GREAT SPRING OFFENSIVE NOW ON IN EARNEST

Haig's Terrific Assault at Enemy Line First of Series.

GERMANS ADMIT LOSSES

British Forces Are Closing in Around St. Quentin and Cambrai.

By Ed. L. Keen, United Press Staff Correspondent

London, April 9.—The great spring offensive has begun. London's only question about the "big push" tonight was whether it was to be limited to the region in which Field Marshal Haig is now smashing his terrific assault—in the Arras-Cambrai sector—or whether this is merely the first of a series of similar smashes to follow in other sectors.

Battlefront despatches tonight significantly detailed great activity among the French and Belgian forces nearer the coast.

The Berlin official statement received tonight admitted the British troops had forced their way into German positions.

"In the fighting about Arras, the enemy forced his way into parts of our position," the statement said. "On both sides of the Aisne and on the Champagne fronts there was heavy artillery firing."

Big Plan is Working

The British aerial offensive of Saturday, shown in the bombing of Zebruges, Ghent and Bruges, was tonight believed to be part of a great plan by the British commander-in-chief which would make the battle of Arras, now on, a mere incident.

Today's report from General Haig, indicating the wide front of the advance, the tremendous impetus of his smash and hinting at massed forces of thousands of men, all prepared England to receive news of casualties on a scale exceeding the heaviest hitherto reported. But England was prepared and calm withal.

The successes so far achieved by this tremendous drive supported the theory of experts here that the British air losses of last week—44 machines—resulted from persistent bombing of enemy ammunition depots and their lines of communications, undertaken deliberately and systematically with the idea of upsetting their plans for quick despatch of reinforcements. As last week's aerial operations were on a scale utterly undreamed of before, so experts now believe Haig's "big push" is on a scale not approached in any of the military operations of the past.

Strategy Applauded

The strategy of a tremendously successful offensive at this particular time is applauded by military experts here. All the German statements explaining their withdrawal along the Arras-Lens line have boastfully remarked that such an evacuation would defeat the allies' plans for a spring offensive. It was pointed out by the Germans that every vestige of cover had been destroyed in the evacuation; that the ground had literally been turned upside down; that German troops would be going back to long and carefully prepared positions of

CANADIANS TO AID U. S. TO TRAIN MEN

Americans Will Go in for Greatest Effort to Win.

SOON TO ORGANIZE Sixty Thousand Will Take Officers' Courses in Summer.

Special to The Toronto World.

New York, April 9.—"Going to war is the best thing that could happen to the American people," Gen. Leonard Wood told the Canadian Club at its annual dinner here tonight. "This war will develop real character in the American people."

"We are together, you Canadians and we of the United States, for a great effort; one which we are going to carry thru. Let the American people not delude themselves. It is going to mean the sacrifice of more than money. It is going to mean the sacrifice of life in large quantity. But our lives, many as we shall lose, will be given cheerfully, because given for a principle we believe in. We all want peace. But it is better to break the peace that to break the faith. Every honorable man believes in arbitration, but every sensible man realizes that there are certain things that cannot be arbitrated."

"World peace is a dream. We live in an age of iron. It is advisable to be prepared. But let us not talk about water gone under the bridge. We must organize. Organization is the keynote, from the fireplace and the factory to the firing line. Equipment is a big problem for us. We need and must have the efforts of every individual. We do not yet realize that we are in a state of war. But we are realizing it, every one of us."

"We've got to get our men ready and train them thoroughly. You Canadians are going to give us a lot of help. We expect 60,000 men in training for officers in this department this summer. We are establishing camps something on the Plattsburg idea; Plattsburg and elsewhere independently and at colleges and army posts. Our men, not our money, are the sinews of war. We're going into a battle of blood and iron, not of gold. We don't know where it is going to lead us, but wherever it leads us we will follow, a united people."

great strength; that the allied forces would have to advance with exceeding slowness over the broken up terrain and would have to "dig themselves in" before they could hope to cope with the prepared German defenses.

The Germans evidently expected that they would be able to stave off the much feared allied offensive for several months. But they did not count on the methodical rebuilding of the devastated territory; the co-ordinated advance of both French and British commander-in-chief.

Tonight British troops were within two and a half miles of the main artery of German communications between Cambrai and St. Quentin—at Le Fresnoy le Petit. They were closing in around not only St. Quentin, but Cambrai as well.

PUSH GATHERS MOMENTUM AS TROOPS GO ON

Titanic Bolt Loosened All Along Line After Big Bombardment.

ASSAULT BY INFANTRY

Wave After Wave of Steel Rain Formed British Barrage.

By William Philip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent.

With the British Armies Aided, April 9.—England's biggest "push" since the great Somme drive of last summer was gathering momentum tonight. The earth and sky alike were joined in the combat, extending over a wide front between Lens and Cambrai.

It was with an almost indescribable baptism of fire that the great advance started Sunday, Thursday, Easter Day, the day sacred to the resurrection of the Prince of Peace, British guns roared unceasingly at the Germans. Artillery commanders, with their watches timed to the second with each other, all along the line loosed their guns in perfectly timed salvos. The roar increased at night after a period of comparative silence until at morning a titanic bolt was loosed all along the line, perfectly timed and synchronized. It sounded as if all the wrath of the armies had suddenly been spat out in a long pent-up burst.

Infantry Assault Begins.

It was at this moment that the infantry assault began—the Canadians taking a prominent part.

All along the front, the muffled explosions of mines gave the appearance in the dusky dawn of a volcanic field. Above them were to be seen the German rockets and flares, calling imperatively for help and bursting high in the heavens. The whole scene was like a stupendous fireworks display, the greatest the world has ever seen.

Then day advanced with the morning light and thru the rifts of smoke one could see wave after wave of steel rain forming the British barrage fire to protect their advancing troops and silence the enemy. Between these perfectly placed waves of death the British forces walked calmly ahead, as if on parade.

The German rockets frantically signaling the land equivalent to S. O. S. flew up more and more hurriedly than ever as the enemy strove madly to get reinforcements against these advancing lines and the hail of death in the barrage fire.

British "snipers" again proved the usefulness in this opening of a great push. Impervious to the rain of German machine gun bullets they trundled on, scattering consternation. In the meanwhile, far up above in the sky, British airmen hovered and wheeled and ducked about, for all the world like a great flock of seagulls, searching out the enemy positions, reporting back to artillery range controllers, beating back curious German planes seeking to find out the source of the thrust against the Teutonic line and fighting aerial combat in co-ordination with their fellow fighters on the ground.

