thirty articles discussing many of the live topics of the day from a woman's standpoint. These articles are exceedingly well written. They show a breadth of mind, an originality of thought and a polish and elegance of expression which excite our admiration.

The annual shooting Competition.

The annual shooting of the Rifle Association of this county came off at Paradise on Friday and Saturday last.

On Friday the interest centred in a keen contest for the Mills cup. At 200 yards the scoring was good. At 500 yards the wind began to blow strong, with each of the wind had some hope at the start, felt doubtful now. When the 600 yards was reached the wind had increased to a gale. Capt. LeCain, one of the first on the mounds, retired with 76. Shortly after Sergt. James Whyte did one better, and in a few minutes, Lieut. A. Nichols, winning the cup for a year. Saturday was favorable, and good scores were made throughout the day. Who should have the affiliated medals became a matter of exciting interest. Finally, Sergt. Battel Saunders, of the 69th, secured the highest aggregate score—165 points, winning the capt have good reasons for feeling proud of this the result of their first efforts at getting out a woman's edition. With all her eccentricities the new woman seems able to prove herself intellectually the equal of her brother in every respect. One cannot read this edition without frankly confessing this much, however old fashioned may be one's ideas about woman's sphere.

As was to be expected the topics discussed take a wide range and show a great diversity of sentiment. Severa take a wide range and show a great diversity of sentiment. Several of the writers discuss the suffrage question and it will surprise no one to find that the culture and intellectual power among the fair sex of our province are not all on one side of this question. In fact, two of the ablest articles which appear in the issue oppose woman suffrage and give good and substantial reasons for the faith which their authors hold upon that question These are written by Mrs. Sarah J. Healy, of this town, and Mrs. J. Shenton, who, we sume, is the wife of the well-known Methodist divine. Friends of the movemen will doubtless not relish some of the statements made by these writers. For instance, Mrs. Healy has this rather severe thrust at the leaders of the suffrage movement:

"The clamour for woman's suffrage, which is after all only entertained by a small minority, is the result of several different motives. There are many women to whom this age of increased opportunities has given attainments above those they have hitherto enjoyed, and being not 'to the manor born,' dazzled by their little greatness, in their pride and vain glory, stand ready to do or be anything which will bring themselves or their remarkable talents into public notice."

Justin McCarthv. the present leader of the Justin McCarthy, the present leader of the Justin McCarthy, the present leader of the home rule party, once wrote something of the same kind. He bluntly stated that many of the leaders of the suffrage movement took the stand they did upon this question chiefly because of the prominence and notoriety they hoped to gain by so doing. The indignant rejoinder which this statement drew upon him, that he wished to keep woman in bondage for his own political advantage, will scarcely meet the case when a similar charge is made by a woman herself, as in this instance.

The tribute Mrs. Healy pays to the women of a preceding generation will, we feel well assured, awaken an echo in the heart of every true man, whatever may be his sentiments upon the franchise or kindred questions. These are the grandmothers of to-day, "a few of whom still remain, sitting in quiet—places with folded hands, looking with anxious wondering eyes at the doings of their daughters. These women made the homes and stood side by side with the men who made our country what it is; they sent out the husbands and sons to sit in high places, whose hands they strengthened, whose hearts they ruled, and by their devotion to the interests of humanity lay the foundation for the boasted privileges and inherent rights of the women of to day."

Who died in Hubbardston, Mass., July 11th. was born in Melvern Square, N. S., Dec. 37d, 1892.

Mr. Phinney, with his family, came to the bold his family, came to the bod on his family, came to the babardston, at the home of relatives, for his health, June 5th. The change for a time seemed to be doing him good; but suddenly, in a very unexpected moment, when skill and care had failed to do more, the death-and called him home. He was married December 26th, 1882, to Miss Ada Neily, of West Brooklyn, N. S. About a builder and met with good success. In his death the business world has lost a true, honest, upright man; the community a good builder and met with good success. In short, the woman's edition of the Herald is a most excellent production, and one cannot read it without feeling proud of the women of this our little province. -IT is a sickening story which comes from China during the past week, telling of the massacre and outrage of the English missionaries at Ku Cheng. No less than ten of these missionaries, men, women and children, suffered death at the hands of an infuriated mob, the women being first subjected to outrages most horrible. This occurred at the town of Ku Cheng, some ninety miles from the coast on the road from Hong Kong to Pekin. Ever since the close of the war with Japan certain portions of China have been to a large extent under a sort of mob law, the feeling against foreigners being intensely strong. This has now culminated in this outrage.

