ONTARIO'S INDUSTRIAL STAGNATION.
 No country in the world has greater water powers than the Province of Ontario. Right here, within 80 miles by land and 40 by water from Toronto, is the greatest repository of energy in the whole world. This invaluable treasure we have bartered away for a paltry $25,000 a year. And besides this, we have no power, nor has the company that owns the franchise made a move to install a plant for producing power. These facts now confront the people of Ontario.

An American company stands between Niagara Falls and the people of this province. This company can, within very broad limits, fix the price of power to suit themselves. The company has more influence with the Government than have the people of Ontario. It will be many years before electric power is generated at Niagara Falls on the Canadian side, and the American company that owns the franchise is under no obligation to produce, at any time, more than a miserable amount of power, while they have the privilege of developing practically as much as they like. They, in fact, and not the people of the Government, have the future control of Niagara Falls.

While everything is stagnant in and about Ontario's great natural power centre, instead of activity in the order of the day at all other available water powers, not only in Canada but all over the civilized world. Let us look into the development of her water powers. On Saturday last, as The World has already stated, the formal opening of the new power house at Lachine Rapids took place. There is available here 21,000 horse-power, which is now being or soon will be, distributed throughout Montreal and vicinity. Two million dollars have been spent in the development of this enterprise.

But this is only one of Quebec's great power projects. In a speech at the formal opening on Saturday, Hon. H. T. Duffy, Commissioner of Public Works of that province, stated that at Grande Mere works were in progress, upon which $2,000,000 would be spent, and 50,000 horse-power developed. In Chouinard Falls, he said, would soon supply 10,000 horse-power, while only recently Shawinigan Falls had been sold to a company which was bound to invest and expend $4,000,000 within the next thirty months.

Large manufacturing enterprises are gravitating towards these power centres, just as they have gravitated to Niagara Falls on the United States side. The contrast between the industrial activity at all these centres and the stagnation on the Canadian side of the Niagara River could not be more pronounced. Niagara Falls, Ontario, has not a single factory operated by electricity, and the town has several electric advantages than scores of towns in the backwoods of Canada. The charge for electric power in Montreal has now been reduced to one-half the cost of power generated by steam, while at the other centres referred to the cost of power will be considerably less than this.

No wonder then that Montreal is forging ahead, while industrial stagnation characterizes this province. Hon. Mr. Tarte stated, at the opening of the Lachine power house, that Montreal would have a population of a million people before the death of men of his age. What about Toronto, the capital of Ontario? What about the future of Niagara Falls, Ontario? The place is as dull as dishwater. No enthusiasm is manifested in any part of the province over the prospects of this most desirable power centre. The fact is that ample power is an unknown and uncertain quantity. It has been taken out of the hands of Canadians altogether. The prospect of industrial development on the Canadian side of the river could not be more dismal or discouraging. Every big power centre in Canada, with the exception of Niagara Falls, is attracting industrial enterprises.

BETTER THAN A TRUNK SEWER.
 The construction of a trunk sewer in Toronto is a project that has come up for discussion periodically during the last ten years. The project involves an immense outlay, and, if for no other reason, the financial aspect of the enterprise will delay its inception for many a long year. But a better and cheaper method of getting rid of our sewage is the system adopted by many European cities. Under this system the sewage is at the same time rendered innocuous and used for fertilizing the adjacent farm lands. The subject of sewage disposal in Montreal of the British Medical Association. Mr. G. Janin of Montreal described the system as followed in France and Germany. There the city or munipality, having a sewage problem on its hands, secures a certain amount of land, into which the sewage, by means of ditches, is poured. The porous nature of the soil permits percolation, while at the same time the chemical properties of the earth render the sewage matter innocuous in its passage, the result being that the effluent, when it reaches the stream or river into which it is finally empty itself, is free from organic impurity, and does not in the slightest degree contaminate the water with which it mingles. As for the economical results, it was pointed out that in France and Germany great profits had accrued from land so treated, the crops being nearly double and the greatest eagerness being displayed to acquire purification land, as it is called in the neighborhood of large cities.