British Forces Advance From Two to Three Miles on 12-Mile Front, Pounding Villages Out of All Recognition, Driving Germans From Scores of Important Positions and Capturing in All 5800 Prisoners.

By R. T. Small.

With the British Armies in France, via London, April 9.—The war on the western front, which has been moving more rapidly in the past five weeks, broke into full swing today. Widening their attacks, which they have been directing against the retreating Germans in the sector of the Somme, the British struck still further north, and in a series of assaults on a broad front, with Arras more or less the pivotal point, they drove the Germans from scores of important positions, penetrated far into the German lines and caused heavy casualties.

A visit to corps headquarters this afternoon indicated that the number of prisoners taken in the past twelve hours will exceed five thousand. The barbed wire "cages" or compounds built to receive prisoners which were expected to be taken were overcrowded before noon, altho the principal attack did not begin until shortly after dawn.

The heaviest fighting today developed along a line a few miles southeast of Arras, in a northerly direction to the neighborhood of Lens, but the serious extended far in the direction of St. Quentin. In the territory captured today was the famous Vimy ridge, which had been fought over time and time again ever since the war was 10 months old. The French had fought desperately and valiantly in an endeavor to wrest this vantage ground from the Germans, the battles costing both belligerents untold casualties. Back of the northern end of Vimy ridge lies the principal coal fields of France, which are still in German hands.

Tanks Helped the Canadians.

The fighting on Vimy ridge was carried out by the Canadians, who had retained a footing on the ridge all winter, but always higher up was the enemy. On either side of the Canadians were English and Scottish battalions, and in today's battle there was glory enough for all. The irrepressible "tanks" also shared in the honors of the successful assault. One position captured, to the northeast of Arras, was a sort of labyrinth of trenches enmeshed in multiple bands of wire called "the harp," because of its shape. Prisoners had proclaimed this strong point practically unassailable; but, sweeping over it today the British took within it nearly 1000 prisoners, and they captured also during the day three German battalion commanders, who compare in rank with colonel in the British army. The Canadians took 1700 prisoners.

It was said everywhere along the attacking line that the Germans appeared to have been taken by surprise, and only in a few instances did they put up a strong fight. One reason for this was that they had been fairly dazed by the British artillery fire of the past ten days.

From the high ground overlooking Arras a panoramic view for many miles of the British attack was presented. The concentration of guns for this operation was probably the greatest for a given amount of front since the war began. Almost countless guns had taken part in the bombardment since the beginning, but it was not until the last night that many masked batteries joined in the grim chorus.

Like Brink of an Inferno.

Approaching the battlefield well before dawn, the reflection of the gun flashes against the low-hanging clouds gave the inevitable impression of a continuous play of sheet lightning along the horizon. But when this wonderful night picture of modern warfare came into full view it seemed as if suddenly one stood on the brink of an overwhelming inferno. Looking down into the valley tongues of flame could be seen flashing from hundreds upon hundreds of gunmounds, like so many white-hot serpents' fangs. The guns were playing upon the ridges looming up in the distance enveloped in darkness, upon which lay the German lines. There was as "heaven" from the British and they were sending up only routine star shells and trench flares.

As dawn approached the British batteries, one by one, became strangely silent. For half an hour the stillness was almost oppressive. The hot pit flashes disappeared. All this time, however, the German star shells were ascending with the same monotonous regularity which marks the German positions along the entire front.

The glorious weather of Easter Sunday had disappeared and from menacing black clouds overhead rain began to fall. It was driven along by a stinging gale left over from the abundant storms of March. The storm delayed the coming of dawn to such an extent that it was still quite dark when the moment set for the British attack arrived. Then, as if the myriad of guns had been synchronized to the tick of a watch, they broke the foreboding stillness with a volcanic roar. The earth trembled from the shock. The lolling tongues of the inferno appeared now to have been multiplied a hundred-fold. The objective hills began to writhe under the tortures of the screaming shells. The dark profiles of the ridges, etched against the background of the gray clouds, were now more clearly defined by the high explosive missiles, which burst along the ground like flaring bolts of fire. Above these, in the air, played the shrieking barrage shells, breaking with giant fiery flashes and hurling their leaden hail of death on all below, with giant fiery flashes and hurling their leaden hail of death on all below.

Enemy Calls for Assistance.

The first volley scarcely had reached the German lines when up went the ever-ready signals of distress and S.O.S. calls for assistance from the supporting artillery. Most of the distress rockets burst in great showers of golden rain; others looped high in the air and broke into flaming balls of red and green. It was difficult to realize that this was not simply a stupendous, almost supernatural pyrotechnic spectacle arranged for the pleasure of the gods. It was more difficult still to realize that it was actual reality of war and that the thousands of flashes and quick flames playing in the dawn were funeral torches lighting the way of souls into eternity.

From the moment the great crater eruptions along the horizon started the whole world seemed red. Under the glare of the exploding mines which had been dug under the enemy lines, and out under the shells, could be seen the British soldiers trudging, trudging across no man's land to a hand-to-hand encounter with the Germans. They moved closely behind

In Brilliant Dash Over Famous Stronghold Canadian Infantry Captures Dominating Position, Overcoming Tremendous Concentration of German Attacks and Taking 2000 Prisoners.

By Stewart Lyon.

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, April 9.—The crest of the Vimy Ridge has been carried. The strongest defensive position of the enemy on the western front has been captured by the army of Sir Douglas Haig, and the Canadian corps was given the place of honor in the great event, being strongly supported by some of the most famous of the British formations. The attack was preceded by a bombardment which continued for several days and in which guns of the heaviest calibre, formerly used on only the biggest battleships, took part. The results, as revealed by aerial observations, were a repetition of the battle of the Somme. Aeroplanes, flying low, could find only shapeless masses of churned-up earth where the enemy first line had been.

By Saturday afternoon Thelus, the chief village held by the enemy on the ridge and lying due east of Neville St. Venet, was pounded out of all recognition, only two houses remaining. Prisoners taken told of heavy enemy losses. Even in the deep dugouts, where the Germans had hoped to be reasonably safe in that rain of death, no safety was to be found anywhere. In a desperate attempt to blind the eyes of the attacking army the Germans on Saturday endeavored to destroy our observation balloons.

MAJESTIC, AWE-INSPIRING SPECTACLE.

Saturday night our guns continued the work of devastation under conditions which made a spectacle that was majestic and awe-inspiring. A full moon in the east lit up the countryside, while the flash of the guns made a continuous play like that of the northern lights in the Dominion, or distant sheet lightning. This was sharply broken now and again by a column of reddish-yellow flame where on the ridge high explosives were bursting.

