EXHIBITION IS ABOUT READY

Opening Formalities Will be a Week From Today

GOOD SPEAKERS A Tour of the Buildings for Benefit of Times Readers—A Great Crowd Expected on Labor Day—'Welcome' Sign at I.C.R. Depot—Information Bureau Opened

Just one week from today and the great Dominion Exhibition in St. John is in the preparatory work. The preparatory work has been well advanced and much thought and work have been made things ready for a wonderful showing and for the accommodation and pleasure of the many thousands of visitors expected here during the exhibition days, Sept. 5 to 15.

The Opening

The opening formalities will take place in the larger Amusement Hall, as has been the usual custom. To this gathering of officials and prominent citizens a large number have been invited by special invitation. The hall will be prettily decorated. At 3 o'clock Lieutenant Governor L. J. Tweedie as chief executive of the province will declare the Dominion Exhibition formally open. His Honor will deliver an opening address and on the speaking programme also will be Hon. Wm. Pugsley, minister of public works; Hon. J. D. Haas, premier of the province; Mayor J. H. Fink, of St. John; Hon. W. C. H. Gimmer, surveyor general; Hon. D. J. Landry, commissioner of agriculture; President A. O. Skinner of the Exhibition Association, vice-president R. B. Exner, Edward O'Brien, members of the exhibition executive, city aldermen and others. President Skinner has received communications from several federal ministers and other prominent Canadians regretting their inability to be present at the inaugural.

While the programme for the formal opening occasion is not yet definitely fixed it is expected there will not be any special number, as has been the case when openings were held in the evening. It will merely be an official gathering which some hundreds of representatives will be invited and which the general public may attend if entrance is gained through the grounds through the regular turnstiles. The speakers will probably be Lieutenant Governor Tweedie, Premier Haas, Commissioner Landry, Mayor Fink, Mr. Pugsley. His desire to be present is well known to the exhibition executive.

The Click of the Turnstiles

Once the big show is open the turnstiles will commence their merry tune. On Saturday night the buildings will be brilliantly lighted and the first of the eager crowds will fill the spacious structures. Every preparation has been made for the commencement of activities as far as the staff of helpers is concerned. Men of experience and ability have been selected to attend to the ticket-selling and ticket-taking departments. The system to be employed will be that of the strip-ticket, employed by all large parks and continuous programme theatres. This system gives a concise idea of each day's takings and furnishes the sum total to date as well. The main gates, grand stand and music gallery will be governed by this modern plan.

A trip around the exhibition grounds yesterday disclosed the fact that operations are getting their boots into shape well advanced. This is particularly true of such immense displays as the 'Made in St. John' exhibit of the board of trade, the government displays, etc. Mercantile houses and manufacturing concerns are getting their booths into shape quickly and numerous novelty exhibitors are already on the scene making up stock. Manager Good, who has been resident in his exhibition offices in the new building for some days is on the scene, all the time ably assisted by C. W. Taylor, the veteran superintendent of buildings, who is possibly the hardest worked man in the employ.

Chief Menzies is well advanced with his restaurant preparations and a formidable battery of hotel ranges, extensive service conveniences, numerous dumb-waiters, and about 150 assistants will make his labors less complicated than the conduct of this department in former years. Mr. Menzies is signing on a tremendous crew and the enlarged seating capacity of the dining hall will accommodate nearly 500 people at once. To convey some idea of the volume of business it is thought will be done an order of 2000 pounds of salmon has been made for fish day, Friday, September 9.

Things Well Advanced

What remains to be done in the exhibition buildings as far as the Exhibition Association is directly concerned, is quite trivial. Decorations all fresh and sparkling, are being put up rapidly and several central bursts of spray building have been (Continued on page 3, second column.)

C. P. R. to Build New Line

Toronto, Aug. 26—It is rumored that the Canadian Pacific is to build a new line from Smiths Falls to Toronto, and that the survey has already been made from Belleville to this city. This new line will branch off the present Smiths Falls-Peterboro route at either Perth or Bathurst. It will then run southeast to the city of Belleville, through a territory as yet untouched by railway. From Belleville it will come into Toronto along the lake front, parallel with the Grand Trunk. No official confirmation of the report would be secured in Toronto.

EARNINGS OF BIG CANADIAN RAILROADS

Montreal, Aug. 27—While the earnings of the C. P. R. do not show so great an increase as they have exhibited during the last few weeks, they are still heavy, to such an extent as to give good promise of a record season. The earnings of the Grand Trunk continue to show a return to the conditions that prevailed before the recent strike. The position is that the C. P. R. shows a slightly reduced increase as compared with last year, while the Grand Trunk shows a slight increase, the position being such as to satisfy both companies and the general public. The normal business of the country is going ahead, with each getting its share.

TEACHING OF GAELIC A.O.H. Considers It Desirable—Society Loyal to Canada—Objectionable Postcards

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 26—At the A. O. H. convention here reports were most encouraging, showing a good increase in the work of Toronto, Waltham, and other branches. The report, paid a warm tribute to the work of the Gaelic League. While the work had only been carried on successfully in a few places in America, it had taken hold of the Irish people. One great opportunity before the organization was that of having Irish taught to the children. This could be done to a certain extent in the home, but most effective method would be to teach it in the schools. In the past this part of the work had been somewhat neglected. The speaker hoped that in the future some method would be adopted which would bring this dream of many years to a reality.

