The Germans Are Hard Hit

Both The French And British Troops Defeat Them

ENGLISH CAPTURE POSITION

Enemy Attack Time and Again in Effort to Recover Spot Overlooking LaBassee But Khaki Boys Stand Firm

St. Omer via Paris, Feb. 11—The capture of the all of Notre Dame de Lorette by the French has been announced at headquarters here. The hill, which dominates the entire region, has been fiercely disputed for weeks.

Positions captured by the British close to Valenciennes Station, was of considerable importance, as it overlooks Lebaese. The Germans made several attempts to recapture it, but the British troops held strongly fortified lines, and repulsed these attacks with heavy slaughter.

The British captured on Sunday night two trenches near Festubert, taking 500 prisoners, who belonged apparently to the newest class of German recruits. Nearly all of them were young and wore new uniforms.

So, too, in Alsace. Berne, via Paris, Feb. 11—Great military activity is apparent in Upper Alsace, especially in the Laig Valley, and in the districts of Penzenhassen and Reims, close to the Swiss frontier, where fierce artillery duels take place daily.

Two hundred German volunteers, covering their uniforms with sheets, so they will not make an excusable record in front of the French trenches on Wednesday night. They were not discovered until they were about to cut the wire. The French machine guns opened fire and the volunteers were obliged to retire, leaving half their number killed and wounded.

THREE HUNDRED FROM LONDON STORE ARE IN REGIMENT AT FRONT

London, Feb. 11—One of London's oldest and largest department stores has 300 men in one regiment, the Queen's Westminster, at the front. These men are offered by members of the firm and heads of various departments of the store which they are employed. The store has made an enviable record in the country's militia, taking many prizes by shooting and other military activities.

Thirty-five members of the company are in the South African war, and thirty-three returning safely, resumed their work at the store. The store company went to the front it has engaged almost constantly in the fighting.

Reports sentiment as strongly for allies. Toronto, Feb. 11—Hon. Mr. Justice Riddell, who represented Ontario at the recent celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans, and of One Hundred Years of Peace, which took place in New Orleans last month, in the course of a report to the government, states that he found the prevailing sentiment was in favor of the allies.

HALTS ADVANCES IN PRICE OF FOOD

Warsaw, Feb. 11—Military orders have been issued prohibiting speculation in food or other necessities of life under penalty of court martial. Since this regulation went into effect artificially advanced prices have fallen twenty-five per cent.

WEATHER BULLETIN

Issued by authority of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, R. F. Stupart, director of meteorological service.

Synopsis—A shallow trough of low pressure is moving across the Great Lakes and milder weather is likely to set in over Quebec and the maritime provinces. Fairly high temperatures have prevailed in the west.

Milder—Westerly to southwesterly, a fair and becoming milder; Friday, westerly winds and mild.

NEW ENGLAND—Cloudy tonight and day; warmer; fresh to strong south-westerly winds.

Wilhelmina Cargo Seized By British Today

Falmouth, Eng., Feb. 11—The cargo of the American steamer Wilhelmina was seized by the British authorities here today, in accordance with the decision of the foreign office. The cargo is to go to a prize court.

Allies Maintain All Positions But Losses Are Declared Serious

French War Office Reports Severe Fighting With Artillery and Infantry While Both Sides Use Bombs From Airships—Germans Suffer Heavily

Paris, Feb. 11—The French War Office this afternoon reported— "Along all of the front yesterday, as far as Champagne, there were artillery exchanges. In the northern region there were several aeroplane expeditions on our part, as well as on the part of the enemy. The projectiles dropped by the aeroplanes of the enemy within our lines did no damage.

"In Champagne, a German attack against our position in the forest to the north of Meulles-Hurins recently occupied by us, was repulsed.

"In the Argonne the fighting in the vicinity of the Maréchal's earth-works has been very violent. According to the latest reports received here the German forces amount to about one brigade. We have maintained all our positions. The losses of the enemy are considerable, and ours are serious.

"In the Vosges there has been a thick fog and abundant snow. It was during a very dark night that there occurred an infantry engagement, reported yesterday, at La Fontenelle, in the Ban-De-Sept. The Germans had at least two battalions. After having pushed some ground our troops captured everything they gave up. This was during the day of February 10, and it was accomplished by a series of counter-attacks."

Looks Well For Russians

Reports Continue Optimistic -- Germans Rush Troops to East Prussia to Help Check the Czar's Men

London, Feb. 11—The Russian reports of the fighting from the extreme north to the extreme southeast of the line through Poland continue optimistic. The loss of some ground in the Teshovsk area in Belorussia appears to have been more than offset by what the despatches from Petrograd describe as the strategic importance of the Russian gains in the Carpathians.

The British press finds much cause for comment in the Austrian official admission that "the fighting is heavy and vezations" in the Carpathians. It is evident that both sides find the fighting among covered passes, with only the most precarious connection with their sources of supplies a warfare in which the results gained are very dearly purchased.

In the extreme north, where the Russians have been conducting a flank movement against the forces of the Kaiser in east Prussia the situation is becoming clear. The Germans have rushed heavy reinforcements thither, and with the men they expect to be able to stall the Russian advance.

The Russians, however, already would appear to be in a position threatening Intsbury, from which German town the population is reported to have been advised to depart until the present military operations are concluded.

BATTLE STILL BEING FOUGHT. Geneva, via Paris, Feb. 11—The battle which began in the Carpathians on February 7 still is raging fiercely on a front of sixty miles from Mount Polonia-Runa to Mount Mako, according to the latest information received here. In the Mezolaborz region, General Danki is said to have been obliged to send reinforcements to extricate a Hungarian corps which was almost cut off.

The Russians are reported to have gained several miles in the valley of Lyuta, which borders the northern slopes of Polonia-Runa and also advanced a half mile in the valley of Labozar, where the railroad passes. In a single charge by the Russians upon Austro-Hungarian trenches, 1200 men are said to have been killed and wounded in a three hour's bayonet fighting.

Russian naval guns sink 50 Turkish sailing ships. Petrograd, Feb. 11—More than fifty Turkish sailing ships were sunk by the Russian fleet in the Black Sea during the recent operations.

At Trebizond which is a heavy damage was caused by the Russian warships, which succeeded in smashing three batteries operated by Ottoman gunners defending the port.

The entire shore of Asia Minor, between Platana and Rize, a distance of more than sixty miles, has been shelled by the Russians, and three important bridges destroyed.

GOVERNMENT IS IN SESSON HERE TODAY

The provincial government met this morning at eleven o'clock in their rooms, Prince William street. Premier Clarke and all the members were present with the exception of Hon. John Morrisey, whose train was late. The morning session was devoted to matters of routine in which there was nothing of public interest, according to a statement made by the premier afterwards. Another session will be held this afternoon and it is probable that the date of the opening of the legislature will be fixed at this meeting.

TO RAISE FOODSTUFFS ON VACANT CITY LOTS. Owen Sound, Feb. 11—At the annual meeting of the Owen Sound Board of Trade the board appointed a committee to carry out a scheme of town plot cultivation, which was a suggestion made by the secretary in his annual report. It is intended that all vacant land within the corporation shall be put under cultivation and thereby increase the production of food stuffs this year.

