LET ROUMANIANS STAY FOR PRESENT

Peace Conference Not to Urge Them to Leave Budapest

NEEDED TO STEADY SITUATION

Bourgeois Parties in Hungarian Capital Express Willingness for Coalition Cabinet — Attempt to Keep Back News of Clemenceau's Note

Paris, Aug. 11.—(By the Ass'd Press)—The peace conference, it became known today, is changing entirely its attitude toward the Roumanian army in Budapest. The conference, it is learned, is not disposed to ask the Roumanians to leave the Hungarian capital immediately despite the fact that the supreme allied council asked the Roumanians not to enter Budapest.

While the supreme council is indignant over Roumanian seizures of supplies in Hungary preparatory to shipping them to Roumania, many delegates to the conference are of the opinion that the Roumanians are necessary for the Roumanian troops to remain in Budapest to steady the situation, at least temporarily.

Basle, Switzerland, Aug. 10.—Hungarian communist measures abolishing private property have been abrogated in a decree issued by the new Hungarian government, according to a dispatch from Budapest. All owners are enjoined by the government to secure the direction of the properties and to continue agricultural activities.

Vienna, Aug. 10.—(By the Ass'd Press)—At the conclusion of a conference of political leaders of the various groups in Budapest it was said that all the bourgeois parties were willing to join in a coalition ministry.

Berlin, Aug. 9.—(By the Ass'd Press)—The Roumanian army officials at Budapest have forbidden the newspapers to print the note of Premier Clemenceau announcing the creation of a mission of allied generals to the Roumanian situation and take charge of the armistice question, according to reports reaching here.

An English and an Italian aviator, learning of this, left Vienna and flew over Budapest, dropping thousands of placards containing Premier Clemenceau's message. The Roumanians then prohibited telegraph service between Budapest and Vienna for twelve hours.

Budapest, Aug. 9.—(By the Ass'd Press)—Stephen Friedrich, the ass'd premier, in an interview declared that the change in government meant a return to the monarchist system in Hungary. "All that has happened," he said, "is that we have tried to restore and consolidate the situation until the nation has taken a decision."

Vienna, Aug. 10.—(By the Ass'd Press)—The executive of the Soldiers' Council in Vienna has issued a proclamation in which after referring to recent events in Hungary, warning is given reactionaries not to attempt to attack the German-Austrian republic.

The proclamation declares that every single member of the proletariat is ready to give his life for freedom and concludes as follows: "Soldiers and proletarians, stand together, realize the great danger and prepare for battle."

WHITE WINGS CRUISE

R.K.Y.C. Yachts Up The Washademoak on Sunday

A report reached The Times today that the yachts, which sailed from Millidgeville on Saturday afternoon on the annual cruise of the Royal Kennebecasis Yacht Club, are making good headway. As soon as the squadron set sail, Walter Logan, vice-commander, took command. The first day's objective was Brown's Flat and good progress was made until early in the evening when the wind died down. Boats with auxiliary power assisted boats without engines to the anchorage. One yacht got away late and was towed from Westfield to Brown's Flat by a motor boat owned by Harold Mayes.

On Sunday morning nine sailing yachts started for McDonald's Point, on the Washademoak, and most of the boats had reached that point before supper. Commodore Starr expects to join the cruise on Tuesday or Wednesday. If weather conditions are favorable the yachts will return to Rothesay on Friday so as to be there when the Prince of Wales arrives. From there the yachts will proceed up river again to Crystal Beach where services will be held on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. Rev. Dr. J. A. Morrison, club chaplain, will officiate.

URGENT APPEAL FOR IMPROVED WATER SERVICE

Lancaster Residents Present Their Case to Common Council

SOME SUGGESTIONS MADE

Pulp Mill Stands in Way of Needed Extension, Says Commissioner Jones—Tenders for City Hall Heating and Sewer Pipe Opened

The greater portion of the committee meeting of the common council this morning was devoted to hearing a delegation from Lancaster with reference to the inadequacy of the water supply. Urgent appeals for relief were made and several suggestions were offered. In addition to the inconvenience caused by the lack of sufficient water, it was set forth that the water shortage led to unsanitary conditions and prevented the development of the district. The extension of the thirty-six inch water main to Spruce Lake, the erection of stand pipes and pumping station, and limiting the pulp mill to the use of the ten inch main from Spruce Lake were suggested as means of overcoming the difficulty. Commissioner Jones expressed his willingness to go ahead with the work, but said that the refusal of the pulp mill to make a satisfactory arrangement had stood in the way of the proposed water extension. The only remedy he could undertake at present was an effort to reduce the wastage.

Tenders for the new heating system and chimney for city hall were also referred back for report. Tenders for terra cotta pipe were opened and contracts awarded to the lowest tenders. Commissioner Thorneycroft suggested a reward of $100 for information leading to the conviction of persons ringing false alarms, but no action was taken. The mayor was unable to be present, for the entire meeting; all other members of the council were in attendance.

The Delegation
The Lancaster delegation consisted of J. M. Queens, Councilor John O'Brien, H. Mont Jones, Fred Henderson, George Armstrong, Thomas Armstrong, Dr. J. H. Barton, Dr. J. V. Anglin and James McMurtry.

Commissioner Jones announced that the members of the delegation had waited on him on Saturday and he suggested that they should appear before the council. Mr. Queens explained that he felt it his duty to bring to the attention of the council conditions which existed in Lancaster. He said that persons were being taxed for water in districts where no water was available. In one thickly settled district, Havoclock street, wells and privies were located close together. He also referred to the lack of water in existing mains, requiring householders to pump water into cisterns to secure a gravity supply. These conditions were thought to be a great business for the city to improve the water supply for the benefit of those already supplied. He thought that if the commissioners were familiar with conditions, they would take action.