INACCURACIES OF WELL KNOWN AUTHORS

Curious Mistakes That Have Appeared in Some Noted Books

Lovers of Sir Walter Scott care little that in Kenilworth Amy Robert is made to have a summer meeting with Queen Elizabeth some years after the date of her actual death or that in 'Ivanhoe' a knight, Richard Coeur de Lion, is made to be a contemporary of William the Conqueror, the great grandfather of Richard I. The inaccuracies of the noted authors are not confined to the past. In the 'Children of Gibbon' he had his new moon rise in the east at 2 o'clock in the morning. In the 'Norman Conquest' Thackeray is almost as prolific in errors as Shakespeare. In 'The Newcomes' the date of the battle of Waterloo is given as 1815. In 'The Vicar of Wakefield' the date of the battle of Waterloo is given as 1815. In 'The Vicar of Wakefield' the date of the battle of Waterloo is given as 1815.

We quote: "The teachers and school nurse assist, and now practically all the children, who before had been conscious only of the fact that they possessed teeth when attacked by toothache, began to take care, and came to school with their teeth clean, so that it became an object of emulation to possess clean teeth and of opprobrium to come to school with teeth looking dirty."

GOOD SCHOOL SHOES. Beware of trash! Many stores are crying school shoes at prices wonderfully low. What of it, if the shoes are poor—coarse leather, spongy soles, carelessly made? Economy doesn't lie along that route. Pay as much as you can for school shoes; get Goodyear well, if possible. It is stronger, easier, holds its shape better and is cheaper, though it costs more. STRONGER, because only the best leather can stand the terrific pounding of the machine. EASIER, because the welt gives flexibility, and because the stitches are side-ways, not up and down; no hard ridge inside and no tacks in the shoe. CHEAPER, because it wears longer and can be repaired better—the new sole can be sewed on—in others it must be pegged or nailed on. Goodyear Welt Shoes for Boys and Girls, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50, all sizes. Other good School Shoes at $1.50 and $1.75. D. War on Hatpins. Hatpins fourteen inches long are dangerous weapons within the purview of the law, according to the latest edict of the board of magistrates. "Women wearing them in street cars and public conveyances of any kind," says Magistrate Herman, "subject their fellow-passengers to great danger. Their use is indefensible." "We can't help it," say the women of New York. "It's the fashion and we simply follow custom." "It's a senseless custom and should be changed by law, if those responsible for it won't amend it," retort the magistrates. "Women might wear unsharpened swords with as becoming grace. It's a pity the sex is such a slave to fashion." "It's not our fault," retort the women. "We don't make them. We simply follow what those who do decree is proper." "They ought to be sent to jail," interject the magistrates. "Must the public wear until citizens have their eyes gouged out and are maimed before these silly people recognize that they owe a duty to the community to protect it from such a menace?" "We suppose so. We'll put coils on the projecting ends of the pins to protect the public," say the women. "For Heaven's sake, do something!" reply the magistrates. "Since the big hats came into vogue there has been a disposition to increase the size of the pins to the proportionate prejudice of the welfare of the rest of the community. It must stop." New Police Regulation. New York is looking ahead with interest to the enforcement of the new police regulation, designed to save persons arrested for violation of city ordinances from being dragged to the station house. The idea, which is an importation from London, will prevent the police from leaving their posts on every petty pretext, and it is expected will lead to a more efficient patrolling of their beats. Under the new law identification cards will be issued from police headquarters to citizens upon application. These cards, in addition to the name and address and other particulars concerning the holders, will contain their photographs. When an automobile driver, pedler, or other citizen is arrested for some infraction of an ordinance he will be asked if he has one of these cards. If he has, he will be taken to the station on the spot. Commissioner Baker looks for a land office rush for the coveted cards when the law goes into effect next week. A fool can always find another fool to admire him. Which is the best land for young children?

Scolding Sir Wilfrid

(Victoria Colonist. Conservative) We have said some pleasant things about Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and now we are about to do a little scolding. He talks too much about his getting to be an old man. He isn't sixty-nine years old yet and he has no right to go around the country telling people that any one at that age is an old man. If he keeps it up, he will soon begin to think so himself, and then, as was remarked on an occasion that he can hardly have forgotten, his usefulness will be gone. Now the Colonist is not going to help the genial and able Liberal leader to remain in power; but is going to protest that he has no right, while he is on the sunny side of four-score and has good health, to talk about his being old. It is time enough for a man to think he is old when he has to stop work; but when a fellow can go through with what he did on Thursday, he ought to be ranked with the boys. If it is a part of the Liberal policy that a man must think himself old while his heart is yet young, his brain vigorous and his digestion good, we see an additional reason for being Conservative.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

THE world is so full of a number of things, I am sure we should all be as happy as kings. But one of the chief reasons that we aren't, I think, is that we just don't realize that we own these things, just don't bestir ourselves to take possession of our kingdoms.

For instance, I don't know just where you live, but I do know that it is unlikely that you live at any place so joy bound that there is not some beautiful country or woody spot not more than half an hour and ten cents away from your home. More likely much nearer.

