29TH YEAR

BIG CONSERVATIVE POLICY TO BE DECIDED BY A POLICY

R. L. Borden Says That Party Organization Will Also Be Improved—Conservative Naval Program.

"One governing principle at least should control, namely, that out of our own materials, by our own labor, and by the instructed skill of our own people, any necessary provision for our naval defence should be made so far as may be reasonably possible."
—R. L. BORDEN.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—It was a large and representative audience which greeted R. L. Borden in Mason's Hall this evening. It was Mr. Borden's first political address since his return from Europe, and was listened to with keen interest. It was also his first visit to his constituency since the last session, and the leader was given a royal welcome and greeted with round upon round of applause during his address.

The feature of the address was the announcement that plans were in the making for a Liberal Conservative Party. Two years ago, on his own initiative, he had, after a consultation with many friends throughout Canada, made known his "Halifax platform." Public opinion not only of the party, but of the country had ratified that policy to such an extent that the present government has an independent commission at least of adopting many of its provisions, either in whole or in part. For instance, in regard to civil service reform, the inauguration of a system of rural mail delivery, the reorganization of the railway commissions, the control and management of the government railways by an independent commission and the reformation of the electoral laws.

The calling of a convention had been under consideration for nearly four years, but had been delayed because of the extreme length of the sessions and the importance of conducting active and strenuous campaigns in 1908 and 1909.

"But," said Mr. Borden, "the time has now come when we must expect step should be no longer delayed, and I am glad to announce that during the year 1910 we expect to hold a great convention of the Liberal Conservative party of Canada, thoroughly representative, not only of every province, but of every important district within each province. Great questions will be discussed at the convention for consideration and determination. These will include not only great questions of policy, but matters touching the internal organization of the party; and it is not too much to say that the result of the next general elections—which may be held even earlier than we now expect—will depend upon the enthusiasm and vigor with which the Conservatives of the country stand in support of the convention and the splendid success I believe it will be."

Canada's Future.
Mr. Borden first referred to his recent return from his mother country, and went on, "The question naturally presents itself: How shall we stand in the future when the British Empire, as we, as Mr. Goldwin Smith desires and predicts, become part of the great American republic? Or shall we follow the aspirations of Laurier, who hopes and believes that Canada will sever her connection with the British Empire as a ripe apple drops from a tree? Or shall we follow the ideal of Sir John A. Macdonald, who foresaw and predicted a cordial and healthy alliance with the mother country, by which Canada would become a powerful nation, owing allegiance to the British sovereign and flag and maintaining the advantage of connection with the greatest centre of the world? Surely it is the latter ideal which to-day is being realized; and with it comes to our people an increasing appreciation of the value of British citizenship."

"Canada has the most complete rights of self-government. We learn from members of the present administration occasional bragging declarations as to what they have accomplished in securing for Canada complete autonomy. That autonomy in respect of our self-government is most fully and thoroughly realized by all intelligent and thoughtful men in the British islands, who, indeed, look with wonder and amazement to the unnecessary admissions delivered in season and out of season by certain Canadian statesmen upon this theme. Mr. Broderick says he has secured naval autonomy for Canada. There is not and there never has been any such thing as naval autonomy, or other forty years any constitutional or other difficulty about the establishment of a navy by Canada, whenever its people thought fit to do so."

Naval Defence.
Nationhood involved certain responsibilities from which we could not escape. One was the duty of defending our borders and protecting our commerce and trade routes. It was sometimes said that if Canada were independent, the fleet of the United States would afford us an all-sufficient protection. Did any reasonable man imagine that such protection would be given without a very simple question being asked: What is the house of commons last session had laid down a certain policy regarding naval defence in which both political parties united.

"It may have satisfied the aspirations of all Conservatives; but it seemed bounden duty to place it positively."

STR. AT BASCA IS AGROUND IN STORM

Runs on the Shelving Rock of Flower Pot Island—Extent of the Damage Is Not Yet Known.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—In a terrific snow storm, accompanied by a southwest gale, the Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Athabasca, Capt. Alex. Brown, went on a shelving rock at the Flower Pot Island, 80 miles from here, shortly after one o'clock this morning. The steamer cleared at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon on her regular trip up to Port William. She had a cargo of about six hundred tons of general merchandise and two first-class passengers, and one second class, on her list. The crew numbered 54. All can be on the ship if it is not in danger.

Word of her mishap was brought to this port by the company's steamer Assinibola, which passed the straits between the two lakes on her way down from Port William at 6.30 this morning. Capt. Brown reported that the water was four feet deep in the forward hold, the ship's bow being 50 feet on a flat rock, with the main part afloat in 15 fathoms of water. The spot is within 200 feet of the lighthouse and half a mile from the regular course.

In a megaphone conversation with the Assinibola, Capt. Brown said he had the latest report of the vessel's condition thru by Telegraphy on a passing tug.

From appearances it was thought that the steamer might release herself before assistance arrived.

C. P. R. Superintendent Buchanan chartered the tug Harrison, one of the largest tug boats on the lake, to assist the vessel this afternoon. The company's steamer Manitowish, which will pass the point on her way up tonight, will also render assistance.

The Athabasca is one of the trio of Clyde built steamers, brought to the Upper Lakes by the C. P. R. in the opening of thru traffic in 1884. She is 270 feet long, and was brought to this country with the steamers Alberta and Algonquin, the latter of which wrecked the following year, with great loss of life. The Alberta is now in harbor.

In the opinion of the officers of the Assinibola, the Athabasca will be saved, unless the wind changes. Should the wind come from the north it is likely the big liner will be driven into the rocks.