This system is approved by all the great sanitarians of France, Germany and England. In the latter country various sewage systems have been tried, but soil purification has been finally accepted by those in authority as the best and indeed the only system promising success. The same system has been tried on a smaller scale by a few localities in Canada. Dr. Bryce, in the course of the experiment made at the Ontario Asylum, where sewer purification by the soil has been completely successful. The crops raised on the asylum lands thus irrigated are enormously large, averaging, as they do, $300 per acre, wholesale price. Dr. Sheard, Toronto's Medical Health Officer, is in favor of adopting this system in Toronto in preference to the construction of a trunk sewer for dumping the sewage in the lake. The present practice of emptying all the filth of the city into the bay is a dirty one and ought to be abandoned as soon as possible. A trunk sewer is out of the question. But if Dr. Sheard can propose a purification system that will yield a profit, or even produce a revenue to help cover the expenses of operation, the public will give him a hearing.

TORONTO SHOULD INSIST ON CANADIAN-MADE ELEVATORS.
 While it might not be good policy on the part of the City Council to rule out Canadian tender for the new City Hall elevators, yet it would have a good reason as well as a good precedent for refusing to consider any tender from the United States. We owe the United States nothing; neither our business, our respect or our gratitude. If we treat them in the same spirit, it is only to their own loss. No American tender for these elevators. The United States tariff is designed to work injury to Canadian industries. Why should we be any more considerate of American industries? If these elevators can be made in Canada, and there is no doubt about this, they should be made in Canada. Niagara Falls, N.Y., a few months ago decided that no Canadians should be allowed to work on the Gorge Electric Railway. Why should not a Canadian elevator be used in the new City Hall? Recently it was found necessary to place gates either end of the bridge across the Niagara River. No Canadian tender for the gates on the American side was considered, while the tenders for the Canadian gates received equal treatment irrespective of their nationality. There is only one way for us to answer this invidious treatment to which Canadian people are subjected. We must treat Toronto as they treat us. We must treat Toronto to assert its self-respect and its loyalty to Canada by insisting on Canadian products and Canadian workmanship wherever and whenever they are found satisfactory.

IN NEW YORK.
 One of the most unique organizations of its kind in America is the Professional Woman's League, which has its headquarters in a pleasant building in Broadway. There is a large assembly hall, together with parlor and reading rooms, where members may write letters or while away a few hours daily among the best magazines and books. Such homelike rooms they are, too, easy chairs, couches, heaps of cushions and all the kink-kinks, the lace and pompadour which the sex loves together about her, and which give just the necessary touch of charm, indicating that women, and nice women, are wont to gather here for mutual help, instruction or amusements away from the great whirl of life which never ceases in the world outside. The object of the league is "to tend to bring together women engaged in dramatic, operatic and literary pursuits, with a view of rendering them helpful to each other; to assist to the financial need of such members; to aid in procuring for members opportunities for employment, and generally to do and perform any acts which are deemed expedient and advisable by the company in connection with such objects."
 The astounding and pleasing thing about the women I met here is that they do not take themselves too seriously, a rare and desirable virtue in an age of New Women. They do not pose as superior beings, and are not their brethren, but seem to be imbued with wholesome, natural and sweet ideas of life and its possibilities; neither did I see any of that unbecoming coyness and affectation which indicates a lack of humor, that transfiguration of the face which makes even poverty endurable. I had the honor of being invited to the monthly social gathering of the league, as the woman representative of The Toronto World, through the courtesy of Mrs. Cynthia A. Alden, the capable editor of the woman's department of The New York Tribune, and author of the ever delightful "Bushy," which has won such laurels for the talented writer of it. Mrs. Alden is a very handsome woman, tall and finely made, and one of the ablest and most successful of the busiest women in New York. She has had a change of life, the early years of which were spent with her father in the Rockies, where she met her husband, with this part of her life, and makes delightful reading. Some three years ago she married Mr. Alden, a well-known editor of Scribner's Magazine, and now resides in Brooklyn, where she has an ideal home.