And how often do you go there and spend a few hours bathing your lungs with the fresh air and your soul with the peace that are to be found in such spots? You wish you might take your children into the country for the summer, as your neighbor does, and often bewail that they have not the means to do so. But you don't realize that you have it all within your reach—a day in the country.

And by a day in the country I don't mean a day at some popular picnic ground, where there are flying horses, and peanut stands, and all that sort of thing. I mean a day in the real country. Doubtless the younger ones will enjoy the other kind of excursion quite as much and they ought to have that, too, occasionally, but don't let it crowd out the real country day.

Besides the immediate advantage to their health, you will also be giving your children a lifelong source of pleasure if you instill into them a love for the outdoor world. Teach them, or perhaps I should say learn with them, to listen for and try to distinguish some of the bird calls and to take an interest in the different varieties of flowers. I don't mean necessarily to collect them, but to know them.

And there was another woman who cared more to listen to this inspired gossip than she did that everything in the house be immaculate and the food perfectly cooked and served just so. And we were told that this woman chose "that good part which shall not be taken away from her."

Are you sure that in preferring to have your table and house and children's wardrobe just as they are, you are choosing "that good part?"

Clever Diplomacy (Trib. Bits) The late Lord Salisbury some years ago sent a foreign office emissary to make some demand of the—republic. Before setting out on his mission the emissary to whom the Lordship had explained the exact nature of the demands, desired to be informed as to the course to take if after he had said everything there was a refusal.

"Oh," answered Lord Salisbury, "this is not a matter in which we have the least thought of fighting. If the president refuses, why, you will simply have to come home again."

The emissary went and had his say to the president of—, who blankly refused to think things over.

A few hours later he wrote to the president: "I regret that your excellency does not see my way to recognize the justice of the claims which I have had the honor to present. I have now to say, on behalf of her Britannic Majesty's Government, that unless your excellency yields on all points, which I have named, it will be my painful duty to act on the second half of my instructions."

Under this vague and significant threat the president yielded at once. "What tree constitutes the most respect from its fellows?" The elder.

Daily Hints For the Cook

ASPARAGUS WITH EGGS Boil a bunch of asparagus twenty minutes; cut off the tender tops and lay them in a deep pie plate, buttering, salting and peppering well. Pour evenly over the asparagus mixture. Bake eight minutes or until the eggs are set.

CANADA'S TRADE WITH SOUTH AFRICA LAND

J. A. Chesley Reports a Gratifying Advance in Canadian Imports

Canadian trade with South Africa continues to show a remarkable development. J. A. Chesley, formerly of St. John, now the Canadian Trade Commissioner in Cape Town, reports a gratifying advance in the importations of Canadian products, especially the staple commodities, which Canadian exporters and manufacturers are principally concerned.

The imports of merchandise from Canada, during the twelve months ended December 31, 1909, were valued at $479,453, sterling ($2,297,165) as compared with $425,849 ($2,129,245) for the corresponding period of 1908, or an increase of $53,604 ($267,920). The increases were largely in our domestic productions.

The imports of animals living were large by $4,886 ($24,420); hides, skins and carriages, $1,798 ($8,990); calcium carbide, $1,541 ($7,705); flour, wheat, $2,277 ($10,488); preserved fish, $2,249 ($11,229); hardware and cutlery, $1,023 ($5,115); agricultural implements, $1,023 ($5,115); musical instruments, $1,027 ($5,115); agricultural machinery, $1,987 ($9,833); motor cars and parts thereof, $3,238 ($16,790); iron and steel, $2,418 ($12,090); stoves, $1,023 ($5,115); sausage casings, $1,110 ($5,550); wood manufactured and unmanufactured, $2,418 ($12,090); imports of butter were smaller by $5,044 ($27,020); cheese, $1,802 ($9,010); fencing material, $2,006 ($9,940); and wheat $26,327 ($132,635).

Another break was made from the chain gang yesterday, when Frank King, working with the other prisoners in Westmorland Road, escaped. King had been arrested on a charge of stealing a pair of boots.

Crushed Coffee

what it is

By a process of crushing between steel rollers, instead of grinding, the skin, which remains in the eye of the bean after roasting is separated from the kernel and removed by air suction, while the kernel is broken into small even grains. The result is a coffee of uniform grains when brewed, the coffee being free of the chaff, settling quickly, leaving the liquid clear and bright, and giving the true coffee flavor.

SAYS MR. LOW OFFERED TO BET $500 HE'D GET IT

Evidence Given at Paving Investigation Last Evening—Letter from Mr. McDonald

At the session of the committee investigating the Hasam Paving work in Main street, held last evening, Alderman Holder, Mr. McDonald, Mr. Rutherford and Mr. Clarke were examined, Mr. Carleton answered some questions and several other witnesses were recalled. Ald. Holder told of his work as one of the committee which considered the specifications last year. Mr. McDonald told of having had a conversation with Mr. Palmer and several other men in the Victoria Hotel regarding the tenders for the work but nothing was said about Mr. Carleton advising them as to the price they should quote. He told also of a conversation with Mr. Low, in which he said, the latter offered to bet him $500 that he would get the German street paving contract.