Since the new steamships Assinibola and Keewatin were placed on the line the various vessels of the Athabasca class have been out of commission at intervals. The Athabasca was put in the service at the end of September for the fall trade, and this was her second trip.

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The Empress of Ireland of the C.P.R. struck what is supposed to be a submerged wreck below Cap. Chart and Matane, 40 miles below Rimouski, this morning.

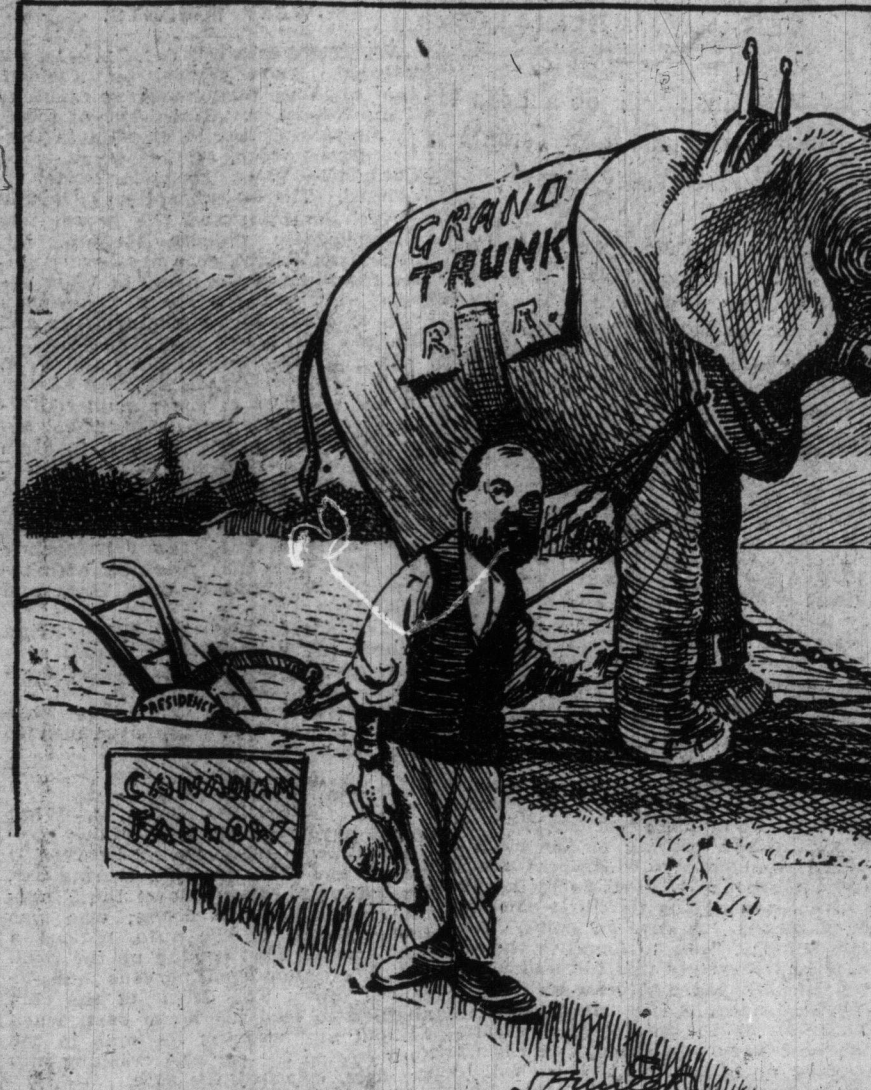

Her bottom was pierced amidships and she made water. She made her way up to Rimouski and proceeded slowly to Quebec under her own steam. The liner has 125 passengers on board.

AGINCOURT CITIZENS ANGRY AT LAW'S DELAY

Public Meeting Calls for Justice in Case of Blythe, Wife Murderer.

"That this meeting of citizens of Agincourt hereby express their indignation at the legal delays occasioned in the trial of Walter Blythe, who was sentenced to hang for the murder of his wife, and who has since been granted two reprieves and a retrial on technical grounds.

This meeting feels that such treatment by the authorities is liable to bring the administration of justice into contempt, and herewith calls on the government to make such amendment to the criminal code as will make a repetition of this occurrence impossible.

The above resolution was carried unanimously at a well attended meeting last night in the little Village of Agincourt, a village which is situated in the premier, minister of justice and the local members of parliament.

M. T. Stewart, who occupied the chair, recalled the circumstances of the crime, which, he said, had shocked and disgraced the neighborhood and brought grief to homes across the sea.

He pointed out that the delay in the trial of Blythe was due to the fact that the government had been unable to find a jury to try the case.

Justice is being delayed too long," declared Deputy Reeve W. H. Patterson.

"If there is anything worse than hanging Blythe, it is to let him go free," said Peter Brown, C.P.R. agent at Agincourt. "Insanity and not intoxication had been pleaded by Blythe's counsel."

Capt. Gordon Cane blamed the government for the delays. Increase of crime would follow technical delays of this sort.

When informed of the action of the Agincourt meeting last night, T. C. Robinson, K.C., counsel for Blythe, said it would do no prejudice to the minds of possible jurors at the coming assizes that he would certainly move for a change of venue out of the county, as he had been compelled to do by adverse publicity given to the case of Mrs. Turner, also charged with murder. Should Mr. Robinson succeed, the assizes next week will be robbed of their most dramatic features.

HALIFAX NOMINATIONS

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—At the Conservative convention here to-day, J. J. Ritchie, K.C., Halifax; Wm. Sedgwick, Musquodocuit, and J. C. McGill, barrister, Halifax, were nominated to contest this county for the local house.