The Crop Reports.

The local department of agriculture has issued a crop report for Nova Scotia up to date. The season is stated to have been exceptionally good for seeding. As regards the suitability of the weather after sowing for the growth of crops, there is testimony that indicates that the season's crops are likely to exceed in productiveness the percentage estimates, notwithstanding the prevalence of drought in some districts. The condition and prospect of the crops as regards probable yield promise the following per centages: Hay on upland, of full average crop, 34 per cent.; hay on improved dyke land, of full average crop, 93 per cent.; oats, of full average crop, 93 per cent.; oats, of full average crop, 93 per cent.; wheat of full average crop, 98 per cent.; barley, of full average crop, 88 per cent.; barley, of full average crop, 88 per cent.; machy, or fixed feed, of full average crop, 100 per cent.; Indian corn for ensilage, of full average crop, 98 per cent.; The potato beetle is very general throughout most parts of the province, although not so numerous and destructive now as in some former years.

Increase in Butter Exports. Says the Montreal Herald. About 2,400 packages of butter were shipped on the cool storage steamer last week, a quantity almost equal to the output up to date a year ago. Three other steamers also took emall quantities, and the shipments were within a small margin of reaching 3,000 packages. The shipments for the corresponding week last year were only 30 packages. Up to date the shipments amount to 10,312 packages, against 2,438 packages a year ago.

Weather Forecast.—The pilot chart of the North Atlantic, issued by the hydrographic office of the navy department, Washington, gives the following forecast of the conditions for August: Fine weather generally over the North Atlantic; occasional gales north of 45th parallel; tropical cyclones or hurricanes very probable; for west of 35th meridian, across Grand Banks, east of New England; occasional for near 50 degrees north, from 20 degrees west to 35 degrees; icebergs in vicinity of Belle Isle; few east of Newfoundland south of 50 degrees north.

Obituary of Ingram B. Phinney,

Who died in Hubbardston, Mass., July 11th, was born in Melvern Square, N. S., Dec. 3rd, 1849.

Who can refuse to give utterance to an emphatic yea and amen to such sentiments as these?

Mrs. Shenton writes with no less emphasis in opposition to the suffrage movement. She frankly confesses that we have no guarantee that women would not significantly confesses that we have no guarantee of it was a party consisting of Messrs. Fay. residents who have lately taken advantage of it was a party consisting of Messrs. Fay, Craig, Langley, Cushing and Crabbe, who left here on Wednesday morning last to attend the St. John races, and who were landed at Moosepath in ample time to witness the opening contest. The train is in charge of Conductor Al. Herbert, so favorably known to the travelling public, and it is not necessary for us to state that his many personal friends are much pleased to welcome him again on the road, after an absence of over a year or more. His uniform kindness and attention to all patrons of his accommodation train is observedly marked, while the care he is exercising in the large amount of shunting necessary at Digby and his strictness in looking after the baggage which comes under his supervision, conclusively proves that he is fully adapted to the requirements of the new position. As it is with the morning train west so is it with the evening one back to Annapolis, many people remaining in the city till the afternoon trip of the steamer and arriving at their homes along the line as well as at the shire town in time for tea.

The Lawrencetown Entertainment.

The entertainment in Whitman's Hall, on Wednesday last, was a success financially and otherwise.

Miss James acted well; every one was pleased with Miss Starratt; Mrs. Oswald, as the statue of "Hermione," was beautifully done, as was also the scene from "Alice in Wonder Land," by four of our warms girl wonder.

well.

Rev. John Warner sang a song with so much acceptance that he had to sing again. The last was a song entitled "When this Old Hat was New," which was as well received as the first one.

A scene from "Romeo and Juliet," which ended the programme, was rendered by Miss Florence Boland and Miss James. Miss Boland made a lovely Juliet, while Miss James did the old nurse to perfection.

The races which were to have been held on the Kentville track yesterday did not fill and were declared off.