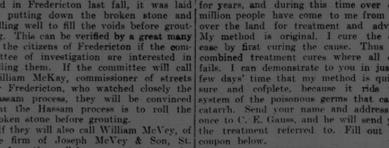

Mr. Clarke and Mr. Rutherford foreman of the excavating work on the retaining wall, then took the stand and corroborated Foreman Palmer's story about the conversation in the Victoria Hotel in which Mr. McDonald was alleged to have stated that they would have had the job if Mr. Carleton had not advised them to place their figures too high.

Mr. Carleton in answer to questions by Ald. White said, it was not till after the pavement bid in Main street during the time he was inspector was 20 per cent cheaper than the specifications called for. He thought that the committee should get the opinion of honest competent men, such as Mr. Mooney or Mr. Flood, as to the quality of the work done by the Hasam Co.

Mr. Hatfield here volunteered a statement of his experience of concrete when his workshop said that the committee had tried to avoid calling expert opinion. He had no doubt in his own mind that he could get an engineer with as good credentials as Mr. Dodwell to say that the foundation being laid was not true concrete. Personally, he had no interest to serve in the investigation. He had no objection to fill the voids before grouting. This can be verified by a great many of the citizens of Fredericton if the committee being the Hasam process is to roll the broken stone before grouting.

If they will also call William McVey, of the firm of Joseph McVey & Son, St. Stephen, the well known contractor, who is known to have a good knowledge of concrete and who watched the Hasam method in Fredericton, they will find out from him that the process is the same as that given by Mr. Carleton in his evidence. The proposed bet of $500 by Mr. Low was made to me standing in Prince William street, and was to the effect that he would bet that amount with me or the people behind me, that he would get the

FIGURES THAT TELL STORIES

TREE PLANTING IN THE WEST

CANADIANS think with shame as well as regret of the great tracts of forest destroyed each year by fire. But every year sees an improvement in the forest-protective service. Besides, there are schemes of reforestation which as they go on will greatly assist to restore the wealth that has been wasted. Under the Dominion Government a most valuable and interesting branch of the forestry service is assisting in making trees grow where they have never grown before, on the great forest-growing plains. The pictures show what has been accomplished—a total of eleven million trees planted around the farmsteads of the West. Nor does this show all of it or even the best of it; the service is improving steadily and every year sees a greater number of trees set out than the year before. The trees are grown in Government nurseries. As applications come in from the settlers, consignments of young trees are sent to be planted out under expert direction and such instructions are given to the settlers as most likely to enable them to bring the trees to maturity. There are thousands of applicants every year, but only a part can be supplied, because lack of seed, unfavorable climatic conditions and other things have prevented the raising of a sufficient number of seedlings of the desired varieties to meet the demand. At present about 2,000 prairie homes are supplied every year with the little trees, which, in years to come—and it is amazing how fast they grow—will make wind-breaks and shelter-belts, and will give shade and beauty to the prairie home. The number of trees supplied to each applicant is from 1,200 to 1,500. As it is estimated that 3,925 trees are needed to plant an acre, this means that each homestead gets a wood plantation of about one-third of an acre. It also means that almost a square mile of prairie land is set out in trees every year, and that, up to this time, about forty square miles of what was prairie has been turned into woodland.

LIBERALS IN ENGLAND MAKE GAINS

Relative Position of Great Parties Shows Them Stronger Than They Were—Political Matters Across Atlantic

(London Correspondent Toronto Telegram) London, Aug. 26.—The suspension of parliamentary business permits us to ask what has been the result so far? The question at the conclusion of any gladiatorial struggle always is, what of the gladiators, and though we have by no means reached the conclusion of the session, we may well consider what progress we have made. And first, as to the gladiators, it must be said that the two men who have conspicuously held their own, and, indeed, improved their positions, are Mr. Asquith and Mr. Balfour. Both have had their ups and downs. Mr. Asquith, for example, began the session well, but he lost ground with his own party, for a time, over the constitutional question. It is understood now that it was King George's suggestion that there should be a conference before war to the knife. But that was not known at the time, and so Mr. Asquith, in assenting to a conference was suspected of "climbing down."

Disapproval of Balfour
In like manner, Mr. Balfour earned the disapproval of some of his supporters because he did not "throw the government out." The tariff reformers—a group pointed out some time ago—were satisfied that the leader of the opposition let several opportunities slip. However, time has justified both statements, and the Morning Post, chief organ of the Ultra-Tariff Reformers, certainly does not share this view but still maintains that if its counsel had been followed the government would have been out by this time. The opinion is not generally held by Unionists of the first rank, however. It is held rather that Mr. Balfour led the party with skill and good judgment. Mr. Asquith also has regained the confidence of his supporters, and is undoubtedly the strong man on the Liberal side today.

Austin Chamberlain
Perhaps the surprise of the session has been the definite advance made by Mr. Austin Chamberlain. It used to be thought that gentleman owed his position exclusively to the fact that he was the son of his father. That is no longer so, whatever may have been the case, Mr. Austin Chamberlain has shown that he has the art of taking pains, and he has acquitted himself so well during the recent trying time that it is certain that the leadership of the house would fall to him in the event of Mr. Balfour's retirement to the House of Lords.

For the rest, it must be answered that we have to confess to no serious disappointments. All notable men on both sides have maintained their reputations, and that is all that can be said.