The gunners with tireless energy continued the cannonade thruout Easter Sunday. On Monday morning came the supreme moment; that in which our infantry was called upon to go out and reap the fruit of months of preparation. They had endured unwaveringly the answering fire of the enemy, which, however, was not comparable to ours. Some, impatient to be at the foe, had gone out on small wars of their own; and it is recorded that in one of the individual encounters in No Man's Land a Canadian, meeting a German, pursued him after emptying his revolver ineffectively at him. The Canadian cast about for some other weapon. The only one within reach was his steel helmet, and with the sharp edge of that he killed the armed German.

Such was the spirit of the infantry who, in the grey preceding the dawn, sprang from their shelters when the appointed time came. It was a great occasion, and greatly they rose to it.

MEN SWARMED UP THE RIDGE.

From the craters of the scarred front, which resembled the openings made in quarrying operations, the distance to the top of the ridge ranged from twelve hundred yards to a little short of a mile. Thereafter the ground falls easterly toward the great plain of Cambrai. Up the ridge, amid the shattered Hun trenches, our men swarmed in successive waves. On the northern end a few trees along the skyline marked where the wood of La Folie had been; our troops advanced as thru the remains of an orchard.

Within half an hour after the first German "S. O. S." rocket had been sent up, indicating a surprise attack, our objective was attained with slight loss. The tanks, which accompanied our advancing infantry had little to do, but were seen in action later near the crest of the ridge, on the extreme north of the line at a point east of Souchez, where much fierce fighting took place in 1915, when thousands of men fell.

ENEMY PUTS UP HARD FIGHT.

The enemy put up a stiff fight. Hill 145 had been provided skilfully with concealed machine gun positions, and long after they had been driven from the surrounding ground with machine guns on the hill they continued to sweep points of approach to the hill with their fire. Encouraged by this show of resistance on what otherwise was a stricken field the enemy began to send up reserves in trains from Lens, Douai and perhaps a greater distance, with the intention of launching a counter-attack. That attack was never made. As reports came in from the front and from the aviators of this mauling of the enemy beyond Vimy and the trenches in the vicinity a tremendous barrage was turned on by our heavy guns, the range being too great for field artillery.

Probably for the first time in the war twelve-inch weapons were used for this purpose at very long range. The splendid co-operation of the artillery arm in preventing this counter-attack did much to lessen our casualties on a difficult part of the front. On the southern end of the Canadian front the Germans yielded ground more readily than in the north. Many prisoners were taken; and as for Thelus, which had been strongly held

O Chintz, How Many Charming Things Are Concocted in Thy Patterns!

Chintz curtains—what a fresh, cheery atmosphere they invoke, adding color and charm to the most nondescript room! The particular chintz employed above fairly radiates these qualities, showing a wide stripe of old willow blue on a pale tan ground, with small, prim pink roses punctuating the stippled line of black that outlines the blue. Or, if you would prefer the stripes to be rose or yellow, thus you may have it. It is a heavy linen in weave, and possesses all the olio of a French stripe. The width is 56 inches and the price 60 cents a yard.

Slip-covers are a very joy to Milady of the Interesting House—indispensable to her charming, comfortable drawing-room, and most desirable in her well-furnished bedroom. For the chair above has been chosen a chintz with an entrancing medley of color—pale tan ground, all aglow with big pink garden roses and pink and purple morning glories. Moreover, it is unusually attractive in price, the width of it being 56 inches, and the price $1.00 a yard.

Time was when people contended that chintz was too delicate in coloring for permanent upholstery. But that has long since been proven a fallacy. For behold the cretonne with the black ground as one of the most artistic in the whole decorative category! Such a fabric our artist shows on the mahogany chair here—the black background made glorious with purple and tan dahlias, luscious pink roses, and a wealth of soft green foliage. It is 50 inches wide and $9.00 a yard.

The useful screen becomes picturesque as it is practical when its panels are filled with large, effective chintz. For the screen above has been found a most delectable material—a purple ground patterned with big pink and white streaked magnolia blossoms, the heavy stems and branches being beautifully and softly brown. It has a distinct Japanese flavor, which is even more apparent in the other color schemes which characterize the same fabric, for it may be had with either a tan or glowing orange color ground. The width is 55 inches and the price 75 cents a yard.

The ubiquitous knitting-bag!—it has stirred up a positive furor for the attractive bit of chintz. Those who may not indulge their fancy to any large extent for some fabric they immensely admire, pounce with joy upon its possibilities for a work-bag. The particular cretonne illustrated here is a prime favorite for that purpose, being inconspicuous in color, close in pattern, yet withal, distinctive. Soft brown foliage shimmering blue and red winged birds is the secret of its charm. It is a fine rapp in weave, 58 inches wide and 60 cents a yard.

Does any bit of furniture live up to its name so well as the Utility Box? Truly it is indispensable to bedroom, sitting-room, sewing-room or nursery. And chintz is its ordained covering. A small pattern is preferable—such as that used on the box above, which is a delightful little white and pink cherry-blossom design on a Dutch blue ground, the width 36 inches, and the price 75 cents a yard. The work-bag suspended Gipsy kettle fashion from a white enamel stand represents another interesting use for a small-patterned chintz.

AND bear in mind that re-upholstering and the making of slip-covers, curtains and cushions are prominent features of the Drapery Department. If your chairs, sofas, window-seats, screens, need re-covering, notify the department and a man will be sent to your house to take measurements and submit an estimate of cost.

Remember, too, that the lessons in lamp-shade making are still in progress—in a comfortable, secluded room in the Albert Street section of the department. Here, too, may be had instruction in the making of the popular shirred sofa pillows, work bags, table runners, etc. For which lessons no charge is made.

The Designs Our Artist Has Chosen For His Sketches Will All be Found in the Showing

(April 9 to 14)

To make a bedroom wholly and altogether charming, use chintz for the bedspread, too—this is one of the maxima of the decorator, you know. And one of the patterns happily adapted to the purpose is the smart little stripe illustrated above. The ground is cream, the stripe is a deep rosy red, and the little pools of flowers between are pink, but a similar chintz is also to be had in which the stripes are green or yellow. It is 56 inches wide and 60 cents a yard.

