British Troops Occupy Dusseldorf, Which The Spartacans Held

Armistice in Berlin is Broken and Fighting Resumed—Loyal Troops Win Victory—Twenty Thousand Encamped Near Capital Ready to March In Copenhagen, Jan. 12.—British troops have occupied Dusseldorf, which has been in the hands of the Spartacans, according to a report from Berlin.

Dusseldorf is a town in Rhenish Prussia. It is situated on the right bank of the Rhine, twenty-one miles from Cologne.

ARMISTICE BROKEN; FIGHTING RESUMED.

London, Jan. 12.—The armistice between the contending factions at Berlin has been broken and fighting has resumed, according to Copenhagen advices received here.

Reports from Berlin indicate, it is reported, that the Spartacan forces have lost 1,200 killed since the outbreak of the revolution and that there are many more wounded.

Government troops numbering 13,000 arrived in Berlin on Saturday but, with the strengthening of its military forces, the cabinet is reported to be losing its political influence among the masses.

Twenty-eight mass meetings were planned for today at Berlin for the purpose of offsetting this trend. These meetings, to be addressed by ministers and party leaders, were expected to lead to a renewal of the collisions with the Spartacans.

It is reported that several banks and shops were plundered by mobs on Saturday and that great armed crowds are continually parading the streets.

Spartacan leaders had been able to conclude an armistice on fairly even terms. It was stipulated that German troops should not be reinforced during the truce nor resume operations without a half day's notice.

Spartacan forces outside of Berlin have been able to a certain extent to interfere with the arrival of government reinforcements. At Leipzig, near Leipzig, they are reported to have dispersed three train loads of troops on their way to Berlin.

There is no confirmation of a report that Dr. Karl Liebknecht has been killed. He has, however, failed from sight with Chief of Police Eickhorn. His disappearance may have given the rise to reports of his death or arrest.

Twenty Killed in Dresden. Dresden, Germany, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Spartacan forces attempted to capture the plant of the Dresden Volks Zeitung today but were repulsed with heavy machine gun and hand grenade fire. The clash resulted in the death of twenty persons and the wounding of several scores. The Spartacan leader, H. Hueck, was taken prisoner.

Five Fights on Friday. London, Jan. 11.—Berlin despatches in Frankfurt papers state that there were five collisions in Berlin on Friday between Spartacans and government troops in which many were killed and wounded.

In street fighting on Thursday night before the chancellery palace, a main attack, twenty were killed and more than forty wounded by the fire of government troops.

Hundreds Die. London, Jan. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Several hundreds of Spartacans have been killed in the capture and recapture of the Silesian railroad station and in the fighting at night with the most of the Spartacans. Many bodies are lying in the station building.

The fighting in the newspaper quarters lasted for hours. Eighty were killed and many wounded. Under Den Landen is the hands of government troops.

Police Headquarters Re-captured. Berlin, Jan. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Government forces have captured the police headquarters after a short bombardment. When the fighting began the troops fired a few shells and men were sent forward with a white flag to demand the surrender of the Spartacans. They were fired upon and killed by the men holding the building.

Artillery fire was then resumed for a few minutes and the Spartacans began trying to break through the lines. The soldiers thereupon stormed the building with a cheer and took several hundred prisoners. No government troops were killed in this encounter. It is reported that fifty Bolsheviks were killed and many wounded.

Berna, Jan. 12.—The German garrison at Constantine, Baden, has joined the Spartacans and obtained complete control of the town. The soldiers have occupied the town hall and disarmed the population. The revolution is considered a reaction against the Socialist defeat in the cent elections for the Baden National council, in which the Bourgeois parties obtained a large majority. Reports from Constantine state that the people of the town are hoping for allied intervention.

Berlin, Jan. 12.—Kee Luxembourg, associated with Dr. Karl Liebknecht in the leadership of the rebellious Spartacan forces in Berlin, has been arrested by government soldiers, according to the tagliche Rundschau.

Basle, Jan. 12.—A Socialist republic has been proclaimed at Bremen, according to a despatch from Munich. The communists in Bremen have taken the seat of the majority Socialist on the soldiers' and workmen's council, and have sent a message to the Ebert government demanding that they resign. They are reported to have sent a telegram to the Russian Bolsheviks expressing the

A COMMUNITY KITCHEN FOR THE CITY SUGGESTED

Delegation Asks For Annual Grant of $1,800

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Request for Action Submitted—Bread Meeting to be Called—Plan for Community Kitchen is Outlined

Plans for the establishment of a community kitchen, on the lines of the diet kitchen conducted during the recent epidemic, were laid before the common council in committee this morning by a delegation who asked that the city set an annual grant of $1,800 to cover the cost of operation, with the intention that the project should be self-supporting otherwise. Consideration was promised and the attitude of the commissioners seemed to be favorable.

A request for formal action towards the establishment of vocational training in connection with the public schools was laid over for further consideration.

It was decided to call a meeting of those interested in bread problems, to be held on Thursday afternoon.

Mayor Hayes presided and Commissioners Baber, Bullock, Thornton and Jones and the common clerk, were present.

Delegation Received. When the committee met a delegation, representative of a large proportion of the citizens through the societies of which they were members, were present.

The delegation appointed for the purpose included: Mrs. G. A. Kuhring, convalescer, Mrs. E. B. Robertson, representing St. John Ambulance Brigade, V. D. Mrs. F. A. St. John, Miss Robertson, Associated Charities; E. L. Rising, Miss Christina MacLaren, Victoria Order of Nurses; Mrs. Bosby, Miss Brophy, St. John Association for Prevention of Tuberculosis; Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, charitable associations of the Catholic Cathedral congregation; Mrs. Condie, Salvation Army; Mr. Maied Hanington, Welfare work among school children; Dr. Brown, provincial and local boards of health.