HAS ASSIGNED. Wharton Blake Falweather, confectioneer, of West St. John, has made an assignment to J. J. Sweeney for the benefit of his creditors.

FINANCE MINISTER MAY PUT AN EXPORT DUTY ON RAW MATERIALS

Speculation as to Articles Affected in Budget Speech This Afternoon

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 11—The budget will be laid before parliament this afternoon by Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance. He has been called upon to devise means of raising new revenues in the neighborhood of fifteen millions as the deficit this year, which is around $60,000,000, exclusive of war expenditures, which will be met by loans from Great Britain. To carry on the ordinary business of the dominion, new taxation, it would appear, will be necessary, while the war costs will be met by a loan of $100,000,000 from the imperial authorities.

The nature of the new taxation has been very carefully guarded. It is believed, however, that it will affect a large number of imports, especially luxuries, while money will be raised by taxing banking and legal documents. Excise taxes will also be increased, and are expected to be affected. Loans will be, cotton, sugar, tobacco and liquor, probably be necessary. It was suggested this morning that Mr. White might resort to export taxes and seek revenue in the many raw materials which leave the country for use in other countries.

Troubled Kaiser Reported Making Another Shake-up

Copenhagen, Feb. 11—Close observers of conditions in Germany asserted today that the hurried return of Emperor William from the eastern front and his conference with General Von Moellke and other army leaders in Berlin, indicated that he was dissatisfied with the result of his army's efforts.

Another shake-up in the German army administration was predicted. General Von Moellke, whose resignation of the general staff, and General Von Falkenhayn to return to his work at the War Office. They say the fact that Von Falkenhayn was not present at the conferences held by the Kaiser last night is significant.

WAR BRINGS ENGAGEMENT OF MARRIAGE FOR ONE OF CANADIAN NURSES

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 11—Mrs. Margaret Griffiths has received announcement of the engagement of her only daughter, Agnes Balfour Davis, a nurse, in the medical corps of the first Canadian expeditionary force to Lieutenant Colonel Matt Bell, attached to the 15th Battalion of Nova Scotia and the headquarters staff.

FIRE IN BARN; HORSE IS NEARLY SUFFOCATED

A little before eleven o'clock this morning fire broke out in a barn in Lester street, owned by the St. John Real Estate Company, occupied by J. Haworth. It did considerable damage. The fire is thought to have originated from the contents of a pipe or the butt of a cigarette, although it is not certain how it started. The building was not damaged to any great extent, but the occupant were quite badly scorched and two injured by water and smoke. Mr. Haworth had considerable difficulty in saving his horse, which was nearly suffocated.

NEW GENERAL OF JESUITS

Rome, Feb. 11—Father Ledochowky was today elected general of the Society of Jesus, in succession to Father Francis Xavier Werns. The general of the Society of Jesus, the formal name for the Jesuits, was selected for life by the general congregation of this order, which is one of monastic origin. The general of the society is known as the "Black Pope."

WHERE "SAFETY FIRST" SHOULD HAVE RULED

This morning as one of the street cars was going down Main street hill at a fast rate of speed, it ran out and attempted to board it. It succeeded in catching hold of the handle, but lost his footing and was forced to let go. He narrowly escaped getting run-over as he was tossed directly in the path of a horse coming up the hill. The driver fortunately witnessed the incident and pulled his horse up in time to prevent it from running over the man.

SOCIALISTS OF ALL THE NATIONS TO MEET

Havre, Feb. 11—The International Socialists Bureau has summoned delegates from both belligerent and neutral nations to meet at The Hague. They will confer separately and later hold a general assembly if this can be arranged.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court this morning one man arrested on a drunkenness charge, was fined $8 and two months in jail. K. J. MacRae, vice-consul for Norway, asked Magistrate Ritchie to allow two Norwegians, Edvard Swanson and Sigurd August, who were recently sent to jail for fighting, to leave the city on a Norwegian bark. The request was granted.

LOCAL SHIPPING.

The steamer Manchester Citizen sailed from port this morning for Manchester with a large general cargo. The steamer Cape Bretan, from Sydney, with a cargo of coal, arrived in port this morning at 11:30 o'clock. The steamer Hochelaga arrived this morning with a cargo of coal from Louisbourg, N. S.

The Allan liner Hooperian is to sail on Friday with passengers and a large general cargo for Liverpool. The schooner Lucille arrived in port this morning from New York.

Are Leaving Lodz in Hurry

Germans Evacuating Important Town In Poland

TRANSFER TO KALIZ

Petrograd Sends Out Word of Enemy Being Driven From the Warsaw Front By New Russian Offensive

Paris, Feb. 11—The evacuation of Lodz by the Germans has been confirmed, according to a Petrograd despatch to the Havas Agency, which states that stores, offices, commissariat and transports are being removed hastily to Kaliz.

A refugee who escaped to Czestochowa, the despatch credits with the statement that the Germans have resumed with redoubled vigor the construction of heavily fortified lines which was suspended six weeks ago.

Lodz, the second city of Poland, was captured by the Germans on December 6, when Field Marshal Von Hindenburg began his dash for Warsaw, seventy-five miles to the northeast. The Russians were driven out of the city only after a desperate resistance, although Petrograd yesterday it was assumed the offensive on the Warsaw front in an effort to push back the Germans. The latter did not say to have transferred many troops from that region to East Prussia.

London, Feb. 11—The News Column as correspondent telegraphed that he has learned that the population of Intsbury, East Prussia, has been advised by the military authorities to leave the town.

Copenhagen, Feb. 11—Private reports from Berlin say it is rumored here that the Germans have evacuated Intsbury, East Prussia, and that the inhabitants of the city are fleeing in panic before the Russian enter.

AIM TO CONFISCATE BELGIAN PROPERTY

German Tax Imposed on All Refugees After March 1

Washington, Feb. 11—The Belgian Legation issues a statement denouncing a tax imposed by Germany upon Belgian refugees who do not return to the country by March 1, as a confiscation in violation of The Hague convention. The statement was issued after Minister Havenith had called at the state department. It follows—

"A great number of Belgians, amounting nearly to one million, fled from their country to save their lives and safeguard their honor after the burning of many houses, the slaughter of many harmless citizens and the devastation of the country committed by the German troops.

"Now the German government imposes a tax, equal to ten times the usual personal tax on all Belgians absent from their country who shall not be back in Belgium before March 1, 1915.

"The German government after having imposed an enormous war levy of 480,000,000 francs ($96,000,000) upon Belgium, already railed by war and numerous exactions, made, on December 14, 1914, the formal promise that no further taxes would be imposed upon the country.

"The new taxation laid upon the absent Belgians is not only a violation of The Hague convention, but constitutes the breach of a most solemn pledge.

"It has not the character of a taxation, but, in fact, it amounts to a real confiscation."

BRITISH DYE WORKS TO GET STATE HELP

Concern Now Being Organized Will be Capitalized at $10,000,000

London, Feb. 11—A modified plan for the development of the dye-making industry to supply England with dyes formerly imported from Germany, is announced by Walter Hunsiman, president of the Board of Agriculture.