BORDEN GIVES LIE TO ALL CHARGES AGAINST HIM

Swears He Was Never Intimate With Hester Chalefour, or Visited Her—Denies That He Paid Her $2000, as Narrated in Evidence.

KENTVILLE, N.S., Oct. 14.—Interest in the criminal libel case, Borden v. Chalefour, was intensified this afternoon when Sir Frederick Borden took the witness stand. The libel complained of is in the defendant having circulated copies of the Calgary Eye-Opener containing letters written by Mrs. Maria Allison alleging improper conduct between Sir Frederick Borden and Hester Chalefour, her daughter.

Sir Frederick underwent a grueling cross-examination, and flatly denied the allegations of the witnesses for the defence. The inquiry took a very broad turn.

Miss Chalefour this morning, while declaring that she had received $2000 from Borden and paying had been in contact on her, denied positively that there had been any improprieties.

Sir Frederick Borden's evidence was that he had never called on her or taken any interest in her.

Miss McParland absolutely denied all Mrs. Allison's evidence. She had only met Sir Frederick once, and was in regard to the Eye-Opener article. Mrs. Allison's statements were untrue, every word of them she had never received pay from the government for services not rendered.

Counsel and judge will address the jury to-morrow.

When court opened this afternoon Sir Frederick was in the ante-room, while the court room was crowded. After two minutes' delay, Sir Frederick was called to the witness stand. He said he was minister of militia and defence; was formerly known as Dr. Borden, and a medical practitioner. He was made a minister July 13, 1908. He was elected on June 23, 1896, to represent King's County. He was elected in 1874, 1875, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909.

Sir Frederick first saw Mrs. Maria Allison at her house on Albert-street, Ottawa, at the beginning of the session of 1895.

Acquaintance With Allison.
He had lodgings and boarded there. Judge Forbes, then member for Queen's, and other M.P.s and others were there. His wife and children were there. The three months' session, he at once went to his home in Canning. The house met again from January to April, 1896. He stayed at Mrs. Allison's, who had moved next door to the former house. Mrs. Borden and some of the boarders of the previous year were there. About July 15, he was again at Ottawa, was appointed to a portfolio, and went back to Canning for re-election. On his return to Ottawa, in August, 1896, he was again at Mrs. Allison's, he took rooms at her house for himself and secretary.

He knew the daughter Hester M. Chalefour. Mrs. Allison had told him of Miss Chalefour's application for a position in the hospital. Arthur M. Dicoy, himself and another had signed the recommendation. He saw Miss Chalefour at her mother's house about three months after she went to Montreal. She came back to her mother's house over Sunday and went back to Montreal. When next he saw her it was about Christmas, in Ottawa, on the street. He saw her very seldom from that time on, and did not see her in the United States. He thought he met her on the streets of Montreal several times, but had no particular conversation with her.

Montreal Visits.
Sir Frederick knew nothing of Mrs. Archambault, keeper of a Montreal boarding house, who he said he had never seen. He had never visited her house in Montreal, nor any house in Montreal for the purpose of meeting Miss Chalefour. He had never visited her on St. Lawrence-street, or Dufferin-square.

A copy of the Eye-Opener was produced and the alleged libel was read. Sir Frederick said he knew nothing of Miss Chalefour's reasons for leaving home. The allegation that she was keeping her in a boarding house at 823 Palaco-street, was false. He provided no means for her staying there, and did not know Madame Clement and had never seen Miss Chalefour at Madame Clement's or at Ellen Williams'. He had never heard of Dr. Dukebury's house in Boston. He had heard she had a house at Outremont, but had never seen her there, nor in Boston. He had never made improper proposals, nor held out any inducements or promises to Mrs. Allison, nor had any relations with her. He never was in the Stanley House, Montreal, with her, and did not register as "Mr. and Mrs. Brown."

Never Paid Her Money.
Sir Frederick said he never paid $2000 to Miss Chalefour, nor had he paid her any money.

In regard to Mrs. Kathleen McParland, mentioned in the alleged libel, Sir Frederick said he had no acquaintance with her. He had no knowledge of her in letters from Mrs. Allison. He had never been with her in Ottawa, on the streets or in a cab, or elsewhere. He first saw her in November or December of 1898. She was in his office about five minutes. He had not seen her since; never was in her house, did not know she had a husband, had never hidden behind a fence.

BUILD NEW SCHOOL AT COST OF $60,000

Board of Education to Locate One on Victoria Ave.—Temperance Folk Active—Annexation, Etc.

HAMILTON, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The temperance people of ward 4 organized this evening a grand demonstration for the coming municipal elections. They expect to elect about 1000 voters and to elect a board of control, Alderman Cooper, James L. Stubbald, Rev. A. H. Goring, E. Bowen and W. H. Yates. The following officers were elected: Wm. Brown, president; Thos. Wilkinson, vice-president; Albert Sharpe, treasurer, and the following executive committee, Robt. Harper, Zion Wesleyan Church; Harry Felton, German Lutheran Church; Harry Felton, German Evangelical.

Annexation Amenities. The annexation committee, made up of representatives of the city and of the township, held another hearing this evening. After hearing what the various interests had to say, they retired and sat behind closed doors. W. M. McClelland, J. H. Hornby, J. M. Eastwood, J. J. Scott, K.C., Major Mewburn and others spoke for special concessions for the district south of Main-street. Mayor McLaren was rather sarcastic at their expense, and asked what reason they had for advancing for granting other people to pay their taxes. He said the terms of last annexation were ruinous to the city, and had resulted in the building up of a lot of houses on which the city got only a little over an eighth of a mill rate. Mr. Scott said Hamilton, on account of its pleasurable climate, was not growing, while last year Toronto had landed twenty American concerns, and Welland had also made great progress.