All these, with the exception of Mrs. Brophy, Dr. Hanington and Dr. Brown, were present.

The mayor welcomed the delegation. Mrs. Kuhring outlined a proposal for the establishment of a community kitchen where food could be prepared and sold at cost for the benefit of those in need, which there was sickness or where for any reason the preparation of proper food was found impossible. She emphasized the fact that it was not to be a charitable institution, but a place where any citizen would feel at liberty to purchase food when circumstances made it desirable. The kitchen would supply food, but would not serve it on the premises, according to the present plans.

Mrs. Condie spoke emphatically of the value of the work of the diet kitchen, not only to the sick, but also to the other members of families in which there was sickness.

Mrs. Chisholm said that the Sisters of Charity had found that their work was greatly lightened, and the conditions in the homes much improved when properly prepared food could be secured during times of illness.

Mr. Rising declared that there was a great need for a community kitchen and referred to its value for working members and children in families where the mother or housekeeper was stricken with illness.

Miss Grace Robertson said that one she did would realize the value of such an arrangement, for instance, in the case of a sick person.

General Currie and Demobilization

London, Jan. 13.—General Sir Arthur Currie, corps commander of the Canadian army, is undertaking the demobilization of the Canadians in France only, regarding that as essentially a military duty. To a correspondent he said he would speak on this side of the Atlantic until he had seen every Canadian soldier now in France landed in Canada. He is going to England to see his children and expects to return to France this week, personally to explain the government's demobilization and other plans affecting the troops to as many units of the Third Division as possible. At intervals General Currie will be in Paris when needed by Premier Borden for consultation at the peace conference.

THE GIANT BADEN COMES TO ALLIES

JOHN BULL DEMONSTRATES THE POWER OF HIS MAGIC FLUTE.

The German super-dreadnought Baden has arrived at Sapa Flow and has been interspersed there with other vessels of the German fleet. She is 27,000 tons and similar to the Queen Elizabeth class, mounting eight fifteen-inch guns and steaming twenty-three knots.

Another flotilla of German submarines was to leave Germany yesterday for surrender to the Allies. There are still seven in neutral waters and about forty in Germany, which must be given up.

Toronto Meeting Cheers For Spartacan Leader

Twelve Hundred Protest Against Sentencing of Charles Wilson; Demand Release of All Political Prisoners

Toronto, Jan. 12.—Twelve hundred workers of both sexes attended a meeting in Broadway Hall last night, called by the Workers' Political Defence League, to protest against the sentence, by Magistrate Kingsford, of Charles Watson to three years in penitentiary and a fine of $500 for having prohibited literature in his possession, and to demand the release of all political prisoners.

Feeling ran high as the meeting progressed, until at the conclusion the audience was urged to a demonstration in the police court on Thursday morning when Henry Cheeseman was to appear before the police magistrate for sentence on a similar charge to that which Watson was convicted.

A lengthy resolution was passed, which called for the release of political prisoners and the rescinding of orders-in-council. All present were called upon to take part in a silent demonstration in the police court on Thursday morning when Henry Cheeseman was to appear before the police magistrate for sentence on a similar charge to that which Watson was convicted.

Some Features of Working Out of Drastic Prohibition Act

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Jan. 13.—According to the police court returns, 1918 was Charlottetown's most sober year. There were eighty-three convictions and five dismissals on drunkenness charges, compared with 137 convictions and 131 dismissals in 1917. Last year forty-two prohibition cases were tried, twenty-one convictions obtained compared with thirty-four convictions and thirty-six dismissals in 1917.

It was during 1918 that the new prohibition act, one of the most drastic in Canada, came into effect on July 1. During the influenza epidemic the act was lifted, enabling clergymen to grant prescriptions. This privilege, however, was removed after being a few weeks in effect.

There was a large number of prescriptions issued by doctors at fifty cents each and the prohibition commissioners are considering the advisability of publishing the names of these doctors and their record unless they are more careful. One of them was deprived for a time of the privilege of issuing prescriptions for liquor.

The Charlottetown Club, the leading organization of that kind in the province, had long enjoyed immunity for the operation of the prohibition law, but this autumn no further sales were allowed on the premises.

The total number of cases for all kinds of offences before the police court was 289 in 1918 compared with 292 in the previous year.

BELIEVE GOVERNMENT HAS STRIKE SITUATION IN BUENOS AIRES IN HAND

Buenos Aires, Jan. 13.—At four o'clock this morning it was said at police headquarters that no serious clashes had been reported anywhere since ten o'clock last night. At that hour it was believed the government had the situation in hand. Several hundred students sailors who had assembled at the naval club to await orders were dismissed at midnight.

ROBERTS NON-SUITED IN MONTREAL CASE. Montreal, Jan. 13.—John H. Roberts, temperance worker, today was non-suited in a libel action he brought against ex-controller J. W. Villeneuve, who linked Mr. Roberts' name with certain notorious people here in allegations made at an investigation of vice conditions in Montreal. Mr. Roberts sued for $10,000 damages. Today he appeared in court and asked for an adjournment of the case as he had no money to prosecute it. The court refused the adjournment and as Mr. Roberts was unwilling to proceed he was non-suited and ordered to pay the costs of the action.