The plan will be undertaken under the auspices of the government. It provides for the formation of a company with a capital of $10,000,000, of which half will be placed on subscription. The government will make a further contribution up to $20,000,000, at the rate of £1 for every £25 of additional capital subscribed. The government advance will bear interest of four per cent, and will be repayable within twenty-five years. The government also will grant £100,000 for laboratory and other experimental work.

NOVELTY SHOWER. Friends last night assembled in honor of Miss Nellie McBride and gave her an agreeable surprise at her home in Lombard street, in anticipation of a nuptial event soon to occur. She was tendered a novelty shower and received many useful remembrances. Games and dancing were enjoyed, refreshments served, and best wishes extended to Miss McBride for future happiness.

Mr. Charles S. Chase, Shelburne, N.S., writes: "Coming to Nova Scotia from the State of Maine, I caught a severe cold which persisted for many weeks, and was accompanied by a bad cough and a constant throat irritation. After trying many remedies, a friend handed me part of a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It helped me so much I bought another bottle which completely cured the cough and allayed the irritation. It is certainly the best cough medicine I have ever tried."

The price of "Dr. Wood's" is 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SAYS SPY QUESTION IS STILL UNSETTLED

Sir Henry Dalziel, M. P., Throws Some Light on Secret Service Methods

London, Feb. 10—Nowwithstanding all exaggeration and belittling that the matter of spies has received in various quarters, the question still remains unsettled, and is now of even greater moment than ever, declared Sir Henry Dalziel, Liberal member for Kildare Burghs, Scotland, in an interview. As a member for an east coast constituency he had found a great discrepancy between the methods adopted by the local police and military authorities. In several instances suspected aliens, arrested by the former, had been released by the military. While the Home Office had not been blamed for supposing that the responsibility lay with that office—

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. It is not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood, and cast it into the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints, muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, invigorating lithia-water, drink which is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

The 2 BARKERS

Whether or not the more entertaining parts of Rockwood Park will be closed down for a season is not yet known, for a committee of the Horticultural Association was yesterday given carte blanche in the matter. This was done by the association in annual meeting. T. H. Estabrooks presided. This year's difficulty arose, as is now well known, through the decision of the city council to discontinue for the year the grant of $4,000 which had been usually made to the association to help to carry on the work of the park. Over 300 members first a belief among the members of the association that found expression by Judge Forbes among the hills at yesterday's meeting, that the grant was of a compulsory nature out of the assessment, and the chairman mentioned that while the legislation had been secured with the idea of its being compulsory the wording was in effect left so that the grant was wholly at the discretion of the city council.

After some discussion the following committee was appointed to decide whether, if the grant could not be obtained, it would be advisable to close or

Committee Appointed by Horticultural Association to Report on Needed Retrenchment

The chairman pointed out that in cutting away the grant to the park the city commissioners were in reality cutting out of their own departments, for the Horticultural Association was only in the position of managers to the park for the commissioners.

In the regular work of the association's annual meeting Hon. J. D. Hasen was elected president, Joseph Allison and R. B. Emerson, vice-presidents; Col. J. R. Armstrong, treasurer, and H. N. Stetson, secretary, with the park committee composed of Col. Armstrong, A. K. Dean Gandy and H. N. Stetson. L. D. Millidge was added to the amusement committee and J. Wey Campbell to the parks and grounds committee.

Case of Neutral Flags.

Washington, Feb. 10—The United States government today sent a note to Great Britain making friendly observations on the use of British ships of neutral flags, and at the same time dispatched a communication to Germany, inquiring what steps would be taken by German naval commanders to verify the identity of ships flying neutral flags in the recently proclaimed zones of war around England and Ireland.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. It is not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood, and cast it into the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints, muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, invigorating lithia-water, drink which is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

THOUSANDS OF BOGUS $5 GOLD PIECES OUT

Police Are Scouring New York East Side For the Counterfeiters

New York, Feb. 10—Turning a five cent piece of the Buffalo type into a five dollar gold piece is the latest evidence of cleverness on the part of counterfeiters, for whom the secret service operators are searching the lower East Side. Hundreds of the bogus coins have been found, and a warning has been issued.

All the bogus gold pieces that have come into possession of the bank seem to have been the work of one man, or perhaps one band of counterfeiters, edges have been milled, so that they have the stars where the eyes are carried on the new gold pieces. They are heavily plated with gold.

The counterfeiters first made their appearance, it is said, in the mining districts of Pennsylvania, where thousands of them were in circulation.

MRS. MABEN WAS MADE WELL

By Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It.

Murfreesboro, Tenn. — "I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me. I was a sufferer from female weakness and displacement and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. Doctors did me no good so I tried the Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. I am now well and strong and can do all my own work. I owe it all to Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and want other suffering women to know about it."—Mrs. H. E. MABEN, 211 S. Spring St., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why Lose Hope.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

THE WAR NEWS.

The reports which come from the Carpathian region indicate that the most desperate hand-to-hand fighting of the whole war has been taking place there during the last few days, attack and counter attack with the bayonet following each other until the battle ground was literally strewn with dead.

HAY FEVER CURED BY PLANT POLLEN

Of Twelve Cases Treated, Five Were Cured and Four Were Helped—Causes Immunization

New York, Feb. 10.—The care of several persons suffering from hay fever by the injection of plant pollen responsible for the ailment in the individual cases is announced in a preliminary report published by Doctors Seymour Oppenheimer and Mark J. Gottlieb of this city.

The announcement is based on the result of a series of laboratory experiments at the College of Physicians and Surgeons and the treatment of some patients.

The object of the investigation was to find a substance that would immunize persons who had suffered from the distressing ailment, against further attacks, and hence the preliminary report bears the title, "The Active Immunization of Hay Fever."

Not all the persons treated were cured.

the report states, but the results were encouraging. Eleven cases were treated in 1914, before and during the season for autumnal catarrh. Six cases were treated in advance of the attacks and of these one was cured for the season, four exhibited very mild symptoms, and one was not improved.

Five cases were treated during the attack. The symptoms of four subsided after receiving from one to four injections, while one patient received no benefit.

Altogether, the report concludes there were five cures for the season, in four cases there was marked improvement and in two cases there was no improvement.

It Doesn't.

Don't think the world would go to smash.

If ever you should quit.

Thousands depart from year to year.

And yet the world does not appear to change its pace a bit.

Morning War Summary

London, Feb. 10, 10.15 p.m.—After two days of debate, during which many matters in connection with the war were discussed, the house of commons tonight passed, without division the army estimates for 3,000,000 men, exclusive of India, and also by a "token" vote provided for the pay of the officers and men. By this vote the government will receive a blank check for this purpose.

Replying to points raised by members of the house, Harold J. Tennant, parliamentary under secretary for war, said that in case of a raid on England, General Sir Ian Hamilton was in command of a mobile force which was ready to go anywhere at any time.

There was considerable discussion of the question of inoculation against disease, in reply to which Mr. Tennant declared the sentiment in favor of compulsory inoculation was increasing, and that the government was considering adopting it.

Lord Kitchener, secretary for war, felt so strongly about the matter, Mr. Tennant said, that he was about to issue an order suspending grants of leave to those persons who declined to be inoculated.