The chintz lamp-shade—its one of the woman joys of the modern living-room, and how easily it is achieved—a yard or two of flowery, gay-tinted cretonne, with fringe to edge, a wire frame, a little assistance in putting it together from our instructor in lamp-shade making, and presto! it is well on the way to completion. The chintz selected for the shade here is a delightful Liberty—the fabric, showing a deep creamy linen, patterned quaintly with pink and crimson ranunculus. The width is 58 inches and the price 40 cents a yard.

Many a window-seat demands a new covering these gleams sunny days, and here is a shade cloth well qualified to meet the call. You may have it with a grey, tan or black ground, softly patterned in characteristic fashion with big, shaggy petalled blossoms and earth-colored tropical birds. The width is 50 inches and the price $5.50 a yard.

Little Talk on Models and Makers.

SPRING may be a bit chilly in her manner towards us, but indoors, summer butterflies are already on the wing. They flutter across the new chintzes, poise daintly on the new lingerie, and cast shadowy reflections of themselves on the new handkerchiefs. With one accord designers have developed a fondness for the beautiful creatures. And this despite the fact that wide seas separate them. For the chintzes hail from England, the lingerie from France and the Philippine Islands, and the handkerchiefs from Ireland.

Which sets one thinking of butterflies, thinking of Whistler, whose signature on his pictures is a butterfly, inscribed in the quaint fashion of Japan—Whistler, the artist, debonaire, graceful and brilliant, earning for himself the title of "Butterfly," a d Whistler, the man, quarrelsome, jealous, and merciless, drawing forth quite as often the sobriquet of "Wasp."

One thinks of that earlier butterfly, the lovely Psyche, who to the ancient Greek personified the human soul, "butterfly" and "psyche" being expressed by the same word, "psyche," in the language of the Greek. Thus comes the allegory of the beautiful maiden incurring the hatred of Venus, winning the love of Cupid and losing it through indulgence of curiosity, exploring her folly by toils and trials innumerable, and a crossing of the very Styx itself, and finally, purified by her sufferings, reunited to Cupid and lifted to a plane of perfect and perpetual happiness!

One sees, too, in the butterfly of the natural world a striking type of immortality—the lowly caterpillar burrowing into beauty from the dark depths of the chrysalis.

Drifting about the garden on brown or yellow wing, sipping honey from the blossoms, and floating off on the sunbeams, the butterfly is a symbol of idle dalliance. But it holds a weightier meaning, too.

Queen's Own Battalion Leads the Infantry Units, in Number Attested.

The 256th Q. O. R. Battalion led the Toronto C. E. F. units in recruiting yesterday, by securing six of the 39 men attested at the armories depot.

There were 177 men dealt with altogether by the recruiting depot, but of these 53 were men accepted for the Royal Flying Corps, and attested at the R. F. C. separate recruiting depot.

The 39 recruits attested at the armories were distributed as follows: 25th Battalion, 5; R. C. D. 5; Signalers, A. S. C. 4; 4th Battery, 3; 20th Battalion, 24th Battalion, 6th Battalion, 7th Battalion, Service Company, each 2; 19th draft, 20th Battalion, A. M. C. U. of T. Co., Cyclists, Water Transport and 48th Regiment, C. D. F. Battalion, each 1.

The following instructions regarding employment of civilians at military camps, received from Ottawa yesterday, are understood to apply mainly to men working in Y. M. C. A. and regimental canteens. The order reads: "All persons to whom privileges are given in camps this year shall be required to employ, as far as possible, returned soldiers or civilians who are physically unfit for service. All necessary steps must be taken to prevent physically fit civilians being given employment in camps, by persons to whom privileges are awarded."

No. 2 (Toronto) Forestry Draft has had its authorized strength increased by one officer and 50 men, making the total 225. Its present strength is 175.

SHIPPERS TO PROTEST TO RAILWAY BOARD

Hearings on Freight Classification Will Commence Next Week in Hamilton and Toronto.

Assistant Chief Commissioner D'Arcy Scott of the Dominion Railway Commission, after spending the day in Toronto last night on the "Acadia" for Ottawa.

The commissioner stated that he was not in Toronto in connection with the railway commission, and when asked about the proposed change of classification number 17, he said that the board would only consider the matter presented by the shippers starting next Thursday in Hamilton, and the following day in Toronto. The hearing in Toronto would require several months, as many protests have been received, which was anticipated on account of the tremendous number of interests involved. The labor will then merely have to make it clear that it will not be necessary to take up these objections with the carriers, but this will not, he believes, involve lengthy discussion.

The new freight classification will be a task, and it is too early to give any opinion as to what the final classification will be. However, the arguments in the work now done provides a good basis for the meeting of shippers and carriers and the settlement will be a simplification of the freight classification and rating.

CANADIANS IN UNIFORM ENTER UNITED STATES

One of the first effects of the entry of the United States into the war, so far as the Canadian army has been concerned, is in the lifting of the embargo preventing Canadian soldiers in uniform passing thru the States.

According to word received yesterday afternoon by R. D. Fairbank, Canadian passenger agent of the C.N.R., from J. H. Clarke, of Montreal, United States immigration officer, Canadian troops in uniform can now cross the border. This will facilitate the movement of troops, as they can now be sent over the portion of the C.N.R. line that runs thru the United States.

Sir Edward Kemp, minister of militia, who was returning to Ottawa last night after spending Easter with his family, said that he was glad to hear of the embargo having been lifted. He had received no word of it, but would be glad to co-operate in every way possible with the United States authorities.

S. Newble, official referee. The amount involved is a large one, and at a preliminary examination before the official referee, when the validity of a number of liens was determined and allowed about a week ago, a settlement between Mr. Miller and the fair board was considered likely. The case has attracted a great deal of interest in Markham and Scarboro Townships, where all the directors reside.

Release a Man to Fight in France by Enlisting in the CANADIAN DEFENCE FORCE

"Of the troops which have volunteered for service overseas there still remain in Canada approximately 50,000. It is necessary that the country should not be left without an adequate force for home defence in case of emergency. Canada has every reason to be proud of her sons who have taken such a noble part in winning the war, and their deeds of valor have been recounted time and time again, and now, when the British Empire is struggling to maintain its existence and to secure Liberty and Justice for the world, it is Canada's duty to do still more. In order that the 50,000 troops of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, at present serving in Canada, may be released for active warfare, an appeal is now made to the manhood of Canada for an equal number of men to volunteer for home defence by joining the active militia. An opportunity, is, therefore, now afforded to those who have been prevented from undertaking service overseas to join this movement of active service for home defence."