Liberals Stronger

As to the relative position of the two great parties, there can be no doubt that the Liberals are stronger than they were. They have scored, as we say on this side, and confidence is strong that they will be stronger still when the session really ends. Two notices already appear on the paper for the day on which business is to be resumed, viz.: November 15. One stands in the name of Mr. Kier Hardie, and asks for two hours one evening in the first week to enable the house to express its opinion on a motion he has set down regarding further facilities for the parliamentary franchise (women) bill. The other stands in the name of the prime minister. It is to the effect that Mr. Asquith will, for the whole time of the house for government business. The last motion indicates the temper in which the government propose to meet the house on its re-assembling and bodes ill for Mr. Hardie's proposition.

It is indeed difficult to see how the government can make time for that large question. Almost immediately upon the resumption of business it will be found imperative that the government should make some definite statement in regard to the conference, and as to that, the impression is abroad that the statement will be of such a nature as to make it impossible for parliament to discuss any great constitutional problem. I notified you but a short time ago that some significance was attached to Mr. Birrell's suggestion that the time was drawing near when we should have to consider some means of making our parliament really imperial.

Scottish Home Rule

It is confirmatory of that significance that Mr. T. P. O'Connor should still be interviewing the chief Liberal whip, and that some score of Scottish members have issued a manifesto to the people of Scotland, urging that the time has arrived for reorganizing parliamentary business on a basis of devolution. The demand is practically for home rule all round. The manifesto virtually asks a domestic government for Scotland. "Ireland's claim for self-government is not likely to be overlooked. That Scotland is, in its own way, no less urgent."

If such a policy were adopted, it is pointed out, the imperial parliament would be free to transact the business of the empire. We need not be surprised, therefore, if when parliament resumes the government should announce a scheme for the radical reconstruction of the House of Lords on a representative basis. In that event it may be anticipated that provisions will be made for representation of the overseas dominions. At the same time, something would be proposed touching home rule for Ireland, and perhaps for Scotland. Whether the veto resolutions would be withdrawn in these circumstances or merely held over for a time, it is not easy to say.

Credit Banks

Lord Carrington, minister for Agriculture, announces that he proposes to lay before his colleagues a scheme for the establishment of agricultural credit banks after the example of Germany and other European countries. This might be an excellent thing in itself, but would remain to be seen whether it would win the farmers to the support of the government. The majority of our farmers are protectionists, and would prefer tariff reform, especially if it involved a tax on agricultural produce, come from where it might. The Tariff Reformers, however, are very grateful for recent utterances of Sir Wilfrid, and are sure to be glad to hear of the fact that certain of our farmers are asking for free trade.

Labor Troubles

I wrote you in my last letter that grave trouble was impending with some of our railways. I am glad to say that that has been averted. But another labor trouble has taken its place, and this time with the shipbuilding trade on the Clyde. An unauthorized strike has taken place at Glasgow, and the union leaders are much embarrassed. The whole question of the authority of trade unions over their members is raised. The veteran trade union leader, Mr. Thomas Burt, M. P., enters an emphatic protest. He complains that there have been sudden stoppages of work, accompanied by breach of contract, and disability to the unions. Unfolded, he says, must result from such action. The Shipbuilding Employers' Federation, on the instance, threatens a general lockout unless there is immediate resumption of work, and reference of matters in dispute to the council established by national agreement.

Osborne Judgment

But these unauthorized strikes are not labor's only trouble. The Labor members want the government to give facilities for a bill to reverse the Osborne judgment—a judgment which declares it illegal for trade unions to employ their funds for parliamentary purposes. The government is said to object on the ground that they tend to introduce a measure for the state payment of members. But the Labor men say this does not meet the case, because organization work in the constitution is not met by it. Such work can only be carried on by the unions, and they ask that they may have legal authority to devote their funds to that work if it so pleases them. It is not probable that the government will yield in this case any more than in the women's suffrage case, for the budget will keep parliament busy during the autumn session.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed membrane of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube becomes inflamed, the hearing is lost. It is not a matter of time, but of degree. GARDENING AS TRAINING FOR BOY CRIMINALS

Experiment Along Those Lines in England Has Turned Out With Marked Success Says London Mail Writer

Writing about Gardening for Boy Criminals, W. Beach Thomas says in the London Mail: Towards the achievement of the ideal prison life sketched and promised by the British Home Secretary a notable advance has already been made in one direction. Some few years ago the organizers of the most beneficent force for forging character, a little later one of the pioneer reformatories, and coming fresh from which are daily read to the boys—accounts of the introduction of French gardens into England, determined to start one. The great success of the venture soon induced the home office to extend it. Inspectors were sent down to see and to acquire, with the result that French gardening is now an integral part of the education of many reformatory children. They finish their course with that robust belief in the soil which comes from seeing it bear four crops successively and two more transplanted later. "There is nothing like it for teaching the possibilities of the soil," said an instructor, and coming fresh from a visit to one of these reformatories, surrounded at this season by gardens reaching their peak of fruitfulness, I feel that the very central truth of education had there been hit. The home office had made a home of a prison.