John Patterson this afternoon applied to the industrial committee for an extension of time for the Hamilton, Waterloo and Guelph Railway. He intimated that he would be able to finance it if he got the extension.

Will Build New School. The board of education this evening decided to build a new school on Victoria-avenue, and the city council will be asked to authorize the issue of $60,000 debentures. The building committee was instructed to let the contracts and to appropriate the necessary land. The board children who attend the public schools will be taxed $1 a month, said Chairman VanAllen of the beach commission requested that action be deferred until he was able to attend to present a case. Tratee Books introduced a motion to provide for the establishment of a superannuation fund for teachers, but withdrew it when advised that the board could do nothing until the teachers made a move. Efforts will be made to get the government to make provision for the education of Stranouse children. The building committee was authorized to let the contracts for the new Victoria-avenue school to the lowest tenderers, provided they were satisfactory. There was some question as to whether the lowest tenderer for the masonry, the Open Construction Company, will get the contract, because it is an outside firm, and its price is $27 lower than the next lowest. The building committee was given a free hand in the matter.

Prizes Presented. Before the trustees got down to business, the prizes won in the sports competition were presented as follows: Challenge shield to A. E. Manning, principal of the Stranouse school; gold medal, Jas. Harrison; individual champion silver medal, Carroll Farmer; bronze medals, Henry Hill, E. Smith and James Ewing; medals for girls, May McIntosh, Clara Feast and Mable Salisbury.

The relatives of David Hutton, the missing nightwatchman, are making arrangements to drag the bay for his body. Perjury Charge Dropped. At the police court, Richard Roach, charged with perjury in connection with the making out of an affidavit that his wife was 18 years of age, was allowed to go on his recognizance. His wife says that she told him that she was 18. Fred Scott was acquitted of charge of stealing Mrs. Pendleberry's horse.

Mrs. Catharine Bolton died this morning, aged 110. She had been an inmate of Don Aged Woman's Home for 22 years, her husband having predeceased her half a century ago. Until a short time ago she could talk intelligently of the events that had marked her long life. One son, William, Wood-street, survives.

In connection with the turning back of the ten Armenian laborers found for the G. T. P., it is claimed that there is an organized gang that bleeds foreigners by charging them a stiff fee for getting them into the country and securing employment for them. The police have secured a good description of the ringleader of the gang.

Capt. William Irving Dead. Captain William J. Irving, 88 South Wellington-street, acting mate on the freight steamer, died suddenly this morning. He was taken ill on the trip between Montreal and Hamilton, and had to be removed to his home last night. Until recently he had sailed as mate with his father, Captain John Irving of the Strathcona.

Mrs. Miriam Martin is suing the Canadian Tangle Lamp Company for damages because she claims the company encroached fifteen inches on her yard in erecting its factory.

H. Halford of this city was elected fourth vice-president of the Journey-men Barbers' Union.

A. Newman, a Hamilton boy in attendance at Queen's University, won a silver trophy and a $5 cash prize at Kingston, by making the highest score in the open rifle meet for the vicinity. There were 95 competitors, and Newman scored 57 out of a possible 75.

BARRE'S WIFE REFUSED HIS OFFER TO FORGIVE

Retorted That Life With Him Thereafter Would Be Only a Shiam and a Pretence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The World's London cable says: James Matthew Barrie, novelist and playwright, has been granted a divorce on the ground that his wife misconducted herself with Gilbert Cannan, Mrs. Barrie, who before marriage was Mary Ansell, actress, did not defend the suit, the hearing of which occupied scarcely 15 minutes.

Mr. Barrie was accompanied to court by E. W. Mason, M.P., with whom he is making his home at the present. The author looked ill and worried. The intensely dramatic situation in which he found himself pained him intensely mental suffering.

He gave his testimony in a low, clear voice, which never faltered, although he had to tell that the woman he loved declared to him that another man is the only one in the world for her. In the evidence Mr. Barrie said that he and Miss Ansell were married in Scotland July 9, 1904, and although they had no children, lived happily until they met Gilbert Cannan, 18 months ago.

Mr. Cannan is several years younger than Mrs. Barrie, was formerly on the stock exchange, is regarded as clever, and taken to literature and written books and several plays.

Barricade of Meeting Cannan. Continuing his testimony, Mr. Barrie told that he met Mr. Cannan first when that young man was acting as secretary of a committee of playwrights who were trying to modify the censorship of plays to their better liking. Last autumn Mr. Cannan's flat was being redecorated and Mr. Barrie invited him to a cottage he owns at Purham, where Mrs. Barrie and some of her women friends were living.

Then Mr. Barrie repeated the story of the "gardeners named Hunt, told him this: "The gardeners said his wife took tea up to Cannan's bedroom early one evening but he was not there. Mrs. Hunt went to Mrs. Barrie's bedroom and knocked on the door. There was no answer, but after a few moments Mrs. Barrie opened the door and exclaimed, "Gilbert! Gilbert!"

"I taxed Mrs. Barrie with what Hunt and his wife told me," Barrie continued, after a visible effort to control his feelings. "Mrs. Barrie said 'It's quite true.' We both consulted Sir George Lewis, the solicitor. Once when Mrs. Barrie visited Sir George alone she told him Cannan visited her on only one occasion.