The men of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces held in Canada as an adequate safeguard, are needed NOW in France for what Sir Robert Borden says is "the most critical period of the war". To release them Canada calls for men, physically fit, who for any reason cannot go Overseas, but are willing to serve at home. Enlistment in the Canadian Defence Force is for One Year—or for the period of the war and six months after if required. Clothing, equipment and rations provided as in the C. E. F. Pay the same as that for Militia on active service, with Separation Allowance for married men. Here is your opportunity to add one to the strength of our army at the Front by enlisting for service here at home. For full particulars enquire at Armories of the Regiments listed below.

MOSSOP HOTEL SALE ATTRACTS BIG CROWD

Fittings of Recently-Closed House Are Eagerly Bought by Those Present. A fashionably-dressed crowd turned out for the Mossop Hotel auction sale yesterday afternoon, when the contents of the hotel, 56 Yonge street, valued at $21,000, were being disposed of at what seemed to be quite high prices. Food and rich from near and far swarmed into the hotel to the number of almost 400, and sales were made at the rate of sixty per hour. It is estimated that the first day brought in almost $10,000 worth of sales in silverware, bar fixtures, office furniture, linens, rugs, parlor furniture and an automobile. The biggest sale of the day was $3000, when a neighboring hotel bought the immense stock of groceries and beverages. The bar fixtures, valued at $5000, drew a paltry $700 from a local hotelman. It was apparent that this line of furniture was not very popular with the crowd, for one lone bidder sought the fixtures. Hotelkeepers from Kingston and Kitchener were also present and carried away much of the silverware and furniture. What the common folk and society people present were mostly interested in were the linens and blankets. They were bought up at a phenomenal rate, the purchasers realizing the high quality of the articles.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 10.

The "Vital Necessity."

All the expedients resorted to by the government in order to put off the only effective measure of keeping the army at the front up to strength have been failures. It was known before they were tried that, in the nature of the case, they must be failures.

The scheme would probably not receive a moment's consideration were it not coupled with an opinion from Sir Thomas Tait, secretary to public ownership. That makes it acceptable enough to publications like The Financial Post and other pro-corporation organs.

"In view of certain conditions which, it is to be regretted, prevail in this country, and in which they appear to be no promise of early improvement, the independent administration of business lines of state railways in Canada by the government, even by means of a so-called 'independent' board of commissioners, cannot be confidently anticipated.

For ourselves, we never subscribed to the doctrine that the people of Canada were less virtuous or less intelligent than the people of any other country. If we can never efficiently operate a national railway system in this country, the fault must be with our form of government, i.e., with democracy.

Conscription is the democratic measure, and the United States did not hesitate a moment about adopting it. It is the only way, and it takes those who can give the best service with the least demerit of the social fabric.

pany formed to be known as the "Canadian Railways Company," say with capital stock of ten million dollars. The government would put up $5,000,000 and get 51 per cent. of the stock.

But here more anomalies appear in the scheme. The citizen stockholders are to get all the dividends the system can make, but in any event a return of 5 per cent. per annum on their investment.

The government is to have 51 per cent. of the stock, but is not to control the company. The company is to be governed by a board of directors, four of whom are to be named by the government, four by the citizen stockholders, and the sixth director will be appointed by the Supreme Court of Canada.

The scheme would probably not receive a moment's consideration were it not coupled with an opinion from Sir Thomas Tait, secretary to public ownership. That makes it acceptable enough to publications like The Financial Post and other pro-corporation organs.

"In view of certain conditions which, it is to be regretted, prevail in this country, and in which they appear to be no promise of early improvement, the independent administration of business lines of state railways in Canada by the government, even by means of a so-called 'independent' board of commissioners, cannot be confidently anticipated.

For ourselves, we never subscribed to the doctrine that the people of Canada were less virtuous or less intelligent than the people of any other country. If we can never efficiently operate a national railway system in this country, the fault must be with our form of government, i.e., with democracy.

Conscription is the democratic measure, and the United States did not hesitate a moment about adopting it. It is the only way, and it takes those who can give the best service with the least demerit of the social fabric.

BRITISH SWEEP FOE FROM WIDE FRONT

Preliminary Bombardment Exceeds Previous Efforts of War.

FIGHT ON HIGH LAND

Lines Held by Germans for Two Years Fall Speedily.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.

With the British Arrives in France, April 9.—The British today delivered a strong blow against the Germans from the region southwest of Cambrai to a point south of Lens. They swept over the German positions from the south of Arras northward on the famous Vimy ridge, fighting for the possession of which cost the French 100,000 casualties earlier in the war.

The preliminary bombardment of the ridges attacked, delivered before dawn, proved to be one of the greatest spectacles of the war. The firing at times exceeded that which marked some of the sturdiest battles of the Somme. The night sky was illumined for hours by the continuous flash of guns.

Carried Out in Sections. The attack was carried out in several phases. The first lines had scarcely been entered when numbers of German prisoners began to come back. The German defensive barrage, or curtain of fire, was slow in starting, notwithstanding frantic signals for help sent up with rockets along the line. British guns had been hammering the Germans night and day for a week past, and most of their trenches were now being re-occupied.

Today's attack also hit the northern hinge of the present German retreat from Arras to the Aisne. The Germans evidently had expected a renewal of the offensive in the valley of the Somme, for in making the retreat in that sector they announced that they had completely abandoned the British offensive plans.

LEAF TURN TABLES ON PETERSBURG

Lajoie's Larrupers Worked Well in Afternoon Session and Won the Game.

Petersburg, Va., April 9.—Cold weather and wet grounds stopped the Leafs from playing this morning, but Manager Lajoie decided to send them to work in the afternoon. It was like a March day in Toronto, and the players had to hustle to keep warm. The Leafs got revenge, and downed Petersburg, 7 to 3, and outplayed them at all times. Russell and Martin supplied good pitching, and both were throwing the ball up with something on it. It was a better pitching exhibition than that of Saturday. Manager Lajoie and Lena Biskup stepped in with timely singles that scored two runs each time. The outfield showed better work. Hayden caught the full game. The first candidate for release was Dan Wagner, the pitcher. Manager Lajoie decided this morning that he did not have enough to warrant resting time with him. He was released outright. Ely, the Cleveland amateur, decided that he could not play good enough ball and went home today.

DETERMINED TO STOP BOXING IN N. Y. STATE.

New York, April 9.—According to reports from Albany, the recent efforts of sporting writers from various parts of the state to intercede with Governor Whitman in behalf of the boxing game has had little or no effect with the chief executive. AUSTRIA BREAKS WITH U. S. UNDER ORDERS OF GERMAN

Publication of Washington's Inner Correspondence With Vienna Shows U. S. Displayed Great Patience in Seeking to Avoid Rupture, But Kaiser Had His Way.