The under secretary added that the suggestion that the war office should consent to the enlistment of "bantam battalions" was being considered. In the mining districts, he said, there were many men under the regulation height who desire to serve in the army, and some of them already were in training.

London, Feb. 10, 10 p.m.—Under mid-winter conditions the Russian and Austro-German armies are fighting another series of battles, for possession of the Carpathian passes which will decide whether the Russian troops will commence another invasion of Hungary or be compelled to evacuate part of Galicia, as they have done in Bukovina.

The Russians have issued two official reports of the operations, according to which they have far exceeded the better of the fighting. Their right wing has at any rate, succeeded in crossing the mountains, for it has been engaged in a battle near Barfild and Swidnik, which are on the Hungarian side of the Carpathians and on the edge of the plains which sweep down to Budapest.

This army, too, threatens the rear of the Austro-Germans, who, having entered Luskow Pass to the east, have suffered severe losses in a battle with another Russian force which was waiting for them.

The hardest fighting, however, has occurred on the Galician side of Tucholka Pass, where on Sunday the Austro-Germans captured the heights in the region of Koszulowa, only to be driven from them after a bayonet fight, which the Russian report described as being "without precedent in history."

The battle is said, by correspondents to have been terrific. The Germans brought up their best reinforcements to aid the Austrian army and themselves led the attack. Backed by heavy artillery they assaulted the Russian position on the heights of Koszulowa, but found themselves under an enfilading fire from the Russians on parallel hills and were cut off from the main German column. They were then attacked by the Russian infantry who drove them back at the point of the bayonet.

Attack followed counter-attack until the Russians had regained their old positions, leaving the slopes, according to their report, "littered with bodies of the dead Germans."

The fighting here seems to have been as desperate and sanguinary as that which has occurred before the Warsaw lines during the last week, and so far as can be judged by official and unofficial reports has been just as unsuccessful for the Germans. The latter have now assumed the offensive on the southern border of East Prussia, and as a result another important battle is developing in that region. Of the battle in the northern part of East Prussia neither official communication speaks.

At the other extreme end of the line, in Bukovina, the Russians are falling back before superior Austrian forces, but still hold the greater part of that province.

There has been little or no fighting in Flanders, France or Alsace, although the artillery and airmen continue active. It is believed that the Germans are preparing for another attack on the British line near La Bassée, which, if successful, would open the door to the French coast, from which the Germans hope to threaten England.

RUSSIAN MONOPOLY OF MANY STAPLES

State May Take Over Merchandizing of Tea, Oil, Tobacco and Matches

Petrograd, Feb. 10.—The Ways and Means Committee of the Duma has unanimously recommended that the government declare a monopoly on tea, tobacco, oil, matches and insurance of all kinds. The recommendation, it is said, virtually assures the passage of the bill by the Duma.

The bill declares that hereafter the things named shall form the basis of the government revenue which heretofore has been derived from the monopoly on vodka and from an indirect tax on certain necessities.

In Odessa and in Nikolalev, on the Bug River, the government has sequestered all the property of German stock companies, including factories, car lines, hotels and tenements.

HOT PEPPERS—COLD LAMB, FINE DISH FOR SUPPER

(By Caroline Coe.)

If you have some cold lamb left from yesterday's dinner this is a good way to prepare it for a second appearance on the table.

Take two cups of hot cooked rice, add one tablespoon of butter, and one cup of minced green pepper, salt and pepper to taste. Dice enough cold cooked lamb to make two cups, and mix carefully with the rice mixture.

Turn all into a well buttered deep bowl and steam thirty minutes. Turn out on hot platter and send to table with brown butter in gravy boat.

AN OLD, FAMILY COUGH REMEDY, HOME-MADE

Ready Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Powerful, Firm and Effective

By making this old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about 50¢, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual cough, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful, but the remedy is not... most valuable compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Parliament Learns Some Were Not Inspected

BILL TO ABOLISH HANGING

Amendment to Protect Real Estate Purchasers — Query on High Cost of Living

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—At the opening of the House today Robert Bickerdike's bill for the abolition of capital punishment was given a first reading without discussion.

G. E. McCraney, of Saskatoon, then introduced an act to amend the criminal code. Mr. McCraney explained that his bill was designed to protect the purchaser of real estate held by the vendor only under agreement of sale, with no title except his agreement. It sometimes happened that the purchaser was unable to get his title or his money back, the vendor diverting the money to other uses than confirming the title. Mr. McCraney thought that money paid under these circumstances should be treated as trust money, held for the purchaser, until he obtained his title. The bill got a first reading. Sir Wilfrid Laurier drew the government's attention to the fact that in the report presented by last session's special committee on the Dominion Elections Act it had been stated that bills containing desired amendments to the election laws would be drafted to be considered by another committee to be appointed at the next session of parliament. He asked whether such a committee was to be appointed.

Sir Robert Borden stated that the minister of justice intended to move for such a committee.

In reply to a question by Hon. George P. Graham, the premier stated he was not yet prepared to say whether the Railway Act would be gone ahead with this session.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley asked when a report might be expected, from the High Cost of Living Committee, appointed a year ago. The question had become very much accentuated by reason of the rapid and incalculable increase in the cost of foodstuffs in Canada since the war began.

The question was ruled out of order at the time by the Speaker.

Two questions were asked of General Sam Hughes today in regard to the purchase of the boats supplied to the First Canadian Contingent. The minister told J. H. Sinclair that an investigation had been conducted by a board appointed by himself, which had now concluded, and the result of which inquiry would shortly be laid before parliament.

General Hughes told Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux that the following firms had manufactured the boats: Ames-Holden-McCreedy Manufacturing Company, of Montreal; The Slater Shoe Company, of Montreal; Louis Gauthier company, of Quebec; John McPherson Company, of Hamilton; Hart Boot & Shoe Company, of Fredericton, and The Amherst Boot & Shoe Company, of Amherst (N. S.). The price paid was $8.88 per pair, except in the case of the Hart Boot & Shoe Company, which was $8.66 per pair. The boots manufactured by the Ames-Holden-McCreedy and the Slater Shoe Companies were inspected at the factories before delivery by J. Frender and W. Wilson. The boots of the Tetrafruit Manufacturing Company were inspected by W. Silve and A. E. Baldwin. The Gauthier Company's boots were inspected by W. J. Jacques. The boots manufactured by the McPherson, Hart and Amherst firms were sent to Valcartier Camp without previous inspection at the factory.

Hon. C. J. Doherty told Mr. Sinclair that the total number of aliens belonging to enemy countries paroled or interned in Canada since the outbreak of the war was 30,824. Of these 1,904 had been interned in prison camps, and 28,920 had been paroled after registration. There had been registered in the different provinces the following: Quebec, 6,845; Ontario, 7,571; New Brunswick, 5,200; Nova Scotia, 1,800; Manitoba, 5,531; Saskatchewan, 1,410; Alberta, 2,530; British Columbia, 1,810, and the Yukon, 55.

Air Raid on Düsseldorf.
London, Feb. 11, 2.40 a. m.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Rotterdam reports a successful air raid by the Allies over Düsseldorf.

"The Germans," according to the correspondent, "feared such a raid at Düsseldorf, recently built a secret storehouse some distance away from the arsenal, into which war material and explosives from the arsenal were moved. The raiders discovered this store, and dropped bombs upon it and set it afire."