"Then I said that if she would come back to me contritely I would forgive her and no one would ever know anything about it. But she said that living with me would be only a sham and a pretence for Mrs. Barrie was the only man in the world to her."

Mrs. Barrie goes about as usual. She looks extremely healthy, happy and beautiful.

is Co-Respondent's Story in His Novel? Has Gilbert Cannan, the co-respondent in the Barrie divorce suit, told his story in his latest novel, "Peter Homunculus"?

Readers of the book cannot fail to note in certain passages a resemblance to the alleged accounts of the case. It describes the fortunes of a young man with literary aspirations. His most interesting love affair is with a beautiful actress. The disparity in the ages of the young lover and of the husband is emphasized. The wife is unhappy; her husband does not understand her. The young writer becomes her friend, and they have long walks and talks. A child afraid for herself and for him, she determines that a certain meeting shall be her last. On this occasion she reminds her, while she stares hard at her lips, "I have never kissed you."

"Not," replies the heroine of the book. "The night is ours," he protests. "Say rather yours and mine."

"Together—ours," he insists. They talk under the trees in the starlight. The heroine remarks, "I am cold."

Peter throws an arm about her, whispering: "Warm, warm in a cold world."

"Yes, yes, it is that—cold, cold for love."

"Mine," cries Peter, and enfolds her, stoops and meets lips seeking his. She beats with clenched fists on his breast, and runs from him. He flings himself on the soft beach mound, plunges his arms into the cool sand and sniffs the scent of it. Then up he springs and after her, to find her hugging a tree, crying, crying, crying. He embraces her and the tree together.

Clients dealing with them now will have their properties listed with each of hundreds of agents instead of but one as formerly. Employment will be secured in any part of the country at a nominal fee; accounts and rentals will be collected very promptly at a minimum expense. The employment and collection departments should appeal very strongly to clients of the National Realty Co., Limited, and others. Mr. Haley, who has just returned from a visit to some of the western agencies, reports the work to be progressing most favorably.

DR. POLLARD'S NEW TRIAL

Judge Winchester Refuses Request to Have It Traversed.

In the sessions yesterday the trial of Martin Blencoe, the chauffeur, charged with stealing D. D. Mann's auto, was traversed to the December sessions. Mr. Mann is out of the city. The request of A. A. Bond to have the trial of Dr. Stephen Pollard traversed owing to the ill-health of his client was not granted by Judge Winchester, and unless counsel can show by unimpeachable medical evidence that the doctor is unable to appear for trial, the case will be proceeded with on Monday next. The case against Giuseppe Casato, charged with stealing a pocketbook and $81 from Giovanna (Massariello), was taken from the jury, who were instructed to bring in a verdict of not guilty. The crown had not sufficient evidence to convict. On receiving a petition from the city jurors, asking pay for Sunday, the judge promised to bring the matter to the attention of the grand jury.

ASK CHANGE OF VENUE

Mr. Robinette Fears Mrs. Turner May Not Get Fair Trial.

T. C. Robinette, K.C., counsel for Mrs. Maud Turner, committed for trial for the murder of the infant of Mrs. Annie Authers, will make a determined effort to prevent his client from being tried at the assizes next week, on the ground that a change of venue is necessary for his client to have a fair trial. This he will urge on account of newspaper accounts of the proceedings and circumstances thus far. Failing a change of venue, he will ask for a delay in any event, to allow more time for the preparation of his defence.

Jewelry Thieves Confined

Harry Dewberry and Frank Parish were convicted of theft, in police court, of a tray of jewelry from Christopher Dawson's store in Carlton-street. It was shown that the three, Dewberry, who had taken the tray, Parish and a third man named McCullum, had divided the spoils. Several told of being offered the jewelry and some had bought. Dewberry and Parish were remanded a week to be sentenced. McCullum was discharged and Frank Flynn, charged with receiving, was remanded a week.

AMUSEMENTS

Year in and year out, Joe Weber has given to New York a travesty of the most amusing type. The company with which he surrounds himself is invariably more than clever and there have been under his management the most prominent stars in the theatrical firmament, and the Weber chorus is invariably of the most attractive material. The plays are worthy vehicles of their sort, and the costumes and scenery admirable. As a comedian, Joe Weber long ago demonstrated his propensity for developing characterization, that are his peculiar province. Mr. Weber will present in this city, at the Princess Theatre, beginning Monday next, travesties on "The Merry Widow" and "The Devil".

Of late years many managers have become somewhat careless in the selection of actors to play "juvenile" parts in "The Bridge," "Suspect" and "The Merry Widow." Mr. Wood is one of the youngest as well as most promising leading men on the stage. His first big chance came when Dave Nelson engaged him to succeed Hamilton Revelle in the leading role with Mrs. Carter in "Du Barry." In "Beverly of Graustark" he originated the part of Prince Danforth, and in "The Merry Widow" he played the part of Lieut. Burton.

Shelley Hull, who plays the comedy "juvenile" part in "The Bridge," has had a short but interesting stage career. Seats are now on sale at the Bell Piano Warerooms, 146 Yonge-street.

In the big musical gaiety, "A Knight for a Day," which will be the offering of the Grand next week, a doting English father visits a young ladies' seminary at Evanston, Ill., to be present at the graduation of his daughter and in order to show his appreciation of her success. The seminary has a case of champagne sent up. The small town express man who brings the wine up encounters one Harry Hammer, manufacturer of champagne, who is a lawyer knight with papers entitling the aforesaid daughter to a large estate in Corsica. The "near knight" signs for the champagne, but as he is about to place it in concealment, the head of the seminary happens along and he drops the case in the well. A little later, the French chef of the school introduces the new "servant lady" to a new mint sauce that he has invented, and it proves to be so hot that she immediately feels the need of a cooling draught. She rushes to the well and pulls up the oaken bucket, which has caught the contents of the broken wine bottles, and what happens to her furnishes laughter for five minutes.