One of the surprises of this altogether enjoyable afternoon came when I heard my words of thanks for the president, Mrs. A. M. Palmer, for a speech! Here was a position! To make a speech before a gathering of women, representing all that was bright and noble and witty in New York! The unlikely earth declared to open up and receive me; so, as I had the honor of my paper very much at heart, I dared not refuse, but managed to utter a few words of thanks for the honor conferred upon me by the league in permitting me to be one of them during my stay in this city. By the way, Toronto seemed to be very well known among the women of the Queen City to turn her head; especially from the actresses, of whom there were a large number present.
 I had never been among a more delightful lot of women than those whom I met here yesterday; they were all so cordial, "jolly" I should like to say, and they set over me cream and chocolate, the best of the kind from side to side like birds. They were all beautifully gowned and looked more like the daughters of millionaires than hard working professional women, enjoying an afternoon's recreation. Among them I met well-known playwrights and actresses, journalists, artists in the various departments of art, authors, poets and musicians, many of whom contributed their share to the entertainment of the evening.
 A very charming woman is Martha Morton, who is well known to Toronto people as the author of Geoffrey Middleton, the play which made such a hit there some years ago, and in Miss Elliott Pippy of New York. I found a charming woman who is a native of Prince Edward Island, but who lives in New York. Altogether, the women of the league are a lot of wholesome, warm-hearted, brilliant creatures, and had it not been that I was due at a dinner, I think I should be found still lingering in their delightful society.

DAY OF DEPUTATIONS.
 Matters of Import That Were Brought to the Attention of the Provincial Ministers Yesterday.
 The Cabinet Ministers of Ontario were busy men yesterday. Their time was taken up largely in receiving a succession of deputations.
 From Brantford came Mayor Elliott and Ald. Wood, Hall and Loney, asking for a special Act to enable the corporation to purchase the water works. The company owning the works have an invitation from Toronto asking them to locate at the Queen City, and the Brantford Council desire the purchase of the water works. The plan is to purchase from the Verity people their power plant, which their business has outgrown, so that they may be able to meet with larger business.
 Mr. George Young, M.P., Mr. MacNash, M.L.A., and other prominent citizens of the County of Elgin, asked for a modification of the Government regulations prohibiting the use of steam launches in connection with the shooting grounds at Beauport Park. The request will likely be granted.
 The Attorney-General in support of an application for a charter for the Provincial General Trusts Company of Toronto, Limited, notice of which application has already appeared in The Ontario Gazette. The deputation included Dr. McTavish, Q.C., Foreman, Robert Ferguson, M.L.A., Thomas White, Robert Bell, M.P., Bowmanville; John H. Barber, Georgetown, and the following Toronto gentlemen: E. A. Leish, Q.C., Neil McKinnon, S. F. McKinnon, Alex. Barber, Alex. Fraser and Rev. D. H. Hosack.
 Mr. H. S. Ocker saw the Commissioner of Crown Lands in regard to the ancient dispute over the patent to certain property at Point Abino, on Lake Erie.

DUNDAS-STREET TROLLEY ACCIDENT

Wagon overturned and men thrown out
- One Man Dies From Effects of the Collision.

There was a trolley accident on Dundas-street, west of Bloor, last night that may result fatally. James Dolan, an elderly man, who lives on Lansdowne-avenue, was driving west with a companion named O'Connell at about 9 o'clock. Both men had apparently been drinking, and the rig was on the south-

track, Queen and Dundas car 419, manned by Motorman McKee and Conductor F. Jennings, came along on the same track and, as the thoroughfare is very dark at that part, there was a head-on collision. The horse attached to the rig turned out in time to avoid serious injury to itself, but the wagon was overturned and its occupants thrown out. O'Connell escaped without serious injury, but his companion sustained concussion of the brain, a broken shoulder, several fractured ribs and other injuries. Dolan was carried into Bell's Hotel, Dundas, where he was taken to a futile attempt to obtain medical assistance, the police ambulance was sent for.

The injured man died at 10 o'clock. All the seats are to be 25c.

A FARMER'S VICTORY.

The Wheat Buyers Have Got Out a New
and More Satisfactory Form of Contract.

The farmers have scored a victory over the St. Lawrence Market grain buyers. As related in Monday's World, Mr. Guy Walton of Scarborough instructed Messrs. Lobb & Laird to take legal proceedings against William Christie for refusing to settle for 78 cents per bushel. Mr. Christie offered 79 cents, claiming that the wheat was four cents under the standard and therefore subject to eight cents dockage. Sooner than he could be ready, Mr. Walton dined, however, sell the wheat at the 78 cent basis. As a result of these proceedings the grain-buyers have got out a new form of contract.

On one side of this ticket, which is really a contract of sale, the kind of wheat and the weight which is to be sold are specified, while on the other side is printed a sliding scale, showing the discount the wheat is subject to, according to its variation from standard weight. The contract is therefore, self-adjusting subject to the standard,

because the standard is made part of the contract, and the weight of the wheat is bound to be the same as that of the wheat which was sold at the 78 cent basis. As a result of these proceedings the grain-buy-

ers have got out a new form of contract.