CASCARETS FOR COSTIVE BOWELS, SOUR STOMACH, COLD OR HEADACHE

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of fullness, distension and sick headache, means your stomach is sour—your liver is torpid—your bowels constipated. It is your stomach's fault—it isn't indigestion—its biliousness and constipation.

Try Cascarets; they sweeten the stomach, remove the sour fermenting food and foul gases; take bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter from the bowels. Then your stomach is happy—your bowels regular. It is such trouble, headache, bad cold and all such misery ends.

Holy War Hangs Fire Because Islam Won't Stand For German Christians as Allies -- Would Kill All Unbelievers in Real Holy War

At left, two holy warriors of the most fanatic type, who would assail Uncle Sam in case holy war really broke out. They are the Moros of the Philippines. At right, above, two young Turk officers who, though Mohammedans in name, are suspected of atheism by Arabs, by one of the true and original Mohammedans.

(Special Correspondence) Alexandria, Egypt, Jan. 16.—As I mail this letter, the United States battleship Tennessee stands in the harbor unloading Jewish refugees from Jerusalem. A scared, sorry-looking lot of refugees—frightened and yet glad. They are glad that they have escaped with their lives from the land which is the holy of holies to them and their race. Every refugee is sure that Jerusalem and Palestine—yes, all Asia Minor—is doomed to a slaughter of the Christian and Jewish population, except, perhaps, the German officers who are directing the Turkish army and urging the fulfillment of the holy war decree.

HOLY WAR WOULD HIT UNCLE SAM! DEADLY MOROS WOULD RUN AMUCK

When the day comes, when Islam rises against Christianity in a real holy war, Moro warriors in the Philippine islands will unearth their guns from many a secret arsenal, and massacre of Christians will follow. The Moros are Mohammedans. But their fanatic courage and murderousness out-Islams Islam. No Musselman is deadlier than the Moro.

From a Preacher at the Front

Another of Rev. Owen S. Watkins' Letters—Vivid Descriptive Account

(Methodist Recorder)

In comparison with the preceding months of the campaign the last few weeks have been monotonous and uneventful, and there have been periods when it was hard to believe that we were at the front at all. The old days of anxiety and strain, when we were haunted by the fear that our thin khaki line would break given place to something which almost resembles ordinary garrison life, with its regular routine and its clearly-defined duties, the long-order for reinforcements, in whose exaltation at one time we almost ceased to believe, have been with us now for many weeks, have received their baptism of suffering and fire, and have become seasoned and veteran troops.

No longer are our men kept in the trenches until their nerves endure the strain of breaking point, and their nerves utterly shattered—now a regular system of "reliefs" is possible, the period during which the men are exposed to the dangers and hardships of the trenches is strictly defined, and is always followed by an adequate period of rest.

After a number of days in the "front line" the troops are withdrawn in brigades, marched to some town or village beyond the reach even of the longest-range "Black Maria," and there, in comfortable billets, rest until it is again their turn to take their place in the fighting line. The contrasts in their lives are extraordinary, and yet, with wonderful adaptability, "Tommy Atkins" seems equally at home whatever the conditions may be. I wonder if I could bring to your realization how great those contrasts are. I will try.

Prisoners of the Grey Day

Strive to picture to yourself a water-logged mud flat, intersected with trenches half full of liquid mud, overhead a leaden sky, incessant phoning rain, and a wind keen as a razor, which reaches to your very marrow; the men knee-deep in mud, blinded, and unable even to watch themselves, keeping their ceaseless work on those opposing trenches, which are so near. The man who for a moment forgets caution and exposes himself to the view of the German sniper has signed his death-warrant, and if he has the luck, is seriously wounded, for the opposing trenches are anything from thirty to one hundred yards, and at that range a "marksman" cannot miss.

From dawn until dark it is not possible for anybody to reach them, except by the "communication trench," which is a narrow winding ditch, worse than the slough of Despond, where at times the mud and water may be waist-deep. If a man is wounded or killed he must lie where he is until dark, for no bearers could carry him into daylight and live. In the "fire trenches" (those nearest the enemy) the men can light no fire, get nothing warm to eat or drink, and it is only after dark that the "first line transport" can get near enough to carry ration and canteen "dixies" of soup or tea to the number and rained-soup men.

It is also, that the regimental bearers are able to remove the dead and carry the wounded, who, perhaps, for hours have waited in such poor shelter, and you will get a faint idea of life in the trenches. With darkness there is a change; men do not take the same care about exposing themselves; there is a bustle and traffic in rear of the trenches, the coming and going of ration-carriers and stretcher-bearers, and the hum of conversation. But nobody shows a light; to strike a match would mean death. When suddenly a star-shell bursts, its bill of fire floating overhead, lighting up the country—so it seems to startled nerves—for miles, every man stands rigid until the covering darkness closes in once more, for he has been told by the N. C. O. of his platoon.

"Whenever a searchlight is turned on, or a star shell, stand perfectly still. Its movement not gives the show away. Keep still, and they'll think you're a bush, or a tree, or what not. But as sure as your move you're a dead one."

The Regimental Aid Post

The nearest available village, out of rifle fire, but generally well within range of the enemy's guns, will be found the brigade headquarters, the field telegraph office, and telephone exchange, the "first line transport"—ammunition wagons, rations, etc.—the field ambulance, and such companies of the regiments in the trenches are held in reserve. It is from this point that the wagons are sent out at night with rations, etc., and it is here that the ambulance-wagons ply to and fro between the "regimental aid posts," bringing in their suffering loads of sick and wounded men. We dwell in comparative safety, but always within sound of the rifle fire and machine-guns in the trenches.

Over us, from time to time, shriek the shells from our own big guns, winging their way to spread destruction and death in the enemy's lines. In our midst, occasionally, the Germans burst their shrapnel, or their "coal boxes." Only last week the village from which I write, a shell burst, killing nine soldiers and the village priest, but usually in these latter days their firing has been strangely ineffective, and save for shattered window-panes, little damage has been done.

Close to their homes, and are going about their ordinary tasks, as if war was far from them, apparently heedless of the enemy, which, as the crow flies, is not more than a mile or so away, and not greatly disturbed even when shells burst in the main square of their little town.

Near the trenches, in a deserted farm by the roadside, the medical company and regimental doctors have made it their headquarters—Captain Brown and his assistant Eccles—and here are gathered the sick and wounded belonging to the Manchester regiment and the East Surrey's, and have been losing off and on since they were sent for to bury the dead.

As usual, on such occasions, I went out with the bearers and arrived in the afternoon, and when I arrived I found three men waiting burial. Two, as they stood side by side, had been killed by the same bullet, and had been about whilst saving rations to his comrades in the trenches. "You've killed your own men," said Captain Brown. "There's been a bit of an attack on Enemy evidently got the wind up badly, and have been losing off wildly in the air. Bullets have been falling around the house like hail; half an hour ago you couldn't have got to the front. It is that if the bullets were falling here they must have been going high over the heads of our fellows."

"Yes, we're ready for you as soon as ever the wagons are loaded; but Eccles has a man of the East Surrey's; Eccles, and then you can make one job of it."