E. I. Carter, formerly editor of the Baltimore Herald, and the Paris edition of The New York Herald, is in the city preparing for the coming of George Arliss, who will present "The Merry Widow," under the management of Harrison Grey Fiske, at the Royal Alexandra, Thanksgiving week.

Two of the biggest acts in vaudeville are booked for the Majestic Music Hall next week. One of these is not unknown to the Toronto public, and the announcement of his return will be welcomed by all lovers of high-class vaudeville. Julian Pittman is the artist who will present his latest characterizations, "The Nell Brunkley Girl," "The Bathing Girl," "The Hoyden" and his latest sensational dance, "The Goddess of Incense." The other act is the small, acrobatic elephant in the world, who does acrobatic stunts, dances, plays soldier, eats and goes to bed.

Manager Shea will offer a great show to the patrons of Shea's Theatre next week. He has got a headliner, actor Frank Fogarty, "The Dublin Minister," who has not been seen in Toronto for some time. The special features included in the bill for the week are: "The Expedition Four (Alexander, Bros. and Brady); Howard Truesdale and Company, presenting a one-act comedy entitled "A Corner in Hair," and Nellie V. Nichols, singing comedies. Other acts well-known on the vaudeville stage are: Will Rogers, the larrikin thrower; Spisiel Bros. and Co., pantomimic jugglers; Suzanne Rocafort, acrobatic artist; Max York and Dogs and the kinetograph.

If you wish to see the most elaborate production ever presented at the Gaiety Theatre next week, just drop in and take a look over Fred Irwin's big majestic organization and gaze on the 60 performers characterized as one of the best on the road.

The illness from which Joe Weber has been suffering for some time past caused him to leave for New York City, after giving one performance Monday evening in Montreal. Mr. Weber's physician who accompanied him, advised that he undergo an operation at once. During the balance of the engagement at the Gaiety, Mr. Weber's part was played by Sam Collins, who played the part several months last season in New York. Mr. Collins will continue to play the part until Mr. Weber's recovery. After Tuesday's performance all the critics were of the opinion that the travesties of "The Merry Widow" and "The Devil" did not suffer by the change in the cast. The production in its entirety will be given at the Princess Theatre next week with Sam Collins, well remem-

OLD AGE ANNUITIES

It may interest the public to know that The Great-West Life is prepared to issue annuities at the Government rates and annuitants may thus have the satisfaction of knowing that they can provide for their old age exclusively by their own contributions and independently of any public generosity. We would be glad to relieve the Government from having to grant annuities (partly at the public expense) to those who can purchase their contracts by single payments at the following rates, which are the same as charged by the Government:

Age last birthday	Cost of $100 Annuity payable quarterly	Males	Females
45	$1466	$1533
55	1190	1299
65	887	994

The Great-West Life Assurance Company is able to charge these low rates for two reasons:

- (1) It earns over seven per cent on its investments.
- (2) It has built up a very economical organization.

Premiums for Life Insurance are at equally favorable rates and for the same reasons. See our agents for full particulars.

The World congratulates Mr. Chas. M. Hays on his elevation to the presidency of the Grand Trunk Railway.

The World trusts that Mr. Hays will now share some of his powers with an executive officer who can do things in Toronto for the consideration of Ontario railway problems.

The railways continue to question the jurisdiction of the railway commission. They don't think the commission can compel them to build stations for the accommodation of the public where the board thinks they are required.

ORIENTAL RUGS SELLING TO-DAY.

Mr. Charles Henderson had a busy day yesterday conducting the important sale of high-class Turkish and Persian rugs that started on Tuesday last, and will be continued to-day (Friday) and Saturday. It has been most successful and has been very largely attended by prominent citizens of Toronto, and from outside the city. Plenty of exceptionally good bargains have been obtained, and as the premises at the corner of King and Bay-sts. have been sold and must be vacated, the whole stock is being offered for unreserved sale. Nothing but the best quality of these artistic goods and of the brassware and ornamental furniture also included are submitted to competition, and a desperate contest is being held for the remaining days. Comfortable seats are provided for ladies.

HERE'S A GOOD LUNCH FOR FRIDAY.

Pure of split pea soup, French roll and creamy butter. Oyster patties, sliced beets, Creamed potatoes, sliced beets, Rice and ration puddings, vanilla sauce, New cider, buttermilk, tea or coffee. This lunch 35 cents at Williams' Popular Cafe, King and Yonge-street, branch. Sheela's orchestra noon and evening.

Only the Chief is Warm.

If you want to find a cure that will make Dr. Cook at the north pole look like a clown at his fire-side, look at a policeman stopping the chilly blasts on the corner without the aid of his overcoat. Figure that he stands there or walks about for eight hours with no opportunity to warm himself and the discovery of the pole does not seem such a fearful undertaking. Chief Cook can set the policeman up on his coat, but the has put on his own he has issued no order for the men.

COBALT---Markets for Mining Stocks as a Beter Undertone---COBALT

Good Speculative Demand Results in Higher Prices

Cobalt Stocks Exhibit Better Undertone and Small Advances Are Made—Crown Reserve the Leader.