Some Saved From Castalia; How Many Is Not Yet Known

Heroic Work of Rescue Under Great Difficulties; First Boat Away is Swamp and Two Men Are Drowned; Other Vessels in Distress

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 12.—The rescue of the forty-four members of the crew of the Castalia, which has been in distress off the coast of Nova Scotia since early Saturday morning, was begun a little after nine o'clock today. The steamer effecting the rescue are the Bergensford and the War Fijian, which have been standing by since yesterday morning.

The first boat to leave the Castalia capsized and at least two men were drowned. The War Fijian was never picked up, as later messages indicated that it had capsized and those who had been plunged into the water in consequence were rescued with the greatest difficulty.

At this time the Bergensford advised the War Fijian to lie at the lee of the Castalia and that she was working to the other side.

A Heroic Fight. It was in this general position, with the seas running mountains high and a stiff breeze blowing that the heroic fight for the lives of the men aboard the Castalia, was staged. It is impossible as yet to visualize what actually happened from the messages intercepted today, as they are being received piecemeal and very often bear apparent contradiction with those which have gone before, but it is believed that the Castalia was abandoned by all the members of her crew, following the outpouring of oil from the War Fijian and that some were precipitated into the water.

The American steamship Tuckahoe, bound for Boston, is reported in distress about 150 miles south of Halifax. Her steering gear was out and she was leaking. The Englewood, which sailed from Halifax on Saturday morning, is reported, was directed by wireless to proceed to the assistance of the Tuckahoe, and the U. S. S. Itouga, which had brought in the A. G. Flagg, was ordered from Halifax to help the disabled steamer.

The "Foggy Rescuer" has not yet returned to Halifax to help the disabled steamer. (Continued on page 2, seventh column)

PRESS AT HEAD OF ALL TRADE GROUPS IN RECRUITING IN ENGLAND

When Armistice Signed Not 30 Men Fit for General Service in All London Newspaper Offices

London, Jan. 12.—(Canadian Press despatch from Reuters' Limited)—A striking fact in connection with recruiting was mentioned in a recent speech of Sir Auckland Geddes. Of 10,000 men and boys employed by London newspaper offices 5,000 joined the army, and at the moment of the armistice being signed there were not thirty men fit for general service in all the London newspaper offices. That was a record, said Sir Auckland, which placed the press at the head of every trade group in the matter of recruiting.

EMBARGO ON EXPORTS FROM THE DOMINION

European Ports Declared Overcrowded by Traffic; St. John Affected; Enough Freight Here Now For Rest of Month

Montreal, Jan. 13.—The arresting of almost the entire overseas export shipments of Canada has been practically effected by an order from the Canadian Railway War Board recently issued. At least eighty per cent of this huge trade, amounting to something like half a million dollars a month, will thus be backed up in Canadian warehouses, elevators and mills.

The embargo has been placed because the British and French ports have at present more traffic than they can handle. The British ministry of shipping has advised us that ships cannot be protected. That means that they cannot be loaded. St. John and Halifax must be protected, and that, in turn, means that our shippers must hold their shipments so as not to plug the transportation lanes," was the explanation given by railway war board officials this morning.

The length of time the embargo will remain in force depends on how soon the European ports are cleared up. There is now sufficient freight at St. John and Halifax to meet all the requirements of all vessels sailing during the present month.

REASON THIS SOLDIER GIVES FOR DESERTING

Quebec, Jan. 13.—"I deserted the military service at Valcartier because some officers of the 16th battalion made me endorse my pay checks and only gave me a dime, a quarter, sometimes more, but never the full amount of my checks. With this plea for his defence, Joe Gagne of Chicoutimi, a volunteer private in the old 16th battalion, appeared Saturday before a court-martial here on a charge of deserting and accepting with his equipment valued at $42.00.

Gagne said that some officers of the 16th battalion made him endorse his checks, giving him ridiculously low sums of money in return. He says he reported the matter to the officer in command of the 16th battalion, but never to say a word. He says he had to support his aged mother and father, and that, in all, for about four months' service he only got $37.50. He says he was made to endorse his pay checks and that he was given for them the following sums, each representing a check endorsed by him: Ten cents, twenty cents, 25, 35 and $10. Gagne said that he is already under a subpoena to appear as a witness at the trial of an officer of the 16th.

COMMUNITY KITCHEN FOR CITY PROPOSED

(Continued from page 1) case of women who have to go out to work and have no time to prepare proper meals for their children.

What They Ask

Mrs. Kuhring added that their desire was to supply food at cost price, and the only way to accomplish this was for the city to start housekeeper. Much of the work would be voluntary, but they would have to ask the city for enough to pay the rent, heating and lighting and the wages of a supervisor and helper. They had estimated that this would require $1,500, which would be on a most economical basis, not at all up to the measure of their dreams. The societies represented would form an advisory committee, and the money would be handled by Mr. Rising as treasurer.

Mrs. Givran explained that while it was not their desire to give away any food directly, they did desire to make food available for the needy. To cover this they had suggested that the Salvation Army and the churches should be provided with tickets representing certain values in food which they could give to needy persons and settle for with the treasurer.

Mrs. Busby spoke of the value of such a kitchen in cases where the mother or house-worker was stricken with tuberculosis or other diseases.

Mrs. Kuhring said that the diet kitchen had had the support of the medical profession and the doctors were anxious that the work should continue.

In reply to Mr. Bullock, Mrs. Givran said that community kitchens such as they had suggested, are established throughout Massachusetts.

Mr. Thornton, who had to leave to catch a train, said before leaving that the project was most commendable and was worthy of the most serious consideration of the council.

After some further discussion of details, Mr. Fisher said that he regarded this as a proposal which should be endorsed and the grant made.