Mr. Henderson said that when he first went to Lancaster he had an ample supply of water, but in recent years had been forced to install a pump. The water in the district was unsanitary because they could not secure sufficient water to flush the drains, and they had installed an electric pump. Houses had been built on the strength of the promise that a water tower would be erected, but this had not been done.

George Armstrong said he had thirty-five building lots in which he had invested his savings, but could not sell them because of the lack of water supply. He had been paying heavy water and sewerage taxes and was getting nothing in return.

Thomas Armstrong said his trouble was that he had erected a house on the understanding that a stand pipe was to be erected to ensure a sufficient water supply, but had been unable to get any water. He had erected the house to sell, but had been unable to realize on it. H. M. Jones explained that in his house at Ylton's corner, he was unable to get water even on the ground floor, without the use of an electric pump.

All Lancaster was suffering from the lack of water, Dr. Barton said. He did not want anything done to discourage the pulp mill or any other industry, but they felt that a better water supply was urgently required. Dr. Anglin informed the council that his experience in his own house was similar to that of other speakers. If the pulp mill required more water, he suggested that a separate main should be laid.

The Mayor's Position

The mayor, who had to withdraw, explained that further extensions of the water system would impose heavy tax (continued on page 2, sixth column)

Carnegie Dead; Illness Brief

Call So Sudden That Daughter Could Not Get to Him in Time—Bronchial Pneumonia Cause of Death

Lenox, Mass., Aug. 11.—Andrew Carnegie died at his summer home, Shadow Brook here at ten minutes after seven o'clock. The cause of death was bronchial pneumonia.

Lenox, Mass., Aug. 11.—Andrew Carnegie, steel magnate and philanthropist, died at his Lenox summer home, "Shadow Brook," at 7:10 this morning after an illness of less than three days with bronchial pneumonia. So sudden was his death that his daughter, Mrs. Roswell Miller, was unable to get to her father's bedside before he died. His wife and private secretary were with him at the end.

Mr. Carnegie had spent most of the summer in Lenox, coming here late in May and up to a few weeks ago enjoyed himself in almost daily fishing trips on Lake Malheur, which borders his big estate, and in riding about his grounds. He was taken ill on Friday and grew steadily worse. His advanced age and lessened powers of resistance hastened the end.

Mr. Carnegie came to Lenox to make his home in May, 1917, and had spent the last three summers there. He intended to spend his declining days there and when he bought the place from Spencer R. Shotter it was announced that Mr. Carnegie would spend all of the spring and summer months there.

Mr. Carnegie leaves his wife and his daughter, Margaret, who in last April married Ensign Roswell Miller of New York.

LATTERLY LED SECLUDED LIFE

New York, Aug. 11.—Although Mr. Carnegie, who was in his eighty-fourth year, had been an invalid since 1917, the news of his death was a shock to old friends and former business associates here. Since his previous serious illness he had been under the care of two nurses.

Identified so long with the international peace movement, Mr. Carnegie was said to have been severely affected by the world war than most men. It came as a hard blow to him and the cause which he had so close at heart.

Owing to his ill-health Mr. Carnegie for some time had led a secluded life and his withdrawal from all public activities gave rise to frequent statements concerning his health. After his retirement he was compelled to limit the number of his daily visitors and until his last illness he met and spoke with only a few of his closest friends.

New York, Aug. 11.—The sudden death of Andrew Carnegie apparently had little effect upon the stock market. The common stock of the United States Steel Corporation, of which the Carnegie companies formed an important part, was declared in well-informed quarters that Mr. Carnegie's holdings in the steel corporation were limited to first mortgage bonds.

In Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 11.—This city where Andrew Carnegie laid the foundation for his vast fortune in the steel business, today paid tribute to the dead magnate. E. A. Babcock, mayor, ordered all flags at Pittsburg lowered to half mast. At the Carnegie Institute the scene of one of his philanthropic works, plans were made to drap the building with crepe in respect to the benefactor.

News of Mr. Carnegie's sudden death at Lenox spread rapidly through the city and preparations were made to suspend work and other institutions in which he was interested pending similar action.

SUGGEST MODEL CITY BETWEEN INDIANTOWN AND MILLIDGEVILLE

Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts delivered an interesting and inspiring address at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club today. He visualized what he termed a day dream which was not impossible for proponents necessary to make the city attractive to capitalists to induce them to establish businesses here, making a plea for more and better hotels, modern theatres, a movement on the part of the business people to make possible the paving of the main streets of the city and the establishment of a residential section which would attract people here to live.

In connection with the last named he said he and M. E. Agar had looked over the situation and proposed to the club the establishing of a model city between Indiantown and Millidgeville. The plans are to be looked into by the town planning commission.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE PLANS

Apparent Widening of Breach Between Units and International Heads—Only Perishable Freight on N. Y., N. H. and Hartford Railway

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Striking federated railway men returned to work at several points today, while at others they voted to remain out until their demands for increase of wages were granted. Plans for holding a national conference of strikers called for next Thursday were forwarded today by the Chicago district council.

"Action to be taken at this conference is now up to the director-general of railroads," said J. D. Sanders, secretary of the System Federation of the American Federation of Labor, declaring that striking locals would not be permitted to cast ballots in the vote being taken on the question of a strike Aug. 24. Reports were received at council headquarters that strikers had burned some of the ballots sent out from international headquarters.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 10.—Delegates representing the 6,000 members of the System Federation of the American Federation of Labor, New Haven & Hartford Railroad decided at a meeting here today to put the question of ending the shopmen's strike to a vote of the six crafts involved. The results of this balloting will not be known before Thursday.

No freight moved over the lines of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad today except milk, ice and certain perishable foods. The passenger service became so curtailed as a result of the shopmen's strike that definite excursionists swarmed about the offices of the steamship lines in efforts to procure accommodations.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—A call for a convention of representatives of the striking railway shopmen of the country to be held here next Thursday to determine definitely what action shall be taken, was issued today by the Chicago district council of the Federated Railway Shopmen, which called the strike Aug. 4, in defiance of the international officers of the shopmen's crafts unions.