HORACE F. PRITCHARD SHOT.

Wallace J. Christian Did the Shooting
While in a Rage Over Some Business Transaction.

New York, Sept. 28.-A World special
from Middletown, N.Y., says: Wallace
J. Christian, in a fit of murderous rage, shot and instantly killed Horace F.

Pritchard of New York City. Then Pritchard turned his pistol on Thomas

Manning, a constable of Wurtsboro, and shot him twice, mortally wounding him, this in front of Christian's cottage in the handsome grounds of the Sullivan County Club, and before the very eyes of Christian's wife.

"Run for your life," she shrieked to her husband. The murderer ran to the grounds which surround the club grounds,

and plunged down the side of the Shuawangunk Mountains, towards the railroad. Descriptions of him were sent out by telegraph and telephone, but he has not been caught.

Has a Violent Temper.
Wallace J. Christian is a contractor. He formerly lived at Yonkers, where he had extensive business interests. Christian,

his enemies declare and his friends admit, is a man of violent temper. While building a cottage Christian had misunderstandings and quarrels with one of the men who furnished material to him. One of these was Horace F. Pritchard, who lives at No. 422 Mott-avenue, New York,

and who is a manufacturer of window frames and sashes. Convinced that his business quarrel with Christian could not be amicably settled, Mr. Pritchard went to Wurtsboro, on the Ontario & Western day express. He had with him legal papers to serve on Christian and Mr. Pritchard engaged the services of Constable Manning and then hired a wagon for the purpose of driving to Wurtsboro to the club grounds,

a steep and tortuous ascent. Driving into the grounds towards Christian's cottage, it is possible the quarrelsome contractor saw their approach. Christian and his wife went out on the piazza

of the cottage as the wagon stopped before it. Christian had a pistol in his hand. Pritchard and Manning tried to stop the contractor. Cursing Pritchard, Christian thrust the muzzle of his pistol against his body as he stood there in the wagon and pulled the trigger.

Christian turned his revolver on the constable and fired twice. Both bullets struck Manning in the abdomen.

WANT FIVE NEW DOCKS.
U. S. Navy Department Special Committee
Make an Expensive Report.

Washington, Sept. 28.-The special Board appointed by the Navy Department to consider the needs of the navy

in the matter of new dry docks finds that five new docks are urgently necessary. The total cost of these docks is estimated at $3,775,000. Four of the docks, the Board says, should be of concrete, masonry and steel, 200 feet long,

each, and 100 feet wide. The fifth dock is estimated at $1,000,000. Each of these concrete docks is to be completed in two years.

At Algiers, near New Orleans, it is proposed to place a steel floating dock and wharf. This would cost $750,000 and could be completed in ten months.

any political subscriptions or not. Mr.
Cornellier contended that he could show that other money had been subscribed for the printing of lists, which would have allowed the $5000 to remain in Mr. Tarte's possession. There was no man who would not ask why Mr.

Tarte had received $5000 without asking him the money came from and where it was intended for. Mr. St.

Pierre held that the defence could not attempt to prove that Mr. Tarte had received money to corrupt the electorate without having alleged that charge in their plea.

Overruled by the Judge.

THAS LUETGERT'S DAY

Important Statement Came From Nebraska.

A LAWYER FROM TEKEMAH

Who is Quite Positive That Mrs. Luetgert Called Upon Him.

The Woman Was Poorly Clad and Wanted to Enter Suit for Divorce in That State, Where Divorce is Easy—She Said Her Husband Lived in Chicago and Was Wealthy—Kummers Are Firing About That Perjury Has Been Committed by Witnesses for the Defense.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The court proceedings opened to-day with the appearance upon the witness stand of Dr. Clarence Butcherford, the Luetgert family physician. He testified as to Mrs. Luetgert's physical condition, stating that she was in fairly good health.

Armada Opdyke, a fruit vendor from near Janesville, Wis., said that in May he was in the vicinity of Lake Zurich, near Janesville, with a horse and wagon. On the night of May 9 he camped out, sleeping out in his wagon. In a small grove near him he saw two women. They were lying on the ground and said they were going to remain there during the night. Opdyke said he carried an animal of his from his wagon to the women and they made a bed of it. The witness positively and unconditionally identified the photograph of Luetgert as one of the women he saw in the woods near Lake Zurich the night of May 9.