A Successful Garden

The French garden, of which the neat frames extended all along one side of the vegetable garden, is a most interesting experiment of conspicuous efficacy. It has reformed scores of young criminals, and its influence is most apparent for good every year. The garden is intensive throughout. It was a suggestive sight to see the purely aesthetic, it consists in the smart uniformed boys, most of them town boys converted of their, engaged in tending the garden. They are dressed for many reasons; and among the reasons was a precise knowledge of the commercial value of the garden. It produced less than an acre and it produced 250 worth of produce last year. A certain number of the garden is devoted to the raising and handling of such crops; the sense of harvesting speaks to the character through some only an inch or two in size, are just together out of broken fragments of glass and ranged round the more valuable seedlings. The paths between the beds are neatly paved with stones, and many designs show a real artistic sense that goes with genuine enjoyment of the game.

Examinations in Darwin

I found a boy—doubtless exceptional—whose favorite reading was Darwin and Adam Smith. He and others had just been through an examination which in Darwinian evolution, as well as rather scierotic questions in culture. Yet it was not judged over difficult. The standard is that as high prevails in the examinations for army certificates and the army class flourish hardly less than the garden classes. But the work on the land—intensive, close, scientific, thorough and elemental—is the root of the matter, is the prime agent in restoring character and in reviving wholesome interest. The home office schools, of course, differ greatly, but throughout the country the cult of the land is coming into favor. In one school the land supports the establishment with an external aid beyond the per capita grant. The farm and garden pay

PERMANENT VALUE OF OLD TESTAMENT

Address to Christian Endeavor Conference in Victoria by Queen's University Professor

Addressing the Christian Endeavor Conference in Victoria (B. C.), last week, W. G. Jordan, D. D., Queen's University, Toronto, spoke on the "Permanent Value of the Old Testament." Dr. Jordan said that the problem of the Old Testament was a problem of its proper interpretation, and this also is the problem of almost everything. The speaker said that he was for many years in the pastorate and had to deal with many young people's societies, and after that he had been placed in the professor's chair. Since that he had seen statements that professors were a dangerous class of people. "But I do not know anything of the nature of the case who he should be especially dangerous. His task is to study up the facts and then after careful study to present them to his pupils and teach them the results of his investigation. "One of the dangers of the present time is the specialization which is taking possession of the world. The world is so great that we cannot take in all things and thus one man becomes a specialist in one thing and another a specialist in another. But there is a great danger in specializing in one thing and another. It is in having one man look after one part of the work of the church and that alone. "What we need is to have more sympathy with what the other man is doing. "A manly man never spends money faster than his wife can earn it.

FUMES DEADLY TO FLIES

Monitor Omnibuses Said to Have Done London a Good Turn

(London Daily Mirror) The air of the London streets is purer at the moment than ever it has been before and for this we have partly to thank the unglorious and noisy motor omnibus. Flies, insects and germs, it appears, are killed in their millions by the petrol fumes of the ever-increasing motor traffic of London. At a meeting of the Salmon and Trout Association Lord Dunsborough said it had been stated that insect life in Parliament Square had been put an end to altogether by the motor traffic. This statement was fully borne out by a well known London chemist. "The fumes from motor omnibuses and other petrol-driven vehicles," he said, "are undoubtedly a powerful insecticide. "The crescent vapor emitted from the exhaust pipes is not only a fly-killer, but also a germ and other impurities. "The larger number of petrol-driven vehicles in London at the present time, each exhaling antiseptic vapor is largely responsible for a big decrease in insect life. Londoners are constantly denouncing this vapor as a nuisance. Really, however, it is beneficial to their health. "A Strand fruiterer said that this year there had been a remarkable absence of flies in London.

FINE TRIBUTE TO SIR WILFRID LAURIER PAID BY R. ANDREW McPHAIL

(By Dr. Andrew McPhail). Sir Wilfrid Laurier has served his country in its parliaments for thirty-nine years. He entered the legislature of Quebec on November 7, 1871, as member for Athabasca.

On September 17, 1878, the government was defeated by a majority of 69. On October 6, 1878, he resigned his office, and on April 28, 1880, he retired from the leadership of the Opposition.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was born on November 20, 1841, at St-Lin, in the county of Assumption. His father was a land surveyor. His grandfather was a farmer, and interested in mathematics and the sciences of those days.

He is not an idealist. He is a practical statesman who prefers to get a thing done in the best way that can be done rather than not get it done at all.

His knowledge is so exact, his mastery of public affairs so great, and his sense of the public so firm that parliament is disposed to rely more absolutely than it ought upon the direction of one man.

But no expense of writing can convey the impression of being in her own home, of her frankness of speech, the accuracy of her comments, the shrewdness of her opinions, especially upon the conduct proper to women.

The amount received from assessments during the year 1909 was $9,209,57, an increase of $4,266,75 over 1908.

During 1909 the death rate was 9.03 per 1,000, and the average age of deceased members 56 years 4 months and 18 days.

Those were the days too when Canada was a congress of widely separated provinces with different or hostile interests.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier came to the scrutiny of British institutions with a fresh eye, and he was quick to discover the defects of the government by party holds.

Always Tells Truth. Sir Wilfrid Laurier always tells the truth, or rather, he never says a thing which is not true.