A few minutes later we were passing through the farm-yard at the back of the house, mud over our boots, into a field, in the corner of which a little cemetery had sprung up. "Twenty officers and men, most of them Manchester's," Brown said in an undertone. "Winniffrith buried three here last night, and two the night before. 'No, you need not be afraid to go to the cemetery; the weather is too thick for it to be seen by the enemy, and in any case, they're busy, for our fellows are working late at night. Again the angry voice of the machine-gun, and the noise of rifle fire, so heavy that it sounded like the bubbling of water boiling in some gigantic cauldron."

A Dramatic Meeting

Our sad task ended, we returned to the house to find it all confusion—men were pouring in to have their wounds dressed, and for a time both Brown and Eccles were more than busy. By the fire sat a young officer, his head bandaged, and in his hand his cap, which he regarded thoughtfully—a bullet had struck the crown and come out at the brain, inflicting a nasty scalp wound, but doing no serious damage. "You're a souvenir, what? About as near a thing as I ever want. The square heads are scarce these days." "Again the angry voice of the sergeant entered the room, plastered with mud, his clothes torn into ribbons with barbed wire, his face awfully bright, and he sprang to his feet. "Thank God you're all right, sergeant. I've been thought you were killed. You were properly dry until now since the last time we were in billets, and I'd almost forgotten you. When I saw you about with the barbed wire they had in front of their trenches, and thought I'd better let the doctor patch me up. 'New, their wire entanglements were a bit of all right, weren't they, sir—fair-leezer? I got pelted head first to 'em, saved my face, but at the expense of my hands—showing the torn palms raw, fully. But how about you, sir? They told you'd gone down with a bullet through your brain.' Then, catching sight of the cap, he turned and stared at me. 'Oh, they'd do it all right. They're cold now; after they've been going a bit they'll get warm, and it makes a difference. Besides, we're going to billets, and there is the indication of a house to cover you, clean straw to sleep in, and a hot meal at the end of the march. Some of the worst will fall out, of course, and small wonder; but there's a lot more beans in them than you'd think.'"

Which was true, for when I saw them again, two days later, they were hardly recognizable—washed and shaven, their khaki stained, but no longer caked with mud, they looked fit and workmanlike, ready for any call that might be made upon them.

"You see, sir," explained a sergeant, "it makes a lot of difference, having your

Noblemen Serve With Canadians

Hon. Pte. Scott-Proctor Sticks to the Ranks—Nephews of Duke of Buccleuch and Earl of Wemyss in Ranks

Salsbury, Eng. Jan. 22.—(Correspondence)—The Private Richard Scott-Proctor, No. 25,764, 14th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, Salsbury, is an orderly in the base postoffice, which is located on the first floor of a two-story ancient shack in the town picked up an envelope bearing the above address. He pondered over it.

"Well, what d'ye know about that?" he said, scratching his head. "That's the limit. Some day there'll be one addressed to Lord Arbuthnot or the Duke of Swanscombe, or the Earl of Wemyss. Here, Bill, ever hear of this swank passing the letter to his brother sister?"

"Nope, must be a joke," said Bill, as he passed it to another, who had just finished reading a fresh appeal from a widow who wanted a Canadian soldier-husband."

"Never heard of him," said this one. "It's not a lady's hand-writing, so it might be an honorable, but what difference is a private for when there are so many commissions floating about?"

"Well, we'll send it to the 14th Battalion; they can join him out there," said the boys in the orderly room of the ranks.

Just then Lieut. Murray, O. C. of the post office, came in.

"We've discovered something," said the Hon. Scott-Proctor, Mr. Murray said the letter was a genuine one. "Never heard," said Mr. Murray. "Take care of the letter and will inform Col. Meighan about this fellow."

Readressed Letter

But Mr. Murray carried the letter to his office and placed it in another envelope, which he addressed to plain "Scott-Proctor." He did this by the request of Col. Meighan, who did not want the boys in the orderly room of the 14th to know that there was an "honorable" in their lines, especially in the ranks.

Yes, the Hon. Private Richard Scott-Proctor is a real private. He also is a real blood, one of the aristocracy, which is respected in the estimation of the English people since the war began, so many of this class having gone to the front and fought and died for their country.

One day shortly after war was declared an Englishman walked into a Montreal restaurant on St. Catherine street. It was a chair-lunch. While devouring ham and eggs he was greeted by another.

"Is this you, Dick?" asked the newcomer. "What are you doing here of all places?"

"Tommy Dashwood, of all the people in Montreal," said Scott-Proctor, shaking his friend's hand as if it were a pump handle. Tommy Dashwood, who had gone to the famous rugby college, an English baronet, a big man in the army.

"I'm just going back, after taking the next boat," said Dashwood. "I'm waiting for money."

"So an 'I,' said Scott-Proctor. "I just arrived two days ago on my way through Canada to Australia. Let us go together."

Three Friends Eulize

After leaving the quick-lunch establishment they entered the school yards, and ran into another pal. He was the nephew of the Earl of Wemyss. All three had gone to the famous rugby college together and had not met each other for several years. The latter was also going home, but after a little thought all decided to join the Royal Montreal Rifles, commanded by Lt.-Col. Burial.

They entered the ranks, trained at Valcartier, came over in October with the regiment and are now camped at Salsbury Plain. It is understood that Dashwood will take a commission in Kitchener's army, but the other two are going to remain with the 14th battalion.

Has Zealand Medal

Scott-Proctor wears a Zealand ribbon having fought in the campaign of 1906. At that time he was a lieutenant in the Durham Light Infantry. One naturally thinks that he does not return to his regiment, but he has two good and sufficient reasons. One is the fact that he likes the Canadians, and the other is that he likes his uncle, the Duke of Buccleuch, but he himself something "poof" that he won't stick to the ranks, but will be seeking some "units" before the force left for France.

SOAP ON HAIR CAUSES DANDRUFF, SCALP GETS DRY, HAIR FALLS OUT

Girls! Get a 25 Cent Bottle and Try a "Dandarie Hair Cleaner"

After washing your hair with soap apply a little Dandarie to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dandruff. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and then apply Dandarie. This will remove dust and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre. Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, Dandarie is a powerful solvent of every particle of dandruff, stimulating the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair, Dandarie is a powerful invigorator of the hair, and a powerful invigorator of the scalp. It will remove dust and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will store or toilet counter and try it.

position of the troops has made it impossible to cover the whole division, and have freed from the 14th Brigade to devote myself to the other two.

The Sanitary Section

It must not, however, be supposed that the "Sanitary Section" of the "Field Ambulance" had no work to do. True, we had no wounded to collect at night, but in the influenza cases the tents, and their sick attendants. There was the sanitation of the villages occupied by the troops, a matter of first importance, the good health of the expeditionary force was to be maintained. In most of the towns and villages we were occupying sanitation, and we understand it, seems unkind, and the German occupation had not improved matters. The task of putting things on a proper sanitary footing was committed into the capable hands of Major Fawcett and his sanitary section. This was a most excellent section of the R. A. M. C., commanded by Lieutenant Cooper (the former of the Lister Institute), and composed of especially trained and skilled men. They are working marvellously, but are building on the foundation laid by Major Fawcett. Colonel Crawford and his officers, also, are not men content on to their own work, they have acquired a considerable amount of practical, not one that produces any monetary reward, but one that is necessary for the health of those in need—refugees from Belgium and the ruined villages of northern France.

