A. An inward sorrow and regret for having sinned against God, with a firm resolution never more to offen! bim.

Q. Is it enough to repeat one or more acts of contrition, in order to have this sor?

LOM 3, THE

A. No; contrition must be in the heart, for it must be interior.

Q Can we produce of ourselves this sorrow in the heart?

A. No; it is a gift of God, which we mist humbly ask of him, and which can come from no other source.

Q. Would that contrition be sufficient which comes from sorrow for having offended God, on account of the dishonour, or temporal loss which ensues?

A. No; this would be altogether worldly sorrow; on the contrary, the contrition which procures the pardon of sin, ought to be supernatural.

Q. Upon what motives ought our contri-

Q. Ought our sorrow to be great for hav-

A. Sin being the greatest of all evils, our sorrow for having committed it should be the greatest of all sorrows, and this is the reason why contrition should be sovereign.

Q Is it enough to detest only a part of NECESSARY RULES for a CHRISTIAN.

VOU must often examine your thoughts, words, and actions, especially after much business, speaking, &c.: that you may discern and amend your faults.

Hold your peace in such things as belonging not to you, and where your speech is not for the honour of God, and good of your neighbour.

Often call to mind your life past, and what our Saviour suffered for you in every hour of his.

You must live as the you had othing, and yet possessed: all things: and remember, that meat, drink, and cloaths, are a Christian's riches.

Offer yourself entirely to God: and tho' you have nothing: to requite his Favours with, but yourself, you will be comforted when you consider that He gives all, that gives himself.

The Apostles left their poor boats and nets, and received for them a most ample Reward. The poor Widow gave only two mites, and her Oblation was preferred before these of the richest Persons Never go to bed with any disquiet on your mind, but endeavour to pacify your Conscience by Confession or an Ast of Contrition, if there be occasion for it.

All that is writen of thee, dread Jesus, in thy gospel, is truth itself; nothing but wisdom in thy actions; power and goodness in thy miracles; light and instruction in thy words. Give me grace therefore, O Lord, that as of thy goodness thou hast inspired into my heart this holy resolution, so I may with due reverence, contrition and sincerity, accomplish what I have proposed, to the glory of thy holy name, and the full remission of all my sins. Open the secrets of my soul to me, O Lord, and make me know all my sins and iniquities. O Lord, my gracious God, the only comfort of my soul, since thou desirest that in to my own inconstancy and perverseness?

Often I determine to resist every temptation. and immediately I am overcome and fail in my good purpose. Justly, therefore, bught I to humble my soul, and make account that on earth there lives not any one who is more infirm and weak than myself. Merciful God, as at the words of the Angel the chains fell off from the feet of St. Peter, and he was immediately restored to liberty; so grant that, by the words of this holy Sacrament, pronounced by the Priest, the chains of my sins may be loosed, and all my offences pardoned. Amen.

God be merciful to me a sinner.

Only most merciful and bount ful Saviour, give me grace to withstend those temptations wherewith I am most grievously infested, (herethey are to be mentioned,) as also to avoid all the occasions of offending thee for the future.

This trial, which the apostle requires of as by these words, "Let a man try himself," consists principally in four points.

L. Faith before all things, is necessary to him who is to receive the holy communion: that is, he must first believe the real presence of the true body and blood of our Saviour in this sacrament, since he himself, by his own infallible word, hath assured us thereof, saying of this holy sacrament; "This is my body, and this is my blood."

MY Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, I most firmly believe, that thou, true God and true Man, art really present in this most blessed sacrament: I believe that it contains thy body and blood, accompanied with thy soul and divinity. I acknowledge these truths, I believe these wonders, I adore thy power which has wrought them, and I praise thy infinite goodness, which has prepared them for me. But who am I, O sovereign Majesty, that thou shouldest vouchsafe to come to me? or how can I dare presume to approach to thee? Thou art the King of kings, the Lord and Maker of heaven and earth, and I am a poor worm of the earth. Thou art the Saint of saints, purity and holiness itself, and I a wretched, unclean, miserable sinner, the very filth of sin. O Lord, I confess my great unworthiness, which thou best knowest: but still my whole confidence is in thy infinite goodness: I am terrified at those words of the apostle, that " he who eats and drinks unworthily, eats and drinks judgment to himself" But then I am encouraged again by that merciful invitation, "Come to me all you that labour and are heavy burthened, and I will refresh you," To thee therefore I come, dear Lord, trusting in thy divine clemency, that thouwilt pardon all my iniquities, heal all my infirmities, and from this time forward, take full possession of my soul. My only intention in coming to thee is, that I may comply with thy holy will and divine institution; that I may commemorate thy death and passion; and that, by receiving thee in these sacred mysteries, I may be happily united to thee, that so, as thou hast promised, I may be in thee, and thou in me. Lord, thou knowest how unable I am of myself to prepare my soul for so great a favour; be thou pleased therefore to prepare me by thy grace. Cast out of my soul all that fifth of sin, which thou discoverest there; and enkindle in my heart, the sacred fire of thy love, Remember, Lord, that thou hast said, "I came to cast fire upon the earth, and what do I desire but that it should be enkindled." I earnestly beg, that this divine flame may take hold of my soul. O give me grace from this moment to love thee for ever. Amen.