The splendid victory of Resolution at Moosepath, St. John, on Wednesday, pitted as he was against Deceiver, Thorndale Echo and Nellie Bly, has lowered his record to 2.27, and Lydiard says that the gamey son of Rampart on the occasion, winning as he did in three straight heats, conclusively proves that before the season is over his half brothers Arc Light and Israel will have but little if anything to boast of.

In the special named 1ace at Moosepath last Wednesday the starters were Pilot Jr., Katrina and Polk La Foon. Pilot Jr. was an easy winner; best time, 2.21‡.

We have it on good authority, that during Mr. Cushing's late visit to St. John, he was offered the mare Nellie Bly, 2.23, and $300 in cash for his handsome stallion, and that he respectfully declined.

During the late visit of F. R. Fay and party to St. John they registered at the Dufferin, now under the proprietorship of Le Roi Willis, and owner of the celebrated Pilot Jr. Our visiting friends are loud in their praises of the kindness and attention shown them by the genial host and the appointments of his excellent hotel. Mr. Willis took a deep interest in all matters respecting the Bridgetown Driving Park, and stated that if sufficient inducements were held out towards the end of September he would be pleased to come over and show the stated that if sufficient inducements were held out towards the end of September he would be pleased to come over and show the inhabitants of Annapolis county what Filot Jr. can do on our new track.

Between the heats at to morrow's races Resolution will be given an exhibition mile by Mr. Lydiard.

During the past few days five new stables have been erected on the Bridgetown Driving Park grounds, making some fifteen in all.

Queen Pilot, the beautiful black mare formerly owned by Dr. James Primrose, is now in training on the track by her part owner, Mr. H. Lydiard. Her first appearance in any contest this season will be in the 3-minute class to be trotted at Halifax early in September. She has given some spleadid exhibitions of speed during the past fortinght, and is looked upon by many as the winner in the race above referred to, and in which there are some eighteen entries.

HAY, OATS AND WHEAT ARE SHORT, POTA-

HAY, OATS AND WHEAT ARE SHORT, POTATOES A MODERATE AVERAGE.

London, August 6.—England has this year the largest apple crop that has been seen for many seasons. In all the European countries the crop is larger than usual, with the exception of France, where the crop is only good. American apples, if any are needed must be of the fancy varieties and reach London in October. The drouth which prevailed during May and June caused a loss to the Scotch farmers of nearly £3,000,000. Potatoes will reach the average production. In oats and wheat there is a deficiency of 25 per cent. There is only half a crop of hay. Fodder will be very deficient during the coming winter. The German potato crop will probably be a faflure. Owing to the immense sizes of the crop its failure would cause a large increase in the imports of food from the United States.

Musical Composer Dead.

Musical Composer Dead.

Mr. George F. Root, the musical composer, died at Bailey's Island, Me., on the 7th Inst. He was born in Shffield, Mass., in 1820. Among the numerous songs he composed and wrote were:—"Battle Cry of Freedon,""Just Before the Battle, Mother."
"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, the Boys are Marching," and the well-known quartette, "There's Music in the Air." His cantatas include "The Flower Queen" and "Haymakers." He was the originator of the Normal Musical Institute. In 1860 he went to Chicago to reside, and in 1872 the degree of Doctor of Music was conferred upon him by the university of that city."

Seals in Behring Sea.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Reports received at the State Department from the United States Consul at Victoria, B. C., are to the effect that the seals in Behring Sea are practically exterminated. The only satisfaction that the Department gets from this intelligence, is that it sustains the contention of successive secretaries of state that more stringent regulations than those which have been in force were necessary to prevent the entire destruction of seal life in Behring Sea.

The Cod Fisheries.

Newfoundlanders on the Corn Exchange Newfoundlanders on the Corn Exchange were rejoicing lately over the good news received by the mall steamers this morning of the great success of the cod fisheries off the coast of Labrador this season. The catch this season is reported to be an unprecedentedly large one. "All the Newfoundland fisheries this year have been good," said a member of a prominent Newfoundland firm recently, "and the catch will undoubtedly greatly help Newfoundland in her present position, and is therefore especially welcome."

A Great Crop. Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 8.—Mr. H. V. Jones, whose crop opinions are regarded by the north-western grain trade as the best, wires from Fargo that all estimates of the spring wheat yield will have to be revised and that the crop will be the largest on record. He predicts about 100,000,000 or 175,000,000 bushels in the Dakotas and Minnesota.