Washington, April 9.—Austria has broken friendly relations with the United States. The German government has ordered Austria to do so.

Word of Austria's break came simultaneously from Minister Slovák at Bern, Switzerland, saying Austria had taken this important step yesterday and from Austrian charges Zwidnicki, who called on the state department to notify officials of the breach and request his passport.

Under German pressure, the Austrian government has declared a state of war against Germany. He said this step was taken because of the fact that America had declared a state of war against Germany.

On March 28 the department informed Ambassador Penfield that it desired to consult with him on various matters in connection with the current situation, and he was instructed to report to Washington, entrusting in his absence the affairs of the embassy to Mr. Crew.

On April 1 Ambassador Penfield replied to this instruction, in forming the department that the minister of foreign affairs had that morning advised him that if the United States declared war against Germany Austria-Hungary would immediately sever her relations with the United States.

On April 9, at 11 o'clock, and stated that he had received instructions from the department that he had severed relations with the United States.

San Juan, P. R., April 9.—Captain Lubinus, Lieut. Heineke and Engineer Asper of the German steamer KDS were held without bond yesterday after a preliminary hearing on a charge of conspiracy to sink their vessel in the navigable waters of San Juan harbor.

Boston, April 9.—Fishermen operating out of ports between Gloucester and New York numbering more than 8000 men, were ordered to quit work today in order for a general strike issued by the New England Coast Fishermen's Union.

Washington, April 9.—(Special).—Austria has broken relations with the United States.

May Get Argentina's Wheat By Stopping Supply of Coal

United States is Considering Drastic Reprisal With Object of Securing Grain for Entente Allies.

The fact, coupled with semi-official word that the United States may retaliate against Argentina by way of assisting Britain to get sufficient wheat, constituted the day's most important developments in the war situation from the diplomatic standpoint.

It is learned that the United States, as a part of its co-operation with the allies, may retaliate against Argentina's wheat embargo by refusing to supply her with coal.

Penfield's Reply. Ambassador Penfield's reply is dated March 22. In it he informs the department that he has endeavored to make the minister of foreign affairs understand the difficulties of the situation in Washington, which the minister generally admitted.

Many War Measures Taken Up by Congress

Bills to Provide for Five Billion Dollar Bond Issue and Raising Army of Two Million Men Are Started on Way.

Washington, April 9.—Congress today set for immediate action on the most important war measures. All work today at the capitol preliminary to starting the nation's war wheels is going at top speed.

Chief among measures thus started today are the $5,000,000,000 bond issue bill, the army bill, and the espionage bill.

As the day towards expediting the war measures, the house committee on the espionage bill, which is to be introduced tomorrow, it was decided to let the appropriations committee handle all war measures.

The military committee will report on the bill to provide an army of 2,000,000 men, and the appropriations committee will attend to measures to provide money for the equipment and upkeep of this force.

so that everyone may have a share in helping the government finance the war.

J. P. Morgan conferred with McAdoo today on the bond issue. McAdoo also saw Representatives J. Hampton Moore, Pennsylvania, and Nicholas Longworth, Ohio.

Morgan, fiscal agent of the allies in the United States, told McAdoo the country was never in better shape to absorb the tremendous bond issue.

Plans Proposed.

McAdoo has received letters from hundreds of bankers suggesting ways as to handling the issue. As a result of his conferences and the suggestions, these steps are likely:

Gradual issuance of bonds, as the higher interest, but later issue paid the effect sudden withdrawal of such a huge sum would have on the country's business.

Opposition to the right of conversion. This would mean that if the first issue paid 3 1/2 per cent interest, as now seems likely, and a later issue paid higher interest, the holders of the 3 1/2 per cent bonds could convert them for those paying more.

The fact that practically all the bond issue of the United States is expected to help the sale of the bonds. Not only the money raised to finance the war of the United States, but also that loaned the allies is expected to be spent here.

The house ways and means committee meets tomorrow to consider the bond issue. The bill providing for the issue is expected to be introduced Wednesday, and to be before the house for action Thursday.

Opposition to the proposal to lend the allies $3,000,000,000 was forecast today. House Minority Leader Mann said he thought congress should be notified in advance of the intention of the government to make such loans.

We may not all be of the same mind on the matter, he said.

Representative Dill, Washington, introduced a bill to authorize the president to call for voluntary war loan subscriptions. His bill also authorized taxing incomes of $50,000 to $100,000 up 50 per cent a year, and those over $100,000 up to 100 per cent.

FRENCH BOMBARD ENEMY SHARPLY

Paris, April 9.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"From the Somme to the Aisne our artillery energetically bombarded the German positions. The enemy countered, particularly north of the Aisne and on the town of Rheims, which suffered intense bombardment. Several civilians being killed."

"In the far east our grenade throwers repulsed an enemy attack against one of our advanced posts."

"Belgian communication: The artillery on our sides was less powerful than on the preceding days. It was localized in the region east of Ramscapelle."

"Eastern theatre, April 8: Cannonading took place in the region of Tervena Stena and between the lakes, and there was rifle and machine gun firing in the Italian sector. A German aeroplane was brought down south of Lake Doiran, two officers and one mechanic being made prisoner."

HEARST AT NEW YORK PAYS TRIBUTE TO U. S.

Canadian Club Dinner Marked by Outburst of Good Feeling.

New York, April 9.—Sir William H. Hearst, premier of Ontario, speaking here tonight at a dinner of the Canadian Club, declared that President Wilson's message to congress had "thrilled the hearts of the free peoples of the earth, and will be remembered for all time among the great deliverances of the rulers of the world."

In paying a tribute to the American and British flags, which were entwined in the banquet hall decorations, Sir William asserted that it were "better that we should perish than that the United Kingdom and the Stars and Stripes should lose their meaning and significance."

The speakers who paid high tribute to Canada and expressed joy at the uniting of the two great peoples of North America in a common cause were former Ambassador James W. Gerard, Major-Gen. Leonard Wood, Robert Bacon, Theodore Burton and Major Charles W. Gordon.

When told by the Canadian Press representative of the great British victory on the western front and the capture of the Vimy ridge by the Canadian troops, Sir William Hearst said: "Splendid! That demonstrates the fine spirit and morale of our Canadian men. This is a forerunner of greater things to come. I congratulate you on your people at home, and say for me that I look with confidence to still greater advances on that front in the near future."