Maegle Shaugnessy of No. 1348 North Roby-street was put on the witness stand to strengthen the impeached evidence against Emma Schimpke. The witness was with Emma Schimpke and Rosa Gleich at the dance in West Hall, opposite Luetgert's sausage factory, the night of May 9.

She said she saw Luetgert in the bar room of the place, and that she and Emma Schimpke left the hall about 9 o'clock, and went home. Consequently Emma Schimpke could not have seen Luetgert and his wife in the bar room.

Marens Heinemann added the weight of his testimony to that of others who have told how Mrs. Luetgert had frequently said she was going away from her home because Luetgert had failed.

On April 28, the witness said, Mrs. Luetgert told him she was leaving away.

Dr. B. L. Riese, one of the medical experts of the defense, testified as to experiments he made at the sausage factory and elsewhere with bones and other material found in and about the vat.

INTIMATIONS OF PERJURY.

Remors Around the Court Buildings in Chicago Which May Mean Trouble.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Intimations that perjury had been committed by witnesses for the defense in the Luetgert murder trial were heard around the Criminal Court building to-day, coupled with a suggestion of grand jury investigation. It was said that the prosecution was only exhibiting seeking the indictment of Mrs. Luetgert. Smirring before the grand jury now in session. During the time Mrs. Luetgert was on the witness stand she was questioned sharply by Assistant State-Attorney McEwen relative to her testimony. Mr. Trimmer, grand juror in charge of the grand jury which indicted Luetgert, she admitted that her story before that body, as well as the evidence she gave before Justice Keenan, who held Luetgert for trial, was different in material points from the evidence she gave at the present trial. The explanation of the discrepancy was that Inspector Schaack had threatened her when she appeared before the grand jury, telling her that if she did not testify against Luetgert she would be punished.

Inspector Schaack denounced this statement as utterly false.

The daily crowd at the entrance to the Criminal Court building to-day was even larger than on Tuesday. It was about equally divided as to sex.

SAYS HE SAW MRS. LUETGERT.

An Attorney From Tekemah, Neb., Believes the Woman Called on Him.

Tekemah, Neb., Sept. 28.—H. Wade Gillis, an attorney of this place, claims to have seen the defendant, Mrs. Luetgert, who is now on trial in Chicago for her murder, long after the woman's body is supposed to have been boiled to pieces in the sausage factory.

He says the woman came to him in the latter part of May and consulted him about getting a divorce. His story is as follows: "I think I saw this woman who is said to have been murdered. Perhaps I can do the accused husband no good, for I may not be able to convince the jury that I saw Mrs. Luetgert, but if I did not see the woman I saw a person who resembles her in every particular. Why did I not speak of it before? For the very good reason that I never occurred to me that the woman I saw was Mrs. Luetgert until I central the court in Chicago Wednesday and heard the woman described by one of the witnesses. Then I hunted up a photograph of Mrs. Luetgert, and was certain that I knew some important facts about the case.

His Time Was Precious. "I said nothing about it at the time. Why? Because I was in charge of other business, and our court opens here to-day, and I could not afford to be detained in Chicago. I wanted to tell all those lawyers what I knew. I might not have got home for a month. "About noon on May 27 or 28, I am not certain which, a woman, poorly clad in a black dress, entered my law office here. She said she wanted to consult me about a divorce suit. She was very nervous, laboring apparently under great mental excitement.

"She said she lived in Chicago, where her husband was wealthy. She had left her husband because of his cruelty, and was anxious to know if her desertsing him would give her chances for securing a divorce and the custody of her two children. She said she had two boys, whom she wanted.

"I wanted to get a Divorce. "She said she had come to this State because she understood it was easy to get a divorce here. She said she had no money, but could get some, and desired to know the chances of success. I told her, and she inquired the way to an hotel, saying she would return in the afternoon and close the case. I intended to see her more about herself when she returned. She did not tell me her name, and all the time seemed to want to see before me. That was the last I saw of her.

"When I was in the court room in Chicago Wednesday last, I viewed the description of Mrs. Luetgert by one of the witnesses. I was satisfied that my strange visitor was the wife of the assassin.

"When I got to Omaha last night I wired to the attorneys for the defense, telling them what I had seen. I have recited. They wired me to come to Chicago at once."