MONSTER WARSHIPS FOR JAPAN

The Kawachi and Selsu Nearly Ready for Launching—A Giant Destroyer—Speed of 33 Knots Expected

Tokyo, Aug. 27.—Changes in Japan's naval construction programme are forehadowed in discussion by experts in the press. The former "third stage programme" provides for the construction of one Dreadnought, two battleship cruisers, two speedy third-class cruisers, one destroyer and one submarine, but the naval officials in the opinion that it would be far wiser to build fewer and much more powerful ships, in deference to the current tendency of modern naval architecture, which is in favor of more tonnage and bigger armaments.

The monster torpedo boat destroyer Yamakaze, displacing 1,300 tons, whose construction has already begun at the Mitsui Bishi dockyard, Nagasaki, will be launched next spring and the latter ship will have a main battery of six 14-inch guns. She will also have two torpedo tubes measuring sixteen feet in length and eight inches in diameter, and her engines are triple expansion Parsons steam turbines, which can develop a speed of thirty-three knots per hour. The destroyer has no ram.

The battle ships Kawachi and Selsu are making satisfactory progress. The former of these battleships, who has been under construction since October, they are now displacing 28,000 tons, 480 feet in length and 84 feet in beam with 25,000 horse power. Their armaments consist of twelve 16-inch guns, ten 6-inch, and twelve 4-inch guns. With respective tonnage, horse power and armaments, they are far superior to their predecessor, the Satsuma and Aki, and when completed will constitute notable additions to the fighting strength of the Japanese navy.

A Japanese authority on naval matters comments as follows on the prevailing tendency to increase the size of destroyers: "The attention of the world's maritime powers was aroused when the British destroyer Tormentor, displacing 1,000 tons, went into commission and by the construction of two destroyers which are to displace 1,100 and 1,200 tons, respectively. The attention of the world's maritime powers was aroused when the British destroyer Tormentor, displacing 1,000 tons, went into commission and by the construction of two destroyers which are to displace 1,100 and 1,200 tons, respectively.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; AT HOME AND ABROAD

Wagner Has Come Back. New York, Aug. 26.—The recent slump in batting by Fred Snodgrass, the Grand Aspirant for the leading batter this season in the major leagues, makes Honus Wagner look up again as the probable winner of the National League honor, if not of both big leagues.

Wagner's feat of getting seven hits out of seven tries to the plate gave the Teuton a big boost. In the last month Wagner has been hitting at the merriest sort of clip, and if he keeps it up for the remaining six weeks of the schedule there is no doubt that he will reach the front of the National. Ty Cobb has such a handsome average in the American League, however, that he appears the most likely recipient of the title.

Snodgrass, who was hailed as a marvel two weeks ago, made only five hits in the last ten days.

Lowell Frazier, at St. Stephen says the St. Croix Courier—A quartet of base ball players arrived in town from Lowell on Friday last week to play in the home team. Livery, because the rates are fixed by the Livery Commission and would not be lower if there were many more railways.

Hugh Blair Says "Yes". Mr. Hugh Blair is of the opinion that if the Dominion Government wishes to build up the Intercolonial and make it pay, that end can be achieved in no way better than by extending the line into the rich and productive Province of Ontario.

"The whole transportation question," he added, "has been hanging in the air for a long time. Neither the C. P. R. nor the G. T. R. has made any attempt to keep abreast of the requirements of the city. The managements do not seem to know what we are growing."

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—An important official of the Intercolonial Railway of Canada believes that the system could be profitably extended to the west. The traffic manager of the Intercolonial, said: "I have always been in favor of the extension of the Intercolonial Railway system through Ontario. It would give the lower province manufacturers a better entrance to the upper Canada markets than they have now, and it would facilitate manufacturers up here in getting their products to the provinces. At present, however, the greater complaints are from the former."

"What route would be taken from Montreal?" "Paralleling the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific," stated Mr. Tiffin. "It is the through traffic particularly that we would be better. Personally, I am in strong sympathy with the movement in Toronto that our line should be extended there, but it is a matter of policy in which the ultimate decision will rest with the government."

"Will the Intercolonial be leased?" Mr. Tiffin was asked. "If we should go back to the days of deficit, I believe it might be beneficial to lease it, but at present it is on a paying basis, and is one of the best assets the government has."

Mr. Tiffin states that the board of management will likely make before long recommendations for the acquisition of certain branch lines under the act of last session, but it has not yet been decided which will be taken.

It is understood that certain lines, especially in New Brunswick, are applying their earnings to betterments in order to attain the standard required if they are to be leased by the government.

"MADE IN ST. JOHN" EXHIBIT WILL BE A REPRESENTATIVE ONE.

Judging from the manner in which the manufacturers are co-operating with the board of trade, the "Made in St. John," exhibit at the Dominion Fair will be an eye-opener to the citizens of this city as well as those from outside. Nearly all the manufacturers in the city will have a sample of some kind of goods turned out of their establishments, in the board of trade space, and the showing thus made will go far toward demonstrating that St. John is an important manufacturing centre.

Secretary Anderson has been spending considerable time at the exhibition grounds during the last week and yesterday he arranged for a man to be constantly at the booth to receive exhibits and give receipts for them. Several of the larger and heavier collections of goods are already in position and others are arriving daily.

The booth has been very tastefully trimmed and with special lighting and attractive cards and signs will be one of the most interesting portions of the big show. Chairman D. Mages of the sub-committee, which has the matter in charge, has been working very hard to make the exhibit a success and the indications are that he will realize his expectations in this regard.