FOURTEEN AUSTRIAN SHIPS ARE SEIZED

Special to The Toronto World.

New York, April 9.—Fourteen Austrian ships, of a total gross tonnage of 135,634, were in the hands of United States Government officials today, two hours after word reached the state department of the severance of diplomatic relations.

Orders were flashed to eight American ports a few minutes after Austria's word had come, and armed forces went direct to the ships and seized them.

Dudley Field Malone, collector of the Port of New York, received orders at 11:55, and by 2 o'clock the Martha Washington, Ida, Dora and Himalaya, Austrian ships that have been interned here since the war began, were in charge of the New York neutrality squad, and their crews imprisoned at Ellis Island.

Members of the neutrality squad refused to say whether any of the ships had been damaged. It was admitted, however, that a thorough examination of the engines is under way. Ships in other ports that were seized with their tonnage were: Borna, 2,789; Anna, 1,875; Pennsylvania, Lucia, 6,744; Galveston, 3,551; Moravia, 4,795; Newport News, Budapest, 3,651; Philadelphia, Franconia, 1,687; Tampa, Fla., Borna, 2,621; Boston; Erny, 6,516.

The Martha Washington is the largest of the ships, with a gross tonnage of 8,112.

Naturalized American Is Shot by Austrians

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

Geneva, Switzerland, April 9.—Austria has just executed a naturalized American citizen. From official Serb sources the United Press learned today that Marice Malost, born of Serbian parents, in Dalmanin, but naturalized as citizen of America in 1906, was shot by order of a military court martial of the Austrian army, because he refused the Serbian flag. Malost resided in his home in Budua early in July, 1914, and the great war stopped return to his adopted country. He remained at home through the Austro-Serbian occupation. After the Austrian occupation, he was arrested, in July, 1916, on a charge of "high treason." According to official reports, this "high treason" consisted in rendering respect to the flag of his native land.

Government of Brazil To Expel Hun Officials

Foreign Secretary Refuses to Receive German Minister and Preparations Are Made to Send Germans Out of Country.

Rio Janeiro, April 9.—An early rupture of relations between Brazil and Germany is expected—by tomorrow morning at the latest.

The break depends solely on the formality of the reception of the official report from Paris on the sinking of the Brazilian steamer Parana by a German submarine.

The break probably will be followed by the seizure of German ships in Brazil.

Washington, April 9.—A Rio Janeiro dispatch says: "Dr. Lauro Muller, foreign secretary, has refused to see the German minister. Dr. Muller then gave urgent orders that a steamer in Rio Janeiro be made ready at once for a mission abroad."

Dr. Muller conferred with the war minister and the chief of staff. He also urgently requested a report from the Brazilian legation in Paris.

In Latin-American diplomatic quarters here it was said late today that Dr. Muller's refusal to receive the German minister to Brazil undoubtedly has decided to sever diplomatic relations with Germany.

Dr. Muller's order that a mission abroad was interpreted as meaning that the Brazilian Government also had determined to arrange for the immediate departure of the German minister to Brazil.

That 46 German ships in Brazilian ports would be seized at this time, officials here appear that the vessels might attempt to escape or were in danger of being damaged or destroyed by their crews.

Excitement and popular demand for a declaration of hostilities against Germany was increased by receipt of word from the captain of the Brazilian steamer Parana declaring that while his vessel was sinking from the unwarmed attack of a German submarine the U-boat sent five auelis craning into the foundering vessel. Stant attention was paid to a version of the sinking given circulation by the German embassy—that the Parana struck a mine. The claim was generally ridiculed.

President Braz conferred at length with Foreign Secretary Muller and other ministers today. Late in the afternoon he talked with the German minister, who emerged from the conference plainly very much agitated. He refused discussion of the situation.

Through today and tonight there were scores of impromptu street meetings at which volunteer orators harangued for war amid cheers and yells of condemnation for Germany.

War Faction Strong.

So strong is the demand for war that the general belief among conservative leaders here was that the government will be forced to acquiesce in this step to avoid a dangerous outbreak. The faction is growing hourly. The government is very plainly apprehensive over forcible seizure by the war-anxious people of German property, including all German vessels in Brazilian ports, and tonight redoubled the guards about these vessels. Strong police detachments were assigned to guard the German legation and the consulate at Rio.

Officially the only statement obtainable from government sources tonight was that Brazil was awaiting a report from the Brazilian consul at Cherbourg, who was ordered to make an independent investigation of the facts in connection with the Parana's sinking. The government is believed to be withholding action awaiting the subsidence of popular excitement.

STRACHAN JOHNSTON WILL PREPARE BILL

Committee of the House Meets Thursday to Consider Railway Act.

Ottawa, April 9.—Strachan Johnston, of the legal firm of Thompson, Tilley & Johnston, of Toronto, has been appointed solicitor for the department of railways and canals, in preparing the consolidation of the railway act bill. The committee of the house which will consider the measure, will meet on Thursday. In all probability J. E. Armstrong, of East Lambton, will be appointed chairman.

The special committee dealing with the question of returned soldiers will also meet before the house reconvenes, in order to prepare its report.

As Sir Robert Borden will not be back in Ottawa until after the beginning of May, there has been some talk of a further adjournment of the house until his return, but this is unlikely. Non-contentious matters can be disposed of. There are the estimates also.

Canadian Associated Press Cable.

London, April 9.—Easter Monday was notable day with the Canadians at Witley and Bramshott. In the morning Sir Robert Borden, accompanied by Lord and Lady Borden, General T. Lasker, United States military attaché; General Durrar and another General T. Lasker, General Lord Brook, Lady Brook, Col. W. J. Nell and other prominent Canadian troops, arrived at Witley. A bright day, marked by chill and snowflurries, greeted Sir Robert as he stepped out of an air-ferret brigade marched by in full battle array. The men from Upper Canada, who had been in the trenches for months of serious training, their physique made evident showing. The anti-gas and company drill bombing, bayonet and trench warfare practice were of the highest order. The Canadian soldiers have earned a high place in this particularly technical and arduous division in the Canadian army. This high respect for control and horsemanship was very fine.

In addressing a few words to a battalion the premier expressed his pride and his satisfaction with the splendid spirit which he had seen that morning. He was proud to see the Canadian soldiers in the front line, and he said that the Canadian soldiers were the best in the world. He said that the Canadian soldiers were the best in the world.

WILSON'S MASTERPIECE ACCLAIMED IN ITALY

His Address May Be Used as Text Book on Ideals.