Mrs. Givran remarked that, in the recent epidemic, they had as many as 150 families, representing as many as eight hundred individuals in each, and that 80,000 bottles of food had been sent out.

Mr. Jones said that the proposal would have his sympathetic consideration.

The mayor spoke in terms of highest approval of the work of the diet kitchen.

GERMANY AND RUSSIA.
The Ebert government appears to be getting the upper hand in Berlin and is said to have captured some of the Spartacan leaders, but the Spartacans have extended their operations in the provinces. There has been sharp fighting in Berlin, and hundreds have been killed. Today's cables appear to indicate that the government is gradually suppressing the outbreak in that city. It is clear, however, that the Bolshevist element still has hope of gaining mastery in Germany as it has done in Russia. In the latter country conditions go from bad to worse, and there are stories of a wild dream entertained by Trotsky of raising a great army and with German aid entering upon a career of world-conquest. One of the tasks of the Allies is to keep Bolshevism in Russia, and let it burn itself out in that country; if, indeed, they are not eventually forced to take a hand in its suppression. There is no confirmation of the report that Lenin had been arrested by order of Trotsky, and the whole Russian situation is still obscure. The suggestion that if a trace is declared the different factions in Russia might be given a hearing at the peace conference will not appeal to the Bolshevists. If, however, Bolshevism fails in Germany the task of Trotsky in Russia will be more difficult.

OUR HOUSING PROBLEM.
In the opinion of the Associated Charities of this city, and of Mr. W. F. Burditt, chairman of the housing committee of the board of trade, the first step in the direction of better housing should be the adoption of a zoning law. As Mr. Burditt explains, this is different from a building law. It has to do with health conditions. It deals with the questions of sanitation, ventilation, fire protection, light, over-crowding, and others which make the difference between the healthy tenement and the slum. A proper housing law would close a good many houses in St. John until such time as they had been made fit for human habitation or replaced by others; and it would prevent the erection of undesirable houses.

It will of course be said that if placed occupied at the very low rental were closed the tenants could not get quarters elsewhere because they could not pay higher rent, and there is certainly a difficulty just here; but if this argument were to prevail we would never be rid of slums and the evils in their train. In the interest of society houses, the zoning law must be passed, the division of one small tenement into two or three stopped, and every house in which a family lives made healthy and its inmates protected from overcrowding. The first need, therefore, is a proper housing law to overcome existing evils and prevent their recurrence. The committee of the Associated Charities which Mr. Burditt has this matter in hand will doubtless have a bill prepared at an early date, with the full sympathy and co-operation of the public health department.

This does not mean, however, that attention should be given to the erection of new houses, or perhaps even a fairly comprehensive municipal housing scheme, financed from Ottawa by loans to the municipality. Mr. Thomas Adams, the town-planning expert, has directed Mr. Burditt's attention to the new possibilities opened up by the action of the Dominion government in making $250,000 available in the form of loans to provinces which in turn would pass the loans on to municipalities. The Times-Star prints today a summary of the Ontario law offering loans through the municipalities to persons owning land, and to firms and companies. It is full of valuable suggestions. The Canadian Municipal Journal, discussing different ways in which a municipality securing a loan might meet the situation, says: "To our mind there are three ways of meeting the situation: (1) by the municipality building and renting. (2) By encouraging local citizens to build their own houses by making direct loans. (3) By a combination of both."

Any municipality decided to build workmen's dwellings on a large scale has two good Canadian examples to follow in the Toronto Housing Association's tenement system and the Pointe-aux-Trembles housing system, both of which have proved financially successful. A full account of the Pointe-aux-Trembles housing scheme appeared in our August issue. But no municipality should attempt to build workmen's houses until it has adopted a town planning scheme, and no housing scheme should be undertaken unless proper provision is made for decent living accommodation and recreation. It pays. The Municipal Journal regards the plan of encouraging persons to build their own houses as best, yet doubts if enough would undertake the task to relieve the situation, but there is no reason why the municipal council should not also build houses. Mr. Burditt favors a co-operative scheme, where a company would be formed to own all the houses, each eventually owning stock equivalent to the cost of the house in which he lived. All would thus be alike interested in the appearance of the whole group of houses and in keeping out undesirable tenants or business. They tell of one landlord who introduced very undesirable tenants into one house in order that he might cheapen and eventually buy for himself adjoining houses. The people of St. John should give this whole question their most serious consideration. In the words of the Municipal Journal: "There is no doubt that if democracy means anything at all it means better housing conditions for the workers, particularly in our large industrial centres. There are some districts, even in Canada, where the living conditions for the workers are so bad that it is impossible for them to comply with the health regulations, with the consequence that chronic sickness is part of the lot of their families. Now that the councils of every urban municipality have a career opportunity to remedy the evil it is their bounden duty to take full advantage of it, and thus help to bring about part of the consummation of what our boys have been fighting for in France—the right to live decent lives."

THE RETURNING SOLDIERS.
In connection with plans for placing soldiers on the land, or otherwise helping them, which is now being considered in New Brunswick and other provinces, the following account of what is being done in Queensland, Australia, will be of much interest. It was told by Hon. J. A. Fihely, minister of railways, in an interview in Washington recently. He said: "We have plenty of fine agricultural and grazing land in Queensland, as only a little more than 3 per cent has been used out of 670,000 square miles. Thus, we can offer splendid opportunities to those returned men who care to settle on the land. We have set aside 300,000 acres for purely soldier settlements, in blocks of fifty to 200 acres. Training farms have been established in various centers, and technical instruction is given the men who are unaccustomed to agricultural work before they take up their holdings. One area, for instance, is devoted exclusively to the raising of pineapples, and not only is the returned soldier instructed in the growing of this fruit, but five acres is planted and given to him as a start. While these men are undergoing technical instruction, they are paid $10 a week and their board and lodging. "The manager at the training farms decides when each man is competent to manage and work his holdings. At this stage the soldier-settler may draw up to $2,500 from the agricultural bank. The government has established a store at each of these centers, a savings bank and a butcher shop, where the soldier may buy at cost prices. "For returning soldiers to whom farm work is not congenial, training in the arts and crafts is provided. Everything is working smoothly and the country is absorbing the men as fast as they return."