Vincenz is Elated. Chicago, Sept. 28.—Attorney Vincenz of the defense is elated over the news from Tekemah, Neb. He has not decided whether to have Attorney Gillis make a deposition in Burt County, Neb., or have him come to Chicago as a witness to testify regarding the woman he believes was Mrs. Luetgert.

DO YOU WEAR PANTS?

Pants

Backed by the thousands of gentlemen who wear Hobberlin-made pants, we think we are justified in claiming that we have panting make just about at point perfection—it costs us more to make the good pants we make than some tailors pay who charge you more for pants to order than we do—but it pays us to be liberal with the workman and the customer, because you get better made garments—you get satisfaction—you come again—you tell others—they come and are satisfied, and business grows, and the little profit from many people is better than the much from a few—for us and for you alike. A splendid pair to your measure for . . . 3.50

OF INTEREST TO BICYCLISTS.

Judge Morson Says There is No Law as to Which Side of the Street a Vehicle May Take.

Judge Morson yesterday rendered a judgment in the Division Court of Interest to cyclists. James Miller, cyclist, was riding east on College-street near Beverley-street behind a street car. The latter stopped at Beverley-street, and Miller took the devil strip, passed the car and ran into Hackman McNeerney's horse. His wheel was injured and one of the most prominent planters in this state, was fatally shot by a negro yesterday near Monroe, Onaschita parish. He was killed while leading the pursuit of a negro named Ferren, who on Sunday assaulted the pulpit and preached a doctrine of a former near Cadville. The negro, who was a farm hand, threatened to kill the girl if the facts were made known, and it was later learned that two weeks ago he had assaulted the little girl's sister. Many leading citizens of the country turned out as a posse to run the negro down and bloodhounds were placed on the trail. Mr. Rutland McEnery was one of the leaders in the pursuit of the negro, and he learned of James Turner. He went there and demanded admission. Turner was denied access to the house. He attempted to force his way in, when Turner opened fire on him with the rifle. The bullet entered McEnery's head near the heart and he fell. Raising himself on his elbow, McEnery died steadily at the negro and fired. Turner was fatally injured and the entire male population of Onaschita parish, reinforced from surrounding parishes, is on the hunt for Ferren.

TORONTO'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Committee Decides Against the Teaching of Religion—More Maps Required.

The Public School Board's Committee on Inspection, with Dr. Noble in the chair, met yesterday afternoon and was interested chiefly in the question of religious instruction in schools, shall or shall not be allowed. The committee was that it would not be in the interests of the public schools should be devoted to the giving of denominational or sectarian instruction to the pupils. Dr. Noble visited one of the schools a day or so ago, and was horrified to find some of the pupils without any practical knowledge of geography. "Stand up and face the south," said the pro tem inspector to a bright-looking enough boy, but the boy looked agnost and knew not which way to turn. Repeated failures in receiving answers to similar questions convinced Dr. Noble that more maps are required, so a recommendation for such was registered.

Along the Water Front.

Many visitors from Hamilton came to the Macassa to the races yesterday. There was a large entry of boats. The John Hanlan brought from Jordan yesterday 300 baskets of fruit. The Lake-side also had a good crop. The Persia came from St. Catharines with a full cargo of wheat and a very good passenger list. She left in the afternoon for the east.

The grand jury yesterday brought in the Sessions of assaulting Fred Bell on Armoury-street on July 13. In his address to the jury Judge McDougall said it would go hard with the prisoner if he was found guilty. He was charged with having kicked a man on the head, and one who did that was dead to fair play and beyond the pale of ordinary humanity. ELECTRIC OR HYDRAULIC? The Engineer and Experts Will Decide

AS TO THE BETTER SYSTEM For Operating the Elevators in the New Municipal Buildings.

This was the decision reached by the Board of Control yesterday after a long discussion of the subject...

The result of two hours' deliberation over the report of architect Lennox by the Board of Control yesterday was the adoption of a motion to refer the matter to City Engineer Keating to report as to the cheapest and best system of elevators...

It seemed to Ald. Lamb that Mr. Lennox's report was plain and simple, but that the same time he was not prepared to take any action. He accordingly moved that Engineer Keating and Prof. Galbraith be requested to report on Mr. Lennox's report...