It is expected that there will be several pieces of machinery in motion, which will brighten up an enliven the space and many of the exhibits of smaller goods have been most attractively arranged in novel and striking designs. The entire exhibit will brighten up and enliven the space and next or early on Saturday, in plenty of time for the opening.

McAVITY & SONS GET FREE SITE AT PORT ARTHUR

Ten Acres Waterfront; No Taxation for Twenty Years—Plan is for Factory for Western Business.

A despatch to The Times-Star from Port Arthur says: "Negotiations between the city and T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd. of St. John (N. B.) for a factory site, have been concluded. The company will receive ten acres on the city wharves as an important industry to employ 500 hands. A by-law will be submitted to the people in September." George McAvity stated this morning that he had not yet heard from Thomas Stewart, Ronald A. McAvity, of Toronto, and A. O. Campbell, of their Vancouver branch, who were in Port Arthur yesterday. The despatch, however, speaks for itself. It is the firm's intention, if matters are satisfactorily arranged, to build a factory at Port Arthur for their western business.

A FINE DISPLAY OF KINDERGARTEN WORK ON THE E. D. C. GROUNDS

Season Has Been Happy, Beneficial One for the Children But Parents' Lack of Interest is Disheartening.

Very few persons visited the Every Day Club playgrounds yesterday to look over the kindergarten work which the teachers, Miss Kerwell and Miss Maxwell, had displayed in the pavilion for their inspection. The few who went were surprised and pleased with the evidence of skill in needle work and the like, which the exhibit showed.

A group of tiny little girls were arrayed in new pinafores, made by the children, and wore them proudly home. Samples of the work were set aside to be displayed later, and the rest was distributed among the little people.

On these grounds during the season there were swings, teeters, slide, and binoculars, croquet, basket ball and games played on the green sward. The attendance was not as large as at the Centennial grounds, but was larger than that of last year. The teachers will be on the grounds again today, but hereafter only the caretaker, Mr. Gibson, will be in charge. The children, however, will find the grounds open for free play every day after school.

The most disconcerting feature of the season has been the indifference of parents, very few of whom ever visited the grounds to see for themselves what was provided for their children. The latter, however, are healthier and better for the work which the teachers on the playground.

MRS. HANNAH KANE FORMERLY OF ST. JOHN IS DEAD IN BOSTON

The death of Mrs. Hannah Kane, widow of Timothy Kane, formerly a printer in this city, took place in Boston yesterday. Besides four sons and two daughters she is survived by three sisters—Mrs. James Farlow, of Norfolk, Virginia; Mrs. Hugh McEldown, of High street, and Mrs. John O'Pray, of St. John. The late Mrs. Patrick Fitzpatrick, of Waterloo street, was a sister. She died only three months ago and news of Mrs. Kane's death, so soon after, comes as a great shock to the relatives. Mrs. Kane had been ill for about a year. She will be buried in Boston.

THEFTS OF LUMBER FROM SCOWS ON THE WEST SIDE

The west side police are keeping a sharp lookout for some men who they suspect of stealing lumber from scows about the wharves in Carleton, and selling it afterwards to residents of that place. Sergeant says today that he believed some of this lumber was being used in construction of one or two houses going up in the west side. He said he had one or two men under suspicion, of the thefts and was watching them closely.

THOSE TRAINED FLEAS

Assurance Given That They Are Safely Fastened With Gold Collars and Chains.

Since the first announcement that the celebrated Oriental Flea Circus, which summer has been, was an engagement at Hammerstein's New York Roof garden, would be a feature of the midway at the Dominion Fair, fears have been expressed as to the possibility of their breaking loose, and flying among thousands on the grounds. To avoid the possibility of diminishing the attendance at the big fair, the management wish to explain that every one of these highly trained and intelligent fleas is fastened by a small chain, too fine to be seen with the naked eye, attached to a gold collar which has been fitted around the neck of the flea, thus making it impossible, even for these remarkable specimens to play any other role, than that for which their owner is being paid a price which would be an attraction probably a million times larger. It is hardly probable that any fair patron will fail to see the educated fleas.

AEROPLANE AT FAIR

One of the most interesting attractions of the Midway of the big fair will be an exhibition of the first aeroplane ever seen in Eastern Canada. Mr. Spencer announces that at great expense he has secured the original Bleriot machine, which first crossed the channel only a few weeks ago. Count de Lespays flew over Montreal with it, and the machine could be utilized for the same purpose here, were the conditions such as to make the feat practical. The motor will be working daily, and fair patrons will have the first opportunity of seeing the much discussed aeroplane.

George Hector, of Erin street, has been reported for driving a team for hire in the city without a license.

GLENWOOD RANGES Have Won Their Place By Giving Satisfaction From Actual Use

That the Glenwood Ranges have become so popular throughout the city is from their construction, their appearance, and entire satisfaction that they give. The patent spring that holds the nickel firmly in place is one of the features that has made the Glenwood popular. Then the pull-out grate, the divided oven bottom, direct draft with short damper handle, the divided centres, etc., all have made the Glenwood Range famous, and the people have come to the final decision that they can get a stove equal to any in Canada that is made at home, and by buying a Glenwood Range they not only get entire satisfaction, but they are booming St. John.