Chicago, April 11.—The lockout of building trades and building material workers in co-operation with the Chicago contractors whose lockout following a strike of carpenters made idle more than 100,000, has ended, State Attorney Welch announced today. ST. JOHN MAN WAS ON SHIP OF PRINCE IN 1860 VOYAGE

Peter Quigley Sailed Into Halifax With Late King Edward

Robust Mariner Who Has Fought Pirates, Was Through Abyssinian Campaign and Has Had Career of Adventure—Eager for Coming of Young Prince

In connection with the visit of the Prince of Wales to the city on Friday next it is interesting to note that he is now in St. John one who sailed into Halifax with his grandfather, King Edward, on his visit to Canada in 1860.

Although he is in the eighty-eighth year of his age, Peter Quigley, now residing at 98 St. James street, employed with T. McAvity & Sons, is hale and vigorous.

He gives an interesting description of the hearty reception which greeted his late majesty on that trip. Mr. Quigley looks years younger than he is but he was born in 1832.

The Royal Alfred was the vessel in which the trip was made and Mr. Quigley says she was the first lion ship to come to Canada.

Speaking last evening of his many and varied experiences, Mr. Quigley said: "Yes, I have moved about some in my day and had some hard knocks, but generally came out on top."

"I also had some rough experiences in fighting pirates in the 'Seven Seas.' This was in the old days, years ago, and it was about the last of the old rovers of the sea.

"Do you know that three years ago, when the prince as the Duke of Connaught, governor-general of Canada, visited Prince Edward Island he recognized me among a crowd of old salt who knew how to salute."

"A few years later than the one on which I brought the prince to the island I took my discharge from the Royal Alfred at Halifax. I had over $1,500 and my comrades were well fixed."

"Contrast the two cities." An Englishman who is a foremost man in many reforms has been visiting the United States to study conditions there under the liquor laws.

"Now Detroit is beautiful. Industry has not spoiled it. Wages are high, and artisans live in what we call 'garden suburbs.' The business thoroughfares are stately; the residential sections, through which we motored for hours, are altogether lovely."

WHAT DO THEY WANT?

Sir Robert Borden and the minister of finance had a visit from a delegation sent by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. The delegates presented resolutions passed at the last annual meeting of the association, and urged the government to appoint a permanent tariff board, to make a scientific study of the Canadian customs tariff, and the tariff of other countries, with whose products Canadian producers are forced to compete.

We are all strong for the public welfare. We all want, or profess to want, and we are always all urging the government to produce a tariff "that will serve the best interests of Canada."

Readers of this morning's papers received a shock in the news of two disasters in Canada blotting out lives. In an explosion and fire at Port Colborne, Ont., a government elevator was partly destroyed and fully ten people killed, while at Dominion Park, Montreal, at least seven enjoying a respite from work at this popular playground were burned to death.

With the first of our two great celebration days close at hand, those in charge of the preparations for Soldiers' Joy Day and the welcome to the Prince of Wales have matters well in hand. St. John promises to outdo past performances in this line for there has been good co-operation. Now for fine weather and all will be well.

REUBEN READHEAD WRITES TO HIRAM

"Dear Hiram: It surely is a sight for sore eyes to see ye back in the settlement agin. We've missed ye, Hiram. The farm's missed ye too. 'Gosh, his bin a dull place since ye went down among those city fellers. But it'll perk up now. My old woman was jest as sayin' yistiday that somethin' must be happenin' down on Hiram's place, for the bobolinks were a' singin' to beat the band and the frogs down by the swamp were havin' the dance of a jamboree."

ANDREW CARNEGIE

The world will always remember Andrew Carnegie as the giver of libraries. Cities and towns dotting the map of the North American continent and in other English speaking countries have had the benefit of a share of his millions in building and equipping these reading centres. Some there were which looked the gift horse in the mouth and would not accept it, questioning the money-making methods of the owner. No doubt, in these benefactions, the noted Scottish maker of steel and millions, had in mind his own start in life as a poor boy and the knowledge, acquired in the rough school of the world, of what benefit is education; and he probably gauged matters aright when he calculated that it would be a good thing to make accessible to all who desired to improve themselves, the works of writers of the ages brought to their hand for the asking from well-stocked library shelves.

Carnegie was the trail-maker for other moneyed men in the way of applying individual wealth to the public good, and news editors of a decade or two ago will recall the thrill they experienced when the wires brought the first news of the Carnegie library project. It was the big "story" of the day; the news that commanded premier position and biggest headlines. Mr. Carnegie's philanthropies, however, did not end with the library foundation. Many are the stories of kindly acts performed. Having acquired this world's goods a sum far beyond the requirements of any man, he chose to distribute of his bounty while he was still in a position to see others enjoy it. His death, which is announced today, leaves many his debtors.

The London Times pays a high tribute to Hon. W. L. Mackenzie-King, the new Canadian Liberal leader. "With him at the helm," says the London paper, "there can be little risk of the position of Canada in the empire and before the world being treated as a pawn in the contest of local politics. In regarding the immense present influence and even greater future of Canada, as in many other ways, he is at one with his great predecessor and will certainly maintain unimpaired his political inheritance."

The ocean safely crossed, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales reached Newfoundland today. He will land tomorrow and the celebrations in honor of his coming to the American continent will be begun. The old colony will give a hearty welcome to the heir apparent. To St. John, N. B., comes the honor of being the first Canadian city to greet him.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. I tried it and I am cured. I have never had any more of my troubles."

"I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARY BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years' experience is at your service.

A DREAM O' HAME

Sometimes at the close of a long summer day When the bird to its nest is returning Fond memory takes wing an' it flies far away As the swiftness o' light i' the mornin'.