Rome, April 9.—Italy may use President Wilson's address to the joint "war session" as a textbook to bring home to her people the ideals for which democracy is fighting against autocracy.

"The Italian press started the movement in urging the widest possible subscription to the president's speech to the masses of the people. One suggestion which appeared to have aroused universal approval was that Italy's soldiers came back from America to join the colors, and thousands more have lived in the United States at one time or another."

St. Pierre Murder Trial Will Likely Start Wednesday

Cornwall, April 9.—The spring assizes in and for the unit counties of St. Mont, Dundas and Grenville will open at the court house here on Tuesday before Mr. Justice Lefebvre. Beyond one or two civil cases the sitting will be largely taken up with the trial of Pierre St. Pierre, charged with murdering his father, William St. Pierre, Feb. 8, last, at the St. Pierre home, about three miles north of St. Pierre, and Nettie Richmond, with using an accessory after the fact. It is expected that the civil cases will be disposed of the first day, and that the St. Pierre trial will start late Tuesday or early Wednesday. R. A. Fringie, K.C., of Ottawa, will represent the crown prosecutor, and George A. Stiles of Cornwall will defend the prisoners.

BRITISH BLACKLIST TO BE MODIFIED

American Firms to Be Excluded From it, Thereby Ending Friction.

London, April 9.—The foremost point of contention between England and America is about to be smoothed away in the unity of spirit with which Britain is now joined with the United States against Germany. An announcement was made here tonight that negotiations were under way for revision of the famous "blacklist," whereby it was probable that American firms would hereafter be excluded from operations of its strictures.

England announced her blacklist early in July of last year. It was an announcement to British officials all over the world that they must not trade with certain firms specifically listed, since commerce with these firms would be "trading with the enemy." Eighty-five American firms and individuals were named in the original order, and this number was subsequently increased.

A number of these registered violent protest with the state department, and on July 28 Acting Secretary of State Polk despatched a formal note of protest to England. One section of this note dealt with regard to the legality of the blacklist, the government of the United States is constrained to regard the practice as inconsistent with that true justice, sincere amity and impartial fairness which should characterize the dealings of friendly governments with one another.

The American Government, however, was unable to move England in the matter, although the question has always been an open one.

MEXICAN BORDER CLASH IMPENDS

Four Thousand Carranzista Troops Are Menacing U. S. Territory.

El Paso, Texas, April 9.—Just what is transpiring across the border in Mexico, was a matter of widest speculation here tonight. Four train loads of General Murguia troops, commanded by a Carranzista general, and headed for Juarez this afternoon, supposedly for Casas Grandes. On the heels of this movement came a rumor which government officials began to investigate, that a truce had been arranged between Villa and Murguia. A wealthy German of Chihuahua was rumored to have effected the truce.

Unconfirmed reports to government agents here tonight, said that Villa had occupied Chihuahua. Troop movements in Mexico have been numerous for the past week and various explanations have been offered. All messages between the United States and Mexico are now subject to American censorship.

The military forces of El Paso were ordered held in camp tonight, because of the reported presence of 4,000 Carranzista troops near the border. Border guards were reinforced, and artillery companies, manning the guns overlooking Juarez, were on duty.

Eight of the ten Murguia troop trains which brought troops to the border from Chihuahua Saturday and Sunday have left Juarez, over the Mexican Northwestern Railway. The trains are being held south of Juarez. Gen. Murguia is reported to have removed pieces of artillery with him.

Cuba to Announce Rupture of Relations With Austria

Special Cable to The Toronto World.

Havana, April 9.—Cuba was ready tonight to back up America against Austria-Hungary. Seizure of the two Austrian ships in Havana harbor was expected momentarily. The Cuban Government will also promptly announce its rupture of diplomatic relations with Vienna, following the example of America.

AMERICANS LEAVE AUSTRIA.

Berne, via Paris, April 9.—The American legation has been officially notified from Vienna that the American embassy staff there, comprising nineteen secretaries and clerks, four women, wives of attaches, and one child may be expected to arrive here Sunday, together with the consular staffs at Vienna, Budapest, Carlsbad, Trieste, Prague and Plume.

PEOPLE'S WAR LOAN.

Washington, April 9.—The $5,000,000,000 bond issue to finance America's war on Germany, is to be the people's war loan. Every man and woman in the United States is to be appealed to to buy war bonds.

This announcement was made tonight by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo after a day of conference on the bond issue.

Practically every bank in the country, McAdoo said, is to be used in helping sell the bonds direct to the people. In addition, the postal savings banks will help. From hundreds of bankers have come offers of services in this and other service in connection with the sale of the bonds.

A house-wide advertising campaign may be part of the bond selling campaign. The bonds probably will be sold in small denominations.

Montreal, April 9.—The D.S.O. insignia and parchment awarded to the late Lieut.-Col. Victor C. Buchanan, of the 13th Royal Highlanders of Canada, in June, 1914, was presented by Major-Gen. E. W. Wilson today to the widow of Lieut.-Col. Buchanan, who was killed in action shortly after the award was made.

WHEAT WEAKENS ON PROFIT TAKING
 Heavy Calling of Margins Tends to Increase Bearish Sentiment.

Chicago, April 9.—After making a new high price record today, wheat values had a severe break, due largely to realizing by holders who believed that the government report showed that some important element in the general crop conditions had been taken into account. Heavy selling and sharp take-off further to increase the bearish sentiment, and so, too, did talk of government measures to stop all speculative trading in wheat, which was followed by a sharp decline in prices. The market closed at a net loss of 3 1/2¢, with May at $2.08 1/2, and July at $1.84 1/2, down and out of 1 1/2 to 2 1/2¢.

MINING STOCKS DULL AND EASIER
 Quiet Market Susceptible to Selling Pressure—Bank Holiday.

The week-end holiday does not seem to have dispelled the lethargy which has been a distinguishing feature of the mining stock market for some weeks past. Trading yesterday was again devoid of heat, which was partly accounted for by the fact that it was a bank holiday and other Canadian markets were closed. Selling orders seemed to have accumulated during the holiday, and these coming on the market in its soft condition caused general recessions.

 Stocks Sell Off Sharply After Early Demonstration of Strength.

New York, April 9.—The many disturbing factors of the past week were augmented today by additional unfavorable crop reports, erratic and spectacular movements in the commodities markets and announcement of Austria's rupture with this government. Early quotations were mainly and in some instances materially higher, but these gains later developed, were largely in the nature of short covering, the market losing all its advantage in the general liquidation of the last hour.