Ald. Leslie did not see why Prof. Galbraith was mentioned, as he knew nothing of hydraulics or electricity. He suggested that the deputation which was to attend the municipal improvement convention...

Ald. Lamb believed Prof. Galbraith to be a man of high standing and of high reputation. He had the confidence of everybody he had come in contact with. He was a teacher in mechanical engineering...

MELANCHOLY CASE OF SUICIDE. Mr. William J. Tremmer of Brock Township, Dependent Through Ill-Health, Hanged Himself.

Canalton, Ont., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—Dependent through continued loss of health, Mr. William J. Tremmer, 34, con. 4, Brock, a prominent farmer and society man, took the rope method of suicide this morning at about 8.30. Mr. Tremmer, who has been in ill-health for some months, after breakfast this morning, said to his wife that he would go to the field where the hired men were lifting potatoes, which he did, and after falling over them and giving orders for the day, stated that, as he did not feel very well, he would go to the house and take a rest. On his way home he had to pass the barn, and either from mental weakness or despondency he must have climbed up the ladder, which leads from the floor to the beam, then put the rope round his neck and jumped into the barn. Mr. Tremmer was 45 years old, a member of the Wesleyan church, and a devoted family man. He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter, all of whom are deeply grieved. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

WHO OWNS THE RIG? Black Horse With a Buggy Attached Found in the Street of Church in Vaughan Township.

Woodbridge, Ont., Sept. 28.—On Monday the sons of Mr. David Seed noticed a horse and buggy in the driving shed attached to the Presbyterian church on lot 22, on the 7th concession of Vaughan. On enquiry they ascertained that it had been observed there for two days previously. They then took possession of the horse and buggy, and after a search for which no owner can be found. The horse is black, with one white hind foot and has evidently been driven very hard. The buggy is a very good one, Canadian make, and there is a goat-skin robe, a horse blanket and a pair of overcoat and pair of mitts. It is a puzzle how the animal came there. Some think it is stolen property, while others incline to the opinion that the owner may have gone to the adjoining woods or to a fishing stream close by and met with some accident.

A ROTTEN OLD BRIDGE. Gave Way at Lynedoch and Tumbled Mr. Whitehead and his Team and Wagon into a Big Creek.

Lynedoch, Ont., Sept. 28.—About 6 o'clock this evening, while Marshall Whitehead, with a filled water tank, was crossing the upper bridge which spans Big Creek, in this village, one of the side strings, which proved to be nearly rotted off, gave way, precipitating the whole mass into the water, about 20 feet below. The wagon and tank turned over completely, thereby doing very little damage to either of them. One horse is probably ruined. With the exception of a good shaking up, Mr. Whitehead came through the wreck apparently none the worse.

CAUGHT IN A SEWER. Two Penitentiary Convicts Made a Break for Liberty Yesterday But Did Not Get Far Away.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 28.—About 5.20 o'clock this afternoon Peter Blakely of Belleville, sent up for three years for larceny, and having 10 months to serve, and John Botterell, London, two years for larceny, and 14 months to serve, made a break for liberty from the penitentiary. They were working on a water main, building a manhole. Two hours later the old veterans were recaptured, having crawled into a sewer on the lake shore.

Brooklyn's Debt. Will be Satisfied the Reinsurers of Greater New York, It is Expected.

New York, Sept. 28.—The Herald says: The examination of the financial department of the various municipalities which will be consolidated into the Greater New York has revealed a shortage of from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 in the city of New York.

The largest part of this amount is due to the city for personal tax, and while it is included among the assets of the city of Brooklyn, is non-collectable.

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—It is reported here that the brig Perry Edward C., which sailed from this port last February, with 100 South Sea colonists, is now engaged in the slave trade. The colonization scheme was a failure. The man who had started in search of an Eden, after selling his vessel, scattered in various directions.

The Wander of the Ace. Dear Sirs:—I must honestly say that I have tried your valuable medicine B.B.F. for the disease called psittacosis, and have found the remedy to be the wonder of the age. I took only three bottles, and my great relief was instantaneous. I can highly recommend it to all who suffer from any skin disease or impurity of the blood.

Cumbers and melons are "forbidden fruit" to many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of indigestion, dyspepsia, etc. These persons are not aware that they can mitigate to their heart's content if they have a hand a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Digestive or Cordial, medicine that gives immediate relief, and is a sure cure for all summer complaints.