A P. O. Clerk's Suicide. London, Oat., August 10.—Lawrence Lawless, mail clerk in the post office here for the past 15 years, committed suicide last night by shooting himself in the heart. Supposed cause, temporary insanity. Lawless was married, but he and his wife separated about four weeks ago. They had no children.

In the 2.32 class will be found Sir William, Cushing's Pilot, Doonie and Little Hope.
Owing to the withdrawal of Gypsy Pilot, who was sold on Friday last to Captain Norwood, of Berwick, the management deemed it advisable to open up the class again, which was readily filled with the above entries. All the horses are very fast, and it is impossible to favor our readers with the name of the winner till the close of the afternoon's sport. At present Doonie and Cushing's Pilot are looked upon as the winhers of last and 2nd monies by many who have been witnessing their performances on the track, while others claim that Sir William, in the hands of Rockwell, will be hard competitor.

W. Supprage.

London, Aug. 9.—Mr. White, agent of the Kerr Line of steamers, has received the following cable message regarding the loss of the steamer Aryonaut, from Halifax, the despatch having been sent by the steamer's agents in Jamaica: "The Aryonaut foundered thirty miles off Jamaica. The orew was saved, and have landed here and have been shipped to New York."

A Steamer Subsidy. Ottawa, Aug. 8.—The New Zealand Government have granted an annual subsidy of $100,000 to Pacific steamers for calling there on both outward and inward voyages. Canada will carry the New Zealand mails across the continent free of charge. It is also arranged that a Japanese line of steamers will soon be started between Japan and Australia.

Whoever you are, be noble; Whatever you do, do well; Whenever you speak, speak kindly; Give joy wherever you dwell.

"Don't Look for Flaws."

Don't look for flaws as you go through life;
And even if you should find them,
It is wise and kind to be somewhat blind,
And look for the virtue behind them;
For the cloudiest night has a tint of light
Somewhere in its shadows hiding;
It is better by far to hunt for a star
Than for spots on the sun abiding.

The Tenderness of God.

Of all the thoughts that comes to us On mount or plain or sea, One thought of God's great tenderness Brings most of joy to me. He made the stars that shone on high, His sceptre rules o'er all, And yet he hears the raven's cry And marks the sparrow's fall.

Each morn His light o'er land and deep Awakes the birds and flowers;
He giveth his beloved sleep,
Thro' all the evening hours.

He paints with skill the desert flower In most entrancing hue,
And gladdens with refreshing shower
Or with the gentle dew.

Our world speeds on at His command Thro' boundless space afar, And yet so gentle is His hand The sufferer feels no jar.

The birdlings sleep on downy nest,
Lulled by His zephyrs mild,
While earth rolls on at his behest,
Nor wakes the sleeping child. My sonl in life's drearer wilderness Would faint by care opprest, But for the gentle tenderness Of Him who giveth rest.

Of all the thoughts that come to us On mount or plain or sea, The thought of God's great tendernes Brings most of joy to me.

Suddenly she started. She saw stranger strolling silently southward. "Stop!" she shouted. "Stop, stranger;

On his forehead rises a spiral tube nearly three inches long. It is jet black, dotted all over with small, white feathers. It has a communication with the palate, and when filled with air looks like a spire; when empty i becomes pendulous. His note is loud and clear, like the sound of a bell, and may be heard at the distance of three miles. In the midst of these extensive wilds, generally on the dry top of an aged mora almost out gun reach, you will see the campanero. No ound or song from any of the winged inhab itants of the forest, not even the clearly pro nounced "whip-poor-will" from the goatsucker, causes such astonishment as the toll of the campanero. You hear a toll and then a pause again, and then a toll and again a pause. Then he is silent for six or eight minutes, and then another toll, and so on. Acteon would stop in mid chase, Maria would defer her evening song, and Orpheus himself would drop his lute to listen to him. so sweet, so novel and romantic is the toll of the pretty, snow-white campanero.