The name o' my youth w' its pictures see fair, The limmin' o' luv that has crowned it. Oh, this an' d Scottish hame, I visit ane mair, An' a' the dear scenes that surround it.

The freem's a' my youth ha'e departed an' gane, I ha'e left a' my dear aunes behin' me; Like the one bidden guest, I am there a' alane, The younger aunes, they dinna min' me.

Oh, why should I always awake frae this dream, When I travel see far fae enjoy it? Misfortunes are always on han' it would seem, An' realities come tae destroy it.

Caledonia, my lo'e'd aune, hoo sair did I greet, As I left my dear hame-lan' see fair? Not again w' my freen's, or kindred the meet, An' tae view my ain lan' never mair. It is only in dreams that I view thee again.

An' every lo'e'd place that I knew; My weary, auld een lang tae see thee in vain, My Bonnie, an' d Scotland, adieu! —R. H. Langford. Kansas City, Mo.

NAPOLEON AND THE SAILOR. Napoleon's banners at Boulogne Arm'd in our island every freeman. His navy chanced to capture one Poor British seaman.

They suffer'd him—I know not how— Unprison'd on the shore to roam; An' eye was bent his longing brow On England's home. His eye, methinks, pursued the flight Of birds to Britain half-way over; With envy they could reach the white Dear Cliffs of Dover. A stormy midnight watch he thought, That his sojourn would have been dearest.

If but the storm his vessel brought To England near. At last when care had banish'd sleep, He say one morning—dreaming, doating, An empty hoghead from the deep Come shoreward floating; He hid it in a cave, and wrought The living day laborious, lurking Until he launch'd a tiny boat By mighty working. Heaven help us! 'twas a thing beyond Description wretched; such a wherry Perhaps ne'er ventur'd on a pond, Or cross'd a ferry. For ploughing in the salt sea-foed, It would have made the boldest shudder; Unstar'd, uncompas'd, and unkeel'd, No sail—no rudder. From neighboring woods he interlaced His sorry skiff with watted willows; And thus equip'd he would have pass'd the foaming billows— But Frenchmen caught him on the beach, His little Argo sorely jeering; Till tidings of him chanced to reach Napoleon's hearing. With folded arms Napoleon stood, Serene alike in peace and danger; And in his wonted attitude, Address'd the stranger:— 'Rash man that wouldst you channel pass On twigs and staves so rudely fashion'd; Thy heart with some sweet British lass Must be impassion'd. 'I have no sweetheart,' said the lad; 'But absent long from one another— Great was the longing that I had 'To see my mother! 'And so thou shalt,' Napoleon said, 'Ye've both my favor fairly won; A noble mother must have bred So brave a son! He gave the tar a piece of gold, And with a flag of truce commanded He should be shipp'd to England Old, And safely landed. Our sailor oft could scantly shift 'To find a dinner plain and hearty; Of Bonaparte. THOMAS CAMPBELL, (Born July 27, 1777; died June 15, 1844.)

MEMORIALS UNVEILED DEAD NUMBER AT LEAST SEVEN

Tributes to Late Lieut. C.M. Lawson and Bandmaster C.H. Williams in Churches Where They Worshipped

Rev. G. F. Scovil, former rector of St. Jude's church, now of Guelph (Ont.), preached to his former congregation at the 11 o'clock service yesterday and also dedicated the new memorial window which is in memory of the late Charles Murray Lawson, who as a lieutenant with the 20th Battalion was killed in action in France, November 26, 1918, being the first officer of that battalion to make the supreme sacrifice. The window, made by the Robert McCauland Company of Toronto, shows Our Lord in priestly robes with uplifted hands as if in invitation to his disciples. The picture is a fine one of excellent workmanship and beautiful coloring, giving well a suggestion of consecration and confirmation. Around the figure of the picture is the text, "Present Your Bodies a Living Sacrifice." The window, dedicated by Rev. Mr. Scovil, was unveiled by Rev. W. P. Dunham.

An impressive memorial service was held in St. Mary's church last evening, when a beautiful brass lectern was unveiled in memory of Bandmaster Charles H. Williams, erected by his comrades of St. Mary's Band. Miss Edith Williams, returned nurse, sister of the bandmaster, unveiled the lectern and the words of dedication were pronounced by Rev. R. T. McKim. St. Mary's Band which he had so ably led, was present and played numbers appropriate to the ceremony.

Venerable Archdeacon Raymond was the speaker of the evening and he delivered a most thoughtful sermon which was followed with keenest attention. He made reference to the fine record of St. Mary's church in the war, saying it had second place in the honor list of the diocese, St. Luke's being first.

When the special psalms, the twenty-third and thirty-fourth, had been read the bandmen approached the lectern and surrounded it while Rev. Mr. McKim read the dedication as follows:

"To the honor and glory of God we dedicate this lectern as a fitting memorial to Charles H. Williams who counted not his life dear unto himself, but gave it freely and bravely for the life of another. Accept it, O Lord, at the hands of these, his friends, who mourn his loss but who believe that all things work together for good to those who love the Lord Jesus Christ."

With solemnity the archdeacon then read the names of the men of the congregation who had made the supreme sacrifice as follows: Harold E. Baker, George W. Boone, Harold Chamberlain, Robert J. Connell, Arthur O. Emery, Francis H. Everett, Frank R. Fairweather, Frank Fish, Fred Fish, Frederick D. Foley, Russel J. Grant, Jack B. Hipwell, William Hunter, J. Thomas Nelson, George Mann, James Malcolm, William McKenzie, Manford McNutt, Ernest A. Mellor, C. D. Murkin, John Wesley Paterson, Frank C. Pinney, Harold Sears, Arnold Whelpley, Charles H. Williams, John Wilson, Joshua S. Clayton.

