King Street—Opposite the Post-Office
TORONTO.TWO IMPERILED CANOEISTS
RESCUED FAR OUT IN LAKEHad Been Testing a New Purchase and Owe Their Lives to Alertness of Fishermen.Two venturesome but inexperienced canoeists almost opened the drowning season yesterday with a double fatality in the lake.About 10 o'clock Hector Macdonald of Fisherman's Island caught a glimpse of a canoe in difficulties about two miles out in the lake. There was half a mile between the canoe and the shore.The canoeists were seen to be bleeding and the frail craft was beginning to drift south, the occupants being unable to make headway against the waves.Macdonald, with his son Thomas and other fishermen, all members of the government life-saving crew, put out in a fishing smack, and after a short search, with a Mr. Brooks and a Brooke, of 282 Jarvis street, when they were picked up to be lifted into the boat.They are both young fellows, and it is said yesterday was the first day they were having taken advantage of the bank holiday to test the qualities of a new canoe.

RECOVERS, BUT MEMORY GONE.

Flight of one of the Lancelotti
Victims of Sarnia Tunnel Accident.Port Huron, Mich., April 24.—The recovery of Fred Forester, one of the men overcome by coal gas in the Sarnia tunnel accident six months ago, was considered one of the most remarkable in medical history.For weeks the hospital authorities expected his death, but he began to recover slowly and now has resumed work. His mind is an entire blank as to the accident, and it is with difficulty that he recognizes old-time acquaintances.

"Home of the Hat Beautiful."

A Record Breaker

The week just passed was the greatest in Millinery selling in the past twenty years' record of the store. Such a pronouncement by the ladies of Toronto and visitors, is a gratifying reward for the unceasing energy of our buying and selling staff, who started the season with the motto of the well known legendary Alps climber before them "Excelsior." Not every customer received the attention our salesmen would wish on Thursday and Saturday last; but they did their best; what more could they do?

Plans for To-Day

This morning will be shown 200 brand new Hat conceptions, bettering our best of the past with special, little prices that make selling an easy process, $5.00, $6.90 and $8.50.

Beautiful Garments

The Costume Section is having a boom of its own. No one can measure the taste of an artistic woman better than a woman. The lady buyer of this department is deeply interested in securing for her customers something that no one else can supply. Individuality is stamped on the suits, skirts and waists to be found on the second floor. Not one cent to pay more than for the kinds one often sees on six women in one of Mr. Fleming's street cars. You seize the idea don't you? Enough said. We had rather hear what you have to say about our garments than read ten columns of what we say; a cordial invitation to look is extended.

DEATH OF KIVAS TULLY.

Passed Away Yesterday Morning—His Long Public Service.

The funeral of Kivas Tully, who died early Monday morning, will take place on Thursday at 3 o'clock to St. James' Cemetery, and will be under Masonic auspices.

Kivas Tully was one of the most prominent and best known civil engineers and architects in the Dominion. Many memorials of his skill and genius are to be seen in public buildings of the city, which show an originality in design and strength in execution beyond the commercial spirit of the present day. The custom house, Osgoode Hall, the Normal School, government house, the Bank of Montreal, the School of Practical Science, and Trinity University are examples of the work of his art, as well as many buildings in outside cities of the province.

Mr. Tully studied for his profession in Ireland, where he was born in 1820, being the second son of Commander John P. Tully, R.N. He superintended the erection of poor houses in Limerick in 1842, and in the following year came to Toronto, where he opened an office. Shortly after confederation he was appointed architect and engineer for the department of public works for Ontario, and held the position for 30 years. During this period he designed the plans for the asylums in Toronto, Hamilton, London, Brockville and Kingston, and for many other provincial institutions.

Mr. Tully was a charter member and first secretary of the Canadian Institute, and was first vice-president and long a member of the council of that body. He also served as a public school trustee and as alderman. In 1884 he was appointed a delegate to the deep waterways convention, held in Toronto same year. He was harbor engineer of Toronto for the past 50 years. He was one of the first and most persistent advocates of a system for securing a city water supply from Oak Ridge. He was one of the oldest Freemasons in the city, being a member of Ionic Lodge, which conferred on him the honorary degree of past grand master. He was also representative of the Grand Lodge of Ireland in Canada.