Preserving Eggs for Long Periods. Numerous methods of preserving eggs are use. The idea of all of this is to keep air out of the egg, as by such absence of oxygen decay can be arrested for a considerable perfectly fresh at the start and are kept in length of time, especially if the eggs cool dark place. The standard method, most used by speculators and dealers, is to put the eggs in limewater. The process as follows, this recipe having been widely sold at $5 under pledge of secrecy:—

Take 24 gallons of water, 12 lbs of un slacked lime and 4 lbs. of salt, or in that proportion according to the quantity of eggs to be preserved. Stir several times daily let stand until the liquor has se tled and is perfectly clear. Draw or care fully dip off the clear liquid, leaving the ent at the bottom. Take for the abo amount of liquid, 5 oz. each of baking soda, cream of tartar, saltpeter and borax and an ounce of alum. Pulverize and mix these and dissolve in one gallon of boiling water and add to the mixture about 20 gallons of pure limewater. This will about fill a cider barrel. Put the eggs in carefully so as not to crack any of the shells, letting the water always stand an inch above the eggs, which can be done by placing a barrel head a little smaller upon it and weighting it. This amount of liquid will preserve 150 dozen eggs. It is not necessary to wait to get full barrel or smaller package of eggs but they can be put in at any time that they can be obtained fresh. The same liquid should be used only once.

If the animal is handled kindly from calfhood and the proper kind of person milks her—one who has sense enough to control his temper—there will be very little proba-bility of the animal developing the kicking habit, says the American Agriculturist. If the cow's udder is sore, or if one handles tender teats too roughly the cow is liable to kick. If she does, it will be wise to handle her more kindly, and gently, lest she repeat the kicking so many times that it become a habit, for if it develops into a habit nothing may serve to cure her. Young heifers which have just dropped their calves may kick occasionally at the beginning, but if the milker kicks her back or strikes her roughly the chances are that the evil will be aggravated, and the cow ruined. Gentleness and kindness with dairy cows is the best plan to avoid having kicking cows. But there are frequent instances where the kicking propensities seems to be transmitted in the breeding from dam to offspring, and in such cases it will be a hard matter to effect a cure As a rule, however, kicking cows are the result of ignorant and brutal treatment by those having them in charge, and intrusted with their training.

Dairy Notes.

Whenever the cows are not fed regularly they are kept in restless condition, constantly expecting feed whenever the owner enters the barn, while if fed regularly the animals would be more quiet. The regularity as well as the manner of the milker has much to do with the producness of the milk cow. Care must always be taken not to allow the cream to get cold before placing in the dairy room, for if it is allowed to become completely chilled before straining and setting away the cream will

In very many cases the labor and time required in churning is lessened nearly one-half if the churn is not filled more than half full at the beginning.

A cow well fed and cared for will not only give more milk, but it will be of a better quality and her milk will make more butter Change of food is necessary both in contributing to the general health of the anima and as a means of stimulating the digestive organs, and in this way increasing the secre-Much butter is ruined by bad cellars. A cow in poor condition will be sure to give her owner poor milk.

-The Avrshire is eminently a dairy breed The cows are active, hardy and will flourish and give good yields of milk under conditions that would starve pampered cattle. They have great power of endurance, healthy appetites, good digestion and ready adaptive ness to all vicissitudes of situation and limate. They are remarkably free from tendency to disease; tuberculosis and other affections of the respiratory organs being but seldom found among them. They are long lived, often improving in milking qualities up to 10 years of age.

The general form of the Ayrshire cow has been described as resembling a hand saw, with the small end forward. The head is fine and lean, face rather long and slightly dishing, horns slim and waxy, neck fine and slim, udder large and well spread out rather than pendent, teats small, sometimes too small for convenient milking. The characteristic colors are red and white, although brown is not unusual. The reds are of various shades, from light brick color to deep cherry and the white is in spots of various orms and sizes but never mingled into roan. The average standard weight is about

Green Feed for Stock.

During the summer months some gree feed is much relished by every form of ani-mal life—chickens, hogs, cows and horses. Alfalfa hay furnishes a good substitute, and a change of that kind is conducive to health. Shade, too, is very necessary. It is coming to the time when there will be less work for animals and the care of them when housed is quite a task. An alfalfa pasture where all an run at large will be both convenient and economical, and if water be accssible at all imes, the farmer and fruit grower will be relieved of much extra labor and stock will do well under such conditions.

Milch cows will hardly feel the drying ef-