LORD ASTOR AND ENGLISH SOCIETY

(Montreal Herald)

The recent news from England that Major William Waldorf Astor is living in retirement near Brighton and avoiding society as much as possible recalls vividly a statement he once made when he owned The Fall Mall Magazine, which he had purchased with several other British publications. He was referring to a statement once made by Hiram Powers in Florence that "wealth is nothing."

"I have never wished to live at Brookdale," the present Lord Astor wrote, "where Hawthorne went to learn that wealth is nothing. Nor should I have been content at Walden with the contemplation of nature and a daily plate of Thoreau's bean soup. On the contrary, I am so little of a Diogenes that it has always seemed to me a truism that we owe to wealth the greatest advantages and pleasures that life can offer in education, in the comforts and refinements of home, in the embellishments of art and in the delight of travel."

There is a good deal of Lord Astor in those words. There is the cynicism and the inborn pride that has made him almost the legendary mark for journalistic ridicule. Also, however, there is a sort of frankness, a dislike of sham, that has always been one of his most admirable characteristics.

He Leaves America.

A burglar in the '80s, captured in a dying condition, made a confession alleging his association in the kidnaping of Charlie Ross back in 1874, and stated that Charlie Ross was dead. Some nameless and enterprising editor in search of an interesting feature profounded an interesting question. How large a ransom would be demanded of Mr. and Mrs. Waldorf Astor if their son Waldorf were kidnaped? Inspired by the possibilities of the question, New York journalists opened his columns for letters, until articles, letters and interviews began appearing in the press throughout the country. Things became very unpleasant indeed for Mr. and Mrs. Astor.

Every day the postal department to which Mr. Astor had once appealed presented him with stacks of letters, advising, threatening, demanding money and offering assistance. It seemed as though every crank in the country had taken a passionate interest in a possible kidnaping. From a possibility it began to verge on a reality, until several attempts were actually made to kidnap young Astor, and Mrs. Astor's health broke down under the strain. Finally William Waldorf Astor came to the conclusion that there was no safety for his children in America, and returned on their account and by his wife's health, he transferred his home from the United States to England.

Not All Delight.

That was over forty years ago, and still wealth did not take all the thorns from the roses that fell on his path.

EFFORTS FAILED SAYS MRS. PIERCE

St. John Women Tried For Two Years to Find Relief—Praises Tanlac.

"By the time my third bottle of Tanlac was gone, all my troubles were gone," said Mrs. George A. Pierce, who lives at 2 Moore street, St. John, while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"I suffered terribly from rheumatism," continued Mrs. Pierce, "and ever since I had my first attack of it two years ago, I have been trying to find something to overcome it, but my efforts failed completely until I got Tanlac. Sometimes my arm and fingers would be swollen to almost twice natural size. All my joints would swell so bad and get so stiff and sore that when I tried to walk the pain would be so severe that I would almost faint. After lying down for awhile, I was certainly in a bad fix, and nobody will ever know how much I suffered."

"My son had heard so many people talking about Tanlac, and the good it had done them, that he persuaded me to give it a trial. Well, I must say that it is the best medicine I ever saw in my life, and since taking three bottles of it I am rid of those awful pains from rheumatism, and am so well and strong in every way that I can do all my household work with perfect ease. All the swelling has gone from my joints, and I can walk around as well as I ever could. I am glad to recommend Tanlac to everybody, and as long as I live I will praise this wonderful medicine for the great good it has done me."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—(Adv.)

GEN. CURRIE'S PARTING WORDS

Looking for Better Understanding Between Motherland and Colonies—Other Soldiers Returning

Liverpool, Eng., Aug. 10.—(Reuters)—Interviewed by a Reuter correspondent while he was embarking on the Caronia to sail for Canada, General Currie, commander of the Canadian corps in France said: "I do not know whether we like you better than before the war, but we understand you better. I think we respect each other more, but I do not think we like each other as well as we would like to do. We have not taken each other into the family, as it were."

"We want a greater intimacy and understanding between the people of the Motherland and colonies. I am glad to know Canadian soldiers are taking home wives from this country. In my opinion there are too many people living in English cities. "More co-operation, more discipline, more self-sacrifice and determination will bring about a better understanding between us."

There sailed from Liverpool on Saturday the Aragona for Portland and the Megantic and Corsican for Quebec. The first carries 65 officers, 23 nursing sisters, 21 mental cases from Warrington and 672 men from Kirkcaldy.

The Megantic had 39 officers from London, 49 from Witley, 30 nursing sisters from Orpington, and 891 men with dependents from Buxton. The officers include Colonels A. A. Durie, W. W. Evans, M. W. Ross, R. E. Wodehouse, H. R. Debury, W. H. Hewgill and F. Pawlett.