To those of us who had already seen active service one of the most marvellous works of this campaign has been the extraordinary good health of the troops. I venture to say that never before in the history of war have the men been so admirably catered for, well fed, well clothed, with a medical service that is the admiration of our Allies; they seem to have had all done that can be done by human agency for their well-being. As men used to say to me, "I'm not content on to their own work, they have acquired a considerable amount of practical, not one that produces any monetary reward, but one that is necessary for the health of those in need—refugees from Belgium and the ruined villages of northern France."

On Christmas Eve the 14th Brigade went into the trenches, so both Christmas and New Year were celebrated untended in the trenches, so both Christmas and New Year were celebrated untended in the trenches. As we discussed round the fire in the evening of our number said, "Well, one thing's certain; we shan't hear any real singers this year," but he had hardly said when there came sounds of singing—the "Hark, the herald angels," then "White shepherds watched," and so on through all the old familiar carols. A number of the musical members of the ambulance had formed a carol party, and when they had received our thanks and greetings they proceeded to serenade the general and the others who were in the village. It made us realize that in truth Christmas was here.

Christmas Day dawned bright and frosty, truly reasonable weather, and welcomed by the troops as far better than the pouring rain. For the chaplains it was a busy day; in the course of the morning Mr. Winniffrith held two celebrations of Holy Communion, conducted two parade services in the brigade, and performed the last sad rite for three men who had been killed during the night. My work was found in the 18th Brigade, who were resting in the billets in the village school, but the congregation was far too large for that, and when I arrived I found they had decided to hold their services in a school which was packed as close as men could stand with a congregation which swayed and sang like men. As the service proceeded the men, some of whom were stamped their feet on the stones to keep their hands warm. On my arrival the service ceased, and we at once began the service, which was very touching, as we were—and, in spite of the fact that the men were not at all joined in the singing with a seat and heartiness which was most inspiring. My address was necessarily brief, but throughout the whole service there was that influence which is the preacher's joy to feel.

In the afternoon I held service in the schoolroom of the village where our ambulance was billeted. It was attended by men of all denominations, and the men were also there to attend any of Mr. Winniffrith's services, and was chiefly composed of the men of the ambulance, but to some heavy batteries in the neighborhood, some of whom had walked a couple of miles to attend the service. Once again I realized the joy of leading God's people in worship, and felt that, however unimportant the occasion, the true spirit of Christmas was resting upon us. In the evening the men feasted, had a sing-song and generally made merry, whilst in the officers' mess we also tried to celebrate Christmas in the old-fashioned way, but soon settled down to the dreary, ordinary of other days and other scenes and to think of those who missed us at this festive season.

In the trenches there was an informal treat; few, if any, shots were fired, both British and German made merry, and celebrated the coming of Him Who was the Prince of Peace, by abstaining from all hostile acts. But far away, on the other side of the front, the angry growling of heavy guns in action, and we knew that in other parts of our far-flung line there was no peace.

Watchnight at the Front

One of the most impressive services I have ever attended was our watchnight service. It was preceded by a concert, and was a little fearful that the men would come to the front, but the men were ready for worship when the time came. The lesson was read by Major Richards, and Mr. Winniffrith took the bulk of the service; the prayers he used were exceedingly well chosen for our circumstances, and were read with the presence of God.

For myself, long before I rose to address the men, it was a time of heart-searching, and not for the first time in this campaign, the address I had prepared for the night, I had to leave for a man and heart to heart. The sight of those officers and men seated on the straw-covered floes of their upturned faces while in the lamp's glare, all looked speech away from me. I wondered what the New Year had in store for us, and how many would live to see another New Year's Eve. The responsibility of that moment was one that almost overwhelmed me.

As we bowed in silent prayer, and the closing moment of the old year passed, we were reminded of the words of that mystic power which is the moving of God's Spirit in the hearts of men was present in the place, and I have since learned that others also were conscious of that same influence and power. For myself, in all humility, I thank God and take courage.

Before I lay aside my pen may I be permitted once again to give expression to the sincere thanks of my comrades

à la Quina du Pérou

EVERY successful Preparation brings forth its crop of cheap imitations, and Wilson's Invalids' Port has proved no exception to the rule. Imitations are worthless, many are positively dangerous, and should be rigorously avoided. Wilson's Invalids' Port has been honestly and pharmacologically prepared for a quarter of a century and has never varied in the quality and blend of its pure Porto Wine and Peruvian Cinchona Bark. It was destined from the first to achieve the highest pinnacle of fame and to stay there. It is recommended by most physicians of note than any other tonic on this market has ever been.

anti self for the generosity of our many friends. We have been overwhelmed with gifts this Christmas and New Year; everything sent has been useful, nothing has been wasted, and the response to my suggestion when last I wrote to the Recorder was so immediate as to prove that truly you have us in your hearts. I have, as far as I know, sent at least a postcard in acknowledgement of every gift, but have recently learned that just after Christmas a large home-going mail was destroyed in a railway fire, and in this it is quite probable that there were a number of my acknowledgments. Should, therefore, any generous bestow-er of gifts not have received an acknowledgment from me, please charge it to the accident which destroyed the mail, and not to any ingratitude on my part, and when you see the kind, if you are socks, shirts, candles, note-paper, soap, tooth brushes, coons and milk, coffee and milk, month organs, illustrated magazines—in short, the same kind of parcels as you have been sending me for some weeks past.

WANTED—A PRECEDENT (Montreal Gazette)

The government has ordered action to be taken against the New Brunswick railway promoters who, according to the report of Mr. Frings, the commissioner in the case, by making false statements, obtained from the national treasury as a subsidy $86,000 more than by law they were entitled to claim. There does not appear to be any precedent for a prosecution for this sort of thing. The establishment of one will, therefore, be more appreciated by the public, which has had to sweat for much money paid to men who project railways for the sake of the profit made in construction.

SALTS OF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding, stinging or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoon in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is sold for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Ship Purchase Bill Held Up

On a combination vote of Republicans, Progressives and some Democrats the United States senate was adjourned yesterday after a continuous debate of fifty-four hours, the longest on record, and the ship purchase bill was given another set back. It is probable that an extension will be called in March.

He was earnestly but proudly stating at the audience, "I want land reform, I want educational reform, I want—"

"And," said a bored voice in the audience: "Chloroform."

CATARRR NEVER STOPS IN THE SAME PLACE REACHES THE LUNGS—DEVELOPS CONSUMPTION

To Stop a Cold Quickly and Prevent Catarrh, Use "Catarrhozone"

Nothing more serious than the common cold, and nothing more common. If it gains headway you can't stop it from running into Catarrh, deafness, or serious throat trouble. Catarrh spreads very fast. From nose to throat it goes in a day. Soon the Bronchitis begins to affect, and before you know it, unless very healthy the lungs are hit, and it's too late.

While you have the chance, drive colds and Catarrh right out of the system. You can quickly do so by inhaling the rich steamy vapor of Catarrhozone.