He was a member of the Church of England, and married, in 1844, Miss Elizabeth Drew, who died in 1847, and in 1852, the daughter of Lieut.-Col. Strickland of Lakeside, who died in 1882. His surviving children are Miss Sydney Jane Strickland Tully, and Miss Louise Evelyn Tully, both of whom are now residing in Toronto.

When he entered St. Hyacinthe College at 19 years of age he knew no French, having been born in the State of New York. He was also examined as to properties in acetylene gas, and all favored the theory that the explosion was due to defective welding. The latter suggested that the metal in the buoys had been weakened thru outside exposure to the frost all thru the winter.

The jury entered the following verdict: "We are of the opinion that the evidence adduced does not definitely show the cause of the explosion, but would strongly urge that all such buoys be thoroughly inspected each year and subjected to a sufficient pre-test."

"All such buoys should be filled at some place where the safety of the general public would be least imperiled."

Editor Tardivel Dies.
Quebec, April 24.—Julius Tardivel, editor and proprietor of Le Verite, one of the best known French writers of the province, died this morning of Bright's disease.

WHEN ACETYLENE BECOMES DANGEROUS AS EXPLOSIVE

Expert Comments on Kingston Disaster—Due to "Direct Violation of Conditions Prescribed."

Augustine Davies, president of the International Acetylene Association, writes in the following letter to "The World" for the purpose of giving some correct information about acetylene and to show that the Kingston disaster resulted wholly from its use in direct violation of the conditions prescribed by the insurance authorities. He says:

"Happening to be a few days in your city, I deem it my duty as president of the International Acetylene Association in view of the newspaper reports of and comments upon the terrible accident which recently occurred on the government steamer at Kingston, to remove any erroneous impression as to the dangers of acetylene as an illuminant, which may have arisen in consequence thereof."

"I especially object to a statement made by one of the witnesses at Kingston, which would convey the impression that acetylene gas, when coming into contact with cold air, will ignite spontaneously. This is absolutely untrue, as any one who has ever used this form of illuminant well knows."

"When Dangerous." "Acetylene gas is generated thru the contact of calcium carbide with water, and this calcium carbide is affected by nothing but water. It could be thrown into a blast furnace with impunity. Similarly, no amount of concussion would result in danger. In fact, it is crushed as ore or stone is crushed in preparing for shipment."

"Like all other illuminating gases, acetylene is not inflammable, unless mixed with air or oxygen. If a flame were introduced into the interior of a gasholder filled with acetylene, without the admission of air, it would be immediately extinguished."

"Having from twelve to fifteen times the lighting power per cubic foot of ordinary gas in general, a one-half foot burner only is used in comparison with the five to seven foot burners used with ordinary gas; consequently there is no danger from asphyxiation. That is to say, if an acetylene burner should be left open for ten hours, only five cubic feet of gas could escape, a quantity entirely insufficient to cause asphyxiation."

"As an Explosive." "Now about the Kingston explosion. The fact is that compressed acetylene was being used—a thing admittedly dangerous and prohibited by the engineers for the national board of fire underwriters of the United States. Early in the history of acetylene this practice was largely followed, the original idea being to supply consumers with acetylene, compressed in steel tubes, just as carbonic acid gas is supplied for soda water fountains. The result was that, in filling these tubes several terrific explosions occurred, and a most rigid investigation followed."

"It was proven by the testimony of experts that when acetylene is placed under two or three atmospheres of 30 to 45 pounds pressure—it becomes an explosive. The result was the prohibition of the use of compressed acetylene by the insurance authorities."

"This same board of insurance engineers, which strictly prohibits the use of compressed acetylene, permits the use of automatic acetylene generators in insured buildings without additional charge for insurance, when such generators are built in accordance with their rules for construction."

DUE TO DEFECTIVE WELDING.
Opinion of Experts, But Jury Is Not Altogether Certain.

Kingston, April 24.—(Special.)—The inquest into the death of Frederick Muller by the explosion of a gas buoy on Tuesday last continued this afternoon and evening. The evidence of the crew threw no further light on the cause. Three experts, Dr. G. D. Wilson, chemist, of Kingston, and Messrs. John Arnold, medical engineer, New York, were also examined as to properties in acetylene gas, and all favored the theory that the explosion was due to defective welding. The latter suggested that the metal in the buoys had been weakened thru outside exposure to the frost all thru the winter.

The jury entered the following verdict: "We are of the opinion that the evidence adduced does not definitely show the cause of the explosion, but would strongly urge that all such buoys be thoroughly inspected each year and subjected to a sufficient pre-test."