Those who heard Capt. Steele yesterday have a clearer knowledge of the splendid work done by the Salvation Army during the war. It will continue its beneficent services in the period of reconstruction, and no organization can do more for the returned soldier and his family. Premier Foster informed the Standard's Frederick correspondent on Friday that a returned soldier had been chosen as registrar of deeds in Kings county. The correspondent sent the news to the Standard. The Standard did not print it on Saturday or today. It clamored for a soldier's appointment, and then refused to announce the fact when the appointment was made.

Toronto Globe.—Dr. A. G. Simons of the American Methodist Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh, who is now in New York, says: "The Bolshevists made four classes for food distribution—laborers, who got food; minor clerical help, who got a little food; professional classes, who got no food and aristocrats, who are expected to starve." Is this the system that some Canadians cheer for? The British ministry of health is to be established within the next few months. Its researches will be of immense value to the country, not merely in regard to epidemics but for the general good of the people. It would be interesting to know how many foreigners were in the meeting in Toronto yesterday which cheered for Liebknecht and the Socialist revolution, demanding also the release of all political prisoners. Senator Robertson, minister of labor, counsels Canadians to keep their heads and the hardships of the reconstruction period will be much more easily overcome. This is sound advice. The peace conference is now practically in session in Paris, although as yet dealing only with the preliminaries.

"How is it, Jimmy, that you alone out of my entire staff seem to have a pocket-knife with you?" "Unless it's because my wages are so low that I can't afford more than one pair of trousers."

Scotland's New Education Act

Nursery Schools for Little Children May Be Provided. Age Limit 15 Years. But Continuation Classes Must Be Provided up to 18 Years as in England—Adequate Teachers' Salaries.

London, Jan. 11.—Perhaps the best way to consider the Education (Scotland) Act of 1918 is not according to its varying fortunes in Parliament, or its sequence of clauses, but under the general headings of school-managers, teachers, scholars, instruction, and finance. As regards school-management, the numerous parish school-boards are done away with and education authorities are being set up in their stead. These authorities are responsible for schemes for intermediate and secondary education within their areas, and they are permitted to help children or young persons, who seem likely to profit by instruction in a hotel, by way of payment of traveling expenses, or of fees, or of the cost of representation at a university, or a training college, or a central institution. The provision of books, too, is permissible in county areas, not only for children and young persons attending schools or continuation classes, but also for the adult population resident in the county. No one who reads the words of the act can doubt that those responsible for framing it had a broad conception of education, and embraced in their outlook every variety of scholar from the nursing lad to men and women of the ripest age.

OBSOLETE PHRASES.
What effect has the war had on the English language? asks a high-grown "Star." Well, let's see. It has eliminated a good many popular expressions that were in use before the war. For instance, there is this one: "If we should be attacked by a foreign foe we could raise an army overnight. A million men would spring to arms and be able to lick the world!"

In very general use at one time, especially in congress and cabinet places, and at Fourth of July celebrations, now marked "obsolete." Then there is that other one: "Why do we need a large navy? No nation would dare come so far to attack us." Once good for an applause that would "raise the roof," now laid away in the morgue of "Old English Literature."

There are others, some from the highest authority in the English language and its uses. For instance: "Too proud to fight." Put away and marked: "To be forgotten."

There are others—oh, very many others—once cherished as the very pillars of a grand truth, that have been literally shot to pieces in the war. This question of our highbrow inquirer, but it is worth notice in passing.—Kansas City Star.

Ontario May Grant Pensions

Ontario Deputation Asking Mothers Allowances Meets Favorable Reply

Mighty Demand for Measure—Premier Says Consideration Already Given and Early Solution is Promised

A large deputation, representing social service organizations, organized labor, and various women's and church organizations, waited upon Sir William Hearst and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King last week in Toronto, to urge legislation for mothers' pensions at the coming session of the legislature.

Rev. Peter Bryce, spokesman, said: "We are asking the government to take action because the various organizations represented have come to the unanimous conclusion that private enterprise cannot meet adequately the needs of the fatherless child."

Mr. G. M. Huestis, in presenting the view-point of the various women's organizations, stated that she had found from personal experience that only mothers' allowances could cure certain conditions. "God placed women in the home, and I take it," said the speaker, "that He intended to keep her there."

Sir William Hearst stated that the subject had been receiving the consideration of the government and that he had been giving it much special attention himself. "The subject is a very complicated one," said he. "The pension to soldiers' widows and the allowances paid to widows under the Compensation Act all have a bearing on the question. Now that the war is over the government will get all the information we can, either by a royal commission or by some other means, and we shall endeavor to reach a satisfactory decision. I entirely agree with all that has been said. Home is the one place for bringing up children and it is one of the greatest calamities, know of for a good mother to be deprived of her children. The question is one that has been having our thought, can promise you that it will have it again, in the immediate future and we hope to come to a satisfactory solution."

The provincial executive of the Great War Veterans' Association met in the local G. W. V. A. rooms on Saturday afternoon with Major A. Barton, of Moncton, presiding.