World Office, Thursday Evening, Oct. 14. Cobalt securities in general took a turn toward higher levels on the mining markets to-day. The appreciation in values was realized by nearly every issue which entered to any extent in the day's trading, and while the advances were small, they served to demonstrate that an improvement in the market had to a certain degree become apparent. The better tone exhibited was due more to an increase in the outside speculative movement than to any bullish factor in the market. The public have become seized with the idea that movement continued downward movement in some of the stocks, and the developments at the mines and little floating stock being on the market it is difficult to pick up any large volume of stock save at an advance. The speculative movement to-day was conducted under the leadership of Crown Reserve, which was the strongest of the mining securities. The buying of these shares is understood to be coming from Montreal, where bullish operations are in progress and higher prices are being freely talked of by those who think they see the ultimate high reached to-day at $5.84, and closed at $5.75. La Rose was quiet to-day than of late and quotations remained comparatively steady around $5.60. Nipissing was higher with sales up to $11.75, but closed lower. Peterson Lake, Timiskaming, Chambers-Ferland, Foster, City of Cobalt and some others of the lower priced issues made a break toward higher levels and slightly higher prices were reached. Cobalt Lake was two points easier at $4. The market displayed a better undertone than during the recent past. Speculation was fairly active and well distributed throughout the list. The movement was wholly due to a better speculative demand, consequently while the tone improved to-day, recovery may be expected, while brokerage sentiment in the main favors a better outlook for mining stocks for the near future.

NEW CAMPS TO FRONT

A Number of Mines Nearing the Shipping Stage. In the last official list of shippers was included the "Wentlaufer," with a carload of twenty-five tons-high grade ore. This draws attention to the fact that outside of Cobalt a number of mines are rounding into shape to extend the list of shipping properties from the silver country. The Wentlaufer, in course, a South Lorrain enterprise and other shippers will soon be added to the list from that locality. Reports from Gowgong continue to support the high expectations formed for this new camp. Also actual development was commenced only a few months ago, spending has been considerable and operations have been conducted on a scientific mining basis. The most advanced now is probably the "Markley" mine, with two hundred foot shafts, and about 150 feet of underground tunneling. Next to this is the "Boyd-Gordon" with several hundred feet of drifting at the 70 foot level. The "Reeve-Doble," a splendid property, is now believed to be drifting at the 100 foot level. The Mann property has also been doing effective work and many other enterprises have been sinking shafts and carrying on surface exploration with such notable results as that recorded this week on the "O'Kelly." The statement that the Reeve-Doble would have seven carloads of ore to ship is probably an exaggeration. The present state of development would hardly make this probable. The truth is all the Reeve-Doble people would care to have stated and is that they have one carload of high grade ore ready to send out. By the time the roads are open there will probably be ten carloads of ore ready to ship from Gowgong. The results have been astounding when all the difficulties are considered and must convince anyone that the camp is one of great possibilities.

BOWMANVILLE INDUSTRY NEEDS RAILWAY FACILITY

Factory and Farm Products Have to Be Hauled a Long Way. For shipment.

BOWMANVILLE, Oct. 13.—(Staff Special.)—Riding into Bowmanville from the Grand Trunk station in an ancient dust-smothering bus, a Toronto returning to spend a holiday among the haunts of his youth, remarked to the World man, the only other passenger: "My father lived here when the Grand Trunk was constructed, and he, like all the other citizens, was tied almost to death because the road was being built close to the town. Everybody thought it was fine to have only a mile and a half to drive to the town. It was not so. Oh, it was a hard, cruel joke that the Grand Trunk played on the little lake shore towns. It led them to think they were having a railway constructed past their doors. And the people continued to think it fine and all-sufficient until as time went by some of them got away from home and found out how more favored sections were being served in the matter of railway facilities, and then they saw the joke, and realized that as a matter of fact they had no railway at all. They saw the towns of western Ontario gather energy and expand with industrial life while their own little burg, like the others along the same line, remained stationary or dropped back. The opinion is generally held that the coming of a railway aids in the growth of a town, but it was not in the case of the Lake Ontario towns. With hardly an exception they receded in population and importance. Aided by a good farming country at their back, and harbors at the front, these towns were large and thriving. The Grand Trunk, by cutting them almost in two, cut the population that they have to-day. The railway destroyed their insular trade security without giving them facilities for seeking successfully in the broader market. Couldn't get a Spur-Line. After realizing the real situation, Bowmanville tried to connect the Grand Trunk to build a spur to the town centre from the main line, which would be easy of accomplishment as the intervening country is level. The intervening country has been levelled repeatedly, but there are no good things of that nature coming from the G. T. For fifty years the people of Bowmanville have been carrying their goods along the road to the Grand Trunk station, thru banks of sand and dust in the summer, thru mud in the fall, thru Charles Burns' of a sweating team of horses laboring over that section of road on a hot day in the summer, and through the furnace of Bowmanville's factories. There are a few in spite of the railway—inspires admiration for the men who keep the town's industries alive in the face of such disabilities. And so the town worries along carting 1000 or more carloads of freight and 50,000 barrels of supplies each year, and hoping for better things.

C. N. R. Survey. In deference to Bowmanville's appeal for consideration the Canadian Northern magnates had surveyors in the vicinity for weeks as they had in other towns, apparently seeking a possible route nearer or thru the town. The latest survey indicates that the line will be run north-east from the north side of the big pond, and cut thru Second-street at the head of the lake. The surveyors are now headed east. Just outside the town on the eastern side a big depression is encountered, which the engineers figure will require many thousands of tons of ballast to grade up, in fact the estimated cost of constructing across it constitutes the chief reason, it is understood, for favoring the northern route. In case this route had been adopted, the highest point touched within the town limits would be 125 feet above the lake or 75 feet lower than the proposed sight of the station on the northern route. The located line follows the high gravel ridge north of Bowmanville, as in fact it does all the way thru Fickling. The engineers believe that they have located the line on what was many years ago the lake shore bank, at any rate they are reported to have laid out the line on a high gravelly elevation which offers an excellent grade. Little cutting or building up will be needed, and many favors the general opinion that the way to Port Hope for ballasting. There are, however, a number of streams to be bridged, with a total cost considerably to the cost of construction.