AGAIN WE SCORE VICTORY.

The end of another Concert year once more demonstrates the isolated supremacy of the HEINTZMAN & CO. PIANO.

We count in the successes of the year such concerts and recitals as those of the Mendelssohn Choir, under Mr. A. S. Vogt, the Pittsburgh Orchestra, the People's Choral Union, Nordica, Queen of Song, Jonas in his wonderful piano recitals, and a host of others, who were prominent in Canadian musical and social functions in Toronto, Montreal and other leading centres of the Dominion.

All these and many others used exclusively the Heintzman & Co. piano. The use of one of these famous instruments seems in fact to have been synonymous with success everywhere, and to quote another visiting artist, Burmeister, the famous pupil of Liszt: "I shall insist on having a Heintzman & Co. Grand piano whenever I visit Canada."

"THIS SPLENDID ISOLATION"

Finds among its endorsers the following:

NORDICA—The world's greatest prima donna.
MURIEL POSTER—The beautiful English contralto.
SIR ALEXANDER MACKENZIE—Used exclusively in the great Festival Chorus.
THE PITTSBURGH ORCHESTRA—Used exclusively during their Canadian tour.
MENDELSSOHN CHOIR—Exclusive choice for their famous concerts.

MR. F. H. TORRINGTON—Director of the Toronto College of Music.
W. O. FORSYTH—Director Metropolitan College of Music.
W. CAVEN BARRON—Director of the London Conservatory of Music.

Real satisfaction comes in the purchase of a piano that has a distinctiveness of its own—where no chances are taken—no experiment made—a piano with a record of half a century behind it, and that each year forges further in the lead. Such is a Heintzman & Co. piano.

SIGNS OF VITALITY STOP FUNERAL.

Boy After Four Days in Coffin Exhibits Indications of Life.

London, April 24.—An extraordinary instance of temporary revival of a boy has occurred in the mining district of South Normanton, near Nottingham.

Wallis Alsopp, the nine-year-old son of a mine carpenter, was believed to have died last Thursday.

The funeral was fixed for Monday, and while the hearse was standing at the door the relatives went to take their last look at the little lad.

As they gazed into the coffin the parents saw signs of life.

A rosy tint overcame the lips and cheeks, and moisture was hastily brought and held before the lad's lips.

Three doctors were summoned, who, after a cursory examination, countermanded the funeral, and sent word to the minister and the mourners, who were waiting at the churchyard.

The child was lifted out of the coffin and placed in front of the fire, and a careful watch was kept thru the night.

But no further signs of vitality were seen, and the medical men now believe that life has finally departed, although it had lingered for four days after death was thought to have occurred.

The funeral has been fixed for tomorrow, but two doctors will make a careful examination of the body before the coffin is closed finally.

Prominent Church Member Elopes From Hamilton With a Married Man, 'Tis Said.

Hamilton, April 24.—(Special.)—The city is the latest to claim a case of the "hypnotic" eye. The owner of the "eye" is John Maule, a butcher. Maule, who is a married man with two children, has left town accompanied by a spinster. The woman is a member of a well-known family. Her friends claim that she has been hypnotized or she would not have left her home with a married man. She was a regular attendant at a leading church and one of its shining lights. The couple are now in Toronto, where the woman has a married sister living. The police have been asked to take a hand in the game.

Columbus, O., April 24.—Speeding from an angry mob of 400 white people at Mount Vernon, Ohio, to-day, Deputy Sheriff Shellenbarger, in an automobile, rescued George Copeland, a negro youth, who had been arrested on a charge of assaulting and murdering Miss Miranda Bricker, a white woman, aged 55 years. As soon as word got out that the negro had been placed in jail a mob quickly gathered. A big overcoat was put on Copeland, and he was placed in the bottom of an automobile and a rapid run was made to Centerburg, 12 miles away, where the negro was placed in jail, under heavy guard, awaiting the arrival of a train for Columbus.

The occasion was marked by a slight accident. As the King and Queen entered the carriage provided for them, the horses became frightened and broke the carriage poles. After a new vehicle had been secured their majesties drove to the Chateau Landon. Despite a heavy rain, the large crowd of people cordially greeted their majesties along the route they traversed. Their majesties spent an hour at the Chateau Landon, walking in the gardens.