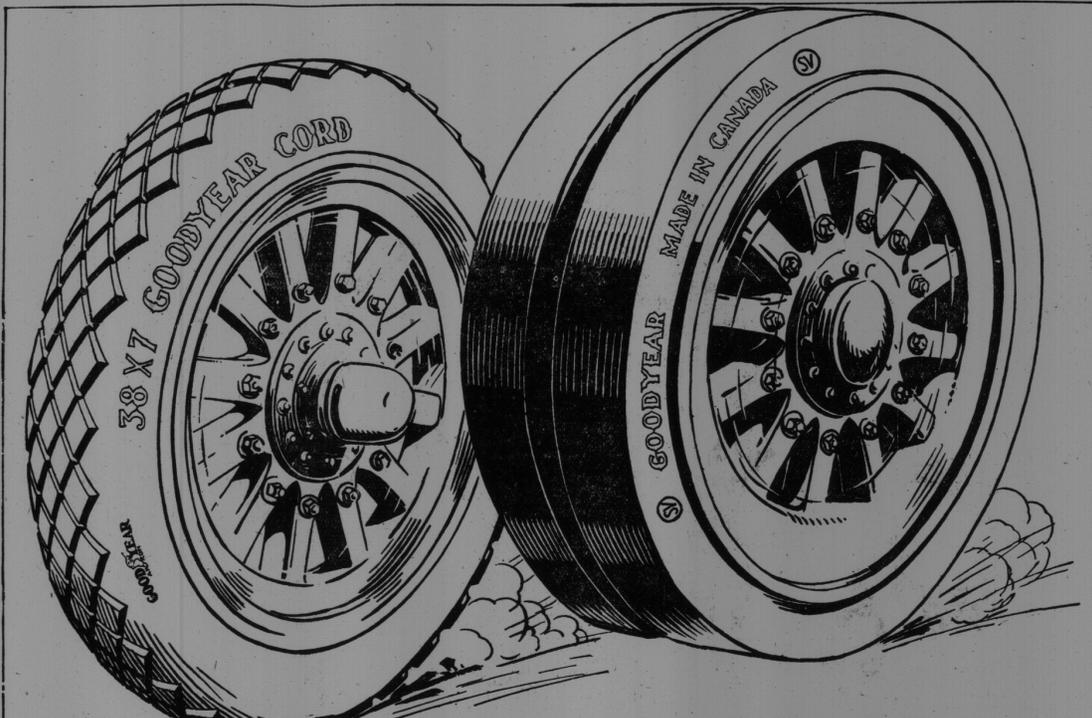

The Corsican has 30 officers, four nursing sisters from London and 314 men from Buxton with dependents. Telegrams to Charles Robinson state that three boats arrived on Saturday with troops for this district. They are the Scandinavian and Lapland at Halifax and the Minnedosa at Quebec. The S.S. Scandinavian arrived at Halifax on Saturday with the following for this district: Pte. G. Gendron, Eel River Crossing Restigouche county; Pte. S. C. Keith, Apohaqui, Sergeant H. W. Fry, Pte. J. Robichaud and Nursing Sister McQuade, without addresses. These were all discharged at Halifax and proceeded to their homes.

The S.S. Lapland also arrived at Halifax with the following, accompanied by their dependents: Sergt. L. J. Miller, Newcastle; Corp. H. E. Tapley, Fredericton; Pte. William Chambers, 218 Union street, St. John; Pte. W. Cunningham, Chatham; Sapper W. L. Forrester, Nauyasagwan, and Pte. E. S. Sewell, Mt. Pleasant, Carleton county. The men from the Lapland were also discharged in Halifax and left by regular train. Some arrived yesterday and the remainder for this city will reach here early this morning.

The S.S. Minnedosa docked on Saturday at Quebec. The list received by Mr. Robinson from this vessel was incomplete but contained the following names: Cadet V. Smith, Moncton; Cadet R. F. Gordon, with his wife, Moncton; Cadet C. A. Russell, Chatham; Pte. E. Hayward and wife, Turtle Creek; Pte. M. Walsh, Lt. G. M. Johnston and Lt. S. A. Coughlan, from St. John's (Nfld.). These men were all discharged in Quebec, left by regular train and will probably arrive here sometime today.

Three V. A. D.'s, Miss Irene McQuade of this city, daughter of W. H. McQuade, and Misses J. Aiken and Nellie Gillespie of Charlottetown, P. E. I., arrived in the city from overseas yesterday. They were warmly welcomed.

The largest bar in the world—formerly used in the Ungerleider saloon in Bridgeport, O., just across the state line from West Virginia—has been sold to Thomas Anderson of Wheeling, on the West Virginia side of the line, now that Ohio is as dry as West Virginia was, and will be used to dispense near-beer. It is 113 feet long.

DROP OF 95 PER CENT. IN "DRUNK" ARRESTS UNDER PROHIBITION

(Boston Globe.)
A decline of 95 per cent in the number of arrests for drunkenness the last month under prohibition is shown in a report issued by the Massachusetts Commission on Probation. For July, 1919, there were 27,468 arrests, as against

2319 last month. The latter figure is high, according to the report, because of the large number of "last day" arrests. The report follows:—
The total number of arrests for drunkenness in the entire state in the month of July, 1919, was 2319. The number in the corresponding month in 1918 was 7218. During the war period the number of arrests had shown a marked decline, the number in the state for the year ending Sept. 30, 1918, being 27,468 smaller than the year previous.

Returning to comparison by months, the number of arrests during July, 1917, was 11,444. This may be taken as the normal number under license. Comparing with this the number in July, 1919, the decrease is 80 per cent. But the small number for the first month under prohibition would be much smaller but for the fact that it includes the arrests on the first day of July, resulting from the drinking on the last day of the old order, making the day phenomenal in the number of arrests;

Boston alone having 533 on that day. That day aside, the arrests for the month in the entire state would fall below 1,000 and would probably show a decline of nearly or quite 95 per cent as compared with 1917.
The foregoing figures are for drunkenness arrests only. There has been an increase in the arrests for other offenses, which is explained by the probation officers in their reports to the commission as due to a stricter enforcement of laws and local ordinances by the police and by an extraordinary number of arrests for violation of the highway traffic laws. Arrests for all offenses, which are reported daily to the commission from twenty-one courts in Boston and adjoining jurisdictions, show that in Greater Boston the total for all offenses was 4405 in July, 1919, as compared with 5408 in the same month of 1918 and 9151 in July, 1917.

The greater reduction in the number of arrests for drunkenness does not denote a corresponding relief of the trial courts. Under the operation of the release law, probation officers released in 1918 without arraignment 63 per cent of the persons arrested for drunkenness and in Boston the releases amounted to 75 per cent.

The release law is still in effect, but reports from the courts of the state show a disposition to deal more strictly with the inebriate, in some instances leading to a practical suspension of the release process and the bringing of the offender to the attention of the court.