Right to where the living germ of Catarrh is working will the healing fumes of Catarrhozone go in ten seconds.

No liquid medicine can penetrate to the deep recesses that Catarrhozone reaches with its soothing vapor—that's why it proves so wonderfully effective.

The health-laden vapor of Catarrhozone cures every form of coughs and hoarseness. The utmost parts of the bronchial tubes are reached. Bronchitis is cured—every cell in the throat, throat and nose is treated by Catarrhozone's wonderful fumes.

Rebellion In Minors May Follow Elevation of American Association To Major League—How One-Quarter of U. S. Monopolizes Baseball

HOW ONE-QUARTER OF U. S. MONOPOLIZES BASEBALL

The three "major" leagues of organized baseball, black line shows National league circuit; dotted, American, and wave line, Association. The International and Federal are also in this territory, while the rest of the country has only the Pacific and Southern leagues, still classed as minors.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton) The American association has made a move that is one of the most important ever recorded. They have been arguing that certain changes in the system of organization in the baseball business are impossible and now are taking steps that they should have taken years ago.

Organized baseball is entitled to arbitrary power of the majors. If the American association is established to equality and the freedom from draft, then the Pacific Coast league is more so. The Coast league has for many years paid heavy price for protection of the national commission—protection which by the way, never protected them in the slightest.

After these four leagues have been dealt with squarely, there remains another. It is necessary to go back into baseball history to see the justice of the case of the Western league. When the American league invaded National territory and started the big war, a new western league occupied the field abandoned by the old western when it became the American.

SPEEDY METHOD OF HANDLING THE SUGAR

Railway Attached to Refinery Ceiling Transports it Quicker Than it Can be Delivered From Ship

Something new in the way of handling freight at this port was shown when the steamer Skidsa began to discharge her cargo at the sugar refinery wharf a day or two ago. The bags of sugar were landed on the wharf and trucked inside the warehouse in the usual way but at this point the modern methods of the sugar refinery come into action.

form where the sugar is being dumped into the machinery it is deposited there on, if there is enough on hand, it is carried past to the place where it will be stored until needed. The overhead rails are equipped with switches, like any other railway, to facilitate the handling of the cars with their loads.

ADVERTISING ST. JOHN

The Travel and Vacation Exhibition will open in New York next week. Mrs. Barnes, secretary of the St. John Tourist Association, will attend at the New Brunswick booth during the exhibition, and will distribute tourist and other literature descriptive of St. John and the province. The city council, acting upon the suggestion of the board of trade, has forwarded a case of St. John booklets to New York for distribution.

BENNETT-MCLEOD

In St. James' rectory yesterday afternoon, Albert Bennett, of London, England, and Miss Robina McLeod, of Oban, Scotland, were united in marriage by Rev. H. A. Cady. The bride was attended by Miss Jane Atwell, and the groom by Arthur Hawkes. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will reside at 88 Cliff street, and have the good wishes of many friends for their future happiness.

"VERY BUSY MAN," MR. SEIDENSTICKER
 Getting Near Sugar Refinery Head Seems a Problem—An Off-told Tale

These may be dull times elsewhere, but there is at least one man in St. John who has no time to realize it. He is a busy man, as all his associates and any one else who comes in contact with him can, and will testify.

A man who had occasion to see the manager of the sugar refinery yesterday had this fact impressed upon him. An attempt to get in touch with the gentleman by telephone elicited the information that he was out around the big plant somewhere out of reach of the phone and in explanation of the difficulty in reaching him the statement was made that "Mr. Seidensticker is a very busy man these days."

Another fact was made later and the manager was still out of reach. An inquiry regarding the hour when he went to lunch was answered to the effect that he does not go; he is too busy these days.

A later call brought the answer that "Mr. Seidensticker is a very busy man, but that it might be possible to see him personally."

The next step was a trip to the refinery. Here the visitor was passed through the barred gate by a vigilant watchman who enquired the nature of his business.

"You want to see the manager? Well, there is the office, but Mr. Seidensticker is a very busy man these days."

F. W. Woodworth, Former Sergeant in King's Liverpool Regiment, Gets Word From Them at Front

F. W. Woodworth, late sergeant of the King's Liverpool Regiment, sent to the Times early in January a clipping from Lloyd's Weekly announcing the death of the colonel of the King's Regiment, in action. The name of the colonel was not mentioned and Sergeant Woodworth assumed that it was Colonel Flynn. He wrote, however, to his regiment in France and has received a reply showing that it was Lieut.-Col. Ban-

WILLET'S LADS THE CHAMPIONS

Close of Junior "B." Basket Ball League Season at Y. M. C. A.

Wednesday afternoon the Junior "B." Basket Ball League of the Y. M. C. A. brought its season's schedule to a close. The last game being played between Seelye and Jordan teams. The last game was a hard fought one, but it seemed throughout the Jordan team had a shade the better combination, although the game was somewhat one sided in the scoring, Jordan winning 18 to 8.

The team which have made their opponents work hard for every point made. McIntosh and Cross made the points for their team and Jordan and Regan were the stars for their team.

This game closes the most interesting league that the Junior "B." Class has had. All through the games played it was doubtful as to which team would be the victor as all teams in the league were evenly picked. In most of the games played it was very seldom that the team were overpowered by the other, and this made the games very exciting and most interesting. In the league records tallied up it is found that Willett has carried home the bacon in one game over Tentewoke and has thus proved his team to be the champions for 1915.

This does not close the basket ball season for the Junior "B." Class, as the Junior "B." Basket Ball League will soon open their new schedule to run through the latter part of April. This league shows much enthusiasm and all are looking forward to a very interesting season. Following is the line up of Wednesday's games:

Seelye 3	Forwards	Jordan 18
McIntosh	Regan
Ganley	Jordan
Cross	Wetmore
Stevens	Whittaker
Finlay	Smith

	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Willett	6	2	750
Tentewoke	5	2	625
Seelye	4	5	500
McIntosh	3	5	375
Carina	2	6	250

MARRIED IN ST. JOACHIM'S

Miss Josie M. Owens Bride of Leo J. Sisk

A wedding of interest to many friends was celebrated in St. Joachim's church, Silver Falls, last evening at 8 o'clock when the pastor, Rev. A. J. O'Neill, united in marriage Miss Josie M. Owens, daughter of Mrs. Margaret and the late John A. Owens, and Leo J. Sisk. The bride, who was given away by her brother, was nicely gowned in purple velvet with hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Josephine MacNeil was bridesmaid and was dressed in a pretty gown of grey silk with black velvet hat. She carried pink carnations. John J. Owens was best man.

Following the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's mother, Mount Pleasant avenue, where a delightful supper was enjoyed. Many handsome and costly remembrances were received by the bride, among them a valuable Morris chair from associates of the groom in the Norton Griffiths Co. employ, where he is engaged as engineer. Mr. and Mrs. Sisk will reside at East St. John.

PROCEEDS TO RED CROSS

A social and dance given last evening by the students of the J. R. Currie Commercial Institute was enjoyed by a large number of persons. A programme of dances were well carried out, while cards and games were at hand for those who did not dance. Refreshments were served about midnight. The proceeds were given to the Red Cross Fund.