What shall I say then, Creator? Hear me, most bountiful Redeemer, and consider not the weakness of my hands, but look on the wounds of thy own: Behold, my Lord God, thou hast written me in thy hands, read the writing, and heal me. Behold, out of the sense of my miseries, I sigh unto thee: thou art my Creator, comfort me; thou art my life, quicken me; I cry unto thee; to thee I lift up my voice; help me and reston me.

But what is man that he can thus speak to his Creator? Pardon thy servant, O Lord, who presumes to speak to so great a God: O my Lord, it is my grief that forces me, it is my misery that compels me. I am sick, therefore I call to the physician : I am blind, therefore I hasten to the light; I am dead, therefore I have recourse to life.

Spare and pardon me, O Lord, for my days are nothing, but yet are filled with much misery. What is my life, O my God, but a shadow, which suddenly vanishes away? Like a flower that flourishes and is gay, and presently withers; even so doth my frail and deceitful life pass away.

I know assuredly I must die, but when or how is altogether hidden from me: I there fore beseech thee, O meek and merciful God, hold me up, and support me by thy power and strength. Appear to me, O thou ever lasting light, and shine in my heart, that I may rejoice in thee; come to me, O my life, most noble; and most sweet, that through thee I may live with thee, and in thee, in thy kingdom for ever; hear me, O my Lord God to the glory of thy name, and the felicity of my own soul. Amen.

Another Prayer.

Adore, worship, and give thee thanks, most loving Lord Jesus Christ, for the innumerable gifts and benefits which thou hast bestowed on me, most unworthy; all which I now restore and offer up to thee as the sacrifice of an everlasting praise. I give thee thanks for all the mercies of thy most sweet goodness: I give thee thanks for thy holy incarnation, nativity, infancy, labours, sorrows, cares, passion, death, resurrection, and ascension. I most humbly thank thee that thou hast vouchsafed to admit me, an ungrateful sinner, to the noble and everlasting feast of this thy holy table. uem abscones protector And know that the Lord has made his hely one marvellous: the Lord will hear me when I shall cry to him.

Be ye angry, and sin not: what ye say in your hearts, be ye sorry for in your chambers.

Offer ye the sacrifice of justice, and hope in the Lord. Many say, who shall shew us good things?

The light of thy face is signed upon us, O Lord: thou hast given joy to my heart.

By the fruit of their corn, wine, and oil, they are multiplied.

In peace itself I will both sleep and rest. For thou, O Lord, hast singularly established me in hope.

Psalm XXX.

IN thee, O Lord, I have hoped, let me not be confounded for ever; in thy justice deliver me.

Incline thine ear to me, make haste to deliver me.

Be to me a God, a protector; and a house of refuge, that thou mayest save me.

For thou art my strength and my refuge; and for thy name sake thou wilt conduct me, and nourish me.

Thou wilt bring me out of this snare which they have hid for me, because thou art my protector.

Into the hands I commend my spirits thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

Psalm xc.

HE that dwells in the help of the highest, shall abide under the protection of the God of heaven.

He shall say to the Lord: thou art my protector and my refuge: my God, I will hope in him.

For he has delivered me from the snare of the hunters, and from the sharp word.

With his shoulders he shall overshadow thee; and under his wings thou shall hope.

His truth shall encompass thee like a shield: thou shall not be afraid of nightly fear.

Of the arrow flying by day, of mischief rambling in darkness, of invasion, and the noon-day demon.

A thousand shall fall at thy left side, and ten thousand at thy right hand but to thee it shall not approach.

But thou shalt consider with thy eyes; and shalt behold the reward of sinners.

For thou, O Lord, art my hope, thou hast made the Highest thy refuge.

No evil shall come near these and the scourge shall not approach thy tabernacle.

For he has given his augels charge of thee: that they may keep thee in all thy ways,

They shall bear thee in their hands, lest peradeenture thou dash thy foot against a stone.