Jewels Dropped From Airplane Believed Property of Former Royal Family of Saxony

London, Aug. 11—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Central News reports that the police of Malmoe, Sweden, are holding two packages of jewels and securities, dropped from an airplane, and which they believe to be the property of the former royal family of Saxony. Coast guards saw the packages dropped from the airplane. They were picked up by two Germans who claimed the valuables as their property. The police are investigating.

GERMAN EXCHANGE HAS BAD FALL

INSPECT ROAD AND SEE GOVERNMENT ABOUT GRAND TRUNK MATTERS

The Mark Below 33 Francs Per 100 But Austrian Even Worse

Berne, Aug. 10—(By the Associated Press)—German exchange fell Saturday under 33 francs for 100 marks, 32 francs 75 centimes and 32 francs 80 centimes being offered. Exchange was unfavorably influenced by the heavy outstanding German debts in Switzerland, and the flight of German capital to Switzerland, which is estimated at over 30,000,000,000 marks.

Austrian exchange, however, was worse than the German, between 18 and 14 francs being offered for 100 crowns.

Chairman A. W. Smithers in Canada—Says Bolshevism Cannot Triumph in England

Montreal, Aug. 11—A. W. Smithers, chairman of the Grand Trunk board of directors, arrived here yesterday for the double purpose of making inspection of the system and having "conversations" with the dominion government in respect of the position of the Grand Trunk Railway.

Asked as to his opinion of industrial conditions in England, Mr. Smithers said that "Bolshevism is utterly repugnant to British genius; nor is it thinkable that Great Britain, having made incredible sacrifices during the war for the ideal of liberty and order and sanity in the world, would, through any of her elements, precipitate economic disruption."

In regard to the railway situation in England, Mr. Smithers said that the government there guaranteed the several companies the amount of the income they were earning the year before the war. The government treated the railways honorably, justly and fairly.

At the conclusion of the session of the police court today a lad was brought before the magistrate and it was found that he had been sent from Boston by his mother to St. John and was to go to Halifax to his father, but the lad had not sufficient money and could not obtain transportation so went to the police station yesterday for protection. Arrangements were made and the lad resumed his journey on the Halifax train at noon today.

WEDDING IN ENGLAND OF INTEREST HERE

A wedding of much interest to many friends in this city and elsewhere took place in St. John's church, Putney, England, on July 4, when Rev. Canon Remington united in marriage Miss Millie Morrish of Putney to W. F. Randolph Jovet, son of Mrs. E. R. Jovet and brother of Mrs. F. W. Daniel of 116 Wentworth street. After the ceremony the bride and groom made a wedding tour of the southern coast of England. Many beautiful and valuable gifts were received, testifying to the popularity of the bride and groom. Mr. Jovet enlisted at the outbreak of the war in St. Stephen, where he was employed in the Bank of British North America. He went overseas with the Princess Pats and was promoted to the rank of corporal. He was a munitions trainer for some time, but reverted to the ranks in order that he might get to France. Three days before the signing of the armistice he received his marching orders to go to England to Heith's Military College for an officers' training course, but the cessation of hostilities upset his plans and he was transferred to the Canadian pay office in London. After the demobilization of all troops Mr. and Mrs. Jovet will return to Canada for a short time and they will proceed to Atascadero, California, to make their home. They will receive many hearty congratulations from friends in Canada.

HAVE GOOD OUTING

Townshend Piano Company Annual Picnic at Log Cabin Fishing Club. The staff of the C. H. Townshend Piano Co., Ltd., held their annual picnic on the grounds of the Log Cabin Fishing Club, Loch Lomond. The picnicers, numbering twenty-nine, assembled at the store of the firm a little after 1 o'clock on Saturday and three touring cars and one large truck were in readiness to convey the party to the grounds. Upon arrival sports were conducted, including racing, high jumping, hurdle races, ring toss, bean bowls, ball bowls, etc., for which suitable prizes were awarded. The following were winners: Ladies' races, Miss McQuinn and Miss Thompson, with Miss Bowles and Miss Speight as ties for second; fat men's race, in which C. H. Townshend and W. A. Johnson were the competitors, was won by Mr. Johnson; large ring toss, Mrs. Johnson; small ring toss, Mrs. Burchill; baseball board, Mrs. Ross; bean board, Miss Bowles; high jumping, Lee Saunders; young men's race, Lee Saunders and Sydney Townshend. The most interesting feature of the evening's entertainment was the award of the prizes, very appropriate rewards, particularly the bouquet. However, it may be mentioned that these prizes were won by Mrs. Harper, Mr. Harper and Miss Speight. Later a bounteous supper was served in the evening, followed by ice cream, fruit and soft drinks. A large number of the party took to the boats on the lake for a row. Then a programme of old-fashioned dances was carried out, the programme being brought to a close by the singing of old favorite songs, Miss Sinclair acting as pianist for the evening. The entire staff are of one accord in proclaiming the picnic one of the finest ever attended and are even already looking forward to the next one. The success of the sporting field was due to the efforts of F. E. Townshend and T. E. Burchill.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning James Reid was arraigned on suspicion of having stolen goods in his possession. Inspector Merryfield, who made the arrest, told of seeing this man last night about 11.45 in Sydney street, carrying a suit case. He followed him through the oil burying ground, and by the actions of the man, the inspector became suspicious. In Carmarthen street he accosted him and asked if he had any booze in his grip, he answered, "There is no booze." On looking inside he found no liquor, but some electrical fixtures. When asked what he intended to do with these, he said he was going to wire his residence at 79 St. Patrick street. The inspector said he looked in the city directory, but found that this was a vacant lot. The case was postponed and the man held for further investigation. Florence Albert was arrested on a warrant in Middleton, N. S., by Detective Biddiscombe on Saturday and brought back to St. John. She was charged this morning with a statutory offence and pleaded guilty. George Albert, her husband, who has been overseas since March 17, 1916, gave evidence. He said that when he went overseas he had four children, but on coming home he found five. He said she asked him to forgive her, that she took her back and she did better for a time, but went away again to Nova Scotia. He again brought her back, but this time he said she used abusive language to him. She still promised to do better, and he again took her back, but he said she left again and went back to Nova Scotia. The case was postponed until other witnesses could be summoned. A case against John Crosby, charged with stealing goods from the livery stable of Edward Hogan, Union street, was resumed. Leo McNamara told of buying harness and paying $8 for it. He said the accused asked $12 for it. The case was postponed and the accused remanded to jail. George Secord was charged with assaulting his wife. He pleaded guilty and said he was under the influence of liquor at the time. He was remanded. Two men, charged with drunkenness, were remanded.