A feature of the meeting was a visit from Premier Foster, Colonel Innis and Lieutenant Robertson, who were before the executive the Soldiers' Land Settlement scheme.

Children of the men who have given their lives. The executive went on record as favoring the idea and agreed that an honorary commission be appointed from all New Brunswick universities and the G. W. V. A. to draw up details of the proposed scheme of securing scholarships for orphan children.

The executive supplied the resolution the Saskatchewan branch is asking the government to continue the one way fare for soldiers traveling while on leave and have it continue until the end of 1919, which would benefit all those not yet returned from overseas.

BOLDT'S ESTATE LESS THAN WAS SUPPOSED

Lost Much in Conduct of Waldorf Before His Death Deeply Indebted to Brokers

No "Good Will" in Hotel—Net Estate in New York Cut to $1,105,865 by Debts—Philadelphia Property Worth $5,000,000

The transfer tax appraisal of the New York estate of George C. Boldt, proprietor of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, and of the Bellevue-Stratford, in Philadelphia, who died on Dec. 8, 1918, shows the estate is much smaller than was supposed, and that because of losses in the conduct of the Waldorf-Astoria in the three years before his death, the business had no good-will value.

Mr. Boldt's gross estate in New York was $2,154,000, but debts and other deductions reduced the net estate to $1,105,865. The largest debt was $358,428, owed to Crossman & Seligson, as balance due on a much greater sum loaned by Mr. Boldt in speculating in coffee some years before his death. His Philadelphia property is worth about $5,000,000.

While the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Company, which leased the hotel property from Vincent Astor and William Waldorf Astor, was capitalized at $5,000,000, only 8,000 shares of stock were ever issued, and these were all owned against the Waldorf-Astoria Importation Company, insurance of $268,565, dairy equipment at his Alexandria Bay estate valued at $27,064 and power boats and other craft there estimated as $32,040. His library was valued only $169 and his jewelry at $600.

The decedent had $327,250 in realty, the largest holding being the parcels in the Thousand Islands at Alexandria Bay, worth $232,790. Local holdings were 6 to 8 East Thirty-seventh street, worth $250,000, and mortgaged for $150,000; 440 Broadway, $75,000, and mortgaged for $70,000; 384 Fifth avenue, $250,000, and mortgaged for $150,000.

Mr. Boldt's stocks and bonds were appraised at $820,457, the list including the following: 750 shares Waldorf-Astoria Importation Company, $62,507; 20 shares American Audit Company, $10,000; 288 shares Lincoln Trust Company, $31,130; 75 shares Bowers Bank, $15,725; 250 shares Astor Trust Company, $26,500; 200 shares Electric Storage Battery, $14,000; 50 shares Maresca Company, $3,300; and 600 shares Apollinaris Company, $6,000.

Mr. Boldt owned many blocks of worthless securities, including the following: 692 shares Lincoln Investment Company; 300 shares Electric Pneumatic Transit Company, 10,000 shares American National Underground Company, 190 shares Security Warehousing Company, and 1,275 shares of common and 812 shares of preferred stock of the United States Shipbuilding Company.

Charles C. Link of the American Audit Company, who prepared the books for the estate, told Mr. Boldt was a man of "exceptionally varied and multifarious activities and his estate was found to be in extremely complex condition and it was difficult to ascertain precisely what his obligations were." Mr. Link estimated that it would cost $60,000 to maintain the auditing force employed by the estate until all matters were cleared up.

Mr. Boldt divided his estate equally between his daughter, Mrs. Clor Boldt Miles, and Mrs. Clor Boldt. Mrs. Clor Boldt Miles, of New York City.

Ontario Housing Scheme

Cost of House and Lot Not to Exceed $3,000—Municipalities Make Loans to Individuals Owning Land, or to Firms or Companies

(Ottawa Journal.)
J. A. Ellis, director of the Ontario bureau of Municipal Affairs, seems to be arranged a very practical scheme for helping to meet the problem of providing houses for people of small means. At the last session of the Ontario legislature an act was passed enabling municipalities to borrow money from the province for the purpose of loaning it to those desirous of erecting small dwellings. Recently the Dominion government announced that it was prepared to loan money to the provinces on a basis of population for the same purpose at 5 per cent per annum. As the Dominion government is paying 5 1/2 per cent on the money borrowed by itself, this offer represented an inducement for the erection of small houses of one-half per cent per annum in the interest charged on the money loaned for the same. The journal had thought that in view of the Ontario government's unwillingness to extend another one-half per cent interest, but this has not been done, usually, we understand, for the reason that the provincial government expects to have to loan to municipalities a larger amount of money than it can obtain from the Dominion government. The housing problem is such a serious one in many municipalities that we still think the Ontario government would be justified in making further concessions. However, the Ontario scheme as it stands is a good one. Under it, for instance, employers of labor, by forming housing companies, can do what the journal has urged they should do, take greater interest in seeing that their workmen are properly housed. Such an employer could, under Mr. Ellis' scheme, borrow at 5 per cent all but fifteen per cent of the money required to erect such houses. In order that the Ontario scheme may be properly understood, we quote the following from a circular issued last month by the Ontario bureau's director: The Dominion government has agreed to make a loan to the Ontario government for housing purposes. The province will in turn loan to municipalities upon the following terms: Municipalities and companies incorporated under the Housing Accommodation Act (R.S.O., Chap. 230), may acquire lands and construct houses for retired soldiers, and also for working men and women and those of small means. The act mentioned will be amended to include all municipalities. The type of house to be constructed shall not exceed $2,500 in cost for the construction of each house. The maximum cost of each house, together with the cost of the land and interest during construction, is not to exceed $3,000. The building scheme of each municipality, including the laying out of the lot and the plotting of the buildings thereon, the plans of the houses, the form of construction, and the location of the land to be developed, shall be approved by the director of the bureau of municipal affairs, or such other person or body as may be designated for that purpose. The loan will be for a period not exceeding twenty years at 5 per cent.