Followed C. P. R. Line.

It is quite possible to leave the ridge at a point west of Ottawa and strike another slight elevation farther south which would take the line thru Oshawa, Bowmanville and Port Hope. The shipping from and to Bowmanville manufacturing plants amounts at the present time to something over 1000 carloads a year, not counting cattle, Imposed upon them as a commercial factor by the C. N. R. passing them by as the Grand Trunk has done.

Whitby has the benefit of the Grand Trunk, which skirts its manufacturing pretty close, but Bowmanville has no advantages equal to that of the Grand Trunk. Here is another anomaly. The return fare from Sunnyside to the lake ranges is 25 cents. Pay as you go and the fare is 10 cents each way. Summer boarders at Long Branch can get commutation tickets by the book, but the business man who has a home on the banks of the Etobicoke—outside of Peel County—is denied this privilege, even so he will walk to Long Branch for the car. The zone system of collecting fares is a nice thing from an accounting standpoint, but when it comes to a question of mileage, the workman's is always squeezed.

Have Whole Block.

The T. Eaton Co., who have been steadily acquiring control of the remaining properties in the block, nearly three acres, bounded by Yonge, Queen, Albert and James streets, have rounded out their possession of the entire area by successful negotiations for the taking over of the house of the S. H. Knox building at the corner of Yonge and Queen streets. The Knox Co. secured a transfer of the government lease of 89 years held by the late Philip Jamieson, and the understanding is that an arrangement has been made for a second transfer to the Eaton Co. after a period of years. The property has a frontage of 84 feet in Yonge street by a depth of 82 feet, and is assessed at $307,000. As the lease falls due the T. Eaton Co. will expand their building operations, and their ultimate occupation of the whole block is apparently assured. The block is nearly a square, the distance from Queen to Albert street being about 330 feet, and about 330 feet from Yonge street to James street, a total area of 4-6 acres.

After Thirty-Seven Years

Accountant of Receiver-General's Office Resigns. J. Grant Ridout, accountant in the assistant receiver-general's office, on Wednesday severed his connection with the office, with which he had been connected for over 37 years. He was represented by the staff with a handsome traveling bag. When Mr. Ridout first entered the service of the finance department the circulation of government notes was only $10,000,000. It is now over $80,000,000, with a corresponding increase in specie. The vacancy has been filled by promotion in the office, Norman Tovell becoming accountant. Roy Cane succeeding him as teller. A new junior clerk will be appointed. John Judge, a provincial liquor importer, is under arrest at London for pointing a revolver at C. C. James of the Windsor Hotel and Thomas Edwards.

More Strength Shown

Actual mining stock for sale in the market at the present time is of small dimensions, and any urgent demand for stock can only be satisfied by advancing prices. Yesterday's market was a decided improvement on its predecessors, and the improvement should go much further. Lack of confidence accounts for the apathetic state of the market, but does not destroy the intrinsic value of securities. Buyers with patience can enter the market now and win out with good profits. We know several stocks which should advance materially. Get this list and send buying or selling orders for Cobalt stocks to us.

Trimmings of This Season's Dresses More Necessary than for Years

YOU buy a simple satin dress without a single touch of elaboration. Then you come to the Trimming Department and choose "a one-piece garniture," which is tacked over the dress, and you stand—transformed!

That is the method for 1909-10 in all the fashion cities, and this autumn that is the Simpson way. A visit to our new Trimming Department is a revelation. Such a development!

We stand in regard to trimmings just as do these three famous stores:

Altman's of New York, Dickens & Jones of London, Printemps of Paris.

Everybody is talking, and no wonder. Come and see.

OUR PARIS ROBES.

Do you know that in which the most complete exposition of Lace and Hat Robes in this country? We have set apart an alcove on the ground floor, James Street, in which to show them. Prices range from $10.00 to $100.00. Shades comprise black, silver, gold, ivory and all the leading new shades, like pearl, amethyst, ashes of roses, mauve, etc. You should see the Coats of Mail from Paris—complete case of shining armor, recalling Joan of Arc and the Merveilles—$100. Robe of crystal net, silk embroidery, $30.00. Robe of gold, silver and opalescent sequins (original and exclusive to us), $150.00. Robe of real renaissance black lace, $30.00. Same design, with jet cabochons, $40.00. Robe of dainty princess lace, ivory shade, for young ladies—almost ready to wear—$25.00.

Saturday We Want You to Choose Your Suit

THE first thing we know Thanksgiving will be here and everybody will be wanting Simpson Suits at once, and styles admired earlier in the season will be gone, or sizes in the color you want, in the style you have chosen will be missing—and there will be no time to remedy the matter. Don't you really think it would be wise if you just slipped into Simpson's to-morrow and chose a Suit and had it delivered now? Don't leave deciding too long. Every unnecessary day of procrastination costs something in satisfaction. We've seen it so often.

A lady says: "That's just the suit I want. Have you got my size?" We show the size. "Well, I'll come in again next week." And next week it is gone! Over and over again it happens like that. You see we don't stock very many suits exactly the same. When you see the one that suits you exactly—take it. You make no mistake. No other store in Toronto is likely to have one like it, or equal to it.