FATHER McMURRAY DEAD

Pastor of St. John Baptist Church Succumbs to Paralysis

Stricken at Cathedral Picnic on Last Tuesday; Life Ends in Infirmary — An Faithful, Devoted Clergyman

In the death of Rev. Francis Joseph McMurray, pastor of St. John the Baptist church, in the St. John Infirmary this morning about four o'clock, there passed from this life one of the most deeply loved and highly respected priests of the diocese, one who had faithfully labored for the Church and his flock for thirty years. Sympathetic to a marked extent, of a very pious and religious nature, sincere and kind in his attention to his people particularly to those in ill health or want, a student devoted to his vocation, Rev. Father McMurray made an ideal priest who will be very much missed not only by his church in Lower Cove but from the diocese as a whole.

Taken ill only on Tuesday last at Torriburn while in attendance at the Cathedral Sunday school picnic he did not recover but had been up to the time of his death in a state bordering on unconsciousness, sinking gradually until this morning when he passed from this life. At times of late he had complained of not feeling very well but had kept up with his usual energy in the attention to his parochial duties, taking hardly any recreation, with the result that the strain was too great upon his physical strength.

Father McMurray was a son of the late Terrence and Catherine McMurray of North End and is survived by two brothers, John and Thomas both of this city. In his younger days he was a student in the Christian Brothers' school and also at the old academy which was situated in the rear of the Cathedral. He then went to St. Joseph's University, Memramcook, from which he was graduated in 1884. After this he took his theological course at Quebec Seminary and was ordained in 1889. His first station was in the Cathedral where he remained for fourteen years, being rector from 1899 to 1908. He was familiar with the details of this large parish and was devoted to his work, in which he had the goodwill of all his people.

There was much regret when in September, 1908, Father McMurray was transferred to Woodstock, N. B. where he became pastor of St. Gertrude's church, succeeding the late Rev. W. F. Chapman. At St. Gertrude's he continued his untiring efforts in the interest of his parishioners and made it one of the finest church properties in the province. In four years the congregation here became the largest in the diocese, and the church stands and which had been in use by the church for fifty years—one of the most valuable properties in Woodstock. He added a vestry to the church which was a fine addition, did much work in beautifying its interior, and had stained glass memorial windows placed, making St. Gertrude's a particularly attractive and nicely finished church. While there he celebrated his silver jubilee and was the recipient of congratulations from a wide circle.

Four years ago next November he was appointed to St. John the Baptist church, succeeding the late Very Rev. W. F. Chapman, V. G., and though his time there has been comparatively short he has been general editor and made many improvements about the church and grounds. One of his most recent activities in his new church was the newly formed branch of the Holy Name Society. Father McMurray was a member of the C. M. B. A. and in his younger years had been director of St. Joseph's Y. M. A. While at the Cathedral one of his charges had been the mission at Hampton and Rothesay.

The funeral on Wednesday morning will not doubt be attended by many as regret at his passing away is very general. It will be held from the church at 9.30 o'clock a.m. On Tuesday evening the body will be taken from the rectory to the church and will lie in state in the cathedral throughout the night. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc will celebrate pontifical high mass of requiem, Rev. Father Carney will preach and there will be very likely a large representation of priests from throughout the diocese for the burial ceremonies.

BOARD OF TRADE NOTES.

The board of trade has been advised of the new cartage charges and exceptions which will become effective on the railways Sept. 4 also of rules regulating transit privileges on grain over the C. P. R., effective Sept. 1.

The board of railway commissioners has dismissed the application of the Dominion Millers' Association and others for revision of rule 9 of general orders 201 and for the restoration of the demurrage toll in effect prior to Aug. 20, 1917. The judgment states that shippers were not unanimous on the application, some wanting the old rates restored and others favoring the existing rate as calculated to release more cars for the movement of the grain crop.

A British organization is asking for information from this and other Canadian cities as to the advantages and concessions that might be offered to British industries.

INLAND REVENUE CASE.

A case against George Cameron, proprietor of a drug store in Charlotte street, charged with not affixing a revenue stamp to a bottle of patent medicine on July 8, 1919, and on July 12 with not affixing a revenue stamp to a bottle of shaving lotion was resumed in the police court today. William Fitzpatrick of the inland revenue department told of purchasing the articles in the store. He also said that the defendant was fined $50 in 1917. The case was postponed until next Monday. George H. V. Belyea appeared for the department.

What Makes a Home?

We Wonder!

All the writers, it seems, are temperamental, idealistic persons, who define home only in the broader, more exalted sense. And so, of course, they have attained immortality! Now we, being practical folk do not expect even a discarded halo for our thoughts but our idea is that the love and affection and companionship — so nearly synonymous with home — though not entirely dependent on externals for their source at least owe in a large measure, their steady growth to an atmosphere made congenial by beautiful and comfortable furnishings.

The result is that we have now assembled a collection of Furniture as thoroughly fine as good materials, able designers and expert craftsmen could make it. It holds a personal appeal to every one who interests himself in the outward and visible signs of a home.

Every piece is priced just as low as an established policy of buying and selling will permit, and that—need we say?—makes a direct appeal to every one who "counts his pennies," not merely for pastime, but for practical economy reasons.