POLICE RAID SINN FEIN HEADQUARTERS

New Irish Constitution and Address to American Soldiers Among Papers Found.

Dublin, Jan. 11.—The headquarters of the Sinn Fein organization in Harcourt street were raided this morning by the police. The raiders found pamphlets addressed to American soldiers in Ireland. They contained this question: Did you win the war in order to knit Ireland's claims? The pamphlet added: "We helped to win your independence. Will you help us to win ours?" In the raid the police, among other documents, found a draft of a new Irish constitution and pamphlets entitled "America's verdict on Easter week," "Casement's message from America." Later the police raided the office of Sinn Fein, the chief organ of the Sinn Fein. Crowds assembled in the streets and sang Sinn Fein songs during the raid. Russia is estimated to have more than 4,000,000 acres of land which would produce cotton if irrigated.

ABNORMAL RAINFALL IN YEARS OF THE WAR

In announcing the fortieth annual meeting of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union, to be held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, the management points out that, in spite of the great scarcity of labor, farmers to the number of 3,331 conducted field experiments with farm crops on their own farms in the past year. It is further pointed out that "the past four years have been abnormal for crop production in Ontario. The average rainfall for the six growing months for the past four years has been about one-third greater than that of the fifteen years previous. In 1918 there was more than four inches of precipitation in each of four months. In no other similar period within the past nineteen years has there been over four inches of rainfall in more than two months."

GOODYEAR MADE IN CANADA Final Cost Counts

It isn't a question of price when you're buying tires. It's a question of final cost. Common sense will tell you that high-mileage tires cost less in the end than low-cost tires. A cheap product unsupported by an established name and goodwill promises little of satisfaction.

These thoughts have always guided Goodyear policies. It has been our aim to really reduce tire expense rather than merely to reduce tire prices.

To this end we long ago developed the notable features of Goodyear construction—the On-Air cure; the Braided Piano-Wire base; the Tire-Making machine; the All-Weather tread; all those things that have made Goodyear Tires better tires—tires costing less per mile.

The policy of ever searching for tire improvement developed the Goodyear Cord Tire—a tire that by advanced construction gives longer service and greater satisfaction. Evidence of this lies in the unusual mileage reported to us by car-owners; in their service on heavy trucks in long distance and farm use; their selection by the makers of high-grade cars; their record in racing.

The largest body of tire-users in the world favor Goodyear Tires. These men buy tires without sentiment—for service and satisfaction only.

You'll find the advice of the Goodyear Service Station Dealer valuable.

with his club as sincere enough, but have an entirely wrong impression of their own baseball ability. It isn't always the fault of the young players themselves that they think they are star players, but often the fault of those who advise them to try to get into the big leagues.

Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics has also received more applications from young players than ever before, and Mack, like Manager McGraw, says that it looks as if baseball talent would be very plentiful this season.

Secretary Harry Sparrow of the Yankees has gone to Florida to make arrangements for the spring training trip of the club. He already has an option on South Side Park, in Jacksonville, and this will probably be where Manager Huggins will take his players about March 26. The Athletics, under Connie Mack, trained at this park for several seasons.

Manager Huggins is in the South, and will join Sparrow, to look over the various sites which have been offered. Ty Cobb now denies that he said he did not want to play in Detroit again. He explains his position by saying that he understood, along with several other players, that he was a free agent. Cobb has told some of his close friends within the last few days that he expects to play with Detroit next season. He is negotiating with the Cincinnati club to negotiate to go to Havana to train in the spring.

President Herrmann is still in doubt about Mitty being able to manage the club next season, but it would not be surprising if a new leader was named for the Reds.

LOCATING GUNS BY THEIR SOUND

Actual Sight Could Not Add To Precision
Camouflage is Powerless—Hiding Places of 63 Detected in Single Day by Mathematics Based on Data From Sound Recorders

Hundreds of German guns were precisely located by sound during the latter part of the war. In fact, this method of placing them became finally so accurate that actual sight of the gun could not add to its precision. Camouflage was evidently powerless against such a method as this. Frank Parker Stockbridge, who describes it in the Popular Science Monthly, tells us that the hiding-places of no less than six-hundred German guns were detected in this way in a single day. Says this writer, in an article entitled "How Far Off Is That German Gun?"

"By use of 'receiving stations' behind the lines, British and American military observers have been able to locate hundreds of German guns through the application of the science of acoustics. These stations are placed behind the allied lines at points accurately determined, with the distance from each station to all others carefully recorded.

"A receiving station may be nothing more than a microphone-receiver concealed under a rock. The receiver is connected by wire to a central station with which the other stations are also connected. A simple clockwork device in the central station records the exact instant at which every sound is received at each receiving station.

"If, for example, the projectile fired by a high-power rifle cannon travels faster than the speed of sound, which is normally 1,123 feet a second, carrying, however, with wind velocity and direction, the time between the firing of the shell and the time when it is heard at the 'boom' of the gun, and then comes the sound of the exploding shell.

"Careful corrections are worked out to allow for variation in the speed of the sound-waves due to atmospheric conditions. Then the difference in time at which the same sound was recorded from the different receiving stations is compared with the known distance from station to station, and the time when the sound was made by a passing shell reaches Station A is 9.1226, and the same sound is recorded from Station B at 9.1227, and from Station C at 9.12271-2. It is a simple matter to determine that the point of origin of the sound is 1,086 feet farther from Station B than from Station A, and 538 feet farther from Station C than from Station B. With the known distances between the stations as base lines, triangulation on a large scale map, involving intricate calculations, provides valuable information as to distance, as indicated by the different times at which the same sound reached the different receiving stations. The time records of the sound of the gun itself and of the exploding shell are also subjected to the same analysis, and since it is known that the points from which the three different sounds originate must be the same vertical plane, a straight line on the map connecting all three proves the accuracy of the computations.

"So accurate has this method proved that in almost every instance, when the work of the observers at the central station (which may be miles away from the receiving stations) is compared with photographs made from airplanes, showing the position of the same guns, there is not room for separate pin-pricks to indicate the results of the two sets of observations.

"In one day recently sixty-three German guns were located by this means, and destroyed by airplane bombs, although many of them had been so successfully camouflaged that probably they never would have been discovered by any other means."

HOW SINN FEINERS FELL INTO TRAP
A good story has leaked out regarding the early days of the unrestricted U-boat warfare. In those days it was common-ly reported that the German underwater craft had secret bases on the West Coast of Ireland, where they were able to put in and replenish their stores. The people were anti-British, and the closest investigation by the Admiralty could extract no information from them. Presently a story gained circulation that a yacht flying the American flag, but manned by Germans, was cruising off the coast, and there were hints that a reward might be paid to anyone giving information of her whereabouts. By and by the yacht put in at more than one secluded spot on the West Coast and was warmly welcomed by the Sinn Feiners. The officers had heart to heart talks with these on shore and the U-boat activities were discussed at great length. Strangely enough, the British Navy failed to locate or capture the yacht, which in due time left the coast, and sailed apparently for Germany. Nothing more was heard of her whereabouts, but the war against the U-boats soon met with increasing success. It was scant comfort to the Sinn Feiners to learn that the yacht had nothing to do with Germany, and that as a matter of fact she was a British boat, manned by a crew of British officers masquerading as Germans. Under this guise they had pupped the Sinn Feiners dry, and when the yacht left the coast her officers and crew made full information regarding the U-boat activities.

He returned to France on October 29, after a short furlough in England and Scotland. His battery then fought its way from Arras to Mons. Since then they have marched across Belgium and through Germany to Bonn.

He tells some interesting experiences in connection with the warm reception received by the battery from the inhabitants of the towns they recaptured from the Huns on their way from Arras to Mons.

FREE GARBAGE COLLECTION IS NOW PROPOSED

Commissioner Fisher to Include This in Presenting Estimates to Council

An important proposal will be made to the common council by Commissioner Fisher in presenting his estimates for the current year. This is the recommendation that the city should undertake the free collection of ashes and kitchen refuse, commonly known as garbage.

Mr. Fisher's chief intention in making this recommendation is the promotion of the public health by improving sanitary conditions throughout the city. The systematic collection of this material also would enable the health department to enforce certain of its regulations which are regarded as almost impossible to enforce under the present system.

He will propose that the estimates of the public works department include an amount sufficient to meet the cost of this work. While it would add that much to the tax bills, the commissioner estimates that it will effect an actual saving to the citizens as the cost of the work should be less when conducted in a wholesale and systematic manner.

MONEY IN HIS HAIR AND EAR

Smith or Connelly Produced It In Cell

Handbag Stolen From Lady's Hand in Elliott Row—Prompt Arrest Wins Commendation of Police Magistrate

Ernest Smith was in the police court this morning charged with snatching a Miss Ethel Melick in Elliott row on Saturday evening about half past six o'clock. Miss Melick said that she was passing through Elliott row and when about opposite Carmarthen street a man of about the same size and build as the accused snatched her handbag and ran. She followed him for a while and then lost sight of him. She identified articles produced in court, which she said belonged to her. She said that she had about $17 in the handbag at the time it was stolen.

Deskman Hopkins told of going to see the accused after he was arrested and placed in a cell. He said that the accused asked him whether or not he remembered him and the witness in reply said that he did. The witness told the court that Smith was before the magistrate last spring on a charge of breaking and entering a store in Water street. Hopkins said that Smith gave him one $2 bill and two $1 bills. The witness said that he took them out of his hair. Hopkins said that he was called to the cell again soon afterwards and the accused passed him a $5 bill, asking him to get something to eat for him. Hopkins said that the accused took the bill out of his ear. The accused, Hopkins said, told him that he had the money in his ear when searched, and that he kept his hand on one side. The witness said that Smith admitted stealing the handbag and accounted for all the $17. The accused told him that he spent fifty-two cents at the Lyric, eighty cents for two meals, six cents for postage stamps, and $1 which he gave a boy, and he also bought gum. Hopkins said that Smith in admitting stealing the handbag said that he could not get work and was hungry.

Policeman Melrose told of finding out that a man answering the description of the accused had gone into the Lyric Theatre. He said he notified Detective Biddiscombe where the man was. Detective Biddiscombe told of Miss Melick laying the charges and information, going to the Lyric where he arrested the accused. He said when he searched the accused for the first time he found only twenty-five cents on him. He said on Sunday afternoon he searched him again and found a $5 bill in his under clothing, near the knee.

The accused is known to the police as Charles Connolly. The magistrate commended the police force, and especially those interested in this case, on the quick action of apprehending the accused. The prisoner was remanded until this afternoon.
